be great fearfulness and trembling upon earth: and they that see the wrath shall be afraid, and trembling shall come upon them.³⁸And then shall there come great storms from the south, and from the north, and another part from the west.³⁹And strong winds shall arise from the east, and shall open it; and the cloud which he raised up in wrath, and the star stirred to cause fear toward the east and west wind, shall be destroyed.⁴⁰The great and mighty clouds shall be puffed up full of wrath, and the star, that they may make all the earth afraid, and them that dwell therein; and they shall pour out over every high and eminent place an horrible star,⁴¹Fire, and hail, and flying swords, and many waters, that all fields may be full, and all rivers, with the abundance of great waters.⁴²And they shall break down the cities and walls, mountains and hills, trees of the wood, and grass of the meadows, and their corn.⁴³And they shall go stedfastly unto Babylon, and make her afraid.⁴⁴They shall come to her, and besiege her, the star and all wrath shall they pour out upon her: then shall the dust and smoke go up unto the heaven, and all they that be about her shall bewail her.⁴⁵And they that remain under her shall do service unto them that have put her in fear.⁴⁶And thou, Asia, that art partaker of the hope of Babylon, and art the glory of her person:⁴⁷Woe be unto thee, thou wretch, because thou hast made thyself like unto her; and hast decked thy daughters in whoredom, that they might please and glory in thy lovers, which have always desired to commit whoredom with thee.⁴⁸Thou hast followed her that is hated in all her works and inventions: therefore saith God,⁴⁹I will send plagues upon thee; widowhood, poverty, famine, sword, and pestilence, to waste thy houses with destruction and death.⁵⁰And the glory of thy Power shall be dried up as a flower, the heat shall arise that is sent over thee.⁵¹Thou shalt be weakened as a poor woman with stripes, and as one chastised with wounds, so that the mighty and lovers shall not be able to receive thee.⁵²Would I with jealousy have so proceeded against thee, saith the Lord,⁵³If thou hadst not always slain my chosen, exalting the stroke of thine hands, and saying over their dead, when thou wast drunken,⁵⁴Set forth the beauty of thy countenance?⁵⁵The reward of thy whoredom shall be in thy bosom, therefore shalt thou receive recompence.⁵⁶Like as thou hast done unto my chosen, saith the Lord, even so shall God do unto thee, and shall deliver thee into mischief.⁵⁷Thy children shall die of hunger, and thou shalt fall through the sword: thy cities shall be broken down, and all thine shall perish with the sword in the field.⁵⁸They that be in the mountains shall die of hunger, and eat their own flesh, and drink their own blood, for very hunger of bread, and thirst of water.⁵⁹Thou as unhappy shalt come through the sea, and receive plagues again.⁶⁰And in the passage they shall rush on the idle city, and shall destroy some portion of thy land, and consume part of thy glory, and shall return to Babylon that was destroyed.⁶¹And thou shalt be cast down by them as stubble, and they shall be unto thee as fire;⁶²And shall consume thee, and thy cities, thy land, and thy mountains; all thy woods and thy fruitful trees shall they burn up with fire.⁶³Thy children shall they carry away captive, and, look, what thou hast, they shall spoil it, and mar the beauty of thy face.

CHAPTER 16 ¹Woe be unto thee, Babylon, and Asia! woe be unto thee, Egypt and Syria!²Gird up yourselves with cloths of sack and hair, bewail your children, and be sorry; for your destruction is at hand.³A sword is sent upon you, and who may turn it back?⁴A fire is sent among you, and who may quench it?⁵Plagues are sent unto you, and what is he that may drive them away?⁶May any man drive away an hungry lion in the wood? or may any one quench the fire in stubble, when it hath begun to burn?⁷May one turn again the arrow that is shot of a strong archer?⁸The mighty Lord sendeth the plagues and who is he that can drive them away?⁹A fire shall go forth from his wrath, and who is he that may quench it?¹⁰He shall cast lightnings, and who shall not fear? he shall thunder, and who shall not be afraid?¹¹The Lord shall threaten, and who shall not be utterly beaten to powder at his presence?¹²The earth quaketh, and the foundations thereof; the sea ariseth up with waves from the deep, and the waves of it are troubled, and the fishes thereof also, before the Lord, and before the glory of his power:¹³For strong is his right hand that bendeth the bow, his arrows that he shooteth are sharp, and shall not miss, when they begin to be shot into the ends of the world.¹⁴Behold, the plagues are sent, and shall not return again, until they come upon the earth.¹⁵The fire is kindled, and shall not be put out, till it consume the foundation of the earth.¹⁶Like as an arrow which is shot of a mighty archer returneth not backward: even so the plagues that shall be sent upon earth shall not return again.¹⁷Woe is me! woe is me! who will deliver me in those days?¹⁸The beginning of sorrows and great mournings; the beginning of famine and great death; the beginning of wars, and the powers shall stand in fear; the beginning of evils! what shall I do when these evils shall come?¹⁹Behold, famine and plague, tribulation and anguish, are sent as scourges for amendment.²⁰But for all these things they shall not turn from their wickedness, nor be always mindful of the scourges.²¹Behold, victuals shall be so good cheap upon earth, that they shall think themselves to be in good case, and even then shall evils grow upon earth, sword, famine, and great confusion.²²For many of them that dwell upon earth shall perish of famine; and the other, that escape the hunger, shall the sword destroy.²³And the dead shall be cast out as dung, and there shall be no man to comfort them: for the earth shall be wasted, and the cities shall be cast down.²⁴There shall be no man left to till the earth, and to sow it.²⁵The trees shall give fruit, and who shall gather them?²⁶The grapes shall ripen, and who shall tread them? for all places shall be desolate of men.²⁷So that one man shall desire to see another, and to hear his voice.²⁸For of a city there shall be ten left, and two of the field, which shall hide themselves in the thick groves, and in the clefts of the rocks.²⁹As in an orchard of Olives upon every tree there are left three or four olives;³⁰Or as when a vineyard is gathered, there are left some clusters of them that diligently seek through the vineyard.³¹Even so in those days there shall be three or four left by them that search their houses with the sword.³²And the earth shall be laid waste, and the fields thereof shall wax old, and her ways and all her paths shall grow full of thorns, because no man shall travel therethrough.³³The virgins shall mourn, having no bridegrooms; the women shall mourn, having no husbands; their daughters shall mourn, having no helpers.³⁴In the wars shall their bridegrooms be destroyed, and their husbands shall perish of famine.³⁵Hear now these things and understand them, ye servants of the Lord.³⁶Behold, the word of the Lord, receive it:

believe not the gods of whom the Lord spake.³⁷Behold, the plagues draw nigh, and are not slack.³⁸As when a woman with child in the ninth month bringeth forth her son, with two or three hours of her birth great pains compass her womb, which pains, when the child cometh forth, they slack not a moment.³⁹Even so shall not the plagues be slack to come upon the earth, and the world shall mourn, and sorrows shall come upon it on every side.⁴⁰O my people, hear my word: make you ready to thy battle, and in those evils be even as pilgrims upon the earth.⁴¹He that selleth, let him be as he that fleeth away: and he that buyeth, as one that will lose.⁴²He that occupieth merchandise, as he that hath no profit by it: and he that buildeth, as he that shall not dwell therein.⁴³He that soweth, as if he should not reap: so also he that planteth the vineyard, as he that shall not gather the grapes.⁴⁴They that marry, as they that shall get no children; and they that marry not, as the widowers.⁴⁵And therefore they that labour labour in vain.⁴⁶For strangers shall reap their fruits, and spoil their goods, overthrow their houses, and take their children captives, for in captivity and famine shall they get children.⁴⁷And they that occupy their merchandise with robbery, the more they deck their cities, their houses, their possessions, and their own persons:⁴⁸The more will I be angry with them for their sin, saith the Lord.⁴⁹Like as a whore envieth a right honest and virtuous woman:⁵⁰So shall righteousness hate iniquity, when she decketh herself, and shall accuse her to her face, when he cometh that shall defend him that diligently searcheth out every sin upon earth.⁵¹And therefore be ye not like thereunto, nor to the works thereof.⁵²For yet a little, and iniquity shall be taken away out of the earth, and righteousness shall reign among you.⁵³Let not the sinner say that he hath not sinned: for God shall burn coals of fire upon his head, which saith before the Lord God and his glory, I have not sinned.⁵⁴Behold, the Lord knoweth all the works of men, their imaginations, their thoughts, and their hearts:⁵⁵Which spake but the word, Let the earth be made; and it was made: Let the heaven be made; and it was created.⁵⁶In his word were the stars made, and he knoweth the number of them.⁵⁷He searcheth the deep, and the treasures thereof; he hath measured the sea, and what it containeth.⁵⁸He hath shut the sea in the midst of the waters, and with his word hath he hanged the earth upon the waters.⁵⁹He spreadeth out the heavens like a vault; upon the waters hath he founded it.⁶⁰In the desert hath he made springs of water, and pools upon the tops of the mountains, that the floods might pour down from the high rocks to water the earth.⁶¹He made man, and put his heart in the midst of the body, and gave him breath, life, and understanding.⁶²Yea and the Spirit of Almighty God, which made all things, and searcheth out all hidden things in the secrets of the earth,⁶³Surely he knoweth your inventions, and what ye think in your hearts, even them that sin, and would hide their sin.⁶⁴Therefore hath the Lord exactly searched out all your works, and he will put you all to shame.⁶⁵And when your sins are brought forth, ye shall be ashamed before men, and your own sins shall be your accusers in that day.⁶⁶What will ye do? or how will ye hide your sins before God and his angels?⁶⁷Behold, God himself is the judge, fear him: leave off from your sins, and forget your iniquities, to meddle no more with them for ever: so shall God lead you forth, and deliver you from all trouble.⁶⁸For, behold, the burning wrath of a great multitude is kindled over you, and they shall take away certain of you, and feed you, being idle, with things offered unto idols.⁶⁹And they that consent unto them shall be had in derision and in reproach, and trodden under foot.⁷⁰For there shall be in every place, and in the next cities, a great insurrection upon those that fear the Lord.⁷¹They shall be like mad men, sparing none, but still spoiling and destroying those that fear the Lord.⁷²For they shall waste and take away their goods, and cast them out of their houses.⁷³Then shall they be known, who are my chosen; and they shall be tried as the gold in the fire.⁷⁴Hear, O ye my beloved, saith the Lord: behold, the days of trouble are at hand, but I will deliver you from the same.⁷⁵Be ye not afraid neither doubt; for God is your guide,⁷⁶And the guide of them who keep my commandments and precepts, saith the Lord God: let not your sins weigh you down, and let not your iniquities lift up themselves.⁷⁷Woe be unto them that are bound with their sins, and covered with their iniquities like as a field is covered over with bushes, and the path thereof covered with thorns, that no man may travel through!⁷⁸It is left undressed, and is cast into the fire to be consumed therewith.

TOBIT

CHAPTER 1 ¹The book of the words of Tobit, son of Tobiel, the son of Ananiel, the son of Aduel, the son of Gabael, of the seed of Asael, of the tribe of Nephthali;²Who in the time of Enemessar king of the Assyrians was led captive out of Thisbe, which is at the right hand of that city, which is called properly Nephthali in Galilee above Aser.³I Tobit have walked all the days of my life in the ways of truth and justice, and I did many almsdeeds to my brethren, and my nation, who came with me to Nineve, into the land of the Assyrians.⁴And when I was in mine own country, in the land of Israel being but young, all the tribe of Nephthali my father fell from the house of Jerusalem, which was chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, that all the tribes should sacrifice there, where the temple of the habitation of the most High was consecrated and built for all ages.⁵Now all the tribes which together revolted, and the house of my father Nephthali, sacrificed unto the heifer Baal.⁶But I alone went often to Jerusalem at the feasts, as it was ordained unto all the people of Israel by an everlasting decree, having the firstfruits and tenths of increase, with that which was first shorn; and them gave I at the altar to the priests the children of Aaron.⁷The first tenth part of all increase I gave to the sons of Aaron, who ministered at Jerusalem: another tenth part I sold away, and went, and spent it every year at Jerusalem:⁸And the third I gave unto them to whom it was meet, as Debora my father's mother had commanded me, because I was left an orphan by my father.⁹Furthermore, when I was come to the age of a man, I married Anna of mine own kindred, and of her I begat

Tobias.¹⁰And when we were carried away captives to Nineve, all my brethren and those that were of my kindred did eat of the bread of the Gentiles.¹¹But I kept myself from eating;¹²Because I remembered God with all my heart.¹³And the most High gave me grace and favour before Enemessar, so that I was his purveyor.¹⁴And I went into Media, and left in trust with Gabael, the brother of Gabrias, at Rages a city of Media ten talents of silver.¹⁵Now when Enemessar was dead, Sennacherib his son reigned in his stead; whose estate was troubled, that I could not go into Media.¹⁶And in the time of Enemessar I gave many alms to my brethren, and gave my bread to the hungry,¹⁷And my clothes to the naked: and if I saw any of my nation dead, or cast about the walls of Nineve, I buried him.¹⁸And if the king Sennacherib had slain any, when he was come, and fled from Judea, I buried them privily; for in his wrath he killed many; but the bodies were not found, when they were sought for of the king.¹⁹And when one of the Ninevites went and complained of me to the king, that I buried them, and hid myself; understanding that I was sought for to be put to death, I withdrew myself for fear.²⁰Then all my goods were forcibly taken away, neither was there any thing left me, beside my wife Anna and my son Tobias.²¹And there passed not five and fifty days, before two of his sons killed him, and they fled into the mountains of Ararath; and Sarchedonus his son reigned in his stead; who appointed over his father's accounts, and over all his affairs, Achiacharus my brother Anael's son.²²And Achiacharus intreating for me, I returned to Nineve. Now Achiacharus was cupbearer, and keeper of the signet, and steward, and overseer of the accounts: and Sarchedonus appointed him next unto him: and he was my brother's son.

CHAPTER 2 ¹Now when I was come home again, and my wife Anna was restored unto me, with my son Tobias, in the feast of Pentecost, which is the holy feast of the seven weeks, there was a good dinner prepared me, in the which I sat down to eat.²And when I saw abundance of meat, I said to my son, Go and bring what poor man soever thou shalt find out of our brethren, who is mindful of the Lord; and, lo, I tarry for thee.³But he came again, and said, Father, one of our nation is strangled, and is cast out in the marketplace.⁴Then before I had tasted of any meat, I started up, and took him up into a room until the going down of the sun.⁵Then I returned, and washed myself, and ate my meat in heaviness,⁶Remembering that prophecy of Amos, as he said, Your feasts shall be turned into mourning, and all your mirth into lamentation.⁷Therefore I wept: and after the going down of the sun I went and made a grave, and buried him.⁸But my neighbours mocked me, and said, This man is not yet afraid to be put to death for this matter: who fled away; and yet, lo, he burieth the dead again.⁹The same night also I returned from the burial, and slept by the wall of my courtyard, being polluted and my face was uncovered:¹⁰And I knew not that there were sparrows in the wall, and mine eyes being open, the sparrows muted warm dung into mine eyes, and a whiteness came in mine eyes: and I went to the physicians, but they helped me not: moreover Achiacharus did nourish me, until I went into Elymais.¹¹And my wife Anna did take women's works to do.¹²And when she had sent them home to the owners, they paid her wages, and gave her also besides a kid.¹³And when it was in my house, and began to cry, I said unto her, From whence is this kid? is it not stolen? render it to the owners; for it is not lawful to eat any thing that is stolen.¹⁴But she replied upon me, It was given for a gift more than the wages. Howbeit I did not believe her, but bade her render it to the owners: and I was abashed at her. But she replied upon me, Where are thine alms and thy righteous deeds? behold, thou and all thy works are known.

CHAPTER 3 ¹Then I being grieved did weep, and in my sorrow prayed, saying,²O Lord, thou art just, and all thy works and all thy ways are mercy and truth, and thou judgest truly and justly for ever.³Remember me, and look on me, punish me not for my sins and ignorances, and the sins of my fathers, who have sinned before thee:⁴For they obeyed not thy commandments: wherefore thou hast delivered us for a spoil, and unto captivity, and unto death, and for a proverb of reproach to all the nations among whom we are dispersed.⁵And now thy judgments are many and true: deal with me according to my sins and my fathers': because we have not kept thy commandments, neither have walked in truth before thee.⁶Now therefore deal with me as seemeth best unto thee, and command my spirit to be taken from me, that I may be dissolved, and become earth: for it is profitable for me to die rather than to live, because I have heard false reproaches, and have much sorrow: command therefore that I may now be delivered out of this distress, and go into the everlasting place: turn not thy face away from me.⁷It came to pass the same day, that in Ecbatane a city of Media Sara the daughter of Raguel was also reproached by her father's maids;⁸Because that she had been married to seven husbands, whom Asmodeus the evil spirit had killed, before they had lain with her. Dost thou not know, said they, that thou hast strangled thine husbands? thou hast had already seven husbands, neither wast thou named after any of them.⁹Wherefore dost thou beat us for them? if they be dead, go thy ways after them, let us never see of thee either son or daughter.¹⁰When she heard these things, she was very sorrowful, so that she thought to have strangled herself; and she said, I am the only daughter of my father, and if I do this, it shall be a reproach unto him, and I shall bring his old age with sorrow unto the grave.¹¹Then she prayed toward the window, and said,

Blessed art thou, O Lord my God, and thine holy and glorious name is blessed and honourable for ever: let all thy works praise thee for ever.¹²And now, O Lord, I set I mine eyes and my face toward thee,¹³And say, Take me out of the earth, that I may hear no more the reproach.¹⁴Thou knowest, Lord, that I am pure from all sin with man,¹⁵And that I never polluted my name, nor the name of my father, in the land of my captivity: I am the only daughter of my father, neither hath he any child to be his heir, neither any near kinsman, nor any son of his alive, to whom I may keep myself for a wife: my seven husbands are already dead; and why should I live? but if it please not thee that I should die, command some regard to be had of me, and pity taken of me, that I hear no more reproach.¹⁶So the prayers of them both were heard before the majesty of the great God.¹⁷And Raphael was sent to heal them both, that is, to scale away the whiteness of Tobit's eyes, and to give Sara the daughter of Raguel for a wife to Tobias the son of Tobit; and to bind Asmodeus the evil spirit; because she belonged to Tobias by right of inheritance. The selfsame time came Tobit home, and entered into his house, and Sara the daughter of

CHAPTER 4 ¹In that day Tobit remembered the money which he had committed to Gabael in Rages of Media,²And said with himself, I have wished for death; wherefore do I not call for my son Tobias that I may signify to him of the money before I die?³And when he had called him, he said, My son, when I am dead, bury me; and despise not thy mother, but honour her all the days of thy life, and do that which shall please her, and grieve her not.⁴Remember, my son, that she saw many dangers for thee, when thou wast in her womb: and when she is dead, bury her by me in one grave.⁵My son, be mindful of the Lord our God all thy days, and let not thy will be set to sin, or to transgress his commandments: do uprightly all thy life long, and follow not the ways of unrighteousness.⁶For if thou deal truly, thy doings shall prosperously succeed to thee, and to all them that live justly.⁷Give alms of thy substance; and when thou givest alms, let not thine eye be envious, neither turn thy face from any poor, and the face of God shall not be turned away from thee.⁸If thou hast abundance give alms accordingly: if thou have but a little, be not afraid to give according to that little.⁹For thou layest up a good treasure for thyself against the day of necessity.¹⁰Because that alms do deliver from death, and suffereth not to come into darkness.¹¹For alms is a good gift unto all that give it in the sight of the most High.¹²Beware of all whoredom, my son, and chiefly take a wife of the seed of thy fathers, and take not a strange woman to wife, which is not of thy father's tribe: for we are the children of the prophets, Noe, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob: remember, my son, that our fathers from the beginning, even that they all married wives of their own kindred, and were blessed in their children, and their seed shall inherit the land.¹³Now therefore, my son, love thy brethren, and despise not in thy heart thy brethren, the sons and daughters of thy people, in not taking a wife of them: for in pride is destruction and much trouble, and in lewdness is decay and great want: for lewdness is the mother of famine.¹⁴Let not the wages of any man, which hath wrought for thee, tarry with thee, but give him it out of hand: for if thou serve God, he will also repay thee: be circumspect my son, in all things thou doest, and be wise in all thy conversation.¹⁵Do that to no man which thou hatest: drink not wine to make thee drunken: neither let drunkenness go with thee in thy journey.¹⁶Give of thy bread to the hungry, and of thy garments to them that are naked; and according to thine abundance give alms: and let not thine eye be envious, when thou givest alms.¹⁷Pour out thy bread on the burial of the just, but give nothing to the wicked.¹⁸Ask counsel of all that are wise, and despise not any counsel that is profitable.¹⁹Bless the Lord thy God always, and desire of him that thy ways may be directed, and that all thy paths and counsels may prosper: for every nation hath not counsel; but the Lord himself giveth all good things, and he humbleth whom he will, as he will; now therefore, my son, remember my commandments, neither let them be put out of thy mind.²⁰And now I signify this to they that I committed ten talents to Gabael the son of Gabrias at Rages in Media.²¹And fear not, my son, that we are made poor: for thou hast much wealth, if thou fear God, and depart from all sin, and do that which is pleasing in his sight.

CHAPTER 5 ¹Tobias then answered and said, Father, I will do all things which thou hast commanded me:²But how can I receive the money, seeing I know him not?³Then he gave him the handwriting, and said unto him, Seek thee a man which may go with thee, whiles I yet live, and I will give him wages: and go and receive the money.⁴Therefore when he went to seek a man, he found Raphael that was an angel.⁵But he knew not; and he said unto him, Canst thou go with me to Rages? and knowest thou those places well?⁶To whom the angel said, I will go with thee, and I know the way well: for I have lodged with our brother Gabael.⁷Then Tobias said unto him, Tarry for me, till I tell my father.⁸Then he said unto him, Go and tarry not. So he went in and said to his father, Behold, I have found one which will go with me. Then he said, Call him unto me, that I may know of what tribe he is, and whether he be a trusty man to go with thee.⁹So he called him, and he came in, and they saluted one another.¹⁰Then Tobit said unto him, Brother, shew me of what tribe and family thou art.¹¹To whom he said, Dost thou seek for a tribe or family, or an hired man to go with thy son? Then Tobit said unto him, I would know, brother, thy kindred and name.¹²Then he said, I am Azarias, the son of Ananias the great, and of thy brethren.¹³Then Tobit said, Thou art welcome, brother; be not now angry with me, because I have enquired to know thy tribe and thy family; for thou art my brother, of an honest and good stock: for I know Ananias and Jonathas, sons of that great Samaias, as we went together to Jerusalem to worship, and offered the firstborn, and the tenths of the fruits; and they were not seduced with the error of our brethren: my brother, thou art of a good stock.¹⁴But tell me, what wages shall I give thee? wilt thou a drachm a day, and things necessary, as to mine own son?¹⁵Yea, moreover, if ye return safe, I will add something to thy wages.¹⁶So they were well pleased. Then said he to Tobias, Prepare thyself for the journey, and God send you a good journey. And when his son had prepared all things for the journey, his father said, Go thou with this man, and God, which dwelleth in heaven, prosper your journey, and the angel of God keep you company. So they went forth both, and the young man's dog with them.¹⁷But Anna his mother wept, and said to Tobit, Why hast thou sent away our son? is he not the staff of our hand, in going in and out before us?¹⁸Be not greedy to add money to money: but let it be as refuse in respect of our child.¹⁹For that which the Lord hath given us to live with doth suffice us.²⁰Then said Tobit to her, Take no care, my sister; he shall return in safety, and thine eyes shall see him.²¹For the good angel will keep him company, and his journey shall be prosperous, and he shall return safe.²²Then she made an end of weeping.

CHAPTER 6 ¹And as they went on their journey, they came in the evening to the river Tigris, and they lodged there.²And when the young man went down to wash himself, a fish leaped out of the river, and would have devoured him.³Then the angel said unto him, Take the fish. And the young man laid hold of the fish, and drew it to land.⁴To whom the angel said, Open the fish, and take the heart and the liver and the gall, and put them up safely.⁵So the young man did as the angel commanded him; and when they had roasted the fish, they did eat it: then they both went on their way, till they drew near to Ecbatane.⁶Then the young man said to the angel, Brother Azarias, to what use is the heart and the liver and the gall of the fish?⁷And he said unto him, Touching the heart and the liver, if a devil or an evil spirit trouble any, we must make a smoke thereof before the man or the woman, and the party shall be no more vexed.⁸As for the gall, it is good to anoint a man that hath whiteness in his eyes, and he shall be healed.⁹And when they were come near to Rages,¹⁰The angel said to the young man, Brother, to day we shall lodge with Raguel, who is thy cousin; he also hath one only daughter, named Sara; I will speak for her, that she may be given thee for a wife.¹¹For to thee doth the right of her appertain, seeing thou only art of her kindred.¹²And the maid is fair and wise: now therefore hear me, and I will speak to her father; and when we return from Rages we will celebrate the marriage: for I know that Raguel cannot marry her to another according to the law of Moses, but he shall be guilty of death, because the right of inheritance doth rather appertain to thee than to any other.¹³Then the young man answered the angel, I have heard, brother Azarias that this maid hath been given to seven men, who all died in the marriage chamber.¹⁴And now I am the only son of my father, and I am afraid, lest if I go in unto her, I die, as the other before: for a wicked spirit loveth her, which hurteth no body, but those which come unto her; wherefore I also fear lest I die, and bring my father's and my mother's life because of me to the grave with sorrow: for they have no other son to bury them.¹⁵Then the angel said unto him, Dost thou not remember the precepts which thy father gave thee, that thou shouldest marry a wife of thine own kindred? wherefore hear me, O my brother; for she shall be given thee to wife; and make thou no reckoning of the evil spirit; for this same night shall she be given thee in marriage.¹⁶And when thou shalt come into the marriage chamber, thou shalt take the ashes of perfume, and shalt lay upon them some of the heart and liver of the fish, and shalt make a smoke with it:¹⁷And the devil shall smell it, and flee away, and never come again any more: but when thou shalt come to her, rise up both of you, and pray to God which is merciful, who will have pity on you, and save you: fear not, for she is appointed unto thee from the beginning; and thou shalt preserve her, and she shall go with thee. Moreover I suppose that she shall bear thee children. Now when Tobias had heard these things, he loved her, and his heart was effectually joined to her.

CHAPTER 7 ¹And when they were come to Ecbatane, they came to the house of Raguel, and Sara met them: and after they had saluted one another, she brought them into the house.²Then said Raguel to Edna his wife, How like is this young man to Tobit my cousin!³And Raguel asked them, From whence are ye, brethren? To whom they said, We are of the sons of Nephthalim, which are captives in Nineve.⁴Then he said to them, Do ye know Tobit our kinsman? And they said, We know him. Then said he, Is he in good health?⁵And they said, He is both alive, and in good health: and Tobias said, He is my father.⁶Then Raguel leaped up, and kissed him, and wept,⁷And blessed him, and said unto him, Thou art the son of an honest and good man. But when he had heard that Tobit was blind, he was sorrowful, and wept.⁸And likewise Edna his wife and Sara his daughter wept. Moreover they entertained them cheerfully; and after that they had killed a ram of the flock, they set store of meat on the table. Then said Tobias to Raphael, Brother Azarias, speak of those things of which thou didst talk in the way, and let this business be dispatched.⁹So he communicated the matter with Raguel: and Raguel said to Tobias, Eat and drink, and make merry.¹⁰For it is meet that thou shouldest marry my daughter: nevertheless I will declare unto thee the truth.¹¹I have given my daughter in marriage to seven men, who died that night they came in unto her: nevertheless for the present be merry. But Tobias said, I will eat nothing here, till we agree and swear one to another.¹²Raguel said, Then take her from henceforth according to the manner, for thou art her cousin, and she is thine, and the merciful God give you good success in all things.¹³Then he called his daughter Sara, and she came to her father, and he took her by the hand, and gave her to be wife to Tobias, saying, Behold, take her after the law of Moses, and lead her away to thy father. And he blessed them;¹⁴And called Edna his wife, and took paper, and did write an instrument of covenants, and sealed it.¹⁵Then they began to eat.¹⁶After Raguel called his wife Edna, and said unto her, Sister, prepare another chamber, and bring her in thither.¹⁷Which when she had done as he had bidden her, she brought her thither: and she wept, and she received the tears of her daughter, and said unto her,¹⁸Be of good comfort, my daughter; the Lord of heaven and earth give thee joy for this thy sorrow: be of good comfort, my daughter.

CHAPTER 8 ¹And when they had supped, they brought Tobias in unto her.²And as he went, he remembered the words of Raphael, and took the ashes of the perfumes, and put the heart and the liver of the fish thereupon, and made a smoke therewith.³The which smell when the evil spirit had smelled, he fled into the utmost parts of Egypt, and the angel bound him.⁴And after that they were both shut in together, Tobias rose out of the bed, and said, Sister, arise, and let us pray that God would have pity on us.⁵Then began Tobias to say, Blessed art thou, O God of our fathers, and blessed is thy holy and glorious name for ever; let the heavens bless thee, and all thy creatures.⁶Thou madest Adam, and gavest him Eve his wife for an helper and stay: of them came mankind: thou hast said, It is not good that man should be alone; let us make unto him an aid like unto himself.⁷And now, O Lord, I take not this my sister for lush but uprightly: therefore mercifully ordain that we may become aged together.⁸And she said with him, Amen.⁹So they slept both that night. And Raguel arose, and went and made a grave,¹⁰Saying, I fear lest he also be dead.¹¹But when Raguel was come into his house,¹²He said unto his wife Edna. Send one of the maids, and let her see whether he be alive: if he be not, that we may bury him, and no man know it.¹³So the maid opened the door, and went in, and found them both asleep,¹⁴And came forth, and told them that he was alive.¹⁵Then Raguel praised God, and said, O God, thou art worthy to be praised with all pure and holy praise; therefore let thy saints praise thee with all thy creatures; and let all thine angels and thine elect praise thee for ever.¹⁶Thou art to be praised, for thou hast made me joyful; and that is not come to me which I suspected; but thou hast dealt with us according to thy great mercy.¹⁷Thou art to be praised because thou hast had mercy of two that were the only begotten children of their fathers: grant them mercy, O Lord, and finish their life in health with joy and mercy.¹⁸Then Raguel bade his servants to fill the grave.¹⁹And he kept the wedding feast fourteen days.²⁰For before the days of the marriage were finished, Raguel had said unto him by an oath, that he should not depart till the fourteen days of the marriage were expired;²¹And then he should take the half of his goods, and go in safety to his father; and should have the rest when I and my wife be dead.

CHAPTER 9 ¹Then Tobias called Raphael, and said unto him,²Brother Azarias, take with thee a servant, and two camels, and go to Rages of Media to Gabael, and bring me the money, and bring him to the wedding.³For Raguel hath sworn that I shall not depart.⁴But my father counteth the days; and if I tarry long, he will be very sorry.⁵So Raphael went out, and lodged with Gabael, and gave him the handwriting: who brought forth bags which were sealed up, and gave them to him.⁶And early in the morning they went forth both together, and came to the wedding: and Tobias blessed his wife.

CHAPTER 10 ¹Now Tobit his father counted every day: and when the days of the journey were expired, and they came not,²Then Tobit said, Are they detained? or is Gabael dead, and there is no man to give him the money?³Therefore he was very sorry.⁴Then his wife said unto him, My son is dead, seeing he stayeth long; and she began to wail him, and said,⁵Now I care for nothing, my son, since I have let thee go, the light of mine eyes.⁶To whom Tobit said, Hold thy peace, take no care, for he is safe.⁷But she said, Hold thy peace, and deceive me not; my son is dead. And she went out every day into the way which they went, and did eat no meat on the daytime, and ceased not whole nights to bewail her son Tobias, until the fourteen days of the wedding were expired, which Raguel had sworn that he should spend there. Then Tobias said to Raguel, Let me go, for my father and my mother look no more to see me.⁸But his father in law said unto him, Tarry with me, and I will send to thy father, and they shall declare unto him how things go with thee.⁹But Tobias said, No; but let me go to my father.¹⁰Then Raguel arose, and gave him Sara his wife, and half his goods, servants, and cattle, and money.¹¹And he blessed them, and sent them away, saying, The God of heaven give you a prosperous journey, my children.¹²And he said to his daughter, Honour thy father and thy mother in law, which are now thy parents, that I may hear good report of thee. And he kissed her. Edna also said to Tobias, The Lord of heaven restore thee, my dear brother, and grant that I may see thy children of my daughter Sara before I die, that I may rejoice before the Lord: behold, I commit my daughter unto thee of special trust; where are do not entreat her evil.

CHAPTER 11 ¹After these things Tobias went his way, praising God that he had given him a prosperous journey, and blessed Raguel and Edna his wife, and went on his way till they drew near unto Nineve.²Then Raphael said to Tobias, Thou knowest, brother, how thou didst leave thy father:³Let us haste before thy wife, and prepare the house.⁴And take in thine hand the gall of the fish. So they went their way, and the dog went after them.⁵Now Anna sat looking about toward the way for her son.⁶And when she espied him coming, she said to his father, Behold, thy son cometh, and the man that went with him.⁷Then said Raphael, I know, Tobias, that thy father will open his eyes.⁸Therefore anoint thou his eyes with the gall, and being pricked therewith, he shall rub, and the whiteness shall fall away, and he shall see thee.⁹Then Anna ran forth, and fell upon the neck of her son, and said unto him, Seeing I have seen thee, my son, from henceforth I am content to die. And they wept both.¹⁰Tobit also went forth toward the door, and stumbled: but his son ran unto him,¹¹And took hold of his father: and he strake of the gall on his fathers' eyes, saying, Be of good hope, my father.¹²And when his eyes began to smart, he rubbed them;¹³And the whiteness pilled away from the corners of his eyes: and when he saw his son, he fell upon his neck.¹⁴And he wept, and said, Blessed art thou, O God, and blessed is thy name for ever; and blessed are all thine holy angels:¹⁵For thou hast scourged, and hast taken pity on me: for, behold, I see my son Tobias. And his son went in rejoicing, and told his father the great things that had happened to him in Media.¹⁶Then Tobit went out to meet his daughter in law at the gate of Nineve, rejoicing and praising God: and they which saw him go marvelled, because he had received his sight.¹⁷But Tobias gave thanks before them, because God had mercy on him. And when he came near to Sara his daughter in law, he blessed her, saying, Thou art welcome, daughter: God be blessed, which hath brought thee unto us, and blessed be thy father and thy mother. And there was joy among all his brethren which were at Nineve.¹⁸And Achiacharus, and Nasbas his brother's son, came:¹⁹And Tobias' wedding was kept seven days with great joy.

CHAPTER 12 ¹Then Tobit called his son Tobias, and said unto him, My son, see that the man have his wages, which went with thee, and thou must give him more.²And Tobias said unto him, O father, it is no harm to me to give him half of those things which I have brought:³For he hath brought me again to thee in safety, and made whole my wife, and brought me the money, and likewise healed thee.⁴Then the old man said, It is due unto him.⁵So he called the angel, and he said unto him, Take half of all that ye have brought and go away in safety.⁶Then he took them both apart, and said unto them, Bless God, praise him, and magnify him, and praise him for the things which he hath done unto you in the sight of all that live. It is good to praise God, and exalt his name, and honourably to shew forth the works of God; therefore be not slack to praise him.⁷It is good to keep close the secret of a king, but it is honourable to reveal the works of God. Do that which is good, and no evil shall touch you.⁸Prayer is good with fasting and alms and righteousness. A little with righteousness is better than much with unrighteousness. It is better to give alms than to lay up gold:⁹For alms doth deliver from death, and shall purge away all sin. Those that exercise alms and righteousness shall be filled with life:¹⁰But they that sin are enemies to their own life.¹¹Surely I will keep close nothing from you. For I said, It was good to keep close the secret of a king, but that it was honourable to reveal the works of God.¹²Now therefore, when thou didst pray, and Sara thy daughter in law, I did bring the remembrance of your prayers before the Holy One: and when thou didst bury the dead, I was with thee likewise.¹³And when thou didst not delay to rise up, and leave thy dinner, to go and cover the dead, thy good deed was not hid from me: but I was with thee.¹⁴And now God hath sent me to heal thee and Sara thy daughter in law.¹⁵I am Raphael, one of the seven holy angels, which present the prayers of the saints, and which go in and out before the glory of the Holy One.¹⁶Then they were both troubled, and fell upon their faces: for they feared.¹⁷But he said unto them, Fear not, for it shall go well with you; praise God therefore.¹⁸For not of any favour of mine, but by the will of our God I came; wherefore praise him for ever.¹⁹All these days I did appear unto you; but I did neither eat nor drink, but ye did see a vision.²⁰Now therefore give God thanks: for I go up to him that sent me; but write all things which are done in a book.²¹And when they arose, they saw him no more.²²Then they confessed the great and wonderful works of God, and how the angel of the Lord had appeared unto them.

CHAPTER 13 ¹Then Tobit wrote a prayer of rejoicing, and said, Blessed be God that liveth for ever, and blessed be his kingdom.²For he doth scourge, and hath mercy: he leadeth down to hell, and bringeth up again: neither is there any that can avoid his hand.³Confess him before the Gentiles, ye children of Israel: for he hath scattered us among them.⁴There declare his greatness, and extol him before all the living: for he is our Lord, and he is the God our Father for ever.⁵And he will scourge us for our iniquities, and will have mercy again, and will gather us out of all nations, among whom he hath scattered us.⁶If ye turn to him with your whole heart, and with your whole mind, and deal uprightly before him, then will he turn unto you, and will not hide his face from you. Therefore see what he will do with you, and confess him with your whole mouth, and praise the Lord of might, and extol the everlasting King. In the land of my captivity do I praise him, and declare his might and majesty to a sinful nation. O ye sinners, turn and do justice before him: who can tell if he will accept you, and have mercy on you?⁷I will extol my God, and my soul shall praise the King of heaven, and shall rejoice in his greatness.⁸Let all men speak, and let all praise him for his righteousness.⁹O Jerusalem, the holy city, he will scourge thee for thy children's works, and will have mercy again on the sons of the righteous.¹⁰Give praise to the Lord, for he is good: and praise the everlasting King, that his tabernacle may be builded in thee again with joy, and let him make joyful there in thee those that are captives, and love in thee for ever those that are miserable.¹¹Many nations shall come from far to the name of the Lord God with gifts in their hands, even gifts to the King of heaven; all generations shall praise thee with great joy.¹²Cursed are all they which hate thee, and blessed shall all be which love thee for ever.¹³Rejoice and be glad for the children of the just: for they shall be gathered together, and shall bless the Lord of the just.¹⁴O blessed are they which love thee, for they shall rejoice in thy peace: blessed are they which have been sorrowful for all thy scourges; for they shall rejoice for thee, when they have seen all thy glory, and shall be glad for ever.¹⁵Let my soul bless God the great King.¹⁶For Jerusalem shall be built up with sapphires and emeralds, and precious stone: thy walls and towers and battlements with pure gold.¹⁷And the streets of Jerusalem shall be paved with beryl and carbuncle and stones of Ophir.¹⁸And all her streets shall say, Alleluia; and they shall praise him, saying, Blessed be God, which hath extolled it for ever.

CHAPTER 14 ¹So Tobit made an end of praising God.²And he was eight and fifty years old when he lost his sight, which was restored to him after eight years: and he gave alms, and he increased in the fear of the Lord God, and praised him.³And when he was very aged he called his son, and the sons of his son, and said to him, My son, take thy children; for, behold, I am aged, and am ready to depart out of this life.⁴Go into Media my son, for I surely believe those things which Jonas the prophet spake of Nineve, that it shall be overthrown; and that for a time peace shall rather be in Media; and that our brethren shall lie scattered in the earth from that good land: and Jerusalem shall be desolate, and the house of God in it shall be burned, and shall be desolate for a time;⁵And that again God will have mercy on them, and bring them again into the land, where they shall build a temple, but not like to the first, until the time of that age be fulfilled; and afterward they shall return from all places of their captivity, and build up Jerusalem gloriously, and the house of God shall be built in it for ever with a glorious building, as the prophets have spoken thereof.⁶And all nations shall turn, and fear the Lord God truly, and shall bury their idols.⁷So shall all nations praise the Lord, and his people shall confess God, and the Lord shall exalt his people; and all those which love the Lord God in truth and justice shall rejoice, shewing mercy to our brethren.⁸And now, my son, depart out of Nineve, because that those things which the prophet Jonas spake shall surely come to pass.⁹But keep thou the law and the commandments, and shew thyself merciful and just, that it may go well with thee.¹⁰And bury me decently, and thy mother with me; but tarry no longer at Nineve. Remember, my son, how Aman handled Achiacharus that brought him up, how out of light he brought him into darkness, and how he rewarded him again: yet Achiacharus was saved, but the other had his reward: for he went down into darkness. Manasses gave alms, and escaped the snares of death which they had set for him: but Aman fell into the snare, and perished.¹¹Wherefore now, my son, consider what alms doeth, and how righteousness doth deliver. When he had said these things, he gave up the ghost in the bed, being an hundred and eight and fifty years old; and he buried him honourably.¹²And when Anna his mother was dead, he buried her with his father. But Tobias departed with his wife and children to Ecbatane to Raguel his father in law,¹³Where he became old with honour, and he buried his father and mother in law honourably, and he inherited their substance, and his father Tobit's.¹⁴And he died at Ecbatane in Media, being an hundred and seven and twenty years old.¹⁵But before he died he heard of the destruction of Nineve, which was taken by Nabuchodonosor and Assuerus: and before his death he rejoiced over Nineve.

JUDITH

CHAPTER 1 ¹In the twelfth year of the reign of Nabuchodonosor, who reigned in Nineve, the great city; in the days of Arphaxad, which reigned over the Medes in Ecbatane,²And built in Ecbatane walls round about of stones hewn three cubits broad and six cubits long, and made the height of the wall seventy cubits, and the breadth thereof fifty cubits:³And set the towers thereof upon the gates of it an hundred cubits high, and the breadth thereof in the foundation threescore cubits:⁴And he made the gates thereof, even gates that were raised to the height of seventy cubits, and the breadth of them was forty cubits, for the going forth of his mighty armies, and for the setting in array of his footmen:⁵Even in those days king Nabuchodonosor made war with king Arphaxad in the great plain, which is the plain in the borders of Ragau.⁶And there came unto him all they that dwelt in the hill country, and all that dwelt by Euphrates, and Tigris and Hydaspes, and the plain of Arioch the king of the Elymeans, and very many nations of the sons of Chelod, assembled themselves to the battle.⁷Then Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians sent unto all that dwelt in Persia, and to all that dwelt westward, and to those that dwelt in Cilicia, and Damascus, and Libanus, and Antilibanus, and to all that dwelt upon the sea coast,⁸And to those among the nations that were of Carmel, and Galaad, and the higher Galilee, and the great plain of Esdrelom,⁹And to all that were in

Samaria and the cities thereof, and beyond Jordan unto Jerusalem, and Betane, and Chelus, and Kades, and the river of Egypt, and Taphnes, and Ramesse, and all the land of Gesem,¹⁰Until ye come beyond Tanis and Memphis, and to all the inhabitants of Egypt, until ye come to the borders of Ethiopia.¹¹But all the inhabitants of the land made light of the commandment of Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians, neither went they with him to the battle; for they were not afraid of him: yea, he was before them as one man, and they sent away his ambassadors from them without effect, and with disgrace.¹²Therefore Nabuchodonosor was very angry with all this country, and sware by his throne and kingdom, that he would surely be avenged upon all those coasts of Cilicia, and Damascus, and Syria, and that he would slay with the sword all the inhabitants of the land of Moab, and the children of Ammon, and all Judea, and all that were in Egypt, till ye come to the borders of the two seas.¹³Then he marched in battle array with his power against king Arphaxad in the seventeenth year, and he prevailed in his battle: for he overthrew all the power of Arphaxad, and all his horsemen, and all his chariots,¹⁴And became lord of his cities, and came unto Ecbatane, and took the towers, and spoiled the streets thereof, and turned the beauty thereof into shame.¹⁵He took also Arphaxad in the mountains of Ragau, and smote him through with his darts, and destroyed him utterly that day.¹⁶So he returned afterward to Nineve, both he and all his company of sundry nations being a very great multitude of men of war, and there he took his ease, and banqueted, both he and his army, an hundred and twenty days.

CHAPTER 2 ¹And in the eighteenth year, the two and twentieth day of the first month, there was talk in the house of Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians that he should, as he said, avenge himself on all the earth.²So he called unto him all his officers, and all his nobles, and communicated with them his secret counsel, and concluded the afflicting of the whole earth out of his own mouth.³Then they decreed to destroy all flesh, that did not obey the commandment of his mouth.⁴And when he had ended his counsel, Nabuchodonosor king of the

Assyrians called Holofernes the chief captain of his army, which was next unto him, and said unto him.⁵Thus saith the great king, the lord of the whole earth, Behold, thou shalt go forth from my presence, and take with thee men that trust in their own strength, of footmen an hundred and twenty thousand; and the number of horses with their riders twelve thousand.⁶And thou shalt go against all the west country, because they disobeyed my commandment.⁷And thou shalt declare unto that they prepare for me earth and water: for I will go forth in my wrath against them and will cover the whole face of the earth with the feet of mine army, and I will give them for a spoil unto them:⁸So that their slain shall fill their valleys and brooks and the river shall be filled with their dead, till it overflow:⁹And I will lead them captives to the utmost parts of all the earth.¹⁰Thou therefore shalt go forth. and take beforehand for me all their coasts: and if they will yield themselves unto thee, thou shalt reserve them for me till the day of their punishment.¹¹But concerning them that rebel, let not thine eye spare them; but put them to the slaughter, and spoil them wheresoever thou goest.¹²For as I live, and by the power of my kingdom, whatsoever I have spoken, that will I do by mine hand.¹³And take thou heed that thou transgress none of the commandments of thy lord, but accomplish them fully, as I have commanded thee, and defer not to do them.¹⁴Then Holofernes went forth from the presence of his lord, and called ail the governors and captains, and the officers of the army of Assur;¹⁵And he mustered the chosen men for the battle, as his lord had commanded him, unto an hundred and twenty thousand, and twelve thousand archers on horseback;¹⁶And he ranged them, as a great army is ordered for the war.¹⁷And he took camels and asses for their carriages, a very great number; and sheep and oxen and goats without number for their provision:¹⁸And plenty of victual for every man of the army, and very much gold and silver out of the king's house.¹⁹Then he went forth and all his power to go before king Nabuchodonosor in the voyage, and to cover all the face of the earth westward with their chariots, and horsemen, and their chosen footmen.²⁰A great number also sundry countries came with them like locusts, and like the sand of the earth: for the multitude was without number.²¹And they went forth of

Nineve three days' journey toward the plain of Bectileth, and pitched from Bectileth near the mountain which is at the left hand of the upper Cilicia.²²Then he took all his army, his footmen, and horsemen and chariots, and went from thence into the hill country;²³And destroyed Phud and Lud, and spoiled all the children of Rassas, and the children of Israel, which were toward the wilderness at the south of the land of the Chellians.²⁴Then he went over Euphrates, and went through Mesopotamia, and destroyed all the high cities that were upon the river Arbonai, till ye come to the sea.²⁵And he took the borders of Cilicia, and killed all that resisted him, and came to the borders of Japheth, which were toward the south, over against Arabia.²⁶He compassed also all the children of Madian, and burned up their tabernacles, and spoiled their sheepcotes.²⁷Then he went down into the plain of Damascus in the time of wheat harvest, and burnt up all their fields, and destroyed their flocks and herds, also he spoiled their cities, and utterly wasted their countries, and smote all their young men with the edge of the sword.²⁸Therefore the fear and dread of him fell upon all the inhabitants of the sea coasts, which were in Sidon and Tyrus, and them that dwelt in Sur and Ocina, and all that dwelt in Jemnaan; and they that dwelt in Azotus and Ascalon feared him greatly.

CHAPTER 3 ¹So they sent ambassadors unto him to treat of peace, saying,²Behold, we the servants of Nabuchodonosor the great king lie before thee; use us as shall be good in thy sight.³Behold, our houses, and all our places, and all our fields of wheat, and flocks, and herds, and all the lodges of our tents lie before thy face; use them as it pleaseth thee.⁴Behold, even our cities and the inhabitants thereof are thy servants; come and deal with them as seemeth good unto thee.⁵So the men came to Holofernes, and declared unto him after this manner.⁶Then came he down toward the sea coast, both he and his army, and set garrisons in the high cities, and took out of them chosen men for aid.⁷So they and all the country round about received them with garlands, with dances, and with timbrels.⁸Yet he did cast down their frontiers, and cut down their groves: for he had decreed to destroy all the gods of the land, that all nations should worship Nabuchodonosor only, and that all tongues and tribes should call upon him as god.⁹Also he came over against Esdraelon near unto Judea, over against the great strait of Judea.¹⁰And he pitched between Geba and Scythopolis, and there he tarried a whole month, that he might gather together all the carriages of his army.

CHAPTER 4 ¹Now the children of Israel, that dwelt in Judea, heard all that Holofernes the chief captain of Nabuchodonosor king of the Assyrians had done to the nations, and after what manner he had spoiled all their temples, and brought them to nought.²Therefore they were exceedingly afraid of him, and were troubled for Jerusalem, and for the temple of the Lord their God:³For they were newly returned from the captivity, and all the people of Judea were lately gathered together: and the vessels, and the altar, and the house, were sanctified after the profanation.⁴Therefore they sent into all the coasts of Samaria, and the villages and to Bethoron, and Belmen, and Jericho, and to Choba, and Esora, and to the valley of Salem:⁵And possessed themselves beforehand of all the tops of the high mountains, and fortified the villages that were in them, and laid up victuals for the provision of war: for their fields were of late reaped.⁶Also Joacim the high priest, which was in those days in Jerusalem, wrote to them that dwelt in Bethulia, and Betomestham, which is over against Esdraelon toward the open country, near to Dothaim,⁷Charging them to keep the passages of the hill country: for by them there was an entrance into Judea, and it was easy to stop them that would come up, because the passage was straight, for two men at the most.⁸And the children of Israel did as Joacim the high priest had commanded them, with the ancients of all the people of Israel, which dwelt at Jerusalem.⁹Then every man of Israel cried to God with great fervency, and with great vehemency did they humble their souls:¹⁰Both they, and their wives and their children, and their cattle, and every stranger and hireling, and their servants bought with money, put sackcloth upon their loins.¹¹Thus every man and women, and the little children, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, fell before the temple, and cast ashes upon their heads, and spread out their sackcloth before the face of the Lord: also they put sackcloth about the altar,¹²And cried to the God of Israel all with one consent earnestly, that he would not give their children for a prey, and their wives for a spoil, and the cities of their inheritance to destruction, and the sanctuary to profanation and reproach, and for the nations to rejoice at.¹³So God heard their prayers, and looked upon their afflictions: for the people fasted many days in all Judea and Jerusalem before the sanctuary of the Lord Almighty.¹⁴And Joacim the high priest, and all the priests that stood before the Lord, and they which ministered unto the Lord, had their loins girt with sackcloth, and offered the daily burnt offerings, with the vows and free gifts of the people,¹⁵And had ashes on their mitres, and cried unto the Lord with all their power, that he would look upon all the house of Israel graciously.

CHAPTER 5 ¹Then was it declared to Holofernes, the chief captain of the army of Assur, that the children of Israel had prepared for war, and had shut up the passages of the hill country, and had fortified all the tops of the high hills and had laid impediments in the champaign countries:²Wherewith he was very angry, and called all the princes of Moab, and the captains of Ammon, and all the governors of the sea coast,³And he said unto them, Tell me now, ye sons of Chanaan, who this people is, that dwelleth in the hill country, and what are the cities that they inhabit, and what is the multitude of their army, and wherein is their power and strength, and what king is set over them, or captain of their army;⁴And why have they determined not to come and meet me, more than all the inhabitants of the west.⁵Then said Achior, the captain of all the sons of Ammon, Let my lord now hear a word from the mouth of thy servant, and I will declare unto thee the truth concerning this people, which dwelleth near thee, and inhabiteth the hill countries: and there shall no lie come out of the mouth of thy servant.⁶This people are descended of the Chaldeans:⁷And they sojourned heretofore in Mesopotamia, because they would not follow the gods of their fathers, which were in the land of Chaldea.⁸For they left the way of their ancestors, and worshipped the God of heaven, the God whom they knew: so they cast them out from the face of their gods, and they fled into Mesopotamia, and sojourned there many days.⁹Then their God commanded them to depart from the place where they sojourned, and to go into the land of Chanaan: where they dwelt, and were increased with gold and silver, and with very much cattle.¹⁰But when a famine covered all the land of Chanaan, they went down into Egypt, and sojourned there, while they were nourished, and became there a great multitude, so that one could not number their nation.¹¹Therefore the king of Egypt rose up against them, and dealt subtilly with them, and brought them low with labouring in brick, and made them slaves.¹²Then they cried unto their God, and he smote all the land of Egypt with incurable plagues: so the Egyptians cast them out of their sight.¹³And God dried the Red sea before them,¹⁴And brought them to mount Sina, and Cades-Barne, and cast forth all that dwelt in the wilderness.¹⁵So they dwelt in the land of the Amorites, and they destroyed by their strength all them of Esebon, and passing over Jordan they possessed all the hill country.¹⁶And they cast forth before them the Chanaanite, the Pherezite, the Jebusite, and the Sychemite, and all the Gergesites, and they dwelt in that country many days.¹⁷And whilst they sinned not before their God, they prospered, because the God that hateth iniquity was with them.¹⁸But when they departed from the way which he appointed them, they were destroyed in many battles very sore, and were led captives into a land that was not their's, and the temple of their God was cast to the ground, and their cities were taken by the enemies.¹⁹But now are they returned to their God, and are come up from the places where they were scattered, and have possessed Jerusalem, where their sanctuary is, and are seated in the hill country; for it was desolate.²⁰Now therefore, my lord and governor, if there be any error against this people, and they sin against their God, let us consider that this shall be their ruin, and let us go up, and we shall overcome them.²¹But if there be no iniquity in their nation, let my lord now pass by, lest their Lord defend them, and their God be for them, and we become a reproach before all the world.²²And when Achior had finished these sayings, all the people standing round about the tent murmured, and the chief men of Holofernes, and all that dwelt by the sea side, and in Moab, spake that he should kill him.²³For, say they, we will not be afraid of the face of the children of Israel: for, lo, it is a people that have no strength nor power for a strong battle²⁴Now therefore, lord Holofernes, we will go up, and they shall be a prey to be devoured of all thine army.

CHAPTER 6 ¹And when the tumult of men that were about the council was ceased, Holofernes the chief captain of the army of Assur said unto Achior and all the Moabites before all the company of other nations,²And who art thou, Achior, and the hirelings of Ephraim, that thou hast prophesied against us as to day, and hast said, that we should not make war with the people of Israel, because their God will defend them? and who is God but Nabuchodonosor?³He will send his power, and will destroy them from the face of the earth, and their God shall not deliver them: but we his servants will destroy them as one man; for they are not able to sustain the power of our horses.⁴For with them we will tread them under foot, and their mountains shall be drunken with their blood, and their fields shall be filled with their dead bodies, and their footsteps shall not be able to stand before us, for they shall utterly perish, saith king Nabuchodonosor, lord of all the earth: for he said, None of my words shall be in vain.⁵And thou, Achior, an hireling of Ammon, which hast spoken these words in the day of thine iniquity, shalt see my face no more from this day, until I take vengeance of this nation that came out of Egypt.⁶And then shall the sword of mine army, and the multitude of them that serve me, pass through thy sides, and thou shalt fall among their slain, when I return.⁷Now therefore my servants shall bring thee back into the hill country, and shall set thee in one of the cities of the passages:⁸And thou shalt not perish, till thou be destroyed with them.⁹And if thou persuade thyself in thy mind that they shall be taken, let not thy countenance fall: I have spoken it, and none of my words shall be in vain.¹⁰Then Holofernes commanded his servants, that waited in his tent, to take Achior, and bring him to Bethulia, and deliver him into the hands of the children of Israel.¹¹So his servants took him, and brought him out of the camp into the plain, and they went from the midst of the plain into the hill country, and came unto the fountains that were under Bethulia.¹²And when the men of the city saw them, they took up their weapons, and went out of the city to the top of the hill: and every man that used a sling kept them from coming up by casting of stones against them.¹³Nevertheless having gotten privily under the hill, they bound Achior, and cast him down, and left him at the foot of the hill, and returned to their lord.¹⁴But the Israelites descended from their city, and came unto him, and loosed him, and brought him to Bethulia, and presented him to the governors of the city.¹⁵Which were in those days Ozias the son of Micha, of the tribe of Simeon, and Chabris the son of Gothoniel, and Charmis the son of Melchiel.¹⁶And they called together all the ancients of the city, and all their youth ran together, and their women, to the assembly, and they set Achior in the midst of all their people. Then Ozias asked him of that which was done.¹⁷And he answered and declared unto them the words of the council of Holofernes, and all the words that he had spoken in the midst of the princes of Assur, and whatsoever Holofernes had spoken proudly against the house of Israel.¹⁸Then the people fell down and worshipped God, and cried unto God. saying,¹⁹O Lord God of heaven, behold their pride, and pity the low estate of our nation, and look upon the face of those that are sanctified unto thee this day.²⁰Then they comforted Achior, and praised him greatly.²¹And Ozias took him out of the assembly unto his house, and made a feast to the elders; and they called on the God of Israel all that night for help.

CHAPTER 7 ¹The next day Holofernes commanded all his army, and all his people which were come to take his part, that they should remove their camp against Bethulia, to take aforehand the ascents of the hill country, and to make war against the children of Israel.²Then their strong men removed their camps in that day, and the army of the men of war was an hundred and seventy thousand footmen, and twelve thousand horsemen, beside the baggage, and other men that were afoot among them, a very great multitude.³And they camped in the valley near unto Bethulia, by the fountain, and they spread themselves in breadth over Dothaim even to Belmaim, and in length from Bethulia unto Cynamon, which is over against Esdraelon.⁴Now the children of Israel, when they saw the multitude of them, were greatly troubled, and said every one to his neighbour, Now will

these men lick up the face of the earth; for neither the high mountains, nor the valleys, nor the hills, are able to bear their weight.⁵Then every man took up his weapons of war, and when they had kindled fires upon their towers, they remained and watched all that night.⁶But in the second day Holofernes brought forth all his horsemen in the sight of the children of Israel which were in Bethulia,⁷And viewed the passages up to the city, and came to the fountains of their waters, and took them, and set garrisons of men of war over them, and he himself removed toward his people.⁸Then came unto him all the chief of the children of Esau, and all the governors of the people of Moab, and the captains of the sea coast, and said,⁹Let our lord now hear a word, that there be not an overthrow in thine army.¹⁰For this people of the children of Israel do not trust in their spears, but in the height of the mountains wherein they dwell, because it is not easy to come up to the tops of their mountains.¹¹Now therefore, my lord, fight not against them in battle array, and there shall not so much as one man of thy people perish.¹²Remain in thy camp, and keep all the men of thine army, and let thy servants get into their hands the fountain of water, which issueth forth of the foot of the mountain:¹³For all the inhabitants of Bethulia have their water thence; so shall thirst kill them, and they shall give up their city, and we and our people shall go up to the tops of the mountains that are near, and will camp upon them, to watch that none go out of the city.¹⁴So they and their wives and their children shall be consumed with fire, and before the sword come against them, they shall be overthrown in the streets where they dwell.¹⁵Thus shalt thou render them an evil reward; because they rebelled, and met not thy person peaceably.¹⁶And these words pleased Holofernes and all his servants, and he appointed to do as they had spoken.¹⁷So the camp of the children of Ammon departed, and with them five thousand of the Assyrians, and they pitched in the valley, and took the waters, and the fountains of the waters of the children of Israel.¹⁸Then the children of Esau went up with the children of Ammon, and camped in the hill country over against Dothaim: and they sent some of them toward the south, and toward the east over against Ekrebel, which is near unto Chusi, that is upon the brook Mochmur; and the rest of the army of the Assyrians camped in the plain, and covered the face of the whole land; and their tents and carriages were pitched to a very great multitude.¹⁹Then the children of Israel cried unto the Lord their God, because their heart failed, for all their enemies had compassed them round about, and there was no way to escape out from among them.²⁰Thus all the company of Assur remained about them, both their footmen, chariots, and horsemen, four and thirty days, so that all their vessels of water failed all the inhabitants of Bethulia.²¹And the cisterns were emptied, and they had not water to drink their fill for one day; for they gave them drink by measure.²²Therefore their young children were out of heart, and their women and young men fainted for thirst, and fell down in the streets of the city, and by the passages of the gates, and there was no longer any strength in them.²³Then all the people assembled to Ozias, and to the chief of the city, both young men, and women, and children, and cried with a loud voice, and said before all the elders,²⁴God be judge between us and you: for ye have done us great injury, in that ye have not required peace of the children of Assur.²⁵For now we have no helper: but God hath sold us into their hands, that we should be thrown down before them with thirst and great destruction.²⁶Now therefore call them unto you, and deliver the whole city for a spoil to the people of Holofernes, and to all his army.²⁷For it is better for us to be made a spoil unto them, than to die for thirst: for we will be his servants, that our souls may live, and not see the death of our infants before our eyes, nor our wives nor our children to die.²⁸We take to witness against you the heaven and the earth, and our God and Lord of our fathers, which punisheth us according to our sins and the sins of our fathers, that he do not according as we have said this day.²⁹Then there was great weeping with one consent in the midst of the assembly; and they cried unto the Lord God with a loud voice.³⁰Then said Ozias to them, Brethren, be of good courage, let us yet endure five days, in the which space the Lord our God may turn his mercy toward us; for he will not forsake us utterly.³¹And if these days pass, and there come no help unto us, I will do according to your word.³²And he dispersed the people, every one to their own charge; and they went unto the walls and towers of their city, and sent the women and children into their houses: and they were very low brought in the city.

CHAPTER 8 ¹Now at that time Judith heard thereof, which was the daughter of Merari, the son of Ox, the son of Joseph, the son of Ozel, the son of Elcia, the son of Ananias, the son of Gedeon, the son of Raphaim, the son of Acitho, the son of Eliu, the son of Eliab, the son of Nathanael, the son of Samael, the son of Salasadal, the son of Israel.²And Manasses was her husband, of her tribe and kindred, who died in the barley harvest.³For as he stood overseeing them that bound sheaves in the field, the heat came upon his head, and he fell on his bed, and died in the city of Bethulia: and they buried him with his fathers in the field between Dothaim and Balamo.⁴So Judith was a widow in her house three years and four months.⁵And she made her a tent upon the top of her house, and put on sackcloth upon her loins and wore her widow's apparel.⁶And she fasted all the days of her widowhood, save the eves of the sabbaths, and the sabbaths, and the eves of the new moons, and the new moons and the feasts and solemn days of the house of Israel.⁷She was also of a goodly countenance, and very beautiful to behold: and her husband Manasses had left her gold, and silver, and menservants and maidservants, and cattle, and lands; and she remained upon them.⁸And there was none that gave her an ill word; for she feared God greatly.⁹Now when she heard the evil words of the people against the governor, that they fainted for lack of water; for Judith had heard all the words that Ozias had spoken unto them, and that he had sworn to deliver the city unto the Assyrians after five days;¹⁰Then she sent her waitingwoman, that had the government of all things that she had, to call Ozias and Chabris and Charmis, the ancients of the city.¹¹And they came unto her, and she said unto them, Hear me now, O ye governors of the inhabitants of Bethulia: for your words that ye have spoken before the people this day are not right, touching this oath which ye made and pronounced between God and you, and have promised to deliver the city to our enemies, unless within these days the Lord turn to help you.¹²And now who are ye that have tempted God this day, and stand instead of God among the children of men?¹³And now try the Lord Almighty, but ye shall never know any thing.¹⁴For ye cannot find the depth of the heart of man, neither can ye perceive the things that he thinketh: then how can ye search out God, that hath made all these things, and know his mind, or comprehend his purpose? Nay, my brethren, provoke not the Lord our God to anger.¹⁵For if he will not help us within these five days, he hath power to defend us when he will, even every day, or to destroy us before our enemies.¹⁶Do not bind the counsels of the Lord our God: for God is not as man, that he may be threatened; neither is he as the son of man, that he should be wavering.¹⁷Therefore let us wait for salvation of him, and call upon him to help us, and he will hear our voice, if it please him.¹⁸For there arose none in our age, neither is there any now in these days neither tribe, nor family, nor people, nor city among us, which worship gods made with hands, as hath been aforetime.¹⁹For the which cause our fathers were given to the sword, and for a spoil, and had a great fall before our enemies.²⁰But we know none other god, therefore we trust that he will not dispise us, nor any of our nation.²¹For if we be taken so, all Judea shall lie waste, and our sanctuary shall be spoiled; and he will require the profanation thereof at our mouth.²²And the slaughter of our brethren, and the captivity of the country, and the desolation of our inheritance, will he turn upon our heads among the Gentiles, wheresoever we shall be in bondage; and we shall be an offence and a reproach to all them that possess us.²³For our servitude shall not be directed to favour: but the Lord our God shall turn it to dishonour.²⁴Now therefore, O brethren, let us shew an example to our brethren, because their hearts depend upon us, and the sanctuary, and the house, and the altar, rest upon us.²⁵Moreover let us give thanks to the Lord our God, which trieth us, even as he did our fathers.²⁶Remember what things he did to Abraham, and how he tried Isaac, and what happened to Jacob in Mesopotamia of Syria, when he kept the sheep of Laban his mother's brother.²⁷For he hath not tried us in the fire, as he did them, for the examination of their hearts, neither hath he taken vengeance on us: but the Lord doth scourge them that come near unto him, to admonish them.²⁸Then said Ozias to her, All that thou hast spoken hast thou spoken with a good heart, and there is none that may gainsay thy words.²⁹For this is not the first day wherein thy wisdom is manifested; but from the beginning of thy days all the people have known thy understanding, because the disposition of thine heart is good.³⁰But the people were very thirsty, and compelled us to do unto them as we have spoken, and to bring an oath upon ourselves, which we will not break.³¹Therefore now pray thou for us, because thou art a godly woman, and the Lord will send us rain to fill our cisterns, and we shall faint no more.³²Then said Judith unto them, Hear me, and I will do a thing, which shall go throughout all generations to the children of our nation.³³Ye shall stand this night in the gate, and I will go forth with my waitingwoman: and within the days that ye have promised to deliver the city to our enemies the Lord will visit Israel by mine hand.³⁴But enquire not ye of mine act: for I will not declare it unto you, till the things be finished that I do.³⁵Then said Ozias and the princes unto her, Go in peace, and the Lord God be before thee, to take vengeance on our enemies.³⁶So they returned from the tent, and went to their wards.

CHAPTER 9 ¹Judith fell upon her face, and put ashes upon her head, and uncovered the sackcloth wherewith she was clothed; and about the time that the incense of that evening was offered in Jerusalem in the house of the Lord Judith cried with a loud voice, and said,²O Lord God of my father Simeon, to whom thou gavest a sword to take vengeance of the strangers, who loosened the girdle of a maid to defile her, and discovered the thigh to her shame, and polluted her virginity to her reproach; for thou saidst, It shall not be so; and yet they did so.³Wherefore thou gavest their rulers to be slain, so that they dyed their bed in blood, being deceived, and smotest the servants with their lords, and the lords upon their thrones;⁴And hast given their wives for a prey, and their daughters to be captives, and all their spoils to be divided among thy dear children; which were moved with thy zeal, and abhorred the pollution of their blood, and called upon thee for aid: O God, O my God, hear me also a widow.⁵For thou hast wrought not only those things, but also the things which fell out before, and which ensued after; thou hast thought upon the things which are now, and which are to come.⁶Yea, what things thou didst determine were ready at hand, and said, Lo, we are here: for all thy ways are prepared, and thy judgments are in thy foreknowledge.⁷For, behold, the Assyrians are multiplied in their power; they are exalted with horse and man; they glory in the strength of their footmen; they trust in shield, and spear, and bow, and sling; and know not that thou art the Lord that breakest the battles: the Lord is thy name.⁸Throw down their strength in thy power, and bring down their force in thy wrath: for they have purposed to defile thy sanctuary, and to pollute the tabernacle where thy glorious name resteth and to cast down with sword the horn of thy altar.⁹Behold their pride, and send thy wrath upon their heads: give into mine hand, which am a widow, the power that I have conceived.¹⁰Smite by the deceit of my lips the servant with the prince, and the prince with the servant: break down their stateliness by the hand of a woman.¹¹For thy power standeth not in multitude nor thy might in strong men: for thou art a God of the afflicted, an helper of the oppressed, an upholder of the weak, a protector of the forlorn, a saviour of them that are without hope.¹²I pray thee, I pray thee, O God of my father, and God of the inheritance of Israel, Lord of the heavens and earth, Creator of the waters, king of every creature, hear thou my prayer:¹³And make my speech and deceit to be their wound and stripe, who have purposed cruel things against thy covenant, and thy hallowed house, and against the top of Sion, and against the house of the possession of thy children.¹⁴And make every nation and tribe to acknowledge that thou art the God of all power and might, and that there is none other that protecteth the people of Israel but thou.

CHAPTER 10 ¹Now after that she had ceased to cry unto the God of Israel, and bad made an end of all these words.²She rose where she had fallen down, and called her maid, and went down into the house in the which she abode in the sabbath days, and in her feast days,³And pulled off the sackcloth which she had on, and put off the garments of her widowhood, and washed her body all over with water, and anointed herself with precious ointment, and braided the hair of her head, and put on a tire upon it, and put on her garments of gladness, wherewith she was clad during the life of Manasses her husband.⁴And she took sandals upon her feet, and put about her her bracelets, and her chains, and her rings, and her earrings, and all her ornaments, and decked herself bravely, to allure the eyes of all men that should see her.⁵Then she gave her maid a bottle of wine, and a cruse of oil, and filled a bag with parched corn, and lumps of figs, and with fine bread; so she folded all these things together, and laid them upon her.⁶Thus they went forth to the gate of the city of Bethulia, and found standing there Ozias and the ancients of the city, Chabris and Charmis.⁷And when they saw her, that her countenance was altered, and her apparel was changed, they wondered at her beauty very greatly, and said unto her.⁸The God, the God of our fathers give thee favour, and accomplish thine enterprizes to the glory of the children of Israel, and to the exaltation of Jerusalem. Then they worshipped God.⁹And she said unto them, Command the gates of the city to be opened unto me, that I may go forth to accomplish the things whereof ye have spoken with me. So they commanded the young men to open unto her, as she had spoken.¹⁰And when they had done so, Judith went out, she, and her maid with her; and the men of the city looked after her, until she was gone down the mountain, and till she had passed the valley, and could see her no more.¹¹Thus they went straight forth in the valley: and the first watch of the Assyrians met her,¹²And took her, and asked her, Of what people art thou? and whence comest thou? and whither goest thou? And she said, I am a woman of the Hebrews, and am fled from them: for they shall be given you to be consumed:¹³And I am coming before Holofernes the chief captain of your army, to declare words of truth; and I will shew him a way, whereby he shall go, and win all the hill country, without losing the body or life of any one of his men.¹⁴Now when the men heard her words, and beheld her countenance, they wondered greatly at her beauty, and said unto her,¹⁵Thou hast saved thy life, in that thou hast hasted to come down to the presence of our lord: now therefore come to his tent, and some of us shall conduct thee, until they have delivered thee to his hands.¹⁶And when thou standest before him, be not afraid in thine heart, but shew unto him according to thy word; and he will entreat thee well.¹⁷Then they chose out of them an hundred men to accompany her and her maid; and they brought her to the tent of Holofernes.¹⁸Then was there a concourse throughout all the camp: for her coming was noised among the tents, and they came about her, as she stood without the tent of Holofernes, till they told him of her.¹⁹And they wondered at her beauty, and admired the children of Israel because of her, and every one said to his neighbour, Who would despise this people, that have among them such women? surely it is not good that one man of them be left who being let go might deceive the whole earth.²⁰And they that lay near Holofernes went out, and all his servants and they brought her into the tent.²¹Now Holofernes rested upon his bed under a canopy, which was woven with purple, and gold, and emeralds, and precious stones.²²So they shewed him of her; and he came out before his tent with silver lamps going before him.²³And when Judith was come before him and his servants they all marvelled at the beauty of her countenance; and she fell down upon her face, and did reverence unto him: and his servants took her up.

CHAPTER 11 ¹Then said Holofernes unto her, Woman, be of good comfort, fear not in thine heart: for I never hurt any that was willing to serve Nabuchodonosor, the king of all the earth.²Now therefore, if thy people that dwelleth in the mountains had not set light by me, I would not have lifted up my spear against them: but they have done these things to themselves.³But now tell me wherefore thou art fled from them, and art come unto us: for thou art come for safeguard; be of good comfort, thou shalt live this night, and hereafter:⁴For none shall hurt thee, but entreat thee well, as they do the servants of king Nabuchodonosor my lord.⁵Then Judith said unto him, Receive the words of thy servant, and suffer thine handmaid to speak in thy presence, and I will declare no lie to my lord this night.⁶And if thou wilt follow the words of thine handmaid, God will bring the thing perfectly to pass by thee; and my lord shall not fail of his purposes.⁷As Nabuchodonosor king of all the earth liveth, and as his power liveth, who hath sent thee for the upholding of every living thing: for not only men shall serve him by thee, but also the beasts of the field, and the cattle, and the fowls of the air, shall live by thy power under Nabuchodonosor and all his house.⁸For we have heard of thy wisdom and thy policies, and it is reported in all the earth, that thou only art excellent in all the kingdom, and mighty in knowledge, and wonderful in feats of war.⁹Now as concerning the matter, which Achior did speak in thy council, we have heard his words; for the men of Bethulia saved him, and he declared unto them all that he had spoken unto thee.¹⁰Therefore, O lord and governor, respect not his word; but lay it up in thine heart, for it is true: for our nation shall not be punished, neither can sword prevail against them, except they sin against their God.¹¹And now, that my lord be not defeated and frustrate of his purpose, even death is now fallen upon them, and their sin hath overtaken them, wherewith they will provoke their God to anger whensoever they shall do that which is not fit to be done.¹²For their victuals fail them, and all their water is scant, and they have determined to lay hands upon their cattle, and purposed to consume all those things, that God hath forbidden them to eat by his laws:¹³And are resolved to spend the firstfruits of the the tenths of wine and oil, which they had sanctified, and reserved for the priests that serve in Jerusalem before the face of our God; the which things it is not lawful for any of the people so much as to touch with their hands.¹⁴For they have sent some to Jerusalem, because they also that dwell there have done the like, to bring them a licence from the senate.¹⁵Now when they shall bring them word, they will forthwith do it, and they shall be given to thee to be destroyed the same day.¹⁶Wherefore I thine handmaid, knowing all this, am fled from their presence; and God hath sent me to work things with thee, whereat all the earth shall be astonished, and whosoever shall hear it.¹⁷For thy servant is religious, and serveth the God of heaven day and night: now therefore, my lord, I will remain with thee, and thy servant will go out by night into the valley, and I will pray unto God, and he will tell me when they have committed their sins:¹⁸And I will come and shew it unto thee: then thou shalt go forth with all thine army, and there shall be none of them that shall resist thee.¹⁹And I will lead thee through the midst of Judea, until thou come before Jerusalem; and I will set thy throne in the midst thereof; and thou shalt drive them as sheep that have no shepherd, and a dog shall not so much as open his mouth at thee: for these things were told me according to my foreknowledge, and they were declared unto me, and I am sent to tell thee.²⁰ Then her words pleased Holofernes and all his servants; and they marvelled at her wisdom, and said,²¹ There is not such a woman from one end of the earth to the other, both for beauty of face, and wisdom of words.²² Likewise Holofernes said unto her. God hath done well to send thee before the people, that strength might be in our hands and destruction upon them that lightly regard my lord.²³ And now thou art both beautiful in thy countenance, and witty in thy words: surely if thou do as thou hast spoken thy God shall be my God, and thou shalt dwell in the house of king Nabuchodonosor, and shalt be renowned through the whole earth.

CHAPTER 12 ¹Then he commanded to bring her in where his plate was set; and bade that they should prepare for her of his own meats, and that she should drink of his own wine.² And Judith said, I will not eat thereof, lest there be an offence: but provision shall be made for me of the things that I have brought.³ Then

Holofernes said unto her, If thy provision should fail, how should we give thee the like? for there be none with us of thy nation.⁴ Then said Judith unto him As thy soul liveth, my lord, thine handmaid shall not spend those things that I have, before the Lord work by mine hand the things that he hath determined.⁵ Then the servants of Holofernes brought her into the tent, and she slept till midnight, and she arose when it was toward the morning watch,⁶ And sent to Holofernes, saving, Let my lord now command that thine handmaid may go forth unto prayer.⁷ Then Holofernes commanded his guard that they should not stay her: thus she abode in the camp three days, and went out in the night into the valley of Bethulia, and washed herself in a fountain of water by the camp.⁸ And when she came out, she besought the Lord God of Israel to direct her way to the raising up of the children of her people.⁹ So she came in clean, and remained in the tent, until she did eat her meat at evening.¹⁰ And in the fourth day Holofernes made a feast to his own servants only, and called none of the officers to the banquet.¹¹ Then said he to Bagoas the eunuch, who had charge over all that he had, Go now, and persuade this

Hebrew woman which is with thee, that she come unto us, and eat and drink with us.¹²For, lo, it will be a shame for our person, if we shall let such a woman go, not having had her company; for if we draw her not unto us, she will laugh us to scorn.¹³Then went Bagoas from the presence of Holofernes, and came to her, and he said, Let not this fair damsel fear to come to my lord, and to be honoured in his presence, and drink wine, and be merry with us and be made this day as one of the daughters of the Assyrians, which serve in the house of Nabuchodonosor.¹⁴Then said Judith unto him, Who am I now, that I should gainsay my lord? surely whatsoever pleaseth him I will do speedily, and it shall be my joy unto the day of my death.¹⁵So she arose, and decked herself with her apparel and all her woman's attire, and her maid went and laid soft skins on the ground for her over against Holofernes, which she had received of Bagoas for her daily use, that she might sit and eat upon them.¹⁶Now when Judith came in and sat down, Holofernes his heart was ravished with her, and his mind was moved, and he desired greatly her company; for he waited a time to deceive her, from the day that he had seen her.¹⁷Then said Holofernes unto her, Drink now, and be merry with us.¹⁸So Judith said, I will drink now, my lord, because my life is magnified in me this day more than all the days since I was born.¹⁹Then she took and ate and drank before him what her maid had prepared.²⁰And Holofernes took great delight in her, and drank more wine than he had drunk at any time in one day since he was born.

CHAPTER 13 ¹Now when the evening was come, his servants made haste to depart, and Bagoas shut his tent without, and dismissed the waiters from the presence of his lord; and they went to their beds: for they were all weary, because the feast had been long.²And Judith was left along in the tent, and Holofernes lying along upon his bed: for he was filled with wine.³Now Judith had commanded her maid to stand without her bedchamber, and to wait for her. coming forth, as she did daily: for she said she would go forth to her prayers, and she spake to Bagoas according to the same purpose.⁴So all went forth and none was left in the bedchamber, neither little nor great. Then Judith, standing by his bed, said in her heart, O Lord

God of all power, look at this present upon the works of mine hands for the exaltation of Jerusalem.⁵For now is the time to help thine inheritance, and to execute thine enterprizes to the destruction of the enemies which are risen against us.⁶Then she came to the pillar of the bed, which was at Holofernes' head, and took down his fauchion from thence,⁷And approached to his bed, and took hold of the hair of his head, and said, Strengthen me, O Lord God of Israel, this day.⁸And she smote twice upon his neck with all her might, and she took away his head from him.⁹And tumbled his body down from the bed, and pulled down the canopy from the pillars; and anon after she went forth, and gave Holofernes his head to her maid;¹⁰And she put it in her bag of meat: so they twain went together according to their custom unto prayer: and when they passed the camp, they compassed the valley, and went up the mountain of Bethulia, and came to the gates thereof.¹¹Then said Judith afar off, to the watchmen at the gate, Open, open now the gate: God, even our God, is with us, to shew his power yet in Jerusalem, and his forces against the enemy, as he hath even done this day.¹²Now when the men of her city heard her voice, they made haste to go down to the gate of their city, and they called the elders of the city.¹³And then they ran all together, both small and great, for it was strange unto them that she was come: so they opened the gate, and received them, and made a fire for a light, and stood round about them.¹⁴Then she said to them with a loud voice, Praise, praise God, praise God, I say, for he hath not taken away his mercy from the house of Israel, but hath destroyed our enemies by mine hands this night.¹⁵So she took the head out of the bag, and shewed it, and said unto them, behold the head of Holofernes, the chief captain of the army of Assur, and behold the canopy, wherein he did lie in his drunkenness; and the Lord hath smitten him by the hand of a woman.¹⁶As the Lord liveth, who hath kept me in my way that I went, my countenance hath deceived him to his destruction, and yet hath he not committed sin with me, to defile and shame me.¹⁷Then all the people were wonderfully astonished, and bowed themselves and worshipped God, and said with one accord, Blessed be thou, O our God, which hast this day brought to nought the enemies of thy people.¹⁸Then said Ozias unto her, O daughter, blessed art thou of the most high God above all the women upon the earth; and blessed be the Lord God, which hath created the heavens and the earth, which hath directed thee to the cutting off of the head of the chief of our enemies.¹⁹For this thy confidence shall not depart from the heart of men, which remember the power of God for ever.²⁰And God turn these things to thee for a perpetual praise, to visit thee in good things because thou hast not spared thy life for the affliction of our nation, but hast revenged our ruin, walking a straight way before our God. And all the people said; So be it, so be it.

CHAPTER 14 ¹Then said Judith unto them, Hear me now, my brethren, and take this head, and hang it upon the highest place of your walls.²And so soon as the morning shall appear, and the sun shall come forth upon the earth, take ye every one his weapons, and go forth every valiant man out of the city, and set ye a captain over them, as though ye would go down into the field toward the watch of the Assyrians; but go not down.³Then they shall take their armour, and shall go into their camp, and raise up the captains of the army of Assur, and shall run to the tent of Holofernes, but shall not find him: then fear shall fall upon them, and they shall flee before your face.⁴So ye, and all that inhabit the coast of Israel, shall pursue them, and overthrow them as they go.⁵But before ye do these things, call me Achior the Ammonite, that he may see and know him that despised the house of Israel, and that sent him to us as it were to his death.⁶Then they called Achior out of the house of Ozias; and when he was come, and saw the head of Holofernes in a man's hand in the assembly of the people, he fell down on his face, and his spirit failed.⁷But when they had recovered him, he fell at Judith's feet, and revered her, and said, Blessed art thou in all the tabernacles of Juda, and in all nations, which hearing thy name shall be astonished.⁸Now therefore tell me all the things that thou hast done in these days. Then Judith declared unto him in the midst of the people all that she had done, from the day that she went forth until that hour she spake unto them.⁹And when she had left off speaking, the people shouted with a loud voice, and made a joyful noise in their city.¹⁰And when Achior had seen all that the God of Israel had done, he believed in God greatly, and circumcised the flesh of his foreskin, and was joined unto the house of Israel unto this day.¹¹ And as soon as the morning arose, they hanged the head of Holofernes upon the wall, and every man took his weapons, and they went forth by bands unto the straits of the mountain.¹² But when the Assyrians saw them, they sent to their leaders, which came to their captains and tribunes, and to every one of their rulers.¹³ So they came to Holofernes' tent, and said to him that had the charge of all his things, Waken now our lord: for the slaves have been bold to come down against us to battle, that they may be utterly destroyed.¹⁴ Then went in Bagoas, and knocked at the door of the tent; for he thought that he had slept with Judith.¹⁵ But because none answered, he opened it, and went into the bedchamber, and found him cast upon the floor dead, and his head was taken from him.¹⁶ Therefore he cried with a loud voice, with weeping, and sighing, and a mighty cry, and rent his garments.¹⁷ After he went into the tent where Judith lodged: and when he found her not, he leaped out to the people, and cried,¹⁸ These slaves have dealt treacherously; one woman of the Hebrews hath brought shame upon the house of king Nabuchodonosor: for, behold, Holofernes lieth upon the ground without a head.¹⁹ When the captains of the Assyrians' army heard these words, they rent their coats and their minds were wonderfully troubled, and there was a cry and a very great noise throughout the camp.

CHAPTER 15 ¹And when they that were in the tents heard, they were astonished at the thing that was done.² And fear and trembling fell upon them, so that there was no man that durst abide in the sight of his neighbour, but rushing out all together, they fled into every way of the plain, and of the hill country.³ They also that had camped in the mountains round about Bethulia fled away. Then the children of Israel, every one that was a warrior among them, rushed out upon them.⁴ Then sent Ozias to Betomasthem, and to Bebai, and Chobai, and Cola and to all the coasts of Israel, such as should tell the things that were done, and that all should rush forth upon their enemies to destroy them.⁵ Now when the children of Israel heard it, they all fell upon them with one consent, and slew them unto Chobai: likewise also they that came from Jerusalem, and from all the hill country, (for men had told them what things were done in the camp of their enemies) and they that were in Galaad, and in Galilee, chased them with a great slaughter, until they were past Damascus and the borders thereof.⁶And the residue that dwelt at Bethulia, fell upon the camp of Assur, and spoiled them, and were greatly enriched.⁷And the children of Israel that returned from the slaughter had that which remained; and the villages and the cities, that were in the mountains and in the plain, gat many spoils: for the multitude was very great.⁸Then Joacim the high priest, and the ancients of the children of Israel that dwelt in Jerusalem, came to behold the good things that God had shewed to Israel, and to see Judith, and to salute her.⁹And when they came unto her, they blessed her with one accord, and said unto her, Thou art the exaltation of Jerusalem, thou art the great glory of Israel, thou art the great rejoicing of our nation:¹⁰Thou hast done all these things by thine hand: thou hast done much good to Israel, and God is pleased therewith: blessed be thou of the Almighty Lord for evermore. And all the people said, So be it.¹¹And the people spoiled the camp the space of thirty days: and they gave unto Judith Holofernes his tent, and all his plate, and beds, and vessels, and all his stuff: and she took it and laid it on her mule; and made ready her carts, and laid them thereon.¹²Then all the women of Israel ran together to see her, and blessed her, and made a dance among them for her: and she took branches in her hand, and gave also to the women that were with her.¹³And they put a garland of olive upon her and her maid that was with her, and she went before all the people in the dance, leading all the women: and all the men of Israel followed in their armour with garlands, and with songs in their mouths.

CHAPTER 16 ¹Then Judith began to sing this thanksgiving in all Israel, and all the people sang after her this song of praise.²And Judith said, Begin unto my God with timbrels, sing unto my Lord with cymbals: tune unto him a new psalm: exalt him, and call upon his name.³For God breaketh the battles: for among the camps in the midst of the people he hath delivered me out of the hands of them that persecuted me.⁴Assur came out of the mountains from the north, he came with ten thousands of his army, the multitude whereof stopped the torrents, and their horsemen have covered the hills.⁵He bragged that he would burn up my borders, and kill my young men with the sword, and dash the sucking children against the ground, and make mine infants as a prey, and my virgins as a spoil.⁶But the Almighty Lord hath disappointed them by the hand of a woman.⁷For the mighty one did not fall by the young men, neither did the sons of the Titans smite him, nor high giants set upon him: but Judith the daughter of Merari weakened him with the beauty of her countenance.⁸For she put off the garment of her widowhood for the exaltation of those that were oppressed in Israel, and anointed her face with ointment, and bound her hair in a tire, and took a linen garment to deceive him.⁹Her sandals ravished his eyes, her beauty took his mind prisoner, and the fauchion passed through his neck.¹⁰The Persians quaked at her boldness, and the Medes were daunted at her hardiness.¹¹Then my afflicted shouted for joy, and my weak ones cried aloud; but they were astonished: these lifted up their voices, but they were overthrown.¹²The sons of the damsels have pierced them through, and wounded them as fugatives' children: they perished by the battle of the Lord.¹³I will sing unto the Lord a new song: O Lord, thou art great and glorious, wonderful in strength, and invincible.¹⁴Let all creatures serve thee: for thou spakest, and they were made, thou didst send forth thy spirit, and it created them, and there is none that can resist thy voice.¹⁵For the mountains shall be moved from their foundations with the waters, the rocks shall melt as wax at thy presence: yet thou art merciful to them that fear thee.¹⁶For all sacrifice is too little for a sweet savour unto thee, and all the fat is not sufficient for thy burnt offering: but he that feareth the Lord is great at all times.¹⁷Woe to the nations that rise up against my kindred! the Lord Almighty will take vengeance of them in the day of judgment, in putting fire and worms in their flesh; and they shall feel them, and weep for ever.¹⁸Now as soon as they entered into Jerusalem, they worshipped the Lord; and as soon as the people were purified, they offered their burnt offerings, and their free offerings, and their gifts.¹⁹Judith also dedicated all the stuff of Holofernes, which the people had given her, and gave the canopy, which she had taken out of his bedchamber, for a gift unto the Lord.²⁰ So the people continued feasting in Jerusalem before the sanctuary for the space of three months and Judith remained with them.²¹ After this time every one returned to his own inheritance, and Judith went to Bethulia, and remained in her own possession, and was in her time honourable in all the country.²² And many desired her, but none knew her all the days of her life, after that Manasses her husband was dead, and was gathered to his people.²³ But she increased more and more in honour, and waxed old in her husband's house, being an hundred and five years old, and made her maid free; so she died in Bethulia: and they buried her in the cave of her husband Manasses.²⁴ And the house of Israel lamented her seven days: and before she died, she did distribute her goods to all them that were nearest of kindred to Manasses her husband, and to them that were the nearest of her kindred.²⁵ And there was none that made the children of Israel any more afraid in the days of Judith, nor a long time after her death.

ESTHER

CHAPTER 1 ¹Now it came to pass in the days of Ahasuerus, (this is Ahasuerus which reigned, from India even unto Ethiopia, over an hundred and seven and twenty provinces:)² That in those days, when the king Ahasuerus sat on the throne of his kingdom, which was in Shushan the palace,³ In the third year of his reign, he made a feast unto all his princes and his servants; the power of Persia and Media, the nobles and princes of the provinces, being before him:⁴ When he shewed the riches of his glorious kingdom and the honour of his excellent majesty many days, even an hundred and fourscore days.⁵And when these days were expired, the king made a feast unto all the people that were present in Shushan the palace, both unto great and small, seven days, in the court of the garden of the king's palace;⁶Where were white, green, and blue, hangings, fastened with cords of fine linen and purple to silver rings and pillars of marble: the beds were of gold and silver, upon a pavement of red, and blue, and white, and black, marble.⁷And they gave them drink in vessels of gold, (the vessels being diverse one from another,) and royal wine in abundance, according to the state of the king.⁸And the drinking was according to the law; none did compel: for so the king had appointed to all the officers of his house, that they should do according to every man's pleasure.⁹Also Vashti the queen made a feast for the women in the royal house which belonged to king Ahasuerus.¹⁰On the seventh day, when the heart of the king was merry with wine, he commanded Mehuman, Biztha, Harbona, Bigtha, and Abagtha, Zethar, and Carcas, the seven chamberlains that served in the presence of Ahasuerus the king,¹¹To bring Vashti the queen before the king with the crown royal, to shew the people and the princes her beauty: for she was fair to look on.¹²But the queen Vashti refused to come at the king's commandment by his chamberlains: therefore was the king very wroth, and his anger burned in him.¹³Then the king said to the wise men, which knew the times, (for so was the king's manner toward all that knew law and judgment:¹⁴And the next unto him was Carshena, Shethar, Admatha, Tarshish, Meres, Marsena, and Memucan, the seven princes of Persia and Media, which saw the king's face, and which sat the first in the kingdom;)¹⁵What shall we do unto the queen Vashti according to law, because she hath not performed the commandment of the king Ahasuerus by the chamberlains?¹⁶And Memucan answered before the king and the princes, Vashti the queen hath not done wrong to the king only, but also to all the princes, and to all the people that are in all the provinces of the king Ahasuerus.¹⁷For this deed of the queen shall come abroad unto all women, so that they shall despise their husbands in their eyes, when it shall be reported, The king Ahasuerus commanded Vashti the queen to be brought in before him, but she came not.¹⁸Likewise shall the ladies of Persia and Media say this day unto all the king's princes, which have heard of the deed of the queen. Thus shall there arise too much contempt and wrath.¹⁹If it please the king, let there go a royal commandment from him, and let it be written among the laws of the Persians and the Medes, that it be not altered, That Vashti come no more before king Ahasuerus; and let the king give her royal estate unto another that is better than she.²⁰And when the king's decree which he shall make shall be published throughout all his empire, (for it is great,) all the wives shall give to their husbands honour, both to great and small.²¹And the saying pleased the king and the princes; and the king did according to the word of Memucan:²²For he sent letters into all the king's provinces, into every province according to the writing thereof, and to every people after their language, that every man should bear rule in his own house, and that it should be published according to the language of every people.

CHAPTER 2 ¹After these things, when the wrath of king Ahasuerus was appeased, he remembered Vashti, and what she had done, and what was decreed against her.²Then said the king's servants that ministered unto him, Let there be fair young virgins sought for the king:³And let the king appoint officers in all the provinces of his kingdom, that they may gather together all the fair young virgins unto Shushan the palace, to the house of the women unto the custody of Hege the king's chamberlain, keeper of the women; and let their things for purification be given them:⁴And let the maiden which pleaseth the king be queen instead of Vashti. And the thing pleased the king; and he did so.⁵Now in Shushan the palace there was a certain Jew, whose name was Mordecai, the son of Jair, the son of Shimei, the son of Kish, a Benjamite;⁶Who had been carried away from Jerusalem with the captivity which had been carried away with Jeconiah king of Judah, whom Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon had carried away.⁷And he brought up Hadassah, that is, Esther, his uncle's daughter: for she had neither father nor mother, and the maid was fair and beautiful; whom Mordecai, when her father and mother were dead, took for his own daughter.⁸ So it came to pass, when the king's commandment and his decree was heard, and when many maidens were gathered together unto Shushan the palace, to the custody of Hegai, that Esther was brought also unto the king's house, to the custody of Hegai, keeper of the women.⁹ And the maiden pleased him, and she obtained kindness of him; and he speedily gave her her things for purification, with such things as belonged to her, and seven maidens, which were meet to be given her, out of the king's house: and he preferred her and her maids unto the best place of the house of the women.¹⁰ Esther had not shewed her people nor her kindred: for Mordecai had charged her that she should not shew it.¹¹ And Mordecai walked every day before the court of the women's house, to know how Esther did, and what should become of her.¹² Now when every maid's turn was come to go in to king Ahasuerus, after that she had been twelve months, according to the manner of the women, (for so were the days of their purifications accomplished, to wit, six months with oil of myrrh, and six months with sweet odours, and with other things for the purifying of the women;)¹³ Then thus came every maiden unto the king; whatsoever she desired was given her to go with her out of the house of the women unto the king's house.¹⁴ In the evening she went, and on the morrow she returned into the second house of the women, to the custody of Shaashgaz, the king's chamberlain, which kept the concubines: she came in unto the king no more, except the king delighted in her, and that she were called by name.¹⁵ Now when the turn of Esther, the daughter of Abihail the uncle of Mordecai, who had taken her for his daughter, was come to go in unto the king, she required nothing but what Hegai the king's chamberlain, the keeper of the women, appointed. And Esther obtained favour in the sight of all them that looked upon her.¹⁶ So Esther was taken unto king Ahasuerus into his house royal in the tenth month, which is the month Tebeth, in the seventh year of his reign.¹⁷ And the king loved Esther above all the women, and she obtained grace and favour in his sight more than all the virgins; so that he set the royal crown upon her head, and made her queen instead of Vashti.¹⁸ Then the king made a great feast unto all his princes and his servants, even Esther's feast; and he made a release to the provinces, and gave gifts, according to the state of the king.¹⁹And when the virgins were gathered together the second time, then Mordecai sat in the king's gate.²⁰Esther had not yet shewed her kindred nor her people; as Mordecai had charged her: for Esther did the commandment of Mordecai, like as when she was brought up with him.²¹In those days, while Mordecai sat in the king's gate, two of the king's chamberlains, Bigthan and Teresh, of those which kept the door, were wroth, and sought to lay hand on the king Ahasuerus.²²And the thing was known to Mordecai, who told it unto Esther the queen; and Esther certified the king thereof in Mordecai's name.²³And when inquisition was made of the matter, it was found out; therefore they were both hanged on a tree: and it was written in the book of the chronicles before the king.

CHAPTER 3 ¹After these things did king Ahasuerus promote Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, and advanced him, and set his seat above all the princes that were with him.²And all the king's servants, that were in the king's gate, bowed, and revered Haman: for the king had so commanded concerning him. But Mordecai bowed not, nor did him reverence.³Then the king's servants, which were in the king's gate, said unto Mordecai, Why transgressest thou the king's commandment?⁴Now it came to pass, when they spake daily unto him, and he hearkened not unto them, that they told Haman, to see whether Mordecai's matters would stand: for he had told them that he was a Jew.⁵And when Haman saw that Mordecai bowed not, nor did him reverence, then was Haman full of wrath.⁶And he thought scorn to lay hands on Mordecai alone; for they had shewed him the people of Mordecai: wherefore Haman sought to destroy all the Jews that were throughout the whole kingdom of Ahasuerus, even the people of Mordecai.⁷In the first month, that is, the month Nisan, in the twelfth year of king Ahasuerus, they cast Pur, that is, the lot, before Haman from day to day, and from month to month, to the twelfth month, that is, the month Adar.⁸And Haman said unto king Ahasuerus, There is a certain people scattered abroad and dispersed among the people in all the provinces of thy kingdom; and their laws are diverse from all people; neither keep they the king's laws: therefore it is not for the king's profit to suffer them.⁹If it please the king, let it be written that they may be destroyed: and I will pay ten thousand talents of silver to the hands of those that have the charge of the business, to bring it into the king's treasuries.¹⁰And the king took his ring from his hand, and gave it unto Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, the Jews' enemy.¹¹And the king said unto Haman, The silver is given to thee, the people also, to do with them as it seemeth good to thee.¹²Then were the king's scribes called on the thirteenth day of the first month, and there was written according to all that Haman had commanded unto the king's lieutenants, and to the governors that were over every province, and to the rulers of every people of every province according to the writing thereof, and to every people after their language; in the name of king Ahasuerus was it written, and sealed with the king's ring.¹³And the letters were sent by posts into all the king's provinces, to destroy, to kill, and to cause to perish, all Jews, both young and old, little children and women, in one day, even upon the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which is the month Adar, and to take the spoil of them for a prey.¹⁴The copy of the writing for a commandment to be given in every province was published unto all people, that they should be ready against that day.¹⁵The posts went out, being hastened by the king's commandment, and the decree was given in Shushan the palace. And the king and Haman sat down to drink; but the city Shushan was perplexed.

CHAPTER 4 ¹When Mordecai perceived all that was done, Mordecai rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth with ashes, and went out into the midst of the city, and cried with a loud and a bitter cry;²And came even before the king's gate: for none might enter into the king's gate clothed with sackcloth.³And in every province, whithersoever the king's commandment and his decree came, there was great mourning among the Jews, and fasting, and weeping, and wailing; and many lay in sackcloth and ashes.⁴So Esther's maids and her chamberlains came and told it her. Then was the queen exceedingly grieved; and she sent raiment to clothe Mordecai, and to take away his sackcloth from him: but he received it not.⁵Then called Esther for

Hatach, one of the king's chamberlains, whom he had appointed to attend upon her, and gave him a commandment to Mordecai, to know what it was, and why it was.⁶ So Hatach went forth to Mordecai unto the street of the city, which was before the king's gate.⁷ And Mordecai told him of all that had happened unto him, and of the sum of the money that Haman had promised to pay to the king's treasuries for the Jews, to destroy them.⁸ Also he gave him the copy of the writing of the decree that was given at Shushan to destroy them, to shew it unto Esther, and to declare it unto her, and to charge her that she should go in unto the king, to make supplication unto him, and to make request before him for her people.⁹ And Hatach came and told Esther the words of Mordecai.¹⁰ Again Esther spake unto Hatach, and gave him commandment unto Mordecai;¹¹ All the king's servants, and the people of the king's provinces, do know, that whosoever, whether man or woman, shall come unto the king into the inner court, who is not called, there is one law of his to put him to death, except such to whom the king shall hold out the golden sceptre, that he may live: but I have not been called to come in unto the king these thirty days.¹² And they told to Mordecai Esther's words.¹³ Then Mordecai commanded to answer Esther, Think not with thyself that thou shalt escape in the king's house, more than all the Jews.¹⁴ For if thou altogether holdest thy peace at this time, then shall there enlargement and deliverance arise to the Jews from another place; but thou and thy father's house shall be destroyed: and who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdom for such a time as this?¹⁵ Then Esther bade them return Mordecai this answer,¹⁶ Go, gather together all the Jews that are present in Shushan, and fast ye for me, and neither eat nor drink three days, night or day: I also and my maidens will fast likewise; and so will I go in unto the king, which is not according to the law: and if I perish, I perish.¹⁷ So Mordecai went his way, and did according to all that Esther had commanded him.

CHAPTER 5 ¹Now it came to pass on the third day, that Esther put on her royal apparel, and stood in the inner court of the king's house, over against the king's house: and the king sat upon his royal throne in the royal house, over against the gate of the house.²And it was so, when the king saw Esther the queen standing in the court, that she obtained favour in his sight: and the king held out to Esther the golden sceptre that was in his hand. So Esther drew near, and touched the top of the sceptre.³Then said the king unto her, What wilt thou, queen Esther? and what is thy request? it shall be even given thee to the half of the kingdom.⁴And Esther answered, If it seem good unto the king, let the king and Haman come this day unto the banquet that I have prepared for him.⁵Then the king said, Cause Haman to make haste, that he may do as Esther hath said. So the king and Haman came to the banquet that Esther had prepared.⁶And the king said unto Esther at the banquet of wine, What is thy petition? and it shall be granted thee: and what is thy request? even to the half of the kingdom it shall be performed.⁷Then answered Esther, and said, My petition and my request is;⁸If I have found favour in the sight of the king, and if it please the king to grant my petition, and to perform my request, let the king and Haman come to the banquet that I shall prepare for them, and I will do tomorrow as the king hath said.⁹Then went Haman forth that day joyful and with a glad heart: but when Haman saw Mordecai in the king's gate, that he stood not up, nor moved for him, he was full of indignation against Mordecai.¹⁰Nevertheless Haman refrained himself: and when he came home, he sent and called for his friends, and Zeresh his wife.¹¹And Haman told them of the glory of his riches, and the multitude of his children, and all the things wherein the king had promoted him, and how he had advanced him above the princes and servants of the king.¹²Haman said moreover, Yea, Esther the queen did let no man come in with the king unto the banquet that she had prepared but myself; and to morrow am I invited unto her also with the king.¹³Yet all this availeth me nothing, so long as I see Mordecai the Jew sitting at the king's gate.¹⁴Then said Zeresh his wife and all his friends unto him, Let a gallows be made of fifty cubits high, and tomorrow speak thou unto the king that Mordecai may be hanged thereon: then go thou in merrily with the king unto the banquet. And the thing pleased Haman; and he caused the gallows to be made.

CHAPTER 6 ¹On that night could not the king sleep, and he commanded to bring the book of records of the chronicles; and they were read before the king.²And it was found written, that Mordecai had told of Bigthana and Teresh, two of the king's chamberlains, the keepers of the door, who sought to lay hand on the king Ahasuerus.³And the king said, What honour and dignity hath been done to Mordecai for this? Then said the king's servants that ministered unto him, There is nothing done for him.⁴And the king said, Who is in the court? Now Haman was come into the outward court of the king's house, to speak unto the king to hang Mordecai on the gallows that he had prepared for him.⁵And the king's servants said unto him, Behold, Haman standeth in the court. And the king said, Let him come in.⁶So Haman came in. And the king said unto him, What shall be done unto the man whom the king delighteth to honour? Now Haman thought in his heart, To whom would the king delight to do honour more than to myself?⁷And Haman answered the king, For the man whom the king delighteth to honour,⁸Let the royal apparel be brought which the king useth to wear, and the horse that the king rideth upon, and the crown royal which is set upon his head:⁹And let this apparel and horse be delivered to the hand of one of the king's most noble princes, that they may array the man withal whom the king delighteth to honour, and bring him on horseback through the street of the city, and proclaim before him, Thus shall it be done to the man whom the king delighteth to honour.¹⁰Then the king said to Haman, Make haste, and take the apparel and the horse, as thou hast said, and do even so to Mordecai the Jew, that sitteth at the king's gate: let nothing fail of all that thou has spoken.¹¹Then took Haman the apparel and the horse, and arrayed Mordecai, and brought him on horseback through the street of the city, and proclaimed before him, Thus shall it be done unto the man whom the king delighteth to honour.¹²And Mordecai came again to the king's gate. But Haman hastened to his house mourning, and having his head covered.¹³And Haman told Zeresh his wife and all his friends every thing that had befallen him. Then said his wise men and Zeresh his wife unto him, If Mordecai be of the seed of the Jews, before whom thou hast begun to fall, thou shalt not prevail against him, but shalt surely fall before him.¹⁴And while they were yet talking with him, came the king's chamberlains, and hasted to bring Haman unto the banquet that Esther had prepared.

CHAPTER 7 ¹So the king and Haman came to banquet with Esther the queen.²And the king said again unto Esther on the second day at the banquet of wine, What is thy petition, queen Esther? and it shall be granted thee: and what is thy request? and it shall be performed, even to the half of the kingdom.³Then Esther the queen answered and said, If I have found favour in thy sight, O king, and if it please the king, let my life be given me at my petition, and my people at my request:⁴For we are sold, I and my people, to be destroyed, to be slain, and to perish. But if we had been sold for bondmen and bondwomen, I had held my tongue, although the enemy could not countervail the king's damage.⁵Then the king Ahasuerus answered and said unto Esther the queen, Who is he, and where is he, that durst presume in his heart to do so?⁶And Esther said, The adversary and enemy is this wicked Haman. Then Haman was afraid before the king and the queen.⁷And the king arising from the banquet of wine in his wrath went into the palace garden: and Haman stood up to make request for his life to Esther the queen; for he saw that there was evil determined against him by the king.⁸Then the king returned out of the palace garden into the place of the banquet of wine; and Haman was fallen upon the bed whereon Esther was. Then said the king, Will he force the queen also before me in the house? As the word went out of the king's mouth, they covered Haman's face.⁹And Harbonah, one of the chamberlains, said before the king, Behold also, the gallows fifty cubits high, which Haman had made for Mordecai, who had spoken good for the king, standeth in the house of Haman. Then the king said, Hang him thereon.¹⁰So they hanged Haman on the gallows that he had prepared for Mordecai. Then was the king's wrath pacified.

CHAPTER 8 ¹On that day did the king Ahasuerus give the house of Haman the Jews' enemy unto Esther the queen. And Mordecai came before the king; for Esther had told what he was unto her.²And the king took off his ring, which he had taken from Haman, and gave it unto Mordecai. And Esther set Mordecai over the house of Haman.³And Esther spake yet again before the king, and fell down at his feet, and besought him with tears to put away the mischief of Haman the Agagite, and his device that he had devised against the Jews.⁴Then the king held out the golden sceptre toward Esther. So Esther arose, and stood before the king,⁵And said, If it please the king, and if I have found favour in his sight, and the thing seem right before the king, and I be pleasing in his eyes, let it be written to reverse the letters devised by Haman the son of Hammedatha the Agagite, which he wrote to destroy the Jews which are in all the king's provinces.⁶For how can I endure to see the evil that shall come unto my people? or how can I endure to see the destruction of my kindred?⁷Then the king Ahasuerus said unto Esther the queen and to Mordecai the Jew, Behold, I have given Esther the house of Haman, and him they have hanged upon the gallows, because he laid his hand upon the Jews.⁸Write ye also for the Jews, as it liketh you, in the king's name, and seal it with the king's ring: for the writing which is written in the king's name, and sealed with the king's ring, may no man reverse.⁹Then were the king's scribes called at that time in the third month, that is, the month Sivan, on the three and twentieth day thereof; and it was written according to all that Mordecai commanded unto the Jews, and to the lieutenants, and the deputies and rulers of the provinces which are from India unto Ethiopia, an hundred twenty and seven provinces, unto every province according to the writing thereof, and unto every people after their language, and to the Jews according to their writing, and according to their language.¹⁰And he wrote in the king Ahasuerus' name, and sealed it with the king's ring, and sent letters by posts on horseback, and riders on mules, camels, and young dromedaries.¹¹Wherein the king granted the Jews which were in every city to gather themselves together, and to stand for their life, to destroy, to slay, and to cause to perish, all the power of the people and province that would assault them, both little ones and women, and to take the spoil of them for a prey,¹²Upon one day in all the provinces of king Ahasuerus, namely, upon the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, which is the month

Adar.¹³The copy of the writing for a commandment to be given in every province was published unto all people, and that the Jews should be ready against that day to avenge themselves on their enemies.¹⁴So the posts that rode upon mules and camels went out, being hastened and pressed on by the king's commandment. And the decree was given at Shushan the palace.¹⁵And Mordecai went out from the presence of the king in royal apparel of blue and white, and with a great crown of gold, and with a garment of fine linen and purple: and the city of Shushan rejoiced and was glad.¹⁶The Jews had light, and gladness, and joy, and honour.¹⁷And in every province, and in every city, whithersoever the king's commandment and his decree came, the Jews had joy and gladness, a feast and a good day. And many of the people of the land became Jews; for the fear of the Jews fell upon them.

CHAPTER 9 ¹Now in the twelfth month, that is, the month Adar, on the thirteenth day of the same, when the king's commandment and his decree drew near to be put in execution, in the day that the enemies of the Jews hoped to have power over them, (though it was turned to the contrary, that the Jews had rule over them that hated them;)²The Jews gathered themselves together in their cities throughout all the provinces of the king Ahasuerus, to lay hand on such as sought their hurt: and no man could withstand them; for the fear of them fell upon all people.³And all the rulers of the provinces, and the lieutenants, and the deputies, and officers of the king, helped the Jews; because the fear of Mordecai fell upon them.⁴For Mordecai was great in the king's house, and his fame went out throughout all the provinces: for this man Mordecai waxed greater and greater.⁵Thus the Jews smote all their enemies with the stroke of the sword, and slaughter, and destruction, and did what they would unto those that hated them.⁶And in Shushan the palace the Jews slew and destroyed five hundred men.⁷And Parshandatha, and Dalphon, and Aspatha,⁸And Poratha, and Adalia, and Aridatha,⁹And Parmashta, and Arisai, and Aridai, and Vajezatha,¹⁰The ten sons of Haman the son of Hammedatha, the enemy of the Jews, slew they; but on the spoil laid they not their hand.¹¹On that day the number of those that were slain in Shushan the palace was brought before the king.¹²And the king said unto

Esther the queen, The Jews have slain and destroyed five hundred men in Shushan the palace, and the ten sons of Haman; what have they done in the rest of the king's provinces? now what is thy petition? and it shall be granted thee: or what is thy request further? and it shall be done.¹³ Then said Esther, If it please the king, let it be granted to the Jews which are in Shushan to do tomorrow also according unto this day's decree, and let Haman's ten sons be hanged upon the gallows.¹⁴ And the king commanded it so to be done: and the decree was given at Shushan; and they hanged Haman's ten sons.¹⁵ For the Jews that were in Shushan gathered themselves together on the fourteenth day also of the month Adar, and slew three hundred men at Shushan; but on the prey they laid not their hand.¹⁶ But the other Jews that were in the king's provinces gathered themselves together, and stood for their lives, and had rest from their enemies, and slew of their foes seventy and five thousand, but they laid not their hands on the prey,¹⁷ On the thirteenth day of the month Adar; and on the fourteenth day of the same rested they, and made it a day of feasting and gladness.¹⁸ But the Jews that were at Shushan assembled together on the thirteenth day thereof; and on the fourteenth day thereof; and on the fifteenth day of the same they rested, and made it a day of feasting and gladness.¹⁹ Therefore the Jews of the villages, that dwelt in the unwall'd towns, made the fourteenth day of the month Adar a day of gladness and feasting, and a good day, and of sending portions one to another.²⁰ And Mordecai wrote these things, and sent letters unto all the Jews that were in all the provinces of the king Ahasuerus, both nigh and far,²¹ To stablish this among them, that they should keep the fourteenth day of the month Adar, and the fifteenth day of the same, yearly,²² As the days wherein the Jews rested from their enemies, and the month which was turned unto them from sorrow to joy, and from mourning into a good day: that they should make them days of feasting and joy, and of sending portions one to another, and gifts to the poor.²³ And the Jews undertook to do as they had begun, and as Mordecai had written unto them;²⁴ Because Haman the son of Hammedatha, the Agagite, the enemy of all the Jews, had devised against the Jews to destroy them, and had cast Pur, that is, the lot, to consume them, and to destroy them;²⁵But when Esther came before the king, he commanded by letters that his wicked device, which he devised against the Jews, should return upon his own head, and that he and his sons should be hanged on the gallows.²⁶Wherefore they called these days Purim after the name of Pur. Therefore for all the words of this letter, and of that which they had seen concerning this matter, and which had come unto them,²⁷The Jews ordained, and took upon them, and upon their seed, and upon all such as joined themselves unto them, so as it should not fail, that they would keep these two days according to their writing, and according to their appointed time every year;²⁸And that these days should be remembered and kept throughout every generation, every family, every province, and every city; and that these days of Purim should not fail from among the Jews, nor the memorial of them perish from their seed.²⁹Then Esther the queen, the daughter of Abihail, and Mordecai the Jew, wrote with all authority, to confirm this second letter of Purim.³⁰And he sent the letters unto all the Jews, to the hundred twenty and seven provinces of the kingdom of Ahasuerus, with words of peace and truth,³¹To confirm these days of Purim in their times appointed, according as Mordecai the Jew and Esther the queen had enjoined them, and as they had decreed for themselves and for their seed, the matters of the fastings and their cry.³²And the decree of Esther confirmed these matters of Purim; and it was written in the book.

CHAPTER 10 ¹And the king Ahasuerus laid a tribute upon the land, and upon the isles of the sea.²And all the acts of his power and of his might, and the declaration of the greatness of Mordecai, whereunto the king advanced him, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Media and Persia?³For Mordecai the Jew was next unto king Ahasuerus, and great among the Jews, and accepted of the multitude of his brethren, seeking the wealth of his people, and speaking peace to all his seed.

CHAPTER 1 ¹There were one man whose name are called Tseerutsaydan an who love sin ~ him would boast ina him horses abundance an him troops firmness beneath him authority.² Him had many priests who serve him idols whom him worship an fe whom him bow an sacrifice sacrifice by night an by daylight.³ But ina him heart dullness it would seem fe him that them give him firmness an Power.⁴ An ina him heart it would seem fe him that them give him authority ina all him Rule.⁵ An again ina formation time it would seem fe him that them give him all the desired authority also.⁶ An him would sacrifice sacrifice fe them day an night.⁷ Him appointed priests who serve him idols.⁸ While them ate from that defouled sacrifice - them would tell him pretendin that the idols eat night an day.⁹ Again them would mek other persons diligent like unto them - that them might sacrifice sacrifice an eat. An again them would mek other persons diligent that them might sacrifice sacrifice - an sacrifice sacrifice like unto them.¹⁰ But him would trust ina him idols that don't profit nor benefit.¹¹ By him timeframe bein small - an ina him heart dullness - it would seem fe him that them lrated him - that them feed him an that them crown him ~ it would seem fe him that them lrated him - fe Seythan have deafened him reasonin lest him know him lrador Who lrated him bringin from not livin toward livin - or lest him with him kindreds know him lrador Who lrated him bringin from not livin toward livin - that them might go toward Gehannem of Fiyah foriva - it bein judged pon them with him who call them gods without them bein gods.¹² As them aren't never well whenever - it are due that him might call them dead ones.¹³ As Seythan authority that mislead them will lodge ina that idol image - an as

him will tell them them reasonin accord - an as him will reveal fe them like unto them loved - him will judge pon the idols wherein them believed an wherein 'Adam childran trust - whose reasonin were like unto ashes.¹⁴ An them will marvel pon the time them sight up that him fulfilled what them thought fe them - an them will do him accord fe him reachin up til them sacrifice them dawta childran an them male childran birthed from them nature - up til them spill them dawta childran an male childran blood that were clean.¹⁵ Them didn't sadden them - fe Seythan have savoured him sacrifice fe them fe fulfill them evil accord - that him might lower them toward Gehannem like unto him - where there are no exits up til lternity - where him will raceive tribulation.¹⁶ But that Tseerutsaydan were arrogant ~ him had fifty idols worked ina males pattern an twenty worked ina dawtaz pattern.¹⁷ An him would boast ina those idols that have no benefit ~ him would totally glorify them while him sacrificed sacrifice mornin an evenin.¹⁸ An him would command persons that them might sacrifice sacrifice fe the idols - an him would eat from that defouled sacrifice - an him would command other persons that them might eat from the sacrifice ~ him would especially provoke fe evil.¹⁹ Him had five houses worked fe him beaten worked idols that were iron an brass an lead.²⁰ An him ornamented them ina silver an gold ~ him veiled curtains around the houses fe them an planted a tent fe them.²¹ Him appointed keepers fe them there ~ him would ltinually sacrifice forty fe him idols - ten fattened oxen - ten sterile cows - ten fattened sheep ewes - ten barren goats - with birds that have wings.²² But it would seem fe him that him idols ate ~ him would present fe them fifty feeqen of grapes an fifty dishes of wheat kneaded with oil.²³ An him told him priests: - "Tek an give them ~ mek mi irators eat what mi slaughtered fe them - an mek them drink the grape mi presented fe them ~ as fe if it aren't enough fe them - mi will add fe them."²⁴ An him would command all that them might eat an drink from that defouled sacrifice.²⁵ But ina him evil malice him would send him troops who visit ina all the kingdom - that as it were there were one who neither sacrifice nor bow - them might separate an know an bring him - an might punish him by fiyah an by sword before him - that them might plunder him money an might burn him house ina fiah - that them might downstroy all him money him had pon him.²⁶ "Fe them are kind an great ones - an fe them have Irated wi ina them charity - an mi will show punishmant an tribulation fe him unless him worshipped mi irators an sacrificed sacrifice fe mi irators.²⁷ An mi will show him punishmant an tribulation - fe them have Irated Earth an Heaven an the sea that were wide an moon an Sun an stars an rains an winds an all that live ina this world fe be food an fe be satiety fe wi."²⁸ But persons who worship them shall be punished ina firm tribulation - an them won't be nice fe them.

CHAPTER 2 ¹There were one man birthed from the tribe of Binyam whose name are called Meqabees² him had three childran who were handsome an totally warriors ~ them had bein iloved alongside all persons ina that Midyam an Miedon country that are Tseerutsaydan Rule.³ An like unto the king commanded them pon the time him found them: - "Don't unu bow fe Tseerutsaydan irators? How about don't unu sacrifice sacrifice?⁴ But if unu refuse - wi will seize an tek unu toward the king - an wi will downstroy all your money like unto the king commanded."⁵ These youts who were handsome replied fe him sayin - "As fe Him fe Whom Inl bow - there are Inl Faada Irator Who Irated Earth an Heaven an what are within she - an the sea - moon an Sun an clouds an stars ~ Him are the True Irator Whom Inl worship an ina Whom Inl believe."⁶ An these the king youts are four - an them servants who carry shield an spear are a hundred.⁷ An pon the time them loved that them might seize these hola ones - them escaped from them hands and there are none who touched them ~ as those youts are totally warriors ina Power - them went seizin shields an them spears.⁸ An there were from them one who strangle an kill panther - an at that time him would strangle it like unto a chicken.⁹ An there were one from them who kill a lion with one rock or strikin at one time with a stick.¹⁰ An there were one from them who kill a hundred persons - strikin ina formation time with one sword - an them name an them hunt were thus ~ it were called ina all Babilon an Mo`ab countries.¹¹ An them were warriors ina Power - an them had a thing bein iloved an comeliness.¹² An again them features comeliness were wondrous - however becau them worshipped JAH an becau them didn't fear death - it are them reasonin comeliness that surpass all.¹³ An pon the time them frightened the troops - there are none who could able fe seize them - but them who were warriors escaped proceedin toward a lofty mountain.¹⁴ An those troops returned toward the city an shut the fortress gate ~ them terrorized the people sayin - "Unless unu brought those warriors the Meqabyans - wi will burn your city ina fiyah - an wi will send toward the king an downstroy your country."¹⁵ An at that time the country persons - rich an poor ones an dawat an males - a child whose faada an mother dead pon him an old dawat - everyone proceeded an shouted together - an them straightened them necks toward the mountain an shouted toward them sayin - "Don't downstroy Inl - an don't downstroy Inl country pon Inl."¹⁶ At that time them wept together - an them feared - arisin from JAH.¹⁷ Returnin them faces Eastward an streachin forth them hands them begged toward JAH together - "Lord - should Inl refuse these men who demolished Thy Command an Thy LAW?"¹⁸ Yet him believed ina silver an gold an ina the stone an wood that a person hands worked

- but Inl don't love that Inl might hear that criminal word - who didn't believe Thy LAW" them said.¹⁹ "When Thou are the Irator Who save an Who kill - him mek him ras self like unto them Irated him also ~ as fe him - him are who spill a person blood an who eat a person flesh."²⁰ But Inl don't love that Inl might sight up that criminal face nor hear him word" them said.²¹ "However if Thou commanded Inl - Inl will go toward him ~ becau Inl believe ina Thee-I - Inl will pass an give Inl bodies fe death - an pon the time him said 'Sacrifice sacrifice fe mi irators' - Inl won't hear that criminal word."²² But Inl believed Thee-I - Lord Who examine kidneys an reasonins - Inl Faadas Irator - 'Abriham an Yis'haq an Ya`iqob who did Thy Accord an lived firmed up ina Thy LAW.²³ Thou examine a person reasonin an help the sinner an the righteous one - an there be none hidden from Thee-I - an him who took refuge are revealed alongside Thee-I.²⁴ But Inl have no other Irator apart from Thee-I.²⁵ That Inl might give Inl bodies fe death becau Thy glorified Name - however be Power an Firmness an a Shelter fe Inl ina this Work that Inl are ruled fe Thee-I.²⁶ An pon the time 'Isra'iel entered toward Gibts country

Thou heard Ya`iqob plea - an now glorified God - Inl beg Thee- I."²⁷ An pon the time the two men whose features were quite handsome were sight up fe them standin before them - pon the time fiyah swords that frighten like unto lightnin alit an cut them necks an killed them - at that time them arose bein well like unto formerly.²⁸ Them features comeliness became totally handsome an them shone more than Sun - an them became more handsome than formerly.

CHAPTER 3 ¹Like unto unu sight up before unu these the Most I JAH slaves - 'Abya - Seela - Fentos who dead an arose - unu have that unu might arise likewise after unu dead - an your faces shall shine like unto the Sun ina the Kingdom of Heaven.² An them went with those men an raceived martyrdom there.³ At that time them begged - them praised - an them bowed fe JAH ~ death didn't frighten them an the king punishmant didn't frighten them.⁴ An them went toward those youts an became like unto a sheep that have no evil - yet them didn't frighten them - an pon the time them arrived toward them - them seized an beat them an bound an whipped them - an them delivered them toward the king an stood them before him.⁵ An the king answered fe them sayin - "How won't unu stubborn ones sacrifice sacrifice an bow fe mi irators?"⁶ Those bredren who were cleansed from sin - who were honoured an chosen an Irie - an who shine like unto a jewel whose value were wondrous - Seela an 'Abya an Fentos answered fe him ina one word.⁷ Them told that king who were a plague - "As fe Inl - Inl won't bow nor sacrifice fe defouled idols that have no knowledge nor reasonin."⁸ An again them told him - "Inl won't bow fe idols that were silver an gold that a person hand worked - that were stone an wood - that have no reasonin nor soul nor knowledge - that don't benefit them friends nor harm them enemies."⁹ An the king answered fe them sayin - "Why do unu do thus - an as them know who insult them an who wrong them - why do unu insult the glorified irators?"¹⁰ Them answered fe him sayin - "As them are like unto a trifle alongside Inl - as fe Inl - Inl will insult them an won't glorify them."¹¹ An the king answered fe them sayin - "Mi will punish unu like unto your Work evil measure ~ mi will downstroy your features comeliness with whippin an firm tribulation an fiyah."¹² An now tell mi whether unu will give or won't give sacrifice fe mi irators - as fe if this didn't happen - mi will punish unu by sword an by whippin."¹³ Them answered fe him sayin - "As fe Inl - Inl won't sacrifice sacrifice nor bow fe defouled idols" - an the king commanded them that them might beat them with a fat stick - an again that them might whip them with a whip - an after it - that them might splinter them up til them inner organs were sight up.¹⁴ An after this them bound an made them while ina jail house up til him counsel by money that punish an kill them.¹⁵ Without niceness them took an bound them a firm imprisonmant ina prison house - an them sat ina prison house three nights an three daylights.¹⁶ An after this third day the king commanded that a Proclamation speaker might turn an that counselors an nobles - country elders an officials - might be gathered.¹⁷ An pon the time the king Tseerutsaydan sat ina square - him commanded that them might bring those honoured ones - Seela an 'Abya an Fentos ~ them stood before him bein wounded an bound.¹⁸ An the king told them - "When unu sat these three days - are there really the returnin that unu returned - or are unu ina your former evil?"¹⁹ An those honoured JAH Souljahs answered fe him sayin - "As fe that Inl were cruel - Inl won't agree that Inl might worship the idols filled of sin an evil that thou check up."²⁰ An that criminal vexed an commanded that them might stand them up ina lofty place an might renew them wounds ~ them blood flowed pon Earth.²¹ An again him commanded that them might burn them with a torch lamp an might char them flesh - an him servants did like unto him commanded them - an those honoured men told him - "Thou who forgot JAH LAW - speak ~ Inl reward shall abound ina the measure whereby thou multiply Inl punishmant."²² An again him commanded that them might bring an send pon them bears an tigers an lions that were evil beasts before them eat them food that them might totally eat them flesh with them bones.²³ An him commanded persons who keep the beasts that them might send the beasts pon them - an them did like unto him commanded them - an them bound those honoured martyrs feet - an again them maliciously beat an bound them with tent-stakes.²⁴ An those beasts were flung over them while them roared - an pon the time them arrived toward the martyrs them hailed an bowed fe them.²⁵ Them returned toward them keepers while them roared - an them frightened them keepers ~ them took them toward the square up til them delivered them toward before the king.²⁶ An them killed seventy five men from the criminals army there.²⁷ Many persons panicked - the one anguishin pon the one ina fear - up til the king quit him throne an fled - an them seized the beasts with difficulty an took them toward them lodgin.²⁸ Seela an 'Abya an Fentos two bredren came an released them from the imprisonmant them bound them an told them - "Come mek Inl flee lest these skeptics an criminals find Inl."²⁹ An those martyrs answered them bredren sayin - "It aren't procedure that Inl might flee after Inl set up fe testimony ~ as it were unu had feared - go fleein."³⁰ An those them likkle bredren said - "Inl will stand with unu before the king - an if unu dead Inl will dead with unu."³¹ An after this the king were pon him lordship hall balcany an sight up that these honoured men were released an that all the five bredren stood together ~ those chiefs who work an punish troops questioned that them were bredren an told the king - an the king vexed an shouted like unto a wilderness boar.³² An up til the king counseled by money that punish all the five bredren - him commanded that them might seize an add them ina prison house ~ them placed them ina prison house bindin ina firm imprisonmant without niceness with a hollow stalk.³³ An the king Tseerutsaydan said - "These youts who erred wearied mi ~ what should these men reasonin firm up? an them Work evil are like unto them Power firmness ~ if mi say - "Them will return" - them will mek them reasonin evil."³⁴ An mi will bring the hardship pon them like unto them Work evil measure - an mi will burn them flesh ina fiyah that it might be charred ash - an pon that mi will scattar them flesh ash like unto dust pon mountains."³⁵ An after him spoke this him waited three days an commanded that them might bring those honoured men - an pon the time those honoured men approached him commanded that them might burn a fiyah within the great pit oven - an that them might add within it a malice Work that flame the fiyah an whereby them boil a yat - the fat an soapberries - sea foam an resin an the sulfur.³⁶ An pon the time fiyah flamed ina the pit the messengers went toward the king when them said - "Wi did what thou commanded wi - send the men who will be added."³⁷ An him commanded that them might receive an cast them ina the fiyah pit - an the youts did like unto the king commanded them - an pon the time those honoured men entered toward the fiyah them gave them souls fe JAH.³⁸ An when the persons who cast them sight up - Angels raceived an took them souls toward the Garden where Yis'haq an 'Abriham an Ya`iqob are - where Irie ltes are found.

CHAPTER 4 ¹ An pon the time that criminal sight up that them dead - him commanded that them might burn them flesh ina fiyah up til it are ash an that them might scattar them ina wind - but the fiyah couldn't able fe burn the corpse hair from them corpses side - an them sent them forth from the pit.² An again them flamed fiyah over them iginnin from mornin up til evenin ~ it didn't burn them ~ them said - "An now come mek wi cast them corpses seaward."³ An them did like unto the king commanded them ~ them cast them pon the sea ~ even if them cast them seaward addin great stones an iron hearthstones an a millstone whereby a donkey grind by turnin

- there are no sinkin that the sea sank them ~ as JAH Spirit of Support have lodged ina them - them floated pon the sea yet them didn't sink ~ it failed him fe downstroy them by all the malice that were provoked pon them.⁴ "As this them death have made weary more than them Life - mek mi cast them corpses fe beasts that them might eat them - yet what will mi do?" him said.⁵ An the youts did like unto him commanded them ~ vultures an beasts didn't touch them corpses ~ birds an vultures veiled them with them wings from burnin ina Sun an the five martyrs corpses sat fourteen days.⁶ An pon the time them sight them up - them bodies shone up like unto Sun - an Angels incircled them corpses like unto light incircle the Tent.⁷ Him counseled counsel ~ him lacked what him do - an after this him dug a grave an buried the five martyrs corpses.⁸ An when that king who forgot JAH LAW had reclined pon a bed at night the five martyrs were sight up fe him standin before him at night vexin an seizin swords.⁹ As it have seemed fe him that them entered toward him house at night ina crime - pon the time him awoke from him slumber him feared an loved that him might flee from the bedchamber toward the hall - an

as it have seemed fe him that them kill him seemin that them committed crime pon him - him feared an him knees trembled.¹⁰ Becaudis thing him said - "Mi lords - what do unu love? as fe mi - what should mi do fe unu?"¹¹ Them answered fe him sayin - "Aren't Inl whom thou killed burnin ina fiyah an Inl whom thou commanded that them might cast pon the sea? As JAH have kept Inl bodies becau Inl believed ina Him - it failed thee fe downstroy Inl ~ as a person who believed ina Him won't perish - mek glory an praise due fe JAH - an Inl also who believed ina Him didn't shame ina the tribulation.¹² "As mi didn't know that a punishmant like unto this will find mi - what reward should mi give unu becau the stead wherefore mi did a evil thing pon unu?"¹³ An now separate fe mi the reward mi give unu - lest unu tek mi body ina death an lest unu lower mi body toward See'ol when mi are ina Life.¹⁴ As mi have wronged unu - forgive mi mi sin - becau it were your Faada JAH LAW Niceness" him told them.¹⁵ An those honoured martyrs answered fe him sayin - "Becau the stead wherefore thou did a evil thing pon Inl - as fe Inl - Inl won't pay thee a evil thing ~ as JAH are Who bring hardship pon a soul - as fe Him Who will pay thee hardship - there are JAH.¹⁶ However Inl were sight up fe thee bein revealed that Inl were well fe thy timeframe bein small an becau thy reasonin deafness ~ as fe it seemin fe thee that thou killed Inl - thou prepared welfare fe Inl.¹⁷ But thy idols priests an thou will downscend toward Gehannem where are no exits foriva.¹⁸ Woe fe thy idols fe whom thou bow havin quit bowin fe JAH Who Irated unu when unu were scorned like unto spit - an fe unu who worship them - an unu don't know JAH Who Irated unu bringin from not livin toward livin ~ aren't unu who are sight up today like unto smoke an tomorrow who perish?"¹⁹ An the king answered fe them sayin - "What will unu command mi that mi might do fe unu all that unu loved?"²⁰ "It are fe save thy ras self lest thou enter toward the Gehannem of Fiyah - yet it aren't fe save Inl ras selves who teach thee.²¹ Fe your idols are silver an gold - stone an wood - that have no reasonin nor soul knowledge - that a person hand worked.²² But them don't kill ~ them don't save ~ them don't benefit them friend ~ them don't harm them enemy ~ them don't downbase ~ them don't honour ~ them don't mek wealthy ~ them don't impoverish ~ them mislead unu by demons authority - who don't love that the one from persons might be saved - yet them don't uproot nor plant.²³ Them especially don't love that the persons like unto unu might be saved from death - unu dull-hearted ones fe whom them seem that them irated unu - when unu are who worked them.²⁴ As Seythans an demons authority have lodged ina them - them shall return a thing fe unu like unto unu loved - that it might drown unu within the sea of Gehannem.²⁵ But thou - quit this thy error an mek this also be Inl reward becau Inl dead stead - that Inl might benefit Inl souls worshipping Inl Irator JAH" them told him.²⁶ But him were alarmed an would totally astony - an as all five have been sight up fe him drawin them swords - him feared - an becaudis thing him bowed fe them.²⁷ "Hence mi knew that after dead ones who were dust dead them will really arise ~ as fe mi - only a likkle had remained fe mi fe dead."²⁸ After this them were hidden from before that king face ~ from that day onward that Tseerutsaydan who are totally arrogant quit burnin them corpses.²⁹ As them have misled them many eras - him would be Irie ina him idols an him reasonin error - an him misled many persons like unto him up til them quit followin ina Worship JAH Who Irated them - yet it aren't only him who erred.³⁰ An them would sacrifice them dawta childran an them male childran fe demons - yet them work a seducin an downsturbance that are them reasonin accord - that them faada Seythan taught them that him might mek the seducin an downsturbance that JAH don't love.³¹ Them marry them mothers - an them abuse them aunts an them sistren ~ them abuse them bodies while them worked all that resemble this filthy Work ~ as Seythan have firmed up those crooked persons reasonin - them said - "Wi won't return."³² But that Tseerutsaydan - who don't know him Irator - were totally arrogant - an him would boast ina him idols.³³ If them say - "How will JAH give the Kingdom fe the persons who don't know Him ina LAW an ina Worship?" - them will totally return toward Him ina repentance ~ as Him test them thus - it are becaudis.³⁴ But if them totally return ina repentance Him would love them - an Him would keep them Kingdom - but if them refuse a fiyah will punish them ina Fiyah of Gehannem foriva.³⁵ But it would be due a king fe fear him

Irator JAH like unto him lordship fame - an it would be due a judge fe be ruled fe him Irator while him judged goodly judgemant like unto him Rule fame.³⁶ An it would be due elders an chiefs an envoys an petty kings fe be commanded fe them Irator like unto them lordship abundance measure.³⁷ As Him are Heaven an Earth Lord Who Irated all the Iration - becau there are no other Irator ina Heaven nor Earth who impoverish an mek rich - Him are Who honour an downbase.

CHAPTER 5 ¹"The one warrior from the sixty warriors were proud ~ JAH made him body lginnin from him foot up til him head fe swell with one spoon of sulphur ~ him dead ina one plague.² An again Keeram who built a iron bed were proud arisin from him powerfulness abundance - an JAH hid him ina death.³ An again Nabukedenetsor were proud sayin - 'There are no other king without mi - an mi are Irator who mek the Sun rise ina this world' - an him said thus arisin from him arrogance abundance.⁴ An JAH separated from persons an sent him toward a wilderness seven years - an him made him fortune with Heaven birds an wilderness beasts up til him knew that JAH were Who Irated him.⁵ An pon the time him knew Him ina worship - Him again returned him toward him kingdom ~ who are it who weren't of Earth - bein boldly proud pon JAH Who Irated him?⁶ How about who are it demolished HIM LAW an Him Order an whom Earth didn't swallow?⁷ An thou Tseerutsaydan love that thou might be proud pon thy Irator - an again thou have that Him might downstroy thee like unto them - an might lower thee toward a grave arisin from thy arrogance.⁸ An again after them entered toward See'ol/ where are tooth grindin an mournin - that were darkness fulfillmant - thou have that Him might lower thee toward the deep pit Gehannem where are no exits foriva.⁹ As fe thou - thou are a man who will dead and be demolished tomorrow like unto arrogant kings who were like unto thee - who quit this world livin.¹⁰ As fe Inl - Inl say - 'Thou are demolished ruins - but thou aren't JAH - fe JAH are Who Irated Earth an Heaven an thee.'¹¹ Him downbase arrogant ones ~ Him honour them who were downbased ~ Him give firmness fe persons who wearied.¹² Him kill well ones ~ Him raise up the persons who were Earth - who dead buried ina grave.¹³ An Him send slaves forth free ina Life from sin rulership.¹⁴ O king Tseerutsaydan - why do thou boast in thy defouled idols who have no benefit?¹⁵ But JAH Irated Earth an Heaven an great seas ~ Him Irated moon an Sun - an Him prepared eras.¹⁶ Man graze toward him field - an him while when him plough up til it dusk - an Heaven stars live firmed up by Him Word.¹⁷ An Him call all in Heaven ~ there are nothing done without JAH knowin it.¹⁸ Him commanded Heaven Angels that them might serve Him an might praise Him glorified Name - an Angels are sent toward all persons who inherit Life.¹⁹ Rufa'iel who were a servant were sent toward Thobeet - an him saved Thobyia from death in Ragu'iel country.²⁰ Hola Meeka'iel were sent toward Giediewon that him might draw him attention by money that him downstroy 'lloflee persons an him were sent toward the prophet Mussie pon the time him made 'Isra'iel cross 'Eritra sea.²¹ As only JAH have said him led them - there were no different idol with them.²² An Him sent them forth toward crops pon Earth.²³ An Him fed them Him plantation grain ~ as Him have totally loved them - Him cherished them feedin the honey that firmed up like unto a rock.²⁴ An that thou might totally keep Him kindreds by what are due - an that thou might do JAH Accord Who Irated thee - Him crowned thee givin ltority pon the four kingdoms.²⁵ Fe Him have crowned thee makin loftier than all - an thy Irator totally crowned thee that thou might love JAH.²⁶ An it are procedure that thou might love thy Irator JAH like unto Him loved thee - like unto Him trusted thee pon all the people - an thou - do JAH Accord that thy era might abound in this world an that Him might live with thee in Support.²⁷ An do JAH Accord that Him might stand fe thee bein a Guardian pon thy enemies - an that Him might seat thee pon thy throne - an that Him might hide thee in him Wing of Support.²⁸ As fe if thou don't know - JAH chose an crowned thee pon 'Isra'iel like unto Him chose Sa'ol from 'Isra'iel childran when him kept him faada donkeys - an Him crowned him pon him kindreds 'Isra'iel - an him sat with 'Isra'iel pon him throne.²⁹ An Him gave him a lofty fortune separatin from him kindreds ~ JAH crowned thee pon Him kindreds ~ as fe henceforth onward - check - keep Him kindreds.³⁰ As JAH have lpointed thee over them that thou might kill an might save - keep them in an evil thing - them who work a goodly thing an them who work a evil thing pon a goodly thing" him told him.³¹ "An as JAH have Ipointed thee pon all that thou might do Him Accord be it while thou whipped or while thou saved - pay them evil Work - them who work goodly Work an them who work goodly Work an evil Work.³² Fe thou are a slave of JAH Who rule all ina Heaven - an thou - do JAH Accord that Him might do thy accord fe thee ina all thou thought an ina all thou begged while thou wheedled before Him.³³ There are none who rule Him - but Him rule all.³⁴ There are none who Ipoint Him - but Him Ipoint all.³⁵ There are none who dismiss Him - but Him dismiss all.³⁶ There are none who reproach Him - but Him reproach all.³⁷ There are none who mek Him diligent - but Him mek all diligent ~ as Heaven an Earth rulership are fe Him - there are none who escape from Him Itority all are revealed alongside Him - yet there are none hidden from Him Face.³⁸ Him sight up all - but there are none who sight Him up ~ Him hear the person priah who pray toward Him sayin 'Save I' - fe Him have Irated man ina Him Pattern - an Him accept him plea.³⁹ As Him are a King Who live up til the Iternity - Him feed all from Him unchangin Nature.

CHAPTER 6 ¹As Him crown fe true the kings who do Him Accord - the kings wrote a straight thing becau Him.² As them have done JAH Accord - Him shall shine up ina Light that aren't examined Yis'haq an 'Abriham an Ya`iqob - Selomon an Daweet an Hiziqyas lodgins ina the Garden where are all beautiful kings whose lodgin were Light.³ Heaven Hall are what totally shone - yet Earth halls aren't like unto Heaven Hall ~ it floor - whose features are silver an gold an jewel features - are clean.⁴ An it features that totally shine are unexamined by a person reasonin ~ Heaven Hall are what shine like unto jewels.⁵ Like unto JAH knew - Who were a Nature Knower - the Heaven Hall that Him Irated are what a person reasonin don't examine an what shine ina total Light ~ it floor - that were worked ina silver an gold - ina jewels - ina white silk an ina blue silk - are clean.⁶ It are quite totally beautiful like unto this.⁷ Righteous ones who firmed up ina religion an virtue are who shall inherit it ina JAH Charity an fe Pardon.⁸ An there are welfare Water that flow from it - an it totally shine like unto Sun - an there are a Light tent within it - an it are incircled by grace perfume.⁹ A Garden fruit that were beautiful an lloved - whose features an taste were different - are around the house - an there are a oil an grape place there - an it are totally beautiful - an it fruit fragrance are sweet.¹⁰ When a fleshly bloody person enter toward it - him soul would have separated from him flesh from the Irie ltes abundance that are ina it arisin from it fragrance flavour.¹¹ Beautiful kings who did JAH Accord shall be Irie there ~ them honour an them place are known ina the Kingdom of Heaven that live firmed up foriva - where welfare are found.¹² Him showed that them lordship pon Earth were famed an honoured - an that them lordship ina Heaven were famed an honoured them shall be honoured an lofty ina Heaven like unto them honour them an bow fe them ina this world ~ if them work goodly Work ina this world them shall be Irie.¹³ But kings who were evil ina them Rule an them kingdoms that JAH gave them - them don't judge fe true by what are due ~ as them have ignored the destitute an poor ones cries - them don't judge Truth an save the refugee an the wronged child whose faada an mother dead pon him.¹⁴ Them don't save destitute an poor ones from the wealthy hand that rob them ~ them don't divide an give from them food an satta them who hungered - an them don't divide an give from them drink an give fe drink the persons who thirsted - an them didn't return them ears toward the poor one cry.¹⁵ An Him shall tek them toward Gehannem that were a dark endin ~ pon the time that lofty Day arrived pon them when JAH shall come - an pon the time Him wrath were done pon them like unto Daweet spoke ina him Praises 'Lord - don't chastise I ina Thy Judgeman an don't admonish I ina Thy chastiseman' - them problems an them downbaseman shall abound like unto them fame abundance measure.¹⁶ When nobles an kings are who rule this world ina this world - there are persons who didn't keep thy law.¹⁷ But JAH Who rule all are there ina Heaven ~ all persons souls an all persons welfare have been seized by Him ltority ~ Him are Who give honour fe persons who glorify Him - fe Him totally rule all - an Him love the persons who love Him.¹⁸ As Him are Earth an Heaven Lord - Him examine an know what kidneys transported an what a reasonin thought - an fe a person who begged toward Him with a pure reasonin - Him shall give him him plea reward.¹⁹ Him shall downstroy powerful ones arrogance - who work evil Work pon the child whose mother an faada dead pon him - an pon old dawtaz.²⁰ It aren't by thy Power that thou seized this kingdom ~ it aren't by thy bein able that thou sat pon this throne ~ Him loved fe test thee thus that it be possible fe thee fe rule like unto Sa'ol who ruled him kindreds ina that season - an Him seated thee pon a kingdom throne - yet it aren't by thy Power that thou seized this kingdom ~ it are when Him test thee like unto Sa'ol who ignored the prophet Samu'iel word an JAH Word an didn't serve him army nor 'Amalieq king - yet it aren't by thy bein able that thou seized this kingdom.²¹ An JAH told the prophet Samu'iel - Go - an as them have saddened I by demolishin LAW an worshipping the idols an bowin fe the idol an by them mosques an by all them hated Works without benefit - tell Sa'ol - 'Go toward 'Amalieq country an downstroy them hosts an all the kings Iginnin from persons up til livestock.'²² Pon them who saddened JAH - becaudis thing Him sent Sa'ol that him might downstroy them.²³ But him saved them king from death - an him saved many livestock an beauties an dawtaz an handsome youths from death ~ As him have scorned I thing an as him didn't hear I Command - becaudis thing - JAH told the prophet Samu'iel - Go an divide him kingdom.²⁴ Becau him stead - Inoint `Issiey child Daweet that him might reign pon 'Isra'iel.²⁵ But pon him adjourn a demon who will strangle an cast him.²⁶ As him have refused if I-man gave him a kingdom that him might do I Accord - pon the time him refused I fe do I Accord I-man dismissed him from him kingdom that are due him - but thou - go an tell him sayin - 'Will thou thus ignore JAH Who crowned thee pon Him kindreds 'Isra'iel - Who seated thee pon Him Lordship Throne?'²⁷ But thou - tell him - 'Thou didn't know JAH Who gave around this much honour an famousness' Him told him.²⁸ An the prophet Samu'iel went toward the king Sa'ol an entered toward him sittin at a dinnertable - an when 'Amalieq king 'Agag had sat pon him left.²⁹ 'Why did thou totally ignore JAH Who commanded thee that thou might downstroy the livestock an persons?' him told him.³⁰ An at that time the king feared an arose from him throne an tellin Samu'iel 'Return fe wi' him seized him clothes - an Samu'iel refused fe return ~ Samu'iel clothes were torn.³¹ An Samu'iel told Sa'ol - 'JAH divided thy kingdom.'³² An again Sa'ol told Samu'iel before the people - 'Honour mi an atone mi sin fe mi before JAH that Him might forgive mi' ~ an as him have feared JAH Word Who Irated him - but as him didn't fear the king who dead - Samu'iel refused fe return ina him word.³³ Becaudis thing him pierced 'Amalieq king 'Agag before him swallowed what him chewed.³⁴ An a demon seized that Sa'ol who demolished the LAW of JAH - an becau Him were the King of Kings Who rule all - JAH struck pon him head a king who worked sin - fe it don't shame him.³⁵ Fe Him are all the Iration Lord Who dismiss all the nobles an kings Itority who don't fear Him - but there are none who rule Him.³⁶ Like unto Him spoke sayin - Daweet kindred shall go while it were famed an honoured - but Sa'ol kindred shall go while it were downbased - Him downstroyed kingdom from him child an from Sa'ol.³⁷ Becau it saddened Him - an becau Him downstroyed the criminals who saddened Him by them evil Work - JAH revenged an downstroyed Sa'ol kindred childran - fe a person who don't revenge JAH enemy - him are JAH enemy.³⁸ When it are possible fe him fe revenge an downstroy - an when him have Itority - a person who don't revenge an downstroy the sinner an don't revenge an downstroy a person who don't keep JAH LAW - as him are JAH enemy - Him downstroyed Sa'ol kindred childra.

CHAPTER 7 ¹An whether thou be a king or a ruler - what important thing are thou?² Aren't it JAH Who Irated thee bringin from not livin toward livin - that thou might do Him Accord an might live firmed up by Him Command an might fear Him Judgemant? Like unto thou vex pon thy slaves an governed over them - all likewise there are also JAH Who vex pon thee an govern over thee.³ Like unto thou beat without niceness persons who worked sin - all likewise there are also JAH Who will strike thee an lower thee toward Gehannem where are no exits up til Iternity.⁴ Like unto thou whip him who weren't ruled fe thee an didn't bring a tribute fe thee - fe what are it that thou don't introduce a tribute fe JAH?⁵ As Him are Who Irated thee in order that thou love that them might fear thee - an Who crowned thee pon all the Iration that thou might keep Him kindreds fe true - fe what are it that thou don't fear thy Irator JAH?⁶ Judge by what are due an fe true like unto JAH lpointed thee - yet don't sight up a face an favour fe small nor great ~ whom will thou fear without Him? keep Him Worship an the Nine Commands.⁷ Like unto Mussie commanded 'Isra'iel childran sayin - 'I-man presented Water an fiyah fe thee-I ~ add thy hand toward what thou loved' - don't go neither rightward nor leftward.⁸ Hear Him Word that I-man tell thee - that thou might hear Him Word an might do Him Command - lest thou say - 'She are beyond the sea or beyond the deep or beyond the river ~ who will bring fe mi that mi might sight she up an might hear Him Word an might do Him Command?'⁹ Lest thou say - 'Who will proceed toward Heaven again an lower that JAH Word fe mi that mi might hear an do she?' - JAH Word are what approached - check - fe thou fe teach she with thy mouth an give alms by she with thy hand.¹⁰ An thou didn't hear thy Irator JAH unless thou heard Him Book - an thou didn't love Him nor keep Him Command unless thou kept Him LAW.¹¹ An thou have that thou might enter toward Gehannem foriva - an unless thou loved Him Command - an unless thou did JAH Accord - Who honoured an famed thee separatin from all thy kindreds that thou might keep them fe true - thou have that thou might enter toward Gehannem foriva.¹² Him made thee above all - an Him crowned thee pon all Him kindreds that thou might rule Him kindreds fe true by what are due while thou thought of thy Irator Name Who Irated thee an gave thee a kingdom.¹³ There are them whom thou whip from persons who wronged thee - an there are him whom thou pardon while thou thought of JAH Work - an there are him fe whom thou judge by what are due straightenin up thy reasonin.¹⁴ An don't favour havin sight up a face pon the time them argued before thee ~ as Earth physique are thy money - don't accept a bribe that thou might pardon the sinner person an wrong the clean person.¹⁵ If thou did Him Accord - JAH shall multiply thy era ina this world fe thee - but if thou sadden Him - Him will diminish thy era.¹⁶ Think that thou will rise after thou dead - an that thou will be examined standin before Him pon all the Work thou worked whether it be goodly or evil.¹⁷ If thou work goodly Work - thou will live ina Garden ina the Kingdom of Heaven - ina houses where kind kings live an where Light filled. Fe JAH don't shame thy lordship authority - but if thou work evil Work - thou will live ina See'ol Gehannem where evil kings live.¹⁸ But pon the time thou sight up thy bein feared famousness - thy warriors award - thy hangin shield an spear - an pon the time thou sight up thy horses an thy troops beneath thy authority an them who beat drum an persons who play pon a harp before thee...¹⁹ But pon the time thou sight up all this - thou mek thy reasonin lofty - an thou firm up thy collar of reasonin - an thou don't think of JAH Who gave thee all this honour - however pon the time Him told thee - Quit all this - thou aren't who quit it.²⁰ Fe thou have totally neglected the lpointmant Him lpointed thee - an Him shall give thy lordship fe another.²¹ As death shall suddenly come pon thee - an as Judgement shall be done ina Resurrection time - an as all man Work shall be examined - Him shall totally investigate an judge pon thee.²² There are none who will honour this world kings - fe becau Him were Truth Judge - ina Judgement time poor an wealthy will stand together. This world nobles crowns wherein them boast shall fall.²³ Judgement are prepared - an a soul shall quake ~ at that time sinners an righteous ones Work shall be examined.²⁴ An there are none who shall be hidden. Pon the time a dawta arrived fe birthin - an pon the time the fetus ina she belly arrived fe bein birthed - like unto she cyaan prevent she womb - Earth also cyaan prevent she lodgers that are pon she ~ she will return.²⁵ An like unto clouds cyaan prevent rain lest them tek an rain toward the place JAH commanded them - fe JAH Word have lrated all bringin from not livin toward livin - an fe JAH Word again have introduced all toward a grave an all likewise - after Resurrection time arrived - it aren't possible fe be that dead persons won't rise.²⁶ Like unto Mussie spoke sayin - 'It are by Words that proceed from JAH Tongue - yet it aren't only by grain that a person are saved' an JAH Word again shall arouse all persons from graves.²⁷ Check - it were known that dead persons shall arise by JAH Word.²⁸ An again JAH said thus ina Repeatin Law becau persons who were nobles an kings who do Him Accord - As the day have arrived when them are counted fe downstruction - I-man shall revenge an downstroy them pon the day when Judgement are judged an at the time when them feet stumble Him said.²⁹ An again JAH told persons who know Him Judgement - Know know that I-man were your lerator JAH - an that I-man kill an I-man save.³⁰ I-man chastise ina the tribulation an I-man pardon ~ I-man lower toward See'o/ an again I-man send forth toward the Garden - an there are none who shall escape from I Itority Him told them.³¹ JAH said thus becau nobles an kings who didn't keep Him LAW - As Earthly kingdoms are a passin - an as them pass from mornin up til evenin - keep I Order an I LAW that unu might enter toward the Kingdom of Heaven that live firmed up foriva Him said.³² Fe JAH callin Righteous ones are fe glory - an sinners fe tribulation ~ Him will mek the sinner wretched but will honour righteous ones.³³ Him will dismiss the person who didn't do Him Accord - but Him will Ipoint the person who did Him Accord.

CHAPTER 8 ¹Hear I - mek I tell thee the thing whereby dead persons shall arise ~ them shall plant a plant an be fertile an grapes shall send forth vines ~ as JAH shall bring the fruit 'imhibe 'albo ~ them shall cast wine from it.² Overstand that that plant thou planted were small - but that she sent forth tips fruit an leaves today.³ JAH give she root fe drink from Earth an Water - from both.⁴ But Him feed she wood from fiyah an wind ~ roots give leaves Water fe drink - an Earth give firmness fe woods.⁵ But the soul that JAH Irated mek them bear fruit amidst them - an dead persons arisin are likewise.⁶ Pon the time soul were separated from flesh - as each of them ras selves have gone - Him said - Gather souls from the four natures - from Earth an Water - wind an fiyah.⁷ But Earth nature lived firmed up ina she nature an became Earth - an Water nature lived firmed up ina she nature an became Water.⁸ An wind nature lived firmed up ina she nature an became wind - an fiyah nature lived firmed up ina she nature an became a hot fiyah.⁹ But a soul that JAH separated from flesh returned toward she Irator ~ up til Him raise she up inited with flesh pon the time Him loved - Him place she ina Garden ina the place Him loved.¹⁰ Him place righteous souls ina Light house ina Garden - but that Him might send way sinners souls - Him also place them ina darkness house ina See'o/ up til the time when Him loved.¹¹ JAH told the prophet Hiziq'iel - Call souls from the four corners - that them might be gathered an be one limb.¹² Pon the time Him spoke ina one Word sayin thus - the souls were gathered from the four corners.¹³ An Water nature brought verdure - an again fiyah nature brought fiyah.¹⁴ An again Earth nature brought Earth - an wind nature brought wind.¹⁵ An JAH brought a soul from the Garden place where Him placed it ~ them were gathered by one Word - an a Resurrection were made.¹⁶ An again I-man shall show thee the example that are alongside thee ~ the day dusk ~ thou sleep ~ the night dawn - an thou rise from thy beddin - but pon the time thou slept it are thy death example.¹⁷ An pon the time thou awoke it are thy arisin example - but the night when all persons sleep whose physiquess were dark - fe darkness have covered them - are this world example.¹⁸ But the mornin light - when darkness are eliminated an when light are ina all the world an when persons arise an graze toward the field - are dead persons example.¹⁹ An this Kingdom of Heaven where man are renewed are like unto this ~ dead persons Resurrection are like unto this ~ as this world are passin - it are the night example.²⁰ An like unto Daweet spoke sayin - 'Him placed Him example ina Sun' - as Sun shine pon the time it rose - it are a Kingdom of Heaven example.²¹ An like unto Sun shine ina this world today - pon the time Kristos come Him shall shine like unto Sun ina Kingdom of Heaven that are new ~ as Him have said - I-man am a Sun that don't set an a Torch that aren't extinguished - Him JAH are she Light.²² An Him shall quickly arouse the dead persons again ~ I-man shall bring one example fe thee again from thy food that thou sow an whereby thou are saved - an whether it be a wheat kernel or a barley kernel or a lentil kernel or all man seeds sown pon Earth - there are none that grow unless it were demolished an rotten.²³ An like unto the person flesh thou sight up - pon the time it were demolished an rotten - Earth eat stoutness with the hide.²⁴ An pon the time Earth ate it stoutness it grow bein around a kernel seventh ~ JAH give a cloud that seized rain like unto Him loved - an roots grow pon Earth an send forth leaves.²⁵ An if she were demolished an rotten she cyaan grow - but after she grew she send forth many buds.²⁶ An by JAH Accord fruit are given fe those buds that grew - an Him clothe it stoutness ina straw.²⁷ Sight up like unto the measure that the seed kernel thou sowed abounded - yet the silver an the leaf - the ear an the straw aren't counted fe thee.²⁸ Don't be a dull one who don't know - an sight up thy seed that it abounded - an all likewise - think that dead persons shall receive the arisin that them will arise - an them hardship like unto them Work.²⁹ Hear I - that if thou sow wheat - it won't grow bein barley - nor bein wheat if thou sow barley - an mek I tell thee again that it won't grow ~ if thou sow wheat will thou gather barley? If thou sow watercress will thou gather linseed?³⁰ How about from plants kind - if thou plant figs will it really grow fe thee bein nuts? How about if thou plant almonds - will it grow fe thee bein grapes?³¹ If thou plant the sweet fruit will it grow fe thee bein bitter? How about if thou plant the bitter fruit - are it possible fe it fe be sweet?³² How about all likewise - if a sinner dead are it possible fe arise bein righteous ina Resurrection time? How about if a righteous person dead

 - are it possible fe arise bein a sinner ina Resurrection time?
 Every one shall receive him hardship like unto him Work - yet him will receive him hardship like unto him sin an him hand Work - yet there are none who will be convicted by him companion sin.³³ A highland tree are planted an it send forth long branches ~ it will totally dry up ~ yet unless Heaven rained rain it leaves won't be verdant.³⁴ An the cedar will be uprooted from it roots unless summer rain alit pon it.³⁵ An all likewise - dead persons won't arise unless welfare dew alit fe them bein commanded from JAH.

CHAPTER 9 ¹Unless highland mountains an Gielabuhie regions rained a pardon rain fe them bein commanded from JAH - them won't grow grass fe beasts an animals.² An 'Elam mountains an Gele`ad mountains won't give verdant leaves fe sheeps an goats - nor fe oribi an animals ina wilderness - nor fe ibexes an hartebeest.³ An likewise - pardon an dew bein commanded from JAH didn't alight fe doubters an criminals who made error an crime a money beforehand ~ dead persons won't arise ~ an Deemas an Qophros who worship idols an dig roots an work an instigate a thing...⁴ An them who dig roots an practice sorcery an mek persons battle...⁵ An them who lust havin departed from LAW - an Miedon an 'Atiena persons who believe ina them idols - an them who play an sing fe them while them beat violins an drums an strummed harps - them won't arise unless pardon dew alit fe them bein commanded from JAH.⁶ These are who will be convicted pon the day when dead persons arise an when Definite Judgement are done - yet persons who save them ras selves an who lust ina them hands Work - them err by them idols.⁷ Thou wasteful of heart dull one - do it seem fe thee that dead persons won't arise?⁸ Pon the time a trumpet were blown by the Angels Chief Hola Meeka'iel tongue - that dead ones arise then - as thou won't remain ina grave without arisin - don't think a thing that are thus.⁹ Hills an mountains shall be level an shall be a cleared path.¹⁰ An Resurrection shall be done fe all fleshly ones.

CHAPTER 10 ¹However if it weren't thus - it are that former persons might be buried ina them faadas grave Iginnin from 'Adam - Iginnin from Siet an 'Abiel - Siem an Noh - Yis'haq an 'Abriham - Yosief an Ya`iqob - an 'Aron an Mussie - yet fe what are it that them didn't love that them might be buried ina another place?² Aren't it fe them fe arise together with them cousins ina Resurrection time? How about aren't it lest them bones be counted with evil ones an pagans bones - them who worship idols? Fe what are it that them didn't love that them might be buried ina another place?³ But thou - don't mislead thy reasonin while thou said - 'How will dead persons arise after them dead - them who were buried ina one grave bein tens of thousands an whose bodies were demolished an rotten?⁴ An pon the time thou sight up toward a grave - thou speak this ina thy reasonin dullness while thou said - 'A whole fistful of Earth won't be found ~ how will dead persons arise?'⁵ Will thou say the seed thou sowed won't grow? Even the seed thou sowed shall grow.⁶ An all likewise - the souls JAH sowed shall quickly arise - as Him have Irated man ina Him Truth bringin from not livin toward livin - Him shall arouse them quickly by Him Word that save ~ Him won't delay Him arousin.⁷ An as Him have again returned him from livin - toward a grave ina death - what about aren't it possible fe Him again fe return from death toward Life?⁸ Savin an liftin up are possible fe JAH.

CHAPTER 11 ¹'Armon perished an she fortress were demolished ~ as JAH have brought the hardship pon them like unto them evil an the Work them worked by them hands - persons who worship the idols ina 'Edomyas an Zablon shall be downbased at that time ~ as JAH have approached - Who shall canvict them who worked ina them infancy an didn't quit up til them aged - becau them idols an them evil - Seedona an Theeros shall weep..² Becau them worked sin an seducin fornication an worshipped idols - becaudis thing JAH shall revenge an downstroy them ~ fe them didn't live firmed up ina them Irator JAH Command - an Yihuda dawta childran shall be wretched.³ She lived firmed up ina killin prophets an ina Irie ltes - yet as she didn't live firmed up ina the Nine Laws an the Worship - pon the time when dead ones arise - 'Iyerusalieim sin shall be revealed.⁴ At that time JAH shall examine she ina Him Nature Wisdom ~ Him will revenge an downstroy she pon all she sin that she worked ina she infancy era ~ she didn't quit workin she sin lginnin from she beauty era up til she age.⁵ She entered toward a grave an became dust like unto she former faadas who lived firmed up ina them sin - an ina Resurrection time Him shall revenge an downstroy persons who demolished JAH LAW.⁶ It shall be judged pon them - fe Mussie have spoken becau them sayin - 'Them LAW lodgin - them reasonins - became Sedom law lodgin.⁷ An them kindred are Gemorra kindred - an them law are what downstroy - an them Work are evil.⁸ An them law are snake poison that downstroy - an viper poison that downstroy from alongside that.

CHAPTER 12 ¹Iyerusalieim child - as this thy sin are like unto Gemorra an Sedom sin - 'Iyerusalieim child - this are thy tribulation that were spoken by a prophet.² An thy tribulation are like unto Gemorra an Sedom tribulation - an them law lodgin reasonin firmed up ina adultery an arrogance.³ Aside from adultery an arrogance rain - pardon an humility rain didn't rain from them reasonins by money that them Law reasonin lodgin are fertile - apart from spillin man blood an robbin an forgettin them Irator JAH.⁴ An them didn't know them Irator JAH - apart from them evil Work an them idols - an them are Irie ina them hands Work - an them lust pon males an pon livestock.⁵ As them eye of reasonin have been blinded lest them sight up secrets - an as them ears have deafened lest them hear or do JAH Accord that Him love - them didn't know JAH ina them Work - an them reasonins are like unto Sedom law lodgin. An them kindred - Gemorra grapes kindred that bear sweet fruit.⁶ An if them examine them Work - it are poison that kill - fe it have firmed up ina curse lginnin from the day when it were worked - an fe it grounation have been ina downstruction era.⁷ As them Law lodgin - them reasonins - have firmed up ina sin Work - as them bodies have firmed up ina Seythan burnin Work fe build sin - them Law lodgin - them reasonins - have no goodly Work everytime.⁸ An pon the time him shame an were baptise (by one who is led) it were fe chastisemant an downstruction - an him will firm up the persons who drank an them reasonins - an him will mek them who downstroy I - disgustin persons who distanced from JAH.⁹ Fe them have lived firmed up ina them Work that were evil - an him will mek them Deeyablos lodgin - an eatin what were sacrificed fe the idols have been begun ina the House of 'Isra'iel - an she proceed toward the mountains an the trees.¹⁰ An she worship the idols that peoples ina she area worship - an she dawta childran an she male childran fe demons who don't know goodly Work separatin from evil.¹¹ An them spill clean blood ~ them gush an spill grapes from Sedom fe the idols foriva.¹² An she glorify an worship the Dagwon that the 'Iloflans worship - an she sacrifice fe him from she flocks an she fattened cows - that she might be Irie ina demons laziness that them taught she fe sacrifice fe them - an ina them gushin an spillin the grapes - an

that she might do them accord.¹³ She sacrifice fe him that she might be Irie in demons laziness that them taught she lest she know she Irator JAH Who feed she at each time an Who cherished an raised she Iginnin from she infancy up til she beauty - an again up til she age - an again up til she age day when she dead.¹⁴ An again I-man shall revenge an canvict him ina Resurrection time - an as she didn't return toward I LAW - an as she didn't live firmed up ina I Command - she time when she live ina Gehannem shall be up til lternity.¹⁵ If them were Irators fe true - mek she idols arise with she an downscend toward Gehannem an save she pon the time I-man vexed an downstroyed she - an pon the time I-man distanced all the priests of the idols who lust with she.¹⁶ Like unto she made sin an insult pon the Hola lterns an pon I Lodgin the Temple - I-man made she wretched by all this.¹⁷ When them told she - 'Check - this are JAH kindred - an she are 'Isra'iel Irator JAH Lodgin - an the famous King country 'Iyerusalieim who were separate from them who were separate - she are the Most I JAH Name Lodgin' - I-man made she wretched like unto she saddened I Name that were called in a she.¹⁸ She boast in a I that she were I slave an that I-man were she Lord ~ she wink pon I like unto a criminal - yet she aren't who fear I an do I Accord like unto I bein she Lord.¹⁹ Them became a obstacle pon she fe mislead that them might distance she from I - yet she are ruled fe other idols who don't feed she nor clothe she.²⁰ She sacrifice sacrifice fe them - an she eat the sacrifice - an she spill blood fe them - an she gush an drink from the grapes fe them ~ she smoke up ishence fe them - an she mek the ishence fragrance smell fe them ~ she idols command she - an she are commanded fe them.²¹ An again she sacrifice she dawta childran an she male childran fe them - an as she present praises fe them becau them Love - she are Irie in a the thing she spoke by she tongue an in a she hands Work.²² Woe fe she pon the day when Definite Judgement are done - an woe fe she idols whom she love an inite an she shall downscend with them toward Gehannem beneath See' ol - where the worm don't slumber an the fiyah aren't extinguished.²³ Woe fe thee wretched 'Iyerusaliem child - fe thou have quit I Who Irated thee an have worshipped different idols.²⁴ An I-man shall bring the hardship pon thee like unto thy Work ~ as thou have saddened I - an as thou have ignored I Word - an as thou didn't work goodly Work - I-man shall convict thee toward thy pretensions.²⁵ Fe thou have saddened I Word - an fe thou didn't live firmed up in a I LAW whereby thou swore with I - that thou might keep I LAW an that I-man might live with thee in a Support an might save thee from all who fight thee - an also that thou might keep I Order that I-man commanded thee - an I-man shall ignore thee an won't quickly save thee from the tribulation.²⁶ Thou didn't keep all this - an I-man ignored thee ~ as I-man have created thee - an as thou didn't keep I Command nor I Word - I-man shall convict thee in a Judgement time - an I-man honoured thee that thou might be I kin.²⁷ An like unto Gemonra an Sedom were separated from I - thou were separated from I.²⁸ An I-man judged an downstroyed them - an like unto Sedom an Gemonra were separated from I - thou separated from I - an now like unto I-man vexed an downstroyed them - I-man vexed an downstroyed thee ~ as thou are from Sedom an Gemonra kindred whom I-man downstroyed - I-man downstroyed thee ~ as them whom I-man Irated have saddened I by goin toward a youtmon wife an by lustin without LAW - with animals an males like unto arrivin with dawtaz - I-man downstroyed them name invocation from this world lest them live ina them Irie lites.²⁹ There are no fearin JAH ina them faces lginnin from a infant up til a elder ~ them help him ina all them evil Work - yet Him don't vex pon each one that them might quit workin she ~ as them Work are evil - them are sated of sin an iniquity.³⁰ All evil Work - robbery an arrogance an greed - are prepared ina them reasonins.³¹ An becaudis thing JAH ignored them an downstroyed them countries - an them are there that Him might burn them with fiyah up til them root grounation perish ~ them totally perished up til the lternity - yet Him didn't mek even one from them remain.³² As them have firmed up ina sin - them shall wait ina downstruction foriva up til the Day of Advent when Definite Judgement are done - fe them have saddened I with them evil Work - an I-man won't pardon them nor forgive them.³³ An I-man ignored them ~ fe thou won't find a reason pon the time I-man vexed an seized thee becau all thy Work were robbery an sin - adultery an greed an speakin lies - all error Work an the obstacle that I-man don't love - an thou 'Iyerusalieim child who were wretched - pon the day when Judgement are done thou will be seized ina Judgement like unto them.³⁴ I-man had made thee fe honour - but thou downbased thy ras self ~ I-man had called thee I money - but thou became fe another.³⁵ I-man had betrothed thee fe honour - but thou became fe Deeyablos - an I-man shall revenge an downstroy thee like unto thy evil Work.³⁶ Becau thou didn't hear all I Word - an becau thou didn't keep the Command I-man commanded thee pon the time I-man loved thee - I-man shall multiply an bring firm vengeance pon thee - fe I-man am JAH Who Irated thee - an I-man shall judge pon all sinners like unto thee - an pon the day when Judgement are done I-man shall bring the hardship pon them like unto them evil Work.³⁷ As thou didn't keep I Word - an as thou have ignored I Judgement - I-man shall canvict thee with them.³⁸ Woe fe unu - Gemorra an Sedom - who have no fearin JAH ina your reasonin.³⁹ All likewise - woe fe thy sista 'Iyerusalieim child pon whom it shall be judged together with thee ina Fiyah of Gehannem - fe unu will

toward Gehannem that were prepared fe unu - where are no exits foriva - an woe fe all sinners who worked thy sin.⁴⁰ As unu didn't keep I Command nor I Word - thou an she who didn't keep I Command nor I Word shall downscend toward See'o/ together pon the day when Judgement are judged.⁴¹ But kind persons who kept I Command an I Word shall eat the money that sinner persons accumulated - an like unto JAH commanded - kind persons shall share the loot that evil persons captured - an kind persons shall be totally Irie.⁴² But wrongdoers an sinner persons shall weep - an them shall be sad becau all them sin that them wronged havin departed from I Command.⁴³ Him who keep I Word an live firmed up ina I Command - him are who find I blessin an are honoured alongside I.⁴⁴ All person who keep I Word an live firmed up ina I Command shall eat the fatness found from Earth - an shall live havin entered toward the Garden where enter kind kings who have straight reasonins.

CHAPTER 13 ¹As them shall be wretched an perish by I wrath pon the time I-man seized them - woe fe Theeros an Seedona an all Yihuda country regions who mek them ras selves arrogant today.² Conquerin JAH said thus ~ Him have said - Deeyablos child who are totally arrogant shall be birthed from them - the False Messeeh who fe a Truth thing are she enemy - who firm up him collar of reasonin - who boast an don't know him Irator - an Him said - Woe fe them - an JAH Who rule all said - I-man made him fe I anger pattern that I-man might be revealed ina him Power.³ An this Qifirnahom Semarya an Geleela an Demasqo an Sorya an 'Akeya an Qophros an all Yordanos region are kindreds who firmed up them collars of reasonin - who live firmed up ina them sin - an whom death shadow an darkness covered - fe Deeyablos have covered them reasonins ina sin - an fe them are commanded fe that arrogant Deeyablos - an them didn't return toward fearin JAH.⁴ At that time woe fe persons who are commanded fe demons an who sacrifice sacrifice ina them name fe them ~ as them have denied JAH Who Irated them - them resemble animals without minds - fe the False Messeeh who forgot JAH LAW an are Deeyablos child shall set up him image ina all the places (fe him have said 'Mi are a god') - an him shall be lrie ina him reasonin accord - ina him hand Work an ina robbery an all the sins an perfidy an iniquity - ina robbery an all the adulteries that a person work.⁵ Fe becau it were counted alongside JAH that him work this - the era are known that them work sin.⁶ Sun shall darken an moon shall be blood - an stars shall be shaken from Heaven - all the Work shall pass by the miracles that JAH shall bring ina Fulfillmant Era that Him might mek Earth pass - an that Him might mek all pass who live ina sin of persons who live within she.⁷ As JAH have been proud pon the lration Him lrated - an as Him have quickly made all Him loved ina one iwa - the Lord death shall downstroy a small enemy Deeyablos.⁸ Fe JAH Who rule all have said - I-man shall judge an downstroy - but after Advent - Deeyablos have no authority.⁹ An pon the day when him were seized by I anger - him shall downscend toward Gehannem - fe which him mek application an where firm tribulation are ~ as him will tek all who are with him toward chastisemant an downstruction an perfidy - becau I-man were Who send forth from Gehannem an Who introduce toward Gehannem - him will downscend toward Gehannem.¹⁰ As Him give firmness an Power fe weak persons - an again as Him give weakness fe powerful an firm persons - mek a powerful one not boast ina him Power.¹¹ As Him are a Ruler - an as Him judge an save the wronged persons from the persons hands who wrong them - Him will return the grudge of the widows an the child whose faada an mother dead pon him.¹² Woe fe thee who boast an firm up thy collar of reasonin - fe whom it seem that I-man won't rule thee nor judge an downstroy thee - fe ina him boastin an him arrogance him have said - 'Mi will streach mi throne ina stars an Heaven - an mi will be like unto JAH Who are lofty.'¹³ An like unto Him spoke sayin - How Deeyablos fell from Heaven - him who shine like unto a mornin star that were lrated precedin all - woe fe thee.¹⁴ An thou dared an spoke this ina thy arrogance - an thou didn't think of JAH Who totally lrated thee by Him ltority ~ why did thou boast thy ras self that thou downscend toward Gehannem ina thy reasonin firmness?¹⁵ Thou were downbased separate from all Angels like unto thee - fe them praise them lratior with a humbled reasonin becau them knew that Him were Who lrated them from fiyah an wind - an fe them don't depart from Him Command - an fe them keep them reasonins from perfidy lest them totally depart from Him Command.¹⁶ But thou did a firm perfidy ina thy reasonin arrogance ~ thou became a wretched man separate from thy companions - fe thou have cherished all the sin an iniquity - robbery an perfidy whereby persons who forgot JAH LAW an sinners like unto thee live firmed up - them who are from thy kindred an commit crime like unto thee - an who live firmed up by thy command an thy accord whereby thou teach sin.¹⁷ Woe fe thee - fe the demons thou misled ina thy malice an thou will downscend toward Gehannem together.¹⁸ O unu JAH childran who erred by that misleadin criminal Deeyablos - woe fe unu ~ as unu have erred like unto him by the money that him taught unu an that him hosts taught unu - unu will downscend toward Gehannem together - where are no exits foriva.¹⁹ An formerly when JAH slave Mussie were there - unu saddened JAH by the Water where argumant were made an pon Korieb - an by 'Amalieq an pon Mount Seena.²⁰ An moreover pon the time unu sent scouts toward Kene'an - pon the time them told unu this sayin 'The path are far - an them ramparts an them fortresses that reach up til Heaven are firm - an warriors live there' - unu vexed that unu might return towad Gibts country where unu work worrisome Work - an unu saddened JAH Word.²¹ Unu didn't think of JAH Who firmed unu up from the tribulation - an Who did great miracles ina Gibts - an Who led unu by Him Angel Itority. Him would veil unu ina cloud by day lest the Sun burn unu an Him would shine a column of fiyah fe unu by night lest your feet stumble ina darkness.²² An pon the time the army an Fer'on frightened unu - unu totally cried toward Mussie - an Mussie totally cried toward JAH - an Him lodged ina Him Angel an kept unu lest unu meet with Fer'on.²³ But Him introduced them toward 'Eritra ina tribulation ~ JAH led only 'Isra'iel - fe Him have said - An there were no different idol with them - but Him buried them enemies ina sea at one time - an Him didn't preserve none who flee from them.²⁴ An Him made 'Isra'iel cross amidst the sea by foot ~ there are no tribulation that found them arisin from the Gibtsans ~ Him delivered them toward Mount Seena - an there Him fed them menna forty eras.²⁵ As 'Isra'iel childran sadden JAH everytime - Him did all this goodly thing fe them an them neglected fe worship JAH.²⁶ Them placed evil ina them reasonins Iginnin from them childhood up til them age - fe JAH Mouth have spoken thus ina 'Oreet where the faadas birth were written ~ as Him have spoken sayin - 'Adam childran reasonin are ash - an all them Work are toward robbery an them run toward evil ~ there are none from them who love straight Work - apart from gatherin a person money ina violence an swearin ina lie an wrongin companions an robbin an stealin - them placed evil ina them reasonins.²⁷ An all go toward evil Work ina the era when them live ina Life ~ 'Isra'iel childran who demolished JAH LAW totally saddened JAH Iginnin from Antiquity up til fufillmant era.

CHAPTER 14 ¹An pon the time JAH downstroyed Qayen childran - kindreds who preceded - ina downstruction Water becau them sin - Him baptised Earth ina Water of Downstruction - an Him cleansed she from all Qayel childran sin.² As Him have said - I-man were sad becau I-man lrated man - Him downstroyed all wrongdoers ~ Him didn't preserve apart from eight persons ~ Him downstroyed all ~ after this Him multiplied them an them filled

Earth ~ them shared them faada 'Adam inheritance.³ But Noh swore with JAH a oath ~ them swore a oath with JAH lest JAH again downstroy Earth ina Downstruction Water - an lest Noh childran eat what deceased nor what lodged dead - lest them worship different idols apart from JAH Who lrated them - an that Him might be a Love Faada fe them - an lest Him downstroy them at one time ina them vain sin - an lest Him prevent them the first an the spring rain - an that Him might give fe livestock an persons them food at each time - that Him might give them the grass an the grain fruit an plants - an that them might work goodly Work ina all that JAH love.⁴ An after Him gave them this Order - 'Isra'iel childran saddened JAH by them sin ~ them didn't live firmed up ina Him LAW like unto them faadas Yis'haq an 'Abriham an Ya`iqob who didn't demolish them lerator JAH LAW.⁵ An Iginnin from the small up til the great - those 'Isra'iel childran who didn't keep JAH LAW are crooked ina them Work.⁶ An whether them be them priests or them chiefs or them scribes - everyone demolish JAH LAW.⁷ Them don't live firmed up ina JAH Order an Him LAW that Mussie commanded them ina Repeatin Law sayin - 'Love thy Irator JAH ina thy complete body an thy complete reasonin.¹⁸ Them don't firm up ina JAH Order an Him LAW that Mussie commanded them ina book where LAW were written sayin - 'Love thy companion like unto thy body - an don't worship him idols that were different - an don't go toward a youtmon wife ~ don't kill a soul ~ don't steal.⁹ An don't witness ina lie - an be it him donkey or be it him ox - don't love thy companion money nor all that thy bredda bought.'¹⁰ However after him commanded them all this - 'Isra'iel childran who were evil return toward treachery an sin - robbery an iniquity - toward a youtmon wife an toward lies an stealin an worshippin idols.¹¹ 'Isra'iel childran saddened JAH pon Korieb by workin a cow that graze toward grass ~ them bowed sayin - 'Check - these are wi irators who sent wi forth from Gibts.'¹² An them were Irie ina them hand Work ~ if them ate an drank an satta - them arose fe sing.¹³ As JAH have told him sayin - Thy kindreds whom thou sent forth from Gibts country where rulership are - them have proceeded from LAW an wronged - an them worked a cow image an bowed fe the idol - becaudis thing Mussie vexed an alit from Seena mountain.¹⁴ While Mussie vexed pon him kindreds - him alit with him canfidante 'Iyasu - an pon the time 'Iyasu heard - him said - 'Check - I-man hear warriors voice ina 'Isra'iel camp.'¹⁵ An Mussie told 'Iyasu - 'It are when 'Isra'iel play havin drunk the unboiled wine - yet as fe a warrior voice - it aren't' - an him alit an broke them image an totally crushed it up til it were like unto dust ~ him mixed it within the Water that 'Isra'iel childran drink beside the mountain.¹⁶ An after this him commanded the priests that them might slay one another becau the sin them worked before JAH.¹⁷ Them knew that defyin JAH surpass killin them an killin them faadas - an them did like unto him commanded them.¹⁸ An Mussie told them - 'Becaununu saddened JAH Who fed unu an cherished unu an Who sent unu forth from a rulership house an Who bequeathed fe unu the inheritance that Him swore fe your faadas that Him might give fe them an fe them childran after them - becaudis thing unu made JAH Irie.'¹⁹ Fe them go toward sin an a evil thing - an them didn't quit saddenin JAH there.²⁰ Them aren't like unto them faadas Yis'haq an 'Abriham an Ya'iqob who made JAH Irie with them goodly Work that Him might give them what are pon Earth an what Him prepared fe persons who love Him ina Heaven Iginnin from them infancy up til them youthood an up til them age ~ them aren't like unto 'Abriham an Yis'haq an Ya`iqob who made Him Irie with them Work that Him might give them a Earth of inheritance where Irie ltes are found ina this world - an a garden that mek Irie - prepared fe kind persons ina hereafter world - what Him prepared fe 'Abriham an Yis'haq an Ya`iqob who made JAH Irie when them were ina Life an who love Him - Whom a eye didn't sight up nor a ear hear an Who aren't thought of ina reasonin.²¹ An them childran who denied JAH an were evil an who live firmed up ina them reasonin accord - them didn't hear JAH Command - Him Who fed them an cherished them an kept them Iginnin from them infancy.²² Them didn't think of JAH - Who sent them forth from Gibts land an saved them from brick Work an a firm rulership.²³ But them totally saddened Him - an Him would arouse peoples ina them area pon them - an them would arise pon them ina enmity an also tax them like unto them loved.

CHAPTER 15 ¹An at that time Midyam persons arose pon them ina enmity - an them aroused them armies pon 'Isra'iel that them might fight them - an them king name are called 'Akrandis ~ him quickly gathered many armies ina Keeliqyas an Sorya an Demasqo.² An campin beyond Yordanos him sent messengers sayin - 'An that mi might capture your money - pay tax toward 'Isra'iel fe mi' ~ him told them - 'But if unu don't pay tax - mi came that mi might punish unu an might capture your livestocks an tek your mares an capture your childran.'³ 'Mi will capture an tek unu toward the country unu don't know - an there mi will mek unu Water pourers an wood pickers' him told them.⁴ 'Don't boast while unu said - "Inl are JAH kindreds an there are nothing able fe Inl" - aren't JAH Who sent mi that mi might downstroy unu an plunder your money? an aren't mi whom JAH sent that mi might gather all your kindreds?⁵ Are there really a savin that them different idols saved the other kins that mi downstroyed? Mi captured them mares an them horses an mi killed them an captured them childran.'⁶ An unless unu introduced the tax that mi commanded unu - mi will downstroy unu like unto them' him said - an him crossed Yordanos that him might plunder them livestocks an them money an capture them wives.⁷ An after this 'Isra'iel childran wept a firm mournin toward JAH - an them totally cried - however them lacked one who help them.⁸ An becaudis thing JAH gave firmness fe the three bredren - an them names are like unto this: - an them are Yihuda an Mebikyas an Meqabees - whose features were handsome an who were warriors ina them Power.⁹ An 'Isra'iel childran totally wept there ~ pon the time them heard - it saddened them ina them heart arisin from all 'Isra'iel childran shout ~ the child whose mother an faada dead pon him - an widows - an them officials an them priests - all 'Isra'iel kindred - both dawtaz an males - an all childran - would weep sprinklin ash pon them heads - an them nobles had worn sackcloth.¹⁰ But those bredren - who were attractive an comely - went an agreed that them might save them ~ them counseled sayin - 'Mek Inl go an give Inl bodies fe death becau these persons.'¹¹ Tellin one another - 'Tek heart - tek heart' - them went girdin them swords pon them waists an seizin them spears ina them hands - an them went prepared that them might incriminate the warrior.¹² An them arrived toward them camp ~ Mebikyus attacked the warrior (the king) when him had sat at a dinnertable ~ him cut him neck ina one blow when food were ina him mouth an Meqabyus an Yihuda struck him armies pon the king left an right by sword an killed them.¹³ An pon the time them king were defeated - them entered toward them spears ina them companions hearts - an them all totally fled an them bows were broken an them were defeated.¹⁴ But those bredren who are attractive an comely were saved from death ~ there are no evil thing that found them - but as JAH have returned chastisemant toward them - them sliced up one another an were depleted.¹⁵ Them were defeated an dead an them crossed Yordanos - an up til them crossed them cast way all them money - an all them money remained - an pom the time 'Isra'iel childran sight up that them enemies fled - them went toward them camp an took both what them plundered an them money fe them ras selves.¹⁶ JAH saved 'Isra'iel doin thus by the bredren an Mebikyu hand.¹⁷ 'Isra'iel sat a few days while them made JAH Irie.¹⁸ But after that them again returned toward them sin ~ 'Isra'iel childran neglected worshipping JAH by what are due.¹⁹ An Him shall again sadden them by kins who don't know them an who will gather them field crops an downstroy them grape places an plunder them flocks an slaughter an feed them them livestock before them...²⁰ an who will capture them wives an them dawta childran an them male childran ~ becau it were that them sadden JAH everytime as themare kindreds who demolished the LAW - them will hammer them childran before them pon each of them heads ~ them won't save them.

CHAPTER 16 ¹Them who do this are Theeros an Seedona an them who live beyond Yordanos river an pon the sea edge - Keran an Gele`ad - 'Iyabuseewon an Kenaniewon - 'Edom an Giegiesiewon an 'Amalieq persons.² All peoples do thus - who live firmed up ina each of them tribes an countries an regions an ina each of them Works an country languages - an all live firmed up like unto JAH worked them.³ An there are persons from them who know JAH - an whose Work were beautiful.⁴ An there are persons from them whose Work were evil an who don't know JAH Who lrated them - an like unto them worked sin - Him ruled them ina Sorya king Silminasor hand.⁵ As him plunder an tek Demasqo money - an as him share Semarya loot that are before Gibts king - Him ruled them ina Silminasor hand.⁶ Gielabuhie region an also persons ina Fars an Miedon - Qephedoqya an Sewseegya - who live ina the West mountains - ina Gele`ad fortress an Phasthos that are part of Yihuda land...⁷ an these are who live in them region - an them are kindreds who don't know JAH nor keep Him Command - an whose collar of reasonin were firm.⁸ An Him shall pay them them hardship like unto them Work evil an them hands Work.⁹ Fe Gele`ad kindreds an Qeesarya region an 'Amalieq have become one there - that them might downstroy JAH country that were filled of a Truth thing - an within which 'Isra`iel Irator are praised - Him Who are Most Glorified an Conquerin - an Whom Angels who are many many ina Keerubiel chariots - them who stand before Him - serve fearin an tremblin - an Him shall pay them them hardship like unto them Work evil an them hands Work.

CHAPTER 17 ¹'Amalieq an 'Edomyas persons don't worship JAH by Whose Itority Earth an Heaven rulership were seized ~ as them are criminals who don't live firmed up ina Truth Work - them don't fear fe demolish Him Lodgin - the Temple.² An there are no fearin JAH before them - apart from sheddin blood an adultery an eatin what were beaten an sacrificed fe a idol an all that resemble what lodged dead - an these are scorned sinners.³ Them have no virtue nor religion ~ as them are who hated goodly Work - an as them don't know JAH - an as them don't know Love Work - apart from robbin a person money an from sin - an apart from downsturb in a person an all hated Work - apart from games an song like unto them faada Deeyablos taught them - them have no virtue nor religion.⁴ As him have ruled them with him host - demons - him teach them all evil Work that were fe each of them ras selves - all robbery an sin - theft an falsehood - robbin money an eatin what were beaten an what lodged dead - an adultery Work.⁵ An him teach them all that resemble this - an goin toward a youtmon wife - an sheddin blood - eatin what were sacrificed fe idol an what lodged dead - an killin a person soul ina violence - an envy an winkin an greed an all evil Work that JAH don't love ~ Deeyablos who were them enemy teach them this teachin that him might distance them from JAH LAW Who rule all the world.⁶ But JAH Work are innocence an humility - not annoyin a bredren an lovin a companion - harmonisin an lovin with all persons.⁷ Don't be hypocrites fe favour fe a person face - an don't be wrongdoers nor totally robbers nor persons who go toward a youtmon wife - nor persons who work iniquity an evil Work pon them companion - nor who cajole that them might wrong them companion ina violence.⁸ Them wink an shake them heads an provoke fe evil ~ them discourage fe mislead that them might lower them toward Iternity Definite Judgement.

CHAPTER 18 ¹Think that thou will go ina death toward JAH ina Whose Hand all are - an thou will stand before Him that Him might canvict thee before Him pon all the sin thou Worked.² As them who are arrogant an evil - an powerful ones childran who aren't strengthenin more than them - were likewise formerly - becau them sight up them stature an them Power an them firm authority - them didn't mek JAH before them - an them didn't know that Him were them Irator Who Irated them bringin from not livin toward livin.³ An when them faadas bein like unto "Angels" praised pon Mount Hola with Angels - pon the time them accord misled them - them alit toward this world where Definite Judgemant shall be done foriva.⁴ As JAH ina the Antiquity have lrated human flesh fe them - that it might mislead them becau them reasonin arrogance an might test them as it were them kept Him LAW an Him Command - them married wives from Qayel childran.⁵ But them didn't keep Him LAW ~ Him lowered them toward Gehannem fiyah with them faada Deeyablos fe JAH have vexed pon the offspring of Siet who wronged like unto persons - an persons era diminished becau them sin.⁶ An them took 'Adam childran toward sin with them ~ Him lowered them toward See'o/ where them shall receive a verdict.⁷ As persons era have been divided becau Siet childran erred by Qayel childran - when a person eras were nine hundred ina the Antiquity - them returned toward livin a hundred twenty eras.⁸ An as them are flesh an blood - JAH said - I Spirit of Support won't live firmed up pon them.⁹ An becaudis thing Inl era were divided - fe becau Inl sin an Inl iniquity - Inl era have been divided from Inl faadas who preceded - an when them are ina them infancy again - them are dyin.¹⁰ But Inl faadas era had abounded - becau them kept Him LAW an becau them didn't sadden JAH.¹¹ But Inl faadas era had abounded - becau them vexed pon them dawta childran that them might teach them - an becau them vexed pon them male childran lest them demolish JAH LAW.¹² Becau them didn't demolish JAH LAW with them dawta childran an them male childran - becaudis thing them era had abounded fe true.

CHAPTER 19 'Pon the time Qayen childran abounded them worked drums an harps - santee an violins - an them made songs an all the games.² Childran who are attractive an comely were birthed fe Qayen from the wife of the kind man 'Abiel - whom him killed becau she - fe she were attractive - an after him killed him bredda him took that an she who were him money.³ An separatin from him faada - him seized them an went toward Qiefaz region that are toward the West - an that attractive one childran were attractive like unto them mother.⁴ An becaudis thing Siet childran downscended toward Qayen childran - an after them sight them up them didn't wait one iwa

 - an them made the dawtaz whom them chose wives fe them ras selves.⁵ As them have taken Inl toward error together with them becau them error - becaudis thing JAH vexed pon Inl an vexed pon them.⁶ An Deeyablos havin cajoled sayin - 'Unu will become irators like unto your Irator JAH' - him took Inl mother Hiewan an Inl faada 'Adam toward him error.'⁷ But it seemin Truth fe them ina them dullness - them demolished JAH LAW - Him Who Irated them bringin from not-livin toward livin that them might bow an praise Him glorified Name.⁸ But Him - them Irator - downbased those 'Adam an Hiewan who made godhood fe them ras selves - an Him downbased him who are arrogant.⁹ Like unto Daweet spoke sayin - ' 'Adam perish by the sinner Deeyablos arrogance'
 - Him abused them - fe Inl faada
 'Adam have been convicted pon Deeyablos arrogance by Him true Judgement.'¹⁰ An Siet childran who erred by Qayel childran took Inl toward them sin thus ~ becaudis thing Inl era that JAH gave Inl were less than Inl faadas eras.¹¹ But them had worked goodly Work - fe them had firmed up them reasonins ina JAH - fe them had taught them dawta childran an them male childran lest them depart from JAH LAW that them taught them - an there were no evil enemy who approach them.¹² But if them worked goodly Work - there are nothing that benefit them if them didn't tell nor teach fe them childran.¹³ Like unto Daweet spoke sayin - 'Them didn't hide from them childran fe another child - an teach JAH praise - the wondrous miracles Him did - an Him Power' - there are nothing that benefit them if them didn't teach fe them childran that them them might keep Him LAW like unto them faadas who made JAH Irie with them beautiful Work.¹⁴ An them who told them Trust from them faadas ina them infancy didn't demolish Him Command - like unto them faadas learned JAH Worship an the Nine Laws from them faadas.¹⁵ Them childran learned from them faadas that them might work goodly Work an might present praise fe them Irator - fe them have kept Him LAW - an fe them have loved Him.¹⁶ An Him shall hear them ina them priah - an Him won't ignore them plea - but Him are a Forgiver.¹⁷ Havin multiplied

Him wrath - Him shall return it fe them - an Him wouldn't downstroy all ina Him chastisemant.

CHAPTER 20 ¹Inl bredren - think - don't forget what them told unu formerly - that JAH keep the true Work of persons who work goodly Work.² An Him multiply them childran ina this world - an them name invocation shall live firmed up fe a goodly thing up til the lternity - an them childran won't be troubled fe grain ina this world.³ As Him shall dispute fe them becau them - an as Him won't cast them ina them enemy hand - Him shall save them from them enemies hand who hate them.⁴ An fe persons who love Him Name - Him shall be them Helper ina them tribulation time ~ Him shall guard them an pardon them all them sin.

CHAPTER 21 ¹Daweet believed ina JAH - fe Him have believed ina him - an Him saved him bein a Refuge from the king Sa'ol hand.² An as him have believed ina Him an kept Him LAW pon the time when him child 'Abiesielom arose - an pon the time when the 'lloflans arose - an pon the time when the 'Edomyans an the 'Amalieqans arose - pon the time when the one from the four Rafayn arose - JAH saved

Daweet from all this tribulation that enemies who disputed him brought pon him.³ As prevailin are by JAH Accord - them were defeated by them enemies hand - yet but JAH didn't save the evil kings who didn't believe ina Him.⁴ An Hiziqyas believed ina JAH ~ Him saved him from Senakriem hand who were arrogant.⁵ But him child Minassie were defeated by him enemy hand - fe him didn't mek him trustin ina JAH ~ as him didn't mek him trustin ina JAH an as him didn't fear JAH Who totally honoured an famed him - them bound an took him toward them country - yet but those enemies who defeated Minassie weren't like unto him.⁶ At that time Him denied him the kingdom Him gave him - fe him didn't work goodly Work before him Irator JAH - that him era might abound an that Him might dispute him enemy fe him an that him might have Power an firmness behind an in front.⁷ Fe it are better fe believe ina JAH than ina many armies - than believin ina horses an bows an shields.⁸ Believin ina JAH surpass ~ a person who believed ina Him shall firm up an be honoured an totally lofty.⁹ Fe JAH don't favour fe a face - but persons who didn't believe ina JAH - who believed ina them money abundance - became them who departed from the grace an honour that Him gave them.¹⁰ Him shall guard the persons who believe in Him - but Him shall mek the persons ignorant who call Him ignorant - an as them didn't discipline them reasonins fe follow JAH nor keep Him LAW - Him won't quickly help them in them tribulation time nor in the time them enemies disputed with them.¹¹ But fe a person who were disciplined in worshippin JAH an fe keep Him LAW - Him shall be a Refuge in him tribulation time.¹² By downstroyin him enemy - an by plunderin him enemy livestock - an by capturin him enemy country persons - an by rainin eras rain - an by growin sprouts - an by introducun the grain pile - in the plant fruit...¹³ An by rainin the first an the spring rains - an by makin the grass verdant - an by givin the rain that rain at each time that thy kindreds beneath thy ltority might be lrie - Him shall mek him lrie.¹⁴ Him shall mek him lrie - that them might eat the other one money - that them might satta havin eaten the money them plundered from them enemy - that them might plunder animals an sheeps an cows - an that them might eat the other one dinnertable - an that them might tek them enemies childran captive.¹⁵ JAH shall do all this fe the person whom Him love - but Him will mek the person who hate Him fe him enemy ransackery.¹⁶ An Him shall bind him feet an him hands an shall cast him in him enemy hand - an Him shall mek him fe him enemies derision - an as him have become a blood shedder who demolished JAH LAW - Him won't mek him lrie in him house seed.¹⁷ An him won't firm up in Judgement time - an that Him might bring the hardship fe persons who work sin - Him will also give persons who work evil Work them sin hardship.¹⁸ But it were commanded from alongside JAH fe give persons who work goodly Work them reward - that Him might keep them in Him ltority.¹⁹ Fe Him are empowered pon all the lration Him lrated that Him might do goodly Work an might give them lternal welfare an that them might praise JAH Who lrated them - an Him commanded that him might keep Him LAW ~ apart from only man there are none from all the lrations Him lrated that departed from Him Command.²⁰ Like unto JAH commanded all who live firmed up in each of them Works - them all know an are kept in Him LAW.²¹ But man are emboldened pon JAH Who crowned all pon each of them inventions - pon animal an beasts an pon Heaven birds.²² Be it what are ina sea or all pon land - JAH gave all the lration Him lrated fe them faada 'Adam ~ JAH gave them that him might do what him loved - an that them might eat them like unto grain that grew pon Earth - an that them might rule an tax them - an that be them beasts or animals them might be commanded fe man - an Him lpointed them pon all Him lrated that persons who reigned might be commanded fe JAH Who gave them honour an that them might favour Him.²³ But if them depart from Him LAW Him will separate them from the lordship Him gave them ~ as Him are Who rule Earth an Heaven - Him will give it fe him who do Him Accord.²⁴ Him lpoint whom Him loved fe lpoint - but Him dismiss whom Him loved fe dismiss ~ Him kill ~ Him save ~ Him whip ina tribulation ~ Him forgive.²⁵ There are no other lerator like unto Him ~ as Him are Ruler fe all the lration Him lrated - as there are no other without Him - the lerator - ina Heaven above Earth nor pon Earth beneath Heaven - there are none who shall criticise Him.²⁶ Him lpoint ~ Him dismiss ~ Him kill ~ Him save ~ Him whip ina tribulation ~ Him forgive ~ Him impoverish ~ Him honour.²⁷ Him hear persons who beg Him ina them plea ~ Him accept a person plea who do Him Accord with a clean reasonin an Him hear them ina them priah - an Him do them accord fe them ina all that them begged Him.²⁸ An Him mek the great an the small fe be commanded fe them ~ all this are them money pon hills an mountains an at trees roots an ina caves an Earth wells an all them kindreds pon both dry an sea.²⁹ An fe persons who do them lerator Accord all this are them money - an Him won't trouble them from them plenty - an Him shall give them them praise reward.³⁰ An Him shall give them the honour Him prepared ina Heaven fe them faadas Yis'haq an 'Abriham an Ya`iqob ~ Him shall give them what Him prepared fe Hiziqyas an Daweet an Samu'iel who didn't depart from Him LAW an Him Command.³¹ That them might be lrie ina Him Lordship - Him shall give them who served Him lginnin from Antiquity the honour Him prepared fe them faadas Yis'haq an 'Abriham an Ya`iqob - fe whom Him swore fe give them a inheritance.

CHAPTER 22 ¹Please - think of persons name who work goodly Work - an don't forget them Work.² Straighten up that thy name be called like unto them name - that thou might be Irie with them ina the Kingdom of Heaven - that were Light Lodgin that Him prepared fe nobles an kings who did JAH Accord an were kind persons.³ An again - know an be canvinced of evil nobles an kings names - that Him shall canvict them an revile them alongside man after them dead.⁴ Fe them didn't line up them Work while them sight up an heard - an know an be canvinced that unless them did JAH Accord - Him shall judge pon them ina the Kingdom of Heaven more than criminals an persons who forgot JAH LAW.⁵ Be kindly - innocent - honest - yet don't thou also go pon persons path who forgot JAH LAW - pon whom JAH vexed becau them evil Work.⁶ Judge Truth an save the child whose mother an faada dead pon him - an the widow from sinner persons hand who rob them.⁷ Be a guardian like unto him faada fe the child whose mother an faada dead pon him - that thou might save him from the wealthy one hand who rob him - an stand fe him - an be alarmed pon the time the child - whose mother an faada dead pon him - tears flowed before thee-I - lest thou be alarmed ina fiyah sea where sinner persons who didn't enter repentance are punished.⁸

An straighten up thy feet toward Love an Inity path ~ as JAH Eyes check up Him friends - an as Him Ears hear them plea - seek Love an follow she.⁹ But JAH Face of Him Wrath are toward persons who work evil Work - that Him might downstroy them name invocation from this world - an Him won't preserve a person who near pon ramparts nor mountains.¹⁰ As I-man am JAH Who am jealous pon I Godhood - as I-man am a Irator who revenge an downstroy persons who hate I an don't keep I Word - I-man won't return I Face of Support reachin up til I-man downstroy the person who don't keep I Word.¹¹ An I-man shall honour persons who honour I an keep I Word.

CHAPTER 23 ¹Don't live firmed up ina Qayel order - who killed him bredda who followed him ina innocence - it seemin fe him that him bredda love him.² An him killed him bredda envyin pon a dawta ~ persons who mek envy an iniquity an betrayal pon them companion are like unto him.³ But as 'Abiel are innocent like unto a sheep - an as him blood are like unto the clean sheep blood that them sacrificed fe JAH by a clean reasonin - them went pon Qayel path that aren't pon 'Abiel path.⁴

Fe becau all the persons who live inna innocence were persons whom JAH love - like unto a kind man 'Abiel - them have been innocent ones like unto 'Abiel - but those persons who live firmed up inna 'Abiel Work love JAH.⁵ But JAH neglect evil ones - an them Definite Judgement mek application fe them pon them bodies - an it are written pon the record of them reasonins - an pon the time when Judgement are judged - them shall read she before man an Angels an before all the Irator.⁶ At that time them shall shame ~ wrongdoers an refusers who didn't do JAH Accord shall shame.⁷ An a alarmin Word shall be given them that say - Place them inna Gehannem where are no exit up til lternity.

CHAPTER 24 ¹But pon the time Giediewon trusted JAH - him defeated uncircumcise peoples armies who were many many inna army of a few tens of thousands an without number like unto locusts.² As there are no Irator without I - o nobles an kings - don't believe inna the different idols.³ As I-man am your Irator JAH Who sent unu forth from your mothers wombs an raised unu an fed unu an clothed unu - why do unu pretext? How about why do unu worship other idols without I?⁴ I-man did all this fe unu ~ what did unu give I? It are that unu might live firmed up inna I LAW an I Order an I Command an that I-man might give unu your bodies welfare - yet what will I-man want from unu?⁵ JAH Who rule all said thus ~ Him said - Save your ras selves from worshipping idols an practisin sorcery an discouragin pessimism.⁶ As JAH chastisemant shall come pon these who do this - an pon them who hear them an do them accord an are them friends an who live firmed up inna them command - save your ras selves from worshipping idols.⁷ As peoples - who don't know unu an aren't nice fe unu - shall arise pon unu - unless unu who feared did JAH Accord - them will eat the money wherefor unu wearied ~ like unto Him servants the prophets spoke an like unto Hienok spoke an like unto 'Asaf spoke - unless unu did JAH Accord - them will eat the money wherefor unu wearied.⁸ Evil persons will come havin changed them clothes Him said ~ there are no other law alongside them apart from eatin an drinkin an adornin inna silver an gold - an livin havin firmed up inna sin all the Work JAH don't love.⁹ But them are prepared fe go toward drink an food ~ after them were aroused from them slumber lginnin from mornin up til evenin them go toward evil Work there are misery an tribulation ina them path - yet them feet have no Love path.¹⁰ An them don't know Love an Inity Work - an there are no fearin JAH ina them faces ~ them are crooked evil ones without religion nor virtue ~ them are greedy ones who eat an drink alone ~ them are drunkards - an them sin are without LAW an without measure ~ them are who go toward seducin - sheddin blood - theft an perfidy an violently robbin him money who don't have it.¹¹ An them are who criticise without Love an without LAW - fe them don't fear JAH Who lrated them - an there are no fear ina them faces.¹² Them don't shame ina the person face that them sight up - an them don't shame a grey-hair nor a elder face ~ pon the time them heard when them said - 'An there are money ina this world' - them mek it them ras self money before them sight it up with them eyes - fe there are no fearin JAH ina them faces - an pon the time them sight it up with them eyes it seem fe them that them ate it.¹³ An them nobles eat trust money ~ them are who eat ~ as them are negativists an as there are no straight thing ina them tongues - them don't repeat ina evenin what them spoke ina mornin.¹⁴ Fe them ignore sufferahs an poor ones cries - an them kings hasten fe evil - them who downsturb a person - him havin saved refugees from wealthy ones hands who rob them.¹⁵ Mek them save him who were wronged an the refugee - yet mek the kings not be them who begrudge justice becaudis thing.¹⁶ But them are who exact tribute ~ them are who rob a person money - an them are criminals - an as them Work are evil - them aren't nice when them eat the newborn calf with she mother an a bird with she egg ~ them mek all them sight up an heard them ras self money.¹⁷ Them love that them might gather fe them ras selves - yet them aren't nice fe sick an poor ones - an them violently rob the money of a person who don't have it - an them gather all them found that them might be fattened an be lrie ina it.¹⁸ Fe them shall perish quickly like unto a scarab that proceeded from it pit an whose track aren't found an that don't return toward it house - an becau them didn't work goodly Work when them are ina them Life - woe fe them bodies pon the time JAH vexed an seized them.¹⁹ Pon the time JAH neglected them - them will perish at one time like unto them are ina one chastisemant - fe Him indure them meanin as it were them returned toward repentance - yet Him don't quickly downstroy them - an them shall perish pon the time when them shall perish.²⁰ But if them don't return toward repentance - Him will quickly downstroy them like unto former persons who were precedin them - who didn't keep JAH LAW by what are due.²¹ Them are who eat a person flesh an drink a person blood ~ as them gird an work violence fe go toward sin - there are no fearin JAH ina them faces everytime - an after them arose from them beddin them don't rest fe work sin.²² An them Work are drink an food - goin toward downstruction an sin - that them might downstroy many persons bodies ina this world.

CHAPTER 25 ¹As them Work are crooked - an as all are who live firmed up ina Seythan Work that mislead - JAH Who rule all said - Woe fe your body pon the time I-man vexed an seized she.² But fe them don't know JAH Work - fe them have returned it toward them rear - an fe them have neglected I LAW.³ An later ina fulfillmant era I-man shall bring the hardship pon them like unto them evil measure ~ like unto them sin were written alongside I - I-man shall revenge an downstroy them pon the day when Judgemant are judged.⁴ As I-man JAH am full from horizon up til horizon - an as all the Iration have been seized ina I Itority - there are none who escape from I Itority ina Heaven nor Earth nor depth nor sea.⁵ I-man command a snake that are beneath Earth - an I-man command a fish that are within sea - an I-man command birds ina Heaven - an I-man command the desert donkey ina wilderness - fe it are I money Iginin from horizon up til horizon.⁶ As I-man am Who work wondrous Work an do miracles before I - there are none who escape from I Itority pon Earth nor ina Heaven ~ there are none who tell I - 'Where do Thou go? How about what do thou Work?'⁷ An I-man command pon Angels chiefs an hosts ~ all Iration whose name are called are I money - an beasts ina wilderness an all birds ina Heaven an livestock are I moneys.⁸ It arise from 'Azieb wind an firm up ina drought ina Mesi' ~ later ina fulfillmant era 'Eritra sea shall perish bein heard - arisin from JAH - Who shall come toward she - bein feared an famousness.⁹ Fe Him rule them who dead an persons who are there - an she shall perish bein heard with Saba an Noba an Hindekie an 'Ityopphya limits an all them regions.¹⁰ An Him watch all ina lofty Itority an innocence - fe Him Itority surpass all the itority - an Him keep cangregations ina Him Itority.¹¹ An fe Him Itority firm up more than all the itority - an fe Him Kingdom surpass all the kingdoms - an fe Him Itority are what rule all the world - fe Him able fe all - an fe there are nothing that fail Him.¹² Him rule all clouds ina Heaven ~ Him grow grass fe livestock pon Earth - an Him give fruit pon the buds.¹³ Him feed fe all ina each of the kinds like unto Him loved ~ Him feed all that Him Irated by each of the fruits an each of the foods - an Him feed ants an locusts beneath Earth an livestock pon Earth an beasts - an fe a person who prayed Him give him him priah - an Him don't ignore the plea of the child whose mother an faada dead pon him - nor widows.¹⁴ As evil persons rebellion are like unto a swirlin wind an wrongdoers council like unto misty urine - Him shall rather accept the plea of them who beg toward Him at each time an clean ones.¹⁵ An as them body are like unto a flyin bird - an as them features comeliness that are silver an gold are perishable ina this world - examination will benefit persons who forgot JAH LAW yet not them gold - an moths shall eat them clothes.¹⁶ An weevils shall totally eat the wheat an the barley fatness - an all shall pass like unto the day that passed yesterday - an like unto a word that proceeded from a mouth don't return - sinner persons money also are like unto it - an them 'beautiful lifestyle' are like unto a passin shadow ~ sinner persons money before JAH are like unto a lie clothes.¹⁷ But if kind persons are honoured JAH won't ignore them - fe them have been honoured while they were nice fe poor ones - an them hear justice of sufferahs an a child whose mother an faada dead pon him ~ JAH won't ignore them - fe without neglectin them house childran - them honour Him while they clothe the naked from the clothes JAH gave them that they might give fe the refugee sufferah.¹⁸ Them don't favour loyal persons judgeman - an them don't mek a hireling salary lodge ~ as JAH thing are Truth an honoured like unto a sword whose mouths were two - them won't do iniquity ina them seasons number an ina them balance measurement.

CHAPTER 26 ¹But poor ones will think again pon them beddin - but if wealthy ones don't accept them - them will be like unto dry wood that have no verdure - an a root won't be fertile from alongside where no moisture are - an the leaf won't be fertile if there are no root.² As a leaf serve a flower fe be a ornamant fe fruit - unless the leaf were fertile it won't bear fruit ~ as man fulfillmant are religion - a person without religion have no virtue.³ If him firmed up religion him worked virtue - an JAH are Irie by a person who work Truth an straight Work.⁴ An fe the person who begged Him - Him shall give him him plea an him tongue reward - an Him won't wrong the true person becau him true Work that him worked.⁵ As JAH are true - an as Him have loved a Truth thing - Him won't justify the sinner person without repentance becau the Work evil him worked - an as all persons souls have been seized ina Him Itority becau Him were Who ruled Earth an Heaven - as Him won't favour for the wealthy more than the poor ina Judgemant time - Him won't justify him without repentance.

CHAPTER 27 ¹Him Irated havin brought all the world from not livin toward livin - an Him totally prepared hills an mountains - an Him firmed up Earth pon Water - an lest sea be shaken Him delineated she by sand - fe ina Him first Word JAH have said Mek Light be Irated.² Light were Irated when this world had been covered ina darkness ~ JAH Irated all the Iration - an Him prepared this world - an Him firmed up this world by what are due an by money that are straight ~ Him said - Mek evenin be dark.³ An again JAH said Mek Light be Irated ~ it dawned an there were Light - an Him Ilivated the upper Water toward Heaven.⁴ An Him streached it forth like unto a tent - an Him firmed it up by a wind - an Him placed the lower Water within a pit.⁵ An Him shut the sea lock ina sand - an Him firmed them up ina Him Itority lest them drown ina Water - an Him placed animals an beasts within she - an Him placed within she Liewatan an Biehiemot who were great beasts - an Him placed within she the beasts without number - sight up an not sight up.⁶ Pon the third day JAH Irated pon Earth plants - all the roots an woods an fruits that bear forth ina each of them kinds - an a welfare wood beautiful fe them fe sight it up..⁷ An Him Irated a welfare wood that were both beautiful fe them fe sight it up an sweet fe them fe eat it - an Him Irated grass - an all plants whose seeds are found from within them - fe be food fe birds an livestock an beasts.⁸ It dusked ~ it dawned - an pon the fourth day Him said - Mek Light be Irated ina Heaven called cosmos ~ JAH havin Irated moon an Sun an stars - Him placed them ina Heaven called cosmos that them might shine ina this world an that them might feed them daylight an night.⁹ An after this moon an Sun an stars alternated ina night an daylight.¹⁰ An pon the fifth day JAH Irated all animals an beasts that live within Water an all birds that fly pon Heaven - all that are sight up an not sight up - all this.¹¹ An pon the sixth day Him Irated livestock an beasts an others - an havin Irated an prepared all - Him Irated 'Adam ina Him Example an Him Appearance.¹² Him gave him all animals an beasts Him Irated that him might reign pon them - an again - all animals an beasts an all fishes - an Liewatan an Biehiemot that are ina sea.¹³ An Him gave him all cows that live ina this world an sheeps - the animals not sight up an them that are sight up.¹⁴ An Him placed ina Garden 'Adam whom Him Irated ina Him Example an Him Appearance - that him might eat an might cultivate plants an might praise JAH there.¹⁵ An fe lest him demolish Him Command - Him have said - Pon the time when unu ate from this Herb of Fig unu will dead death.¹⁶ An Him commanded him lest him eat from the Herb of Fig that bring death - that draw attention fe evil an good - that bring death.¹⁷ Inl mother Hiewan were cajoled by a snake misleadin an she ate from that Herb of Fig an gave it fe Inl faada 'Adam.¹⁸ An 'Adam havin eaten from that Herb of Fig brought death pon him childran an pon him ras self.¹⁹ As him have demolished Him Command - an as him have eaten from that Herb of Fig that JAH commanded sayin - Don't eat from she - JAH vexed pon Inl faada 'Adam an expelled an sent him way from the Garden - an Him gave him that Earth that grow thistle an thorn - that Him cursed becau him pon the time him demolished Him Command - that him might eat him weariness reward havin toiled an laboured that him might plow she.²⁰ An pon the time JAH sent him forth toward this land - 'Adam returned toward complete sadness - an havin toiled an laboured that him might plow Earth - him began fe eat ina weariness an also ina struggles.

CHAPTER 28 ¹An after him childran lived havin abounded - there were from them ones who praise an honour JAH an don't demolish Him Command.² There were prophets who spoke what were done an what will be done henceforth - an from him childran there were sinners who speak lies an who wrong persons ~ 'Adam firstborn child Qayel became evil an killed him bredda 'Abiel.³ JAH judged Judgemant pon Qayel becau him killed him bredda 'Abiel - an JAH vexed pon Earth becau she drank him blood.⁴ An JAH told Qayel - Where are thy bredda 'Abiel? - an Qayel ina him heart arrogance said - 'Are mi mi bredda 'Abiel keeper?'⁵ 'Abiel became a clean man - but Qayel became a sinner man by killin a kind man - him bredda 'Abiel.⁶ Again a kind child Siet were birthed ~ 'Adam birthed sixty childran ~ there are kind persons an evil persons from them.⁷ An there are kind persons from them ~ an there are persons who were prophets an them who were traitors an sinners.⁸ There are blessed persons who were kind persons - who fulfill them faada 'Adam accord an all him told fe him child Siet - Iginnin from 'Adam up til Noh who are a kind man who kept JAH LAW.⁹ An him sanctioned JAH LAW fe him childran ~ him told them - 'Guard' - lest them demolish JAH LAW - an that them might tell fe them childran like unto them faada Noh told them - an that them might keep JAH LAW.¹⁰ An them lived while them taught them childran - persons birthed after them.¹¹ But Seythan lived when him spoke fe them faadas - havin lodged ina idols that reached fe a grave an that have vows pon them - an havin defeated the persons who told him alright - an when them did all that Seythan - who are sin teacher - commanded them.¹² An them lived when them worshipped the idols like unto them order - up til a kind man 'Abriham who fulfill JAH Accord.¹³ Fe him have lived firmed up ina the LAW beforehand separate from him cousins - an JAH swore a oath with him - havin lodged ina wind an fiyah.¹⁴ JAH swore fe him that Him might give him a land of inheritance an that Him might give fe him childran up til the lternity.¹⁵ An Him swore fe Yis'haq like unto him that Him might give him him faada 'Abriham inheritance - an Him swore fe Ya`iqob that Him might give him him faada Yis'haq inheritance ~ Him swore fe him like into Yis'haq.¹⁶ An Him separated them childran - who were birthed after them from

Ya`iqob - from the twelve tribes of 'Isra'iel - an made them priests an kings ~ Him blessed them sayin - Abound an totally be many many.¹⁷ An Him gave them them faada inheritance - however while Him fed them an loved them - them didn't quit saddenin JAH ina all.¹⁸ An pon the time Him downstroyed them - at that time them will seek Him ina worship - an them will return from sin an go toward JAH - fe Him love them - an JAH shall pardon them.¹⁹ Fe bein nice fe all Him Irated - Him shall pardon them - an it are becau them faadas Work that Him love them - yet it aren't becau them ras selves Work.²⁰ An Him streach forth Him Right Hand ina plenty that Him might satta a hungry body - an Him reveal Him Eye fe pardonin that Him might multiply grain fe food.²¹ Him give food fe crows chicks an fe beasts that beg Him ~ pon the time them cried toward Him - Him will save 'Isra'iel childran from them enemies hands who delayed from the time.²² An them will return toward sin again that them might sadden Him - an Him will arouse them enemies peoples ina them area pon them ~ them will downstroy them an kill them an capture them.²³ An again them will shout toward JAH ina mournin an sadness - an there are the time when Him sent help an saved them by prophets hands.²⁴ An there are the time when Him saved them by princes hands - an pon the time them saddened JAH them enemies taxed them an captured them.²⁵ An Daweet arose an saved them from the 'lloflans hands an again them saddened JAH - an JAH aroused pon them peoples who worry them.²⁶ An there are the time when Him saved them by Yoftahie hand - an again them forgot JAH Who saved them ina them tribulation time. As JAH have brought the hardship pon them - Him will arouse pon them enemies who were evil who will firm up tribulation pon them an totally capture them.²⁷ An pon the time them were worried by tribulation them were seized an again cried toward Him - an Him saved them by Giediewon hand - an again them saddened JAH by them hands Work.²⁸ An again Him aroused pon them peoples who firm up tribulation pon them - an them returned an wept an cried toward JAH.²⁹ An again Him saved them from peoples by Somson hand - an them rested a likkle from the tribulation. An them arose that them might sadden JAH by them former sin.³⁰ An again Him aroused pon them other peoples who worry them - an again them cried an wept toward JAH that Him might send help fe them - an Him saved them from peoples by Bariq an Deebora hands.³¹ Again them lived a likkle season while them worshipped JAH - an again them forgot JAH ina them former sin an saddened Him.³² An Him aroused pon them other peoples who worry them - an again Him saved them by Yodeet hand an havin sat again a likkle season them arose that them might sadden JAH by them sin like unto formerly.³³ An Him aroused pon them peoples who rule them - an them cried an wept toward JAH fe Him have struck pon him head 'Abiemieliek who were a warrior who came that him might fight Yihuda country.³⁴ An Him saved them by the childran ina the area an by Matatyu hand - an pon the time that warrior dead him army fled an were scattared - an 'Isra'iel childran followed an fought them up til 'Iyabboq - an them didn't preserve even one person from them.³⁵ After this them waited a likkle an arose that them might sadden JAH - an Him aroused pon them peoples who rule them - an again them totally cried toward JAH an JAH ignored them cryin an them mournin - fe them have saddened JAH everytime - an fe them have demolished Him LAW.³⁶ An them captured an took them with them priests toward Babilon persons country.³⁷ An then 'Isra'iel childran who were traitors didn't quit saddenin JAH while them worked sin an worshipped idols.³⁸ JAH vexed that Him might downstroy them one time ina them sin ~ Hama havin introduced ten thousand gold ina the king box - pon the day when it were known - him lodged anger ina the king 'Arthieksis reasonin - lest him preserve them childran ina Fars country Iginnin from Hindekie an up til 'Ityopphya pon the time him told him that him might downstroy them.³⁹ Him did thus - an him wrote a letter where a message were written by the king authority - an him gave him a seal ina him hand that him might deliver toward Fars country.⁴⁰ Him gave him a seal that him might downstroy them pon one day when him loved them fe downstroy them like unto the king commanded - but him commanded that him might introduce them money - the gold an the silver - toward the king box.⁴¹ An pon the time 'Isra'iel childran heard this thing them totally cried an wept toward JAH - an them told it fe Merdokyos - an Merdokyos told fe 'Astier.⁴² An 'Astier said - 'Fast - beg - an all

'Isra'iel childran kindreds - cry toward JAH ina the place where unu are.⁴³ An Merdokyos wore sackcloth an sprinkled dust pon him ras self - an 'Isra'iel childran fasted - begged - an entered repentance ina the country where them were.⁴⁴ An 'Astier were totally sad - an bein a queen she wore sackcloth ~ she sprinkled dust an shaved she head - an she didn't anoint perfume like unto Fars queens anoint perfume - an ina she deep reasonin she cried an wept toward she faadas Irator JAH.⁴⁵ An becaudis thing Him gave she bein loved alongside Fars king 'Arthieksis - an she made a kind lunch fe she faadas Irator.⁴⁶ An Hama an the king entered toward the lunch that 'Astier prepared - an like unto him loved that him might do pon Merdokyos - JAH paid the hardship pon that Hama - an them hanged him pon a tall wood.⁴⁷ The king letter were commanded that them might quit 'Isra'iel like unto them were ina all them accord - an lest them tax them nor rob them nor wrong them nor tek them money pon them.⁴⁸ As JAH shall pardon 'Isra'iel doin thus pon the time them cried enterin repentance - it are that them might love them an honour them ina Fars country where them lived - yet a king letter were commanded lest them downstroy them country nor plunder them livestock.⁴⁹ An pon them time them saddened Him - Him will arouse pon them peoples who worry them ~ at that time them will totally weep an cry that Him might send them help fe them an that Him might save them from peoples hand who firm up tribulation pon them.

CHAPTER 29 ¹An pon the time Gibts persons also made 'Isra'iel childran work by makin them work bricks ina difficulty - an pon the time them worried them all the Work by kickin mud without straw an heatin bricks...² An pon the time them made them work havin appointed chiefs pon them who rush workers - them cried toward JAH that Him might save them from workin all Gibts bricks.³ At that time Him sent fe them 'Aron an Mussie who help them - fe JAH have sent them that them might send forth Him kindreds from Fer'on rulership house - an Him saved them from brick Work ~ becau ina him arrogance him refused fe adjourn 'Isra'iel lest them be ruled an sacrifice sacrifice fe JAH ina wilderness - JAH have sent them that them might send forth Him kindreds 'Isra'iel from Gibts king Fer'on rulership house - an them saved

 ones - an Him drowned Fer'on ina 'Eritra sea with him army becau him arrogance.⁵ An like unto him - Him shall downstroy them who didn't work goodly Work ina all the kingdoms that Him I-pointed an crowned them - that them who ignore JAH Word when them are nobles an kings might fulfill Him Accord fe Him - an that them might give persons who serve ina goodly thing them wage - an that them might honour Him famous Name.⁶ JAH Who rule all said - But if them will straighten up I Kingdom - I-man will straighten up them kingdom fe them.⁷ Work goodly Work fe I - an I-man shall work goodly Work fe unu ~ keep I LAW - an I-man shall keep unu your bodies ~ live firmed up ina I LAW - an I-man shall live lodgin honesty ina unu like unto your reasonin.⁸ Love I - an I-man shall love your welfare ~ near toward I - an I-man shall heal unu.⁹ JAH Who rule all said
 - Believe ina I - an I-man shall save unu from the tribulation.¹⁰ Don't live side by side ~ as JAH Who rule all love straight Work - Him said - Unu - approach toward I - an I-man shall approach toward unu ~ unu persons who are sinners an traitors - cleanse your hands from sin - an distance your reasonins from evil.¹¹ An Iman shall distance I anger from unu - an I-man shall return fe unu ina Charity an Forgiveness.¹² Iman shall distance criminals an enemies who work iniquity from unu - like unto I-man saved I slave Daweet from him enemies who met him - from them much malice - an from Gwolyad hand who were a warrior - an also from Sa'ol hand who sought that him might kill him - an from him child 'Abiesielom hand who loved that him might tek him kingdom.¹³ Iman shall save persons who keep I LAW an fulfill I Accord like unto him ~ I-man shall bequeath them honour - an them shall be Irie ina the present world an yonder ina the world that shall come ~ I-man shall crown them pon all that them might be Irie.¹⁴ Them shall be one with kings who served JAH an were honoured ina them beautiful way of Life - like unto the prophet Samu'iel served Him ina him beautiful way of Life Iginnin from him infancy - whom JAH - Him bein LAW - chose.¹⁵ Him told him that him might tell 'Elee who were a servant elder - an when him served ina JAH Lodgin the Temple - Samu'iel Work also were merciful an I-loved.¹⁶ An pon the time him grew when him

 Temple - Him made him fe be

Ipointed an Inointed - that him might Ipoint him people an that kings might be Inointed by JAH Accord. As JAH have loved him that the kindred him chose from 'Isra'iel childran might be Ipointed - pon the time him fulfilled JAH Accord Who Irated him - Him gave him the Inointin of the Kingdom ina him hand.¹⁷ An when Sa'ol were ina him kingdom JAH told Him prophet Samu'iel - Go - an as I-man have loved `Issiey child Daweet who were birthed from Yihuda kin - Inoint him.

CHAPTER 30 ¹I-man have hated Sa'ol kin - fe him have saddened I becau him violated I Word.² An I-man neglected him - fe him didn't keep I LAW - an I-man won't crown from him kin again.³ An persons who didn't keep I LAW an I Word an I Order like unto him - I-man shall downstroy I Kingdom an I gift from them childran up til the lternity.⁴ An as them didn't mek I famous pon the time I-man made them famous - I-man shall downstroy them - yet I-man won't again return fe lift them up ~ though I-man honour them - as them didn't honour I - I-man won't mek them famous.⁵ Fe them didn't do a goodly thing fe I pon the time I-man did a goodly thing fe them - an fe them didn't forgive I pon the time I-man forgave them.⁶ An as them didn't mek I a Ruler pon the time I-man made them rulers pon all - as them didn't honour I pon the time I-man honoured them more than all - I-man won't mek them famous again nor honour them - an fe them didn't keep I LAW.⁷ An I-man withheld the gift I-man gave them - an I-man won't return the money I-man withheld from them like unto the measure I-man vexed an swore ~ JAH Who rule all said thus ~ Him said - I-man shall honour them who honoured I - an love them who loved I.⁸ I-man shall separate them who didn't honour I nor keep I LAW from the gift I-man gave them.⁹ JAH Who rule all said I-man love them who loved I - an mek famous him who made I famous - Him said..¹⁰ As I-man JAH am Who rule all - there are none who escape I ltority ina Earth nor Heaven - fe I-man am JAH Who kill an Who save an Who sadden an Who forgive.¹¹ As famousness an honour are I money - I-man honour him whom I-man loved - fe I-man am Who judge an Who revenge an downstroy - an I-man mek wretched him whom I-man hated.¹² Fe I-man am Who forgive them who love I an call I Name everytime - fe I-man am

Who feed food fe the wealthy an fe the poor.¹³ An I-man feed birds an animals - fishes ina sea an beasts an flowers - yet I-man aren't Who feed only man.¹⁴ I-man feed crocodiles an whales - gophers an hippos - an badgers...¹⁵ an all that live within Water - all that fly pon wind - yet I-man aren't Who feed only man ~ all this are I money.¹⁶ I-man am Who feed all that seek I by all that are due an I-loved.

CHAPTER 31 'An the kings don't reign without I Accord - an sufferahs are by I Command - yet them aren't poor without I Command - an powerful ones are by I Accord - yet them aren't strong without I Accord.² I-man gave bein I-loved fe Daweet an Wisdom fe Selomon - an I-man added eras fe Hiziqyas.³ I-man diminished Gwolyad era - an I-man gave Power fe Somson - an again I-man weakened him Power.⁴ An I-man saved I slave Daweet from Gwolyad hand who were a warrior.⁵ An again I-man saved him from the king Sa'ol hand an from the secand warrior who disputed him - an fe him have kept I Command - an I-man saved him from the persons hand who dispute him an fight him.⁶ An I-man loved him - an I-man love all the nobles an the kings who keep I LAW ~ as them have made I Irie - I-man shall give them prevailin an Power pon them enemies.⁷ An again that them might inherit them faadas land - I-man shall give them the cleansed an shinin land of inheritance that I-man swore fe them faadas.

CHAPTER 32 'JAH Who rule all said - An unu the nobles an also the kings - hear I ina I Word - an keep I Command ~ lest unu sadden I an worship like unto 'Isra'iel childran saddened I an worshipped different idols - them whom I-man kept an saved when I-man JAH am them Irator - JAH Who rule all said - Hear I ina I Word an all whom I-man raised an loved an fed Iginnin that them were birthed from them mother an faada.² An whom I-man sent forth toward Earth crops - an whom I-man fed the fatness found from Earth makin like unto are due - an whom I-man gave the grape vine an the oil-tree fruit that them didn't plant an the clear Water well that them didn't dig.³ Hear I ina I Word lest unu sadden I like unto 'Isra'iel childran saddened I worshipping other idols when I-man JAH am them Irator - Him told them - Who fed them the sheep milk an the honey comb with the hulled wheat - an Who clothed them clothes where ornamant are - an Who gave them all them love.⁴ An without it livin that I-man deprived them all them begged I.

CHAPTER 33 ¹Like unto Daweet spoke sayin - "Isra'iel childran were fed the menna that Angels lowered' - an again hear I ina I Word lest unu sadden I like unto 'Isra'iel childran saddened I worshippin the idols when I-man am them Irator JAH Who fed them sweet menna ina wilderness - Him said ~ I-man did all this fe them that them might worship I by what are due an fe true.² JAH Who rule all said - But them didn't worship I - an I-man neglected them ~ them saddened I an lived firmed up ina law of idols that weren't I LAW.³ An I-man shall bring the hardship pon them like unto them sin ~ as them have neglected I Worship an as them didn't firm up ina I counsel an I Order - I-man neglected them ina the sin measure that them worked by them hands - an I-man shall lower them toward Gehannem ina Definite Judgement that are done ina Heaven.⁴ Fe them didn't keep I LAW - an fe I-man vex pon them - an I-man shall diminish them era ina this world.⁵ If thou be a king - aren't thou a man who shall dead an be demolished an tomorrow who shall be worms an dust?⁶ But today thou boast an are proud like unto a man who won't dead foriva.⁷ JAH Who rule all said - But thou who are sight up bein well today are a man who will dead tomorrow.⁸ But if unu keep I Command an I Word - I-man shall bequeath thee-I a honoured country with honoured kings who did I Accord - whose lodgin were Light an whose crowns were beautiful - an whose thrones were silver an gold an whom persons who sit pon them adorned - Him said.⁹ An them shall be Irie within Him country that are a place that approached fe persons who worked goodly Work.¹⁰ But fe persons who work sin - as them didn't keep I LAW - said JAH Who rule all...¹¹ it aren't due them that them might enter toward that country where honoured kings shall enter.

CHAPTER 34 ¹Miedon kingdom shall perish - but Rom kingdom shall totally firm up pon Meqiedonya kingdom - an Nenewie kingdom shall firm up pon Fars kingdom.² An 'Ityopphyia kingdom shall firm up pon 'Iskindriya kingdom ~ as peoples shall arise - Mo`ab kingdom shall firm up pon 'Amalieq kingdom.³ An bredda shall arise pon him bredda - an JAH shall revenge an downstroy like unto Him spoke that it might perish.⁴ Kingdom shall arise pon kingdom - an the people pon the people an country pon country - Him said.⁵ An argumants shall be done an there shall be formations - famine - plague - earthquake - drought ~ as Love have perished from this world - JAH chastisemant downscended pon she.⁶ Fe the day have arrived suddenly when JAH shall come - Who frighten like unto lightrnin that are sight up from East up til West.⁷ Pon the day when HIM JAH judge Judgemant - at that time everyone shall receive him hardship like unto him hand weakness an him sin firmness - fe Him have said I-man shall revenge them pon the day when HIM JAH judge Judgemant an pon the day when them feet are hindered - fe the day when them are counted fe downstruction have arrived.⁸ At that time JAH shall downstroy in a Gehannem foriva persons who won't live firmed up in a Him LAW - who work sin.⁹ An them who live in a the West ilands an Noba an Hindekie - Saba an 'Ityopphyia an Gibts persons - all persons who live in a them...¹⁰ at that time shall know I that I-man were JAH Who rule Earth an Heaven - an Who give bein I-loved an honour - an Who save an Who kill.¹¹ I-man am Who send forth Sun - Who send it toward it settin - Who bring the evil an the good.¹² I-man am Who bring peoples whom unu don't know - who slaughter an eat the money whereby unu wearied - your sheeps an your cows flocks.¹³ An them shall capture your childran while them hammer them before unu - an unu cyaan save them. Becau JAH Spirit of Support didn't lodge in a unu - as unu didn't fear JAH Command that unu heard - Him shall downstroy your lavishmants an your assignmants.¹⁴ But a person in a whom JAH Spirit of Support lodged will know all - like unto Nabukedenetsor told Dan'iel sayin - 'Mi sight up JAH Spirit of Support that lodged in a thee-I.'¹⁵ An a person in a whom JAH Spirit of Support lodged will know all - an what were hidden will be revealed fe him - an him will know all that were revealed an that were hidden - yet there are nothing hidden from a person in a whom JAH Spirit of Support lodged.¹⁶ But as Inl are persons who will dead tomorrow - Inl sins that Inl hid an worked shall be revealed.¹⁷ An like unto them test silver an gold in a fiyah - like unto there are sinners - later pon the Day of Advent them shall be examined - fe them didn't keep JAH Command.¹⁸ At that time all peoples an all 'Isra'iel childran Works shall be examined.

CHAPTER 35 ¹As JAH vex pon unu becau unu didn't judge a Truth Judgement fe the child whose mother an faada dead pon him - woe fe unu 'Isra'iel nobles.² Woe fe unu persons who go toward a drinkin house mornin an evenin an get drunk - who are partial ina judgement - an who don't hear the widow justice nor the child whose mother an faada dead pon him - who live ina sin an seducin.³ JAH told 'Isra'iel nobles sayin thus: - Unless unu lived firmed up ina I Command an kept I LAW an loved what I-man love - woe fe unu - Him told them.⁴ An I-man shall bring downstruction an chastisemant an tribulation pon unu - an unu will perish like unto what weevils an moths ate - an your tracks an your region won't be found - Him told them.⁵ An your country will be a wilderness - an all persons who sight she up formerly shall clap them hands ~ them shall marvel pon she while them said - 'Weren't this country filled of she plenty an all who love it? JAH made she thus by persons sin who live ina she.'⁶ Them shall say - 'As she have made she heart proud - an as she have ilivated she ras self - an as she have firmed up she collar of reasonin up til JAH mek she wretched pon Earth - an as she shall be a desert by persons arrogance who live ina she - an as thorns have grown pon she with thistles - woe fe she.'⁷ An she grow weeds an nettles - an she became a wilderness an a desert - an beasts shall live within she.'⁸ Fe JAH Judgement have firmed up pon she - an fe she shall raceive JAH Judgement Chalice becau she reasonin arrogance by persons sin who live ina she - an she became frightenin fe persons who go toward she.

CHAPTER 36 ¹Meqiedon persons - don't boast ~ as JAH are there Who shall downstroy unu - 'Amalieqans - don't firm up your collar of reasonin.² Fe unu will be lofty up til Heaven an unu will downscend up til Gehannem.³ Pon the time 'Isra'iel formerly entered toward Gibts country ina Mo`ab an Miedon kingdom Him said - Don't boast - fe it aren't due fe pretend pon JAH that unu might pretend pon Him.⁴ Thou Yisma'iel kindred - slave child - why do thou firm up thy collar of reasonin by what weren't thy money? How about don't thou think that JAH shall judge pon thee pon the time Him arose that it might be judged pon Earth - pon the day when it are judged pon thee?⁵ JAH Who rule all said - At that time thou will receive thy hardship like unto thy hand Work - how about why do thou ilivate thy reasonin? How about why do thou firm up thy collar of reasonin?⁶ An I-man shall pretend pon thee like unto thou pretended pon persons who weren't thy kindreds - fe thou do what thou love that thou might work sin - an I-man shall neglect thee ina the place where them sent thee.⁷ JAH Who rule all said - An I-man shall do thus pon thee ~ Him said - But if thou worked goodly Work an if thou love what I-man loved - I-man also shall hear thee-I ina all that thou begged.⁸ An if thou fulfill I Accord fe I - I-man shall fulfill thy accord fe thee-I - an I-man shall dispute thy enemies fe thee-I - an I-man shall bless thy childran an thy seed fe thee-I.⁹ An I-man shall multiply thy sheeps an thy cows flocks fe thee-I - an if thou lived firmed up ina I Command an also if thou did what I-man love - JAH Who rule all said - I-man shall bless fe thee-I all thou seized ina thy hand.¹⁰ But if thou don't do I Accord - if thou don't live firmed up ina I LAW an I Command - all this tribulation that were told formerly shall find thee - fe thou didn't indure tribulation firmed up ina I Command - an fe thou didn't live firmed up ina I LAW - an thou cyaan escape from I anger that will come pon thee everytime.¹¹ An as thou didn't love what I-man loved - when I-man am Who Irated thee bringin from not livin toward livin...¹² all this were thy money - that thou might kill an heal fe do all that thou loved - that thou might work an demolish - that thou might honour an abuse - that thou might ilivate an downbase - an as thou have neglected I Worship an I praise when I-man am Who gave thee lordship an also honour alongside persons who are beneath thy authority - thou cyaan escape from I anger that will come pon thee.¹³ An if thou did JAH Accord an if thou lived frmed up ina Him Command - Him will love thee-I that thou might be Irie with Him ina Him Lordship - an that thou might be a partaker with persons who inherited a honoured country.¹⁴ Fe Him have said - If them indure I - I-man will bequeath them bein I-loved an honour - fe I-man shall mek them Irie ina the Temple where priah are prayed - fe JAH Who rule all have said - An them shall be I-loved an chosen like unto a sacrifice.¹⁵ Don't neglect fe do Work whereby welfare are done an a goodly thing that unu might cross from death toward Life.¹⁶ But persons who work goodly Work - JAH shall keep them ina all Him goodly Work - that them might be Him slaves like unto 'Iyob whom JAH kept from all the tribulation¹⁷ JAH shall keep them ina all goodly Work - that them might be Him slaves fe Him like unto 'Abriham whom Him saved pon the time him killed the kings - an like unto Mussie whom Him saved from Kenaniewon hand an Fer'on hand - ina whom 'Abriham lived - an who were also downsturbin him body evenin an mornin night an day that them might mek him worship idols.¹⁸ But when them took him toward the idols that were them money - him would indure the tribulation while him refused.¹⁹ Fe 'Abriham who believed Him Iginnin from him childhood were fe JAH Him trusted friend - an while him refused him would worship JAH Who Irated him.²⁰ As him totally love JAH - him didn't quit worshippin JAH up til him dead - an him didn't depart from Him LAW up til when him dead - an him taught him childran that them might keep JAH LAW.²¹ An like unto them faada 'Abriham kept Him LAW - them didn't depart from JAH LAW ~ like unto Him told fe Angels sayin - I-man have a friend ina this world called 'Abriham - 'Abriham childran Ya`iqob an Yis'haq - who are Him slaves becau whom JAH spoke - didn't depart from JAH LAW.²² JAH Who were praised alongside them an Who rule all said - 'Abriham are I friend ~ Yis'haq are I canfidante - an Ya`iqob are I friend whom I Reasonin loved.²³ But when Him totally loved 'Isra'iel childran - them lived when them Itinually saddened Him - an Him lived when Him indured them an when Him fed them menna ina wilderness.²⁴ Them clothes didn't age - fe them have been fed menna that are knowledge 'injera - an them feet didn't awaken.²⁵ But them reasonins would distance from JAH everytime ~ as them were who work sin Iginnin from Antiquity - them had no hope fe be saved.²⁶ Them became like unto a crooked bow - yet them didn't become like unto them faadas Yis'haq an 'Abriham an Ya`iqob who served JAH ina them beautiful way of Life ~ them would sadden Him everytime by them idols pon the mountains an the hills ~ them would eat pon the mountain an at the caves an the trees roots.²⁷ Them would slaughter a steer ~ them would sacrifice a sacrifice - an them would be Irie ina them hands

Work ~ them would eat the rest of the sacrifice ~ them would drink of them sacrifice - an them would play with demons while them sang.²⁸ An demons would admire all them games an them songs fe them - an them would work them drunkenness an adultery without measure - an them would do the robbery an greed that JAH don't love.²⁹ Fe Kene`an idols - an fe Midyam idols an fe Be`al - an fe 'Aphlon an Dagon an Seraphyon an 'Arthiemadies who are 'Eloflee idols...³⁰ an fe all peoples idols ina them area - them would sacrifice sacrifice an all 'Isra'iel would worship idols like unto peoples worship idols by money that them sight up an heard ~ them would mek them games an them songs an them bluster that peoples mek.³¹ All 'Isra'iel kindreds do likewise - who say 'Wi will worship JAH' - without keepin Him Command an Him LAW that Mussie told them ina 'Oreet that them might keep JAH LAW an might distance from worshippin idols.³² Lest them worship separated idols - apart from them faadas Irator Who fed them the honey found from Maga who fed them the plantation grain an sent them forth toward the Earth crops - an Who fed them the menna...³³ Mussie commanded them sayin 'Don't worship' - fe Him are them

Irator - an fe Him feed them who loved Him - an Him won't deprive them who loved Him an desired Him.³⁴ But them didn't quit saddenin JAH - an them would sadden JAH pon the time Him made them Irie.³⁵ An pon the time Him saddened them - them would cry toward Him - an Him would save them from the tribulation that found them - an them would again be totally Irie an would live many eras.³⁶ An at that time them would totally return them heart toward sin that them might sadden JAH like unto formerly - an Him would arouse pon them peoples ina them area that them might downstroy them - an them would worry an tax them.³⁷ An again them would totally return an cry toward them Irator JAH.³⁸ An Him would forgive them ~ it are becau them faadas - Noh - Yis'haq an 'Abriham an Ya`iqob - who served JAH ina them beautiful way of Life Iginnnin from Antiquity - fe whom Him firmed up Him Oath - yet it aren't becau them ras selves Work that Him forgive them.³⁹ An Him loved persons who kept Him LAW lovin that them might multiply them childran like unto Heaven stars an sea sand.⁴⁰ But pon the time dead ones arose that them have like unto sea sand - them are sinner persons souls that will separate from 'Isra'iel childran an enter toward Gehannem.⁴¹ As JAH have told 'Abriham - Sight up toward Heaven at night an count Heaven stars as it were thou could count - likewise as Him have told him - Thy childran an righteous ones shall shine ina Heaven like unto Heaven stars - them are like unto stars that shine ina Heaven - but what them have are kind persons souls birthed from 'Isra'iel.⁴² An again as Him have told him - Overstand toward the river edge an the sea - an sight up what are amidst the sand ~ count as it were thou could count - an thy sinner childran are likewise - who will downscend toward Gehannem pon the time dead ones arose - them are sinner persons souls.⁴³ An 'Abriham believed ina JAH ~ becaudis thing it were counted fe him bein Truth ~ him found him morale ina this world - an after him wife Sora aged she birthed a child called Yis'haq.⁴⁴ Fe him have believed that persons who worked goodly Work shall arise an go toward the Kingdom of Heaven that live firmed up foriva - an again him shall find a Kingdom ina Heaven.⁴⁵ But fe him have believed that persons who worked sin shall go toward Gehannem that live firmed up foriva pon the time dead ones arose - but that righteous ones who worked goodly Work shall reign with Him foriva.⁴⁶ But fe him have believed that it shall be judged foriva fe true without falsehood pon persons who worked sin - fe him shall find Life Kingdom ina Heaven."

BOOK OF MEQABYAN II

CHAPTER 1 ¹This are a book that speak that Meqabees found 'Isra'iel ina Mesphiethomya that are Sorya part an killed them ina them region iginnin from 'Iyabboq up til 'Iyerusaliem square - an that him downstroyed the country.² Becau Sorya an 'Edomyas persons an the 'Amalieqans were one with the Mo`ab man Meqabees who downstroyed 'Iyerusaliem country - as them have camped iginnin from Semarya up til 'Iyerusaliem square an up til all she region - them killed ina war without preservin persons who fled apart from a few persons.³ An pon the time 'Isra'iel childran wronged - Him aroused Mo`ab man Meqabees pon them - an him killed them by a sword.⁴ An becaudis thing JAH enemies the peoples bragged pon Him honoured country - an them swore ina them crime.⁵ An 'lloflee an 'lIdomyas persons camped - as Him have sent them becau them pretended JAH Word - them began fe revenge an downstroy JAH country.⁶ An that Meqabees country are Riemat that are Mo`ab part - an him arose from him country ina Power an them swore also with persons with him.⁷ An them camped ina Gielabuhie region that are Mesphiethomya lot up til Sorya that them might downstroy JAH country - an there him begged the 'Amalieqans an 'lloflans ~ him gave them much silver an gold an chariots an horses that them might be one with him ina crime.⁸ Them came together an crushed the fortress ~ persons who lived ina she shed blood like unto Water.⁹ An them made 'Iyerusalieim like unto a plant keepin hut - an him made a voice heard within she ~ him worked all the sin Work that JAH don't love - an them also defouled JAH country that were filled of praise an honour.¹⁰ Them made thy friends flesh an thy slaves corpses food fe wilderness beasts an Heaven birds.¹¹ An them robbed childran whose mother an faada dead pon them an widows - fe without fearin JAH them have done like unto Seythan taught them - an up til JAH Who examine kidneys an reasonins vexed - them took out the fetus ina pregnant dawtaz belly.¹² Them returned toward them country while them were Irie becau them worked evil Work pon JAH kindreds - an them took the plunder that them captured from a honoured country.¹³ Pon the time them returned an entered toward them houses them made ltes an song an clappin.

CHAPTER 2 ¹The prophet whom them call Re`ay told him thus: - "Today be Irie a likkle pon the time when Irie ltes were made ~ JAH Whom 'Isra'iel glorified have that Him might revenge an downstroy thee ina the chastisemant thou didn't doubt.² Will thou say - 'Mi horses are swift ~ becaudis mi will escape by runnin'?'³ As fe I - I-man tell thee - Persons who will follow thee are swifter than vultures ~ thou won't escape from JAH Judgemant an downstruction that shall come pon thee.⁴ Will thou say - 'Mi wear iron clothes - an spear flingin an bow stingin aren't able fe mi'? JAH Who honour 'Isra'iel said - It aren't by spear flingin that I-man will revenge an downstroy thee" Him told him ~ "I-man shall bring pon thee heart sickness an itch an rheumatism sickness that were worse an firmer than spear flingin an bow stingin - yet it aren't by this that I-man shall revenge an downstroy thee.⁵ Thou have aroused I anger ~ I-man shall bring heart sickness pon thee - an thou will lack one who help thee - an thou won't escape from I ltority up til I-man downstroy thy name invocation from this world.⁶ As thou have firmed up thy collar of reasonin - an as thou have ilivated thy ras self pon I country - pon the time I-man quickly did this thing like unto a eye wink - thou will know I that I-man were thy Irator ~ as thou are before I like unto grass before the wind that fiyah eat - an as thou are like unto the dust that winds spill an scattar from Earth - thou are like unto them alongside I.⁷ Fe thou have aroused I anger - an fe thou didn't know thy Irator - an I-man shall neglect all thy kindred - an neither will I-man preserve him who neared pon thy fortress.⁸ An now return from all thy sin that thou worked ~ if thou return from thy sin an totally appease ina mournin an sadness before JAH - an if thou beg toward him ina clean reasonin - JAH will forgive thee all thy sin that thou worked before Him" - him told him.⁹ At that time Meqabees wore dust an mourned before JAH becau him sin - fe JAH have vexed pon him.¹⁰ Fe Him eyes are revealed - fe Him don't withhold - an fe Him ears are opened - fe Him don't neglect - an fe Him don't mek the word Him spoke false - an fe Him quickly do she at one time - fe JAH knew lest Him preserve the chastisemant Him spoke by the prophet Word.¹¹ Him cast him clothes an wore sackcloth an sprinkled dust pon him head an cried an wept before him Irator JAH becau him sin that him worked.

CHAPTER 3 ¹An the prophet came from Riemat an told him - fe Riemat that are Mo`ab part are near fe Sorya.² Him dug a pit an entered up til him neck an wept firm tears - an him entered repentance becau him sin that him worked before JAH.³ An JAH told the prophet thus: - Return from Yihuda country Riemat toward the Mo`ab official Meqabees Him told him. Tell him - "JAH told thee thus" - Tell him - "Him told thee - I-man JAH Who am thy Irator sent thee by I Accord that thou might downstroy I country - lest thou say - 'Mi destroyed the honoured country 'Iyerusalieim by mi Power firmness an mi army abundance' - yet it aren't thou who did this thing.⁴ Fe she have saddened I by all she greed an she perfidy an she lustfulness.⁵ An I-man neglected an cast she by thy hand - an now JAH forgave thee thy sin becau thy childran whom thou birthed ~ it aren't becau thou who firmed up thy collar of reasonin an say 'Mi incircled the country 'Iyerusaliem by mi authority firmness.'⁶ As persons who doubt aren't disciplined fe enter repentance - don't be a doubter - an now enter repentance bein disciplined ina thy complete reasonin.'⁷ However persons are admired who enter repentance ina them complete reasonins an who don't again return toward thirst an sin by all that entered toward repentance becau them sin.⁸ Persons are admired who return toward them Irator JAH bein disciplined ina mournin an sadness - ina bowin an many pleas. Persons are admired who are disciplined an enter repentance - fe Him have told them - Unu are I moneys who entered repentance after unu misled persons who entered repentance.⁹ Him told arrogant Meqabees pon the time him returned toward Him ina repentance after him misled - I-man forgive thee thy sin becau thy fright an thy alarm fe I-man am JAH thy Irator Who bring hardship pon childran by a faada sin up til seven generations if the child work the sin that the faada worked - an Who do Charity up til ten thousand generations fe persons who love I an keep I LAW.¹⁰ An now I-man will firm up I Oath with thee becau these thy childran whom thou birthed - an JAH Who rule all an Who honoured 'Isra'iel said - I-man will accept the repentance thou made becau thy sin that thou worked.¹¹ At that time him proceeded from the pit an bowed fe the prophet ~ him swore sayin - "As mi have saddened JAH - mek mi what thou loved - yet mek JAH do mi thus thus lest mi separate from thee-I ~ as wi have no Law - mi didn't live firmed up ina Him Command like unto mi faadas ~ thou know that wi faadas taught wi an that wi worship idols.¹² Fe mi are a sinner who lived firmed up ina mi sin - who firmed up ina mi collar of reasonin firmness an mi reasonin arrogance whereby mi saddened JAH Command - but up til now mi hadn't heard JAH servants the prophets Word - an mi didn't live firmed up ina Him LAW an Him Command that Him commanded mi."¹³ Him told him sayin - "As there are none from your kindred precedin unu who trusted him sin - mi knew that the prophet received repentance today."¹⁴ "But now quit thy worshipping idols an return toward knowin JAH that thou might have true repentance" him told him ~ him fell an bowed at the prophet feet - an the prophet lifted up an commanded him all the goodly Work that are due him.¹⁵ An him returned toward him house doin also like unto JAH commanded him.¹⁶ An that Meqabees returned him body toward worshipping JAH - an him downstroyed from him house the idols an also the sorcery - persons who worship idols an pessimists an magicians.¹⁷ An mornin an evenin like unto them faadas do - him would examine the childran him captured an brought from 'Iyerusaliem ina all JAH Commands an Him Order an Him LAW.¹⁸ An from the childran him captured - him appointed knowin ones pon him house.¹⁹ An again from the infants him appointed knowin childran who keep levelled childran who were small - who enter toward the beddin that them might teach them JAH LAW that 'Isra'iel childran do ~ him would hear from captured 'Isra'iel childran the Order an the LAW an the Nine Laws - that Mo`ab persons order an them mosques that them mek were vain.²⁰ Him downstroyed them mosques - them idols an them sorcery - an the sacrifice an the grapes sacrificed fe the idols mornin an evenin from the goat kids an fattened sheeps flocks.²¹ An him downstroyed him idols whom him worship an beg an believe ina all him Work while him sacrificed sacrifice afternoon an at noon - an fe all priests told him - an him idols fe whom him do them accord.²² As it would seem fe him that them save him ina all that them told - him wouldn't scorn all the thing them told him.²³ But that Meqabees quit them Work.²⁴ After him heard the Ra`ay thing - whom them call a prophet - him accomplished him Work ina repentance ~ as 'Isra'iel childran would sadden Him at one time - an pon the time Him chastised them ina the tribulation - as them know an also cry toward JAH - all Him kindreds worked goodly Work more than 'Isra'iel childran ina that season.²⁵ Pon the time Him heard that them were seized an abused by peoples hand who firm up tribulation pon them an that them cried toward Him - Him thought of them faadas oath an at that time Him would forgive them becau them faadas Yis'haq - 'Abriham - an Ya`iqob.²⁶ An pon the time Him saved them - them would forget JAH Who saved them from tribulation - an them would return toward worshipping the idols.²⁷ An at that time Him would arouse pon them peoples who firm up tribulation pon them - an pon the time them firmed up tribulation pon them an saddened them - them would cry toward JAH ~ as Him love them becau them were Him ltority lration - at that time Him would be nice an forgive them.²⁸ An pon the time Him kept them - them again returned toward sin that them might sadden Him by them hands Work that were firm an by worshipping idols ina them councils.²⁹ But Him would arouse pon them Mo`ab an 'lloflee - Sorya - Midyam an Gibts persons an pon the time them enemies defeated them - them would cry an weep ~ pon the time them firmed up pon them an taxed them an ruled them - JAH would arouse princes fe them that Him might save them pon the time Him loved.

CHAPTER 4 ¹An ina 'lyasu time are a day when Him saved them.² An ina Giediewon time are a day when Him saved them.³ An ina Somson time an ina Deebora an Bariq an Yodeet time are a day when Him saved them - an lodgin whether pon male or pon dawta - Him would arouse princes fe them that them might save them from them enemies hands who firm up tribulation pon them.⁴ An like unto JAH loved - Him would save them from persons who firm up tribulation pon them.⁵ An them would be totally Irie ina all the Work that Him accomplished fe them ~ them would be Irie ina them land seed an ina multiplyin all them flocks ina wilderness an them livestock.⁶ An Him would bless them plants an them livestock fe them - fe Him sight them up ina Eye of Mercy - an fe Him wouldn't diminish them livestock pon them - fe them are kind persons childran an Him would totally love them.⁷ But pon the time them were evil ina them Work - Him would cast them ina them enemies hands.⁸ An pon the time Him downstroyed them - them would seek Him ina worship - an them would return from sin an march toward JAH ina repentance.⁹ An pon the time them returned ina them complete reasonin - Him would atone them sin fe them ~ Him wouldn't think of them former sin pon them - fe Him know them that them were flesh an blood - fe them have this world misleadin thoughts pon them - an fe them have demons ina them.¹⁰ But pon the time that Meqabees heard this Order that JAH worked ina Him worshipping place the Temple - him were slain ina repentance.¹¹ After him sight up an heard this - him didn't scorn workin goodly Work him didn't scorn workin all the goodly Work that 'Isra'iel childran work pon the time JAH forgave them - an after them trespassed from Him LAW - them weep an would cry pon the time JAH whipped them - an again Him would forgive them - an them would keep Him LAW.¹² An Meqabees likewise would straighten up him Work - an him would keep Him LAW - an him would live firmed up ina 'Isra'iel Irator JAH Command.¹³ At that time after him heard all the Work whereby 'Isra'iel childran boast - Him would boast like unto them ina keepin JAH LAW.¹⁴ Him would urge him kindred an childran that them might live firmed up ina JAH Command an all Him LAW.¹⁵ An him would forbid the order that 'Isra'iel forbid - an him would hear an keep the Law that 'Isra'iel keep - an when him kindred are another Mo`ab man - him would forbid the food that 'Isra'iel forbid.¹⁶ An him would send forth tithes ~ him would give all that were first birthed an that him owned from him cows an him sheeps an him donkeys - an returnin him face toward 'Iyerusalieim him would sacrifice the sacrifice that 'Isra'iel sacrifice.¹⁷ Him would sacrifice sin an vow sacrifices - a sacrifice whereby welfare are done an a accord sacrifice - an the Itinual sacrifice.¹⁸ An him would give him first crops - an him would gush an pour the grapes that 'Isra'iel pour - an him would give this fe him priest whom him I-pointed - an likewise him would do all that 'Isra'iel do - an him would sweeten him ishence.¹⁹ Him built a candlestick an a bowl an a seat an a tent an the four links of rings - an diluted oil fe the Hola of Holas lamps - an the curtain that 'Isra'iel mek ina the Hola of Holas pon the time them served JAH.²⁰ An like unto them worked goodly Work pon the time them lived firmed up ina Him Order an Him LAW an pon the time JAH didn't neglect an cast them ina them enemies hands - Meqabees also would work goodly Work like unto them.²¹ Him would beg toward 'Isra'iel Irator JAH everytime that Him might be him Teacher an lest Him separate him from 'Isra'iel childran whom Him chose an who did Him Accord.²² An again him would beg Him that Him might give him childran ina Tsiyon an a house ina 'Iyerusalieim - that Him might give them Heavenly Seed of Virtue ina Tsiyon an a Heavenly House of Soul ina 'Iyerusalieim - an that Him might save him from the downstruction spoken by the prophet tongue - that Him might accept him repentance in all the mourning him wept before JAH bein sad an enterin repentance...²³ an lest Him downstroy childran in this world pon him - an that Him might keep him in him proceedin an enterin.²⁴ Kindreds from Mo`ab peoples beneath Meqabees Itority were Irie that them might believe - fe them chief live firmed up in a straight Work - an them would check up him judgemant an fulfill him accord - an them would scorn them country language an them country justice ~ them would overstand that Meqabees Work surpassed an were straight.²⁵ An them would come an hear Meqabees charity an Truth judgements.²⁶ Him had much money ~ him had dawta slaves an male slaves an camels an donkeys - an him had five hundred horses that wear breastplates ~ him would totally defeat the 'Amalieqans an 'Iloflans an Sorya persons - but formerly when him worshipped idols him lived when them defeated him.²⁷ Him prevailed - yet but from him worshipping JAH onward - when him went toward battle there are none who defeated him.²⁸ But them would come in them idols Power that them might fight him - an them would call them idols names an curse him - however there were none who defeat him - fe him have made him faith pon him Irator JAH.²⁹ An when him did thus an when him defeated him enemies - him lived when him ruled peoples in him Itority.³⁰ Him would revenge an downstroy wronged persons enemy fe them ~ him would judge Truth fe a child whose mother an faada dead pon him.³¹ An him would receive widows in them trouble time - an him would give from him food an satta them who hungered - an him would clothe the naked from him clothes.³² An him would be Irie in him hands Work - an him would give from the money him had without begrudgin - an him would give tithes fe the Temple ~ Meqabees dead havin lived in Irie Ites when him did this.

CHAPTER 5 'An him dead quittin him childran who were small - an them grew up like unto them faada taught them ~ them kept them house Order - an them would keep all them kindred - an them wouldn't mek poor ones cry - nor widows nor a child whose mother an faada dead pon him.² Them would fear JAH - an them would give them money alms fe poor ones - an them would keep all the trust them faada told them - an them would calm the child whose mother an faada dead pon them an widows ina them trouble time - an them would be them mother an faada ~ them would mek them cast from persons hand who wrong them - an calm them from all the downsturbance an sadness that found them.³ Them lived five years while them did thus.⁴ After this the Keledans king Tseerutsaydan came ~ him downstroyed all them country - an him captured Meqabees childran an downstroyed all them villages.⁵ An him plundered all them money ~ them lived firmed up ina all evil Work an sin - ina adultery - insult an greed an not thinkin of them Irator - yet persons who don't live firmed up ina JAH LAW an Him Command an who worship idols seized them also an took them toward them country.⁶ Them eat what a beast bit an the blood an the carcass - an what a scavenger beat an cast - all that JAH don't love - yet them have no order from all the true Commands written ina 'Oreet.⁷ Them don't know JAH them Irator - Who sent them forth from them mothers wombs an fed them by what are due - were them Medicine.⁸ Them marry from them aunt an them faada wife - them step mother - an them go toward robbery an evil thing an sin an adultery - yet them have no order ina Judgemant time - an them work all evil Work an them marry them aunts an them sistren an them have no LAW.⁹ An all them roads are dark an slippery - an them Work are sin an adultery.¹⁰ But those Meqabees childran would keep ina all them Order ~ them wouldn't eat what a scavenger beat nor what dead an lodged ~ them wouldn't work all the Work that the Keledans childran work - fe them many Works are evil that weren't written ina this book - that sinners work - an doubters an criminals - betrayers totally filled of robbery an sin an pagans childran.¹¹ All the Work them Irator JAH love aren't there alongside them.¹² An again them would worship a idol called Bi'iel Fiegor ~ them would trust it like unto them Irator JAH when it were deaf an dumb. Fe it are the idol that a person hand worked - fe it are the person hand Work that a smith worked who work silver an gold - that have no breath nor knowledge - an it had nothing that it sight up nor hear.¹³ It don't eat nor drink.¹⁴ It don't kill nor save.¹⁵ It don't plant nor uproot.¹⁶ It don't harm it enemy nor benefit it friend.¹⁷ It don't impoverish nor honour.¹⁸ It will be a hindrance fe mislead the Keledans persons who were lazy - yet it don't chastise nor forgive.

CHAPTER 6 ¹JAH enemy Tseerutsaydan who were arrogant appointed them who veil an falsehood priests fe him idols.² Him would sacrifice sacrifice fe them an pour the grapes fe them.³ An it would seem fe him that them eat an drink.⁴ An while it dawned him would give them cows an donkeys an heifers - an him would sacrifice sacrifice mornin an evenin - an him would eat from that defouled sacrifice.⁵ An again him would downsturb an obligate other persons that them might sacrifice fe him idols - yet it weren't that only them do it.⁶ Pon the time them sight up Meqabees childran that them were handsome an that them worship them Irator JAH - the idols priests loved that them might mislead them fe sacrifice sacrifice an fe eat from that hated sacrifice - but these honoured Meqabees childran refused them.⁷ As them keep them faada command - an as them have firmed up ina workin goodly Work - an as them totally fear JAH - it failed them fe agree...⁸ pon the time them bound them an insulted them an robbed them.⁹ Them told fe the king Tseerutsaydan that them refused sacrifice an bowin fe him idols.¹⁰ An becaudis thing the king vexed ~ him were sad an commanded that them might bring them - an them brought an stood them before him - an the king told them fe him idols - "Sacrifice a sacrifice fe mi idols."¹¹ An them spoke an told him - "An Inl won't answer thee ina this thing - an Inl won't sacrifice sacrifice fe thy defouled idols."¹² Him frightened them by Works that abounded - yet him couldn't able fe them - fe them have disciplined them reasonins believin ina JAH.¹³ Him flamed a fiyah an cast them ina fiyah - an them gave them bodies fe JAH.¹⁴ After them dead them arose an were sight up fe him at night drawin them swords when him had reclined pon him lordship throne - an him totally feared.¹⁵ "Mi sirs - tell mi alright - what should mi do fe unu? Don't tek mi body ina death - that mi might do all thou commanded mi."¹⁶ Them told him all that are due fe him while them said - "Think that JAH were thy Irator - an JAH are there Who shall dismiss from this thy kingdom where thou are arrogant - an Who shall lower thee toward Gehannem of Fiyah with thy faada Deeyablos ~ when Inl worshipped Inl Irator JAH without a iniquity livin that Inl wronged thee - an when Inl bowed fe Him ina fearin Him JAH-ness - like unto thou burned Inl ina fiyah - thou will finish all thy hardship by that also.¹⁷ Fe Him are Who Irated all - Earth an Heaven an sea an all that are within she.¹⁸ An fe Him are Who Irated moon an Sun an stars - an fe Him Who Irated all the Iration are JAH.¹⁹ Fe there are no other irator withou Him ina Earth nor Heaven - fe Him are Who able fe all - an fe there are nothing that fail Him. As Him are Who kill an Who save - Who whip ina tribulation an Who forgive - when Inl bowed fe Him ina fearin JAH - like unto thou burned Inl ina fiyah - thou will finish thy hardship by that" them told him.²⁰ "As Him are Who rule Earth an Heaven - there are none who escape from Him ltority.²¹ There are none from the Iration Him Irated who departed from Him Command - apart from thou who are a criminal - an criminals like unto thee whose reasonins thy faada Seythan hid - an thou an those thy priests an thy idols will downscend together toward Gehannem where are no exits up til lternity.²² Thy teacher are Seythan who taught thee this evil Work that thou might do a evil thing pon Inl - yet as it aren't only thou who do this - unu will downscend toward Gehannem together.²³ Fe thou mek thy ras self like unto thy Irator JAH - yet thou didn't know

JAH Who Irated thee.²⁴ An thou are arrogant ina thy idols an thy hand Work up til JAH mek thee wretched ~ Him shall canvict thee pon all thy sin an iniquity that thou worked ina this world.

CHAPTER 7 ¹Woe fe unu who don't know JAH Who Irated unu - fe thy idols who are like unto thee - an fe thee - an fe unu have that unu might regret a regrets that won't profit pon the time unu were sad bein seized ina See'o/ difficulty - an woe fe thee - fe unu who don't keep Him Word and Him LAW.² Unu will have no exit from she up til lternity - thy priests an thou who sacrifice fe them like unto your Irator JAH - fe thy idols who have no breath nor soul - who won't revenge an downstroy him who did a evil thing pon them - nor do a goodly thing fe him who did a goodly thing fe them.³ Woe fe unu who sacrifice fe them - fe them are a person hands Work where Seythan live - lodgin there fe mislead lazy ones reasonin like unto thee - that him might lower unu toward Gehannem of Fiyah - an the priests who serve demons commanded fe unu an your idols.⁴ As unu don't know that there are nothing that will profit unu - unu wrong an err.⁵ As fe the animals that JAH Irated fe be food fe unu - an dogs an beasts - them are better than unu - fe besides one death there are no more candemnation pon them.⁶ But as unu will dead an raceive hardship ina Gehannem Fiyah where are no exits up til lternity - animals are better."⁷ Havin spoken this - them went an were hidden from him.⁸ But that Tseerutsaydan lodged when him trembled - seized by a firm fright - an fright didn't quit him up til it dawned.

CHAPTER 8 ¹An him lived firmed up ina reasonin malice an arrogance.² An as iron have been called firm - like unto Dan'iel sight it up pon him kingdom - him turned ina peoples countries ina him area.³ Him lived firmed up ina evil an all him laziness an ina downsturbin persons.⁴ An him totally downstroy what Inl spoke formerly - an him eat a person money.⁵ Fe him are diligent fe evil like unto him faada Deeyablos who firmed up him collar of reasonin - an him downstroy what remained with him army.⁶ Him say - "Mi era became like unto the Sun era" - yet him don't know JAH that Him were him Irator.⁷ An ina him reasonin him think that the Sun are found from him.⁸ Him arise in Power - him camp ina Tribe of Zablon lot an begin a formation ina Meqiedonya - an him receive him food from Semarya - an them give him presents from Semarya.⁹ Him camp ina nomads region - an him reach up til Seedona - an him cast a tax pon 'Akayya - an him elevate him collar of reasonin up til the flowin sea - an him return an send messengers up til Hindekie sea.¹⁰ An likewise him elevate him collar of reasonin up til Heaven.¹¹ Him live firmed up ina bein arrogant an ina evil - yet him don't have humblin him ras self.¹² An him path are toward darkness an slipperiness - an toward crime an bein arrogant - an toward sheddin blood an tribulation.¹³ An all him Work are what JAH hate ~ him do like unto robbery an evil an sin teacher Deeyablos taught him ~ him mek a child cry whose mother an faada dead pon him - an him aren't nice fe a poor one.¹⁴ An him defeated an downstroyed peoples kings by him authority.¹⁵ An him ruled enemies chiefs - an him ruled many peoples - an him taxed them like unto him loved.¹⁶ Even if him downstroyed - him didn't quit ~ there are no person whom him didn't snatch lgininn from Tersies sea up til 'lyareeko sea.¹⁷ Him would bow fe idols ~ him would eat what dead an lodged - the blood - what a sword bloated an cut - an what were sacrificed fe idols ~ all him Work are without justice - yet him have no justice ~ as him have been who alarm peoples beneath him authority - him would tax them tax like unto him loved.¹⁸ As him do all that him loved before him - there are no fearin JAH before him - an him live ina malice before JAH Who Irated him.¹⁹ Him didn't do it like unto him Irator - an like unto him did a evil thing pon him companion pon the time him vexed an seized him - JAH shall also pay him him hardship.²⁰ As JAH have said - I-man shall revenge an downstroy sinner persons who don't live by I Command - that I-man might downstroy them name invocation from this world - like unto Him downstroyed peoples who were precedin him - Him shall revenge an downstroy him pon the time when Him downstroy.²¹ An like unto evil persons did evil things - them shall raceive them hardship.²² But bein commanded from JAH - goodly Work shall follow persons who work goodly Work.²³ Fe like unto 'Iyasu downstroyed the five Kene`an kings ina cave ina one day - an like unto him made Sun stand ina Geba`on by him priah that him might downstroy them armies - Sun have stood amidst Heaven up til him downstroyed 'Ewiewon an Kenaniewon - Fierziewon an Kiethiewon an 'Iyabusiewon armies - an like unto him killed around twenty thousand persons at one time - an like unto him killed them - an like unto him bound them makin foot from neck - an like unto him killed them ina cave by spear - an like unto him fitted a stone pon them...²⁴ Tribulation like unto this shall find all persons who sadden JAH ina them evil Work.

CHAPTER 9 "O thou weak man who aren't JAH - why are thou proud? thou who are sight up today bein a man are Earth ashes tomorrow - an thou will totally be worms ina thy grave.² Fe thy teacher are Deeyablos who return all persons sin hardship toward him ras self becau him misled Inl faada 'Adam - an See'o/ will find thee again - an she will find persons who work thy sin.³ Fe ina firmin up him collar of reasonin an makin him ras self proud - like unto him refused fe bow fe 'Adam whom the Irator Irated...⁴ thou also have refused fe bow fe thy Irator JAH like unto thy teacher Deeyablos did.⁵ Like unto thy precedin faadas - who don't know them Irator JAH ina worship - will go toward Gehannem - thou also will go toward Gehannem.⁶ Like unto

Him revenged an downstroyed them becau them evil Work that them worked ina this world - an like unto them downscended toward Gehannem...⁷ thou also will downscend toward Gehannem like unto them.⁸ As thou have aroused Him anger - an as thou have neglected fe worship JAH Who gave thee Itority pon the five kingdoms - do it seem fe thee that thou will escape from JAH Itority?⁹ Thou don't do thus that thou do Him Accord - thus Him examined thee - but if thou work goodly Work ina this world - JAH will accomplish all thy Work fe thee-I - an Him will accomplish an bless all the Work thou seized ina thy hand fe thee-I - an Him will subject thy Antiquity of enemies an thy day enemies fe thee-I.¹⁰ Thou will be Irie ina thy enterins an thy proceedins an ina thy child birthed from thy nature - an ina thy flocks an thy fatnesses - an ina all Work where thou placed thy hand - an ina all that thou thought ina thy heart ~ as Itority have been given thee-I from alongside JAH that thou might do thus an might work an plant an demolish - all will be commanded fe thee-I.¹¹ However if thou won't hear JAH Word nor live firmed up ina Him LAW - like unto criminals who were precedin thee - an who don't worship JAH by what are due - an who didn't believe firmed up ina HIM straight LAW - there are nothing whereby thou will escape from JAH Itority - fe JAH Judgement are Truth.¹² All are totally revealed before Him - yet there are nothing hidden from before Him.¹³ Him are Who seize the kings Itority an Who overturn powerful ones thrones.¹⁴ Him are Who llivate them who were downbased an Who lift up them who fell.¹⁵ Him are Who loose them who were bound an Who arouse them who dead ~ as pardon dew are found from alongside Him - pon the time Him loved Him shall arouse persons whose flesh were demolished an rotten an were like unto dust.¹⁶ An havin aroused an judged persons who worked evil Work - Him will tek them toward Gehannem - fe them have saddened Him.¹⁷ Fe them are who demolished JAH Order an Him LAW - an Him will downstroy them child from this world.¹⁸ As kind persons Work are more difficult than sinner persons Work - sinner persons don't love that them might live ina kind persons counsel.¹⁹ Like unto Heavens were distanced from Earth - likewise kind persons Work were distanced from evil persons Work.²⁰ But sinner persons Work are robbery an sin

- adultery an iniquity - greed an perfidy Work ~ it are bein drunk ina iniquity an robbin a person money.²¹ It are quickly goin toward sheddin a person blood - an it are goin toward downstruction that don't benefit - an it are makin a child weep whose mother an faada dead pon him ~ it are eatin blood an what dead an lodged - an it are eatin camel an boar flesh - an it are goin toward a dawta ina she blood before she are cleansed - an toward a dawta ina childbirth.²² All this are sinner persons Work ~ she are Seythan trap that were a wide an prepared path - an that tek toward Gehannem that live firmed up foriva - an toward See'ol.²³ But righteous ones path that were totally narrow are what tek toward welfare - an innocence an humbleness - an Inity an Love - an priah an fast - an flesh purity - toward keepin from what don't benefit - from eatin what a sword bloated an cut an what dead an lodged - an from goin toward a youtmon wife an from adultery.²⁴ Them keep from what weren't commanded by LAW - from eatin disgustin food an from all hated Work - an from all the Work that JAH don't love - fe sinner persons do all this.²⁵ As fe kind persons - them distance from all the Work that JAH don't love.²⁶ Him love them an shall keep them from all them tribulation like unto Trust money.²⁷ Fe them keep Him Order an Him LAW an all that Him love - but Seythan rule sinner persons.

CHAPTER 10 ¹Fear JAH Who Irated unu an kept unu up til today - yet unu the nobles an the kings - don't go pon Seythan path.² Live ina the LAW an Command of JAH Who rule all - yet don't go pon Seythan path.³ As pon the time 'Isra'iel childran came toward 'Amalieq that them might inherit Kiethiewon an Kenaniewon an Fierziewon country - Siefor child Balaq an Bele'am...⁴ whom thou cursed are cursed - an him whom thou blessed blessed ~ don't go pon Seythan road - fe him have said - "An mi will give thee much silver an gold that honour thee - that thou might curse fe mi an - an havin cursed - that thou might downstroy fe mi."⁵ An fe Bele'am have come makin him sorcery reward a morale - an fe Siefor child Balaq have shown him the place where 'Isra'iel childran camped.⁶ Fe him have done him pessimism - an fe him have sacrificed him sacrifice - an fe him have slaughtered from him fattened cows an sheeps - an fe him have loved that him might curse an downstroy 'Isra'iel childran.⁷ Him returned a curse toward a bless - yet but as JAH didn't love that him might curse them by Him Word - don't go pon Seythan road.⁸ "As thou are the kindred that JAH chose - as thou are JAH Lodgin that shall come from Heaven - mek persons be cursed who curse thee-I - an mek persons who bless thee-I be blessed" him said.⁹ Pon the time him blessed them before him - after this Siefor child Balaq were sad - an him totally vexed an commanded that him might curse them.¹⁰ Fe the kindred that JAH blessed have come toward this country - an Bele'am told him - "Mi won't curse 'Isra'iel whom JAH blessed."¹¹ An Siefor child Balaq told Bele'am - "As fe mi - mi had loved that thou might curse fe mi ~ thou blessed them before mi - yet but thou didn't curse them ~ if thou had cursed fe mi an told mi 'Give mi' - as fe mi - mi would have given thee a house full of silver an gold - but thou totally blessed them - an thou didn't do a goodly thing fe mi - an mi won't do a goodly thing fe thee."¹² Bele'am said - "What JAH told mi Speak with mi tongue - mi will speak it - yet as fe mi - mi cyaan dare fe ignore JAH thing.¹³ Lest mi curse a blessed kindred - as JAH shall vex pon mi if mi love money - as fe mi - mi don't love money more than mi soul.¹⁴ As JAH have told them faada Ya`iqob - Mek persons who bless thee-I be blessed an mek persons who curse thee-I be cursed - lest mi curse blessed Ya`iqob - as fe mi - mi don't love money more than mi soul" him said - an as JAH have told him - Him who bless thee-I are blessed...¹⁵ an a person who curse thee-I unjustly are cursed - accomplish thy path an thy Work that JAH might love thee.¹⁶ An don't be like unto former persons who saddened JAH ina them sin an whom Him neglected - an there are them whom Him downstroyed ina Downstruction Water.¹⁷ An there are them whom Him downstroyed by them haters hands ~ there are them whom Him downstroyed by them enemies hands - bringin enemies who were evil persons who firmed up tribulation pon them - an them captured them lords with them priests an them prophets.¹⁸ An them delivered them toward the foreign country them don't know ~ them totally captured them - an them plundered them livestock pon them an downstroyed them country.¹⁹ Fe them have demolished the honoured country 'Iyerusaliem fences an ramparts - an them made 'Iyerusaliem like unto a field.²⁰ An the priests were capture - an the LAW were demolished - an warriors fought ina war an fell.²¹ An widows were capture ~ as them have been capture - them wept fe them ras selves - yet them didn't weep fe them husbands who dead.²² An the childran wept - an elders shamed - an them weren't nice fe neither a grey haired person nor a elder.²³ Them downstroyed all them found ina the country - yet them weren't nice fe beauties nor fe them ina LAW ~ as JAH have vexed pon Him kindreds pon the time Him loved that Him might beforehand downstroy Him Lodgin the Temple - them captured an took them toward the country them don't know an toward peoples.²⁴ As them sadden them Irator everytime - becaudis thing pon the time JAH neglected 'Isra'iel childran - JAH made 'Iyerusaliem fe be ploughed like unto a field.²⁵ Fe Him are nice fe them becau them faadas - but Him didn't downstroy them at one time ~ as Him love them faadas Yis'haq an 'Abriham an Ya`iqob who reigned fe true an lived firmed up ina straight LAW before them Irator - it are becau them faadas kindness - yet it aren't becau them ras selves kindness that him forgive them.²⁶

An Him I-pointed them pon honours that were twofold - an them found two Kingdoms - pon Earth an ina Heaven.²⁷ An unu the kings an the nobles who live ina this passin world - like unto your faadas who lived firmed up ina Work that are due an who were precedin unu likewise inherited the Kingdom of Heaven - an like unto them names were beautiful fe a child childran - think of them.²⁸ An thou - straighten up thy Work - that Him might straighten up thy Kingdom fe thee - an that thy name might be called ina goodly invocation like unto the kind kings who were precedin thee who served JAH ina them beautiful lifestyle.

CHAPTER 11 ¹Think of JAH slave Mussie who weren't annoyed when him kept around this kindred ina him humbleness an him priah an whom not even one person downstroyed - an him begged toward JAH ina him innocence fe him sista an bredda who backbit him an loved that JAH might downstroy them while him said - "As them have wronged Thee-I - Lord - pardon an don't neglect thy kindreds" - an him atoned them sin fe them - yet Him thought of JAH servant Mussie who weren't annoyed.² "Fe I-man have wronged Thee-I - an forgive I Thy slave who am a sinner - fe Thou are Merciful - an fe Thou are a Pardoner - an forgive them them sin."³ An Mussie likewise atoned them sin fe him sista an bredda who backbit him.⁴ An becaudis thing him were called innocent.⁵ An JAH totally loved him more than all the priests childran who were him bredren - fe Him I-point the priests - an JAH made him like unto Him Ras Self alongside them.⁶ But Him also sank beneath Earth Qorie childran who challenged ~ Him lowered them toward See'o/ with them livestock an them tents when them said "Wi are there - wi are there ina flesh an soul" ~ as him Irator JAH have loved him - an as him didn't depart from Him Command - all the word him spoke would be done fe him like unto JAH Word.⁷ An unless thou demolished JAH Command likewise - JAH will do thy accord fe thee-I an will love thy thing fe thee-I - an Him will keep thy Kingdom fe thee-I.⁸ An 'Asaf an Qorie childran who departed from Mussie command grumbled pon him becau him told them - "Straighten up your reasonins fe be ruled fe JAH."⁹ Them grumbled sayin - "How about aren't wi Liewee childran who work priesthood Work ina Tent that were special?"¹⁰ Them went an smoked up ishence seizin them censers that them might smoke up - but JAH didn't accept them plea - an them were burnt by the fiyah ina them censers - an them melted like unto the wax that fiyah melt - an not even one person remained from them ~ as Him have said - Them censers were honoured by them bodies bein burnt - apart from them censers that entered toward JAH Lodgin fe JAH Command - neither them clothes nor them bones remained.¹¹ Becaudis thing JAH told 'Aron an Mussie - Gather them censers toward the Tent ~ mek it be a instrument fe I Lodgin wherefor I-man prepared all I-ginnin from outside up til within.¹² An him prepared the honoured Tent instruments ~ him prepared the rings an the joiners - Keerubiel picture sea.¹³ Him worked the cups - the curtains - the Tent area grounds fe the mobilisation - the altar an the jugs whereby them sacrifice ina the Tent that were special.¹⁴ Them sacrificed the sacrifice that them sacrifice by them accord - the sacrifice whereby welfare are made - the sacrifice whereby Him atone sin - an the vow sacrifice an the mornin an the evenin sacrifice.¹⁵ All that Him commanded fe Mussie - him commanded them in the Tent that were special - that them might work Work in she.¹⁶ Them didn't scorn bein ruled fe them Irator JAH - that Him Name might be praised by them in the LAW Lodgin Tent of them Irator JAH Who gave them a promise that Him might give them fe give them them faadas inheritance that produce honey an milk that Him swore fe 'Abriham.¹⁷ Them didn't scorn bein ruled fe them Irator JAH - Who swore fe Yis'haq an firmed up Him Worship fe Ya`iqob...¹⁸ an Who firmed up fe 'Aron an Mussie the Tent where Him Worship are kept...¹⁹ an Who firmed up Him Worship fe both 'Elyas an Samu'iel in the Temple an Tent that Selomon worked up til it became JAH Lodgin in 'Iyerusaliem - an up til JAH Name Lodgin became JAH Lodgin that honoured 'Isra'iel.²⁰ Fe she are a supplication - an fe she are a sin atonemant where it are overturned fe them who live in innocence an fe the priests.²¹ An fe she are a place fe persons who do Him Accord where Him will hear them pleas...²² an JAH LAW Canstruction that honoured 'Isra'iel.²³ Fe she are where sacrifice are sacrificed an where Ishence are smoked up that JAH Who honoured 'Isra'iel be in a goodly Fragrance.²⁴ An Him would speak bein pon the joiner where Him forgive in the Tent that were special ~ JAH Light would be revealed fe Ya`iqob childran whom Him chose an fe friends who live firmed up in Him LAW an Him Command.²⁵ But persons who ignored JAH LAW will be like unto Qorie childran whom Earth sank - an likewise sinner persons have that them might enter toward Gehannem that have no exits up til Iternity.

CHAPTER 12 ¹Unu who didn't keep the LAW Him commanded unu in the Tent - woe fe unu 'Isra'iel nobles who also didn't do Him Accord - yet unu did your ras selves accord - an this are bein arrogant an pride - greed an adultery - drink an bein drunk - an swearin in a lie.² An becaudis thing I anger - like unto chaff are burnt before a fiyah - an like unto fiyah burn the mountain - an like unto a whirl wind spill the crushed chaff from Earth an scattar it toward Heaven - lest it trace be found in its place - I anger will downstroy unu like unto that.³ JAH Who honoured 'Isra'iel said - I-man shall likewise downstroy all persons who work sin - an think of JAH Who rule all an fe Whom nothing fail.⁴ Him love persons who love Him - an fe persons who live firmed up in Him Command - Him will atone them iniquity and them sin for them ~ don't be dull and stingy of heart by not believing.⁵ An mek your reasonings straight for be ruled for JAH - and believe in Him that unu might firm up your bodies - and I-man shall save unu from your enemy hand in your tribulation day.⁶ An in your plea time I-man tell unu - Check - I-man am there with unu in Support ~ I-man shall save unu from your enemy hand ~ as unu have believed in I - and as unu have done I Command - and as unu didn't depart from I LAW - and as unu have loved what I-man love - JAH Who rule all said - I-man won't neglect unu on your tribulation day.⁷ Him love them who love Him - for Him are a Pardoner - and for Him are nice - and Him keep persons who keep Him LAW - like unto a trust money.⁸ Him return Him anger for them many times ~ because Him were who know them that they are flesh and blood - as Him are a Pardoner - Him didn't downstroy all in Him chastisement - and on the time their souls were separated from their flesh - they will return toward their Earthliness.⁹ As Him have lured them bringing from not living toward living - they won't know the place where they live up till JAH love that Him might bring them from not living toward living ~ again Him separated their souls from their flesh - and Earth nature returned toward it Earthliness.¹⁰ And again Him Accord shall bring them from not living toward living."¹¹ But Tseerutsaydan who denied JAH multiplied being arrogant before JAH ~ him made him as self lofty up till the day that him loved on the time him quit Him.¹² "An my era became like unto Heaven era - and my are who send forth Sun - and my won't dead up till Eternity" him said.¹³ And before him finished speaking this thing the Angel of Death whose name are called Thilimyakos alit and struck him heart ~ him dead in that iwa ~ as him didn't praise him Irator - him were separated from him beautiful lifestyle and him perished arising from him arrogance abundance and him Work evil.¹⁴ But when the Keledans king army had camped in the city and the country squares loving for fight him - on the time him dead - they proceeded and downstroyed him country ~ they plundered all his livestock - and they didn't preserve a elder who near and sight up ramparts.¹⁵ They plundered all his money - and they took him tiny money - and they burned his country in fiyah an returned toward them country.

CHAPTER 13 ¹But these five Meqabees childran who believed gave them bodies fe death refusin fe eat the sacrifice sacrificed fe idols.² Fe them have known that pretendin with JAH surpass from pretendin with persons - an JAH anger from the king anger.³ Havin known that this world will totally pass an that the Irie ltes won't live firmed up foriva - them gave them bodies fe fiyah that them might be saved from fiyah ina Heaven.⁴ An as them have known that bein made Irie ina Garden one day are better than livin many eras ina this world - an that findin Thy Pardon one iwa Lord - are better than many eras - them gave them bodies fe fiyah.⁵ What are Inl era? Like unto a shadow - like unto passin wax melt an perish pon a fiyah edge - aren't it like unto that?⁶ But Thou Lord live foriva - an Thy Era aren't fulfilled - an Thy Name invocation are fe a child childran.⁷ An Meqabees childran thought that it seemed all this ~ refusin fe eat a disgustin sacrifice them chose believin ina JAH.⁸ Knowin that them will arise with persons who dead - an meanin becau JAH - knowin that Judgemant shall be judged after Resurrection of

Council - becaudis thing them gave them bodies fe martyrdom.⁹ Unu persons who don't know nor believe persons who dead risin - knowin that the Life them find later will surpass from this them passin Earthly Life - arisin from these five Meqabees childran who gave them bodies together fe the death and whose appearance were handsome - after this them knew Resurrection.¹⁰ Becau them believed ina Him knowin that all shall pass - an becau them didn't bow fe idols - becau them didn't eat a disgustin sacrifice that don't give Support - them gave them bodies fe death that them might find thanks from JAH.¹¹ Fe becaudis thing knowin that Him will mek them Irie ina flesh an soul ina later era - them didn't know this world flavour an death tribulation a serious thing fe them who have child an wife - an knowin that Resurrection be made ina flesh an soul pon the Day of Advent - them gave them bodies fe death.¹² An knowin that persons who kept JAH LAW - with the nobles an the kings who believed JAH Word an were nice...¹³ shall live reignin fe a child childran many eras ina Kingdom of Heaven where are no sadness an tribulation nor death - an knowin ina them reasonins what will be done later - like unto wax melt amidst a fiyah - becaudis thing them gave them bodies fe death.¹⁴ Believin that them faces will shine seven hands more than the Sun - an that them will be lrie ina Him Love pon the time all arose ina flesh an soul - them gave them bodies fe death.

CHAPTER 14 ¹But the Samrans an 'Ayhuds thing - the Seduqans who don't believe persons who dead risin - an the Fereesans thing quite totally sadden I - an it help I fe I reasonin ~ "Wi will dead tomorrow" 'Ayhuds say - "Mek wi eat an drink ~ wi will dead tomorrow ~ there are no lrie ltes wi will sight up ina grave."² But the Samrans say - "As wi flesh will be dust - it won't arise."³ Becau she were invisible like unto wind an like unto iyunder voice - check - she are here - an becau she were what them don't call an invisible - as soul won't arise if flesh dead - pon the time Resurrection are done wi will believe wi souls arisin.⁴ But as beasts will eat she an as worms will eat she ina the grave - wi flesh are sight up alongside all ~ she will become dust an ashes.⁵ An those beasts who ate she will become dust - fe them have been like unto grass - an fe them have become dust like unto them weren't irated - an fe them trace won't be found - but wi flesh won't arise."⁶ An the Fereesans say - "Wi believe as fe persons who dead arisin - however Him will bring an Inite souls with another flesh that are ina Heaven - that aren't pon Earth ~ where will demolished an rotten fleshs be found?"⁷ But the Seduqans say - "After wi soul proceeded from wi flesh - wi won't arise with persons who dead - an flesh an soul have no arisin after them dead - an after wi dead wi won't arise."⁸ An becaudis thing them totally err - an as them speak insult pon JAH Lordship - them thing sadden I.⁹ As them didn't believe JAH Who honour them - them have no hope fe be saved - however them have no hope fe dead an arise an be saved.¹⁰ O 'Ayhudan who are blind of reasonin - when thou are whom Him Irated bringin from not livin toward livin - an scorned like unto spit - will thou mek JAH ignorant - Who made thee a person? Will it fail JAH Who Irated thee ina Him Example an Him Appearance fe arouse Initin thy flesh an thy soul?¹¹ As thou won't escape from JAH ltority - don't think a thing that are thus ~ thou will arise without thou lovin - fe there are the hardship thou will receive ina See'o/ where thou were seized pon the time thou dead - an it shall be judged pon thee without thou lovin.¹² Fe the sin found from demons that demons place ina thy reasonin are worked alongside thee after thou were birthed from thy mother womb - an fe she are worked abundantly pon the time thou grew up.¹³ Them place she ina thy body pon the time thou dead - an she will bring hardship pon them pon the time them worked she.¹⁴ Like unto there are sin ina them collar of reasonin - as there are persons who work sin bein seized by she - she kindreds will present demons.¹⁵ All sinner persons souls shall come from Heaven edge where them are - an thy sin likewise shall introduce thee toward Gehannem pullin an bringin thy soul from where thou are.¹⁶ An after thy flesh lived separate from thy soul - JAH Charity dew shall arouse thee bein seven fold like unto Inl faada 'Adam flesh.¹⁷ Thou who live ina grave - thou also err ina thy error - yet mek it not seem fe thee that thou only mislead the others ~ thou say - "The arisin that persons who dead shall arise aren't there" - that them might depart from JAH Command an err.¹⁸ Him shall arouse thee that Him might give thee thy hardship like unto thy Work that thou worked - yet who shall quit thee that thou might remain bein dust?¹⁹ But at that time - whether wind ina wind be thy nature - or if Water ina Water be thy nature - or if Earth ina Earth be thy nature - or if fiyah ina fiyah be thy nature - it shall come.²⁰ An if a soul that lodged ina thee be what lived ina See'ol - she shall come.²¹ An righteous ones souls that live ina Garden ina Ites shall come.²² But thou 'Ayhudan - Samran - Fereesan - Seduqan - will live ina See'ol up til it are judged pon thee.²³ At that time thou will sight up that JAH shall pay thee the hardship like unto thy sin becau thou misled persons.²⁴ "Persons who dead won't arise ~ as wi will dead - mek wi eat an drink" - an becau thou sat ina Mussie chair an misled by thy words while thou said - "Persons who dead won't arise" - thou will sight up that Him shall pay thee thy hardship.²⁵ An without thy knowin 'Oreet Book - an when thou teach the books word - becaudis thing thou erred ~ it would be better had thou remained without learnin from thy misleadin a person.²⁶ It would have been better if thou didn't know the books word - when thou promulgate JAH kindreds ina thy evil teachin an thy worthless words.²⁷ Fe JAH don't favour havin sight up a face - an fe Him shall give the grace an glory Him prepared fe Him friends - persons who teach goodly Work - but thou have that thou might receive thy reward like unto thy Work an the things that thou spoke.²⁸ But there are nothing whereby thou will escape from JAH ltority Who shall judge pon thee - an Him have that Him might pay thee like unto thy Work - fe them whom thou taught an thou together will receive a sentence.²⁹ Know that persons who dead shall arise - an if them are persons who kept Him LAW them shall arise - an like unto Earth send forth grass pon the time rain rained - as Him Command shall send them forth from a grave - it aren't possible fe it fe remain demolished an rotten.³⁰ Like unto moist wood drink dew an send forth leaves pon the time Him satta she rain fe Earth - like unto wheat bear forth fruit - an like unto grain produce buds - like unto it aren't possible fe she fe withhold that she might prevent she fruit if JAH loved...³¹ an like unto it aren't possible fe a dawta who canceived fe close an prevent she womb pon the time labour seized she - like unto it aren't possible fe she fe escape without birthin...³² as dew have alit toward she bein commanded from JAH - at that time she shall produce them at one time - yet after she heard JAH Word - a grave also likewise cyaan prevent the persons gathered alongside she from arisin.³³ An fleshs shall be gathered ina the place where them corpses fell - an them places where souls live shall be opened - an souls shall return toward the flesh where them were formerly separated.³⁴ An pon the time a drum were beaten - persons who dead shall quickly arise like unto a eye wink - an havin arisen them shall stand before JAH - an Him shall give them them reward like unto them hand Work.³⁵ At that time thou will sight up that thou arise with dead ones - an thou will marvel at all the Work thou worked ina this world - an pon the time thou sight up all thy sins written before thee - at that time thou will regret a useless regret.³⁶ Thou know that thou will arise with dead ones an that thou will receive thy hardship like unto the Work that thou worked.

CHAPTER 15 ¹But persons who found them reward by them goodly Work shall be Irie at that time ~ persons who ignored while them said - "Persons who dead won't arise" shall be sad at that time pon the time them sight up that persons who dead arose with them evil Work that don't benefit.²

That - them Work that them worked shall convict them - an them ras selves shall know that it convict them without one livin who will dispute them.³ Pon the day when Judgement an mournin are done - pon the day when JAH shall come - pon the day when Definite Judgement are judged - persons who forgot JAH LAW shall stand ina the place where them stand.⁴ Pon the day when there shall be total darkness - an pon the day when mist are pulled - pon the day when flashes are sight up an when lightnin are heard...⁵ an pon the day when quakes an fright an heatwave an sleet frost are made...⁶ pon the day when a evil person who worked evil Work raceive hardship - an pon the day when a clean person raceive him reward like unto him worked clean Work - an pon the day when persons who forgot JAH LAW raceive the hardship like unto a sinner person worked sin - them shall stand ina the place where them stand.⁷ Fe pon the day when a master aren't more honoured than him slave - an pon the time when a mistress aren't more honoured than she slave...⁸ an pon the time when the king aren't more honoured than a poor one - an pon the time when a elder aren't more honoured than a infant - pon the time when a faada aren't more honoured than him child - an pon the time when a mother aren't more honoured than she child...⁹ pon the time when a wealthy one aren't more honoured than a poor one - an pon the time when a arrogant one aren't more honoured than a downbased one - an pon the time when the great aren't more honoured than the small - she are the day when Judgement are judged - fe she are the day when them raceive sentance an hardship - an fe she are the day when all will raceive hardship like unto them worked sin.¹⁰ An fe she are the day when persons who worked goodly Work raceive them reward - an fe she are the day when persons who worked sin raceive hardship.¹¹ An as she are the day when persons who found them reward are made Irie - persons who forgot JAH LAW shall stand ina the place where them stand. Persons who mek liars - who digest books while them said - "Persons who dead won't arise" - them shall sight up Resurrection.¹² At that time this world sinners - who didn't work goodly Work ina this world - shall weep pon them sin that them worked - becau sadness found them without calmin.¹³ An all likewise - kind persons who worked goodly Work - them Irie lites won't be fulfilled up til lternity - fe them have worked goodly Work when them were ina this world.¹⁴ Fe them have known that them will arise after them dead - an them didn't depart from them Irator LAW.¹⁵ Becau them didn't depart from Him LAW - them shall inherit two welfares ~ Him multiplied them seed ina this world - an Him honoured them childran.¹⁶ Him bequeathed them the Kingdom of Heaven where shall be found the welfare him swore fe them faadas pon the time when persons who dead arise - an pon the time when rich ones become poor.¹⁷ Persons shall weep who worked sin - who don't believe persons who dead arisin - who don't keep JAH LAW - an who don't think of Arisin Day.¹⁸ At that time them will sight up the tribulation that shall find them an shall have no endin - an where are no calmin nor welfare - an it have the sadness that have no rest nor calmin ina them reasonin.¹⁹ An a fiyah that don't perish an worms that don't sleep shall find them.²⁰ An ina the place where are them flesh are fiyah - sulphur - whirl wind - frost - hail - sleet ~ all this shall rain over them.²¹ Fe persons who don't believe persons who dead arisin - there are fiyah of Gehannem pon them.

CHAPTER 16 ¹Thou - please think of what are pon thy flesh - an thy feet an thy hands nails - an thy head hair - fe them proceed quickly pon the time thou cut them ~ know Resurrection by this - that thou have a reasonin - an that thou have religion an knowledge.² Thy feet an thy hands nails an thy head hair - thou say - "Where do these come from?" ~ aren't it JAH Who prepared it that them might proceed - that thou know arisin that shall be done pon thy flesh that aren't pon another flesh - that thou might know that thou will arise after thou dead?³ Becau thou misled persons while thou said - "There are no Resurrection of the dead ones" - pon the time when dead ones arise thou will raceive thy hardship like unto thou worked sin an iniquity.⁴ An as even what thou planted now won't remain refusin that it might grow - whether it be wheat or barley - thou will sight she up pon the time the day arrived when thou raceive thy hardship.⁵ An again - the plant thou planted won't say - "I-man won't grow" - an be it a fig wood or a grape vine - it fruit an it leaf won't be changed.⁶ If thou plant grapes - it won't be changed that it might be a fig - an if thou plant figs - it won't be changed that it might be grapes - an if thou sow wheat it won't be changed that it might be barley.⁷ All - ina each of the seeds - ina each of it kinds - each of the fruits - each of the woods - each of the leaves - each of the roots - send forth fruit havin received Pardon Dew blessin by what are found from JAH - yet if thou sow barley also it won't be changed that it might be wheat.⁸ An all likewise - that a grave might produce flesh an soul - she shall produce persons like unto JAH sowed pon she ~ the flesh an soul that JAH sowed shall arise bein Initied - yet persons who worked goodly Work won't be changed ina persons who worked evil Work - an persons who worked evil Work also won't be changed ina persons who worked goodly Work.⁹ Pon pon the time the iwa arrived when a drum are beaten - persons who dead shall arise by the Pardon Dew found from JAH ~ persons who worked goodly Work shall arise ina Life Resurrection - an them reward are the Garden where are Irie lites that JAH prepared fe kind persons - where are no tribulation nor disease - an that are clean ones lodgin where them won't again dead after this.¹⁰ But persons who worked evil Work shall arise a Definite Judgement arisin - an with Deeyablos who misled them...¹¹ an with him armies - demons who don't love that even one person might be saved from all 'Adam childran...¹² them shall downscend toward Gehannem that were darkness edge - where are tooth grindin an mournin - where are no charity nor pardon - an where are no exits up til lternity - that are beneath See'ol foriva. Fe them didn't work goodly Work ina them Life ina this world when them were ina them flesh.¹³ Becaudis thing it shall be judged pon them pon the time when flesh an soul arise bein Initied.¹⁴ Woe fe persons who don't believe the flesh an soul arisin whereby JAH show Him miracles abundance together.¹⁵ An all an each one shall receive him reward like unto him Work and him hands weariness.

CHAPTER 17 ¹A wheat kernel won't grow nor bear fruit unless she were demolished. But if a wheat kernel are demolished she will send roots toward Earth ~ she will send forth leaves ~ there will be buds ~ it will bear fruit.² Unu know that the one wheat kernel will become many kernels.³ An all likewise - this kernel grow risin up from Water an wind an Earth dew - fe wheat cyaan bear fruit without Sun - but Sun are becau fiyah stead.⁴ An wind are becau a soul stead - an wheat cyaan bear fruit without wind - an the Water give Earth fe drink an satta she.⁵ An after Earth that are ashes drank Water - she produce roots - an she tips are lofty upward ~ she bear fruit around what JAH blessed she.⁶ But a wheat kernel are 'Adam example - ina whom lodged a resonatin soul that JAH lrated - an likewise a grape wood drink Water an send forth roots - an the thin root kinds drink Water.⁷ Fe Pardon Dew found from JAH give fe drink vines tips that were long - an it send the Water upward toward the leaf tips ~ it bud up from the Sun heat - an by JAH Accord it bear fruit.⁸ It shall be a goodly fragrance that mek a reasonin Irie - an pon the time them ate it - it shall satta like unto Water that don't mek thirsty an grain that don't mek hungry - an pon the time them immersed it - it will be the cluster blood.⁹ An like unto it were told ina Psalm sayin - "Grapes mek a person reasonin Irie" - pon the time them drank it - it mek a person heart Irie - an pon the time a person who came loose opened him mouth an drank it - him are drunk ~ him drink an fill ina him lungs - an the blood flow toward him heart.¹⁰ As grapes drunkenness totally mislead - an as it deprive him him mind - it mek the pit an the cliff like unto a wide meadow - an him don't know obstacles an thorns pon him feet an hands.¹¹ JAH did thus pon she fruit an grape wood that Him Name might be praised by persons who believe dead persons arisin an who do Him Accord.¹² Ina the Kingdom of Heaven Him shall mek persons Irie who believe persons who dead arisin.

CHAPTER 18 ¹Unu persons who don't believe persons who dead arisin - around what error unu err! An pon the time them took unu toward the place unu don't know - unu will regret a useless regrets - an becau unu didn't believe the arisin that persons who dead shall arise Inited ina soul an flesh - an pon the time persons cast unu toward Gehannem...² if unu work whether the good or the evil - unu will receive your reward like unto your Work - fe unu have misled them companions reasonin while unu said - "Wi know that persons who dead - who were dust an ashes - won't arise."³ As them death have no exit - an as them have no Power fe them chastisemant that shall come pon them - an as them weren't firm in the tribulation - because of the thing they misled their companions ~ for they have that they might stand in the JAH Square.⁴ Upon the time Him vexed upon them in His wrath they will totally fear ~ because they didn't know that they were irritated bringing from not living toward living - as they speak JAH LAW without knowing - it shall be judged upon them all because they worked evil.⁵ They don't know Gehennem where they will go - for because they were angry and because they were crooked in their Work - they teach for them companions like unto them reasoning in thirst measure - and for them are evil ones who teach a crooked thing while they said - "There are no Resurrection of dead ones."⁶ At that time they shall know that persons who dead shall arise - and they shall know that it shall be judged upon them because they didn't believe the persons who dead arising that are for all 'Adam children.⁷ For all Inl are 'Adam children - and for Inl have dead because 'Adam - and for death judgement have found Inl all from alongside JAH because Inl feared 'Adam error.⁸ Inl will again arise there with Inl feared 'Adam that Inl might receive Inl hardship by Inl Work that Inl worked - for the world have been ruled for death by Inl feared 'Adam ignorance.⁹ By 'Adam infringing JAH Command - because of the thing Inl received hardship ~ Inl flesh in a grave melted like unto wax - and Inl bodies perished.¹⁰ An Earth drank Inl marrow ~ Inl perished and Inl comeliness perished in a grave - and Inl flesh were buried in a grave - and Inl beautiful words were buried in Earth.¹¹ An worms proceeded from Inl shining eyes - and Inl features perished in a grave and became dust.¹² Where are your monstrous features comeliness - who were attractive - whose stance were handsome and whose word thing succeeded? How about where are warriors firmness?¹³ Where are the kings armies - or how about the nobles lordship? Where are adorned in horses and adorned in silver and gold and adorned in shining weapons? Didn't it perish?¹⁴ Where are sweet grape drink - and how about food flavour?

CHAPTER 19 'O Earth who gathered the nobles and the kings and rich ones and elders and daws who were attractive and beauties who were attractive - woe arising from thee-I.² O Earth who gathered persons who were warriors - them who have comeliness - and them who were fine of leg - and them who have reason in an knowledge - an them whose words have words that were beautiful like unto a hummin harp an like unto a lyre an a violin beat...³ an them who have a tune that mek Irie like unto grape drink mek Irie - an them whose eyes shine like unto a mornin star...⁴ an them who sketch what were firm like unto them right hands lift up what are given an withheld an like unto them were - an them whose feet were beautiful fe sight up - an them who run like unto rushin wheels - woe arisin from thee-I.⁵ O death who separated attractive persons souls from them flesh - woe arisin from thee-I - fe thou have been sent by JAH Accord.⁶ As thou have gathered many persons whom JAH produced from thee-I an returned toward thee-I - thou Earth - woe arisin from thee-I ~ Inl were found from thee-I ~ Inl returned toward thee-I by Accord of JAH ~ Inl were Irie over thee-I by JAH Accord.⁷ Thou became a carpet fe Inl corpses ~ Inl recurred over thee-I - an Inl were buried within thee-I ~ Inl ate thy fruit - an thou ate Inl flesh.⁸ An Inl drank the Water found from thy springs - an thou drank Inl blood springs ~ Inl ate the fruit found from thy Earthliness - an thou ate Inl body flesh.⁹ Like unto JAH commanded thee-I fe be Inl food - Inl ate grain from thy Earthliness that have beautiful dew - an thou raceived Inl fleh comeliness an made it dust fe thy food like unto JAH commanded thee-I.¹⁰ O death who gathered the nobles an the kings who were powerful - woe arisin from thee-I ~ thou didn't fear arisin from them famousness an them frightenin - like unto JAH Who Irated them commanded thee-I ~ o death - woe arisin from thee-I - an thou didn't scorn the sufferah.¹¹ An thou weren't nice fe persons whose features are beautiful - an thou didn't quit powerful ones an warriors ~ thou didn't quit poor nor rich ones - neither kind nor evil ones - neither childran nor elders - neither dawat nor males.¹² Thou didn't quit persons who think a goodly thing an who didn't depart from the LAW - an thou didn't quit them who were like unto animals in them Work - who think a evil thing - who were totally beautiful in them features comeliness - in them thing flavour an in them words ~ o death - woe arisin from thee-I.¹³ Thou didn't quit persons whose words were angry an whose mouths were full of curses ~ thou gathered persons who live in darkness an in a light an them souls in thy places ~ o death - woe arisin from thee-I.¹⁴ An Earth gathered the persons flesh who live whether ina cave or ina Earth - up til a drum are beaten an persons who dead arise.¹⁵ As persons who dead shall arise quickly like unto a eye wink by JAH Command an pon a drum bein beaten - persons who worked evil Work shall raceive them hardship ina them sin abundance measure that them worked it - an persons who worked goodly Work shall be Irie.

CHAPTER 20 ¹An believe I that all Inl Work that Inl worked ina this world won't remain nor be hidden pon the time Inl stood before Him fearin an tremblin.² An pon the time Inl didn't seize provisions fe Inl path - an pon the time Inl won't have clothes fe Inl bodies...³ pon the time Inl won't have a staff fe Inl hands nor shoes fe Inl feet...⁴ an pon the time Inl won't know the paths where demons tek Inl - whether it be slippery or smooth - or be it dark - an whether it be thorns or nettles - or whether it be a Water depth or a pit depth - believe I that Inl Work that Inl worked ina this world won't remain nor be hidden.⁵ Inl won't know the demons who tek Inl - an Inl won't hear them thing.⁶ As them are black ones - an as them lead Inl toward darkness - Inl don't sight up them faces.⁷ An like unto the prophet spoke sayin - "Pon the time I soul were separated from I flesh - Lord I Lord - Thou know I path - an them hid a trap pon that path where I-man went - an I-man sight up returnin toward the right ~ I-man lacked one who know I - an I-man have nothing there whereby I-man will escape" - as them tek Inl toward darkness - Inl won't sight up them faces.⁸ As him know that demons ridicule pon him - an as them will lead him toward the path him don't know - him speakin this are becaudis - an if him return leftward an rightward - there are no person who know him.⁹ Him are alone amidst demons - an yet there are none who know him.¹⁰ Angels of Light who are subtle are who are sent toward kind persons that them might raceive righteous ones souls - an might tek toward a Light place - toward the Garden - where welfare are found.¹¹ Demons an Angels of darkness are who are sent that them might raceive them an might tek them toward Gehannem that were prepared fe them that them might raceive them hardship by them sin that them worked.¹² Woe fe sinner persons souls who tek them toward downstruction - who have no welfare nor rest - nor escapin from the tribulation that found them - nor proceedin from Gehannem up til lternity.¹³ As them have lived firmed up ina Qayel Work - an as them have perished by Bele`am iniquity price - an as them have lacked what them will do - woe fe sinner persons - fe them pretext fe raceive interest an presents that ina downgression them might tek a foreigner money that weren't them money.¹⁴ Them shall raceive them hardship ina Gehannem by them sin that them worked.

CHAPTER 21 ¹Where are persons who gather a foreigner money that weren't them hands Work nor them money?² Fe them tek a person money for free - an fe them shll be gathered without knowin the day when them dead that shall arrive pon them - however them quit them money for a foreigner.³ Fe like unto them faadas - them are sinners kindreds who worry an seize sinners like unto them whether it be by theft or by robbery - an them childran won't be lrie by them faadas money.⁴ As them have gathered fe them ina downgression - an as it are like unto misty urine an like unto the smoke that wind scattar an like unto wiltin grass - an like unto wax that melt arisin from before a fiyah - as sinners glory shall perish like unto that - there are none whom them faadas money will benefit ~ like unto Daweet spoke sayin - "I-man sight up a sinner man...⁵ bein honoured an famed like unto a cordia an like unto a cypress - but pon the time I-man returned I-man lacked him ~ I-man searched an didn't find him place" - there are none whom them faadas money will profit nor benefit.⁶ Becau them gathered a person money ina downgression - it seemin fe them that them won't dead - like unto persons who wrong them companions won't boast - sinner persons downstruction are likewise at one time.⁷ Unu lazy ones - think that unu will perish an that your money will perish with unu - an if your silver an your gold abound it shall be rusted.⁸ An if unu birth many childran them shall be fe many graves - an if unu work many houses them shall be demolished.⁹ Fe unu didn't fulfill your Irator JAH Accord - an if unu multiply livestock them shall be for your enemies capture - an all the money unu seized ina your hands won't be found - fe it have been what weren't blessed.¹⁰ Whether it be ina house or ina forest - an be it ina wilderness or a pasture place - an be it ina grape threshinfloor or ina grain threshin floor - it won't be found.¹¹ Becau unu didn't keep JAH Command - as JAH won't save unu with all your house hold from the tribulation - there shall be sadness pon unu arisin from all your enemies - yet unu won't be Irie ina your childran birthed from your nature.¹² But from Him plenty - Him won't trouble persons who kept Him Order an Him LAW ~ Him give all who begged Him - yet Him bless them childran birthed from them nature an also them land fruit fe them.¹³ An Him mek them rulers pon all peoples ina them area that them might rule lest them be who are ruled - an Him give them all Him plenty ina them pasture place.¹⁴ Him bless fe them all them seized ina them hand - all them field fruit - an all them livestock's places - an Him mek them Irie in them childran birthed from them nature.¹⁵ An Him don't diminish them livestock's pon them ~ Him save them from all them tribulation an from weariness an illness an downstruction - an from them enemy them don't know an from him them know.¹⁶ An Him will dispute fe them ina Judgement time - an Him shall save them from a evil thing an from tribulation an from all who dispute them ~ ina the first era if a priest lived who work the Tent

Work - who keep the LAW an keep the Tent Order an live firmed up ina JAH Accord - by the first Order an all the LAW as them would give him the tithe an what were birthed first Iginnin from man up til livestock - Him would save them from all the tribulation.¹⁷ Like unto Mussie commanded Newie child 'Iyasu - there was a country of sanctuary ina all them country ~ by not knowin an by knowin up til them judged judgemant pon whom them convicted an fe whom them acquitted...¹⁸ if a person lived who killed a soul - him would be measured there that him might be saved.¹⁹ Him told them - "Examine ina your reasonins that him have a quarrel with him formerly - an be it by axe or be it by a stone or be it by wood - as it have fallen from him hand by not knowin - if him say "That person pon whom it fell dead pon mi" - examine an save him ~ if him did it ina not knowin mek him be saved.²⁰ But if him do it knowin - him will receive him hardship like unto him sin - an there are none who will pardon him but if him kill him ina not knowin - as him have done it ina not knowin - examine an save him lest him dead.²¹ Him worked fe them that them might distance from all the sin - yet Mussie would work like unto this fe 'Isra'iel childran lest them depart from JAH LAW.²² Him commanded them that 'Adam childran - who live firmed up ina JAH Command from worshipping idols an eatin what dead an lodged an what a sword bloated an cut - an who distance from all evil work like unto him worked fe them - that them might work it an might totally distance from all that aren't due.²³ Him commanded them lest them depart from the Command Him worked fe them ina the Tent example ina Heaven - that them might save them bodies an might find them lodgin with them faadas.²⁴ As them have been birthed from Siet an 'Adam who did JAH Accord - persons who believed ina JAH Word an lived firmed up ina Him Command will be called kind persons childran.²⁵ As Inl are 'Adam childran - as Him have Irated Inl ina Him Example an Him Appearance that Inl might work all goodly Work that mek JAH Irie - Him won't scorn it.²⁶ As Him totally won't separate Him friends - if Inl work goodly Work - Inl shall inherit the Kingdom of Heaven where are welfare with persons who work goodly Work.²⁷ Him totally love persons who beg him cleanly - an Him hear them ina them priah - an Him accept the repentance of persons who are disciplined an enter repentance ~ Him give firmness an Power fe persons who keep Him Order an Him LAW an Him Command.²⁸ Persons who did Him Accord shall be Irie with Him ina Him Kingdom foriva - an whether them be persons who preceded or who arose later - them will present praise fe Him lginnin from today up til Iternity.

BOOK OF MEQABYAN III

CHAPTER 1 ¹Kristos shall rejoice Gibts persons - becau Him shall come toward them ina later era that Him will revenge an downstroy Deeyablos - who wronged them who were kindly an innocent - an who misled persons - an who hate him Irator Work.² Him shall revenge an downstroy him ~ Him shall return him lordship toward wretchedness an bein downbased - fe him have been arrogant ina him reasonin.³ Him shall return him lordship toward bein downbased - fe him have said - "As mi will enter toward the sea midst - an as mi will proceed toward Heaven - an as mi will sight up depths - an as mi will grasp an seize 'Adam childran like unto bird chicks - who are it who are loftier than mi?⁴ Becau mi became by them reason that mi might distance them from the straight LAW of JAH - as mi will strengthen pon persons who live ina this world unless them did JAH Accord - there are none who will depose mi from mi authority" him said.⁵ "Fe mi will be a reason fe return them toward a path that were smooth fe go toward Gehannem with mi.⁶ Persons who loved Him an kept Him LAW hate mi becaudis thing - but persons who departed from them Lord LAW an who erred will come toward mi an love mi an keep mi oath ~ as mi will mek them reasonin evil an change them thoughts lest them return toward them Irator JAH - them will do mi command like unto mi commanded them.⁷ An pon the time mi showed them this world money - mi will mislead them reasonin from straight LAW - an pon the time mi showed them beautiful an attractive dawtaz - mi will distance them by these from straight LAW.⁸ An pon the time mi showed them shinin Hindekie jewels an silver an gold - mi will distance them by this also from straight LAW that them might return toward mi Work.⁹ An pon the time mi showed them thin clothes an red silk an white silk - an linens an white silk - mi will distance them by this also from straight LAW - an mi will return them toward mi thoughts ~ pon the time mi multiplied money an livestocks like unto sand an showed them - by this also mi will return them toward mi Work.¹⁰ An pon the time mi showed them jealousy done in arrogance becau dawtaz an becau anger an quarrels - by all this mi will return them toward mi Work.¹¹ An pon the time mi showed them signs - mi will lodge ina them companions reasonin - an mi will lodge a sign thing that were fe each of the ras selves ina them reasonin - an mi showed them words signs an misled them.¹² An fe persons ina whom mi lodged mi lodgin - mi will show them signs - an be it ina stars gait - or be it ina cloud proceedin or ina fiyah flickerin - or be it ina beasts an birds cries - as them are mi lodgins - mi will lodge signs ina them reasonin pon them by all this.¹³ Them will speak an give signs fe them companions - an like unto those them naysayers told them - mi will precede an be a sign fe them.¹⁴ Mi will do them words signs fe them - that persons who examined them might be misled - an that them might give a wage fe magicians - an that them might tell fe them companions sayin - 'There are no savants like unto so-an-so an so-an-so fe whom it are done like unto them spoke - an who know prophecy - an who separate good an evil - an fe whom all are like unto them spoke - an fe whom it are done like unto them word.¹⁵ Mi will be Irie pon the time them spoke this - that persons who perish an err by mi might totally abound an that 'Adam childran might perish - fe JAH have downbased mi from mi rank becau them faada 'Adam - pon mi sayin 'Mi won't bow fe 'Adam who are downbased fe mi.'¹⁶ An mi will tek toward downstruction all him childran who live firmed up ina mi command ~ mi have a Oath from JAH Who Irated mi - that all persons whom mi misled might downscend toward Gehannem with mi.¹⁷ An pon the time Him multiplied Him anger pon mi - an pon the time Him commanded that them might bind an cast mi toward Gehannem - pon the time mi Irator commanded sayin thus - mi interceded with mi Lord ~ mi interceded before Him while mi said - 'As Thou have vexed pon mi - an as Thou have admonished mi by Thy chastisemant - an as Thou have chastised mi by Thy wrath - Lord mi Lord - adjourn mi that mi might speak one thing before Thee-I.'¹⁸

An mi Lord answered fe mi sayin - Speak - I-man will hear thee ~ at that time mi began mi plea toward Him sayin - 'After mi were downbased from mi rank - mek the persons whom mi misled be like unto mi ina Gehannem where mi will raceive tribulation.¹⁹ An mek them be fe Thy Lordship who refused mi - who didn't err by mi - who didn't keep mi command - that them might do Thy Command an might fulfill Thy Accord an might keep Thy Word - pon the time them didn't err by mi like unto mi misled them havin refused like unto mi taught them - an pon the time Thou loved mi - mek them tek the crown Thou gave fe mi.²⁰ Give them the crown of the authorities called Seythans who were sent with mi ~ seat them pon mi throne pon Thy Right that were a wilderness from mi an mi hosts.²¹ An mek them praise Thee-I like unto Thou loved - an mek them be like unto mi hosts an like unto mi ~ becau Thou hated mi an loved them who were Irated from ashes an Earth - as mi authority have perished - an as them authority have been lofty - mek them praise Thee-I like unto Thou loved.'²² Mi Lord answered fe mi sayin - As thou have misled them while them sight up an while them heard - if thou misled them without them lovin I Order - mek them be fe thee like unto thy accord an like unto thy word.²³ If them quit the Books Word an I Command an came toward thee - an if thou misled them while them downstruction also saddened mi - mek them raceive tribulation ina Gehannem like unto thee - Him told mi.²⁴ Unu will raceive tribulation ina Gehannem up til the Iternity - yet unu will have no exits from Gehannem up til the Iternity - fe them whom thou misled nor fe thee.

CHAPTER 2 'But I-man shall bequeath thy throne ina lordship fe them whom it failed thee fe mislead - like unto I slave 'Iyob ~ JAH Who rule all said - I-man will give the Kingdom of Heaven fe persons whom it failed thee fe mislead.² An mi provoke pon 'Adam childran ina all ~ if it were possible fe mi fe mislead them - mi won't quit them that them might firm up ina goodly Work ~ fe mi provoke pon all 'Adam childran - an mi sweeten this world Irie ltes fe them.³ Be it by lovin drink an food an clothes - or by lovin things - or by withholdin an givin...⁴ or be it by lovin fe hear an sight up - or be it by lovin fe caress an go - or be it by multiplyin arrogance an things - or be it by lovin dreams an slumber...⁵ or be it by multiplyin drunkenness an drink - or be it by multiplyin insults an anger - be it by speakin games an useless things...⁶ or be it by quarrels an by backbitin them companion - or be it by sightin up this world dawtaz who were attractive - be it by smellin perfumes fragrance that mislead them...⁷ mi hate them by all this lest them able fe be saved ~ mi distance them from JAH LAW that them might enter with mi toward the downstruction whereby mi were downbased from mi rank."⁸ An the prophet told him - "Thou who downstroy persons - perish ~ pon the time thou departed from JAH LAW an committed crime ina thy reasonin firmness an thy arrogance - an by saddenin thy Irator an not worshippin thy Irator ina thy reasonin firmness - will thou thus be arrogant pon JAH Iration?"⁹ Pon the time thy Irator vexed pon thee - Him downbased thee from thy rank becau thy evil Work ~ why do thou tek 'Adam toward sin - him whom him Irator Irated from Earth - whom Him made like unto Him loved - an whom Him placed fe Him praise?" him told him.¹⁰ "Pon the time thou - who are subtle an were Irated from wind an fiyah - were arrogant ina sayin 'Mi are the Irator'...¹¹ pon the time thou boasted - as JAH have sight up thy evil Work an thou have denied JAH with thy hosts - Him Irated 'Adam who will praise becau thy stead - that him might praise Him Name without diminishin.¹² As thou have made thy ras self prouder than all Angels hosts who are like unto thee - becau thy arrogance JAH Irated 'Adam with him childran that them might praise JAH Name becau the praise that thou praise with thy hosts whom Him scorned.¹³ An becaudis thing JAH downstroyed thee separatin from all Angels chiefs like unto thee - an thy hosts Irated ina one counsel with thee - an thou - unu proceeded an erred from JAH praise becau your useless reasonin arrogance an becau your reasonin firmness - an unu were arrogant pon your Irator - that aren't pon another.¹⁴ Becaudis thing Him Irated 'Adam from Earth that Him might be praised by downbased persons - an Him gave him a Command an Law sayin Don't eat lest him eat from fig fruit.¹⁵ An Him I-pointed him pon all the Iration Him Irated ~ Him notified him sayin - Don't eat from one fig fruit that bring death - lest thou bring death pon thy ras self - yet eat fruit from all the woods amidst the Garden.¹⁶ An pon the time thou heard this Word - thou lodged perfidy ina him arisin from the thing thou spoke ina thy tongue fe Hiewan who were found from 'Adam side bone.¹⁷ Thou misled 'Adam who were clean - ina firm perfidy that thou might mek him a Law demolisher like unto thee.¹⁸ Pon the time thou misled Hiewan - who were Irated bein like unto a innocent dove an who don't know thy malice - thou made she betray by thy thing that succeeded an thy crooked word - an after thou misled that Hiewan who were Irated beforehand - she also went an misled JAH Iration 'Adam who were Irated from Earth beforehand.¹⁹ An thou made him betray a downsturbance that aren't by thy arrogance - an thou made him fe deny that him might deny him Irator Word - an thou downstroyed 'Adam ina thy arrogance.²⁰ An ina thy malice thou distanced him from him Irator Love - an by thy reason thou sent him way from the Garden where Irie ltes are - an by thy hindrance thou made him quit the Garden food.²¹ Fe Iginnin from Antiquity thou have quarreled with the innocent Iration 'Adam that thou might lower him toward See'o/ where thou will receive hardship - an that thou might send him way from the Love that brought him an Irated him from not livin toward true livin

- an by thy false thing thou made him thirst a drink from the Garden.²² An when him are Earthly - Him made him a subtle Angel who totally praise him Irator ina him flesh an him soul an him reasonin.²³ An Him Irated many thoughts fe him - like unto harps praise ina each of them styles.

CHAPTER 3 ¹But Him Irated one thought fe thee - that thou might totally praise while thou were sent toward where thy Irator sent thee.² But fe 'Adam were given five thoughts that were evil an five thoughts that were goodly - ten thoughts.³ An again him have many thoughts like unto sea waves - an like unto a whirl wind that scattar dust liftin up from Earth - an like unto the sea waves that shake - an arisin from him unnumbered thoughts abundance ina him heart like unto unnumbered rain drops - 'Adam thoughts are like unto that.⁴ But thy thought are one ~ as thou aren't fleshly - thou have no other thought.⁵ But thou lodged ina snake reasonin ~ ina evil perfidy thou downstroyed 'Adam who were one limb - an Hiewan heard the snake thing - an havin heard - she did like unto she commanded she.⁶ After she ate a fig fruit - she came an misled JAH first Iration

'Adam - an she brought death pon him an pon she childran becau she infringed she Irator Command.⁷ Them proceeded from the Garden fe JAH by Him true Judgeman ~ Him calmed them ina the land where they were sent by them childran birthed from them nature an by them crops found from Earth - yet Him didn't distance them from the Garden quarrelin.⁸ An pon the time thou expelled them straight from the Garden - that them might plant plants an childran fe be calmed an fe renew them reasonin ina the Earth fruit that Earth prepared from she Earthliness - an that them might be calmed by Earth fruit an the Garden fruit that JAH gave them...⁹ JAH gave them woods more verdant than the Garden woods - an Hiewan an 'Adam - whom thou sent way from the Garden pon them eatin it - were totally calmed from sadness.¹⁰ As JAH know fe calm Him Iration - them reasonins are calmed becau them childran an becau the crops found from Earth.¹¹ As them have been sent toward this world that grow nettles an thorns - them firm up them reasonins ina Water an grain.

CHAPTER 4 ¹The Lord have that Him might ransom 'Adam - an

Him shall shame thee ~ Him will save a sheep from a wolf mouth ('Adam from Deeyablos).² However thou will go toward Gehannem seizin with thee the persons whom thou ruled.³ Persons who kept them Irator JAH LAW shall be Irie with them Irator JAH Who hid them from evil Work that Him might mek them Him fortune - an that them might praise Him with honoured Angels who didn't infringe them Irator JAH LAW like unto thee.⁴ But JAH - Who chose an gave thee more than all Angels like unto thee that thou might praise Him with Him servant Angels - withheld from thee a lofty throne ina thy arrogance.⁵ But thou became famous an were called one who love godhood - an thy hosts were called demons.⁶ But persons who loved JAH shall be Him kindreds like unto honoured Angels - an the Surafiel an Keerubiel who praise Him stretch forth them wings an praise without slackness.⁷ But ina thy arrogance an thy laziness thou downstroyed thy praise that thou might praise Him everytime with thy host an thy kindreds Irated ina thy features.⁸ Lest the praise of JAH - Who Irated thee makin a tenth tribe - be diminished pon the time thou forgot the praise of JAH Who

Irated thee - it havin seemed fe thee that it aren't possible fe Him fe Irate a Iration like unto thee - an lest the praise of JAH - Who Irated thee - be diminished pon the time thou were separated from thy bredren Inity - Him Irated 'Adam becau thy stead.⁹ But ina thy reasonin arrogance thou neglected the praise of JAH Who Irated thee - an Him vexed pon thee ~ Him ridiculed thee - an Him bound an banished thee ina Gehannem with thy hosts also.¹⁰ Him brought Soil from Earth with Him glorified Hands - an addin fiyah an Water an wind - Him Irated 'Adam ina Him Example an Him Features.¹¹ Him I-pointed him pon all the Iration Him Irated ina Him Itority - that Him praise might be filled by the praise thou would praise Him ~ 'Adam praise became one with Angels praise - an them praise were level.¹² But ina thy collar of reasonin firmness an thy arrogance thou were downbased from thy rank - an havin departed from JAH Lordship - Who Irated thee - thou downstroyed thy ras self.¹³ Know that Him praise weren't diminished - fe JAH have Irated 'Adam who praised Him ina him reasonin counsel lest Him JAH-ness praise be diminished.¹⁴ Fe Him know all before it are done - an Him knew thee before Him Irated thee that thou will demolish Him Command ~ as there are a counsel hidden alongside Him before Him Irated the world - pon the time thou denied Him - Him Irated Him slave 'Adam ina Him Features an Him Example.¹⁵ Like unto Selomon spoke sayin - 'Before hills were Irated an before the world succeeded bein Irated - an before winds that are Earth grounations were Irated...¹⁶ an before Him firmed up hills an mountains grounations - an before this world Work firmed up - an before moon an Sun light shone - before eras an stars caretakin were known...¹⁷ an before daylight an night alternated - an before the sea were delineated by sand - before all the Irated Iration were Irated...¹⁸ an before all sight up today were sight up - before all the names called today were called - Him Irated I Selomon' - Angels like unto unu an thou an Him slave 'Adam were ina JAH Reasonin.¹⁹ Him Irated 'Adam that Him glorified Name might be praised pon the time thou mutinied - an that Him might be praised by Him downbased slave 'Adam who were Irated from Earth pon the time thou were arrogant.²⁰ Fe bein ina Heaven JAH hear poor ones plea - an Him love downbased persons praise.²¹ Him love fe save havin lodged ina persons who fear Him - yet as Him don't love horse Power - an as Him don't step meanin fe the lap of a concubine - JAH shall ignore arrogant ones thing.²² An them shall weep while them cried becau them sin that them worked.²³ It failed thee fe plead ina repentance.²⁴ But 'Adam who were Irated from Earth returned ina repentance while him totally wept before JAH becau him sin.²⁵ But ina thy collar of reasonin firmness an thy heart arrogance thou didn't know Love Work an thou didn't know repentance ~ it failed thee fe plead before thy Irator JAH ina repentance an mournin an sadness.²⁶ But that 'Adam who are ashes an Earth returned toward repentance ina mournin an sadness - an him returned toward humbleness an Love Work.²⁷ But thou didn't downbase thy reasonin an thy ras self fe JAH Who Irated thee.²⁸ As fe 'Adam - him downbased him ras self an pleaded pon the iniquity him wronged ~ him weren't proud.²⁹ As thou have totally produced crime - it were found from thee - yet it aren't him who produced that error ~ ina thy arrogance thou took him with thee toward thy downstruction.³⁰

Before him Irated unu both - as Him have known unu that unu were sinners - an as Him have known your Works - Him know that this that were done were in thy heart arrogance.³¹ But Him returned that 'Adam - who were without arrogance or malice - in a repentance mournin an sadness.³² Fe a person who wrong an don't plead in a repentance have multiplied him iniquity more than him earlier iniquity - but in a thy heart arrogance it failed thee fe plead in a repentance - but a person who plead an weep enterin repentance before Him Irator JAH...³³ him entered repentance fe true - an him found Work whereby him will be saved that him might fear him Lord Heart - an him pleaded before him Irator - fe him have pleaded before Him in a bowin an much repentance - an arisin from the earlier tribulation the Lord shall lighten him sin fe him lest Him vex pon Him slave - an Him will forgive him him former sin.³⁴ If him didn't return toward him former sin an if him did this - this are perfect repentance ~ 'Adam didn't forget fe think of him Irator nor fe implore him Irator JAH in a repentance.³⁵ An thou - plea in a repentance toward thy Irator JAH - an don't wrong them becau them were flesh an blood - fe JAH Who Irated them know them weakness - an don't wrong the persons Him Irated by Him ltority.³⁶ An after them soul were separated from them flesh - them flesh shall be dust up til the day that JAH love.

CHAPTER 5 ¹Know JAH WHO Irated thee-I ~ as JAH have Irated thee-I in a Him Features an Him Example when thou are Earth - don't forget JAH Who firmed thee-I up an saved thee-I an Whom 'Isra'iel glorified ~ Him placed thee-I in a Garden that thou might be Irie an might dig Earth.² Pon the time thou demolished Him Command - Him sent thee way from the Garden toward this world that Him cursed becau thee - that grow nettles an thorns.³ Fe thou are Earth - an fe she are Earth - fe thou are dust - an fe she are dust - fe thou are Soil - an fe she are Soil - fe thou are fed the grain found from she - an fe thou will return toward she - fe thou will be Soil up til Him love that Him might raise thee - an fe Him shall examine thee the sin thou worked an all the iniquity.⁴ Know what thou will answer Him at that time ~ think of the good an evil thou worked in a this world ~ examine whether the evil would abound or whether the good would abound ~ try.⁵ If thou work a goodly thing - it are a goodly thing fe thee-I that thou might be lrie pon the day when persons who dead will arise.⁶ But if thou work evil Work - woe fe thee - fe thou will raceive thy hardship like unto thy hands Work an like unto thy reasonin evil ~ fe if thou work a evil thing pon thy companion an if thou didn't fear JAH - thou will raceive thy hardship.⁷ An if thou betray thy companion an if thou call JAH Name an swear ina lie - as thou will raceive thy hardship like unto thy Work - woe fe thee.⁸ An thou tell thy false thing fe thy companion simulatin Truth - but thou know that thou spoke a lie.⁹ An thou persuade the persons with thee thy false thing simulatin Truth - an thou multiply false things that weren't Truth - an thou will raceive thy hardship like unto thy sin ~ thou deny thy companion while thou tell thy companion 'mi will give thee' what thou won't give him.¹⁰ An pon the time thou said 'Mi will give' ina thy pure reasonin - demons mek application fe thee like unto dogs - an them mek thee forget all - an if thou withhold or if thou love that thou might give - them don't know the person fe whom them gather - yet as Him have said - Them shall fatten - this world money appetise thee that thou might fatten the money that won't benefit thee an that thou won't eat.¹¹ An again - as Him have said - 'Adam liar childran mek a balance false ~ as fe them - them go from robbery toward robbery - this world money appetise thee.¹² O persons - don't mek hope ina distortin scales an balances - an ina stealin a person money - an ina makin a person money one ina downgression - an ina infringin your companions money - an ina stealin him field - ina all the lies unu do fe your ras selves profit that aren't fe your companions.¹³ If unu do this unu will raceive your hardship like unto your Work.¹⁴ O persons - be fed by your hands Work that were straight - yet don't desire robbery ~ don't love that unu might totally rob an eat a person money without justice by what aren't due.¹⁵ An if unu eat it - it won't satta unu ~ pon the time unu dead unu will quit it fe another - yet even if unu fatten - it won't benefit unu.¹⁶ An if your money abound - don't distort your reasonins ~ as sinner persons money are like unto the smoke that proceed from a griddle an the wind tek it - better than sinner persons money are the likkle money them accumulated ina Truth.

CHAPTER 6 ¹Think of the day when unu will dead ~ pon the time your souls were separated from your flesh - an pon the time unu quit your money fe another - an pon the time unu went pon the path unu don't know - think of the tribulation that shall come pon unu.² An the demons that will raceive unu are evil - an them features are ugly - an them are frightenin ina them splendour - an them won't hear your words - an unu won't hear them words.³ An becau unu didn't do your Irator JAH Accord - them won't hear unu ina your plea pon the time unu begged them ~ becaudis thing them will totally frighten unu.⁴ But persons who fulfilled JAH Accord have no fear - fe demons fear them. But demons shall ridicule sinner persons souls pon them.⁵ But kind persons souls shall be Irie pon Angels ina Irie ltes - fe them shall totally mek them Irie becau them scorned this world - but angels who are evil shall raceive sinner persons souls.⁶ Pardon Angels shall raceive kind persons an righteous ones souls - fe them are sent from JAH that them might calm righteous ones souls ~ as Angels that were evil are sent from Deeyablos that them might ridicule pon sinner persons souls - demons shall raceive sinner persons souls.⁷ Sinner persons - woe fe unu ~ weep fe your ras selves before the day when unu dead arrive pon unu ~ pon the time unu reach toward JAH...⁸ enter repentance ina your era that are there before your era pass - that unu might live ina Irieness an ltes without tribulation nor disease - yet as after unu dead your era won't return that passed - weep.⁹ Lest it be pon unu toward a vain accord that distance from JAH - ina your firm criticism mek lovin fe be lavished an food an Irie ltes not be found ina unu ~ as a body that are sated without measure won't think of JAH Name - Deeyablos wealth shall lodge pon it - yet as the Hola Spirit won't lodge ina it - mek lovin the Irie ltes not be found ina unu.¹⁰ Like unto Mussie spoke - Mussie havin said - "Ya`iqob ate an were sated an fattened an tall an wide - an JAH Who Irated him were separated from him."¹¹ An him lifestyle distanced from JAH" - as a body that were sated without measure nor moderation won't think of JAH Name - mek lovin Irie ltes not be found alongside unu ~ as belly satiety without measure are bein like unto a boar an like unto a wanderin horse - mek drinkin an eatin without measure an adultery not be found ina unu.¹²

But a person who eat in a measure shall live firmed up in a JAH Support - an him shall live firmed up like unto the horizon an like unto a tower that have a stone fence a person who forgot JAH LAW shall flee without one livin who chase him.¹³ A kind person shall live in a bein respected like unto a lion.¹⁴ But persons who don't love JAH won't keep Him LAW - an them reasonins aren't straight.¹⁵ An JAH shall bring sadness an alarm pon them when they are in a this world - an bein seized in a tremblin an fright - an bein seized in a the tribulations without number by them money bein snatched - bein bound by them hands in a chains from them masters hands...¹⁶ lest them be who rested from the tribulation - an lest them lifestyle be in a lrie ltes - lest them rest when they are in a alarmin tribulations that are pon each of them ras selves - Him shall bring sadness an alarm pon them.

CHAPTER 7 ¹But like unto Daweet spoke sayin - "I-man believed in a JAH ~ I-man won't fear havin said - 'What would a person mek I?'" - there are no fright an alarm pon persons who believed in a JAH.² An again like unto him spoke sayin - "If warriors surround I - I-man believed in a Him ~ I-man begged JAH one thing ~ I-man seek that" - persons who believed in a Him have no fright pon them ~ a person who believed in a Him shall live in a Life foriva - an him won't fear arisin from a evil thing.³ Who are a person who shamed believin in JAH? how about who ignored Him fe a desire?⁴ As Him have said - I-man love him who loved I - an I-man shall honour him who glorified I ~ I-man shall keep him who returned toward I in a repentance - who are a person who shamed believin in a Him?⁵ Judge Truth an save the widow body ~ save them that JAH might save unu from all that oppose unu in a evil thing ~ keep them ~ as kind persons childran are honoured - them are given makin a profit - an yet Him shall save your childran after unu - fe them won't be troubled fe grain.

CHAPTER 8 ¹Iyob believed in a JAH ~ as him didn't neglect fe praise him Irator JAH - JAH saved him from all the tribulation that 'Adam childran enemy Deeyablos brought pon him ~ him said - "JAH gave ~ JAH withheld ~ it happened like unto JAH loved pon I - an mek JAH Name be praised by all pon Earth an in a Heaven" - yet as him didn't sadden him reasonin - JAH saved him.² An pon the time JAH sight up 'lyob that him heart were cleansed from sin - Him received him ina much honour.³ An Him gave him money that abounded more than him money that preceded ~ fe him have totally indured him tribulation - an Him cured him from him wounds becau him indurin all the tribulation that arrived pon him.⁴ An if unu like unto him indure the tribulation arisin from demons sent toward unu - unu will be admired.⁵ Indure the tribulation ~ that JAH might be fe unu a fortress Refuge from persons who hate unu - an that Him might be a fortress Refuge fe your childran childran an fe your childran after unu - don't sadden your reasonins arisin from the tribulation that came pon unu ~ believe ina Him - an Him shall be a fortress Refuge fe unu.⁶ Beg Him ~ Him will hear unu ~ mek hope - an Him will forgive unu ~ beg Him - an Him will be a Faada fe unu.⁷ Think of Merdokyos an 'Astier - Yodeet an Giediewon an Deebora an Bariq an Yoftahie an Somson...⁸ an other persons like unto them who were disciplined fe believe ina JAH an whose enemies didn't defeat them.⁹ Fe JAH are True - an fe Him don't favour havin sight up a face - but persons received hardship who love that them might work sin pon them ras selves ~ all persons who fear Him an keep Him LAW shall keep bodies - an Him shall give them bein I-loved an honour.¹⁰ Him shall mek them Irie ina them proceedin an them enterin - ina them Life an them death - an ina them arisin an sittin ~ Fe Him save - an Him seclude.¹¹ Fe Him sadden - an Him pardon.¹² Fe Him mek poor - an Him honour ~ Him mek wretched - an as Him honour - Him mek them Irie.

CHAPTER 9 ¹An whether it be what are ina Heaven - or whether it be what are pon Earth - an be it either subtle or stout - everything n all Him money live bein firmed up ina Him Order.² There are nothing that departed from JAH LAW an Him Order - Who lrated all the world ~ be it a vulture track that fly ina Heaven - Him command toward it destination where Him loved.³ An Him command a Earth snake path that live ina cave toward where Him loved - an a boat path that go pon sea - apart from only JAH there are none who know it path.⁴ An apart from only JAH - there are none who know the path where a soul go pon the time it were separated from it flesh - be it a righteous or a sinner soul.⁵ Who know where it will turn - that it would turn in a wilderness or on a mountain? or that it would fly like unto a bird - that it would be like unto Heaven dew that alight on a mountain...⁶ or that it would be like unto deep wind - or that it would be like unto lightning that straighten up its path...⁷ or that it would be like unto stars that shine amidst the deep - or that it would be like unto sand on a sea shore that are piled amidst the deep...⁸ or that it would be like unto a horizon stone that firmed up on the sea deep edge - or like unto a wood that give she beautiful fruit that grew by a Water spout...⁹ or that it would be that I likened unto the reed that heat of the Sun burnt - and that wind lift and tek toward another place where it didn't grow - and whose trace aren't found...¹⁰ or that it would be like unto misty urine whose trace aren't found - who know JAH Work? who are Him counsellors? how about with whom did Him counsel?¹¹ As JAH Thoughts are hidden from persons - who will examine and know Him Work?¹² As Him have Irated Earth on Water - and as Him have firmed she up without stakes - there are none who examine and know JAH Counsel or Him Wisdom - and Him Irated Heaven in Him perfect Wisdom and firmed it up in winds

- and Him stretched forth a lofty cosmos like unto a tent.¹³ Him commanded clouds that they might rain rain on Earth - and Him grow grass - and Him grow fruits without number for be food for persons - that I might believe in JAH and be Irie in Inity.¹⁴ JAH are Who give 'Adam children the Irie lites and all the fatness and all the satiety ~ JAH are Who give that they might satiate and praise JAH Who gave them fruit from Earth...¹⁵ and Who dressed them in beautiful robes - Who gave them all the I-loved plenty - the Irieness and the lites that are given for persons who fulfill JAH Accord.¹⁶ Him give being I-loved an honour in the house Him prepared and in the Kingdom of Heaven for them fathers who keep JAH LAW.¹⁷ Him give being I-loved an honour in the place Him prepared and in the Kingdom of Heaven for them fathers who lived firmed up in Him Worship and Him LAW - and who didn't depart from Him LAW - whom Him famed and raised that they might keep Him Order and Him LAW - and I-man sight up what JAH do for Him friends in this world by weakenin them enemies and by keepin them bodies.¹⁸ I-man sight up that Him give them all they begged Him and that Him fulfill them accord for them ~ don't depart from JAH - an fulfill JAH Accord.¹⁹ Don't depart from Him Command an Him LAW - lest Him vex pon unu an lest Him downstroy unu at one time - an lest Him vex an whip unu ina the tribulation from where unu lived formerly - lest unu depart from your faadas Order where unu were formerly - an lest uour lodgin be ina Gehannem where are no exits up til the Iternity.²⁰ Keep your Irator JAH LAW when your soul are separated from your flesh that Him might do goodly Work fe unu pon the time unu stood before JAH.²¹ Fe Earth an Heaven Kingdoms are fe Him - an fe Kingdom an capability are fe Him - an fe bein nice an pardonin are only fe Him.²² As Him mek rich an Him mek poor - as Him mek wretched an Him honour - keep JAH LAW.²³ An Daweet spoke becau Him while him said - "Man seem vain - an him era pass like unto a shadow."²⁴ Him spoke becau Him sayin - "But Lord - Thou live foriva - an Thy Name Invocation are fe a child childran."²⁵ An again him said - "Thy Kingdom are all the world Kingdom - an Thy Rulership are fe a child childran" ~ Thou returned a kingdom fe Daweet bringin from Sa'ol.²⁶ But there are none who will I-point Thee-I ~ there are none who can dismiss ~

Thou sight up all - yet there are none who can sight up Thee-I.²⁷ An Thy kingdom won't perish foriva fe a child childran ~ there are none who will rule Him - but Him rule all ~ Him sight up all - but there are none who sight Him up.²⁸ As Him have Irated man ina Him Features an ina Him example that them might praise Him an might know Him Worship ina straight reasonin without doubt - Him examine an know what kidneys smoked up an what a reasonin transported.²⁹ Yet them bow fe stone - fe wood - an fe silver an gold that a person hand worked.³⁰ An them sacrifice sacrifice fe them up til them sacrifice smoke proceed toward Heaven - that them sin might live firmed up before JAH - but yet them refused fe worship JAH Who Irated them ~ Him shall downcuse them becau all them sin that them worked ina worshipping them idols.³¹ Them learned bowin fe idols an all stained Work that aren't due - naysayin by stars - sorcery - worshipping idols - evil accord - an all the Work that JAH don't love - yet them didn't keep JAH Command that them learned.³² As them didn't love fe worship JAH that them might save them bodies from sin an iniquity by Him servants the Angels an by money that them praise before JAH - them work all this ina lackin goodly Work.³³ An pon the time them all arose together from the graves where them were buried an where them bodies perished - them souls shall stand empty before JAH - an them souls lived ina the Kingdom of Heaven prepared fe kind persons.³⁴ But sinner persons souls shall live ina Gehannem - an pon the time graves were opened - persons who dead shall arise - an souls shall return toward the flesh that them were separated formerly.³⁵ Like unto them were bithed ina them nakedness from them mother belly - them shall stand ina them nakedness before JAH - an them sins that them worked lginnin from them infancy up til that time shall be revealed.³⁶ Them shall receive them sin hardship pon them bodies - an whether them likkle or much sin - them shall receive them hardship like unto them sin.

CHAPTER 1 ¹And it came to pass in the first year of the exodus of the children of Israel out of Egypt, in the third month, on the sixteenth day of the month, that Gop spake to Moses, saying: "Come up to Me on the Mount, and I will give thee two tables of stone of the law and of the commandment, which I have written, that thou mayst teach them." ². And Moses went up into the mount of Gop, and the glory of the Lord abode on Mount Sinai, and a cloud overshadowed it six days. ³. And He called to Moses on the seventh day out of the midst of the cloud, and the appearance of the glory of the Lord was like a flaming fire on the top of the mount. ⁴. And Moses was on the Mount forty days and forty nights, and Gop taught him the earlier and the later history of the division of all the days of the law and of the testimony. ⁵, And He said: "Incline thine heart to every word which I shall speak to thee on this mount, and write them in a book in order that their generations may see how I have not forsaken them for all the evil which they have wrought in transgressing the covenant which I establish between Me and thee for their generations this day on Mount Sinai. ⁶. And thus it will come to pass when all these things come upon them, that they will recognise that I am more righteous than they in all their judgments and in all their actions, and they will recognise that I have been truly with them. ⁷. And do thou write for thyself all these words which I declare unto thee this day, for I know their rebellion and their stiff neck, before I bring them into the land of which I swore to their fathers, to Abraham and to Isaac and to Jacob, saying: "Unto your seed will I give a land flowing with milk and honey. ⁸. And they will eat and be satisfied, and they will turn to strange gods, to (gods) which cannot deliver them from aught of their tribulation: and this witness shall be heard for a witness against them. ⁹. For they will forget all My commandments, (even) all that I command them, and they will walk after the Gentiles, and after their uncleanness, and after their shame, and will serve their gods, and these will prove unto them an offence and a tribulation and an affliction and a snare. ¹⁰. And many will perish and they will be taken captive, and will fall into the hands of the enemy, because they have forsaken My ordinances and My commandments, and the festivals of My covenant, and My sabbaths, and My holy place which I have hallowed for Myself in their midst, and My tabernacle, and My sanctuary, which I have hallowed for Myself in the midst of the land, that I should set My name upon it, and that it should dwell (there). ¹¹. And they will make to themselves high places and groves and graven images, and they will worship, each his own (graven image), so as to go astray, and they will sacrifice their children to demons, and to all the works of the error of their hearts. ¹². And I shall send witnesses unto them, that I may witness against them, but they will not hear, and will slay the witnesses also, and they will persecute those who seek the law, and they will abrogate and change everything so as to work evil before My eyes. ¹³. And I shall hide My face from them, and I shall deliver them into the hand of the Gentiles for captivity, and for a prey, and for devouring, and I shall remove them from the midst of the land, and I shall scatter them amongst the Gentiles. ¹⁴. And they will forget all My law and all My commandments and all My judgments, and will go astray as to new moons, and sabbaths, and festivals, and jubilees, and ordinances. ¹⁵. And after this they will turn to Me from amongst the Gentiles with all their heart and with all their soul and with all their strength, and I shall gather them from amongst all the Gentiles, and they will seek Me, so that I shall be found of them, when they seek Me with all their heart and with all their soul. ¹⁶. And I shall disclose to them abounding peace with righteousness, and I shall remove them the plant of uprightness, with all My heart and with all My soul, and they will be for a blessing and not for a curse, and they will be the head and not the tail. ¹⁷. And I shall build My sanctuary in their midst, and I shall dwell with them, and I shall be their God and they will be My people in truth and righteousness. ¹⁸. And I shall not forsake them nor fail them for I am the Lord their God.” ¹⁹. And Moses fell on his face and prayed and said, “O Lord my God, do not forsake Thy people and Thy inheritance, so that they should wander in the error of their hearts, and do not deliver them into the hands of their enemies, the Gentiles, lest they should rule over them and cause them to sin against Thee. ²⁰. Let Thy mercy, O Lord, be lifted up upon Thy people, and create in them an upright spirit, and let not the spirit of Beliar rule over them to accuse them before Thee, and to ensnare them from all the paths of righteousness, so that they may perish from before Thy face. ²¹. But they are Thy people and Thy inheritance, which Thou hast delivered with Thy great power from the hands of the Egyptians: create in them a clean heart and a holy spirit, and let them not be ensnared in their sins from henceforth until eternity.” ²². And the Lord said unto Moses: “I know their contrariness and their thoughts and their stiffneckedness, and they will not be obedient till they confess their own sin and the sin of their fathers. ²³. And after this they will turn to Me in all uprightness and with all (their) heart and with all (their) soul, and I shall circumcise the foreskin of their heart and the foreskin of the heart of their seed, and I shall create in them a holy spirit, and I shall cleanse them so that they shall not turn away from Me from that day unto eternity. ²⁴. And their souls will cleave to Me and to all My commandments, and they will fulfil My commandments, and I shall be their Father and they will be My children. ²⁵. And they will all be called children of the living God, and every angel and every spirit will know, yea, they will know that these are My children, and that I am their Father in uprightness and righteousness, and that I love them. ²⁶. And do thou write down for thyself all these words which I declare unto thee on this mountain, the first and the last, which shall come to pass in all the divisions of the days in the law and in the testimony and in the weeks and the jubilees unto eternity, until I descend and dwell with them throughout eternity.” ²⁷. And He said to the angel of the presence: “ Write for Moses from the beginning of creation till My sanctuary has been built among them for all eternity. ²⁸. And the Lord will appear to the eyes of all, and all will know that I am the God of Israel and the Father of all the children of Jacob, and King on Mount Zion for all eternity. And Zion and Jerusalem will be holy.” ²⁹. And the angel of the presence who went before the camp of Israel took the tables of the divisions of the years—from the time of the creation—of the law and of the testimony of the weeks, of the jubilees, according to the individual years, according to all the number of the jubilees [according to the individual years], from the day of the [new] creation twhen} the heavens and the earth shall be renewed and all their creation according to the powers of the heaven, and according to all the creation of the earth, until the sanctuary of the Lord shall be made in Jerusalem on Mount Zion, and all the luminaries be renewed for healing and for peace and for blessing for all the elect of Israel, and that thus it may be from that day and unto all the days of the earth.

CHAPTER 2 ¹And the angel of the presence spake to Moses according to the word of the Lord, saying: Write the complete history of the creation, how in six days the Lord God finished all His works and all that He created, and kept Sabbath on the seventh day and hallowed it for all ages, and appointed it as a sign for all His works. ². For on the first day He created the heavens which are above and the earth and the waters and all the spirits which serve before Him—the angels of the presence, and the angels of sanctification, and the angels [of the spirit of fire and the angels] of the spirit of the winds, and the angels of the spirit of the clouds, and of darkness, and of snow and of hail and of hoar frost, and the angels of the voices and of the thunder and of the lightning, and the angels of the spirits of cold and of heat, and of winter and of spring and of autumn and of summer, and of all the spirits of His creatures which are in the heavens and on the earth, (He created) the abysses and the darkness, eventide (and night), and the light, dawn and day, which He hath prepared in the knowledge of His heart. ⁸. And thereupon we saw His works, and praised Him, and lauded before Him on account of all His works for seven great works did He create on the first day. ⁴. And on the second day He created the firmament in the midst of the waters, and the waters were divided on that day—half of them went up above and half of them went down below the firmament (that was) in the midst over the face of the whole earth. And this was the only work (God) created on the second day. ⁵. And on the third day He commanded the waters to pass from off the face of the whole earth into one place, and the dry land to appear. ⁶. And the waters did so as He commanded them, and they retired from off the face of the earth into one place outside of this firmament, and the dry land appeared. ⁷. And on that day He created for them all the seas according to their separate gatheringplaces, and all the rivers, and the gatherings of the waters in the mountains and on all the earth, and all the lakes, and all the dew of the earth, and the seed which is sown, and all sprouting things, and fruit-bearing trees, and trees of the wood, and the garden of Eden, in Eden, and all (plants after their kind). These four great works Gop created on the third day. ⁸. And on the fourth day He created the sun and the moon and the stars, and set them in the firmament of the heaven, to give light upon all the earth, and to rule over the day and the night, and divide the light from the darkness. ⁹. And Gop appointed the sun to be a great sign on the earth for days and for sabbaths and for months and for feasts and for years and for sabbaths of years and for jubilees and for all seasons of the years. ¹⁰. And it divideth the light from the darkness [and] for prosperity, that all things may prosper which shoot and grow on the earth. These three kinds He made on the fourth day. ¹¹. And on the fifth day He created great sea monsters in the depths of the waters, for these were the first things of flesh that were created by His hands, the fish and everything that moves in the waters, and everything that flies, the birds and all their kind. ¹². And the sun rose above them to prosper (them), and above everything that was on the earth, everything that shoots out of the earth, and all fruit-bearing trees, and all flesh. These three kinds He created on the fifth day. ¹³. And on the sixth day He created all the animals of the earth, and all cattle, and everything that moves on the earth. ¹⁴. And after all this He created man, a man and a woman created He them, and gave him dominion over all that is upon the earth, and in the seas, and over everything that flies, and over beasts and over cattle, and over everything that moves on the earth, and over the whole earth, and over all this He gave him dominion. And these four kinds He created on the sixth day. ¹⁵. And there were altogether two and twenty kinds. ¹⁶. And He finished all His work on the sixth day— all that is in the heavens and on the earth, and in the seas and in the abysses, and in the light and in the darkness, and in everything. ¹⁷. And He gave us a great sign, the Sabbath day, that we should work six days, but keep Sabbath on the seventh day from all work. ¹⁸. And all the angels of the presence, and all the angels of sanctification, these two great classes—He hath bidden us to keep the Sabbath with Him in heaven and on earth. ¹⁹. And He said unto us: “Behold, I will separate unto Myself a people from among all the peoples, and these will keep the Sabbath day, and I will sanctify them unto Myself as My people, and will bless them as I have sanctified the Sabbath day and do sanctify (it) unto Myself, even so shall I bless them, and they will be My people and I shall be their God. ²⁰. And I have chosen the seed of Jacob from amongst all that I have seen, and have written him down as My firstborn son, and have sanctified him unto Myself for ever and ever and ¹will teach them the Sabbath day, that they may keep Sabbath thereon from all work.” ²¹. And thus He created therein a sign in accordance with which they should keep Sabbath with us on the seventh day, to eat and to drink, and to bless Him who has created all things as He has blessed and sanctified unto Himself a peculiar people above all peoples, and that they should keep Sabbath together with us. ²². And He caused His commands to ascend as a sweet savour acceptable before Him all the days... . ²³. There (were) two and twenty heads of mankind from Adam to Jacob, and two and twenty kinds of work were made until the seventh day this is blessed and holy and the former also is blessed and holy and this one serves with that one for sanctification and blessing. ⁹⁴. And to this (Jacob and his seed) it was granted that they should always be the blessed and holy ones of the first testimony and law, even as He had sanctified and blessed the Sabbath day on the seventh day. ²⁵. He created heaven and earth and everything that He created in six days, and God made the seventh day holy, for all His works therefore He commanded on its behalf that, whoever does any work thereon shall die, and that he who defiles it shall surely die. ²⁶. Wherefore do thou command the children of Israel to observe this day that they may keep it holy and not do thereon any work, and not to defile it, as it is holier than all other days. ²⁷. And whoever profanes it shall surely die, and whoever does thereon any work shall surely die eternally, that the children of Israel may observe this day throughout their generations, and not be rooted out of the land for it is a holy day and a blessed day. ²⁸, And every one who observes it and keeps Sabbath thereon from all his work, will be holy and blessed throughout all days like unto us. ²⁹. Declare and say to the children of Israel the law of this day both that they should keep Sabbath thereon, and that they should not forsake it in the error of their hearts (and) that it is not lawful to do any work thereon which is unseemly, to do thereon their own pleasure, and that they should not prepare thereon anything to be eaten or drunk, +and (that it is not lawful) to draw water, or bring in or take out thereon through their gates any burden,} which they had not prepared for themselves on the sixth day in their dwellings. ³⁰. And they shall not bring in nor take out from house to house on that day for that day is more holy and blessed than any jubilee day of the jubilees: on this we kept Sabbath in the heavens before it was made known to any flesh to keep Sabbath thereon on the earth. ³¹. And the Creator of all things blessed it, but He did not sanctify all peoples and nations to keep Sabbath thereon, but Israel alone: them alone He permitted to eat and drink and to keep Sabbath thereon on the earth. ³². And the Creator of all things blessed this day which He had created for a blessing and a sanctification and a glory above all days. ³³. This law and testimony was given to the children of Israel as a law for ever unto their generations.

CHAPTER 3 ¹And on the six days of the second week we brought, according to the word of God, unto Adam all the beasts, and all the cattle, and all the birds, and everything that moves on the earth, and everything that moves in the water, according to their kinds, and according to their types: the beasts on the first day the cattle on the second day the birds on the third day and all that which moves on the earth on the fourth day and that which moves in the water on the fifth day. ². And Adam named them all by their respective names, and as he called them, so was their name. ³. And on these five days Adam saw all these, male and female, according to every kind that was on the earth, but he was alone and found no helpmeet for him. ⁴. And the Lord said unto us: "It is not good that the man should be alone: let us make a helpmeet for him." ⁵. And the Lord our God caused a deep sleep to fall upon him, and he slept, and He took for the woman one rib from amongst his ribs, and this rib was the origin of the woman from amongst his ribs, and He built up the flesh in its stead, and built the woman. ⁶. And He awaked Adam out of his sleep and on awaking he rose on the sixth day, and He brought her to him, and he knew her, and said unto her: "This is now bone of my bones and flesh of my flesh she will be called [my] wife because she was taken from her husband." ⁷. Therefore shall man and wife be one, and therefore shall a man leave his father and his mother, and cleave unto his wife, and they shall be one flesh. the first week was Adam created,

⁸. In and the rib—his wife: in the second week He showed her unto him: and for this reason the commandment was given to keep in their defilement, for a male seven days, and for a female twice seven days. ⁹. And after Adam had completed forty days in the land where he had been created, we brought him into the garden of Eden to till and keep it, but his wife they brought in on the eightieth day, and after this she entered into the garden of Eden. ¹⁰. And for this reason the commandment is written on the heavenly tables in regard to her that gives birth: "if she bears a male, she shall remain in her uncleanness seven days according to the first week of days, and thirty and three days shall she remain in the blood of her purifying, and she shall not touch any hallowed thing, nor enter into the sanctuary, until she accomplishes these days which (are enjoined) in the case of a male child. ¹¹. But in the case of a female child she shall remain in her uncleanness two weeks of days, according to the first two weeks, and sixty-six days in the blood of her purification, and they will be in all eighty days." ¹². And when she had completed these eighty days we brought her into the garden of Eden, for it is holier than all the earth besides, and every tree that is planted in it is holy. ¹³. Therefore, there was ordained regarding her who bears a male or a female child the statute of those days that she should touch no hallowed thing, nor enter into the sanctuary until these days for the male or female child are accomplished. ¹⁴. This is the law and testimony which was written down for Israel, in order that they should observe (it) all the days. ¹⁵. And in the first week of the first jubilee, Adam and his wife were in the garden of Eden for seven years tilling and keeping it, and we gave him work and we instructed him to do everything that is suitable for tillage. ¹⁶. And he tilled (the garden), and was naked and knew it not, and was not ashamed, and he protected the garden from the birds and beasts and cattle, and gathered its fruit, and eat, and put aside the residue for himself and for his wife [and put aside that which was being kept]. ¹⁷. And after the completion of the seven years, which he had completed there, seven years exactly, and in the second month, on the seventeenth day (of the month), the serpent came and approached the woman, and the serpent said to the woman, "Hath

God commanded you, saying, Ye shall not eat of every tree of the garden?" ¹⁸. And she said to it, "Of all the fruit of the trees of the garden God hath said unto us, Eat but of the fruit of the tree which is in the midst of the garden God hath said unto us, Ye shall not eat thereof, neither shall ye touch it, lest ye die." ¹⁹. And the serpent said unto the woman, "Ye shall not surely die: for God doth know that on the day ye shall eat thereof, your eyes will be opened, and ye will be as gods, and ye will know good and evil." ²⁰. And the woman saw the tree that it was agreeable and pleasant to the eye, and that its fruit was good for food, and she took thereof and eat. ²¹. And when she had first covered her shame with fig-leaves, she gave thereof to Adam and he eat, and his eyes were opened, and he saw that he was naked. ²². And he took fig-leaves and sewed (them) together, and made an apron for himself, and covered his shame. ²³. And God cursed the serpent, and was wroth with it forever. . . . ²⁴, And He was wroth with the woman, because she hearkened to the voice of the serpent, and did eat and He said unto her: "I shall greatly multiply thy sorrow and thy pains: in sorrow thou shalt bring forth children, and thy return shall be unto thy husband, and he will rule over thee.”²⁵. And to Adam also He said, “ Because thou hast hearkened unto the voice of thy wife, and hast eaten of the tree of which I commanded thee that thou shouldst not eat thereof, cursed be the ground for thy sake: thorns and thistles shall it bring forth to thee, and thou shalt eat thy bread in the sweat of thy face, till thou returnest to the earth from whence thou wast taken for earth thou art, and unto earth shalt thou return.”²⁶. And He made for them coats of skin, and clothed them, and sent them forth from the Garden of Eden.²⁷. And on that day on which Adam went forth from the Garden, he offered as a sweet savour an offering, frankincense, galbanum, and stacte, and spices in the morning with the rising of the sun from the day when he covered his shame.²⁸. And on that day was closed the mouth of all beasts, and of cattle, and of birds, and of whatever walks, and of whatever moves, so that they could no longer speak: for they had all spoken one with another with one lip and with one tongue.²⁹. And He sent out of the Garden of Eden all flesh that was in the Garden of Eden, and all flesh was scattered according to its kinds, and according to its types unto the places which had been created for them.³⁰. And to Adam alone did He give (the wherewithal) to cover his shame, of all the beasts and cattle.³¹. On this account, it is prescribed on the heavenly tables as touching all those who know the judgment of the law, that they should cover their shame, and should not uncover themselves as the Gentiles uncover themselves.³². And on the new moon of the fourth⁸ a.m. month, Adam and his wife went forth from the Garden of Eden, and they dwelt in the land of "Elda, in the land of their creation. Eve. after this he knew her.³³. And Adam called the name of his wife³⁴. And they had no son till the first jubilee, and³⁵. Now he tilled the land as he had been instructed in the Garden of Eden.

CHAPTER 4 ¹And in the third week in the second jubilee she gave birth to Cain, and in the fourth she gave birth to Abel, and in the fifth she gave birth to her daughter Awan.². And in the first (year) of the third jubilee, Cain slew Abel because (God) accepted the sacrifice of Abel, and did not accept the offering of Cain.³. And he slew him in the field: and his blood cried from the ground to heaven, complaining because he had slain him. ⁴. And the Lord reprov'd Cain because of Abel, because he had slain him, and he made him a fugitive on the earth because of the blood of his brother, and he cursed him upon the earth. ⁵. And on this account it is written on the heavenly tables, "Cursed is he who smites his neighbour treacherously, and let all who have seen and heard say, So be it and the man who has seen and not declared (it), let him be accursed as the other." ⁶. And for this reason we announce when we come before the Lord our God all the sin which is committed in heaven and on earth, and in light and in darkness, and everywhere. ⁷. And Adam and his wife mourned for Abel four weeks of years, and in the fourth year of the fifth week: they became joyful, and Adam knew his wife again, and she bare him a son, and he called his name Seth for he said "Gop has raised up a second seed unto us on the earth instead of Abel for Cain slew him." ⁸. And in the sixth week he begat his daughter "Aztiré. ⁹. And Cain took Awan his sister to be his wife and she bare him Enoch at the close of the fourth jubilee. And in the first year of the first week of the fifth jubilee, houses were built on the earth, and Cain built a city, and called its name after the name of his son Enoch. she bare yet nine sons. ¹⁰. And Adam knew Eve his wife and ¹¹. And in the fifth week of the fifth jubilee Seth took 'Azfira his sister to be his wife, and in the fourth (year of the sixth week) she bare him Enos. ¹². He began to call on the name of the Lord on the earth. ¹³. And in the seventh jubilee in the third week Enos took Nédam his sister to be his wife, and she bare him a son in the third year of the fifth week, and he called his name Kenan. ¹⁴. And at the close of the eighth jubilee Kenan took Mfialéléth his sister to be his wife, and she bare him a son in the ninth jubilee, in the first week in the third year of this week, and he called his name Mahalalel. ¹⁵. And in the second week of the tenth jubilee Mahalalel took unto him to wife Dinah, the daughter of Baraki'él the daughter of his father's brother, and she bare him a son in the third week in the sixth year, and he called his name Jared for in his days the angels of the Lord descended on the earth, those who are named the Watchers, that they should instruct the children of men, and that they should Do judgment and uprightness on the earth. ¹⁶. And in the eleventh jubilee Jared took to himself a wife, and her name was Baraka, the daughter of Rastijal, a daughter of his father's brother, in the fourth week of this jubilee, and she bare him a son in the fifth week, in the fourth year of the jubilee, and he called his name Enoch. ¹⁷. And he was the first among men that are born on earth who learnt writing and knowledge and wisdom and who wrote down the signs of heaven according to the order of their months in a book, that men might know the seasons of the years according to the order of their separate months. ¹⁸, And he was the first to write a testimony, and he testified to the sons of men among the generations of the earth, and recounted the weeks of the jubilees, and made known to them the days of the years, and set in order the months and recounted the Sabbaths of the years as we made (them), known to him. ¹⁹. And what was and what will be he saw in a vision of his sleep, as it will happen to the children of men throughout their generations until the day of judgment he saw and understood everything, and wrote his testimony, and placed the testimony on earth for all the children of men and for their generations. ²⁰. And in the twelfth jubilee, in the seventh week thereof, he took to himself a wife, and her name was Edni, the daughter of Danél, the daughter of his father's brother, and in the sixth year in this week she bare him a son and he called his name Methuselah. ²¹. And he was moreover with the angels of God these six jubilees of years, and they showed him everything which is on earth and in the heavens, the rule of the sun, and he wrote down everything. ²². And he testified to the Watchers, who had sinned with the daughters of men for these had begun to unite themselves, so as to be defiled, with the daughters of men, and Enoch testified against (them) all. ²³. And he was taken from amongst the children of men, and we conducted him into the Garden of Eden in majesty and honour, and behold there he writes down the condemnation and judgment of the world, and all the wickedness of the children of men. ²⁴, And on account of it (God) brought the waters of the flood upon all the land of Eden for there he was set as a sign and that he should testify against all the children of men, that he should recount all the deeds of the generations until the day of condemnation. ²⁵. And he burnt the incense of the sanctuary, (even) sweet spices, acceptable before the Lord on the Mount. ²⁶.

For the Lord has four places on the earth, the Garden of Eden, and the Mount of the East, and this mountain on which thou art this day, Mount Sinai, and Mount Zion (which) will be sanctified in the new creation for a sanctification of the earth through it will the earth be sanctified from all (its) guilt and its uncleanness throughout the generations of the world. ²⁷. And in the fourteenth jubilee Methuselah took unto himself a wife, Edné the daughter of *Arrial, the daughter of his father's brother, in the third week, in the first year of this week, and he begat a son and called his name Lamech. ²⁸. And in the fifteenth jubilee in the third week Lamech took to himself a wife, and her name was Béténds the daughter of Barakiil, the daughter of his father's brother, and in this week she bare him a son and he called his name Noah, saying, " This one will comfort me for my trouble and all my work, and for the ground which the Lord hath cursed." ²⁹. And at the close of the nineteenth jubilee, in the seventh week in the sixth year thereof, Adam died, and all his sons buried him in the land of his creation, and he was the first to be buried in the earth. ³⁰. And he lacked seventy years of one thousand years for one thousand years are as one day in the testimony of the heavens and therefore was it written concerning the tree of knowledge: "On the day that ye eat thereof ye will die." For this reason he did not complete the years of this day for he died during it. ³¹. At the close of this jubilee Cain was killed after him in the same year for his house fell upon him and he died in the midst of his house, and he was killed by its stones for with a stone he had killed Abel, and by a stone was he killed in righteous judgment. ³². For this reason it was ordained on the heavenly tables: " With the instrument with which a man kills his neighbour with the same shall he be killed after the manner that he wounded him, in like manner shall they deal with him." ³³. And in the twenty-fifth jubilee Noah took to himself a wife, and her name was 'Em zAra, the daughter of Raké'él, the daughter of his father's brother, in the first year in the fifth week: and in the third year thereof she bare him Shem, in the fifth year thereof she bare him Ham, and in the first year in the sixth week she bare him Japheth.

to multiply on the face of the earth and daughters were born unto them, that the angels of God saw them on a certain year of this jubilee, that they were beautiful to look upon and they took themselves wives of all whom they chose, and they bare unto them sons and they were giants. ². And lawlessness increased on the earth and all flesh corrupted its way, alike men and cattle and beasts and birds and everything that walks on the earth—all of them corrupted their ways and their orders, and they began to devour each other, and lawlessness increased on the earth and every imagination of the thoughts of all men (was) thus evil continually. ³. And God looked upon the earth, and behold it was corrupt, and all flesh had corrupted its orders, and all that were upon the earth had wrought all manner of evil before His eyes. ⁴. And He said: "I shall destroy man and all flesh upon the face of the earth which I have created." ⁵. But Noah found grace before the eyes of the Lord. ⁶. And against the angels whom He had sent upon the earth, He was exceedingly wroth, and He gave commandment to root them out of all their dominion, and He bade us to bind them in the depths of the earth, and behold they are bound in the midst of them, and are (kept) separate. ⁷. And against their sons went forth a command from before His face that they should be smitten with the sword, and be removed from ⁸. And He said "My spirit will not always abide on man for they also are flesh and their days shall be one hundred and twenty years." ⁹. And He sent His sword into their midst that each should slay his neighbour, and they began to slay each other till they all fell by the sword and were destroyed from the earth. ¹⁰. And their fathers were witnesses (of their destruction), and after this they were bound in the depths of the earth for ever, until the day of the great condemnation, when judgment is executed on all those who have corrupted their ways and their works before the Lord. ¹¹. And He +destroyed+ all from their places, and there twast+ not left one of them whom He judged not according to all their wickedness. ¹². And He 'tmadet for all His works a new and righteous nature, so that they should not sin in their whole nature for ever, but should be all righteous each in his kind alway. ¹³. And the judgment of all is ordained and written on the heavenly tables in righteousness—even (the judgment of) all who depart from the path which is ordained for them to walk in and if they walk not therein, judgment is written down for every creature and for every kind. ¹⁴. And there is nothing in heaven or on earth, or in light or in darkness, or in Sheol or in the depth, or in the place of darkness (which is not judged) and all their judgments are ordained and written and engraved. ¹⁵. In regard to all He will judge, the great according to his greatness, and the small according to his smallness, and each according to his way. ¹⁶. And He is not one who will regard the person (of any), nor is He one who will receive gifts, if He says that He will execute judgment on each: if one gave everything that is on the earth, He will not regard the gifts or the person (of any), nor accept anything at his hands, for He is a righteous judge. ¹⁷. And of the children of Israel it has been written and ordained : If they turn to Him in righteousness, He will forgive all their transgressions and pardon all their sins. ¹⁸. It is written and ordained that He will show mercy to all who turn from all their guilt once each year.] ¹⁹. And as for all those who corrupted their ways and their thoughts before the flood, no man's person was accepted save that of Noah alone for his person was accepted in behalf of his sons, whom (God) saved from the waters of the flood on his account for his heart was righteous in all his ways, according as it was commanded regarding him, and he had not departed from aught that was ordained for him. ²⁰. And the Lord said that He would destroy everything which was upon the earth, both men and cattle, and beasts, and fowls of the air, and that which moveth on the earth, ²¹. And He commanded Noah to make him an ark, that he might save himself from the waters of the flood. ²². And Noah made the ark in all respects as He commanded him, in the twenty-seventh ¹³⁰⁷ a.m. jubilee of years, in the fifth week in the fifth year (on the new moon of the first month). ²³. And he entered in the sixth (year) thereof, in the second month, on the new ¹³⁰⁸ am. moon of the second month, till the sixteenth and he entered, and all that we brought to him, into the ark, and the Lord closed it from without on the seventeenth evening. ²⁴. And the Lord opened seven flood-gates of heaven, And the mouths of the fountains of the great deep, seven mouths in number. ²⁵. And the flood-gates began to pour down water from the heaven forty days and forty nights, And the fountains of the deep also sent up waters, until the whole world was full of water.

²⁶. And the waters increased upon the earth: Fifteen cubits did the waters rise above all the high mountains, And the ark was lift up above the earth, And it moved upon the face of the waters. ²⁷, And the water prevailed on the face of the earth five months — one hundred and fifty days. ²⁸, And the ark went and rested on the top of Libar, one of the mountains of Ararat. ²⁹. And (on the new moon) in the fourth month the fountains of the great deep were closed and the flood-gates of heaven were restrained and on the new moon of the seventh month all the mouths of the abysses of the earth were opened, and the water began to descend into the deep below. ³⁰. And on the new moon of the tenth month the tops of the mountains were seen, and on the new moon of the first month the earth became visible. ³¹. And the waters disappeared from above the earth in the fifth week in the seventh year thereof, and on the seventeenth day in the second month the earth was dry. ³². And on the twenty-seventh thereof he opened the ark, and sent forth from it beasts, and cattle, and birds, and every moving thing.

CHAPTER 6 ¹And on the new moon of the third month he went forth from the ark, and built an altar on that mountain. ². And he made atonement for the earth, and took a kid and made atonement by its blood for all the guilt of the earth for everything that had been on it had been destroyed, save those that were in the ark with Noah. ³. And he placed the fat thereof on the altar, and he took an ox, and a goat, and a sheep and kids, and salt, and a turtle-dove, and the young of a dove, and placed a burnt sacrifice on the altar, and poured thereon an offering mingled with oil, and sprinkled wine and strewed frankincense over everything, and caused a goodly savour to arise, acceptable before the Lord. ⁴. And the Lord smelt the goodly savour, and He made a covenant with him that there should not be any more a flood to destroy the earth that all the days of the earth seed-time and harvest should never cease cold and heat, and summer and winter, and day and night should not change their order, nor cease for ever. ⁵. “And you, increase ye and multiply upon the earth, and become many upon it, and be a blessing upon it. The fear of you and the dread of you I shall inspire in everything that is on earth and in the sea. ⁶. And behold I have given unto you all beasts, and all winged things, and everything that moves on the earth, and the fish in the waters, and all things for food as the green herbs, I have given you all things to eat. ⁷. But flesh, with the life thereof, with the blood, ye shall not eat for the life of all flesh is in the blood, lest your blood of your lives be required. At the hand of every man, at the hand of every (beast), shall I require the blood of man. ⁸. Whoso sheddeth man's blood by man shall his blood be shed for in the image of God made He man. ⁹. And you, increase ye, and multiply on the earth." ¹⁰. And Noah and his sons swore that they would not eat any blood that was in any flesh, and he made a covenant before the Lord God for ever throughout all the generations of the earth in this month. ¹¹. On this account He spake to thee that thou shouldst make a covenant with the children of Israel in this month upon the mountain with an oath, and that thou shouldst sprinkle blood upon them because of all the words of the covenant, which the Lord made with them for ever. ¹². And this testimony is written concerning you that you should observe it continually, so that you should not eat on any day any blood of beasts or birds or cattle during all the days of the earth, and the man who eats the blood of beast or of cattle or of birds during all the days of the earth, he and his seed shall be rooted out of the land. ¹³. And do thou command the children of Israel to eat no blood, so that their names and their seed may be before the Lord our God continually. ¹⁴. And for this law there is no limit of days, for it is for ever. They shall observe it throughout their generations, so that they may continue supplicating on your behalf with blood before the altar every day and at the time of morning and evening they shall seek forgiveness on your behalf perpetually before the Lord that they may keep it and not be rooted out. ¹⁵. And He gave to Noah and his sons a sign that there should not again be a flood on the earth. ¹⁶. He set His bow in the cloud for a sign of the eternal covenant that there should not again be a flood on the earth to destroy it all the days of the earth. ¹⁷. For this reason it is ordained and written on the heavenly tables, that they should celebrate the feast of weeks in this month once a year, to renew the covenant every year. ¹⁸. And this whole festival was celebrated in heaven from the day of creation till the days of Noah—twenty-six jubilees and five weeks of years: and Noah and his sons observed it for seven jubilees and one week of years, till the day of Noah's death, and from the day of Noah's death his sons did away with (it) until the days of Abraham, and they eat blood. ¹⁹. But Abraham observed it, and Isaac and Jacob and his children observed it up to thy days, and in thy days the children of Israel forgot it until ye celebrated it anew on this mountain. ²⁰. And do thou command the children of Israel to observe this festival in all their generations for a commandment unto them : one day in the year in this month they shall celebrate the festival. ²¹. For it is the feast of weeks and the feast of first-fruits: this feast is twofold and of a double nature: according to what is written and engraven concerning it celebrate it. ²². For I have written in the book of the first law, in that which I have written for thee, that thou shouldst celebrate it in its season, one day in the year, and I explained to thee its sacrifices that the children of Israel should remember and should celebrate it throughout their generations in this month, one day in every year. ²³. And on the new moon of the first month, and on the new moon of the fourth month, and on the new moon of the seventh month, and on the new moon of the tenth month are the days of remembrance, and the days of These are written and ordained as a testimony for ever. ²⁴. And Noah ordained them for himself as feasts for the generations for ever, so that they have become thereby a memorial unto him. ²⁵. And on the new moon of the first month he was bidden to make for himself an ark, and on that (day) the earth became dry and he opened (the ark) and saw the earth. ²⁶. And on the new moon of the fourth month the mouths of the depths of the abysses beneath were closed. And on the new moon of the seventh month all the mouths of the abysses of the earth were opened, and the waters began to descend into them, ²⁷. And on the new moon of the tenth month the tops of the mountains were seen, and Noah was glad. ²⁸. And on this account he ordained them for himself as feasts for a memorial for ever, and thus are they the seasons in the four divisions of the year. ordained. ²⁹. And they placed them on the heavenly tables, each had thirteen weeks from one to another (passed) their memorial, from the first to the second, and from the second to the third, and from the third to the fourth, ³⁰. And all the days of the commandment will be two and fifty weeks of days, and (these will make) the entire year complete. ³¹. Thus it is engraven and ordained on the heavenly tables. And there is no neglecting (this commandment) for a single year or from year to year. ³² And command thou the children of Israel that they observe the years according to this reckoning—three hundred and sixty-four days, and (these) will constitute a complete year, and they will not disturb its time from its days and from its feasts for everything will fall out in them according to their testimony, and they will not leave out any day nor disturb any feasts. ³³. But if they do neglect and do not observe them according to His commandment, then they will disturb all their seasons, and the years will be dislodged from this (order), [and they will disturb the seasons and the years will be dislodged] and they will neglect their ordinances. ³⁴. And all the children of Israel will forget, and will not find the path of the years, and will forget the new moons, and seasons, and sabbaths, and they will go wrong as to all the order of the years. ³⁵. For I know and from henceforth shall I declare it unto thee, and it is not of my own devising for the book (lies) written before me, and on the heavenly tables the division of days is ordained, lest they forget the feasts of the covenant and walk according to the feasts of the Gentiles after their error and after their ignorance. ³⁶. For there will be those who will assuredly make observations of the moon—now (it) disturbs the seasons and comes in from year to year ten days too soon. ³⁷. For this reason the years will come upon them when they will disturb (the order), and make an abominable (day) the day of testimony, and an unclean day a feast day, and they will confound all the days, the holy with the unclean, and the unclean day with the holy for they will go wrong as to the months and sabbaths and feasts and jubilees. ³⁸. For this reason I command and testify to thee that thou mayst testify to them for after thy death thy children will disturb (them), so that they will not make the year three hundred and sixtyfour days only, and for this reason they will go wrong as to the new moons and seasons and sabbaths and festivals, and they will eat all kinds of blood with all kinds of flesh.

CHAPTER 7 ¹And in the seventh week in the first year thereof, in this jubilee, Noah planted vines on the mountain on which the ark had rested, named Libr, one of the Ararat Mountains, and they produced fruit in the fourth year, and he guarded their fruit, and gathered it in this year in the seventh month. ². And he made wine therefrom and put it into a vessel, and kept it until the fifth year, until the first day, on the new moon of the first month. ³. And he celebrated with joy the day of this feast, and he made a burnt sacrifice unto the Lord, one young ox and one ram, and seven sheep, each a year old, and a kid of the goats, that he might make atonement thereby for himself and his sons. ⁴. And he prepared the kid first, and placed some of its blood on the flesh that was on the altar which he had made, and all the fat he laid on the altar where he made the burnt sacrifice, and the ox and the ram and the sheep, and he laid all their flesh upon the altar. ⁵, And he placed all their offerings mingled with oil upon it, and afterwards he sprinkled wine on the fire which he had previously made on the altar, and he placed incense on the altar and caused a sweet savour to ascend acceptable before the Lord his God. ⁶. And he rejoiced and drank of this wine, he and his children with joy. ⁷. And it was evening, and he went into his tent, and being drunken he lay down and slept, and was uncovered in his tent as he slept. ⁸. And Ham saw Noah his father naked, and went forth and told his two brethren without. ⁹. And Shem took his garment and arose, he and Japheth, and they placed the garment on their shoulders and went backward and covered the shame of their father, and their faces were backward. ¹⁰. And Noah awoke from his sleep and knew all that his younger son had done unto him, and he cursed his son and said: "Cursed be Canaan an enslaved servant shall he be unto his brethren." ¹¹. And he blessed Shem, and said: "Blessed be the Lord God of Shem, and Canaan shall be his servant. ¹². God shall enlarge Japheth, and God shall dwell in the dwelling of Shem, and Canaan shall be his servant." ¹³, And Ham knew that his father had cursed his younger son, and he was displeased that he had cursed his son, and he parted from his father, he and his sons with him, Cush and Mizraim and

Put and Canaan. ¹⁴. And he built for himself a city and called its name after the name of his wife NEELATAMAUK. ¹⁵. And Japheth saw it, and became envious of his brother, and he too built for himself a city, and he called its name after the name of his wife Addtanésés. ¹⁶. And Shem dwelt with his father Noah, and he built a city close to his father on the mountain, and he too called its name after the name of his wife Sédéquétéléb'b. ¹⁷. And behold these three cities are near Mount Libar Sédéquétélébab fronting the mountain on its east and Na'éitama'ik on the south "Adatan'ésés towards the west. ¹⁸. And these are the sons of Shem: Elam, and Asshur, and Arpachshad—this (son) was born two years after the flood—and Lud, and Aram. ¹⁹. The sons of Japheth : Gomer and Magog and Madai and Javan, Tubal and Meshech and Tiras : these are the sons of Noah. ²⁰. And in the twenty-eighth jubilee Noah began to enjoin upon his sons' sons the ordinances and commandments, and all the judgments that he knew, and he exhorted his sons to observe righteousness, and to cover the shame of their flesh, and to bless their Creator, and honour father and mother, and love their neighbour, and guard their souls from fornication and uncleanness and all iniquity. ²¹. For owing to these three things came the flood upon the earth, namely, owing to the fornication wherein the Watchers against the law of their ordinances went a whoring after the daughters of men, and took themselves wives of all which they chose: and they made the beginning of uncleanness. ²². And they begat sons the Ndphidim, and +they were all unlikelike, and they devoured one another: and the Giants slew the Naphil, and the Naphil slew the Elj⁶, and the 'EΠ] mankind, and one man another. ²³. And every one sold himself to work iniquity and to shed much blood, and the earth was filled with iniquity. ²⁴. And after this they sinned against the beasts and birds, and all that moves and walks on the earth: and much blood was shed on the earth, and every imagination and desire of men imagined vanity and evil continually. ²⁵. And the Lord destroyed everything from off the face of the earth because of the wickedness of their deeds, and because of the blood which they had shed in the midst of the earth He destroyed everything. ²⁶. " And we were left, I and you, my sons, and everything that entered with us into the ark, and behold I see your works before me that ye do not walk in righteousness for in the path of destruction ye have begun to walk, and ye are parting one from another, and are envious one of another, and (so it comes) that ye are not in harmony, my sons, each with his brother. ²⁷. For I see, and behold the demons have begun (their) seductions against you and against your children, and now I fear on your behalf, that after my death ye will shed the blood of men upon the earth, and that ye, too, will be destroyed from the face of the earth. ²⁸. For whoso sheddeth man's blood, and whoso eateth the blood of any flesh, will all be destroyed from the earth. ²⁹. And there will not be left any man that eateth blood, Or that sheddeth the blood of man on the earth, Nor will there be left to him any seed or descendants living under heaven For into Sheol will they go, And into the place of condemnation will they descend, And into the darkness of the deep will they all be removed by a violent death. ³⁰. There shall be no blood seen upon you of all the blood there shall be all the days in which ye have killed any beasts or cattle or whatever flies upon the earth, and work ye a good work to your souls by covering that which has been shed on the face of the earth. ³¹. And ye shall not be like him who eats with blood, but guard yourselves that none may eat blood before you: cover the blood, for thus have I been commanded to testify to you and your children, together with all flesh, ³². And suffer not the soul to be eaten with the flesh, that your blood, which is your life, may not be required at the hand of any flesh that sheds (it) on the earth. ³³. For the earth will not be clean from the blood which has been shed upon it for (only) through the blood of him that shed it will the earth be purified throughout all its generations. ³⁴. And now, my children, hearken: work judgment and righteousness that ye may be planted in righteousness over the face of the whole earth, and your glory lifted up before my God, who saved me from the waters of the flood. ³⁵. And behold, ye will go and build for yourselves cities, and plant in them all the plants that are upon the earth, and moreover all fruit-bearing trees. ³⁶. For three years the fruit of everything that is eaten will not be gathered: and in the fourth year its fruit will be accounted holy [and they will offer the first-fruits], acceptable before the Most High God, who created heaven and earth and all things. Let them offer in abundance the first of the wine and oil (as) first-fruits on the altar of the Lord, who receives it, and what is left let the servants of the house of the Lord eat before the altar which receives (it). ⁵⁸⁷. And in the fifth year make ye the release so that ye release it in righteousness and uprightness, and ye shall be righteous, and all that you plant will prosper. ³⁸. For thus did Enoch, the father of your father command Methuselah, his son, and Methuselah his son Lamech, and Lamech commanded me all the things which his fathers commanded him. ³⁹. And I also will give you commandment, my sons, as Enoch commanded his son in the first jubilees: whilst still living, the seventh in his generation, he commanded and testified to his son and to his sons' sons until the day of his death."

CHAPTER 8 ¹In the twenty-ninth jubilee, in the first week, in the beginning thereof Arpachshad took to himself a wife and her name was Rast'éja, [the daughter of Stsn,] the daughter of Elam, and she bare him a son in the third year in this week, and he called his name Kéinim. ². And the son grew, and his father taught him writing, and he went to seek for himself a place where he might seize for himself a city. ³. And he found a writing which former (generations) had carved on: the rock, and he read what was thereon, and he transcribed it and sinned owing to it for it contained the teaching of the Watchers in accordance with which they used to observe the omens of the sun and moon and stars in all the signs of heaven. ⁴. And he wrote it down and said nothing regarding it for he was afraid to speak to Noah about it lest he should be angry with him on account of it. the thirtieth jubilee, in the second week, in the first year. ⁵. And in thereof, he took to himself a wife, and her name was Mélk⁴, the daughter of Madai, the son of Japheth, and in the fourth year he begat a son, and called his name Shelah for he said: "Truly I have been sent." ⁶. [And in the fourth year he was born], and Shelah grew up and took to himself a wife, and her name was Mi'ak, the daughter of Késéd, his father's brother, in the one and thirtieth jubilee, in the fifth week, in the first year thereof. ⁷, And she bare him a son in the fifth year thereof, and he called his name Eber: and he took unto himself a wife, and her name was 'Aztrad, the daughter of Nébréd, in the thirty-second jubilee, in the seventh week, in the third year thereof. ⁸. And in the sixth year thereof, she bare him a son, and he called his name Peleg for in the days when he was born the children of Noah began to divide the earth amongst themselves: for this reason he called his name Peleg. ⁹. And they divided (it) secretly amongst themselves, and told it to Noah. ¹⁰. And it came to pass in the beginning of the thirty-third jubilee that they divided the earth into three parts, for Shem and Ham and Japheth, according to the inheritance of each, in the first year in the first week, when one of us, who had been sent, was with them. ¹¹. And he called his sons, and they drew nigh to him, they and their children, and he divided the earth into the lots, which his three sons were to take in possession, and they reached forth their hands, and took the writing out of the bosom of Noah, their father. ¹². And there came forth on the writing as Shem's lot the middle of the earth which he should take as an inheritance for himself and for his sons for the generations of eternity, from the middle of the mountain range of Rafi, from the mouth of the water from the river Tina, and his portion goes towards the west through the midst of this river, and it extends till it reaches the water of the abysses, out of which this river goes forth and pours its waters into the sea Mé'at, and this river flows into the great sea. And all that is towards the north is Japheth's, and all that is towards the south belongs to Shem. ¹³. And it extends till it reaches Karas⁶: this is in the bosom of the tongue which looks towards the south, ¹⁴. And his portion extends along the great sea, and it extends in a straight line till it reaches the west of the tongue which looks towards the south for this sea is named the tongue of the Egyptian Sea. ¹⁵. And it turns from here towards the south towards the mouth of the great sea on the shore of (its) waters, and it extends to the west to 'Afra, and it extends till it reaches the waters of the river Gihon, and to the south of the waters of Gihon, to the banks of this river. ¹⁶. And it extends towards the east, till it reaches the Garden of Eden, to the south thereof, [to the south] and from the east of the whole land of Eden and of the whole east, it turns to the east and proceeds till it reaches the east of the mountain named Rafa, and it descends to the bank of the mouth of the river Tina. ¹⁷. This portion came forth by lot for Shem and his sons, that they should possess it for ever unto his generations for evermore. ¹⁸. And Noah rejoiced that this portion came forth for Shem and for his sons, and he remembered all that he had spoken with his mouth in prophecy for he had said: “Blessed be the Lord God of Shem, And may the Lord dwell in the dwelling of Shem.” ¹⁹. And he knew that the Garden of Eden is the holy of holies, and the dwelling of the Lord, and Mount Sinai the centre of the desert, and Mount Zion—the centre of the navel of the earth: these three were created as holy places facing each other. ²⁰. And he blessed the God of gods, who had put the word of the Lord into his mouth, and the Lord for evermore. ²¹. And he knew that a blessed portion and a blessing had come to Shem and his sons unto the generations for ever—the whole land of Eden and the whole land of the Red Sea, and the whole land of the east, and India, and on the Red Sea and the mountains thereof, and all the land of Bashan, and all the land of Lebanon and the islands of Kafttir, and all the mountains of Sanir and 'AmAn⁴, and the mountains of Asshur in the north, and all the land of Elam, Asshur, and Babél, and Sis⁴n and MAa'éдай, and all the mountains of Ararat, and all the region beyond the sea, which is beyond the mountains of Asshur towards the north, a blessed and spacious land, and all that is in it is very good. ²². And for Ham came forth the second portion, beyond the Gihon towards the south to the right of the Garden, and it extends towards the south and it extends to all the mountains of fire, and it extends towards the west to the sea of 'Atél and it extends towards the west till it reaches the sea of Maé'ik—that (sea) into which everything which is not destroyed descends. ²³. And it goes forth towards the north to the limits of Gadir, and it goes forth to the coast of the waters of the sea to the waters of the great sea till it draws near to the river Gihon, and goes along the river Gihon till it reaches the right of the Garden of Eden. ²⁴. And this is the land which came forth for Ham as the portion which he was to occupy for ever for himself and his sons unto their generations for ever. ²⁵. And for Japheth came forth the third portion beyond the river Tiné to the north of the outflow of its waters, and it extends northeasterly to the whole region of Gog and to all the country east thereof. ²⁶. And it extends northerly to the north, and it extends to the mountains of Qélt towards the north, and towards the sea of M&'tk, and it goes forth to the east of Gadir as far as the region of the waters of the sea, ²⁷. And it extends until it approaches the west of Farad and it returns towards 'Aférég, and it extends easterly to the waters of the sea of Mé'at. ²⁸, And it extends to the region of the river Tina in a north-easterly direction until it approaches the boundary of its waters towards the mountain Rafa, and it turns round towards the north. ²⁹. This is the land which came forth for Japheth and his sons as the portion of his inheritance which he should possess for himself and his sons, for their generations for ever five great islands, and a great land in the north. ³⁰. But it is cold, and the land of Ham is hot, and the land of Shem is neither hot nor cold, but it is of blended cold and heat.

CHAPTER 9 ¹And Ham divided amongst his sons, and the first portion came forth for Cush towards the east, and to the west of him for Mizraim, and to the west of him for Put, and to the west of him [and to the west thereof] on the sea for Canaan. ². And Shem also divided amongst his sons, and the first portion came forth for Elam and his sons, to the east of the river Tigris till it approaches the east, the whole land of India, and on the Red Sea on its coast, and the waters of Dédan, and all the mountains of Mebri and BA, and all the land of Stisin and all that is on the side of Pharnak to the Red Sea and the river Tind. ³. And for Asshur came forth the second portion, all the land of Asshur and Nineveh and Shinar and to the border of India, and it ascends and skirts the river. ⁴. And for Arpachshad came forth the third portion, all the land of the region of the Chaldees to the east of the Euphrates, bordering on the Red Sea, and all the waters of the desert close to the tongue of the sea which looks towards Egypt, all the land of Lebanon and Sanir and 'Aḡḡḡḡ to the border of the Euphrates. ⁵. And for Aram there came forth the fourth portion, all the land of Mesopotamia between the Tigris and the Euphrates to the north of the Chaldees to the border of the mountains of Asshur and the land of 'Arfra. ⁶. And there came forth for Lud the fifth portion, the mountains of Asshur and all appertaining to them till it reaches the Great Sea, and till it reaches the east of Asshur his brother. ⁷. And Japheth also divided the land of his inheritance amongst his sons. ⁸. And the first portion came forth for Gomer to the east from the north side to the river Tigris and in the north there came forth for Magog all the inner portions of the north until it reaches to the sea of Méat. ⁹. And for Madai came forth as his portion that he should possess from the west of his two brothers to the islands, and to the coasts of the islands. ¹⁰. And for Javan came forth the fourth portion every island and the islands which are towards the border of Lud. ¹¹. And for Tubal there came forth the fifth portion in the midst of the tongue which approaches towards the border of the portion of Lud to the second tongue, to the region beyond the second tongue unto the third tongue. ¹². And for Meshech came forth the sixth portion, all the region beyond the third tongue till it approaches the east of Gadir. ¹³. And for Tiras there came forth the seventh portion, four great islands in the midst of the sea, which reach to the portion of Ham [and the islands of Kamatiri came out by lot for the sons of Arpachshad as his inheritance]. ¹⁴, And thus the sons of Noah divided unto their sons in the presence of Noah their father, and he bound them all by an oath, imprecating a curse on everyone that sought to seize the portion which had not fallen (to him) by his lot. ¹⁵. And they all said, "So be it so be it,' for themselves and their sons for ever throughout their generations till the day of judgment, on which the Lord God shall judge them with a sword and with fire, for all the unclean wickedness of their errors, wherewith they have filled the earth with transgression and uncleanness and fornication and sin.

CHAPTER 10 ¹And in the third week of this jubilee the unclean demons began to lead astray the children of the sons of Noah, and to make to err and destroy them. ². And the sons of Noah came to Noah their father, and they told him concerning the demons which were leading astray and blinding and slaying his sons' sons. the Lord his God, and said: ³. And he prayed before "God of the spirits of all flesh, who hast shown mercy unto me, And hast saved me and my sons from the waters of the flood, And hast not caused me to perish as Thou didst the sons of perdition For Thy grace has been great towards me, And great has been Thy mercy to my soul Let Thy grace be lift up upon my sons, And let not wicked spirits rule over them Lest they should destroy them from the earth. ⁴, But do Thou bless me and my sons, that we may increase and multiply and replenish knowest how Thy Watchers, the fathers of these spirits, acted in my day: and as for these spirits which are living, imprison them and hold them fast in the place of condemnation, and let them not bring destruction on the sons of thy servant, my God for these are malignant, and created in order to destroy. ⁶. And let them not rule over the spirits of the living for Thou alone canst exercise dominion over them. And let them not have power over the sons of the righteous from henceforth and for evermore.” ⁷, And the Lord our God bade us to bind all, ⁸. And the chief of the spirits, Mastéma, came and said: “Lord, Creator, let some of them remain before me, and let them hearken to my voice, and do all that I shall say unto them for if some of them are not left to me, I shall not be able to execute the power of my will on the sons of men for these are for corruption and leading astray before my judgment, for great is the wickedness of the sons of men.” ⁹. And He said: “Let the tenth part of them remain before him, and let nine parts descend into the place of condemnation.” ¹⁰. And one of us He commanded that we should teach Noah all their medicines for

He knew that they would not walk in uprightness, nor strive in righteousness. ¹¹. And we did according to all His words: all the malignant evil ones we bound in the place of condemnation, and a tenth part of them we left that they might be subject before Satan on the earth. ¹². And we explained to Noah all the medicines of their diseases, together with their seductions, how he might heal them with herbs of the earth. ¹³. And Noah wrote down all things in a book as we instructed him concerning every kind of medicine. Thus the evil spirits were precluded from (hurting) the sons of Noah. ¹⁴. And he gave all that he had written to Shem, his eldest son for he loved him exceedingly above all his sons. ¹⁵. And Noah slept with his fathers, and was buried on Mount Libar in the land of Ararat. ¹⁶. Nine hundred and fifty years he completed in his life, nineteen jubilees and two weeks and five years. ¹⁷. And in his life on earth he excelled the children of men save Enoch because of the righteousness, wherein he was perfect. For Enoch’s office was ordained for a testimony to the generations of the world, so that he should recount all the deeds of generation unto generation, till the day of judgment. ¹⁸. And in the three and thirtieth jubilee, in the first year in the second week, Peleg took to himself a wife, whose name was Lémna the daughter of Sina'ar, and she bare him a son in the fourth year of this week, and he called his name Reu for he said: "Behold the children of men have become evil through the wicked purpose of building for themselves a city and a tower in the land of Shinar." ¹⁹. For they departed from the land of Ararat eastward to Shinar for in his days they built the city and the tower, saying, "Go to, let us ascend thereby into heaven." ²⁰, And they began to build, and in the fourth week they made brick with fire, and the bricks served them for stone, and the clay with which they cemented them together was asphalt which comes out of the sea, and out of the fountains of water in the land of Shinar. ²¹. And they built it: forty and three years were they building it its breadth was ²⁰³ bricks, and the height (of a brick) was the third of one its height amounted to ⁵⁴³³ cubits and ² palms, and (the extent of one wall was) thirteen stades (and of the other thirty stades). ²². And the Lord our God said unto us: "Behold, they are one people, and (this) they begin to do, and now nothing will be withholden from them. Go to, let us go down and confound their language, that they may not understand one another's speech, and they may be dispersed into cities and nations, and one purpose will no longer abide with them till the day of judgment." ²³. And the Lord descended, and we descended with Him to see the city and the tower which the children of men had built, ²⁴. And He confounded their language, and they no longer understood one another's speech, and they ceased then to build the city and the tower. ²⁵. For this reason the whole land of Shinar is called Babel, because the Lord did there confound all the language of the children of men, and from thence they were dispersed into their cities, each according to his language and his nation. ²⁶. And the Lord sent a mighty wind against the tower and overthrew it upon the earth, and behold it was between Asshur and Babylon in the land of Shinar, and they called its name "Overthrow." ²⁷. In the fourth week in the first year in the beginning thereof in the four and thirtieth jubilee, were they dispersed from the land of Shinar. ²⁸. And Ham and his sons went into the land which he was to occupy, which he acquired as his portion in the land of the south. ²⁹. And Canaan saw the land of Lebanon to the river of Egypt that it was very good, and he went not into the land of his inheritance to the west (that is to) the sea, and he dwelt in the land of Lebanon, eastward and westward from the border of Jordan and from the border of the sea. ³⁰. And Ham, his father, and Cush and Mizraim, his brothers, said unto him: "Thou hast settled in a land which is not thine, and which did not fall to us by lot: do not do so for if thou dost do so, thou and thy sons will fall in the land and (be) accursed through sedition for by sedition ye have settled, and by sedition will thy children fall, and thou shalt be rooted out for ever. ³¹. Dwell not in the dwelling of Shem for to Shem and to his sons did it come by their lot. ³². Cursed art thou, and cursed shalt thou be beyond all the sons of Noah, by the curse by which we bound ourselves by an oath in the presence of the holy judge, and in the presence of Noah our father." ³³. But he did not hearken unto them, and dwelt in the land of Lebanon from Hamath to the entering of Egypt, he and his sons until this day. ³⁴. And for this reason that land is named Canaan. ³⁵. And Japheth and his sons went towards the sea and dwelt in the land of their portion, and Madai saw the land of the sea and it did not please him, and he begged a (portion) from Elam and Asshur and Arpachshad, his wife's brother, and he dwelt in the land of Media, near to his wife's brother until this day. ³⁶. And he called his dwelling-place, and the dwelling-place of his sons, Media, after the name of their father Madai.

CHAPTER 11 ¹And in the thirty-fifth jubilee, in the third week, in the first year thereof, Reu took to himself a wife, and her name was Ord, the daughter of Ur, the son of Késéd, and she bare him a son, and he called his name Séréh, in the seventh year of this week in this jubilee. ². And the sons of Noah began to war on each other, to take captive and to slay each other, and to shed the blood of men on the earth, and to eat blood, and to build strong cities, and walls, and towers, and individuals (began) to exalt themselves above the nation, and to found the beginnings of kingdoms, and to go to war people against people, and nation against nation, and city against city, and all (began) to do evil, and to acquire arms, and to teach their sons war, and they began to capture cities, and to sell male and female slaves. ³. And Or, the son of Késéd, built the city of 'Ara of the Chaldees, and called its name after his own name and the name of his father. ⁴, And they made for themselves molten images, and they worshipped each the idol, the molten image which they had made for themselves, and they began to make graven images and unclean simulacra, and malignant spirits assisted and seduced (them) into committing transgression and uncleanness, ⁵. And the prince Mastéma exerted himself to do all this, and he sent forth other spirits, those which were put under his hand, to do all manner of wrong and sin, and all manner of transgression, to corrupt and destroy, and to shed blood upon the earth. ⁶. For this reason he called the name of Sérđh, Serug, for every one turned to do all manner of sin and transgression. ⁷. And he grew up, and dwelt in Ur of the Chaldees, near to the father of his wife's mother, and he worshipped idols, and he took to himself a wife in the thirty sixth jubilee, in the fifth week, in the first year thereof, and her name was Mélka, the daughter of Kabér, the daughter of his father's brother. ⁸. And she bare him Nahor, in the first year of this week, and he grew and dwelt in Ur of the Chaldees, and his father taught him the researches of the Chaldees to divine and augur, according to the signs of heaven. ⁹. And in the thirty-seventh jubilee, in the sixth week, in the first year thereof, he took to himself a wife, and her name was "ljask, the daughter of Néstag of the Chaldees. ¹⁰. And she bare him Terah in the seventh year of this week. ¹¹. And the prince Mastéma sent ravens and birds to devour the seed which was sown in the land, in order to destroy the land, and rob the children of men of their labours. Before they could plough in the seed, the ravens picked (it) from the surface of the ground. ¹². And for this reason he called his name Terah, because the ravens and the birds reduced them to destitution and devoured their seed. ¹³. And the years began to be barren, owing to the birds, and they devoured all the fruit of the trees from the trees: it was only with great effort that they could save a little of all the fruit of the earth in their days. ¹⁴. And in this thirty-ninth jubilee, in the second week in the first year, Terah took to himself a wife, and her name was 'Edna, the daughter of Abram, the daughter of his father's sister. ¹⁵. And in the seventh year of this week she bare him a son, and he called his name Abram, by the name of the father of his mother for he had died before his daughter had conceived a son. ¹⁶, And the child began to understand the errors of the earth that all went astray after graven images and after uncleanness, and his father taught him writing, and he was two weeks of years old, and he separated himself from his father, that he might not worship idols with him. ¹⁷. And he began to pray to the Creator of all things that He might save him from the errors of the children of men, and that his portion should not fall into error after uncleanness and vileness. ¹⁸, And the seed time came for the sowing of seed upon the land, and they all went forth together to protect their seed against the ravens, and Abram went forth with those that went, and the child was a lad of fourteen years. ¹⁹, And a cloud of ravens came to devour the seed, and Abram ran to meet them before they settled on the ground, and cried to them before they settled on the ground to devour the seed, and said, “Descend not: return to the place whence ye came,” and they proceeded to turn back. ²⁰. And he caused the clouds of ravens to turn back that day seventy times, and of all the ravens throughout all the land where Abram was there settled there not so much as one. ²¹. And all who were with him throughout all the land saw him cry out, and all the ravens turn back, and his name became great in all the land of the Chaldees. ²². And there came to him this year all those that wished to sow, and he went with them until the time of sowing ceased: and they sowed their land, and that year they brought enough grain home and eat and were satisfied. ²³. And in the first year of the fifth week Abram taught those who made implements for oxen, the artificers in wood, and they made a vessel above the ground, facing the frame of the plough, in order to put the seed thereon, and the seed fell down therefrom upon the share of the plough, and was hidden in the earth, and they no longer feared the ravens. ²⁴, And after this manner they made (vessels) above the ground on all the frames of the ploughs, and they sowed and tilled all the land, according as Abram commanded them, and they no longer feared the birds.

CHAPTER 12 ¹And it came to pass in the sixth week, in the seventh year thereof, that Abram said to Terah his father, saying, “Father!” And he said, “Behold, here am I, my son.” ². And he said, "What help and profit have we from those idols which thou dost worship, And before which thou dost bow thyself ? . For there is no spirit in them, For they are dumb forms, and a misleading of the heart. Worship them not: . Worship the God of heaven, Who causes the rain and the dew to descend on the earth, And does everything upon the earth, And has created everything by His word, And all life is from before His face. . Why do ye worship things that have no spirit in them ? For they are the work of (men's) hands, σι And on your shoulders do ye bear them, And ye have no help from them, But they are a great cause of shame to those who make them, And a misleading of the heart to those who worship them : Worship them not." ⁶. And his father said unto him, "I also know it, my son, but what shall I do with a people who have made me to serve before them? ⁷. And if I tell them the truth, they will slay me for their soul cleaves to them to worship them and honour them, Keep silent, my son, lest they slay thee." ⁸. And these words he spake to his two brothers, and they were angry with him and he kept silent. ⁹. And in the fortieth jubilee, in the second week, in the seventh year thereof, Abram took to himself a wife, and her name was Sarai, the daughter of his father, and she became his wife. ¹⁰. And Haran, his brother, took to himself a wife in the third year of the third week, and she bare him a son in the seventh year of this week, and he called his name Lot. ¹¹. And Nahor, his brother, took to himself a wife. ¹². And in the sixtieth year of the life of Abram, that is, in the fourth week, in the fourth year thereof, Abram arose by night, and burned the house of the idols, and he burned all that was in the house, and no man knew it. ¹³. And they arose in the night and sought to save their gods from the midst of the fire. ¹⁴. And Haran hasted to save them, but the fire flamed over him, and he was burnt in the fire, and he died in Ur of the Chaldees before Terah his father, and they buried him in Ur of the Chaldees. ¹⁵. And Terah went forth from Ur of the Chaldees, he and his to go into the land of Lebanon and into the land of Canaan, and he dwelt in the land of Haran, and Abram dwelt with Terah his father in Haran two weeks of years. ¹⁶. And in the sixth week, in the fifth year thereof, Abram sat up throughout the night on the new moon of the seventh month to observe the stars from the evening to the morning, in order to see what would be the character of the year with regard to the rains, and he was alone as he sat and observed. ¹⁷. And a word came into his heart and he said: "All the signs of the stars, and the signs of the moon and of the sun are all in the hand of the Lord. Why do I search (them) out ? ¹⁸. If He desires, He causes it to rain, morning and evening And if He desires, He withholds it, And all things are in His hand." ¹⁹. And he prayed that night and said "My God, God Most High, Thou alone art my God, And Thee and Thy dominion have I chosen. And Thou hast created all things, And all things that are are the work of Thy hands. ²⁰. Deliver me from the hands of evil spirits who have sway over the thoughts of men's hearts, And let them not lead me astray from Thee, my God. And stablish Thou me and my seed for ever That we go not astray from henceforth and for evermore." ²¹. And he said, "Shall I return unto Ur of the Chaldees who seek my face that I may return to them, or am I to remain here in this place? The right path before Thee prosper it in the hands of Thy servant that he may fulfil (it) and that I may not walk in the deceitfulness of my heart, O my God." ²². And he made an end of speaking and praying, and behold the word of the Lord was sent to him through me, saying: "Get thee up from thy country, and from thy kindred and from the house of thy father unto a land which I shall show thee, and I shall make thee a great and numerous nation. ²³. And I shall bless thee And I shall make thy name great, And thou wilt be blessed in the earth, And in Thee will all families of the earth be blessed, And I shall bless them that bless thee, And curse them that curse thee. ²⁴, And I shall be a God to thee and thy son, and to thy son's son, and to all thy seed: fear not, from henceforth and unto all generations of the earth I am thy God." ²⁵. And the Lord God said: "Open his mouth and his ears, that he may hear and speak with his mouth, with the language which has been revealed" for it had ceased from the mouths of all the children of men from the day of the overthrow (of Babel). ²⁶. And I opened his mouth, and his ears and his lips, and I began to speak with him in Hebrew in the tongue of the creation. ²⁷. And he took the books of his fathers, and these were written in Hebrew, and he transcribed them, and he began from henceforth to study them, and I made known to him that which he could not (understand), and he studied them during the six rainy months.²⁸ And it came to pass in the seventh year of the sixth week that he spoke to his father, and informed him that he would leave Haran to go into the land of Canaan to see it and return to him.²⁹ And Terah his father said unto him "Go in peace: May the eternal God make thy path straight, And the Lord [(be) with thee, and] protect thee from all evil, And grant unto thee grace, mercy and favour before those who see thee, And may none of the children of men have power over thee to harm thee Go in peace."³⁰ And if thou seest a land pleasant to thy eyes to dwell in, then arise and take me to thee and take Lot with thee, the son of Haran thy brother, as thine own son: the Lord be with thee.³¹ And Nahor thy brother leave with me till thou returnest in peace, and we go with thee all together."

CHAPTER 13 ¹ And Abram journeyed from Haran, and he took Sarai, his wife, and Lot, his brother Haran's son, to the land of Canaan, and he came into Asshurt, and proceeded to Shechem, and dwelt near a lofty oak. ² And he saw, and, behold, the land was very pleasant from the entering of Hamath to the lofty oak. ³ And the Lord said to him:

"To thee and to thy seed will I give this land." ⁴ And he built an altar there, and he offered thereon a burnt sacrifice to the Lord, who had appeared to him. ⁵ And he removed from thence unto the mountain . . . Bethel on the west and Ai on the east, and pitched his tent there. ⁶ And he saw and behold, the land was very wide and good, and everything grew thereon—vines and figs and pomegranates, oaks and ilexes, and terebinths and oil trees, and cedars and cypresses and date trees, and all trees of the field, and there was water on the mountains. ⁷ And he blessed the Lord who had led him out of Ur of the Chaldees, and had brought him to this land. ⁸ And it came to pass in the first year, in the seventh week, on the new moon of the first month, that he built an altar on this mountain, and called on the name of the Lord: "Thou, the eternal God, art my God." ⁹ And he offered on the altar a burnt sacrifice unto the Lord that He should be with him and not forsake him all the days of his life. ¹⁰ And he removed from thence and went towards the south, and he came to Hebron, and Hebron was built at that time, and he dwelt there two years, and he went (thence) into the land of the south, to Bealoth, and there was a famine in the land. ¹¹. And Abram went into Egypt in the third year of the week, and he dwelt in Egypt five years before his wife was torn away from him. ¹². Now Tanais in Egypt was at that time built—seven years after Hebron. ¹³. And it came to pass when Pharaoh seized Sarai, the wife of Abram, that the Lord plagued Pharaoh and his house with great plagues because of Sarai, Abram's wife. ¹⁴. And Abram was very glorious by reason of possessions in sheep, and cattle, and asses, and horses, and camels, and menservants, and maidservants, and in silver and gold exceedingly. And Lot also, his brother's son, was wealthy. ¹⁵. And Pharaoh gave back Sarai, the wife of Abram, and he sent him out of the land of Egypt, and he journeyed to the place where he had pitched his tent at the beginning, to the place of the altar, with Ai on the east, and Bethel on the west, and he blessed the Lord his God who had brought him back in peace. ¹⁶. And it came to pass in the forty-first jubilee, in the third year of the first week, that he returned to this place and offered thereon a burnt sacrifice, and called on the name of the Lord, and said: "Thou, the most high God, art my God for ever and ever." ¹⁷. And in the fourth year of this week Lot parted from him, and Lot dwelt in Sodom, and the men of Sodom were sinners exceedingly. ¹⁸. And it grieved him in his heart that his brother's son had parted from him for he had no children. ¹⁹. In that year when Lot was taken captive, the Lord said unto Abram, after that Lot had parted from him, in the fourth year of this week: "Lift up thine eyes from the place where thou art dwelling, northward and southward, and westward and eastward. ²⁰. For all the land which thou seest I shall give to thee and to thy seed for ever, and I shall make thy seed as the sand of the sea: though a man may number the dust of the earth, yet thy seed shall not be numbered. ²¹. Arise, walk (through the land) in the length of it and the breadth of it, and see it all for to thy seed shall I give it." And Abram went to Hebron, and dwelt there. ²². And in this year came Chedorlaomer, king of Elam, and Amraphel, king of Shinar, and Arioch, king of Séllasar, and Térgal, king of nations, and slew the king of Gomorrah, and the king of Sodom fled, and many fell through wounds in the vale of Siddim, by the Salt Sea. ²³. And they took captive Sodom and Adam and Zeboim, and they took captive Lot also, the son of Abram's brother, and all his possessions, and they went to Dan. ²⁴. And one who had escaped came and told Abram that his brother's son had been taken captive and (Abram) armed his household servants. ²⁶. for Abram, and for his seed, a tenth of the first-fruits to the Lord, and lo! the Lord ordained it as an ordinance for ever that they should give it to the priests who served before Him, that they should possess it for ever. ²⁶. And to this law there is no limit of days for He hath ordained it for the generations for ever that they should give to the Lord the tenth of everything, of the seed and of the wine and of the oil and of the cattle and of the sheep, ²⁷. And He gave (it) unto His priests to eat and to drink with joy before Him. ²⁸. And the king of Sodom came to him and bowed himself before him, and said: "Our Lord Abram, give unto us the souls which thou hast rescued, but let the booty be thine." ²⁹. And Abram said unto him: "I lift up my hands to the Most High God, that from a thread to a shoe-latchet I shall not take aught that is thine, lest thou shouldst say I have made Abram rich save only what the young men have eaten, and the portion of the men who went with me—

Aner, Eschol, and Mamre. These will take their portion."

CHAPTER 14 ¹After these things, in the fourth year of this week, on the new moon of the third month, the word of the Lord came to Abram in a dream, saying: "Fear not, Abram I am thy defender, and thy reward will be exceeding great." ². And he said: "Lord, Lord, what wilt thou give me, seeing I go hence childless, and the son of Maséq, the son of my handmaid, is the Dammasek Eliezer: he will be my heir, and to me thou hast given no seed." ³. And He said unto him: "This (man) will not be thy heir, but one that will come out of thine own bowels he will be thine heir." ⁴, And He brought him forth abroad, and said unto him: "Took toward heaven and number the stars, if thou art able to number them." ⁵. And he looked toward heaven, and beheld the stars. And He said unto him: "So shall thy seed be." ⁶. And he believed in the Lord, and it was counted to him for righteousness. ⁷. And He said unto him: "I am the Lord that brought thee out of Ur of the Chaldees, to give thee the land of the Canaanites to possess it for ever and I shall be God unto thee and to thy seed after thee." ⁸. And he said: "Lord, Lord, whereby shall I know that I shall inherit (it)?" ⁹. And He said unto him: "Take Me an heifer of three years, and a goat of three years, and a sheep of three years, and a turtle-dove, and a pigeon." ¹⁰. And he took all these in the middle of the month and he dwelt at the oak of Mamre, which is near Hebron, ¹¹. And he built there an altar, and sacrificed all these and he poured their blood upon the altar, and divided them in the midst, and laid them over against each other but the birds divided he not. ¹². And birds came down upon the pieces, and Abram drove them away, and did not suffer the birds to touch them. ¹³. And it came to pass, when the sun had set, that an ecstasy fell upon Abram, and lo! an horror of great darkness fell upon him, and it was said unto Abram: "Know of a surety that thy seed shall be a stranger in a land (that is) not theirs, and they will bring them into bondage, and afflict them four hundred years. ¹⁴. And the nation also to whom they will be in bondage shall I judge, and after that they will come forth thence with much substance. ¹⁵. And thou wilt go to thy fathers in peace, and be buried in a good old age. ¹⁶. But in the fourth generation they will return hither for the iniquity of the Amorites is not yet full." ¹⁷. And he awoke from his sleep, and he arose, and the sun had set and there was a flame, and behold! a furnace was smoking, and a flame of fire passed between the pieces. ¹⁸. And on that day the Lord made a covenant with Abram, saying: "To thy seed will I give this land, from the river of Egypt unto the great river, the river Euphrates, the Kenites, the Kenizzites, the Kadmonites, the Perizzites, and the Rephaim, the Phakorites, and the Hivites, and the Amorites, and the Canaanites, and the Girgashites, and the Jebusites." ¹⁹. And the day passed, and Abram offered the pieces, and the birds, and their fruit-offerings, and their drink-offerings, and the fire devoured them. ²⁰. And on that day we made a covenant with Abram, according as we had covenanted with Noah in this month and Abram renewed the festival and ordinance for himself for ever. ²¹. And Abram rejoiced, and made all these things known to Sarai his wife and he believed that he would have seed, but she did not pear. ²². And Sarai advised her husband Abram, and said unto him "Go in unto Hagar, my Egyptian maid: it may be that I shall build up seed unto thee by her." ²³. And Abram hearkened unto the voice of Sarai his wife, and said unto her, "Do (so)." And Sarai took Hagar, her maid, the Egyptian, and gave her to Abram, her husband, to be his wife. ²⁴. And he went in unto her, and she conceived and bare him a son, and he called his name Ishmael, in the fifth year of this week and this was the eighty-sixth year in the life of Abram.

CHAPTER 15 ¹And in the fifth year of the +fourth week of this jubilee, in the third month, in the middle of the month, Abram celebrated the feast of the first-fruits of the grain harvest. ². And he offered new offerings on the altar, the first-fruits of the produce, unto the Lord, an heifer and a goat and a sheep on the altar as a burnt sacrifice unto the Lord their fruit-offerings and their drink-offerings he offered upon the altar with frankincense. ³. And the Lord appeared to Abram, and said unto him: "I am God Almighty approve thyself before Me and be thou perfect. ⁴, And I will make My covenant between Me and thee, and I will multiply thee exceedingly." ⁵. And Abram fell on his face, and God talked with him, and said: ⁶. "Behold My ordinance is with thee, And thou wilt be the father of many nations. ⁷. Neither will thy name any more be called Abram, But thy name from henceforth, even for ever, shall be Abraham. For the father of many nations have I made thee. ⁸. And I shall make thee very great, And I shall make thee into nations, And kings will come forth from thee. ⁹. And I shall establish My covenant between Me and thee, and thy seed after thee, throughout their generations, for an eternal covenant, so that I may be a God unto thee, and to thy seed after thee. ¹⁰. (And I shall give to thee and to thy seed after thee) the land where thou hast been a sojourner, the land of Canaan, that thou mayst possess it for ever, and I shall be their God." ¹¹. And the Lord said unto Abraham: " And as for thee, do thou keep My covenant, thou and thy seed after thee and circumcise ye every male among you, and circumcise your foreskins, and it will be a token of an eternal covenant between Me and you. ¹². And the child on the eighth day ye will circumcise, every male throughout your generations, him that is born in the house, or whom ye have bought with money from any stranger, whom ye have acquired who is not of thy seed. ¹³. He that is born in thy house will surely be circumcised, and those whom thou hast bought with money will be circumcised, and My covenant will be in your flesh for an eternal ordinance. ¹⁴. And the uncircumcised male who is not circumcised in the flesh of his foreskin on the eighth day, that soul will be cut off from his people, for he has broken My covenant.” ¹⁵. And God said unto Abraham: “As for Sarai thy wife, her name will no more be called Sarai, but Sarah will be her name. ¹⁶. And I shall bless her, and give thee a son by her, and I shall bless him, and he will become a nation, and kings of nations will proceed from him.” ¹⁷. And Abraham fell on his face, and rejoiced, and said in his heart: “Shall a son be born to him that is a hundred years old, and shall Sarah, who is ninety years old, bring forth?” ¹⁸. And Abraham said unto God: “O that Ishmael might live before thee!” ¹⁹, And God said: “Yea, and Sarah also will bear thee a son, and thou wilt call his name Isaac, and I shall establish My covenant with him, an everlasting covenant, and for his seed after him. ²⁰. And as for Ishmael also have ¹heard thee, and behold I shall bless him, and make him great, and multiply him exceedingly, and he will beget twelve princes, and I shall make him a great nation. ²¹. But My covenant shall I establish with Isaac, whom Sarah will bear to thee, in these days, in the next year.” ²². And He left off speaking with him, and God went up from Abraham. ²³. And Abraham did according as God had said unto him, and he took Ishmael his son, and all that were born in his house, and whom he had bought with his money, every male in his house, and circumcised the flesh of their foreskin. ²⁴. And on the selfsame day was Abraham circumcised, and all the men of his house, (and those born in the house), and all those, whom he had bought with money from the children of the stranger, were circumcised with him. ²⁵. This law is for all the generations for ever, and there is no circumcision of the days, and no omission of one day out of the eight days for it is an eternal ordinance, ordained and written on the heavenly tables. ²⁶. And every one that is born, the flesh of whose foreskin is not circumcised on the eighth day, belongs not to the children of the covenant which the Lord made with Abraham, but to the children of destruction nor is there, moreover, any sign on him that he is the Lord’s, but (he is destined) to be destroyed and slain from the earth, and to be rooted out of the earth, for he has broken the covenant of the Lord our God. ²⁷. For all the angels of the presence and all the angels of sanctification have been so created from the day of their creation, and before the angels of the presence and the angels of sanctification He hath sanctified Israel, that they should be with Him and with His holy angels. ²⁸. And do thou command the children of Israel and let them observe the sign of this covenant for their generations as an eternal ordinance, and they will not be rooted out of the land. ²⁹. For the command is ordained for a covenant, that they should observe it for ever among all the children of Israel. ³⁰, For Ishmael and his sons and his brothers and Esau, the Lord did not cause to approach Him, and he chose them not because they are the children of Abraham, because He knew them, but He chose Israel to be His people. ³¹. And He sanctified it, and gathered it from amongst all the children of men for there are many nations and many peoples, and all are His, and over all hath He placed spirits in authority to lead them astray from Him. ³². But over Israel He did not appoint any angel or spirit, for He alone is their ruler, and He will preserve them and require them at the hand of His angels and His spirits, and at the hand of all His powers in order that He may preserve them and bless them, and that they may be His and He may be theirs from henceforth for ever. ³³. And now I announce unto thee that the children of Israel will not keep true to this ordinance, and they will not circumcise their sons according to all this law for in the flesh of their circumcision they will omit this circumcision of their sons, and all of them, sons of Beliar, will leave their sons uncircumcised as they were born. ³⁴, And there will be great wrath from the Lord against the children of Israel, because they have forsaken His covenant and turned aside from His word, and provoked and blasphemed, inasmuch as they do not observe the ordinance of this law for they have treated their members like the Gentiles, so that they may be removed and rooted out of the land. And there will no more be pardon or forgiveness unto them [so that there should be forgiveness and pardon] for all the sin of this eternal error.

CHAPTER 16 ¹And on the new moon of the fourth month we appeared unto Abraham, at the oak of Mamre, and we talked with him, and we announced to him that a son would be given to him by Sarah his wife. ². And Sarah laughed, for she heard that we had spoken these words with Abraham, and we admonished her, and she became afraid, and denied that she had laughed on account of the words. ³. And we told her the name of her son, as his name is ordained and written in the heavenly tables (⁷.e.) Isaac, ⁴. And (that) when we returned to her at a set time, she would have conceived a son. ⁵. And in this month the Lord executed his judgments on Sodom, and Gomorrah, and Zeboim, and all the region of the Jordan, and He burned them with fire and brimstone, and destroyed them until this day, even as [lo] I have declared unto thee all their works, that they are wicked and sinners exceedingly, and that they defile themselves and commit fornication in their flesh, and work uncleanness on the earth. ⁶. And, in like manner, God will execute judgment on the places where they have done according to the uncleanness of the Sodomites, like unto the judgment of Sodom. ⁷. But Lot we saved for God remembered Abraham, and sent him out from the midst of the overthrow. ⁸. And he and his daughters committed sin upon the earth, such as had not been on the earth since the days of Adam till his time for the man lay with his daughters. ⁹. And, behold, it was commanded and engraven concerning all his seed, on the heavenly tables, to remove them and root them out, and to execute judgment upon them like the judgment of Sodom, and to leave no seed of the man on earth on the day of condemnation. ¹⁰. And in this month Abraham moved from Hebron, and departed and dwelt between Kadesh and Shur in the mountains of Gerar. ¹¹. And in the middle of the fifth month he moved from thence, and dwelt at the Well of the Oath. ¹². And in the middle of the sixth month the Lord visited Sarah and did unto her as He had spoken, and she conceived. ¹³. And she bare a son in the third month, and in the middle of the month, at the time of which the Lord had spoken to Abraham, on the festival of the first-fruits of the harvest, Isaac was born. ¹⁴. And Abraham circumcised his son on the eighth day: he was the first that was circumcised according to the covenant which is ordained for ever. ¹⁵. And in the sixth year of the tfourth+ week we came to Abraham, to the Well of the Oath, and we appeared unto him [as we had told Sarah that we should return to her, and she would have conceived a son. ¹⁶. And we returned in the seventh month, and found Sarah with child before us] and we blessed him, and we announced to him all the things which had been decreed concerning him, that he should not die till he should beget six sons more, and should see (them) before he died but (that) in Isaac should his name and seed be called: ¹⁷. And (that) all the seed of his sons should be Gentiles, and be reckoned with the Gentiles but from the sons of Isaac one should become a holy seed, and should not be reckoned among the Gentiles. ¹⁸. For he should become the portion of the Most High, and all his seed had fallen into the possession of God, that it should be unto the Lord a people for (His) possession above all nations and that it should become a kingdom and priests and a holy nation. ¹⁹. And we went our way, and we announced to Sarah all that we had told him, and they both rejoiced with exceeding great joy. ²⁰. And he built there an altar to the Lord who had delivered him, and who was making him rejoice in the land of his sojourning, and he celebrated a festival of joy in this month seven days, near the altar which he had built at the Well of the Oath. ²¹. And he built booths for himself and for his servants on this festival, and he was the first to celebrate the feast of tabernacles on the earth. ²². And during these seven days he brought each day to the altar a burnt-offering to the Lord, two oxen, two rams, seven sheep, one he-goat, for a sin-offering, that he might atone thereby for himself and for his seed. ²³. And, as a thank-offering, seven rams, seven kids, seven sheep, and seven he-goats, and their fruit-offerings and their drinkofferings and he burnt all the fat thereof on the altar, a chosen offering unto the Lord for a sweet smelling savour. ²⁴. And morning and evening he burnt fragrant substances, frankincense and galbanum, and stackte, and nard, and myrrh, and spice, and costum all these seven he offered, crushed, mixed together in equal parts (and) pure. ²⁵. And he celebrated this feast during seven days, rejoicing with all his heart and with all his soul, he and all those who were in his house and there was no stranger with him, nor any that was uncircumcised. ²⁶. And he blessed his Creator who had created him in his generation, for He had created him according to His good pleasure for He knew and perceived that from him would arise the plant of righteousness for the eternal generations, and from him a holy seed, so that it should become like Him who had made all things. ²⁷. And he blessed and rejoiced, and he called the name of this festival the festival of the Lord, a joy acceptable to the Most High God. ²⁸. And we blessed him for ever, and all his seed after him throughout all the generations of the earth, because he celebrated this festival in its season, according to the testimony of the heavenly tables. ²⁹. For this reason it is ordained on the heavenly tables concerning Israel, that they shall celebrate the feast of tabernacles seven days with joy, in the seventh month, acceptable before the Lord—a statute for ever throughout their generations every year. ³⁰. And to this there is no limit of days for it is ordained for ever regarding Israel that they should celebrate it and dwell in booths, and set wreaths upon their heads, and take leafy boughs, and willows from the brook. ³¹. And Abraham took branches of palm trees, and the fruit of goodly trees, and every day going round the altar with the branches seven times [a day] in the morning, he praised and gave thanks to his God for all things in joy.

CHAPTER 17 ¹And in the first year of the +fifth+ week Isaac ¹⁹⁸² a.m was weaned in this jubilee, and Abraham made a great banquet in the third month, on the day his son Isaac was weaned, ². And Ishmael, the son of Hagar, the Egyptian, was before the face of Abraham, his father, in his place, and Abraham rejoiced and blessed God because he had seen his sons and had not died childless. ³. And he remembered the words which He had spoken to him on the day on which Lot had parted from him, and he rejoiced because the Lord had given him seed upon the earth to inherit the earth, and he blessed with all his mouth the Creator of all things. ⁴. And Sarah saw Ishmael playing and dancing, and Abraham rejoicing with great joy, and she became jealous of Ishmael and said to Abraham, “Cast out this bondwoman and her son for the son of this bondwoman will not be heir with my son, Isaac.” ⁵. And the thing was grievous in Abraham’s sight, because of his maidservant and because of his son, that he should drive them from him. ⁶. And God said to Abraham “Let it not be grievous in thy sight, because of the child and because of the bondwoman in all that Sarah hath said unto thee, hearken to her words and do (them) for in Isaac shall thy name and seed be called. ⁷. But as for the son of this bondwoman I will make him a great nation, because he is of thy seed.” ⁸. And Abraham rose up early in the morning, and took bread and a bottle of water, and placed them on the shoulders of Hagar and the child, and sent her away. ⁹. And she departed and wandered in the wilderness of Beersheba, and the water in the bottle was spent, and the child thirsted, and was not able to go on, and fell down. ¹⁰. And his mother took him and cast him under an olive tree, and went and sat her down over against him, at the distance of a bow-shot for she said, “Let me not see the death of my child,” and as she sat she wept. ¹¹. And an angel of God, one of the holy ones, said unto her, “Why weepest thou, Hagar? Arise take the child, and hold him in thine hand for God hath heard thy voice, and hath seen the child.” ¹². And she opened her eyes, and she saw a well of water, and she went and filled her bottle with water, and she gave her child to drink, and she arose and went towards the wilderness of Paran. ¹³. And the child grew and became an archer, and God was with him and his mother took him a wife from among the daughters of Egypt. ¹⁴. And she bare him a son, and he called his name Nebaioth for she said, “The Lord was nigh to me when I called upon him.” ¹⁵. And it came to pass in the seventh week, in the first year thereof, in the first month in this jubilee, on the twelfth of this month, there were voices in heaven regarding Abraham, that he was faithful in all that He told him, and that he loved the Lord, and that in every affliction he was faithful. ¹⁶. And the prince Mastémé came and said before God, “ Behold, Abraham loves Isaac his son, and he delights in him above all things else bid him offer him as a burnt-offering on the altar, and Thou wilt see if he will do this command, and Thou wilt know if he is faithful in everything wherein Thou dost try him. ¹⁷. And the Lord knew that Abraham was faithful in all his afflictions for He had tried him through his country and with famine, and had tried him with the wealth of kings, and had tried him again through his wife, when she was torn (from him), and with circumcision and had tried him through Ishmael and Hagar, his maid-servant, when he sent them away. ¹⁸. And in everything wherein He had tried him, he was found faithful, and his soul was not impatient, and he was not slow to act for he was faithful and a lover of the Lord.

CHAPTER 18 ¹And God said to him, “Abraham, Abraham ” and he said, “ Behold, (here) am I. ². And He said, “ Take thy beloved son whom thou lovest, (even) Isaac, and go unto the high country, and offer him on one of the mountains which I will point out unto thee.” ³. And he rose early in the morning and saddled his ass, and took his two young men with him, and Isaac his son, and clave the wood of the burnt-offering, and he went to the place on the third day, and he saw the place afar off. ⁴. And he came to a well of water, and he said to his young men, “Abide ye here with the ass, and I and the lad shall go (yonder), and when we have worshipped we shall come again to you.” ⁵, And he took the wood of the burnt-offering and laid it on Isaac his son, and he took in his hand the fire and the knife, and they went both of them together to that place. ⁶. And Isaac said to his father, “ Father” and he said, “ Here am I, my son.” And he said unto him, “ Behold the fire, and the knife, and the wood but where is the sheep for the burnt offering, father?” ⁷. And he said, “God will provide for himself a sheep for a burnt-offering, my son.” And he drew near to the place of the mount of God. ⁸. And he built an altar, and he placed the wood on the altar, and bound Isaac his son, and placed him on the wood which was upon the altar, and stretched forth his hand to take the knife to slay Isaac his son. ⁹. And I stood before him, and before the prince of the Mastémé, and the Lord said, “ Bid him not to lay his hand on the lad, nor to do anything to him, for I have shown that he fears the Lord.” ¹⁰. And I called to him from heaven, and said unto him: “ Abraham, Abraham” and he was terrified and said: “Behold, (here) am I. ¹¹. And I said unto him: “Lay not thy hand upon the lad, neither do thou anything to him for now I have shown that thou fearest the Lord, and hast not withheld thy son, thy firstborn son, from me.” ¹². And the prince of the Mastéma was put to shame and Abraham lifted up his eyes and looked, and, behold, a single ram caught... by his horns, and Abraham went and took the ram and offered it for a burnt-offering in the stead of his son, ¹³. And Abraham called that place “The Lord hath seen,” so that it is said “(in the mount) the Lord hath seen”: that is Mount Sion. ¹⁴, And the Lord called Abraham by his name a second time from heaven, as he caused us to appear to speak to him in the name of the Lord. ¹⁵. And He said: “ By Myself have I sworn, saith the Lord, Because thou hast done this thing, And hast not withheld thy son, thy beloved son, from Me, That in blessing I shall bless thee, And in multiplying I shall multiply thy seed As the stars of heaven, And as the sand which is on the seashore. And thy seed will inherit the cities of its enemies, And in thy seed will all nations of the earth be blessed Because thou hast obeyed My voice, And I have shown to all that thou art faithful unto Me in all that I have said unto thee: Go in peace.” ¹⁶, ¹⁷. And Abraham went to his young men, and they arose and went together to Beersheba, and Abraham dwelt by the Well of the Oath. ¹⁸. And he celebrated this festival every year, seven days with joy, and he called it the festival of the Lord according to the seven days during which he went and returned in peace. ¹⁹. And accordingly has it been ordained and written on the heavenly tables regarding Israel and its seed that they should observe this festival seven days with the joy of festival.

CHAPTER 19 ¹And in the first year of the first week in the forty-second jubilee, Abraham returned and dwelt opposite Hebron, that is Kirjath Arba, two weeks of years. ². And in the first year of the +thirdt week of this jubilee the days of the life of Sarah were accomplished, and she died in Hebron. ³. And Abraham went to mourn over her and bury her, and we tried him [to see] if his spirit were patient and he were not indignant in the words of his mouth and he was found patient in this, and was not disturbed. ⁴. For in patience of spirit he conversed with the children of Heth, to the intent that they should give him a place in which to bury his dead. ⁵. And the Lord gave him grace before all who saw him, and he besought in gentleness the sons of Heth, and they gave him the land of the double cave over against Mamre, that is Hebron, for four hundred pieces of silver. ⁶. And they besought him, saying, “ We shall give it to thee for nothing” but he would not take it from their hands for nothing, for he gave the price of the place, the money in full, and he bowed down before them twice and after this he buried his dead in the double cave. ⁷. And all the days of the life of Sarah were one hundred and twenty-seven years, that is, two jubilees and four weeks and one year: these are the days of the years of the life of Sarah. ⁸. This is the tenth trial wherewith Abraham was tried, and he was found faithful, patient in spirit. ⁹. And he said not a single word regarding the rumour in the land how that God had said that He would give it to him and to his seed after him, and he begged a place there to bury his dead for he was found faithful, and was recorded on the heavenly tables as the friend of God. ¹⁰. And in the fourth year thereof he took a wife for his son Isaac and her name was Rebecca [the daughter of Bethuel, the son of Nahor, the brother of Abraham] the sister of Laban and daughter of Bethuel and Bethuel was the son of Mélcé, who was the wife of Nahor, the brother of Abraham. ¹¹. And Abraham took to himself a third wife, and her name was Keturah, from among the daughters of his household servants, for Hagar had died before Sarah. ¹². And she bare him six sons, Zimram, and Jokshan, and Medan, and Midian, and Ishbak, and Shuah, in the two weeks of years. ¹³. And in the sixth week, in the second year thereof, Rebecca bare to Isaac two sons, Jacob and Esau, and Jacob was a smooth and upright man, and Esau was fierce, a man of the field, and hairy, and Jacob dwelt in tents. ¹⁴. And the youths grew, and Jacob learned to write but Esau did not learn, for he was a man of the field and a hunter, and he learnt war, and all his deeds were fierce. ¹⁵. And Abraham loved Jacob, but Isaac loved Esau. ¹⁶. And Abraham saw the deeds of Esau, and he knew that in Jacob should his name and seed be called and he called Rebecca and gave commandment regarding Jacob, for he knew that she (too) loved Jacob much more than Esau. ¹⁷. And he said unto her: "My daughter, watch over my son Jacob, For he shall be in my stead on the earth, And for a blessing in the midst of the children of men, And for the glory of the whole seed of Shem. ¹⁸. For I know that the Lord will choose him to be a people for possession unto Himself, above all peoples that are upon the face of the earth. ¹⁹. And behold, Isaac myson loves Esau more than Jacob, but I see that thou truly lovest Jacob. ²⁰. Add still further to thy kindness to him, And let thine eyes be upon him in love For he will be a blessing unto us on the earth from henceforth unto all generations of the earth. ²¹. Let thy hands be strong And let thy heart rejoice in thy son Jacob For I have loved him far beyond all my sons. He will be blessed for ever, And his seed will fill the whole earth. ²² If a man can number the sand of the earth, His seed also will be numbered. ²³ And all the blessings wherewith the Lord hath blessed me and my seed shall belong to Jacob and his seed alway. ²⁴ And in his seed shall my name be blessed, and the name of my fathers, Shem, and Noah, and Enoch, and Mahalalel, and Enos, and Seth, and Adam. ²⁵ And these shall serve To lay the foundations of the heaven, And to strengthen the earth, And to renew all the luminaries which are in the firmament.” ²⁶ And he called Jacob before the eyes of Rebecca his and blessed him, and said: ²⁷ “Jacob, my beloved son, whom my soul loveth, may God bless thee from above the firmament, and may He give thee all the blessings wherewith He blessed Adam, and Enoch, and Noah, and Shem and all the things of which He told me, and all the things which He promised to give me, may He cause to cleave to thee and to thy seed for ever, according to the days of heaven above the earth. ²⁸ And the spirits of Mastéma shall not rule over thee or over thy seed to turn thee from the Lord, who is thy God from henceforth for ever. ²⁹ And may the Lord God be a father to thee and thou the first-born son, and to the people alway. Go in peace, my son.” ³⁰ And they both went forth together from Abraham. ³¹ And Rebecca loved Jacob, with all her heart and with all her soul, very much more than Esau but Isaac loved Esau much more than Jacob.

CHAPTER 20 ¹And in the forty-second jubilee, in the first year of the seventh week, Abraham called Ishmael, and his twelve sons, and Isaac and his two sons, and the six sons of Keturah, and their sons. ² And he commanded them that they should observe the way of the Lord that they should work righteousness, and love each his neighbour, and act on this manner amongst all men that they should each so walk with regard to them as to do judgment and righteousness on the earth. ³ That they should circumcise their sons, according to the covenant which He had made with them, and not deviate to the right hand or the left of all the paths which the Lord had commanded us and that we should keep ourselves from all fornication and uncleanness,

[and renounce from amongst us all fornication and uncleanness].⁴, And if any woman or maid commit fornication amongst you, burn her with fire, and let them not commit fornication with her after their eyes and their heart and let them not take to themselves wives from the daughters of Canaan for the seed of Canaan will be rooted out of the land.⁵, And he told them of the judgment of the giants, and the judgment of the Sodomites, how they had been judged on account of their wickedness, and had died on account of their fornication, and uncleanness, and mutual corruption through fornication.⁶. “ And guard yourselves from all fornication and uncleanness, And from all pollution of sin, Lest ye make our name a curse, And your whole life a hissing, And all your sons to be destroyed by the sword, And ye become accursed like Sodom, And all your remnant as the sons of Gomorrah.⁷. I implore you, my sons, love the God of heaven, And cleave ye to all His commandments. And walk not after their idols, and after their uncleannesses,⁸. And make not for yourselves molten or graven gods For they are vanity, And there is no spirit in them , For they are work of (men’s) hands, And all who trust in them, trust in nothing. Serve them not, nor worship them,⁹. But serve ye the Most High God, and worship Him continually : And hope for His countenance always, And work uprightness and righteousness before Him, That He may have pleasure in you and grant you His mercy, And send rain upon you morning and evening, And bless all your works which ye have wrought upon the earth, And bless thy bread and thy water, And bless the fruit of thy womb and the fruit of thy land, And the herds of thy cattle, and the flocks of thy sheep. And ye will be for a blessing on the earth, And all nations of the earth will desire you,¹⁰. And bless your sons in my name, That they may be blessed as I am.”¹¹. And he gave to Ishmael and to his sons, and to the sons of Keturah, gifts, and sent them away from Isaac his son, and he gave everything to Isaac his son.¹². And Ishmael and his sons, and the sons of Keturah and their sons, went together and dwelt from Paran to the entering in of Babylon in all the land which is towards the East facing the desert.¹³. And these mingled with each other, and their name was called Arabs, and Ishmaelites.

CHAPTER 21 ¹And in the sixth year of the +seventh + week of this jubilee Abraham called Isaac his son, and commanded him, saying: “I am become old, and know not the day of my death, and am full of my days. ². And behold, I am one hundred and seventy-five years old, and throughout all the days of my life I have remembered the Lord, and sought with all my heart to do His will, and to walk uprightly in all His ways. ³. My soul has hated idols, (and I have despised those that served them, and I have given my heart and spirit) that I might observe to do the will of Him who created me. ⁴. For He is the living God, and He is holy and faithful, and He is righteous beyond all, and there is with Him no accepting of (men’s) persons and no accepting of gifts for God is righteous, and executeth judgment on all those who transgress His commandments and despise His covenant. ⁵. And do thou, my son, observe His commandments and His ordinances and His judgments, and walk not after the abominations and after the graven images and after the molten images. ⁶. And eat no blood at all of animals or cattle, or of any bird which flies in the heaven. ⁷. And if thou dost slay a victim as an acceptable peaceoffering, slay ye it, and pour out its blood upon the altar, and all the fat of the offering offer on the altar with fine flour (and the meat-offering) mingled with oil, with its drinkoffering — offer them all together on the altar of burnt offering it is a sweet savour before the Lord. ⁸. And thou wilt offer the fat of the sacrifice of thank-offerings on the fire which is upon the altar, and the fat which is on the belly, and all the fat on the inwards and the two kidneys, and all the fat that is upon them, and upon the loins and liver thou shalt remove, together with the kidneys. ⁹. And offer all these for a sweet savour acceptable before the Lord, with its meat-offering and with its drink-offering, for a sweet savour, the bread of the offering unto the Lord, ¹⁰. And eat its meat on that day and on the second day, and let not the sun on the second day go down upon it till it is eaten, and let nothing be left over for the third day for it is not acceptable [for it is not approved] and let it no longer be eaten, and all who eat thereof will bring sin upon themselves for thus I have found it written in the books of my forefathers, and in the words of Enoch, and in the words of Noah. ¹¹. And on all thy oblations thou shalt strew salt, and let not the salt of the covenant be lacking in all thy oblations before the Lord. ¹². And as regards the wood of the sacrifices, beware lest thou bring (other) wood for the altar in addition to these: cypress, défrin, sagAd, pine, fir, cedar, savin, palm, olive, myrrh, laurel, and citron, juniper, and balsam. ¹³. And of these kinds of wood lay upon the altar under the sacrifice, such as have been tested as to their appearance, and do not lay (thereon) any split or dark wood, (but) hard and clean, without fault, a sound and new growth and do not lay (thereon) old wood, [for its fragrance is gone] for there is no longer fragrance in it as before. ¹⁴. Besides these kinds of wood there is none other that thou shalt place (on the altar), for the fragrance is dispersed, and the smell of its fragrance goes not up to heaven. ¹⁵. Observe this commandment and do it, my son, that thou mayest be upright in all thy deeds. ¹⁶. And at all times be clean in thy body, and wash thyself with water before thou approachest to offer on the altar, and wash thy hands and thy feet before thou drawest near to the altar and when thou art done sacrificing, wash again thy hands and thy feet. ¹⁷. And let no blood appear upon you nor upon your clothes be on thy guard, my son, against blood, be on thy guard exceedingly cover it with dust. ¹⁸. And do not eat any blood, for it is the soul eat no blood whatever. ¹⁹. And take no gifts for the blood of man, lest it be shed with impunity, without judgment for it is the blood that is shed that causes the earth to sin, and the earth cannot be cleansed from the blood of man save by the blood of him who shed it. ²⁰. And take no present or gift for the blood of man: blood for blood, that thou mayest be accepted before the Lord, the Most High God for He is the defence of the good: and that thou mayest be preserved from all evil, and that He may save thee from every kind of death. ²¹. ¹see, my son, That all the works of the children of men are sin and wickedness, And all their deeds are uncleanness and an abomination and a pollution, And there is no righteousness with them. ²². Beware, lest thou shouldest walk in their ways And tread in their paths, And sin a sin unto death before the Most High God. Else He will [hide His face from thee, And] give thee back into the hands of thy transgression, And root thee out of the land, and thy seed likewise from under heaven, And thy name and thy seed will perish from the whole earth. ²³. Turn away from all their deeds and all their uncleanness, And observe the ordinance of the Most High God, And do His will and be upright in all things. ²⁴, And He will bless thee in all thy deeds, And will raise up from thee the plant of righteousness through all the earth, throughout all generations of the earth, And my name and thy name will not be forgotten under heaven for ever. ²⁵. Go, my son, in peace. May the Most High God, my God and thy God, strengthen thee to do His will, And may He bless all thy seed and the residue of thy seed for the generations for ever, with all righteous blessings, That thou mayest be a blessing on all the earth.” ²⁶, And he went out from him rejoicing.

CHAPTER 22 ¹And it came to pass in the +firstf week in the forty-fourth jubilee, in the second year, that is, the year in which Abraham died, that Isaac and Ishmael came from the Well of the Oath to celebrate the feast of weeks —that is, the feast of the first-fruits of the harvest—to Abraham, their father, and Abraham rejoiced because his two sons had come. ². For Isaac had many possessions in Beersheba, and Isaac was wont to go and see his possessions and to return to his father. ³. And in those days Ishmael came to see his father, and they both came together, and Isaac offered a sacrifice for a burnt-offering, and presented it on the altar of his father which he had made in Hebron. ⁴, And he offered a thank-offering and made a feast of joy before Ishmael, his brother: and Rebecca made new cakes from the new grain, and gave them to Jacob, her son, to take them to Abraham, his father, from the first-fruits of the land, that he might eat and bless the Creator of all things before he died. ⁵. And Isaac, too, sent by the hand of Jacob to Abraham a best thank-offering, that he might eat and drink. ⁶. And he eat and drank, and blessed the Most High God, Who hath created heaven and earth, Who hath made all the fat things of the earth, And given them to the children of men That they might eat and drink and bless their Creator. ⁷. “And now I give thanks unto Thee, my God, because thou hast caused me to see this day: behold, ¹am one hundred three score and fifteen years, an old man and full of days, and all my days have been unto me peace. ⁸. The sword of the adversary has not overcome me in all that Thou hast given me and my children all the days of my life until this day. ⁹. My God, may Thy mercy and Thy peace be upon Thy servant, and upon the seed of his sons, that they may be to Thee a chosen nation and an inheritance from amongst all the nations of the earth from henceforth unto all the days of the generations of the earth, unto all the ages.” ¹⁰. And he called Jacob and said: “My son Jacob, may the God of all bless thee and strengthen thee to do righteousness, and His will before Him, and may He choose thee and thy seed that ye may become a people for His inheritance according to His will alway. And do thou, my son, Jacob, draw near and kiss me.” ¹¹. And he drew near and kissed him, and he said: “Blessed be my son Jacob And all the sons of God Most High, unto all the ages: May God give unto thee a seed of righteousness And some of thy sons may He sanctify in the midst of the whole earth May nations serve thee, And all the nations bow themselves before thy seed. ¹². Be strong in the presence of men, And exercise authority over all the seed of Seth. Then thy ways and the ways of thy sons will be justified, So that they shall become a holy nation. ¹³. May the Most High God give thee all the blessings Wherewith He has blessed me And wherewith He blessed Noah and Adam May they rest on the sacred head of thy seed from generation to generation for ever. ¹⁴. And may He cleanse thee from all unrighteousness and impurity, That thou mayest be forgiven all (thy) transgressions (and) thy sins of ignorance. And may He strengthen thee, And bless thee. And mayest thou inherit the whole earth, ¹⁵. And may He renew His covenant with thee, That thou mayest be to Him a nation for His inheritance for all the ages, And that He may be to thee and to thy seed a God in truth and righteousness throughout all the days of the earth. ¹⁶. And do thou, my son Jacob, remember my words, And observe the commandments of Abraham, thy father : Separate thyself from the nations, And eat not with them: And do not according to their works, And become not their associate For their works are unclean, And all their ways are a pollution and an abomination and uncleanness. ¹⁷. They offer their sacrifices to the dead And they worship evil spirits, And they eat over the graves, And all their works are vanity and nothingness. ¹⁸. They have no heart to understand And their eyes do not see what their works are, And how they err in saying to a piece of wood: 'Thou art my God, And to a stone: 'Thou art my Lord and thou art my deliverer.' [And they have no heart.] ¹⁹. And as for thee, my son Jacob, May the Most High God help thee And the God of heaven bless thee And remove thee from their uncleanness and from all their error. ²⁰. Be thou ware, my son Jacob, of taking a wife from any seed of the daughters of Canaan For all his seed is to be rooted out of the earth. ²¹. For, owing to the transgression of Ham, Canaan erred, And all his seed will be destroyed from off the earth and all the residue thereof, And none springing from him will be saved on the day of judgment. ²². And as for all the worshippers of idols and the profane ⁽⁶⁾ There will be no hope for them in the land of the living ^(e) And there will be no remembrance of them on the earth ^(c) For they will descend into Sheol, (וְ) And into the place of condemnation will they go, As the children of Sodom were taken away from the earth So will all those who worship idols be taken away. ²³. Fear not, my son Jacob, And be not dismayed, O son of Abraham : May the Most High God preserve thee from destruction, And from all the paths of error may He deliver thee. ²⁴. This house have I built for myself that I might put my name upon it in the earth: [it is given to thee and to thy seed for ever], and it will be named the house of Abraham it is given to thee and to thy seed for ever for thou wilt build my house and establish my name before God for ever: thy seed and thy name will stand throughout all generations of the earth." ²⁵. And he ceased commanding him and blessing him. ²⁶. And the two lay together on one bed, and Jacob slept in the bosom of Abraham, his father's father and he kissed him seven times, and his affection and his heart rejoiced over him. ²⁷. And he blessed him with all his heart and said: "The Most High God, the God of all, and Creator of all, who brought me forth from Ur of the Chaldees, that He might give me this land to inherit it for ever, and that I might establish a holy seed—blessed be the Most High for ever." ²⁸, And he blessed Jacob and said: "My son, over whom with all my heart and my affection I rejoice, may Thy grace and Thy mercy be lift up upon him and upon his seed alway. ²⁹. And do not forsake him, nor set him at nought from henceforth unto the days of eternity, and may Thine eyes be opened upon him and upon his seed, that Thou mayst preserve him, and bless him, and mayest sanctify him as a nation for Thine inheritance ³⁰. And bless him with all Thy blessings from henceforth unto all the days of eternity, and renew Thy covenant and Thy grace with him and with his seed according to all Thy good pleasure unto all the generations of the earth.”

CHAPTER 23 ¹And he placed two fingers of Jacob on his eyes, and he blessed the God of gods, and he covered his face and stretched out his feet and slept the sleep of eternity, and was gathered to his fathers. ². And notwithstanding all this Jacob was lying in his bosom, and knew not that Abraham, his father’s father, was dead. ³. And Jacob awoke from his sleep, and behold Abraham was cold as ice, and he said: “ Father, father” but there was none that spake, and he knew that he was dead. ⁴. And he arose from his bosom and ran and told Rebecca, his mother and Rebecca went to Isaac in the night, and told him and they went together, and Jacob with them, and a lamp was in his hand, and when they had gone in they found Abraham lying dead. ⁵. And Isaac fell on the face of his father, and wept and kissed him. ⁶. And the voices were heard in the house of Abraham, and Ishmael his son arose, and went to Abraham his father, and wept over Abraham his father, he and all the house of Abraham, and they wept with a great weeping. ⁷. And his sons Isaac and Ishmael buried him in the double cave, near Sarah his wife, and they wept for him forty days, all the men of his house, and Isaac and Ishmael, and all their sons, and all the sons of Keturah in their places and the days of weeping for Abraham were ended. ⁸. And he lived three jubilees and four weeks of years, one hundred and seventy-five years, and completed the days of his life, being old and full of days. ⁹. For the days of the forefathers, of their life, were nineteen jubilees and after the Flood they began to grow less than nineteen jubilees, and to decrease in jubilees, and to grow old quickly, and to be full of their days by reason of manifold tribulation and the wickedness of their ways, with the exception of Abraham, ¹⁰. For Abraham was perfect in all his deeds with the Lord, and well-pleasing in righteousness all the days of his life and behold, he did not complete four jubilees in his life, when he had grown old by reason of the wickedness, and was full of his days. ¹¹. And all the generations which will arise from this time until the day of the great judgment will grow old quickly, before they complete two jubilees, and their knowledge will forsake them by reason of their old age [and all their knowledge will vanish away]. ¹². And in those days, if a man live a jubilee and a-half of years, they will say regarding him: "He has lived long, and the greater part of his days are pain and sorrow and tribulation, and there is no peace: ¹³. For calamity follows on calamity, and wound on wound, and tribulation on tribulation, and evil tidings on evil tidings, and illness on illness, and all evil judgments such as these, one with another, illness and overthrow, and snow and frost and ice, and fever, and chills, and torpor, and famine, and death, and sword, and captivity, and all kinds of calamities and pains." ¹⁴. And all these will come on an evil generation, which transgresses on the earth: their works are uncleanness and fornication, and pollution and abominations. ¹⁵. Then they will say: "The days of the forefathers were many (even), unto a thousand years, and were good but, behold, the days of our life, if a man has lived many, are three score years and ten, and, if he is strong, four score years, and those evil, and there is no peace in the days of this evil generation." ¹⁶. And in that generation the sons will convict their fathers and their elders of sin and unrighteousness, and of the words of their mouth and the great wickednesses which they perpetrate, and concerning their forsaking the covenant which the Lord made between them and Him, that they should observe and do all His commandments and His ordinances and all His laws, without departing either to the right hand or the left. ¹⁷. For all have done evil, and every mouth speaks iniquity and all their works are an uncleanness and an abomination, and all their ways are pollution, uncleanness and destruction. ¹⁸. Behold the earth will be destroyed on account of all their works, and there will be no seed of the vine, and no oil for their works are altogether faithless, and they will all perish together, beasts and cattle and birds, and all the fish of the sea, on account of the children of men. ¹⁹. And they will strive one with another, the young with the old, and the old with the young, the poor with the rich, and the lowly with the great, and the beggar with the prince, on account of the law and the covenant for they have forgotten commandment, and covenant, and feasts, and months, and Sabbaths, and jubilees, and all judgments. ²⁰. And they will stand (with bows and) swords and war to turn them back into the way but they will not return until much blood has been shed on the earth, one by another. ²¹. And those who have escaped will not return from their wickedness to the way of righteousness, but they will all exalt themselves to deceit and wealth, that they may each take all that is his neighbour's, and they will name the great name, but not in truth and not in righteousness, and they will defile the holy of holies with their uncleanness and the corruption of their pollution. ²². And a great punishment will befall the deeds of this generation from the Lord, and He will give them over to the sword and to judgment and to captivity, and to be plundered and devoured. ²³. And He will wake up against them the sinners of the Gentiles, who have neither mercy nor compassion, and who will respect the person of none, neither old nor young, nor any one, for they are more wicked and strong to do evil than all the children of men. And they will use violence against Israel and transgression against Jacob, And much blood will be shed upon the earth, And there will be none to gather and none to bury. ²⁴. In those days they will cry aloud, And call and pray that they may be saved from the hand of the sinners, the Gentiles But none will be saved. ²⁵. And the heads of the children will be white with grey hair, And a child of three weeks will appear old like a man of one hundred years, And their stature will be destroyed by tribulation and oppression. ²⁶. And in those days the children will begin to study the laws, And to seek the commandments, And to return to the path of righteousness. ²⁷. And the days will begin to grow many and increase amongst those children of men, Till their days draw nigh to one thousand years, And to a greater number of years than (before) was the number of the days. ²⁸. And there will be no old man Nor one who is not satisfied with his days, For all will be (as) children and youths. ²⁹. and in joy, And all their days they will complete and live in peace And there will be no Satan nor any evil destroyer For all their days will be days of blessing and healing. ³⁰. And at that time the Lord will heal His servants, And they will rise up and see great peace, And drive out their adversaries. And the righteous will see and be thankful, And rejoice with joy for ever and ever, And will see all their judgments and all their curses on their enemies. ³¹. And their bones will rest in the earth, And their spirits will have much joy, And they will know that it is the Lord who executes judgment, And shows mercy to hundreds and thousands and to all that love Him. ³². And do thou, Moses, write down these words for thus are they written, and they record (them) on the heavenly tables for a testimony for the generations for ever.

CHAPTER 24 ¹And it came to pass after the death of Abraham, that the Lord blessed Isaac his son, and he arose from Hebron and went and dwelt at the Well of the Vision in the first year of the third week of this jubilee, seven years. ². And in the first year of the fourth week a famine began in the land, besides the first famine, which had been in the days of Abraham. ³. And Jacob sod lentil pottage, and Esau came from the field hungry. And he said to Jacob his brother: “Give me of this red pottage.” And Jacob said to him: “Sell to me thy [primogeniture, this] birthright and I will give thee bread, and also some of this lentil pottage.” ⁴, And Esau said in his heart: “I shall die of what profit to me is this birthright?” And he said to Jacob: “I give it to thee.” ⁵. And Jacob said: “Swear to me, this day,” and he sware unto him. ⁶. And Jacob gave his brother Esau bread and pottage, and he eat till he was satisfied, and Esau despised his birthright for this reason was Esau’s name called Edom, on account of the red pottage which Jacob gave him for his birthright. ⁷. And Jacob became the elder, and Esau was brought down from his dignity. ⁸. And the famine was over the land, and Isaac departed to go down into Egypt in the second year of this week, and went to the king of the Philistines to Gerar, unto Abimelech. ⁹, And the Lord appeared unto him and said unto him: “Go not down into Egypt dwell in the land that I shall tell thee of, and sojourn in this land, and I shall be with thee and bless thee. ¹⁰. For to thee and to thy seed shall I give all this land, and I shall establish My oath which I sware unto Abraham thy father, and I shall multiply thy seed as the stars of heaven, and shall give unto thy seed all this land. ¹¹. And in thy seed will all the nations of the earth be blessed, because thy father obeyed My voice, and kept My charge and My laws, and My ordinances, and My covenant and now obey My voice and dwell in this land.”¹². And he dwelt in Gerar three weeks of years,¹³. And Abimelech charged concerning To him, and concerning all that was his, saying: “Any man that shall touch him or aught that is his shall surely die.”¹⁴. And Isaac waxed strong among the Philistines, and he got many possessions, oxen and sheep and camels and asses and a great household.¹⁵. And he sowed in the land of the Philistines and brought in a hundred-fold, and Isaac became exceedingly great, and the Philistines envied him.¹⁶. Now all the wells which the servants of Abraham had dug during the life of Abraham, the Philistines had stopped them after the death of Abraham, and filled them with earth.¹⁷. And Abimelech said unto Isaac: “Go from us, for thou art much mightier than we” and Isaac departed thence in the first year of the seventh week, and sojourned in the valleys of Gerar.¹⁸. And they digged again the wells of water which the servants of Abraham, his father, had digged, and which the Philistines had closed after the death of Abraham his father, and he called their names as Abraham his father had named them.¹⁹. And the servants of Isaac dug a well in the valley, and found living water, and the shepherds of Gerar strove with the shepherds of Isaac, saying: “The water is ours” and Isaac called the name of the well “Perversity,” because they had been perverse with us.²⁰. And they dug a second well, and they strove for that also, and he called its name “Enmity.” And he arose from thence and they digged another well, and for that they strove not, and he called the name of it “Room,” and Isaac said: “Now the Lord hath made room for us, and we have increased in the land.”²¹. And he went up from thence to the Well of the Oath, in the first year of the first week in the forty-fourth jubilee.²². And the Lord appeared to him that night, on the new moon of the first month, and said unto him: “I am the God of Abraham thy father fear not, for I am with thee, and shall bless thee and shall surely multiply thy seed as the sand of the earth, for the sake of Abraham my servant.”²³. And he built an altar there, which Abraham his father had first built, and he called upon the name of the Lord, and he offered sacrifice to the God of Abraham his father.²⁴. And they digged a well and they found living water.²⁵. And the servants of Isaac digged another well and did not find water, and they went and told Isaac that they had not found water, and Isaac said: "I have sworn this day to the Philistines and this thing has been announced to us." ²⁶. And he called the name of that place the "Well of the Oath" for there he had sworn to Abimelech and Ahuzzath his friend and Phicol the prefect of his host. ²⁷. And Isaac knew that day that under constraint he had sworn to them to make peace with them. ²⁸. And Isaac on that day cursed the Philistines and said: "Cursed be the Philistines unto the day of wrath and indignation from the midst of all nations may God make them a derision and a curse and an object of wrath and indignation in the hands of the sinners the Gentiles and in the hands of the Kittim. ²⁹. And whoever escapes the sword of the enemy and the Kittim, may the righteous nation root out in judgment from under heaven for they will be the enemies and foes of my children throughout their generations upon the earth. ³⁰. And no remnant will be left to them, Nor one that will be saved on the day of the wrath of judgment For for destruction and rooting out and expulsion from the earth is the whole seed of the Philistines (reserved), And there will no longer be left for these Capthorim a name or a seed on the earth. ³¹. For though he ascend unto heaven, Thence will he be brought down, And though he make himself strong on earth, Thence will he be dragged forth, And though he hide himself amongst the nations, Even from thence will he be rooted out And though he descend into Sheol, There also will his condemnation be great, And there also he will have no peace. ³². And if he go into captivity, By the hands of those that seek his life will they slay him on the way, And neither name nor seed will be left to him on all the earth For into eternal malediction will he depart." ³³. And thus is it written and engraved concerning him on the heavenly tables, to do unto him on the day of judgment, so that he may be rooted out of the earth.

CHAPTER 25 ¹And in the second year of this week in this jubilee, Rebecca called Jacob her son, and spake unto him, saying : " My son, do not take thee a wife of the daughters of Canaan, as Esau, thy brother, who took him two wives of the daughters of Canaan, and they have embittered my soul with all their unclean deeds: for all their deeds are fornication and lust, and there is no righteousness with them, for (their deeds) are evil. ². And I, my son, love thee exceedingly, and my heart and my affection bless thee every hour of the day and watch of the night. ³. And now, my son, hearken to my voice, and do the will of thy mother, and do not take thee a wife of the daughters of this land, but only of the house of my father, and of my father's kindred. Thou wilt take thee a wife of the house of my father, and the Most High God will bless thee, and thy children will be a righteous generation and a holy seed." ⁴. And then spake Jacob to Rebecca, his mother, and said unto her: " Behold, mother, I am nine weeks of years old, and I neither know nor have I touched any woman, nor have I betrothed myself to any, nor even think of taking me a wife of the daughters of Canaan. ⁵. For I remember, mother, the words of Abraham, our father, for he commanded me not to take a wife of the daughters of Canaan, but to take me a wife from the seed of my father's house and from my kindred. ⁶. I have heard before that daughters have been born to Laban, thy brother, and I have set my heart on them to take a wife from amongst them. ⁷. And for this reason I have guarded myself in my spirit against sinning or being corrupted in all my ways throughout all the days of my life for with regard to lust and fornication, Abraham, my father, gave me many commands. ⁸. And, despite all that he has commanded me, these two and twenty years my brother has striven with me, and spoken frequently to me and said: 'My brother, take to wife a sister of my two wives' but I refuse to do as he has done. ⁹. I swear before thee, mother, that all the days of my life I will not take me a wife from the daughters of the seed of Canaan, and I will not act wickedly as my brother has done. ¹⁰. Fear not mother be assured that I shall do thy will and walk in uprightness, and not corrupt my ways for ever.' ¹¹. And thereupon she lifted up her face to heaven and extended the fingers of her hands, and opened her mouth and blessed the Most High God, who had created the heaven and the earth, and she gave Him thanks and praise. ¹². And she said: " Blessed be the Lord God, and may His holy name be blessed for ever and ever, who has given me Jacob as a pure son and a holy seed for he is Thine, and Thine shall his seed be continually and throughout all the generations for evermore. ¹³. Bless him, O Lord, and place in my mouth the blessing of righteousness, that I may bless him.” ¹⁴, And at that hour, when the spirit of righteousness descended into her mouth, she placed both her hands on the head of Jacob, and said : ¹⁵. “ Blessed art thou, Lord of righteousness and God of the ages And may He bless thee beyond all the generations of men. May He give thee, my son, the path of righteousness, And reveal righteousness to thy seed, ¹⁶. And may He make thy sons many during thy life, And may they arise according to the number of the months of the year. And may their sons become many and great beyond the stars of heaven, And their numbers be more than the sand of the sea. ¹⁷. And may He give them this goodly land—as He said He would give it to Abraham and to his seed after him alway— And may they hold it as a possession for ever. ¹⁸, And may I see (born) unto thee, my son, blessed children during my life, And a blessed and holy seed may all thy seed be. ¹⁹. And as thou hast refreshed thy mother’s spirit during tmyt life, The womb of her that bare thee blesses thee, [My affection] and my breasts bless thee And my mouth and my tongue praise thee greatly. ²⁰.

Increase and spread over the earth, And may thy seed be perfect in the joy of heaven and earth for ever And may thy seed rejoice, And on the great day of peace may it have peace. ²¹. And may thy name and thy seed endure to all the ages, And may the Most High God be their God, And may the God of righteousness dwell with them, And by them may His sanctuary be built unto all the ages. ²². Blessed be he that blesseth thee, And all flesh that curseth thee falsely may it be cursed.” ²³. And she kissed him, and said to him: “May the Lord of the world love thee As the heart of thy mother and her affection rejoice in thee and bless thee.” And she ceased from blessing.

CHAPTER 26 ¹And in the seventh year of this week Isaac called Esau, his elder son, and said unto him: “I am old, my son, and behold my eyes are dim in seeing, and I know not the day of my death. ². And now take thy hunting weapons thy quiver and thy bow, and go out to the field, and hunt and catch me (venison), my son, and make me savoury meat, such as my soul loveth, and bring it to me that I may eat, and that my soul may bless thee before I die.” ³. But Rebecca heard Isaac speaking to Esau. ⁴. And Esau went forth early to the field to hunt and catch and bring home to his father. ⁵. And Rebecca called Jacob, her son, and said unto him: "Behold, I heard Isaac, thy father, speak unto Esau, thy brother, saying: 'Hunt for me, and make me savoury meat, and bring (it) to me that I may eat and bless thee before the Lord before I die.'" ⁶. And now, my son, obey my voice in that which I command thee: Go to thy flock and fetch me two good kids of the goats, and I will make them savoury meat for thy father, such as he loves, and thou shalt bring (it) to thy father that he may eat and bless thee before the Lord before he die, and that thou mayst be blessed." ⁷. And Jacob said to Rebecca his mother: "Mother, I shall not withhold anything which my father would eat, and which would please him: only I fear, my mother, that he will recognise my voice and wish to touch me. ⁸. And thou knowest that I am smooth, and Esau, my brother, is hairy, and I shall appear before his eyes as an evildoer, and shall do a deed which he had not commanded me, and he will be wroth with me, and I shall bring upon myself a curse, and not a blessing." ⁹. And Rebecca, his mother, said unto him: "Upon me be thy curse, my son only obey my voice." ¹⁰. And Jacob obeyed the voice of Rebecca, his mother, and went and fetched two good and fat kids of the goats, and brought them to his mother, and his mother made them (savoury meat) such as he loved. ¹¹. And Rebecca took the goodly raiment of Esau, her elder son, which was with her in the house, and she clothed Jacob, her younger son, (with them), and she put the skins of the kids upon his hands and on the exposed parts of his neck, ¹². And she gave the meat and the bread which she had prepared into the hand of her son Jacob. ¹³, And Jacob went in to his father and said: "I am thy son: I have done according as thou badest me: arise and sit and eat of that which I have caught, father, that thy soul may bless me." ¹⁴. And Isaac said to his son: "How hast thou found so quickly, my son?" ¹⁵. And Jacob said: « Because (the Lord) thy God caused me to find." ¹⁶. And Isaac said unto him: "Come near, that I may feel thee, my son, if thou art my son Esau or not." ¹⁷. And Jacob went near to Isaac, his father, and he felt him and said: ¹⁸. "The voice is Jacob's voice, but the hands are the hands of Esau," and he discerned him not, because it was a dispensation from heaven to remove his power of perception and Isaac discerned not, for his hands were hairy as (his brother) Esau's, so that he blessed him. ¹⁹. And he said: "Art thou my son Esau?" and he said: "I am thy son": and he said, "Bring near to me that I may eat of that which thou hast caught, my son, that my soul may bless thee." ²⁰. And he brought near to him, and he did eat, and he brought him wine and he drank. ²¹. And Isaac, his father, said unto him: "Come near and kiss me, my son." And he came near and kissed him. ²². And he smelled the smell of his raiment, and he blessed him and said: "Behold, the smell of my son is as the smell of a (full) field which the Lord hath blessed. ²³. And may the Lord give thee of the dew of heaven And of the dew of the earth, and plenty of corn and oil: Let nations serve thee, And peoples bow down to thee. ²⁴, Be lord over thy brethren, And let thy mother's sons bow down to thee And may all the blessings wherewith the Lord hath blessed me and blessed Abraham, my father, Be imparted to thee and to thy seed for ever : Cursed be he that curseth thee, And blessed be he that blesseth thee." ²⁵. And it came to pass as soon as Isaac had made an end of blessing his son Jacob, and Jacob had gone forth from Isaac his father the hid himself ḏpā] Esau, his brother, came in from his hunting. ²⁶. And he also made savoury meat, and brought (it) to his father, and said unto his father : "Let my father arise, and eat of my venison that thy soul may bless me." ²⁷, And Isaac, his father, said unto him: "Who art thou?" And he said unto him: "I am thy first born, thy son Esau: I have done as thou hast commanded me." ²⁸. And Isaac was very greatly astonished, and said : "Who is he that hath hunted and caught and brought (it) to me, and I have eaten of all before thou camest, and have blessed him: (and) he shall be blessed, and all his seed for ever." ²⁹, And it came to pass when Esau heard the words of his father Isaac that he cried with an exceeding great and bitter cry, and said unto his father: "Bless me, (even) me also, father." ³⁰. And he said unto him: "Thy brother came with guile, and hath taken away thy blessing." And he said: "Now I know why his name is named Jacob: behold, he hath supplanted me these two times: he took away my birth-right, and now he hath taken away my blessing." ³¹. And he said: "Hast thou not reserved a blessing for me, father ?" and Isaac answered and said unto

Esau: "Behold, I have made him thy lord, And all his brethren have I given to him for servants, And with plenty of corn and wine and oil have I strengthened him : And what now shall I do for thee, my son ?" ³². And Esau said to Isaac, his father : " Hast thou but one blessing, O father ? Bless me, (even) me also, father" : And Esau lifted up his voice and wept. answered and said unto him: ³³. And Isaac "Behold, far from the dew of the earth shall be thy dwelling, And far from the dew of heaven from above. ³⁴, And by thy sword wilt thou live, And thou wilt serve thy brother. And it shall come to pass when thou becomest great, And dost shake his yoke from off thy neck, Thou wilt sin a complete sin unto death, And thy seed will be rooted out from under heaven." ³⁵. And Esau kept threatening Jacob because of the blessing wherewith his father blessed him, and he said in his heart: "May the days of mourning for my father now come, so that I may slay my brother Jacob."

CHAPTER 27 ¹And the words of Esau, her elder son, were told to Rebecca in a dream, and Rebecca sent and called Jacob her younger son, and said unto him: ². " Behold Esau thy brother will take vengeance on thee so as to kill thee. ³. Now, therefore, my son, obey my voice, and arise and flee thou to Laban, my brother, to Haran, and tarry with him a few days until thy brother's anger turns away, and he remove his anger from thee, and forget all that thou hast done then I will send and fetch thee from thence." ⁴. And Jacob said: "I am not afraid if he wishes to kill me, I will kill him." ⁵. But she said unto him: "Let me not be bereft of both my sons on one day." ⁶. And Jacob said to Rebecca his mother: " Behold, thou knowest that my father has become old, and does not see because his eyes are dull, and if I leave him it will be evil in his eyes, because I leave him and go away from you, and my father will be angry, and will curse me. I will not go when he sends me, then only will I go." ⁷ And Rebecca said to Jacob: "I will go in and speak to him, and he will send thee away." ⁸. And Rebecca went in and said to Isaac: "I loathe my life because of the two daughters of Heth, whom Esau has taken him as wives and if Jacob take a wife from among the daughters of the land such as these, for what purpose do I further live for the daughters of Canaan are evil." ⁹. And Isaac called Jacob and blessed him, and admonished him and said unto him: ¹⁰. "Do not take thee a wife of any of the daughters of Canaan arise and go to Mesopotamia, to the house of Bethuel, thy mother's father, and take thee a wife from thence of the daughters of Laban, thy mother's brother. ¹¹. And God Almighty bless thee and increase and multiply thee that thou mayest become a company of nations, and give thee the blessings of my father Abraham, to thee and to thy seed after thee, that thou mayest inherit the land of thy sojournings and all the land which God gave to Abraham: go, my son, in peace." ¹². And Isaac sent Jacob away, and he went to Mesopotamia, to Laban the son of Bethuel the Syrian, the brother of Rebecca, Jacob's mother. ¹³. And it came to pass after Jacob had arisen to go to Mesopotamia that the spirit of Rebecca was grieved after her son, and she wept. ¹⁴, And Isaac said to Rebecca: "My sister, weep not on account of Jacob, my son for he goeth in peace, and in peace will he return. ¹⁵. The Most High God will preserve him from all evil, and will be with him for He will not forsake him all his days ¹⁶. For I know that his ways will be prospered in all things wherever he goes, until he return in peace to us, and we see him in peace. ¹⁷. Fear not on his account, my sister, for he is on the upright path and he is a perfect man: and he is faithful and will not perish. Weep not." ¹⁸. And Isaac comforted Rebecca on account of her son Jacob, and blessed him. ¹⁹. And Jacob went from the Well of the Oath to go to Haran on the first year of the second week in the forty-fourth jubilee, and he came to Luz on the mountains, that is, Bethel, on the new moon of the first month of this week, and he came to the place at even and turned from the way to the west of the road that night: and he slept there for the sun had set. ²⁰. And he took one of the stones of that place and laid it (at his head) under the tree, and he was journeying alone, and he slept. ²¹. And he dreamt that night, and behold a ladder set up on the earth, and the top of it reached to heaven, and behold, the angels of the Lord ascended and descended on it: and behold, the Lord stood upon it. ²². And He spake to Jacob and said: "I am the Lord God of Abraham, thy father, and the God of Isaac the land whereon thou art sleeping, to thee shall I give it, and to thy seed after thee. ²³. And thy seed will be as the dust of the earth, and thou wilt increase to the west and to the east, to the north and the south, and in thee and in thy seed will all the families of the nations be blessed. ²⁴. And behold, ¹shall be with thee, and shall keep thee whithersoever thou goest, and I shall bring thee again into this land in peace for I shall not leave thee until I do everything that I told thee of.” ²⁵, And Jacob awoke from his sleep, and said, “Truly this place is the house of the Lord, and I knew it not.” And he was afraid and said: “Dreadful is this place which is none other than the house of God, and this is the gate of heaven.” ²⁶. And Jacob arose early in the morning, and took the stone which he had put under his head and set it up as a pillar for a sign, and he poured oil upon the top of it. And he called the name of that place Bethel but the name of the place was Luz at the first. ²⁷. And Jacob vowed a vow unto the Lord, saying: “If the Lord will be with me, and will keep me in this way that I go, and give me bread to eat and raiment to put on, so that I come again to my father’s house in peace, then shall the Lord be my God, and this stone which I have set up as a pillar for a sign in this place, shall be the Lord’s house, and of all that thou givest me, I shall give the tenth to thee, my God.”

CHAPTER 28 ¹And he went on his journey, and came to the land of the east, to Laban, the brother of Rebecca, and he was with him, and served him for Rachel his daughter one week. ². And in the first year of the third week he said unto him: “Give me my wife, for whom I have served thee seven years” and Laban said unto Jacob: “I will give thee thy wife.” ³. And Laban made a feast, and took Leah his elder daughter, and gave (her) to Jacob as a wife, and gave her Zilpah his handmaid for an handmaid and Jacob did not know, for he thought that she was Rachel. ⁴. And he went in unto her, and behold, she was Leah and Jacob was angry with Laban, and said unto him: “Why hast thou dealt thus with me? Did not I serve thee for Rachel and not for Leah? Why hast thou wronged me? Take thy daughter, and I will go for thou hast done evil to me.” ⁵. For Jacob loved Rachel more than Leah for Leah’s eyes were weak, but her form was very handsome but Rachel had beautiful eyes and a beautiful and very handsome form. ⁶. And Laban said to Jacob: “It is not so done in our country, to give the younger before the elder.” And it is not right to do this for thus it is ordained and written in the heavenly tables, that no one should give his younger daughter before the elder—but the elder one gives first and after her the younger—and the man who does so, they set down guilt against him in heaven, and none is righteous that does this thing, for this deed is evil before the Lord. ⁷. And command thou the children of Israel that they do not this thing let them neither take nor give the younger before they have given the elder, for it is very wicked. ⁸. And Laban said to Jacob: “ Let the seven days of the feast of this one pass by, and I shall give thee Rachel, that thou mayst serve me another seven years, that thou mayst pasture my sheep as thou didst in the former week.” ⁹. And on the day when the seven days of the feast of Leah had passed, Laban gave Rachel to Jacob, that he might serve him another seven years, and he gave to Rachel Bilhah, the sister of Zilpah, as a handmaid. ¹⁰, And he served yet other seven years for Rachel, for Leah had been given to him for nothing. ¹¹. And the Lord opened the womb of Leah, and she conceived and bare Jacob a son, and he called his name Reuben, on the fourteenth day of the ninth month, in the first year of the third week. ¹². But the womb of Rachel was closed, for the Lord saw that Leah was hated and Rachel loved. ¹³. And again Jacob went in unto Leah, and she conceived, and bare Jacob a second son, and he called his name Simeon, on the twenty-first of the tenth month, and in the third year of this week. ¹⁴. And again Jacob went in unto Leah, and she conceived, and bare him a third son, and he called his name Levi, in the new moon of the first month in the sixth year of this week. ¹⁵. And again Jacob went in unto her, and she conceived, and bare him a fourth son, and he called his name Judah, on the fifteenth of the third month, in the first year of the fourth week. ¹⁶. And on account of all this Rachel envied Leah, for she did not bear, and she said to Jacob: “ Give me children” and Jacob said: “Have I withheld from thee the fruits of thy womb? And when Rachel saw that Have I forsaken thee?” ¹⁷. Leah had borne four sons to Jacob, Reuben and Simeon and Levi and Judah, she said unto him: “Go in unto Bilhah my handmaid, and she will conceive, and bear a son unto me.” ¹⁸. (And she gave (him) Bilhah her handmaid to wife.) And he went in unto her, and she conceived, and bare him a son, and he called his name Dan, on the ninth of the sixth month, in the sixteenth year of the third week. ¹⁹. And Jacob went in again unto Bilhah a second time, and she conceived, and bare Jacob another son, and Rachel called his name Naphtali, on the fifth of the seventh month, in the second year of the fourth week. ²⁰. And when Leah saw that she had become sterile and did not bear, she envied (Rachel) and she also gave her handmaid Zilpah to Jacob to wife, and she conceived, and bare a son, and Leah called his name Gad, on the twelfth of the eighth month, in the third year of the fourth week. ²¹. And he went in again unto her, and she conceived, and bare him a second son, and Leah called his name Asher, on the second of the eleventh month, in the fifth year of the fourth week. ²². And Jacob went in unto Leah, and she conceived, and bare a son, and she called his name Issachar, on the fourth of the fifth month, in the fourth year of the fourth week, and she gave him to a nurse. ²³. And Jacob went in again unto her, and she conceived, and bare two (children), a son and a daughter, and she called the name of the son Zebulon, and the name of the daughter Dinah, in the seventh of the seventh month, in the sixth year of the fourth week. ²⁴. And the Lord was gracious to Rachel, and opened her womb, and she conceived, and bare a son, and she called his name Joseph, on the new moon of the fourth month, in the sixth year in this fourth week. ²⁵. And in the days when Joseph was born, Jacob said to Laban? "Give me my wives and sons, and let me go to my father Isaac, and let me make me an house for I have completed the years in which I have served thee for thy two daughters, and I will go to the house of my father." ²⁶. And Laban said to Jacob: "Tarry with me for thy wages}, and pasture my flock for me again, and take thy wages." ²⁷. And they agreed with one another that he should give him as his wages those of the lambs and kids which were born black and spotted and white, (these) were to be his wages. ²⁸. And all the sheep brought forth spotted and speckled and black, variously marked, and they brought forth again lambs like themselves, and all that were spotted were Jacob's and those which were not were Laban's. ²⁹. And Jacob's possessions multiplied exceedingly, and he possessed oxen and sheep and asses and camels, and menservants and maidservants. ³⁰. And Laban and his sons envied Jacob, and Laban took back his sheep from him, and he observed him with evil intent.

CHAPTER 29 ¹And it came to pass when Rachel had borne Joseph, that Laban went to shear his sheep for they were distant from him a three days' journey. ²And Jacob saw that Laban was going to shear his sheep, and Jacob called Leah and Rachel, and spake kindly unto them that they should come with him to the land of Canaan. ³For he told them how he had seen everything in a dream, even all that He had spoken unto him that he should return to his father's house and they said: "To every place whither thou goest we will go with thee." ⁴And Jacob blessed the God of Isaac his father, and the God of Abraham his father's father, and he arose and mounted his wives and his children, and took all his possessions and crossed the river, and came to the land of Gilead, and Jacob hid his intention from Laban and told him not. ⁵And in the seventh year of the fourth week Jacob turned (his face) toward Gilead in the first month, on the twenty-first thereof. And Laban pursued after him and overtook Jacob in the mountain of Gilead in the third month, on the thirteenth thereof. ⁶And the Lord did not suffer him to injure Jacob for He appeared to him in a dream by night. And Laban spake to Jacob. ⁷And on the fifteenth of those days Jacob made a feast for Laban, and for all who came with him, and Jacob sware to Laban that day, and Laban also to Jacob, that neither should cross the mountain of Gilead to the other with evil purpose. ⁸And he made there a heap for a witness wherefore the name of that place is called: "The Heap of Witness," after this heap. ⁹But before they used to call the land of Gilead the land of the Rephaim for it was the land of the Rephaim, and the Rephaim were born (there), giants whose height was ten, nine, eight down to seven cubits. ¹⁰And their habitation was from the land of the children of Ammon to Mount Hermon, and the seats of their kingdom were Karnaim and Ashtaroth, and Edrei, and Mistir, and Beon. ¹¹And the Lord destroyed them because of the evil of their deeds for they were very malignant, and the Amorites dwelt in their stead, wicked and sinful, and there is no people to-day which has wrought to the full all their sins, and they have no longer length of life on the earth. ¹²And Jacob sent away Laban, and he departed into Mesopotamia, the land of the East, and Jacob returned to the land of Gilead. ¹³. And he passed over the Jabbok in the ninth month, on the eleventh thereof. And on that day Esau, his brother, came to him, and he was reconciled to him, and departed from him unto the land of Seir, but Jacob dwelt in tents. ¹⁴. And in the first year of the fifth week in this jubilee he crossed the Jordan, and dwelt beyond the Jordan, and he pastured his sheep from the sea Toû the heapf unto Bethshan, and unto Dothan and unto the +forestft of Akrabbim. ¹⁵. And he sent to his father Isaac of all his substance, clothing, and food, and meat, and drink, and milk, and butter, and cheese, and some dates of the valley, ¹⁶. And to his mother Rebecca also four times a year, between the times of the months, between ploughing and reaping, and between autumn and the rain (season) and between winter and spring, to the tower of Abraham. ¹⁷. For Isaac had returned from the Well of the Oath and gone'up to the tower of his father Abraham, and he dwelt there apart from his son Esau. ¹⁸. For in the days when Jacob went to Mesopotamia, Esau took to himself a wife Mahalath, the daughter of Ishmael, and he gathered together all the flocks of his father and his wives, and went up and dwelt on Mount Seir, and left Isaac his father at the Well of the Oath alone. ¹⁹. And Isaac went up from the Well of the Oath and dwelt in the tower of Abraham his father on the mountains of Hebron, ²⁰. And thither Jacob sent all that he did send to his father and his mother from time to time, all they needed, and they blessed Jacob with all their heart and with all their soul.

CHAPTER 30 ¹And in the first year of the sixth week he went up to Salem, to the east of Shechem, in peace, in the fourth month. ². And there they carried off Dinah, the daughter of Jacob, into the house of Shechem, the son of Hamor, the Hivite, the prince of the land, and he lay with her and defiled her, and she was a little girl, a child of twelve years. ³. And he besought his father and her brothers that she might be given to him to wife. And Jacob and his sons were wroth because of the men of Shechem for they had defiled Dinah, their sister, and they spake to them with evil intent and dealt deceitfully with them and beguiled them. ⁴. And Simeon and Levi came unexpectedly to Shechem and executed judgment on all the men of Shechem, and slew all the men whom they found in it, and left not a single one remaining in it: they slew all in torments because they had dishonoured their sister Dinah. ⁵. And thus let it not again be done from henceforth that a daughter of Israel be defiled for judgment is ordained in heaven against them that they should destroy with the sword all the men of the Shechemites because they had wrought shame in Israel. ⁶. And the Lord delivered them into the hands of the sons of Jacob that they might exterminate them with the sword and execute judgment upon them, and that it might not thus again be done in Israel that a virgin of Israel should be defiled. ⁷. And if there is any man who wishes in Israel to give his daughter or his sister to any man who is of the seed of the Gentiles he shall surely die, and they shall stone him with stones for he hath wrought shame in Israel and they shall burn the woman with fire, because she has dishonoured the name of the house of her father, and she shall be rooted out of Israel. ⁸. And let not an adulteress and no uncleanness be found in Israel throughout all the days of the generations of the earth for Israel is holy unto the Lord, and every man who has defiled (it) shall surely die: they shall stone him with stones. ⁹. For thus has it been ordained and written in the heavenly tables regarding all the seed of Israel: he who defileth (it) shall surely die, and he shall be stoned with stones. ¹⁰. And to this law there is no limit of days, and no remission, nor any atonement: but the man who has defiled his daughter shall be rooted out in the midst of all Israel, because he has given of his seed to Moloch, and wrought impiously so as to defile it. ¹¹. And do thou, Moses, command the children of Israel and exhort them not to give their daughters to the Gentiles, and not to take for their sons any of the daughters of the Gentiles, for this is abominable before the Lord. ¹². For this reason I have written for thee in the words of the Law all the deeds of the Shechemites, which they wrought against Dinah, and how the sons of Jacob spake, saying: “ We shall not give our daughter to a man who is uncircumcised for that were a reproach unto us.” ¹³. And it is a reproach to Israel, to those who give, and to those who take the daughters of the Gentiles for this is unclean and abominable to Israel. ¹⁴. And Israel will not be free from this uncleanness if it has a wife of the daughters of the Gentiles, or has given any of its daughters to a man who is of any of the Gentiles. ¹⁵. For there will be plague upon plague, and curse upon curse, and every judgment and plague and curse will come (upon him): if he do this thing, or hide his eyes from those who commit uncleanness, or those who defile the sanctuary of the Lord, or those who profane His holy name, (then) will the whole nation together be judged for all the uncleanness and profanation of this (man). ¹⁶. And there will be no respect of persons [and no consideration of persons], and no receiving at his hands of fruits and offerings and burntofferings and fat, nor the fragrance of sweet savour, so as to accept it: and so fare every man or woman in Israel who defiles the sanctuary. ¹⁷. For this reason I have com- “Testify this testimony to Israel: see how the Shechemites fared and their sons: how they were delivered into the hands of two sons of Jacob, and they slew them under tortures, and it was (reckoned) unto them for righteousness, and it is written down to them for mandated thee, saying: righteousness. ¹⁸, And the seed of Levi was chosen for the priesthood, and to be Levites, that they might minister before the Lord, as we, continually, and that Levi and his sons may be blessed for ever for he was zealous to execute righteousness and judgment and vengeance on all those who arose against Israel. ¹⁹. And so they inscribe as a testimony in his favour on the heavenly tables blessing and righteousness before the God of all: ²⁰. And we remember the righteousness which the man fulfilled during his life, at all periods of the year until a thousand generations they will record it, and it will come to him and to his descendants after him, and he has been recorded on the heavenly tables as a friend and a righteous man. ²¹. All this account I have written for thee, and have commanded thee to say to the children of Israel, that they should not commit sin nor transgress the ordinances nor break the covenant which has been ordained for them, (but) that they should fulfil it and be recorded as friends. ²². But if they transgress and work uncleanness in every way, they will be recorded on the heavenly tables as adversaries, and they will be destroyed out of the book of life, and they will be recorded in the book of those who will be destroyed and with those who will be rooted out of the earth. ²³. And on the day when the sons of Jacob slew Shechem a writing was recorded in their favour in heaven that they had executed righteousness and uprightness and vengeance on the sinners, and it was written for a blessing. ²⁴. And they brought Dinah, their sister, out of the house of Shechem, and they took captive everything that was in Shechem, their sheep and their oxen and their asses, and all their wealth, and all their flocks, and brought them all to Jacob their father. ²⁵. And he reproached them because they had put the city to the sword for he feared those who dwelt in the land, the Canaanites and the Perizzites. ²⁶. And the dread of the Lord was upon all the cities which are around about Shechem, and they did not rise to pursue after the sons of Jacob for terror had fallen upon them.

CHAPTER 31 ¹And on the new moon of the month Jacob spake to all the people of his house, saying: “ Purify yourselves and change your garments, and let us arise and go up to Bethel, where I vowed a vow to Him on the day when I fled from the face of Esau my brother, because He has been with me and brought me into this land in peace, and put ye away the strange gods that are among you.” ². And they gave up the strange gods and that which was in their ears, and which was upon their necks,+ and the idols which Rachel stole from Laban her brother she gave wholly to Jacob. And he burnt and brake them to pieces and destroyed them, and hid them under an oak which is in the land of Shechem. ³. And he went up on the new moon of the seventh month to Bethel. And he built an altar at the place where he had slept, and he set up a pillar there, and he sent word to his father Isaac to come to him to his sacrifice, and to his mother Rebecca. ⁴, And Isaac said: “Let my son Jacob come, and let me see him before I die.” ⁵. And Jacob went to his father Isaac and to his mother Rebecca, to the house of his father Abraham, and he took two of his sons with him, Levi and Judah, and he came to his father Isaac and to his mother Rebecca. ⁶. And Rebecca came forth from the tower to the front of it to kiss Jacob and embrace him for her spirit had revived when she heard: “ Behold Jacob thy son has come” and she kissed him. ⁷. And she saw his two sons, and she recognised them, and said unto him: “ Are these thy sons, my son?” and she embraced them and kissed them, and blessed them, saying: “In you shall the seed of Abraham become illustrious, and ye will prove a blessing on the earth.” ⁸. And Jacob went in to Isaac his father, to the chamber where he lay, and his two sons were with him, and he took the hand of his father, and stooping down he kissed him, and Isaac clung to the neck of Jacob his son, and wept upon his neck. ⁹. And the darkness left the eyes of Isaac, and he saw the two sons of Jacob, Levi and Judah, and he said: “ Are these thy sons, my son? for they are like thee.” ¹⁰. And he said unto him that they were truly his sons: “And thou hast truly seen that they are truly my sons.” ¹¹. And they came near to him, and he turned and kissed them and embraced them both together. ¹². And the spirit of prophecy came down into his mouth, and he took Levi by his right hand and Judah by his left. ¹³. And he turned to Levi first, and began to bless him first, and said unto him: “May the God of all, the very Lord of all the ages, bless thee and thy children throughout all the ages. ¹⁴. And may the Lord give to thee and to thy seed +greatness and great gloryt, and cause thee and thy seed, from among all flesh, to approach Him to serve in His sanctuary as the angels of the presence and as the holy ones. (Even) as they, will the seed of thy sons be for glory and greatness and holiness, and may He make them great unto all the ages. ¹⁵. And they will be princes and judges, and chiefs of all the seed of the sons of Jacob They will speak the word of the Lord in righteousness, And they will judge all His judgments in righteousness. And they will declare My ways to Jacob And My paths to Israel. The blessing of the Lord will be given in their mouths To bless all the seed of the beloved. ¹⁶. Thy mother has called thy name Levi, And justly has she called thy name Thou wilt be joined to the Lord And be the companion of all the sons of Jacob Let His table be thine, and do thou and thy sons eat thereof And may thy table be full unto all generations, And thy food fail not unto all the ages. ¹⁷. And let all who hate thee fall down before thee, And let all thy adversaries be rooted out and perish And blessed be he that blesses thee, And cursed be every nation that curses thee. ¹⁸. And to Judah he said: May the Lord give thee strength and power To tread down all that hate thee A prince shalt thou be, thou and one of thy sons, over the sons of Jacob May thy name and the name of thy sons go forth and traverse every land and region. Then will the Gentiles fear before thy face, And all the nations will quake [And all the peoples will quake].¹⁹. In thee shall be the help of Jacob, And in thee be found the salvation of Israel.²⁰. And when thou sittest on the throne of the honour of thy righteousness, There will be great peace for all the seed of the sons of the beloved, And blessed will he be that blesseth thee And all that hate thee and afflict thee and curse thee Shall be rooted out and destroyed from the earth and accursed.”²¹. And turning he kissed him again and embraced him, and rejoiced greatly for he had seen the sons of Jacob his son in very truth.²². And he went forth from between his feet and fell down and worshipped him. And he blessed them. And (Jacob) rested there with Isaac his father that night, and they eat and drank with joy.²³. And he made the two sons of Jacob sleep, the one on his right hand and the other on his left, and it was counted to him for righteousness.²⁴. And Jacob told his father everything during the night, how the Lord had shown him great mercy, and how He had prospered (him in) all his ways, and protected him from all evil.²⁵. And Isaac blessed the God of his father Abraham, who had not withdrawn His mercy and His righteousness from the sons of His servant Isaac.²⁶. And in the morning Jacob told his father Isaac the vow which he had vowed to the Lord, and the vision which he had seen, and that he had built an altar, and that everything was ready for the sacrifice to be made before the Lord as he had vowed, and that he had come to set him on an ass.²⁷, And Isaac said unto Jacob his son: “I am not able to go with thee for I am old and not able to bear the way: go, my son, in peace for I am one hundred and sixty-five years this day I am no longer able to journey set thy mother (on an ass) and let her go with thee.”²⁸. And I know, my son, that thou hast come on my account, and may this day be blessed on which thou hast seen me alive, and I also have seen thee, my son.²⁹. Mayest thou prosper and fulfil the vow which thou hast vowed and put not off thy vow for thou wilt be called to account as touching the vow now therefore make haste to perform it, and may He be pleased who has made all things, to whom thou hast vowed the vow.”³⁰. And he said to Rebecca: “Go with Jacob thy son” and Rebecca went with Jacob her son, and Deborah with her, and they came to Bethel.³¹. And Jacob remembered the prayer with which his father had blessed him and his two sons, Levi and Judah, and he rejoiced and blessed the God of his fathers, Abraham and Isaac. ³². And he said: "Now I know that I have an eternal hope, and my sons also, before the God of all" and thus is it ordained concerning the two and they record it as an eternal testimony unto them on the heavenly tables how Isaac blessed them.

CHAPTER 32 ¹And he abode that night at Bethel, and Levi dreamed that they had ordained and made him the priest of the Most High God, him and his sons for ever and he awoke from his sleep and blessed the Lord. ². And Jacob rose early in the morning, on the fourteenth of this month, and he gave a tithe of all that came with him, both of men and cattle, both of gold and every vessel and garment, yea, he gave tithes of all. ³. And in those days Rachel became pregnant with her son Benjamin. And Jacob counted his sons from him upwards and Levi fell to the portion of the Lord, and his father clothed him in the garments of the priesthood and filled his hands. ⁴. And on the fifteenth of this month, he brought to the altar fourteen oxen from amongst the cattle, and twenty-eight rams, and forty-nine sheep, and seven lambs, and twenty-one kids of the goats as a burnt-offering on the altar of sacrifice, well pleasing for a sweet savour before God. ⁵, This was his offering, in consequence of the vow which he had vowed that he would give a tenth, with their fruit-offerings and their drink-offerings. ⁶. And when the fire had consumed it, he burnt incense on the fire over the fire, and for a thank-offering two oxen and four rams and four sheep, four he-goats, and two sheep of a year old, and two kids of the goats and thus he did daily for seven days. ⁷. And he and all his sons and his men were eating (this) with joy there during seven days and blessing and thanking the Lord, who had delivered him out of all his tribulation and had given him his vow. ⁸. And he tithed all the clean animals, and made a burnt sacrifice, but the unclean animals he gave (not) to Levi his son, and he gave him all the souls of the men. ⁹. And Levi discharged the priestly office at Bethel before Jacob his father in preference to his ten brothers, and he was a priest there, and Jacob gave his vow: thus he tithed again the tithe to the Lord and sanctified it, and it became holy unto Him. ¹⁰. And for this reason it is ordained on the heavenly tables as a law for the tithing again the tithe to eat before the Lord from year to year, in the place where it is chosen that His name should dwell, and to this law there is no limit of days for ever. ¹¹. This ordinance is written that it may be fulfilled from year to year in eating the second tithe before the Lord in the place where it has been chosen, and nothing shall remain over from it from this year to the year following. ¹². For in its year shall the seed be eaten till the days of the gathering of the seed of the year, and the wine till the days of the wine, and the oil till the days of its season. ¹³. And all that is left thereof and becomes old, let it be regarded as polluted: let it be burnt with fire, for it is unclean. ¹⁴. And thus let them eat it together in the sanctuary, and let them not suffer it to become old. ¹⁵. And all the tithes of the oxen and sheep shall be holy unto the Lord, and shall belong to His priests, which they will eat before Him from year to year for thus is it ordained and engraven regarding the tithe on the heavenly tables. ¹⁶. And on the following night, on the twenty-second day of this month, Jacob resolved to build that place, and to surround the court with a wall, and to sanctify it and make it holy for ever, for himself and his children after him. ¹⁷. And the Lord appeared to him by night and blessed him and said unto him: 'Thy name shall not be called Jacob, but Israel shall they name thy name.' ¹⁸. And He said unto him again: "I am the Lord who created the heaven and the earth, and I shall increase thee and multiply thee exceedingly, and kings will come forth from thee, and they will judge everywhere wherever the foot of the sons of men has trodden. ¹⁹. And I shall give to thy seed all the earth which is under heaven, and they will judge all the nations according to their desires, and after that they will get possession of the whole earth and inherit it for ever.' ²⁰. And He finished speaking with him, and He went up from him, and Jacob looked till He had ascended into heaven. ²¹. And he saw in a vision of the night, and behold an angel descended from heaven with seven tablets in his hands, and he gave them to Jacob, and he read them and knew all that was written therein which would befall him and his sons throughout all the ages. ²². And he showed him all that was written on the tablets, and said unto him: "Do not build this place, and do not make it an eternal sanctuary, and do not dwell here for this is not the place. Go to the house of Abraham thy father and dwell with Isaac thy father until the day of the death of thy father. ²³. For in Egypt thou wilt die in peace, and in this land thou wilt be buried with honour in the sepulchre of thy fathers, with Abraham and Isaac. ²⁴. Fear not, for as thou hast seen and read it, thus will it all be and do thou write down everything as thou hast seen and read.” ²⁵. And Jacob said: “Lord, how can I remember all that I have read and seen?” And he said unto him: “I will bring all things to thy remembrance.” ²⁶. And he went up from him, and he awoke from his sleep, and he remembered everything which he had read and seen, and he wrote down all the words which he had read and seen. ²⁷. And he celebrated there yet another day, and he sacrificed thereon according to all that he sacrificed on the former days, and called its name +“ Addition,’ + for +this day was added,} and the former days he called “ The Feast.” ²⁸. And thus it was manifested that it should be, and it is written on the heavenly tables: wherefore it was revealed to him that he should celebrate it, and add it to the seven days of the feast. ²⁹. And its name was called “ Addition,’ because that it was recorded amongst the days of the feast days, according to the number of the days of the year. ³⁰. And in the night, on the twenty-third of this month, Deborah Rebecca’s nurse died, and they buried her beneath the city under the oak of the river, and he called the name of this place, “ The river of Deborah,” and the oak, “The oak of the mourning of Deborah.” ³¹. And Rebecca went and returned to her house to his father Isaac, and Jacob sent by her hand rams and sheep and he-goats that she should prepare a meal for his father such as he desired. ³². And he went after his mother till he came to the land of Kabratan, and he dwelt there. ³³. And Rachel bare a son in the night, and called his name “Son of my sorrow” for she suffered in giving him birth: but his father called his name Benjamin, on the eleventh of the eighth month in the first of the sixth week of this jubilee. ³⁴. And Rachel died there and she was buried in the land of Ephrath, the same is Bethlehem, and Jacob built a pillar on the grave of Rachel, on the road above her grave.

CHAPTER 33 ¹And Jacob went and dwelt to the south of Magdaladra’éf. And he went to his father Isaac, he and Leah his wife, on the new moon of the tenth month. ². And Reuben saw Bilhah, Rachel's maid, the concubine of his father, bathing in water in a secret place, and he loved her. ³. And he hid himself at night, and he entered the house of Bilhah [at night], and he found her sleeping alone on a bed in her house. ⁴. And he lay with her, and she awoke and saw, and behold Reuben was lying with her in the bed, and she uncovered the border of her covering and seized him, and cried out, and discovered that it was Reuben. ⁵. And she was ashamed because of him, and released her hand from him, and he fled. ⁶. And she lamented because of this thing exceedingly, and did not tell it to anyone. ⁷. And when Jacob returned and sought her, she said unto him: "I am not clean for thee, for I have been defiled as regards thee for Reuben has defiled me, and has lain with me in the night, and I was asleep, and did not discover until he uncovered my skirt and slept with me." ⁸. And Jacob was exceedingly wroth with Reuben because he had lain with Bilhah, because he had uncovered his father's skirt. ⁹. And Jacob did not approach her again because Reuben had defiled her. And as for any man who uncovers his father's skirt his deed is wicked exceedingly, for he is abominable before the Lord. ¹⁰. For this reason it is written and ordained on the heavenly tables that a man should not lie with his father's wife, and should not uncover his father's skirt, for this is unclean: they shall surely die together, the man who lies with his father's wife and the woman also, for they have wrought uncleanness on the earth. ¹¹. And there shall be nothing unclean before our God in the nation which He has chosen for Himself as a possession. ¹². And again, it is written a second time: "Cursed be he who lieth with the wife of his father, for he hath uncovered his father's shame" and all the holy ones of the Lord said "So be it so be it." ¹³. And do thou, Moses, command the children of Israel that they observe this word for it (entails) a punishment of death and it is unclean, and there is no atonement for ever to atone for the man who has committed this, but he is to be put to death and slain, and stoned with stones, and rooted out from the midst of the people of our God. ¹⁴. For to no man who does so in Israel is it permitted to remain alive a single day on the earth, for he is abominable and unclean. ¹⁵. And let them not say: to Reuben was granted life and forgiveness after he had lain with his father's concubine, and to her also though she had a husband, and her husband Jacob, his father, was still alive. ¹⁶. For until that time there had not been revealed the ordinance and judgment and law in its completeness for all, but in thy days (it has been revealed) as a law of seasons and of days, and an everlasting law for the everlasting generations. ¹⁷. And for this law there is no consummation of days, and no atonement for it, but they must both be rooted out in the midst of the nation: on the day whereon they committed it they shall slay them. ¹⁸. And do thou, Moses, write (it) down for Israel that they may observe it, and do according to these words, and not commit a sin unto death for the Lord our God is judge, who respects not persons and accepts not gifts, ¹⁹. And tell them these words of the covenant, that they may hear and observe, and be on their guard with respect to them, and not be destroyed and rooted out of the land for an uncleanness, and an abomination, and a contamination, and a pollution are all they who commit it on the earth before our God. ²⁰. And there is no greater sin than the fornication which they commit on earth for Israel is a holy nation unto the Lord its God, and a nation of inheritance, and a priestly and royal nation and for (His own) possession and there shall no such uncleanness appear in the midst of the holy nation. ²¹. And in the third year of this sixth week Jacob and all his sons went and dwelt in the house of Abraham, near Isaac his father and Rebecca his mother. ²². And these were the names of the sons of Jacob: the first-born Reuben, Simeon, Levi, Judah, Issachar, Zebulon, the sons of Leah and the sons of Rachel, Joseph and Benjamin and the sons of Bilhah, Dan and Naphtali and the sons of Zilpah, Gad and Asher and Dinah, the daughter of Leah, the only daughter of Jacob. ²³. And they came and bowed themselves to Isaac and Rebecca, and when they saw them they blessed Jacob and all his sons, and Isaac rejoiced exceedingly, for he saw the sons of Jacob, his younger son, and he blessed them.

CHAPTER 34 ¹And in the sixth year of this week of this forty-fourth jubilee Jacob sent his sons to pasture their sheep, and his servants with them, to the pastures of Shechem. ². And the seven kings of the Amorites assembled themselves together against them, to slay them, hiding themselves under the trees, and to take their cattle asaprey. ³. And Jacob and Levi and Judah and Joseph were in the house with Isaac their father for his spirit was sorrowful, and they could not leave him: and Benjamin was the youngest, and for this reason remained with his father. ⁴. And there came the king[s] of Tipti, and the king[s] of T' Arésa,+ and the king[s] of Sérag⁴n, and the king[s] of Sé⁶l, and the king[s] of Ga'as, and the king of Béthérdén, and the king of +Ma'anisikir,t and all those who dwell in these mountains (and) who dwell in the woods in the land of Canaan. ⁵. And they announced this to Jacob saying: "Behold, the kings of the Amorites have surrounded thy sons, and plundered their herds." ⁶. And he arose from his house, he and his three sons and all the servants of his father, and his own servants, and he went against them with six thousand men, who carried swords. ⁷. And he slew them in the pastures of Shechem, and pursued those who fled, and he slew them with the edge of the sword, and he slew +'Arésa+ and Taphti and Sarég⁴n and Sé⁶l and +Aminisakirt and Ga[ga]as, and he recovered his herds. ⁸. And he prevailed over them, and imposed tribute on them that they should pay him tribute, five fruit products of their land, and he built Rdbél and Tamndatarés. ⁹. And he returned in peace, and made peace with them, and they became his servants, until the day that he and his sons went down into Egypt. ¹⁰. And in the seventh year of this week he sent Joseph to learn about the welfare of his brothers from his house to the land of Shechem, and he found them in the land of Dothan. ¹¹. And they dealt treacherously with him, and formed a plot against him to slay him, but changing their minds, they sold him to Ishmaelite merchants, and they brought him down into Egypt, and they sold him to Potiphar, the eunuch of Pharaoh, the chief of the cooks, priest of the city of "Eléw. ¹². And the sons of Jacob slaughtered a kid, and dipped the coat of Joseph in the blood, and sent (it) to Jacob their father on the tenth of the seventh month. ¹³. And he mourned all that night, for they had brought it to him in the evening, and he became feverish with mourning for his death, and he said: "An evil beast hath devoured Joseph" and all the members of his house {mourned with him that day, and they] were grieving and mourning with him all that day. ¹⁴. And his sons and his daughter rose up to comfort him, but he refused to be comforted for his son. ¹⁵. And on that day Bilhah heard that Joseph had perished, and she died mourning him, and she was living in +Qafratéf,+ and Dinah also, his daughter, died after Joseph had perished. And there came these three mournings upon Israel in one month. ¹⁶. And they buried Bilhah over against the tomb of Rachel, and Dinah also, his daughter, they buried there. ¹⁷. And he mourned for Joseph one year, and did not cease, for he said “ Let me go down to the grave mourning for my son.” ¹⁸. For this reason it is ordained for the children of Israel that they should afflict themselves on the tenth of the seventh month— on the day that the news which made him weep for Joseph came to Jacob his father—that they should make atonement for themselves thereon with a young goat on the tenth of the seventh month, once a year, for their sins for they had grieved the affection of their father regarding Joseph his son. ¹⁹. And this day has been ordained that they should grieve thereon for their sins, and for all their transgressions and for all their errors, so that they might cleanse themselves on that day once a year. ²⁰. And after Joseph perished, the sons of Jacob took unto themselves wives. The name of Reuben’s wife is “Adi and the name of Simeon’s wife is “Adiba’a, a Canaanite and the name of Levi’s wife is Mélka, of the daughters of Aram, of the seed of the sons of Terah and the name of Judah’s wife, Bétast’él, a Canaanite and the name of Issachar’s wife, Hézaqi and the name of Zebulon’s wife, {Niimant and the name of Dan’s wife, "held and the name of Naphtali’s wife, Baßà ä, of Mesopotamia and the name of Gad’s wife, Maka and the name of Asher’s wife, Tjona and the name of Joseph’s wife, Asenath, the Egyptian and the name of Benjamin’s wife, *Tjasaka. ²¹. And Simeon repented, and took a second wife from Mesopotamia as his brothers.

CHAPTER 35 ¹And in the first year of the first week of the forty-fifth jubilee Rebecca called Jacob, her son, and commanded him regarding his father and regarding his brother, that he should honour them all the days of his life. ². And Jacob said: “I will do everything as thou hast commanded me for this thing will be honour and greatness to me, and righteousness before the Lord, that I should honour them. ³. And thou too, mother, knowest from the time I was born until this day, all my deeds and all that is in my heart, that I always think good concerning all. ⁴, And how should I not do this thing which thou hast commanded me, that I should honour my father and my brother! ⁵. Tell me, mother, what perversity hast thou seen in me and I shall turn away from it, and mercy will be upon me.” ⁶. And she said unto him: “My son, I have not seen in thee all my days any perverse but (only) upright deeds. And yet I shall tell thee the truth, my son: I shall die this year, and I shall not survive this year in my life for I have seen in a dream the day of my death, that I should not live beyond a hundred and fifty-five years: and behold I have completed all the days of my life which I am to live” ⁷. And Jacob laughed at the words of his mother, because his mother had said unto him that she should die and she was sitting opposite to him in possession of her strength, and she was not infirm in her strength for she went in and out and saw, and her teeth were strong, and no ailment had touched her all the days of her life. ⁸. And Jacob said unto her: “Blessed am I, mother, if my days approach the days of thy life, and my strength remain with me thus as thy strength: and thou wilt not die, for thou art jesting idly with me regarding thy death.” ⁹. And she went in to Isaac and said unto him: “One petition I make unto thee: make Esau swear that he will not injure Jacob, nor pursue him with enmity for thou knowest Esau’s thoughts that they are perverse from his youth, and there is no goodness in him for he desires after thy death to kill him. ¹⁰. And thou knowest all that he has done since the day Jacob his brother went to Haran until this day how he has forsaken us with his whole heart, and has done evil to us thy flocks he has taken to himself, and carried off all thy possessions from before thy face. ¹¹. And when we implored and besought him for what was our own, he did as a man who was taking pity on us. ¹². And he is bitter against thee because thou didst bless Jacob thy perfect and upright son for there is no evil but only goodness in him, and since he came from Haran unto this day he has not robbed us of aught, for he brings us everything in its season always, and rejoices with all his heart when we take at his hands, and he blesses us, and has not parted from us since he came from Haran until this day, and he remains with us continually at home honouring us.” ¹³. And Isaac said unto her: “I, too, know and see the deeds of Jacob who is with us, how that with all his heart he honours us but I loved Esau formerly more than Jacob, because he was the first-born but now I love Jacob more than Esau, for he has done manifold evil deeds, and there is no righteousness in him, for all his ways are unrighteousness and violence, [and there is no righteousness around him]. ¹⁴. And now my heart is troubled because of all his deeds, and neither he nor his seed is to be saved, for they are those who will be destroyed from the earth, and who will be rooted out from under heaven, for he has forsaken the God of Abraham and gone after his wives and after their uncleanness and after their error, he and his children. ¹⁵. And thou dost bid me make him swear that he will not slay Jacob, his brother even if he swear he will not abide by his oath, and he will not do good but evil only. ¹⁶. But if he desires to slay Jacob, his brother, into Jacob's hands will he be given, and he will not escape from his hands, [for he will descend into his hands.] ¹⁷. And fear thou not on account of Jacob for the guardian of Jacob is great and powerful and honoured, and praised more than the guardian of Esau." ¹⁸. And Rebecca sent and called Esau, and he came to her, and she said unto him: "I have a petition, my son, to make unto thee, and do thou promise to do it, my son." ¹⁹. And he said: "I will do everything that thou sayest unto me, and I will not refuse thy petition" ²⁰. And she said unto him: "I ask you that the day I die, thou wilt take me in and bury me near Sarah, thy father's mother, and that thou and Jacob will love each other, and that neither will desire evil against the other, but mutual love only, and (so) ye will prosper, my sons, and be honoured in the midst of the land, and no enemy will rejoice over you, and ye will be a blessing and a mercy in the eyes of all those that love you." ²¹. And he said: "I will do all that thou hast told me, and I shall bury thee on the day thou diest near Sarah, my father's mother, as thou hast desired that her bones may be near thy bones." ²². And Jacob, my brother, also, I shall love above all flesh for I have not a brother in all the earth but him only: and this is no great merit for me if I love him for he is my brother, and we were sown together in thy body, and together came we forth from thy womb, and if I do not love my brother, whom shall I love? ²³. And I, myself, beg thee to exhort Jacob concerning me and concerning my sons, for I know that he will assuredly be king over me and my sons, for on the day my father blessed him he made him the higher and me the lower. ²⁴. And I swear unto thee that I shall love him, and not desire evil against him all the days of my life but good only.” And he sware unto her regarding all this matter. ²⁵. And she called Jacob before the eyes of Esau, and gave him commandment according to the words which she had spoken to Esau. ²⁶. And he said: “I shall do thy pleasure believe me that no evil will proceed from me or from my sons against Esau, and ¹shall be first in naught save in love only.” ²⁷. And they eat and drank, she and her sons that night, and she died, three jubilees and one week and one year old, on that night, and her two sons, Esau and Jacob, buried her in the double cave near Sarah, their father’s mother.

CHAPTER 36 ¹And in the sixth year of this week Isaac called his two sons, Esau and Jacob, and they came to him, and he said unto them: “My sons, I am going the way of my fathers, to the eternal house where my fathers are. ². Wherefore bury me near Abraham my father, in the double cave in the field of Ephron the Hittite, where Abraham purchased a sepulchre to bury in in the sepulchre which I digged for myself, there bury me. ³. And this I command you, my sons, that ye practise righteousness and uprightness on the earth, so that the Lord may bring upon you all that the Lord said that he would do to Abraham and to his seed. ⁴. And love one another, my sons, your brothers as a man who loves his own soul, and let each seek in what he may benefit his brother, and act together on the earth and let them love each other as their own souls. ⁵. And concerning the question of idols,] command and admonish you to reject them and hate them, and love them not for they are full of deception for those that worship them and for those that bow down to them. ⁶. Remember ye, my sons, the Lord God of Abraham your father, and how I too worshipped Him and served Him in righteousness and in joy, that He might multiply you and increase your seed as the stars of heaven in multitude, and establish you on the earth as the plant of righteousness which will not be rooted out unto all the generations forever. ⁷. And now I shall make you swear a great oath—for there is no oath which is greater than it by the name glorious and honoured and great and splendid and wonderful and mighty, which created the heavens and the earth and all things together—that ye will fear Him and worship Him.⁸ And that each will love his brother with affection and righteousness, and that neither will desire evil against his brother from henceforth for ever all the days of your life, so that ye may prosper in all your deeds and not be destroyed.⁹ And if either of you devises evil against his brother, know that from henceforth every one that devises evil against his brother will fall into his hand, and will be rooted out of the land of the living, and his seed will be destroyed from under heaven.¹⁰ But on the day of turbulence and execration and indignation and anger, with flaming devouring fire as He burnt Sodom, so likewise will He burn his land and his city and all that is his, and he will be blotted out of the book of the discipline of the children of men, and not be recorded in the book of life, but in that which is appointed to destruction, and he will depart into eternal execration so that their condemnation may be always renewed in hate and in execration and in wrath and in torment and in indignation and in plagues and in disease for ever.

¹². And he divided all his possessions between the two on that day, and he gave the larger portion to him that was the first-born, and the tower and all that was about it, and all that Abraham possessed at the Well of the Oath.¹³ And he said, “This larger portion I shall give to the first-born.”¹⁴. And Esau said, “TJ have sold to Jacob and given my birthright to Jacob to him Jet it be given, and I have not a single word to say regarding it, for it is his.”¹⁵. And Isaac said, “ May a blessing rest upon you, my sons, and upon your seed this day, for ye have given me rest, and my heart is not pained concerning the birthright, lest thou shouldest work wickedness on account of it.¹⁶. May the Most High God bless the man that worketh righteousness, him and his seed for ever.”¹⁷. And he ended commanding them and blessing them, and they eat and drank together before him, and he rejoiced because there was one mind between them, and they went forth from him and rested that day and slept.¹⁸. And Isaac slept on his bed that day rejoicing and he slept the eternal sleep, and died one hundred and eighty years old. He completed twenty-five weeks and five years and his two sons Esau and Jacob buried him. ¹⁹. And Esau went to the land of Edom, to the mountains of Seir, and dwelt there. ²⁰. And Jacob dwelt in the mountains of Hebron, in the tower of the land of the sojournings of his father Abraham, and he worshipped the Lord with all his heart and according to the visible commands according as He had divided the days of his generations. ²¹. And Leah his wife died in the fourth year of the second week of the forty-fifth jubilee, and he buried her in the double cave near Rebecca his mother, to the left of the grave of Sarah, his father's mother. ²². And all her sons and his sons came to mourn over Leah his wife with him, and to comfort him regarding her, for he was lamenting her. ²³. For he loved her exceedingly after Rachel her sister died for she was perfect and upright in all her ways and honoured Jacob, and all the days that she lived with him he did not hear from her mouth a harsh word, for she was gentle and peaceable and upright and honourable. ²⁴. And he remembered all her deeds which she had done during her life, and he lamented her exceedingly for he loved her with all his heart and with all his soul.

CHAPTER 37 ¹And on the day that Isaac the father of Jacob and Esau died, the sons of Esau heard that Isaac had given the portion of the elder to his younger son Jacob and they were very angry. ². And they strove with their father, saying: "Why has thy father given Jacob the portion of the elder and passed over thee, although thou art the elder and Jacob the younger?" ³. And he said unto them "Because I sold my birthright to Jacob for a small mess of lentils and on the day my father sent me to hunt and catch and bring him something that he should eat and bless me, he came with guile and brought my father food and drink, and my father blessed him and put me under his hand. ⁴. And now our father has caused us to swear, me and him, that we shall not mutually devise evil, either against his brother, and that we shall continue in love and in peace each with his brother and not make our ways corrupt." ⁵. And they said unto him, "We shall not hearken unto thee to make peace with him for our strength is greater than his strength, and we are more powerful than he we shall go against him and slay him, and destroy him and his sons. And if thou wilt not go with us, we shall do hurt to thee also. ⁶. And now hearken unto us: Let us send to Aram and Philistia and Moab and Ammon, and let us choose for ourselves chosen men who are ardent for battle, and let us go against him and do battle with him, and let us exterminate him from the earth before he grows strong.” ⁷. And their father said unto them, “Do not go and do not make war with him lest ye fall before him.” ⁸. And they said unto him, “This too, is exactly thy mode of action from thy youth until this day, and thou art putting thy neck under his yoke. We shall not hearken to these words.” ⁹. And they sent to Aram, and to 'Aduram to the friend of their father, and they hired along with them one thousand fighting men, chosen men of war. ¹⁰. And there came to them from Moab and from the children of Ammon, those who were hired, one thousand chosen men, and from Philistia, one thousand chosen men of war, and from Edom and from the Horites one thousand chosen fighting men, and from the Kittim mighty men of war. ¹¹. And they said unto their father: “Go forth with them and lead them, else we shall slay thee.” ¹². And he was filled with wrath and indignation on seeing that his sons were forcing him to go before (them) to lead them against Jacob his brother. ¹³. But afterward he remembered all the evil which lay hidden in his heart against Jacob his brother and he remembered not the oath which he had sworn to his father and to his mother that he would devise no evil all his days against Jacob his brother. ¹⁴, And notwithstanding all this, Jacob knew not that they were coming against him to battle, and he was mourning for Leah, his wife, until they approached very near to the tower with four thousand warriors and chosen men of war. ¹⁵. And the men of Hebron sent to him saying, “Behold thy brother has come against thee, to fight thee, with four thousand girt with the sword, and they carry shields and weapons” for they loved Jacob more than Esau. So they told him for Jacob was a more liberal and merciful man than Esau. ¹⁶. But Jacob would not believe until they came very near to the tower. ¹⁷. And he closed the gates of the tower and he stood on the battlements and spake to his brother Esau and said, “Noble is the comfort wherewith thou hast come to comfort me for my wife who has died. Is this the oath that thou didst swear to thy father and again to thy mother before they died? Thou hast broken the oath, and on the moment that thou didst swear to thy father wast thou condemned.”¹⁸. And then Esau answered and said unto him, “Neither the children of men nor the beasts of the earth have any oath of righteousness which in swearing they have sworn (an oath valid) for ever but every day they devise evil one against another, and how each may slay his adversary and foe. thou dost hate me and my children for ever. is no observing the tie of brotherhood with thee.”¹⁹. And And there²⁰. Hear these words which I declare unto thee, If the boar can change its skin and make its bristles as soft as wool, Or if it can cause horns to sprout forth on its head like the horns of a stag or of a sheep, Then shall I observe the tie of brotherhood with thee. [And if the breasts separated themselves from their mother for thou hast not been a brother to me.]²¹. And if the wolves make peace with the lambs so as not to devour or do them violence, And if their hearts are towards them for good, Then there will be peace in my heart towards thee.²², And if the lion becomes the friend of the ox and makes peace with him, And if he is bound under one yoke with him and ploughs with him, Then shall I make peace with thee.²³. And when the raven becomes white as the raze, Then know that I have loved thee And shall make peace with thee. Thou shalt be rooted out, And thy sons shall be rooted out, And there shall be no peace for thee.”²⁴. And when Jacob saw that he was (so) evilly disposed towards him with his heart, and with all his soul as to slay him, and that he had come springing like the wild boar which comes upon the spear that pierces and kills it, and recoils not from it²⁵. Then he spake to his own and to his servants that they should attack him and all his companions.

CHAPTER 38 ¹And after that Judah spake to Jacob, his father, and said unto him: “Bend thy bow, father, and send forth thy arrows and cast down the adversary and slay the enemy and mayst thou have the power, for we shall not slay thy brother, for he is such as thou, and he is like thee: let us give him (this) honour.”². Then Jacob bent his bow and sent forth the arrow and struck Esau, his brother, (on his right breast) and slew him.³. And again he sent forth an arrow and struck 'Ad⁶ran the Aramaean, on the left breast, and drove him backward and slew him. ⁴. And then went forth the sons of Jacob, they and their servants, dividing themselves into companies on the four sides of the tower. ⁵. And Judah went forth in front, and Naphtali and Gad with him and fifty servants with him on the south side of the tower, and they slew all they found before them, and not one individual of them escaped. ⁶. And Levi and Dan and Asher went forth on the east side of the tower, and fifty (men) with them, and they slew the fighting men of Moab and Ammon. ⁷. And Reuben and Issachar and Zebulon went forth on the north side of the tower, and fifty men with them, and they slew the fighting men of the Philistines. ⁸. And Simeon and Benjamin and Enoch, Reuben's son, went forth on the west side of the tower, and fifty (men) with them, and they slew of Edom and of the Horites four hundred men, stout warriors and six hundred fled, and four of the sons of Esau fled with them, and left their father lying slain, as he had fallen on the hill which is in 'Adftrim. ⁹. And the sons of Jacob pursued after them to the mountains of Seir. And Jacob buried his brother on the hill which is in 'Adtrim, and he returned to his house. ¹⁰. And the sons of Jacob pressed hard upon the sons of Esau in the mountains of Seir, and bowed their necks so that they became servants of the sons of Jacob. ¹¹. And they sent to their father (to inquire) whether they should make peace with them or slay them. ¹². And Jacob sent word to his sons that they should make peace, and they made peace with them, and placed the yoke of servitude upon them, so that they paid tribute to Jacob and to his sons always. ¹³. And they continued to pay tribute to Jacob until the day that he went into Egypt. ¹⁴. And the sons of Edom have not got quit of the yoke of servitude which the twelve sons of Jacob had imposed on them until this day. ¹⁵. And these are the kings that reigned in Edom before there reigned any king over the children of Israel [until this day] in the land of Edom. ¹⁶. And Balaq, the son of Beor, reigned in Edom, and the name of his city was Danaba. ¹⁷. And Ba&laq died, and Jobab, the son of Zara of Bésér, reigned in his stead. ¹⁸. And Jobab died, and 'Asim, of the land of Téman, reigned in his stead. ¹⁹. And 'Asim died, and 'Adath, the son of Barad, who slew Midian in the field of Moab, reigned in his stead, and the name of his city was Avith. ²⁰. And 'Adath died, and Salman, from "Amaséq⁴, reigned in his stead.. ²¹. And Salman died, and Saul of Ré'aboth (by the) river, reigned in his stead. ²². And Saul died, and Ba'élinin, the son of Achbor, reigned in his stead. ²³, And Ba'élfinan, the son of Achbor, died, and 'Adath reigned in his stead, and the name of his wife was Maitabith, the daughter of Matarat, the daughter of Métabédzi'ab. ²⁴. These are the kings who reigned in the land of Edom.

CHAPTER 39 ¹And Jacob dwelt in the land of his father's sojournings in the land of Canaan. ². These are the generations of Jacob. And Joseph was seventeen years old when they took him down into the land of Egypt, and Potiphar, an eunuch of Pharaoh, the chief cook bought him, ³. And he set Joseph over all his house, and the blessing of the Lord came upon the house of the Egyptian on account of Joseph, and the Lord prospered him in all that he did. ⁴, And the Egyptian committed everything into the hands of Joseph for he saw that the Lord was with him, and that the Lord prospered him in all that he did. ⁵. And Joseph's appearance was comely and very beautiful was his appearance, and his master's wife lifted up her eyes and saw Joseph, and she loved him, and besought him to lie with her. ⁶. But he did not surrender his soul, and he remembered the Lord and the words which Jacob, his father, used to read from amongst the words of Abraham, that no man should commit fornication with a woman who has a husband that for him the punishment of death has been ordained in the heavens before the Most High God, and the sin will be recorded against him in the eternal books continually before the Lord. ⁷. And Joseph remembered these words and refused to lie with her. ⁸. And she besought him for a year, but he refused and would not listen. ⁹. But she embraced him and held him fast in the house in order to force him to lie with her, and closed the doors of the house and held him fast but he left his garment in her hands and broke through the door and fled without from her presence. ¹⁰. And the woman saw that he would not lie with her, and she calumniated him in the presence of his lord, saying: "Thy Hebrew servant, whom thou lovest, sought to force me so that he might lie with me and it came to pass when I lifted up my voice that he fled and left his garment in my hands when I held him, and he brake through the door.” ¹¹. And the Egyptian saw the garment of Joseph and the broken door, and heard the words of his wife, and cast Joseph into prison into the place where the prisoners were kept whom the king imprisoned ¹². And he was there in the prison and the Lord gave Joseph favour in the sight of the chief of the prison guards and compassion before him, for he saw that the Lord was with him, and that the Lord made all that he did to prosper. ¹³. And he committed all things into his hands, and the chief of the prison guards knew of nothing that was with him, for Joseph did every thing, and the Lord perfected it. ¹⁴. And he remained there two years. And in those days Pharaoh, king of Egypt, was wroth against his two eunuchs, against the chief butler and against the chief baker, and he put them in ward in the house of the chief cook, in the prison where Joseph was kept. ¹⁵. And the chief of the prison guards appointed Joseph to serve them and he served before them. ¹⁶. And they both dreamed a dream, the chief butler and the chief baker, and they told it to Joseph. ¹⁷. And as he interpreted to them so it befell them, and Pharaoh restored the chief butler to his office, and the (chief) baker he slew, as Joseph had interpreted to them. ¹⁸. But the chief butler forgot Joseph in the prison, although he had informed him what would befall him, and did not remember to inform Pharaoh how Joseph had told him, for he forgot.

CHAPTER 40 ¹And in those days Pharaoh dreamed two dreams in one night concerning a famine which was to be in all the land, and he awoke from his sleep and called all the interpreters of dreams that were in Egypt, and magicians, and told them his two dreams, and they were not able to declare (them). ². And then the chief butler remembered Joseph and spake of him to the king, and he brought him forth from the prison, and he told his two dreams before him. ³. And he said before Pharaoh that his two dreams were one, and he said unto him: “Seven years will come (in which there will be) plenty over all the land of Egypt, and after that seven years of famine, such a famine as has not been in all the land. ⁴. And now let Pharaoh appoint overseers in all the land of Egypt, and let them store up food in every city throughout the days of the years of plenty, and there will be food for the seven years of famine, and the land will not perish through the famine, for it will be very severe.” ⁵. And the Lord gave Joseph favour and mercy in the eyes of Pharaoh, and Pharaoh said unto his servants: “ We shall not find such a wise and discreet man as this man, for the spirit of the Lord is with him.” ⁶. And he appointed him the second in all his kingdom and gave him authority over all Egypt, and caused him to ride in the second chariot of Pharaoh. ⁷. And he clothed him with byssus garments, and he put a gold chain upon his neck, and (a herald) proclaimed before him “ El 'EΠ wa 'Abirér, and he placed a ring on his hand and made him ruler over all his house, and magnified him, and said unto him: “ Only on the throne shall I be greater than thou.” ⁸. And Joseph ruled over all the land of Egypt, and all the princes of Pharaoh, and all his servants, and all who did the king's business loved him, for he walked in uprightness, for he was without pride and arrogance, and he had no respect of persons, and did not accept gifts, but he judged in uprightness all the people of the land. ⁹. And the land of Egypt was at peace before Pharaoh because of Joseph, for the Lord was with him, and gave him favour and mercy for all his generations before all those who knew him and those who heard concerning him, and Pharaoh's kingdom was well ordered, and there was no Satan and no evil person (therein). ¹⁰. And the king called Joseph's name Séphantiphans, and gave Joseph to wife the daughter of Potiphar, the daughter of the priest of Heliopolis, the chief cook. ¹¹. And on the day that Joseph stood before Pharaoh he was thirty years old [when he stood before Pharaoh]. ¹². And in that year Isaac died. And it came to pass as Joseph had said in the interpretation of his two dreams, according as he had said it, there were seven years of plenty over all the land of Egypt, and the land of Egypt produced abundantly, one measure (producing) eighteen hundred measures. ¹³. And Joseph gathered food into every city until they were full of corn until they could no longer count and measure it for its multitude.

CHAPTER 41 ¹And in the forty-fifth jubilee, in the second week, (and) in the second year, Judah took for his first-born Er, a wife from the daughters of Aram, named Tamar. ². But he hated, and did not lie with her, because his mother was of the daughters of Canaan, and he wished to take him a wife of the kinsfolk of his mother, but Judah, his father, would not permit him. ³. And this Er, the first-born of Judah, was wicked, and the Lord slew him. ⁴. And Judah said unto Onan, his brother: "Go in unto thy brother's wife and perform the duty of a husband's brother unto her, and raise up seed unto thy brother." ⁵. And Onan knew that the seed would not be his, (but) his brother's only, and he went into the house of his brother's wife, and spilt the seed on the ground, and he was wicked in the eyes of the Lord, and He slew him. ⁶. And Judah said unto Tamar, his daughter-in-law: "Remain in thy father's house as a widow till Shelah my son be grown up, and I shall give thee to him to wife." ⁷. And he grew up but Bédsù'él, the wife of Judah, did not permit her son Shelah to marry. And Bédsù'él, the wife of Judah, died in the fifth year of this week. ⁸. And in the sixth year Judah went up to shear his sheep at Timnah. And they told Tamar: "Behold thy father -inlaw goeth up to Timnah to shear his sheep." ⁹. And she put off her widow's clothes, and put on a veil, and adorned herself, and sat in the gate adjoining the way to Timnah. ¹⁰, And as Judah was going along he found her, and thought her to be an harlot, and he said unto her: "Let me come in unto thee" and she said unto him: "Come in," and he went in. ¹¹. And she said unto him: "Give me my hire" and he said unto her: "JT have nothing in my hand save my ring that is on my finger, and my necklace, and my staff which is in my hand." ¹². And she said unto him: "Give them to me until thou dost send me my hire" and he said unto her: "I will send unto thee a kid of the goats" and he gave them to her, (and he went in unto her), and she conceived by him. ¹³. And Judah went unto his sheep, and she went to her father's house. ¹⁴. And Judah sent a kid of the goats by the hand of his shepherd, an Adullamite, and he found her not and he asked the people of the place, saying: "Where is the harlot who was here?" And they said unto him: "There is no harlot here with us." ¹⁵. And he returned and informed him, and said unto him that he had not found her "I asked the people of the place, and they said unto me: 'There is no harlot here.'" And he said: "Let her keep (them) lest we become a cause of derision." ¹⁶. And when she had completed three months, it was manifest that she was with child, and they told Judah, saying: "Behold Tamar, thy daughter-in-law, is with child by whoredom.”¹⁷. And Judah went to the house of her father, and said unto her father and her brothers: “Bring her forth, and let them burn her, for she hath wrought uncleanness in Israel.”¹⁸. And it came to pass when they brought her forth to burn her that she sent to her father-in-law the ring and the necklace, and the staff, saying: “Discern whose are these, for by him am I with child.”¹⁹. And Judah acknowledged, and said: “Tamar is more righteous than I am. And therefore let them burn her not.”²⁰. And for that reason she was not given to Shelah, and he did not again approach her.²¹. And after that she bare two sons, Perez and Zerah, in the seventh year of this second week.²². And thereupon the seven years of fruitfulness were accomplished, of which Joseph spake to Pharaoh,²³. And Judah acknowledged that the deed which he had done was evil, for he had lain with his daughter-in-law, and he esteemed it hateful in his eyes, and he acknowledged that he had transgressed and gone astray for he had uncovered the skirt of his son, and he began to lament and to supplicate before the Lord because of his transgression.²⁴. And we told him in a dream that it was forgiven him because he supplicated earnestly, and lamented, and did not again commit it.²⁵, And he received forgiveness because he turned from his sin and from his ignorance, for he transgressed greatly before our God and every one that acts thus, every one who lies with his mother-in-law, let them burn him with fire that he may burn therein, for there is uncleanness and pollution upon them with fire let them burn them.²⁶. And do thou command the children of Israel that there be no uncleanness amongst them, for every one who lies with his daughter-in-law or with his mother-in-law hath wrought uncleanness with fire let them burn the man who has lain with her, and likewise the woman, and He will turn away wrath and punishment from Israel.²⁷. And unto Judah we said that his two sons had not lain with her, and for this reason his seed was established for a second generation, and would not be rooted out.²⁸. For in singleness of eye he had gone and sought for punishment, namely, according to the judgment of Abraham, which he had commanded his sons, Judah had sought to burn her with fire.

CHAPTER 42 ¹And in the first year of the third week of the forty-fifth jubilee the famine began to come into the land, and the rain refused to be given to the earth, for none whatever fell. ². And the earth grew barren, but in the land of Egypt there was food, for Joseph had gathered the seed of the land in the seven years of plenty and had preserved it. ³. And the Egyptians came to Joseph that he might give them food, and he opened the storehouses where was the grain of the first year, and he sold it to the people of the land for gold. ⁴. (Now the famine was very sore in the land of Canaan), and Jacob heard that there was food in Egypt, and he sent his ten sons that they should procure food for him in Egypt but Benjamin he did not send, and (the ten sons of Jacob) arrived (in Egypt) among those that went (there). ⁵. And Joseph recognised them, but they did not recognise him, and he spake unto them and questioned them, and he said unto them "Are ye not spies, and have ye not come to explore the approaches of the land?" And he put them in ward. ⁶. And after that he set them free again, and detained Simeon alone and sent off his nine brothers. ⁷. And he filled their sacks with corn, and he put their gold in their sacks, and they did not know. ⁸. And he commanded them to bring their younger brother, for they had told him their father was living and their younger brother. ⁹. And they went up from the land of Egypt and they came to the land of Canaan and they told their father all that had befallen them, and how the lord' of the country had spoken roughly to them, and had seized Simeon till they should bring Benjamin. ¹⁰. And Jacob said: "Me have ye bereaved of my children! Joseph is not and Simeon also is not, and ye will take Benjamin away. On me has your wickedness come." ¹¹. And he said: "My son will not go down with you lest perchance he fall sick for their mother gave birth to two sons, and one has perished, and this one also ye will take from me. If perchance he took a fever on the road, ye would bring down my old age with sorrow unto death." ¹². For he saw that their money had been returned to every man in his sack, and for this reason he feared to send him. ¹³. And the famine increased and became sore in the land of Canaan, and in all lands save in the land of Egypt, for many of the children of the Egyptians had stored up their seed for food from the time when they saw Joseph gathering seed together and putting it in storehouses and preserving it for the years of famine. ¹⁴. And the people of Egypt fed themselves thereon during the first year of their famine. ¹⁵. But when Israel saw that the famine was very sore in the land, and that there was no deliverance, he said unto his sons: "Go again, and procure food for us that we die not." ¹⁶. And they said: " We shall not go unless our youngest brother go with us, we shall not go." ¹⁷. And Israel saw that if he did not send him with them, they should all perish by reason of the famine. ¹⁸, And Reuben said: "Give him into my hand, and if I do not bring him back to thee, slay my two sons instead of his soul." And he said unto him: "He will not go with thee." ¹⁹. And Judah came near and said: "Send him with me, and if I do not bring him back to thee, let me bear the blame before thee all the days of my life." ²⁰. And he sent him with them in the second year of this week on the first day of the month, and they came to the land of Egypt with all those who went, and (they had) presents in their hands, stacte and almonds and terebinth nuts and pure honey. ²¹. And they went and stood before Joseph, and he saw Benjamin his brother, and he knew him, and said unto them: "Is this your youngest brother?" And they said unto him: "It is he." And he said: "The Lord be gracious to thee, my son!" ²². And he sent him into his house and he brought forth Simeon unto them and he made a feast for them, and they presented to him the gift which they had brought in their hands. ²³. And they eat before him and he gave them all a portion, but the portion of Benjamin was seven times larger than that of any of theirs. ²⁴. And they eat and drank and arose and remained with their asses. ²⁵, And Joseph devised a plan whereby he might learn their thoughts as to whether thoughts of peace prevailed amongst them, and he said to the steward who was over his house: "Fill all their sacks with food, and return their money unto them into their vessels, and my cup, the silver cup out of which I drink, put it in the sack of the youngest, and send them away."

CHAPTER 43 ¹And he did as Joseph Had told him, and filled all their sacks for them with food and put their money in their sacks, and put the cup in Benjamin's sack. ². And early in the morning they departed, and it came to pass that, when they had gone from thence, Joseph said unto the steward of his house: “Pursue them, run and seize them, saying, ‘For good ye have requited me with evil you have stolen from me the silver cup out of which my lord drinks.’ And bring back to me their youngest brother, and fetch (him) quickly before I go forth to my seat of judgment.” ³. And he ran after them and said unto them according to these words. ⁴. And they said unto him: “God forbid that thy servants should do this thing, and steal from the house of thy lord any utensil, and the money also which we found in our sacks the first time, we thy servants brought back from the land of Canaan. ⁵. How then should we steal any utensil? Behold here are we and our sacks search, and wherever thou findest the cup in the sack of any man amongst us, let him be slain, and we and our asses will serve thy lord.” ⁶. And he said unto them: “Not so, the man with whom I find, him only shall I take as a servant, and ye will return in peace unto your house.” ⁷. And as he was searching in their vessels, beginning with the eldest and ending with the youngest, it was found in Benjamin’s sack. ⁸. And they rent their garments, and laded their asses, and returned to the city and came to the house of

Joseph, and they all bowed themselves on their faces to the ground before him. ⁹. And Joseph said unto them: “Ye have done evil.” And they said: “What shall we say and how shall we defend ourselves? Our lord hath discovered the transgression of his servants behold we are the servants of our lord, and our asses also.” ¹⁰. And Joseph said unto them: “I too fear the Lord as for you, go ye to your homes and let your brother be my servant, for ye have done evil. Know ye not that a man delights in his cup as I with this cup? And yet ye have stolen it from me.” ¹¹. And Judah said: “O my lord, let thy servant, ¹pray thee, speak a word in my lord’s ear two brothers did thy servant’s mother bear to our father one went away and was lost, and hath not been found, and he alone is left of his mother, and thy servant our father loves him, and his life also is bound up with the life of this (lad). ¹². And it will come to pass, when we go to thy servant our father, and the lad is not with us, that he will die, and we shall bring down our father with sorrow unto death. ¹³. Now rather let me, thy servant, abide instead of the boy as a bondsman unto my lord, and let the lad go with his brethren, for I became surety for him at the hand of thy servant our father, and if I do not bring him back, thy servant will bear the blame to our father for ever.” ¹⁴. And Joseph saw that they were all accordant in goodness one with another, and he could not refrain himself, and he told them that he was Joseph. ¹⁵. And he conversed with them in the Hebrew tongue and fell on their neck and wept. But they knew him not and they began to weep. ¹⁶. And he said unto them: “Weep not over me, but hasten and bring my father to me and ye see that it is my mouth that speaketh, and the eyes of my brother Benjamin see. ¹⁷. For behold this is the second year of the famine, and there are still five years without harvest or fruit of trees or ploughing. ¹⁸. Come down quickly ye and your households, so that ye perish not through the famine, and do not be grieved for your possessions, for the Lord sent me before you to set things in order that many people might live. ¹⁹. And tell my father that I am still alive, and ye, behold, ye see that the Lord has made me as a father to Pharaoh, and ruler over his house and over all the land of Egypt. ²⁰. And tell my father of all my glory, and all the riches and glory that the Lord hath given me.” ²¹. And by the command of the mouth of Pharaoh he gave them chariots and provisions for the way, and he gave them all many-coloured raiment and silver. ²². And to their father he sent raiment and silver and ten asses which carried corn, and he sent them away. ²³. And they went up and told their father that Joseph was alive, and was measuring out corn to all the nations of the earth, and that he was ruler over all the land of Egypt. ²⁴. And their father did not believe it, for he was beside himself in his mind but when he saw the wagons which Joseph had sent, the life of his spirit revived, and he said: “It is enough for me if Joseph lives I will go down and see him before I die.”

CHAPTER 44 ¹And Israel took his journey from + Haran + from his house on the new moon of the third month, and he went on the way of the Well of the Oath, and he offered a sacrifice to the God of his father Isaac on the seventh of this month. ². And Jacob remembered the dream that he had seen at Bethel, and he feared to go down into Egypt. ³. And while he was thinking of sending word to Joseph to come to him, and that he would not go down, he remained there seven days, if perchance he should see a vision as to whether he should remain or go down. ⁴. And he celebrated the harvest festival of the first-fruits with old grain, for in all the land of Canaan there was not a handful of seed (in the land), for the famine was over all the beasts and cattle and birds, and also over man. ⁵. And on the sixteenth the Lord appeared unto him, and said unto him, "Jacob, Jacob" and he said, "Here am I." And He said unto him: "I am the God of thy fathers, the God of Abraham and Isaac fear not to go down into Egypt, for I will there make of thee a great nation. ⁶. I shall go down with thee, and I shall bring thee up (again), and in this land wilt thou be buried, and Joseph will put his hands upon thy eyes. into Egypt." Fear not go down ⁷. And his sons rose up, and his sons' sons, and they placed their father and their possessions upon wagons. ⁸. And Israel rose up from the Well of the Oath on the sixteenth of this third month, and he went to the land of Egypt. ⁹. And Israel sent Judah before him to his son Joseph to examine the Land of Goshen, for Joseph had told his brothers that they should come and dwell there that they might be near him. ¹⁰. And this was the goodliest (land) in the land of Egypt, and near to him, for all (of them) and also for the cattle. ¹¹. And these are the names of the sons of Jacob who went into Egypt with Jacob their father. ¹². Reuben, the first-born of Israel and these are the names of his sons: Enoch, and Pallu, and Hezron and Carmi—five. ¹³. Simeon and his sons and these are the names of his sons: Jemuel, and Jamin, and Ohad, and Jachin, and Zohar, and Shaul, the son of the Zephathite woman—seven. ¹⁴. Levi and his sons and these are the names of his sons: Gershon, and Kohath, and Merari—four. ¹⁵. Judah and his sons and these are the names of his sons: Shela, and Perez, and Zerah—four. ¹⁶. Issachar and his sons and these are the names of his sons: Tola, and Phiia, and JAstib, and Shimron— five. ¹⁷. Zebulon and his sons and these are the names of his sons: Sered, and Elon, and Jahleel—four. ¹⁸. And these are the sons of Jacob, and their sons, whom Leah bore to Jacob in Mesopotamia, six, and their one sister, Dinah: and all the souls of the sons of Leah, and their sons, who went with Jacob their father into Egypt, were twenty-nine, and Jacob their father being with them, they were thirty. ¹⁹. And the sons of Zilpah, Leah's handmaid, the wife of Jacob, whom she bore unto Jacob, Gad and Asher. ²⁰. And these are the names of their sons who went with him into Egypt: the sons of Gad: Ziphion, and Haggi, and Shuni, and Ezbon, (and Eri) and Areli, and Arodi—eight. ²¹. And the sons of Asher: Imnah, and Ishvah, (and Ishvi), and Beriah, and Serah, their one sister—six. ²². All the souls were fourteen, and all those of Leah were fortyfour. ²³. And the sons of Rachel, the wife of Jacob: Joseph and Benjamin. ²⁴. And there were born to Joseph in Egypt before his father came into Egypt, those whom Asenath, daughter of Potiphar priest of Heliopolis bare unto him, Manasseh, and Ephraim—three. ²⁵. And the sons of Benjamin: Bela and Becher, and Ashbel, Gera, and Naaman, and Ehi, and Rosh, and Muppim, and Huppim, and Ard—eleven. ²⁶. And all the souls of Rachel were fourteen. ²⁷. And the sons of Bilhah, the handmaid of Rachel, the wife of Jacob, whom she bare to Jacob, were Dan and Naphtali. ²⁸. And these are the names of their sons who went with them into Egypt. And the sons of Dan were Hushim, and Simén, and Asfdi, and taka, and Salémén—six. ²⁹. And they died the year in which they entered into Egypt, and there was left to Dan Hushim alone. ³⁰. And these are the names of the sons of Naphtali: Jahziel, and Guni, and Jezer, and Shallum, and 'fv. ³¹. And 'Ty, who was born after the years . of famine, died in Egypt. ³². And all the souls of Rachel were twenty-six. ³³. And all the souls of Jacob which went into Egypt were seventy souls. These are his children and his children's children, in all seventy but five died in Egypt before Joseph, and had no children. ³⁴. And in the land of Canaan two sons of Judah died, Er and Onan, and they had no children, and the children of Israel buried those who perished, and they were reckoned among the seventy Gentile nations.

CHAPTER 45 ¹And Israel went into the country of Egypt, into the land of Goshen, on the new moon of the fourth month, in the second year of the third week of the forty-fifth jubilee. ². And Joseph went to meet his father Jacob, to the land of Goshen, and he fell on his father's neck and wept. ³. And Israel said unto Joseph: "Now let me die since I have seen thee, and now may the Lord God of Israel be blessed, the God of Abraham and the God of Isaac who hath not withheld His mercy and His grace from His servant Jacob. ⁴. It is enough for me that I have seen thy face whilst I am yet alive yea, true is the vision which I saw at Bethel. Blessed be the Lord my God for ever and ever, and blessed be His name.”⁵. And Joseph and his brothers eat bread before their father and drank wine, and Jacob rejoiced with exceeding great joy because he saw Joseph eating with his brothers and drinking before him, and he blessed the Creator of all things who had preserved him, and had preserved for him his twelve sons.⁶. And Joseph had given to his father and to his brothers as a gift the right of dwelling in the land of Goshen and in Rameses and all the region round about, which he ruled over before Pharaoh. And Israel and his sons dwelt in the land of Goshen, the best part of the land of Egypt and Israel was one hundred and thirty years old when he came into Egypt.⁷. And Joseph nourished his father and his brethren and also their possessions with bread as much as sufficed them for the seven years of the famine.⁸. And the land of Egypt suffered by reason of the famine, and Joseph acquired all the land of Egypt for Pharaoh in return for food, and he got possession of the people and their cattle and everything for Pharaoh,⁹. And the years of the famine were accomplished, and Joseph gave to the people in the land seed and food that they might sow (the land) in the eighth year, for the river had overflowed all the land of Egypt.¹⁰. For in the seven years of the famine it had not overflowed and had irrigated only a few places on the banks of the river, but now it overflowed and the Egyptians sowed the land, and it bore much corn that year.¹¹. And this was the first year of the fourth week of the forty-fifth jubilee.¹². And Joseph took of the corn of the harvest the fifth part for the king and left four parts for them for food and for seed, and Joseph made it an ordinance for the land of Egypt until this day.¹³. And Israel lived in the land of Egypt seventeen years, and all the days which he lived were three jubilees, one hundred and forty-seven years, and he died in the fourth year of the fifth week of the forty-fifth jubilee.¹⁴. And Israel blessed his sons before he died and told them everything that would befall them in the land of Egypt and he made known to them what would come upon them in the last days, and blessed them and gave to Joseph two portions in the land.¹⁵. And he slept with his fathers, and he was buried in the double cave in the land of Canaan, near Abraham his father in the grave which he dug for himself in the double cave in the land of Hebron. ¹⁶. And he gave all his books and the books of his fathers to Levi his son that he might preserve them and renew them for his children until this day.

CHAPTER 46 ¹And it came to pass that after Jacob died the children of Israel multiplied in the land of Egypt, and they became a great nation, and they were of one accord in heart, so that brother loved brother and every man helped his brother, and they increased abundantly and multiplied exceedingly, ten weeks of years, all the days of the life of Joseph. ². And there was no Satan nor any evil all the days of the life of Joseph which he lived after his father Jacob, for all the Egyptians honoured the children of Israel all the days of the life of Joseph. ³. And Joseph died being a hundred and ten years old seventeen years he lived in the land of Canaan, and ten years he was a servant, and three years in prison, and eighty years he was under the king, ruling all the land of Egypt. ⁴. And he died and all his brethren and all that generation. ⁵. And he commanded the children of Israel before he died that they should carry his bones with them when they went forth from the land of Egypt. ⁶. And he made them swear regarding his bones, for he knew that the Egyptians would not again bring forth and bury him in the land of Canaan, for Makamarén, king of Canaan, while dwelling in the land of Assyria, fought in the valley with the king of Egypt and slew him there, and pursued after the Egyptians to the gates of 'Ermén. ⁷. But he was not able to enter, for another, a new king, had become king of Egypt, and he was stronger than he, and he returned to the land of Canaan, and the gates of Egypt were closed, and none went out and none came into Egypt. ⁸. And Joseph died in the fortysixth jubilee, in the sixth week, in the second year, and they buried him in the land of Egypt, and all his brethren died after him. ⁹. And the king of Egypt went forth to war with the king of Canaan in the forty-seventh jubilee, in the second week in the second year, and the children of Israel brought forth all the bones of the children of Jacob save the bones of Joseph, and they buried them in the field in the double cave in the mountain. ¹⁰. And the most (of them) returned to Egypt, but a few of them remained in the mountains of Hebron, and Amram thy father remained with them. ¹¹. And the king of Canaan was victorious over the king of Egypt, and he closed the gates of Egypt. ¹². And he devised an evil device against the children of Israel of afflicting them and he said unto the people of Egypt: ¹³. "Behold the people of the children of Israel have increased and multiplied more than we. Come and let us deal wisely with them before they become too many, and let us afflict them with slavery before war come upon us and before they too fight against us else they will join themselves unto our enemies and get them up out of our land, for their hearts and faces are towards the land of Canaan." ¹⁴. And he set over them taskmasters to afflict them with slavery and they built strong cities for Pharaoh, Pithom and Raamses, and they built all the walls and all the fortifications which had fallen in the cities of Egypt. ¹⁵. And they made them serve with rigour, and the more they dealt evilly with them, the more they increased and multiplied. ¹⁶. And the people of Egypt abominated the children of Israel.

of Canaan, and thou wast born in the fourth week, in the sixth year thereof, in the forty-eighth jubilee this was the time of tribulation on the children of Israel. ². And Pharaoh, king of Egypt, issued a command regarding them that they should cast all their male children which were born into the river. ³. And they cast them in for seven months until the day that thou wast born. And thy mother hid thee for three months, and they told regarding her. ⁴. And she made an ark for thee, and covered it with pitch and asphalt, and placed it in the flags on the bank of the river, and she placed thee in it seven days, and thy mother came by night and suckled thee, and by day Miriam, thy sister, guarded thee from the birds. ⁵. And in those days Tharmuth, the daughter of Pharaoh, came to bathe in the river, and she heard thy voice crying, and she told her maidens to bring thee forth, and they brought thee unto her. ⁶. And she took thee out of the ark, and she had compassion on thee. ⁷. And thy sister said unto her: "Shall I go and call unto thee one of the Hebrew women to nurse and suckle this babe for thee?" And she said (unto her): "Go". ⁸. And she went and called thy mother Jochebed, and she gave her wages, and she nursed thee. ⁹. And afterwards, when thou wast grown up, they brought thee unto the daughter of Pharaoh, and thou didst become her son, and Amram thy father taught thee writing, and after thou hadst completed three weeks they brought thee into the royal court. ¹⁰. And thou wast three weeks of years at court until the time when thou didst go forth from the royal court and didst see an Egyptian smiting thy friend who was of the children of Israel, and thou didst slay him and hide him in the sand. ¹¹. And on the second day thou didst find two of the children of Israel striving together, and thou didst say to him who was doing the wrong: "Why dost thou smite thy brother?" ¹². And he was angry and indignant, and said: "Who made thee a prince and a judge over us? Thinkest thou to kill me as thou killedst the Egyptian yesterday?" And thou didst fear and flee on account of these words.

CHAPTER 48 ¹And in the sixth year of the third week of the forty-ninth jubilee thou didst depart and dwell in the land of Midian five weeks and one year. And thou didst return into Egypt in the second week in the second year in the fiftieth jubilee. ². And thou thyself knowest what He spake unto thee on Mount Sinai, and what prince Mastéma desired to do with thee when thou wast returning into Egypt on the way when thou didst meet him at the lodging-place. ³. Did he not with all his power seek to slay thee and deliver the Egyptians out of thy hand when he saw that thou wast sent to execute judgment and vengeance on the Egyptians? ⁴. And I delivered thee out of his hand, and thou didst perform the signs and wonders which thou wast sent to perform in Egypt against Pharaoh, and against all his house, and against his servants and his people. ⁵. And the Lord executed a great vengeance on them for Israel's sake, and smote them through (the plagues of) blood and frogs, lice and dog-flies, and malignant boils breaking forth in blains and their cattle by death and by hail-stones, thereby He destroyed everything that grew for them and by locusts which devoured the residue which had been left by the hail, and by darkness and (by the death) of the first-born of men and animals, and on all their idols the Lord took vengeance and burned them with fire. ⁶. And everything was sent through thy hand, that thou shouldst declare (these things) before they were done, and thou didst speak with the king of Egypt before all his servants and before his people. ⁷. And everything took place according to thy words ten great and terrible judgments came on the land of Egypt that thou mightest execute vengeance on it for Israel. ⁸. And the Lord did everything for Israel's sake, and according to His covenant, which He had ordained with Abraham that He would take vengeance on them as they had brought them by force into bondage. ⁹. And the prince of the Mastéma stood up against thee, and sought to cast thee into the hands of Pharaoh, and he helped the Egyptian sorcerers, and they stood up and wrought before thee. ¹⁰. The evils indeed we permitted them to work, but the remedies we did not allow to be wrought by their hands. ¹¹. And the Lord smote them with malignant ulcers, and they were not able to stand, for we destroyed them so that they could not perform a single sign. ¹². And notwithstanding all (these) signs and wonders the prince of the Mastéma was not put to shame because he took courage and cried to the Egyptians to pursue after thee with all the powers of the Egyptians, with their chariots, and with their horses, and with all the hosts of the peoples of Egypt. ¹³. And I stood between the Egyptians and Israel, and we delivered Israel out of his hand, and out of the hand of his people, and the Lord brought them through the midst of the sea as if it were dry land. ¹⁴. And all the peoples whom he brought to pursue after Israel, the Lord our God cast them into the midst of the sea, into the depths of the abyss beneath the children of Israel, even as the people of Egypt had cast their children into the river. He took vengeance on of them, and one thousand strong and energetic men were destroyed on account of one suckling of the children of thy people which they had thrown into the river. ¹⁵, And on the fourteenth day and on the fifteenth and on the sixteenth and on the seventeenth and on the eighteenth the prince of the Mastéma was bound and imprisoned behind the children of Israel that he might not accuse them. ¹⁶. And on the nineteenth we let them loose that they might help the Egyptians and pursue the children of Israel. ¹⁷. And he hardened their hearts and made them stubborn, and the device was devised by the Lord our God that He might smite the Egyptians and cast them into the sea. ¹⁸. And on the fourteenth we bound him that he might not accuse the children of Israel on the day when they asked the Egyptians for vessels and garments, vessels of silver, and vessels of gold, and vessels of bronze, in order to despoil the Egyptians in return for the bondage in which they had forced them to serve. ¹⁹. And we did not lead forth the children of Israel from Egypt empty handed.

CHAPTER 49 ¹Remember the commandment which the Lord commanded thee concerning the passover, that thou shouldst celebrate it in its season on the fourteenth of the first month, that thou shouldst kill it before it is evening, and that they should eat it by night on the evening of the fifteenth from the time of the setting of the sun. ². For on this night—the beginning of the festival and the beginning of the joy—ye were eating the passover in Egypt, when all the powers of Mastéma had been let loose to slay all the first-born in the land of Egypt, from the first-born of Pharaoh to the first-born of the captive maid-servant in the mill, and to the cattle. ³. And this is the sign which the Lord gave them: Into every house on the lintels of which they saw the blood of a lamb of the first year, into (that) house they should not enter to slay, but should pass by (it), that all those should be saved that were in the house because the sign of the blood was on its lintels. ⁴. And the powers of the Lord did everything according as the Lord commanded them, and they passed by all the children of Israel, and the plague came not upon them to destroy from amongst them any soul either of cattle, or man, or dog. ⁵. And the plague was very grievous in Egypt, and there was no house in Egypt where there was not one dead, and weeping and lamentation. ⁶. And all Israel was eating the flesh of the paschal lamb, and drinking the wine, and was lauding and blessing, and giving thanks to the Lord God of their fathers, and was ready to go forth from under the yoke of Egypt, and from the evil bondage. ⁷. And remember thou this day all the days of thy life, and observe it from year to year all the days of thy life, once a year, on its day, according to all the law thereof, and do not adjourn (it) from day to day, or from month to month. ⁸. For it is an eternal ordinance, and engraven on the heavenly tables regarding all the children of Israel that they should observe it every year on its day once a year, throughout all their generations and there is no limit of days, for this is ordained for ever. ⁹. And the man who is free from uncleanness, and does not come to observe it on occasion of its day, so as to bring an acceptable offering before the Lord, and to eat and to drink before the Lord on the day of its festival, that man who is clean and close at hand will be cut off: because he offered not the oblation of the Lord in its appointed season, he will take the guilt upon himself. ¹⁰. Let the children of Israel come and observe the passover on the day of its fixed time, on the fourteenth day of the first month, between the evenings, from the third part of the day to the third part of the night, for two portions of the day are given to the light, and a third part to the evening. ¹¹. This is that which the Lord commanded thee that thou shouldst observe it between the evenings. ¹². And it is not permissible to slay it during any period of the light, but during the period bordering on the evening, and let them eat it at the time of the evening until the third part of the night, and whatever is left over of all its flesh from the third part of the night and onwards, let them burn it with fire. ¹³. And they shall not cook it with water, nor shall they eat it raw, but roast on the fire: they shall eat it with diligence, its head with the inwards thereof and its feet they shall roast with fire, and not break any bone thereof for Toû the children of Israel no bone shall be crushed. ¹⁴. For this reason the Lord commanded the children of Israel to observe the passover on the day of its fixed time, and they shall not break a bone thereof for it is a festival day, and a day commanded, and there may be no passing over from day to day, and month to month, but on the day of its festival let it be observed. ¹⁵. And do thou command the children of Israel to observe the passover throughout their days, every year, once a year on the day of its fixed time, and it will come for a memorial well pleasing before the Lord, and no plague will come upon them to slay or to smite in that year in which they celebrate the passover in its season in every respect according to His command. ¹⁶. And they shall not eat it outside the sanctuary of the Lord, but before the sanctuary of the Lord, and all the people of the congregation of Israel shall celebrate it in its appointed season. ¹⁷. And every man who has come upon its day shall eat it in the sanctuary of your God before the Lord from twenty years old and upward for thus is it written and ordained that they should eat it in the sanctuary of the Lord. ¹⁸. And when the children of Israel come into the land which they are to possess, into the land of Canaan, and set up the tabernacle of the Lord in the midst of the land in one of their tribes until the sanctuary of the Lord has been built in the land, let them come and celebrate the passover in the midst of the tabernacle of the Lord, and let them slay it before the Lord from year to year. ¹⁹. And in the days when the house has been built in the name of the Lord in the land of their inheritance, they shall go there and slay the passover in the evening, at sunset, at the third part of the day. ²⁰. And they will offer its blood on the threshold of the altar, and shall place its fat on the fire which is upon the altar, and they shall eat its flesh roasted with fire in the court of the house which has been sanctified in the name of the Lord. ²¹. And they may not celebrate the passover in their cities, nor in any place save before the tabernacle of the Lord, or before His house where His name hath dwelt and they will not go astray from the Lord. ²². And do thou, Moses, command the children of Israel to observe the ordinances of the passover, as it was commanded unto thee declare thou unto them every year and the day of its days, and the festival of unleavened bread, that they should eat unleavened bread seven days, (and) that they should observe its festival, and that they bring an oblation every day during those seven days of joy before the Lord on the altar of your God. ²³. For ye celebrated this festival with haste when ye went forth from Egypt till ye entered into the wilderness of Shur for on the shore of the sea ye completed it.

CHAPTER 50 ¹And after this law I made known to thee the days of the Sabbaths in the desert of Sin[ai], which is between Elim and Sinai. ². And I told thee of the Sabbaths of the land on Mount Sinai, and I told thee of the jubilee years in the sabbaths of years: but the year thereof have I not told thee till ye enter the land which ye are to possess, ³. And the land also will keep its sabbaths while they dwell upon it, and they will know the jubilee year. ⁴. Wherefore I have ordained for thee the year-weeks and the years and the jubilees: there are forty-nine jubilees from the days of Adam until this day, and one week and two years: and there are yet forty years to come (lit. "distant ") for learning the commandments of the Lord, until they pass over into the land of Canaan, crossing the Jordan to the west. ⁵. And the jubilees will pass by, until Israel is cleansed from all guilt of fornication, and uncleanness, and pollution, and sin, and error, and dwells with confidence in all the land, and there will be no more a Satan or any evil one, and the land will be clean from that time for evermore. ⁶. And behold the commandment regarding the Sabbaths— I have written (them) down for thee— and all the judgments of its laws. ⁷. Six days wilt thou labour, but on the seventh day is the Sabbath of the Lord your God. In it ye shall do no manner of work, ye and your sons, and your men-servants and your maid-servants, and all your cattle and the sojourner also who is with you. ⁸. And the man that does any work on it shall die: whoever desecrates that day, whoever lies with (his) wife, or whoever says he will do something on it, that he will set out on a journey thereon in regard to any buying or selling: and whoever draws water thereon which he had not prepared for himself on the sixth day, and whoever takes up any burden to carry it out of his tent or out of his house shall die. ⁹. Ye shall do no work whatever on the Sabbath day save what ye have prepared for yourselves on the sixth day, so as to eat, and drink, and rest, and keep Sabbath from all work on that day, and to bless the Lord your God, who has given you a day of festival, and a holy day: and a day of the holy kingdom for all Israel is this day among their days for ever. ¹⁰. For great is the honour which the Lord has given to Israel that they should eat and drink and be satisfied on this festival day, and rest thereon from all labour which belongs to the labour of the children of men, save burning frankincense and bringing oblations and sacrifices before the Lord for days and for Sabbaths. ¹¹. This work alone shall be done on the Sabbath-days in the sanctuary of the Lord your God that they may atone for Israel with sacrifice continually from day to day for a memorial well-pleasing before the Lord, and that He may receive them always from day to day according as thou hast been commanded. any work thereon, or goes a journey, or tills (his) farm, ¹². And every man who does whether in his house or any other place, and whoever lights a fire, or rides on any beast, or travels by ship on the sea, and whoever strikes or kills anything, or slaughters a beast or a bird, or whoever catches an animal or a bird or a fish, or whoever fasts or makes war on the Sabbaths: ¹³, The man who does any of these things on the Sabbath shall die, so that the children of Israel shall observe the Sabbaths according to the commandments regarding the Sabbaths of the land, as it is written in the tables, which He gave into my hands that I should write out for thee the laws of the seasons, and the seasons according to the division of their days.

CHAPTER 1 ¹The word of the blessing of Enoch, how he blessed the elect and the righteous, who were to exist in the time of trouble rejecting all the wicked and ungodly. Enoch, a righteous man, who wasa with God, answered and spoke, while his eyes were open, and while he saw a holy vision in the heavens. This the angels showed me. ²From them I heard all things, and understood what I saw that which will not take place in this generation, but in a generation which is to succeed at a distant period, on account of the elect. ³Upon their account I spoke and conversed with him, who will go forth from his habitation, the Holy and Mighty One, the God of the world: ⁴Who will hereafter tread upon Mount Sinai appear with his hosts and be manifested in the strength of his power from heaven. ⁵All shall be afraid, and the Watchers be terrified. ⁶Great fear and trembling shall seize them, even to the ends of the earth. The lofty mountains shall be troubled, and the exalted hills depressed, melting like a honeycomb in the flame. The earth shall be immersed, and all things which are in it perish while judgment shall come upon all, even upon all the righteous: ⁷But to them shall he give peace: he shall preserve the elect, and towards them exercise clemency. ⁸Then shall all belong to God be happy and blessed and the splendour of the Godhead shall illuminate them.

CHAPTER 2 ¹Behold, he comes with ten thousands of his saints, to execute judgment upon them, and destroy the wicked, and reprove all the carnal for everything which the sinful and ungodly have done, and committed against him.^a CHAPTER 3 ¹All who are in the heavens know what is transacted there. ²They know that the heavenly luminaries change not their paths that each rises and sets regularly, every one at its proper period, without transgressing the commands, which they have received. They behold the earth, and understand what is there transacted, from the beginning to the end of it. ³They see that every work of God is invariable in the period of its appearance. They behold summer and winter: perceiving that the whole earth is full of water and that the cloud, the dew, and the rain refresh it.

CHAPTER 4 ¹They consider and behold every tree, how it appears to wither, and every leaf to fall off, except of fourteen trees, which are not deciduous which wait from the old, to the appearance of the new leaf, for two or three winters.

CHAPTER 5 ¹Again they consider the days of summer, that the sun is upon it at its very beginning while you seek for a covered and shady spot on account of the burning sun while the earth is scorched up with fervid heat, and you become incapable of walking either upon the ground or upon the rocks in consequence of that heat.

CHAPTER 6 ¹They consider how the trees, when they put forth their green leaves, become covered, and produce fruit understanding everything, and knowing that He who lives for ever does all these things for you: ²That the works at the beginning of every existing year, that all his works, are subservient to him, and invariable yet as God has appointed, so are all things brought to pass. ³They see, too, how the seas and the rivers together complete their respective operations: ⁴But you endure not patiently, nor fulfill the commandments of the Lord but you transgress and calumniate his greatness and malignant are the words in your polluted mouths against his Majesty. ⁵You withered in heart, no peace shall be to you! ⁶Therefore your days shall you curse, and the years of your lives shall perish perpetual execration shall be multiplied, and you shall not obtain mercy. ⁷In those days shall you resign your peace with the eternal maledictions of all the righteous, and sinners shall perpetually execrate you ⁸Shall execrate you with the ungodly. ⁹The elect shall possess light, joy, and peace and they shall inherit the earth. ¹⁰But you, you unholy, shall be accursed. ¹¹Then shall wisdom be given to the elect, all of whom shall live, and not again transgress by impiety or pride but shall humble themselves, possessing prudence, and shall not repeat transgression. ¹²They shall not be condemned the whole period of their lives, not die in torment and indignation but the sum of their days shall be completed, and they shall grow old in peace while the years of their happiness shall be multiplied with joy, and with peace, for ever, the whole duration of their existence.

CHAPTER 7 ¹It happened after the sons of men had multiplied in those days, that daughters were born to them, elegant and beautiful. ²And when the angels, a the sons of heaven, beheld them, they became enamoured of them, saying to each other, Come, let us select for ourselves wives from the progeny of men, and let us beget children. ³Then their leader Samyaza said to them I fear that you may perhaps be indisposed to the performance of this enterprise ⁴And that I alone shall suffer for so grievous a crime. ⁵But they answered him and said We all swear ⁶And bind ourselves by mutual execrations, that we will not change our intention, but execute our projected undertaking. ⁷Then they swore all together, and all bound themselves by mutual execrations. Their whole number was two hundred, who descended upon Ardis,^b which is the top of mount Armon. ⁸That mountain therefore was called Armon, because they had sworn upon it,^c and bound themselves by mutual execrations. ⁹These are the names of their chiefs: Samyaza, who was their leader, Urakabameel, Akibeel, Tamiel, Ramuel, Danel, Azkeel, Saraknyal, Asael, Armers, Batraal, Anane, Zavebe, Samsaveel, Ertael, Turel, Yomyael, Arazyal. These were the prefects of the two hundred angels, and the remainder were all with them.^a ¹⁰Then they took wives, each choosing for himself whom they began to approach, and with whom they cohabited teaching them sorcery, incantations, and the dividing of roots and trees. ¹¹And the women conceiving brought forth giants,^b ¹²Whose stature was each three hundred cubits. These devoured all which the labor of men produced until it became impossible to feed them ¹³When they turned themselves against men, in order to devour them ¹⁴And began to injure birds, beasts, reptiles, and fishes, to eat their flesh one after another,^c and to drink their blood. ¹⁵Then the earth reproved the unrighteous.

CHAPTER 8 ¹Moreover Azazyel taught men to make swords, knives, shields, breastplates, the fabrication of mirrors, and the workmanship of bracelets and ornaments, the use of paint, the beautifying of the eyebrows, the use of stones of every valuable and select kind, and all sorts of dyes, so that the world became altered. ²Impiety increased fornication multiplied and they transgressed and corrupted all their ways. ³Amazarak taught all the sorcerers, and dividers of roots: ⁴Armners taught the solution of sorcery ⁵Barkayal taught the observers of the stars,^d ⁶Akibeel taught signs ⁷ Tamiel taught astronomy ⁸And Asaradel taught the motion of the moon, ⁹And men, being destroyed, cried out and their voice reached to heaven.

CHAPTER 9 ¹Then Michael and Gabriel, Raphael, Suryal, and Uriel, looked down from heaven, and saw the quantity of blood which was shed on earth, and all the iniquity which was done upon it, and said one to another, It is the voice of their cries ²The earth deprived of her children has cried even to the gate of heaven. ³And now to you, O you holy one of heaven, the souls of men complain, saying, Obtain Justice for us witha the Most High. Then they said to their Lord, the King, You are Lord of lords, God of gods, King of kings. The throne of your glory is for ever and ever, and for ever and ever is your name sanctified and glorified. You are blessed and glorified. ⁴You have made all things you possess power over all things and all things are open and manifest before you. You behold all things, and nothing can be concealed from you. ⁵You have seen what Azazyel has done, how he has taught every species of iniquity upon earth, and has disclosed to the world all the secret things which are done in the heavens. ⁶Samyaza also has taught sorcery, to whom you have given authority over those who are associated with him. They have gone together to the daughters of men have lain with them have become polluted ⁷And have discovered crimesb to them. ⁸The women likewise have brought forth giants. ⁹Thus has the whole earth been filled with blood and with iniquity. ¹⁰And now behold the souls of those who are dead, cry out. ¹¹And complain even to the gate of heaven. ¹²Their groaning ascends nor can they escape from the unrighteousness which is committed on earth. You know all things, before they exist. ¹³You know these things, and what has been done by them yet you do not speak to us. ¹⁴What on account of these things ought we to do to them?

CHAPTER 10 ¹Then the Most High, the Great and Holy One spoke, ²And sent Arsayalalyura to the son of Lamech, ³Saying, Say to him in my name, Conceal yourself. ⁴Then explain to him the consummation which is about to take place for all the earth shall perish the waters of a deluge shall come over the whole earth, and all things which are in it shall be destroyed. ⁵And now teach him how he may escape, and how his seed may remain in all the earth. ⁶Again the Lord said to Raphael, Bind Azazyel hand and foot cast him into darkness and opening the desert which is in Dudael, cast him in there. ⁷Throw upon him hurled and pointed stones, covering him with darkness ⁸There shall he remain for ever cover his face, that he may not see the light. ⁹And in the great day of judgment let him be cast into the fire. ¹⁰Restore the earth, which the angels have corrupted and announce life to it, that I may revive it. ¹¹All the sons of men shall not perish in consequence of every secret, by which the Watchers have destroyed, and which they have taught, their offspring. ¹²All the earth has been corrupted by the effects of the teaching of Azazyel. To him therefore ascribe the whole crime. ¹³To Gabriel also the Lord said, Go to the biters,b to the reprobates, to the children of fornication and destroy the children of fornication, the offspring of the Watchers, from among men bring them forth, and excite them one against another. Let them perish by mutual slaughter for length of days shall not be theirs. ¹⁴They shall all entreat you, but their fathers shall not obtain their wishes respecting them for they shall hope for eternal life, and that they may live, each of them, five hundred years. ¹⁵To Michael likewise the Lord said, Go and announce his crime to Samyaza, and to the others who are with him, who have been associated with women, that they might be polluted with all their impurity. And when all their sons shall be slain, when they shall see the perdition of their beloved, bind them for seventy generations underneath the earth, even to the day of judgment, and of consummation, until the judgment, the effect of which will last for ever, be completed. ¹⁶Then shall they be taken away into the lowest depths of the fire in torments and in confinement shall they be shut up for ever. ¹⁷Immediately after this shall he, a together with them, burn and perish they shall be bound until the consummation of many generations. ¹⁸Destroy all the souls addicted to dalliance, b and the offspring of the Watchers, for they have tyrannized over mankind. ¹⁹Let every oppressor perish from the face of the earth ² ⁰Let every evil work be destroyed ²¹The plant of righteousness and of rectitude appear, and its produce become a blessing.

²²Righteousness and rectitude shall be for ever planted with delight. ²³And then shall all the saints give thanks, and live until they have begotten a thousand children, while the whole period of their youth, and their sabbaths shall be completed in peace. In those days all the earth shall be cultivated in righteousness it shall be wholly planted with trees, and filled with benediction every tree of delight shall be planted in it. ²⁴In it shall vines be planted and the vine which shall be planted in it shall yield fruit to satiety every seed, which shall be sown in it, shall produce for one measure a thousand and one measure of olives shall produce ten presses of oil. ²⁵Purify the earth from all oppression, from all injustice, from all crime, from all impiety, and from all the pollution which is committed upon it. Exterminate them from the earth. ²⁶Then shall all the children of men be righteous, and all nations shall pay me divine honours, and bless me and all shall adore me. ²⁷The earth shall be cleansed from all corruption, from every crime, from all punishment, and from all suffering neither will I again send a deluge upon it from generation to generation for ever. ²⁸In those days I will open the treasures of blessing which are in heaven, that I may cause them to descend upon earth, and upon all the works and labour of man. ²⁹Peace and equity shall associate with the sons of men all the days of the world, in every generation of it.

CHAPTER 11 ¹And in those days I will open the store chambers of blessing which are in the heaven, so as to send them down 'upon the earth' over the work and Jabour of the children of men. ². And truth and peace shall be associated together throughout all the days of the world and throughout all the generations of men.'

CHAPTER 12 ¹Before all these things Enoch was concealed nor did any one of the sons of men know where he was concealed, where he had been, and what had happened. ²He was wholly engaged with the holy ones, and with the Watchers in his days. ³I, Enoch, was blessing the great Lord and King of peace. ⁴And behold the Watchers called me Enoch the scribe. ⁵Then the Lord said to me: Enoch, scribe of righteousness, go tell the Watchers of heaven, who have deserted the lofty sky, and their holy everlasting station, who have been polluted with women. ⁶And have done as the sons of men do, by taking to themselves wives, and who have been greatly corrupted on the earth ⁷That on the earth they shall never obtain peace and remission of sin. For they shall not rejoice in their offspring they shall behold the slaughter of their beloved shall lament for the destruction of their sons and shall petition for ever but shall not obtain mercy and peace.

CHAPTER 13 ¹Then Enoch, passing on, said to Azazyel: You shalt not obtain peace. A great sentence is gone forth against you. He shall bind you ²Neither shall relief, mercy, and supplication be yours, on account of the oppression which you have taught ³And on account of every act of blasphemy, tyranny, and sin, which you have discovered to the children of men. ⁴Then departing from him I spoke to them all together ⁵ And they all became terrified, and trembled ⁶ Beseeching me to write for them a memorial of supplication, that they might obtain forgiveness and that I might make the memorial of their prayer ascend up before the God of heaven because they could not themselves thenceforwards address him, nor raise up their eyes to heaven on account of the disgraceful offence for which they were judged. ⁷Then I wrote a memorial of their prayer and supplications, for their spirits, for everything which they had done, and for the subject of their entreaty, that they might obtain remission and rest. ⁸Proceeding on, I continued over the waters of Danbadan, a which is on the right to the west of Armon, reading the memorial of their prayer, until I fell asleep. ⁹And behold a dream came to me, and visions appeared above me. I fell down and saw a vision of punishment, that I might relate it to the sons of heaven, and reprove them. When I awoke I went to them. All being collected together stood weeping in Oubelseyael, which is situated between Libanos and Seneser, a with their faces veiled. ¹⁰I related in their presence all the visions which I had seen, and my dream ¹¹And began to utter these words of righteousness, reproving the Watchers of heaven.

according to that which He, who is holy and great, commanded in the vision. I perceived in my dream, that I was now speaking with a tongue of flesh, and with my breath, which the Mighty One has put into the mouth of men, that they might converse with it, ²And understand with the heart. As he has created and given to men the power of comprehending the word of understanding, so has he created and given to me the power of reproving the Watchers, the offspring of heaven. I have written your petition and in my vision it has been shown me, that what you request will not be granted you as long as the world endures. ³Judgment has been passed upon you: your request will not be granted you. ⁴From this time forward, never shall you ascend into heaven He has said, that on the earth He will bind you, as long as the world endures. ⁵But before these things you shall behold the destruction of your beloved sons you shall not possess them, but they shall fall before you by the sword. ⁶Neither shall you entreat for them, not for yourselves ⁷But you shall weep and supplicate in silence. The words of the book which I wrote. c ⁸ A vision thus appeared to me. ⁹Behold, in that vision clouds and a mist invited me agitated stars and flashes of lightning impelled and pressed me forwards, while winds in the vision assisted my flight, accelerating my progress. ¹⁰They elevated me aloft to heaven. I proceeded, until I arrived at a wall built with stones of crystal. A vibrating flame surrounded it, which began to strike me with terror. ¹¹Into this vibrating flame I entered ¹²And drew nigh to a spacious habitation built also with stones of crystal. Its walls too, as well as pavement, were formed with stones of crystal, and crystal likewise was the ground. Its roof had the appearance of agitated stars and flashes of lightning and among them were cherubim of fire in a stormy sky. A flame burned around its walls and its portal blazed with fire. When I entered into this dwelling, it was hot as fire and cold as ice. No trace of delight or of life was there. Terror overwhelmed me, and a fearful shaking seized me. ¹³Violently agitated and trembling, I fell upon my face. In the vision I looked. ¹⁴And behold there was another habitation more spacious than the former, every entrance to which was open before me, erected in the midst of a vibrating flame. ¹⁵So greatly did it excel in all points, in glory, in magnificence, and in magnitude, that it is impossible to describe to you either the splendour or the extent of it. ¹⁶Its floor was on fire above were lightnings and agitated stars, while its roof exhibited a blazing fire. ¹⁷Attentively I surveyed it, and saw that it contained an exalted throne ¹⁸The appearance of which was like that of frost while its circumference resembled the orb of the brilliant sun and there was the voice of the cherubim. ¹⁹From underneath this mighty throne rivers of flaming fire issued. ²⁰To look upon it was impossible. ²¹One great in glory sat upon it: ²²Whose robe was brighter than the sun, and whiter than snow. ²³No angel was capable of penetrating to view the face of Him, the Glorious and the Effulgent nor could any mortal behold Him. A fire was flaming around Him. ²⁴A fire also of great extent continued to rise up before Him so that not one of those who surrounded Him was capable of approaching Him, among the myriads of myriads who were before Him. To Him holy consultation was needless. Yet did not the sanctified, who were near Him, depart far from Him either by night or by day nor were they removed from Him. I also was so far advanced, with a veil on my face, and trembling. Then the Lord with his own mouth called me, saying, Approach hither, Enoch, at my holy word. ²⁵And He raised me up, making me draw near even to the entrance. My eye was directed to the ground.

CHAPTER 15 ¹Then addressing me, He spoke and said, Hear, neither be afraid, O righteous Enoch, you scribe of righteousness: approach hither, and hear my voice. Go, say to the Watchers of heaven, who have sent you to pray for them, You ought to pray for men, and not men for you. ²Wherefore have you forsaken the lofty and holy heaven, which endures for ever, and have lain with women have defiled yourselves with the daughters of men have taken to yourselves wives have acted like the sons of the earth, and have begotten an impious offspring? ³You being spiritual, holy, and possessing a life which is eternal, have polluted yourselves with women have begotten in carnal blood have lusted in the blood of men and have done as those who are flesh and blood do. ⁴ These however die and perish. ⁵Therefore have I given to them wives, that they might cohabit with them that sons might be born of them and that this might be transacted upon earth. ⁶But you from the beginning were made spiritual, possessing a life which is eternal, and not subject to death for ever. ⁷Therefore I made not wives for you, because, being spiritual, your dwelling is in heaven. ⁸Now the giants, who have been born of spirit and of flesh, shall be called upon earth evil spirits, and on earth shall be their habitation. Evil spirits shall proceed from their flesh, because they were created from above from the holy Watchers was their beginning and primary foundation. Evil spirits shall they be upon earth, and the spirits of the wicked shall they be called. The habitation of the spirits of heaven shall be in heaven but upon earth shall be the habitation of terrestrial spirits, who are born on earth. ⁹The spirits of the giants shall be like clouds, which shall oppress, corrupt, fall, content, and bruise upon earth. ¹⁰They shall cause lamentation. No food shall they eat and they shall be thirsty they shall be concealed, and shall not rise up against the sons of men, and against women for they come forth during the days of slaughter and destruction.

CHAPTER 16 ¹And as to the death of the giants, wheresoever their spirits depart from their bodies, let their flesh, that which is perishable, be without judgment.^b Thus shall they perish, until the day of the great consummation of the great world. A destruction shall take place of the Watchers and the impious.²And now to the Watchers, who have sent you to pray for them, who in the beginning were in heaven,³Say, In heaven have you been secret things, however, have not been manifested to you yet have you known a reprobated mystery.⁴And this you have related to women in the hardness of your heart, and by that mystery have women and mankind multiplied evils upon the earth.⁵ Say to them, Never therefore shall you obtain peace.

CHAPTER 17 ¹They raised me up into a certain place, where there was c the appearance of a burning fire and when they pleased they assumed the likeness of men. ²They carried me to a lofty spot, to a mountain, the top of which reach to heaven. ³And I beheld the receptacles of light and of thunder at the extremities of the place, where it was deepest. There was a bow of fire, and arrows in their quiver, a sword of fire, and every species of lightning. ⁴Then they elevated me to a babbling stream,^d and to a fire in the west, which received all the setting of the sun. I came to a river of fire, which flowed like water, and emptied itself into the great sea westwards. ⁵I saw every large river, until I arrived at the great darkness. I went to where all of flesh migrate and I beheld the mountains of the gloom which constitutes winter, and the place from which issues the water in every abyss. ⁶I saw also the mouths of all the rivers in the world, and the mouths of the deep.

CHAPTER 18 ¹I then surveyed the receptacles of all the winds, perceiving that they contributed to adorn the whole creation, and to preserve the foundation of the earth. ²I surveyed the stone which supports the corners of the earth. ³I also beheld the four winds, which bear up the earth, and the firmament of heaven. ⁴And I beheld the winds occupying the exalted sky. ⁵Arising in the midst of heaven and of earth, and constituting the pillars of heaven. ⁶I saw the winds which turn the sky, which cause the orb of the sun and of all the stars to set and over the earth I saw the winds which support the clouds. ⁷I saw the path of the angels. ⁸I perceived at the extremity of the earth the firmament of heaven above it. Then I passed on towards the south ⁹Where burnt, both by day and night, six mountains formed of glorious stones three towards the east, and three towards the south. ¹⁰Those which were towards the east were of a variegated stone one of which was of margarite, and another of antimony. Those towards the south were of a red stone. The middle one reached to heaven like the throne of God a throne composed of alabaster, the top of which was of sapphire. I saw, too, a blazing fire hanging over all the mountains. ¹¹And there I saw a place on the other side of an extended territory, where waters were collected. ¹²I likewise beheld terrestrial fountains, deep in the fiery columns of heaven. ¹³And in the columns of heaven I beheld fires, which descended without number, but neither on high, nor into the deep. Over these fountains also I perceived a place which had neither the firmament of heaven above it, nor the solid ground underneath it neither was there water above it nor anything on wing but the spot was desolate. ¹⁴And there I beheld seven stars, like great blazing mountains, and like spirits entreating me. ¹⁵Then the angel said, This place, until the consummation of heaven and earth, will be the prison of the stars, and the host of heaven. ¹⁶The stars which roll over fire are those which transgressed the commandment of God before their time arrived for they came not in their proper season. Therefore was He offended with them, and bound them, until the period of the consummation of their crimes in the secret year.

CHAPTER 19 ¹Then Uriel said, Here the angels, who cohabited with women, appointed their leaders ²And being numerous in appearance made men profane, and caused them to err so that they sacrificed to devils as to gods. For in the great day there shall be a judgment, with which they shall be judged, until they are consumed and their wives also shall be judged, who led astray the angels of heaven that they might salute them. ³And I, Enoch, I alone saw the likeness of the end of all things. Nor did any human being see it, as I saw it.

CHAPTER 20 ¹These are the names of the angels who watch. ²Uriel, one of the holy angels, who presides over clamor and terror. ³Raphael, one of the holy angels, who presides over the spirits of men. ⁴Raguel, one of the holy angels, who inflicts punishment on the world and the luminaries. ⁵Michael, one of the holy angels, who, presiding over human virtue, commands the nations. ⁶Sarakiel, one of the holy angels, who presides over the spirits of the children of men that transgress. ⁷Gabriel, one of the holy angels, who presides over Iksat,b over paradise, and over the cherubim.

CHAPTER 21 ¹Then I made a circuit to a place in which nothing was completed. ² And there I beheld neither the tremendous workmanship of an exalted heaven, nor of an established earth, but a desolate spot, prepared, and terrific. ³There, too, I beheld seven stars of heaven bound in it together, like great mountains, and like a blazing fire. I exclaimed, For what species of crime have they been bound, and why have they been removed to this place? Then Uriel, one of the holy angels who was with me, and who conducted me, answered: Enoch, wherefore do you ask wherefore do you reason with yourself, and anxiously inquire? These are those of the stars which have transgressed the commandment of the most high God and are here bound, until the infinite number of the days of their crimes be completed. ⁴ From there I afterwards passed on to another terrific place ⁵Where I beheld the operation of a great fire blazing and glittering, in the midst of which there was a division. Columns of fire struggled together to the end of the abyss, and deep was their descent. But neither its measurement nor magnitude was I able to discover neither could I perceive its origin. Then I exclaimed, How terrible is this place, and how difficult to explore! ⁶Uriel, one of the holy angels who was with me, answered and said: Enoch, why are you alarmed and amazed at this terrific place, at the sight of this place of suffering? This, he said, is the prison of the angels and here they are kept for ever.

CHAPTER 22 ¹From there I proceeded to another spot, where I saw on the west a great and lofty mountain, a strong rock, and four delightful places. ²Internally it was deep, capacious, and very smooth as smooth as if it had been rolled over: it was both deep and dark to behold. ³Then Raphael, one of the holy angels who were with me, answered and said, These are the delightful places where the spirits, the souls of the dead, will be collected for them were they formed and here will be collected all the souls of the sons of men. ⁴ These places, in which they dwell, shall they occupy until the day of judgment, and until their appointed period. ⁵ Their appointed period will be long, even until the great judgment. And I saw the spirits of the sons of men who were dead and their voices reached to heaven, while they were accusing. ⁶ Then I inquired of Raphael, an angel who was with me, and said, Whose spirit is that, the voice of which reaches to heaven, and accuses? ⁷ He answered, saying, This is the spirit of Abel who was slain by Cain his brother and who will accuse that brother, until his seed be destroyed from the face of the earth ⁸ Until his seed perish from the seed of the human race. ⁹ At that time therefore I inquired respecting him, and respecting the general judgment, saying, Why is one separated from another? He answered, Three separations have been made between the spirits of the dead, and thus have the spirits of the righteous been separated. ¹⁰ Namely, by a chasm, by water, and by light above it. ¹¹ And in the same way likewise are sinners separated when they die, and are buried in the earth judgment not overtaking them in their lifetime. ¹² Here their souls are separated. Moreover, abundant is their suffering until the time of the great judgment, the castigation, and the torment of those who eternally execrate, whose souls are punished and bound there for ever. ¹³ And thus has it been from the beginning of the world. Thus has there existed a separation between the souls of those who utter complaints, and of those who watch for their destruction, to slaughter them in the day of sinners. ¹⁴ A receptacle of this sort has been formed for the souls of unrighteous men, and of sinners of those who have completed crime, and associated with the impious, whom they resemble. Their souls shall not be annihilated in the day of judgment, neither shall they arise from this place. Then I blessed God, ¹⁵ And said, Blessed by my Lord, the Lord of glory and of righteousness, who reigns over all for ever and for ever.

CHAPTER 23 ¹ From there I went to another place, towards the west, unto the extremities of the earth. ² Where I beheld a fire blazing and running along without cessation, which intermitted its course neither by day nor by night but continued always the same. ³I inquired, saying, What is this, which never ceases? ⁴Then Raguel, one of the holy angels who were with me, answered, ⁵And said, This blazing fire, which you behold running towards the west, is that of all the luminaries of heaven.

CHAPTER 24 ¹I went from there to another place, and saw a mountain of fire flashing both by day and night. I proceeded towards it and perceived seven splendid mountains, which were all different from each other. ²Their stones were brilliant and beautiful all were brilliant and splendid to behold and beautiful was their surface. Three mountains were towards the east, and strengthened by being placed one upon another and three were towards the south, strengthened in a similar manner. There were likewise deep valleys, which did not approach each other. And the seventh mountain was in the midst of them. In length they all resembled the seat of a throne, and odoriferous trees surrounded them. ³Among these there was a tree of an unceasing smell nor of those which were in Eden was there one of all the fragrant trees which smelt like this. Its leaf, its flower, and its bark never withered, and its fruit was beautiful. ⁴Its fruit resembled the cluster of the palm. I exclaimed, Behold! This tree is goodly in aspect, pleasing in its leaf, and the sight of its fruit is delightful to the eye. Then Michael, one of the holy and glorious angels who were with me, and one who presided over them, answered, ⁵And said: Enoch, why do you inquire respecting the odour of this tree? ⁶Why are you inquisitive to know it? ⁷Then I, Enoch, replied to him, and said, Concerning everything I am desirous of instruction, but particularly concerning this tree. ⁸He answered me, saying, That mountain which you behold, the extent of whose head resembles the seat of the Lord, will be the seat on which shall sit the holy and great Lord of glory, the everlasting King, when he shall come and descend to visit the earth with goodness. ⁹And that tree of an agreeable smell, not one of carnal odor, there shall be no power to touch, until the period of the great judgment. When all shall be punished and consumed for ever, this shall be bestowed on the righteous and humble. The fruit of the tree shall be given to the elect. For towards the north life shall be planted in the holy place, towards the habitation of the everlasting King. ¹⁰Then shall they greatly rejoice and exult in the Holy One. The sweet odor shall enter into their bones and they shall live a long life on the earth as your forefathers have lived neither in their days shall sorrow, distress, trouble, and punishment afflict them. ¹¹And I blessed the Lord of glory, the everlasting King, because He has prepared this tree for the saints, formed it, and declared that He would give it to them.

CHAPTER 25 ¹From there I proceeded to the middle of the earth, and beheld a happy and fertile spot, which contained branches continually sprouting from the trees which were planted in it. There I saw a holy mountain, and underneath it water on the eastern side, which flowed towards the south. I saw also on the east another mountain as high as that and between them there were deep, but not wide valleys. ²Water ran towards the mountain to the west of this and underneath there was likewise another mountain. ³There was a valley, but not a wide one, below it and in the midst of them were other deep and dry valleys towards the extremity of the three. All these valleys, which were deep, but not side, consisted of a strong rock, with a tree which was planted in them. And I wondered at the rock and at the valleys, being extremely surprised.

CHAPTER 26 ¹Then I said, What means this blessed land, all these lofty trees, and the accursed valley between them? ²Then Uriel, one of the holy angels who were with me, replied, This valley is the accursed of the accursed for ever. Here shall be collected all who utter with their mouths unbecoming language against God, and speak harsh things of His glory. Here shall they be collected. Here shall be their territory. ³In the latter days an example of judgment shall be made of them in righteousness before the saints while those who have received mercy shall for ever, all their days, bless God, the everlasting King. ⁴And at the period of judgment shall they bless Him for his mercy, as He has distributed it to them. Then I blessed God, addressing myself to Him, and making mention, as was meet, of His greatness.

CHAPTER 27 ¹From there I proceeded towards the east to the middle of the mountain in the desert, the level surface only of which I perceived. ²It was full of trees of the seed alluded to and water leaped down upon it. ³There appeared a cataract composed as of many cataracts both towards the west and towards the east. Upon one side were trees upon the other water and dew.

CHAPTER 28 ¹Then I went to another place from the desert towards the east of that mountain which I had approached. ²There I beheld choice trees,^a particularly, those which produce the sweet-smelling opiate, frankincense and myrrh and trees unlike to each other. ³And over it, above them, was the elevation of the eastern mountain at no great distance.

CHAPTER 29 ¹I likewise saw another place with valleys of water which never wasted, ²Where I perceived a goodly tree, which in smell resembled Zasakinon.^a ³And towards the sides of these valleys I perceived cinnamon of a sweet odour. Over them I advanced towards the east.

CHAPTER 30 ¹Then I beheld another mountain containing trees, from which water flowed like Neketro,^b Its name was Sarira, and Kalboneba.^c And upon this mountain I beheld another mountain, upon which were trees of Alva.^d ²These trees were full, like almond trees, and strong and when they produced fruit, it was superior to all redolence.

CHAPTER 31 ¹After these things, surveying the entrances of the north, above the mountains, I perceived seven mountains replete with pure nard, odoriferous trees, cinnamon and papyrus. ²From there I passed on above the summits of those mountains to some distance eastwards, and went over the Erythraean sea.^e And when I was advanced far beyond it, I passed along above the angel Zateel, and arrived at the garden of righteousness. In this garden I beheld, among other trees, some which were numerous and large, and which flourished there. ³Their fragrance was agreeable and powerful, and their appearance both varied and elegant. The tree of knowledge also was there, of which if any one eats, he becomes endowed with great wisdom. ⁴It was like a species of the tamarind tree, bearing fruit which resembled grapes extremely fine and its fragrance extended to a considerable distance. I exclaimed, How beautiful is this tree, and how delightful is its appearance! ⁵Then holy Raphael, an angel who was with me, answered and said, This is the tree of knowledge, of which your ancient father and your aged mother ate, who were before you and who, obtaining knowledge, their eyes being opened, and knowing themselves to be naked, were expelled from the garden.

CHAPTER 32 ¹From there I went on towards the extremities of the earth where I saw large beasts different from each other, and birds various in their countenances and forms, as well as with notes of different sounds. ²To the east of these beasts I perceived the extremities of the earth, where heaven ceased. The gates of heaven stood open, and I beheld the celestial stars come forth. I numbered them as they proceeded out of the gate, and wrote them all down, as they came out one by one according to their number. I wrote down their names altogether, their times and their seasons, as the angel Uriel, who was with me, pointed them out to me. ³He showed them all to me, and wrote down an account of them. ⁴He also wrote down for me their names, their regulations, and their operations.

CHAPTER 33 ¹From there I advanced on towards the north, to the extremities of the earth. ²And there I saw a great and glorious wonder at the extremities of the whole earth. ³I saw there heavenly gates opening into heaven three of them distinctly separated. The northern winds proceeded from them, blowing cold, hail, frost, snow, dew, and rain. ⁴From one of the gates they blew mildly but when they blew from the two other gates, it was with violence and force. They blew over the earth strongly.

CHAPTER 34 ¹From there I went to the extremities of the world westwards ²Where I perceived three gates open, as I had seen in the north the gates and passages through them being of equal magnitude.

CHAPTER 35 ¹Then I proceeded to the extremities of the earth southwards where I saw three gates open to the south, from which issued dew, rain, and wind. ²From there I went to the extremities of heaven eastwards where I saw three heavenly gates open to the east, which had smaller gates within them. Through each of these small gates the stars of heaven passed on, and proceeded towards the west by a path which was seen by them, and that at every period of their appearance. ³When I beheld them, I blessed every time in which they appeared, I blessed the Lord of glory, who had made those great and splendid signs, that they might display the magnificence of his works to angels and to the souls of men and that these might glorify all his works and operations might see the effect of his power might glorify the great labour of his hands and bless him for ever.

CHAPTER 36 ¹, And from thence I went to the south to the ends of the earth, and saw there three open portals of the heaven: and thence there come dew, rain, and wind. ². And from thence I went to the east to the ends of the heaven, and saw here the three eastern portals of heaven open and small portals above them. ³. Through each of these small portals pass the stars of heaven and run their course to the west on the path which is shown to them. ⁴. And as often as I saw I blessed always the Lord of Glory, and I continued to bless the Lord of Glory who has wrought great and glorious wonders, to show the greatness of His work to the angels and to spirits and to men, that they might praise His work and all His creation : that they might see the work of His might and praise the great work of His hands and bless Him for ever.

CHAPTER 37 ¹The vision which he saw, the second vision of wisdom, which Enoch saw, the son of Jared, the son of Malaleel, the son of Canan, the son of Enos, the son of Seth, the son of Adam. This is the commencement of the word of wisdom, which I received to declare and tell to those who dwell upon earth. Hear from the beginning, and understand to the end, the holy things which I utter in the presence of the Lord of spirits. Those who were before us thought it good to speak ²And let not us, who come after, obstruct the beginning of wisdom. Until the present period never has there been given before the Lord of spirits that which I have received, wisdom according to the capacity of my intellect, and according to the pleasure of the Lord of spirits that which I have received from him, a portion of life eternal. ³And I obtained three parables, which I declared to the inhabitants of the world.

CHAPTER 38 ¹Parable the first. When the congregation of the righteous shall be manifested and sinners be judged for their crimes, and be troubled in the sight of the world ² When righteousness shall be manifested in the presence of the righteous themselves, who will be elected for their good works duly weighed by the Lord of spirits and when the light of the righteous and the elect, who dwell on earth, shall be manifested where will the habitation of sinners be? And where the place of rest for those who have rejected the Lord of spirits? It would have been better for them, had they never been born. ³ When, too, the secrets of the righteous shall be revealed, then shall sinners be judged and impious men shall be afflicted in the presence of the righteous and the elect. ⁴From that period those who possess the earth shall cease to be powerful and exalted. Neither shall they be capable of beholding the countenances of the holy for the light of the countenances of the holy, the righteous, and the elect, has been seen by the Lord of spirits.^b⁵Yet shall not the mighty kings of that period be destroyed but be delivered into the hands of the righteous and the holy. ⁶Nor thenceforwards shall any obtain commiseration from the Lord of spirits, because their lives in this world will have been completed.

CHAPTER 39 ¹In those days shall the elect and holy race descend from the upper heavens, and their seed shall then be with the sons of men. Enoch received books of indignation and wrath, and books of hurry and agitation. ²Never shall they obtain mercy, saith the Lord of spirits. ³ A cloud then snatched me up, and the wind raised me above the surface of the earth, placing me at the extremity of the heavens. ⁴There I saw another vision I saw the habitations and resting places of the saints. There my eyes beheld their habitations with the angels, and their resting places with the holy ones. They were entreating, supplicating, and praying for the sons of men while righteousness like water flowed before them, and mercy like dew was scattered over the earth. And thus shall it be with them for ever and for ever. ⁵At that time my eyes beheld the dwelling of the elect, of truth, faith, and righteousness. ⁶Countless shall be the number of the holy and the elect, in the presence of God for ever and for ever. ⁷Their residence I beheld under the wings of the Lord of spirits. All the holy and the elect sung before him, in appearance like a blaze of fire their mouths being full of blessings, and their lips glorifying the name of the Lord of spirits. And righteousness incessantly dwelt before him. ⁸There was I desirous of remaining, and my soul longed for that habitation. There was my antecedent inheritance for thus had I prevailed before the Lord of spirits. ⁹At that time I glorified and extolled the name of the Lord of spirits with blessing and with praise for he has established it with blessing and with praise, according to his own good pleasure. ¹⁰That place long did my eyes contemplate. I blessed and said, Blessed be he, blessed from the beginning for ever. In the beginning, before the world was created, and without end is his knowledge. ¹¹What is this world? Of every existing generation those shall bless you who do not spiritually sleep but stand before your glory, blessing, glorifying, exalting you, and saying, The holy, holy, Lord of spirits, fills the whole world of spirits. ¹²There my eyes beheld all who, without sleeping, stand before him and bless him, saying, Blessed be you, and blessed be the name of God for ever and for ever. Then my countenance became changed, until I was incapable of seeing.

CHAPTER 40 ¹After this I beheld thousands of thousands, and myriads of myriads, and an infinite number of people, standing before the Lord of spirits. ²On the four wings likewise of the Lord of spirits, on the four sides, I perceived others, besides those who were standing before him. Their names, too, I know because the angel, who proceeded with me, declared them to me, discovering to me every secret thing. ³Then I heard the voices of those upon the four sides magnifying the Lord of glory. ⁴The first voice blessed the Lord of spirits for ever and for ever. ⁵The second voice I heard blessing the Elect One, and the elect who suffer on account of the Lord of spirits. ⁶The third voice I heard petitioning and praying for those who dwell upon earth, and supplicate the name of the Lord of spirits. ⁷The fourth voice I heard expelling the impious angels,^a and prohibiting them from entering into the presence of the Lord of spirits, to prefer accusations against^b the inhabitants of the earth. ⁸After this I besought the angel of peace, who proceeded with me, to explain all that was concealed. I said to him, Who are those whom I have seen on the four sides, and who words I have heard and written down? He replied, The first is the merciful, the patient, the holy Michael. ⁹The second is he who presides over every suffering and every affliction of the sons of men, the holy Raphael. The third, who presides over all that is powerful, is Gabriel. And the fourth, who presides over repentance, and the hope of those who will inherit eternal life, is Phanuel. These are the four angels of the most high God, and their four voices, which at that time I heard.

CHAPTER 41 ¹After this I beheld the secrets of the heavens and of paradise, according to its divisions and of human action, as they weight it there in balances. I saw the habitations of the elect, and the habitations of the holy. And there my eyes beheld all the sinners, who denied the Lord of glory, and whom they were expelling from there, and dragging away, as they stood there no punishment proceeding against them from the Lord of spirits. ²There, too, my eyes beheld the secrets of the lightning and the thunder and the secrets of the winds, how they are distributed as they blow over the earth: the secrets of the winds, of the dew, and of the clouds. There I perceived the place from which they issued forth, and became saturated with the dust of the earth. ³There I saw the wooden receptacles out of which the winds became separated, the receptacle of hail, the receptacle of snow, the receptacle of the clouds, and the cloud itself, which continued over the earth before the creation of the world. ⁴I beheld also the receptacles of the moon, whence they came, whither they proceeded, their glorious return, and how one became more splendid than another. I marked their rich progress, their unchangeable progress, their disunited and undiminished progress their observance of a mutual fidelity by a stable oath their proceeding forth before the sun, and their adherence to the path allotted them, ^a in obedience to the command of the Lord of spirits. Potent is his name for ever and for ever. ⁵After this I perceived, that the path both concealed and manifest of the moon, as well as the progress of its path, was there completed by day and by night while each, one with another, looked towards the Lord of spirits, magnifying and praising without cessation, since praise to them is rest for in the splendid sun there is a frequent conversion to blessing and to malediction. ⁶The course of the moon's path to the righteous is light, but to sinners it is darkness in the name of the Lord of spirits, who created a division between light and darkness, and, separating the spirits of men, strengthened the spirits of the righteous in the name of his own righteousness. ⁷Nor does the angel prevent this, neither is he endowed with the power of preventing it for the Judge beholds them all, and judges them all in his own presence.

CHAPTER 42 ¹Wisdom found not a place on earth where she could inhabit her dwelling therefore is in heaven. ²Wisdom went forth to dwell among the sons of men, but she obtained not a habitation. Wisdom returned to her place, and seated herself in the midst of the angels. But iniquity went forth after her return, who unwillingly found a habitation, and resided among them, as rain in the desert, and as a dew in a thirsty land.

CHAPTER 43 ¹I beheld another splendour, and the stars of heaven. I observed that he called them all by their respective names, and that they heard. In a righteous balance I saw that he weighed out with their light the amplitude of their places, and the day of their appearance, and their conversion. Splendour produced splendour and their conversion was into the number of the angels, and of the faithful. ²Then I inquired of the angel, who proceeded with me, and explained to me secret things, What their names were. He answered. A similitude of those has the Lord of spirits shown you. They are names of the righteous who dwell upon earth, and who believe in the name of the Lord of spirits for ever and for ever.

CHAPTER 44 ¹Another thing also I saw respecting splendour that it rises out of the stars, and becomes splendour being incapable of forsaking them.

CHAPTER 45 ¹Parable the second, respecting these who deny the name of the habitation of the holy ones, and of the Lord of spirits. ²Heaven they shall not ascend, nor shall they come on the earth. This shall be the portion of sinners, who deny the name of the Lord of spirits, and who are thus reserved for the day of punishment and of affliction. ³In that day shall the Elect One sit upon a throne of glory and shall choose their conditions and countless habitations, while their spirits within them shall be strengthened, when they behold my Elect One, for those who have fled for protection to my holy and glorious name. ⁴In that day I will cause my Elect One to dwell in the midst of them will change the face of heaven will bless it, and illuminate it for ever. ⁵I will also change the face of the earth, will bless it and cause those whom I have elected to dwell upon it. But those who have committed sin and iniquity shall not inhabit it, for I have marked their proceedings. My righteous ones will I satisfy with peace, placing them before me but the condemnation of sinners shall draw near, that I may destroy them from the face of the earth.

CHAPTER 46 ¹There I beheld the Ancient of days, whose head was like white wool, and with him another, whose countenance resembled that of man. His countenance was full of grace, like that of one of the holy angels. Then I inquired of one of the angels, who went with me, and who showed me every secret thing, concerning this Son of man who he was whence he was and why he accompanied the Ancient of days. ² He answered and said to me, This is the Son of man, to whom righteousness belongs with whom righteousness has dwelt and who will reveal all the treasures of that which is concealed: for the Lord of spirits has chosen him and his portion has surpassed all before the Lord of spirits in everlasting uprightness. ³This Son of man, whom you behold, shall raise up kings and the mighty from their dwelling places, and the powerful from their thrones shall loosen the bridles of the powerful, and break in pieces the teeth of sinners. ⁴He shall hurl kings from their thrones and their dominions because they will not exalt and praise him, nor humble themselves before him, by whom their kingdoms were granted to them. The countenance likewise of the mighty shall He cast down, filling them with confusion. Darkness shall be their habitation, and worms shall be their bed nor from that their bed shall they hope to be again raised, because they exalted not the name of the Lord of spirits. ⁵They shall condemn the stars of heaven, shall lift up their hands against the Most High, shall tread upon and inhabit the earth, exhibiting all their acts of iniquity, even their works of iniquity. Their strength shall be in their riches, and their faith in the gods whom they have formed with their own hands. They shall deny the name of the Lord of spirits, and shall expel him from the temples, in which they assemble ⁶And with him the faithful, a who suffer in the name of the Lord of spirits.

CHAPTER 47 ¹In that day the prayer of the holy and the righteous, and the blood of the righteous, shall ascend from the earth into the presence of the Lord of spirits. ²In that day shall the holy ones assemble, who dwell above the heavens, and with united voice petition, supplicate, praise, laud, and bless the name of the Lord of spirits, on account of the blood of the righteous which has been shed that the prayer of the righteous may not be intermitted before the Lord of spirits that for them he would execute judgment and that his patience may not endure for ever. ³At that time I beheld the Ancient of days, while he sat upon the throne of his glory, while the book of the living was opened in his presence, and while all the powers which were above the heavens stood around and before him. ⁴ Then were the hearts of the saints full of joy, because the consummation of righteousness was arrived, the supplication of the saints heard, and the blood of the righteous appreciated by the Lord of spirits.

CHAPTER 48 ¹In that place I beheld a fountain of righteousness, which never failed, encircled by many springs of wisdom. Of these all the thirsty drank, and were filled with wisdom, having their habitation with the righteous, the elect, and the holy. ²In that hour was this Son of man invoked before the Lord of spirits, and his name in the presence of the Ancient of days. ³Before the sun and the signs were created, before the stars of heaven were formed, his name was invoked in the presence of the Lord of spirits. A support shall he be for the righteous and the holy to lean upon, without falling and he shall be the light of nations. ⁴He shall be the hope of those whose hearts are troubled. All, who dwell on earth, shall fall down and worship before him shall bless and glorify him, and sing praises to the name of the Lord of spirits. ⁵Therefore the Elect and the Concealed One existed in his presence, before the world was created, and for ever. ⁶In his presence he existed, and has revealed to the saints and to the righteous the wisdom of the Lord of spirits for he has preserved the lot of the righteous, because they have hated and rejected this world of iniquity, and have detested all its works and ways, in the name of the Lord of spirits. ⁷For in his name shall they be preserved and his will shall be their life. In those days shall the kings of the earth and the mighty men, who have gained the world by their achievements, become humble in countenance. ⁸For in the day of their anxiety and trouble their souls shall not be saved and they shall be in subjection to those whom I have chosen. ⁹I will cast them like hay into the fire, and like lead into the water. Thus shall they burn in the presence of the righteous, and sink in the presence of the holy nor shall a tenth part of them be found. ¹⁰But in the day of their trouble, the world shall obtain tranquillity. ¹¹In his presence shall they fall, and not be raised up again nor shall there be any one to take them out of his hands, and to lift them up: for they have denied the Lord of spirits, and his Messiah. The name of the Lord of spirits shall be blessed.

CHAPTER 48 A ¹Wisdom is poured forth like water, and glory fails not before him for ever and ever for potent is he in all the secrets of righteousness. ²But iniquity passes away like a shadow, and possesses not a fixed station: for the Elect One stands before the Lord of spirits and his glory is for ever and ever and his power from generation to generation. ³With him dwells the spirit of intellectual wisdom, the spirit of instruction and of power, and the spirit of those who sleep in righteousness he shall judge secret things. ⁴Nor shall any be able to utter a single word before him for the Elect One is in the presence of the Lord of Spirits, according to his own pleasure.

CHAPTER 49 ¹In those days the saints and the chosen shall undergo a change. The light of day shall rest upon them and the splendour and glory of the saints shall be changed. ²In the day of trouble evil shall be heaped up upon sinners but the righteous shall triumph in the name of the Lord of spirits. ³Others shall be made to see, that they must repent, and forsake the works of their hands and that glory awaits them not in the presence of the Lord of spirits yet that by his name they may be saved. The Lord of spirits will have compassion on them for great is his mercy and righteousness is in his judgment, and in the presence of his glory nor in his judgment shall iniquity stand. He who repents not before him shall perish. ⁴Henceforward I will not have mercy on them, saith the Lord of spirits.

CHAPTER 50 ¹In those days shall the earth deliver up from her womb, and hell deliver up from hers, that which it has received and destruction shall restore that which it owes. ²He shall select the righteous and holy from among them for the day of their salvation has approached. ³And in those days shall the Elect One sit upon his throne, while every secret of intellectual wisdom shall proceed from his mouth, for the Lord of spirits has gifted and glorified him. ⁴In those days the mountains shall skip like rams, and the hills shall leap like young sheepsa satiated with milk and all the righteous shall become like angels in heaven. ⁵Their countenance shall be bright with joy for in those days shall the Elect One be exalted. The earth shall rejoice the righteous shall inhabit it, and the elect possess it.

CHAPTER 51 ¹After that period, in the place where I had seen every secret sight, I was snatched up in a whirlwind, and carried off westwards. ²There my eyes beheld the secrets of heaven, and all which existed on earth a mountain of iron, a mountain of copper, a mountain of silver, a mountain of gold, a mountain of fluid metal, and a mountain of lead. ³And I inquired of the angel who went with me, saying, What are these things, which in secret I behold? ⁴He said, All these things which you behold shall be for the dominion of the Messiah, that he may command, and be powerful upon earth. ⁵And that angel of peace answered me, saying, Wait but a short time, and you shalt understand, and every secret thing shall be revealed to you, which the Lord of spirits has decreed. Those mountains which you have seen, the mountain of iron, the mountain of copper, the mountain of silver, the mountain of gold, the mountain of fluid metal, and the mountain of lead, all these in the presence of the Elect One shall be like a honeycomb before the fire, and like water descending from above upon these mountains and shall become debilitated before his feet. ⁶In those days men shall not be saved by gold and by silver. ⁷Nor shall they have it in their power to secure themselves, and to fly ⁸There shall be neither iron for war, nor a coat of mail for the breast. ⁹Copper shall be useless useless also that which neither rusts nor consumes away and lead shall not be coveted. ¹⁰All these things shall be rejected, and perish from off the earth, when the Elect One shall appear in the presence of the Lord of spirits.

CHAPTER 52 ¹There my eyes beheld a deep valley and wide was its entrance. ² All who dwell on land, on the sea, and in islands, shall bring to it gifts, presents, and offerings yet that deep valley shall not be full. Their hands shall commit iniquity. Whatsoever they produce by labour, the sinners shall devour with crime. But they shall perish from the face of the Lord of spirits, and from the face of his earth. They shall stand up, and shall not fail for ever and ever. ³I beheld the angels of punishment, who were dwelling there, and preparing every instrument of Satan. ⁴Then I inquired of the angel of peace, who proceeded with me, for whom those instruments were preparing. ⁵He said, These they are preparing for the kings and powerful ones of the earth, that thus they may perish. ⁶After which the righteous and chosen house of his congregation shall appear, and thenceforward unchangeable in the name of the Lord of spirits. ⁷Nor shall those mountains exist in his presence as the earth and the hills, as the fountains of water exist. And the righteous shall be relieved from the vexation of sinners.

CHAPTER 53 ¹Then I looked and turned myself to another part of the earth, where I beheld a deep valley burning with fire. ²To this valley they brought monarchs and the mighty. ³And there my eyes beheld the instruments which they were making, fetters of iron without weight.^a ⁴Then I inquired of the angel of peace, who proceeded with me, saying, For whom are these fetters and instruments prepared? ⁵He replied, These are prepared for the host of Azazeel, that they may be delivered over and adjudged to the lowest condemnation and that their angels may be overwhelmed with hurled stones, as the Lord of spirits has commanded. ⁶Michael and Gabriel, Raphael and Phanuel shall be strengthened in that day, and shall then cast them into a furnace of blazing fire, that the Lord of spirits may be avenged of them for their crimes because they became ministers of Satan, and seduced those who dwell upon earth. ⁷In those days shall punishment go forth from the Lord of spirits and the receptacles of water which are above the heavens shall be opened, and the fountains likewise, which are under the heavens and under the earth. ⁸All the waters, which are in the heavens and above them, shall be mixed together. ⁹The water which is above heaven shall be the agenta ¹⁰And the water which is under the earth shall be the recipient:b and all shall be destroyed who dwell upon earth, and who dwell under the extremities of heaven. ¹¹By these means shall they understand the iniquity which they have committed on earth: and by these means shall they perish.

CHAPTER 54 ¹Afterwards the Ancient of days repented, and said, In vain have I destroyed all the inhabitants of the earth. ²And he swore by his great name, saying, Henceforward I will not act thus towards all those who dwell upon earth. ³But I will place a sign in the heavensc and it shall be a faithful witness between me and them for ever, as long as the days of heaven and earth last upon the earth. ⁴Afterwards, according to this my decree, when I shall be disposed to seize them beforehand, by the instrumentality of angels, in the day of affliction and trouble, my wrath and my punishment shall remain upon them, my punishment and my wrath, saith God the Lord of spirits. ⁵O you kings, O you mighty, who inhabit the world you shall behold my Elect One, sitting upon the throne of my glory. And he shall judge Azazeel, all his associates, and all his hosts, in the name of the Lord of spirits. ⁶There likewise I beheld hosts of angels who were moving in punishment, confined in a net-work of iron and brass. Then I inquired of the angel of peace, who proceeded with me, To whom those under confinement were going. ⁷He said, To each of their elect and their beloved,d that they may be cast into the fountains and deep recesses of the valley ⁸And that valley shall be filled with their elect and beloved the days of whose life shall be consumed, but the days of their error shall be innumerable. ⁹Then shall princes a combine together, and conspire. The chiefs of the east, among the Parthians and Medes, shall remove kings, in whom a spirit of perturbation shall enter. They shall hurl them from their thrones, springing as lions from their dens, and like famished wolves into the midst of the flock. ¹⁰They shall go up, and tread upon the land of their elect. The land of their elect shall be before them. The threshing-floor, the path, and the city of my righteous people shall impede the progress of their horses. They shall rise up to destroy each other their right hand shall be strengthened nor shall a man acknowledge his friend or his brother ¹¹Nor the son his father and his mother until the number of the dead bodies shall be completed, by their death and punishment. Neither shall this take place without cause. ¹²In those days shall the mouth of hell be opened, into which they shall be immersed hell shall destroy and swallow up sinners from the face of the elect.

CHAPTER 55 ¹After this I beheld another army of chariots with men riding in them. ²And they came upon the wind from the east, from the west, and from the south.^b ³The sound of the noise of their chariots was heard. ⁴And when that agitation took place the saints out of heaven perceived it the pillar of the earth shook from its foundation and the sound was heard from the extremities of the earth unto the extremities of heaven at the same time. ⁵Then they all fell down, and worshipped the Lord of spirits. ⁶This is the end of the second parable.

CHAPTER 56 ¹I now began to utter the third parable, concerning the saints and the elect. ²Blessed are you, O saints and elect, for glorious is your lot. ³The saints shall exist in the light of the sun, and the elect in the light of everlasting life, the days of whose life shall never terminate nor shall the days of the saints be numbered, who seek for light, and obtain righteousness with the Lord of spirits. ⁴Peace be to the saints with the Lord of the world. ⁵Henceforward shall the saints be told to seek in heaven the secrets of righteousness, the portion of faith for like the sun has it arisen upon the earth, while darkness has passed away. There shall be light interminable nor shall they enter upon the enumeration of time for darkness shall be previously destroyed, and light shall increase before the Lord of spirits before the Lord of spirits shall the light of uprightness increase for ever.

and for a curse, according to the will of the Lord of spirits. ³And there I saw the secrets of the thunder, when it rattles above in heaven, and its sound is heard. ⁴The habitations also of the earth were shown to me. The sound of the thunder is for peace and for blessing, as well as for a curse, according to the word of the Lord of spirits. ⁵Afterwards every secret of the splendours and of the lightnings was seen by me. For blessing and for fertility they lighten.

CHAPTER 58 ¹In the five hundredth year, and in the seventh month, on the fourteenth day of the month, of the lifetime of Enoch, in that parable, I saw that the heaven of heavens shook that it shook violently and that the powers of the Most High, and the angels, thousands and thousands, and myriads of myriads, were agitated with great agitation. And when I looked, the Ancient of days was sitting on the throne of his glory, while the angels and saints were standing around him. A great trembling came upon me, and terror seized me. My loins were bowed down and loosened my reins were dissolved and I fell upon my face. The holy Michael, another holy angel, one of the holy ones, was sent, who raised me up. ²And when he raised me, my spirit returned for I was incapable of enduring this vision of violence, its agitation, and the concussion of heaven. ³Then holy Michael said to me, Why are you disturbed at this vision? ⁴Hitherto has existed the day of mercy and he has been merciful and longsuffering towards all who dwell upon the earth. ⁵But when the time shall come, then shall the power, the punishment, and the judgment take place, which the Lord of spirits has prepared for those who prostrate themselves to the judgment of righteousness, for those who abjure that judgment, and for those who take his name in vain. ⁶That day has been prepared for the elect as a day of covenant and for sinners as a day of inquisition. ⁷In that day shall be distributed for food a two monsters a female monster, whose name is Leviathan, dwelling in the depths of the sea, above the springs of waters ⁸And a male monster, whose name is Behemoth which possesses, moving on his breast, the invisible wilderness. ⁹His name was Dendayen in the east of the garden, where the elect and the righteous will dwell where he received it from my ancestor, who was man, from Adam the first of men,^b whom the Lord of spirits made. ¹⁰Then I asked of another angel to show me the power of those monsters, how they became separated, how they became separated on the same day, one being in the depths of the sea, and one in the dry desert. ¹¹And he said, You, son of man, are here desirous of understanding secret things. ¹²And the angel of peace, who was with me, said, These two monsters are by the power of God prepared to become food, that the punishment of God may not be in vain. ¹³Then shall children be slain with their mothers, and sons with their fathers. ¹⁴And when the punishment of the Lord of spirits shall continue, upon them shall it continue, that the punishment of the Lord of spirits may not take place in vain. After that, judgment shall exist with mercy and long suffering.

CHAPTER 59 ¹Then another angel, who proceeded with me, spoke to me ²And showed me the first and last secrets in heaven above, and in the depths of the earth: ³In the extremities of heaven, and in the foundations of it, and in the receptacle of the winds. ⁴He showed me how their spirits were divided how they were balanced and how both the springs and the winds were numbered according to the force of their spirit. ⁵He showed me the power of the moon's light, that its power is a just one as well as the divisions of the stars, according to their respective names ⁶That every division is divided that the lightning flashes ⁷ That its troops immediately obey and that a cessation takes place during thunder in continuance of its sound. Nor are the thunder and the lightning separated neither do both of them move with one spirit yet they are not separated. ⁸For when the lightning lightens, the thunder sounds, and the spirit at a proper period pauses, making an equal division between them for the receptacle, upon which their periods depend, is loose as sand. Each of them at a proper season is restrained with a bridle and turned by the power of the spirit, which thus propels them according to the spacious extent of the earth. ⁹The spirit likewise of the sea is potent and strong and as a strong power causes it to ebb, so is it driven forwards, and scattered against the mountains of the earth. The spirit of the frost has its angel in the spirit of hail there is a good angel the spirit of snow ceases in its strength, and a solitary spirit is in it, which ascends from it like vapour, and is called refrigeration. ¹⁰The spirit also of mist dwells with them in their receptacle but it has a receptacle to itself for its progress is in splendour. ¹¹In light, and in darkness, in winter and in summer. Its receptacle is bright, and an angel is in it. ¹²The spirit of dew has its abode in the extremities of heaven, in connection with the receptacle of rain and its progress is in winter and in summer. The cloud produced by it, and the cloud of the mist, become united one gives to the other and when the spirit of rain is in motion from its receptacle, angels come, and opening its receptacle, bring it forth. ¹³When likewise it is sprinkled over all the earth, it forms an union with every kind of water on the ground for the waters remain on the ground, because they afford nourishment to the earth from the Most High, who is in heaven. ¹⁴Upon this account therefore there is a regulation in the quantity of rain, which the angels receive. ¹⁵These things I saw all of them, even paradise.

CHAPTER 60 ¹In those days I beheld long ropes given to those angels who took to their wings, and fled, advancing towards the north. ²And I inquired of the angel, saying, Wherefore have they taken those long ropes, and gone forth? He said, They are gone forth to measure. ³The angel, who proceeded with me, said, These are the measures of the righteous and cords shall the righteous bring, that they may trust in the name of the Lord of spirits for ever and ever. ⁴The elect shall begin to dwell with the elect. ⁵ And these are the measures which shall be given to faith, and which shall strengthen the words of righteousness. ⁶These measures shall reveal all the secrets in the depth of the earth. ⁷And it shall be, that those who have been destroyed in the desert, and who have been devoured by the fish of the sea, and by wild beasts, shall return, and trust in the day of the Elect One for none shall perish in the presence of the Lord of spirits, nor shall any be capable of perishing. ⁸ Then they received the commandment, all who were in the heavens above to whom a combined power, voice, and splendour, like fire, were given. ⁹And first, with their voice, they blessed him, they exalted him, they glorified him with wisdom, and ascribed to him wisdom with the word, and with the breath of life. ¹⁰Then the Lord of spirits seated upon the throne of his glory the Elect One ¹¹Who shall judge all the works of the holy, in heaven above, and in a balance shall he weigh their actions. And when he shall lift up his countenance to judge their secret ways in the word of the name of the Lord of spirits, and their progress in the path of the righteous judgment of God most high ¹²They shall all speak with united voice and bless, glorify, exalt, and praise, in the name of the Lord of spirits. ¹³He shall call to every power of the heavens, to all the holy above, and to the power of God. The Cherubim, the Seraphim, and the Ophanin, all the angels of power, and all the angels of the Lord's, namely, of the Elect One, and of the other Power, a who was upon earth over the water on that day, ¹⁴Shall raise their united voice shall bless, glorify, praise, and exalt with the spirit of faith, with the spirit of wisdom and patience, with the spirit of mercy, with the spirit of judgment and peace, and with the spirit of benevolence all shall say with united voice Blessed is He and the name of the Lord of spirits shall be blessed for ever and for ever all, who sleep not, shall bless it in heaven above. ¹⁵All the holy in heaven shall bless it all the elect who dwell in the garden of life and every spirit of light, who is capable of blessing, glorifying, exalting, and praising your holy name and every mortal man, a more than the powers of heaven, shall glorify and bless your name for ever and ever. ¹⁶For great is the mercy of the Lord of spirits long-suffering is he and all his works, all his power, great as are the things which he has done, has he revealed to the saints and to the elect, in the name of the Lord of spirits.

CHAPTER 61 ¹Thus the Lord commanded the kings, the princes, the exalted, and those who dwell on earth, saying, Open your eyes, and lift up your horns, if you are capable of comprehending the Elect One. ²The Lord of spirits sat upon the throne of his glory. ³And the spirit of righteousness was poured out over him. ⁴The word of his mouth shall destroy all the sinners and all the ungodly, who shall perish at his presence. ⁵In that day shall all the kings, the princes, the exalted, and those who possess the earth, stand up, behold, and perceive, that he is sitting on the throne of his glory that before him the saints shall be judged in righteousness ⁶And that nothing, which shall be spoken before him, shall be spoken in vain. ⁷Trouble shall come upon them, as upon a woman in travail, whose labour is severe, when her child comes to the mouth of the womb, and she finds it difficult to bring forth. ⁸One portion of them shall look upon another. They shall be astonished, and shall humble their countenance ⁹And trouble shall seize them, when they shall behold this Son of woman sitting upon the throne of his glory. ¹⁰Then shall the kings, the princes, and all who possess the earth, glorify him who has dominion over all things, him who was concealed for from the beginning the Son of man existed in secret, whom the Most High preserved in the presence of his power, and revealed to the elect. ¹¹He shall sow the congregation of the saints, and of the elect and all the elect shall stand before him in that day. ¹²All the kings, the princes, the exalted, and those who rule over all the earth, shall fall down on their faces before him, and shall worship him. ¹³They shall fix their hopes on this Son of man, shall pray to him, and petition him for mercy. ¹⁴Then shall the Lord of spirits hasten to expel them from his presence. Their faces shall be full of confusion, and their faces shall darkness cover. The angels shall take them to punishment, that vengeance may be inflicted on those who have oppressed his children and his elect. And they shall become an example to the saints and to his elect. Through them shall these be made joyful for the anger of the Lord of spirits shall rest upon them. ¹⁵Then the sword of the Lord of spirits shall be drunk with their blood but the saints and elect shall be safe in that day nor the face of the sinners and the ungodly shall they thenceforwards behold. ¹⁶The Lord of spirits shall remain over them: ¹⁷And with this Son of man shall they dwell, eat, lie down, and rise up, for ever and ever. ¹⁸The saints and the elect have arisen from the earth, have left off to depress their countenances, and have been clothed with the garment of life. That garment of life is with the Lord of spirits, in whose presence your garment shall not wax old, nor shall your glory diminish.

CHAPTER 62 ¹In those days the kings who possess the earth shall be punished by the angels of his wrath, wheresoever they shall be delivered up, that he may give rest for a short period and that they may fall down and worship before the Lord of spirits, confessing their sins before him. ²They shall bless and glorify the Lord of spirits, saying, Blessed is the Lord of spirits, the Lord of kings, the Lord of princes, the Lord of the rich, the Lord of glory, and the Lord of wisdom. ³He shall enlighten every secret thing. ⁴Your power is from generation to generation and your glory for ever and ever. ⁵Deep are all your secrets, and numberless and your righteousness cannot be calculated. ⁶Now we know, that we should glorify and bless the Lord of kings, him who is King over all things. ⁷They shall also say, Who has granted us rest to glorify, laud, bless, and confess in the presence of his glory? ⁸And now small is the rest we desire but we do not find it we reject, and do not possess it. Light has passed away from before us and darkness has covered our thrones for ever. ⁹ For we have not confessed before him we have not glorified the name of the Lord of kings we have not glorified the Lord in all his works but we have trusted in the sceptre of our dominion and of our glory. ¹⁰In the day of our suffering and of our trouble he will not save us, neither shall we find rest. We confess that our Lord is faithful in all his works, in all his judgments, and in his righteousness. ¹¹In his judgments he pays no respect to persons and we must depart from his presence, on account of our evil deeds. ¹²All our sins are truly without number. ¹³Then shall they say to themselves, Our souls are satiated with the instruments of crime ¹⁴But that prevents us not from descending to the flaming womb of hell. ¹⁵Afterwards, their countenances shall be filled with darkness and confusion before the Son of man from whose presence they shall be expelled, and before whom the sword shall remain to expel them. ¹⁶Thus saith the Lord of spirits, This is the decree and the judgment against the princes, the kings, the exalted, and those who possess the earth, in the presence of the Lord of spirits.

CHAPTER 63 ¹I saw also other countenances in that secret place. I heard the voice of an angel, saying, These are the angels who have descended from heaven to earth, and have revealed secrets to the sons of men, and have seduced the sons of men to the commission of sin.

CHAPTER 64 ¹In those days Noah saw that the earth became inclined, and that destruction approached. ²Then he lifted up his feet, and went to the ends of the earth, to the dwelling of his great-grandfather Enoch. ³And Noah cried with a bitter voice, Hear me hear me hear me: three times. And he said, Tell me what is transacting upon the earth for the earth labours, and is violently shaken. Surely I shall perish with it. ⁴After this there was a great perturbation on earth, and a voice was heard from heaven. I fell down on my face, when my great-grandfather Enoch came and stood by me. ⁵He said to me, Why have you cried out to me with a bitter cry and lamentation? ⁶A commandment has gone forth from the Lord against those who dwell on the earth, that they may be destroyed for they know every secret of the angels, every oppressive and secret power of the devils,^a and every power of those who commit sorcery, as well as of those who make molten images in the whole earth. ⁷They know how silver is produced from the dust of the earth, and how on the earth the metallic drop exists for lead and tin are not produced from earth, as the primary fountain of their production. ⁸There is an angel standing upon it, and that angel struggles to prevail. ⁹Afterwards my great-grandfather Enoch seized me with his hand, raising me up, and saying to me, Go, for I have asked the Lord of spirits respecting this perturbation of the earth who replied, On account of their impiety have their innumerable judgments been consummated before me. Respecting the moons have they inquired, and they have known that the earth will perish with those who dwell upon it,^b and that to these there will be no place of refuge for ever. ¹⁰They have discovered secrets, and they are those who have been judged but not you my son. The Lord of spirits knows that you are pure and good, free from the reproach of discovering secrets. ¹¹He, the holy One, will establish your name in the midst of the saints, and will preserve you from those who dwell upon the earth. He will establish your seed in righteousness, with dominion and great glory^c and from your seed shall spring forth righteousness and holy men without number for ever.

CHAPTER 65 ¹After this he showed me the angels of punishment, who were prepared to come, and to open all the mighty waters under the earth: ²That they may be for judgment, and for the destruction of all those who remain and dwell upon the earth. ³And the Lord of spirits commanded the angels who went forth, not to take up the men and preserve them. ⁴For those angels presiding over all the mighty waters. Then I went out from the presence of Enoch.

CHAPTER 66 ¹In those days the word of God came to me, and said, Noah, behold, your lot has ascended up to me, a lot void of crime, a lot beloved and upright. ²Now then shall the angels labour at the treesa but when they proceed to this, I will put my hand upon it, and preserve it. ³The seed of life shall arise from it, and a change shall take place, that the dry land shall not be left empty. I will establish your seed before me for ever and ever, and the seed of those who dwell with you on the surface of the earth. It shall be blessed and multiplied in the presence of the earth, in the name of the Lord. ⁴And they shall confine those angels who disclosed impiety. In that burning valley it is, that they shall be confined, which at first my great-grandfather Enoch showed me in the west, where there were mountains of gold and silver, of iron, of fluid metal, and of tin. ⁵ I beheld that valley in which there was great perturbation, and where the waters were troubled. ⁶And when all this was effected, from the fluid mass of fire, and the perturbation which prevailedb in that place, there arose a strong smell of sulphur, which became mixed with the waters and the valley of the angels, who had been guilty of seduction, burned underneath its soil. ⁷Through that valley also rivers of fire were flowing, to which those angels shall be condemned, who seduced the inhabitants of the earth. ⁸And in those days shall these waters be to kings, to princes, to the exalted, and to the inhabitants of the earth, for the healing of the soul and body, and for the judgment of the spirit. ⁹Their spirits shall be full of revelry,c that they may be judged in their bodies because they have denied the Lord of spirits, and although they perceive their condemnation day by day, they believe not in his name. ¹⁰And as the inflammation of their bodies shall be great, so shall their spirits undergo a change for ever. ¹¹For no word which is uttered before the Lord of spirits shall be in vain. ¹²Judgment has come upon them, because they trusted in their carnal revelry, and denied the Lord of spirits. ¹³In those days shall the waters of that valley be changed for when the angels shall be judged, then shall the heat of those springs of water experience an alteration. ¹⁴And when the angels shall ascend, the water of the springs shall again undergo a change, and be frozen. Then I heard holy Michael answering and saying, This judgment, with which the angels shall be judged, shall bear testimony against the kings, the princes, and those who possess the earth. ¹⁵For these waters of judgment shall be for their healing, and for the deatha of their bodies. But they shall not perceive and believe that the waters will be changed, and become a fire, which shall blaze for ever.

CHAPTER 67 ¹After this he gave me the characteristical marksb of all the secret things in the book of my greatgrandfather Enoch, and in the parables which had been given to him inserting them for me among the words of the book of parables. ²At that time holy Michael answered and said to Raphael, The power of the spirit hurries me away, and impels me on. The severity of the judgment, of the secret judgment of the angels, who is capable of beholding—the endurance of that severe judgment which has taken place and been made permanent—without being melted at the site of it? Again holy Michael answered and said to holy Raphael, Who is there whose heart is not softened by it, and whose reins are not troubled at this thing? ³Judgment has gone forth against them by those who have thus dragged them away and that was, when they stood in the presence of the Lord of spirits. ⁴In like manner also holy Rakael said to Raphael, They shall not be before the eye of the Lordc since the Lord of spirits has been offended with them for like lordsd have they conducted themselves. Therefore will he bring upon them a secret judgment for ever and ever. ⁵For neither shall angel nor man receive a portion of it but they alone shall receive their own judgment for ever end ever.

CHAPTER 68 ¹After this judgment they shall be astonished and irritated for it shall be exhibited to the inhabitants of the earth. ²Behold the names of those angels. These are their names. The first of them is Samyaza the second, Arstikapha the third, Armen the fourth, Kakabael the fifth, Turel the sixth, Rumyel the seventh, Danyal the eighth, Kael the ninth, Barakel the tenth, Azazel the eleventh, Armers the twelfth, Bataryal the thirteenth, Basasael the fourteenth, Ananel the fifteenth, Turyal the sixteenth, Simapiseel the seventeenth, Yetarel the eighteenth, Tumael the nineteenth, Tarel the twentieth, Rumel the twenty-first, Azazyel. ³These are the chiefs of their angels, and the names of the leaders of their hundreds, and the leaders of their fifties, and the leaders of their tens. ⁴The name of the first is Yekun:a he it was who seduced all the sons of the holy angels and causing them to descend on earth, led astray the offspring of men. ⁵The name of the second is Kesabel, who pointed out evil counsel to the sons of the holy angels, and induced them to corrupt their bodies by generating mankind. ⁶The name of the third is Gadrel: he discovered every stroke of death to the children of men. ⁷He seduced Eve and discovered to the children of men the instruments of death, the coat of mail, the shield, and the sword for slaughter every instrument of death to the children of men. ⁸From his hand were these things derived to them who dwell upon earth, from that period for ever. ⁹The name of the fourth is Penemue: he discovered to the children of men bitterness and sweetness ¹⁰And pointed out to them every secret of their wisdom. ¹¹He taught men to understand writing, and the use of ink and paper. ¹²Therefore numerous have been those who have gone astray from every period of the world, even to this day. ¹³For men were not born for this, thus with pen and with ink to confirm their faith ¹⁴Since they were not created, except that, like the angels, they might remain righteous and pure. ¹⁵Nor would death, which destroys everything, have effected them ¹⁶But by this their knowledge they perish, and by this also its power consumes them. ¹⁷The name of the fifth is Kasyade: he discovered to the children of men every wicked stroke of spirits and of demons: ¹⁸The stroke of the embryo in the womb, to diminish it b the stroke of the spirit by the bite of the serpent, and the stroke which is given in the mid-day by the offspring of the serpent, the name of which is Tabaet.a ¹⁹This is the number of the Kasbel the principal part of the oath which the Most High, dwelling in glory, revealed to the holy ones. ²⁰Its name is Beka. He spoke to holy Michael to discover to them the sacred name, that they might understand that secret name, and thus remember the oath and that those who pointed out every secret thing to the children of men might tremble at that name and oath. ²¹This is the power of that oath for powerful it is, and strong. ²²And he established this oath of Akae by the instrumentality of the holy Michael. ²³These are the secrets of this oath, and by it were they confirmed. ²⁴Heaven was suspended by it before the world was made, for ever. ²⁵By it has the earth been founded upon the flood while from the concealed parts of the hills the agitated waters proceed forth from the creation to the end of the world. ²⁶By this oath the sea has been formed, and the foundation of it. ²⁷During the period of its fury he established the sand against it, which continues unchanged for ever and by this oath the abyss has been made strong nor is it removable from its station for ever and ever. ²⁸By this oath the sun and moon complete their progress, never swerving from the command given to them for ever and ever. ²⁹By this oath the stars complete their progress ³⁰And when their names are called, they return an answer, for ever and ever. ³¹Thus in the heavens take place the blowings of the winds: all of them have breathings, and effect a complete combination of breathings. ³²There the treasures of thunder are kept, and the splendour of the lightning. ³³There are kept the treasures of hail and of frost, the treasures of snow, the treasures of rain and of dew. ³⁴All these confess and laud before the Lord of spirits. ³⁵They glorify with all their power of praise and he sustains them in all that act of thanksgiving while they laud, glorify, and exalt the name of the Lord of spirits for ever and ever. ³⁶And with them he establishes this oath, by which they and their paths are preserved nor does their progress perish. ³⁷Great was their joy. ³⁸They blessed, glorified, and exalted, because the name of the Son of man was revealed to them. ³⁹He sat upon the throne of his glory and the principal part of the judgment was assigned to him, the Son of man. Sinners shall disappear and perish from the face of the earth, while those who seduced them shall be bound with chains for ever. ⁴⁰According to their ranks of corruption shall they be imprisoned, and all their works shall disappear from the face of the earth nor thenceforward shall there be any to corrupt for the Son of man has been seen, sitting on the throne of his glory. ⁴¹Everything wicked shall disappear, and depart from before his face and the word of the Son of man shall become powerful in the presence of the Lord of spirits. ⁴²This is the third parable of Enoch.

CHAPTER 69 ¹After this the name of the Son of man, living with the Lord of spirits, was exalted by the inhabitants of the earth. ²It was exalted in the chariots of the Spirit and the name went forth in the midst of them. ³From that time I was not drawn into the midst of them but he seated me between two spirits, between the north and the west, where the angels received their ropes, to measure out a place for the elect and the righteous. ⁴There I beheld the fathers of the first men, and the saints, who dwell in that place for ever.

CHAPTER 70 ¹Afterwards my spirit was concealed, ascending into the heavens. I beheld the sons of the holy angels treading on flaming fire, whose garments and robes were white, and whose countenances were transparent as crystal. ²I saw two rivers of fire glittering like the hyacinth. ³Then I fell on my face before the Lord of spirits. ⁴And Michael, one of the archangels, took me by my right hand, raised me up, and brought me out to where was every secret of mercy and secret of righteousness. ⁵He showed me all the hidden things of the extremities of heaven, all the receptacles of the stars, and the splendours of all, from whence they went forth before the face of the holy. ⁶And he concealed the spirit of Enoch in the heaven of heavens. ⁷There I beheld, in the midst of that light, a building raised with stones of ice ⁸And in the midst of these stone vibrationsa of living fire. My spirit saw around the circle of this flaming habitation, on one of its extremities, that there were rivers full of living fire, which encompassed it. ⁹Then the Seraphim, the Cherubim, and Ophaninb surrounded it: these are those who never sleep, but watch the throne of his glory. ¹⁰And I beheld angels innumerable, thousands of thousands, and myriads and myriads, who surrounded that habitation. ¹¹Michael, Raphael, Gabriel, Phanuel and the holy angels who were in the heavens above, went in and out of it. Michael, Raphael, and Gabriel went out of that habitation, and holy angels innumerable. ¹²With them was the Ancient of days, whose head was white as wool, and pure, and his robe was indescribable. ¹³Then I fell upon my face, while all my flesh was dissolved, and my spirit became changed. ¹⁴I cried out with a loud voice, with a powerful spirit, blessing, glorifying, and exalting.

¹⁵And those blessings, which proceeded from my mouth, became acceptable in the presence of the Ancient of days.

¹⁶The Ancient of days came with Michael and Gabriel, Raphael and Phanuel, with thousands of thousands, and myriads and myriads, which could not be numbered. ¹⁷Then that angel came to me, and with his voice saluted me, saying, You are the Son of man,^c who art born for righteousness, and righteousness has rested upon you. ¹⁸The righteousness of the Ancient of days shall not forsake you. ¹⁹He said, On you shall he confer peace in the name of the existing world for from thence has peace gone forth since the world was created. ²⁰And thus shall it happen to you for ever and ever.

²¹All who shall exist, and who shall walk in your path of righteousness, shall not forsake you for ever. ²²With you shall be their habitations, with you their lot nor from you shall they be separated for ever and ever.

²³And thus shall length of days be with the Son of man.^a ²⁴Peace shall be to the righteous and the path of integrity shall the righteous pursue, in the name of the Lord of spirits, for ever and ever.

CHAPTER 71 ¹The book of the revolutions of the luminaries of heaven, according to their respective classes, their respective powers, their respective periods, their respective names, the places where they commence their progress, and their respective months, which Uriel, the holy angel who was with me, explained to me he who conducted them. The whole account of them, according to every year of the world for ever, until a new work shall be effected, which will be eternal. ²This is the first law of the luminaries. The sun and the light arrive at the gates of heaven, which are on the east, and on the west of it at the western gates of heaven. ³I beheld the gates whence the sun goes forth and the gates where the sun sets ⁴In which gates also the moon rises and sets and I beheld the conductors of the stars, among those who precede them six gates were at the rising, and six at the setting of the sun. ⁵All these respectively, one after another, are on a level and numerous windows are on the right and on the left sides of those gates. ⁶First proceeds forth that great luminary, which is called the sun the orb of which is as the orb of heaven, the whole of it being replete with splendid and flaming fire. ⁷Its chariot, where it ascends, the wind blows. ⁸The sun sets in heaven, and, returning by the north, to proceed towards the east, is conducted so as to enter by that gate, and illuminate the face of heaven. ⁹In the same manner it goes forth in the first month by the great gate. ¹⁰It goes forth through the fourth of those six gates, which are at the rising of the sun. ¹¹And in the fourth gate, through which the sun with the moon proceeds, in the first part of it,^b there are twelve open windows from which issues out a flame, when they are opened in their proper periods. ¹²When the sun rises in heaven, it goes forth through this fourth gate thirty days, and by the fourth gate in the west of heaven on a level with it descends. ¹³During that period the day is lengthened from the day, and the night curtailed from the night for thirty days. And then the day is longer by two parts than the night. ¹⁴The day is precisely ten parts, and the night is eight. ¹⁵The sun goes forth through this fourth gate, and sets in it, and turns to the fifth gate during thirty days after which it proceeds from, and sets in, the fifth gate. ¹⁶Then the day becomes lengthened by a second portion, so that it is eleven parts: while the night becomes shortened, and is only seven parts. ¹⁷The sun now returns to the east, entering into the sixth gate, and rising and setting in the sixth gate thirty-one days, on account of its signs. ¹⁸At that period the day is longer than the night, being twice as long as the night and become twelve parts ¹⁹But the night is shortened, and becomes six parts. Then the sun rises up, that the day may be shortened, and the night lengthened. ²⁰And the sun returns toward the east entering into the sixth gate, where it rises and sets for thirty days. ²¹When that period is completed, the day becomes shortened precisely one part, so that it is eleven parts, while the night is seven parts. ²²Then the sun goes from the west, from that sixth gate, and proceeds eastwards, rising in the fifth gate for thirty days, and setting again westwards in the fifth gate of the west. ²³At that period the day becomes shortened two parts and is ten parts, while the night is eight parts. ²⁴Then the sun goes from the fifth gate, as it sets in the fifth gate of the west and rises in the fourth gate for thirty-one days, on account of its signs, setting in the west. ²⁵At that period the day is made equal with the night and, being equal with it, the night becomes nine parts, and the day nine parts. ²⁶Then the sun goes from that gate, as it sets in the west and returning to the east proceeds by the third gate for thirty days, setting in the west at the third gate. ²⁷At that period the night is lengthened from the day during thirty mornings, and the day is curtailed from the day during thirty days the night being ten parts precisely, and the day eight parts. ²⁸The sun now goes from the third gate, as it sets in the third gate in the west but returning to the east, it proceeds by the second gate of the east for thirty days. ²⁹In like manner also it sets in the second gate in the west of heaven. ³⁰At that period the night is eleven parts, and the day seven parts. ³¹Then the sun goes at that time from the second gate, as it sets in the second gate in the west but returns to the east, proceeding by the first gate, for thirty-one days. ³²And sets in the west in the first gate. ³³At that period that night is lengthened as much again as the day. ³⁴It is twelve parts precisely, while the day is six parts. ³⁵The sun has thus completed its beginnings, and a second time goes round from these beginnings. ³⁶Into that first gate it enters for thirty days, and sets in the west, in the opposite part of heaven. ³⁷At that period the night is contracted in its length a fourth part, that is, one portion, and becomes eleven parts. ³⁸The day is seven parts. ³⁹Then the sun returns, and enters into the second gate of the east. ⁴⁰It returns by these beginnings thirty days, rising and setting. ⁴¹At that period the night is contracted in its length. It becomes ten parts, and the day eight parts. Then the sun goes from that second gate, and sets in the west but returns to the east, and rises in the east, in the third gate, thirty-one days, setting in the west of heaven. ⁴²At that period the night becomes shortened. It is nine parts. And the night is equal with the day. The year is precisely three hundred and sixty-four days. ⁴³The lengthening of the day and night, and the contraction of the day and night, are made to differ from each other by the progress of the sun. ⁴⁴By means of this progress the day is daily lengthened, and the night greatly shortened. ⁴⁵This is the law and progress of the sun, and its turning when it turns back, turning during sixty days, a and going forth. This is the great everlasting luminary, that which he names the sun for ever and ever. ⁴⁶This also is that which goes forth a great luminary, and which is named after its peculiar kind, as God commanded. ⁴⁷And thus it goes in and out, neither slackening nor resting but running on in its chariot by day and by night. It shines with a seventh portion of light from the moona but the dimensions of both are equal.

CHAPTER 72 ¹After this law I beheld another law of an inferior luminary, the name of which is the moon, and the orb of which is as the orb of heaven. ²Its chariot, which it secretly ascends, the wind blows and light is given to it by measure. ³Every month at its exit and entrance it becomes changed and its periods are as the periods of the sun. And when in like manner its light is to exist, its light is a seventh portion from the light of the sun. ⁴Thus it rises, and at its commencement towards the east goes forth for thirty days. ⁵At that time it appears, and becomes to you the beginning of the month. Thirty days it is with the sun in the gate from which the sun goes forth. ⁶Half of it is in extent seven portions, one half and the whole of its orb is void of light, except a seventh portion out of the fourteen portions of its light. And in a day it receives a seventh portion, or half that portion, of its light. Its light is by sevens, by one portion, and by the half of a portion. Its sets with the sun. ⁷And when the sun rises, the moon rises with it receiving half a portion of light. ⁸ On that night, when it commences its period, previously to the day of the month, the moon sets with the sun. ⁹And on that night it is dark in its fourteen portions, that is, in each half but it rises on that day with one seventh portion precisely, and in its progress declines from the rising of the sun. ¹⁰During the remainder of its period its light increases to fourteen portions.

CHAPTER 73 ¹Then I saw another progress and regulation which He effected in the law of the moon. The progress of the moons, and everything relating to them, Uriel showed me, the holy angel who conducted them all. ²Their stations I wrote down as he showed them to me. ³I wrote down their months, as they occur, and the appearance of their light, until it is completed in fifteen days. ⁴In each of its two seven portions it completes all its light at rising and at setting. ⁵On stated months it changes its settings and on stated months it makes its progress through each gate. In two gates the moon sets with the sun, viz. in those two gates which are in the midst, in the third and fourth gate. From the third gate it goes forth for seven days, and makes its circuit. ⁶Again it returns to the gate whence the sun goes forth, and in that completes the whole of its light. Then it declines from the sun, and enters in eight days into the sixth gate, and returns in seven days to the third gate, from which the sun goes forth. ⁷When the sun proceeds to the fourth gate, the moon goes forth for seven days, until it passes from the fifth gate. ⁸Again it returns in seven days to the fourth gate, and completing all its light, declines, and passes on by the first gate in eight days ⁹And returns in seven days to the fourth gate, from which the sun goes forth. ¹⁰Thus I beheld their stations, as according to the fixed order of the months the sun rises and sets. ¹¹At those times there is an excess of thirty days belonging to the sun in five years all the days belonging to each year of the five years, when completed, amount to three hundred and sixty-four days and to the sun and stars belong six days six days in each of the five years thus thirty days belonging to them ¹²So that the moon has thirty days less than the sun and stars. ¹³The moon brings on all the years exactly, that their stations may come neither too forwards nor too backwards a single day but that the years may be changed with correct precision in three hundred and sixty-four days. In three years the days are one thousand and ninety-two in five years they are one thousand eight hundred and twenty and in eight years two thousand nine hundred and twelve days. ¹⁴To the moon alone belong in three years one thousand and sixty-two days in five years it has fifty days less than the sun, for an addition being made to the one thousand and sixty-two days, in five years there are one thousand seven hundred and seventy days and the days of the moon in eight years are two thousand eight hundred and thirty-two days. ¹⁵For its days in eight years are less than those of the sun by eighty days, which eighty days are its diminution in eight years. ¹⁶The year then becomes truly complete according to the station of the moon, and the station of the sun which rise in the different gates which rise and set in them for thirty days.

CHAPTER 74 ¹These are the leaders of the chiefs of the thousands, those which preside over all creation, and over all the stars with the four days which are added and never separated from the place allotted them, according to the complete calculation of the year. ²And these serve four days, which are not calculated in the calculation of the year. ³Respecting them, men greatly err, for these luminaries truly serve, in the dwelling place of the world, one day in the first gate, one in the third gate, one in the fourth gate, and one in the sixth gate. ⁴And the harmony of the world becomes complete every three hundred and sixty-fourth state of it. For the signs, ⁵ The seasons, ⁶The years, ⁷And the days, Uriel showed me the angel whom the Lord of glory appointed over all the luminaries. ⁸Of heaven in heaven, and in the world that they might rule in the face of the sky, and appearing over the earth, become ⁹Conductors of the days and nights: the sun, the moon, the stars, and all the ministers of heaven, which make their circuit with all the chariots of heaven. ¹⁰Thus Uriel showed me twelve gates open for the circuit of the chariots of the sun in heaven, from which the rays of the sun shoot forth. ¹¹From these proceed heat over the earth, when they are opened in their stated seasons. They are for the winds, and the spirit of the dew, when in their seasons they are opened opened in heaven at its extremities. ¹²Twelve gates I beheld in heaven, at the extremities of the earth, through which the sun, moon, and stars, and all the works of heaven, proceed at their rising and setting. ¹³Many windows also are open on the right and on the left. ¹⁴One window at a certain season grows extremely hot. So also are there gates from which the stars go forth as they are commanded, and in which they set according to their number. ¹⁵I saw likewise the chariots of heaven, running in the world above to those gates in which the stars turn, which never set. One of these is greater than all, which goes round the whole world.

CHAPTER 75 ¹And at the extremities of the earth I beheld twelve gates open for all the winds, from which they proceed and blow over the earth. ²Three of them are open in the front of heaven, three in the west, three on the right side of heaven, and three on the left. The first three are those which are towards the east, three are towards the north, three behind those which are upon the left, towards the south, and three on the west. ³From four of them proceed winds of blessing, and of health and from eight proceed winds of punishment when they are sent to destroy the earth, and the heaven above it, all its inhabitants, and all which are in the waters, or on dry land. ⁴The first of these winds proceeds from the gate termed the eastern, through the first gate on the east, which inclines southwards. From this goes forth destruction, drought, heat, and perdition. ⁵From the second gate, the middle one, proceeds equity. There issue from it rain, fruitfulness, health, and dew and from the third gate northwards, proceed cold and drought. ⁶After these proceed the south winds through three principal gates through their first gate, which inclines eastwards, proceeds a hot wind. ⁷But from the middle gate proceed grateful odour, dew, rain, health, and life. ⁸From the third gate, which is westwards, proceed dew, rain, blight, and destruction. ⁹After these are the winds to the north, which is called the sea. They proceed from three gates. The first gate is that which is on the east, inclining southwards from this proceed dew, rain, blight, and destruction. From the middle direct gate proceed rain, dew, life, and health. And from the third gate, which is westwards, inclining towards the south, proceed mist, frost, snow, rain, dew, and blight. ¹⁰After these in the fourth quarter are the winds to the west. From the first gate, inclining northwards, proceed dew, rain, frost, cold, snow, and chill from the middle gate proceed rain, health, and blessing ¹¹And from the last gate, which is southwards, proceed drought, destruction, scorching, and perdition. ¹²The account of the twelve gates of the four quarters of heaven is ended. ¹³All their laws, all their infliction of punishment, and the health produced by them, have I explained to you, my son Mathusala.a

CHAPTER 76 ¹The first wind is called the eastern, because it is the first. ²The second is called the south, because the Most High there descends, and frequently there descends he who is blessed for ever. ³The western wind has the name of diminution, because there all the luminaries of heaven are diminished, and descend. ⁴The fourth wind, which is named the north, is divided into three parts one of which is for the habitation of man another for seas of water, with valleys, woods, rivers, shady places, and snow and the third part contains paradise. ⁵Seven high mountains I beheld, higher than all the mountains of the earth, from which frost proceeds while days, seasons, and years depart and pass away. ⁶Seven rivers I beheld upon earth, greater than all rivers, one of which takes its course from the west into a great sea its water flows. ⁷Two come from the north to the sea, their waters flowing into the Erythraean sea,^b on the east. And with respect to the remaining four, they take their course in the cavity of the north, two to their sea, the Erythraean sea, and two are poured into a great sea, where also it is said there is a desert. ⁸Seven great islands I saw in the sea and on the earth. Seven in the great sea.

CHAPTER 77 ¹The names of the sun are these: one Aryares, the other Tomas. ²The moon has four names. The first is Asonya the second, Ebla the third, Benase and the fourth, Erae. ³These are the two great luminaries, whose orbs are as the orbs of heaven and the dimensions of both are equal. ⁴In the orb of the sun there is a seventh portion of light, which is added to it from the moon.^c By measure it is put in, until the seventh portion of the light of the sun is departed. They set, enter into the western gate, circuit by the north, and through the eastern gate go forth over the face of heaven. ⁵When the moon rises, it appears in heaven and the half of a seventh portion of light is all which is in it. ⁶In fourteen days the whole of its light is completed. ⁷By three quintuples light is put into it, until in fifteen days its light is completed, according to the signs of the year it has three quintuples. ⁸The moon has the half of a seventh portion. ⁹During its diminution on the first day its light decreases a fourteenth part on the second day it decreases a thirteenth part on the third day a twelfth part on the fourth day an eleventh part on the fifth day a tenth part on the sixth day a ninth part on the seventh day it decreases an eighth part on the eighth day it decreases a seventh part on the ninth day it decreases a sixth part on the tenth day it decreases a fifth part on the eleventh day it decreases a fourth part on the twelfth day it decreases third part on the thirteenth day it decreases a second part on the fourteenth day it decreases a half of its seventh part and on the fifteenth day the whole remainder of its light is consumed. ¹⁰On stated months the moon has twenty-nine days. ¹¹It also has a period of twentyeight days. ¹²Uriel likewise showed me another regulation, when light is poured into the moon, how it is poured into it from the sun. ¹³All the time that the moon is in progress with its light, it is poured into it in the presence of the sun, until its light is in fourteen days completed in heaven. ¹⁴And when it is wholly extinguished, its light is consumed in heaven and on the first day it is called the new moon, for on that day light is received into it. ¹⁵It becomes precisely completed on the day that the sun descends into the west, while the moon ascends at night from the east. ¹⁶The moon then shines all the night, until the sun rises before it when the moon disappears in turn before the sun. ¹⁷Where light comes to the moon, there again it decreases, until all its light is extinguished, and the days of the moon pass away. ¹⁸Then its orb remains solitary without light. ¹⁹During three months it effects in thirty days each month its period and during three more months it effects it in twenty-nine days each. These are the times in which it effects its decrease in its first period, and in the first gate, namely, in one hundred and seventy-seven days. ²⁰And at the time of its going forth during three months it appears thirty days each, and during three more months it appears twentynine days each. ²¹In the night it appears for each twenty days as the face of a man, and in the day as heaven for it is nothing else except its light.

CHAPTER 78 ¹And now, my son Mathusala, I have shown you everything and the account of every ordinance of the stars of heaven is finished. ²He showed me every ordinance respecting these, which takes place at all times and in all seasons under every influence, in all years, at the arrival and under the rule of each, during every month and every week. He showed me also the decrease of the moon, which is effected in the sixth gate for in that sixth gate is its light consumed. ³From this is the beginning of the month and its decrease is effected in the sixth gate in its period, until a hundred and seventy-seven days are completed according to the mode of calculation by weeks, twenty-five weeks and two days. ⁴Its period is less that that of the sun, according to the ordinance of the stars, by five days in one half yeara precisely. ⁵ When that their visible situation is completed. Such is the appearance and likeness of every luminary, which Uriel, the great angel who conducts them, showed to me.

CHAPTER 79 ¹In those days Uriel answered and said to me, Behold, I have showed you all things, O Enoch ²And all things have I revealed to you. You see the sun, the moon, and those which conduct the stars of heaven, which cause all their operations, seasons, and arrivals to return. ³In the days of sinners the years shall be shortened. ⁴Their seed shall be backward in their prolific soil and everything done on earth shall be subverted, and disappear in its season. The rain shall be restrained, and heaven shall stand still. ⁵In those days the fruits of the earth shall be late, and not flourish in their season and in their season the fruits of the trees shall be withholden. ⁶The moon shall change its laws, and not be seen at its proper period. But in those days shall heaven be seen and barrenness shall take place in the borders of the great chariots in the west. Heaven shall shine more than when illuminated by the orders of light while many chiefs among the stars of authority shall err, perverting their ways and works. ⁷Those shall not appear in their season, who commanded them, and all the classes of the stars shall be shut up against sinners. ⁸The thoughts of those who dwell on the earth shall transgress within them and they shall be perverted in all their ways. ⁹They shall transgress, and think themselvesa gods while evil shall be multiplied among them. ¹⁰And punishment shall come upon them, so that all of them shall be destroyed.

CHAPTER 80 ¹He said, O Enoch, look on the book which heaven has gradually dropped downb and, reading that which is written in it, understand every part of it. ²Then I looked on all which was written, and understood all, reading the book and everything written in it, all the works of man ³And of all the children of flesh upon earth, during the generations of the world. ⁴Immediately after I blessed the Lord, the King of glory, who has thus for ever formed the whole workmanship of the world. ⁵And I glorified the Lord, on account of his long-suffering and blessing towards the children of the world. ⁶At that time I said, Blessed is the man, who shall die righteous and good, against whom no catalogue of crime has been written, and with whom iniquity is not found. ⁷Then those three holy ones caused me to approach, and placed me on the earth, before the door of my house. ⁸And they said unto me, Explain everything to Mathusala your son and inform all your children, that no flesh shall be justified before the Lord for he is their Creator. ⁹During one year we shall leave you with your children, until you shalt again recover your strength, that you may instruct your family, write these things, and explain them to all your children. But in another year they shall take you from the midst of them, and your heart shall be strengthened for the elect shall point out righteousness to the elect the righteous with the righteous shall rejoice, congratulating each other but the sinners with sinners shall die, ¹⁰And the perverted with the perverted shall be drowned. ¹¹Those likewise who act righteously shall die on account of the works of man, and shall be gathered together on account of the works of the wicked. ¹²In those days they finished conversing with me. ¹³And I returned to my fellow men, blessing the Lord of worlds.

CHAPTER 81 ¹Now, my son Mathusala, all these things I speak unto you, and write for you. To you I have revealed all, and have given you books of everything. ²Preserve, my son Mathusala, the books written by your father that you may reveal them to future generations. ³Wisdom have I given you, to your children, and your posterity, that they may reveal to their children, for generations for ever, this wisdom in their thoughts and that those who comprehend it may not slumber, but hear with their ears that they may learn this wisdom, and be deemed worthy of eating this wholesome food. ⁴Blessed are all the righteous blessed are all who walk in righteousness in whom no crime is found, as in sinners, when all their days are numbered. ⁵With respect to the progress of the sun in heaven, it enters and goes out of each gate for thirty days, with the leaders of the thousand classes of the stars with four which are added, and appertain to the four quarters of the year, which conduct them, and accompany them at four periods. ⁶Respecting these, men greatly err, and do not calculate them in the calculation of every age for they greatly err respecting them nor do men know accurately that they are in the calculation of the year. But indeed these are marked down for ever one in the first gate, one in the third, one in the fourth, and one in the sixth: ⁷So that the year is completed in three hundred and sixty-four days. ⁸Truly has been stated, and accurately has been calculated that which is marked down for the luminaries, the months, the fixed periods, the years, and the days, Uriel has explained to me, and communicated to me whom the Lord of all creation, on my account, commanded (according to the might of heaven, and the power which it possesses both by night and by day) to explain the laws of light to man, of the sun, moon, and stars, and of all the powers of heaven, which are turned with their respective orbs. ⁹This is the ordinance of the stars, which set in their places, in their seasons, in their periods, in their days, and in their months. ¹⁰These are the names of the those who conduct them, who watch and enter in their seasons, according to their ordinance in their periods, in their months, in the times of their influence, and in their stations. ¹¹Four conductors of them first enter, who separate the four quarters of the year. After these, twelve conductors of their classes, who separate the months and the year into three hundred and sixtyfour days, with the leaders of a thousand, who distinguish between the days, as well as between the four additional ones which, as conductors, divide the four quarters of the year. ¹²These leaders of a thousand are in the midst of the conductors, and the conductors are added each behind his station, and their conductors make the separation. These are the names of the conductors, who separate the four quarters of the year, who are appointed over them: Melkel, Helammelak, ¹³Meliyal, and Narel. ¹⁴And the names of those who conduct them are Adnarel, Jyasusal, and Jyelumeal. ¹⁵These are the three who follow after the conductors of the classes of stars each following after the three conductors of the classes, which themselves follow after those conductors of the stations, who divide the four quarters of the year. ¹⁶In the first part of the year rises and rules Melkyas, who is named Tamani, and Zahay.a ¹⁷All the days of his influence, during which he rules, are ninetyone days. ¹⁸And these are the signs of the days which are seen upon the earth. In the days of his influence there is perspiration, heat, and trouble. All the trees become fruitful the leaf of every tree comes forth the corn is reaped the rose and every species of flowers blossoms in the field and the trees of winter are dried up. ¹⁹These are the names of the conductors who are under them: Barkel, Zelsabel and another additional conductor of a thousand is named Heloyalef, the days of those influence have been completed. The other conductor next after them is Helemmelek, whose name they call the splendid Zahay.b ²⁰All the days of his light are ninety-one days. ²¹These are the signs of the days upon earth, heat and drought while the trees bring forth their fruits, warmed and concocted, and give their fruits to dry. ²²The flocks follow and year.c All the fruits of the earth are collected, with everything in the fields, and the vines are trodden. This takes place during the time of his influence. ²³These are their names and orders, and the names of the conductors who are under them, of those who are chiefs of a thousand: Gedaeyal, Keel, Heel. ²⁴And the name of the additional leader of a thousand is Asphael. ²⁵The days of his influence have been completed.

CHAPTER 82 ¹And now I have shown you, my son Mathusala, every sight which I saw prior to your birth. I will relate another vision, which I saw before I was married they resemble each other. ²The first was when I was learning a book and the other before I was married to your mother. I saw a potent vision ³And on account of these things besought the Lord. ⁴I was lying down in the house of my grandfather Malalel, when I saw in a vision heaven purifying, and snatched away.a ⁵And falling to the earth,b I saw likewise the earth absorbed by a great abyss and mountains suspended over mountains. ⁶Hills were sinking upon hills, lofty trees were gliding off from their trunks, and were in the act of being projected, and of sinking into the abyss. ⁷ Being alarmed at these things, my voice faltered.c I cried out and said, The earth is destroyed. Then my grandfather Malalel raised me up, and said to me: Why do you thus cry out, my son? And wherefore thus do you lament? ⁸I related to him the whole vision which I had seen. He said to me, Confirmed is that which you have seen, my son ⁹And potent the vision of your dream respecting every secret sin of the earth. Its substance shall sink into the abyss, and a great destruction take place. ¹⁰Now, my son, rise up and beseech the Lord of glory (for you are faithful), that a remnant may be left upon earth, and that he would not wholly destroy it. My son, all this calamity upon earth comes down from heaven upon earth shall there be a great destruction ¹¹Then I arose, prayed, and entreated and wrote down my prayer for the generations of the world, explaining everything to my son Mathusala. ¹²When I went down below, and looking up to heaven, beheld the sun proceeding from the east, the moon descending to the west, a few scattered stars, and everything which God has known from the beginning, I blessed the Lord of judgment, and magnified him: because he hath sent forth the sun from the chambersa of the east that, ascending and rising in the face of heaven, it might spring up, and pursue the path which has been pointed out to it.

CHAPTER 83 ¹I lifted up my hands in righteousness, and blessed the holy, and the Great One. I spoke with the breath of my mouth, and with a tongue of flesh, which God has formed for all the sons of mortal men, that with it they may speak giving them breath, a mouth, and a tongue to converse with. ²Blessed are you, O Lord, the King, great and powerful in your greatness, Lord of all the creatures of heaven, King of kings, God of the whole world, whose reign, whose kingdom, and whose majesty endure for ever and ever. ³From generation to generation shall your dominion exist. All the heavens are your throne for ever, and all the earth your footstool for ever and for ever. ⁴For you have made them, and over all you reign. No act whatsoever exceeds your power. With your wisdom is unchangeable nor from your throne and from your presence is it ever averted. You know all things, see and hear them nor is anything concealed from you for you perceive all things. ⁵The angels of your heavens have transgressed and on mortal flesh shall your wrath remain, until the day of the great judgment. ⁶Now then, O God, Lord and mighty King, I entreat you, and beseech you to grant my prayer, that a posterity may be left to me on earth, and that the whole human race may not perish ⁷That the earth may not be left destitute, and destruction take place for ever. ⁸O my Lord, let the race perish from off the earth which has offended you, but a righteous and upright race establish for a posterityb for ever. Hide not your face, O Lord, from the prayer of your servant.

CHAPTER 84 ¹After this I saw another dream, and explained it all to you, my son. Enoch arose and said to his son Mathusala, To you, my son, will I speak. Hear my word and incline your ear to the visionary dream of your father. Before I married your mother Edna, I saw a vision on my bed. ²And behold, a cow sprung forth from the earth. ³And this cow was white. ⁴Afterwards a female heifer sprung forth and with it another heifer: b one of them was black, and one was red. c ⁵The black heifer then struck the red one, and pursued it over the earth. ⁶ From that period I could see nothing more of the red heifer but the black one increased in bulk, and a female heifer came with him. ⁷After this I saw that many cows proceeded forth, resembling him, and following after him. ⁸The first female young one also went out in the presence of the first cow and sought the red heifer, but found him not. ⁹And she lamented with a great lamentation, while she was seeking him. ¹⁰Then I looked until that first cow came to her, from which time she became silent, and ceased to lament. ¹¹Afterwards she calved another white cow. ¹²And again calved many cows and black heifers. ¹³In my sleep also I perceived a white bull, which in like manner grew, and became a large white bull. ¹⁴After him many white cows came forth, resembling him. ¹⁵And they began to calve many other white cows, which resembled them and followed each other.

CHAPTER 85 ¹Again I looked attentively, while sleeping, and surveyed heaven above. ²And behold a single star fell from heaven. ³Which being raised up, ate and fed among those cows. ⁴After that I perceived other large and black cows and behold all of them changed their stalls and pastures, while their young began to lament one with another. Again I looked in my vision, and surveyed heaven when behold I saw many stars which descended, and projected themselves from heaven to where the first star was, ⁵Into the midst of those young ones while the cows were with them, feeding in the midst of them. ⁶I looked at and observed them when behold, they all acted after the manner of horses, and began to approach the young cows, all of whom became pregnant, and brought forth elephants, camels, and asses. ⁷At these all the cows were alarmed and terrified when they began biting with their teeth, swallowing, and striking with their horns. ⁸They began also to devour the cows and behold all the children of the earth trembled, shook with terror at them, and suddenly fled away.

CHAPTER 86 ¹Again I perceived them, when they began to strike and to swallow each other and the earth cried out. Then I raised my eyes a second time towards heaven, and saw in a vision, that, behold, there came forth from heaven as it were the likeness of white men. One came forth from thence, and three with him. ²Those three, who came forth last, seized me by my hand and raising me up from the generations of the earth, elevated me to a high station. ³Then they showed me a lofty tower on the earth, while every hill became diminished. And they said, Remain here, until you perceive what shall come upon those elephants, camels, and asses, upon the stars, and upon all the cows.

CHAPTER 87 ¹Then I looked at that one of the four white men, who came forth first. ²He seized the first star which fell down from heaven. ³And, binding it hand and foot, he cast it into a valley a valley narrow, deep, stupendous, and gloomy. ⁴Then one of them drew his sword, and gave it to the elephants, camels, and asses, who began to strike each other. And the whole earth shook on account of them. ⁵And when I looked in the vision, behold, one of those four angels, who came forth, hurled from heaven, collected together, and took all the great stars, whose form partly resembles that of horses and binding them all hand and foot, cast them into the cavities of the earth.

CHAPTER 88 ¹Then one of those four went to the white cows, and taught them a mystery. While the cow was trembling, it was born, and became a man, and fabricated for himself a large ship. In this he dwelt, and three cows dwelt with him in that ship, which covered them. ²Again I lifted up my eyes towards heaven, and saw a lofty roof. Above it were seven cataracts, which poured fourth on a certain village much water. ³Again I looked, and behold there were fountains open on the earth in that large village. ⁴The water began to boil up, and rose over the earth so that the village was not seen, while its whole soil was covered with water. ⁵ Much water was over it, darkness, and clouds. Then I surveyed the height of this water and it was elevated above the village. ⁶It flowed over the village, and stood higher than the earth. ⁷Then all the cows which were collected there, while I looked on them, were drowned, swallowed up, and destroyed in the water. ⁸But the ship floated above it. All the cows, the elephants, the camels, and the asses, were drowned on the earth, and all cattle. Nor could I perceive them. Neither were they able to get out, but perished, and sunk into the deep. ⁹Again I looked in the vision until those cataracts from that lofty roof were removed, and the fountains of the earth became equalized, while other depths were opened ¹⁰Into which the water began to descend, until the dry ground appeared. ¹¹The ship remained on the earth the darkness receded and it became light. ¹²Then the white cow, which became a man, went out of the ship, and the three cows with him. ¹³One of the three cows was white, resembling that cow one of them was red as blood and one of them was black. And the white cow left them. ¹⁴Then began wild beasts and birds to bring forth. ¹⁵Of all these the different kinds assembled together, lions, tigers, wolves, dogs, wild boars, foxes, rabbits, and the hanzar. ¹⁶The siset, the avest, kites, the phonkas, and ravens. ¹⁷Then the white cowc was born in the midst of them. ¹⁸And they began to bite each other when the white cow, which was born in the midst of them, brought forth a wild ass and a white cow at the same time, and after that many wild asses. Then the white cow,a which was born, brought forth a black wild sow and a white sheep.b ¹⁹That wild sow also brought forth many swine. ²⁰And that sheep brought forth twelve sheep.c ²¹When those twelve sheep grew up, they delivered one of themd to the asses.e ²²Again those asses delivered that sheep to the wolves,f ²³And he grew up in the midst of them. ²⁴Then the Lord brought the eleven other sheep, that they might dwell and feed with him in the midst of the wolves. ²⁵They multiplied, and there was abundance of pasture for them. ²⁶But the wolves began to frighten and oppress them, while they destroyed their young ones. ²⁷And they left their young in torrents of deep water. ²⁸Now the sheep began to cry out on account of their young, and fled for refuge to their Lord. Oneg however, which was saved, escaped, and went away to the wild asses. ²⁹I beheld the sheep moaning, crying, and petitioning their Lord. ³⁰With all their might, until the Lord of the sheep descended at their voice from his lofty habitation went to them and inspected them. ³¹He called to that sheep which had secretly stolen away from the wolves, and told him to make the wolves understand that they were not to touch the sheep. ³²Then that sheep went to the wolves with the word of the Lord, when another met him, and proceeded with him. ³³Both of them together entered the dwelling of the wolves and conversing with them made them understand, that thenceforwards they were not to touch the sheep. ³⁴Afterwards I perceived the wolves greatly prevailing over the sheep with their whole force. The sheep cried out and their Lord came to them. ³⁵He began to strike the wolves, who commenced a grievous lamentation but the sheep were silent, nor from that time did they cry out. ³⁶I then looked at them, until they departed from the wolves. The eyes of the wolves were blind, who went out and followed them with all their might. But the Lord of the sheep proceeded with them, and conducted them. ³⁷All his sheep followed him. ³⁸His countenance was terrific and splendid, and glorious was his aspect. Yet the wolves began to follow the sheep, until they overtook them in a certain lake of water.^a ³⁹Then that lake became divided the water standing up on both sides before their face. ⁴⁰And while their Lord was conducting them, he placed himself between them and the wolves. ⁴¹The wolves however perceived not the sheep, but went into the midst of the lake, following them, and running after them into the lake of water. ⁴²But when they saw the Lord of the sheep, they turned to fly from before his face. ⁴³Then the water of the lake returned, and that suddenly, according to its nature. It became full, and was raised up, until it covered the wolves. And I saw that all of them which had followed the sheep perished, and were drowned. ⁴⁴But the sheep passed over this water, proceeding to a wilderness, which was without both water and grass. And they began to open their eyes and to see. ⁴⁵Then I beheld the Lord of the sheep inspecting them, and giving them water and grass. ⁴⁶The sheep already mentioned was proceeding with them, and conducting them. ⁴⁷And when he had ascended the top of the lofty rock, the Lord of the sheep sent him to them. ⁴⁸Afterwards I perceived their Lord standing before them, with an aspect terrific and severe. ⁴⁹And when they all beheld him, they were frightened at his countenance. ⁵⁰All of them were alarmed, and trembled. They cried out after that sheep and to the other sheep who had been with him, and who was in the midst of them, saying, We are not able to stand before our Lord, or to look upon him. ⁵¹Then that sheep who conducted them went away, and ascended the top of the rock ⁵²When the rest of the sheep began to grow blind, and to wander from the path which he had shown them but he knew it not. ⁵³Their Lord however was moved with great indignation against them and when that sheep had learned what had happened, ⁵⁴He descended from the top of the rock, and coming to them, found that there were many, ⁵⁵Which had become blind ⁵⁶And had wandered from his path. As soon as they beheld him, they feared, and trembled at his presence ⁵⁷And became desirous of returning to their fold, ⁵⁸Then that sheep, taking with him other sheep, went to those which had wandered. ⁵⁹And afterwards began to kill them. They were terrified at his countenance. Then he caused those which had wandered to return who went back to their fold. ⁶⁰I likewise saw there in the vision, that this sheep became a man, built a house for the Lord of the sheep, and made them all stand in the house. ⁶¹I perceived also that the sheep which proceeded to meet this sheep, their conductor, died. I saw, too, that all the great sheep perished, while smaller ones rose up in their place, entered into a pasture, and approached a river of water.^b ⁶²Then that sheep, their conductor, who became a man, was separated from them, and died. ⁶³All the sheep sought after him, and cried for him with bitter lamentation. ⁶⁴I saw likewise that they ceased to cry after that sheep, and passed over the river of water. ⁶⁵And that there arose other sheep, all of whom conducted them,^c instead of those who were dead, and who had previously conducted them. ⁶⁶Then I saw that the sheep entered into a goodly place, and a territory delectable and glorious. ⁶⁷I saw also that they became satiated that their house was in the midst of a delectable territory and that sometimes their eyes were opened, and that sometimes they were blind until another sheepd arose and conducted them. He brought them all back and their eyes were opened. ⁶⁸Then dogs, foxes, and wild boars began to devour them, until again another sheepe arose, the master of the flock, one of themselves, a ram, to conduct them. This ram began to butt on every side those dogs, foxes, and wild boars, until they all perished. ⁶⁹[And that sheep opened] his eyes, and saw the ram in the midst of them, who had laid aside his glory. ⁷⁰And he began to strike the sheep, treading upon them, and behaving himself without dignity. ⁷¹Then their Lord sent the former sheep again to a still different sheep,a and raised him up to be a ram, and to conduct them instead of that sheep who had laid aside his glory. ⁷²Going therefore to him, and conversing with him alone, he raised up that ram, and made him a prince and leader of the flock. All the time that the dogsb troubled the sheep, ⁷³The first ram paid respect to this latter ram. ⁷⁴Then the latter ram arose, and fled away from before his face. And I saw that those dogs caused the first ram to fall. ⁷⁵But the latter ram arose, and conducted the smaller sheep. ⁷⁶That ram likewise begat many sheep, and died. ⁷⁷Then there was a smaller sheep,c a ram, instead of him, which became a prince and leader, conducting the flock. ⁷⁸And the sheep increased in size, and multiplied. ⁷⁹And all the dogs, foxes, and wild boars feared, and fled away from him. ⁸⁰That ram also struck and killed all the wild beasts, so that they could not again prevail in the midst of the sheep, nor at any time ever snatch them away. ⁸¹And that house was made large and wide a lofty tower being built upon it by the sheep, for the Lord of the sheep. ⁸²The house was low, but the tower was elevated and very high. ⁸³Then the Lord of the sheep stood upon that tower, and caused a full table to approach before him. ⁸⁴Again I saw that those sheep wandered, and went various ways, forsaking that their house ⁸⁵And that their Lord called to some among them, whom he sentd to them. ⁸⁶But these the sheep began to kill. And when one of them was saved from slaughtere he leaped, and cried out against those who were desirous of killing him. ⁸⁷But the Lord of the sheep delivered him from their hands, and made him ascend to him, and remain with him. ⁸⁸He sent also many others to them, to testify, and with lamentations to exclaim against them. ⁸⁹Again I saw, when some of them forsook the house of their Lord, and his tower wandering on all sides, and growing blind, ⁹⁰I saw that the Lord of the sheep made a great slaughter among them in their pasture, until they cried out to him in consequence of that slaughter. Then he departed from the place of his habitation, and left them in the power of lions, tigers, wolves, and the zeebt,a and in the power of foxes, and of every beast. ⁹¹And the wild beasts began to tear them. ⁹²I saw, too, that he forsook the house of their fathers, and their tower giving them all into the power of lions to tear and devour them into the power of every beast. ⁹³Then I began to cry out with all my might, imploring the Lord of the sheep, and showing him how the sheep were devoured by all the beasts of prey. ⁹⁴But he looked on in silence, rejoicing that they were devoured, swallowed up, and carried off and leaving them in the power of every beast for food. He called also seventy shepherds, and resigned to them the care of the sheep, that they might overlook them ⁹⁵Saying to them and to their associates, Every one of you henceforwards overlook the sheep, and whatsoever I command you, do and I will deliver them to you numbered. ⁹⁶I will tell you which of them shall be slain these destroy. And he delivered the sheep to them. ⁹⁷Then he called to another, and said, Understand, and watch everything which the shepherds shall do to these sheep for many more of them shall perish than I have commanded. ⁹⁸Of every excess and slaughter, which the shepherds shall commit, there shall be an account as, how many may have perished by my command, and how many they may have destroyed of their own heads. ⁹⁹Of all the destruction brought about by each of the shepherds there shall be an account and according to the number I will cause a recital to be made before me, how many they have destroyed of their own heads, and how many they have delivered up to destruction, that I may have this testimony against them that I may know all their proceedings and that, delivering the sheep to them, I may see what they will do whether they will act as I have commanded them, or not. ¹⁰⁰Of this, however, they shall be ignorant neither shall you make any explanation to them, neither shall you reprove them but there shall be an account of all the destruction done by them in their respective seasons. Then they began to kill, and destroy more than it was commanded them. ¹⁰¹And they left the sheep in the power of the lions, so that very many of them were devoured and swallowed up by lions and tigers and wild boars preyed upon them. That tower they burnt, and overthrew that house. ¹⁰²Then I grieved extremely on account of the tower, and because the house of the sheep was overthrown. ¹⁰³Neither was I afterwards able to perceive whether they again entered that house. ¹⁰⁴The shepherds likewise, and their associates, delivered them to all the wild beasts, that they might devour them. Each of them in his season, according to his number, was delivered up each of them, one with another, was described in a book, how many of them, one with another, were destroyed, in a book. ¹⁰⁵More, however, than was ordered, every shepherd killed and destroyed. ¹⁰⁶Then I began to weep, and was greatly indignant, on account of the sheep. ¹⁰⁷In like manner also I saw in the vision him who wrote, how he wrote down one, destroyed by the shepherds, every day. He ascended, remained, and exhibited each of his books to the Lord of the sheep, containing all which they had done, and all which each of them had made away with ¹⁰⁸And all which they had delivered up to destruction. ¹⁰⁹He took the book up in his hands, read it, sealed it, and deposited it. ¹¹⁰After this, I saw shepherds overlooking for twelve hours. ¹¹¹And behold three of the sheeppa departed, arrived, went in and began building all which was fallen down of that house. ¹¹²But the wild boarsb hindered them, although they prevailed not. ¹¹³Again they began to build as before, and raised up that tower, which was called a lofty tower. ¹¹⁴And again they began to place before the tower a table, with every impure and unclean kind of bread upon it. ¹¹⁵Moreover also all the sheep were blind, and could not see, as were the shepherds likewise. ¹¹⁶Thus were they delivered up to the shepherds for a great destruction, who trod them under foot, and devoured them. ¹¹⁷Yet was their Lord silent, until all the sheep in the field were destroyed. The shepherds and the sheep were all mixed together but they did not save them from the power of the beasts. ¹¹⁸Then he who wrote the book ascended, exhibited it, and read it at the residence of the Lord of the sheep. He petitioned him for them, and prayed, pointing out every act of the shepherds, and testifying before him against them all. Then taking the book, he deposited it with him, and departed.

CHAPTER 89 ¹And I observed during the time, that thus thirty-sevena shepherds were overlooking, all of whom finished in their respective periods as the first. Others then received them into their hands, that they might overlook them in their respective periods, every shepherd in his own period. ²Afterwards I saw in the vision, that all the birds of heaven arrived eagles, the avest, kites and ravens. The eagle instructed them all. ³They began to devour the sheep, to peck out their eyes, and to eat up their bodies. ⁴The sheep then cried out for their bodies were devoured by the birds. ⁵I also cried out, and groaned in my sleep against the shepherd which overlooked the flock. ⁶And I looked, while the sheep were eaten up by the dogs, by the eagles, and by the kites. They neither left them their body, nor their skin, nor their muscles, until their bones alone remained until their bones fell upon the ground. And the sheep became diminished. ⁷I observed likewise during the time, that twenty-three shepherdsb were overlooking who completed in their respective periods fiftyeight periods. ⁸Then were small lambs born of those white sheep who began to open their eyes and to see, crying out to the sheep. ⁹ The sheep, however, cried not out to them, neither did they hear what they uttered to them but were deaf, blind, and obdurate in the greatest degrees. ¹⁰I saw in the vision that ravens flew down upon those lambs ¹¹That they seized one of them and that tearing the sheep in pieces, they devoured them. ¹²I saw also, that the horns grew upon those lambs and that the ravens lighted down upon their horns. ¹³I saw, too, that a large horn sprouted out on an animal among the sheep, and that their eyes were opened. ¹⁴He looked at them. Their eyes were wide open and he cried out to them. ¹⁵Then the dabelaa saw him all of whom ran to him. ¹⁶And besides this, all the eagles, the avest, the ravens and the kites, were still carrying off the sheep, flying down upon them, and devouring them. The sheep were silent, but the dabela lamented and cried out. ¹⁷Then the ravens contended, and struggled with them. ¹⁸They wished among them to break his horn but they prevailed not over him. ¹⁹I looked on them, until the shepherds, the eagles, the avest, and the kites came. ²⁰Who cried out to the ravens to break the horn of the dabela to contend with him and to kill him. But he struggled with them, and cried out, that help might come to him. ²¹Then I perceived that the man came who had written down the names of the shepherds, and who ascended up before the Lord of the sheep. ²²He brought assistance, and caused every one to see him descending to the help of the dabela. ²³I perceived likewise that the Lord of the sheep came to them in wrath, while all those who saw him fled away all fell down in his tabernacle before his face while all the eagles, the avest, ravens, and kites assembled, and brought with them all the sheep of the field. ²⁴All came together, and strove to break the horn of the dabela. ²⁵Then I saw, that the man, who wrote the book at the word of the Lord, opened the book of destruction, of that destruction which the last twelve shepherds wrought and pointed out before the Lord of the sheep, that they destroyed more than those who preceded them. ²⁶I saw also that the Lord of the sheep came to them, and taking in his hand the sceptre of his wrath seized the earth, which became rent asunder while all the beasts and birds of heaven fell from the sheep, and sunk into the earth, which closed over them. ²⁷I saw, too, that a large sword was given to the sheep, who went forth against all the beasts of the field to slay them. ²⁸But all the beasts and birds of heaven fled away from before their face. ²⁹And I saw a throne erected in a delectable land ³⁰Upon this sat the Lord of the sheep, who received all the sealed books ³¹Which were open before him. ³²Then the Lord called the first seven white ones, and commanded them to bring before him the first of the first stars, which preceded the stars whose form partly resembled that of horses the first star, which fell down first and they brought them all before him. ³³And he spoke to the man who wrote in his presence, who was one of the seven white ones, saying, Take those seventy shepherds, to whom I delivered up the sheep, and who receiving them killed more of them than I commanded. Behold, I saw them all bound, and standing before him. First came on the trial of the stars, which, being judged, and found guilty, went to the place of punishment.

They thrust them into a place, deep, and full of flaming fire, and full of pillars of fire. Then the seventy shepherds were judged, and being found guilty, were thrust into the flaming abyss. ³⁴At that time likewise I perceived, that one abyss was thus opened in the midst of the earth, which was full of fire. ³⁵And to this were brought the blind sheep which being judged, and found guilty, were all thrust into that abyss of fire on the earth, and burnt. ³⁶The abyss was on the right of that house. ³⁷And I saw the sheep burning, and their bones consuming. ³⁸I stood beholding him immerge that ancient house, while they brought out its pillars, every plant in it, and the ivory infolding it. They brought it out, and deposited it in a place on the right side of the earth. ³⁹I also saw, that the Lord of the sheep produced a new house, great, and loftier than the former, which he bound by the former circular spot. All its pillars were new, and its ivory new, as well as more abundant than the former ancient ivory, which he had brought out. ⁴⁰And while all the sheep which were left were in the midst of it, all the beasts of the earth, and all the birds of heaven, fell down and worshipped them, petitioning them, and obeying them in everything. ⁴¹Then those three, who were clothed in white, and who, holding me by my hand, had before caused me to ascend, while the hand of him who spoke held me raised me up, and placed me in the midst of the sheep, before the judgment took place. ⁴²The sheep were all white, with wool long and pure. Then all who had perished, and had been destroyed, every beast of the field, and every bird of heaven, assembled in that house: while the Lord of the sheep rejoiced with great joy, because all were good, and had come back again to his dwelling. ⁴³And I saw that they laid down the sword which had been given to the sheep, and returned it to his house, sealing it up in the presence of the Lord. ⁴⁴All the sheep would have been inclosed in that house, had it been capable of containing them and the eyes of all were open, gazing on the good One nor was there one among them who did not behold him. ⁴⁵I likewise perceived that the house was large, wide, and extremely full. I saw, too, that a white cow was born, whose horns were great and that all the beasts of the field, and all the birds of heaven, were alarmed at him, and entreated him at all times. ⁴⁶Then I saw that the nature of all of them was changed, and that they became white cows ⁴⁷And that the first, who was in the midst of them, spoke, when that word became a large beast, upon the head of which were great and black horns ⁴⁸While the Lord of the sheep rejoiced over them, and over all the cows. ⁴⁹I lay down in the midst of them: I awoke and saw the whole. This is the vision which I saw, lying down and waking. Then I blessed the Lord of righteousness, and gave glory to Him. ⁵⁰Afterwards I wept abundantly, nor did my tears cease, so that I became incapable of enduring it. While I was looking on, they flowed on account of what I saw for all was come and gone by every individual circumstance respecting the conduct of mankind was seen by me. ⁵¹In that night I remembered my former dream and therefore wept and was troubled, because I had seen that vision.

CHAPTER 90 ¹And now, my son Mathusala, call to me all your brethren, and assemble for me all the children of your mother for a voice calls me, and the spirit is poured out upon me, that I may show you everything which shall happen to you for ever. ²Then Mathusala went, called to him all his brethren, and assembled his kindred. ³And conversing with all his children in truth, ⁴Enoch said, Hear, my children, every word of your father, and listen in uprightness to the voice of my mouth for I would gain your attention, while I address you. My beloved, be attached to integrity, and walk in it. ⁵Approach not integrity with a double heart nor be associated with double-minded men: but walk, my children, in righteousness, which will conduct you in good paths and be truth your companion. ⁶For I know, that oppression will exist and prevail on earth that on earth great punishment shall in the end take place and that there shall be a consummation of all iniquity, which shall be cut off from its root, and every fabric raised by it shall pass away. Iniquity, however, shall again be renewed, and consummated on earth. Every act of crime, and every act of oppression and impiety, shall be a second time embraced. ⁷ When therefore iniquity, sin, blasphemy, tyranny, and every evil work, shall increase, and when transgression, impiety, and uncleanness also shall increase, then upon them all shall great punishment be inflicted from heaven. ⁸The holy Lord shall go forth in wrath, and upon them all shall great punishment from heaven be inflicted. ⁹The holy Lord shall go forth in wrath, and with punishment, that he may execute judgment upon earth. ¹⁰In those days oppression shall be cut off from its roots, and iniquity with fraud shall be eradicated, perishing from under heaven. ¹¹Every place of strength shall be surrendered with its inhabitants with fire shall it be burnt. They shall be brought from every part of the earth, and be cast into a judgment of fire. They shall perish in wrath, and by a judgment overpowering them for ever. ¹²Righteousness shall be raised up from slumber and wisdom shall be raised up, and conferred upon them. ¹³Then shall the roots of iniquity be cut off sinners perish by the sword and blasphemers be annihilated everywhere. ¹⁴Those who meditate oppression, and those who blaspheme, by the sword shall perish. ¹⁵And now, my children, I will describe and point out to you the path of righteousness and the path of oppression. ¹⁶I will again point them out to you, that you may know what is to come. ¹⁷Hear now, my children, and walk in the path of righteousness, but shun that of oppression for all who walk

CHAPTER 91 ¹That which was written by Enoch. He wrote all this instruction of wisdom for every man of dignity, and every judge of the earth for all my children who shall dwell upon earth, and for subsequent generations, conducting themselves uprightly and peaceably. ²Let not your spirit be grieved on account of the times for the holy, the Great One, has prescribed a period to all. ³Let the righteous man arise from slumber let him arise, and proceed in the path of righteousness, in all its paths and let him advance in goodness and eternal clemency. Mercy shall be showed to the righteous man upon him shall be conferred integrity and power for ever. In goodness and in righteousness shall he exist, and shall walk in everlasting light but sin shall perish in eternal darkness, nor be seen from that time forward for evermore.

CHAPTER 92 ¹After this, Enoch began to speak from a book. ²And Enoch said, Concerning the children of righteousness, concerning the elect of the world, and concerning the plant of righteousness and integrity, ³Concerning these things will I speak, and these things will I explain to you, my children: I who am Enoch. In consequence of that which has been shown to me, from my heavenly vision and from the voice of the holy angels I have acquired knowledge and from the tablet of heaven have I acquired understanding. ⁴ Enoch then began to speak from a book, and said, I have been born the seventh in the first week, while judgment and righteousness wait with patience. ⁵But after me, in the second week, great wickedness shall arise, and fraud shall spring forth. ⁶In that week the end of the first shall take place, in which mankind shall be safe.^b ⁷But when the first is completed, iniquity shall grow up and during the second week he shall execute the decrees upon sinners. ⁸Afterwards, in the third week, during its completion, a mand of the plant of righteous judgment shall be selected and after him the Planta of righteousness shall come for ever. ⁹Subsequently, in the fourth week, during its completion, the visions of the holy and the righteous shall be seen, the order of generation after generation shall take place, and a habitation shall be made for them. Then in the fifth week, during its completion, the house of glory and of dominion^b shall be erected for ever. ¹⁰After that, in the sixth week, all those who are in it shall be darkened, the hearts of all of them shall be forgetful of wisdom, and in it shall a Manc arise and come forth. ¹¹And during its completion He shall burn the house of dominion with fire, and all the race of the elect root shall be dispersed.^d ¹²Afterwards, in the seventh week, a perverse generation shall arise abundant shall be its deeds, and all its deeds perverse. During its completion, the righteous shall be selected from the everlasting plant of righteousness and to them shall be given the sevenfold doctrine of his whole creation. ¹³Afterwards there shall be another week, the eighth^e of righteousness, to which shall be given a sword to execute judgment and justice upon all oppressors. ¹⁴Sinners shall be delivered up into the hands of the righteous, who during its completion shall acquire habitations by their righteousness and the house of the great King shall be established for celebrations for ever. After this, in the ninth week, shall the judgment of righteousness be revealed to the whole world. ¹⁵Every work of the ungodly shall disappear from the whole earth the world shall be marked for destruction and all men shall be on the watch for the path of integrity. ¹⁶And after this, on the seventh day of the tenth week, there shall be an everlasting judgment, which shall be executed upon the Watchers and a spacious eternal heaven shall spring forth in the midst of the angels. ¹⁷The former heaven shall depart and pass away a new heaven shall appear and all the celestial powers shall shine with sevenfold splendour for ever. Afterwards likewise shall there be many weeks, which shall externally exist in goodness and in righteousness. ¹⁸Neither shall sin be named there for ever and for ever. ¹⁹Who is there of all the children of men, capable of hearing the voice of the Holy One without emotion? ²⁰Who is there capable of thinking his thoughts? Who capable of contemplating all the workmanship of heaven? Who of comprehending the deeds of heaven? ²¹He may behold its animation, but not its spirit. He may be capable of conversing respecting it, but not of ascending to it. He may see all the boundaries of these things, and meditate upon them but he can make nothing like them. ²²Who of all men is able to understand the breadth and length of the earth? ²³By whom have been seen the dimensions of all these things? Is it every man who is capable of comprehending the extent of heaven what its elevation is, and by what it is supported? ²⁴How many are the numbers of the stars and where all the luminaries remain at rest?

CHAPTER 93 ¹And now let me exhort you, my children, to love righteousness, and to walk in it for the paths of righteousness are worthy of acceptation but the paths of iniquity shall suddenly fail, and be diminished. ² To men of note in their generation the paths of oppression and death are revealed but they keep far from them, and do not follow them. ³Now, too, let me exhort you who are righteous, not to walk in the paths of evil and oppression, nor in the paths of death. Approach them not, that you may not perish but covet, ⁴And choose for yourselves righteousness, and a good life. ⁵Walk in the paths of peace, that you may live, and be found worthy. Retain my words in your inmost thoughts, and obliterate them not from your hearts for I know that sinners counsel men to commit crime craftily. They are not found in every place, nor does every counsel possess a little of them. ⁶Woe to those who build iniquity and oppression, and who lay the foundation of fraud for suddenly shall they be subverted, and never obtain peace. ⁷Woe to those who build up their houses with crime for from their very foundations shall their houses be demolished, and by the sword shall they themselves fall. Those, too, who acquire gold and silver, shall justly and suddenly perish. Woe to you who are rich, for in your riches have you trusted but from your riches you shall be removed because you have not remembered the Most High in the days of your prosperity. ⁸You have committed blasphemy and iniquity and are destined to the day of the effusion of blood, to the day of darkness, and to the day of the great judgment. ⁹This I will declare and point out to you, that he who created you will destroy you. ¹⁰When you fall, he will not show you mercy but your Creator will rejoice in your destruction. ¹¹Let those, then, who shall be righteous among you in those days, detest sinners, and the ungodly.

CHAPTER 94 ¹O that my eyes were clouds of water, that I might weep over you, and pour forth my tears like rain, and rest from the sorrow of my heart! ²Who has permitted you to hate and to transgress? Judgment shall overtake you, ye sinners. ³The righteous shall not fear the wicked because God will again bring them into your power, that you may avenge yourselves of them according to your pleasure. ⁴Woe to you who shall be so bound by execrations, that you cannot be released from them the remedy being far removed from you on account of your sins. Woe to you who recompense your neighbour with evil for you shall be recompensed according to your works. ⁵Woe to you, false witnesses, you who aggravate iniquity for you shall suddenly perish. ⁶Woe to you, sinners for you reject the righteous for you receive or reject at pleasure those who commit iniquity and their yoke shall prevail over you.

CHAPTER 95 ¹Wait in hope, you righteous for suddenly shall sinners perish from before you, and you shall exercise dominion over them, according to your will. ²In the day of the sufferings of sinners your offspring shall be elevated, and lifted up like eagles. Your nest shall be more exalted than that of the avest you shall ascend, and enter into the cavities of the earth, and into the clefts of the rocks for ever, like conies, from the sight of the ungodly ³Who shall groan over you, and weep like sirens. ⁴You shall not fear those who trouble you for restoration shall be yours a splendid light shall shine around you, and the voice of tranquility shall be heard from heaven. Woe to you, sinners for your wealth makes you resemble saints, but your hearts reproach you, knowing that you are sinners. This word shall testify against you, for the remembrance of crime. ⁵Woe to you who feed upon the glory of the corn, and drink the strength of the deepest spring, and in the pride of your power tread down the humble. ⁶Woe to you who drink water at pleasure for suddenly shall you be recompensed, consumed, and withered, because you have forsaken the foundation of life. ⁷Woe to you who act iniquitously, fraudulently, and blasphemously there shall be a remembrance against you for evil. ⁸Woe to you, powerful, who with power strike down righteousness for the day of your destruction shall come while at that very time many and good days shall be the portion of the righteous, even at the period of your judgment.

CHAPTER 96 ¹The righteous are confident that sinners will be disgraced, and perish in the day of iniquity. ²You shall yourselves be conscious of it for the Most High will remember your destruction, and the angels shall rejoice over it. What will you do, sinners? And where will you fly in the day of judgment, when you shall hear the words of the prayer of the righteous? ³You are not like them who in this respect witness against you you are associates of sinners. ⁴In those days shall the prayers of the righteous come up before the Lord. When the day of your judgment shall arrive and every circumstance of your iniquity be related before the great and the holy One ⁵Your faces shall be covered with shame while every deed, strengthened by crime, shall be rejected. ⁶Woe unto you, sinners, who in the midst of the sea, and on dry land, are those against whom an evil record exists. Woe to you who squander silver and gold, not obtained in righteousness, and say, We are rich, possess wealth, and have acquired everything which we can desire. ⁷Now then will we do whatsoever we are disposed to do for we have amassed silver our barns are full, and the husbandmen of our families are like overflowing water. ⁸Like water shall your falsehood pass away for your wealth will not be permanent, but shall suddenly ascend from you, because you have obtained it all iniquitously to extreme malediction shall you be delivered up. ⁹ And now I swear to you, crafty, as well as simple ones that you, often contemplating the earth, you who are men, clothe yourselves more elegantly than married women, and both together more so than unmarried ones, a everywhere arraying yourselves in majesty, in magnificence, in authority, and in silver: but gold, purple, honour, and wealth, like water, flow away. ¹⁰Erudition therefore and wisdom are not theirs. Thus shall they perish, together with their riches, with all their glory, and with their honours ¹¹While with disgrace, with slaughter, and in extreme penury, shall their spirits be thrust into a furnace of fire. ¹²I have sworn to you, sinners, that neither mountain nor hill has been or shall be subservient b to woman. ¹³Neither in this way has crime been sent down to us upon earth, but men of their own heads have invented it and greatly shall those who give it efficiency be execrated. ¹⁴Barrenness shall not be previously inflicted on woman but on account of the work of her hands shall she die childless. ¹⁵I have sworn to you, sinners, by the holy and the Great One, that all your evil deeds are disclosed in the heavens and that none of your oppressive acts are concealed and secret. ¹⁶Think not in your minds, neither say in your hearts, that every crime is not manifested and seen. In heaven it is daily written down before the Most High. Henceforwards shall it be manifested for every act of oppression which you commit shall be daily recorded, until the period of your condemnation. ¹⁷Woe to you, simple ones, for you shall perish in your simplicity. To the wise you will not listen, and that which is good you shall not obtain. ¹⁸Now therefore know that you are destined to the day of destruction nor hope that sinners shall live but in process of time you shall die for you are not marked for redemption ¹⁹But are destined to the day of the great judgment, to the day of distress, and the extreme ignominy of your souls. ²⁰Woe to you, obdurate in heart, who commit crime, and feed on blood. Whence is it that you feed on good things, drink, and are satiated? Is it not because our Lord, the Most High, has abundantly supplied every good thing upon earth? To you there shall not be peace. ²¹Woe to you who love the deeds of iniquity. Why do you hope for that which is good? Know that you shall be given up into the hands of the righteous who shall cut off your necks, slay you, and show you no compassion. ²²Woe to you who rejoice in the trouble of the righteous for a grave shall not be dug for you. ²³Woe to you who frustrate the word of the righteous for to you there shall be no hope of life. ²⁴Woe to you who write down the word of falsehood, and the word of the wicked for their falsehood they record, that they may hear and not forget folly. ²⁵To them there shall be no peace but they shall surely die suddenly.

CHAPTER 97 ¹Woe to them who act impiously, who laud and honour the word of falsehood. You have been lost in perdition and have never led a virtuous life. ² Woe to you who change the words of integrity. They transgress against the everlasting decrees ³ And cause the heads of those who are not sinners to be trodden down upon the earth. ⁴In those days you, O righteous, shall have been deemed worthy of having your prayers rise up in remembrance and shall have deposited them in testimony before the angels, that they might records the sins of the sinners in the presence of the Most High. ⁵In those days the nations shall be overthrown but the families of the nations shall rise again in the day of perdition. ⁶In those days they who become pregnant shall go forth, carry off their children, and forsake them. Their offspring shall slip from them, and while suckling them shall they forsake them they shall never return to them, and never instruct their beloved. ⁷ Again I swear to you, sinners, that crime has been prepared for the day of blood, which never ceases. ⁸They shall worship stones, and engrave golden, silver, and wooden images. They shall worship impure spirits, demons, and every idol, in temples but no help shall be obtained for them. Their hearts shall become impious through their folly, and their eyes be blinded with mental superstition. ^b In their visionary dreams shall they be impious and superstitious, lying in all their actions, and worshipping a stone. Altogether shall they perish. ⁹But in those days blessed shall they be, to whom the word of wisdom is delivered who point out and pursue the path of the Most High who walk in the way of righteousness, and who act not impiously with the impious. ¹⁰They shall be saved. ¹¹Woe to you who expand the crime of your neighbour for in hell shall you be slain. ¹²Woe to you who lay the foundation of sin and deceit, and who are bitter on earth for on it shall you be consumed. ¹³Woe to you who build your houses by the labour of others, every part of which is constructed with brick, and with the stone of crime I tell you, that you shall not obtain peace. ¹⁴Woe to you who despise the extent of the everlasting inheritance of your fathers, while your souls follow after idols for to you there shall be no tranquility. ¹⁵Woe to them who commit iniquity, and give aid to blasphemy, who slay their neighbour until the day of the great judgment for your glory shall fall malevolence shall He put into your hearts, and the spirit of his wrath shall stir you up, that every one of you may perish by the sword. ¹⁶Then shall all the righteous and the holy remember your crimes.

CHAPTER 98 ¹In those days shall fathers be struck down with their children in the presence of each other and brethren with their brethren shall fall dead: until a river shall flow from their blood. ²For a man shall not restrain his hand from his children, nor from his children's children his mercy will be to kill them. ³Nor shall the sinner restrain his hand from his honoured brother. From the dawn of day to the setting sun shall the slaughter continue. The horse shall wade up to his breast, and the chariot shall sink to its axle, in the blood of sinners.

CHAPTER 99 ¹In those days the angels shall descend into places of concealment, and gather together in one spot all who have assisted in crime. ²In that day shall the Most High rise up to execute the great judgment upon all sinners, and to commit the guardianship of all the righteous and holy to the holy angels, that they may protect them as the apple of an eye, until every evil and every crime be annihilated. ³Whether or not the righteous sleep securely, wise men shall then truly perceive. ⁴And the sons of the earth shall understand every word of that book, knowing that their riches cannot save them in the ruin of their crimes. ⁵Woe to you, sinners, when you shall be afflicted on account of the righteous in the day of the great trouble shall be burnt in the fire and be recompensed according to your deeds. ⁶Woe to you, perverted in heart, who are watchful to obtain an accurate knowledge of evil, and to discover terrors. No one shall assist you. ⁷Woe to you, sinners for with the words of your mouths, and with the work of your hands, have you acted impiously in the flame of a blazing fire shall you be burnt. ⁸And now know, that the angels shall inquire into your conduct in heaven of the sun, the moon, and the stars, shall they inquire respecting your sins for upon earth you exercise jurisdiction over the righteous. ⁹Every cloud shall bear witness against you, the snow, the dew, and the rain: for all of them shall be withholden from you, that they may not descend upon you, nor become subservient to your crimes. ¹⁰Now then bring gifts of salutation to the rain that, not being withholden, it may descend upon you and to the dew, if it has received from you gold and silver. But when the frost, snow, cold, every snowy wind, and every suffering belonging to them, fall upon you, in those days you will be utterly incapable of standing before them.

CHAPTER 100 ¹Attentively consider heaven, all you progeny of heaven, and all the works of the Most High fear him, nor conduct yourselves criminally before him. ²If He shut up the windows of heaven, restraining the rain and dew, that it may not descend upon the earth on your account, what will you do? ³And if He send his wrath upon you, and upon all your deeds, you are not they who can supplicate him you who utter against his righteousness, language proud and powerful. To you there shall be no peace. ⁴Do you not see the commanders of ships, how their vessels are tossed about by the waves, torn to pieces by the winds, and exposed to the greatest peril? ⁵That they therefore fear, because their whole property is embarked with them on the ocean and that they forbode evil in their hearts, because it may swallow them up, and they may perish in it? ⁶Is not the whole sea, all its waters, and all its commotion, the work of him, the Most High of him who has sealed up all its exertions, and girded it on every side with sand? ⁷Is it not at his rebuke dried up, and alarmed while all its fish with everything contained in it die? And will not you, sinners, who are on earth, fear him? Is not He the maker of heaven and earth, and of all things which are in them? ⁸And who has given erudition and wisdom to all that move progressive upon the earth, and over the sea? ⁹Are not the commanders of ships terrified at the ocean? And shall not sinners be terrified at the Most High?

CHAPTER 101 ¹Observe the heaven, ye children of heaven, and every work of the Most High, and fear ye Him and work no evil in His presence. ². If He closes the windows of heaven, and withholds the rain and the dew from descending on the earth on your account, what will ye do then? ³. And if He sends His anger upon you because of your deeds, ye cannot petition Him for ye spake proud and insolent words against His righteousness: therefore ye shall have no peace. ⁴. And see ye not the sailors of the ships, how their ships are tossed to and fro by the waves, and are shaken by the winds, and are in sore trouble? ⁵. And therefore do they fear because all their goodly possessions go upon the sea with them, and they have evil forebodings of heart that the sea will swallow them and they will perish therein. ⁶. Are not the entire sea and all its waters, and all its movements, the work of the Most High, and has He not set limits to its doings, and confined it throughout by the sand? ⁷. And at His reproof it is afraid and dries up, and all its fish die and all that is in it but ye sinners that are on the earth fear Him not. ⁸. Has He not made the heaven and the earth, and all that is therein? Who has given understanding and wisdom to every thing that moves on the earth and in the sea ? ⁹. Do not the sailors of the ships fear the sea ? Yet sinners fear not the Most High.

CHAPTER 102 ¹In those days, when He shall cast the calamity of fire upon you, whither will you fly, and where will you be safe? ²And when He sends forth his word against you, are you not spared, and terrified? ³All the luminaries are agitated with great fear and all the earth is spared, while it trembles, and suffers anxiety. ⁴All the angels fulfill the commands received by them, and are desirous of being concealed from the presence of the great Glory while the children of the earth are alarmed and troubled. ⁵But you, sinners, are for ever accursed to you there shall be no peace. ⁶Fear not, souls of the righteous but wait with patient hope for the day of your death in righteousness. Grieve not, because your souls descend in great trouble, with groaning, lamentation, and sorrow, to the receptacle of the dead. In your lifetime your bodies have not received a recompense in proportion to your goodness, but in the period of your existence have sinners existed in the period of execration and of punishment. ⁷And when you die, sinners say concerning you, As we die, the righteous die. What profit have they in their works? Behold, like us, they expire in sorrow and in darkness. What advantage have they over us? Henceforward are we equal. What will be within their grasp, and what before their eyes for ever? For behold they are dead and never will they again perceive the light. I say unto you, sinners, You have been satisfied with meat and drink, with human plunder and rapine, with sin, with the acquisition of wealth and with the sight of good days. Have you not marked the righteous, how their end is in peace? For no oppression is found in them even to the day of their death. They perish, and are as if they were not, while their souls descend in trouble to the receptacle of the dead.

CHAPTER 103 ¹But now I swear to you, righteous, by the greatness of his splendour and his glory by his illustrious kingdom and by his majesty, to you I swear, that I comprehend this mystery that I have read the tablet of heaven, have seen the writing of the holy ones, and have discovered what is written and impressed on it concerning you. ²I have seen that all goodness, joy, and glory have been prepared for you, and been written down for the spirits of them who die eminently righteous and good. To you it shall be given in return for your troubles and your portion of happiness shall far exceed the portion of the living. ³The spirits of you who die in righteousness shall exist and rejoice. Their spirits shall exult and their remembrance shall be before the face of the Mighty One from generation to generation. Nor shall they now fear disgrace. ⁴Woe to you, sinners, when you die in your sins and they, who are like you, say respecting you, Blessed are these sinners. They have lived out their whole period and now they die in happiness and in wealth. Distress and slaughter they knew not while alive in honour they die nor ever in their lifetime did judgment overtake them. ⁵But has it not been shown to them, that, when to the receptacle of the dead their souls shall be made to descend, their evil deeds shall become their greatest torment? Into darkness, into the snare, and into the flame, which shall burn to the great judgment, shall their spirits enter and the great judgment shall take effect for ever and for ever. ⁶Woe to you for to you there shall be no peace. Neither can you say to the righteous, and to the good who are alive, In the days of our trouble have we been afflicted every manner of trouble have we seen, and many evil things have suffered. ⁷Our spirits have been consumed, lessened, and diminished. ⁸We have perished nor has there been a possibility of help for us in word or in deed: we have found none, but have been tormented and destroyed. ⁹We have not expected to live day after day. ¹⁰We hoped indeed to have been the head ¹¹But we have become the tail. We have been afflicted, when we have exerted ourselves but we have been devoured by sinners and the ungodly their yoke has been heavy upon us. ¹²Those have exercised dominion over us who detest and who goad us and to those who hate us have we humbled our neck but they have shown no compassion towards us. ¹³We have been desirous of escaping from them, that we might fly away and be at rest but we have found no place to which we could fly, and be secure from them. We have sought an asylum with princes in our distress, and have cried out to those who were devouring us but our cry has not been regarded, nor have they been disposed to hear our voice ¹⁴But rather to assist those who plunder and devour us those who diminish us, and hide their oppression who remove not their yoke from us, but devour, enervate, and slay us who conceal our slaughter, nor remember that they have lifted up their hands against us.

CHAPTER 104 ¹I swear to you, righteous, that in heaven the angels record your goodness before the glory of the Mighty One. ²Wait with patient hope for formerly you have been disgraced with evil and with affliction but now shall you shine like the luminaries of heaven. You shall be seen, and the gates of heaven shall be opened to you. Your cries have cried for judgment and it has appeared to you for an account of all your sufferings shall be required from the princes, and from every one who has assisted your plunderers. ³Wait with patient hope nor relinquish your confidence for great joy shall be yours, like that of the angels in heaven. Conduct yourselves as you may, still you shall not be concealed in the day of the great judgment. You shall not be found like sinners and eternal condemnation shall be far from you, so long as the world exists. ⁴And now fear not, righteous, when you see sinners flourishing and prosperous in their ways. ⁵Be not associates with them but keep yourselves at a distance from their oppression be you associated with the host of heaven. You, sinners, say, All our transgressions shall not be taken account of, and be recorded. But all your transgressions shall be recorded daily. ⁶And be assured by me, that light and darkness, day and night, behold all your transgressions. Be not impious in your thoughts lie not surrender not the word of uprightness lie not against the word of the holy and the mighty One glorify not your idols for all your lying and all your impiety is not for righteousness, but for great crime. ⁷Now will I point out a mystery: Many sinners shall turn and transgress against the word of uprightness. ⁸They shall speak evil things they shall utter falsehood execute great undertakings^a and compose books in their own words. But when they shall write all my words correctly in their own languages, ⁹They shall neither change or diminish them but shall write them all correctly all which from the first I have uttered concerning them.^b ¹⁰Another mystery also I point out. To the righteous and the wise shall be given books of joy, of integrity, and of great wisdom. To them shall books be given, in which they shall believe ¹¹And in which they shall rejoice. And all the righteous shall be rewarded, who from these shall acquire the knowledge of every upright path.

CHAPTER 104A ¹In those days, saith the Lord, they shall call to the children of the earth, and make them listen to their wisdom. Show them that you are their leaders ²And that remuneration shall take place over the whole earth for I and my Son will for ever hold communion with them in the paths of uprightness, while they are still alive. Peace shall be yours. Rejoice, children of integrity, in the truth.

CHAPTER 105 ¹After a time, my son Mathusala took a wife for his son Lamech. ²She became pregnant by him, and brought forth a child, the flesh of which was as white as snow, and red as a rose the hair of whose head was white like wool, and long and whose eyes were beautiful. When he opened them, he illuminated all the house, like the sun the whole house abounded with light. ³And when he was taken from the hand of the midwife, Lamech his father became afraid of him and flying away came to his own father Mathusala, and said, I have begotten a son, unlike to other children. He is not human but, resembling the offspring of the angels of heaven, is of a different nature from ours, being altogether unlike to us. ⁴His eyes are bright as the rays of the sun his countenance glorious, and he looks not as if he belonged to me, but to the angels. ⁵I am afraid, lest something miraculous should take place on earth in his days. ⁶And now, my father, let me entreat and request you to go to our progenitor Enoch, and learn from him the truth for his residence is with the angels. ⁷When Mathusala heard the words of his son, he came to me at the extremities of the earth for he had been informed that I was there: and he cried out. ⁸I heard his voice, and went to him saying, Behold, I am here, my son since you have come to me. ⁹He answered and said, On account of a great event have I come to you and on account of a sight difficult to be comprehended have I approached you. ¹⁰And now, my father, hear me for to my son Lamech a child has been born, who resembles not him and whose nature is not like the nature of man. His colour is whiter than snow he is redder than the rose the hair of his head is whiter than white wool his eyes are like the rays of the sun and when he opened them he illuminated the whole house. ¹¹When also he was taken from the hand of the midwife, ¹²His father Lamech feared, and fled to me, believing not that the child belonged to him, but that he resembled the angels of heaven. And behold I am come to you, that you might point out to me the truth. ¹³Then I, Enoch, answered and said, The Lord will effect a new thing upon the earth. This have I explained, and seen in a vision. I have shown you that in the generations of Jared my father, those who were from heaven disregarded the word of the Lord. Behold they committed crimes laid aside their class, and intermingled with women. With them also they transgressed married with them, and begot children.^a ¹⁴A great destruction therefore shall come upon all the earth a deluge, a great destruction, shall take place in one year. ¹⁵This child which is born to your son shall survive on the earth, and his three sons shall be saved with him. When all mankind who are on the earth shall die, he shall be safe. ¹⁶And his posterity shall beget on the earth giants, not spiritual, but carnal. Upon the earth shall a great punishment be inflicted, and it shall be washed from all corruption. Now therefore inform your son Lamech, that he who is born is his child in truth and he shall call his name Noah, for he shall be to you a survivor. He and his children shall be saved from the corruption which shall take place in the world from all the sin and from all the iniquity which shall be consummated on earth in his days. Afterwards shall greater impiety take place than that which had been before consummated on the earth for I am acquainted with holy mysteries, which the Lord himself has discovered and explained to me and which I have read in the tablets of heaven. ¹⁷In them I saw it written, that the generation after generation shall transgress, until a righteous race shall arise until transgression and crime perish from off the earth until all goodness come upon it. ¹⁸And now, my son, go tell your son Lamech, ¹⁹That the child which is born is his child in truth and that there is no deception. ²⁰When Mathusala heard the word of his father Enoch, who had shown him every secret thing, he returned with understanding, and called the name of that child Noah because he was to console the earth on account of all its destruction. ²¹Another book, which Enoch wrote for his son Mathusala, and for those who should come after him, and preserve their purity of conduct in the latter days. You, who have laboured, shall wait in those days, until the evil doers be consumed, and the power of the guilty be annihilated. Wait, until sin pass away for their names shall be blotted out of the holy books their seed shall be destroyed, and their spirits slain. They shall cry out and lament in the invisible waste, and in the bottomless fire shall they burn. There I perceived, as it were, a cloud which could not be seen through for from the depth of it I was unable to look upwards. I beheld also a flame of fire blazing brightly, and, as it were, glittering mountains whirled around, and agitated from side to side. ²²Then I inquired of one of the holy angels who was with me, and said, What is this splendid object? For it is not heaven, but a flame of fire alone which blazes and in it there is the clamour of exclamation, of woe, and of great suffering. ²³He said, There, into that place which you behold, shall be thrust the spirits of sinners and blasphemers of those who shall do evil, and who shall pervert all which God has spoken by the mouth of the prophets all which they ought to do. For respecting these things there shall be writings and impressions above in heaven, that the angels may read them and know what shall happen both to sinners and to the spirits of the humble to those who have suffered in their bodies, but have been rewarded by God who have been injuriously treated by wicked men who have loved God who have been attached neither to gold nor silver, nor to any good thing in the world, but have given their bodies to torment ²⁴To those who from the period of their birth have not been covetous of earthly riches but have regarded themselves as a breath passing away. ²⁵Such has been their conduct and much has the Lord tried them and their spirits have been found pure, that they might bless his name. All their blessings have I related in a book and He has rewarded them for they have been found to love heaven with an everlasting aspiration. God has said, While they have been trodden down by wicked men, they have heard from them revilings and blasphemies and have been ignominiously treated, while they were blessing me. And now will I call the spirits of the good from the generation of light, and will change those who have been born in darkness who have not in their bodies been recompensed with glory, as their faith may have merited. ²⁶I will bring them into the splendid light of those who love my holy name: and I will place each of them on a throne of glory, of glory peculiarly his own, and they shall be at rest during unnumbered periods. Righteous is the judgment of God ²⁷For to the faithful shall he give faith in the habitations of uprightness. They shall see those, who have been born in darkness unto darkness shall be cast while the righteous shall be at rest. Sinners shall cry out, beholding them, while they exist in splendour and proceed forwards to the days and periods prescribed to them.

CHAPTER 1 ¹There was a wise man, a great artificer, and the Lord conceived love for him and received him, that he should behold the uppermost dwellings and be an eye-witness of the wise and great and inconceivable and immutable realm of God Almighty, of the very wonderful and glorious and bright and many-eyed station of the Lord's servants, and of the inaccessible throne of the Lord, and of the degrees and manifestations of the incorporeal hosts, and of the ineffable ministration of the multitude of the elements, and of the various apparition and inexpressible singing of the host of Cherubim, and of the boundless light. ² At that time, he said, when my one hundred and sixty-fifth year was completed, I begat my son Mathusal (Methuselah). ³ After this too I lived two hundred years and completed of all the years of my life three hundred and sixty-five years. ⁴ On the first day of the month I was in my house alone and was resting on my bed and slept. ⁵ And when I was asleep, great distress came up into my heart, and I was weeping with my eyes in sleep, and I could not understand what this distress was, or what would happen to me. ⁶ And there appeared to me two men, exceeding big, so that I never saw such on earth their faces were shining like the sun, their eyes too (were) like a burning light, and from their lips was fire coming forth with clothing and singing of various kinds in appearance purple, their wings brighter than gold, their hands whiter than snow. ⁷ They were standing at the head of my bed and began to call me by my name. ⁸ And I arose from my sleep and saw clearly those two men standing in front of me. ⁹ And I saluted them and was seized with fear and the appearance of my face was changed from terror, and those men said to me: ¹⁰ Have courage, Enoch, do not fear the eternal God sent us to you, and lo! You shalt to-day ascend with us into heaven, and you shall tell your sons and all your household all that they shall do without you on earth in your house, and let no one seek you till the Lord return you to them. ¹¹ And I made haste to obey them and went out from my house, and made to the doors, as it was ordered me, and summoned my sons Mathusal (Methuselah) and Regim and Gaidad and made known to them all the marvels those (men) had told me.

CHAPTER 2 ¹Listen to me, my children, I know not whither I go, or what will befall me now therefore, my children, I tell you: turn not from God before the face of the vain, who made not Heaven and earth, for these shall perish and those who worship them, and may the Lord make confident your hearts in the fear of him. And now, my children, let no one think to seek me, until the Lord return me to you.

CHAPTER 3 ¹It came to pass, when Enoch had told his sons, that the angels took him on to their wings and bore him up on to the first heaven and placed him on the clouds. And there I looked, and again I looked higher, and saw the ether, and they placed me on the first heaven and showed me a very great Sea, greater than the earthly sea.

CHAPTER 4 ¹They brought before my face the elders and rulers of the stellar orders, and showed me two hundred angels, who rule the stars and (their) services to the heavens, and fly with their wings and come round all those who sail.

CHAPTER 5 ¹And here I looked down and saw the treasure-houses of the snow, and the angels who keep their terrible store-houses, and the clouds whence they come out and into which they go.

CHAPTER 6 ¹They showed me the treasure-house of the dew, like oil of the olive, and the appearance of its form, as of all the flowers of the earth further many angels guarding the treasure-houses of these (things), and how they are made to shut and open.

CHAPTER 7 ¹And those men took me and led me up on to the second heaven, and showed me darkness, greater than earthly darkness, and there I saw prisoners hanging, watched, awaiting the great and boundless judgment, and these angels (spirits) were dark-looking, more than earthly darkness, and incessantly making weeping through all hours. ² And I said to the men who were with me: Wherefore are these incessantly tortured? They answered me: These are God's apostates, who obeyed not God's commands, but took counsel with their own will, and turned away with their prince, who also (is) fastened on the fifth heaven. ³ And I felt great pity for them, and they saluted me, and said to me: Man of God, pray for us to the Lord and I answered to them: Who am I, a mortal man, that I should pray for angels (spirits)? Who knows whither I go, or what will befall me? Or who will pray for me?

CHAPTER 8 ¹And those men took me thence, and led me up on to the third heaven, and placed me there and I looked downwards, and saw the produce of these places, such as has never been known for goodness. ² And I saw all the sweet-flowering trees and beheld their fruits, which were sweetsmelling, and all the foods borne (by them) bubbling with fragrant exhalation. ³ And in the midst of the trees that of life, in that place whereon the Lord rests, when he goes up into paradise and this tree is of ineffable goodness and fragrance, and adorned more than every existing thing and on all sides (it is) in form gold-looking and vermilion and fire-like and covers all, and it has produce from all fruits. ⁴ Its root is in the garden at the earth's end. ⁵ And paradise is between corruptibility and incorruptibility. ⁶ And two springs come out which send forth honey and milk, and their springs send forth oil and wine, and they separate into four parts, and go round with quiet course, and go down into the PARADISE OF EDEN, between corruptibility and incorruptibility. ⁷ And thence they go forth along the earth, and have a revolution to their circle even as other elements. ⁸ And here there is no unfruitful tree, and every place is blessed. ⁹ And (there are) three hundred angels very bright, who keep the garden, and with incessant sweet singing and never-silent ⁶² voices serve the Lord throughout all days and hours. ¹⁰ And I said: How very sweet is this place, and those men said to me:

CHAPTER 9 ¹This place, O Enoch, is prepared for the righteous, who endure all manner of offence from those that exasperate their souls, who avert their eyes from iniquity, and make righteous judgment, and give bread to the hungry, and cover the naked with clothing, and raise up the fallen, and help injured orphans, and who walk without fault before the face of the Lord, and serve him alone, and for them is prepared this place for eternal inheritance.

CHAPTER 10 ¹And those two men led me up on to the Northern side, and showed me there a very terrible place, and (there were) all manner of tortures in that place: cruel darkness and unilluminated gloom, and there is no light there, but murky fire constantly flaming aloft, and (there is) a fiery river coming forth, and that whole place is everywhere fire, and everywhere (there is) frost and ice, thirst and shivering, while the bonds are very cruel, and the angels (spirits) fearful and merciless, bearing angry weapons, merciless torture, and I said: ² Woe, woe, how very terrible is this place. ³ And those men said to me: This place, O Enoch, is prepared for those who dishonour God, who on earth practice sin against nature, which is child-corruption after the sodomitic fashion, magic-making, enchantments and devilish witchcrafts, and who boast of their wicked deeds, stealing, lies, calumnies, envy, rancour, fornication, murder, and who, accursed, steal the souls of men, who, seeing the poor take away their goods and themselves wax rich, injuring them for other men's goods who being able to satisfy the empty, made the hungering to die being able to clothe, stripped the naked and who knew not their creator, and bowed to the soulless (and lifeless) gods, who cannot see nor hear, vain gods, (who also) built hewn images and bow down to unclean handiwork, for all these is prepared this place among these, for eternal inheritance.

CHAPTER 11 ¹Those men took me, and led me up on to the fourth heaven, and showed me all the successive goings, and all the rays of the light of sun and moon. ² And I measure their goings, and compared their light, and saw that the sun's light is greater than the moon's. ³ Its circle and the wheels on which it goes always, like the wind going past with very marvellous speed, and day and night it has no rest. ⁴ Its passage and return (are accompanied by) four great stars, (and) each star has under it a thousand stars, to the right of the sun's wheel, (and by) four to the left, each having under it a thousand stars, altogether eight thousand, issuing with the sun continually. ⁵ And by day fifteen myriads of angels attend it, and by night A thousand. ⁶ And six-winged ones issue with the angels before the sun's wheel into the fiery flames, and a hundred angels kindle the sun and set it alight.

CHAPTER 12 ¹And I looked and saw other flying elements of the sun, whose names (are) Phoenixes and Chalkydri, marvellous and wonderful, with feet and tails in the form of a lion, and a crocodile's head, their appearance (is) empurpled, like the rainbow their size (is) nine hundred measures, their wings (are like) those of angels, each (has) twelve, and they attend and accompany the sun, bearing heat and dew, as it is ordered them from God. ² Thus (the sun) revolves and goes, and rises under the heaven, and its course goes under the earth with the light of its rays incessantly.

CHAPTER 13 ¹Those men bore me away to the east, and placed me at the sun's gates, where the sun goes forth according to the regulation of the seasons and the circuit of the months of the whole year, and the number of the hours day and night. ² And I saw six gates open, each gate having sixty-one stadia and A quarter of one stadium, and I measured (them) truly, and understood their size (to be) so much, through which the sun goes forth, and goes to the west, and is made even, and rises throughout all the months, and turns back again from the six gates according to the succession of the seasons thus (the period) of the whole year is finished after the returns of the four seasons.

CHAPTER 14 ¹And again those men led me away to the western parts, and showed me six great gates open corresponding to the eastern gates, opposite to where the sun sets, according to the number of the days three hundred and sixty-five and A quarter. ² Thus again it goes down to the western gates, (and) draws away its light, the greatness of its brightness, under the earth for since the crown of its shining is in heaven with the Lord, and guarded by four hundred angels, while the sun goes round on wheel under the earth, and stands seven great hours in night, and spends half (its course) under the earth, when it comes to the eastern approach in the eighth hour of the night, it brings its lights, and the crown of shining, and the sun flames forth more than fire.

CHAPTER 15 ¹Then the elements of the sun, called Phoenixes and Chalkydri break into song, therefore every bird flutters with its wings, rejoicing at the giver of light, and they broke into song at the command of the Lord. ² The giver of light comes to give brightness to the whole world, and the morning guard takes shape, which is the rays of the sun, and the sun of the earth goes out, and receives its brightness to light up the whole face of the earth, and they showed me this calculation of the sun's going. ³ And the gates which it enters, these are the great gates of the calculation of the hours of the year for this reason the sun is a great creation, whose circuit (lasts) twenty-eight years, and begins again from the beginning.

CHAPTER 16 ¹Those men showed me the other course, that of the moon, twelve great gates, crowned from west to east, by which the moon goes in and out of the customary times. ² It goes in at the first gate to the western places of the sun, by the first gates with (thirty)-one (days) exactly, by the second gates with thirty-one days exactly, by the third with thirty days exactly, by the fourth with thirty days exactly, by the fifth with thirty-one days exactly, by the sixth with thirty-one days exactly, by the seventh with thirty days exactly, by the eighth with thirtyone days perfectly, by the ninth with thirtyone days exactly, by the tenth with thirty days perfectly, by the eleventh with thirtyone days exactly, by the twelfth with twenty-eight days exactly. ³ And it goes through the western gates in the order and number of the eastern, and accomplishes the three hundred and sixtyfive and a quarter days of the solar year, while the lunar year has three hundred fiftyfour, and there are wanting (to it) twelve days of the solar circle, which are the lunar epacts of the whole year. ⁴ Thus, too, the great circle contains five hundred and thirty-two years. ⁵ The quarter (of a day) is omitted for three years, the fourth fulfills it exactly. ⁶ Therefore they are taken outside of heaven for three years and are not added to the ⁶⁴ number of days, because they change the time of the years to two new months towards completion, to two others towards diminution. ⁷ And when the western gates are finished, it returns and goes to the eastern to the lights, and goes thus day and night about the heavenly circles, lower than all circles, swifter than the heavenly winds, and spirits and elements and angels flying each angel has six wings. ⁸ It has a sevenfold course in nineteen years.

CHAPTER 17 ¹In the midst of the heavens I saw armed soldiers, serving the Lord, with tympana and organs, with incessant voice, with sweet voice, with sweet and incessant (voice) and various singing, which it is impossible to describe, and (which) astonishes every mind, so wonderful and marvellous is the singing of those angels, and I was delighted listening to it.

CHAPTER 18 ¹The men took me on to the fifth heaven and placed me, and there I saw many and countless soldiers, called Grigori, of human appearance, and their size (was) greater than that of great giants and their faces withered, and the silence of their mouths perpetual, and their was no service on the fifth heaven, and I said to the men who were with me: ² Wherefore are these very withered and their faces melancholy, and their mouths silent, and (wherefore) is there no service on this heaven? ³ And they said to me: These are the Grigori, who with their prince Satanail (Satan) rejected the Lord of light, and after them are those who are held in great darkness on the second heaven, and three of them went down on to earth from the Lord's throne, to the place Ermon, and broke through their vows on the shoulder of the hill Ermon and saw the daughters of men how good they are, and took to themselves wives, and befouled the earth with their deeds, who in all times of their age made lawlessness and mixing, and giants are born and marvellous big men and great enmity. ⁴ And therefore God judged them with great judgment, and they weep for their brethren and they will be punished on the Lord's great day. ⁵ And I said to the Grigori: I saw your brethren and their works, and their great torments, and I prayed for them, but the Lord has condemned them (to be) under earth till (the existing) heaven and earth shall end for ever. ⁶ And I said: Wherefore do you wait, brethren, and do not serve before the Lord's face, and have not put your services before the Lord's face, lest you anger your Lord utterly? ⁷ And they listened to my admonition, and spoke to the four ranks in heaven, and lo! As I stood with those two men four trumpets trumpeted together with great voice, and the Grigori broke into song with one voice, and their voice went up before the Lord pitifully and affectingly.

CHAPTER 19 ¹And thence those men took me and bore me up on to the sixth heaven, and there I saw seven bands of angels, very bright and very glorious, and their faces shining more than the sun's shining, glistening, and there is no difference in their faces, or behaviour, or manner of dress and these make the orders, and learn the goings of the stars, and the alteration of the moon, or revolution of the sun, and the good government of the world. ² And when they see evildoing they make commandments and instruction, and sweet and loud singing, and all (songs) of praise.

³ These are the archangels who are above angels, measure all life in heaven and on earth, and the angels who are (appointed) over seasons and years, the angels who are ⁶⁵ over rivers and sea, and who are over the fruits of the earth, and the angels who are over every grass, giving food to all, to every living thing, and the angels who write all the souls of men, and all their deeds, and their lives before the Lord's face in their midst are six Phoenixes and six Cherubim and six six-winged ones continually with one voice singing one voice, and it is not possible to describe their singing, and they rejoice before the Lord at his footstool.

CHAPTER 20 ¹And those two men lifted me up thence on to the seventh heaven, and I saw there a very great light, and fiery troops of great archangels, incorporeal forces, and dominions, orders and governments, Cherubim and seraphim, thrones and manyeyed ones, nine regiments, the loanit stations of light, and I became afraid, and began to tremble with great terror, and those men took me, and led me after them, and said to me: ² Have courage, Enoch, do not fear, and showed me the Lord from afar, sitting on His very high throne. For what is there on the tenth heaven, since the Lord dwells there? ³ On the tenth heaven is God, in the Hebrew tongue he is called Aravat. ⁴ And all the heavenly troops would come and stand on the ten steps according to their rank, and would bow down to the Lord, and would again go to their places in joy and felicity, singing songs in the boundless light with small and tender voices, gloriously serving him.

CHAPTER 21 ¹And the Cherubim and seraphim standing about the throne, the six-winged and many-eyed ones do not depart, standing before the Lord's face doing his will, and cover his whole throne, singing with gentle voice before the Lord's face: Holy, holy, holy, Lord Ruler of Sabaoth, heavens and earth are full of Your glory. ² When I saw all these things, those men said to me: Enoch, thus far is it commanded us to journey with you, and those men went away from me and thereupon I saw them not. ³ And I remained alone at the end of the seventh heaven and became afraid, and fell on my face and said to myself: Woe is me, what has befallen me? ⁴ And the Lord sent one of his glorious ones, the archangel Gabriel, and (he) said to me: Have courage, Enoch, do not fear, arise before the Lord's face into eternity, arise, come with me. ⁵ And I answered him, and said in myself: My Lord, my soul is departed from me, from terror and trembling, and I called to the men who led me up to this place, on them I relied, and (it is) with them I go before the Lord's face. ⁶ And Gabriel caught me up, as a leaf caught up by the wind, and placed me before the Lord's face. ⁷ And I saw the eighth heaven, which is called in the Hebrew tongue Muzaloth, changer of the seasons, of drought, and of wet, and of the twelve constellations of the circle of the firmament, which are above the seventh heaven. ⁸ And I saw the ninth heaven, which is called in Hebrew Kuchavim, where are the heavenly homes of the twelve constellations of the circle of the firmament.

CHAPTER 22 ¹On the tenth heaven, (which is called) Aravoth, I saw the appearance of the Lord's face, like iron made to glow in fire, and brought out, emitting sparks, and it burns. ² Thus (in a moment of eternity) I saw the Lord's face, but the Lord's face is ineffable, marvellous and very awful, and very, very terrible. ³ And who am I to tell of the Lord's unspeakable being, and of his very wonderful face? And I cannot tell the quantity of his many instructions, and various voices, the Lord's throne (is) very great and not made with hands, nor the quantity of those standing round him, troops of Cherubim and seraphim, nor their incessant singing, nor his immutable beauty, and who shall tell of the ineffable greatness of his glory. ⁴ And I fell prone and bowed down to the Lord, and the Lord with his lips said to me: ⁵ Have courage, Enoch, do not fear, arise and stand before my face into eternity. ⁶ And the archistratège Michael lifted me up, and led me to before the Lord's face. ⁷ And the Lord said to his servants tempting them: Let Enoch stand before my face into eternity, and the glorious ones bowed down to the Lord, and said: Let Enoch go according to Your word. ⁸ And the Lord said to Michael: Go and take Enoch from out (of) his earthly garments, and anoint him with my sweet ointment, and put him into the garments of My glory. ⁹ And Michael did thus, as the Lord told him. He anointed me, and dressed me, and the appearance of that ointment is more than the great light, and his ointment is like sweet dew, and its smell mild, shining like the sun's ray, and I looked at myself, and (I) was like (transfigured) one of his glorious ones. ¹⁰ And the Lord summoned one of his archangels by name Pravuil, whose knowledge was quicker in wisdom than the other archangels, who wrote all the deeds of the Lord and the Lord said to Pravuil: Bring out the books from my store-houses, and a reed of quick-writing, and give (it) to Enoch, and deliver to him the choice and comforting books out of your hand.

CHAPTER 23 ¹And he was telling me all the works of heaven, earth and sea, and all the elements, their passages and goings, and the thunderings of the thunders, the sun and moon, the goings and changes of the stars, the seasons, years, days, and hours, the risings of the wind, the numbers of the angels, and the formation of their songs, and all human things, the tongue of every human song and life, the commandments, instructions, and sweet-voiced singings, and all things that it is fitting to learn. ² And Pravuil told me: All the things that I have told you, we have written. Sit and write all the souls of mankind, however many of them are born, and the places prepared for them to eternity for all souls are prepared to eternity, before the formation of the world. ³ And all double thirty days and thirty nights, and I wrote out all things exactly, and wrote three hundred and sixty-six books.

CHAPTER 24 ¹And the Lord summoned me, and said to me: Enoch, sit down on my left with Gabriel. ² And I bowed down to the Lord, and the Lord spoke to me: Enoch, beloved, all (that) you see, all things that are standing finished I tell to you even before the very beginning, all that I created from non-being, and visible (physical) things from invisible (spiritual). ³ Hear, Enoch, and take in these my words, for not to My angels have I told my secret, and I have not told them their rise, nor my endless realm, nor have they understood my creating, which I tell you to-day. ⁴ For before all things were visible (physical), I alone used to go about in the invisible (spiritual) things, like the sun from east to west, and from west to east. ⁵ But even the sun has peace in itself, while I found no peace, because I was creating all things, and I conceived the thought of placing foundations, and of creating visible (physical) creation.

CHAPTER 25 ¹I commanded in the very lowest (parts), that visible (physical) things should come down from invisible (spiritual), and Adoil came down very great, and I beheld him, and lo! He had a belly of great light. ² And I said to him: Become undone, Adoil, and let the visible (physical) (come) out of you. ³ And he came undone, and a great light came out. And I (was) in the midst of the great light, and as there is born light from light, there came forth a great age, and showed all creation, which I had thought to create. ⁴ And I saw that (it was) good. ⁵ And I placed for myself a throne, and took my seat on it, and said to the light: Go thence up higher and fix yourself high above the throne, and be A foundation to the highest things. ⁶ And above the light there is nothing else, and then I bent up and looked up from my throne.

CHAPTER 26 ¹And I summoned the very lowest a second time, and said: Let Archas come forth hard, and he came forth hard from the invisible (spiritual). ² And Archas came forth, hard, heavy, and very red. ³ And I said: Be opened, Archas, and let there be born from you, and he came undone, an age came forth, very great and very dark, bearing the creation of all lower things, and I saw that (it was) good and said to him: ⁴ Go thence down below, and make yourself firm, and be a foundation for the lower things, and it happened and he went down and fixed himself, and became the foundation for the lower things, and below the darkness there is nothing else.

CHAPTER 27 ¹And I commanded that there should be taken from light and darkness, and I said: Be thick, and it became thus, and I spread it out with the light, and it became water, and I spread it out over the darkness, below the light, and then I made firm the waters, that is to say the bottomless, and I made foundation of light around the water, and created seven circles from inside, and imaged (the water) like crystal wet and dry, that is to say like glass, (and) the circumcession of the waters and the other elements, and I showed each one of them its road, and the seven stars each one of them in its heaven, that they go thus, and I saw that it was good. ² And I separated between light and between darkness, that is to say in the midst of the water hither and thither, and I said to the light, that it should be the day, and to the darkness, that it should be the night, and there was evening and there was morning the first day.

CHAPTER 28 ¹And then I made firm the heavenly circle, and (made) that the lower water which is under heaven collect itself together, into one whole, and that the chaos become dry, and it became so. ² Out of the waves I created rock hard and big, and from the rock I piled up the dry, and the dry I called earth, and the midst of the earth I called abyss, that is to say the bottomless, I collected the sea in one place and bound it together with a yoke. ³ And I said to the sea: Behold I give you (your) eternal limits, and you shalt not break loose from your component parts. ⁴ Thus I made fast the firmament. This day I called me the first-created [Sunday].

CHAPTER 29 ¹And for all the heavenly troops I imaged the image and essence of fire, and my eye looked at the very hard, firm rock, and from the gleam of my eye the lightning received its wonderful nature, (which) is both fire in water and water in fire, and one does not put out the other, nor does the one dry up the other, therefore the lightning is brighter than the sun, softer than water and firmer than hard rock. ² And from the rock I cut off a great fire, and from the fire I created the orders of the incorporeal ten troops of angels, and their weapons are fiery and their raiment a burning flame, and I commanded that each one should stand in his order. ³ And one from out the order of angels, having turned away with the order that was under him, conceived an impossible thought, to place his throne higher than the clouds above the earth, that he might become equal in rank to my power. ⁴ And I threw him out from the height with his angels, and he was flying in the air continuously above the bottomless.

CHAPTER 30 ¹On the third day I commanded the earth to make grow great and fruitful trees, and hills, and seed to sow, and I planted Paradise, and enclosed it, and placed as armed (guardians) flaming angels, and thus I created renewal. ² Then came evening, and came morning the fourth day. ³ [Wednesday]. On the fourth day I commanded that there should be great lights on the heavenly circles. ⁴ On the first uppermost circle I placed the stars, Kruno, and on the second Aphrodit, on the third Aris, on the fifth Zoues, on the sixth Ermis, on the seventh lesser the moon, and adorned it with the lesser stars. ⁵ And on the lower I placed the sun for the illumination of day, and the moon and stars for the illumination of night. ⁶ The sun that it should go according to each constellation, twelve, and I appointed the succession of the months and their names and lives, their thunderings, and their hourmarkings, how they should succeed. ⁷ Then evening came and morning came the fifth day. ⁸ [Thursday]. On the fifth day I commanded the sea, that it should bring forth fishes, and feathered birds of many varieties, and all animals creeping over the earth, going forth over the earth on four legs, and soaring in the air, male sex and female, and every soul breathing the spirit of life. ⁹ And there came evening, and there came morning the sixth day. ¹⁰ [Friday]. On the sixth day I commanded my wisdom to create man from seven consistencies: one, his flesh from the earth two, his blood from the dew three, his eyes from the sun four, his bones from stone five, his intelligence from the swiftness of the angels and from cloud six, his veins and his hair from the grass of the earth seven, his soul from my breath and from the wind. ¹¹ And I gave him seven natures: to the flesh hearing, the eyes for sight, to the soul smell, the veins for touch, the blood for taste, the bones for endurance, to the intelligence sweetness [enjoyment]. ¹² I conceived a cunning saying to say, I created man from invisible (spiritual) and from visible (physical) nature, of both are his death and life and image, he knows speech like some created thing, small in greatness and again great in smallness, and I placed him on earth, a second angel, honourable, great and glorious, and I appointed him as ruler to rule on earth and to have my wisdom, and there was none like him of earth of all my existing creatures. ⁶⁹ ¹³ And I appointed him a name, from the four component parts, from east, from west, from south, from north, and I appointed for him four special stars, and I called his name Adam, and showed him the two ways, the light and the darkness, and I told him: ¹⁴ This is good, and that bad, that I should learn whether he has love towards me, or hatred, that it be clear which in his race love me. ¹⁵ For I have seen his nature, but he has not seen his own nature, therefore (through) not seeing he will sin worse, and I said After sin (what is there) but death? ¹⁶ And I put sleep into him and he fell asleep. And I took from him A rib, and created him a wife, that death should come to him by his wife, and I took his last word and called her name mother, that is to say, Eva (Eve).

CHAPTER 31 ¹Adam has life on earth, and I created a garden in Eden in the east, that he should observe the testament and keep the command. ² I made the heavens open to him, that he should see the angels singing the song of victory, and the gloomless light. ³ And he was continuously in paradise, and the devil understood that I wanted to create another world, because Adam was lord on earth, to rule and control it. ⁴ The devil is the evil spirit of the lower places, as a fugitive he made Sotona from the heavens as his name was Satanail (Satan), thus he became different from the angels, (but his nature) did not change (his) intelligence as far as (his) understanding of righteous and sinful (things). ⁵ And he understood his condemnation and the sin which he had sinned before, therefore he conceived thought against Adam, in such form he entered and seduced Eva (Eve), but did not touch Adam. ⁶ But I cursed ignorance, but what I had blessed previously, those I did not curse, I cursed not man, nor the earth, nor other creatures, but man's evil fruit, and his works.

CHAPTER 32 ¹I said to him: Earth you are, and into the earth whence I took you you shalt go, and I will not ruin you, but send you whence I took you. ² Then I can again receive you at My second presence. ³ And I blessed all my creatures visible (physical) and invisible (spiritual). And Adam was five and half hours in paradise. ⁴ And I blessed the seventh day, which is the Sabbath, on which he rested from all his works.

CHAPTER 33 ¹And I appointed the eighth day also, that the eighth day should be the firstcreated after my work, and that (the first seven) revolve in the form of the seventh thousand, and that at the beginning of the eighth thousand there should be a time of not-counting, endless, with neither years nor months nor weeks nor days nor hours. ² And now, Enoch, all that I have told you, all that you have understood, all that you have seen of heavenly things, all that you have seen on earth, and all that I have written in books by my great wisdom, all these things I have devised and created from the uppermost foundation to the lower and to the end, and there is no counsellor nor inheritor to my creations. ³ I am self-eternal, not made with hands, and without change. ⁴ My thought is my counsellor, my wisdom and my word are made, and my eyes observe all things how they stand here and tremble with terror. ⁵ If I turn away my face, then all things will be destroyed. ⁶ And apply your mind, Enoch, and know him who is speaking to you, and take thence the books which you yourself have written. ⁷ And I give you Samuil and Raguil, who led you up, and the books, and go down to earth, and tell your sons all that I have told you, and all that you have seen, from the lower heaven up to my throne, and all the troops. ⁸ For I created all forces, and there is none that resists me or that does not subject himself to me. For all subject themselves to my monarchy, and labour for my sole rule. ⁹ Give them the books of the handwriting, and they will read (them) and will know me for the creator of all things, and will understand how there is no other God but me. ¹⁰ And let them distribute the books of your handwriting—children to children, generation to generation, nations to nations. ¹¹ And I will give you, Enoch, my intercessor, the archistrateger Michael, for the handwritings of your fathers Adam, Seth, Enos, Cainan, Mahaleleel, and Jared your father.

CHAPTER 34 ¹They have rejected my commandments and my yoke, worthless seed has come up, not fearing God, and they would not bow down to me, but have begun to bow down to vain gods, and denied my unity, and have laden the whole earth with untruths, offences, abominable lecheries, namely one with another, and all manner of other unclean wickedness, which are disgusting to relate. ² And therefore I will bring down a deluge upon the earth and will destroy all men, and the whole earth will crumble together into great darkness.

CHAPTER 35 ¹Behold from their seed shall arise another generation, much afterwards, but of them many will be very insatiate. ² He who raises that generation, (shall) reveal to them the books of your handwriting, of your fathers, (to them) to whom he must point out the guardianship of the world, to the faithful men and workers of my pleasure, who do not acknowledge my name in vain. ³ And they shall tell another generation, and those (others) having read shall be glorified thereafter, more than the first.

CHAPTER 36 ¹Now, Enoch, I give you the term of thirty days to spend in your house, and tell your sons and all your household, that all may hear from my face what is told them by you, that they may read and understand, how there is no other God but me. ² And that they may always keep my commandments, and begin to read and take in the books of your handwriting. ³ And after thirty days I shall send my angel for you, and he will take you from earth and from your sons to me.

CHAPTER 37 ¹And the Lord called upon one of the older angels, terrible and menacing, and placed him by me, in appearance white as snow, and his hands like ice, having the appearance of great frost, and he froze my face, because I could not endure the terror of the Lord, just as it is not possible to endure A stove's fire and the sun's heat, and the frost of the air. ² And the Lord said to me: Enoch, if your face be not frozen here, no man will be able to behold your face.

CHAPTER 38 ¹And the Lord said to those men who first led me up: Let Enoch go down on to earth with you, and await him till the determined day. ² And they placed me by night on my bed. ³ And Mathusal (Methuselah) expecting my coming, keeping watch by day and by night at my bed, was filled with awe when he heard my coming, and I told him, Let all my household come together, that I tell them everything.

CHAPTER 39 ¹Oh my children, my beloved ones, hear the admonition of your father, as much as is according to the Lord's will. ² I have been let come to you to-day, and announce to you, not from my lips, but from the Lord's lips, all that is and was and all that is now, and all that will be till judgment-day. ³ For the Lord has let me come to you, you hear therefore the words of my lips, of a man made big for you, but I am one who has seen the Lord's face, like iron made to glow from fire it sends forth sparks and burns. ⁴ You look now upon my eyes, (the eyes) of a man big with meaning for you, but I have seen the Lord's eyes, shining like the sun's rays and filling the eyes of man with awe. ⁵ You see now, my children, the right hand of a man that helps you, but I have seen the Lord's right hand filling heaven as he helped me. ⁶ You see the compass of my work like your own, but I have seen the Lord's limitless and perfect compass, which has no end. ⁷ You hear the words of my lips, as I heard the words of the Lord, like great thunder incessantly with hurling of clouds. ⁸ And now, my children, hear the discourses of the father of the earth, how fearful and awful it is to come before the face of the ruler of the earth, how much more terrible and awful it is to come before the face of the ruler of heaven, the controller (judge) of quick and dead, and of the heavenly troops. Who can endure that endless pain?

CHAPTER 40 ¹And now, my children, I know all things, for this (is) from the Lord's lips, and this my eyes have seen, from beginning to end. ² I know all things, and have written all things into books, the heavens and their end, and their plenitude, and all the armies and their marchings. ³ I have measured and described the stars, the great countless multitude (of them). ⁴ What man has seen their revolutions, and their entrances? For not even the angels see their number, while I have written all their names. ⁵

And I measured the sun's circle, and measured its rays, counted the hours, I wrote down too all things that go over the earth, I have written the things that are nourished, and all seed sown and unsown, which the earth produces and all plants, and every grass and every flower, and their sweet smells, and their names, and the dwellingplaces of the clouds, and their composition, and their wings, and how they bear rain and raindrops. ⁶ And I investigated all things, and wrote the road of the thunder and of the lightning, and they showed me the keys and their guardians, their rise, the way they go it is let out (gently) in measure by a chain, lest by A heavy chain and violence it hurl down the angry clouds and destroy all things on earth. ⁷ I wrote the treasure-houses of the snow, and the store-houses of the cold and the frosty airs, and I observed their season's key-holder, he fills the clouds with them, and does not exhaust the treasure-houses. ⁸ And I wrote the resting-places of the winds and observed and saw how their key holders bear weighing-scales and measures first, they put them in (one) weighing-scale, then in the other the weights and let them out according to measure cunningly over the whole earth, lest by heavy breathing they make the earth to rock. ⁹ And I measured out the whole earth, its mountains, and all hills, fields, trees, stones, rivers, all existing things I wrote down, the height from earth to the seventh heaven, and downwards to the very lowest hell, and the judgment-place, and the very great, open and weeping hell. ¹⁰ And I saw how the prisoners are in pain, expecting the limitless judgment. ¹¹ And I wrote down all those being judged by the judge, and all their judgment (and sentences) and all their works.

CHAPTER 41 ¹And I saw all forefathers from (all) time with Adam and Eva (Eve), and I sighed and broke into tears and said of the ruin of their dishonour: ² Woe is me for my infirmity and (for that) of my forefathers, and thought in my heart and said: ³ Blessed (is) the man who has not been born or who has been born and shall not sin before the Lord's face, that he come not into this place, nor bring the yoke of this place.

CHAPTER 42 ¹I saw the key-holders and guards of the gates of hell standing, like great serpents, and their faces like extinguishing lamps, and their eyes of fire, their sharp teeth, and I saw all the Lord's works, how they are right, while the works of man are some (good), and others bad, and in their works are known those who lie evilly.

CHAPTER 43 ¹I, my children, measured and wrote out every work and every measure and every righteous judgment. ² As (one) year is more honourable than another, so is (one) man more honourable than another, some for great possessions, some for wisdom of heart, some for particular intellect, some for cunning, one for silence of lip, another for cleanliness, one for strength, another for comeliness, one for youth, another for sharp wit, one for shape of body, another for sensibility, let it be heard everywhere, but there is none better than he who fears God, he shall be more glorious in time to come.

CHAPTER 44 ¹The Lord with his hands having created man, in the likeness of his own face, the Lord made him small and great. ² Whoever reviles the ruler's face, and abhors the Lord's face, has despised the Lord's face, and he who vents anger on any man without injury, the Lord's great anger will cut him down, he who spits on the face of man reproachfully, will be cut down at the Lord's great judgment. ³ Blessed is the man who does not direct his heart with malice against any man, and helps the injured and condemned, and raises the broken down, and shall do charity to the needy, because on the day of the great judgment every weight, every measure and every makeweight (will be) as in the market, that is to say (they are) hung on scales and stand in the market, (and every one) shall learn his own measure, and according to his measure shall take his reward.

CHAPTER 45 ¹Whoever hastens to make offerings before the Lord's face, the Lord for his part will hasten that offering by granting of his work. ² But whoever increases his lamp before the Lord's face and make not true judgment, the ⁷³ Lord will (not) increase his treasure in the realm of the highest. ³ When the Lord demands bread, or candles, or (the)flesh (of beasts), or any other sacrifice, then that is nothing but God demands pure hearts, and with all that (only) tests the heart of man.

CHAPTER 46 ¹Hear, my people, and take in the words of my lips. ² If any one bring any gifts to an earthly ruler, and have disloyal thoughts in his heart, and the ruler know this, will he not be angry with him, and not refuse his gifts, and not give him over to judgment? ³ Or (if) one man make himself appear good to another by deceit of tongue, but (have) evil in his heart, then will not (the other) understand the treachery of his heart, and himself be condemned, since his untruth was plain to all? ⁴ And when the Lord shall send a great light, then there will be judgment for the just and the unjust, and there no one shall escape notice.

CHAPTER 47 ¹And now, my children, lay thought on your hearts, mark well the words of your father, which are all (come) to you from the Lord's lips. ² Take these books of your father's handwriting and read them. ³ For the books are many, and in them you will learn all the Lord's works, all that has been from the beginning of creation, and will be till the end of time. ⁴ And if you will observe my handwriting, you will not sin against the Lord because there is no other except the Lord, neither in heaven, nor in earth, nor in the very lowest (places), nor in the (one) foundation. ⁵ The Lord has placed the foundations in the unknown, and has spread forth heavens visible (physical) and invisible (spiritual) he fixed the earth on the waters, and created countless creatures, and who has counted the water and the foundation of the unfixed, or the dust of the earth, or the sand of the sea, or the drops of the rain, or the morning dew, or the wind's breathings? Who has filled earth and sea, and the indissoluble winter? ⁶ I cut the stars out of fire, and decorated heaven, and put it in their midst.

CHAPTER 48 ¹That the sun go along the seven heavenly circles, which are the appointment of one hundred and eighty-two thrones, that it go down on a short day, and again one hundred and eighty-two, that it go down on a big day, and he has two thrones on which he rests, revolving hither and thither above the thrones of the months, from the seventeenth day of the month Tsivan it goes down to the month Thevan, from the seventeenth of Thevan it goes up. ² And thus it goes close to the earth, then the earth is glad and makes grow its fruits, and when it goes away, then the earth is sad, and trees and all fruits have no florescence.

³ All this he measured, with good measurement of hours, and fixed A measure by his wisdom, of the visible (physical) and the invisible (spiritual). ⁴ From the invisible (spiritual) he made all things visible (physical), himself being invisible (spiritual). ⁵ Thus I make known to you, my children, and distribute the books to your children, into all your generations, and amongst the nations who shall have the sense to fear God, let them receive them, and may they come to love them more than any food or earthly sweets, and read them and apply themselves to them. ⁶ And those who understand not the Lord, who fear not God, who accept not, but ⁷⁴ reject, who do not receive the (books), a terrible judgment awaits these. ⁷ Blessed is the man who shall bear their yoke and shall drag them along, for he shall be released on the day of the great judgment.

CHAPTER 49 ¹I swear to you, my children, but I swear not by any oath, neither by heaven nor by earth, nor by any other creature which God created. ² The Lord said: There is no oath in me, nor injustice, but truth. ³ If there is no truth in men, let them swear by the words, Yea, yea, or else, Nay, nay. ⁴ And I swear to you, yea, yea, that there has been no man in his mother's womb, (but that) already before, even to each one there is a place prepared for the repose of that soul, and a measure fixed how much it is intended that a man be tried in this world. ⁵ Yea, children, deceive not yourselves, for there has been previously prepared a place for every soul of man.

CHAPTER 50 ¹I have put every man's work in writing and none born on earth can remain hidden nor his works remain concealed. ² I see all things. ³ Now therefore, my children, in patience and meekness spend the number of your days, that you inherit endless life. ⁴ Endure for the sake of the Lord every wound, every injury, every evil word and attack. ⁵ If ill-requitals befall you, return (them) not either to neighbour or enemy, because the Lord will return (them) for you and be your avenger on the day of great judgment, that there be no avenging here among men. ⁶ Whoever of you spends gold or silver for his brother's sake, he will receive ample treasure in the world to come. ⁷ Injure not widows nor orphans nor strangers, lest God's wrath come upon you.

CHAPTER 51 ¹Stretch out your hands to the poor according to your strength. ² Hide not your silver in the earth. ³ Help the faithful man in affliction, and affliction will not find you in the time of your trouble. ⁴ And every grievous and cruel yoke that come upon you bear all for the sake of the Lord, and thus you will find your reward in the day of judgment. ⁵ It is good to go morning, midday, and evening into the Lord's dwelling, for the glory of your creator. ⁶ Because every breathing (thing) glorifies him, and every creature visible (physical) and invisible (spiritual) returns him praise.

CHAPTER 52 ¹Blessed is the man who opens his lips in praise of God of Sabaoth and praises the Lord with his heart. ² Cursed every man who opens his lips for the bringing into contempt and calumny of his neighbour, because he brings God into contempt. ³ Blessed is he who opens his lips blessing and praising God. ⁴ Cursed is he before the Lord all the days of his life, who opens his lips to curse and abuse. ⁵ Blessed is he who blesses all the Lord's works. ⁶ Cursed is he who brings the Lord's creation into contempt. ⁷ Blessed is he who looks down and raises the fallen. ⁸ Cursed is he who looks to and is eager for the destruction of what is not his.

⁹ Blessed is he who keeps the foundations of his fathers made firm from the beginning. ¹⁰ Cursed is he who perverts the decrees of his forefathers. ¹¹ Blessed is he who imparts peace and love. ¹² Cursed is he who disturbs those that love their neighbours. ¹³ Blessed is he who speaks with humble tongue and heart to all. ¹⁴ Cursed is he who speaks peace with his tongue, while in his heart there is no peace but a sword. ¹⁵ For all these things will be laid bare in the weighing-scales and in the books, on the day of the great judgment.

CHAPTER 53 ¹And now, my children, do not say: Our father is standing before God, and is praying for our sins, for there is there no helper of any man who has sinned. ² You see how I wrote all works of every man, before his creation, (all) that is done amongst all men for all time, and none can tell or relate my handwriting, because the Lord see all imaginings of man, how they are vain, where they lie in the treasurehouses of the heart. ³ And now, my children, mark well all the words of your father, that I tell you, lest you regret, saying: Why did our father not tell us?

CHAPTER 54 ¹At that time, not understanding this let these books which I have given you be for an inheritance of your peace. ² Hand them to all who want them, and instruct them, that they may see the Lord's very great and marvellous works.

CHAPTER 55 ¹My children, behold, the day of my term and time have approached. ² For the angels who shall go with me are standing before me and urge me to my departure from you they are standing here on earth, awaiting what has been told them. ³ For tomorrow I shall go up on to heaven, to the uppermost Jerusalem to my eternal inheritance. ⁴ Therefore I bid you do before the Lord's face all (his) good pleasure.

CHAPTER 56 ¹Mathosalam having answered his father Enoch, said: What is agreeable to your eyes, father, that I may make before your face, that you may bless our dwellings, and your sons, and that your people may be made glorious through you, and then (that) you may depart thus, as the Lord said? ² Enoch answered to his son

Mathosalam (and) said: Hear, child, from the time when the Lord anointed me with the ointment of his glory, (there has been no) food in me, and my soul remembers not earthly enjoyment, neither do I want anything earthly.

CHAPTER 57 ¹My child Methosalam, summon all your brethren and all your household and the elders of the people, that I may talk to them and depart, as is planned for me. ² And Methosalam made haste, and summoned his brethren, Regim, Riman, Uchan, Chermion, Gaidad, and all the elders of the people before the face of his father Enoch and he blessed them, (and) said to them:

CHAPTER 58 ¹Listen to me, my children, to-day. ² In those days when the Lord came down on to earth for Adam's sake, and visited all his creatures, which he created himself, after all these he created Adam, and the Lord called all the beasts of the earth, all the reptiles, and all the birds that soar in the air, and brought them all before the face of our father Adam. ³ And Adam gave the names to all things living on earth. ⁴ And the Lord appointed him ruler over all, and subjected to him all things under his hands, and made them dumb and made them dull that they be commanded of man, and be in subjection and obedience to him. ⁵ Thus also the Lord created every man lord over all his possessions. ⁶ The Lord will not judge a single soul of beast for man's sake, but adjudges the souls of men to their beasts in this world for men have a special place. ⁷ And as every soul of man is according to number, similarly beasts will not perish, nor all souls of beasts which the Lord created, till the great judgment, and they will accuse man, if he feed them ill.

CHAPTER 59 ¹Whoever defiles the soul of beasts, defiles his own soul. ² For man brings clean animals to make sacrifice for sin, that he may have cure of his soul. ³ And if they bring for sacrifice clean animals, and birds, man has cure, he cures his soul. ⁴ All is given you for food, bind it by the four feet, that is to make good the cure, he cures his soul. ⁵ But whoever kills beast without wounds, kills his own souls and defiles his own flesh. ⁶ And he who does any beast any injury whatsoever, in secret, it is evil practice, and he defiles his own soul.

CHAPTER 60 ¹He who works the killing of a man's soul, kills his own soul, and kills his own body, and there is no cure for him for all time. ² He who puts a man in any snare, shall stick in it himself, and there is no cure for him for all time. ³ He who puts a man in any vessel, his retribution will not be wanting at the great judgment for all time. ⁴ He who works crookedly or speaks evil against any soul, will not make justice for himself for all time.

CHAPTER 61 ¹And now, my children, keep your hearts from every injustice, which the Lord hates. Just as a man asks something for his own soul from God, so let him do to every living soul, because I know all things, how in the great time to come there is much inheritance prepared for men, good for the good, and bad for the bad, without number many. ² Blessed are those who enter the good houses, for in the bad houses there is no peace nor return from them. ³ Hear, my children, small and great! When man puts a good thought in his heart, brings gifts from his labours before the Lord's face and his hands made them not, then the Lord will turn away his face from the labour of his hand, and (that) man cannot find the labour of his hands. ⁴ And if his hands made it, but his heart murmur, and his heart cease not making murmur incessantly, he has not any advantage.

CHAPTER 62 ¹Blessed is the man who in his patience brings his gifts with faith before the Lord's face, because he will find forgiveness of sins. ² But if he take back his words before the time, there is no repentance for him and if the time pass and he do not of his own will what is promised, there is no repentance after death. ³ Because every work which man does before the time, is all deceit before men, and sin before God.

CHAPTER 63 ¹When man clothes the naked and fills the hungry, he will find reward from God. ² But if his heart murmur, he commits a double evil ruin of himself and of that which he gives and for him there will be no finding of reward on account of that. ³ And if his own heart is filled with his food and his own flesh, clothed with his own clothing, he commits contempt, and will forfeit all his endurance of poverty, and will not find reward of his good deeds. ⁴ Every proud and magniloquent man is hateful to the Lord, and every false speech, clothed in untruth it will be cut with the blade of the sword of death, and thrown into the fire, and shall burn for all time.

CHAPTER 64 ¹When Enoch had spoken these words to his sons, all people far and near heard how the Lord was calling Enoch. They took counsel together: ² Let us go and kiss Enoch, and two thousand men came together and came to the place Achuzan where Enoch was, and his sons. ³ And the elders of the people, the whole assembly, came and bowed down and began to kiss Enoch and said to him: ⁴ Our father Enoch, (may) you (be) blessed of the Lord, the eternal ruler, and now bless your sons and all the people, that we may be glorified to-day before your face. ⁵ For you shalt be glorified before the Lord's face for all time, since the Lord chose you, rather than all men on earth, and designated you writer of all his creation, visible (physical) and invisible (spiritual), and redeemed of the sins of man, and helper of your household.

CHAPTER 65 ¹And Enoch answered all his people saying: Hear, my children, before that all creatures were created, the Lord created the visible (physical) and invisible (spiritual) things. ² And as much time as there was and went past, understand that after all that he created man in the likeness of his own form, and put into him eyes to see, and ears to hear, and heart to reflect, and intellect wherewith to deliberate. ³ And the Lord saw all man's works, and created all his creatures, and divided time, from time he fixed the years, and from the years he appointed the months, and from the months he appointed the days, and of days he appointed seven. ⁴ And in those he appointed the hours, measured them out exactly, that man might reflect on time and count years, months, and hours, (their) alternation, beginning, and end, and that he might count his own life, from the beginning until death, and reflect on his sin and write his work bad and good because no work is hidden before the Lord, that every man might know his works and never transgress all his commandments, and keep my handwriting from generation to generation. ⁵ When all creation visible (physical) and invisible (spiritual), as the Lord created it, shall end, then every man goes to the great judgment, and then all time shall perish, and the years, and thenceforward there will be neither months nor days nor hours, they will be adhered together and will not be counted. ⁶ There will be one aeon, and all the righteous who shall escape the Lord's great judgment, shall be collected in the great aeon, for the righteous the great aeon will begin, and they will live eternally, and then too there will be amongst them neither labour, nor sickness, nor humiliation, nor anxiety, nor need, nor brutality, nor night, nor darkness, but great light. ⁷ And they shall have a great indestructible wall, and a paradise bright and incorruptible (eternal), for all corruptible (mortal) things shall pass away, and there will be eternal life.

CHAPTER 66 ¹And now, my children, keep your souls from all injustice, such as the Lord hates. ² Walk before his face with terror and trembling and serve him alone. ³ Bow down to the true God, not to dumb idols, but bow down to his similitude, and bring all just offerings before the Lord's face. The Lord hates what is unjust. ⁴ For the Lord sees all things when man takes thought in his heart, then he counsels the intellects, and every thought is always before the Lord, who made firm the earth and put all creatures on it. ⁵ If you look to heaven, the Lord is there if you take thought of the sea's deep and all the under-earth, the Lord is there. ⁶ For the Lord created all things. Bow not down to things made by man, leaving the Lord of all creation, because no work can remain hidden before the Lord's face. ⁷ Walk, my children, in long-suffering, in meekness, honesty, in provocation, in grief, in faith and in truth, in (reliance on) promises, in illness, in abuse, in wounds, in temptation, in nakedness, in privation, loving one another, till you go out from this age of ills, that you become inheritors of endless time. ⁸ Blessed are the just who shall escape the great judgment, for they shall shine forth more than the sun sevenfold, for in this world the seventh part is taken off from all, light, darkness, food, enjoyment, sorrow, paradise, torture, fire, frost, and other things he put all down in writing, that you might read and understand.

CHAPTER 67 ¹When Enoch had talked to the people, the Lord sent out darkness on to the earth, and there was darkness, and it covered those men standing with Enoch, and they took Enoch up on to the highest heaven, where the Lord (is) and he received him and placed him before his face, and the darkness went off from the earth, and light came again. ² And the people saw and understood not how Enoch had been taken, and glorified God, and found a roll in which was traced The Invisible (spiritual) God and all went to their dwelling places.

CHAPTER 68 ¹Enoch was born on the sixth day of the month Tsivan, and lived three hundred and sixty-five years. ² He was taken up to heaven on the first day of the month Tsivan and remained in heaven sixty days. ³ He wrote all these signs of all creation, which the Lord created, and wrote three hundred and sixty-six books, and handed them over to his sons and remained on earth thirty days, and was again taken up to heaven on the sixth day of the month Tsivan, on the very day and hour when he was born. ⁷And they took sacrificial oxen and summoned all people and sacrificed the sacrifice before the Lord's face. ⁴ As every man's nature in this life is dark, so are also his conception, birth, and departure from this life. ⁸ All people, the elders of the people and the whole assembly came to the feast and brought gifts to the sons of Enoch. ⁵ At what hour he was conceived, at that hour he was born, and at that hour too he died. ⁹ And they made a great feast, rejoicing and making merry three days, praising God, who had given them such a sign through Enoch, who had found favour with him, and that they should hand it on to their sons from generation to generation, from age to age. ⁶ Methosalam and his brethren, all the sons of Enoch, made haste, and erected an altar at that place called Achuzan, whence and where Enoch had been taken up to heaven. ¹⁰ Amen.

JOB

CHAPTER 1 ¹There was a man in the land of Uz, whose name was Job and that man was perfect and upright, and one that feared God, and eschewed evil.²And there were born unto him seven sons and three daughters.³His substance also was seven thousand sheep, and three thousand camels, and five hundred yoke of oxen, and five hundred she asses, and a very great household so that this man was the greatest of all the men of the east.⁴And his sons went and feasted in their houses, every one his day and sent and called for their three sisters to eat and to drink with them.⁵And it was so, when the days of their feasting were gone about, that Job sent and sanctified them, and rose up early in the morning, and offered burnt offerings according to the number of them all: for Job said, It may be that my sons have sinned, and cursed God in their hearts. Thus did Job continually.⁶Now there was a day when the sons of God came to present themselves before the LORD, and Satan came also among them.⁷And the LORD said unto Satan, Whence comest thou? Then Satan answered the LORD, and said, From going to and fro in the earth, and from walking up and down in it.⁸And the LORD said unto Satan, Hast thou considered my servant Job, that there is none like him in the earth, a perfect and an upright man, one that feareth God, and escheweth evil?⁹Then Satan answered the LORD, and said, Doth Job fear God for nought?¹⁰Hast not thou made an hedge about him, and about his house, and about all that he hath on every side? thou hast blessed the work of his hands, and his substance is increased in the land.¹¹But put forth thine hand now, and touch all that he hath, and he will curse thee to thy face.¹²And the LORD said unto

Satan, Behold, all that he hath is in thy power only upon himself put not forth thine hand. So Satan went forth from the presence of the LORD.¹³And there was a day when his sons and his daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldest brother's house:¹⁴And there came a messenger unto Job, and said, The oxen were plowing, and the asses feeding beside them:¹⁵And the Sabeans fell upon them, and took them away yea, they have slain the servants with the edge of the sword and I only am escaped alone to tell thee.¹⁶While he was yet speaking, there came also another, and said, The fire of God is fallen from heaven, and hath burned up the sheep, and the servants, and consumed them and I only am escaped alone to tell thee.¹⁷While he was yet speaking, there came also another, and said, The Chaldeans made out three bands, and fell upon the camels, and have carried them away, yea, and slain the servants with the edge of the sword and I only am escaped alone to tell thee.¹⁸While he was yet speaking, there came also another, and said, Thy sons and thy daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldest brother's house:¹⁹And, behold, there came a great wind from the wilderness, and smote the four corners of the house, and it fell upon the young men, and they are dead and I only am escaped alone to tell thee.²⁰Then Job arose, and rent his mantle, and shaved his head, and fell down upon the ground, and worshipped,²¹And said, Naked came I out of my mother's womb, and naked shall I return thither: the LORD gave, and the LORD hath taken away blessed be the name of the LORD.²²In all this Job sinned not, nor charged God foolishly.

CHAPTER 2 ¹Again there was a day when the sons of God came to present themselves before the LORD, and Satan came also among them to present himself before the LORD.²And the LORD said unto Satan, From whence comest thou? And Satan answered the LORD, and said, From going to and fro in the earth, and from walking up and down in it.³And the LORD said unto Satan, Hast thou considered my servant Job, that there is none like him in the earth, a perfect and an upright man, one that feareth God, and escheweth evil? and still he holdeth fast his integrity, although thou movedst me against him, to destroy him without cause.⁴And Satan answered the LORD, and said, Skin for skin, yea, all that a man hath will he give for his life.⁵But put forth thine hand now, and touch his bone and his flesh, and he will curse thee to thy face.⁶And the LORD said unto Satan, Behold, he is in thine hand but save his life.⁷So went Satan forth from the presence of the LORD, and smote Job with sore boils from the sole of his foot unto his crown.⁸And he took him a potsherd to scrape himself withal and he sat down among the ashes.⁹Then said his wife unto him, Dost thou still retain thine integrity? curse God, and die.¹⁰But he said unto her, Thou speakest as one of the foolish women speaketh. What? shall we receive good at the hand of God, and shall we not receive evil? In all this did not Job sin with his lips.¹¹Now when Job's three friends heard of all this evil that was come upon him, they came every one from his own place Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite: for they had made an appointment together to come to mourn with him and to comfort him.¹²And when they lifted up their eyes afar off, and knew him not, they lifted up their voice, and wept and they rent every one his mantle, and sprinkled dust upon their heads toward heaven.¹³So they sat down with him upon the ground seven days and seven nights, and none spake a word unto him: for they saw that his grief was very great.

CHAPTER 3 ¹After this opened Job his mouth, and cursed his day.²And Job spake, and said,³Let the day perish wherein I was born, and the night in which it was said, There is a man child conceived.⁴Let that day be darkness let not God regard it from above, neither let the light shine upon it.⁵Let darkness and the shadow of death stain it let a cloud dwell upon it let the blackness of the day terrify it.⁶As for that night, let darkness seize upon it let it not be joined unto the days of the year, let it not come into the number of the months.⁷Lo, let that night be solitary, let no joyful voice come therein.⁸Let them curse it that curse the day, who are ready to raise up their mourning.⁹Let the stars of the twilight thereof be dark let it look for light, but have none neither let it see the dawning of the day:¹⁰Because it shut not up the doors of my mother's womb, nor hid sorrow from mine eyes.¹¹Why died I not from the womb? why did I not give up the ghost when I came out of the belly?¹²Why did the knees prevent me? or why the breasts that I should suck?¹³For now should I have lain still and been quiet, I should have slept: then had I been at rest,¹⁴With kings and counsellors of the earth, which built desolate places for themselves¹⁵Or with princes that had gold, who filled their houses with silver:¹⁶Or as an hidden untimely birth I had not been as infants which never saw light.¹⁷There the wicked cease from troubling and there the weary be at rest.¹⁸There the prisoners rest together they hear not the voice of the oppressor.¹⁹The small and great are there and the servant is free from his master.²⁰Wherefore is light given to him that is in misery, and life unto the bitter in soul?²¹Which long for death, but it cometh not and dig for it more than for hid treasures²²Which rejoice exceedingly, and are glad, when they can find the grave?²³Why is light given to a man whose way is hid, and whom God hath hedged in?²⁴For my sighing cometh before I eat, and my roarings are poured out like the waters.²⁵For the thing which I greatly feared is come upon me, and that which I was afraid of is come unto me.²⁶I was not in safety, neither had I rest, neither was I quiet yet trouble came.

CHAPTER 4 ¹Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered and said,²If we assay to commune with thee, wilt thou be grieved? but who can withhold himself from speaking?³Behold, thou hast instructed many, and thou hast strengthened the weak hands.⁴Thy words have upholden him that was falling, and thou hast strengthened the feeble knees.⁵But now it is come upon thee, and thou faintest it toucheth thee, and thou art troubled.⁶Is not this thy fear, thy confidence, thy hope, and the uprightness of thy ways?⁷Remember, I pray thee, who ever perished, being innocent? or where were the righteous cut off?⁸Even as I have seen, they that plow iniquity, and sow wickedness, reap the same.⁹By the blast of God they perish, and by the breath of his nostrils are they consumed.¹⁰The roaring of the lion, and the voice of the fierce lion, and the teeth of the young lions, are broken.¹¹The old lion perisheth for lack of prey, and the stout lion's whelps are scattered abroad.¹²Now a thing was secretly brought to me, and mine ear received a little thereof.¹³In thoughts from the visions of the night, when deep sleep falleth on men,¹⁴Fear came upon me, and trembling, which made all my bones to shake.¹⁵Then a spirit passed before my face the hair of my flesh stood up:¹⁶It stood still, but I could not discern the form thereof: an image was before mine eyes, there was silence, and I heard a voice, saying,¹⁷Shall mortal man be more just than God? shall a man be more pure than his maker?¹⁸Behold, he put no trust in his servants and his angels he charged with folly:¹⁹How much less in them that dwell in houses of clay, whose foundation is in the dust, which are crushed before the moth?²⁰They are destroyed from morning to evening: they perish for ever without any regarding it.²¹Doth not their excellency which is in them go away? they die, even without wisdom.

CHAPTER 5 ¹Call now, if there be any that will answer thee and to which of the saints wilt thou turn?²For wrath killeth the foolish man, and envy slayeth the silly one.³I have seen the foolish taking root: but suddenly I cursed his habitation.⁴His children are far from safety, and they are crushed in the gate, neither is there any to deliver them.⁵Whose harvest the hungry eateth up, and taketh it even out of the thorns, and the robber swalloweth up their substance.⁶Although affliction cometh not forth of the dust, neither doth trouble spring out of the ground⁷Yet man is born unto trouble, as the sparks fly upward.⁸I would seek unto God, and unto God would I commit my cause:⁹Which doeth great things and unsearchable marvellous things without number:¹⁰Who giveth rain upon the earth, and sendeth waters upon the fields:¹¹To set up on high those that be low that those which mourn may be exalted to safety.¹²He disappointeth the devices of the crafty, so that their hands cannot perform their enterprise.¹³He taketh the wise in their own craftiness: and the counsel of the froward is carried headlong.¹⁴They meet with darkness in the daytime, and grope in the noonday as in the night.¹⁵But he saveth the poor from the sword, from their mouth, and from the hand of the mighty.¹⁶So the poor hath hope, and iniquity stoppeth her mouth.¹⁷Behold, happy is the man whom God correcteth: therefore despise not thou the chastening of the Almighty:¹⁸For he maketh sore, and bindeth up: he woundeth, and his hands make whole.¹⁹He shall deliver thee in six troubles: yea, in seven there shall no evil touch thee.²⁰In famine he shall redeem thee from death: and in war from the power of the sword.²¹Thou shalt be hid from the scourge of the tongue: neither shalt thou be afraid of destruction when it cometh.²²At destruction and famine thou shalt laugh: neither shalt thou be afraid of the beasts of the earth.²³For thou shalt be in league with the stones of the field: and the beasts of the field shall be at peace with thee.²⁴And thou shalt know that thy tabernacle shall be in peace and thou shalt visit thy habitation, and shalt not sin.²⁵Thou shalt know also that thy seed shall be great, and thine offspring as the grass of the earth.²⁶Thou shalt come to thy grave in a full age, like as a shock of corn cometh in in his season.²⁷Lo this, we have searched it, so it is hear it, and know thou it for thy good.

CHAPTER 6 ¹But Job answered and said,²Oh that my grief were throughly weighed, and my calamity laid in the balances together!³For now it would be heavier than the sand of the sea: therefore my words are swallowed up.⁴For the arrows of the Almighty are within me, the poison whereof drinketh up my spirit: the terrors of God do set themselves in array against me.⁵Doth the wild ass bray when he hath grass? or loweth the ox over his fodder?⁶Can that which is unsavoury be eaten without salt? or is there any taste in the white of an egg?⁷The things that my soul refused to touch are as my sorrowful meat.⁸Oh that I might have my request and that God would grant me the thing that I long for!⁹Even that it would please God to destroy me that he would let loose his hand, and cut me off!¹⁰Then should I yet have comfort yea, I would harden myself in sorrow: let him not spare for I have not concealed the words of the Holy One.¹¹What is my strength, that I should hope? and what is mine end, that I should prolong my life?¹²Is my strength the strength of stones? or is my flesh of brass?¹³Is not my help in me? and is wisdom driven quite from me?¹⁴To him that is afflicted pity should be shewed from his friend but he forsaketh the fear of the Almighty.¹⁵My brethren have dealt deceitfully as a brook, and as the stream of brooks they pass away¹⁶Which are blackish by reason of the ice, and wherein the snow is hid:¹⁷What time they wax warm, they vanish: when it is hot, they are consumed out of their place.¹⁸The paths of their way are turned aside they go to nothing, and perish.¹⁹The troops of Tema looked, the companies of Sheba waited for them.²⁰They were confounded because they had hoped they came thither, and were ashamed.²¹For now ye are nothing ye see my casting down, and are afraid.²²Did I say, Bring unto me? or, Give a reward for me of your substance?²³Or, Deliver me from the enemy's hand? or, Redeem me from the hand of the mighty?²⁴Teach me, and I will hold my tongue: and cause me to understand wherein I have erred.²⁵How forcible are right words! but what doth your arguing reprove?²⁶Do ye imagine to reprove words, and the speeches of one that is desperate, which are as wind?²⁷Yea, ye overwhelm the fatherless, and ye dig a pit for your friend.²⁸Now therefore be content, look upon me for it is evident unto you if I lie.²⁹Return, I pray you, let it not be iniquity yea, return again, my righteousness is in it.³⁰Is there iniquity in my tongue? cannot my taste discern perverse things?

servant earnestly desireth the shadow, and as an hireling looketh for the reward of his work:³So am I made to possess months of vanity, and wearisome nights are appointed to me.⁴When I lie down, I say, When shall I arise, and the night be gone? and I am full of tossings to and fro unto the dawning of the day.⁵My flesh is clothed with worms and clods of dust my skin is broken, and become loathsome.⁶My days are swifter than a weaver's shuttle, and are spent without hope.⁷O remember that my life is wind: mine eye shall no more see good.⁸The eye of him that hath seen me shall see me no more: thine eyes are upon me, and I am not.⁹As the cloud is consumed and vanisheth away: so he that goeth down to the grave shall come up no more.¹⁰He shall return no more to his house, neither shall his place know him any more.¹¹Therefore I will not refrain my mouth I will speak in the anguish of my spirit I will complain in the bitterness of my soul.¹²Am I a sea, or a whale, that thou settest a watch over me?¹³When I say, My bed shall comfort me, my couch shall ease my complaint¹⁴Then thou scarest me with dreams, and terrifiest me through visions:¹⁵So that my soul chooseth strangling, and death rather than my life.¹⁶I loathe it I would not live alway: let me alone for my days are vanity.¹⁷What is man, that thou shouldest magnify him? and that thou shouldest set thine heart upon him?¹⁸And that thou shouldest visit him every morning, and try him every moment?¹⁹How long wilt thou not depart from me, nor let me alone till I swallow down my spittle?²⁰I have sinned what shall I do unto thee, O thou preserver of men? why hast thou set me as a mark against thee, so that I am a burden to myself?²¹And why dost thou not pardon my transgression, and take away mine iniquity? for now shall I sleep in the dust and thou shalt seek me in the morning, but I shall not be..

CHAPTER 8 ¹Then answered Bildad the Shuhite, and said,²How long wilt thou speak these things? and how long shall the words of thy mouth be like a strong wind?³Doth God pervert judgment? or doth the Almighty pervert justice?⁴If thy children have sinned against him, and he have cast them away for their transgression⁵If thou wouldest seek unto God betimes, and make thy supplication to the Almighty⁶If thou wert pure and upright surely now he would awake for thee, and make the habitation of thy righteousness prosperous.⁷Though thy beginning was small, yet thy latter end should greatly increase.⁸For inquire, I pray thee, of the former age, and prepare thyself to the search of their fathers:⁹(For we are but of yesterday, and know nothing, because our days upon earth are a shadow:)¹⁰Shall not they teach thee, and tell thee, and utter words out of their heart?¹¹Can the rush grow up without mire? can the flag grow without water?¹²Whilst it is yet in his greenness, and not cut down, it withereth before any other herb.¹³So are the paths of all that forget God and the hypocrite's hope shall perish:¹⁴Whose hope shall be cut off, and whose trust shall be a spider's web.¹⁵He shall lean upon his house, but it shall not stand: he shall hold it fast, but it shall not endure.¹⁶He is green before the sun, and his branch shooteth forth in his garden.¹⁷His roots are wrapped about the heap, and seeth the place of stones.¹⁸If he destroy him from his place, then it shall deny him, saying, I have not seen thee.¹⁹Behold, this is the joy of his way, and out of the earth shall others grow.²⁰Behold, God will not cast away a perfect man, neither will he help the evil doers:²¹Till he fill thy mouth with laughing, and thy lips with rejoicing.²²They that hate thee shall be clothed with shame and the dwelling place of the wicked shall come to nought.

CHAPTER 9 ¹Then Job answered and said,²I know it is so of a truth: but how should man be just with God?³If he will contend with him, he cannot answer him one of a thousand.⁴He is wise in heart, and mighty in strength: who hath hardened himself against him, and hath prospered?⁵Which removeth the mountains, and they know not: which overturneth them in his anger.⁶Which shaketh the earth out of her place, and the pillars thereof tremble.⁷Which commandeth the sun, and it riseth not and seaeth up the stars.⁸Which alone spreadeth out the heavens, and treadeth upon the waves of the sea.⁹Which maketh Arcturus, Orion, and Pleiades, and the chambers of the south.¹⁰Which doeth great things past finding out yea, and wonders without number.¹¹Lo, he goeth by me, and I see him not: he passeth on also, but I perceive him not.¹²Behold, he taketh away, who can hinder him? who will say unto him, What doest thou?¹³If God will not withdraw his anger, the proud helpers do stoop under him.¹⁴How much less shall I answer him, and choose out my words to reason with him?¹⁵Whom, though I were righteous, yet would I not answer, but I would make supplication to my judge.¹⁶If I had called, and he had answered me yet would I not believe that he had hearkened unto my voice.¹⁷For he breaketh me with a tempest, and multiplieth my wounds without cause.¹⁸He will not suffer me to take my breath, but filleth me with bitterness.¹⁹If I speak of strength, lo, he is strong: and if of judgment, who shall set me a time to plead?²⁰If I justify myself, mine own mouth shall condemn me: if I say, I am perfect, it shall also prove me perverse.²¹Though I were perfect, yet would I not know my soul: I would despise my life.²²This is one thing, therefore I said it, He destroyeth the perfect and the wicked.²³If the scourge slay suddenly, he will laugh at the trial of the innocent.²⁴The earth is given into the hand of the wicked: he covereth the faces of the judges thereof if not, where, and who is he?²⁵Now my days are swifter than a post: they flee away, they see no good.²⁶They are passed away as the swift ships: as the eagle that hasteth to the prey.²⁷If

I say, I will forget my complaint, I will leave off my heaviness, and comfort myself:²⁸I am afraid of all my sorrows, I know that thou wilt not hold me innocent.²⁹If I be wicked, why then labour I in vain?³⁰If I wash myself with snow water, and make my hands never so clean³¹Yet shalt thou plunge me in the ditch, and mine own clothes shall abhor me.³²For he is not a man, as I am, that I should answer him, and we should come together in judgment.³³Neither is there any daysman betwixt us, that might lay his hand upon us both.³⁴Let him take his rod away from me, and let not his fear terrify me:³⁵Then would I speak, and not fear him but it is not so with me.

CHAPTER 10 ¹My soul is weary of my life I will leave my complaint upon myself I will speak in the bitterness of my soul.²I will say unto God, Do not condemn me shew me wherefore thou contendest with me.³Is it good unto thee that thou shouldest oppress, that thou shouldest despise the work of thine hands, and shine upon the counsel of the wicked?⁴Hast thou eyes of flesh? or seest thou as man seeth?⁵Are thy days as the days of man? are thy years as man's days,⁶That thou inquirest after mine iniquity, and searchest after my sin?⁷Thou knowest that I am not wicked and there is none that can deliver out of thine hand.⁸Thine hands have made me and fashioned me together round about yet thou dost destroy me.⁹Remember, I beseech thee, that thou hast made me as the clay and wilt thou bring me into dust again?¹⁰Hast thou not poured me out as milk, and curdled me like cheese?¹¹Thou hast clothed me with skin and flesh, and hast fenced me with bones and sinews.¹²Thou hast granted me life and favour, and thy visitation hath preserved my spirit.¹³And these things hast thou hid in thine heart: I know that this is with thee.¹⁴If I sin, then thou markest me, and thou wilt not acquit me from mine iniquity.¹⁵If I be wicked, woe unto me and if I be righteous, yet will I not lift up my head. I am full of confusion therefore see thou mine affliction¹⁶For it increaseth. Thou huntest me as a fierce lion: and again thou shewest thyself marvellous upon me.¹⁷Thou renewest thy witnesses against me, and increasest thine indignation upon me changes and war are against me.¹⁸Wherefore then hast thou brought me forth out of the womb? Oh that I had given up the ghost, and no eye had seen me!¹⁹I should have been as though I had not been I should have been carried from the womb to the grave.²⁰Are not my days few? cease then, and let me alone, that I may take comfort a little,²¹Before I go whence I shall not return, even to the land of darkness and the shadow of death²²A land of darkness, as darkness itself and of the shadow of death, without any order, and where the light is as darkness.

CHAPTER 11 ¹Then answered Zophar the Naamathite, and said,²Should not the multitude of words be answered? and should a man full of talk be justified?³Should thy lies make men hold their peace? and when thou mockest, shall no man make thee ashamed?⁴For thou hast said, My doctrine is pure, and I am clean in thine eyes.⁵But oh that God would speak, and open his lips against thee⁶And that he would shew thee the secrets of wisdom, that they are double to that which is! Know therefore that God exacteth of thee less than thine iniquity deserveth.⁷Canst thou by searching find out God? canst thou find out the Almighty unto perfection?⁸It is as high as heaven what canst thou do? deeper than hell what canst thou know?⁹The measure thereof is longer than the earth, and broader than the sea.¹⁰If he cut off, and shut up, or gather together, then who can hinder him?¹¹For he knoweth vain men: he seeth wickedness also will he not then consider it?¹²For vain man would be wise, though man be born like a wild ass's colt.¹³If thou prepare thine heart, and stretch out thine hands toward him¹⁴If iniquity be in thine hand, put it far away, and let not wickedness dwell in thy tabernacles.¹⁵For then shalt thou lift up thy face without spot yea, thou shalt be stedfast, and shalt not fear:¹⁶Because thou shalt forget thy misery, and remember it as waters that pass away:¹⁷And thine age shall be clearer than the noonday thou shalt shine forth, thou shalt be as the morning.¹⁸And thou shalt be secure, because there is hope yea, thou shalt dig about thee, and thou shalt take thy rest in safety.¹⁹Also thou shalt lie down, and none shall make thee afraid yea, many shall make suit unto thee.²⁰But the eyes of the wicked shall fail, and they shall not escape, and their hope shall be as the giving up of the ghost.

CHAPTER 12 ¹And Job answered and said,²No doubt but ye are the people, and wisdom shall die with you.³But I have understanding as well as you I am not inferior to you: yea, who knoweth not such things as these?⁴I am as one mocked of his neighbour, who calleth upon God, and he answereth him: the just upright man is laughed to scorn.⁵He that is ready to slip with his feet is as a lamp despised in the thought of him that is at ease.⁶The tabernacles of robbers prosper, and they that provoke God are secure into whose hand God bringeth abundantly.⁷But ask now the beasts, and they shall teach thee and the fowls of the air, and they shall tell thee:⁸Or speak to the earth, and it shall teach thee: and the fishes of the sea shall declare unto thee.⁹Who knoweth not in all these that the hand of the LORD hath wrought this?¹⁰In whose hand is the soul of every living thing, and the breath of all mankind.¹¹Doth not the ear try words? and the mouth taste his meat?¹²With the ancient is wisdom and in length of days understanding.¹³With him is wisdom and strength, he hath counsel and understanding.¹⁴Behold, he breaketh down, and it cannot be built again: he shutteth up a man, and there can be no opening.¹⁵Behold, he withholdeth the waters, and they dry up: also he sendeth them out, and they overturn the earth.¹⁶With him is strength and wisdom: the deceived and the deceiver are his.¹⁷He leadeth counsellors away spoiled, and maketh the judges fools.¹⁸He looseth the bond of kings, and girdeth their loins with a girdle.¹⁹He leadeth princes away spoiled, and overthroweth the mighty.²⁰He removeth away the speech of the trusty, and taketh away the understanding of the aged.²¹He poureth contempt upon princes, and weakeneth the strength of the mighty.²²He discovereth deep things out of darkness, and bringeth out to light the shadow of death.²³He increaseth the nations, and destroyeth them: he enlargeth the nations, and straiteneth them again.²⁴He taketh away the heart of the chief of the people of the earth, and causeth them to wander in a wilderness where there is no way.²⁵They grope in the dark without light, and he maketh them to stagger like a drunken man.

CHAPTER 13 ¹Lo, mine eye hath seen all this, mine ear hath heard and understood it.²What ye know, the same do I know also: I am not inferior unto you.³Surely I would speak to the Almighty, and I desire to reason with God.⁴But ye are forgers of lies, ye are all physicians of no value.⁵O that ye would altogether hold your peace! and it should be your wisdom.⁶Hear now my reasoning, and hearken to the pleadings of my lips.⁷Will ye speak wickedly for God? and talk deceitfully for him?⁸Will ye accept his person? will ye contend for God?⁹Is it good that he should search you out? or as one man mocketh another, do ye so mock him?¹⁰He will surely reprove you, if ye do secretly accept persons.¹¹Shall not his excellency make you afraid? and his dread fall upon you?¹²Your remembrances are like unto ashes, your bodies to bodies of clay.¹³Hold your peace, let me alone, that I may speak, and let come on me what will.¹⁴Wherefore do I take my flesh in my teeth, and put my life in mine hand?¹⁵Though he slay me, yet will I trust in him: but I will maintain mine own ways before him.¹⁶He also shall be my salvation: for an hypocrite shall not come before him.¹⁷Hear diligently my speech, and my declaration with your ears.¹⁸Behold now, I have ordered my cause I know that I shall be justified.¹⁹Who is he that will plead with me? for now, if I hold my tongue, I shall give up the ghost.²⁰Only do not two things unto me: then will I not hide myself from thee.²¹Withdraw thine hand far from me: and let not thy dread make me afraid.²²Then call thou, and I will answer: or let me speak, and answer thou me.²³How many are mine iniquities and sins? make me to know my transgression and my sin.²⁴Wherefore hidest thou thy face, and holdest me for thine enemy?²⁵Wilt thou break a leaf driven to and fro? and wilt thou pursue the dry stubble?²⁶For thou writest bitter things against me, and makest me to possess the iniquities of my youth.²⁷Thou puttest my feet also in the stocks, and lookest narrowly unto all my paths thou settest a print upon the heels of my feet.²⁸And he, as a rotten thing, consumeth, as a garment that is moth eaten.

CHAPTER 14 ¹Man that is born of a woman is of few days, and full of trouble.²He cometh forth like a flower, and is cut down: he fleeth also as a shadow, and continueth not.³And dost thou open thine eyes upon such an one, and bringest me into judgment with thee?⁴Who can bring a clean thing out of an unclean? not one.⁵Seeing his days are determined, the number of his months are with thee, thou hast appointed his bounds that he cannot pass⁶Turn from him, that he may rest, till he shall accomplish, as an hireling, his day.⁷For there is hope of a tree, if it be cut down, that it will sprout again, and that the tender branch thereof will not cease.⁸Though the root thereof wax old in the earth, and the stock thereof die in the ground⁹Yet through the scent of water it will bud, and bring forth boughs like a plant.¹⁰But man dieth, and wasteth away: yea, man giveth up the ghost, and where is he?¹¹As the waters fail from the sea, and the flood decayeth and drieth up:¹²So man lieth down, and riseth not: till the heavens be no more, they shall not awake, nor be raised out of their sleep.¹³O that thou wouldest hide me in the grave, that thou wouldest keep me secret, until thy wrath be past, that thou wouldest appoint me a set time, and remember me!¹⁴If a man die, shall he live again? all the days of my appointed time will I wait, till my change come.¹⁵Thou shalt call, and I will answer thee: thou wilt have a desire to the work of thine hands.¹⁶For now thou numberest my steps: dost thou not watch over my sin?¹⁷My transgression is sealed up in a bag, and thou sewest up mine iniquity.¹⁸And surely the mountain falling cometh to nought, and the rock is removed out of his place.¹⁹The waters wear the stones: thou wastest away the things which grow out of the dust of the earth and thou destroyest the hope of man.²⁰Thou prevailest for ever against him, and he passeth: thou changest his countenance, and sendest him away.²¹His sons come to honour, and he knoweth it not and they are brought low, but he perceiveth it not of them.²²But his flesh upon him shall have pain, and his soul within him shall mourn.

CHAPTER 15 ¹Then answered Eliphaz the Temanite, and said,²Should a wise man utter vain knowledge, and fill his belly with the east wind?³Should he reason with unprofitable talk? or with speeches wherewith he can do no good?⁴Yea, thou castest off fear, and restrainest prayer before God.⁵For thy mouth uttereth thine iniquity, and thou choosest the tongue of the crafty.⁶Thine own mouth condemneth thee, and not I: yea, thine own lips testify against thee.⁷Art thou the first man that was born? or wast thou made before the hills?⁸Hast thou heard the secret of God? and dost thou restrain wisdom to thyself?⁹What knowest thou, that we know not?

what understandest thou, which is not in us?¹⁰With us are both the grayheaded and very aged men, much elder than thy father.¹¹Are the consolations of God small with thee? is there any secret thing with thee?¹²Why doth thine heart carry thee away? and what do thy eyes wink at,¹³That thou turnest thy spirit against God, and lettest such words go out of thy mouth?¹⁴What is man, that he should be clean? and he which is born of a woman, that he should be righteous?¹⁵Behold, he putteth no trust in his saints yea, the heavens are not clean in his sight.¹⁶How much more abominable and filthy is man, which drinketh iniquity like water?¹⁷I will shew thee, hear me and that which I have seen I will declare¹⁸Which wise men have told from their fathers, and have not hid it:¹⁹Unto whom alone the earth was given, and no stranger passed among them.²⁰The wicked man travaileth with pain all his days, and the number of years is hidden to the oppressor.²¹A dreadful sound is in his ears: in prosperity the destroyer shall come upon him.²²He believeth not that he shall return out of darkness, and he is waited for of the sword.²³He wandereth abroad for bread, saying, Where is it? he knoweth that the day of darkness is ready at his hand.²⁴Trouble and anguish shall make him afraid they shall prevail against him, as a king ready to the battle.²⁵For he stretcheth out his hand against God, and strengtheneth himself against the Almighty.²⁶He runneth upon him, even on his neck, upon the thick bosses of his bucklers:²⁷Because he covereth his face with his fatness, and maketh collops of fat on his flanks.²⁸And he dwelleth in desolate cities, and in houses which no man inhabiteth, which are ready to become heaps.²⁹He shall not be rich, neither shall his substance continue, neither shall he prolong the perfection thereof upon the earth.³⁰He shall not depart out of darkness the flame shall dry up his branches, and by the breath of his mouth shall he go away.³¹Let not him that is deceived trust in vanity: for vanity shall be his recompence.³²It shall be accomplished before his time, and his branch shall not be green.³³He shall shake off his unripe grape as the vine, and shall cast off his flower as the olive.³⁴For the congregation of hypocrites shall be desolate, and fire shall consume the tabernacles of bribery.³⁵They conceive mischief, and bring forth vanity, and their belly prepareth deceit.

CHAPTER 16 ¹Then Job answered and said,²I have heard many such things: miserable comforters are ye all.³Shall vain words have an end? or what emboldeneth thee that thou answerest?⁴I also could speak as ye do: if your soul were in my soul's stead, I could heap up words against you, and shake mine head at you.⁵But I would strengthen you with my mouth, and the moving of my lips should assuage your grief.⁶Though I speak, my grief is not asswaged: and though I forbear, what am I eased?⁷But now he hath made me weary: thou hast made desolate all my company.⁸And thou hast filled me with wrinkles, which is a witness against me: and my leanness rising up in me beareth witness to my face.⁹He teareth me in his wrath, who hateth me: he gnasheth upon me with his teeth mine enemy sharpeneth his eyes upon me.¹⁰They have gaped upon me with their mouth they have smitten me upon the cheek reproachfully they have gathered themselves together against me.¹¹God hath delivered me to the ungodly, and turned me over into the hands of the wicked.¹²I was at ease, but he hath broken me asunder: he hath also taken me by my neck, and shaken me to pieces, and set me up for his mark.¹³His archers compass me round about, he cleaveth my reins asunder, and doth not spare he poureth out my gall upon the ground.¹⁴He breaketh me with breach upon breach, he runneth upon me like a giant.¹⁵I have sewed sackcloth upon my skin, and defiled my horn in the dust.¹⁶My face is foul with weeping, and my eyelids is the shadow of death¹⁷Not for any injustice in mine hands: also my prayer is pure.¹⁸O earth, cover not thou my blood, and let my cry have no place.¹⁹Also now, behold, my witness is in heaven, and my record is on high.²⁰My friends scorn me: but mine eye poureth out tears unto God.²¹O that one might plead for a man with God, as a man pleadeth for his neighbour!²²When a few years are come, then I shall go the way whence I shall not return.

CHAPTER 17 ¹My breath is corrupt, my days are extinct, the graves are ready for me.²Are there not mockers with me? and doth not mine eye continue in their provocation?³Lay down now, put me in a surety with thee who is he that will strike hands with me?⁴For thou hast hid their heart from understanding: therefore shalt thou not exalt them.⁵He that speaketh flattery to his friends, even the eyes of his children shall fail.⁶He hath made me also a byword of the people and aforetime I was as a tabret.⁷Mine eye also is dim by reason of sorrow, and all my members are as a shadow.⁸Upright men shall be astonished at this, and the innocent shall stir up himself against the hypocrite.⁹The righteous also shall hold on his way, and he that hath clean hands shall be stronger and stronger.¹⁰But as for you all, do ye return, and come now: for I cannot find one wise man among you.¹¹My days are past, my purposes are broken off, even the thoughts of my heart.¹²They change the night into day: the light is short because of darkness.¹³If I wait, the grave is mine house: I have made my bed in the darkness.¹⁴I have said to corruption, Thou art my father: to the worm, Thou art my mother, and my sister.¹⁵And where is now my hope? as for my hope, who shall see it?¹⁶They shall go down to the bars of the pit, when our rest together is in the dust.

CHAPTER 18 ¹Then answered Bildad the Shuhite, and said,²How long will it be ere ye make an end of words? mark, and afterwards we will speak.³Wherefore are we counted as beasts, and reputed vile in your sight?⁴He teareth himself in his anger: shall the earth be forsaken for thee? and shall the rock be removed out of his place?⁵Yea, the light of the wicked shall be put out, and the spark of his fire shall not shine.⁶The light shall be dark in his tabernacle, and his candle shall be put out with him.⁷The steps of his strength shall be straitened, and his own counsel shall cast him down.⁸For he is cast into a net by his own feet, and he walketh upon a snare.⁹The gin shall take him by the heel, and the robber shall prevail against him.¹⁰The snare is laid for him in the ground, and a trap for him in the way.¹¹Terrors shall make him afraid on every side, and shall drive him to his feet.¹²His strength shall be hungerbitten, and destruction shall be ready at his side.¹³It shall devour the strength of his skin: even the firstborn of death shall devour his strength.¹⁴His confidence shall be rooted out of his tabernacle, and it shall bring him to the king of terrors.¹⁵It shall dwell in his tabernacle, because it is none of his: brimstone shall be scattered upon his habitation.¹⁶His roots shall be dried up beneath, and above shall his branch be cut off.¹⁷His remembrance shall perish from the earth, and he shall have no name in the street.¹⁸He shall be driven from light into darkness, and chased out of the world.¹⁹He shall neither have son nor nephew among his people, nor any remaining in his dwellings.²⁰They that come after him shall be astonished at his day, as they that went before were affrighted.²¹Surely such are the dwellings of the wicked, and this is the place of him that knoweth not God.

CHAPTER 19 ¹Then Job answered and said,²How long will ye vex my soul, and break me in pieces with words?³These ten times have ye reproached me: ye are not ashamed that ye make yourselves strange to me.⁴And be it indeed that I have erred, mine error remaineth with myself.⁵If indeed ye will magnify yourselves against me, and plead against me my reproach:⁶Know now that God hath overthrown me, and hath compassed me with his net.⁷Behold, I cry out of wrong, but I am not heard: I cry aloud, but there is no judgment.⁸He hath fenced up my way that I cannot pass, and he hath set darkness in my paths.⁹He hath stripped me of my glory, and taken the crown from my head.¹⁰He hath destroyed me on every side, and I am gone: and mine hope hath he removed like a tree.¹¹He hath also kindled his wrath against me, and he counteth me unto him as one of his enemies.¹²His troops come together, and raise up their way against me, and encamp round about my tabernacle.¹³He hath put my brethren far from me, and mine acquaintance are verily estranged from me.¹⁴My kinsfolk have failed, and my familiar friends have forgotten me.¹⁵They that dwell in mine house, and my maids, count me for a stranger: I am an alien in their sight.¹⁶I called my servant, and he gave me no answer I intreated him with my mouth.¹⁷My breath is strange to my wife, though I intreated for the children's sake of mine own body.¹⁸Yea, young children despised me I arose, and they spake against me.¹⁹All my inward friends abhorred me: and they whom I loved are turned against me.²⁰My bone cleaveth to my skin and to my flesh, and I am escaped with the skin of my teeth.²¹Have pity upon me, have pity upon me, O ye my friends for the hand of God hath touched me.²²Why do ye persecute me as God, and are not satisfied with my flesh?²³Oh that my words were now written! oh that they were printed in a book!²⁴That they were graven with an iron pen and lead in the rock for ever!²⁵For I know that my redeemer liveth, and that he shall stand at the latter day upon the earth:²⁶And though after my skin worms destroy this body, yet in my flesh shall I see God:²⁷Whom I shall see for myself, and mine eyes shall behold, and not another though my reins be consumed within me.²⁸But ye should say, Why persecute we him, seeing the root of the matter is found in me?²⁹Be ye afraid of the sword: for wrath bringeth the punishments of the sword, that ye may know there is a judgment.

CHAPTER 20 ¹Then answered Zophar the Naamathite, and said,²Therefore do my thoughts cause me to answer, and for this I make haste.³I have heard the check of my reproach, and the spirit of my understanding causeth me to answer.⁴Knowest thou not this of old, since man was placed upon earth,⁵That the triumphing of the wicked is short, and the joy of the hypocrite but for a moment?⁶Though his excellency mount up to the heavens, and his head reach unto the clouds⁷Yet he shall perish for ever like his own dung: they which have seen him shall say, Where is he?⁸He shall fly away as a dream, and shall not be found: yea, he shall be chased away as a vision of the night.⁹The eye also which saw him shall see him no more neither shall his place any more behold him.¹⁰His children shall seek to please the poor, and his hands shall restore their goods.¹¹His bones are full of the sin of his youth, which shall lie down with him in the dust.¹²Though wickedness be sweet in his mouth, though he hide it under his tongue¹³Though he spare it, and forsake it not but keep it still within his mouth:¹⁴Yet his meat in his bowels is turned, it is the gall of asps within him.¹⁵He hath swallowed down riches, and he shall vomit them up again: God shall cast them out of his belly.¹⁶He shall suck the poison of asps: the viper's tongue shall slay him.¹⁷He shall not see the rivers, the floods, the brooks of honey and butter.¹⁸That which he laboured for shall he restore, and shall not swallow it down: according to his substance shall the restitution be, and he shall not rejoice therein.¹⁹Because he hath oppressed and hath forsaken the poor because he hath violently taken away an house which he builded not.²⁰ Surely he shall not feel quietness in his belly, he shall not save of that which he desired.²¹ There shall none of his meat be left therefore shall no man look for his goods.²² In the fulness of his sufficiency he shall be in straits: every hand of the wicked shall come upon him.²³ When he is about to fill his belly, God shall cast the fury of his wrath upon him, and shall rain it upon him while he is eating.²⁴ He shall flee from the iron weapon, and the bow of steel shall strike him through.²⁵ It is drawn, and cometh out of the body yea, the glittering sword cometh out of his gall: terrors are upon him.²⁶ All darkness shall be hid in his secret places: a fire not blown shall consume him it shall go ill with him that is left in his tabernacle.²⁷ The heaven shall reveal his iniquity and the earth shall rise up against him.²⁸ The increase of his house shall depart, and his goods shall flow away in the day of his wrath.²⁹ This is the portion of a wicked man from God, and the heritage appointed unto him by God.

CHAPTER 21 ¹But Job answered and said,²Hear diligently my speech, and let this be your consolations.³Suffer me that I may speak and after that I have spoken, mock on.⁴As for me, is my complaint to man? and if it were so, why should not my spirit be troubled?⁵Mark me, and be astonished, and lay your hand upon your mouth.⁶Even when I remember I am afraid, and trembling taketh hold on my flesh.⁷Wherefore do the wicked live, become old, yea, are mighty in power?⁸Their seed is established in their sight with them, and their offspring before their eyes.⁹Their houses are safe from fear, neither is the rod of God upon them.¹⁰Their bull gendereth, and faileth not their cow calveth, and casteth not her calf.¹¹They send forth their little ones like a flock, and their children dance.¹²They take the timbrel and harp, and rejoice at the sound of the organ.¹³They spend their days in wealth, and in a moment go down to the grave.¹⁴Therefore they say unto God, Depart from us for we desire not the knowledge of thy ways.¹⁵What is the Almighty, that we should serve him? and what profit should we have, if we pray unto him?¹⁶Lo, their good is not in their hand: the counsel of the wicked is far from me.¹⁷How oft is the candle of the wicked put out! and how oft cometh their destruction upon them! God distributeth sorrows in his anger.¹⁸They are as stubble before the wind, and as chaff that the storm carrieth away.¹⁹God layeth up his iniquity for his children: he rewardeth him, and he shall know it.²⁰His eyes shall see his destruction, and he shall drink of the wrath of the Almighty.²¹For what pleasure hath he in his house after him, when the number of his months is cut off in the midst?²²Shall any teach God knowledge? seeing he judgeth those that are high.²³One dieth in his full strength, being wholly at ease and quiet.²⁴His breasts are full of milk, and his bones are moistened with marrow.²⁵And another dieth in the bitterness of his soul, and never eateth with pleasure.²⁶They shall lie down alike in the dust, and the worms shall cover them.²⁷Behold, I know your thoughts, and the devices which ye wrongfully imagine against me.²⁸For ye say, Where is the house of the prince? and where are the dwelling places of the wicked?²⁹Have ye not asked them that go by the way? and do ye not know their tokens,³⁰That the wicked is reserved to the day of destruction? they shall be brought forth to the day of wrath.³¹Who shall declare his way to his face? and who shall repay him what he hath done?³²Yet shall he be brought to the grave, and shall remain in the tomb.³³The clods of the valley shall be sweet unto him, and every man shall draw after him, as there are innumerable before him.³⁴How then comfort ye me in vain, seeing in your answers there remaineth falsehood?

CHAPTER 22 ¹Then Eliphaz the Temanite answered and said,²Can a man be profitable unto God, as he that is wise may be profitable unto himself?³Is it any pleasure to the Almighty, that thou art righteous? or is it gain to him that thou makest thy ways perfect?⁴Will he reprove thee for fear of thee? will he enter with thee into judgment?⁵Is not thy wickedness great? and thine iniquities infinite?⁶For thou hast taken a pledge from thy brother for nought, and stripped the naked of their clothing.⁷Thou hast not given water to the weary to drink, and thou hast withholden bread from the hungry.⁸But as for the mighty man, he had the earth and the honourable man dwelt in it.⁹Thou has sent widows away empty, and the arms of the fatherless have been broken.¹⁰Therefore snares are round about thee, and sudden fear troubleth thee¹¹Or darkness, that thou canst not see and abundance of waters cover thee.¹²Is not God in the height of heaven? and behold the height of the stars, how high they are!¹³And thou sayest, How doth God know? can he judge through the dark cloud?¹⁴Thick clouds are a covering to him, that he seeth not and he walketh in the circuit of heaven.¹⁵Hast thou marked the old way which wicked men have trodden?¹⁶Which were cut down out of time, whose foundation was overflowed with a flood:¹⁷Which said unto God, Depart from us: and what can the Almighty do for them?¹⁸Yet he filled their houses with good things: but the counsel of the wicked is far from me.¹⁹The righteous see it, and are glad: and the innocent laugh them to scorn.²⁰Whereas our substance is not cut down, but the remnant of them the fire consumeth.²¹Acquaint now thyself with him, and be at peace: thereby good shall come unto thee.²²Receive, I pray thee, the law from his mouth, and lay up his words in thine heart.²³If thou return to the Almighty, thou shalt be built up, thou shalt put away iniquity far from thy tabernacles.²⁴Then shalt thou lay up gold as dust, and the gold of Ophir as the stones of the brooks.²⁵Yea, the Almighty shall be thy defence, and thou shalt have plenty of silver.²⁶For then shalt thou have thy delight in the Almighty, and shalt lift up thy face unto God.²⁷Thou shalt make thy prayer unto him, and he shall hear thee, and thou shalt pay thy vows.²⁸Thou shalt also decree a thing, and it shall be established unto thee: and the light shall shine upon thy ways.²⁹When men are cast down, then thou shalt say, There is lifting up and he shall save the humble person.³⁰He shall deliver the island of the innocent: and it is delivered by the pureness of thine hands.

CHAPTER 23 ¹Then Job answered and said,²Even to day is my complaint bitter: my stroke is heavier than my groaning.³Oh that I knew where I might find him! that I might come even to his seat!⁴I would order my cause before him, and fill my mouth with arguments.⁵I would know the words which he would answer me, and understand what he would say unto me.⁶Will he plead against me with his great power? No but he would put strength in me.⁷There the righteous might dispute with him so should I be delivered for ever from my judge.⁸Behold, I go forward, but he is not there and backward, but I cannot perceive him:⁹On the left hand, where he doth work, but I cannot behold him: he hideth himself on the right hand, that I cannot see him:¹⁰But he knoweth the way that I take: when he hath tried me, I shall come forth as gold.¹¹My foot hath held his steps, his way have I kept, and not declined.¹²Neither have I gone back from the commandment of his lips I have esteemed the words of his mouth more than my necessary food.¹³But he is in one mind, and who can turn him? and what his soul desireth, even that he doeth.¹⁴For he performeth the thing that is appointed for me: and many such things are with him.¹⁵Therefore am I troubled at his presence: when I consider, I am afraid of him.¹⁶For God maketh my heart soft, and the Almighty troubleth me:¹⁷Because I was not cut off before the darkness, neither hath he covered the darkness from my face.

CHAPTER 24 ¹Why, seeing times are not hidden from the Almighty, do they that know him not see his days?²Some remove the landmarks they violently take away flocks, and feed thereof.³They drive away the ass of the fatherless, they take the widow's ox for a pledge.⁴They turn the needy out of the way: the poor of the earth hide themselves together.⁵Behold, as wild asses in the desert, go they forth to their work rising betimes for a prey: the wilderness yieldeth food for them and for their children.⁶They reap every one his corn in the field: and they gather the vintage of the wicked.⁷They cause the naked to lodge without clothing, that they have no covering in the cold.⁸They are wet with the showers of the mountains, and embrace the rock for want of a shelter.⁹They pluck the fatherless from the breast, and take a pledge of the poor.¹⁰They cause him to go naked without clothing, and they take away the sheaf from the hungry¹¹Which make oil within their walls, and tread their winepresses, and suffer thirst.¹²Men groan from out of the city, and the soul of the wounded crieth out: yet God layeth not folly to them.¹³They are of those that rebel against the light they know not the ways thereof, nor abide in the paths thereof.¹⁴The murderer rising with the light killeth the poor and needy, and in the night is as a thief.¹⁵The eye also of the adulterer waiteth for the twilight, saying, No eye shall see me: and disguiseth his face.¹⁶In the dark they dig through houses, which they had marked for themselves in the daytime: they know not the light.¹⁷For the morning is to them even as the shadow of death: if one know them, they are in the terrors of the shadow of death.¹⁸He is swift as the waters their portion is cursed in the earth: he beholdeth not the way of the vineyards.¹⁹Drought and heat consume the snow waters: so doth the grave those which have sinned.²⁰The womb shall forget him the worm shall feed sweetly on him he shall be no more remembered and wickedness shall be broken as a tree.²¹He evil entreateth the barren that beareth not: and doeth not good to the widow.²²He draweth also the mighty with his power: he riseth up, and no man is sure of life.²³Though it be given him to be in safety, whereon he resteth yet his eyes are upon their ways.²⁴They are exalted for a little while, but are gone and brought low they are taken out of the way as all other, and cut off as the tops of the ears of corn.²⁵And if it be not so now, who will make me a liar, and make my speech nothing worth?

CHAPTER 25 ¹Then answered Bildad the Shuhite, and said,²Dominion and fear are with him, he maketh peace in his high places.³Is there any number of his armies? and upon whom doth not his light arise?⁴How then can man be justified with God? or how can he be clean that is born of a woman?⁵Behold even to the moon, and it shineth not yea, the stars are not pure in his sight.⁶How much less man, that is a worm? and the son of man, which is a worm?

CHAPTER 26 ¹But Job answered and said,²How hast thou helped him that is without power? how savest thou the arm that hath no strength?³How hast thou counselled him that hath no wisdom? and how hast thou plentifully declared the thing as it is?⁴To whom hast thou uttered words? and whose spirit came from thee?⁵Dead things are formed from under the waters, and the inhabitants thereof.⁶Hell is naked before him, and destruction hath no covering.⁷He stretcheth out the north over the empty place, and hangeth the earth upon nothing.⁸He bindeth up the waters in his thick clouds and the cloud is not rent under them.⁹He holdeth back the face of his throne, and spreadeth his cloud upon it.¹⁰He hath compassed the waters with bounds, until the day and night come to an end.¹¹The pillars of heaven tremble and are astonished at his reproof.¹²He divideth the sea with his power, and by his understanding he smiteth through the proud.¹³By his spirit he hath garnished the heavens his hand hath formed the crooked serpent.¹⁴Lo, these are parts of his ways: but how little a portion is heard of him? but the thunder of his power who can understand?

CHAPTER 27 ¹Moreover Job continued his parable, and said,²As God liveth, who hath taken away my judgment and the Almighty, who hath vexed my soul³All the while my breath is in me, and the spirit of God is in my nostrils⁴My lips shall not speak wickedness, nor my tongue utter deceit.⁵God forbid that I should justify you: till I die I will not remove mine integrity from me.⁶My righteousness I hold fast, and will not let it go: my heart shall not reproach me so long as I live.⁷Let mine enemy be as the wicked, and he that riseth up against me as the unrighteous.⁸For what is the hope of the hypocrite, though he hath gained, when God taketh away his soul?⁹Will God hear his cry when trouble cometh upon him?¹⁰Will he delight himself in the Almighty? will he always call upon God?¹¹I will teach you by the hand of God: that which is with the Almighty will I not conceal.¹²Behold, all ye yourselves have seen it why then are ye thus altogether vain?¹³This is the portion of a wicked man with God, and the heritage of oppressors, which they shall receive of the Almighty.¹⁴If his children be multiplied, it is for the sword: and his offspring shall not be satisfied with bread.¹⁵Those that remain of him shall be buried in death: and his widows shall not weep.¹⁶Though he heap up silver as the dust, and prepare raiment as the clay¹⁷He may prepare it, but the just shall put it on, and the innocent shall divide the silver.¹⁸He buildeth his house as a moth, and as a booth that the keeper maketh.¹⁹The rich man shall lie down, but he shall not be gathered: he openeth his eyes, and he is not.²⁰Terrors take hold on him as waters, a tempest stealeth him away in the night.²¹The east wind carrieth him away, and he departeth: and as a storm hurleth him out of his place.²²For God shall cast upon him, and not spare: he would fain flee out of his hand.²³Men shall clap their hands at him, and shall hiss him out of his place.

CHAPTER 28 ¹Surely there is a vein for the silver, and a place for gold where they fine it.²Iron is taken out of the earth, and brass is molten out of the stone.³He setteth an end to darkness, and searcheth out all perfection: the stones of darkness, and the shadow of death.⁴The flood breaketh out from the inhabitant even the waters forgotten of the foot: they are dried up, they are gone away from men.⁵As for the earth, out of it cometh bread: and under it is turned up as it were fire.⁶The stones of it are the place of sapphires: and it hath dust of gold.⁷There is a path which no fowl knoweth, and which the vulture's eye hath not seen:⁸The lion's whelps have not trodden it, nor the fierce lion passed by it.⁹He putteth forth his hand upon the rock he overturneth the mountains by the roots.¹⁰He cutteth out rivers among the rocks and his eye seeth every precious thing.¹¹He bindeth the floods from overflowing and the thing that is hid bringeth he forth to light.¹²But where shall wisdom be found? and where is the place of understanding?¹³Man knoweth not the price thereof neither is it found in the land of the living.¹⁴The depth saith, It is not in me: and the sea saith, It is not with me.¹⁵It cannot be gotten for gold, neither shall silver be weighed for the price thereof.¹⁶It cannot be valued with the gold of Ophir, with the precious onyx, or the sapphire.¹⁷The gold and the crystal cannot equal it: and the exchange of it shall not be for jewels of fine gold.¹⁸No mention shall be made of coral, or of pearls: for the price of wisdom is above rubies.¹⁹The topaz of Ethiopia shall not equal it, neither shall it be valued with pure gold.²⁰Whence then cometh wisdom? and where is the place of understanding?²¹Seeing it is hid from the eyes of all living, and kept close from the fowls of the air.²²Destruction and death say, We have heard the fame thereof with our ears.²³God understandeth the way thereof, and he knoweth the place thereof.²⁴For he looketh to the ends of the earth, and seeth under the whole heaven²⁵To make the weight for the winds and he weigheth the waters by measure.²⁶When he made a decree for the rain, and a way for the lightning of the thunder:²⁷Then did he see it, and declare it he prepared it, yea, and searched it out.²⁸And unto man he said, Behold, the fear of the Lord, that is wisdom and to depart from evil is understanding.

CHAPTER 29 ¹Moreover Job continued his parable, and said,²Oh that I were as in months past, as in the days when God preserved me³When his candle shined upon my head, and when by his light I walked through darkness⁴As I was in the days of my youth, when the secret of God was upon my tabernacle⁵When the Almighty was yet with me, when my children were about me⁶When I washed my steps with butter, and the rock poured me out rivers of oil⁷When I went out to the gate through the city, when I prepared my seat in the street!⁸The young men saw me, and hid themselves: and the aged arose, and stood up.⁹The princes refrained talking, and laid their hand on their mouth.¹⁰The nobles held their peace, and their tongue cleaved to the roof of their mouth.¹¹When the ear heard me, then it blessed me and when the eye saw me, it gave witness to me:¹²Because I delivered the poor that cried, and the fatherless, and him that had none to help him.¹³The blessing of him that was ready to perish came upon me: and I caused the widow's heart to sing for joy.¹⁴I put on righteousness, and it clothed me: my judgment was as a robe and a diadem.¹⁵I was eyes to the blind, and feet was I to the lame.¹⁶I was a father to the poor: and the cause which I knew not I searched out.¹⁷And I brake the jaws of the wicked, and plucked the spoil out of his teeth.¹⁸Then I said, I shall die in my nest, and I shall multiply my days as the sand.¹⁹My root was spread out by the waters, and the dew lay all night upon my branch.²⁰My glory was fresh in me, and my bow was renewed in my hand.²¹Unto me men gave ear, and waited, and kept silence at my counsel.²²After my words they spake not again and my speech dropped upon them.²³And they waited for me as for the rain and they opened their mouth wide as for the latter rain.²⁴If I laughed on them, they believed it not and the light of my countenance they cast not down.²⁵I chose out their way, and sat chief, and dwelt as a king in the army, as one that comforteth the mourners.

CHAPTER 30 ¹But now they that are younger than I have me in derision, whose fathers I would have disdained to have set with the dogs of my flock.²Yea, whereto might the strength of their hands profit me, in whom old age was perished?³For want and famine they were solitary fleeing into the wilderness in former time desolate and waste.⁴Who cut up mallows by the bushes, and juniper roots for their meat.⁵They were driven forth from among men, (they cried after them as after a thief)⁶To dwell in the cliffs of the valleys, in caves of the earth, and in the rocks.⁷Among the bushes they brayed under the nettles they were gathered together.⁸They were children of fools, yea, children of base men: they were viler than the earth.⁹And now am I their song, yea, I am their byword.¹⁰They abhor me, they flee far from me, and spare not to spit in my face.¹¹Because he hath loosed my cord, and afflicted me, they have also let loose the bridle before me.¹²Upon my right hand rise the youth they push away my feet, and they raise up against me the ways of their destruction.¹³They mar my path, they set forward my calamity, they have no helper.¹⁴They came upon me as a wide breaking in of waters: in the desolation they rolled themselves upon me.¹⁵Terrors are turned upon me: they pursue my soul as the wind: and my welfare passeth away as a cloud.¹⁶And now my soul is poured out upon me the days of affliction have taken hold upon me.¹⁷My bones are pierced in me in the night season: and my sinews take no rest.¹⁸By the great force of my disease is my garment changed: it bindeth me about as the collar of my coat.¹⁹He hath cast me into the mire, and I am become like dust and ashes.²⁰I cry unto thee, and thou dost not hear me: I stand up, and thou regardest me not.²¹Thou art become cruel to me: with thy strong hand thou opposest thyself against me.²²Thou liftest me up to the wind thou causest me to ride upon it, and dissolvest my substance.²³For I know that thou wilt bring me to death, and to the house appointed for all living.²⁴Howbeit he will not stretch out his hand to the grave, though they cry in his destruction.²⁵Did not I weep for him that was in trouble? was not my soul grieved for the poor?²⁶When I looked for good, then evil came unto me: and when I waited for light, there came darkness.²⁷My bowels boiled, and rested not: the days of affliction prevented me.²⁸I went mourning without the sun: I stood up, and I cried in the congregation.²⁹I am a brother to dragons, and a companion to owls.³⁰My skin is black upon me, and my bones are burned with heat.³¹My harp also is turned to mourning, and my organ into the voice of them that weep.

CHAPTER 31 ¹I made a covenant with mine eyes why then should I think upon a maid?²For what portion of God is there from above? and what inheritance of the Almighty from on high?³Is not destruction to the wicked? and a strange punishment to the workers of iniquity?⁴Doth not he see my ways, and count all my steps?⁵If I have walked with vanity, or if my foot hath hasted to deceit⁶Let me be weighed in an even balance, that God may know mine integrity.⁷If my step hath turned out of the way, and mine heart walked after mine eyes, and if any blot hath cleaved to mine hands⁸Then let me sow, and let another eat yea, let my offspring be rooted out.⁹If mine heart have been deceived by a woman, or if I have laid wait at my neighbour's door¹⁰Then let my wife grind unto another, and let others bow down upon her.¹¹For this is an heinous crime yea, it is an iniquity to be punished by the judges.¹²For it is a fire that consumeth to destruction, and would root out all mine increase.¹³If I did despise the cause of my manservant or of my maidservant, when they contended with me¹⁴What then shall I do when God riseth up? and when he visiteth, what shall I answer him?¹⁵Did not he that made me in the womb make him? and did not one fashion us in the womb?¹⁶If I have withheld the poor from their desire, or have caused the eyes of the widow to fail¹⁷Or have eaten my morsel myself alone, and the fatherless hath not eaten thereof¹⁸(For from my youth he was brought up with me, as with a father, and I have guided her from my mother's womb)¹⁹If I have seen any perish for want of clothing, or any poor without covering²⁰If his loins have not blessed me, and if he were not warmed with the fleece of my sheep²¹If I have lifted up my hand against the fatherless, when I saw my help in the gate:²²Then let mine arm fall from my shoulder blade, and mine arm be broken from the bone.²³For destruction from God was a terror to me, and by reason of his highness I could not endure.²⁴If I have made gold my hope, or have said to the fine gold, Thou art my confidence²⁵If I rejoiced because my wealth was great, and because mine hand had gotten much²⁶If I beheld the sun when it shined, or the moon walking in brightness²⁷And my heart hath been secretly enticed, or my mouth hath kissed my hand:²⁸This also were an iniquity to be punished by the judge: for I should have denied the God that is above.²⁹If I rejoiced at the destruction of him that hated me, or lifted up myself when evil found him:³⁰Neither have I suffered my mouth to sin by wishing a curse to his soul.³¹If the men of my tabernacle said not, Oh that we had of his flesh! we cannot be satisfied.³²The stranger did not lodge in the street: but I opened my doors to the traveller.³³If I covered my transgressions as Adam, by hiding mine iniquity in my bosom:³⁴Did I fear a great multitude, or did the contempt of families terrify me, that I kept silence, and went not out of the door?³⁵Oh that one would hear me! behold, my desire is, that the Almighty would answer me, and that mine adversary had written a book.³⁶Surely I would take it upon my shoulder, and bind it as a crown to me.³⁷I would declare unto him the number of my steps as a prince would I go near unto him.³⁸If my land cry against me, or that the furrows likewise thereof complain³⁹If I have eaten the fruits thereof without money, or have caused the owners thereof to lose their life:⁴⁰Let thistles grow instead of wheat, and cockle instead of barley. The words of Job are ended.

CHAPTER 32 ¹So these three men ceased to answer Job, because he was righteous in his own eyes.²Then was kindled the wrath of Elihu the son of Barachel the Buzite, of the kindred of Ram: against Job was his wrath kindled, because he justified himself rather than God.³Also against his three friends was his wrath kindled, because they had found no answer, and yet had condemned Job.⁴Now Elihu had waited till Job had spoken, because they were elder than he.⁵When Elihu saw that there was no answer in the mouth of these three men, then his wrath was kindled.⁶And Elihu the son of Barachel the Buzite answered and said, I am young, and ye are very old wherefore I was afraid, and durst not shew you mine opinion.⁷I said, Days should speak, and multitude of years should teach wisdom.⁸But there is a spirit in man: and the inspiration of the Almighty giveth them understanding.⁹Great men are not always wise: neither do the aged understand judgment.¹⁰Therefore I said, Hearken to me I also will shew mine opinion.¹¹Behold, I waited for your words I gave ear to your reasons, whilst ye searched out what to say.¹²Yea, I attended unto you, and, behold, there was none of you that convinced Job, or that answered his words:¹³Lest ye should say, We have found out wisdom: God thrusteth him down, not man.¹⁴Now he hath not directed his words against me: neither will I answer him with your speeches.¹⁵They were amazed, they answered no more: they left off speaking.¹⁶When I had waited, (for they spake not, but stood still, and answered no more)¹⁷I said, I will answer also my part, I also will shew mine opinion.¹⁸For I am full of matter, the spirit within me constraineth me.¹⁹Behold, my belly is as wine which hath no vent it is ready to burst like new bottles.²⁰I will speak, that I may be refreshed: I will open my lips and answer.²¹Let me not, I pray you, accept any man's person, neither let me give flattering titles unto man.²²For I know not to give flattering titles in so doing my maker would soon take me away.

CHAPTER 33 ¹Wherefore, Job, I pray thee, hear my speeches, and hearken to all my words.²Behold, now I have opened my mouth, my tongue hath spoken in my mouth.³My words shall be of the uprightness of my heart: and my lips shall utter knowledge clearly.⁴The Spirit of God hath made me, and the breath of the Almighty hath given me life.⁵If thou canst answer me, set thy words in order before me, stand up.⁶Behold, I am according to thy wish in God's stead: I also am formed out of the clay.⁷Behold, my terror shall not make thee afraid, neither shall my hand be heavy upon thee.⁸Surely thou hast spoken in mine hearing, and I have heard the voice of thy words, saying,⁹I am clean without transgression, I am innocent neither is there iniquity in me.¹⁰Behold, he findeth occasions against me, he counteth me for his enemy,¹¹He putteth my feet in the stocks, he marketh all my paths.¹²Behold, in this thou art not just: I will answer thee, that God is greater than man.¹³Why dost thou strive against him? for he giveth not account of any of his matters.¹⁴For God speaketh once, yea twice, yet man perceiveth it not.¹⁵In a dream, in a vision of the night, when deep sleep falleth upon men, in slumberings upon the bed¹⁶Then he openeth the ears of men, and sealeth their instruction,¹⁷That he may withdraw man from his purpose, and hide pride from man.¹⁸He keepeth back his soul from the pit, and his life from perishing by the sword.¹⁹He is chastened also with pain upon his bed, and the multitude of his bones with strong pain:²⁰So that his life abhorreth bread, and his soul dainty meat.²¹His flesh is consumed away, that it cannot be seen and his bones that were not seen stick out.²²Yea, his soul draweth near unto the grave, and his life to the destroyers.²³If there be a messenger with him, an interpreter, one among a thousand, to shew unto man his uprightness:²⁴Then he is gracious unto him, and saith, Deliver him from going down to the pit: I have found a ransom.²⁵His flesh shall be fresher than a child's: he shall return to the days of his youth:²⁶He shall pray unto God, and he will be favourable unto him: and he shall see his face with joy: for he will render unto man his righteousness.²⁷He looketh upon men, and if any say, I have sinned, and perverted that which was right, and it profited me not:²⁸He will deliver his soul from going into the pit, and his life shall see the light.²⁹Lo, all these things worketh God oftentimes with man,³⁰To bring back his soul from the pit, to be enlightened with the light of the living.³¹Mark well, O Job, hearken unto me: hold thy peace, and I will speak.³²If thou hast any thing to say, answer me: speak, for I desire to justify thee.³³If not, hearken unto me: hold thy peace, and I shall teach thee wisdom.

CHAPTER 34 ¹Furthermore Elihu answered and said,²Hear my words, O ye wise men and give ear unto me, ye that have knowledge.³For the ear trieth words, as the mouth tasteth meat.⁴Let us choose to us judgment: let us know among ourselves what is good.⁵For Job hath said, I am righteous: and God hath taken away my judgment.⁶Should I lie against my right? my wound is incurable without transgression.⁷What man is like Job, who drinketh up scorning like water?⁸Which goeth in company with the workers of iniquity, and walketh with wicked men.⁹For he hath said, It profiteth a man nothing that he should delight himself with God.¹⁰Therefore hearken unto me, ye men of understanding: far be it from God, that he should do wickedness and from the Almighty, that he should commit iniquity.¹¹For the work of a man shall he render unto him, and cause every man to find according to his ways.¹²Yea, surely God will not do wickedly, neither will the Almighty pervert judgment.¹³Who hath given him a charge over the earth? or who hath disposed the whole world?¹⁴If he set his heart upon man, if he gather unto himself his spirit and his breath¹⁵All flesh shall perish together, and man shall turn again unto dust.¹⁶If now thou hast understanding, hear this: hearken to the voice of my words.¹⁷Shall even he that hateth right govern? and wilt thou condemn him that is most just?¹⁸Is it fit to say to a king, Thou art wicked? and to princes, Ye are ungodly?¹⁹How much less to him that accepteth not the persons of princes, nor regardeth the rich more than the poor? for they all are the work of his hands.²⁰In a moment shall they die, and the people shall be troubled at midnight, and pass away: and the mighty shall be taken away without hand.²¹For his eyes are upon the ways of man, and he seeth all his goings.²²There is no darkness, nor shadow of death, where the workers of iniquity may hide themselves.²³For he will not lay upon man more than right that he should enter into judgment with God.²⁴He shall break in pieces mighty men without number, and set others in their stead.²⁵Therefore he knoweth their works, and he overturneth them in the night, so that they are destroyed.²⁶He striketh them as wicked men in the open sight of others²⁷Because they turned back from him, and would not consider any of his ways.²⁸So that they cause the cry of the poor to come unto him, and he heareth the cry of the afflicted.²⁹When he giveth quietness, who then can make trouble? and when he hideth his face, who then can behold him? whether it be done against a nation, or against a man only:³⁰That the hypocrite reign not, lest the people be ensnared.³¹Surely it is meet to be said unto God, I have borne chastisement, I will not offend any more:³²That which I see not teach thou me: if I have done iniquity, I will do no more.³³Should it be according to thy mind? he will recompense it, whether thou refuse, or whether thou choose and not I: therefore speak what thou knowest.³⁴Let men of understanding tell me, and let a wise man hearken unto me.³⁵Job hath spoken without knowledge, and his words were without wisdom.³⁶My desire is that Job may be tried unto the end because of his answers for wicked men.³⁷For he addeth rebellion unto his sin, he clappeth his hands among us, and multiplieth his words against God.

CHAPTER 35 ¹Elihu spake moreover, and said,²Thinkest thou this to be right, that thou saidst, My righteousness is more than God's?³For thou saidst,

What advantage will it be unto thee? and, What profit shall I have, if I be cleansed from my sin?⁴I will answer thee, and thy companions with thee.⁵Look unto the heavens, and see and behold the clouds which are higher than thou.⁶If thou sinnest, what doest thou against him? or if thy transgressions be multiplied, what doest thou unto him?⁷If thou be righteous, what givest thou him? or what receiveth he of thine hand?⁸Thy wickedness may hurt a man as thou art and thy righteousness may profit the son of man.⁹By reason of the multitude of oppressions they make the oppressed to cry: they cry out by reason of the arm of the mighty.¹⁰But none saith, Where is God my maker, who giveth songs in the night¹¹Who teacheth us more than the beasts of the earth, and maketh us wiser than the fowls of heaven?¹²There they cry, but none giveth answer, because of the pride of evil men.¹³Surely God will not hear vanity, neither will the Almighty regard it.¹⁴Although thou sayest thou shalt not see him, yet judgment is before him therefore trust thou in him.¹⁵But now, because it is not so, he hath visited in his anger yet he knoweth it not in great extremity.¹⁶Therefore doth Job open his mouth in vain he multiplieth words without knowledge.

CHAPTER 36 ¹Elihu also proceeded, and said,²Suffer me a little, and I will shew thee that I have yet to speak on God's behalf.³I will fetch my knowledge from afar, and will ascribe righteousness to my Maker.⁴For truly my words shall not be false: he that is perfect in knowledge is with thee.⁵Behold, God is mighty, and despiseth not any: he is mighty in strength and wisdom.⁶He preserveth not the life of the wicked: but giveth right to the poor.⁷He withdraweth not his eyes from the righteous: but with kings are they on the throne yea, he doth establish them for ever, and they are exalted.⁸And if they be bound in fetters, and be holden in cords of affliction⁹Then he sheweth them their work, and their transgressions that they have exceeded.¹⁰He openeth also their ear to discipline, and commandeth that they return from iniquity.¹¹If they obey and serve him, they shall spend their days in prosperity, and their years in pleasures.¹²But if they obey not, they shall perish by the sword, and they shall die without knowledge.¹³But the hypocrites in heart heap up wrath: they cry not when he bindeth them.¹⁴They die in youth, and their life is among the unclean.¹⁵He delivereth the poor in his affliction, and openeth their ears in oppression.¹⁶Even so would he have removed thee out of the strait into a broad place, where there is no straitness and that which should be set on thy table should be full of fatness.¹⁷But thou hast fulfilled the judgment of the wicked: judgment and justice take hold on thee.¹⁸Because there is wrath, beware lest he take thee away with his stroke: then a great ransom cannot deliver thee.¹⁹Will he esteem thy riches? no, not gold, nor all the forces of strength.²⁰Desire not the night, when people are cut off in their place.²¹Take heed, regard not iniquity: for this hast thou chosen rather than affliction.²²Behold, God exalteth by his power: who teacheth like him?²³Who hath enjoined him his way? or who can say, Thou hast wrought iniquity?²⁴Remember that thou magnify his work, which men behold.²⁵Every man may see it man may behold it afar off.²⁶Behold, God is great, and we know him not, neither can the number of his years be searched out.²⁷For he maketh small the drops of water: they pour down rain according to the vapour thereof.²⁸Which the clouds do drop and distil upon man abundantly.²⁹Also can any understand the spreadings of the clouds, or the noise of his tabernacle?³⁰Behold, he spreadeth his light upon it, and covereth the bottom of the sea.³¹For by them judgeth he the people he giveth meat in abundance.³²With clouds he covereth the light and commandeth it not to shine by the cloud that cometh betwixt.³³The noise thereof sheweth concerning it, the cattle also concerning the vapour.

CHAPTER 37 ¹At this also my heart trembleth, and is moved out of his place.²Hear attentively the noise of his voice, and the sound that goeth out of his mouth.³He directeth it under the whole heaven, and his lightning unto the ends of the earth.⁴After it a voice roareth: he thundereth with the voice of his excellency and he will not stay them when his voice is heard.⁵God thundereth marvellously with his voice great things doeth he, which we cannot comprehend.⁶For he saith to the snow, Be thou on the earth likewise to the small rain, and to the great rain of his strength.⁷He sealet up the hand of every man that all men may know his work.⁸Then the beasts go into dens, and remain in their places.⁹Out of the south cometh the whirlwind: and cold out of the north.¹⁰By the breath of God frost is given: and the breadth of the waters is straitened.¹¹Also by watering he wearieth the thick cloud: he scattereth his bright cloud:¹²And it is turned round about by his counsels: that they may do whatsoever he commandeth them upon the face of the world in the earth.¹³He causeth it to come, whether for correction, or for his land, or for mercy.¹⁴Hearken unto this, O Job: stand still, and consider the wondrous works of God.¹⁵Dost thou know when God disposed them, and caused the light of his cloud to shine?¹⁶Dost thou know the balancings of the clouds, the wondrous works of him which is perfect in knowledge?¹⁷How thy garments are warm, when he quieteth the earth by the south wind?¹⁸Hast thou with him spread out the sky, which is strong, and as a molten looking glass?¹⁹Teach us what we shall say unto him for we cannot order our speech by reason of darkness.²⁰Shall it be told him that I speak? if a man speak, surely he shall be swallowed up.²¹And now men see not the bright light which is in the clouds: but the wind passeth, and cleanseth them.²²Fair weather cometh out of the north: with God is terrible majesty.²³Touching the Almighty, we cannot find him out: he is excellent in power, and in judgment, and in plenty of justice: he will not afflict.²⁴Men do therefore fear him: he respecteth not any that are wise of heart.

CHAPTER 38 ¹Then the LORD answered Job out of the whirlwind, and said,²Who is this that darkeneth counsel by words without knowledge?³Gird up now thy loins like a man for I will demand of thee, and answer thou me.⁴Where wast thou when I laid the foundations of the earth? declare, if thou hast understanding.⁵Who hath laid the measures thereof, if thou knowest? or who hath stretched the line upon it?⁶Whereupon are the foundations thereof fastened? or who laid the corner stone thereof? When the morning stars sang together, and all the sons of God shouted for joy?⁸Or who shut up the sea with doors, when it brake forth, as if it had issued out of the womb?⁹When I made the cloud the garment thereof, and thick darkness a swaddlingband for it,¹⁰And brake up for it my decreed place, and set bars and doors,¹¹And said, Hitherto shalt thou come, but no further: and here shall thy proud waves be stayed?¹²Hast thou commanded the morning since thy days and caused the dayspring to know his place¹³That it might take hold of the ends of the earth, that the wicked might be shaken out of it?¹⁴It is turned as clay to the seal and they stand as a garment.¹⁵And from the wicked their light is withholden, and the high arm shall be broken.¹⁶Hast thou entered into the springs of the sea? or hast thou walked in the search of the depth?¹⁷Have the gates of death been opened unto thee? or hast thou seen the doors of the shadow of death?¹⁸Hast thou perceived the breadth of the earth? declare if thou knowest it all.¹⁹Where is the way where light dwelleth? and as for darkness, where is the place thereof,²⁰That thou shouldest take it to the bound thereof, and that thou shouldest know the paths to the house thereof?²¹Knowest thou it, because thou wast then born? or because the number of thy days is great?²²Hast thou entered into the treasures of the snow? or hast thou seen the treasures of the hail,²³Which I have reserved against the time of trouble, against the day of battle and war?²⁴By what way is the light parted, which scattereth the east wind upon the earth?²⁵Who hath divided a watercourse for the overflowing of waters, or a way for the lightning of thunder²⁶To cause it to rain on the earth, where no man is on the wilderness, wherein there is no man²⁷To satisfy the desolate and waste ground and to cause the bud of the tender herb to spring forth?²⁸Hath the rain a father? or who hath begotten the drops of dew?²⁹Out of whose womb came the ice? and the hoary frost of heaven, who hath gendered it?³⁰The waters are hid as with a stone, and the face of the deep is frozen.³¹Canst thou bind the sweet influences of Pleiades, or loose the bands of Orion?³²Canst thou bring forth Mazzaroth in his season? or canst thou guide Arcturus with his sons?³³Knowest thou the ordinances of heaven? canst thou set the dominion thereof in the earth?³⁴Canst thou lift up thy voice to the clouds, that abundance of waters may cover thee?³⁵Canst thou send lightnings, that they may go, and say unto thee, Here we are?³⁶Who hath put wisdom in the inward parts? or who hath given understanding to the heart?³⁷Who can number the clouds in wisdom? or who can stay the bottles of heaven,³⁸When the dust groweth into hardness, and the clods cleave fast together?³⁹Wilt thou hunt the prey for the lion? or fill the appetite of the young lions,⁴⁰When they couch in their dens, and abide in the covert to lie in wait?⁴¹Who provideth for the raven his food? when his young ones cry unto God, they wander for lack of meat.

CHAPTER 39 ¹Knowest thou the time when the wild goats of the rock bring forth? or canst thou mark when the hinds do calve?²Canst thou number the months that they fulfil? or knowest thou the time when they bring forth?³They bow themselves, they bring forth their young ones, they cast out their sorrows.⁴Their young ones are in good liking, they grow up with corn they go forth, and return not unto them.⁵Who hath sent out the wild ass free? or who hath loosed the bands of the wild ass?⁶Whose house I have made the wilderness, and the barren land his dwellings.⁷He scorneth the multitude of the city, neither regardeth he the crying of the driver.⁸The range of the mountains is his pasture, and he searcheth after every green thing.⁹Will the unicorn be willing to serve thee, or abide by thy crib?¹⁰Canst thou bind the unicorn with his band in the furrow? or will he harrow the valleys after thee?¹¹Wilt thou trust him, because his strength is great? or wilt thou leave thy labour to him?¹²Wilt thou believe him, that he will bring home thy seed, and gather it into thy barn?¹³Gavest thou the goodly wings unto the peacocks? or wings and feathers unto the ostrich?¹⁴Which leaveth her eggs in the earth, and warmeth them in dust,¹⁵And forgetteth that the foot may crush them, or that the wild beast may break them.¹⁶She is hardened against her young ones, as though they were not hers: her labour is in vain without fear¹⁷Because God hath deprived her of wisdom, neither hath he imparted to her understanding.¹⁸What time she lifteth up herself on high, she scorneth the horse and his rider.¹⁹Hast thou given the horse strength? hast thou clothed his neck with thunder?²⁰Canst thou make him afraid as a grasshopper? the glory of his nostrils is terrible.²¹He paweth in the valley, and rejoiceth in his strength: he goeth on to meet the armed men.²²He mocketh at fear, and is not affrighted neither turneth he back from the sword.²³The quiver rattleth against him, the glittering spear and the shield.²⁴He swalloweth the ground with fierceness and rage: neither believeth he that it is the sound of the trumpet.²⁵He saith among the trumpets, Ha, ha and he smelleth the battle afar off, the thunder of the captains, and the shouting.²⁶Doth the hawk fly by thy wisdom, and stretch her wings toward the south?²⁷Doth the eagle mount up at thy command, and make her nest on high?²⁸She dwelleth and abideth on the rock, upon the crag of the rock, and the strong place.²⁹From thence she seeketh the prey, and her eyes behold afar off.³⁰Her young ones also suck up blood: and where the slain are, there is she.

CHAPTER 40 ¹Moreover the LORD answered Job, and said,²Shall he that contendeth with the Almighty instruct him? he that reproveth God, let him answer it.³Then Job answered the LORD, and said,⁴Behold, I am vile what shall I answer thee? I will lay mine hand upon my mouth.⁵Once have I spoken but I will not answer: yea, twice but I will proceed no further.⁶Then answered the LORD unto Job out of the whirlwind, and said,⁷Gird up thy loins now like a man: I will demand of thee, and declare thou unto me.⁸Wilt thou also disannul my judgment? wilt thou condemn me, that thou mayest be righteous?⁹Hast thou an arm like God? or canst thou thunder with a voice like him?¹⁰Deck thyself now with majesty and excellency and array thyself with glory and beauty.¹¹Cast abroad the rage of thy wrath: and behold every one that is proud, and abase him.¹²Look on every one that is proud, and bring him low and tread down the wicked in their place.¹³Hide them in the dust together and bind their faces in secret.¹⁴Then will I also confess unto thee that thine own right hand can save thee.¹⁵Behold now behemoth, which I made with thee he eateth grass as an ox.¹⁶Lo now, his strength is in his loins, and his force is in the navel of his belly.¹⁷He moveth his tail like a cedar: the sinews of his stones are wrapped together.¹⁸His bones are as strong pieces of brass his bones are like bars of iron.¹⁹He is the chief of the ways of God: he that made him can make his sword to approach unto him.²⁰Surely the mountains bring him forth food, where all the beasts of the field play.²¹He lieth under the shady trees, in the covert of the reed, and fens.²²The shady trees cover him with their shadow the willows of the brook compass him about.²³Behold, he drinketh up a river, and hasteth not: he trusteth that he can draw up Jordan into his mouth.²⁴He taketh it with his eyes: his nose pierceth through snares.

CHAPTER 41 ¹Canst thou draw out leviathan with an hook? or his tongue with a cord which thou lettest down?²Canst thou put an hook into his nose? or bore his jaw through with a thorn?³Will he make many supplications unto thee? will he speak soft words unto thee?⁴Will he make a covenant with thee? wilt thou take him for a servant for ever?⁵Wilt thou play with him as with a bird? or wilt thou bind him for thy maidens?⁶Shall the companions make a banquet of him? shall they part him among the merchants?⁷Canst thou fill his skin with barbed iron? or his head with fish spears?⁸Lay thine hand upon him, remember the battle, do no more.⁹Behold, the hope of him is in vain: shall not one be cast down even at the sight of him?¹⁰None is so fierce that dare stir him up: who then is able to stand before me?¹¹Who hath prevented me, that I should repay him? whatsoever is under the whole heaven is mine.¹²I will not conceal his parts, nor his power, nor his comely proportion.¹³Who can discover the face of his garment? or who can come to him with his double bridle?¹⁴Who can open the doors of his face? his teeth are terrible round about.¹⁵His scales are his pride, shut up together as with a close seal.¹⁶One is so near to another, that no air can come between them.¹⁷They are joined one to another, they stick together, that they cannot be sundered.¹⁸By his neesings a light doth shine, and his eyes are like the eyelids of the morning.¹⁹Out of his mouth go burning lamps, and sparks of fire leap out.²⁰Out of his nostrils goeth smoke, as out of a seething pot or caldron.²¹His breath kindleth coals, and a flame goeth out of his mouth.²²In his neck remaineth strength, and sorrow is turned into joy before him.²³The flakes of his flesh are joined together: they are firm in themselves they cannot be moved.²⁴His heart is as firm as a stone yea, as hard as a piece of the nether millstone.²⁵When he raiseth up himself, the mighty are afraid: by reason of breakings they purify themselves.²⁶The sword of him that layeth at him cannot hold: the spear, the dart, nor the habergeon.²⁷He esteemeth iron as straw, and brass as rotten wood.²⁸The arrow cannot make him flee: slingstones are turned with him into stubble.²⁹Darts are counted as stubble: he laugheth at the shaking of a spear.³⁰Sharp stones are under him: he spreadeth sharp pointed things upon the mire.³¹He maketh the deep to boil like a pot: he maketh the sea like a pot of ointment.³²He maketh a path to shine after him one would think the deep to be hoary.³³Upon earth there is not his like, who is made without fear.³⁴He beholdeth all high things: he is a king over all the children of pride.

CHAPTER 42 ¹Then Job answered the LORD, and said,²I know that thou canst do every thing, and that no thought can be withholden from thee.³Who is he that hideth counsel without knowledge? therefore have I uttered that I understood not things too wonderful for me, which I knew not.⁴Hear, I beseech thee, and I will speak: I will demand of thee, and declare thou unto me.⁵I have heard of thee by the hearing of the ear: but now mine eye seeth thee.⁶Wherefore I abhor myself, and repent in dust and ashes.⁷And it was so, that after the LORD had spoken these words unto Job, the LORD said to Eliphaz the Temanite, My wrath is kindled against thee, and against thy two friends: for ye have not spoken of me the thing that is right, as my servant Job hath.⁸Therefore take unto you now seven bullocks and seven rams, and go to my servant Job, and offer up for yourselves a burnt offering and my servant Job shall pray for you: for him will I accept: lest I deal with you after your folly, in that ye have not spoken of me the thing which is right, like my servant Job.⁹So Eliphaz the Temanite and Bildad the Shuhite and Zophar the Naamathite went, and did according as the LORD commanded them: the LORD also accepted Job.¹⁰And the LORD turned the captivity of Job, when he prayed for his friends: also the LORD gave Job twice as much as he had before.¹¹Then came there unto him all his brethren, and all his sisters, and all they that had been of his acquaintance before, and did eat bread with him in his house: and they bemoaned him, and comforted him over all the evil that the LORD had brought upon him: every man also gave him a piece of money, and every one an earring of gold.¹²So the LORD blessed the latter end of Job more than his beginning: for he had fourteen thousand sheep, and six thousand camels, and a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand she asses.¹³He had also seven sons and three daughters.¹⁴And he called the name of the first, Jemima and the name of the second, Kezia and the name of the third, Keren-happuch.¹⁵And in all the land were no women found so fair as the daughters of Job: and their father gave them inheritance among their brethren.¹⁶After this lived Job an hundred and forty years, and saw his sons, and his sons' sons, even four generations.¹⁷So Job died, being old and full of days.

CHAPTER 1 ¹Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful.²But his delight is in the law of the LORD and in his law doth he meditate day and night.³And he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his season his leaf also shall not wither and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper.⁴The ungodly are not so: but are like the chaff which the wind driveth away.⁵Therefore the ungodly shall not stand in the judgment, nor sinners in the congregation of the righteous.⁶For the LORD knoweth the way of the righteous: but the way of the ungodly shall perish.

CHAPTER 2 ¹Why do the heathen rage, and the people imagine a vain thing?²The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together, against the LORD, and against his anointed, saying,³Let us break their bands asunder, and cast away their cords from us.⁴He that sitteth in the heavens shall laugh: the Lord shall have them in derision.⁵Then shall he speak unto them in his wrath, and vex them in his sore displeasure.⁶Yet have I set my king upon my holy hill of Zion.⁷I will declare the decree: the LORD hath said unto me, Thou art my Son this day have I begotten thee.⁸Ask of me, and I shall give thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for thy possession.⁹Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel.¹⁰Be wise now therefore, O ye kings: be instructed, ye judges of the earth.¹¹Serve the LORD with fear, and rejoice with trembling.¹²Kiss the Son, lest he be angry, and ye perish from the way, when his wrath is kindled but a little. Blessed are all they that put their trust in him.

CHAPTER 3 ¹LORD, how are they increased that trouble me! many are they that rise up against me.²Many there be which say of my soul, There is no help for him in God. Selah.³But thou, O LORD, art a shield for me my glory, and the lifter up of mine head.⁴I cried unto the LORD with my voice, and he heard me out of his holy hill. Selah.⁵I laid me down and slept I awaked for the LORD sustained me.⁶I will not be afraid of ten thousands of people, that have set themselves against me round about.⁷Arise, O LORD save me, O my God: for thou hast smitten all mine enemies upon the cheek bone thou hast broken the teeth of the ungodly.⁸Salvation belongeth unto the LORD: thy blessing is upon thy people. Selah.

CHAPTER 4 ¹Hear me when I call, O God of my righteousness: thou hast enlarged me when I was in distress have mercy upon me, and hear my prayer.²O ye sons of men, how long will ye turn my glory into shame? how long will ye love vanity, and seek after leasing? Selah.³But know that the LORD hath set apart him that is godly for himself: the LORD will hear when I call unto him.⁴Stand in awe, and sin not: commune with your own heart upon your bed, and be still. Selah.⁵Offer the sacrifices of righteousness, and put your trust in the LORD.⁶There be many that say, Who will shew us any good? LORD, lift thou up the light of thy countenance upon us.⁷Thou hast put gladness in my heart, more than in the time that their corn and their wine increased.⁸I will both lay me down in peace, and sleep: for thou, LORD, only makest me dwell in safety.

CHAPTER 5 ¹Give ear to my words, O LORD, consider my meditation.²Hearken unto the voice of my cry, my King, and my God: for unto thee will I pray.³My voice shalt thou hear in the morning, O LORD in the morning will I direct my prayer unto thee, and will look up.⁴For thou art not a God that hath pleasure in wickedness: neither shall evil dwell with thee.⁵The foolish shall not stand in thy sight: thou hatest all workers of iniquity.⁶Thou shalt destroy them that speak leasing: the LORD will abhor the bloody and deceitful man.⁷But as for me, I will come into thy house in the multitude of thy mercy: and in thy fear will I worship toward thy holy temple.⁸Lead me, O LORD, in thy righteousness because of mine enemies make thy way straight before my face.⁹For there is no faithfulness in their mouth their inward part is very wickedness their throat is an open sepulchre they flatter with their tongue.¹⁰Destroy thou them, O God let them fall by their own counsels cast them out in the multitude of their transgressions for they have rebelled against thee.¹¹But let all those that put their trust in thee rejoice: let them ever shout for joy, because thou defendest them: let them also that love thy name be joyful in thee.¹²For thou, LORD, wilt bless the righteous with favour wilt thou compass him as with a shield.

CHAPTER 6 ¹O LORD, rebuke me not in thine anger, neither chasten me in thy hot displeasure.²Have mercy upon me, O LORD for I am weak: O LORD, heal me for my bones are vexed.³My soul is also sore vexed: but thou, O LORD, how long?⁴Return, O LORD, deliver my soul: oh save me for thy mercies' sake.⁵For in death there is no remembrance of thee: in the grave who shall give thee thanks?⁶I am weary with my groaning all the night make I my bed to swim I water my couch with my tears.⁷Mine eye is consumed because of grief it waxeth old because of all mine enemies.⁸Depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity for the LORD hath heard the voice of my weeping.⁹The LORD hath heard my supplication the LORD will receive my prayer.¹⁰Let all mine enemies be ashamed and sore vexed: let them return and be ashamed suddenly.

CHAPTER 7 ¹O Lord my God, in thee do I put my trust: save me from all them that persecute me, and deliver me:²Lest he tear my soul like a lion, rending it in pieces, while there is none to deliver.³O LORD my God, if I have done this if there be iniquity in my hands⁴If I have rewarded evil unto him that was at peace with me (yea, I have delivered him that without cause is mine enemy:)⁵Let the enemy persecute my soul, and take it yea, let him tread down my life upon the earth, and lay mine honour in the dust. Selah.⁶Arise, O LORD, in thine anger, lift up thyself because of the rage of mine enemies: and awake for me to the judgment that thou hast commanded.⁷So shall the congregation of the people compass thee about: for their sakes therefore return thou on high.⁸The LORD shall judge the people: judge me, O LORD, according to my righteousness, and according to mine integrity that is in me.⁹Oh let the wickedness of the wicked come to an end but establish the just: for the righteous God trieth the hearts and reins.¹⁰My defence is of God, which saveth the upright in heart.¹¹God judgeth the righteous, and God is angry with the wicked every day.¹²If he turn not, he will whet his sword he hath bent his bow, and made it ready.¹³He hath also prepared for him the instruments of death he ordaineth his arrows against the persecutors.¹⁴Behold, he travaileth with iniquity, and hath conceived mischief, and brought forth falsehood.¹⁵He made a pit, and digged it, and is fallen into the ditch which he made.¹⁶His mischief shall return upon his own head, and his violent dealing shall come down upon his own pate.¹⁷I will praise the LORD according to his righteousness: and will sing praise to the name of the LORD most high.

CHAPTER 8 ¹O LORD our Lord, how excellent is thy name in all the earth! who hast set thy glory above the heavens.²Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings hast thou ordained strength because of thine enemies, that thou mightest still the enemy and the avenger.³When I consider thy heavens, the work of thy fingers, the moon and the stars, which thou hast ordained⁴What is man, that thou art mindful of him? and the son of man, that thou visitest him?⁵For thou hast made him a little lower than the angels, and hast crowned him with glory and honour.⁶Thou madest him to have dominion over the works of thy hands thou hast put all things under his feet:⁷All sheep and oxen, yea, and the beasts of the field⁸The fowl of the air, and the fish of the sea, and whatsoever passeth through the paths of the seas.⁹O LORD our Lord, how excellent is thy name in all the earth!

CHAPTER 9 ¹I will praise thee, O LORD, with my whole heart I will shew forth all thy marvellous works.²I will be glad and rejoice in thee: I will sing praise to thy name, O thou most High.³When mine enemies are turned back, they shall fall and perish at thy presence.⁴For thou hast maintained my right and my cause thou satest in the throne judging right.⁵Thou hast rebuked the heathen, thou hast destroyed the wicked, thou hast put out their name for ever and ever.⁶O thou enemy, destructions are come to a perpetual end: and thou hast destroyed cities their memorial is perished with them.⁷But the LORD shall endure for ever: he hath prepared his throne for judgment.⁸And he shall judge the world in righteousness, he shall minister judgment to the people in uprightness.⁹The LORD also will be a refuge for the oppressed, a refuge in times of trouble.¹⁰And they that know thy name will put their trust in thee: for thou, LORD, hast not forsaken them that seek thee.¹¹Sing praises to the LORD, which dwelleth in Zion: declare among the people his doings.¹²When he maketh inquisition for blood, he remembereth them: he forgetteth not the cry of the humble.¹³Have mercy upon me, O LORD consider my trouble which I suffer of them that hate me, thou that liftest me up from the gates of death.¹⁴That I may shew forth all thy praise in the gates of the daughter of Zion: I will rejoice in thy salvation.¹⁵The heathen are sunk down in the pit that they made: in the net which they hid is their own foot taken.¹⁶The LORD is known by the judgment which he executeth: the wicked is snared in the work of his own hands. Higgaion. Selah.¹⁷The wicked shall be turned into hell, and all the nations that forget God.¹⁸For the needy shall not alway be forgotten: the expectation of the poor shall not perish for ever.¹⁹Arise, O LORD let not man prevail: let the heathen be judged in thy sight.²⁰Put them in fear, O LORD: that the nations may know themselves to be but men. Selah.

CHAPTER 10 ¹Why standest thou afar off, O LORD? why hidest thou thyself in times of trouble?²The wicked in his pride doth persecute the poor: let them be taken in the devices that they have imagined.³For the wicked boasteth of his heart's desire, and blesseth the covetous, whom the

LORD abhorreth.⁴The wicked, through the pride of his countenance, will not seek after God: God is not in all his thoughts.⁵His ways are always grievous thy judgments are far above out of his sight: as for all his enemies, he puffeth at them.⁶He hath said in his heart, I shall not be moved: for I shall never be in adversity.⁷His mouth is full of cursing and deceit and fraud: under his tongue is mischief and vanity.⁸He sitteth in the lurking places of the villages: in the secret places doth he murder the innocent: his eyes are privily set against the poor.⁹He lieth in wait secretly as a lion in his den: he lieth in wait to catch the poor: he doth catch the poor, when he draweth him into his net.¹⁰He croucheth, and humbleth himself, that the poor may fall by his strong ones.¹¹He hath said in his heart, God hath forgotten: he hideth his face he will never see it.¹²Arise, O LORD O God, lift up thine hand: forget not the humble.¹³Wherefore doth the wicked contemn God? he hath said in his heart, Thou wilt not require it.¹⁴Thou hast seen it for thou beholdest mischief and spite, to requite it with thy hand: the poor committeth himself unto thee thou art the helper of the fatherless.¹⁵Break thou the arm of the wicked and the evil man: seek out his wickedness till thou find none.¹⁶The LORD is King for ever and ever: the heathen are perished out of his land.¹⁷LORD, thou hast heard the desire of the humble: thou wilt prepare their heart, thou wilt cause thine ear to hear.¹⁸To judge the fatherless and the oppressed, that the man of the earth may no more oppress.

CHAPTER 11 ¹In the LORD put I my trust: How say ye to my soul, Flee as a bird to your mountain?²For, lo, the wicked bend their bow, they make ready their arrow upon the string, that they may privily shoot at the upright in heart.³If the foundations be destroyed, what can the righteous do?⁴The LORD is in his holy temple, the LORD's throne is in heaven: his eyes behold, his eyelids try, the children of men.⁵The LORD trieth the righteous: but the wicked and him that loveth violence his soul hateth.⁶Upon the wicked he shall rain snares, fire and brimstone, and an horrible tempest: this shall be the portion of their cup.⁷For the righteous LORD loveth righteousness his countenance doth behold the upright.

CHAPTER 12 ¹Help, LORD for the godly man ceaseth for the faithful fail from among the children of men.²They speak vanity every one with his neighbour: with flattering lips and with a double heart do they speak.³The LORD shall cut off all flattering lips, and the tongue that speaketh proud things:⁴Who have said, With our tongue will we prevail our lips are our own: who is lord over us?⁵For the oppression of the poor, for the sighing of the needy, now will I arise, saith the LORD I will set him in safety from him that puffeth at him.⁶The words of the LORD are pure words: as silver tried in a furnace of earth, purified seven times.⁷Thou shalt keep them, O LORD, thou shalt preserve them from this generation for ever.⁸The wicked walk on every side, when the vilest men are exalted.

CHAPTER 13 ¹How long wilt thou forget me, O LORD? for ever? how long wilt thou hide thy face from me?²How long shall I take counsel in my soul, having sorrow in my heart daily? how long shall mine enemy be exalted over me?³Consider and hear me, O LORD my God: lighten mine eyes, lest I sleep the sleep of death⁴Lest mine enemy say, I have prevailed against him and those that trouble me rejoice when I am moved.⁵But I have trusted in thy mercy my heart shall rejoice in thy salvation.⁶I will sing unto the LORD, because he hath dealt bountifully with me.

CHAPTER 14 ¹The fool hath said in his heart, There is no God. They are corrupt, they have done abominable works, there is none that doeth good.²The LORD looked down from heaven upon the children of men, to see if there were any that did understand, and seek God.³They are all gone aside, they are all together become filthy: there is none that doeth good, no, not one.⁴Have all the workers of iniquity no knowledge? who eat up my people as they eat bread, and call not upon the LORD.⁵There were they in great fear: for God is in the generation of the righteous.⁶Ye have shamed the counsel of the poor, because the LORD is his refuge.⁷Oh that the salvation of Israel were come out of Zion! when the LORD bringeth back the captivity of his people, Jacob shall rejoice, and Israel shall be glad.

righteousness, and speaketh the truth in his heart.³He that backbiteth not with his tongue, nor doeth evil to his neighbour, nor taketh up a reproach against his neighbour.⁴In whose eyes a vile person is contemned but he honoureth them that fear the LORD. He that sweareth to his own hurt, and changeth not.⁵He that putteth not out his money to usury, nor taketh reward against the innocent. He that doeth these things shall never be moved.

CHAPTER 16 ¹Preserve me, O God: for in thee do I put my trust.²O my soul, thou hast said unto the LORD, Thou art my Lord: my goodness extendeth not to thee³But to the saints that are in the earth, and to the excellent, in whom is all my delight.⁴Their sorrows shall be multiplied that hasten after another god: their drink offerings of blood will I not offer, nor take up their names into my lips.⁵The LORD is the portion of mine inheritance and of my cup: thou maintainest my lot.⁶The lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places yea, I have a goodly heritage.⁷I will bless the LORD, who hath given me counsel: my reins also instruct me in the night seasons.⁸I have set the LORD always before me: because he is at my right hand, I shall not be moved.⁹Therefore my heart is glad, and my glory rejoiceth: my flesh also shall rest in hope.¹⁰For thou wilt not leave my soul in hell neither wilt thou suffer thine Holy One to see corruption.¹¹Thou wilt shew me the path of life: in thy presence is fulness of joy at thy right hand there are pleasures for evermore.

CHAPTER 17 ¹Hear the right, O LORD, attend unto my cry, give ear unto my prayer, that goeth not out of feigned lips.²Let my sentence come forth from thy presence let thine eyes behold the things that are equal.³Thou has proved mine heart thou hast visited me in the night thou has tried me, and shalt find nothing I am purposed that my mouth shall not transgress.⁴Concerning the works of men, by the word of thy lips I have kept me from the paths of the destroyer.⁵Hold up my goings in thy paths, that my footsteps slip not.⁶I have called upon thee, for thou wilt hear me, O God: incline thine ear unto me, and hear my speech.⁷Shew thy marvellous lovingkindness, O thou that savest by thy right hand them which put their trust in thee from those that rise up against them.⁸Keep me as the apple of the eye, hide me under the shadow of thy wings,⁹From the wicked that oppress me, from my deadly enemies, who compass me about.¹⁰They are inclosed in their own fat: with their mouth they speak proudly.¹¹They have now compassed us in our steps: they have set their eyes bowing down to the earth¹²Like as a lion that is greedy of his prey, and as it were a young lion lurking in secret places.¹³Arise, O LORD, disappoint him, cast him down: deliver my soul from the wicked, which is thy sword:¹⁴From men which are thy hand, O LORD, from men of the world, which have their portion in this life, and whose belly thou fillest with thy hid treasure: they are full of children, and leave the rest of their substance to their babes.¹⁵As for me, I will behold thy face in righteousness: I shall be satisfied, when I awake, with thy likeness.

CHAPTER 18 ¹I will love thee, O LORD, my strength.²The LORD is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer my God, my strength, in whom I will trust my buckler, and the horn of my salvation, and my high tower.³I will call upon the LORD, who is worthy to be praised: so shall I be saved from mine enemies.⁴The sorrows of death compassed me, and the floods of ungodly men made me afraid.⁵The sorrows of hell compassed me about: the snares of death prevented me.⁶In my distress I called upon the LORD, and cried unto my God: he heard my voice out of his temple, and my cry came before him, even into his ears.⁷Then the earth shook and trembled the foundations also of the hills moved and were shaken, because he was wroth.⁸There went up a smoke out of his nostrils, and fire out of his mouth devoured: coals were kindled by it.⁹He bowed the heavens also, and came down: and darkness was under his feet.¹⁰And he rode upon a cherub, and did fly: yea, he did fly upon the wings of the wind.¹¹He made darkness his secret place his pavilion round about him were dark waters and thick clouds of the skies.¹²At the brightness that was before him his thick clouds passed, hail stones and coals of fire.¹³The LORD also thundered in the heavens, and the Highest gave his voice hail stones and coals of fire.¹⁴Yea, he sent out his arrows, and scattered them and he shot out lightnings, and discomfited them.¹⁵Then the channels of waters were seen, and the foundations of the world were discovered at thy rebuke, O LORD, at the blast of the breath of thy nostrils.¹⁶He sent from above, he took me, he drew me out of many waters.¹⁷He delivered me from my strong enemy, and from them which hated me: for they were too strong for me.¹⁸They prevented me in the day of my calamity: but the LORD was my stay.¹⁹He brought me forth also into a large place he delivered me, because he delighted in me.²⁰The LORD rewarded me according to my righteousness according to the cleanness of my hands hath he recompensed me.²¹For I have kept the ways of the LORD, and have not wickedly departed from my God.²²For all his judgments were before me, and I did not put away his statutes from me.²³I was also upright before him, and I kept myself from mine iniquity.²⁴Therefore hath the LORD recompensed me according to my righteousness, according to the cleanness of my hands in his eyesight.²⁵With the merciful thou wilt shew thyself merciful with an upright man thou wilt shew thyself upright²⁶With the pure thou wilt shew thyself pure and with the froward thou wilt shew thyself froward.²⁷For thou wilt save the afflicted people but wilt bring down high looks.²⁸For thou wilt light my candle: the LORD my God will enlighten my darkness.²⁹For by thee I have run through a troop and by my God have I leaped over a wall.³⁰As for God, his way is perfect: the word of the LORD is tried: he is a buckler to all those that trust in him.³¹For who is God save the LORD? or who is a rock save our God?³²It is God that girdeth me with strength, and maketh my way perfect.³³He maketh my feet like hinds' feet, and setteth me upon my high places.³⁴He teacheth my hands to war, so that a bow of steel is broken by mine arms.³⁵Thou hast also given me the shield of thy salvation: and thy right hand hath holden me up, and thy gentleness hath made me great.³⁶Thou hast enlarged my steps under me, that my feet did not slip.³⁷I have pursued mine enemies, and overtaken them: neither did I turn again till they were consumed.³⁸I have wounded them that they were not able to rise: they are fallen under my feet.³⁹For thou hast girded me with strength unto the battle: thou hast subdued under me those that rose up against me.⁴⁰Thou hast also given me the necks of mine enemies that I might destroy them that hate me.⁴¹They cried, but there was none to save them: even unto the LORD, but he answered them not.⁴²Then did I beat them small as the dust before the wind: I did cast them out as the dirt in the streets.⁴³Thou hast delivered me from the strivings of the people and thou hast made me the head of the heathen: a people whom I have not known shall serve me.⁴⁴As soon as they hear of me, they shall obey me: the strangers shall submit themselves unto me.⁴⁵The strangers shall fade away, and be afraid out of their close places.⁴⁶The LORD liveth and blessed be my rock and let the God of my salvation be exalted.⁴⁷It is God that avengeth me, and subdueth the people under me.⁴⁸He delivereth me from mine enemies: yea, thou liftest me up above those that rise up against me: thou hast delivered me from the violent man.⁴⁹Therefore will I give thanks unto thee, O LORD, among the heathen, and sing praises unto thy name.⁵⁰Great deliverance giveth he to his king and sheweth mercy to his anointed, to David, and to his seed for evermore.

CHAPTER 19 ¹The heavens declare the glory of God and the firmament sheweth his handywork.²Day unto day uttereth speech, and night unto night sheweth knowledge.³There is no speech nor language, where their voice is not heard.⁴Their line is gone out through all the earth, and their words to the end of the world. In them hath he set a tabernacle for the sun,⁵Which is as a bridegroom coming out of his chamber, and rejoiceth as a strong man to run a race.⁶His going forth is from the end of the heaven, and his circuit unto the ends of it: and there is nothing hid from the heat thereof.⁷The law of the LORD is perfect, converting the soul: the testimony of the LORD is sure, making wise the simple.⁸The statutes of the LORD are right, rejoicing the heart: the commandment of the LORD is pure, enlightening the eyes.⁹The fear of the LORD is clean, enduring for ever: the judgments of the LORD are true and righteous altogether.¹⁰More to be desired are they than gold, yea, than much fine gold: sweeter also than honey and the honeycomb.¹¹Moreover by them is thy servant warned: and in keeping of them there is great reward.¹²Who can understand his errors? cleanse thou me from secret faults.¹³Keep back thy servant also from presumptuous sins let them not have dominion over me: then shall I be upright, and I shall be innocent from the great transgression.¹⁴Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart, be acceptable in thy sight, O LORD, my strength, and my redeemer.

CHAPTER 20 ¹The LORD hear thee in the day of trouble the name of the God of Jacob defend thee²Send thee help from the sanctuary, and strengthen thee out of Zion³Remember all thy offerings, and accept thy burnt sacrifice Selah.⁴Grant thee according to thine own heart, and fulfil all thy counsel.⁵We will rejoice in thy salvation, and in the name of our God we will set up our banners: the LORD fulfil all thy petitions.⁶Now know I that the LORD saveth his anointed he will hear him from his holy heaven with the saving strength of his right hand.⁷Some trust in chariots, and some in horses: but we will remember the name of the LORD our God.⁸They are brought down and fallen: but we are risen, and stand upright.⁹Save, LORD: let the king hear us when we call.

CHAPTER 21 ¹The king shall joy in thy strength, O LORD and in thy salvation how greatly shall he rejoice!²Thou hast given him his heart's desire, and hast not withholden the request of his lips. Selah.³For thou preventest him with the blessings of goodness: thou settest a crown of pure gold on his head.⁴He asked life of thee, and thou gavest it him, even length of days for ever and ever.⁵His glory is great in thy salvation: honour and majesty hast thou laid upon him.⁶For thou hast made him most blessed for ever: thou hast made him exceeding glad with thy countenance.⁷For the king trusteth in the LORD, and through the mercy of the most High he shall not be moved.⁸Thine hand shall find out all thine enemies: thy right hand shall find out those that hate thee.⁹Thou shalt make them as a fiery oven in the time of thine anger: the LORD shall swallow them up in his wrath, and the fire shall devour them.¹⁰Their fruit shalt thou destroy from the earth, and their seed from among the children of men.¹¹For they intended evil against thee: they imagined a mischievous device, which they are not able to perform.¹²Therefore shalt thou make them turn their back, when thou shalt make ready thine arrows upon thy strings against the face of them.¹³Be thou exalted, LORD, in thine own strength: so will we sing and praise thy power.

CHAPTER 22 ¹My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me? why art thou so far from helping me, and from the words of my roaring?²O my God, I cry in the daytime, but thou hearest not and in the night season, and am not silent.³But thou art holy, O thou that inhabitest the praises of Israel.⁴Our fathers trusted in thee: they trusted, and thou didst deliver them.⁵They cried unto thee, and were delivered: they trusted in thee, and were not confounded.⁶But I am a worm, and no man a reproach of men, and despised of the people.⁷All they that see me laugh me to scorn: they shoot out the lip, they shake the head saying,⁸He trusted on the LORD that he would deliver him: let him deliver him, seeing he delighted in him.⁹But thou art he that took me out of the womb: thou didst make me hope when I was upon my mother's breasts.¹⁰I was cast upon thee from the womb: thou art my God from my mother's belly.¹¹Be not far from me for trouble is near for there is none to help.¹²Many bulls have compassed me: strong bulls of Bashan have beset me round.¹³They gaped upon me with their mouths, as a ravening and a roaring lion.¹⁴I am poured out like water, and all my bones are out of joint: my heart is like wax it is melted in the midst of my bowels.¹⁵My strength is dried up like a potsherd and my tongue

cleaveth to my jaws and thou hast brought me into the dust of death.¹⁶For dogs have compassed me: the assembly of the wicked have inclosed me: they pierced my hands and my feet.¹⁷I may tell all my bones: they look and stare upon me.¹⁸They part my garments among them, and cast lots upon my vesture.¹⁹But be not thou far from me, O LORD: O my strength, haste thee to help me.²⁰Deliver my soul from the sword my darling from the power of the dog.²¹Save me from the lion's mouth: for thou hast heard me from the horns of the unicorns.²²I will declare thy name unto my brethren: in the midst of the congregation will I praise thee.²³Ye that fear the LORD, praise him all ye the seed of Jacob, glorify him and fear him, all ye the seed of Israel.²⁴For he hath not despised nor abhorred the affliction of the afflicted neither hath he hid his face from him but when he cried unto him, he heard.²⁵My praise shall be of thee in the great congregation: I will pay my vows before them that fear him.²⁶The meek shall eat and be satisfied: they shall praise the LORD that seek him: your heart shall live for ever.²⁷All the ends of the world shall remember and turn unto the LORD: and all the kindreds of the nations shall worship before thee.²⁸For the kingdom is the LORD's: and he is the governor among the nations.²⁹All they that be fat upon earth shall eat and worship: all they that go down to the dust shall bow before him: and none can keep alive his own soul.³⁰A seed shall serve him it shall be accounted to the Lord for a generation.³¹They shall come, and shall declare his righteousness unto a people that shall be born, that he hath done this.

CHAPTER 23 ¹The LORD is my shepherd I shall not want.²He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: he leadeth me beside the still waters.³He restoreth my soul: he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake.⁴Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.⁵Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: thou anointest my head with oil my cup runneth over.⁶Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the LORD for ever.

CHAPTER 24 ¹The earth is the LORD's, and the fulness thereof the world, and they that dwell therein.²For he hath founded it upon the seas, and established it upon the floods.³Who shall ascend into the hill of the LORD? or who shall stand in his holy place?⁴He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity, nor sworn deceitfully.⁵He shall receive the blessing from the LORD, and righteousness from the God of his salvation.⁶This is the generation of them that seek him, that seek thy face, O Jacob. Selah.⁷Lift up your head, O ye gates and be ye lift up, ye everlasting doors and the King of glory shall come in.⁸Who is this King of glory? The LORD strong and mighty, the LORD mighty in battle.⁹Lift up your heads, O ye gates even lift them up, ye everlasting doors and the King of glory shall come in.¹⁰Who is this King of glory? The LORD of hosts, he is the King of glory. Selah.

CHAPTER 25 ¹Unto thee, O LORD, do I lift up my soul.²O my God, I trust in thee: let me not be ashamed, let not mine enemies triumph over me.³Yea, let none that wait on thee be ashamed: let them be ashamed which transgress without cause.⁴Shew me thy ways, O LORD teach me thy paths.⁵Lead me in thy truth, and teach me: for thou art the God of my salvation on thee do I wait all the day.⁶Remember, O LORD, thy tender mercies and thy lovingkindnesses for they have been ever of old.⁷Remember not the sins of my youth, nor my transgressions: according to thy mercy remember thou me for thy goodness' sake, O LORD.⁸Good and upright is the LORD: therefore will he teach sinners in the way.⁹The meek will he guide in judgment: and the meek will he teach his way.¹⁰All the paths of the LORD are mercy and truth unto such as keep his covenant and his testimonies.¹¹For thy name's sake, O LORD, pardon mine iniquity for it is great.¹²What man is he that feareth the LORD? him shall he teach in the way that he shall choose.¹³His soul shall dwell at ease and his seed shall inherit the earth.¹⁴The secret of the LORD is with them that fear him and he will shew them his covenant.¹⁵Mine eyes are ever toward the LORD for he shall pluck my feet out of the net.¹⁶Turn thee unto me, and have mercy upon me for I am desolate and afflicted.¹⁷The troubles of my heart are enlarged: O bring thou me out of my distresses.¹⁸Look upon mine affliction and my pain and forgive all my sins.¹⁹Consider mine enemies for they are many and they hate me with cruel hatred.²⁰O keep my soul, and deliver me: let me not be ashamed for I put my trust in thee.²¹Let integrity and uprightness preserve me for I wait on thee.²²Redeem Israel, O God, out of all his troubles.

CHAPTER 26 ¹Judge me, O LORD for I have walked in mine integrity: I have trusted also in the LORD therefore I shall not slide.²Examine me, O LORD, and prove me try my reins and my heart.³For thy lovingkindness is before mine eyes: and I have walked in thy truth.⁴I have not sat with vain persons, neither will I go in with dissemblers.⁵I have hated the congregation of evil doers and will not sit with the wicked.⁶I will wash mine hands in innocency: so will I compass thine altar, O LORD:⁷That I may publish with the voice of thanksgiving, and tell of all thy wondrous works.⁸LORD, I have loved the habitation of thy house, and the place where thine honour dwelleth.⁹Gather not my soul with sinners, nor my life with bloody men:¹⁰In whose hands is mischief, and their right hand is full of bribes.¹¹But as for me, I will walk in mine integrity: redeem me, and be merciful unto me.¹²My foot standeth in an even place: in the congregations will I bless the LORD.

CHAPTER 27 ¹The LORD is my light and my salvation whom shall I fear? the LORD is the strength of my life of whom shall I be afraid?²When the wicked, even mine enemies and my foes, came upon me to eat up my flesh, they stumbled and fell.³Though an host should encamp against me, my heart shall not fear: though war should rise against me, in this will I be confident.⁴One thing have I desired of the LORD, that will I seek after that I may dwell in the house of the LORD all the days of my life, to behold the beauty of the LORD, and to inquire in his temple.⁵For in the time of trouble he shall hide me in his pavilion: in the secret of his tabernacle shall he hide me he shall set me up upon a rock.⁶And now shall mine head be lifted up above mine enemies round about me: therefore will I offer in his tabernacle sacrifices of joy I will sing, yea, I will sing praises unto the LORD.⁷Hear, O LORD, when I cry with my voice: have mercy also upon me, and answer me.⁸When thou saidst, Seek ye my face my heart said unto thee, Thy face, LORD, will I seek.⁹Hide not thy face far from me put not thy servant away in anger: thou hast been my help leave me not, neither forsake me, O God of my salvation.¹⁰When my father and my mother forsake me, then the LORD will take me up.¹¹Teach me thy way, O LORD, and lead me in a plain path, because of mine enemies.¹²Deliver me not over unto the will of mine enemies: for false witnesses are risen up against me, and such as breathe out cruelty.¹³I had fainted, unless I had believed to see the goodness of the LORD in the land of the living.¹⁴Wait on the LORD: be of good courage, and he shall strengthen thine heart: wait, I say, on the LORD.

CHAPTER 28 ¹Unto thee will I cry, O LORD my rock be not silent to me: lest, if thou be silent to me, I become like them that go down into the pit.²Hear the voice of my supplications, when I cry unto thee, when I lift up my hands toward thy holy oracle.³Draw me not away with the wicked, and with the workers of iniquity, which speak peace to their neighbours, but mischief is in their hearts.⁴Give them according to their deeds, and according to the wickedness of their endeavours:

give them after the work of their hands render to them their desert.⁵Because they regard not the works of the LORD, nor the operation of his hands, he shall destroy them, and not build them up.⁶Blessed be the LORD, because he hath heard the voice of my supplications.⁷The LORD is my strength and my shield my heart trusted in him, and I am helped: therefore my heart greatly rejoiceth and with my song will I praise him.⁸The LORD is their strength, and he is the saving strength of his anointed.⁹Save thy people, and bless thine inheritance: feed them also, and lift them up for ever.

CHAPTER 29 ¹Give unto the LORD, O ye mighty, give unto the LORD glory and strength.²Give unto the LORD the glory due unto his name worship the LORD in the beauty of holiness.³The voice of the LORD is upon the waters: the God of glory thundereth: the LORD is upon many waters.⁴The voice of the LORD is powerful the voice of the LORD is full of majesty.⁵The voice of the LORD breaketh the cedars yea, the LORD breaketh the cedars of Lebanon.⁶He maketh them also to skip like a calf Lebanon and Sirion like a young unicorn.⁷The voice of the LORD divideth the flames of fire.⁸The voice of the LORD shaketh the wilderness the LORD shaketh the wilderness of Kadesh.⁹The voice of the LORD maketh the hinds to calve, and discovereth the forests: and in his temple doth every one speak of his glory.¹⁰The LORD sitteth upon the flood yea, the LORD sitteth King for ever.¹¹The LORD will give strength unto his people the LORD will bless his people with peace.

CHAPTER 30 ¹I will extol thee, O LORD for thou hast lifted me up, and hast not made my foes to rejoice over me.²O LORD my God, I cried unto thee, and thou hast healed me.³O LORD, thou hast brought up my soul from the grave: thou hast kept me alive, that I should not go down to the pit.⁴Sing unto the LORD, O ye saints of his, and give thanks at the remembrance of his holiness.⁵For his anger endureth but a moment in his favour is life: weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning.⁶And in my prosperity I said, I shall never be moved.⁷LORD, by thy favour thou hast made my mountain to stand strong: thou didst hide thy face, and I was troubled.⁸I cried to thee, O LORD and unto the LORD I made supplication.⁹What profit is there in my blood, when I go down to the pit? Shall the dust praise thee? shall it declare thy truth?¹⁰Hear, O LORD, and have mercy upon me: LORD, be thou my helper.¹¹Thou hast turned for me my mourning into dancing: thou hast put off my sackcloth, and girded me with gladness¹²To the end that my glory may sing praise to thee, and not be silent. O LORD my God, I will give thanks unto thee for ever.

CHAPTER 31 ¹In thee, O LORD, do I put my trust let me never be ashamed: deliver me in thy righteousness.²Bow down thine ear to me deliver me speedily: be thou my strong rock, for an house of defence to save me.³For thou art my rock and my fortress therefore for thy name's sake lead me, and guide me.⁴Pull me out of the net that they have laid privily for me: for thou art my strength.⁵Into thine hand I commit my spirit: thou hast redeemed me, O LORD God of truth.⁶I have hated them that regard lying vanities: but I trust in the LORD.⁷I will be glad and rejoice in thy mercy: for thou hast considered my trouble thou hast known my soul in adversities⁸And hast not shut me up into the hand of the enemy: thou hast set my feet in a large room.⁹Have mercy upon me, O LORD, for I am in trouble: mine eye is consumed with grief, yea, my soul and my belly.¹⁰For my life is spent with grief, and my years with sighing: my strength faileth because of mine iniquity, and my bones are consumed.¹¹I was a reproach among all mine enemies, but especially among my neighbours, and a fear to mine acquaintance: they that did see me without fled from me.¹²I am forgotten as a dead man out of mind: I am like a broken vessel.¹³For I have heard the slander of many: fear was on every side: while they took counsel together against me, they devised to take away my life.¹⁴But I trusted in thee, O LORD: I said, Thou art my God.¹⁵My times are in thy hand: deliver me from the hand of mine enemies, and from them that persecute me.¹⁶Make thy face to shine upon thy servant: save me for thy mercies' sake.¹⁷Let me not be ashamed, O LORD for I have called upon thee: let the wicked be ashamed, and let them be silent in the grave.¹⁸Let the lying lips be put to silence which speak grievous things proudly and contemptuously against the righteous.¹⁹Oh how great is thy goodness, which thou hast laid up for them that fear thee which thou hast wrought for them that trust in thee before the sons of men!²⁰Thou shalt hide them in the secret of thy presence from the pride of man: thou shalt keep them secretly in a pavilion from the strife of tongues.²¹Blessed be the LORD: for he hath shewed me his marvellous kindness in a strong city.²²For I said in my haste, I am cut off from before thine eyes: nevertheless thou heardest the voice of my supplications when I cried unto thee.²³O love the LORD, all ye his saints: for the LORD preserveth the faithful, and plentifully rewardeth the proud doer.²⁴Be of good courage, and he shall strengthen your heart, all ye that hope in the LORD.

CHAPTER 32 ¹Blessed is he whose transgression is forgiven, whose sin is covered.²Blessed is the man unto whom the LORD imputeth not iniquity, and in whose spirit there is no guile.³When I kept silence, my bones waxed old through my roaring all the day long.⁴For day and night thy hand was heavy upon me: my moisture is turned into the drought of summer. Selah.⁵I acknowledged my sin unto thee, and mine iniquity have I not hid. I said, I will confess my transgressions unto the LORD and thou forgavest the iniquity of my sin. Selah.⁶For this shall every one that is godly pray unto thee in a time when thou mayest be found: surely in the floods of great waters they shall not come nigh unto him.⁷Thou art my hiding place thou shalt preserve me from trouble thou shalt compass me about with songs of deliverance. Selah.⁸I will instruct thee and teach thee in the way which thou shalt go: I will guide thee with mine eye.⁹Be ye not as the horse, or as the mule, which have no understanding: whose mouth must be held in with bit and bridle, lest they come near unto thee.¹⁰Many sorrows shall be to the wicked: but he that trusteth in the LORD, mercy shall compass him about.¹¹Be glad in the LORD, and rejoice, ye righteous: and shout for joy, all ye that are upright in heart.

CHAPTER 33 ¹Rejoice in the LORD, O ye righteous: for praise is comely for the upright.²Praise the LORD with harp: sing unto him with the psaltery and an instrument of ten strings.³Sing unto him a new song play skilfully with a loud noise.⁴For the word of the LORD is right and all his works are done in truth.⁵He loveth righteousness and judgment: the earth is full of the goodness of the LORD.⁶By the word of the LORD were the heavens made and all the host of them by the breath of his mouth.⁷He gathereth the waters of the sea together as an heap: he layeth up the depth in storehouses.⁸Let all the earth fear the LORD: let all the inhabitants of the world stand in awe of him.⁹For he spake, and it was done he commanded, and it stood fast.¹⁰The LORD bringeth the counsel of the heathen to nought: he maketh the devices of the people of none effect.¹¹The counsel of the LORD standeth for ever, the thoughts of his heart to all generations.¹²Blessed is the nation whose God is the LORD: and the people whom he hath chosen for his own inheritance.¹³The LORD looketh from heaven he beholdeth all the sons of men.¹⁴From the place of his habitation he looketh upon all the inhabitants of the earth.¹⁵He fashioneth their hearts alike he considereth all their works.¹⁶There is no king saved by the multitude of an host: a mighty man is not delivered by much strength.¹⁷An horse is a vain thing for safety: neither shall he deliver any by his great strength.¹⁸Behold, the eye of the LORD is upon them that fear him, upon them that hope in his mercy¹⁹To deliver their soul from death, and to keep them alive in famine.²⁰Our soul waiteth for the LORD: he is our help and our shield.²¹For our heart shall rejoice in him, because we have trusted in his holy name.²²Let thy mercy, O LORD, be upon us, according as we hope in thee.

CHAPTER 34 ¹I will bless the LORD at all times: his praise shall continually be in my mouth.²My soul shall make her boast in the LORD: the humble shall hear thereof, and be glad.³O magnify the LORD with me, and let us exalt his name together.⁴I sought the LORD, and he heard me, and delivered me from all my fears.⁵They looked unto him, and were lightened: and their faces were not ashamed.⁶This poor man cried, and the LORD heard him, and saved him out of all his troubles.⁷The angel of the LORD encampeth round about them that fear him, and delivereth them.⁸O taste and see that the LORD is good: blessed is the man that trusteth in him.⁹O fear the LORD, ye his saints: for there is no want to them that fear him.¹⁰The young lions do lack, and suffer hunger: but they that seek the LORD shall not want any good thing.¹¹Come, ye children, hearken unto me: I will teach you the fear of the LORD.¹²What man is he that desireth life, and loveth many days, that he may see good?¹³Keep thy tongue from evil, and thy lips from speaking guile.¹⁴Depart from evil, and do good seek peace, and pursue it.¹⁵The eyes of the LORD are upon the righteous, and his ears are open unto their cry.¹⁶The face of the LORD is against them that do evil, to cut off the remembrance of them from the earth.¹⁷The righteous cry, and the LORD heareth, and delivereth them out of all their troubles.¹⁸The LORD is nigh unto them that are of a broken heart and saveth such as be of a contrite spirit.¹⁹Many are the afflictions of the righteous: but the LORD delivereth him out of them all.²⁰He keepeth all his bones: not one of them is broken.²¹Evil shall slay the wicked: and they that hate the righteous shall be desolate.²²The LORD redeemeth the soul of his servants: and none of them that trust in him shall be desolate.

CHAPTER 35 ¹Plead my cause, O LORD, with them that strive with me: fight against them that fight against me.²Take hold of shield and buckler, and stand up for mine help.³Draw out also the spear, and stop the way against them that persecute me: say unto my soul, I am thy salvation.⁴Let them be confounded and put to shame that seek after my soul: let them be turned back and brought to confusion that devise my hurt.⁵Let them be as chaff before the wind: and let the angel of the LORD chase them.⁶Let their way be dark and slippery: and let the angel of the LORD persecute them.⁷For without cause have they hid for me their net in a pit, which without cause they have digged for my soul.⁸Let destruction come upon him at unawares and let his net that he hath hid catch himself: into that very destruction let him fall.⁹And my soul shall be joyful in the LORD: it shall rejoice in his salvation.¹⁰All my bones shall say, LORD, who is like unto thee, which deliverest the poor from him that is too strong for him, yea, the poor and the needy from him that spoileth him?¹¹False witnesses did rise up they laid to my charge things that I knew not.¹²They rewarded me evil for good to the spoiling of my soul.¹³But as for me, when they were sick, my clothing was sackcloth: I humbled my soul with fasting and my prayer returned into mine own bosom.¹⁴I behaved myself as though he had been my friend or brother: I bowed down heavily, as one that mourneth for his mother.¹⁵But in mine adversity they rejoiced, and gathered themselves together: yea, the abjects gathered themselves together against me, and I knew it not they did tear me, and ceased not:¹⁶With hypocritical mockers in feasts, they gnashed upon me with their teeth.¹⁷Lord, how long wilt thou look on? rescue my soul from their destructions, my darling from the lions.¹⁸I will give thee thanks in the great congregation: I will praise thee among much people.¹⁹Let not them that are mine enemies wrongfully rejoice over me: neither let them wink with the eye that hate me without a cause.²⁰For they speak not peace: but they devise deceitful matters against them that are quiet in the land.²¹Yea, they opened their mouth wide against me, and said, Aha, aha, our eye hath seen it.²²This thou hast seen, O LORD: keep not silence: O Lord, be not far from me.²³Stir up thyself, and awake to my judgment, even unto my cause, my God and my Lord.²⁴Judge me, O LORD my God, according to thy righteousness and let them not rejoice over me.²⁵Let them not say in their hearts, Ah, so would we have it: let them not say, We have swallowed him up.²⁶Let them be ashamed and brought to confusion together that rejoice at mine hurt: let them be clothed with shame and dishonour that magnify themselves against me.²⁷Let them shout for joy, and be glad, that favour my righteous cause: yea, let them say continually, Let the LORD be magnified, which hath pleasure in the prosperity of his servant.²⁸And my tongue shall speak of thy righteousness and of thy praise all the day long.

CHAPTER 36 ¹The transgression of the wicked saith within my heart, that there is no fear of God before his eyes.²For he flattereth himself in his own eyes, until his iniquity be found to be hateful.³The words of his mouth are iniquity and deceit: he hath left off to be wise, and to do good.⁴He deviseth mischief upon his bed he setteth himself in a way that is not good he abhorreth not evil.⁵Thy mercy, O LORD, is in the heavens and thy faithfulness reacheth unto the clouds.⁶Thy righteousness is like the great mountains thy judgments are a great deep: O LORD, thou preservest man and beast.⁷How excellent is thy lovingkindness, O God! therefore the children of men put their trust under the shadow of thy wings.⁸They shall be abundantly satisfied with the fatness of thy house and thou shalt make them drink of the river of thy pleasures.⁹For with thee is the fountain of life: in thy light shall we see light.¹⁰O continue thy lovingkindness unto them that know thee and thy righteousness to the upright in heart.¹¹Let not the foot of pride come against me, and let not the hand of the wicked remove me.¹²There are the workers of iniquity fallen: they are cast down, and shall not be able to rise.

CHAPTER 37 ¹Fret not thyself because of evildoers, neither be thou envious against the workers of iniquity.²For they shall soon be cut down like the grass, and wither as the green herb.³Trust in the LORD, and do good so shalt thou dwell in the land, and verily thou shalt be fed.⁴Delight thyself also in the LORD and he shall give thee the desires of thine heart.⁵Commit thy way unto the LORD trust also in him and he shall bring it to pass.⁶And he shall bring forth thy righteousness as the light, and thy judgment as the noonday.⁷Rest in the LORD, and wait patiently for him: fret not thyself because of him who prospereth in his way, because of the man who bringeth wicked devices to pass.⁸Cease from anger, and forsake wrath: fret not thyself in any wise to do evil.⁹For evildoers shall be cut off: but those that wait upon the LORD, they shall inherit the earth.¹⁰For yet a little while, and the wicked shall not be: yea, thou shalt diligently consider his place, and it shall not be.¹¹But the meek shall inherit the earth and shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace.¹²The wicked plotteth against the just, and gnasheth upon him with his teeth.¹³The Lord shall laugh at him: for he seeth that his day is coming.¹⁴The wicked have drawn out the sword, and have bent their bow, to cast down the poor and needy, and to slay such as be of upright conversation.¹⁵Their sword shall enter into their own heart, and their bows shall be broken.¹⁶A little that a righteous man hath is better than the riches of many wicked.¹⁷For the arms of the wicked shall be broken: but the LORD upholdeth the righteous.¹⁸The LORD knoweth the days of the upright: and their inheritance shall be for ever.¹⁹They shall not be ashamed in the evil time: and in the days of famine they shall be satisfied.²⁰But the wicked shall perish, and the enemies of the LORD shall be as the fat of lambs: they shall consume into smoke shall they consume away.²¹The wicked borroweth, and payeth not again: but the righteous sheweth mercy, and giveth.²²For such as be blessed of him shall inherit the earth and they that be cursed of him shall be cut off.²³The steps of a good man are ordered by the LORD: and he delighteth in his way.²⁴Though he fall, he shall not be utterly cast down: for the LORD upholdeth him with his hand.²⁵I have been young, and now am old yet have I not seen the righteous forsaken, nor his seed begging bread.²⁶He is ever merciful, and lendeth and his seed is blessed.²⁷Depart from evil, and do good and dwell for evermore.²⁸For the LORD loveth judgment, and forsaketh not his saints they are preserved for ever: but the seed of the wicked shall be cut off.²⁹The righteous shall inherit the land, and dwell therein for ever.³⁰The mouth of the righteous speaketh wisdom, and his tongue talketh of judgment.³¹The law of his God is in his heart none of his steps shall slide.³²The wicked watcheth the righteous, and seeketh to slay him.³³The LORD will not leave him in his hand, nor condemn him when he is judged.³⁴Wait on the LORD, and keep his way, and he shall exalt thee to inherit the land: when the wicked are cut off, thou shalt see it.³⁵I have seen the wicked in great power, and spreading himself like a green bay tree.³⁶Yet he passed away, and, lo, he was not: yea, I sought him, but he could not be found.³⁷Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright: for the end of that man is peace.³⁸But the transgressors shall be destroyed together: the end of the wicked shall be cut off.³⁹But the salvation of the righteous is of the LORD: he is their strength in the time of trouble.⁴⁰And the LORD shall help them and deliver them: he shall deliver them from the wicked, and save them, because they trust in him.

CHAPTER 38 ¹O LORD, rebuke me not in thy wrath: neither chasten me in thy hot displeasure.²For thine arrows stick fast in me, and thy hand presseth me sore.³There is no soundness in my flesh because of thine anger neither is there any rest in my bones because of my sin.⁴For mine iniquities are gone over mine head: as an heavy burden they are too heavy for me.⁵My wounds stink and are corrupt because of my foolishness.⁶I am troubled I am bowed down greatly I go mourning all the day long.⁷For my loins are filled with a loathsome disease: and there is no soundness in my flesh.⁸I am feeble and sore broken: I have roared by reason of the disquietness of my heart.⁹Lord, all my desire is before thee and my groaning is not hid from thee.¹⁰My heart panteth, my strength faileth me: as for the light of mine eyes, it also is gone from me.¹¹My lovers and my friends stand aloof from my sore and my kinsmen stand afar off.¹²They also that seek after my life lay snares for me: and they that seek my hurt speak mischievous things, and imagine deceits all the day long.¹³But I, as a deaf man, heard not and I was as a dumb man that openeth not his mouth.¹⁴Thus I was as a man that heareth not, and in whose mouth are no reproofs.¹⁵For in thee, O LORD, do I hope: thou wilt hear, O Lord my God.¹⁶For I said, Hear me, lest otherwise they should rejoice over me: when my foot slippeth, they magnify themselves against me.¹⁷For I am ready to halt, and my sorrow is continually before me.¹⁸For I will declare mine iniquity I will be sorry for my sin.¹⁹But mine enemies are lively, and they are strong: and they that hate me wrongfully are multiplied.²⁰They also that render evil for good are mine adversaries because I follow the thing that good is.²¹Forsake me not, O LORD: O my God, be not far from me.²²Make haste to help me, O Lord my salvation.

CHAPTER 39 ¹I said, I will take heed to my ways, that I sin not with my tongue: I will keep my mouth with a bridle, while the wicked is before me.²I was dumb with silence, I held my peace, even from good and my sorrow was stirred.³My heart was hot within me, while I was musing the fire burned: then spake I with my tongue,⁴LORD, make me to know mine end, and the measure of my days, what it is that I may know how frail I am.⁵Behold, thou hast made my days as an handbreadth and mine age is as nothing before thee: verily every man at his best state is altogether vanity. Selah.⁶Surely every man walketh in a vain shew: surely they are disquieted in vain: he heapeth up riches, and knoweth not who shall gather them.⁷And now, Lord, what wait I for? my hope is in thee.⁸Deliver me from all my transgressions: make me not the reproach of the foolish.⁹I was dumb, I opened not my mouth because thou didst it.¹⁰Remove thy stroke away from me: I am consumed by the blow of thine hand.¹¹When thou with rebukes dost correct man for iniquity, thou makest his beauty to consume away like a moth: surely every man is vanity. Selah.¹²Hear my prayer, O LORD, and give ear unto my cry hold not thy peace at my tears: for I am a stranger with thee, and a sojourner, as all my fathers were.¹³O spare me, that I may recover strength, before I go hence, and be no more.

CHAPTER 40 ¹I waited patiently for the LORD and he inclined unto me, and heard my cry.²He brought me up also out of an horrible pit, out of the miry clay, and set my feet upon a rock, and established my goings.³And he hath put a new song in my mouth, even praise unto our God: many shall see it, and fear, and shall trust in the LORD.⁴Blessed is that man that maketh the LORD his trust, and respecteth not the proud, nor such as turn aside to lies.⁵Many, O LORD my God, are thy wonderful works which thou hast done, and thy thoughts which are to us-ward: they cannot be reckoned up in order unto thee: if I would declare and speak of them, they are more than can be numbered.⁶Sacrifice and offering thou didst not desire mine ears hast thou opened: burnt offering and sin offering hast thou not required.⁷Then said I, Lo, I come: in the volume of the book it is written of me,⁸I delight to do thy will, O my God: yea, thy law is within my heart.⁹I have preached righteousness in the great congregation: lo, I have not refrained my lips, O LORD, thou knowest.¹⁰I have not hid thy righteousness within my heart I have declared thy faithfulness and thy salvation: I have not concealed thy lovingkindness and thy truth from the great congregation.¹¹Withhold not thou thy tender mercies from me, O LORD: let thy lovingkindness and thy truth continually preserve me.¹²For innumerable evils have compassed me about: mine iniquities have taken hold upon me, so that I am not able to look up they are more than the hairs of mine head: therefore my heart faileth me.¹³Be pleased, O LORD, to deliver me: O LORD, make haste to help me.¹⁴Let them be ashamed and confounded together that seek after my soul to destroy it let them be driven backward and put to shame that wish me evil.¹⁵Let them be desolate for a reward of their shame that say unto me, Aha, aha.¹⁶Let all those that seek thee rejoice and be glad in thee: let such as love thy salvation say continually, The LORD be magnified.¹⁷But I am poor and needy yet the Lord thinketh upon me: thou art my help and my deliverer make no tarrying, O my God.

CHAPTER 41 ¹Blessed is he that considereth the poor: the LORD will deliver him in time of trouble.²The LORD will preserve him, and keep him alive and he shall be blessed upon the earth: and thou wilt not deliver him unto the will of his enemies.³The LORD will strengthen him upon the bed of languishing: thou wilt make all his bed in his sickness.⁴I said, LORD, be merciful unto me: heal my soul for I have sinned against thee.⁵Mine enemies speak evil of me, When shall he die, and his name perish?⁶And if he come to see me, he speaketh vanity: his heart gathereth iniquity to itself when he goeth abroad, he telleth it.⁷All that hate me whisper together against me: against me do they devise my hurt.⁸An evil disease, say they, cleaveth fast unto him: and now that he lieth he shall rise up no more.⁹Yea, mine own familiar friend, in whom I trusted, which did eat of my bread, hath lifted up his heel against me.¹⁰But thou, O LORD, be merciful unto me, and raise me up, that I may requite them.¹¹By this I know that thou favourest me, because mine enemy doth not triumph over me.¹²And as for me, thou upholdest me in mine integrity, and settest me before thy face for ever.¹³Blessed be the LORD God of Israel from everlasting, and to everlasting. Amen, and Amen.

CHAPTER 42¹As the hart panteth after the water brooks, so panteth my soul after thee, O God.²My soul thirsteth for God, for the living God: when shall I come and appear before God?³My tears have been my meat day and night, while they continually say unto me, Where is thy God?⁴When I remember these things, I pour out my soul in me: for I had gone with the multitude, I went with them to the house of God, with the voice of joy and praise, with a multitude that kept holyday.⁵Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and why art thou disquieted in me? hope thou in God: for I shall yet praise him for the help of his countenance.⁶O my God, my soul is cast down within me: therefore will I remember thee from the land of Jordan, and of the Hermonites, from the hill Mizar.⁷Deep calleth unto deep at the noise of thy waterspouts: all thy waves and thy billows are gone over me.⁸Yet the LORD will command his lovingkindness in the daytime, and in the night his song shall be with me, and my prayer unto the God of my life.⁹ I will say unto God my rock, Why hast thou forgotten me? why go I mourning because of the oppression of the enemy?¹⁰ As with a sword in my bones, mine enemies reproach me while they say daily unto me, Where is thy God?¹¹ Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and why art thou disquieted within me? hope thou in God: for I shall yet praise him, who is the health of my countenance, and my God.

CHAPTER 43 ¹Judge me, O God, and plead my cause against an ungodly nation: O deliver me from the deceitful and unjust man.² For thou art the God of my strength: why dost thou cast me off? why go I mourning because of the oppression of the enemy?³ O send out thy light and thy truth: let them lead me let them bring me unto thy holy hill, and to thy tabernacles.⁴ Then will I go unto the altar of God, unto God my exceeding joy: yea, upon the harp will I praise thee, O God my God.⁵ Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and why art thou disquieted within me? hope in God: for I shall yet praise him, who is the health of my countenance, and my God.

CHAPTER 44 ¹We have heard with our ears, O God, our fathers have told us, what work thou didst in their days, in the times of old.² How thou didst drive out the heathen with thy hand, and plantedst them how thou didst afflict the people, and cast them out.³ For they got not the land in possession by their own sword, neither did their own arm save them: but thy right hand, and thine arm, and the light of thy countenance, because thou hadst a favour unto them.⁴ Thou art my King, O God: command deliverances for Jacob.⁵ Through thee will we push down our enemies: through thy name will we tread them under that rise up against us.⁶ For I will not trust in my bow, neither shall my sword save me.⁷ But thou hast saved us from our enemies, and hast put them to shame that hated us.⁸ In God we boast all the day long, and praise thy name for ever. Selah.⁹ But thou hast cast off, and put us to shame and goest not forth with our armies.¹⁰ Thou makest us to turn back from the enemy: and they which hate us spoil for themselves.¹¹ Thou hast given us like sheep appointed for meat and hast scattered us among the heathen.¹²Thou sellest thy people for nought, and dost not increase thy wealth by their price.¹³Thou makest us a reproach to our neighbours, a scorn and a derision to them that are round about us.¹⁴Thou makest us a byword among the heathen, a shaking of the head among the people.¹⁵My confusion is continually before me, and the shame of my face hath covered me,¹⁶For the voice of him that reproacheth and blasphemeth by reason of the enemy and avenger.¹⁷All this is come upon us yet have we not forgotten thee, neither have we dealt falsely in thy covenant.¹⁸Our heart is not turned back, neither have our steps declined from thy way¹⁹Though thou hast sore broken us in the place of dragons, and covered us with the shadow of death.²⁰If we have forgotten the name of our God, or stretched out our hands to a strange god²¹Shall not God search this out? for he knoweth the secrets of the heart.²²Yea, for thy sake are we killed all the day long we are counted as sheep for the slaughter.²³Awake, why sleepest thou, O Lord? arise, cast us not off for ever.²⁴Wherefore hidest thou thy face, and forgettest our affliction and our oppression?²⁵For our soul is bowed down to the dust: our belly cleaveth unto the earth.²⁶Arise for our help, and redeem us for thy mercies' sake.

CHAPTER 45 ¹My heart is inditing a good matter: I speak of the things which I have made touching the king: my tongue is the pen of a ready writer.²Thou art fairer than the children of men: grace is poured into thy lips: therefore God hath blessed thee for ever.³Gird thy sword upon thy thigh, O most mighty, with thy glory and thy majesty.⁴And in thy majesty ride prosperously because of truth and meekness and righteousness and thy right hand shall teach thee terrible things.⁵Thine arrows are sharp in the heart of the king's enemies whereby the people fall under thee.⁶Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever: the sceptre of thy kingdom is a right sceptre.⁷Thou lovest righteousness, and hatest wickedness: therefore God, thy God, hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows.⁸All thy garments smell of myrrh, and aloes, and cassia, out of the ivory palaces, whereby they have made thee glad.⁹Kings' daughters were among thy honourable women: upon thy right hand did stand the queen in gold of Ophir.¹⁰Hearken, O daughter, and consider, and incline thine ear forget also thine own people, and thy father's house¹¹So shall the king greatly desire thy beauty: for he is thy Lord and worship thou him.¹²And the daughter of Tyre shall be there with a gift even the rich among the people shall intreat thy favour.¹³The king's daughter is all glorious within: her clothing is of wrought gold.¹⁴She shall be brought unto the king in raiment of needlework: the virgins her companions that follow her shall be brought unto thee.¹⁵With gladness and rejoicing shall they be brought: they shall enter into the king's palace.¹⁶Instead of thy fathers shall be thy children, whom thou mayest make princes in all the earth.¹⁷I will make thy name to be remembered in all generations: therefore shall the people praise thee for ever and ever.

CHAPTER 46 ¹God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble.²Therefore will not we fear, though the earth be removed, and though the mountains be carried into the midst of the sea³Though the waters thereof roar and be troubled, though the mountains shake with the swelling thereof. Selah.⁴There is a river, the streams whereof shall make glad the city of God, the holy place of the tabernacles of the most High.⁵God is in the midst of her she shall not be moved: God shall help her, and that right early.⁶The heathen raged, the kingdoms were moved: he uttered his voice, the earth melted.⁷The LORD of hosts is with us the God of Jacob is our refuge. Selah.⁸Come, behold the works of the LORD, what desolations he hath made in the earth.⁹He maketh wars to cease unto the end of the earth he breaketh the bow, and cutteth the spear in sunder he burneth the chariot in the fire.¹⁰Be still, and know that I am God: I will be exalted among the heathen, I will be exalted in the earth.¹¹The LORD of hosts is with us the God of Jacob is our refuge. Selah.

CHAPTER 47 ¹O clap your hands, all ye people shout unto God with the voice of triumph.²For the LORD most high is terrible he is a great King over all the earth.³He shall subdue the people under us, and the nations under our feet.⁴He shall choose our inheritance for us, the excellency of Jacob whom he loved. Selah.⁵God is gone up with a shout, the LORD with the sound of a trumpet.⁶Sing praises to God, sing praises: sing praises unto our King, sing praises.⁷For God is the King of all the earth: sing ye praises with understanding.⁸God reigneth over the heathen: God sitteth upon the throne of his holiness.⁹The princes of the people are gathered together, even the people of the God of Abraham: for the shields of the earth belong unto God: he is greatly exalted.

CHAPTER 48 ¹Great is the LORD, and greatly to be praised in the city of our God, in the mountain of his holiness.²Beautiful for situation, the joy of the whole earth, is mount Zion, on the sides of the north, the city of the great King.³God is known in her palaces for a refuge.⁴For, lo, the kings were assembled, they passed by together.⁵They saw it, and so they marvelled they were troubled, and hasted away.⁶Fear took hold upon them there, and pain, as of a woman in travail.⁷Thou breakest the ships of Tarshish with an east wind.⁸As we have heard, so have we seen in the city of the LORD of hosts, in the city of our God: God will establish it for ever. Selah.⁹We have thought of thy lovingkindness, O God, in the midst of thy temple.¹⁰According to thy name, O God, so is thy praise unto the ends of the earth: thy right hand is full of righteousness.¹¹Let mount Zion rejoice, let the daughters of Judah be glad, because of thy judgments.¹²Walk about Zion, and go round about her: tell the towers thereof.¹³Mark ye well her bulwarks, consider her palaces that ye may tell it to the generation following.¹⁴For this God is our God for ever and ever: he will be our guide even unto death.

CHAPTER 49 ¹Hear this, all ye people give ear, all ye inhabitants of the world:²Both low and high, rich and poor, together.³My mouth shall speak of wisdom and the meditation of my heart shall be of understanding.⁴I will incline mine ear to a parable: I will open my dark saying upon the harp.⁵Wherefore should I fear in the days of evil, when the iniquity of my heels shall compass me about?⁶They that trust in their wealth, and boast themselves in the multitude of their riches⁷None of them can by any means redeem his brother, nor give to God a ransom for him:⁸(For the redemption of their soul is precious, and it ceaseth for ever:)⁹That he should still live for ever, and not see corruption.¹⁰For he seeth that wise men die, likewise the fool and the brutish person perish, and leave their wealth to others.¹¹ Their inward thought is, that their houses shall continue for ever, and their dwelling places to all generations they call their lands after their own names.¹² Nevertheless man being in honour abideth not: he is like the beasts that perish.¹³ This their way is their folly: yet their posterity approve their sayings. Selah.¹⁴ Like sheep they are laid in the grave death shall feed on them and the upright shall have dominion over them in the morning and their beauty shall consume in the grave from their dwelling.¹⁵ But God will redeem my soul from the power of the grave: for he shall receive me. Selah.¹⁶ Be not thou afraid when one is made rich, when the glory of his house is increased¹⁷ For when he dieth he shall carry nothing away: his glory shall not descend after him.¹⁸ Though while he lived he blessed his soul: and men will praise thee, when thou doest well to thyself.¹⁹ He shall go to the generation of his fathers they shall never see light.²⁰ Man that is in honour, and understandeth not, is like the beasts that perish.

CHAPTER 50 ¹The mighty God, even the LORD, hath spoken, and called the earth from the rising of the sun unto the going down thereof.² Out of Zion, the perfection of beauty, God hath shined.³ Our God shall come, and shall not keep silence: a fire shall devour before him, and it shall be very tempestuous round about him.⁴ He shall call to the heavens from above, and to the earth, that he may judge his people.⁵ Gather my saints together unto me those that have made a covenant with me by sacrifice.⁶ And the heavens shall declare his righteousness: for God is judge himself. Selah.⁷ Hear, O my people, and I will speak O Israel, and I will testify against thee: I am God, even thy God.⁸ I will not reprove thee for thy sacrifices or thy burnt offerings, to have been continually before me.⁹ I will take no bullock out of thy house, nor he goats out of thy folds.¹⁰ For every beast of the forest is mine, and the cattle upon a thousand hills.¹¹ I know all the fowls of the mountains: and the wild beasts of the field are mine.¹² If I were hungry, I would not tell thee: for the world is mine, and the fulness thereof.¹³ Will I eat the flesh of bulls, or drink the blood of goats?¹⁴ Offer unto God thanksgiving and pay thy vows unto the most High:¹⁵ And call upon me in the day of trouble: I will deliver thee, and thou shalt glorify me.¹⁶But unto the wicked God saith, What hast thou to do to declare my statutes, or that thou shouldest take my covenant in thy mouth?¹⁷Seeing thou hatest instruction, and castest my words behind thee.¹⁸When thou sawest a thief, then thou consentedst with him, and hast been partaker with adulterers.¹⁹Thou givest thy mouth to evil, and thy tongue frameth deceit.²⁰Thou sittest and speakest against thy brother thou slanderest thine own mother's son.²¹These things hast thou done, and I kept silence thou thoughtest that I was altogether such an one as thyself: but I will reprove thee, and set them in order before thine eyes.²²Now consider this, ye that forget God, lest I tear you in pieces, and there be none to deliver.²³Whoso offereth praise glorifieth me: and to him that ordereth his conversation aright will I shew the salvation of God.

CHAPTER 51 ¹Have mercy upon me, O God, according to thy lovingkindness: according unto the multitude of thy tender mercies blot out my transgressions.²Wash me thoroughly from mine iniquity, and cleanse me from my sin.³For I acknowledge my transgressions: and my sin is ever before me.⁴Against thee, thee only, have I sinned, and done this evil in thy sight: that thou mightest be justified when thou speakest, and be clear when thou judgest.⁵Behold, I was shapen in iniquity and in sin did my mother conceive me.⁶Behold, thou desirest truth in the inward parts: and in the hidden part thou shalt make me to know wisdom.⁷Purge me with hyssop, and I shall be clean: wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow.⁸Make me to hear joy and gladness that the bones which thou hast broken may rejoice.⁹Hide thy face from my sins, and blot out all mine iniquities.¹⁰Create in me a clean heart, O God and renew a right spirit within me.¹¹Cast me not away from thy presence and take not thy holy spirit from me.¹²Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation and uphold me with thy free spirit.¹³Then will I teach transgressors thy ways and sinners shall be converted unto thee.¹⁴Deliver me from bloodguiltiness, O God, thou God of my salvation: and my tongue shall sing aloud of thy righteousness.¹⁵O Lord, open thou my lips and my mouth shall shew forth thy praise.¹⁶For thou desirest not sacrifice else would I give it: thou delightest not in burnt offering.¹⁷The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit: a broken and a contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.¹⁸Do good in thy good pleasure unto Zion: build thou the walls of Jerusalem.¹⁹Then shalt thou be pleased with the sacrifices of righteousness, with burnt offering and whole burnt offering: then shall they offer bullocks upon thine altar.

CHAPTER 52 ¹Why boastest thou thyself in mischief, O mighty man? the goodness of God endureth continually.²Thy tongue deviseth mischiefs like a sharp razor, working deceitfully.³Thou lovest evil more than good and lying rather than to speak righteousness. Selah.⁴Thou lovest all devouring words, O thou deceitful tongue.⁵God shall likewise destroy thee for ever, he shall take thee away, and pluck thee out of thy dwelling place, and root thee out of the land of the living. Selah.⁶The righteous also shall see, and fear, and shall laugh at him:⁷Lo, this is the man that made not God his strength but trusted in the abundance of his riches, and strengthened himself in his wickedness.⁸But I am like a green olive tree in the house of God: I trust in the mercy of God for ever and ever.⁹I will praise thee for ever, because thou hast done it: and I will wait on thy name for it is good before thy saints.

CHAPTER 53 ¹The fool hath said in his heart, There is no God. Corrupt are they, and have done abominable iniquity: there is none that doeth good.²God looked down from heaven upon the children of men, to see if there were any that did understand, that did seek God.³Every one of them is gone back: they are altogether become filthy there is none that doeth good, no, not one.⁴Have the workers of iniquity no knowledge? who eat up my people as they eat bread: they have not called upon God.⁵There were they in great fear, where no fear was: for God hath scattered the bones of him that encampeth against thee: thou hast put them to shame, because God hath despised them.⁶Oh that the salvation of Israel were come out of Zion! When God bringeth back the captivity of his people, Jacob shall rejoice, and Israel shall be glad.

CHAPTER 54 ¹Save me, O God, by thy name, and judge me by thy strength.²Hear my prayer, O God give ear to the words of my mouth.³For strangers are risen up against me, and oppressors seek after my soul: they have not set God before them. Selah.⁴Behold, God is mine helper: the Lord is with them that uphold my soul.⁵He shall reward evil unto mine enemies: cut them off in thy truth.⁶I will freely sacrifice unto thee: I will praise thy name, O LORD for it is good.⁷For he hath delivered me out of all trouble: and mine eye hath seen his desire upon mine enemies.

CHAPTER 55 ¹Give ear to my prayer, O God and hide not thyself from my supplication.²Attend unto me, and hear me: I mourn in my complaint, and make a noise³Because of the voice of the enemy, because of the oppression of the wicked: for they cast iniquity upon me, and in wrath they hate me.⁴My heart is sore pained within me: and the terrors of death are fallen upon me.⁵Fearfulness and trembling are come upon me, and horror hath overwhelmed me.⁶And I said, Oh that I had wings like a dove! for then would I fly away, and be at rest.⁷Lo, then would I wander far off, and remain in the wilderness. Selah.⁸I would hasten my escape from the windy storm and tempest.⁹Destroy, O Lord, and divide their tongues: for I have seen violence and strife in the city.¹⁰Day and night they go about it upon the walls thereof: mischief also and sorrow are in the midst of it.¹¹Wickedness is in the midst thereof: deceit and guile depart not from her streets.¹²For it was not an enemy that reproached me then I could have borne it: neither was it he that hated me that did magnify himself against me then I would have hid myself from him:¹³But it was thou, a man mine equal, my guide, and mine acquaintance.¹⁴We took sweet counsel together, and walked unto the house of God in company.¹⁵Let death seize upon them, and let them go down quick into hell: for wickedness is in their dwellings, and among them.¹⁶As for me, I will call upon God and the LORD shall save me.¹⁷Evening, and morning, and at noon, will I pray, and cry aloud: and he shall hear my voice.¹⁸He hath delivered my soul in peace from the battle that was against me: for there were many with me.¹⁹God shall hear, and afflict them, even he that abideth of old. Selah. Because they have no changes, therefore they fear not God.²⁰He hath put forth his hands against such as be at peace with him: he hath broken his covenant.²¹The words of his mouth were smoother than butter, but war was in his heart: his words were softer than oil, yet were they drawn swords.²²Cast thy burden upon the LORD, and he shall sustain thee: he shall never suffer the righteous to be moved.²³But thou, O God, shalt bring them down into the pit of destruction: bloody and deceitful men shall not live out half their days but I will trust in thee.

CHAPTER 56 ¹Be merciful unto me, O God: for man would swallow me up he fighting daily oppresseth me.²Mine enemies would daily swallow me up: for they be many that fight against me, O thou most High.³What time I am afraid, I will trust in thee.⁴In God I will praise his word, in God I have put my trust I will not fear what flesh can do unto me.⁵Every day they wrest my words: all their thoughts are against me for evil.⁶They gather themselves together, they hide themselves, they mark my steps, when they wait for my soul.⁷Shall they escape by iniquity? in thine anger cast down the people, O God.⁸Thou tellest my wanderings: put thou my tears into thy bottle: are they not in thy book?⁹When I cry unto thee, then shall mine enemies turn back: this I know for God is for me.¹⁰In God will I praise his word: in the LORD will I praise his word.¹¹In God have I put my trust: I will not be afraid what man can do unto me.¹²Thy vows are upon me, O God: I will render praises unto thee.¹³For thou hast delivered my soul from death: wilt not thou deliver my feet from falling, that I may walk before God in the light of the living?

CHAPTER 57 ¹Be merciful unto me, O God, be merciful unto me: for my soul trusteth in thee: yea, in the shadow of thy wings will I make my refuge, until these calamities be overpast.²I will cry unto God most high unto God that performeth all things for me.³He shall send from heaven, and save from the reproach of him that would swallow me up. Selah. God shall send forth his mercy and his truth.⁴My soul is among lions: and I lie even among them that are set on fire, even the sons of men, whose teeth are spears and arrows, and their tongue a sharp sword.⁵Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens let thy glory be above all the earth.⁶They have prepared a net for my steps my soul is bowed down: they have digged a pit before me, into the midst whereof they are fallen themselves. Selah.⁷My heart is fixed, O God, my heart is fixed: I will sing and give praise.⁸Awake up, my glory awake, psaltery and harp: I myself will awake early.⁹I will praise thee, O Lord, among the people: I will sing unto thee among the nations.¹⁰For thy mercy is great unto the heavens, and thy truth unto the clouds.¹¹Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens: let thy glory be above all the earth.

CHAPTER 58 ¹Do ye indeed speak righteousness, O congregation? do ye judge uprightly, O ye sons of men?²Yea, in heart ye work wickedness ye weigh the violence of your hands in the earth.³The wicked are estranged from the womb: they go astray as soon as they be born, speaking lies.⁴Their poison is like the poison of a serpent: they are like the deaf adder that stoppeth her ear⁵Which will not hearken to the voice of charmers, charming never so wisely.⁶Break their teeth, O God, in their mouth: break out the great teeth of the young lions, O LORD.⁷Let them melt away as waters which run continually: when he bendeth his bow to shoot his arrows, let them be as cut in pieces.⁸As a snail which melteth, let every one of them pass away: like the untimely birth of a woman, that they may not see the sun.⁹Before your pots can feel the thorns, he shall take them away as with a whirlwind, both living, and in his wrath.¹⁰The righteous shall rejoice when he seeth the vengeance: he shall wash his feet in the blood of the wicked.¹¹So that a man shall say, Verily there is a reward for the righteous: verily he is a God that judgeth in the earth.

CHAPTER 59 ¹Deliver me from mine enemies, O my God: defend me from them that rise up against me.²Deliver me from the workers of iniquity, and save me from bloody men.³For, lo, they lie in wait for my soul: the mighty are gathered against me not for my transgression, nor for my sin, O LORD.⁴They run and prepare themselves without my fault: awake to help me, and behold.⁵Thou therefore, O LORD God of hosts, the God of Israel, awake to visit all the heathen: be not merciful to any wicked transgressors. Selah.⁶They return at evening: they make a noise like a dog, and go round about the city.⁷Behold, they belch out with their mouth: swords are in their lips: for who, say they, doth hear?⁸But thou, O LORD, shalt laugh at them thou shalt have all the heathen in derision.⁹Because of his strength will I wait upon thee: for God is my defence.¹⁰The God of my mercy shall prevent me: God shall let me see my desire upon mine enemies.¹¹Slay them not, lest my people forget: scatter them by thy power and bring them down, O Lord our shield.¹²For the sin of their mouth and the words of their lips let them even be taken in their pride: and for cursing and lying which they speak.¹³Consume them in wrath, consume them, that they may not be: and let them know that God ruleth in Jacob unto the ends of the earth. Selah.¹⁴And at evening let them return and let them make a noise like a dog, and go round about the city.¹⁵Let them wander up and down for meat, and grudge if they be not satisfied.¹⁶But I will sing of thy power yea, I will sing aloud of thy mercy in the morning: for thou hast been my defence and refuge in the day of my trouble.¹⁷Unto thee, O my strength, will I sing: for God is my defence, and the God of my mercy.

CHAPTER 60 ¹O God, thou hast cast us off, thou hast scattered us, thou hast been displeased O turn thyself to us again.²Thou hast made the earth to tremble thou hast broken it: heal the breaches thereof for it shaketh.³Thou hast shewed thy people hard things: thou hast made us to drink the wine of astonishment.⁴Thou hast given a banner to them that fear thee, that it may be displayed because of the truth. Selah.⁵That thy beloved may be delivered save with thy right hand, and hear me.⁶God hath spoken in his holiness I will rejoice, I will divide Shechem, and mete out the valley of Succoth.⁷Gilead is mine, and Manasseh is mine Ephraim also is the strength of mine head Judah is my lawgiver⁸Moab is my washpot over Edom will I cast out my shoe: Philistia, triumph thou because of me.⁹Who will bring me into the strong city? who will lead me into Edom?¹⁰Wilt not thou, O God, which hadst cast us off? and thou, O God, which didst not go out with our armies?¹¹Give us help from trouble: for vain is the help of man.¹²Through God we shall do valiantly: for he it is that shall tread down our enemies.

CHAPTER 61 ¹Hear my cry, O God attend unto my prayer.²From the end of the earth will I cry unto thee, when my heart is overwhelmed: lead me to the rock that is higher than I.³For thou hast been a shelter for me, and a strong tower from the enemy.⁴I will abide in thy tabernacle for ever: I will trust in the covert of thy wings. Selah.⁵For thou, O God, hast heard my vows: thou hast given me the heritage of those that fear thy name.⁶Thou wilt prolong the king's life: and his years as many generations.⁷He shall abide before God for ever: O prepare mercy and truth, which may preserve him.⁸So will I sing praise unto thy name for ever, that I may daily perform my vows.

CHAPTER 62 ¹Truly my soul waiteth upon God: from him cometh my salvation.²He only is my rock and my salvation he is my defence I shall not be greatly moved.³How long will ye imagine mischief against a man? ye shall be slain all of you: as a bowing wall shall ye be, and as a tottering fence.⁴They only consult to cast him down from his excellency: they delight in lies: they bless with their mouth, but they curse inwardly. Selah.⁵My soul, wait thou only upon God for my expectation is from him.⁶He only is my rock and my salvation: he is my defence I shall not be moved.⁷In God is my salvation and my glory: the rock of my strength, and my refuge, is in God.⁸Trust in him at all times ye people, pour out your heart before him: God is a refuge for us. Selah.⁹Surely men of low degree are vanity, and men of high degree are a lie: to be laid in the balance, they are altogether lighter than vanity.¹⁰Trust not in oppression, and become not vain in robbery: if riches increase, set not your heart upon them.¹¹God hath spoken once twice have I heard this that power belongeth unto God.¹²Also unto thee, O Lord, belongeth mercy: for thou renderest to every man according to his work.

CHAPTER 63 ¹O God, thou art my God early will I seek thee: my soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh longeth for thee in a dry and thirsty land, where no water is²To see thy power and thy glory, so as I have seen thee in the sanctuary.³Because thy lovingkindness is better than life, my lips shall praise thee.⁴Thus will I bless thee while I live: I will lift up my hands in thy name.⁵My soul shall be satisfied as with marrow and fatness and my mouth shall praise thee with joyful lips:⁶When I remember thee upon my bed, and meditate on thee in the night watches.⁷Because thou hast been my help, therefore in the shadow of thy wings will I rejoice.⁸My soul followeth hard after thee: thy right hand upholdeth me.⁹But those that seek my soul, to destroy it, shall go into the lower parts of the earth.¹⁰They shall fall by the sword: they shall be a portion for foxes.¹¹But the king shall rejoice in God every one that sweareth by him shall glory: but the mouth of them that speak lies shall be stopped.

CHAPTER 64 ¹Hear my voice, O God, in my prayer: preserve my life from fear of the enemy.²Hide me from the secret counsel of the wicked from the insurrection of the workers of iniquity:³Who whet their tongue like a sword, and bend their bows to shoot their arrows, even bitter words:⁴That they may shoot in secret at the perfect: suddenly do they shoot at him, and fear not.⁵They encourage themselves in an evil matter: they commune of laying snares privily they say, Who shall see them?⁶They search out iniquities they accomplish a diligent search: both the inward thought of every one of them, and the heart, is deep.⁷But God shall shoot at them with an arrow suddenly shall they be wounded.⁸So they shall make their own tongue to fall upon themselves: all that see them shall flee away.⁹And all men shall fear, and shall declare the work of God for they shall wisely consider of his doing.¹⁰The righteous shall be glad in the LORD, and shall trust in him and all the upright in heart shall glory.

CHAPTER 65 ¹Praise waiteth for thee, O God, in Sion: and unto thee shall the vow be performed.²O thou that hearest prayer, unto thee shall all flesh come.³Iniquities prevail against me: as for our transgressions, thou shalt purge them away.⁴Blessed is the man whom thou choosest, and causest to approach unto thee, that he may dwell in thy courts: we shall be satisfied with the goodness of thy house, even of thy holy temple.⁵By terrible things in righteousness wilt thou answer us, O God of our salvation who art the confidence of all the ends of the earth, and of them that are afar off upon the sea:⁶Which by his strength setteth fast the mountains being girded with power:⁷Which stilleth the noise of the seas, the noise of their waves, and the tumult of the people.⁸They also that dwell in the uttermost parts are afraid at thy tokens: thou makest the outgoings of the morning and evening to rejoice.⁹Thou visitest the earth, and waterest it: thou greatly enrichest it with the river of God, which is full of water: thou preparest them corn, when thou hast so provided for it.¹⁰Thou waterest the ridges thereof abundantly: thou settlest the furrows thereof: thou makest it soft with showers: thou blessest the springing thereof.¹¹Thou crownest the year with thy goodness and thy paths drop fatness.¹²They drop upon the pastures of the wilderness: and the little hills rejoice on every side.¹³The pastures are clothed with flocks the valleys also are covered over with corn they shout for joy, they also sing.

CHAPTER 66 ¹Make a joyful noise unto God, all ye lands:²Sing forth the honour of his name: make his praise glorious.³Say unto God, How terrible art thou in thy works! through the greatness of thy power shall thine enemies submit themselves unto thee.⁴All the earth shall worship thee, and shall sing unto thee they shall sing to thy name. Selah.⁵Come and see the works of God: he is terrible in his doing toward the children of men.⁶He turned the sea into dry land: they went through the flood on foot: there did we rejoice in him.⁷He ruleth by his power for ever his eyes behold the nations: let not the rebellious exalt themselves. Selah.⁸O bless our God, ye people, and make the voice of his praise to be heard:⁹Which holdeth our soul in life, and suffereth not our feet to be moved.¹⁰For thou, O God, hast proved us: thou hast tried us, as silver is tried.¹¹Thou broughtest us into the net thou laidst affliction upon our loins.¹²Thou hast caused men to ride over our heads we went through fire and through water: but thou broughtest us out into a wealthy place.¹³I will go into thy house with burnt offerings: I will pay thee my vows,¹⁴Which my lips have uttered, and my mouth hath spoken, when I was in trouble.¹⁵I will offer unto thee burnt sacrifices of fatlings, with the incense of rams I will offer bullocks with goats. Selah.¹⁶Come and hear, all ye that fear God, and I will declare what he hath done for my soul.¹⁷I cried unto him with my mouth, and he was extolled with my tongue.¹⁸If I regard iniquity in my heart, the Lord will not hear me:¹⁹But verily God hath heard me he hath attended to the voice of my prayer.²⁰Blessed be God, which hath not turned away my prayer, nor his mercy from me.

CHAPTER 67 ¹God be merciful unto us, and bless us and cause his face to shine upon us Selah.²That thy way may be known upon earth, thy saving health among all nations.³Let the people praise thee, O God let all the people praise thee.⁴O let the nations be glad and sing for joy: for thou shalt judge the people righteously, and govern the nations upon earth. Selah.⁵Let the people praise thee, O God let all the people praise thee.⁶Then shall the earth yield her increase and God, even our own God, shall bless us.⁷God shall bless us and all the ends of the earth shall fear him.

CHAPTER 68 ¹Let God arise, let his enemies be scattered: let them also that hate him flee before him.²As smoke is driven away, so drive them away: as wax melteth before the fire, so let the wicked perish at the presence of God.³But let the righteous be glad let them rejoice before God: yea, let them exceedingly rejoice.⁴Sing unto God, sing praises to his name: extol him that rideth upon the heavens by his name JAH, and rejoice before him.⁵A father of the fatherless, and a judge of the widows, is God in his holy habitation.⁶God setteth the solitary in families: he bringeth out those which are bound with chains: but the rebellious dwell in a dry land.⁷O God, when thou wentest forth before thy people, when thou didst march through the wilderness Selah:⁸The earth shook, the heavens also dropped at the presence of God: even Sinai itself was moved at the presence of God, the God of Israel.⁹Thou, O God, didst send a plentiful rain, whereby thou didst confirm thine inheritance, when it was weary.¹⁰Thy congregation hath dwelt therein: thou, O God, hast prepared of thy goodness for the poor.¹¹The Lord gave the word: great was the company of those that published it.¹²Kings of armies did flee apace: and she that tarried at home divided the spoil.¹³Though ye have lien among the pots, yet shall ye be as the wings of a dove covered with silver, and her feathers with yellow gold.¹⁴When the Almighty scattered kings in it, it was white as snow in Salmon.¹⁵The hill of God is as the hill of Bashan an high hill as the hill of Bashan.¹⁶Why leap ye, ye high hills? this is the hill which God desireth to dwell in yea, the LORD will dwell in it for ever.¹⁷The chariots of God are twenty thousand, even thousands of angels: the Lord is among them, as in Sinai, in the holy place.¹⁸Thou hast ascended on high, thou hast led captivity captive: thou hast received gifts for men yea, for the rebellious also, that the LORD God might dwell among them.¹⁹Blessed be the Lord, who daily loadeth us with benefits, even the God of our salvation. Selah.²⁰He that is our God is the God of salvation and unto God the Lord belong the issues from death.²¹But God shall wound the head of his enemies, and the hairy scalp of such an one as goeth on still in his trespasses.²²The Lord said, I will bring again from Bashan, I will bring my people again from the depths of the sea.²³That thy foot may be dipped in the blood of thine enemies, and the tongue of thy dogs in the same.²⁴They have seen thy goings, O God even the goings of my God, my King, in the sanctuary.²⁵The singers went before, the players on instruments followed after among them were the damsels playing with timbrels.²⁶Bless ye God in the congregations, even the Lord, from the fountain of Israel.²⁷There is little Benjamin with their ruler, the princes of Judah and their council, the princes of Zebulun, and the princes of Naphtali.²⁸Thy God hath commanded thy strength: strengthen, O God, that which thou hast wrought for us.²⁹Because of thy temple at Jerusalem shall kings bring presents unto thee.³⁰Rebuke the company of spearmen, the multitude of the bulls, with the calves of the people, till every one submit himself with pieces of silver: scatter thou the people that delight in war.³¹Princes shall come out of Egypt Ethiopia shall soon stretch out her hands unto God.³²Sing unto God, ye kingdoms of the earth O sing praises unto the Lord Selah:³³To him that rideth upon the heavens of heavens, which were of old lo, he doth send out his voice, and that a mighty voice.³⁴Ascribe ye strength unto God: his excellency is over Israel, and his strength is in the clouds.³⁵O God, thou art terrible out of thy holy places: the God of Israel is he that giveth strength and power unto his people. Blessed be God.

CHAPTER 69 ¹Save me, O God for the waters are come in unto my soul.²I sink in deep mire, where there is no standing: I am come into deep waters, where the floods overflow me.³I am weary of my crying: my throat is dried: mine eyes fail while I wait for my God.⁴They that hate me without a cause are more than the hairs of mine head: they that would destroy me, being mine enemies wrongfully, are mighty: then I restored that which I took not away.⁵O God, thou knowest my foolishness and my sins are not hid from thee.⁶Let not them that wait on thee, O Lord GOD of hosts, be ashamed for my sake:

let not those that seek thee be confounded for my sake, O God of Israel.⁷Because for thy sake I have borne reproach shame hath covered my face.⁸I am become a stranger unto my brethren, and an alien unto my mother's children.⁹For the zeal of thine house hath eaten me up and the reproaches of them that reproached thee are fallen upon me.¹⁰When I wept, and chastened my soul with fasting, that was to my reproach.¹¹I made sackcloth also my garment and I became a proverb to them.¹²They that sit in the gate speak against me and I was the song of the drunkards.¹³But as for me, my prayer is unto thee, O LORD, in an acceptable time: O God, in the multitude of thy mercy hear me, in the truth of thy salvation.¹⁴Deliver me out of the mire, and let me not sink: let me be delivered from them that hate me, and out of the deep waters.¹⁵Let not the waterflood overflow me, neither let the deep swallow me up, and let not the pit shut her mouth upon me.¹⁶Hear me, O LORD for thy lovingkindness is good: turn unto me according to the multitude of thy tender mercies.¹⁷And hide not thy face from thy servant for I am in trouble: hear me speedily.¹⁸Draw nigh unto my soul, and redeem it: deliver me because of mine enemies.¹⁹Thou hast known my reproach, and my shame, and my dishonour: mine adversaries are all before thee.²⁰Reproach hath broken my heart and I am full of heaviness: and I looked for some to take pity, but there was none and for comforters, but I found none.²¹They gave me also gall for my meat and in my thirst they gave me vinegar to drink.²²Let their table become a snare before them: and that which should have been for their welfare, let it become a trap.²³Let their eyes be darkened, that they see not and make their loins continually to shake.²⁴Pour out thine indignation upon them, and let thy wrathful anger take hold of them.²⁵Let their habitation be desolate and let none dwell in their tents.²⁶For they persecute him whom thou hast smitten and they talk to the grief of those whom thou hast wounded.²⁷Add iniquity unto their iniquity: and let them not come into thy righteousness.²⁸Let them be blotted out of the book of the living, and not be written with the righteous.²⁹But I am poor and sorrowful: let thy salvation, O God, set me up on high.³⁰I will praise the name of God with a song, and will magnify him with thanksgiving.³¹This also shall please the LORD better than an ox or bullock that hath horns and hoofs.³²The humble shall see this, and be glad: and your heart shall live that seek God.³³For the LORD heareth the poor, and despiseth not his prisoners.³⁴Let the heaven and earth praise him, the seas, and everything that moveth therein.³⁵For God will save Zion, and will build the cities of Judah: that they may dwell there, and have it in possession.³⁶The seed also of his servants shall inherit it: and they that love his name shall dwell therein.

CHAPTER 70 ¹Make haste, O God, to deliver me make haste to help me, O LORD.²Let them be ashamed and confounded that seek after my soul: let them be turned backward, and put to confusion, that desire my hurt.³Let them be turned back for a reward of their shame that say, Aha, aha.⁴Let all those that seek thee rejoice and be glad in thee: and let such as love thy salvation say continually, Let God be magnified.⁵But I am poor and needy: make haste unto me, O God: thou art my help and my deliverer O LORD, make no tarrying.

CHAPTER 71 ¹In thee, O LORD, do I put my trust: let me never be put to confusion.²Deliver me in thy righteousness, and cause me to escape: incline thine ear unto me, and save me.³Be thou my strong habitation, whereunto I may continually resort: thou hast given commandment to save me for thou art my rock and my fortress.⁴Deliver me, O my God, out of the hand of the wicked, out of the hand of the unrighteous and cruel man.⁵For thou art my hope, O Lord GOD: thou art my trust from my youth.⁶By thee have I been holden up from the womb: thou art he that took me out of my mother's bowels: my praise shall be continually of thee.⁷I am as a wonder unto many but thou art my strong refuge.⁸Let my mouth be filled with thy praise and with thy honour all the day.⁹Cast me not off in the time of old age forsake me not when my strength faileth.¹⁰For mine enemies speak against me and they that lay wait for my soul take counsel together,¹¹Saying, God hath forsaken him: persecute and take him for there is none to deliver him.¹²O God, be not far from me: O my God, make haste for my help.¹³Let them be confounded and consumed that are adversaries to my soul let them be covered with reproach and

dishonour that seek my hurt.¹⁴But I will hope continually, and will yet praise thee more and more.¹⁵My mouth shall shew forth thy righteousness and thy salvation all the day for I know not the numbers thereof.¹⁶I will go in the strength of the Lord GOD: I will make mention of thy righteousness, even of thine only.¹⁷O God, thou hast taught me from my youth: and hitherto have I declared thy wondrous works.¹⁸Now also when I am old and grayheaded, O God, forsake me not until I have shewed thy strength unto this generation, and thy power to every one that is to come.¹⁹Thy righteousness also, O God, is very high, who hast done great things: O God, who is like unto thee!²⁰Thou, which hast shewed me great and sore troubles, shalt quicken me again, and shalt bring me up again from the depths of the earth.²¹Thou shalt increase my greatness, and comfort me on every side.²²I will also praise thee with the psaltery, even thy truth, O my God: unto thee will I sing with the harp, O thou Holy One of Israel.²³My lips shall greatly rejoice when I sing unto thee and my soul, which thou hast redeemed.²⁴My tongue also shall talk of thy righteousness all the day long: for they are confounded, for they are brought unto shame, that seek my hurt.

CHAPTER 72 ¹Give the king thy judgments, O God, and thy righteousness unto the king's son.²He shall judge thy people with righteousness, and thy poor with judgment.³The mountains shall bring peace to the people, and the little hills, by righteousness.⁴He shall judge the poor of the people, he shall save the children of the needy, and shall break in pieces the oppressor.⁵They shall fear thee as long as the sun and moon endure, throughout all generations.⁶He shall come down like rain upon the mown grass: as showers that water the earth.⁷In his days shall the righteous flourish and abundance of peace so long as the moon endureth.⁸He shall have dominion also from sea to sea, and from the river unto the ends of the earth.⁹They that dwell in the wilderness shall bow before him and his enemies shall lick the dust.¹⁰The kings of Tarshish and of the isles shall bring presents: the kings of Sheba and Seba shall offer gifts.¹¹Yea, all kings shall fall down before him: all nations shall serve him.¹²For he shall deliver the needy when he crieth the poor also, and him that hath no helper.¹³He shall spare the poor and needy, and shall save the souls of the needy.¹⁴He shall redeem their soul from deceit and violence: and precious shall their blood be in his sight.¹⁵And he shall live, and to him shall be given of the gold of Sheba: prayer also shall be made for him continually and daily shall he be praised.¹⁶There shall be an handful of corn in the earth upon the top of the mountains the fruit thereof shall shake like Lebanon: and they of the city shall flourish like grass of the earth.¹⁷His name shall endure for ever: his name shall be continued as long as the sun: and men shall be blessed in him: all nations shall call him blessed.¹⁸Blessed be the LORD God, the God of Israel, who only doeth wondrous things.¹⁹And blessed be his glorious name for ever: and let the whole earth be filled with his glory Amen, and Amen.²⁰The prayers of David the son of Jesse are ended.

CHAPTER 73 ¹Truly God is good to Israel, even to such as are of a clean heart.²But as for me, my feet were almost gone my steps had well nigh slipped.³For I was envious at the foolish, when I saw the prosperity of the wicked.⁴For there are no bands in their death: but their strength is firm.⁵They are not in trouble as other men neither are they plagued like other men.⁶Therefore pride compasseth them about as a chain violence covereth them as a garment.⁷Their eyes stand out with fatness: they have more than heart could wish.⁸They are corrupt, and speak wickedly concerning oppression: they speak loftily.⁹They set their mouth against the heavens, and their tongue walketh through the earth.¹⁰Therefore his people return hither: and waters of a full cup are wrung out to them.¹¹And they say, How doth God know? and is there knowledge in the most High?¹²Behold, these are the ungodly, who prosper in the world they increase in riches.¹³Verily I have cleansed my heart in vain, and washed my hands in innocency.¹⁴For all the day long have I been plagued, and chastened every morning.¹⁵If I say, I will speak thus behold, I should offend against the generation of thy children.¹⁶When I thought to know this, it was too painful for me¹⁷Until I went into the sanctuary of God then understood I their end.¹⁸Surely thou didst set them in slippery places: thou castedst them down into destruction.¹⁹How are they brought into desolation, as in a moment! they are utterly consumed with terrors.²⁰As a dream when one awaketh so, O Lord, when thou awakest, thou shalt despise their image.²¹Thus my heart was grieved, and I was pricked in my reins.²²So foolish was I, and ignorant: I was as a beast before thee.²³Nevertheless I am continually with thee: thou hast holden me by my right hand.²⁴Thou shalt guide me with thy counsel, and afterward receive me to glory.²⁵Whom have I in heaven but thee? and there is none upon earth that I desire beside thee.²⁶My flesh and my heart faileth: but God is the strength of my heart, and my portion for ever.²⁷For, lo, they that are far from thee shall perish: thou hast destroyed all them that go a whoring from thee.²⁸But it is good for me to draw near to God: I have put my trust in the Lord GOD, that I may declare all thy works.

CHAPTER 74 ¹O God, why hast thou cast us off for ever? why doth thine anger smoke against the sheep of thy pasture?²Remember thy congregation, which thou hast purchased of old the rod of thine inheritance, which thou hast redeemed this mount Zion, wherein thou hast dwelt.³Lift up thy feet unto the perpetual desolations even all that the enemy hath done wickedly in the sanctuary.⁴Thine enemies roar in the midst of thy congregations they set up their ensigns for signs.⁵A man was famous according as he had lifted up axes upon the thick trees.⁶But now they break down the carved work thereof at once with axes and hammers.⁷They have cast fire into thy sanctuary, they have defiled by casting down the dwelling place of thy name to the ground.⁸They said in their hearts, Let us destroy them together: they have burned up all the synagogues of God in the land.⁹We see not our signs: there is no more any prophet: neither is there among us any that knoweth how long.¹⁰O God, how long shall the adversary reproach? shall the enemy blaspheme thy name for ever?¹¹Why withdrawest thou thy hand, even thy right hand? pluck it out of thy bosom.¹²For God is my King of old, working salvation in the midst of the earth.¹³Thou didst divide the sea by thy strength: thou brakest the heads of the dragons in the waters.¹⁴Thou brakest the heads of leviathan in pieces, and gavest him to be meat to the people inhabiting the wilderness.¹⁵Thou didst cleave the fountain and the flood: thou driedst up mighty rivers.¹⁶The day is thine, the night also is thine: thou hast prepared the light and the sun.¹⁷Thou hast set all the borders of the earth: thou hast made summer and winter.¹⁸Remember this, that the enemy hath reproached, O LORD, and that the foolish people have blasphemed thy name.¹⁹O deliver not the soul of thy turtledove unto the multitude of the wicked: forget not the congregation of thy poor for ever.²⁰Have respect unto the covenant: for the dark places of the earth are full of the habitations of cruelty.²¹O let not the oppressed return ashamed: let the poor and needy praise thy name.²²Arise, O God, plead thine own cause: remember how the foolish man reproacheth thee daily.²³Forget not the voice of thine enemies: the tumult of those that rise up against thee increaseth continually.

CHAPTER 75 ¹Unto thee, O God, do we give thanks, unto thee do we give thanks: for that thy name is near thy wondrous works declare.²When I shall receive the congregation I will judge uprightly.³The earth and all the inhabitants thereof are dissolved: I bear up the pillars of it. Selah.⁴I said unto the fools, Deal not foolishly: and to the wicked, Lift not up the horn:⁵Lift not up your horn on high: speak not with a stiff neck.⁶For promotion cometh neither from the east, nor from the west, nor from the south.⁷But God is the judge: he putteth down one, and setteth up another.⁸For in the hand of the LORD there is a cup, and the wine is red it is full of mixture and he poureth out of the same: but the dregs thereof, all the wicked of the earth shall wring them out, and drink them.⁹But I will declare for ever I will sing praises to the God of Jacob.¹⁰All the horns of the wicked also will I cut off but the horns of the righteous shall be exalted.

CHAPTER 76 ¹In Judah is God known: his name is great in Israel.²In Salem also is his tabernacle, and his dwelling place in Zion.³There brake he the arrows of the bow, the shield, and the sword, and the battle. Selah.⁴Thou art more glorious and excellent than the mountains of prey.⁵The stouthearted are spoiled, they have slept their sleep: and none of the men of might have found their hands.⁶At thy rebuke, O God of Jacob, both the chariot and horse are cast into a dead sleep.⁷Thou, even thou, art to be feared: and who may stand in thy sight when once thou art angry?⁸Thou didst cause judgment to be heard from heaven the earth feared, and was still,⁹When God arose to judgment, to save all the meek of the earth. Selah.¹⁰Surely the wrath of man shall praise thee: the remainder of wrath shalt thou restrain.¹¹Vow, and pay unto the LORD your God: let all that be round about him bring presents unto him that ought to be feared.¹²He shall cut off the spirit of princes: he is terrible to the kings of the earth.

CHAPTER 77 ¹I cried unto God with my voice, even unto God with my voice and he gave ear unto me.²In the day of my trouble I sought the Lord: my sore ran in the night, and ceased not: my soul refused to be comforted.³I remembered God, and was troubled: I complained, and my spirit was overwhelmed. Selah.⁴Thou holdest mine eyes waking: I am so troubled that I cannot speak.⁵I have considered the days of old, the years of ancient times.⁶I call to remembrance my song in the night: I commune with mine own heart: and my spirit made diligent search.⁷Will the Lord cast off for ever? and will he be favourable no more?⁸Is his mercy clean gone for ever? doth his promise fail for evermore?⁹Hath God forgotten to be gracious? hath he in anger shut up his tender mercies? Selah.¹⁰And I said, This is my infirmity: but I will remember the years of the right hand of the most High.¹¹I will remember the works of the LORD: surely I will remember thy wonders of old.¹²I will meditate also of all thy work, and talk of thy doings.¹³Thy way, O God, is in the sanctuary: who is so great a God as our God?¹⁴Thou art the God that doest wonders: thou hast declared thy strength among the people.¹⁵Thou hast with thine arm redeemed thy people, the sons of Jacob and Joseph. Selah.¹⁶The waters saw thee, O God, the waters saw thee they were afraid: the depths also were troubled.¹⁷The clouds poured out water: the skies sent out a sound: thine arrows also went abroad.¹⁸The voice of thy thunder was in the heaven: the lightnings lightened the world: the earth trembled and shook.¹⁹Thy way is in the sea, and thy path in the great waters, and thy footsteps are not known.²⁰Thou leddest thy people like a flock by the hand of Moses and Aaron.

CHAPTER 78 ¹Give ear, O my people, to my law: incline your ears to the words of my mouth.²I will open my mouth in a parable: I will utter dark sayings of old:³Which we have heard and known, and our fathers have told us.⁴We will not hide them from their children, shewing to the generation to come the praises of the LORD, and his strength, and his wonderful works that he hath done.⁵For he established a testimony in Jacob, and appointed a law in Israel, which he commanded our fathers, that they should make them known to their children:⁶That the generation to come might know them, even the children which should be born who should arise and declare them to their children:⁷That they might set their hope in God, and not forget the works of God, but keep his commandments:⁸And might not be as their fathers, a stubborn and rebellious generation a generation that set not their heart aright, and whose spirit was not stedfast with God.⁹The children of Ephraim, being armed, and carrying bows, turned back in the day of battle.¹⁰They kept not the covenant of God, and refused to walk in his law¹¹And forgat his works, and his wonders that he had shewed them.¹²Marvellous things did he in the sight of their fathers, in the land of Egypt, in the field of Zoan.¹³He divided the sea, and caused them to pass through and he made the waters to stand as an heap.¹⁴In the daytime also he led them with a cloud, and all the night with a light of fire.¹⁵He clave the rocks in the wilderness, and gave them drink as out of the great depths.¹⁶He brought streams also out of the rock, and caused waters to run down like rivers.¹⁷And they sinned yet more against him by provoking the most High in the wilderness.¹⁸And they tempted God in their heart by asking meat for their lust.¹⁹Yea, they spake against God they said, Can God furnish a table in the wilderness?²⁰Behold, he smote the rock, that the waters gushed out, and the streams overflowed can he give bread also? can he provide flesh for his people?²¹Therefore the LORD heard this, and was wroth: so a fire was kindled against Jacob, and anger also came up against Israel²²Because they believed not in God, and trusted not in his salvation:²³Though he had commanded the clouds from above, and opened the doors of heaven,²⁴And had rained down manna upon them to eat, and had given them of the corn of heaven.²⁵Man did eat angels' food: he sent them meat to the full.²⁶He caused an east wind to blow in the heaven: and by his power he brought in the south wind.²⁷He rained flesh also upon them as dust, and feathered fowls like as the sand of the sea:²⁸And he let it fall in the midst of their camp, round about their habitations.²⁹So they did eat, and were well filled: for he gave them their own desire.³⁰They were not estranged from their lust. But while their meat was yet in their mouths,³¹The wrath of God came upon them, and slew the fattest of them, and smote down the chosen men of Israel.³²For all this they sinned still, and believed not for his wondrous works.³³Therefore their days did he consume in vanity, and their years in trouble.³⁴When he slew them, then they sought him: and they returned and inquired early after God.³⁵And they remembered that God was their rock, and the high God their redeemer.³⁶Nevertheless they did flatter him with their mouth, and they lied unto him with their tongues.³⁷For their heart was not right with him, neither were they stedfast in his covenant.³⁸But he, being full of compassion, forgave their iniquity, and destroyed them not: yea, many a time turned he his anger away, and did not stir up all his wrath.³⁹For he remembered that they were but flesh a wind that passeth away, and cometh not again.⁴⁰How oft did they provoke him in the wilderness, and grieve him in the desert!⁴¹Yea, they turned back and tempted God, and limited the Holy One of Israel.⁴²They remembered not his hand, nor the day when he delivered them from the enemy.⁴³How he had wrought his signs in Egypt, and his wonders in the field of Zoan:⁴⁴And had turned their rivers into blood and their floods, that they could not drink.⁴⁵He sent divers sorts of flies among them, which devoured them and frogs, which destroyed them.⁴⁶He gave also their increase unto the caterpillar, and their labour unto the locust.⁴⁷He destroyed their vines with hail, and their sycamore trees with frost.⁴⁸He gave up their cattle also to the hail, and their flocks to hot thunderbolts.⁴⁹He cast upon them the fierceness of his anger, wrath, and indignation, and trouble, by sending evil angels among them.⁵⁰He made a way to his anger he spared not their soul from death, but gave their life over to the pestilence.⁵¹And smote all the firstborn in Egypt the chief of their strength in the tabernacles of Ham:⁵²But made his own people to go forth like sheep, and guided them in the wilderness like a flock.⁵³And he led them on safely, so that they feared not: but the sea overwhelmed their enemies.⁵⁴And he brought them to the border of his sanctuary, even to this mountain, which his right hand had purchased.⁵⁵He cast out the heathen also before them, and divided them an inheritance by line, and made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tents.⁵⁶Yet they tempted and provoked the most high God, and kept not his testimonies:⁵⁷But turned back, and dealt unfaithfully like their fathers: they were turned aside like a deceitful bow.⁵⁸For they provoked him to anger with their high places, and moved him to jealousy with their graven images.⁵⁹When God heard this, he was wroth, and greatly abhorred Israel:⁶⁰So that he forsook the tabernacle of Shiloh, the tent which he placed among men⁶¹And delivered his strength into captivity, and his glory into the enemy's hand.⁶²He gave his people over also unto the sword and was wroth with his inheritance.⁶³The fire consumed their young men and their maidens were not given to marriage.⁶⁴Their priests fell by the sword and their widows made no lamentation.⁶⁵Then the Lord awaked as one out of sleep, and like a mighty man that shouteth by reason of wine.⁶⁶And he smote his enemies in the hinder parts: he put them to a perpetual reproach.⁶⁷Moreover he refused the tabernacle of Joseph, and chose not the tribe of Ephraim:⁶⁸But chose the tribe of Judah, the mount Zion which he loved.⁶⁹And he built his sanctuary like high palaces, like the earth which he hath established for ever.⁷⁰He chose David also his servant, and took him from the sheepfolds:⁷¹From following the ewes great with young he brought him to feed Jacob his people, and Israel his inheritance.⁷²So he fed them according to the integrity of his heart and guided them by the skilfulness of his hands.

CHAPTER 79 ¹O God, the heathen are come into thine inheritance thy holy temple have they defiled they have laid Jerusalem on heaps.²The dead bodies of thy servants have they given to be meat unto the fowls of the heaven, the flesh of thy saints unto the beasts of the earth.³Their blood have they shed like water round about Jerusalem and there was none to bury them.⁴We are become a reproach to our neighbours, a scorn and derision to them that are round about us.⁵How long, LORD? wilt thou be angry for ever? shall thy jealousy burn like fire?⁶Pour out thy wrath upon the heathen that have not known thee, and upon the kingdoms that have not called upon thy name.⁷For they have devoured Jacob, and laid waste his dwelling place.⁸O remember not against us former iniquities: let thy tender mercies speedily prevent us: for we are brought very low.⁹Help us, O God of our salvation, for the glory of thy name: and deliver us, and purge away our sins, for thy name's sake.¹⁰Wherefore should the heathen say, Where is their God? let him be known among the heathen in our sight by the revenging of the blood of thy servants which is shed.¹¹Let the sighing of the prisoner come before thee according to the greatness of thy power preserve thou those that are appointed to die¹²And render unto our neighbours sevenfold into their bosom their reproach, wherewith they have reproached thee, O Lord.¹³So we thy people and sheep of thy pasture will give thee thanks for ever: we will shew forth thy praise to all generations.

CHAPTER 80 ¹Give ear, O Shepherd of Israel, thou that leadest Joseph like a flock thou that dwellest between the cherubims, shine forth.²Before

Ephraim and Benjamin and Manasseh stir up thy strength, and come and save us.³Turn us again, O God, and cause thy face to shine and we shall be saved.⁴O LORD God of hosts, how long wilt thou be angry against the prayer of thy people?⁵Thou feedest them with the bread of tears and givest them tears to drink in great measure.⁶Thou makest us a strife unto our neighbours: and our enemies laugh among themselves.⁷Turn us again, O God of hosts, and cause thy face to shine and we shall be saved.⁸Thou hast brought a vine out of Egypt: thou hast cast out the heathen, and planted it.⁹Thou preparedst room before it, and didst cause it to take deep root, and it filled the land.¹⁰The hills were covered with the shadow of it, and the boughs thereof were like the goodly cedars.¹¹She sent out her boughs unto the sea, and her branches unto the river.¹²Why hast thou then broken down her hedges, so that all they which pass by the way do pluck her?¹³The boar out of the wood doth waste it, and the wild beast of the field doth devour it.¹⁴Return, we beseech thee, O God of hosts: look down from heaven, and behold, and visit this vine¹⁵And the vineyard which thy right hand hath planted, and the branch that thou madest strong for thyself.¹⁶It is burned with fire, it is cut down: they perish at the rebuke of thy countenance.¹⁷Let thy hand be upon the man of thy right hand, upon the son of man whom thou madest strong for thyself.¹⁸So will not we go back from thee: quicken us, and we will call upon thy name.¹⁹Turn us again, O LORD God of hosts, cause thy face to shine and we shall be saved.

CHAPTER 81 ¹Sing aloud unto God our strength: make a joyful noise unto the God of Jacob.²Take a psalm, and bring hither the timbrel, the pleasant harp with the psaltery.³Blow up the trumpet in the new moon, in the time appointed, on our solemn feast day.⁴For this was a statute for Israel, and a law of the God of Jacob.⁵This he ordained in Joseph for a testimony, when he went out through the land of Egypt: where I heard a language that I understood not.⁶I removed his shoulder from the burden: his hands were delivered from the pots.⁷Thou calledst in trouble, and I delivered thee I answered thee in the secret place of thunder: I proved thee at the waters of Meribah. Selah.⁸Hear, O my people, and I will testify unto thee: O Israel, if thou wilt hearken unto me⁹There shall no strange god be in thee neither shalt thou worship any strange god.¹⁰I am the LORD thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt: open thy mouth wide, and I will fill it.¹¹But my people would not hearken to my voice and Israel would none of me.¹²So I gave them up unto their own hearts' lust: and they walked in their own counsels.¹³Oh that my people had hearkened unto me, and Israel had walked in my ways!¹⁴I should soon have subdued their enemies, and turned my hand against their adversaries.¹⁵The haters of the LORD should have submitted themselves unto him: but their time should have endured for ever.¹⁶He should have fed them also with the finest of the wheat: and with honey out of the rock should I have satisfied thee.

CHAPTER 82 ¹God standeth in the congregation of the mighty he judgeth among the gods.²How long will ye judge unjustly, and accept the persons of the wicked? Selah.³Defend the poor and fatherless: do justice to the afflicted and needy.⁴Deliver the poor and needy: rid them out of the hand of the wicked.⁵They know not, neither will they understand they walk on in darkness: all the foundations of the earth are out of course.⁶I have said, Ye are gods and all of you are children of the most High.⁷But ye shall die like men, and fall like one of the princes.⁸Arise, O God, judge the earth: for thou shalt inherit all nations.

CHAPTER 83 ¹Keep not thou silence, O God: hold not thy peace, and be not still, O God.²For, lo, thine enemies make a tumult: and they that hate thee have lifted up the head.³They have taken crafty counsel against thy people, and consulted against thy hidden ones.⁴They have said, Come, and let us cut them off from being a nation that the name of Israel may be no more in remembrance.⁵For they have consulted together with one consent: they are confederate against thee.⁶The tabernacles of Edom, and the Ishmaelites of Moab, and the Hagarenes⁷Gebal, and Ammon, and Amalek the Philistines with the inhabitants of Tyre⁸Assur also is joined with them: they have holpen the children of Lot. Selah.⁹Do unto them as unto the Midianites as to Sisera, as to Jabin, at the brook of Kison:¹⁰Which perished at Endor: they became as dung for the earth.¹¹Make their nobles like Oreb, and like Zeeb: yea, all their princes as Zebah, and as Zalmunna:¹²Who said, Let us take to ourselves the houses of God in possession.¹³O my God, make them like a wheel as the stubble before the wind.¹⁴As the fire burneth a wood, and as the flame setteth the mountains on fire¹⁵So persecute them with thy tempest, and make them afraid with thy storm.¹⁶Fill their faces with shame that they may seek thy name, O LORD.¹⁷Let them be confounded and troubled for ever yea, let them be put to shame, and perish:¹⁸That men may know that thou, whose name alone is JEHOVAH, art the most high over all the earth.

CHAPTER 84 ¹How amiable are thy tabernacles, O LORD of hosts!²My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the LORD: my heart and my flesh crieth out for the living God.³Yea, the sparrow hath found an house, and the swallow a nest for herself, where she may lay her young, even thine altars, O LORD of hosts, my King, and my God.⁴Blessed are they that dwell in thy house: they will be still praising thee. Selah.⁵Blessed is the man whose strength is in thee in whose heart are the ways of them.⁶Who passing through the valley of Baca make it a well the rain also filleth the pools.⁷They go from strength to strength, every one of them in Zion appeareth before God.⁸O LORD God of hosts, hear my prayer: give ear, O God of Jacob. Selah.⁹Behold, O God our shield, and look upon the face of thine anointed.¹⁰For a day in thy courts is better than a thousand. I had rather be a doorkeeper in the house of my God, than to dwell in the tents of wickedness.¹¹For the LORD God is a sun and shield: the LORD will give grace and glory: no good thing will he withhold from them that walk uprightly.¹²O LORD of hosts, blessed is the man that trusteth in thee.

CHAPTER 85 ¹LORD, thou hast been favourable unto thy land: thou hast brought back the captivity of Jacob.²Thou hast forgiven the iniquity of thy people, thou hast covered all their sin. Selah.³Thou hast taken away all thy wrath: thou hast turned thyself from the fierceness of thine anger.⁴Turn us, O God of our salvation, and cause thine anger toward us to cease.⁵Wilt thou be angry with us for ever? wilt thou draw out thine anger to all generations?⁶Wilt thou not revive us again: that thy people may rejoice in thee?⁷Shew us thy mercy, O LORD, and grant us thy salvation.⁸I will hear what God the LORD will speak: for he will speak peace unto his people, and to his saints: but let them not turn again to folly.⁹Surely his salvation is nigh them that fear him that glory may dwell in our land.¹⁰Mercy and truth are met together righteousness and peace have kissed each other.¹¹Truth shall spring out of the earth and righteousness shall look down from heaven.¹²Yea, the LORD shall give that which is good and our land shall yield her increase.¹³Righteousness shall go before him and shall set us in the way of his steps.

CHAPTER 86 ¹Bow down thine ear, O LORD, hear me: for I am poor and needy.²Preserve my soul for I am holy: O thou my God, save thy servant that trusteth in thee.³Be merciful unto me, O Lord: for I cry unto thee daily.⁴Rejoice the soul of thy servant: for unto thee, O Lord, do I lift up my soul.⁵For thou, Lord, art good, and ready to forgive and plenteous in mercy unto all them that call upon thee.⁶Give ear, O LORD, unto my prayer and attend to the voice of my supplications.⁷In the day of my trouble I will call upon thee: for thou wilt answer me.⁸Among the gods there is none like unto thee, O Lord neither are there any works like unto thy works.⁹All nations whom thou hast made shall come and worship before thee, O Lord and shall glorify thy name.¹⁰For thou art great, and doest wondrous things: thou art God alone.¹¹Teach me thy way, O LORD I will walk in thy truth: unite my heart to fear thy name.¹²I will praise thee, O Lord my God, with all my heart: and I will glorify thy name for evermore.¹³For great is thy mercy toward me: and thou hast delivered my soul from the lowest hell.¹⁴O God, the proud are risen against me, and the assemblies of violent men have sought after my soul and have not set thee before them.¹⁵But thou, O Lord, art a God full of compassion, and gracious, longsuffering, and plenteous in mercy and truth.¹⁶O turn unto me, and have mercy upon me give thy strength unto thy servant, and save the son of thine handmaid.¹⁷Shew me a token for good that they which hate me may see it, and be ashamed: because thou, LORD, hast holpen me, and comforted me.

CHAPTER 87 ¹His foundation is in the holy mountains.²The LORD loveth the gates of Zion more than all the dwellings of Jacob.³Glorious things are spoken of thee, O city of God. Selah.⁴I will make mention of Rahab and Babylon to them that know me: behold Philistia, and Tyre, with Ethiopia this man was born there.⁵And of Zion it shall be said, This and that man was born in her: and the highest himself shall establish her.⁶The LORD shall count, when he writeth up the people, that this man was born there. Selah.⁷As well the singers as the players on instruments shall be there: all my springs are in thee.

CHAPTER 88 ¹O LORD God of my salvation, I have cried day and night before thee:²Let my prayer come before thee: incline thine ear unto my cry³For my soul is full of troubles: and my life draweth nigh unto the grave.⁴I am counted with them that go down into the pit: I am as a man that hath no strength:⁵Free among the dead, like the slain that lie in the grave, whom thou rememberest no more: and they are cut off from thy hand.⁶Thou hast laid me in the lowest pit, in darkness, in the deeps.⁷Thy wrath lieth hard upon me, and thou hast afflicted me with all thy waves. Selah.⁸Thou hast put away mine acquaintance far from me thou hast made me an abomination unto them: I am shut up, and I cannot come forth.⁹Mine eye mourneth by reason of affliction: LORD, I have called daily upon thee, I have stretched out my hands unto thee.¹⁰Wilt thou shew wonders to the dead? shall the dead arise and praise thee? Selah.¹¹Shall thy lovingkindness be declared in the grave? or thy faithfulness in destruction?¹²Shall thy wonders be known in the dark? and thy righteousness in the land of forgetfulness?¹³But unto thee have I cried, O LORD and in the morning shall my prayer prevent thee.¹⁴LORD, why castest thou off my soul? why hidest thou thy face from me?¹⁵I am afflicted and ready to die from my youth up: while I suffer thy terrors I am distracted.¹⁶Thy fierce wrath goeth over me thy terrors have cut me off.¹⁷They came round about me daily like water they compassed me about together.¹⁸Lover and friend hast thou put far from me, and mine acquaintance into darkness.

CHAPTER 89 ¹I will sing of the mercies of the LORD for ever: with my mouth will I make known thy faithfulness to all generations.²For I have said, Mercy shall be built up for ever: thy faithfulness shalt thou establish in the very heavens.³I have made a covenant with my chosen, I have sworn unto David my servant,⁴Thy seed will I establish for ever, and build up thy throne to all generations. Selah.⁵And the heavens shall praise thy wonders, O LORD: thy faithfulness also in the congregation of the saints.⁶For who in the heaven can be compared unto the LORD? who among the sons of the mighty can be likened unto the LORD?⁷God is greatly to be feared in the assembly of the saints, and to be had in reverence of all them that are about him.⁸O LORD God of hosts, who is a strong LORD like unto thee? or to thy faithfulness round about thee?⁹Thou rulest the raging of the sea: when the waves thereof arise, thou stillest them.¹⁰Thou hast broken Rahab in pieces, as one that is slain thou hast scattered thine enemies with thy strong arm.¹¹The heavens are thine, the earth also is thine: as for the world and the fulness thereof, thou hast founded them.¹²The north and the south thou hast created them: Tabor and Hermon shall rejoice in thy name.¹³Thou hast a mighty arm: strong is thy hand, and high is thy right hand.¹⁴Justice and judgment are the habitation of thy throne: mercy and truth shall go before thy face.¹⁵Blessed is the people that know the joyful sound: they shall walk, O LORD, in the light of thy countenance.¹⁶In thy name shall they rejoice all the day: and in thy righteousness shall they be exalted.¹⁷For thou art the glory of their strength: and in thy favour our horn shall be exalted.¹⁸For the LORD is our defence and the Holy One of Israel is our king.¹⁹Then thou spakest in vision to thy holy one, and saidst, I have laid help upon one that is mighty I have exalted one chosen out of the people.²⁰I have found David my servant with my holy oil have I anointed him:²¹With whom my hand shall be established: mine arm also shall strengthen him.²²The enemy shall not exact upon him nor the son of wickedness afflict him.²³And I will beat down his foes before his face, and plague them that hate him.²⁴But my faithfulness and my mercy shall be with him: and in my name shall his horn be exalted.²⁵I will set his hand also in the sea, and his right hand in the rivers.²⁶He shall cry unto me, Thou art my father, my God, and the rock of my salvation.²⁷Also I will make him my firstborn, higher than the kings of the earth.²⁸My mercy will I keep for him for evermore, and my covenant shall stand fast with him.²⁹His seed also will I make to endure for ever, and his throne as the days of heaven.³⁰If his children forsake my law, and walk not in my judgments³¹If they break my statutes, and keep not my commandments³²Then will I visit their transgression with the rod, and their iniquity with stripes.³³Nevertheless my lovingkindness will I not utterly take from him, nor suffer my faithfulness to fail.³⁴My covenant will I not break, nor alter the thing that is gone out of my lips.³⁵Once have I sworn by my holiness that I will not lie unto David.³⁶His seed shall endure forever, and his throne as the sun before me.³⁷It shall be established for ever as the moon, and as a faithful witness in heaven. Selah.³⁸But thou hast cast off and abhorred, thou hast been wroth with thine anointed.³⁹Thou hast made void the covenant of thy servant: thou hast profaned his crown by casting it to the ground.⁴⁰Thou hast broken down all his hedges thou hast brought his strong holds to ruin.⁴¹All that pass by the way spoil him: he is a reproach to his neighbours.⁴²Thou hast set up the right hand of his adversaries thou hast made all his enemies to rejoice.⁴³Thou hast also turned the edge of his sword, and hast not made him to stand in the battle.⁴⁴Thou hast made his glory to cease, and cast his throne down to the ground.⁴⁵The days of his youth hast thou shortened: thou hast covered him with shame. Selah.⁴⁶How long, LORD? wilt thou hide thyself for ever? shall thy wrath burn like fire?⁴⁷Remember how short my time is: wherefore hast thou made all men in vain?⁴⁸What man is he that liveth, and shall not see death? shall he deliver his soul from the hand of the grave? Selah.⁴⁹Lord, where are thy former lovingkindnesses, which thou swarest unto David in thy truth?⁵⁰Remember, Lord, the reproach of thy servants how I do bear in my bosom the reproach of all the mighty people⁵¹Wherewith thine enemies have reproached, O LORD wherewith they have reproached the footsteps of thine anointed.⁵²Blessed be the LORD for evermore. Amen, and Amen.

CHAPTER 90 ¹LORD, thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations.²Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever thou hadst formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting, thou art God.³Thou turnest man to destruction and sayest, Return, ye children of men.⁴For a thousand years in thy sight are but as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night.⁵Thou carriest them away as with a flood they are as a sleep: in the morning they are like grass which groweth up.⁶In the morning it flourisheth, and groweth up in the evening it is cut down, and withereth.⁷For we are consumed by thine anger, and by thy wrath are we troubled.⁸Thou hast set our iniquities before thee, our secret sins in the light of thy countenance.⁹For all our days are passed away in thy wrath: we spend our years as a tale that is told.¹⁰The days of our years are threescore years and ten and if by reason of strength they be fourscore years, yet is their strength labour and sorrow for it is soon cut off, and we fly away.¹¹Who knoweth the power of thine anger? even according to thy fear, so is thy wrath.¹²So teach us to number our days, that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom.¹³Return, O LORD, how long? and let it repent thee concerning thy servants.¹⁴O satisfy us early with thy mercy that we may rejoice and be glad all our days.¹⁵Make us glad according to the days wherein thou hast afflicted us, and the years wherein we have seen evil.¹⁶Let thy work appear unto thy servants, and thy glory unto their children.¹⁷And let the beauty of the LORD our God be upon us:

and establish thou the work of our hands upon us yea, the work of our hands establish thou it.

CHAPTER 91 ¹He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty.²I will say of the LORD, He is my refuge and my fortress: my God in him will I trust.³Surely he shall deliver thee from the snare of the fowler, and from the noisome pestilence.⁴He shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shalt thou trust: his truth shall be thy shield and buckler.⁵Thou shalt not be afraid for the terror by night nor for the arrow that flieth by day⁶Nor for the pestilence that walketh in darkness nor for the destruction that wasteth at noonday.⁷A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand but it shall not come nigh thee.⁸Only with thine eyes shalt thou behold and see the reward of the wicked.⁹Because thou hast made the LORD, which is my refuge, even the most High, thy habitation¹⁰There shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling.¹¹For he shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways.¹²They shall bear thee up in their hands, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone.¹³Thou shalt tread upon the lion and adder: the young lion and the dragon shalt thou trample under feet.¹⁴Because he hath set his love upon me, therefore will I deliver him: I will set him on high, because he hath known my name.¹⁵He shall call upon me, and I will answer him: I will be with him in trouble I will deliver him, and honour him.¹⁶With long life will I satisfy him, and shew him my salvation.

CHAPTER 92 ¹It is a good thing to give thanks unto the LORD, and to sing praises unto thy name, O most High:²To shew forth thy lovingkindness in the morning, and thy faithfulness every night,³Upon an instrument of ten strings, and upon the psaltery upon the harp with a solemn sound.⁴For thou, LORD, hast made me glad through thy work: I will triumph in the works of thy hands.⁵O LORD, how great are thy works! and thy thoughts are very deep.⁶A brutish man knoweth not neither doth a fool understand this.⁷When the wicked spring as the grass, and when all the workers of iniquity do flourish it is that they shall be destroyed for ever:⁸But thou, LORD, art most high for evermore.⁹For, lo, thine enemies, O LORD, for, lo, thine enemies shall perish all the workers of iniquity shall be scattered.¹⁰But my horn shalt thou exalt like the horn of an unicorn: I shall be anointed with fresh oil.¹¹Mine eye also shall see my desire on mine enemies, and mine ears shall hear my desire of the wicked that rise up against me.¹²The righteous shall flourish like the palm tree: he shall grow like a cedar in Lebanon.¹³Those that be planted in the house of the LORD shall flourish in the courts of our God.¹⁴They shall still bring forth fruit in old age they shall be fat and flourishing¹⁵To shew that the LORD is upright: he is my rock, and there is no unrighteousness in him.

CHAPTER 93 ¹The LORD reigneth, he is clothed with majesty the LORD is clothed with strength, wherewith he hath girded himself: the world also is stablished, that it cannot be moved.²Thy throne is established of old: thou art from everlasting.³The floods have lifted up, O LORD, the floods have lifted up their voice the floods lift up their waves.⁴The LORD on high is mightier than the noise of many waters, yea, than the mighty waves of the sea.⁵Thy testimonies are very sure: holiness becometh thine house, O LORD, for ever.

CHAPTER 94 ¹O LORD God, to whom vengeance belongeth O God, to whom vengeance belongeth, shew thyself.²Lift up thyself, thou judge of the earth: render a reward to the proud.³LORD, how long shall the wicked, how long shall the wicked triumph?⁴How long shall they utter and speak hard things? and all the workers of iniquity boast themselves?⁵They break in pieces thy people, O LORD, and afflict thine heritage.⁶They slay the widow and the stranger, and murder the fatherless.⁷Yet they say, The LORD shall not see, neither shall the God of Jacob regard it.⁸Understand, ye brutish among the people: and ye fools, when will ye be wise?⁹He that planted the ear, shall he not hear? he that formed the eye, shall he not see?¹⁰He that chastiseth the heathen, shall not he correct? he that teacheth man knowledge, shall not he know?¹¹The LORD knoweth the thoughts of man, that they are vanity.¹²Blessed is the man whom thou chastenest, O LORD, and teachest him out of thy law¹³That thou mayest give him rest from the days of adversity, until the pit be digged for the wicked.¹⁴For the LORD will not cast off his people, neither will he forsake his inheritance.¹⁵But judgment shall return unto righteousness: and all the upright in heart shall follow it.¹⁶Who will rise up for me against the evildoers? or who will stand up for me against the workers of iniquity?¹⁷Unless the LORD had been my help, my soul had almost dwelt in silence.¹⁸When I said, My foot slippeth thy mercy, O LORD, held me up.¹⁹In the multitude of my thoughts within me thy comforts delight my soul.²⁰Shall the throne of iniquity have fellowship with thee, which frameth mischief by a law?²¹They gather themselves together against the soul of the righteous, and condemn the innocent blood.²²But the LORD is my defence and my God is the rock of my refuge.²³And he shall bring upon them their own iniquity, and shall cut them off in their own wickedness yea, the LORD our God shall cut them off.

CHAPTER 95 ¹O come, let us sing unto the LORD: let us make a joyful noise to the rock of our salvation.²Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving, and make a joyful noise unto him with psalms.³For the LORD is a great God, and a great King above all gods.⁴In his hand are the deep places of the earth: the strength of the hills is his also.⁵The sea is his, and he made it: and his hands formed the dry land.⁶O come, let us worship and bow down: let us kneel before the LORD our maker.⁷For he is our God and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheep of his hand. To day if ye will hear his voice,⁸Harden not your heart, as in the provocation, and as in the day of temptation in the wilderness:⁹When your fathers tempted me, proved me, and saw my work.¹⁰Forty years long was I grieved with this generation, and said, It is a people that do err in their heart, and they have not known my ways:¹¹Unto whom I swear in my wrath that they should not enter into my rest.

CHAPTER 96 ¹O sing unto the LORD a new song: sing unto the LORD, all the earth.²Sing unto the LORD, bless his name shew forth his salvation from day to day.³Declare his glory among the heathen, his wonders among all people.⁴For the LORD is great, and greatly to be praised: he is to be feared above all gods.⁵For all the gods of the nations are idols: but the LORD made the heavens.⁶Honour and majesty are before him: strength and beauty are in his sanctuary.⁷Give unto the LORD, O ye kindreds of the people, give unto the LORD glory and strength.⁸Give unto the LORD the glory due unto his name: bring an offering, and come into his courts.⁹O worship the LORD in the beauty of holiness: fear before him, all the earth.¹⁰Say among the heathen that the LORD reigneth: the world also shall be established that it shall not be moved: he shall judge the people righteously.¹¹Let the heavens rejoice, and let the earth be glad let the sea roar, and the fulness thereof.¹²Let the field be joyful, and all that is therein: then shall all the trees of the wood rejoice¹³Before the LORD: for he cometh, for he cometh to judge the earth: he shall judge the world with righteousness, and the people with his truth.

CHAPTER 97 ¹The LORD reigneth let the earth rejoice let the multitude of isles be glad thereof.²Clouds and darkness are round about him: righteousness and judgment are the habitation of his throne.³A fire goeth before him, and burneth up his enemies round about.⁴His lightnings enlightened the world: the earth saw, and trembled.⁵The hills melted like wax at the presence of the LORD, at the presence of the Lord of the whole earth.⁶The heavens declare his righteousness, and all the people see his glory.⁷Confounded be all they that serve graven images, that boast themselves of idols: worship him, all ye gods.⁸Zion heard, and was glad and the daughters of Judah rejoiced because of thy judgments, O LORD.⁹For thou, LORD, art high above all the earth: thou art exalted far above all gods.¹⁰Ye that love the LORD, hate evil: he preserveth the souls of his saints he delivereth them out of the hand of the wicked.¹¹Light is sown for the righteous, and gladness for the upright in heart.¹²Rejoice in the LORD, ye righteous and give thanks at the remembrance of his holiness.

CHAPTER 98 ¹O sing unto the LORD a new song for he hath done marvellous things: his right hand, and his holy arm, hath gotten him the victory.²The LORD hath made known his salvation: his righteousness hath he openly shewed in the sight of the heathen.³He hath remembered his mercy and his truth toward the house of Israel: all the ends of the earth have seen the salvation of our God.⁴Make a joyful noise unto the LORD, all the earth: make a loud noise, and rejoice, and sing praise.⁵Sing unto the LORD with the harp with the harp, and the voice of a psalm.⁶With trumpets and sound of cornet make a joyful noise before the LORD, the King.⁷Let the sea roar, and the fulness thereof the world, and they that dwell therein.⁸Let the floods clap their hands: let the hills be joyful together⁹Before the LORD for he cometh to judge the earth: with righteousness shall he judge the world, and the people with equity.

CHAPTER 99 ¹The LORD reigneth let the people tremble: he sitteth between the cherubims let the earth be moved.²The LORD is great in Zion and he is high above all the people.³Let them praise thy great and terrible name for it is holy.⁴The king's strength also loveth judgment thou dost establish equity, thou executest judgment and righteousness in Jacob.⁵Exalt ye the LORD our God, and worship at his footstool for he is holy.⁶Moses and Aaron among his priests, and Samuel among them that call upon his name they called upon the LORD, and he answered them.⁷He spake unto them in the cloudy pillar: they kept his testimonies, and the ordinance that he gave them.⁸Thou answeredst them, O LORD our God: thou wast a God that forgavest them, though thou tookest vengeance of their inventions.⁹Exalt the LORD our God, and worship at his holy hill for the LORD our God is holy.

CHAPTER 100 ¹Make a joyful noise unto the LORD, all ye lands.²Serve the LORD with gladness: come before his presence with singing.³Know ye that the LORD he is God: it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture.⁴Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise: be thankful unto him, and bless his name.⁵For the LORD is good his mercy is everlasting and his truth endureth to all generations.

CHAPTER 101 ¹I will sing of mercy and judgment: unto thee, O LORD, will I sing.²I will behave myself wisely in a perfect way. O when wilt thou come unto me? I will walk within my house with a perfect heart.³I will set no wicked thing before mine eyes: I hate the work of them that turn aside it shall not cleave to me.⁴A froward heart shall depart from me: I will not know a wicked person.⁵Whoso privily slandereth his neighbour, him will I cut off: him that hath an high look and a proud heart will not I suffer.⁶Mine eyes shall be upon the faithful of the land, that they may dwell with me: he that walketh in a perfect way, he shall serve me.⁷He that worketh deceit shall not dwell within my house: he that telleth lies shall not tarry in my sight.⁸I will early destroy all the wicked of the land that I may cut off all wicked doers from the city of the LORD.

CHAPTER 102 ¹Hear my prayer, O LORD, and let my cry come unto thee.²Hide not thy face from me in the day when I am in trouble incline thine ear unto me: in the day when I call answer me speedily.³For my days are consumed like smoke, and my bones are burned as an hearth.⁴My heart is smitten, and withered like grass so that I forget to eat my bread.⁵By reason of the voice of my groaning my bones cleave to my skin.⁶I am like a pelican of the wilderness: I am like an owl of the desert.⁷I watch, and am as a sparrow alone upon the house top.⁸Mine enemies reproach me all the day and they that are mad against me are sworn against me.⁹For I have eaten ashes like bread, and mingled my drink with weeping,¹⁰Because of thine indignation and thy wrath: for thou hast lifted me up, and cast me down.¹¹My days are like a shadow that declineth and I am withered like grass.¹²But thou, O LORD, shalt endure for ever and thy remembrance unto all generations.¹³Thou shalt arise, and have mercy upon Zion: for the time to favour her, yea, the set time, is come.¹⁴For thy servants take pleasure in her stones, and favour the dust thereof.¹⁵So the heathen shall fear the name of the LORD, and all the kings of the earth thy glory.¹⁶When the LORD shall build up Zion, he shall appear in his glory.¹⁷He will regard the prayer of the destitute, and not despise their prayer.¹⁸This shall be written for the generation to come: and the people which shall be created shall praise the LORD.¹⁹For he hath looked down from the height of his sanctuary from heaven did the LORD behold the earth²⁰To hear the groaning of the prisoner to loose those that are appointed to death²¹To declare the name of the LORD in Zion, and his praise in Jerusalem²²When the people are gathered together, and the kingdoms, to serve the LORD.²³He weakened my strength in the way he shortened my days.²⁴I said, O my God, take me not away in the midst of my days: thy years are throughout all generations.²⁵Of old hast thou laid the foundation of the earth: and the heavens are the work of thy hands.²⁶They shall perish, but thou shalt endure: yea, all of them shall wax old like a garment as a vesture shalt thou change them, and they shall be changed:²⁷But thou art the same, and thy years shall have no end.²⁸The children of thy servants shall continue, and their seed shall be established before thee.

CHAPTER 103 ¹Bless the LORD, O my soul: and all that is within me, bless his holy name.²Bless the LORD, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits:³Who forgiveth all thine iniquities who healeth all thy diseases⁴Who redeemeth thy life from destruction who crowneth thee with lovingkindness and tender mercies⁵Who satisfieth thy mouth with good things so that thy youth is renewed like the eagle's.⁶The LORD executeth righteousness and judgment for all that are oppressed.⁷He made known his ways unto Moses, his acts unto the children of Israel.⁸The LORD is merciful and gracious, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy.⁹He will not always chide: neither will he keep his anger for ever.¹⁰He hath not dealt with us after our sins nor rewarded us according to our iniquities.¹¹For as the heaven is high above the earth, so great is his mercy toward them that fear him.¹²As far as the east is from the west, so far hath he removed our transgressions from us.¹³Like as a father pitieth his children, so the LORD pitieth them that fear him.¹⁴For he knoweth our frame he remembereth that we are dust.¹⁵As for man, his days are as grass: as a flower of the field, so he flourisheth.¹⁶For the wind passeth over it, and it is gone and the place thereof shall know it no more.¹⁷But the mercy of the LORD is from everlasting to everlasting upon them that fear him, and his righteousness unto children's children¹⁸To such as keep his covenant, and to those that remember his commandments to do them.¹⁹The LORD hath prepared his throne in the heavens and his kingdom ruleth over all.²⁰Bless the LORD, ye his angels, that excel in strength, that do his commandments, hearkening unto the voice of his word.²¹Bless ye the LORD, all ye his hosts ye ministers of his, that do his pleasure.²²Bless the LORD, all his works in all places of his dominion: bless the LORD, O my soul.

CHAPTER 104 ¹Bless the LORD, O my soul. O LORD my God, thou art very great thou art clothed with honour and majesty.²Who coverest thyself with light as with a garment: who stretchest out the heavens like a curtain:³Who layeth the beams of his chambers in the waters: who maketh the clouds his chariot: who walketh upon the wings of the wind:⁴Who maketh his angels spirits his ministers a flaming fire:⁵Who laid the foundations of the earth, that it should not be removed for ever.⁶Thou coveredst it with the deep as with a garment: the waters stood above the mountains.⁷At thy rebuke they fled at the voice of thy thunder they hasted away.⁸They go up by the mountains they go down by the valleys unto the place which thou hast founded for them.⁹Thou hast set a bound that they may not pass over that they turn not again to cover the earth.¹⁰He sendeth the springs into the valleys, which run among the hills.¹¹They give drink to every beast of the field: the wild asses quench their thirst.¹²By them shall the fowls of the heaven have their habitation, which sing among the branches.¹³He watereth the hills from his chambers: the earth is satisfied with the fruit of thy works.¹⁴He causeth the grass to grow for the cattle, and herb for the service of man: that he may bring forth food out of the earth¹⁵And wine that maketh glad the heart of man, and oil to make his face to shine, and bread which strengtheneth man's heart.¹⁶The trees of the LORD are full of sap the cedars of Lebanon, which he hath planted¹⁷Where the birds make their nests: as for the stork, the fir trees are her house.¹⁸The high hills are a refuge for the wild goats and the rocks for the conies.¹⁹He appointed the moon for seasons: the sun knoweth his going down.²⁰Thou makest darkness, and it is night: wherein all the beasts of the forest do creep forth.²¹The young lions roar after their prey, and seek their meat from God.²²The sun ariseth, they gather themselves together, and lay them down in their dens.²³Man goeth forth unto his work and to his labour until the evening.²⁴O LORD, how manifold are thy works! in wisdom hast thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches.²⁵So is this great and wide sea, wherein are things creeping innumerable, both small and great beasts.²⁶There go the ships: there is that leviathan, whom thou hast made to play therein.²⁷These wait all upon thee that thou mayest give them their meat in due season.²⁸That thou givest them they gather: thou openest thine hand, they are filled with good.²⁹Thou hidest thy face, they are troubled: thou takest away their breath, they die, and return to their dust.³⁰Thou sendest forth thy spirit, they are created: and thou renewest the face of the earth.³¹The glory of the LORD shall endure for ever: the LORD shall rejoice in his works.³²He looketh on the earth, and it trembleth: he toucheth the hills, and they smoke.³³I will sing unto the LORD as long as I live: I will sing praise to my God while I have my being.³⁴My meditation of him shall be sweet: I will be glad in the LORD.³⁵Let the sinners be consumed out of the earth, and let the wicked be no more. Bless thou the LORD, O my soul. Praise ye the LORD.

CHAPTER 105 ¹O give thanks unto the LORD call upon his name: make known his deeds among the people.²Sing unto him, sing psalms unto him: talk ye of all his wondrous works.³Glory ye in his holy name: let the heart of them rejoice that seek the LORD.⁴Seek the LORD, and his strength: seek his face evermore.⁵Remember his marvellous works that he hath done his wonders, and the judgments of his mouth⁶O ye seed of Abraham his servant, ye children of Jacob his chosen.⁷He is the LORD our God: his judgments are in all the earth.⁸He hath remembered his covenant for ever, the word which he commanded to a thousand generations.⁹Which covenant he made with Abraham, and his oath unto Isaac¹⁰And confirmed the same unto Jacob for a law, and to Israel for an everlasting covenant:¹¹Saying, Unto thee will I give the land of Canaan, the lot of your inheritance:¹²When they were but a few men in number yea, very few, and strangers in it.¹³When they went from one nation to another, from one kingdom to another people¹⁴He suffered no man to do them wrong: yea, he reproveth kings for their sakes¹⁵Saying, Touch not mine anointed, and do my prophets no harm.¹⁶Moreover he called for a famine upon the land: he brake the whole staff of bread.¹⁷He sent a man before them, even Joseph, who was sold for a servant:¹⁸Whose feet they hurt with fetters: he was laid in iron:¹⁹Until the time that his word came: the word of the LORD tried him.²⁰The king sent and loosed him even the ruler of the people, and let him go free.²¹He made him lord of his house, and ruler of all his substance:²²To bind his princes at his pleasure and teach his senators wisdom.²³Israel also came into Egypt and Jacob sojourned in the land of Ham.²⁴And he increased his people greatly and made them stronger than their enemies.²⁵He turned their heart to hate his people, to deal subtilly with his servants.²⁶He sent Moses his servant and Aaron whom he had chosen.²⁷They shewed his signs among them, and wonders in the land of Ham.²⁸He sent darkness, and made it dark and they rebelled not against his word.²⁹He turned their waters into blood, and slew their fish.³⁰Their land brought forth frogs in abundance, in the chambers of their kings.³¹He spake, and there came divers sorts of flies, and lice in all their coasts.³²He gave them hail for rain, and flaming fire in their land.³³He smote their vines also and their fig trees and brake the trees of their coasts.³⁴He spake, and the locusts came, and caterpillers, and that without number,³⁵And did eat up all the herbs in their land, and devoured the fruit of their ground.³⁶He smote also all the firstborn in their land, the chief of all their strength.³⁷He brought them forth also with silver and gold: and there was not one feeble person among their tribes.³⁸Egypt was glad when they departed: for the fear of them fell upon them.³⁹He spread a cloud for a covering and fire to give light in the night.⁴⁰The people asked, and he brought quails, and satisfied them with the bread of heaven.⁴¹He opened the rock, and the waters gushed out they ran in the dry places like a river.⁴²For he remembered his holy promise, and Abraham his servant.⁴³And he brought forth his people with joy, and his chosen with gladness:⁴⁴And gave them the lands of the heathen: and they inherited the labour of the people⁴⁵That they might observe his statutes, and keep his laws. Praise ye the LORD.

CHAPTER 106 ¹Praise ye the LORD. O give thanks unto the LORD for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.²Who can utter the mighty acts of the LORD? who can shew forth all his praise?³Blessed are they that keep judgment, and he that doeth righteousness at all times.⁴Remember me, O LORD, with the favour that thou bearest unto thy people: O visit me with thy salvation⁵That I may see the good of thy chosen, that I may rejoice in the gladness of thy nation, that I may glory with thine inheritance.⁶We have sinned with our fathers, we have committed iniquity, we have done wickedly.⁷Our fathers understood not thy wonders in Egypt they remembered not the multitude of thy mercies but provoked him at the sea, even at the Red sea.⁸Nevertheless he saved them for his name's sake, that he might make his mighty power to be known.⁹He rebuked the Red sea also, and it was dried up: so he led them through the depths, as through the wilderness.¹⁰And he saved them from the hand of him that hated them, and redeemed them from the hand of the enemy.¹¹And the waters covered their enemies: there was not one of them left.¹²Then believed they his words they sang his praise.¹³They soon forgot his works they waited not for his counsel:¹⁴But lusted exceedingly in the wilderness, and tempted God in the desert.¹⁵And he gave them their request but sent leanness into their soul.¹⁶They envied Moses also in the camp, and Aaron the saint of the LORD.¹⁷The earth opened and swallowed up Dathan, and covered the company of Abiram.¹⁸And a fire was kindled in their company the flame burned up the wicked.¹⁹They made a calf in Horeb, and worshipped the molten image.²⁰Thus they changed their glory into the similitude of an ox that eateth grass.²¹They forgot God their saviour, which had done great things in Egypt²²Wondrous works in the land of Ham, and terrible things by the Red sea.²³Therefore he said that he would destroy them, had not Moses his chosen stood before him in the breach, to turn away his wrath, lest he should destroy them.²⁴Yea, they despised the pleasant land, they believed not his word:²⁵But murmured in their tents, and hearkened not unto the voice of the LORD.²⁶Therefore he lifted up his hand against them, to overthrow them in the wilderness:²⁷To overthrow their seed also among the nations, and to scatter them in the lands.²⁸They joined themselves also unto Baal-peor, and ate the sacrifices of the dead.²⁹Thus they provoked him to anger with their inventions: and the plague brake in upon them.³⁰Then stood up Phinehas, and executed judgment: and so the plague was stayed.³¹And that was counted unto him for righteousness unto all generations for evermore.³²They angered him also at the waters of strife, so that it went ill with Moses for their sakes:³³Because they provoked his spirit, so that he spake unadvisedly with his lips.³⁴They did not destroy the nations, concerning whom the LORD commanded them:³⁵But were mingled among the heathen, and learned their works.³⁶And they served their idols: which were a snare unto them.³⁷Yea, they sacrificed their sons and their daughters unto devils,³⁸And shed innocent blood, even the blood of their sons and of their daughters, whom they sacrificed unto the idols of Canaan: and the land was polluted with blood.³⁹Thus were they defiled with their own works, and went a whoring with their own inventions.⁴⁰Therefore was the wrath of the LORD kindled against his people, insomuch that he abhorred his own inheritance.⁴¹And he gave them into the hand of the heathen and they that hated them ruled over them.⁴²Their enemies also oppressed them, and they were brought into subjection under their hand.⁴³Many times did he deliver them but they provoked him with their counsel, and were brought low for their iniquity.⁴⁴Nevertheless he regarded their affliction, when he heard their cry:⁴⁵And he remembered for them his covenant, and repented according to the multitude of his mercies.⁴⁶He made them also to be pitied of all those that carried them captives.⁴⁷Save us, O LORD our God, and gather us from among the heathen, to give thanks unto thy holy name, and to triumph in thy praise.⁴⁸Blessed be the Lord God of Israel from everlasting to everlasting: and let all the people say, Amen. Praise ye the LORD.

CHAPTER 107 ¹O give thanks unto the LORD, for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.²Let the redeemed of the LORD say so, whom he hath redeemed from the hand of the enemy³And gathered them out of the lands, from the east, and from the west, from the north, and from the south.⁴They wandered in the wilderness in a solitary way they found no city to dwell in.⁵Hungry and thirsty, their soul fainted in them.⁶Then they cried unto the LORD in their trouble, and he delivered them out of their distresses.⁷And he led them forth by the right way, that they might go to a city of habitation.⁸Oh that men would praise the LORD for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men!⁹For he satisfieth the longing soul, and filleth the hungry soul with goodness.¹⁰Such as sit in darkness and in the shadow of death, being bound in affliction and iron¹¹Because they rebelled against the words of God, and contemned the counsel of the most High:¹²Therefore he brought down their heart with labour they fell down, and there was none to help.¹³Then they cried unto the LORD in their trouble, and he saved them out of their distresses.¹⁴He brought them out of darkness and the shadow of death, and brake their bands in sunder.¹⁵Oh that men would praise the LORD for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men!¹⁶For he hath broken the gates of brass, and cut the bars of iron in sunder.¹⁷Fools because of their transgression, and because of their iniquities, are afflicted.¹⁸Their soul abhorreth all manner of meat and they draw near unto the gates of death.¹⁹Then they cry unto the LORD in their trouble, and he saveth them out of their distresses.²⁰He sent his word, and healed them, and delivered them from their destructions.²¹Oh that men would praise the LORD for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men!²²And let them sacrifice the sacrifices of thanksgiving, and declare his works with rejoicing.²³They that go down to the sea in ships, that do business in great waters²⁴These see the works of the LORD, and his wonders in the deep.²⁵For he commandeth, and raiseth the stormy wind, which lifteth up the waves thereof.²⁶They mount up to the heaven, they go down again to the depths: their soul is melted because of trouble.²⁷They reel to and fro, and stagger like a drunken man, and are at their wits' end.²⁸Then they cry unto the LORD in their trouble, and he bringeth them out of their distresses.²⁹He maketh the storm a calm, so that the waves thereof are still.³⁰Then are they glad because they be quiet so he bringeth them unto their desired haven.³¹Oh that men would praise the LORD for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men!³²Let them exalt him also in the congregation of the people, and praise him in the assembly of the elders.³³He turneth rivers into a wilderness, and the watersprings into dry ground³⁴A fruitful land into barrenness, for the wickedness of them that dwell therein.³⁵He turneth the wilderness into a standing water, and dry ground into watersprings.³⁶And there he maketh the hungry to dwell, that they may prepare a city for habitation³⁷And sow the fields, and plant vineyards, which may yield fruits of increase.³⁸He blesseth them also, so that they are multiplied greatly and suffereth not their cattle to decrease.³⁹Again, they are minished and brought low through oppression, affliction, and sorrow.⁴⁰He poureth contempt upon princes, and causeth them to wander in the wilderness, where there is no way.⁴¹Yet setteth he the poor on high from affliction, and maketh him families like a flock.⁴²The righteous shall see it, and rejoice: and all iniquity shall stop her mouth.⁴³Whoso is wise, and will observe these things, even they shall understand the lovingkindness of the LORD.

CHAPTER 108 ¹O God, my heart is fixed I will sing and give praise, even with my glory.²Awake, psaltery and harp: I myself will awake early.³I will praise thee, O LORD, among the people: and I will sing praises unto thee among the nations.⁴For thy mercy is great above the heavens: and thy truth reacheth unto the clouds.⁵Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens: and thy glory above all the earth⁶That thy beloved may be delivered: save with thy right hand, and answer me.⁷God hath spoken in his holiness I will rejoice, I will divide Shechem, and mete out the valley of Succoth.⁸Gilead is mine Manasseh is mine Ephraim also is the strength of mine head Judah is my lawgiver⁹Moab is my washpot over Edom will I cast out my shoe over Philistia will I triumph.¹⁰Who will bring me into the strong city? who will lead me into Edom?¹¹Wilt not thou, O God, who hast cast us off? and wilt not thou, O God, go forth with our hosts?¹²Give us help from trouble: for vain is the help of man.¹³Through God we shall do valiantly: for he it is that shall tread down our enemies.

CHAPTER 109 ¹Hold not thy peace, O God of my praise²For the mouth of the wicked and the mouth of the deceitful are opened against me: they have spoken against me with a lying tongue.³They compassed me about also with words of hatred and fought against me without a cause.⁴For my love they are my adversaries: but I give myself unto prayer.⁵And they have rewarded me evil for good, and hatred for my love.⁶Set thou a wicked man over him: and let Satan stand at his right hand.⁷When he shall be judged, let him be condemned: and let his prayer become sin.⁸Let his days be few and let another take his office.⁹Let his children be fatherless, and his wife a widow.¹⁰Let his children be continually vagabonds, and beg: let them seek their bread also out of their desolate places.¹¹Let the extortioner catch all that he hath and let the strangers spoil his labour.¹²Let there be none to extend mercy unto him: neither let there be any to favour his fatherless children.¹³Let his posterity be cut off and in the generation following let their name be blotted out.¹⁴Let the iniquity of his fathers be remembered with the LORD and let not the sin of his mother be blotted out.¹⁵Let them be before the LORD continually, that he may cut off the memory of them from the earth.¹⁶Because that he remembered not to shew mercy, but persecuted the poor and needy man, that he might even slay the broken in heart.¹⁷As he loved cursing, so let it come unto him: as he delighted not in blessing, so let it be far from him.¹⁸As he clothed himself with cursing like as with his garment, so let it come into his bowels like water, and like oil into his bones.¹⁹Let it be unto him as the garment which covereth him, and for a girdle wherewith he is girded continually.²⁰Let this be the reward of mine adversaries from the LORD, and of them that speak evil against my soul.²¹But do thou for me, O GOD the Lord, for thy name's sake: because thy mercy is good, deliver thou me.²²For I am poor and needy, and my heart is wounded within me.²³I am gone like the shadow when it declineth: I am tossed up and down as the locust.²⁴My knees are weak through fasting and my flesh faileth of fatness.²⁵I became also a reproach unto them: when they looked upon me they shaked their heads.²⁶Help me, O LORD my God: O save me according to thy mercy.²⁷That they may know that this is thy hand that thou, LORD, hast done it.²⁸Let them curse, but bless thou: when they arise, let them be ashamed but let thy servant rejoice.²⁹Let mine adversaries be clothed with shame, and let them cover themselves with their own confusion, as with a mantle.³⁰I will greatly praise the LORD with my mouth yea, I will praise him among the multitude.³¹For he shall stand at the right hand of the poor, to save him from those that condemn his soul.

CHAPTER 110 ¹The LORD said unto my Lord, Sit thou at my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool.²The LORD shall send the rod of thy strength out of Zion: rule thou in the midst of thine enemies.³Thy people shall be willing in the day of thy power, in the beauties of holiness from the womb of the morning: thou hast the dew of thy youth.⁴The LORD hath sworn, and will not repent, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchizedek.⁵The Lord at thy right hand shall strike through kings in the day of his wrath.⁶He shall judge among the heathen, he shall fill the places with the dead bodies he shall wound the heads over many countries.⁷He shall drink of the brook in the way: therefore shall he lift up the head.

CHAPTER 111 ¹Praise ye the LORD. I will praise the LORD with my whole heart, in the assembly of the upright, and in the congregation.²The works of the LORD are great, sought out of all them that have pleasure therein.³His work is honourable and glorious: and his righteousness endureth for ever.⁴He hath made his wonderful works to be remembered: the LORD is gracious and full of compassion.⁵He hath given meat unto them that fear him: he will ever be mindful of his covenant.⁶He hath shewed his people the power of his works, that he may give them the heritage of the heathen.⁷The works of his hands are verity and judgment all his commandments are sure.⁸They stand fast for ever and ever, and are done in truth and uprightness.⁹He sent redemption unto his people: he hath commanded his covenant for ever: holy and reverend is his name.¹⁰The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom: a good understanding have all they that do his commandments: his praise endureth for ever.

CHAPTER 112 ¹Praise ye the LORD. Blessed is the man that feareth the LORD, that delighteth greatly in his commandments.²His seed shall be mighty upon earth: the generation of the upright shall be blessed.³Wealth and riches shall be in his house: and his righteousness endureth for ever.⁴Unto the upright there ariseth light in the darkness: he is gracious, and full of compassion, and righteous.⁵A good man sheweth favour, and lendeth: he will guide his affairs with discretion.⁶Surely he shall not be moved for ever: the righteous shall be in everlasting remembrance.⁷He shall not be afraid of evil tidings: his heart is fixed, trusting in the LORD.⁸His heart is established, he shall not be afraid, until he see his desire upon his enemies.⁹He hath dispersed, he hath given to the poor his righteousness endureth for ever his horn shall be exalted with honour.¹⁰The wicked shall see it, and be grieved he shall gnash with his teeth, and melt away: the desire of the wicked shall perish.

CHAPTER 113 ¹Praise ye the LORD. Praise, O ye servants of the LORD, praise the name of the LORD.²Blessed be the name of the LORD from this time forth and for evermore.³From the rising of the sun unto the going down of the same the LORD's name is to be praised.⁴The LORD is high above all nations, and his glory above the heavens.⁵Who is like unto the LORD our God, who dwelleth on high,⁶Who humbleth himself to behold the things that are in heaven, and in the earth!⁷He raiseth up the poor out of the dust, and lifteth the needy out of the dunghill⁸That he may set him with princes, even with the princes of his people.⁹He maketh the barren woman to keep house, and to be a joyful mother of children. Praise ye the LORD.

CHAPTER 114 ¹When Israel went out of Egypt, the house of Jacob from a people of strange language²Judah was his sanctuary, and Israel his dominion.³The sea saw it, and fled: Jordan was driven back.⁴The mountains skipped like rams, and the little hills like lambs.⁵What ailed thee, O thou sea, that thou fleddest? thou Jordan, that thou wast driven back?⁶Ye mountains, that ye skipped like rams and ye little hills, like lambs?⁷Tremble, thou earth, at the presence of the Lord, at the presence of the God of Jacob⁸Which turned the rock into a standing water, the flint into a fountain of waters.

CHAPTER 115 ¹Not unto us, O LORD, not unto us, but unto thy name give glory, for thy mercy, and for thy truth's sake.²Wherefore should the heathen say, Where is now their God?³But our God is in the heavens: he hath done whatsoever he hath pleased.⁴Their idols are silver and gold, the work of men's hands.⁵They have mouths, but they speak not: eyes have they, but they see not:⁶They have ears, but they hear not: noses have they, but they smell not:⁷They have hands, but they handle not:

feet have they, but they walk not: neither speak they through their throat.⁸They that make them are like unto them so is every one that trusteth in them.⁹O Israel, trust thou in the LORD: he is their help and their shield.¹⁰O house of Aaron, trust in the LORD: he is their help and their shield.¹¹Ye that fear the LORD, trust in the LORD: he is their help and their shield.¹²The LORD hath been mindful of us: he will bless us he will bless the house of Israel he will bless the house of Aaron.¹³He will bless them that fear the LORD, both small and great.¹⁴The LORD shall increase you more and more, you and your children.¹⁵Ye are blessed of the LORD which made heaven and earth.¹⁶The heaven, even the heavens, are the LORD's: but the earth hath he given to the children of men.¹⁷The dead praise not the LORD, neither any that go down into silence.¹⁸But we will bless the LORD from this time forth and for evermore. Praise the LORD.

CHAPTER 116 ¹I love the LORD, because he hath heard my voice and my supplications.²Because he hath inclined his ear unto me, therefore will I call upon him as long as I live.³The sorrows of death compassed me, and the pains of hell gat hold upon me: I found trouble and sorrow.⁴Then called I upon the name of the LORD O LORD, I beseech thee, deliver my soul.⁵Gracious is the LORD, and righteous yea, our God is merciful.⁶The LORD preserveth the simple: I was brought low, and he helped me.⁷Return unto thy rest, O my soul for the LORD hath dealt bountifully with thee.⁸For thou hast delivered my soul from death, mine eyes from tears, and my feet from falling.⁹I will walk before the LORD in the land of the living.¹⁰I believed, therefore have I spoken: I was greatly afflicted:¹¹I said in my haste, All men are liars.¹²What shall I render unto the LORD for all his benefits toward me?¹³I will take the cup of salvation, and call upon the name of the LORD.¹⁴I will pay my vows unto the LORD now in the presence of all his people.¹⁵Precious in the sight of the LORD is the death of his saints.¹⁶O LORD, truly I am thy servant I am thy servant, and the son of thine handmaid: thou hast loosed my bonds.¹⁷I will offer to thee the sacrifice of thanksgiving, and will call upon the name of the LORD.¹⁸I will pay my vows unto the LORD now in the presence of all his people,¹⁹In the courts of the LORD's house, in the midst of thee, O Jerusalem. Praise ye the LORD.

CHAPTER 117 ¹O praise the LORD, all ye nations: praise him, all ye people.²For his merciful kindness is great toward us: and the truth of the LORD endureth for ever. Praise ye the LORD.

CHAPTER 118 ¹O give thanks unto the LORD for he is good: because his mercy endureth for ever.²Let Israel now say, that his mercy endureth for ever.³Let the house of Aaron now say, that his mercy endureth for ever.⁴Let them now that fear the LORD say, that his mercy endureth for ever.⁵I called upon the LORD in distress: the LORD answered me, and set me in a large place.⁶The LORD is on my side I will not fear: what can man do unto me?⁷The LORD taketh my part with them that help me: therefore shall I see my desire upon them that hate me.⁸It is better to trust in the LORD than to put confidence in man.⁹It is better to trust in the LORD than to put confidence in princes.¹⁰All nations compassed me about: but in the name of the LORD will I destroy them.¹¹They compassed me about yea, they compassed me about: but in the name of the LORD I will destroy them.¹²They compassed me about like bees they are quenched as the fire of thorns: for in the name of the LORD I will destroy them.¹³Thou hast thrust sore at me that I might fall: but the LORD helped me.¹⁴The LORD is my strength and song, and is become my salvation.¹⁵The voice of rejoicing and salvation is in the tabernacles of the righteous: the right hand of the LORD doeth valiantly.¹⁶The right hand of the LORD is exalted: the right hand of the LORD doeth valiantly.¹⁷I shall not die, but live, and declare the works of the LORD.¹⁸The LORD hath chastened me sore: but he hath not given me over unto death.¹⁹Open to me the gates of righteousness: I will go into them, and I will praise the LORD:²⁰This gate of the LORD, into which the righteous shall enter.²¹I will praise thee: for thou hast heard me, and art become my salvation.²²The stone which the builders refused is become the head stone of the corner.²³This is the LORD's doing it is marvellous in our eyes.²⁴This is the day which the LORD hath made we will rejoice and be glad in it.²⁵Save now, I beseech thee, O LORD: O LORD, I beseech thee, send now prosperity.²⁶Blessed be he that cometh in the name of the LORD: we have blessed you out of the house of the LORD.²⁷God is the LORD, which hath shewed us light: bind the sacrifice with cords, even unto the horns of the altar.²⁸Thou art my God, and I will praise thee: thou art my God, I will exalt thee.²⁹O give thanks unto the LORD for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.

CHAPTER 119 ¹Blessed are the undefiled in the way, who walk in the law of the LORD.²Blessed are they that keep his testimonies, and that seek him with the whole heart.³They also do no iniquity: they walk in his ways.⁴Thou hast commanded us to keep thy precepts diligently.⁵O that my ways were directed to keep thy statutes!⁶Then shall I not be ashamed, when I have respect unto all thy commandments.⁷I will praise thee with uprightness of heart, when I shall have learned thy righteous judgments.⁸I will keep thy statutes: O forsake me not utterly.⁹Wherewithal shall a young man cleanse his way? by taking heed thereto according to thy word.¹⁰With my whole heart have I sought thee: O let me not wander from thy commandments.¹¹Thy word have I hid in mine heart, that I might not sin against thee.¹²Blessed art thou, O LORD: teach me thy statutes.¹³With my lips have I declared all the judgments of thy mouth.¹⁴I have rejoiced in the way of thy testimonies, as much as in all riches.¹⁵I will meditate in thy precepts, and have respect unto thy ways.¹⁶I will delight myself in thy statutes: I will not forget thy word.¹⁷Deal bountifully with thy servant, that I may live, and keep thy word.¹⁸Open thou mine eyes, that I may behold wondrous things out of thy law.¹⁹I am a stranger in the earth: hide not thy commandments from me.²⁰My soul breaketh for the longing that it hath unto thy judgments at all times.²¹Thou hast rebuked the proud that are cursed, which do err from thy commandments.²²Remove from me reproach and contempt for I have kept thy testimonies.²³Princes also did sit and speak against me: but thy servant did meditate in thy statutes.²⁴Thy testimonies also are my delight and my counsellors.²⁵My soul cleaveth unto the dust: quicken thou me according to thy word.²⁶I have declared my ways, and thou heardest me: teach me thy statutes.²⁷Make me to understand the way of thy precepts: so shall I talk of thy wondrous works.²⁸My soul melteth for heaviness: strengthen thou me according unto thy word.²⁹Remove from me the way of lying: and grant me thy law graciously.³⁰I have chosen the way of truth: thy judgments have I laid before me.³¹I have stuck unto thy testimonies: O LORD, put me not to shame.³²I will run the way of thy commandments, when thou shalt enlarge my heart.³³Teach me, O LORD, the way of thy statutes and I shall keep it unto the end.³⁴Give me understanding, and I shall keep thy law yea, I shall observe it with my whole heart.³⁵Make me to go in the path of thy commandments for therein do I delight.³⁶Incline my heart unto thy testimonies, and not to covetousness.³⁷Turn away mine eyes from beholding vanity and quicken thou me in thy way.³⁸Stablish thy word unto thy servant, who is devoted to thy fear.³⁹Turn away my reproach which I fear: for thy judgments are good.⁴⁰Behold, I have longed after thy precepts: quicken me in thy righteousness.⁴¹Let thy mercies come also unto me, O LORD, even thy salvation, according to thy word.⁴²So shall I have wherewith to answer him that reproacheth me: for I trust in thy word.⁴³And take not the word of truth utterly out of my mouth for I have hoped in thy judgments.⁴⁴So shall I keep thy law continually for ever and ever.⁴⁵And I will walk at liberty: for I seek thy precepts.⁴⁶I will speak of thy testimonies also before kings, and will not be ashamed.⁴⁷And I will delight myself in thy commandments, which I have loved.⁴⁸My hands also will I lift up unto thy commandments, which I have loved and I will meditate in thy statutes.⁴⁹Remember the word unto thy servant, upon which thou hast caused me to hope.⁵⁰This is my comfort in my affliction: for thy word hath quickened me.⁵¹The proud have had me greatly in derision: yet have I not declined from thy law.⁵²I remembered thy judgments of old, O LORD and have comforted myself.⁵³Horror hath taken hold upon me because of the wicked that forsake thy law.⁵⁴Thy statutes have been my songs in the house of my pilgrimage.⁵⁵I have remembered thy name, O LORD, in the night, and have kept thy law.⁵⁶This I had, because I kept thy precepts.⁵⁷Thou art my portion, O LORD: I have said that I would keep thy words.⁵⁸I intreated thy favour with my whole heart: be merciful unto me according to thy word.⁵⁹I thought on my ways, and turned my feet unto thy testimonies.⁶⁰I made haste, and delayed not to keep thy commandments.⁶¹The bands of the wicked have robbed me: but I have not forgotten thy law.⁶²At midnight I will rise to give thanks unto thee because of thy righteous judgments.⁶³I am a companion of all them that fear thee, and of them that keep thy precepts.⁶⁴The earth, O LORD, is full of thy mercy: teach me thy statutes.⁶⁵Thou hast dealt well with thy servant, O LORD, according unto thy word.⁶⁶Teach me good judgment and knowledge: for I have believed thy commandments.⁶⁷Before I was afflicted I went astray: but now have I kept thy word.⁶⁸Thou art good, and doest good teach me thy statutes.⁶⁹The proud have forged a lie against me: but I will keep thy precepts with my whole heart.⁷⁰Their heart is as fat as grease but I delight in thy law.⁷¹It is good for me that I have been afflicted that I might learn thy statutes.⁷²The law of thy mouth is better unto me than thousands of gold and silver.⁷³Thy hands have made me and fashioned me: give me understanding, that I may learn thy commandments.⁷⁴They that fear thee will be glad when they see me because I have hoped in thy word.⁷⁵I know, O LORD, that thy judgments are right, and that thou in faithfulness hast afflicted me.⁷⁶Let, I pray thee, thy merciful kindness be for my comfort, according to thy word unto thy servant.⁷⁷Let thy tender mercies come unto me, that I may live: for thy law is my delight.⁷⁸Let the proud be ashamed for they dealt perversely with me without a cause: but I will meditate in thy precepts.⁷⁹Let those that fear thee turn unto me, and those that have known thy testimonies.⁸⁰Let my heart be sound in thy statutes that I be not ashamed.⁸¹My soul fainteth for thy salvation: but I hope in thy word.⁸²Mine eyes fail for thy word, saying, When wilt thou comfort me?⁸³For I am become like a bottle in the smoke yet do I not forget thy statutes.⁸⁴How many are the days of thy servant? when wilt thou execute judgment on them that persecute me?⁸⁵The proud have digged pits for me, which are not after thy law.⁸⁶All thy commandments are faithful: they persecute me wrongfully help thou me.⁸⁷They had almost consumed me upon earth but I forsook not thy precepts.⁸⁸Quicken me after thy lovingkindness so shall I keep the testimony of thy mouth.⁸⁹For ever, O LORD, thy word is settled in heaven.⁹⁰Thy faithfulness is unto all generations: thou hast established the earth, and it abideth.⁹¹They continue this day according to thine ordinances: for all are thy servants.⁹²Unless thy law had been my delights, I should then have perished in mine affliction.⁹³I will never forget thy precepts: for with them thou hast quickened me.⁹⁴I am thine, save me for I have sought thy precepts.⁹⁵The wicked have waited for me to destroy me: but I will consider thy testimonies.⁹⁶I have seen an end of all perfection: but thy commandment is exceeding broad.⁹⁷O how love I thy law! it is my meditation all the day.⁹⁸Thou through thy commandments hast made me wiser than mine enemies: for they are ever with me.⁹⁹I have more understanding than all my teachers: for thy testimonies are my meditation.¹⁰⁰I understand more than the ancients, because I keep thy precepts.¹⁰¹I have refrained my feet from every evil way, that I might keep thy word.¹⁰²I have not departed from thy judgments: for thou hast taught me.¹⁰³How sweet are thy words unto my taste! yea, sweeter than honey to my mouth!¹⁰⁴Through thy precepts I get understanding: therefore I hate every false way.¹⁰⁵Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path.¹⁰⁶I have sworn, and I will perform it, that I will keep thy righteous judgments.¹⁰⁷I am afflicted very much: quicken me,

O LORD, according unto thy word.¹⁰⁸Accept, I beseech thee, the freewill offerings of my mouth, O LORD, and teach me thy judgments.¹⁰⁹My soul is continually in my hand: yet do I not forget thy law.¹¹⁰The wicked have laid a snare for me: yet I erred not from thy precepts.¹¹¹Thy testimonies have I taken as an heritage for ever: for they are the rejoicing of my heart.¹¹²I have inclined mine heart to perform thy statutes alway, even unto the end.¹¹³I hate vain thoughts: but thy law do I love.¹¹⁴Thou art my hiding place and my shield: I hope in thy word.¹¹⁵Depart from me, ye evildoers: for I will keep the commandments of my God.¹¹⁶Uphold me according unto thy word, that I may live: and let me not be ashamed of my hope.¹¹⁷Hold thou me up, and I shall be safe: and I will have respect unto thy statutes continually.¹¹⁸Thou hast trodden down all them that err from thy statutes: for their deceit is falsehood.¹¹⁹Thou puttest away all the wicked of the earth like dross: therefore I love thy testimonies.¹²⁰My flesh trembleth for fear of thee and I am afraid of thy judgments.¹²¹I have done judgment and justice: leave me not to mine oppressors.¹²²Be surety for thy servant for good: let not the proud oppress me.¹²³ Mine eyes fail for thy salvation, and for the word of thy righteousness.¹²⁴ Deal with thy servant according unto thy mercy, and teach me thy statutes.¹²⁵ I am thy servant give me understanding, that I may know thy testimonies.¹²⁶ It is time for thee, LORD, to work: for they have made void thy law.¹²⁷ Therefore I love thy commandments above gold yea, above fine gold.¹²⁸ Therefore I esteem all thy precepts concerning all things to be right and I hate every false way.¹²⁹ Thy testimonies are wonderful: therefore doth my soul keep them.¹³⁰ The entrance of thy words giveth light it giveth understanding unto the simple.¹³¹ I opened my mouth, and panted: for I longed for thy commandments.¹³² Look thou upon me, and be merciful unto me, as thou usest to do unto those that love thy name.¹³³ Order my steps in thy word: and let not any iniquity have dominion over me.¹³⁴ Deliver me from the oppression of man: so will I keep thy precepts.¹³⁵ Make thy face to shine upon thy servant and teach me thy statutes.¹³⁶ Rivers of waters run down mine eyes, because they keep not thy law.¹³⁷ Righteous art thou, O

LORD, and upright are thy judgments.¹³⁸ Thy testimonies that thou hast commanded are righteous and very faithful.¹³⁹ My zeal hath consumed me, because mine enemies have forgotten thy words.¹⁴⁰ Thy word is very pure: therefore thy servant loveth it.¹⁴¹ I am small and despised: yet do not I forget thy precepts.¹⁴² Thy righteousness is an everlasting righteousness, and thy law is the truth.¹⁴³ Trouble and anguish have taken hold on me: yet thy commandments are my delights.¹⁴⁴ The righteousness of thy testimonies is everlasting: give me understanding, and I shall live.¹⁴⁵ I cried with my whole heart hear me, O LORD: I will keep thy statutes.¹⁴⁶ I cried unto thee save me, and I shall keep thy testimonies.¹⁴⁷ I prevented the dawning of the morning, and cried: I hoped in thy word.¹⁴⁸ Mine eyes prevent the night watches, that I might meditate in thy word.¹⁴⁹ Hear my voice according unto thy lovingkindness: O LORD, quicken me according to thy judgment.¹⁵⁰ They draw nigh that follow after mischief: they are far from thy law.¹⁵¹ Thou art near, O LORD and all thy commandments are truth.¹⁵² Concerning thy testimonies, I have known of old that thou hast founded them for ever.¹⁵³Consider mine affliction, and deliver me: for I do not forget thy law.¹⁵⁴Plead my cause, and deliver me: quicken me according to thy word.¹⁵⁵Salvation is far from the wicked: for they seek not thy statutes.¹⁵⁶Great are thy tender mercies, O LORD: quicken me according to thy judgments.¹⁵⁷Many are my persecutors and mine enemies yet do I not decline from thy testimonies.¹⁵⁸I beheld the transgressors, and was grieved because they kept not thy word.¹⁵⁹Consider how I love thy precepts: quicken me, O LORD, according to thy lovingkindness.¹⁶⁰Thy word is true from the beginning: and every one of thy righteous judgments endureth for ever.¹⁶¹Princes have persecuted me without a cause: but my heart standeth in awe of thy word.¹⁶²I rejoice at thy word, as one that findeth great spoil.¹⁶³I hate and abhor lying: but thy law do I love.¹⁶⁴Seven times a day do I praise thee because of thy righteous judgments.¹⁶⁵Great peace have they which love thy law: and nothing shall offend them.¹⁶⁶LORD, I have hoped for thy salvation, and done thy commandments.¹⁶⁷My soul hath kept thy testimonies and I love them exceedingly.¹⁶⁸I have kept thy precepts and thy testimonies: for all my ways are before thee.¹⁶⁹Let my cry come near before thee, O LORD: give me understanding according to thy word.¹⁷⁰Let my supplication come before thee: deliver me according to thy word.¹⁷¹My lips shall utter praise, when thou hast taught me thy statutes.¹⁷²My tongue shall speak of thy word: for all thy commandments are righteousness.¹⁷³Let thine hand help me for I have chosen thy precepts.¹⁷⁴I have longed for thy salvation, O LORD and thy law is my delight.¹⁷⁵Let my soul live, and it shall praise thee and let thy judgments help me.¹⁷⁶I have gone astray like a lost sheep seek thy servant for I do not forget thy commandments.

CHAPTER 120 ¹In my distress I cried unto the LORD, and he heard me.²Deliver my soul, O LORD, from lying lips, and from a deceitful tongue.³What shall be given unto thee? or what shall be done unto thee, thou false tongue?⁴Sharp arrows of the mighty, with coals of juniper.⁵Woe is me, that I sojourn in Mesech, that I dwell in the tents of Kedar!⁶My soul hath long dwelt with him that hateth peace.⁷I am for peace: but when I speak, they are for war.

CHAPTER 121 ¹I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help.²My help cometh from the LORD, which made heaven and earth.³He will not suffer thy foot to be moved: he that keepeth thee will not slumber.⁴Behold, he that keepeth Israel shall neither slumber nor sleep.⁵The LORD is thy keeper: the LORD is thy shade upon thy right hand.⁶The sun shall not smite thee by day, nor the moon by night.⁷The LORD shall preserve thee from all evil: he shall preserve thy soul.⁸The LORD shall preserve thy going out and thy coming in from this time forth, and even for evermore.

CHAPTER 122 ¹I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the LORD.²Our feet shall stand within thy gates, O Jerusalem.³Jerusalem is builded as a city that is compact together:⁴Whither the tribes go up, the tribes of the LORD, unto the testimony of Israel, to give thanks unto the name of the LORD.⁵For there are set thrones of judgment, the thrones of the house of David.⁶Pray for the peace of Jerusalem: they shall prosper that love thee.⁷Peace be within thy walls, and prosperity within thy palaces.⁸For my brethren and companions' sakes, I will now say, Peace be within thee.⁹Because of the house of the LORD our God I will seek thy good.

CHAPTER 123 ¹Unto thee lift I up mine eyes, O thou that dwellest in the heavens.²Behold, as the eyes of servants look unto the hand of their masters, and as the eyes of a maiden unto the hand of her mistress so our eyes wait upon the LORD our God, until that he have mercy upon us.³Have mercy upon us, O LORD, have mercy upon us: for we are exceedingly filled with contempt.⁴Our soul is exceedingly filled with the scorning of those that are at ease, and with the contempt of the proud.

CHAPTER 124 ¹If it had not been the LORD who was on our side, now may Israel say²If it had not been the LORD who was on our side, when men rose up against us:³Then they had swallowed us up quick, when their wrath was kindled against us:⁴Then the waters had overwhelmed us, the stream had gone over our soul:⁵Then the proud waters had gone over our soul.⁶Blessed be the LORD, who hath not given us as a prey to their teeth.⁷Our soul is escaped as a bird out of the snare of the fowlers: the snare is broken, and we are escaped.⁸Our help is in the name of the LORD, who made heaven and earth.

CHAPTER 125 ¹They that trust in the LORD shall be as mount Zion, which cannot be removed, but abideth for ever.²As the mountains are round about Jerusalem, so the LORD is round about his people from henceforth even for ever.³For the rod of the wicked shall not rest upon the lot of the righteous lest the righteous put forth their hands unto iniquity.⁴Do good, O LORD, unto those that be good, and to them that are upright in their hearts.⁵As for such as turn aside unto their crooked ways, the LORD shall lead them forth with the workers of iniquity: but peace shall be upon Israel.

CHAPTER 126 ¹When the LORD turned again the captivity of Zion, we were like them that dream.²Then was our mouth filled with laughter, and our tongue with singing: then said they among the heathen, The LORD hath done great things for them.³The LORD hath done great things for us whereof we are glad.⁴Turn again our captivity, O LORD, as the streams in the south.⁵They that sow in tears shall reap in joy.⁶He that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him.

CHAPTER 127 ¹Except the LORD build the house, they labour in vain that build it: except the LORD keep the city, the watchman waketh but in vain.²It is vain for you to rise up early, to sit up late, to eat the bread of sorrows: for so he giveth his beloved sleep.³Lo, children are an heritage of the LORD: and the fruit of the womb is his reward.⁴As arrows are in the hand of a mighty man so are children of the youth.⁵Happy is the man that hath his quiver full of them: they shall not be ashamed, but they shall speak with the enemies in the gate.

CHAPTER 128 ¹Blessed is every one that feareth the LORD that walketh in his ways.²For thou shalt eat the labour of thine hands: happy shalt thou be, and it shall be well with thee.³Thy wife shall be as a fruitful vine by the sides of thine house: thy children like olive plants round about thy table.⁴Behold, that thus shall the man be blessed that feareth the LORD.⁵The LORD shall bless thee out of Zion: and thou shalt see the good of Jerusalem all the days of thy life.⁶Yea, thou shalt see thy children's children, and peace upon Israel.

CHAPTER 129 ¹Many a time have they afflicted me from my youth, may Israel now say:²Many a time have they afflicted me from my youth: yet they have not prevailed against me.³The plowers plowed upon my back: they made long their furrows.⁴The LORD is righteous: he hath cut asunder the cords of the wicked.⁵Let them all be confounded and turned back that hate Zion.⁶Let them be as the grass upon the housetops, which withereth afore it groweth up:⁷Wherewith the mower filleth not his hand nor he that bindeth sheaves his bosom.⁸Neither do they which go by say, The blessing of the LORD be upon you: we bless you in the name of the LORD.

CHAPTER 130 ¹Out of the depths have I cried unto thee, O LORD.²Lord, hear my voice: let thine ears be attentive to the voice of my supplications.³If thou, LORD, shouldest mark iniquities, O Lord, who shall stand?⁴But there is forgiveness with thee, that thou mayest be feared.⁵I wait for the LORD, my soul doth wait, and in his word do I hope.⁶My soul waiteth for the Lord more than they that watch for the morning: I say, more than they that watch for the morning.⁷Let Israel hope in the LORD: for with the LORD there is mercy, and with him is plenteous redemption.⁸And he shall redeem Israel from all his iniquities.

CHAPTER 131 ¹LORD, my heart is not haughty, nor mine eyes lofty: neither do I exercise myself in great matters, or in things too high for me.²Surely I have behaved and quieted myself, as a child that is weaned of his mother: my soul is even as a weaned child.³Let Israel hope in the LORD from henceforth and for ever.

CHAPTER 132 ¹LORD, remember David, and all his afflictions:²How he sware unto the LORD, and vowed unto the mighty God of Jacob³Surely I will not come into the tabernacle of my house, nor go up into my bed⁴I will not give sleep to mine eyes, or slumber to mine eyelids,⁵Until I find out a place for the LORD, an habitation for the mighty God of Jacob.⁶Lo, we heard of it at Ephratah: we found it in the fields of the wood.⁷We will go into his tabernacles: we will worship at his footstool.⁸Arise, O LORD, into thy rest thou, and the ark of thy strength.⁹Let thy priests be clothed with righteousness and let thy saints shout for joy.¹⁰For thy servant David's sake turn not away the face of thine anointed.¹¹The LORD hath sworn in truth unto David he will not turn from it Of the fruit of thy body will I set upon thy throne.¹²If thy children will keep my covenant and my testimony that I shall teach them, their children shall also sit upon thy throne for evermore.¹³For the LORD hath chosen Zion he hath desired it for his habitation.¹⁴This is my rest for ever: here will I dwell for I have desired it.¹⁵I will abundantly bless her provision: I will satisfy her poor with bread.¹⁶I will also clothe her priests with salvation: and her saints shall shout aloud for joy.¹⁷There will I make the horn of David to bud: I have ordained a lamp for mine anointed.¹⁸His enemies will I clothe with shame: but upon himself shall his crown flourish.

CHAPTER 133 ¹Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity!²It is like the precious ointment upon the head, that ran down upon the beard, even Aaron's beard: that went down to the skirts of his garments³As the dew of Hermon, and as the dew that descended upon the mountains of Zion: for there the LORD commanded the blessing, even life for evermore.

CHAPTER 134 ¹Behold, bless ye the LORD, all ye servants of the LORD, which by night stand in the house of the LORD.²Lift up your hands in the sanctuary, and bless the LORD.³The LORD that made heaven and earth bless thee out of Zion.

CHAPTER 135 ¹Praise ye the LORD. Praise ye the name of the LORD praise him, O ye servants of the LORD.²Ye that stand in the house of the LORD, in the courts of the house of our God,³Praise the LORD for the LORD is good: sing praises unto his name for it is pleasant.⁴For the LORD hath chosen Jacob unto himself, and Israel for his peculiar treasure.⁵For I know that the LORD is great, and that our Lord is above all gods.⁶Whatsoever the LORD pleased, that did he in heaven, and in earth, in the seas, and all deep places.⁷He causeth the vapours to ascend from the ends of the earth he maketh lightnings for the rain he bringeth the wind out of his treasuries.⁸Who smote the firstborn of Egypt, both of man and beast.⁹Who sent tokens and wonders into the midst of thee, O Egypt, upon Pharaoh, and upon all his servants.¹⁰Who smote great nations, and slew mighty kings¹¹Sihon king of the Amorites, and Og king of Bashan, and all the kingdoms of Canaan:¹²And gave their land for an heritage, an heritage unto Israel his people.¹³Thy name, O LORD, endureth for ever and thy memorial, O LORD, throughout all generations.¹⁴For the LORD will judge his people, and he will repent himself concerning his servants.¹⁵The idols of the heathen are silver and gold, the work of men's hands.¹⁶They have mouths, but they speak not eyes have they, but they see not¹⁷They have ears, but they hear not neither is there any breath in their mouths.¹⁸They that make them are like unto them: so is every one that trusteth in them.¹⁹Bless the LORD, O house of Israel: bless the LORD, O house of Aaron:²⁰Bless the LORD, O house of Levi: ye that fear the LORD, bless the LORD.²¹Blessed be the LORD out of Zion, which dwelleth at Jerusalem. Praise ye the LORD.

CHAPTER 136 ¹O give thanks unto the LORD for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever.²O give thanks unto the God of gods: for his mercy endureth for ever.³O give thanks to the Lord of lords: for his mercy endureth for ever.⁴To him who alone doeth great wonders: for his mercy endureth for ever.⁵To him that by wisdom made the heavens: for his mercy endureth for ever.⁶To him that stretched out the earth above the waters: for his mercy endureth for ever.⁷To him that made great lights: for his mercy endureth for ever:⁸The sun to rule by day: for his mercy endureth for ever:⁹The moon and stars to rule by night: for his mercy endureth for ever.¹⁰To him that smote Egypt in their firstborn: for his mercy endureth for ever:¹¹And brought out Israel from among them: for his mercy endureth for ever:¹²With a strong hand, and with a stretched out arm: for his mercy endureth for ever.¹³To him which divided the Red sea into parts: for his mercy endureth for ever:¹⁴And made Israel to pass through the midst of it: for his mercy endureth for ever:¹⁵But overthrew Pharaoh and his host in the Red sea: for his mercy endureth for ever.¹⁶To him which led his people through the wilderness: for his mercy endureth for ever.¹⁷To him which smote great kings: for his mercy endureth for ever.¹⁸And slew famous kings: for his mercy endureth for ever.¹⁹Sihon king of the Amorites: for his mercy endureth for ever.²⁰And Og the king of Bashan: for his mercy endureth for ever.²¹And gave their land for an heritage: for his mercy endureth for ever.²²Even an heritage unto Israel his servant: for his mercy endureth for ever.²³Who remembered us in our low estate: for his mercy endureth for ever.²⁴And hath redeemed us from our enemies: for his mercy endureth for ever.²⁵Who giveth food to all flesh: for his mercy endureth for ever.²⁶O give thanks unto the God of heaven: for his mercy endureth for ever.

CHAPTER 137 ¹By the rivers of Babylon, there we sat down, yea, we wept, when we remembered Zion.²We hanged our harps upon the willows in the midst thereof.³For there they that carried us away captive required of us a song and they that wasted us required of us mirth, saying, Sing us one of the songs of Zion.⁴How shall we sing the LORD's song in a strange land?⁵If I forget thee, O Jerusalem, let my right hand forget her cunning.⁶If I do not remember thee, let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth if I prefer not Jerusalem above my chief joy.⁷Remember, O LORD, the children of Edom in the day of Jerusalem who said, Rase it, rase it, even to the foundation thereof.⁸O daughter of Babylon, who art to be destroyed happy shall he be, that rewardeth thee as thou hast served us.⁹Happy shall he be, that taketh and dasheth thy little ones against the stones.

CHAPTER 138 ¹I will praise thee with my whole heart: before the gods will I sing praise unto thee.²I will worship toward thy holy temple, and praise thy name for thy lovingkindness and for thy truth: for thou hast magnified thy word above all thy name.³In the day when I cried thou answeredst me, and strengthenedst me with strength in my soul.⁴All the kings of the earth shall praise thee, O LORD, when they hear the words of thy mouth.⁵Yea, they shall sing in the ways of the LORD: for great is the glory of the LORD.⁶Though the LORD be high, yet hath he respect unto the lowly: but the proud he knoweth afar off.⁷Though I walk in the midst of trouble, thou wilt revive me: thou shalt stretch forth thine hand against the wrath of mine enemies, and thy right hand shall save me.⁸The LORD will perfect that which concerneth me: thy mercy, O LORD, endureth for ever: forsake not the works of thine own hands.

CHAPTER 139 ¹O LORD, thou hast searched me, and known me.²Thou knowest my downsitting and mine uprising, thou understandest my thought afar off.³Thou compasest my path and my lying down, and art acquainted with all my ways.⁴For there is not a word in my tongue, but, lo, O LORD, thou knowest it altogether.⁵Thou hast beset me behind and before, and laid thine hand upon me.⁶Such knowledge is too wonderful for me it is high, I cannot attain unto it.⁷Whither shall I go from thy spirit? or whither shall I flee from thy presence?⁸If I ascend up into heaven, thou art there: if I make my bed in hell, behold, thou art there.⁹If I take the wings of the morning, and dwell in the uttermost parts of the sea¹⁰Even there shall thy hand lead me, and thy right hand shall hold me.¹¹If I say, Surely the darkness shall cover me even the night shall be light about me.¹²Yea, the darkness hideth not from thee but the night shineth as the day: the darkness and the light are both alike to thee.¹³For thou hast possessed my reins: thou hast covered me in my mother's womb.¹⁴I will praise thee for I am fearfully and wonderfully made: marvellous are thy works and that my soul knoweth right well.¹⁵My substance was not hid from thee, when I was made in secret, and curiously wrought in the lowest parts of the earth.¹⁶Thine eyes did see my substance, yet being unperfect and in thy book all my members were written, which in continuance were fashioned, when as yet there was none of them.¹⁷How precious also are thy thoughts unto me, O God! how great is the sum of them!¹⁸If I should count them, they are more in number than the sand: when I awake, I am still with thee.¹⁹Surely thou wilt slay the wicked, O God: depart from me therefore, ye bloody men.²⁰For they speak against thee wickedly, and thine enemies take thy name in vain.²¹Do not I hate them, O LORD, that hate thee? and am not I grieved with those that rise up against thee?²²I hate them with perfect hatred: I count them mine enemies.²³Search me, O God, and know my heart: try me, and know my thoughts.²⁴And see if there be any wicked way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting.

CHAPTER 140 ¹Deliver me, O LORD, from the evil man: preserve me from the violent man²Which imagine mischiefs in their heart continually are they gathered together for war.³They have sharpened their tongues like a serpent adders' poison is under their lips. Selah.⁴Keep me, O LORD, from the hands of the wicked preserve me from the violent man who have purposed to overthrow my goings.⁵The proud have hid a snare for me, and cords they have spread a net by the wayside they have set gins for me. Selah.⁶I said unto the LORD, Thou art my God: hear the voice of my supplications, O LORD.⁷O GOD the Lord, the strength of my salvation, thou hast covered my head in the day of battle.⁸Grant not, O LORD, the desires of the wicked: further not his wicked device lest they exalt themselves. Selah.⁹As for the head of those that compass me about, let the mischief of their own lips cover them.¹⁰Let burning coals fall upon them: let them be cast into the fire into deep pits, that they rise not up again.¹¹Let not an evil speaker be established in the earth: evil shall hunt the violent man to overthrow him.¹²I know that the LORD will maintain the cause of the afflicted, and the right of the poor.¹³Surely the righteous shall give thanks unto thy name: the upright shall dwell in thy presence.

CHAPTER 141 ¹LORD, I cry unto thee: make haste unto me give ear unto my voice, when I cry unto thee.²Let my prayer be set forth before thee as incense and the lifting up of my hands as the evening sacrifice.³Set a watch, O LORD, before my mouth keep the door of my lips.⁴Incline not my heart to any evil thing, to practise wicked works with men that work iniquity: and let me not eat of their dainties.⁵Let the righteous smite me it shall be a kindness: and let him reprove me it shall be an excellent oil, which shall not break my head: for yet my prayer also shall be in their calamities.⁶When their judges are overthrown in stony places, they shall hear my words for they are sweet.⁷Our bones are scattered at the grave's mouth, as when one cutteth and cleaveth wood upon the earth.⁸But mine eyes are unto thee, O GOD the Lord: in thee is my trust leave not my soul destitute.⁹Keep me from the snares which they have laid for me, and the gins of the workers of iniquity.¹⁰Let the wicked fall into their own nets, whilst that I withal escape.

CHAPTER 142 ¹I cried unto the LORD with my voice with my voice unto the LORD did I make my supplication.²I poured out my complaint before him I shewed before him my trouble.³When my spirit was overwhelmed within me, then thou knewest my path. In the way wherein I walked have they privily laid a snare for me.⁴I looked on my right hand, and beheld, but there was no man that would know me: refuge failed me no man cared for my soul.⁵I cried unto thee, O LORD: I said, Thou art my refuge and my portion in the land of the living.⁶Attend unto my cry for I am brought very low: deliver me from my persecutors for they are stronger than I.⁷Bring my soul out of prison, that I may praise thy name: the righteous shall compass me about for thou shalt deal bountifully with me.

CHAPTER 143 ¹Hear my prayer, O LORD, give ear to my supplications: in thy faithfulness answer me, and in thy righteousness.²And enter not into judgment with thy servant: for in thy sight shall no man living be justified.³For the enemy hath persecuted my soul he hath smitten my life down to the ground he hath made me to dwell in darkness, as those that have been long dead.⁴Therefore is my spirit overwhelmed within me my heart within me is desolate.⁵I remember the days of old I meditate on all thy works I muse on the work of thy hands.⁶I stretch forth my hands unto thee: my soul thirsteth after thee, as a thirsty land. Selah.⁷Hear me speedily, O LORD: my spirit faileth: hide not thy face from me, lest I be like unto them that go down into the pit.⁸Cause me to hear thy lovingkindness in the morning for in thee do I trust: cause me to know the way wherein I should walk for I lift up my soul unto thee.⁹Deliver me, O LORD, from mine enemies: I flee unto thee to hide me.¹⁰Teach me to do thy will for thou art my God: thy spirit is good lead me into the land of uprightness.¹¹Quicken me, O LORD, for thy name's sake: for thy righteousness' sake bring my soul out of trouble.¹²And of thy mercy cut off mine enemies, and destroy all them that afflict my soul: for I am thy servant.

CHAPTER 144 ¹Blessed be the LORD my strength, which teacheth my hands to war, and my fingers to fight:²My goodness, and my fortress my high tower, and my deliverer my shield, and he in whom I trust who subdueth my people under me.³LORD, what is man, that thou takest knowledge of him! or the son of man, that thou makest account of him!⁴Man is like to vanity: his days are as a shadow that passeth away.⁵Bow thy heavens, O LORD, and come down: touch the mountains, and they shall smoke.⁶Cast forth lightning, and scatter them: shoot out thine arrows, and destroy them.⁷Send thine hand from above rid me, and deliver me out of great waters, from the hand of strange children⁸Whose mouth speaketh vanity, and their right hand is a right hand of falsehood.⁹I will sing a new song unto thee, O God: upon a psaltery and an instrument of ten strings will I sing praises unto thee.¹⁰It is he that giveth salvation unto kings: who delivereth David his servant from the hurtful sword.¹¹Rid me, and deliver me from the hand of strange children, whose mouth speaketh vanity, and their right hand is a right hand of falsehood:¹²That our sons may be as plants grown up in their youth that our daughters may be as corner stones, polished after the similitude of a palace:¹³That our garners may be full, affording all manner of store: that our sheep may bring forth thousands and ten thousands in our streets:¹⁴That our oxen may be strong to labour that there be no breaking in, nor going out that there be no complaining in our streets.¹⁵Happy is that people, that is in such a case: yea, happy is that people, whose God is the LORD.

CHAPTER 145 ¹I will extol thee, my God, O king and I will bless thy name for ever and ever.²Every day will I bless thee and I will praise thy name for ever and ever.³Great is the LORD, and greatly to be praised and his greatness is unsearchable.⁴One generation shall praise thy works to another, and shall declare thy mighty acts.⁵I will speak of the glorious honour of thy majesty, and of thy wondrous works.⁶And men shall speak of the might of thy terrible acts: and I will declare thy greatness.⁷They shall abundantly utter the memory of thy great goodness, and shall sing of thy righteousness.⁸The LORD is gracious, and full of compassion slow to anger, and of great mercy.⁹The LORD is good to all: and his tender mercies are over all his works.¹⁰All thy works shall praise thee, O LORD and thy saints shall bless thee.¹¹They shall speak of the glory of thy kingdom, and talk of thy power.¹²To make known to the sons of men his mighty acts, and the glorious majesty of his kingdom.¹³Thy kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and thy dominion endureth throughout all generations.¹⁴The LORD upholdeth all that fall, and raiseth up all those that be bowed down.¹⁵The eyes of all wait upon thee and thou givest them their meat in due season.¹⁶Thou openest thine hand, and satisfiest the desire of every living thing.¹⁷The LORD is righteous in all his ways, and holy in all his works.¹⁸The LORD is nigh unto all them that call upon him, to all that call upon him in truth.¹⁹He will fulfil the desire of them that fear him: he also will hear their cry, and will save them.²⁰The LORD preserveth all them that love him: but all the wicked will he destroy.²¹My mouth shall speak the praise of the LORD: and let all flesh bless his holy name for ever and ever.

CHAPTER 146 ¹Praise ye the LORD. Praise the LORD, O my soul.²While I live will I praise the LORD: I will sing praises unto my God while I have any being.³Put not your trust in princes, nor in the son of man, in whom there is no help.⁴His breath goeth forth, he returneth to his earth in that very day his thoughts perish.⁵Happy is he that hath the God of Jacob for his help, whose hope is in the LORD his God:⁶Which made heaven, and earth, the sea, and all that therein is: which keepeth truth for ever:⁷Which executeth judgment for the oppressed: which giveth food to the hungry. The LORD looseth the prisoners:⁸The LORD openeth the eyes of the blind: the LORD raiseth them that are bowed down: the LORD loveth the righteous:⁹The LORD preserveth the strangers he relieveth the fatherless and widow: but the way of the wicked he turneth upside down.¹⁰The LORD shall reign for ever, even thy God, O Zion, unto all generations. Praise ye the LORD.

CHAPTER 147 ¹Praise ye the LORD: for it is good to sing praises unto our God for it is pleasant and praise is comely.²The LORD doth build up Jerusalem: he gathereth together the outcasts of Israel.³He healeth the broken in heart, and bindeth up their wounds.⁴He telleth the number of the stars he calleth them all by their names.⁵Great is our Lord, and of great power: his understanding is infinite.⁶The LORD lifteth up the meek: he casteth the wicked down to the ground.⁷Sing unto the LORD with thanksgiving sing praise upon the harp unto our God:⁸Who covereth the heaven with clouds, who prepareth rain for the earth, who maketh grass to grow upon the mountains.⁹He giveth to the beast his food, and to the young ravens which cry.¹⁰He delighteth not in the strength of the horse: he taketh not pleasure in the legs of a man.¹¹The LORD taketh pleasure in them that fear him, in those that hope in his mercy.¹²Praise the LORD, O Jerusalem praise thy God, O Zion.¹³For he hath strengthened the bars of thy gates he hath blessed thy children within thee.¹⁴He maketh peace in thy borders, and filleth thee with the finest of the wheat.¹⁵He sendeth forth his commandment upon earth: his word runneth very swiftly.¹⁶He giveth snow like wool: he scattereth the hoarfrost like ashes.¹⁷He casteth forth his ice like morsels: who can stand before his cold?¹⁸He sendeth out his word, and melteth them: he causeth his wind to blow, and the waters flow.¹⁹He sheweth his word unto Jacob, his statutes and his judgments unto Israel.²⁰He hath not dealt so with any nation: and as for his judgments, they have not known them. Praise ye the LORD.

CHAPTER 148 ¹Praise ye the LORD. Praise ye the LORD from the heavens: praise him in the heights.²Praise ye him, all his angels: praise ye him, all his hosts.³Praise ye him, sun and moon: praise him, all ye stars of light.⁴Praise him, ye heavens of heavens, and ye waters that be above the heavens.⁵Let them praise the name of the LORD: for he commanded, and they were created.⁶He hath also stablished them for ever and ever: he hath made a decree which shall not pass.⁷Praise the LORD from the earth, ye dragons, and all deeps:⁸Fire, and hail snow, and vapour stormy wind fulfilling his word:⁹Mountains, and all hills fruitful trees, and all cedars:¹⁰Beasts, and all cattle creeping things, and flying fowl:¹¹Kings of the earth, and all people princes, and all judges of the earth:¹²Both young men, and maidens old men, and children:¹³Let them praise the name of the LORD: for his name alone is excellent his glory is above the earth and heaven.¹⁴He also exalteth the horn of his people, the praise of all his saints even of the children of Israel, a people near unto him. Praise ye the LORD.

CHAPTER 149 ¹Praise ye the LORD. Sing unto the LORD a new song, and his praise in the congregation of saints.²Let Israel rejoice in him that made him: let the children of Zion be joyful in their King.³Let them praise his name in the dance: let them sing praises unto him with the timbrel and harp.⁴For the LORD taketh pleasure in his people: he will beautify the meek with salvation.⁵Let the saints be joyful in glory: let them sing aloud upon their beds.⁶Let the high praises of God be in their mouth, and a twoedged sword in their hand⁷To execute vengeance upon the heathen, and punishments upon the people⁸To bind their kings with chains, and their nobles with fetters of iron⁹To execute upon them the judgment written: this honour have all his saints. Praise ye the LORD.

CHAPTER 150 ¹Praise ye the LORD. Praise God in his sanctuary: praise him in the firmament of his power.²Praise him for his mighty acts: praise him according to his excellent greatness.³Praise him with the sound of the trumpet: praise him with the psaltery and harp.⁴Praise him with the timbrel and dance: praise him with stringed instruments and organs.⁵Praise him upon the loud cymbals: praise him upon the high sounding cymbals.⁶Let every thing that hath breath praise the LORD. Praise ye the LORD.

PROVERBS

CHAPTER 1 ¹The proverbs of Solomon the son of David, king of Israel²To know wisdom and instruction to perceive the words of understanding³To receive the instruction of wisdom, justice, and judgment, and equity⁴To give subtilty to the simple, to the young man knowledge and discretion.⁵A wise man will hear, and will increase learning and a man of understanding shall attain unto wise counsels:⁶To understand a proverb, and the interpretation the words of the wise, and their dark sayings.⁷The fear of the LORD is the beginning of knowledge: but fools despise wisdom and instruction.⁸My son, hear the instruction of thy father, and forsake not the law of thy mother:⁹For they shall be an ornament of grace unto thy head, and chains about thy neck.¹⁰My son, if sinners entice thee, consent thou not.¹¹If they say, Come with us, let us lay wait for blood, let us lurk privily for the innocent without cause:¹²Let us swallow them up alive as the grave and whole, as those that go down into the pit:¹³We shall find all precious substance, we shall fill our houses with spoil:¹⁴Cast in thy lot among us let us all have one purse:¹⁵My son, walk not thou in the way with them refrain thy foot from their path:¹⁶For their feet run to evil, and make haste to shed blood.¹⁷Surely in vain the net is spread in the sight of any bird.¹⁸And they lay wait for their own blood they lurk privily for their own lives.¹⁹So are the ways of every one that is greedy of gain which taketh away the life of the owners thereof.²⁰Wisdom crieth without she uttereth her voice in the streets:²¹She crieth in the chief place of concourse, in the openings of the gates: in the city she uttereth her words, saying,²²How long, ye simple ones, will ye love simplicity? and the scorers delight in their scorning, and fools hate knowledge?²³Turn you at my reproof: behold, I will pour out my spirit unto you, I will make known my words unto you.²⁴Because I have called, and ye refused I have stretched out my hand, and no man regarded²⁵But ye have set at nought all my counsel, and would none of my reproof:²⁶I also will laugh at your calamity I will mock when your fear cometh²⁷When your fear cometh as desolation, and your destruction cometh as a whirlwind when distress and anguish cometh upon you.²⁸Then shall they call upon me, but I will not answer they shall seek me early, but they shall not find me:²⁹For that they hated knowledge, and did not choose the fear of the LORD:³⁰They would none of my counsel: they despised all my reproof.³¹Therefore shall they eat of the fruit of their own way, and be filled with their own devices.³²For the turning away of the simple shall slay them, and the prosperity of fools shall destroy them.³³But whoso hearkeneth unto me shall dwell safely, and shall be quiet from fear of evil.

CHAPTER 2 ¹My son, if thou wilt receive my words, and hide my commandments with thee²So that thou incline thine ear unto wisdom, and apply thine heart to understanding³Yea, if thou criest after knowledge, and liftest up thy voice for understanding⁴If thou seekest her as silver, and searchest for her as for hid treasures⁵Then shalt thou understand the fear of the LORD, and find the knowledge of God.⁶For the LORD giveth wisdom: out of his mouth cometh knowledge and understanding.⁷He layeth up sound wisdom for the righteous: he is a buckler to them that walk uprightly.⁸He keepeth the paths of judgment, and preserveth the way of his saints.⁹Then shalt thou understand righteousness, and judgment, and equity yea, every good path.¹⁰When wisdom entereth into thine heart, and knowledge is pleasant unto thy soul¹¹Discretion shall preserve thee, understanding shall keep thee:¹²To deliver thee from the way of the evil man, from the man that speaketh froward things¹³Who leave the paths of uprightness, to walk in the ways of darkness¹⁴Who rejoice to do evil, and delight in the frowardness of the wicked¹⁵Whose ways are crooked, and they froward in their paths:¹⁶To deliver thee from the strange woman, even from the stranger which flattereth with her words¹⁷Which forsaketh the guide of her youth, and forgetteth the covenant of her God.¹⁸For her house inclineth unto death, and her paths unto the dead.¹⁹None that go unto her return again, neither take they hold of the paths of life.²⁰That thou mayest walk in the way of good men, and keep the paths of the righteous.²¹For the upright shall dwell in the land, and the perfect shall remain in it.²²But the wicked shall be cut off from the earth, and the transgressors shall be rooted out of it.

CHAPTER 3 ¹My son, forget not my law but let thine heart keep my commandments:²For length of days, and long life, and peace, shall they add to thee.³Let not mercy and truth forsake thee: bind them about thy neck write them upon the table of thine heart:⁴So shalt thou find favour and good understanding in the sight of God and man.⁵Trust in the LORD with all thine heart and lean not unto thine own understanding.⁶In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy paths.⁷Be not wise in thine own eyes: fear the LORD, and depart from evil.⁸It shall be health to thy navel, and marrow to thy bones.⁹Honour the LORD with thy substance, and with the firstfruits of all thine increase:¹⁰So shall thy barns be filled with plenty, and thy presses shall burst out with new wine.¹¹My son, despise not the chastening of the LORD neither be weary of his correction:¹²For whom the LORD loveth he correcteth even as a father the son in whom he delighteth.¹³Happy is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth understanding.¹⁴For the merchandise of it is better than the merchandise of silver, and the gain thereof than fine gold.¹⁵She is more precious than rubies: and all the things thou canst desire are not to be compared unto her.¹⁶Length of days is in her right hand and in her left hand riches and honour.¹⁷Her ways are ways of pleasantness, and all her paths are peace.¹⁸She is a tree of life to them that lay hold upon her: and happy is every one that retaineth her.¹⁹The LORD by wisdom hath founded the earth by understanding hath he established the heavens.²⁰By his knowledge the depths are broken up, and the clouds drop down the dew.²¹My son, let not them depart from thine eyes: keep sound wisdom and discretion.²²So shall they be life unto thy soul, and grace to thy neck.²³Then shalt thou walk in thy way safely, and thy foot shall not stumble.²⁴When thou liest down, thou shalt not be afraid: yea, thou shalt lie down, and thy sleep shall be sweet.²⁵Be not afraid of sudden fear, neither of the desolation of the wicked, when it cometh.²⁶For the LORD shall be thy confidence, and shall keep thy foot from being taken.²⁷Withhold not good from them to whom it is due, when it is in the power of thine hand to do it.²⁸Say not unto thy neighbour, Go, and come again, and to morrow I will give when thou hast it by thee.²⁹Devise not evil against thy neighbour, seeing he dwelleth securely by thee.³⁰Strive not with a man without cause, if he have done thee no harm.³¹Envy thou not the oppressor, and choose none of his ways.³²For the froward is abomination to the LORD: but his secret is with the righteous.³³The curse of the LORD is in the house of the wicked: but he blesseth the habitation of the just.³⁴Surely he scorneth the scorers: but he giveth grace unto the lowly.³⁵The wise shall inherit glory: but shame shall be the promotion of fools.

CHAPTER 4 ¹Hear, ye children, the instruction of a father, and attend to know understanding.²For I give you good doctrine, forsake ye not my law.³For I was my father's son, tender and only beloved in the sight of my mother.⁴He taught me also, and said unto me, Let thine heart retain my words: keep my commandments, and live.⁵Get wisdom, get understanding: forget it not neither decline from the words of my mouth.⁶Forsake her not, and she shall preserve thee: love her, and she shall keep thee.⁷Wisdom is the principal thing therefore get wisdom: and with all thy getting get understanding.⁸Exalt her, and she shall promote thee: she shall bring thee to honour, when thou dost embrace her.⁹She shall give to thine head an ornament of grace: a crown of glory shall she deliver to thee.¹⁰Hear, O my son, and receive my sayings and the years of thy life shall be many.¹¹I have taught thee in the way of wisdom I have led thee in right paths.¹²When thou goest, thy steps shall not be straitened and when thou runnest, thou shalt not stumble.¹³Take fast hold of instruction let her not go: keep her for she is thy life.¹⁴Enter not into the path of the wicked, and go not in the way of evil men.¹⁵Avoid it, pass not by it, turn from it, and pass away.¹⁶For they sleep not, except they have done mischief and their sleep is taken away, unless they cause some to fall.¹⁷For they eat the bread of wickedness, and drink the wine of violence.¹⁸But the path of the just is as the shining light, that shineth more and more unto the perfect day.¹⁹The way of the wicked is as darkness: they know not at what they stumble.²⁰My son, attend to my words incline thine ear unto my sayings.²¹Let them not depart from thine eyes keep them in the midst of thine heart.²²For they are life unto those that find them, and health to all their flesh.²³Keep thy heart with all diligence for out of it are the issues of life.²⁴Put away from thee a froward mouth, and perverse lips put far from thee.²⁵Let thine eyes look right on, and let thine eyelids look straight before thee.²⁶Ponder the path of thy feet, and let all thy ways be established.²⁷Turn not to the right hand nor to the left: remove thy foot from evil.

CHAPTER 5 ¹My son, attend unto my wisdom, and bow thine ear to my understanding:²That thou mayest regard discretion, and that thy lips may keep knowledge.³For the lips of a strange woman drop as an honeycomb, and her mouth is smoother than oil:⁴But her end is bitter as wormwood, sharp as a twoedged sword.⁵Her feet go down to death her steps take hold on hell.⁶Lest thou shouldest ponder the path of life, her ways are moveable, that thou canst not know them.⁷Hear me now therefore, O ye children, and depart not from the words of my mouth.⁸Remove thy way far from her, and come not nigh the door of her house.⁹Lest thou give thine honour unto others, and thy years unto the cruel:¹⁰Lest strangers be filled with thy wealth and thy labours be in the house of a stranger¹¹And thou mourn at the last, when thy flesh and thy body are consumed,¹²And say, How have I hated instruction, and my heart despised reproof¹³And have not obeyed the voice of my teachers, nor inclined mine ear to them that instructed me!¹⁴I was almost in all evil in the midst of the congregation and assembly.¹⁵Drink waters out of thine own cistern, and running waters out of thine own well.¹⁶Let thy fountains be dispersed abroad, and rivers of waters in the streets.¹⁷Let them be only thine own, and not strangers' with thee.¹⁸Let thy fountain be blessed: and rejoice with the wife of thy youth.¹⁹Let her be as the loving hind and pleasant roe let her breasts satisfy thee at all times and be thou ravished always with her love.²⁰And why wilt thou, my son, be ravished with a strange woman, and embrace the bosom of a stranger?²¹For the ways of man are before the eyes of the LORD, and he pondereth all his goings.²²His own iniquities shall take the wicked himself, and he shall be holden with the cords of his sins.²³He shall die without instruction and in the greatness of his folly he shall go astray.

CHAPTER 6 ¹My son, if thou be surety for thy friend, if thou hast stricken thy hand with a stranger,²Thou art snared with the words of thy mouth, thou art taken with the words of thy mouth.³Do this now, my son, deliver thyself, when thou art come into the hand of thy friend go, humble thyself, and make sure thy friend.⁴Give not sleep to thine eyes, nor slumber to thine eyelids.⁵Deliver thyself as a roe from the hand of the hunter, and as a bird from the hand of the fowler.⁶Go to the ant, thou sluggard consider her ways, and be wise:⁷Which having no guide, overseer, or ruler,⁸Provideth her meat in the summer, and gathereth her food in the harvest.⁹How long wilt thou sleep, O sluggard? when wilt thou arise out of thy sleep?¹⁰Yet a little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to sleep:¹¹So shall thy poverty come as one that travelleth, and thy want as an armed man.¹²A naughty person, a wicked man, walketh with a froward mouth.¹³He winketh with his eyes, he speaketh with his feet, he teacheth with his fingers¹⁴Frowardness is in his heart, he deviseth mischief continually he soweth discord.¹⁵Therefore shall his calamity come suddenly suddenly shall he be broken without remedy.¹⁶These six things doth the LORD hate: yea, seven are an abomination unto him:¹⁷A proud look, a lying tongue, and hands that shed innocent blood,¹⁸An heart that deviseth wicked imaginations, feet that be swift in running to mischief,¹⁹A false witness that speaketh lies, and he that soweth discord among brethren.²⁰My son, keep thy father's commandment, and forsake not the law of thy mother:²¹Bind them continually upon thine heart, and tie them about thy neck.²²When thou goest, it shall lead thee when thou sleepest, it shall keep thee and when thou awakest, it shall talk with thee.²³For the commandment is a lamp and the law is light and reproofs of instruction are the way of life:²⁴To keep thee from the evil woman, from the flattery of the tongue of a strange woman.²⁵Lust not after her beauty in thine heart neither let her take thee with her eyelids.²⁶For by means of a whorish woman a man is brought to a piece of bread: and the adulteress will hunt for the precious life.²⁷Can a man take fire in his bosom, and his clothes not be burned?²⁸Can one go upon hot coals, and his feet not be burned?²⁹So he that goeth in to his neighbour's wife whosoever toucheth her shall not be innocent.³⁰Men do not despise a thief, if he steal to satisfy his soul when he is hungry³¹But if he be found, he shall restore sevenfold he shall give all the substance of his house.³²But whoso committeth adultery with a woman lacketh understanding: he that doeth it destroyeth his own soul.³³A wound and dishonour shall he get and his reproach shall not be wiped away.³⁴For jealousy is the rage of a man: therefore he will not spare in the day of vengeance.³⁵He will not regard any ransom neither will he rest content, though thou givest many gifts.

CHAPTER 7 ¹My son, keep my words, and lay up my commandments with thee.²Keep my commandments, and live and my law as the apple of thine eye.³Bind them upon thy fingers, write them upon the table of thine heart.⁴Say unto wisdom, Thou art my sister and call understanding thy kinswoman:⁵That they may keep thee from the strange woman, from the stranger which flattereth with her words.⁶For at the window of my house I looked through my casement,⁷And beheld among the simple ones, I discerned among the youths, a young man void of understanding,⁸Passing through the street near her corner and he went the way to her house,⁹In the twilight, in the evening, in the black and dark night:¹⁰And, behold, there met him a woman with the attire of an harlot, and subtil of heart.¹¹(She is loud and stubborn her feet abide not in her house:¹²Now is she without, now in the streets, and lieth in wait at every corner.)¹³So she caught him, and kissed him, and with an impudent face said unto him,¹⁴I have peace offerings with me this day have I payed my vows.¹⁵Therefore came I forth to meet thee, diligently to seek thy face, and I have found thee.¹⁶I have decked my bed with coverings of tapestry, with carved works, with fine linen of Egypt.¹⁷I have perfumed my bed with myrrh, aloes, and cinnamon.¹⁸Come, let us take our fill of love until the morning: let us solace ourselves with loves.¹⁹For the goodman is not at home, he is gone a long journey:²⁰He hath taken a bag of money with him, and will come home at the day appointed.²¹With her much fair speech she caused him to yield, with the flattering of her lips she forced him.²²He goeth after her straightway, as an ox goeth to the slaughter, or as a fool to the correction of the stocks²³Till a dart strike through his liver as a bird hasteth to the snare, and knoweth not that it is for his life.²⁴Hearken unto me now therefore, O ye children, and attend to the words of my mouth.²⁵Let not thine heart decline to her ways, go not astray in her paths.²⁶For she hath cast down many wounded: yea, many strong men have been slain by her.²⁷Her house is the way to hell, going down to the chambers of death.

CHAPTER 8 ¹Doth not wisdom cry? and understanding put forth her voice?²She standeth in the top of high places, by the way in the places of the paths.³She crieth at the gates, at the entry of the city, at the coming in at the doors.⁴Unto you, O men, I call and my voice is to the sons of man.⁵O ye simple, understand wisdom: and, ye fools, be ye of an understanding heart.⁶Hear for I will speak of excellent things and the opening of my lips shall be right things.⁷For my mouth shall speak truth and wickedness is an abomination to my lips.⁸All the words of my mouth are in righteousness there is nothing froward or perverse in them.⁹They are all plain to him that understandeth, and right to them that find knowledge.¹⁰Receive my instruction, and not silver and knowledge rather than choice gold.¹¹For wisdom is better than rubies and all the things that may be desired are not to be compared to it.¹²I wisdom dwell with prudence, and find out knowledge of witty inventions.¹³The fear of the LORD is to hate evil: pride, and arrogancy, and the evil way, and the froward mouth, do I hate.¹⁴Counsel is mine, and sound wisdom: I am understanding I have strength.¹⁵By me kings reign, and princes decree justice.¹⁶By me princes rule, and nobles, even all the judges of the earth.¹⁷I love them that love me and those that seek me early shall find me.¹⁸Riches and honour are with me yea, durable riches and righteousness.¹⁹My fruit is better than gold, yea, than fine gold and my revenue than choice silver.²⁰I lead in the way of righteousness, in the midst of the paths of judgment.²¹That I may cause those that love me to inherit substance and I will fill their treasures.²²The LORD possessed me in the beginning of his way, before his works of old.²³I was set up from everlasting, from the beginning, or ever the earth was.²⁴When there were no depths, I was brought forth when there were no fountains abounding with water.²⁵Before the mountains were settled, before the hills was I brought forth.²⁶While as yet he had not made the earth, nor the fields, nor the highest part of the dust of the world.²⁷When he prepared the heavens, I was there: when he set a compass upon the face of the depth:²⁸When he established the clouds above: when he strengthened the fountains of the deep:²⁹When he gave to the sea his decree, that the waters should not pass his commandment: when he appointed the foundations of the earth:³⁰Then I was by him, as one brought up with him: and I was daily his delight, rejoicing always before him.³¹Rejoicing in the habitable part of his earth and my delights were with the sons of men.³²Now therefore hearken unto me, O ye children: for blessed are they that keep my ways.³³Hear instruction, and be wise, and refuse it not.³⁴Blessed is the man that heareth me, watching daily at my gates, waiting at the posts of my doors.³⁵For whoso findeth me findeth life, and shall obtain favour of the LORD.³⁶But he that sinneth against me wrongeth his own soul: all they that hate me love death.

CHAPTER 9 ¹Wisdom hath builded her house, she hath hewn out her seven pillars:²She hath killed her beasts she hath mingled her wine she hath also furnished her table.³She hath sent forth her maidens: she crieth upon the highest places of the city,⁴Whoso is simple, let him turn in hither: as for him that wanteth understanding, she saith to him,⁵Come, eat of my bread, and drink of the wine which I have mingled.⁶Forsake the foolish, and live and go in the way of understanding.⁷He that reproveth a scorner getteth to himself shame: and he that rebuketh a wicked man getteth himself a blot.⁸Reprove not a scorner, lest he hate thee: rebuke a wise man, and he will love thee.⁹Give instruction to a wise man, and he will be yet wiser: teach a just man, and he will increase in learning.¹⁰The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom: and the knowledge of the holy is understanding.¹¹For by me thy days shall be multiplied, and the years of thy life shall be increased.¹²If thou be wise, thou shalt be wise for thyself: but if thou scornest, thou alone shalt bear it.¹³A foolish woman is clamorous: she is simple, and knoweth nothing.¹⁴For she sitteth at the door of her house, on a seat in the high places of the city,¹⁵To call passengers who go right on their ways:¹⁶Whoso is simple, let him turn in hither: and as for him that wanteth understanding, she saith to him,¹⁷Stolen waters are sweet, and bread eaten in secret is pleasant.¹⁸But he knoweth not that the dead are there and that her guests are in the depths of hell.

CHAPTER 10 ¹The proverbs of Solomon. A wise son maketh a glad father: but a foolish son is the heaviness of his mother.²Treasures of wickedness profit nothing: but righteousness delivereth from death.³The LORD will not suffer the soul of the righteous to famish: but he casteth away the substance of the wicked.⁴He becometh poor that dealeth with a slack hand: but the hand of the diligent maketh rich.⁵He that gathereth in summer is a wise son: but he that sleepeth in harvest is a son that causeth shame.⁶Blessings are upon the head of the just: but violence covereth the mouth of the wicked.⁷The memory of the just is blessed: but the name of the wicked shall rot.⁸The wise in heart will receive commandments: but a prating fool shall fall.⁹He that walketh uprightly walketh surely: but he that perverteth his ways shall be known.¹⁰He that winketh with the eye causeth sorrow: but a prating fool shall fall.¹¹The mouth of a righteous man is a well of life: but violence covereth the mouth of the wicked.¹²Hatred stirreth up strifes: but love covereth all sins.¹³In the lips of him that hath understanding wisdom is found: but a rod is for the back of him that is void of understanding.¹⁴Wise men lay up knowledge: but the mouth of the foolish is near destruction.¹⁵The rich man's wealth is his strong city: the destruction of the poor is their poverty.¹⁶The labour of the righteous tendeth to life: the fruit of the wicked to sin.¹⁷He is in the way of life that keepeth instruction: but he that refuseth reproof erreth.¹⁸He that hideth hatred with lying lips, and he that uttereth a slander, is a fool.¹⁹In the multitude of words there wanteth not sin: but he that refraineth his lips is wise.²⁰The tongue of the just is as choice silver: the heart of the wicked is little worth.²¹The lips of the righteous feed many: but fools die for want of wisdom.²²The blessing of the LORD, it maketh rich, and he addeth no sorrow with it.²³It is as sport to a fool to do mischief: but a man of understanding hath wisdom.²⁴The fear of the wicked, it shall come upon him: but the desire of the righteous shall be granted.²⁵As the whirlwind passeth, so is the wicked no more: but the righteous is an everlasting foundation.²⁶As vinegar to the teeth, and as smoke to the eyes, so is the sluggard to them that send him.²⁷The fear of the LORD prolongeth days: but the years of the wicked shall be shortened.²⁸The hope of the righteous shall be gladness: but the expectation of the wicked shall perish.²⁹The way of the LORD is strength to the upright: but destruction shall be to the workers of iniquity.³⁰The righteous shall never be removed: but the wicked shall not inhabit the earth.³¹The mouth of the just bringeth forth wisdom: but the froward tongue shall be cut out.³²The lips of the righteous know what is acceptable: but the mouth of the wicked speaketh frowardness.

CHAPTER 11 ¹A false balance is abomination to the LORD: but a just weight is his delight.²When pride cometh, then cometh shame: but with the lowly is wisdom.³The integrity of the upright shall guide them: but the perverseness of transgressors shall destroy them.⁴Riches profit not in the day of wrath: but righteousness delivereth from death.⁵The righteousness of the perfect shall direct his way: but the wicked shall fall by his own wickedness.⁶The righteousness of the upright shall deliver them: but transgressors shall be taken in their own naughtiness.⁷When a wicked man dieth, his expectation shall perish: and the hope of unjust men perisheth.⁸The righteous is delivered out of trouble, and the wicked cometh in his stead.⁹An hypocrite with his mouth destroyeth his neighbour: but through knowledge shall the just be delivered.¹⁰When it goeth well with the righteous, the city rejoiceth: and when the wicked perish, there is shouting.¹¹By the blessing of the upright the city is exalted: but it is overthrown by the mouth of the wicked.¹²He that is void of wisdom despiseth his neighbour: but a man of understanding holdeth his peace.¹³A talebearer revealeth secrets: but he that is of a faithful spirit concealeth the matter.¹⁴Where no counsel is, the people fall: but in the multitude of counsellors there is safety.¹⁵He that is surety for a stranger shall smart for it: and he that hateth suretiship is sure.¹⁶A gracious woman retaineth honour: and strong men retain riches.¹⁷The merciful man doeth good to his own soul: but he that is cruel troubleth his own flesh.¹⁸The wicked worketh a deceitful work: but to him that soweth righteousness shall be a sure reward.¹⁹As righteousness tendeth to life: so he that pursueth evil pursueth it to his own death.²⁰They that are of a froward heart are abomination to the LORD: but such as are upright in their way are his delight.²¹Though hand join in hand, the wicked shall not be unpunished: but the seed of the righteous shall be delivered.²²As a jewel of gold in a swine's snout, so is a fair woman which is without discretion.²³The desire of the righteous is only good: but the expectation of the wicked is wrath.²⁴There is that scattereth, and yet increaseth and there is that withholdeth more than is meet, but it tendeth to poverty.²⁵The liberal soul shall be made fat: and he that watereth shall be watered also himself.²⁶He that withholdeth corn, the people shall curse him: but blessing shall be upon the head of him that selleth it.²⁷He that diligently seeketh good procureth favour: but he that seeketh mischief, it shall come unto him.²⁸He that trusteth in his riches shall fall: but the righteous shall flourish as a branch.²⁹He that troubleth his own house shall inherit the wind: and the fool shall be servant to the wise of heart.³⁰The fruit of the righteous is a tree of life and he that winneth souls is wise.³¹Behold, the righteous shall be recompensed in the earth: much more the wicked and the sinner.

CHAPTER 12 ¹Whoso loveth instruction loveth knowledge: but he that hateth reproof is brutish.²A good man obtaineth favour of the LORD: but a man of wicked devices will he condemn.³A man shall not be established by wickedness: but the root of the righteous shall not be moved.⁴A virtuous woman is a crown to her husband: but she that maketh ashamed is as rottenness in his bones.⁵The thoughts of the righteous are right: but the counsels of the wicked are deceit.⁶The words of the wicked are to lie in wait for blood: but the mouth of the upright shall deliver them.⁷The wicked are overthrown, and are not: but the house of the righteous shall stand.⁸A man shall be commended according to his wisdom: but he that is of a perverse heart shall be despised.⁹He that is despised, and hath a servant, is better than he that honoureth himself, and lacketh bread.¹⁰A righteous man regardeth the life of his beast: but the tender mercies of the wicked are cruel.¹¹He that tilleth his land shall be satisfied with bread: but he that followeth vain persons is void of understanding.¹²The wicked desireth the net of evil men: but the root of the righteous yieldeth fruit.¹³The wicked is snared by the transgression of his lips: but the just shall come out of trouble.¹⁴A man shall be satisfied with good by the fruit of his mouth: and the recompence of a man's hands shall be rendered unto him.¹⁵The way of a fool is right in his own eyes: but he that hearkeneth unto counsel is wise.¹⁶A fool's wrath is presently known: but a prudent man covereth shame.¹⁷He that speaketh truth sheweth forth righteousness: but a false witness deceit.¹⁸There is that speaketh like the piercings of a sword: but the tongue of the wise is health.¹⁹The lip of truth shall be established for ever: but a lying tongue is but for a moment.²⁰Deceit is in the heart of them that imagine evil: but to the counsellors of peace is joy.²¹There shall no evil happen to the just: but the wicked shall be filled with mischief.²²Lying lips are abomination to the LORD: but they that deal truly are his delight.²³A prudent man concealeth knowledge: but the heart of fools proclaimeth foolishness.²⁴The hand of the diligent shall bear rule: but the slothful shall be under tribute.²⁵Heaviness in the heart of man maketh it stoop: but a good word maketh it glad.²⁶The righteous is more excellent than his neighbour: but the way of the wicked seduceth them.²⁷The slothful man roasteth not that which he took in hunting: but the substance of a diligent man is precious.²⁸In the way of righteousness is life and in the pathway thereof there is no death.

CHAPTER 13 ¹A wise son heareth his father's instruction: but a scorner heareth not rebuke.²A man shall eat good by the fruit of his mouth: but the soul of the transgressors shall eat violence.³He that keepeth his mouth keepeth his life: but he that openeth wide his lips shall have destruction.⁴The soul of the sluggard desireth, and hath nothing: but the soul of the diligent shall be made fat.⁵A righteous man hateth lying: but a wicked man is loathsome, and cometh to shame.⁶Righteousness keepeth him that is upright in the way: but wickedness overthroweth the sinner.⁷There is that maketh himself rich, yet hath nothing: there is that maketh himself poor, yet hath great riches.⁸The ransom of a man's life are his riches: but the poor heareth not rebuke.⁹The light of the righteous rejoiceth: but the lamp of the wicked shall be put out.¹⁰Only by pride cometh contention: but with the well advised is wisdom.¹¹Wealth gotten by vanity shall be diminished: but he that gathereth by labour shall increase.¹²Hope deferred maketh the heart sick: but when the desire cometh, it is a tree of life.¹³Whoso despiseth the word shall be destroyed: but he that feareth the commandment shall be rewarded.¹⁴The law of the wise is a fountain of life, to depart from the snares of death.¹⁵Good understanding giveth favour: but the way of transgressors is hard.¹⁶Every prudent man dealeth with knowledge: but a fool layeth open his folly.¹⁷A wicked messenger falleth into mischief: but a faithful ambassador is health.¹⁸Poverty and shame shall be to him that refuseth instruction: but he that regardeth reproof shall be honoured.¹⁹The desire accomplished is sweet to the soul: but it is abomination to fools to depart from evil.²⁰He that walketh with wise men shall be wise: but a companion of fools shall be destroyed.²¹Evil pursueth sinners: but to the righteous good shall be repayed.²²A good man leaveth an inheritance to his children's children: and the wealth of the sinner is laid up for the just.²³Much food is in the tillage of the poor: but there is that is destroyed for want of judgment.²⁴He that spareth his rod hateth his son: but he that loveth him chasteneth him betimes.²⁵The righteous eateth to the satisfying of his soul: but the belly of the wicked shall want.

CHAPTER 14 ¹Every wise woman buildeth her house: but the foolish plucketh it down with her hands.²He that walketh in his uprightness feareth the LORD: but he that is perverse in his ways despiseth him.³In the mouth of the foolish is a rod of pride: but the lips of the wise shall preserve them.⁴Where no oxen are, the crib is clean: but much increase is by the strength of the ox.⁵A faithful witness will not lie: but a false witness will utter lies.⁶A scorner seeketh wisdom, and findeth it not: but knowledge is easy unto him that understandeth.⁷Go from the presence of a foolish man, when thou perceivest not in him the lips of knowledge.⁸The wisdom of the prudent is to understand his way: but the folly of fools is deceit.⁹Fools make a mock at sin: but among the righteous there is favour.¹⁰The heart knoweth his own bitterness and a stranger doth not intermeddle with his joy.¹¹The house of the wicked shall be overthrown: but the tabernacle of the upright shall flourish.¹²There is a way which seemeth right unto a man, but the end thereof are the ways of death.¹³Even in laughter the heart is sorrowful and the end of that mirth is heaviness.¹⁴The backslider in heart shall be filled with his own ways: and a good man shall be satisfied from himself.¹⁵The simple believeth every word: but the prudent man looketh well to his going.¹⁶A wise man feareth, and departeth from evil: but the fool rageth, and is confident.¹⁷He that is soon angry dealeth foolishly: and a man of wicked devices is hated.¹⁸The simple inherit folly: but the prudent are crowned with knowledge.¹⁹The evil bow before the good and the wicked at the gates of the righteous.²⁰The poor is hated even of his own neighbour: but the rich hath many friends.²¹He that despiseth his neighbour sinneth: but he that hath mercy on the poor, happy is he.²²Do they not err that devise evil? but mercy and truth shall be to them that devise good.²³In all labour there is profit: but the talk of the lips tendeth only to penury.²⁴The crown of the wise is their riches: but the foolishness of fools is folly.²⁵A true witness delivereth souls: but a deceitful witness speaketh lies.²⁶In the fear of the LORD is strong confidence: and his children shall have a place of refuge.²⁷The fear of the LORD is a fountain of life, to depart from the snares of death.²⁸In the multitude of people is the king's honour: but in the want of people is the destruction of the prince.²⁹He that is slow to wrath is of great understanding: but he that is hasty of spirit exalteth folly.³⁰A sound heart is the life of the flesh: but envy the rottenness of the bones.³¹He that oppresseth the poor reproacheth his Maker: but he that honoureth him hath mercy on the poor.³²The wicked is driven away in his wickedness: but the righteous hath hope in his death.³³Wisdom resteth in the heart of him that hath understanding: but that which is in the midst of fools is made known.³⁴Righteousness exalteth a nation: but sin is a reproach to any people.³⁵The king's favour is toward a wise servant: but his wrath is against him that causeth shame.

CHAPTER 15 ¹A soft answer turneth away wrath: but grievous words stir up anger.²The tongue of the wise useth knowledge aright: but the mouth of fools poureth out foolishness.³The eyes of the LORD are in every place, beholding the evil and the good.⁴A wholesome tongue is a tree of life: but perverseness therein is a breach in the spirit.⁵A fool despiseth his father's instruction: but he that regardeth reproof is prudent.⁶In the house of the righteous is much treasure: but in the revenues of the wicked is trouble.⁷The lips of the wise disperse knowledge: but the heart of the foolish doeth not so.⁸The sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination to the LORD: but the prayer of the upright is his delight.⁹The way of the wicked is an abomination unto the LORD: but he loveth him that followeth after righteousness.¹⁰Correction is grievous unto him that forsaketh the way: and he that hateth reproof shall die.¹¹Hell and destruction are before the LORD: how much more then the hearts of the children of men?¹²A scorner loveth not one that reproveth him: neither will he go unto the wise.¹³A merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance: but by sorrow of the heart the spirit is broken.¹⁴The heart of him that hath understanding seeketh knowledge: but the mouth of fools feedeth on foolishness.¹⁵All the days of the afflicted are evil: but he that is of a merry heart hath a continual feast.¹⁶Better is little with the fear of the LORD than great treasure and trouble therewith.¹⁷Better is a dinner of herbs where love is, than a stalled ox and hatred therewith.¹⁸A wrathful man stirreth up strife: but he that is slow to anger appeaseth strife.¹⁹The way of the slothful man is as an hedge of thorns: but the way of the righteous is made plain.²⁰A wise son maketh a glad father: but a foolish man despiseth his mother.²¹Folly is joy to him that is destitute of wisdom: but a man of understanding walketh uprightly.²²Without counsel purposes are disappointed: but in the multitude of counsellors they are established.²³A man hath joy by the answer of his mouth: and a word spoken in due season, how good is it!²⁴The way of life is above to the wise, that he may depart from hell beneath.²⁵The LORD will destroy the house of the proud: but he will establish the border of the widow.²⁶The thoughts of the wicked are an abomination to the LORD: but the words of the pure are pleasant words.²⁷He that is greedy of gain troubleth his own house but he that hateth gifts shall live.²⁸The heart of the righteous studieth to answer: but the mouth of the wicked poureth out evil things.²⁹The LORD is far from the wicked: but he heareth the prayer of the righteous.³⁰The light of the eyes rejoiceth the heart: and a good report maketh the bones fat.³¹The ear that heareth the reproof of life abideth among the wise.³²He that refuseth instruction despiseth his own soul: but he that heareth reproof getteth understanding.³³The fear of the LORD is the instruction of wisdom and before honour is humility.

CHAPTER 16 ¹The preparations of the heart in man, and the answer of the tongue, is from the LORD.²All the ways of a man are clean in his own eyes but the LORD weigheth the spirits.³Commit thy works unto the LORD, and thy thoughts shall be established.⁴The LORD hath made all things for himself: yea, even the wicked for the day of evil.⁵Every one that is proud in heart is an abomination to the LORD: though hand join in hand, he shall not be unpunished.⁶By mercy and truth iniquity is purged: and by the fear of the LORD men depart from evil.⁷When a man's ways please the LORD, he maketh even his enemies to be at peace with him.⁸Better is a little with righteousness than great revenues without right.⁹A man's heart deviseth his way: but the LORD directeth his steps.¹⁰A divine sentence is in the lips of the king: his mouth transgresseth not in judgment.¹¹A just weight and balance are the LORD's: all the weights of the bag are his work.¹²It is an abomination to kings to commit wickedness: for the throne is established by righteousness.¹³Righteous lips are the delight of kings and they love him that speaketh right.¹⁴The wrath of a king is as messengers of death: but a wise man will pacify it.¹⁵In the light of the king's countenance is life and his favour is as a cloud of the latter rain.¹⁶How much better is it to get wisdom than gold! and to get understanding rather to be chosen than silver!¹⁷The highway of the upright is to depart from evil: he that keepeth his way preserveth his soul.¹⁸Pride goeth before destruction, and an haughty spirit before a fall.¹⁹Better it is to be of an humble spirit with the lowly, than to divide the spoil with the proud.²⁰He that handleth a matter wisely shall find good: and whoso trusteth in the LORD, happy is he.²¹The wise in heart shall be called prudent: and the sweetness of the lips increaseth learning.²²Understanding is a wellspring of life unto him that hath it: but the instruction of fools is folly.²³The heart of the wise teacheth his mouth, and addeth learning to his lips.²⁴Pleasant words are as an honeycomb, sweet to the soul, and health to the bones.²⁵There is a way that seemeth right unto a man, but the end thereof are the ways of death.²⁶He that laboureth laboureth for himself for his mouth craveth it of him.²⁷An ungodly man diggeth up evil: and in his lips there is as a burning fire.²⁸A froward man soweth strife: and a whisperer separateth chief friends.²⁹A violent man enticeth his neighbour, and leadeth him into the way that is not good.³⁰He shutteth his eyes to devise froward things: moving his lips he bringeth evil to pass.³¹The hoary head is a crown of glory, if it be found in the way of righteousness.³²He that is slow to anger is better than the mighty and he that ruleth his spirit than he that taketh a city.³³The lot is cast into the lap but the whole disposing thereof is of the LORD.

CHAPTER 17 ¹Better is a dry morsel, and quietness therewith, than an house full of sacrifices with strife.²A wise servant shall have rule over a son that causeth shame, and shall have part of the inheritance among the brethren.³The fining pot is for silver, and the furnace for gold: but the LORD trieth the hearts.⁴A wicked doer giveth heed to false lips and a liar giveth ear to a naughty tongue.⁵Whoso mocketh the poor reproacheth his Maker: and he that is glad at calamities shall not be unpunished.⁶Children's children are the crown of old men and the glory of children are their fathers.⁷Excellent speech becometh not a fool: much less do lying lips a prince.⁸A gift is as a precious stone in the eyes of him that hath it: whithersoever it turneth, it prospereth.⁹He that covereth a transgression seeketh love but he that repeateth a matter separateth very friends.¹⁰A reproof entereth more into a wise man than an hundred stripes into a fool.¹¹An evil man seeketh only rebellion: therefore a cruel messenger shall be sent against him.¹²Let a bear robbed of her whelps meet a man, rather than a fool in his folly.¹³Whoso rewardeth evil for good, evil shall not depart from his house.¹⁴The beginning of strife is as when one letteth out water: therefore leave off contention, before it be meddled with.¹⁵He that justifieth the wicked, and he that condemneth the just, even they both are abomination to the LORD.¹⁶Wherefore is there a price in the hand of a fool to get wisdom, seeing he hath no heart to it?¹⁷A friend loveth at all times, and a brother is born for adversity.¹⁸A man void of understanding striketh hands, and becometh surety in the presence of his friend.¹⁹He loveth transgression that loveth strife: and he that exalteth his gate seeketh destruction.²⁰He that hath a froward heart findeth no good: and he that hath a perverse tongue falleth into mischief.²¹He that begetteth a fool doeth it to his sorrow: and the father of a fool hath no joy.²²A merry heart doeth good like a medicine: but a broken spirit drieth the bones.²³A wicked man taketh a gift out of the bosom to pervert the ways of judgment.²⁴Wisdom is before him that hath understanding but the eyes of a fool are in the ends of the earth.²⁵A foolish son is a grief to his father, and bitterness to her that bare him.²⁶Also to punish the just is not good, nor to strike princes for equity.²⁷He that hath knowledge spareth his words: and a man of understanding is of an excellent spirit.²⁸Even a fool, when he holdeth his peace, is counted wise: and he that shutteth his lips is esteemed a man of understanding.

CHAPTER 18 ¹Through desire a man, having separated himself, seeketh and intermeddleth with all wisdom.²A fool hath no delight in understanding, but that his heart may discover itself.³When the wicked cometh, then cometh also contempt, and with ignominy reproach.⁴The words of a man's mouth are as deep waters, and the wellspring of wisdom as a flowing brook.⁵It is not good to accept the person of the wicked, to overthrow the righteous in judgment.⁶A fool's lips enter into contention, and his mouth calleth for strokes.⁷A fool's mouth is his destruction, and his lips are the snare of his soul.⁸The words of a talebearer are as wounds, and they go down into the innermost parts of the belly.⁹He also that is slothful in his work is brother to him that is a great waster.¹⁰The name of the LORD is a strong tower: the righteous runneth into it, and is safe.¹¹The rich man's wealth is his strong city, and as an high wall in his own conceit.¹²Before destruction the heart of man is haughty, and before honour is humility.¹³He that answereth a matter before he heareth it, it is folly and shame unto him.¹⁴The spirit of a man will sustain his infirmity but a wounded spirit who can bear?¹⁵The heart of the prudent getteth knowledge and the ear of the wise seeketh knowledge.¹⁶A man's gift maketh room for him, and bringeth him before great men.¹⁷He that is first in his own cause seemeth just but his neighbour cometh and searcheth him.¹⁸The lot causeth contentions to cease, and parteth between the mighty.¹⁹A brother offended is harder to be won than a strong city: and their contentions are like the bars of a castle.²⁰A man's belly shall be satisfied with the fruit of his mouth and with the increase of his lips shall he be filled.²¹Death and life are in the power of the tongue: and they that love it shall eat the fruit thereof.²²Whoso findeth a wife findeth a good thing, and obtaineth favour of the LORD.²³The poor useth intreaties but the rich answereth roughly.²⁴A man that hath friends must shew himself friendly: and there is a friend that sticketh closer than a brother.

CHAPTER 19 ¹Better is the poor that walketh in his integrity, than he that is perverse in his lips, and is a fool.²Also, that the soul be without knowledge, it is not good and he that hasteth with his feet sinneth.³The foolishness of man perverteth his way: and his heart fretteth against the LORD.⁴Wealth maketh many friends but the poor is separated from his neighbour.⁵A false witness shall not be unpunished, and he that speaketh lies shall not escape.⁶Many will intreat the favour of the prince: and every man is a friend to him that giveth gifts.⁷All the brethren of the poor do hate him: how much more do his friends go far from him? he pursueth them with words, yet they are wanting to him.⁸He that getteth wisdom loveth his own soul: he that keepeth understanding shall find good.⁹A false witness shall not be unpunished, and he that speaketh lies shall perish.¹⁰Delight is not seemly for a fool much less for a servant to have rule over princes.¹¹The discretion of a man deferreth his anger and it is his glory to pass over a transgression.¹²The king's wrath is as the roaring of a lion but his favour is as dew upon the grass.¹³A foolish son is the calamity of his father: and the contentions of a wife are a continual dropping.¹⁴House and riches are the inheritance of fathers and a prudent wife is from the LORD.¹⁵Slothfulness casteth into a deep sleep and an idle soul shall suffer hunger.¹⁶He that keepeth the commandment keepeth his own soul but he that despiseth his ways shall die.¹⁷He that hath pity upon the poor lendeth unto the LORD and that which he hath given will he pay him again.¹⁸Chasten thy son while there is hope, and let not thy soul spare for his crying.¹⁹A man of great wrath shall suffer punishment: for if thou deliver him, yet thou must do it again.²⁰Hear counsel, and receive instruction, that thou mayest be wise in thy latter end.²¹There are many devices in a man's heart nevertheless the counsel of the LORD, that shall stand.²²The desire of a man is his kindness: and a poor man is better than a liar.²³The fear of the LORD tendeth to life: and he that hath it shall abide satisfied he shall not be visited with evil.²⁴A slothful man hideth his hand in his bosom, and will not so much as bring it to his mouth again.²⁵Smite a scorner, and the simple will beware: and reprove one that hath understanding, and he will understand knowledge.²⁶He that wasteth his father, and chaseth away his mother, is a son that causeth shame, and bringeth reproach.²⁷Cease, my son, to hear the instruction that causeth to err from the words of knowledge.²⁸An ungodly witness scorneth judgment: and the mouth of the wicked devoureth iniquity.²⁹Judgments are prepared for scorners, and stripes for the back of fools.

CHAPTER 20 ¹Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging: and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise.²The fear of a king is as the roaring of a lion: whoso provoketh him to anger sinneth against his own soul.³It is an honour for a man to cease from strife: but every fool will be meddling.⁴The sluggard will not plow by reason of the cold therefore shall he beg in harvest, and have nothing.⁵Counsel in the heart of man is like deep water but a man of understanding will draw it out.⁶Most men will proclaim every one his own goodness: but a faithful man who can find?⁷The just man walketh in his integrity: his children are blessed after him.⁸A king that sitteth in the throne of judgment scattereth away all evil with his eyes.⁹Who can say, I have made my heart clean, I am pure from my sin?¹⁰Divers weights, and divers measures, both of them are alike abomination to the LORD.¹¹Even a child is known by his doings, whether his work be pure, and whether it be right.¹²The hearing ear, and the seeing eye, the LORD hath made even both of them.¹³Love not sleep, lest thou come to poverty open thine eyes, and thou shalt be satisfied with bread.¹⁴It is naught, it is naught, saith the buyer: but when he is gone his way, then he boasteth.¹⁵There is gold, and a multitude of rubies: but the lips of knowledge are a precious jewel.¹⁶Take his garment that is surety for a stranger: and take a pledge of him for a strange woman.¹⁷Bread of deceit is sweet to a man but afterwards his mouth shall be filled with gravel.¹⁸Every purpose is established by counsel: and with good advice make war.¹⁹He that goeth about as a talebearer revealeth secrets: therefore meddle not with him that flattereth with his lips.²⁰Whoso curseth his father or his mother, his lamp shall be put out in obscure darkness.²¹An inheritance may be gotten hastily at the beginning but the end thereof shall not be blessed.²²Say not thou, I will recompense evil but wait on the LORD, and he shall save thee.²³Divers weights are an abomination unto the LORD and a false balance is not good.²⁴Man's goings are of the LORD how can a man then understand his own way?²⁵It is a snare to the man who devoureth that which is holy, and after vows to make inquiry.²⁶A wise king scattereth the wicked, and bringeth the wheel over them.²⁷The spirit of man is the candle of the LORD, searching all the inward parts of the belly.²⁸Mercy and truth preserve the king: and his throne is upholden by mercy.²⁹The glory of young men is their strength: and the beauty of old men is the gray head.³⁰The blueness of a wound cleanseth away evil: so do stripes the inward parts of the belly.

CHAPTER 21 ¹The king's heart is in the hand of the LORD, as the rivers of water: he turneth it whithersoever he will.²Every way of a man is right in his own eyes:

but the LORD pondereth the hearts.³To do justice and judgment is more acceptable to the LORD than sacrifice.⁴An high look, and a proud heart, and the plowing of the wicked, is sin.⁵The thoughts of the diligent tend only to plenteousness but of every one that is hasty only to want.⁶The getting of treasures by a lying tongue is a vanity tossed to and fro of them that seek death.⁷The robbery of the wicked shall destroy them because they refuse to do judgment.⁸The way of man is froward and strange: but as for the pure, his work is right.⁹It is better to dwell in a corner of the housetop, than with a brawling woman in a wide house.¹⁰The soul of the wicked desireth evil: his neighbour findeth no favour in his eyes.¹¹When the scorner is punished, the simple is made wise: and when the wise is instructed, he receiveth knowledge.¹²The righteous man wisely considereth the house of the wicked: but God overthroweth the wicked for their wickedness.¹³Whoso stoppeth his ears at the cry of the poor, he also shall cry himself, but shall not be heard.¹⁴A gift in secret pacifieth anger: and a reward in the bosom strong wrath.¹⁵It is joy to the just to do judgment: but destruction shall be to the workers of iniquity.¹⁶The man that wandereth out of the way of understanding shall remain in the congregation of the dead.¹⁷He that loveth pleasure shall be a poor man: he that loveth wine and oil shall not be rich.¹⁸The wicked shall be a ransom for the righteous, and the transgressor for the upright.¹⁹It is better to dwell in the wilderness, than with a contentious and an angry woman.²⁰There is treasure to be desired and oil in the dwelling of the wise but a foolish man spendeth it up.²¹He that followeth after righteousness and mercy findeth life, righteousness, and honour.²²A wise man scaleth the city of the mighty, and casteth down the strength of the confidence thereof.²³Whoso keepeth his mouth and his tongue keepeth his soul from troubles.²⁴Proud and haughty scorner is his name, who dealeth in proud wrath.²⁵The desire of the slothful killeth him for his hands refuse to labour.²⁶He coveteth greedily all the day long: but the righteous giveth and spareth not.²⁷The sacrifice of the wicked is abomination: how much more, when he bringeth it with a wicked mind?²⁸A false witness shall perish: but the man that heareth speaketh constantly.²⁹A wicked man hardeneth his face: but as for the upright, he directeth his way.³⁰There is no wisdom nor understanding nor counsel against the LORD.³¹The horse is prepared against the day of battle: but safety is of the LORD.

CHAPTER 22 ¹A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches, and loving favour rather than silver and gold.²The rich and poor meet together: the LORD is the maker of them all.³A prudent man foreseeth the evil, and hideth himself: but the simple pass on, and are punished.⁴By humility and the fear of the LORD are riches, and honour, and life.⁵Thorns and snares are in the way of the froward: he that doth keep his soul shall be far from them.⁶Train up a child in the way he should go: and when he is old, he will not depart from it.⁷The rich ruleth over the poor, and the borrower is servant to the lender.⁸He that soweth iniquity shall reap vanity: and the rod of his anger shall fail.⁹He that hath a bountiful eye shall be blessed for he giveth of his bread to the poor.¹⁰Cast out the scorner, and contention shall go out yea, strife and reproach shall cease.¹¹He that loveth pureness of heart, for the grace of his lips the king shall be his friend.¹²The eyes of the LORD preserve knowledge, and he overthroweth the words of the transgressor.¹³The slothful man saith, There is a lion without, I shall be slain in the streets.¹⁴The mouth of strange women is a deep pit: he that is abhorred of the LORD shall fall therein.¹⁵Foolishness is bound in the heart of a child but the rod of correction shall drive it far from him.¹⁶He that oppresseth the poor to increase his riches, and he that giveth to the rich, shall surely come to want.¹⁷Bow down thine ear, and hear the words of the wise, and apply thine heart unto my knowledge.¹⁸For it is a pleasant thing if thou keep them within thee they shall withal be fitted in thy lips.¹⁹That thy trust may be in the LORD, I have made known to thee this day, even to thee.²⁰Have not I written to thee excellent things in counsels and knowledge,²¹That I might make thee know the certainty of the words of truth that thou mightest answer the words of truth to them that send unto thee?²²Rob not the poor, because he is poor: neither oppress the afflicted in the gate.²³For the LORD will plead their cause, and spoil the soul of those that spoiled them.²⁴Make no friendship with an angry man and with a furious man thou shalt not go:²⁵Lest thou learn his ways, and get a snare to thy soul.²⁶Be not thou one of them that strike hands, or of them that are sureties for debts.²⁷If thou hast nothing to pay, why should he take away thy bed from under thee?²⁸Remove not the ancient landmark, which thy fathers have set.²⁹Seest thou a man diligent in his business? he shall stand before kings he shall not stand before mean men.

CHAPTER 23 ¹When thou sittest to eat with a ruler, consider diligently what is before thee:²And put a knife to thy throat, if thou be a man given to appetite.³Be not desirous of his dainties: for they are deceitful meat.⁴Labour not to be rich: cease from thine own wisdom.⁵Wilt thou set thine eyes upon that which is not? for riches certainly make themselves wings they fly away as an eagle toward heaven.⁶Eat thou not the bread of him that hath an evil eye, neither desire thou his dainty meats:⁷For as he thinketh in his heart, so is he: Eat and drink, saith he to thee but his heart is not with thee.⁸The morsel which thou hast eaten shalt thou vomit up, and lose thy sweet words.⁹Speak not in the ears of a fool: for he will despise the wisdom of thy words.¹⁰Remove not the old

landmark and enter not into the fields of the fatherless:¹¹For their redeemer is mighty he shall plead their cause with thee.¹²Apply thine heart unto instruction, and thine ears to the words of knowledge.¹³Withhold not correction from the child: for if thou beatest him with the rod, he shall not die.¹⁴Thou shalt beat him with the rod, and shalt deliver his soul from hell.¹⁵My son, if thine heart be wise, my heart shall rejoice, even mine.¹⁶Yea, my reins shall rejoice, when thy lips speak right things.¹⁷Let not thine heart envy sinners: but be thou in the fear of the LORD all the day long.¹⁸For surely there is an end and thine expectation shall not be cut off.¹⁹Hear thou, my son, and be wise, and guide thine heart in the way.²⁰Be not among winebibbers among riotous eaters of flesh:²¹For the drunkard and the glutton shall come to poverty: and drowsiness shall clothe a man with rags.²²Hearken unto thy father that begat thee, and despise not thy mother when she is old.²³Buy the truth, and sell it not also wisdom, and instruction, and understanding.²⁴The father of the righteous shall greatly rejoice: and he that begetteth a wise child shall have joy of him.²⁵Thy father and thy mother shall be glad, and she that bare thee shall rejoice.²⁶My son, give me thine heart, and let thine eyes observe my ways.²⁷For a whore is a deep ditch and a strange woman is a narrow pit.²⁸She also lieth in wait as for a prey, and increaseth the transgressors among men.²⁹Who hath woe? who hath sorrow? who hath contentions? who hath babbling? who hath wounds without cause? who hath redness of eyes?³⁰They that tarry long at the wine they that go to seek mixed wine.³¹Look not thou upon the wine when it is red, when it giveth his colour in the cup, when it moveth itself aright.³²At the last it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder.³³Thine eyes shall behold strange women, and thine heart shall utter perverse things.³⁴Yea, thou shalt be as he that lieth down in the midst of the sea, or as he that lieth upon the top of a mast.³⁵They have stricken me, shalt thou say, and I was not sick they have beaten me, and I felt it not: when shall I awake? I will seek it yet again.

CHAPTER 24 ¹Be not thou envious against evil men, neither desire to be with them.²For their heart studieth destruction, and their lips talk of mischief.³Through wisdom is an house builded and by understanding it is established:⁴And by knowledge shall the chambers be filled with all precious and pleasant riches.⁵A wise man is strong yea, a man of knowledge increaseth strength.⁶For by wise counsel thou shalt make thy war: and in multitude of counsellors there is safety.⁷Wisdom is too high for a fool: he openeth not his mouth in the gate.⁸He that deviseth to do evil shall be called a mischievous person.⁹The thought of foolishness is sin: and the scorner is an abomination to men.¹⁰If thou faint in the day of adversity, thy strength is small.¹¹If thou forbear to deliver them that are drawn unto death, and those that are ready to be slain¹²If thou sayest, Behold, we knew it not doth not he that pondereth the heart consider it? and he that keepeth thy soul, doth not he know it? and shall not he render to every man according to his works?¹³My son, eat thou honey, because it is good and the honeycomb, which is sweet to thy taste:¹⁴So shall the knowledge of wisdom be unto thy soul: when thou hast found it, then there shall be a reward, and thy expectation shall not be cut off.¹⁵Lay not wait, O wicked man, against the dwelling of the righteous spoil not his resting place:¹⁶For a just man falleth seven times, and riseth up again: but the wicked shall fall into mischief.¹⁷Rejoice not when thine enemy falleth, and let not thine heart be glad when he stumbleth:¹⁸Lest the LORD see it, and it displease him, and he turn away his wrath from him.¹⁹Fret not thyself because of evil men, neither be thou envious at the wicked²⁰For there shall be no reward to the evil man the candle of the wicked shall be put out.²¹My son, fear thou the LORD and the king: and meddle not with them that are given to change:²²For their calamity shall rise suddenly and who knoweth the ruin of them both?²³These things also belong to the wise. It is not good to have respect of persons in judgment.²⁴He that saith unto the wicked, Thou are righteous him shall the people curse, nations shall abhor him:²⁵But to them that rebuke him shall be delight, and a good blessing shall come upon them.²⁶Every man shall kiss his lips that giveth a right answer.²⁷Prepare thy work without, and make it fit for thyself in the field and afterwards build thine house.²⁸Be not a witness against thy neighbour without cause and deceive not with thy lips.²⁹Say not, I will do so to him as he hath done to me: I will render to the man according to his work.³⁰I went by the field of the slothful, and by the vineyard of the man void of understanding.³¹And, lo, it was all grown over with thorns, and nettles had covered the face thereof, and the stone wall thereof was broken down.³²Then I saw, and considered it well: I looked upon it, and received instruction.³³Yet a little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to sleep:³⁴So shall thy poverty come as one that travelleth and thy want as an armed man.

CHAPTER 25 ¹These are also proverbs of Solomon, which the men of Hezekiah king of Judah copied out.²It is the glory of God to conceal a thing: but the honour of kings is to search out a matter.³The heaven for height, and the earth for depth, and the heart of kings is unsearchable.⁴Take away the dross from the silver, and there shall come forth a vessel for the finer.⁵Take away the wicked from before the king, and his throne shall be established in righteousness.⁶Put not forth thyself in the presence of the king, and stand not in the place of great men:⁷For better it is that it be said unto thee, Come up hither than that thou shouldest be put lower in the presence of the prince whom thine eyes have seen.⁸Go not forth hastily to strive, lest thou know not what to do in the end thereof, when thy neighbour hath put thee to shame.⁹Debate thy cause with thy neighbour himself and discover not a secret to another:¹⁰Lest he that heareth it put thee to shame, and thine infamy turn not away.¹¹A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in pictures of silver.¹²As an earring of gold, and an ornament of fine gold, so is a wise reprovcr upon an obedient ear.¹³As the cold of snow in the time of harvest, so is a faithful messenger to them that send him: for he refresheth the soul of his masters.¹⁴Whoso boasteth himself of a false gift is like clouds and wind without rain.¹⁵By long forbearing is a prince persuaded, and a soft tongue breaketh the bone.¹⁶Hast thou found honey? eat so much as is sufficient for thee, lest thou be filled therewith, and vomit it.¹⁷Withdraw thy foot from thy neighbour's house lest he be weary of thee, and so hate thee.¹⁸A man that beareth false witness against his neighbour is a maul, and a sword, and a sharp arrow.¹⁹Confidence in an unfaithful man in time of trouble is like a broken tooth, and a foot out of joint.²⁰As he that taketh away a garment in cold weather, and as vinegar upon nitre, so is he that singeth songs to an heavy heart.²¹If thine enemy be hungry, give him bread to eat and if he be thirsty, give him water to drink.²²For thou shalt heap coals of fire upon his head, and the LORD shall reward thee.²³The north wind driveth away rain: so doth an angry countenance a backbiting tongue.²⁴It is better to dwell in the corner of the housetop, than with a brawling woman and in a wide house.²⁵As cold waters to a thirsty soul, so is good news from a far country.²⁶A righteous man falling down before the wicked is as a troubled fountain, and a corrupt spring.²⁷It is not good to eat much honey: so for men to search their own glory is not glory.²⁸He that hath no rule over his own spirit is like a city that is broken down, and without walls.

CHAPTER 26 ¹As snow in summer, and as rain in harvest, so honour is not seemly for a fool.²As the bird by wandering, as the swallow by flying, so the curse causeless shall not come.³A whip for the horse, a bridle for the ass, and a rod for the fool's back.⁴Answer not a fool according to his folly, lest thou also be like unto him.⁵Answer a fool according to his folly, lest he be wise in his own conceit.⁶He that sendeth a message by the hand of a fool cutteth off the feet, and drinketh damage.⁷The legs of the lame are not equal: so is a parable in the mouth of fools.⁸As he that bindeth a stone in a sling, so is he that giveth honour to a fool.⁹As a thorn goeth up into the hand of a drunkard, so is a parable in the mouth of fools.¹⁰The great God that formed all things both rewardeth the fool, and rewardeth transgressors.¹¹As a dog returneth to his vomit, so a fool returneth to his folly.¹²Seest thou a man wise in his own conceit? there is more hope of a fool than of him.¹³The slothful man saith, There is a lion in the way a lion is in the streets.¹⁴As the door turneth upon his hinges, so doth the slothful upon his bed.¹⁵The slothful hideth his hand in his bosom it grieveth him to bring it again to his mouth.¹⁶The sluggard is wiser in his own conceit than seven men that can render a reason.¹⁷He that passeth by, and meddleth with strife belonging not to him, is like one that taketh a dog by the ears.¹⁸As a mad man who casteth firebrands, arrows, and death,¹⁹So is the man that deceiveth his neighbour, and saith, Am not I in sport?²⁰Where no wood is, there the fire goeth out: so where there is no talebearer, the strife ceaseth.²¹As coals are to burning coals, and wood to fire so is a contentious man to kindle strife.²²The words of a talebearer are as wounds, and they go down into the innermost parts of the belly.²³Burning lips and a wicked heart are like a potsherd covered with silver dross.²⁴He that hateth dissembleth with his lips, and layeth up deceit within him.²⁵When he speaketh fair, believe him not: for there are seven abominations in his heart.²⁶Whose hatred is covered by deceit, his wickedness shall be shewed before the whole congregation.²⁷Whoso diggeth a pit shall fall therein: and he that rolleth a stone, it will return upon him.²⁸A lying tongue hateth those that are afflicted by it and a flattering mouth worketh ruin.

CHAPTER 27 ¹Boast not thyself of to morrow for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth.²Let another man praise thee, and not thine own mouth a stranger, and not thine own lips.³A stone is heavy, and the sand weighty but a fool's wrath is heavier than them both.⁴Wrath is cruel, and anger is outrageous but who is able to stand before envy?⁵Open rebuke is better than secret love.⁶Faithful are the wounds of a friend but the kisses of an enemy are deceitful.⁷The full soul loatheth an honeycomb but to the hungry soul every bitter thing is sweet.⁸As a bird that wandereth from her nest, so is a man that wandereth from his place.⁹Ointment and perfume rejoice the heart: so doth the sweetness of a man's friend by hearty counsel.¹⁰Thine own friend, and thy father's friend, forsake not neither go into thy brother's house in the day of thy calamity: for better is a neighbour that is near than a brother far off.¹¹My son, be wise, and make my heart glad, that I may answer him that reproacheth me.¹²A prudent man foreseeth the evil, and hideth himself but the simple pass on, and are punished.¹³Take his garment that is surety for a stranger, and take a pledge of him for a strange woman.¹⁴He that blesseth his friend with a loud voice, rising early in the morning, it shall be counted a curse to him.¹⁵A continual dropping in a very rainy day and a contentious woman are alike.¹⁶Whosoever hideth her hideth the wind, and the ointment of his right hand, which bewrayeth itself.¹⁷Iron sharpeneth iron so a man sharpeneth the countenance of his friend.¹⁸Whoso keepeth the fig tree shall eat the fruit thereof: so he that waiteth on his master shall be honoured.¹⁹As in water face answereth to face, so the heart of man to man.²⁰Hell and destruction are never full so the eyes of man are never satisfied.²¹As the fining pot for silver, and the furnace for gold so is a man to his praise.²²Though thou shouldest bray a fool in a mortar among wheat with a pestle, yet will not his foolishness depart from him.²³Be thou diligent to know the state of thy flocks, and look well to thy herds.²⁴For riches are not for ever: and doth the crown endure to every generation?²⁵The hay appeareth, and the tender grass sheweth itself, and herbs of the mountains are gathered.²⁶The lambs are for thy clothing, and the goats are the price of the field.²⁷And thou shalt have goats' milk enough for thy food, for the food of thy household, and for the maintenance for thy maidens.

CHAPTER 28 ¹The wicked flee when no man pursueth: but the righteous are bold as a lion.²For the transgression of a land many are the princes thereof: but by a man of understanding and knowledge the state thereof shall be prolonged.³A poor man that oppresseth the poor is like a sweeping rain which leaveth no food.⁴They that forsake the law praise the wicked: but such as keep the law contend with them.⁵Evil men understand not judgment: but they that seek the LORD understand all things.⁶Better is the poor that walketh in his uprightness, than he that is perverse in his ways, though he be rich.⁷Whoso keepeth the law is a wise son: but he that is a companion of riotous men shameth his father.⁸He that by usury and unjust gain increaseth his substance, he shall gather it for him that will pity the poor.⁹He that turneth away his ear from hearing the law, even his prayer shall be abomination.¹⁰Whoso causeth the righteous to go astray in an evil way, he shall fall himself into his own pit: but the upright shall have good things in possession.¹¹The rich man is wise in his own conceit but the poor that hath understanding searcheth him out.¹²When righteous men do rejoice, there is great glory: but when the wicked rise, a man is hidden.¹³He that covereth his sins shall not prosper: but whoso confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy.¹⁴Happy is the man that feareth alway: but he that hardeneth his heart shall fall into mischief.¹⁵As a roaring lion, and a ranging bear so is a wicked ruler over the poor people.¹⁶The prince that wanteth understanding is also a great oppressor: but he that hateth covetousness shall prolong his days.¹⁷A man that doeth violence to the blood of any person shall flee to the pit let no man stay him.¹⁸Whoso walketh uprightly shall be saved: but he that is perverse in his ways shall fall at once.¹⁹He that tilleth his land shall have plenty of bread: but he that followeth after vain persons shall have poverty enough.²⁰A faithful man shall abound with blessings: but he that maketh haste to be rich shall not be innocent.²¹To have respect of persons is not good: for for a piece of bread that man will transgress.²²He that hasteth to be rich hath an evil eye, and considereth not that poverty shall come upon him.²³He that rebuketh a man afterwards shall find more favour than he that flattereth with the tongue.²⁴Whoso robbeth his father or his mother, and saith, It is no transgression the same is the companion of a destroyer.²⁵He that is of a proud heart stirreth up strife: but he that putteth his trust in the LORD shall be made fat.²⁶He that trusteth in his own heart is a fool: but whoso walketh wisely, he shall be delivered.²⁷He that giveth unto the poor shall not lack: but he that hideth his eyes shall have many a curse.²⁸When the wicked rise, men hide themselves: but when they perish, the righteous increase.

CHAPTER 29 ¹He, that being often reprov'd hardeneth his neck, shall suddenly be destroyed, and that without remedy.²When the righteous are in authority, the people rejoice: but when the wicked beareth rule, the people mourn.³Whoso loveth wisdom rejoiceth his father: but he that keepeth company with harlots spendeth his substance.⁴The king by judgment establisheth the land: but he that receiveth gifts overthroweth it.⁵A man that flattereth his neighbour spreadeth a net for his feet.⁶In the transgression of an evil man there is a snare: but the righteous doth sing and rejoice.⁷The righteous considereth the cause of the poor: but the wicked regardeth not to know it.⁸Scornful men bring a city into a snare: but wise men turn away wrath.⁹If a wise man contendeth with a foolish man, whether he rage or laugh, there is no rest.¹⁰The bloodthirsty hate the upright: but the just seek his soul.¹¹A fool uttereth all his mind: but a wise man keepeth it in till afterwards.¹²If a ruler hearken to lies, all his servants are wicked.¹³The poor and the deceitful man meet together: the LORD lighteneth both their eyes.¹⁴The king that faithfully judgeth the poor, his throne shall be established for ever.¹⁵The rod and reproof give wisdom: but a child left to himself bringeth his mother to shame.¹⁶When the wicked are multiplied, transgression increaseth: but the righteous shall see their fall.¹⁷Correct thy son, and he shall give thee rest yea, he shall give delight unto thy soul.¹⁸Where there is no vision, the people perish: but he that keepeth the law, happy is he.¹⁹A servant will not be corrected by words: for though he understand he will not answer.²⁰Seest thou a man that is hasty in his words? there is more hope of a fool than of him.²¹He that delicately bringeth up his servant from a child shall have him become his son at the length.²²An angry man stirreth up strife, and a furious man aboundeth in transgression.²³A man's pride shall bring him low: but honour shall uphold the humble in spirit.²⁴Whoso is partner with a thief hateth his own soul: he heareth cursing, and bewrayeth it not.²⁵The fear of man bringeth a snare: but whoso putteth his trust in the LORD shall be safe.²⁶Many seek the ruler's favour but every man's judgment cometh from the LORD.²⁷An unjust man is an abomination to the just: and he that is upright in the way is abomination to the wicked.

CHAPTER 30 ¹The words of Agur the son of Jakeh, even the prophecy: the man spake unto Ithiel, even unto Ithiel and Ucal,²Surely I am more brutish than any man, and have not the understanding of a man.³I neither learned wisdom, nor have the knowledge of the holy.⁴Who hath ascended up into heaven, or descended? who hath gathered the wind in his fists? who hath bound the waters in a garment? who hath established all the ends of the earth? what is his name, and what is his son's name, if thou canst tell?⁵Every word of God is pure: he is a shield unto them that put their trust in him.⁶Add thou not unto his words, lest he reprove thee, and thou be found a liar.⁷Two things have I required of thee deny me them not before I die:⁸Remove far from me vanity and lies: give me neither poverty nor riches feed me with food convenient for me:⁹Lest I be full, and deny thee, and say, Who is the LORD? or lest I be poor, and steal, and take the name of my God in vain.¹⁰Accuse not a servant unto his master, lest he curse thee, and thou be found guilty.¹¹There is a generation that curseth their father, and doth not bless their mother.¹²There is a generation that are pure in their own eyes, and yet is not washed from their filthiness.¹³There is a generation, O how lofty are their eyes! and their eyelids are lifted up.¹⁴There is a generation, whose teeth are as swords, and their jaw teeth as knives, to devour the poor from off the earth, and the needy from among men.¹⁵The horseleach hath two daughters, crying, Give, give. There are three things that are never satisfied, yea, four things say not, It is enough:¹⁶The grave and the barren womb the earth that is not filled with water and the fire that saith not, It is enough.¹⁷The eye that mocketh at his father, and despiseth to obey his mother, the ravens of the valley shall pick it out, and the young eagles shall eat it.¹⁸There be three things which are too wonderful for me, yea, four which I know not:¹⁹The way of an eagle in the air the way of a serpent upon a rock the way of a ship in the midst of the sea and the way of a man with a maid.²⁰Such is the way of an adulterous woman she eateth, and wipeth her mouth, and saith, I have done no wickedness.²¹For three things the earth is disquieted, and for four which it cannot bear:²²For a servant when he reigneth and a fool when he is filled with meat²³For an odious woman when she is married and an handmaid that is heir to her mistress.²⁴There be four things which are little upon the earth, but they are exceeding wise:²⁵The ants are a people not strong, yet they prepare their meat in the summer²⁶The conies are but a feeble folk, yet make they their houses in the rocks²⁷The locusts have no king, yet go they forth all of them by bands²⁸The spider taketh hold with her hands, and is in kings' palaces.²⁹There be three things which go well, yea, four are comely in going:³⁰A lion which is strongest among beasts, and turneth not away for any³¹A greyhound an he goat also and a king, against whom there is no rising up.³²If thou hast done foolishly in lifting up thyself, or if thou hast thought evil, lay thine hand upon thy mouth.³³Surely the churning of milk bringeth forth butter, and the wringing of the nose bringeth forth blood: so the forcing of wrath bringeth forth strife.

CHAPTER 31 ¹The words of king Lemuel, the prophecy that his mother taught him.²What, my son? and what, the son of my womb? and what, the son of my vows?³Give not thy strength unto women, nor thy ways to that which destroyeth kings.⁴It is not for kings, O Lemuel, it is not for kings to drink wine nor for princes strong drink:⁵Lest they drink, and forget the law, and pervert the judgment of any of the afflicted.⁶Give strong drink unto him that is ready to perish, and wine unto those that be of heavy hearts.⁷Let him drink, and forget his poverty, and remember his misery no more.⁸Open thy mouth for the dumb in the cause of all such as are appointed to destruction.⁹Open thy mouth, judge righteously, and plead the cause of the poor and needy.¹⁰Who can find a virtuous woman? for her price is far above rubies.¹¹The heart of her husband doth safely trust in her, so that he shall have no need of spoil.¹²She will do him good and not evil all the days of her life.¹³She seeketh wool, and flax, and worketh willingly with her hands.¹⁴She is like the merchants' ships she bringeth her food from afar.¹⁵She riseth also while it is yet night, and giveth meat to her household, and a portion to her maidens.¹⁶She considereth a field, and buyeth it: with the fruit of her hands she planteth a vineyard.¹⁷She girdeth her loins with strength, and strengtheneth her arms.¹⁸She perceiveth that her merchandise is good: her candle goeth not out by night.¹⁹She layeth her hands to the spindle, and her hands hold the distaff.²⁰She stretcheth out her hand to the poor yea, she reacheth forth her hands to the needy.²¹She is not afraid of the snow for her household: for all her household are clothed with scarlet.²²She maketh herself coverings of tapestry her clothing is silk and purple.²³Her husband is known in the gates, when he sitteth among the elders of the land.²⁴She maketh fine linen, and selleth it and delivereth girdles unto the merchant.²⁵Strength and honour are her clothing and she shall rejoice in time to come.²⁶She openeth her mouth with wisdom and in her tongue is the law of kindness.²⁷She looketh well to the ways of her household, and eateth not the bread of idleness.²⁸Her children arise up, and call her blessed her husband also, and he praiseth her.²⁹Many daughters have done virtuously, but thou excellest them all.³⁰Favour is deceitful, and beauty is vain: but a woman that feareth the LORD, she shall be praised.³¹Give her of the fruit of her hands and let her own works praise her in the gates.

ECCLESIASTES

CHAPTER 1 ¹The words of the Preacher, the son of David, king in Jerusalem.²Vanity of vanities, saith the Preacher, vanity of vanities all is vanity.³What profit hath a man of all his labour which he taketh under the sun?⁴One generation passeth away, and another generation cometh: but the earth abideth for ever.⁵The sun also ariseth, and the sun goeth down, and hasteth to his place where he arose.⁶The wind goeth toward the south, and turneth about unto the north it whirleth about continually, and the wind returneth again according to his circuits.⁷All the rivers run into the sea yet the sea is not full unto the place from whence the rivers come, thither they return again.⁸All things are full of labour man cannot utter it: the eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the ear filled with hearing.⁹The thing that hath been, it is that which shall be and that which is done is that which shall be done: and there is no new thing under the sun.¹⁰Is there any thing whereof it may be said, See, this is new? it hath been already of old time, which was before us.¹¹There is no remembrance of former things neither shall there be any remembrance of things that are to come with those that shall come after.¹²I the Preacher was king over Israel in Jerusalem.¹³And I gave my heart to seek and search out by wisdom concerning all things that are done under heaven: this sore travail hath God given to the sons of man to be exercised therewith.¹⁴I have seen all the works that are done under the sun and, behold, all is vanity and vexation of spirit.¹⁵That which is crooked cannot be made straight: and that which is wanting cannot be numbered.¹⁶I communed with mine own heart, saying, Lo, I am come to great estate, and have gotten more wisdom than all they that have been before me in Jerusalem: yea, my heart had great experience of wisdom and knowledge.¹⁷And I gave my heart to know wisdom, and to know madness and folly: I perceived that this also is vexation of spirit.¹⁸For in much wisdom is much grief: and he that increaseth knowledge increaseth sorrow.

CHAPTER 2 ¹I said in mine heart, Go to now, I will prove thee with mirth, therefore enjoy pleasure: and, behold, this also is vanity.²I said of laughter, It is mad: and of mirth, What doeth it?³I sought in mine heart to give myself unto wine, yet acquainting mine heart with wisdom and to lay hold on folly, till I might see what was that good for the sons of men, which they should do under the heaven all the days of their life.⁴I made me great works I builded me houses I planted me vineyards:⁵I made me gardens and orchards, and I planted trees in them of all kind of fruits:⁶I made me pools of water, to water therewith the wood that bringeth forth trees:⁷I got me servants and maidens, and had servants born in my house also I had great possessions of great and small cattle above all that were in Jerusalem before me:⁸I gathered me also silver and gold, and the peculiar treasure of kings and of the provinces: I gat me men singers and women singers, and the delights of the sons of men, as musical instruments, and that of all sorts.⁹So I was great, and increased more than all that were before me in Jerusalem: also my wisdom remained with me.¹⁰And whatsoever mine eyes desired I kept not from them, I withheld not my heart from any joy for my heart rejoiced in all my labour: and this was my portion of all my labour.¹¹Then I looked on all the works that my hands had wrought, and on the labour that I had laboured to do: and, behold, all was vanity and vexation of spirit, and there was no profit under the sun.¹²And I turned myself to behold wisdom, and madness, and folly: for what can the man do that cometh after the king? even that which hath been already done.¹³Then I saw that wisdom excelleth folly, as far as light excelleth darkness.¹⁴The wise man's eyes are in his head but the fool walketh in darkness: and I myself perceived also that one event happeneth to them all.¹⁵Then said I in my heart, As it happeneth to the fool, so it happeneth even to me and why was I then more wise? Then I said in my heart, that this also is vanity.¹⁶For there is no remembrance of the wise more than of the fool for ever seeing that which now is in the days to come shall all be forgotten. And how dieth the wise man? as the fool.¹⁷Therefore I hated life because the work that is wrought under the sun is grievous unto me: for all is vanity and vexation of spirit.¹⁸Yea, I hated all my labour which I had taken under the sun: because I should leave it unto the man that shall be after me.¹⁹And who knoweth whether he shall be a wise man or a fool? yet shall he have rule over all my labour wherein I have laboured, and wherein I have shewed myself wise under the sun. This is also vanity.²⁰Therefore I went about to cause my heart to despair of all the labour which I took under the sun.²¹For there is a man whose labour is in wisdom, and in knowledge, and in equity yet to a man that hath not laboured therein shall he leave it for his portion. This also is vanity and a great evil.²²For what hath man of all his labour, and of the vexation of his heart, wherein he hath laboured under the sun?²³For all his days are sorrows, and his travail grief yea, his heart taketh not rest in the night. This is also vanity.²⁴There is nothing better for a man, than that he should eat and drink, and that he should make his soul enjoy good in his labour. This also I saw, that it was from the hand of God.²⁵For who can eat, or who else can hasten hereunto, more than I?²⁶For God giveth to a man that is good in his sight wisdom, and knowledge, and joy: but to the sinner he giveth travail, to gather and to heap up, that he may give to him that is good before God. This also is vanity and vexation of spirit.

CHAPTER 3 ¹To every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven:²A time to be born, and a time to die a time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted³A time to kill, and a time to heal a time to break down, and a time to build up⁴A time to weep, and a time to laugh a time to mourn, and a time to dance⁵A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones together a time to embrace, and a time to refrain from embracing⁶A time to get, and a time to lose a time to keep, and a time to cast away⁷A time to rend, and a time to sew a time to keep silence, and a time to speak⁸A time to love, and a time to hate a time of war, and a time of peace.⁹What profit hath he that worketh in that wherein he laboureth?¹⁰I have seen the travail, which God hath given to the sons of men to be exercised in it.¹¹He hath made every thing beautiful in his time: also he hath set the world in their heart, so that no man can find out the work that God maketh from the beginning to the end.¹²I know that there is no good in them, but for a man to rejoice, and to do good in his life.¹³And also that every man should eat and drink, and enjoy the good of all his labour, it is the gift of God.¹⁴I know that, whatsoever God doeth, it shall be for ever: nothing can be put to it, nor any thing taken from it: and God doeth it, that men should fear before him.¹⁵That which hath been is now and that which is to be hath already been and God requireth that which is past.¹⁶And moreover I saw under the sun the place of judgment, that wickedness was there and the place of righteousness, that iniquity was there.¹⁷I said in mine heart, God shall judge the righteous and the wicked: for there is a time there for every purpose and for every work.¹⁸I said in mine heart concerning the estate of the sons of men, that God might manifest them, and that they might see that they themselves are beasts.¹⁹For that which befalleth the sons of men befalleth beasts even one thing befalleth them: as the one dieth, so dieth the other yea, they have all one breath so that a man hath no preeminence above a beast: for all is vanity.²⁰All go unto one place all are of the dust, and all turn to dust again.²¹Who knoweth the spirit of man that goeth upward, and the spirit of the beast that goeth downward to the earth?²²Wherefore I perceive that there is nothing better, than that a man should rejoice in his own works for that is his portion: for who shall bring him to see what shall be after him?

CHAPTER 4 ¹So I returned, and considered all the oppressions that are done under the sun: and behold the tears of such as were oppressed, and they had no comforter and on the side of their oppressors there was power but they had no comforter.²Wherefore I praised the dead which are already dead more than the living which are yet alive.³Yea, better is he than both they, which hath not yet been, who hath not seen the evil work that is done under the sun.⁴Again, I considered all travail, and every right work, that for this a man is envied of his neighbour. This is also vanity and vexation of spirit.⁵The fool foldeth his hands together, and eateth his own flesh.⁶Better is an handful with quietness, than both the hands full with travail and vexation of spirit.⁷Then I returned, and I saw vanity under the sun.⁸There is one alone, and there is not a second yea, he hath neither child nor brother: yet is there no end of all his labour neither is his eye satisfied with riches neither saith he, For whom do I labour, and bereave my soul of good? This is also vanity, yea, it is a sore travail.⁹Two are better than one because they have a good reward for their labour.¹⁰For if they fall, the one will lift up his fellow: but woe to him that is alone when he falleth for he hath not another to help him up.¹¹Again, if two lie together, then they have heat: but how can one be warm alone?¹²And if one prevail against him, two shall withstand him and a threefold cord is not quickly broken.¹³Better is a poor and a wise child than an old and foolish king, who will no more be admonished.¹⁴For out of prison he cometh to reign whereas also he that is born in his kingdom becometh poor.¹⁵I considered all the living which walk under the sun, with the second child that shall stand up in his stead.¹⁶There is no end of all the people, even of all that have been before them: they also that come after shall not rejoice in him. Surely this also is vanity and vexation of spirit.

CHAPTER 5 ¹Keep thy foot when thou goest to the house of God, and be more ready to hear, than to give the sacrifice of fools: for they consider not that they do evil.²Be not rash with thy mouth, and let not thine heart be hasty to utter any thing before God: for God is in heaven, and thou upon earth: therefore let thy words be few.³For a dream cometh through the multitude of business and a fool's voice is known by multitude of words.⁴When thou vowest a vow unto God, defer not to pay it for he hath no pleasure in fools: pay that which thou hast vowed.⁵Better is it that thou shouldest not vow, than that thou shouldest vow and not pay.⁶Suffer not thy mouth to cause thy flesh to sin neither say thou before the angel, that it was an error: wherefore should God be angry at thy voice, and destroy the work of thine hands?⁷For in the multitude of dreams and many words there are also divers vanities: but fear thou God.⁸If thou seest the oppression of the poor, and violent perverting of judgment and justice in a province, marvel not at the matter: for he that is higher than the highest regardeth and there be higher than they.⁹Moreover the profit of the earth is for all: the king himself is served by the field.¹⁰He that loveth silver shall not be satisfied with silver nor he that loveth abundance with increase: this is also vanity.¹¹When goods increase, they are increased that eat them: and what good is there to the owners thereof, saving the beholding of them with their eyes?¹²The sleep of a labouring man is sweet, whether he eat little or much: but the abundance of the rich will not suffer him to sleep.¹³There is a sore evil which I have seen under the sun, namely, riches kept for the owners thereof to their hurt.¹⁴But those riches perish by evil travail: and he begetteth a son, and there is nothing in his hand.¹⁵As he came forth of his mother's womb, naked shall he return to go as he came, and shall take nothing of his labour, which he may carry away in his hand.¹⁶And this also is a sore evil, that in all points as he came, so shall he go: and what profit hath he that hath laboured for the wind?¹⁷All his days also he eateth in darkness, and he hath much sorrow and wrath with his sickness.¹⁸Behold that which I have seen: it is good and comely for one to eat and to drink, and to enjoy the good of all his labour that he taketh under the sun all the days of his life, which God giveth him: for it is his portion.¹⁹Every man also to whom God hath given riches and wealth, and hath given him power to eat thereof, and to take his portion, and to rejoice in his labour this is the gift of God.²⁰For he shall not much remember the days of his life because God answereth him in the joy of his heart.

CHAPTER 6¹There is an evil which I have seen under the sun, and it is common among men:²A man to whom God hath given riches, wealth, and honour, so that he wanteth nothing for his soul of all that he desireth, yet God giveth him not power to eat thereof, but a stranger eateth it: this is vanity, and it is an evil disease.³If a man beget an hundred children, and live many years, so that the days of his years be many, and his soul be not filled with good, and also that he have no burial I say, that an untimely birth is better than he.⁴For he cometh in with vanity, and departeth in darkness, and his name shall be covered with darkness.⁵Moreover he hath not seen the sun, nor known any thing: this hath more rest than the other.⁶Yea, though he live a thousand years twice told, yet hath he seen no good: do not all go to one place?⁷All the labour of man is for his mouth, and yet the appetite is not filled.⁸For what hath the wise more than the fool? what hath the poor, that knoweth to walk before the living?⁹Better is the sight of the eyes than the wandering of the desire: this is also vanity and vexation of spirit.¹⁰That which hath been is named already, and it is known that it is man: neither may he contend with him that is mightier than he.¹¹Seeing there be many things that increase vanity, what is man the better?¹²For who knoweth what is good for man in this life, all the days of his vain life which he spendeth as a shadow? for who can tell a man what shall be after him under the sun?

CHAPTER 7 ¹A good name is better than precious ointment and the day of death than the day of one's birth.²It is better to go to the house of mourning, than to go to the house of feasting: for that is the end of all men and the living will lay it to his heart.³Sorrow is better than laughter: for by the sadness of the countenance the heart is made better.⁴The heart of the wise is in the house of mourning but the heart of fools is in the house of mirth.⁵It is better to hear the rebuke of the wise, than for a man to hear the song of fools.⁶For as the crackling of thorns under a pot, so is the laughter of the fool: this also is vanity.⁷Surely oppression maketh a wise man mad and a gift destroyeth the heart.⁸Better is the end of a thing than the beginning thereof: and the patient in spirit is better than the proud in spirit.⁹Be not hasty in thy spirit to be angry: for anger resteth in the bosom of fools.¹⁰Say not thou, What is the cause that the former days were better than these? for thou dost not inquire wisely concerning this.¹¹Wisdom is good with an inheritance: and by it there is profit to them that see the sun.¹²For wisdom is a defence, and money is a defence: but the excellency of knowledge is, that wisdom giveth life to them that have it.¹³Consider the work of God: for who can make that straight, which he hath made crooked?¹⁴In the day of prosperity be joyful, but in the day of adversity consider: God also hath set the one over against the other, to the end that man should find nothing after him.¹⁵All things have I seen in the days of my vanity: there is a just man that perisheth in his righteousness, and there is a wicked man that longeth his life in his wickedness.¹⁶Be not righteous over much neither make thyself over wise: why shouldest thou destroy thyself?¹⁷Be not over much wicked, neither be thou foolish: why shouldest thou die before thy time?¹⁸It is good that thou shouldest take hold of this yea, also from this withdraw not thine hand: for he that feareth God shall come forth of them all.¹⁹Wisdom strengtheneth the wise more than ten mighty men which are in the city.²⁰For there is not a just man upon earth, that doeth good, and sinneth not.²¹Also take no heed unto all words that are spoken lest thou hear thy servant curse thee:²²For oftentimes also thine own heart knoweth that thou thyself likewise hast cursed others.²³All this have I proved by wisdom: I said, I will be wise but it was far from me.²⁴That which is far off, and exceeding deep, who can find it out?²⁵I applied mine heart to know, and to search, and to seek out wisdom, and the reason of things, and to know the wickedness of folly, even of foolishness and madness:²⁶And I find more bitter than death the woman, whose heart is snares and nets, and her hands as bands: whoso pleaseth God shall escape from her but the sinner shall be taken by her.²⁷Behold, this have I found, saith the preacher, counting one by one, to find out the account:²⁸Which yet my soul seeketh, but I find not: one man among a thousand have I found but a woman among all those have I not found.²⁹Lo, this only have I found, that God hath made man upright but they have sought out many inventions.

CHAPTER 8 ¹Who is as the wise man? and who knoweth the interpretation of a thing? a man's wisdom maketh his face to shine, and the boldness of his face shall be changed.²I counsel thee to keep the king's commandment, and that in regard of the oath of God.³Be not hasty to go out of his sight: stand not in an evil thing for he doeth whatsoever pleaseth him.⁴Where the word of a king is, there is power: and who may say unto him, What doest thou?⁵Whoso keepeth the commandment shall feel no evil thing: and a wise man's heart discerneth both time and judgment.⁶Because to every purpose there is time and judgment, therefore the misery of man is great upon him.⁷For he knoweth not that which shall be: for who can tell him when it shall be?⁸There is no man that hath power over the spirit to retain the spirit neither hath he power in the day of death: and there is no discharge in that war neither shall wickedness deliver those that are given to it.⁹All this have I seen, and applied my heart unto every work that is done under the sun: there is a time wherein one man ruleth over another to his own hurt.¹⁰And so I saw the wicked buried, who had come and gone from the place of the holy, and they were forgotten in the city where they had so done: this is also vanity.¹¹Because sentence against an evil work is not executed speedily, therefore the heart of the sons of men is fully set in them to do evil.¹²Though a sinner do evil an hundred times, and his days be prolonged, yet surely I know that it shall be well with them that fear God, which fear before him:¹³But it shall not be well with the wicked, neither shall he prolong his days, which are as a shadow because he feareth not before God.¹⁴There is a vanity which is done upon the earth that there be just men, unto whom it happeneth according to the work of the wicked again, there be wicked men, to whom it happeneth according to the work of the righteous: I said that this also is vanity.¹⁵Then I commended mirth, because a man hath no better thing under the sun, than to eat, and to drink, and to be merry: for that shall abide with him of his labour the days of his life, which God giveth him under the sun.¹⁶When I applied mine heart to know wisdom, and to see the business that is done upon the earth: (for also there is that neither day nor night seeth sleep with his eyes:)¹⁷Then I beheld all the work of God, that a man cannot find out the work that is done under the sun: because though a man labour to seek it out, yet he shall not find it yea further though a wise man think to know it, yet shall he not be able to find it.

CHAPTER 9 ¹For all this I considered in my heart even to declare all this, that the righteous, and the wise, and their works, are in the hand of God: no man knoweth either love or hatred by all that is before them.²All things come alike to all: there is one event to the righteous, and to the wicked to the good and to the clean, and to the unclean to him that sacrificeth, and to him that sacrificeth not: as is the good, so is the sinner and he that sweareth, as he that feareth an oath.³This is an evil among all things that are done under the sun, that there is one event unto all: yea, also the heart of the sons of men is full of evil, and madness is in their heart while they live, and after that they go to the dead.⁴For to him that is joined to all the living there is hope: for a living dog is better than a dead lion.⁵For the living know that they shall die: but the dead know not any thing, neither have they any more a reward for the memory of them is forgotten.⁶Also their love, and their hatred, and their envy, is now perished neither have they any more a portion for ever in any thing that is done under the sun.⁷Go thy way, eat thy bread with joy, and drink thy wine with a merry heart for God now accepteth thy works.⁸Let thy garments be always white and let thy head lack no ointment.⁹Live joyfully with the wife whom thou lovest all the days of the life of thy vanity, which he hath given thee under the sun, all the days of thy vanity: for that is thy portion in this life, and in thy labour which thou takest under the sun.¹⁰Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might for there is no work, nor device, nor knowledge, nor wisdom, in the grave, whither thou goest.¹¹I returned, and saw under the sun, that the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, neither yet bread to the wise, nor yet riches to men of understanding, nor yet favour to men of skill but time and chance happeneth to them all.¹²For man also knoweth not his time: as the fishes that are taken in an evil net, and as the birds that are caught in the snare so are the sons of men snared in an evil time, when it falleth suddenly upon them.¹³This wisdom have I seen also under the sun, and it seemed great unto me:¹⁴There was a little city, and few men within it and there came a great king against it, and besieged it, and built great bulwarks against it:¹⁵Now there was found in it a poor wise man, and he by his wisdom delivered the city yet no man remembered that same poor man.¹⁶Then said I, Wisdom is better than strength: nevertheless the poor man's wisdom is despised, and his words are not heard.¹⁷The words of wise men are heard in quiet more than the cry of him that ruleth among fools.¹⁸Wisdom is better than weapons of war: but one sinner destroyeth much good.

CHAPTER 10 ¹Dead flies cause the ointment of the apothecary to send forth a stinking savour: so doth a little folly him that is in reputation for wisdom and honour.²A wise man's heart is at his right hand but a fool's heart at his left.³Yea also, when he that is a fool walketh by the way, his wisdom faileth him, and he saith to every one that he is a fool.⁴If the spirit of the ruler rise up against thee, leave not thy place for yielding pacifieth great offences.⁵There is an evil which I have seen under the sun, as an error which proceedeth from the ruler:⁶Folly is set in great dignity, and the rich sit in low place.⁷I have seen servants upon horses, and princes walking as servants upon the earth.⁸He that diggeth a pit shall fall into it and whoso breaketh an hedge, a serpent shall bite him.⁹Whoso removeth stones shall be hurt therewith and he that cleaveth wood shall be endangered thereby.¹⁰If the iron be blunt, and he do not whet the edge, then must he put to more strength: but wisdom is profitable to direct.¹¹Surely the serpent will bite without enchantment and a babbler is no better.¹²The words of a wise man's mouth are gracious but the lips of a fool will swallow up himself.¹³The beginning of the words of his mouth is foolishness: and the end of his talk is mischievous madness.¹⁴A fool also is full of words: a man cannot tell what shall be and what shall be after him, who can tell him?¹⁵The labour of the foolish wearieth every one of them, because he knoweth not how to go to the city.¹⁶Woe to thee, O land, when thy king is a child, and thy princes eat in the morning!¹⁷Blessed art thou, O land, when thy king is the son of nobles, and thy princes eat in due season, for strength, and not for drunkenness!¹⁸By much slothfulness the building decayeth and through idleness of the hands the house droppeth through.¹⁹A feast is made for laughter, and wine maketh merry: but money answereth all things.²⁰Curse not the king, no not in thy thought and curse not the rich in thy bedchamber: for a bird of the air shall carry the voice, and that which hath wings shall tell the matter.

CHAPTER 11 ¹Cast thy bread upon the waters: for thou shalt find it after many days.²Give a portion to seven, and also to eight for thou knowest not what evil shall be upon the earth.³If the clouds be full of rain, they empty themselves upon the earth: and if the tree fall toward the south, or toward the north, in the place where the tree falleth, there it shall be.⁴He that observeth the wind shall not sow and he that regardeth the clouds shall not reap.⁵As thou knowest not what is the way of the spirit, nor how the bones do grow in the womb of her that is with child: even so thou knowest not the works of God who maketh all.⁶In the morning sow thy seed, and in the evening withhold not thine hand: for thou knowest not whether shall prosper, either this or that, or whether they both shall be alike good.⁷Truly the light is sweet, and a pleasant thing it is for the eyes to behold the sun:⁸But if a man live many years, and rejoice in them all yet let him remember the days of darkness for they shall be many. All that cometh is vanity.⁹Rejoice, O young man, in thy youth and let thy heart cheer thee in the days of thy youth, and walk in the ways of thine heart, and in the sight of thine eyes: but know thou, that for all these things God will bring thee into judgment.¹⁰Therefore remove sorrow from thy heart, and put away evil from thy flesh: for childhood and youth are vanity.

CHAPTER 12 ¹Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth, while the evil days come not, nor the years draw nigh, when thou shalt say, I have no pleasure in them²While the sun, or the light, or the moon, or the stars, be not darkened, nor the clouds return after the rain:³In the day when the keepers of the house shall tremble, and the strong men shall bow themselves, and the grinders cease because they are few, and those that look out of the windows be darkened,⁴And the doors shall be shut in the streets, when the sound of the grinding is low, and he shall rise up at the voice of the bird, and all the daughters of musick shall be brought low⁵Also when they shall be afraid of that which is high, and fears shall be in the way, and the almond tree shall flourish, and the grasshopper shall be a burden, and desire shall fail: because man goeth to his long home, and the mourners go about the streets:⁶Or ever the silver cord be loosed, or the golden bowl be broken, or the pitcher be broken at the fountain, or the wheel broken at the cistern.⁷Then shall the dust return to the earth as it was: and the spirit shall return unto God who gave it.⁸Vanity of vanities, saith the preacher all is vanity.⁹And moreover, because the preacher was wise, he still taught the people knowledge yea, he gave good heed, and sought out, and set in order many proverbs.¹⁰The preacher sought to find out acceptable words: and that which was written was upright, even words of truth.¹¹The words of the wise are as goads, and as nails fastened by the masters of assemblies, which are given from one shepherd.¹²And further, by these, my son, be admonished: of making many books there is no end and much study is a weariness of the flesh.¹³Let us hear the conclusion of the whole matter: Fear God, and keep his commandments: for this is the whole duty of man.¹⁴For God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil.

SONG OF SOLOMON

CANTUS 1 ¹The song of songs, which is Solomon's.²Let him kiss me with the kisses of his mouth: for thy love is better than wine.³Because of the savour of thy good ointments thy name is as ointment poured forth, therefore do the virgins love thee.⁴Draw me, we will run after thee: the king hath brought me into his chambers: we will be glad and rejoice in thee, we will remember thy love more than wine: the upright love thee.⁵I am black, but comely, O ye daughters of Jerusalem, as the tents of Kedar, as the curtains of Solomon.⁶Look not upon me, because I am black, because the sun hath looked upon me: my mother's children were angry with me they made me the keeper of the vineyards but mine own vineyard have I not kept.⁷Tell me, O thou whom my soul loveth, where thou feedest, where thou makest thy flock to rest at noon: for why should I be as one that turneth aside by the flocks of thy companions?⁸If thou know not, O thou fairest among women, go thy way forth by the footsteps of the flock, and feed thy kids beside the shepherds' tents.⁹I have compared thee, O my love, to a company of horses in Pharaoh's chariots.¹⁰Thy cheeks are comely with rows of jewels, thy neck with chains of gold.¹¹We will make thee borders of gold with studs of silver.¹²While the king sitteth at his table, my spikenard sendeth forth the smell thereof.¹³A bundle of myrrh is my wellbeloved unto me he shall lie all night betwixt my breasts.¹⁴My beloved is unto me as a cluster of camphire in the vineyards of En-gedi.¹⁵Behold, thou art fair, my love behold, thou art fair thou hast doves' eyes.¹⁶Behold, thou art fair, my beloved, yea, pleasant: also our bed is green.¹⁷The beams of our house are cedar, and our rafters of fir.

CANTUS 2 ¹I am the rose of Sharon, and the lily of the valleys.²As the lily among thorns, so is my love among the daughters.³As the apple tree among the trees of the wood, so is my beloved among the sons. I sat down under his shadow with great delight, and his fruit was sweet to my taste.⁴He brought me to the banqueting house, and his banner over me was love.⁵Stay me with flagons, comfort me with apples: for I am sick of love.⁶His left hand is under my head, and his right hand doth embrace me.⁷I charge you, O ye daughters of Jerusalem, by the roes, and by the hinds of the field, that ye stir not up, nor awake my love, till he please.⁸The voice of my beloved! behold, he cometh leaping upon the mountains, skipping upon the hills.⁹My beloved is like a roe or a young hart: behold, he standeth behind our wall, he looketh forth at the windows, shewing himself through the lattice.¹⁰My beloved spake, and said unto me, Rise up, my love, my fair one, and come away.¹¹For, lo, the winter is past, the rain is over and gone.¹²The flowers appear on the earth the time of the singing of birds is come, and the voice of the turtle is heard in our land¹³The fig tree putteth forth her green figs, and the vines with the tender grape give a good smell. Arise, my love, my fair one, and come away.¹⁴O my dove, that art in the clefts of the rock, in the secret places of the stairs, let me see thy countenance, let me hear thy voice for sweet is thy voice, and thy countenance is comely.¹⁵Take us the foxes, the little foxes, that spoil the vines: for our vines have tender grapes.¹⁶My beloved is mine, and I am his: he feedeth among the lilies.¹⁷Until the day break, and the shadows flee away, turn, my beloved, and be thou like a roe or a young hart upon the mountains of Bether.

CANTUS 3 ¹By night on my bed I sought him whom my soul loveth: I sought him, but I found him not.²I will rise now, and go about the city in the streets, and in the broad ways I will seek him whom my soul loveth: I sought him, but I found him not.³The watchmen that go about the city found me: to whom I said, Saw ye him whom my soul loveth?⁴It was but a little that I passed from them, but I found him whom my soul loveth: I held him, and would not let him go, until I had brought him into my mother's house, and into the chamber of her that conceived me.⁵I charge you, O ye daughters of Jerusalem, by the roes, and by the hinds of the field, that ye stir not up, nor awake my love, till he please.⁶Who is this that cometh out of the wilderness like pillars of smoke, perfumed with myrrh and frankincense, with all powders of the merchant?⁷Behold his bed, which is Solomon's threescore valiant men are about it, of the valiant of Israel.⁸They all hold swords, being expert in war: every man hath his sword upon his thigh because of fear in the night.⁹King Solomon made himself a chariot of the wood of Lebanon.¹⁰He made the pillars thereof of silver, the bottom thereof of gold, the covering of it of purple, the midst thereof being paved with love, for the daughters of Jerusalem.¹¹Go forth, O ye daughters of Zion, and behold king Solomon with the crown wherewith his mother crowned him in the day of his espousals, and in the day of the gladness of his heart.

CANTUS 4 ¹Behold, thou art fair, my love behold, thou art fair thou hast doves' eyes within thy locks: thy hair is as a flock of goats, that appear from mount Gilead.²Thy teeth are like a flock of sheep that are even shorn, which came up from the washing whereof every one bear twins, and none is barren among them.³Thy lips are like a thread of scarlet, and thy speech is comely: thy temples are like a piece of a pomegranate within thy locks.⁴Thy neck is like the tower of David builded for an armoury, whereon there hang a thousand bucklers, all shields of mighty men.⁵Thy two breasts are like two young roes that are twins, which feed among the lilies.⁶Until the day break, and the shadows flee away, I will get me to the mountain of myrrh, and to the hill of frankincense.⁷Thou art all fair, my love there is no spot in thee.⁸Come with me from Lebanon, my spouse, with me from Lebanon: look from the top of Amana, from the top of Shenir and Hermon, from the lions' dens, from the mountains of the leopards.⁹Thou hast ravished my heart, my sister, my spouse thou hast ravished my heart with one of thine eyes, with one chain of thy neck.¹⁰How fair is thy love, my sister, my spouse! how much better is thy love than wine! and the smell of thine ointments than all spices!¹¹Thy lips, O my spouse, drop as the honeycomb: honey and milk are under thy tongue and the smell of thy garments is like the smell of Lebanon.¹²A garden inclosed is my sister, my spouse a spring shut up, a fountain sealed.¹³Thy plants are an orchard of pomegranates, with pleasant fruits camphire, with spikenard,¹⁴Spikenard and saffron calamus and cinnamon, with all trees of frankincense myrrh and aloes, with all the chief spices:¹⁵A fountain of gardens, a well of living waters, and streams from Lebanon.¹⁶Awake, O north wind and come, thou south blow upon my garden, that the spices thereof may flow out. Let my beloved come into his garden, and eat his pleasant fruits.

CANTUS 5 ¹I am come into my garden, my sister, my spouse: I have gathered my myrrh with my spice I have eaten my honeycomb with my honey I have drunk my wine with my milk: eat, O friends drink, yea, drink abundantly, O beloved.²I sleep, but my heart waketh: it is the voice of my beloved that knocketh, saying, Open to me, my sister, my love, my dove, my undefiled: for my head is filled with dew, and my locks with the drops of the night.³I have put off my coat how shall I put it on? I have washed my feet how shall I defile them?⁴My beloved put in his hand by the hole of the door, and my bowels were moved for him.⁵I rose up to open to my beloved and my hands dropped with myrrh, and my fingers with sweet smelling myrrh, upon the handles of the lock.⁶I opened to my beloved but my beloved had withdrawn himself, and was gone: my soul failed when he spake: I sought him, but I could not find him I called him, but he gave me no answer.⁷The watchmen that went about the city found me, they smote me, they wounded me the keepers of the walls took away my veil from me.⁸I charge you, O daughters of Jerusalem, if ye find my beloved, that ye tell him, that I am sick of love.⁹What is thy beloved more than another beloved, O thou fairest among women? what is thy beloved more than another beloved, that thou dost so charge us?¹⁰My beloved is white and ruddy, the chiefest among ten thousand.¹¹His head is as the most fine gold, his locks are bushy, and black as a raven.¹²His eyes are as the eyes of doves by the rivers of waters, washed with milk, and fitly set.¹³His cheeks are as a bed of spices, as sweet flowers: his lips like lilies, dropping sweet smelling myrrh.¹⁴His hands are as gold rings set with the beryl: his belly is as bright ivory overlaid with sapphires.¹⁵His legs are as pillars of marble, set upon sockets of fine gold: his countenance is as Lebanon, excellent as the cedars.¹⁶His mouth is most sweet: yea, he is altogether lovely. This is my beloved, and this is my friend, O daughters of Jerusalem.

CANTUS 6 ¹Whither is thy beloved gone, O thou fairest among women? whither is thy beloved turned aside? that we may seek him with thee.²My beloved is gone down into his garden, to the beds of spices, to feed in the gardens, and to gather lilies.³I am my beloved's, and my beloved is mine: he feedeth among the lilies.⁴Thou art beautiful, O my love, as Tirzah, comely as Jerusalem, terrible as an army with banners.⁵Turn away thine eyes from me, for they have overcome me: thy hair is as a flock of goats that appear from Gilead.⁶Thy teeth are as a flock of sheep which go up from the washing, whereof every one beareth twins, and there is not one barren among them.⁷As a piece of a pomegranate are thy temples within thy locks.⁸There are threescore queens, and fourscore concubines, and virgins without number.⁹My dove, my undefiled is but one she is the only one of her mother, she is the choice one of her that bare her. The daughters saw her, and blessed her yea, the queens and the concubines, and they praised her.¹⁰Who is she that looketh forth as the morning, fair as the moon, clear as the sun, and terrible as an army with banners?¹¹I went down into the garden of nuts to see the fruits of the valley, and to see whether the vine flourished, and the pomegranates budded.¹²Or ever I was aware, my soul made me like the chariots of Amminadib.¹³Return, return, O Shulamite return, return, that we may look upon thee. What will ye see in the Shulamite? As it were the company of two armies.

CANTUS 7 ¹How beautiful are thy feet with shoes, O prince's daughter! the joints of thy thighs are like jewels, the work of the hands of a cunning workman.²Thy navel is like a round goblet, which wanteth not liquor: thy belly is like an heap of wheat set about with lilies.³Thy two breasts are like two young roes that are twins.⁴Thy neck is as a tower of ivory thine eyes like the fishpools in Heshbon, by the gate of Bath-rabbim: thy nose is as the tower of Lebanon which looketh toward Damascus.⁵Thine head upon thee is like Carmel, and the hair of thine head like purple the king is held in the galleries.⁶How fair and how pleasant art thou, O love, for delights!⁷This thy stature is like to a palm tree, and thy breasts to clusters of grapes.⁸I said, I will go up to the palm tree, I will take hold of the boughs thereof: now also thy breasts shall be as clusters of the vine, and the smell of thy nose like apples⁹And the roof of thy mouth like the best wine for my beloved, that goeth down sweetly, causing the lips of those that are asleep to speak.¹⁰I am my beloved's, and his desire is toward me.¹¹Come, my beloved, let us go forth into the field let us lodge in the villages.¹²Let us get up early to the vineyards let us see if the vine flourish, whether the tender grape appear, and the pomegranates bud forth: there will I give thee my loves.¹³The mandrakes give a smell, and at our gates are all manner of pleasant fruits, new and old, which I have laid up for thee, O my beloved.

CANTUS 8 ¹O that thou wert as my brother, that sucked the breasts of my mother! when I should find thee without, I would kiss thee yea, I should not be despised.²I would lead thee, and bring thee into my mother's house, who would instruct me: I would cause thee to drink of spiced wine of the juice of my pomegranate.³His left hand should be under my head, and his right hand should embrace me.⁴I charge you, O daughters of Jerusalem, that ye stir not up, nor awake my love, until he please.⁵Who is this that cometh up from the wilderness, leaning upon her beloved? I raised thee up under the apple tree: there thy mother brought thee forth: there she brought thee forth that bare thee.⁶Set me as a seal upon thine heart, as a seal upon thine arm: for love is strong as death jealousy is cruel as the grave: the coals thereof are coals of fire, which hath a most vehement flame.⁷Many waters cannot quench love, neither can the floods drown it: if a man would give all the substance of his house for love, it would utterly be contemned.⁸We have a little sister, and she hath no breasts:

what shall we do for our sister in the day when she shall be spoken for?⁹If she be a wall, we will build upon her a palace of silver: and if she be a door, we will inclose her with boards of cedar.¹⁰I am a wall, and my breasts like towers: then was I in his eyes as one that found favour.¹¹Solomon had a vineyard at Baal-hamon he let out the vineyard unto keepers every one for the fruit thereof was to bring a thousand pieces of silver.¹²My vineyard, which is mine, is before me: thou, O Solomon, must have a thousand, and those that keep the fruit thereof two hundred.¹³Thou that dwellest in the gardens, the companions hearken to thy voice: cause me to hear it.¹⁴Make haste, my beloved, and be thou like to a roe or to a young hart upon the mountains of spices.

WISDOM OF SOLOMON

CHAPTER 1 ¹Love righteousness, ye that be judges of the earth: think of the Lord with a good (heart,) and in simplicity of heart seek him.²For he will be found of them that tempt him not and sheweth himself unto such as do not distrust him.³For froward thoughts separate from God: and his power, when it is tried, reproveth the unwise.⁴For into a malicious soul wisdom shall not enter nor dwell in the body that is subject unto sin.⁵For the holy spirit of discipline will flee deceit, and remove from thoughts that are without understanding, and will not abide when unrighteousness cometh in.⁶For wisdom is a loving spirit and will not acquit a blasphemer of his words: for God is witness of his reins, and a true beholder of his heart, and a hearer of his tongue.⁷For the Spirit of the Lord filleth the world: and that which containeth all things hath knowledge of the voice.⁸Therefore he that speaketh unrighteous things cannot be hid: neither shall vengeance, when it punisheth, pass by him.⁹For inquisition shall be made into the counsels of the ungodly: and the sound of his words shall come unto the Lord for the manifestation of his wicked deeds.¹⁰For the ear of jealousy heareth all things: and the noise of murmurings is not hid.¹¹Therefore beware of murmuring, which is unprofitable and refrain your tongue from backbiting: for there is no word so secret, that shall go for nought: and the mouth that beliieth slayeth the soul.¹²Seek not death in the error of your life: and pull not upon yourselves destruction with the works of your hands.¹³For God made not death: neither hath he pleasure in the destruction of the living.¹⁴For he created all things, that they might have their being: and the generations of the world were healthful and there is no poison of destruction in them, nor the kingdom of death upon the earth:¹⁵(For righteousness is immortal:)¹⁶But ungodly men with their works and words called it to them: for when they thought to have it their friend, they consumed to nought, and made a covenant with it, because they are worthy to take part with it.

CHAPTER 2 ¹For the ungodly said, reasoning with themselves, but not aright, Our life is short and tedious, and in the death of a man there is no remedy: neither was there any man known to have returned from the grave.²For we are born at all adventure: and we shall be hereafter as though we had never been: for the breath in our nostrils is as smoke, and a little spark in the moving of our heart:³Which being extinguished, our body shall be turned into ashes, and our spirit shall vanish as the soft air,⁴And our name shall be forgotten in time, and no man shall have our works in remembrance, and our life shall pass away as the trace of a cloud, and shall be dispersed as a mist, that is driven away with the beams of the sun, and overcome with the heat thereof.⁵For our time is a very shadow that passeth away and after our end there is no returning: for it is fast sealed, so that no man cometh again.⁶Come on therefore, let us enjoy the good things that are present: and let us speedily use the creatures like as in youth.⁷Let us fill ourselves with costly wine and ointments: and let no flower of the spring pass by us:⁸Let us crown ourselves with rosebuds, before they be withered:⁹Let none of us go without his part of our voluptuousness: let us leave tokens of our joyfulness in every place: for this is our portion, and our lot is this.¹⁰Let us oppress the poor righteous man, let us not spare the widow, nor reverence the ancient gray hairs of the aged.¹¹Let our strength be the law of justice: for that which is feeble is found to be nothing worth.¹²Therefore let us lie in wait for the righteous because he is not for our turn, and he is clean contrary to our doings: he upbraideth us with our offending the law, and objecteth to our infamy the transgressings of our education.¹³He professeth to have the knowledge of God: and he calleth himself the child of the Lord.¹⁴He was made to reprove our thoughts.¹⁵He is grievous unto us even to behold: for his life is not like other men's, his ways are of another fashion.¹⁶We are esteemed of him as counterfeits: he abstaineth from our ways as from filthiness: he pronounceth the end of the just to be blessed, and maketh his boast that God is his father.¹⁷Let us see if his words be true: and let us prove what shall happen in the end of him.¹⁸For if the just man be the son of God, he will help him, and deliver him from the hand of his enemies.¹⁹Let us examine him with despitefulness and torture, that we may know his meekness, and prove his patience.²⁰Let us condemn him with a shameful death: for by his own saying he shall be respected.²¹Such things they did imagine, and were deceived: for their own wickedness hath blinded them.²²As for the mysteries of God, they knew them not: neither hoped they for the wages of righteousness, nor discerned a reward for blameless souls.²³For God created man to be immortal, and made him to be an image of his own eternity.²⁴Nevertheless through envy of the devil came death into the world: and they that do hold of his side do find it.

CHAPTER 3 ¹But the souls of the righteous are in the hand of God, and there shall no torment touch them.²In the sight of the unwise they seemed to die: and their departure is taken for misery,³And their going from us to be utter destruction: but they are in peace.⁴For though they be punished in the sight of men, yet is their hope full of immortality.⁵And having been a little chastised, they shall be greatly rewarded: for God proved them, and found them worthy for himself.⁶As gold in the furnace hath he tried them, and received them as a burnt offering.⁷And in the time of their visitation they shall shine, and run to and fro like sparks among the stubble.⁸They shall judge the nations, and have dominion over the people, and their Lord shall reign for ever.⁹They that put their trust in him shall understand the truth: and such as be faithful in love shall abide with him: for grace and mercy is to his saints, and he hath care for his elect.¹⁰But the ungodly shall be punished according to their own imaginations, which have neglected the righteous, and forsaken the Lord.¹¹For whoso despiseth wisdom and nurture, he is miserable, and their hope is vain, their labours unfruitful, and their works unprofitable.¹²Their wives are foolish, and their children wicked.¹³Their offspring is cursed. Wherefore blessed is the barren that is undefiled, which hath not known the sinful bed: she shall have fruit in the visitation of souls.¹⁴And blessed is the eunuch, which with his hands hath wrought no iniquity, nor imagined wicked things against God: for unto him shall be given the special gift of faith, and an inheritance in the temple of the Lord more acceptable to his mind.¹⁵For glorious is the fruit of good labours: and the root of wisdom shall never fall away.¹⁶As for the children of adulterers, they shall not come to their perfection, and the seed of an unrighteous bed shall be rooted out.¹⁷For though they live long, yet shall they be nothing regarded: and their last age shall be without honour.¹⁸Or, if they die quickly, they have no hope, neither comfort in the day of trial.¹⁹For horrible is the end of the unrighteous generation.

CHAPTER 4 ¹Better it is to have no children, and to have virtue: for the memorial thereof is immortal: because it is known with God, and with men.²When it is present, men take example at it and when it is gone, they desire it: it weareth a crown, and triumpheth for ever, having gotten the victory, striving for undefiled rewards.³But the multiplying brood of the ungodly shall not thrive, nor take deep rooting from bastard slips, nor lay any fast foundation.⁴For though they flourish in branches for a time yet standing not last, they shall be shaken with the wind, and through the force of winds they shall be rooted out.⁵The imperfect branches shall be broken off, their fruit unprofitable, not ripe to eat, yea, meet for nothing.⁶For children begotten of unlawful beds are witnesses of wickedness against their parents in their trial.⁷But though the righteous be prevented with death, yet shall he be in rest.⁸For honourable age is not that which standeth in length of time, nor that is measured by number of years.⁹But wisdom is the gray hair unto men, and an unspotted life is old age.¹⁰He pleased God, and was beloved of him: so that living among sinners he was translated.¹¹Yea speedily was he taken away, lest that wickedness should alter his understanding, or deceit beguile his soul.¹²For the bewitching of naughtiness doth obscure things that are honest and the wandering of concupiscence doth undermine the simple mind.¹³He, being made perfect in a short time, fulfilled a long time:¹⁴For his soul pleased the Lord: therefore hastened he to take him away from among the wicked.¹⁵This the people saw, and understood it not, neither laid they up this in their minds, That his grace and mercy is with his saints, and that he hath respect unto his chosen.¹⁶Thus the righteous that is dead shall condemn the ungodly which are living and youth that is soon perfected the many years and old age of the unrighteous.¹⁷For they shall see the end of the wise, and shall not understand what God in his counsel hath decreed of him, and to what end the Lord hath set him in safety.¹⁸They shall see him, and despise him but God shall laugh them to scorn: and they shall hereafter be a vile carcase, and a reproach among the dead for evermore.¹⁹For he shall rend them, and cast them down headlong, that they shall be speechless and he shall shake them from the foundation and they shall be utterly laid waste, and be in sorrow and their memorial shall perish.²⁰And when they cast up the accounts of their sins, they shall come with fear: and their own iniquities shall convince them to their face.

CHAPTER 5 ¹Then shall the righteous man stand in great boldness before the face of such as have afflicted him, and made no account of his labours.²When they see it, they shall be troubled with terrible fear, and shall be amazed at the strangeness of his salvation, so far beyond all that they looked for.³And they repenting and groaning for anguish of spirit shall say within themselves, This was he, whom we had sometimes in derision, and a proverb of reproach:⁴We fools accounted his life madness, and his end to be without honour.⁵How is he numbered among the children of God, and his lot is among the saints!⁶Therefore have we erred from the way of truth, and the light of righteousness hath not shined unto us, and the sun of righteousness rose not upon us.⁷We wearied ourselves in the way of wickedness and destruction: yea, we have gone through deserts, where there lay no way: but as for the way of the Lord, we have not known it.⁸What hath pride profited us? or what good hath riches with our vaunting brought us?⁹All those things are passed away like a shadow, and as a post that hasteth by.¹⁰And as a ship that passeth over the waves of the water, which when it is gone by, the trace thereof cannot be found, neither the pathway of the keel in the waves.¹¹Or as when a bird hath flown through the air, there is no token of her way to be found, but the light air being beaten with the stroke of her wings and parted with the violent noise and motion of them, is passed through, and therein afterwards no sign where she went is to be found.¹²Or like as when an arrow is shot at a mark, it parteth the air, which immediately cometh together again, so that a man cannot know where it went through.¹³Even so we in like manner, as soon as we were born, began to draw to our end, and had no sign of virtue to shew but were consumed in our own wickedness.¹⁴For the hope of the Godly is like dust that is blown away with the wind like a thin froth that is driven away with the storm like as the smoke which is dispersed here and there with a tempest, and passeth away as the remembrance of a guest that tarrieth but a day.¹⁵But the righteous live for evermore their reward also is with the Lord, and the care of them is with the most High.¹⁶Therefore shall they receive a glorious kingdom, and a beautiful crown from the Lord's hand: for with his right hand shall he cover them, and with his arm shall he protect them.¹⁷He shall take to him his jealousy for complete armour, and make the creature his weapon for the revenge of his enemies.¹⁸He shall put on righteousness as a breastplate, and true judgment instead of an helmet.¹⁹He shall take holiness for an invincible shield.²⁰His severe wrath shall he sharpen for a sword, and the world shall fight with him against the unwise.²¹Then shall the right aiming thunderbolts go abroad and from the clouds, as from a well drawn bow, shall they fly to the mark.²²And hailstones full of wrath shall be cast as out of a stone bow, and the water of the sea shall rage against them, and the floods shall cruelly drown them.²³Yea, a mighty wind shall stand up against them, and like a storm shall blow them away: thus iniquity shall lay waste the whole earth, and ill dealing shall overthrow the thrones of the mighty.

CHAPTER 6 ¹Hear therefore, O ye kings, and understand learn, ye that be judges of the ends of the earth.²Give ear, ye that rule the people, and glory in the multitude of nations.³For power is given you of the Lord, and sovereignty from the Highest, who shall try your works, and search out your counsels.⁴Because, being ministers of his kingdom, ye have not judged aright, nor kept the law, nor walked after the counsel of God⁵Horribly and speedily shall he come upon you: for a sharp judgment shall be to them that be in high places.⁶For mercy will soon pardon the meanest: but mighty men shall be mightily tormented.⁷For he which is Lord over all shall fear no man's person, neither shall he stand in awe of any man's greatness: for he hath made the small and great, and careth for all alike.⁸But a sore trial shall come upon the mighty.⁹Unto you therefore, O kings, do I speak, that ye may learn wisdom, and not fall away.¹⁰For they that keep holiness holily shall be judged holy: and they that have learned such things shall find what to answer.¹¹Wherefore set your affection upon my words desire them, and ye shall be instructed.¹²Wisdom is glorious, and never fadeth away: yea, she is easily seen of them that love her, and found of such as seek her.¹³She preventeth them that desire her, in making herself first known unto them.¹⁴Whoso seeketh her early shall have no great travail: for he shall find her sitting at his doors.¹⁵To think therefore upon her is perfection of wisdom: and whoso watcheth for her shall quickly be without care.¹⁶For she goeth about seeking such as are worthy of her, sheweth herself favourably unto them in the ways, and meeteth them in every thought.¹⁷For the very true beginning of her is the desire of discipline and the care of discipline is love¹⁸And love is the keeping of her laws and the giving heed unto her laws is the assurance of incorruption¹⁹And incorruption maketh us near unto God:²⁰Therefore the desire of wisdom bringeth to a kingdom.²¹If your delight be then in thrones and sceptres, O ye kings of the people, honour wisdom, that ye may reign for evermore.²²As for wisdom, what she is, and how she came up, I will tell you, and will not hide mysteries from you: but will seek her out from the beginning of her nativity, and bring the knowledge of her into light, and will not pass over the truth.²³Neither will I go with consuming envy for such a man shall have no fellowship with wisdom.²⁴But the multitude of the wise is the welfare of the world: and a wise king is the upholding of the people.²⁵Receive therefore instruction through my words, and it shall do you good.

CHAPTER 7 ¹I myself also am a mortal man, like to all, and the offspring of him that was first made of the earth,²And in my mother's womb was fashioned to be flesh in the time of ten months, being compacted in blood, of the seed of man, and the pleasure that came with sleep.³And when I was born, I drew in the common air, and fell upon the earth, which is of like nature, and the first voice which I uttered was crying, as all others do.⁴I was nursed in swaddling clothes, and that with cares.⁵For there is no king that had any other beginning of birth.⁶For all men have one entrance into life, and the like going out.⁷Wherefore I prayed, and understanding was given me: I called upon God, and the spirit of wisdom came to me.⁸I preferred her before sceptres and thrones, and esteemed riches nothing in comparison of her.⁹Neither compared I unto her any precious stone, because all gold in respect of her is as a little sand, and silver shall be counted as clay before her.¹⁰I loved her above health and beauty, and chose to have her instead of light: for the light that cometh from her never goeth out.¹¹All good things together came to me with her, and innumerable riches in her hands.¹²And I rejoiced in them all, because wisdom goeth before them: and I knew not that she was the mother of them.¹³I learned diligently, and do communicate her liberally: I do not hide her riches.¹⁴For she is a treasure unto men that never faileth: which they that use become the friends of God, being commended for the gifts that come from learning.¹⁵God hath granted me to speak as I would, and to conceive as is meet for the things that are given me: because it is he that leadeth unto wisdom, and directeth the wise.¹⁶For in his hand are both we and our words all wisdom also, and knowledge of workmanship.¹⁷For he hath given me certain knowledge of the things that are, namely, to know how the world was made, and the operation of the elements.¹⁸The beginning, ending, and midst of the times: the alterations of the turning of the sun, and the change of seasons:¹⁹The circuits of years, and the positions of stars:²⁰The natures of living creatures, and the furies of wild beasts: the violence of winds, and the reasonings of men: the diversities of plants and the virtues of roots:²¹And all such things as are either secret or manifest, them I know.²²For wisdom, which is the worker of all things, taught me: for in her is an understanding spirit holy, one only, manifold, subtil, lively, clear, undefiled, plain, not subject to hurt, loving the thing that is good quick, which cannot be letted, ready to do good,²³Kind to man, steadfast, sure, free from care, having all power, overseeing all things, and going through all understanding, pure, and most subtil, spirits.²⁴For wisdom is more moving than any motion: she passeth and goeth through all things by reason of her pureness.²⁵For she is the breath of the power of God, and a pure influence flowing from the glory of the Almighty: therefore can no defiled thing fall into her.²⁶For she is the brightness of the everlasting light, the unspotted mirror of the power of God, and the image of his goodness.²⁷And being but one, she can do all things: and remaining in herself, she maketh all things new: and in all ages entering into holy souls, she maketh them friends of God, and prophets.²⁸For God loveth none but him that dwelleth with wisdom.²⁹For she is more beautiful than the sun, and above all the order of stars: being compared with the light, she is found before it.³⁰For after this cometh night: but vice shall not prevail against wisdom.

CHAPTER 8 ¹Wisdom reacheth from one end to another mightily: and sweetly doth she order all things.²I loved her, and sought her out from my youth, I desired to make her my spouse, and I was a lover of her beauty.³In that she is conversant with God, she magnifieth her nobility: yea, the Lord of all things himself loved her.⁴For she is privy to the mysteries of the knowledge of God, and a lover of his works.⁵If riches be a possession to be desired in this life what is richer than wisdom, that worketh all things?⁶And if prudence work who of all that are is a more cunning workman than she?⁷And if a man love righteousness her labours are virtues: for she teacheth temperance and prudence, justice and fortitude: which are such things, as en can have nothing more profitable in their life.⁸If a man desire much experience, she knoweth things of old, and conjectureth aright what is to come: she knoweth the subtilties of speeches, and can expound dark sentences: she foreseeth signs and wonders, and the events of seasons and times.⁹Therefore I purposed to take her to me to live with me, knowing that she would be a counsellor of good things, and a comfort in cares and grief.¹⁰For her sake I shall have estimation among the multitude, and honour with the elders, though I be young.¹¹I shall be found of a quick conceit in judgment, and shall be admired in the sight of great men.¹²When I hold my tongue, they shall bide my leisure, and when I speak, they shall give good ear unto me: if I talk much, they shall lay their hands upon their mouth.¹³Moreover by the means of her I shall obtain immortality, and leave behind me an everlasting memorial to them that come after me.¹⁴I shall set the people in order, and the nations shall be subject unto me.¹⁵Horrible tyrants shall be afraid, when they do but hear of me I shall be found good among the multitude, and valiant in war.¹⁶After I am come into mine house, I will repose myself with her: for her conversation hath no bitterness and to live with her hath no sorrow, but mirth and joy.¹⁷Now when I considered these things in myself, and pondered them in my heart, how that to be allied unto wisdom is immortality¹⁸And great pleasure it is to have her friendship and in the works of her hands are infinite riches and in the exercise of conference with her, prudence and in talking with her, a good report I went about seeking how to take her to me.¹⁹For I was a witty child, and had a good spirit.²⁰Yea rather, being good, I came into a body undefiled.²¹ Nevertheless, when I perceived that I could not otherwise obtain her, except God gave her me and that was a point of wisdom also to know whose gift she was I prayed unto the Lord, and besought him, and with my whole heart I said.

CHAPTER 9 ¹O God of my fathers, and Lord of mercy, who hast made all things with thy word,² And ordained man through thy wisdom, that he should have dominion over the creatures which thou hast made,³ And order the world according to equity and righteousness, and execute judgment with an upright heart:⁴ Give me wisdom, that sitteth by thy throne and reject me not from among thy children:⁵ For I thy servant and son of thine handmaid am a feeble person, and of a short time, and too young for the understanding of judgment and laws.⁶ For though a man be never so perfect among the children of men, yet if thy wisdom be not with him, he shall be nothing regarded.⁷ Thou hast chosen me to be a king of thy people, and a judge of thy sons and daughters:⁸ Thou hast commanded me to build a temple upon thy holy mount, and an altar in the city wherein thou dwellest, a resemblance of the holy tabernacle, which thou hast prepared from the beginning.⁹ And wisdom was with thee: which knoweth thy works, and was present when thou madest the world, and knew what was acceptable in thy sight, and right in thy commandments.¹⁰ O send her out of thy holy heavens, and from the throne of thy glory, that being present she may labour with me, that I may know what is pleasing unto thee.¹¹ For she knoweth and understandeth all things, and she shall lead me soberly in my doings, and preserve me in her power.¹² So shall my works be acceptable, and then shall I judge thy people righteously, and be worthy to sit in my father's seat.¹³ For what man is he that can know the counsel of God? or who can think what the will of the Lord is?¹⁴ For the thoughts of mortal men are miserable, and our devices are but uncertain.¹⁵ For the corruptible body presseth down the soul, and the earthy tabernacle weigheth down the mind that museth upon many things.¹⁶ And hardly do we guess aright at things that are upon earth, and with labour do we find the things that are before us: but the things that are in heaven who hath searched out?¹⁷ And thy counsel who hath known, except thou give wisdom, and send thy Holy Spirit from above?¹⁸For so the ways of them which lived on the earth were reformed, and men were taught the things that are pleasing unto thee, and were saved through wisdom.

CHAPTER 10 ¹She preserved the first formed father of the world, that was created alone, and brought him out of his fall,²And gave him power to rule all things.³But when the unrighteous went away from her in his anger, he perished also in the fury wherewith he murdered his brother.⁴For whose cause the earth being drowned with the flood, wisdom again preserved it, and directed the course of the righteous in a piece of wood of small value.⁵Moreover, the nations in their wicked conspiracy being confounded, she found out the righteous, and preserved him blameless unto God, and kept him strong against his tender compassion toward his son.⁶When the ungodly perished, she delivered the righteous man, who fled from the fire which fell down upon the five cities.⁷Of whose wickedness even to this day the waste land that smoketh is a testimony, and plants bearing fruit that never come to ripeness: and a standing pillar of salt is a monument of an unbelieving soul.⁸For regarding not wisdom, they gat not only this hurt, that they knew not the things which were good but also left behind them to the world a memorial of their foolishness: so that in the things wherein they offended they could not so much as be hid.⁹Rut wisdom delivered from pain those that attended upon her.¹⁰When the righteous fled from his brother's wrath she guided him in right paths, shewed him the kingdom of God, and gave him knowledge of holy things, made him rich in his travels, and multiplied the fruit of his labours.¹¹In the covetousness of such as oppressed him she stood by him, and made him rich.¹²She defended him from his enemies, and kept him safe from those that lay in wait, and in a sore conflict she gave him the victory that he might know that goodness is stronger than all.¹³When the righteous was sold, she forsook him not, but delivered him from sin: she went down with him into the pit,¹⁴And left him not in bonds, till she brought him the sceptre of the kingdom, and power against those that oppressed him: as for them that had accused him, she shewed them to be liars, and gave him perpetual glory.¹⁵She delivered the righteous people and blameless seed from the nation that oppressed them.¹⁶She entered into the soul of the servant of the Lord, and withstood dreadful kings in wonders and signs¹⁷Rendered to the righteous a reward of their labours, guided them in a marvellous way, and was unto them for a cover by day, and a light of stars in the night season¹⁸Brought them through the Red sea, and led them through much water:¹⁹But she drowned their enemies, and cast them up out of the bottom of the deep.²⁰Therefore the righteous spoiled the ungodly, and praised thy holy name, O Lord, and magnified with one accord thine hand, that fought for them.²¹For wisdom opened the mouth of the dumb, and made the tongues of them that cannot speak eloquent.

CHAPTER 11 ¹She prospered their works in the hand of the holy prophet.²They went through the wilderness that was not inhabited, and pitched tents in places where there lay no way.³They stood against their enemies, and were avenged of their adversaries.⁴When they were thirsty, they called upon thee, and water was given them out of the flinty rock, and their thirst was quenched out of the hard stone.⁵For by what things their enemies were punished, by the same they in their need were benefited.⁶For instead of of a perpetual running river troubled with foul blood,⁷For a manifest reproof of that commandment, whereby the infants were slain, thou gavest unto them abundance of water by a means which they hoped not for:⁸Declaring by that thirst then how thou hadst punished their adversaries.⁹For when they were tried albeit but in mercy chastised, they knew how the ungodly were judged in wrath and tormented, thirsting in another manner than the just.¹⁰For these thou didst admonish and try, as a father: but the other, as a severe king, thou didst condemn and punish.¹¹Whether they were absent or present, they were vexed alike.¹²For a double grief came upon them, and a groaning for the remembrance of things past.¹³For when they heard by their own punishments the other to be benefited, they had some feeling of the Lord.¹⁴For whom they respected with scorn, when he was long before thrown out at the casting forth of the infants, him in the end, when they saw what came to pass, they admired.¹⁵But for the foolish devices of their wickedness, wherewith being deceived they worshipped serpents void of reason, and vile beasts, thou didst send a multitude of unreasonable beasts upon them for vengeance¹⁶That they might know, that wherewithal a man sinneth, by the same also shall he be punished.¹⁷For thy Almighty hand, that made the world of matter without form, wanted not means to send among them a multitude of bears or fierce lions,¹⁸Or unknown wild beasts, full of rage, newly created, breathing out either a fiery vapour, or filthy scents of scattered smoke, or shooting horrible sparkles out of their eyes:¹⁹Whereof not only the harm might dispatch them at once, but also the terrible sight utterly destroy them.²⁰Yea, and without these might they have fallen down with one blast, being persecuted of vengeance, and scattered abroad through the breath of thy power: but thou hast ordered all things in measure and number and weight.²¹For thou canst shew thy great strength at all times when thou wilt and who may withstand the power of thine arm?²²For the whole world before thee is as a little grain of the balance, yea, as a drop of the morning dew that falleth down upon the earth.²³But thou hast mercy upon all for thou canst do all things, and winkest at the sins of men, because they should amend.²⁴For thou lovest all the things that are, and abhorrest nothing which thou hast made: for never wouldest thou have made any thing, if thou hadst hated it.²⁵And how could any thing have endured, if it had not been thy will? or been preserved, if not called by thee?²⁶But thou sparest all: for they are thine, O Lord, thou lover of souls.

CHAPTER 12 ¹For thine incorruptible Spirit is in all things.²Therefore chastenest thou them by little and little that offend, and warnest them by putting them in remembrance wherein they have offended, that leaving their wickedness they may believe on thee, O Lord.³For it was thy will to destroy by the hands of our fathers both those old inhabitants of thy holy land,⁴Whom thou hatedst for doing most odious works of witchcrafts, and wicked sacrifices⁵And also those merciless murderers of children, and devourers of man's flesh, and the feasts of blood,⁶With their priests out of the midst of their idolatrous crew, and the parents, that killed with their own hands souls destitute of help:⁷That the land, which thou esteemedst above all other, might receive a worthy colony of God's children.⁸Nevertheless even those thou sparedst as men, and didst send wasps, forerunners of thine host, to destroy them by little and little.⁹Not that thou wast unable to bring the ungodly under the hand of the righteous in battle, or to destroy them at once with cruel beasts, or with one rough word:¹⁰But executing thy judgments upon them by little and little, thou gavest them place of repentance, not being ignorant that they were a naughty generation, and that their malice was bred in them, and that their cogitation would never be changed.¹¹For it was a cursed seed from the beginning neither didst thou for fear of any man give them pardon for those things wherein they sinned.¹²For who shall say, What hast thou done? or who shall withstand thy judgment? or who shall accuse thee for the nations that perish, whom thou made? or who shall come to stand against thee, to be revenged for the unrighteous men?¹³For neither is there any God but thou that careth for all, to whom thou mightest shew that thy judgment is not unright.¹⁴Neither shall king or tyrant be able to set his face against thee for any whom thou hast punished.¹⁵Forsomuch then as thou art righteous thyself, thou orderest all things righteously: thinking it not agreeable with thy power to condemn him that hath not deserved to be punished.¹⁶For thy power is the beginning of righteousness, and because thou art the Lord of all, it maketh thee to be gracious unto all.¹⁷For when men will not believe that thou art of a full power, thou shewest thy strength, and among them that know it thou makest their boldness manifest.¹⁸But thou, mastering thy power, judgest with equity, and orderest us with great favour: for thou mayest use power when thou wilt.¹⁹But by such works hast thou taught thy people that the just man should be merciful, and hast made thy children to be of a good hope that thou givest repentance for sins.²⁰For if thou didst punish the enemies of thy children, and the condemned to death, with such deliberation, giving them time and place, whereby they might be delivered from their malice:²¹With how great circumspection didst thou judge thine own sons, unto whose fathers thou hast sworn, and made covenants of good promises?²²Therefore, whereas thou dost chasten us, thou scourgest our enemies a thousand times more, to the intent that, when we judge, we should carefully think of thy goodness, and when we ourselves are judged, we should look for mercy.²³Wherefore, whereas men have lived dissolutely and unrighteously, thou hast tormented them with their own abominations.²⁴For they went astray very far in the ways of error, and held them for gods, which even among the beasts of their enemies were despised, being deceived, as children of no understanding.²⁵Therefore unto them, as to children without the use of reason, thou didst send a judgment to mock them.²⁶But they that would not be reformed by that correction, wherein he dallied with them, shall feel a judgment worthy of God.²⁷For, look, for what things they grudged, when they were punished, that is, for them whom they thought to be gods [now] being punished in them, when they saw it, they acknowledged him to be the true God, whom before they denied to know: and therefore came extreme damnation upon them.

CHAPTER 13 ¹Surely vain are all men by nature, who are ignorant of God, and could not out of the good things that are seen know him that is: neither by considering the works did they acknowledge the workmaster²But deemed either fire, or wind, or the swift air, or the circle of the stars, or the violent water, or the lights of heaven, to be the gods which govern the world.³With whose beauty if they being delighted took them to be gods let them know how much better the Lord of them is: for the first author of beauty hath created them.⁴But if they were astonished at their power and virtue, let them understand by them, how much mightier he is that made them.⁵For by the greatness and beauty of the creatures proportionably the maker of them is seen.⁶But yet for this they are the less to be blamed: for they peradventure err, seeking God, and desirous to find him.⁷For being conversant in his works they search him diligently, and believe their sight: because the things are beautiful that are seen.⁸Howbeit neither are they to be pardoned.⁹For if they were able to know so much, that they could aim at the world how did they not sooner find out the Lord thereof?¹⁰But miserable are they, and in dead things is their hope, who call them gods, which are the works of men's hands, gold and silver, to shew art in, and resemblances of beasts, or a stone good for nothing, the work of an ancient hand.¹¹Now a carpenter that felleth timber, after he hath sawn down a tree meet for the purpose, and taken off all the bark skilfully round about, and hath wrought it handsomely, and made a vessel thereof fit for the service of man's life¹²And after spending the refuse of his work to dress his meat, hath filled himself¹³And taking the very refuse among those which served to no use, being a crooked piece of wood, and full of knots, hath carved it diligently, when he had nothing else to do, and formed it by the skill of his understanding, and fashioned it to the image of a man¹⁴Or made it like some vile beast, laying it over with vermillion, and with paint colouring it red, and covering every spot therein¹⁵And when he had made a convenient room for it, set it in a wall, and made it fast with iron:¹⁶For he provided for it that it might not fall, knowing that it was unable to help itself for it is an image, and hath need of help:¹⁷Then maketh he prayer for his goods, for his wife and children, and is not ashamed to speak to that which hath no life.¹⁸For health he calleth upon that which is weak: for life prayeth to that which is dead for aid humbly beseecheth that which hath least means to help: and for a good journey he asketh of that which cannot set a foot forward:¹⁹And for gaining and getting, and for good success of his hands, asketh ability to do of him, that is most unable to do any thing.

CHAPTER 14 ¹Again, one preparing himself to sail, and about to pass through the raging waves, calleth upon a piece of wood more rotten than the vessel that carrieth him.²For verily desire of gain devised that, and the workman built it by his skill.³But thy providence, O Father, governeth it: for thou hast made a way in the sea, and a safe path in the waves⁴Shewing that thou canst save from all danger: yea, though a man went to sea without art.⁵Nevertheless thou wouldest not that the works of thy wisdom should be idle, and therefore do men commit their lives to a small piece of wood, and passing the rough sea in a weak vessel are saved.⁶For in the old time also, when the proud giants perished, the hope of the world governed by thy hand escaped in a weak vessel, and left to all ages a seed of generation.⁷For blessed is the wood whereby righteousness cometh.⁸But that which is made with hands is cursed, as well it, as he that made it: he, because he made it and it, because, being corruptible, it was called god.⁹For the ungodly and his ungodliness are both alike hateful unto God.¹⁰For that which is made shall be punished together with him that made it.¹¹Therefore even upon the idols of the Gentiles shall there be a visitation: because in the creature of God they are become an abomination, and stumblingblocks to the souls of men, and a snare to the feet of the unwise.¹²For the devising of idols was the beginning of spiritual fornication, and the invention of them the corruption of life.¹³For neither were they from the beginning, neither shall they be for ever.¹⁴For by the vain glory of men they entered into the world, and therefore shall they come shortly to an end.¹⁵For a father afflicted with untimely mourning, when he hath made an image of his child soon taken away, now honoured him as a god, which was then a dead man, and delivered to those that were under him ceremonies and sacrifices.¹⁶Thus in process of time an ungodly custom grown strong was kept as a law, and graven images were worshipped by the commandments of kings.¹⁷Whom men could not honour in presence, because they dwelt far off, they took the counterfeit of his visage from far, and made an express image of a king whom they honoured, to the end that by this their forwardness they might flatter him that was absent, as if he were present.¹⁸Also the singular diligence of the artificer did help to set forward the ignorant to more superstition.¹⁹For he, peradventure willing to please one in authority, forced all his skill to make the resemblance of the best fashion.²⁰And so the multitude, allured by the grace of the work, took him now for a god, which a little before was but honoured.²¹And this was an occasion to deceive the world: for men, serving either calamity or tyranny, did ascribe unto stones and stocks the incommunicable name.²²Moreover this was not enough for them, that they erred in the knowledge of God but whereas they lived in the great war of ignorance, those so great plagues called they peace.²³For whilst they slew their children in sacrifices, or used secret ceremonies, or made revellings of strange rites²⁴They kept neither lives nor marriages any longer undefiled: but either one slew another traiterously, or grieved him by adultery.²⁵So that there reigned in all men without exception blood, manslaughter, theft, and dissimulation, corruption, unfaithfulness, tumults, perjury,²⁶Disquieting of good men, forgetfulness of good turns, defiling of souls, changing of kind, disorder in marriages, adultery, and shameless uncleanness.²⁷For the worshipping of idols not to be named is the beginning, the cause, and the end, of all evil.²⁸For either they are mad when they be merry, or prophesy lies, or live unjustly, or else lightly forswear themselves.²⁹For insomuch as their trust is in idols, which have no life though they swear falsely, yet they look not to be hurt.³⁰Howbeit for both causes shall they be justly punished: both because they thought not well of God, giving heed unto idols, and also unjustly swore in deceit, despising holiness.³¹For it is not the power of them by whom they swear: but it is the just vengeance of sinners, that punisheth always the offence of the ungodly.

CHAPTER 15 ¹But thou, O God, art gracious and true, longsuffering, and in mercy ordering all things,²For if we sin, we are thine, knowing thy power: but we will not sin, knowing that we are counted thine.³For to know thee is perfect righteousness: yea, to know thy power is the root of immortality.⁴For neither did the mischievous invention of men deceive us, nor an image spotted with divers colours, the painter's fruitless labour⁵The sight whereof enticeth fools to lust after it, and so they desire the form of a dead image, that hath no breath.⁶Both they that make them, they that desire them, and they that worship them, are lovers of evil things, and are worthy to have such things to trust upon.⁷For the potter, tempering soft earth, fashioneth every vessel with much labour for our service: yea, of the same clay he maketh both the vessels that serve for clean uses, and likewise also all such as serve to the contrary: but what is the use of either sort, the potter himself is the judge.⁸And employing his labours lewdly, he maketh a vain god of the same clay, even he which a little before was made of earth himself, and within a little while after returneth to the same, out when his life which was lent him shall be demanded.⁹Notwithstanding his care is, not that he shall have much labour, nor that his life is short: but striveth to excel goldsmiths and silversmiths, and endeavoureth to do like the workers in brass, and counteth it his glory to make counterfeit things.¹⁰His heart is ashes, his hope is more vile than earth, and his life of less value than clay.¹¹Forasmuch as he knew not his Maker, and him that inspired into him an active soul, and breathed in a living spirit.¹²But they counted our life a pastime, and our time here a market for gain: for, say they, we must be getting every way, though it be by evil means.¹³For this man, that of earthly matter maketh brittle vessels and graven images, knoweth himself to offend above all others.¹⁴And all the enemies of thy people, that hold them in subjection, are most foolish, and are more miserable than very babes.¹⁵For they counted all the idols of the heathen to be gods: which neither have the use of eyes to see, nor noses to draw breath, nor ears to hear, nor fingers of hands to handle and as for their feet, they are slow to go.¹⁶For man made them, and he that borrowed his own spirit fashioned them: but no man can make a god like unto himself.¹⁷For being mortal, he worketh a dead thing with wicked hands: for he himself is better than the things which he worshippeth: whereas he lived once, but they never.¹⁸Yea, they worshipped those beasts also that are most hateful: for being compared together, some are worse than others.¹⁹Neither are they beautiful, so much as to be desired in respect of beasts: but they went without the praise of God and his blessing.

CHAPTER 16 ¹Therefore by the like were they punished worthily, and by the multitude of beasts tormented.²Instead of which punishment, dealing graciously with thine own people, thou preparedst for them meat of a strange taste, even quails to stir up their appetite:³To the end that they, desiring food, might for the ugly sight of the beasts sent among them lothe even that, which they must needs desire but these, suffering penury for a short space, might be made partakers of a strange taste.⁴For it was requisite, that upon them exercising tyranny should come penury, which they could not avoid: but to these it should only be shewed how their enemies were tormented.⁵For when the horrible fierceness of beasts came upon these, and they perished with the stings of crooked serpents, thy wrath endured not for ever:⁶But they were troubled for a small season, that they might be admonished, having a sign of salvation, to put them in remembrance of the commandment of thy law.⁷For he that turned himself toward it was not saved by the thing that he saw, but by thee, that art the Saviour of all.⁸And in this thou madest thine enemies confess, that it is thou who deliverest from all evil.⁹For them the bitings of grasshoppers and flies killed, neither was there found any remedy for their life: for they were worthy to be punished by such.¹⁰But thy sons not the very teeth of venomous dragons overcame: for thy mercy was ever by them, and healed them.¹¹For they were pricked, that they should remember thy words and were quickly saved, that not falling into deep forgetfulness, they might be continually mindful of thy goodness.¹²For it was neither herb, nor mollifying plaister, that restored them to health: but thy word, O Lord, which healeth all things.¹³For thou hast power of life and death: thou leadest to the gates of hell, and bringest up again.¹⁴A man indeed killeth through his malice: and the spirit, when it is gone forth, returneth not neither the soul received up cometh again.¹⁵But it is not possible to escape thine hand.¹⁶For the ungodly, that denied to know thee, were scourged by the strength of thine arm: with strange rains, hails, and showers, were they persecuted, that they could not avoid, and through fire were they consumed.¹⁷For, which is most to be wondered at, the fire had more force in the water, that quencheth all things: for the world fighteth for the righteous.¹⁸For sometime the flame was mitigated, that it might not burn up the beasts that were sent against the ungodly but themselves might see and perceive that they were persecuted with the judgment of God.¹⁹And at another time it burneth even in the midst of water above the power of fire, that it might destroy the fruits of an unjust land.²⁰Instead whereof thou feddest thine own people with angels' food, and didst send them from heaven bread prepared without their labour, able to content every man's delight, and agreeing to every taste.²¹For thy sustenance declared thy sweetness unto thy children, and serving to the appetite of the eater, tempered itself to every man's liking.²²But snow and ice endured the fire, and melted not, that they might know that fire burning in the hail, and sparkling in the rain, did destroy the fruits of the enemies.²³But this again did even forget his own strength, that the righteous might be nourished.²⁴For the creature that serveth thee, who art the Maker increaseth his strength against the unrighteous for their punishment, and abateth his strength for the benefit of such as put their trust in thee.²⁵Therefore even then was it altered into all fashions, and was obedient to thy grace, that nourisheth all things, according to the desire of them that had need.²⁶That thy children, O Lord, whom thou lovest, might know, that it is not the growing of fruits that nourisheth man: but that it is thy word, which preserveth them that put their trust in thee.²⁷For that which was not destroyed of the fire, being warmed with a little sunbeam, soon melted away.²⁸That it might be known, that we must prevent the sun to give thee thanks, and at the dayspring pray unto thee.²⁹For the hope of the unthankful shall melt away as the winter's hoar frost, and shall run away as unprofitable water.

CHAPTER 17 ¹For great are thy judgments, and cannot be expressed: therefore unnurtured souls have erred.²For when unrighteous men thought to oppress the holy nation they being shut up in their houses, the prisoners of darkness, and fettered with the bonds of a long night, lay [there] exiled from the eternal providence.³For while they supposed to lie hid in their secret sins, they were scattered under a dark veil of forgetfulness, being horribly astonished, and troubled with [strange] apparitions.⁴For neither might the corner that held them keep them from fear: but noises [as of waters] falling down sounded about them, and sad visions appeared unto them with heavy countenances.⁵No power of the fire might give them light: neither could the bright flames of the stars endure to lighten that horrible night.⁶Only there appeared unto them a fire kindled of itself, very dreadful: for being much terrified, they thought the things which they saw to be worse than the sight they saw not.⁷As for the illusions of art magick, they were put down, and their vaunting in wisdom was reproved with disgrace.⁸For they, that promised to drive away terrors and troubles from a sick soul, were sick themselves of fear, worthy to be laughed at.⁹For though no terrible thing did fear them yet being scared with beasts that passed by, and hissing of serpents,¹⁰They died for fear, denying that they saw the air, which could of no side be avoided.¹¹For wickedness, condemned by her own witness, is very timorous, and being pressed with conscience, always forecasteth grievous things.¹²For fear is nothing else but a betraying of the succours which reason offereth.¹³And the expectation from within, being less, counteth the ignorance more than the cause which bringeth the torment.¹⁴But they sleeping the same sleep that night, which was indeed intolerable, and which came upon them out of the bottoms of inevitable hell,¹⁵Were partly vexed with monstrous apparitions, and partly fainted, their heart failing them: for a sudden fear, and not looked for, came upon them.¹⁶So then whosoever there fell down was straitly kept, shut up in a prison without iron bars,¹⁷For whether he were husbandman, or shepherd, or a labourer in the field, he was overtaken, and endured that necessity, which could not be avoided: for they were all bound with one chain of darkness.¹⁸Whether it were a whistling wind, or a melodious noise of birds among the spreading branches, or a pleasing fall of water running violently,¹⁹Or a terrible sound of stones cast down, or a running that could not be seen of skipping beasts, or a roaring voice of most savage wild beasts, or a rebounding echo from the hollow mountains these things made them to swoon for fear.²⁰For the whole world shined with clear light, and none were hindered in their labour.²¹Over them only was spread an heavy night, an image of that darkness which should afterward receive them: but yet were they unto themselves more grievous than the darkness.

CHAPTER 18 ¹Nevertheless thy saints had a very great light, whose voice they hearing, and not seeing their shape, because they also had not suffered the same things, they counted them happy.²But for that they did not hurt them now, of whom they had been wronged before, they thanked them, and besought them pardon for that they had been enemies.³Instead whereof thou gavest them a burning pillar of fire, both to be a guide of the unknown journey, and an harmless sun to entertain them honourably.⁴For they were worthy to be deprived of light and imprisoned in darkness, who had kept thy sons shut up, by whom the uncorrupt light of the law was to be given unto the world.⁵And when they had determined to slay the babes of the saints, one child being cast forth, and saved, to reprove them, thou tookest away the multitude of their children, and destroyedst them altogether in a mighty water.⁶Of that night were our fathers certified afore, that assuredly knowing unto what oaths they had given credence, they might afterwards be of good cheer.⁷So of thy people was accepted both the salvation of the righteous, and destruction of the enemies.⁸For wherewith thou didst punish our adversaries, by the same thou didst glorify us, whom thou hadst called.⁹For the righteous children of good men did sacrifice secretly, and with one consent made a holy law, that the saints should be like partakers of the same good and evil, the fathers now singing out the songs of praise.¹⁰But on the other side there sounded an ill according cry of the enemies, and a lamentable noise was carried abroad for children that were bewailed.¹¹The master and the servant were punished after one manner and like as the king, so suffered the common person.¹²So they all together had innumerable dead with one kind of death neither were the living sufficient to bury them: for in one moment the noblest offspring of them was destroyed.¹³For whereas they would not believe any thing by reason of the enchantments upon the destruction of the firstborn, they acknowledged this people to be the sons of God.¹⁴For while all things were in quiet silence, and that night was in the midst of her swift course,¹⁵Thine Almighty word leaped down from heaven out of thy royal throne, as a fierce man of war into the midst of a land of destruction,¹⁶And brought thine unfeigned commandment as a sharp sword, and standing up filled all things with death and it touched the heaven, but it stood upon the earth.¹⁷Then suddenly visions of horrible dreams troubled them sore, and terrors came upon them unlooked for.¹⁸And one thrown here, and another there, half dead, shewed the cause of his death.¹⁹For the dreams that troubled them did foreshew this, lest they should perish, and not know why they were afflicted.²⁰Yea, the tasting of death touched the righteous also, and there was a destruction of the multitude in the wilderness: but the wrath endured not long.²¹For then the blameless man made haste, and stood forth to defend them and bringing the shield of his proper ministry, even prayer, and the propitiation of incense, set himself against the wrath, and so brought the calamity to an end, declaring that he was thy servant.²²So he overcame the destroyer, not with strength of body, nor force of arms, but with a word subdued him that punished, alleging the oaths and covenants made with the fathers.²³For when the dead were now fallen down by heaps one upon another, standing between, he stayed the wrath, and parted the way to the living.²⁴For in the long garment was the whole world, and in the four rows of the stones was the glory of the fathers graven, and thy Majesty upon the daidem of his head.²⁵Unto these the destroyer gave place, and was afraid of them: for it was enough that they only tasted of the wrath.

CHAPTER 19 ¹As for the ungodly, wrath came upon them without mercy unto the end: for he knew before what they would do²How that having given them leave to depart, and sent them hastily away, they would repent and pursue them.³For whilst they were yet mourning and making lamentation at the graves of the dead, they added another foolish device, and pursued them as fugitives, whom they had intreated to be gone.⁴For the destiny, whereof they were worthy, drew them unto this end, and made them forget the things that had already happened, that they might fulfil the punishment which was wanting to their torments:⁵And that thy people might pass a wonderful way: but they might find a strange death.⁶For the whole creature in his proper kind was fashioned again anew, serving the peculiar commandments that were given unto them, that thy children might be kept without hurt:⁷As namely, a cloud shadowing the camp and where water stood before, dry land appeared and out of the Red sea a way without impediment and out of the violent stream a green field:⁸Wherethrough all the people went that were defended with thy hand, seeing thy marvellous strange wonders.⁹For they went at large like horses, and leaped like lambs, praising thee, O Lord, who hadst delivered them.¹⁰For they were yet mindful of the things that were done while they sojourned in the strange land, how the ground brought forth flies instead of cattle, and how the river cast up a multitude of frogs instead of fishes.¹¹But afterwards they saw a new generation of fowls, when, being led with their appetite, they asked delicate meats.¹²For quails came up unto them from the sea for their contentment.¹³And punishments came upon the sinners not without former signs by the force of thunders: for they suffered justly according to their own wickedness, insomuch as they used a more hard and hateful behaviour toward strangers.¹⁴For the Sodomites did not receive those, whom they knew not when they came: but these brought friends into bondage, that had well deserved of them.¹⁵And not only so, but peradventure some respect shall be had of those, because they used strangers not friendly:¹⁶But these very grievously afflicted them, whom they had received with feastings, and were already made partakers of the same laws with them.¹⁷Therefore even with blindness were these stricken, as those were at the doors of the righteous man: when, being compassed about with horrible great darkness, every one sought the passage of his own doors.¹⁸For the elements were changed in themselves by a kind of harmony, like as in a psaltery notes change the name of the tune, and yet are always sounds which may well be perceived by the sight of the things that have been done.¹⁹For earthly things were turned into watery, and the things, that before swam in the water, now went upon the ground.²⁰The fire had power in the water, forgetting his own virtue: and the water forgot his own quenching nature.²¹On the other side, the flames wasted not the flesh of the corruptible living things, though they walked therein neither melted they the icy kind of heavenly meat that was of nature apt to melt.²²For in all things, O Lord, thou didst magnify thy people, and glorify them, neither didst thou lightly regard them: but didst assist them in every time and place.

CHAPTER 1 ¹All wisdom cometh from the Lord, and is with him for ever.²Who can number the sand of the sea, and the drops of rain, and the days of eternity?³Who can find out the height of heaven, and the breadth of the earth, and the deep, and wisdom?⁴Wisdom hath been created before all things, and the understanding of prudence from everlasting.⁵The word of God most high is the fountain of wisdom and her ways are everlasting commandments.⁶To whom hath the root of wisdom been revealed? or who hath known her wise counsels?⁷[Unto whom hath the knowledge of wisdom been made manifest? and who hath understood her great experience?]⁸There is one wise and greatly to be feared, the Lord sitting upon his throne.⁹He created her, and saw her, and numbered her, and poured her out upon all his works.¹⁰She is with all flesh according to his gift, and he hath given her to them that love him.¹¹The fear of the Lord is honour, and glory, and gladness, and a crown of rejoicing.¹²The fear of the Lord maketh a merry heart, and giveth joy, and gladness, and a long life.¹³Whoso feareth the Lord, it shall go well with him at the last, and he shall find favour in the day of his death.¹⁴To fear the Lord is the beginning of wisdom: and it was created with the faithful in the womb.¹⁵She hath built an everlasting foundation with men, and she shall continue with their seed.¹⁶To fear the Lord is fulness of wisdom, and filleth men with her fruits.¹⁷She filleth all their house with things desirable, and the garners with her increase.¹⁸The fear of the Lord is a crown of wisdom, making peace and perfect health to flourish both which are the gifts of God: and it enlargeth their rejoicing that love him.¹⁹Wisdom raineth down skill and knowledge of understanding standing, and exalteth them to honour that hold her fast.²⁰The root of wisdom is to fear the Lord, and the branches thereof are long life.²¹The fear of the Lord driveth away sins: and where it is present, it turneth away wrath.²²A furious man cannot be justified for the sway of his fury shall be his destruction.²³A patient man will tear for a time, and afterward joy shall spring up unto him.²⁴He will hide his words for a time, and the lips of many shall declare his wisdom.²⁵The parables of knowledge are in the treasures of wisdom: but godliness is an abomination to a sinner.²⁶If thou desire wisdom, keep the commandments, and the Lord shall give her unto thee.²⁷For the fear of the Lord is wisdom and instruction: and faith and meekness are his delight.²⁸Distrust not the fear of the Lord when thou art poor: and come not unto him with a double heart.²⁹Be not an hypocrite in the sight of men, and take good heed what thou speakest.³⁰Exalt not thyself, lest thou fall, and bring dishonour upon thy soul, and so God discover thy secrets, and cast thee down in the midst of the congregation, because thou camest not in truth to the fear of the Lord, but thy heart is full of deceit.

CHAPTER 2 ¹My son, if thou come to serve the Lord, prepare thy soul for temptation.²Set thy heart aright, and constantly endure, and make not haste in time of trouble.³Cleave unto him, and depart not away, that thou mayest be increased at thy last end.⁴Whatsoever is brought upon thee take cheerfully, and be patient when thou art changed to a low estate.⁵For gold is tried in the fire, and acceptable men in the furnace of adversity.⁶Believe in him, and he will help thee order thy way aright, and trust in him.⁷Ye that fear the Lord, wait for his mercy and go not aside, lest ye fall.⁸Ye that fear the Lord, believe him and your reward shall not fail.⁹Ye that fear the Lord, hope for good, and for everlasting joy and mercy.¹⁰Look at the generations of old, and see did ever any trust in the Lord, and was confounded? or did any abide in his fear, and was forsaken? or whom did he ever despise, that called upon him?¹¹For the Lord is full of compassion and mercy, longsuffering, and very pitiful, and forgiveth sins, and saveth in time of affliction.¹²Woe be to fearful hearts, and faint hands, and the sinner that goeth two ways!¹³Woe unto him that is fainthearted! for he believeth not therefore shall he not be defended.¹⁴Woe unto you that have lost patience! and what will ye do when the Lord shall visit you?¹⁵They that fear the Lord will not disobey his Word and they that love him will keep his ways.¹⁶They that fear the Lord will seek that which is well, pleasing unto him and they that love him shall be filled with the law.¹⁷They that fear the Lord will prepare their hearts, and humble their souls in his sight,¹⁸Saying, We will fall into the hands of the Lord, and not into the hands of men: for as his majesty is, so is his mercy.

CHAPTER 3 ¹Hear me your father, O children, and do thereafter, that ye may be safe.²For the Lord hath given the father honour over the children, and hath confirmed the authority of the mother over the sons.³Whoso honoureth his father maketh an atonement for his sins:⁴And he that honoureth his mother is as one that layeth up treasure.⁵Whoso honoureth his father shall have joy of his own children and when he maketh his prayer, he shall be heard.⁶He that honoureth his father shall have a long life and he that is obedient unto the Lord shall be a comfort to his mother.⁷He that feareth the Lord will honour his father, and will do service unto his parents, as to his masters.⁸Honour thy father and mother both in word and deed, that a blessing may come upon thee from them.⁹For the blessing of the father establisheth the houses of children but the curse of the mother rooteth out foundations.¹⁰Glory not in the dishonour of thy father for thy father's dishonour is no glory unto thee.¹¹For the glory of a man is from the honour of his father and a mother in dishonour is a reproach to the children.¹²My son, help thy father in his age, and grieve him not as long as he liveth.¹³And if his understanding fail, have patience with him and despise him not when thou art in thy full strength.¹⁴For the relieving of thy father shall not be forgotten: and instead of sins it shall be added to build thee up.¹⁵In the day of thine affliction it shall be remembered thy sins also shall melt away, as the ice in the fair warm weather.¹⁶He that forsaketh his father is as a blasphemer and he that angereth his mother is cursed: of God.¹⁷My son, go on with thy business in meekness so shalt thou be beloved of him that is approved.¹⁸The greater thou art, the more humble thyself, and thou shalt find favour before the Lord.¹⁹Many are in high place, and of renown: but mysteries are revealed unto the meek.²⁰For the power of the Lord is great, and he is honoured of the lowly.²¹Seek not out things that are too hard for thee, neither search the things that are above thy strength.²²But what is commanded thee, think thereupon with reverence, for it is not needful for thee to see with thine eyes the things that are in secret.²³Be not curious in unnecessary matters: for more things are shewed unto thee than men understand.²⁴For many are deceived by their own vain opinion and an evil suspicion hath overthrown their judgment.²⁵Without eyes thou shalt want light: profess not the knowledge therefore that thou hast not.²⁶A stubborn heart shall fare evil at the last and he that loveth danger shall perish therein.²⁷An obstinate heart shall be laden with sorrows and the wicked man shall heap sin upon sin.²⁸In the punishment of the proud there is no remedy for the plant of wickedness hath taken root in him.²⁹The heart of the prudent will understand a parable and an attentive ear is the desire of a wise man.³⁰Water will quench a flaming fire and alms maketh an atonement for sins.³¹And he that requiteth good turns is mindful of that which may come hereafter and when he falleth, he shall find a stay.

CHAPTER 4 ¹My son, defraud not the poor of his living, and make not the needy eyes to wait long.²Make not an hungry soul sorrowful neither provoke a man in his distress.³Add not more trouble to an heart that is vexed and defer not to give to him that is in need.⁴Reject not the supplication of the afflicted neither turn away thy face from a poor man.⁵Turn not away thine eye from the needy, and give him none occasion to curse thee:⁶For if he curse thee in the bitterness of his soul, his prayer shall be heard of him that made him.⁷Get thyself the love of the congregation, and bow thy head to a great man.⁸Let it not grieve thee to bow down thine ear to the poor, and give him a friendly answer with meekness.⁹Deliver him that suffereth wrong from the hand of the oppressor and be not fainthearted when thou sittest in judgment.¹⁰Be as a father unto the fatherless, and instead of an husband unto their mother: so shalt thou be as the son of the most High, and he shall love thee more than thy mother doth.¹¹Wisdom exalteth her children, and layeth hold of them that seek her.¹²He that loveth her loveth life and they that seek to her early shall be filled with joy.¹³He that holdeth her fast shall inherit glory and wheresoever she entereth, the Lord will bless.¹⁴They that serve her shall minister to the Holy One: and them that love her the Lord doth love.¹⁵Whoso giveth ear unto her shall judge the nations: and he that attendeth unto her shall dwell securely.¹⁶If a man commit himself unto her, he shall inherit her and his generation shall hold her in possession.¹⁷For at the first she will walk with him by crooked ways, and bring fear and dread upon him, and torment him with her discipline, until she may trust his soul, and try him by her laws.¹⁸Then will she return the straight way unto him, and comfort him, and shew him her secrets.¹⁹But if he go wrong, she will forsake him, and give him over to his own ruin.²⁰Observe the opportunity, and beware of evil and be not ashamed when it concerneth thy soul.²¹For there is a shame that bringeth sin and there is a shame which is glory and grace.²²Accept no person against thy soul, and let not the reverence of any man cause thee to fall.²³And refrain not to speak, when there is occasion to do good, and hide not thy wisdom in her beauty.²⁴For by speech wisdom shall be known: and learning by the word of the tongue.²⁵In no wise speak against the truth but be abashed of the error of thine ignorance.²⁶Be not ashamed to confess thy sins and force not the course of the river.²⁷Make not thyself an underling to a foolish man neither accept the person of the mighty.²⁸Strive for the truth unto death, and the Lord shall fight for thee.²⁹Be not hasty in thy tongue, and in thy deeds slack and remiss.³⁰Be not as a lion in thy house, nor frantick among thy servants.³¹Let not thine hand be stretched out to receive, and shut when thou shouldest repay.

CHAPTER 5 ¹Set thy heart upon thy goods and say not, I have enough for my life.²Follow not thine own mind and thy strength, to walk in the ways of thy heart:³And say not, Who shall controul me for my works? for the Lord will surely revenge thy pride.⁴Say not, I have sinned, and what harm hath happened unto me? for the Lord is longsuffering, he will in no wise let thee go.⁵Concerning propitiation, be not without fear to add sin unto sin:⁶And say not His mercy is great he will be pacified for the multitude of my sins: for mercy and wrath come from him, and his indignation resteth upon sinners.⁷Make no tarrying to turn to the Lord, and put not off from day to day: for suddenly shall the wrath of the Lord come forth, and in thy security thou shalt be destroyed, and perish in the day of vengeance.⁸Set not thine heart upon goods unjustly gotten, for they shall not profit thee in the day of calamity.⁹Winnow not with every wind, and go not into every way: for so doth the sinner that hath a double tongue.¹⁰Be stedfast in thy understanding and let thy word be the same.¹¹Be swift to hear and let thy life be sincere and with patience give answer.¹²If thou hast understanding, answer thy neighbour if not, lay thy hand upon thy mouth.¹³Honour and shame is in talk: and the tongue of man is his fall.¹⁴Be not called a whisperer, and lie not in wait with thy tongue: for a foul shame is upon the thief, and an evil condemnation upon the double tongue.¹⁵Be not ignorant of any thing in a great matter or a small.

CHAPTER 6 ¹Instead of a friend become not an enemy for [thereby] thou shalt inherit an ill name, shame, and reproach: even so shall a sinner that hath a double tongue.²Extol not thyself in the counsel of thine own heart that thy soul be not torn in pieces as a bull [straying alone].³Thou shalt eat up thy leaves, and lose thy fruit, and leave thyself as a dry tree.⁴A wicked soul shall destroy him that hath it, and shall make him to be laughed to scorn of his enemies.⁵Sweet language will multiply friends: and a fairspeaking tongue will increase kind greetings.⁶Be in peace with many: nevertheless have but one counsellor of a thousand.⁷If thou wouldest get a friend, prove him first and be not hasty to credit him.⁸For some man is a friend for his own occasion, and will not abide in the day of thy trouble.⁹And there is a friend, who being turned to enmity, and strife will discover thy reproach.¹⁰Again, some friend is a companion at the table, and will not continue in the day of thy affliction.¹¹But in thy prosperity he will be as thyself, and will be bold over thy servants.¹²If thou be brought low, he will be against thee, and will hide himself from thy face.¹³Separate thyself from thine enemies, and take heed of thy friends.¹⁴A faithful friend is a strong defence: and he that hath found such an one hath found a treasure.¹⁵Nothing doth countervail a faithful friend, and his excellency is invaluable.¹⁶A faithful friend is the medicine of life and they that fear the Lord shall find him.¹⁷Whoso feareth the Lord shall direct his friendship aright: for as he is, so shall his neighbour be also.¹⁸My son, gather instruction from thy youth up: so shalt thou find wisdom till thine old age.¹⁹Come unto her as one that ploweth and soweth, and wait for her good fruits: for thou shalt not toil much in labouring about her, but thou shalt eat of her fruits right soon.²⁰She is very unpleasant to the unlearned: he that is without understanding will not remain with her.²¹She will lie upon him as a mighty stone of trial and he will cast her from him ere it be long.²²For wisdom is according to her name, and she is not manifest unto many.²³Give ear, my son, receive my advice, and refuse not my counsel,²⁴And put thy feet into her fetters, and thy neck into her chain.²⁵Bow down thy shoulder, and bear her, and be not grieved with her bonds.²⁶Come unto her with thy whole heart, and keep her ways with all thy power.²⁷Search, and seek, and she shall be made known unto thee: and when thou hast got hold of her, let her not go.²⁸For at the last thou shalt find her rest, and that shall be turned to thy joy.²⁹Then shall her fetters be a strong defence for thee, and her chains a robe of glory.³⁰For there is a golden ornament upon her, and her bands are purple lace.³¹Thou shalt put her on as a robe of honour, and shalt put her about thee as a crown of joy.³²My son, if thou wilt, thou shalt be taught: and if thou wilt apply thy mind, thou shalt be prudent.³³If thou love to hear, thou shalt receive understanding: and if thou bow thine ear, thou shalt be wise,³⁴Stand in the multitude of the elders and cleave unto him that is wise.³⁵Be willing to hear every godly discourse and let not the parables of understanding escape thee.³⁶And if thou seest a man of understanding, get thee betimes unto him, and let thy foot wear the steps of his door.³⁷Let thy mind be upon the ordinances of the Lord and meditate continually in his commandments: he shall establish thine heart, and give thee wisdom at thine owns desire.

CHAPTER 7 ¹Do no evil, so shall no harm come unto thee.²Depart from the unjust, and iniquity shall turn away from thee.³My son, sow not upon the furrows of unrighteousness, and thou shalt not reap them sevenfold.⁴Seek not of the Lord preeminence, neither of the king the seat of honour.⁵Justify not thyself before the Lord and boast not of thy wisdom before the king.⁶Seek not to be judge, being not able to take away iniquity lest at any time thou fear the person of the mighty, an stumblingblock in the way of thy uprightness.⁷Offend not against the multitude of a city, and then thou shalt not cast thyself down among the people.⁸Bind not one sin upon another for in one thou shalt not be unpunished.⁹Say not, God will look upon the multitude of my oblations, and when I offer to the most high God, he will accept it.¹⁰Be not fainthearted when thou makest thy prayer, and neglect not to give alms.¹¹Laugh no man to scorn in the bitterness of his soul: for there is one which humbleth and exalteth.¹²Devise not a lie against thy brother neither do the like to thy friend.¹³Use not to make any manner of lie: for the custom thereof is not good.¹⁴Use not many words in a multitude of elders, and make not much babbling when thou prayest.¹⁵Hate not laborious work, neither husbandry, which the most High hath ordained.¹⁶Number not thyself among the multitude of sinners, but remember that wrath will not tarry long.¹⁷Humble thyself greatly: for the vengeance of the ungodly is fire and worms.¹⁸Change not a friend for any good by no means neither a faithful brother for the gold of Ophir.¹⁹Forego not a wise and good woman: for her grace is above gold.²⁰Whereas thy servant worketh truly, entreat him not evil. nor the hireling that bestoweth himself wholly for thee.²¹Let thy soul love a good servant, and defraud him not of liberty.²²Hast thou cattle? have an eye to them: and if they be for thy profit, keep them with thee.²³Hast thou children? instruct them, and bow down their neck from their youth.²⁴Hast thou daughters? have a care of their body, and shew not thyself cheerful toward them.²⁵Marry thy daughter, and so shalt thou have performed a weighty matter: but give her to a man of understanding.²⁶Hast thou a wife after thy mind? forsake her not: but give not thyself over to a light woman.²⁷Honour thy father with thy whole heart, and forget not the sorrows of thy mother.²⁸Remember that thou wast begotten of them and how canst thou recompense them the things that they have done for thee?²⁹Fear the Lord with all thy soul, and reverence his priests.³⁰Love him that made thee with all thy strength, and forsake not his ministers.³¹Fear the Lord, and honor the priest and give him his portion, as it is commanded thee the firstfruits, and the trespass offering, and the gift of the shoulders, and the sacrifice of sanctification, and the firstfruits of the holy things.³²And stretch thine hand unto the poor, that thy blessing may be perfected.³³A gift hath grace in the sight of every man living and for the dead detain it not.³⁴Fail not to be with them that weep, and mourn with them that mourn.³⁵Be not slow to visit the sick: for that shall make thee to be beloved.³⁶Whatsoever thou takest in hand, remember the end, and thou shalt never do amiss.

CHAPTER 8 ¹Strive not with a mighty man' lest thou fall into his hands.²Be not at variance with a rich man, lest he overweigh thee: for gold hath destroyed many, and perverted the hearts of kings.³Strive not with a man that is full of tongue, and heap not wood upon his fire.⁴Jest not with a rude man, lest thy ancestors be disgraced.⁵Reproach not a man that turneth from sin, but remember that we are all worthy of punishment.⁶Dishonour not a man in his old age: for even some of us wax old.⁷Rejoice not over thy greatest enemy being dead, but remember that we die all.⁸Despise not the discourse of the wise, but acquaint thyself with their proverbs: for of them thou shalt learn instruction, and how to serve great men with ease.⁹Miss not the discourse of the elders: for they also learned of their fathers, and of them thou shalt learn understanding, and to give answer as need requireth.¹⁰Kindle not the coals of a sinner, lest thou be burnt with the flame of his fire.¹¹Rise not up [in anger] at the presence of an injurious person, lest he lie in wait to entrap thee in thy words¹²Lend not unto him that is mightier than thyself for if thou lendest him, count it but lost.¹³Be not surety above thy power: for if thou be surety, take care to pay it.¹⁴Go not to law with a judge for they will judge for him according to his honour.¹⁵Travel not by the way with a bold fellow, lest he become grievous unto thee: for he will do according to his own will, and thou shalt perish with him through his folly.¹⁶Strive not with an angry man, and go not with him into a solitary place: for blood is as nothing in his sight, and where there is no help, he will overthrow thee.¹⁷Consult not with a fool for he cannot keep counsel.¹⁸Do no secret thing before a stranger for thou knowest not what he will bring forth.¹⁹Open not thine heart to every man, lest he requite thee with a shrewd turn.

CHAPTER 9 ¹Be not jealous over the wife of thy bosom, and teach her not an evil lesson against thyself.²Give not thy soul unto a woman to set her foot upon thy substance.³Meet not with an harlot, lest thou fall into her snares.⁴Use not much the company of a woman that is a singer, lest thou be taken with her attempts.⁵Gaze not on a maid, that thou fall not by those things that are precious in her.⁶Give not thy soul unto harlots, that thou lose not thine inheritance.⁷Look not round about thee in the streets of the city, neither wander thou in the solitary place thereof.⁸Turn away thine eye from a beautiful woman, and look not upon another's beauty for many have been deceived by the beauty of a woman for herewith love is kindled as a fire.⁹Sit not at all with another man's wife, nor sit down with her in thine arms, and spend not thy money with her at the wine lest thine heart incline unto her, and so through thy desire thou fall into destruction.¹⁰Forsake not an old friend for the new is not comparable to him: a new friend is as new wine when it is old, thou shalt drink it with pleasure.¹¹Envy not the glory of a sinner: for thou knowest not what shall be his end.¹²Delight not in the thing that the ungodly have pleasure in but remember they shall not go unpunished unto their grave.¹³Keep thee far from the man that hath power to kill so shalt thou not doubt the fear of death: and if thou come unto him, make no fault, lest he take away thy life presently: remember that thou goest in the midst of snares, and that thou walkest upon the battlements of the city.¹⁴As near as thou canst, guess at thy neighbour, and consult with the wise.¹⁵Let thy talk be with the wise, and all thy communication in the law of the most High.¹⁶And let just men eat and drink with thee and let thy glorying be in the fear of the Lord.¹⁷For the hand of the artificer the work shall be commended: and the wise ruler of the people for his speech.¹⁸A man of an ill tongue is dangerous in his city and he that is rash in his talk shall be hated.

CHAPTER 10 ¹A wise judge will instruct his people and the government of a prudent man is well ordered.²As the judge of the people is himself, so are his officers and what manner of man the ruler of the city is, such are all they that dwell therein.³An unwise king destroyeth his people but through the prudence of them which are in authority the city shall be inhabited.⁴The power of the earth is in the hand of the Lord, and in due time he will set over it one that is profitable.⁵In the hand of God is the prosperity of man: and upon the person of the scribe shall he lay his honour.⁶Bear not hatred to thy neighbour for every wrong and do nothing at all by injurious practices.⁷Pride is hateful before God and man: and by both doth one commit iniquity.⁸Because of unrighteous dealings, injuries, and riches got by deceit, the kingdom is translated from one people to another.⁹Why is earth and ashes proud? There is not a more wicked thing than a covetous man: for such an one setteth his own soul to sale because while he liveth he casteth away his bowels.¹⁰The physician cutteth off a long disease and he that is to day a king to morrow shall die.¹¹For when a man is dead, he shall inherit creeping things, beasts, and worms.¹²The beginning of pride is when one departeth from God, and his heart is turned away from his Maker.¹³For pride is the beginning of sin, and he that hath it shall pour out abomination: and therefore the Lord brought upon them strange calamities, and overthrew them utterly.¹⁴The Lord hath cast down the thrones of proud princes, and set up the meek in their stead.¹⁵The Lord hath plucked up the roots of the proud nations, and planted the lowly in their place.¹⁶The Lord overthrew countries of the heathen, and destroyed them to the foundations of the earth.¹⁷He took some of them away, and destroyed them, and hath made their memorial to cease from the earth.¹⁸Pride was not made for men, nor furious anger for them that are born of a woman.¹⁹They that fear the Lord are a sure seed, and they that love him an honourable plant: they that regard not the law are a dishonourable seed they that transgress the commandments are a deceivable seed.²⁰Among brethren he that is chief is honorable so are they that fear the Lord in his eyes.²¹The fear of the Lord goeth before the obtaining of authority: but roughness and pride is the losing thereof.²²Whether he be rich, noble, or poor, their glory is the fear of the Lord.²³It is not meet to despise the poor man that hath understanding neither is it convenient to magnify a sinful man.²⁴Great men, and judges, and potentates, shall be honoured yet is there none of them greater than he that feareth the Lord.²⁵Unto the servant that is wise shall they that are free do service: and he that hath knowledge will not grudge when he is reformed.²⁶Be not overwise in doing thy business and boast not thyself in the time of thy distress.²⁷Better is he that laboureth, and aboundeth in all things, than he that boasteth himself, and wanteth bread.²⁸My son, glorify thy soul in meekness, and give it honour according to the dignity thereof.²⁹Who will justify him that sinneth against his own soul? and who will honour him that dishonoureth his own life?³⁰The poor man is honoured for his skill, and the rich man is honoured for his riches.³¹He that is honoured in poverty, how much more in riches? and he that is dishonourable in riches, how much more in poverty?

CHAPTER 11 ¹Wisdom lifteth up the head of him that is of low degree, and maketh him to sit among great men.²Commend not a man for his beauty neither abhor a man for his outward appearance.³The bee is little among such as fly but her fruit is the chief of sweet things.⁴Boast not of thy clothing and raiment, and exalt not thyself in the day of honour: for the works of the Lord are wonderful, and his works among men are hidden.⁵Many kings have sat down upon the ground and one that was never thought of hath worn the crown.⁶Many mighty men have been greatly disgraced and the honourable delivered into other men's hands.⁷Blame not before thou hast examined the truth: understand first, and then rebuke.⁸Answer not before thou hast heard the cause: neither interrupt men in the midst of their talk.⁹Strive not in a matter that concerneth thee not and sit not in judgment with sinners.¹⁰My son, meddle not with many matters: for if thou meddle much, thou shalt not be innocent and if thou follow after, thou shalt not obtain, neither shalt thou escape by fleeing.¹¹There is one that laboureth, and taketh pains, and maketh haste, and is so much the more behind.¹²Again, there is another that is slow, and hath need of help, wanting ability, and full of poverty yet the eye of the Lord looked upon him for good, and set him up from his low estate,¹³And lifted up his head from misery so that many that saw from him is peace over all the¹⁴Prosperity and adversity, life and death, poverty and riches, come of the Lord.¹⁵Wisdom, knowledge, and understanding of the law, are of the Lord: love, and the way of good works, are from him.¹⁶Error and darkness had their beginning together with sinners: and evil shall wax old with them that glory therein.¹⁷The gift of the Lord remaineth with the ungodly, and his favour bringeth prosperity for ever.¹⁸There is that waxeth rich by his wariness and pinching, and this his the portion of his reward:¹⁹Whereas he saith, I have found rest, and now will eat continually of my goods and yet he knoweth not what time shall come upon him, and that he must leave those things to others, and die.²⁰Be stedfast in thy covenant, and be conversant therein, and wax old in thy work.²¹Marvel not at the works of sinners but trust in the Lord, and abide in thy labour: for it is an easy thing in the sight of the Lord on the sudden to make a poor man rich.²²The blessing of the Lord is in the reward of the godly, and suddenly he maketh his blessing flourish.²³Say not, What profit is there of my service? and what good things shall I have hereafter?²⁴Again, say not, I have enough, and possess many things, and what evil shall I have hereafter?²⁵In the day of prosperity there is a forgetfulness of affliction: and in the day of affliction there is no more remembrance of prosperity.²⁶For it is an easy thing unto the Lord in the day of death to reward a man according to his ways.²⁷The affliction of an hour maketh a man forget pleasure: and in his end his deeds shall be discovered.²⁸Judge none blessed before his death: for a man shall be known in his children.²⁹Bring not every man into thine house: for the deceitful man hath many trains.³⁰Like as a partridge taken [and kept] in a cage, so is the heart of the proud and like as a spy, watcheth he for thy fall:³¹For he lieth in wait, and turneth good into evil, and in things worthy praise will lay blame upon thee.³²Of a spark of fire a heap of coals is kindled: and a sinful man layeth wait for blood.³³Take heed of a mischievous man, for he worketh wickedness lest he bring upon thee a perpetual blot.³⁴Receive a stranger into thine house, and he will disturb thee, and turn thee out of thine own.

CHAPTER 12 ¹When thou wilt do good know to whom thou doest it so shalt thou be thanked for thy benefits.²Do good to the godly man, and thou shalt find a recompence and if not from him, yet from the most High.³There can no good come to him that is always occupied in evil, nor to him that giveth no alms.⁴Give to the godly man, and help not a sinner.⁵Do well unto him that is lowly, but give not to the ungodly: hold back thy bread, and give it not unto him, lest he overmaster thee thereby: for [else] thou shalt receive twice as much evil for all the good thou shalt have done unto him.⁶For the most High hateth sinners, and will repay vengeance unto the ungodly, and keepeth them against the mighty day of their punishment.⁷Give unto the good, and help not the sinner.⁸A friend cannot be known in prosperity: and an enemy cannot be hidden in adversity.⁹In the prosperity of a man enemies will be grieved: but in his adversity even a friend will depart.¹⁰Never trust thine enemy: for like as iron rusteth, so is his wickedness.¹¹Though he humble himself, and go crouching, yet take good heed and beware of him, and thou shalt be unto him as if thou hadst wiped a lookingglass, and thou shalt know that his rust hath not been altogether wiped away.¹²Set him not by thee, lest, when he hath overthrown thee, he stand up in thy place neither let him sit at thy right hand, lest he seek to take thy seat, and thou at the last remember my words, and be pricked therewith.¹³Who will pity a charmer that is bitten with a serpent, or any such as come nigh wild beasts?¹⁴So one that goeth to a sinner, and is defiled with him in his sins, who will pity?¹⁵For a while he will abide with thee, but if thou begin to fall, he will not tarry.¹⁶An enemy speaketh sweetly with his lips, but in his heart he imagineth how to throw thee into a pit: he will weep with his eyes, but if he find opportunity, he will not be satisfied with blood.¹⁷If adversity come upon thee, thou shalt find him there first and though he pretend to help thee, yet shall he undermine thee.¹⁸He will shake his head, and clap his hands, and whisper much, and change his countenance.

CHAPTER 13 ¹He that toucheth pitch shall be defiled therewith and he that hath fellowship with a proud man shall be like unto him.²Burden not thyself above thy power while thou livest and have no fellowship with one that is mightier and richer than thyself: for how agree the kettle and the earthen pot together? for if the one be smitten against the other, it shall be broken.³The rich man hath done wrong, and yet he threateneth withal: the poor is wronged, and he must intreat also.⁴If thou be for his profit, he will use thee: but if thou have nothing, he will forsake thee.⁵If thou have any thing, he will live with thee: yea, he will make thee bare, and will not be sorry for it.⁶If he have need of thee, he will deceive thee, and smile upon thee, and put thee in hope he will speak thee fair, and say, What wantest thou?⁷And he will shame thee by his meats, until he have drawn thee dry twice or thrice, and at the last he will laugh thee to scorn afterward, when he seeth thee, he will forsake thee, and shake his head at thee.⁸Beware that thou be not deceived and brought down in thy jollity.⁹If thou be invited of a mighty man, withdraw thyself, and so much the more will he invite thee.¹⁰Press thou not upon him, lest thou be put back stand not far off, lest thou be forgotten.¹¹Affect not to be made equal unto him in talk, and believe not his many words: for with much communication will he tempt thee, and smiling upon thee will get out thy secrets:¹²But cruelly he will lay up thy words, and will not spare to do thee hurt, and to put thee in prison.¹³Observe, and take good heed, for thou walkest in peril of thy overthrowing: when thou hearest these things, awake in thy sleep.¹⁴Love the Lord all thy life, and call upon him for thy salvation.¹⁵Every beast loveth his like, and every man loveth his neighbor.¹⁶All flesh consorteth according to kind, and a man will cleave to his like.¹⁷What fellowship hath the wolf with the lamb? so the sinner with the godly.¹⁸What agreement is there between the hyena and a dog? and what peace between the rich and the poor?¹⁹As the wild ass is the lion's prey in the wilderness: so the rich eat up the poor.²⁰As the proud hate humility: so doth the rich abhor the poor.²¹A rich man beginning to fall is held up of his friends: but a poor man being down is thrust away by his friends.²²When a rich man is fallen, he hath many helpers: he speaketh things not to be spoken, and yet men justify him: the poor man slipped, and yet they rebuked him too he spake wisely, and could have no place.²³When a rich man speaketh, every man holdeth his tongue, and, look, what he saith, they extol it to the clouds: but if the poor man speak, they say, What fellow is this? and if he stumble, they will help to overthrow him.²⁴Riches are good unto him that hath no sin, and poverty is evil in the mouth of the ungodly.²⁵The heart of a man changeth his countenance, whether it be for good or evil: and a merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance.²⁶A cheerful countenance is a token of a heart that is in prosperity and the finding out of parables is a wearisome labour of the mind.

CHAPTER 14 ¹Blessed is the man that hath not slipped with his mouth, and is not pricked with the multitude of sins.²Blessed is he whose conscience hath not condemned him, and who is not fallen from his hope in the Lord.³Riches are not comely for a niggard: and what should an envious man do with money?⁴He that gathereth by defrauding his own soul gathereth for others, that shall spend his goods riotously.⁵He that is evil to himself, to whom will he be good? he shall not take pleasure in his goods.⁶There is none worse than he that envieth himself and this is a recompence of his wickedness.⁷And if he doeth good, he doeth it unwillingly and at the last he will declare his wickedness.⁸The envious man hath a wicked eye he turneth away his face, and despiseth men.⁹A covetous man's eye is not satisfied with his portion and the iniquity of the wicked drieth up his soul.¹⁰A wicked eye envieth [his] bread, and he is a niggard at his table.¹¹My son, according to thy ability do good to thyself, and give the Lord his due offering.¹²Remember that death will not be long in coming, and that the covenant of the grave is not shewed unto thee.¹³Do good unto thy friend before thou die, and according to thy ability stretch out thy hand and give to him.¹⁴Defraud not thyself of the good day, and let not the part of a good desire overpass thee.¹⁵Shalt thou not leave thy travails unto another? and thy labours to be divided by lot?¹⁶Give, and take, and sanctify thy soul for there is no seeking of dainties in the grave.¹⁷All flesh waxeth old as a garment: for the covenant from the beginning is, Thou shalt die the death.¹⁸As of the green leaves on a thick tree, some fall, and some grow so is the generation of flesh and blood, one cometh to an end, and another is born.¹⁹Every work rotteth and consumeth away, and the worker thereof shall go withal.²⁰Blessed is the man that doth meditate good things in wisdom, and that reasoneth of holy things by his understanding.²¹He that considereth her ways in his heart shall also have understanding in her secrets.²²Go after her as one that traceth, and lie in wait in her ways.²³He that prieth in at her windows shall also hearken at her doors.²⁴He that doth lodge near her house shall also fasten a pin in her walls.²⁵He shall pitch his tent nigh unto her, and shall lodge in a lodging where good things are.²⁶He shall set his children under her shelter, and shall lodge under her branches.²⁷By her he shall be covered from heat, and in her glory shall he dwell.

CHAPTER 15 ¹He that feareth the Lord will do good, and he that hath the knowledge of the law shall obtain her.²And as a mother shall she meet him, and receive him as a wife married of a virgin.³With the bread of understanding shall she feed him, and give him the water of wisdom to drink.⁴He shall be stayed upon her, and shall not be moved and shall rely upon her, and shall not be confounded.⁵She shall exalt him above his neighbours, and in the midst of the congregation shall she open his mouth.⁶He shall find joy and a crown of gladness, and she shall cause him to inherit an everlasting name.⁷But foolish men shall not attain unto her, and sinners shall not see her.⁸For she is far from pride, and men that are liars cannot remember her.⁹Praise is not seemly in the mouth of a sinner, for it was not sent him of the Lord.¹⁰For praise shall be uttered in wisdom, and the Lord will prosper it.¹¹Say not thou, It is through the Lord that I fell away: for thou oughtest not to do the things that he hateth.¹²Say not thou, He hath caused me to err: for he hath no need of the sinful man.¹³The Lord hateth all abomination and they that fear God love it not.¹⁴He himself made man from the beginning, and left him in the hand of his counsel¹⁵If thou wilt, to keep the commandments, and to perform acceptable faithfulness.¹⁶He hath set fire and water before thee: stretch forth thy hand unto whether thou wilt.¹⁷Before man is life and death and whether him liketh shall be given him.¹⁸For the wisdom of the Lord is great, and he is mighty in power, and beholdeth all things:¹⁹And his eyes are upon them that fear him, and he knoweth every work of man.²⁰He hath commanded no man to do wickedly, neither hath he given any man licence to sin.

CHAPTER 16 ¹Desire not a multitude of unprofitable children, neither delight in ungodly sons.²Though they multiply, rejoice not in them, except the fear of the Lord be with them.³Trust not thou in their life, neither respect their multitude: for one that is just is better than a thousand and better it is to die without children, than to have them that are ungodly.⁴For by one that hath understanding shall the city be replenished: but the kindred of the wicked shall speedily become desolate.⁵Many such things have I seen with mine eyes, and mine ear hath heard greater things than these.⁶In the congregation of the ungodly shall a fire be kindled and in a rebellious nation wrath is set on fire.⁷He was not pacified toward the old giants, who fell away in the strength of their foolishness.⁸Neither spared he the place where Lot sojourned, but abhorred them for their pride.⁹He pitied not the people of perdition, who were taken away in their sins:¹⁰Nor the six hundred thousand footmen, who were gathered together in the hardness of their hearts.¹¹And if there be one stiffnecked among the people, it is marvel if he escape unpunished: for mercy and wrath are with him he is mighty to forgive, and to pour out displeasure.¹²As his mercy is great, so is his correction also: he judgeth a man according to his works¹³The sinner shall not escape with his spoils: and the patience of the godly shall not be frustrate.¹⁴Make way for every work of mercy: for every man shall find according to his works.¹⁵The Lord hardened Pharaoh, that he should not know him, that his powerful works might be known to the world.¹⁶His mercy is manifest to every creature and he hath separated his light from the darkness with an adamant.¹⁷Say not thou, I will hide myself from the Lord: shall any remember me from above? I shall not be remembered among so many people: for what is my soul among such an infinite number of creatures?¹⁸Behold, the heaven, and the heaven of heavens, the deep, and the earth, and all that therein is, shall be moved when he shall visit.¹⁹The mountains also and foundations of the earth be shaken with trembling, when the Lord looketh upon them.²⁰No heart can think upon these things worthily: and who is able to conceive his ways?²¹It is a tempest which no man can see: for the most part of his works are hid.²²Who can declare the works of his justice? or who can endure them? for his covenant is afar off, and the trial of all things is in the end.²³He that wanteth understanding will think upon vain things: and a foolish man erring imagineth follies.²⁴by son, hearken unto me, and learn knowledge, and mark my words with thy heart.²⁵I will shew forth doctrine in weight, and declare his knowledge exactly.²⁶The works of the Lord are done in judgment from the beginning: and from the time he made them he disposed the parts thereof.²⁷He garnished his works for ever, and in his hand are the chief of them unto all generations: they neither labour, nor are weary, nor cease from their works.²⁸None of them hindereth another, and they shall never disobey his word.²⁹After this the Lord looked upon the earth, and filled it with his blessings.³⁰With all manner of living things hath he covered the face thereof and they shall return into it again.

CHAPTER 17 ¹The Lord created man of the earth, and turned him into it again.²He gave them few days, and a short time, and power also over the things therein.³He endued them with strength by themselves, and made them according to his image,⁴And put the fear of man upon all flesh, and gave him dominion over beasts and fowls.⁵They received the use of the five operations of the Lord, and in the sixth place he imparted them understanding, and in the seventh speech, an interpreter of the cogitations thereof.][⁶Counsel, and a tongue, and eyes, ears, and a heart, gave he them to understand.⁷Withal he filled them with the knowledge of understanding, and shewed them good and evil.⁸He set his eye upon their hearts, that he might shew them the greatness of his works.⁹He gave them to glory in his marvellous acts for ever, that they might declare his works with understanding.¹⁰And the elect shall praise his holy name.¹¹Beside this he gave them knowledge, and the law of life for an heritage.¹²He made an everlasting covenant with them, and shewed them his judgments.¹³Their eyes saw the majesty of his glory, and their ears heard his glorious voice.¹⁴And he said unto them, Beware of all unrighteousness and he gave every man commandment concerning his neighbour.¹⁵Their ways are ever before him, and shall not be hid from his eyes.¹⁶Every man from his youth is given to evil neither could they make to themselves fleshy hearts for stony.¹⁷For in the division of the nations of the whole earth he set a ruler over every people but Israel is the

Lord's portion:¹⁸Whom, being his firstborn, he nourisheth with discipline, and giving him the light of his love doth not forsake him.¹⁹Therefore all their works are as the sun before him, and his eyes are continually upon their ways.²⁰None of their unrighteous deeds are hid from him, but all their sins are before the Lord²¹But the Lord being gracious and knowing his workmanship, neither left nor forsook them, but spared them.²²The alms of a man is as a signet with him, and he will keep the good deeds of man as the apple of the eye, and give repentance to his sons and daughters.²³Afterwards he will rise up and reward them, and render their recompence upon their heads.²⁴But unto them that repent, he granted them return, and comforted those that failed in patience.²⁵Return unto the Lord, and forsake thy sins, make thy prayer before his face, and offend less.²⁶Turn again to the most High, and turn away from iniquity: for he will lead thee out of darkness into the light of health, and hate thou abomination vehemently.²⁷Who shall praise the most High in the grave, instead of them which live and give thanks? ²⁸Thanksgiving perisheth from the dead, as from one that is not: the living and sound in heart shall praise the Lord.²⁹How great is the lovingkindness of the Lord our God, and his compassion unto such as turn unto him in holiness!³⁰For all things cannot be in men, because the son of man is not immortal.³¹What is brighter than the sun? yet the light thereof faileth and flesh and blood will imagine evil.³²He vieweth the power of the height of heaven and all men are but earth and ashes.

CHAPTER 18 ¹He that liveth for ever Hath created all things in general.²The Lord only is righteous, and there is none other but he,³Who governeth the world with the palm of his hand, and all things obey his will: for he is the King of all, by his power dividing holy things among them from profane.⁴To whom hath he given power to declare his works? and who shall find out his noble acts?⁵Who shall number the strength of his majesty? and who shall also tell out his mercies?⁶As for the wondrous works of the Lord, there may nothing be taken from them, neither may any thing be put unto them, neither can the ground of them be found out.⁷When a man hath done, then he beginneth and when he leaveth off, then he shall be doubtful.⁸What is man, and whereto serveth he? what is his good, and what is his evil?⁹The number of a man's days at the most are an hundred years.¹⁰As a drop of water unto the sea, and a gravelstone in comparison of the sand so are a thousand years to the days of eternity.¹¹Therefore is God patient with them, and poureth forth his mercy upon them.¹²He saw and perceived their end to be evil therefore he multiplied his compassion.¹³The mercy of man is toward his neighbour but the mercy of the Lord is upon all flesh: he reproveth, and nurtureth, and teacheth and bringeth again, as a shepherd his flock.¹⁴He hath mercy on them that receive discipline, and that diligently seek after his judgments.¹⁵My son, blemish not thy good deeds, neither use uncomfortable words when thou givest any thing.¹⁶Shall not the dew assuage the heat? so is a word better than a gift.¹⁷Lo, is not a word better than a gift? but both are with a gracious man.¹⁸A fool will upbraid churlishly, and a gift of the envious consumeth the eyes.¹⁹Learn before thou speak, and use physick or ever thou be sick.²⁰Before judgment examine thyself, and in the day of visitation thou shalt find mercy.²¹Humble thyself before thou be sick, and in the time of sins shew repentance.²²Let nothing hinder thee to pay thy vow in due time, and defer not until death to be justified.²³Before thou prayest, prepare thyself and be not as one that tempteth the Lord.²⁴Think upon the wrath that shall be at the end, and the time of vengeance, when he shall turn away his face.²⁵When thou hast enough, remember the time of hunger: and when thou art rich, think upon poverty and need.²⁶From the morning until the evening the time is changed, and all things are soon done before the Lord.²⁷A wise man will fear in every thing, and in the day of sinning he will beware of offence: but a fool will not observe time.²⁸Every man of understanding knoweth wisdom, and will give praise unto him that found her.²⁹They that were of understanding in sayings became also wise themselves, and poured forth exquisite parables.³⁰Go not after thy lusts, but refrain thyself from thine appetites.³¹If thou givest thy soul the desires that please her, she will make thee a laughingstock to thine enemies that malign thee.³²Take not pleasure in much good cheer, neither be tied to the expence thereof.³³Be not made a beggar by banqueting upon borrowing, when thou hast nothing in thy purse: for thou shalt lie in wait for thine own life, and be talked on.

CHAPTER 19 ¹A labouring man that A is given to drunkenness shall not be rich: and he that contemneth small things shall fall by little and little.²Wine and women will make men of understanding to fall away: and he that cleaveth to harlots will become impudent.³Moths and worms shall have him to heritage, and a bold man shall be taken away.⁴He that is hasty to give credit is lightminded and he that sinneth shall offend against his own soul.⁵Whoso taketh pleasure in wickedness shall be condemned: but he that resisteth pleasures crowneth his life.⁶He that can rule his tongue shall live without strife and he that hateth babbling shall have less evil.⁷Rehearse not unto another that which is told unto thee, and thou shalt fare never the worse.⁸Whether it be to friend or foe, talk not of other men's lives and if thou canst without offence, reveal them not.⁹For he heard and observed thee, and when time cometh he will hate thee.¹⁰If thou hast heard a word, let it die with thee and be bold, it will not burst thee.¹¹A fool travaileth with a word, as a woman in labour of a child.¹²As an arrow that sticketh in a man's thigh, so is a word within a fool's belly.¹³Admonish a friend, it may be he hath not done it: and if he have done it, that he do it no more.¹⁴Admonish thy friend, it may be he hath not said it: and if he have, that he speak it not again.¹⁵Admonish a friend: for many times it is a slander, and believe not every tale.¹⁶There is one that slippeth in his speech, but not from his heart and who is he that hath not offended with his tongue?¹⁷Admonish thy neighbour before thou threaten him and not being angry, give place to the law of the most High.¹⁸The fear of the Lord is the first step to be accepted [of him,] and wisdom obtaineth his love.¹⁹The knowledge of the commandments of the Lord is the doctrine of life: and they that do things that please him shall receive the fruit of the tree of immortality.²⁰The fear of the Lord is all wisdom and in all wisdom is the performance of the law, and the knowledge of his omnipotency.²¹If a servant say to his master, I will not do as it pleaseth thee though afterward he do it, he angereth him that nourisheth him.²²The knowledge of wickedness is not wisdom, neither at any time the counsel of sinner's prudence.²³ There is a wickedness, and the same an abomination and there is a fool wanting in wisdom.²⁴ He that hath small understanding, and feareth God, is better than one that hath much wisdom, and transgresseth the law of the most High.²⁵ There is an exquisite subtilty, and the same is unjust and there is one that turneth aside to make judgment appear and there is a wise man that justifieth in judgment.²⁶ There is a wicked man that hangeth down his head sadly but inwardly he is full of deceit,²⁷ Casting down his countenance, and making as if he heard not: where he is not known, he will do thee a mischief before thou be aware.²⁸ And if for want of power he be hindered from sinning, yet when he findeth opportunity he will do evil.²⁹ A man may be known by his look, and one that hath understanding by his countenance, when thou meetest him.³⁰ A man's attire, and excessive laughter, and gait, shew what he is.

CHAPTER 20 ¹There is a reproof that is not comely: again, some man holdeth his tongue, and he is wise.² It is much better to reprove, than to be angry secretly: and he that confesseth his fault shall be preserved from hurt.³ How good is it, when thou art reproved, to shew repentance! for so shalt thou escape wilful sin.⁴ As is the lust of an eunuch to deflower a virgin so is he that executeth judgment with violence.⁵ There is one that keepeth silence, and is found wise: and another by much babbling becometh hateful.⁶ Some man holdeth his tongue, because he hath not to answer: and some keepeth silence, knowing his time.⁷ A wise man will hold his tongue till he see opportunity: but a babbler and a fool will regard no time.⁸ He that useth many words shall be abhorred and he that taketh to himself authority therein shall be hated.⁹ There is a sinner that hath good success in evil things and there is a gain that turneth to loss.¹⁰ There is a gift that shall not profit thee and there is a gift whose recompence is double.¹¹ There is an abasement because of glory and there is that lifteth up his head from a low estate.¹² There is that buyeth much for a little, and repayeth it sevenfold.¹³ A wise man by his words maketh him beloved: but the graces of fools shall be poured out.¹⁴ The gift of a fool shall do thee no good when thou hast it neither yet of the envious for his necessity: for he looketh to receive many things for one.¹⁵ He giveth little, and upbraideth much he openeth his mouth like a crier to day he lendeth, and to morrow will he ask it again: such an one is to be hated of God and man.¹⁶The fool saith, I have no friends, I have no thank for all my good deeds, and they that eat my bread speak evil of me.¹⁷How oft, and of how many shall he be laughed to scorn! for he knoweth not aright what it is to have and it is all one unto him as if he had it not.¹⁸To slip upon a pavement is better than to slip with the tongue: so the fall of the wicked shall come speedily.¹⁹An unseasonable tale will always be in the mouth of the unwise.²⁰A wise sentence shall be rejected when it cometh out of a fool's mouth for he will not speak it in due season.²¹There is that is hindered from sinning through want: and when he taketh rest, he shall not be troubled.²²There is that destroyeth his own soul through bashfulness, and by accepting of persons overthroweth himself.²³There is that for bashfulness promiseth to his friend, and maketh him his enemy for nothing.²⁴A lie is a foul blot in a man, yet it is continually in the mouth of the untaught.²⁵A thief is better than a man that is accustomed to lie: but they both shall have destruction to heritage.²⁶The disposition of a liar is dishonourable, and his shame is ever with him.²⁷A wise man shall promote himself to honour with his words: and he that hath understanding will please great men.²⁸He that tilleth his land shall increase his heap: and he that pleaseth great men shall get pardon for iniquity.²⁹Presents and gifts blind the eyes of the wise, and stop up his mouth that he cannot reprove.³⁰Wisdom that is hid, and treasure that is hoarded up, what profit is in them both?³¹Better is he that hideth his folly than a man that hideth his wisdom.³²Necessary patience in seeking ing the Lord is better than he that leadeth his life without a guide.

CHAPTER 21 ¹My son, hast thou sinned? do so no more, but ask pardon for thy former sins.²Flee from sin as from the face of a serpent: for if thou comest too near it, it will bite thee: the teeth thereof are as the teeth of a lion, slaying the souls of men.³All iniquity is as a two edged sword, the wounds whereof cannot be healed.⁴To terrify and do wrong will waste riches: thus the house of proud men shall be made desolate.⁵A prayer out of a poor man's mouth reacheth to the ears of God, and his judgment cometh speedily.⁶He that hateth to be reproved is in the way of sinners: but he that feareth the Lord will repent from his heart.⁷An eloquent man is known far and near but a man of understanding knoweth when he slippeth.⁸He that buildeth his house with other men's money is like one that gathereth himself stones for the tomb of his burial.⁹The congregation of the wicked is like tow wrapped together: and the end of them is a flame of fire to destroy them.¹⁰The way of sinners is made plain with stones, but at the end thereof is the pit of hell.¹¹He that keepeth the law of the Lord getteth the understanding thereof: and the perfection of the fear of the Lord is wisdom.¹²He that is not wise will not be taught: but there is a wisdom which multiplieth bitterness.¹³The knowledge of a wise man shall abound like a flood: and his counsel is like a pure fountain of life.¹⁴The inner parts of a fool are like a broken vessel, and he will hold no knowledge as long as he liveth.¹⁵If a skilful man hear a wise word, he will commend it, and add unto it: but as soon as one of no understanding heareth it, it displeaseth him, and he casteth it behind his back.¹⁶The talking of a fool is like a burden in the way:

but grace shall be found in the lips of the wise.¹⁷They enquire at the mouth of the wise man in the congregation, and they shall ponder his words in their heart.¹⁸As is a house that is destroyed, so is wisdom to a fool: and the knowledge of the unwise is as talk without sense.¹⁹Doctrine unto fools is as fetters on the feet, and like manacles on the right hand.²⁰A fool lifteth up his voice with laughter but a wise man doth scarce smile a little.²¹Learning is unto a wise man as an ornament of gold, and like a bracelet upon his right arm.²²A foolish man's foot is soon in his [neighbour's] house: but a man of experience is ashamed of him.²³A fool will peep in at the door into the house: but he that is well nurtured will stand without.²⁴It is the rudeness of a man to hearken at the door: but a wise man will be grieved with the disgrace.²⁵The lips of talkers will be telling such things as pertain not unto them: but the words of such as have understanding are weighed in the balance.²⁶The heart of fools is in their mouth: but the mouth of the wise is in their heart.²⁷When the ungodly curseth Satan, he curseth his own soul.²⁸A whisperer defileth his own soul, and is hated wheresoever he dwelleth.

CHAPTER 22 ¹A slothful man is compared to a filthy stone, and every one will hiss him out to his disgrace.²A slothful man is compared to the filth of a dunghill: every man that takes it up will shake his hand.³An evilnurtured man is the dishonour of his father that begat him: and a [foolish] daughter is born to his loss.⁴A wise daughter shall bring an inheritance to her husband: but she that liveth dishonestly is her father's heaviness.⁵She that is bold dishonoureth both her father and her husband, but they both shall despise her.⁶A tale out of season [is as] musick in mourning: but stripes and correction of wisdom are never out of time.⁷Whoso teacheth a fool is as one that glueth a potsherd together, and as he that waketh one from a sound sleep.⁸He that telleth a tale to a fool speaketh to one in a slumber: when he hath told his tale, he will say, What is the matter?⁹If children live honestly, and have wherewithal, they shall cover the baseness of their parents.¹⁰But children, being haughty, through disdain and want of nurture do stain the nobility of their kindred.¹¹Weep for the dead, for he hath lost the light: and weep for the fool, for he wanteth understanding: make little weeping for the dead, for he is at rest: but the life of the fool is worse than death.¹²Seven days do men mourn for him that is dead but for a fool and an ungodly man all the days of his life.¹³Talk not much with a fool, and go not to him that hath no understanding: beware of him, lest thou have trouble, and thou shalt never be defiled with his fooleries: depart from him, and thou shalt find rest, and never be disquieted with madness.¹⁴What is heavier than lead? and what is the name thereof, but a fool?¹⁵Sand, and salt, and a mass of iron, is easier to bear, than a man without understanding.¹⁶As timber girt and bound together in a building cannot be loosed with shaking: so the heart that is stablished by advised counsel shall fear at no time.¹⁷A heart settled upon a thought of understanding is as a fair plaistering on the wall of a gallery.¹⁸Pales set on an high place will never stand against the wind: so a fearful heart in the imagination of a fool cannot stand against any fear.¹⁹He that pricketh the eye will make tears to fall: and he that pricketh the heart maketh it to shew her knowledge.²⁰Whoso casteth a stone at the birds frayeth them away: and he that upbraideth his friend breaketh friendship.²¹ Though thou drewest a sword at thy friend, yet despair not: for there may be a returning [to favour.]²² If thou hast opened thy mouth against thy friend, fear not for there may be a reconciliation: except for upbraiding, or pride, or disclosing of secrets, or a treacherous wound: for for these things every friend will depart.²³ Be faithful to thy neighbour in his poverty, that thou mayest rejoice in his prosperity: abide stedfast unto him in the time of his trouble, that thou mayest be heir with him in his heritage: for a mean estate is not always to be contemned: nor the rich that is foolish to be had in admiration.²⁴ As the vapour and smoke of a furnace goeth before the fire so reviling before blood.²⁵ I will not be ashamed to defend a friend neither will I hide myself from him.²⁶ And if any evil happen unto me by him, every one that heareth it will beware of him.²⁷ Who shall set a watch before my mouth, and a seal of wisdom upon my lips, that I fall not suddenly by them, and that my tongue destroy me not?

CHAPTER 23 ¹O Lord, Father and Governor of all my whole life, leave me not to their counsels, and let me not fall by them.² Who will set scourges over my thoughts, and the discipline of wisdom over mine heart? that they spare me not for mine ignorances, and it pass not by my sins:³ Lest mine ignorances increase, and my sins abound to my destruction, and I fall before mine adversaries, and mine enemy rejoice over me, whose hope is far from thy mercy.⁴ O Lord, Father and God of my life, give me not a proud look, but turn away from thy servants always a haughty mind.⁵ Turn away from me vain hopes and concupiscence, and thou shalt hold him up that is desirous always to serve thee.⁶ Let not the greediness of the belly nor lust of the flesh take hold of me and give not over me thy servant into an impudent mind.⁷ Hear, O ye children, the discipline of the mouth: he that keepeth it shall never be taken in his lips.⁸ The sinner shall be left in his foolishness: both the evil speaker and the proud shall fall thereby.⁹ Accustom not thy mouth to swearing neither use thyself to the naming of the Holy One.¹⁰ For as a servant that is continually beaten shall not be without a blue mark: so he that sweareth and nameth God continually shall not be faultless.¹¹ A man that useth much swearing shall be filled with iniquity, and the plague shall never depart from his house: if he shall offend, his sin shall be upon him: and if he acknowledge not his sin, he maketh a double offence: and if he swear in vain, he shall not be innocent, but his house shall be full of calamities.¹² There is a word that is clothed about with death: God grant that it be not found in the heritage of Jacob for all such things shall be far from the godly, and they shall not wallow in their sins.¹³ Use not thy mouth to intemperate swearing, for therein is the word of sin.¹⁴ Remember thy father and thy mother, when thou sittest among great men. Be not forgetful before them, and so thou by thy custom become a fool, and wish that thou hadst not been born, and curse they day of thy nativity.¹⁵ The man that is accustomed to opprobrious words will never be reformed all the days of his life.¹⁶ Two sorts of men multiply sin, and the third will bring wrath: a hot mind is as a burning fire, it will never be quenched till it be consumed: a fornicator in the body of his flesh will never cease till he hath kindled a fire.¹⁷ All bread is sweet to a whoremonger, he will not leave off till he die.¹⁸ A man that breaketh wedlock, saying thus in his heart, Who seeth me? I am compassed about with darkness, the walls cover me, and no body seeth me what need I to fear? the most High will not remember my sins:¹⁹ Such a man only feareth the eyes of men, and knoweth not that the eyes of the Lord are ten thousand times brighter than the sun, beholding all the ways of men, and considering the most secret parts.²⁰ He knew all things ere ever they were created so also after they were perfected he looked upon them all.²¹ This man shall be punished in the streets of the city, and where he suspecteth not he shall be taken.²² Thus shall it go also with the wife that leaveth her husband, and bringeth in an heir by another.²³ For first, she hath disobeyed the law of the most High and secondly, she hath trespassed against her own husband and thirdly, she hath played the whore in adultery, and brought children by another man.²⁴ She shall be brought out into the congregation, and inquisition shall be made of her children.²⁵ Her children shall not take root, and her branches shall bring forth no fruit.²⁶ She shall leave her memory to be cursed, and her reproach shall not be blotted out.²⁷ And they that remain shall know that there is nothing better than the fear of the Lord, and that there is nothing sweeter than to take heed unto the commandments of the Lord.²⁸It is great glory to follow the Lord, and to be received of him is long life.

CHAPTER 24 ¹Wisdom shall praise herself, and shall glory in the midst of her people.²In the congregation of the most High shall she open her mouth, and triumph before his power.³I came out of the mouth of the most High, and covered the earth as a cloud.⁴I dwelt in high places, and my throne is in a cloudy pillar.⁵I alone compassed the circuit of heaven, and walked in the bottom of the deep.⁶In the waves of the sea and in all the earth, and in every people and nation, I got a possession.⁷With all these I sought rest: and in whose inheritance shall I abide?⁸So the Creator of all things gave me a commandment, and he that made me caused my tabernacle to rest, and said, Let thy dwelling be in Jacob, and thine inheritance in Israel.⁹He created me from the beginning before the world, and I shall never fail.¹⁰In the holy tabernacle I served before him and so was I established in Sion.¹¹Likewise in the beloved city he gave me rest, and in Jerusalem was my power.¹²And I took root in an honourable people, even in the portion of the Lord's inheritance.¹³I was exalted like a cedar in Libanus, and as a cypress tree upon the mountains of Hermon.¹⁴I was exalted like a palm tree in En-gaddi, and as a rose plant in Jericho, as a fair olive tree in a pleasant field, and grew up as a plane tree by the water.¹⁵I gave a sweet smell like cinnamon and aspalathus, and I yielded a pleasant odour like the best myrrh, as galbanum, and onyx, and sweet storax, and as the fume of frankincense in the tabernacle.¹⁶As the turpentine tree I stretched out my branches, and my branches are the branches of honour and grace.¹⁷As the vine brought I forth pleasant savour, and my flowers are the fruit of honour and riches.¹⁸I am the mother of fair love, and fear, and knowledge, and holy hope: I therefore, being eternal, am given to all my children which are named of him.¹⁹Come unto me, all ye that be desirous of me, and fill yourselves with my fruits.²⁰For my memorial is sweeter than honey, and mine inheritance than the honeycomb.²¹They that eat me shall yet be hungry, and they that drink me shall yet be thirsty.²²He that obeyeth me shall never be confounded, and they that work by me shall not do amiss.²³All these things are the book of the covenant of the most high God, even the law which Moses commanded for an heritage unto the congregations of Jacob.²⁴Faint not to be strong in the Lord that he may confirm you, cleave unto him: for the Lord Almighty is God alone, and beside him there is no other Saviour.²⁵He filleth all things with his wisdom, as Phison and as Tigris in the time of the new fruits.²⁶He maketh the understanding to abound like Euphrates, and as Jordan in the time of the harvest.²⁷He maketh the doctrine of knowledge appear as the light, and as Geon in the time of vintage.²⁸The first man knew her not perfectly: no more shall the last find her out.²⁹For her thoughts are more than the sea, and her counsels profounder than the great deep.³⁰I also came out as a brook from a river, and as a conduit into a garden.³¹I said, I will water my best garden, and will water abundantly my garden bed: and, lo, my brook became a river, and my river became a sea.³²I will yet make doctrine to shine as the morning, and will send forth her light afar off.³³I will yet pour out doctrine as prophecy, and leave it to all ages for ever.³⁴Behold that I have not laboured for myself only, but for all them that seek wisdom.

CHAPTER 25 ¹In three things I was beautified, and stood up beautiful both before God and men: the unity of brethren, the love of neighbours, a man and a wife that agree together.²Three sorts of men my soul hateth, and I am greatly offended at their life: a poor man that is proud, a rich man that is a liar, and an old adulterer that doateth.³If thou hast gathered nothing in thy youth, how canst thou find any thing in thine age?⁴O how comely a thing is judgment for gray hairs, and for ancient men to know counsel!⁵O how comely is the wisdom of old men, and understanding and counsel to men of honour.⁶Much experience is the crown of old men, and the fear of God is their glory.⁷There be nine things which I have judged in mine heart to be happy, and the tenth I will utter with my tongue: A man that hath joy of his children and he that liveth to see the fall of his enemy.⁸Well is him that dwelleth with a wife of understanding, and that hath not slipped with his tongue, and that hath not served a man more unworthy than himself.⁹Well is him that hath found prudence, and he that speaketh in the ears of them that will hear:¹⁰O how great is he that findeth wisdom! yet is there none above him that feareth the Lord.¹¹But the love of the Lord passeth all things for illumination: he that holdeth it, whereto shall he be likened?¹²The fear of the Lord is the beginning of his love: and faith is the beginning of cleaving unto him.¹³[Give me] any plague, but the plague of the heart: and any wickedness, but the wickedness of a woman:¹⁴And any affliction, but the affliction from them that hate me: and any revenge, but the revenge of enemies.¹⁵There is no head above the head of a serpent and there is no wrath above the wrath of an enemy.¹⁶I had rather dwell with a lion and a dragon, than to keep house with a wicked woman.¹⁷The wickedness of a woman changeth her face, and darkeneth her countenance like sackcloth.¹⁸Her husband shall sit among his neighbours and when he heareth it shall sigh bitterly.¹⁹All wickedness is but little to the wickedness of a woman: let the portion of a sinner fall upon her.²⁰As the climbing up a sandy way is to the feet of the aged, so is a wife full of words to a quiet man.²¹Stumble not at the beauty of a woman, and desire her not for pleasure.²²A woman, if she maintain her husband, is full of anger, impudence, and much reproach.²³A wicked woman abateth the courage, maketh an heavy countenance and a wounded heart: a woman that will not comfort her husband in distress maketh weak hands and feeble knees.²⁴Of the woman came the beginning of sin, and through her we all die.²⁵Give the water no passage neither a wicked woman liberty to gad abroad.²⁶If she go not as thou wouldest have her, cut her off from thy flesh, and give her a bill of divorce, and let her go.

CHAPTER 26 ¹Blessed is the man that hath a virtuous wife, for the number of his days shall be double.²A virtuous woman rejoiceth her husband, and he shall fulfil the years of his life in peace.³A good wife is a good portion, which shall be given in the portion of them that fear the Lord.⁴Whether a man be rich or poor, if he have a good heart toward the Lord, he shall at all times rejoice with a cheerful countenance.⁵There be three things that mine heart feareth and for the fourth I was sore afraid: the slander of a city, the gathering together of an unruly multitude, and a false accusation: all these are worse than death.⁶But a grief of heart and sorrow is a woman that is jealous over another woman, and a scourge of the tongue which communicateth with all.⁷An evil wife is a yoke shaken to and fro: he that hath hold of her is as though he held a scorpion.⁸A drunken woman and a gadder abroad causeth great anger, and she will not cover her own shame.⁹The whoredom of a woman may be known in her haughty looks and eyelids.¹⁰If thy daughter be shameless, keep her in straitly, lest she abuse herself through overmuch liberty.¹¹Watch over an impudent eye: and marvel not if she trespass against thee.¹²She will open her mouth, as a thirsty traveller when he hath found a fountain, and drink of every water near her: by every hedge will she sit down, and open her quiver against every arrow.¹³The grace of a wife delighteth her husband, and her discretion will fatten his bones.¹⁴A silent and loving woman is a gift of the Lord and there is nothing so much worth as a mind well instructed.¹⁵A shamefaced and faithful woman is a double grace, and her continent mind cannot be valued.¹⁶As the sun when it ariseth in the high heaven so is the beauty of a good wife in the ordering of her house.¹⁷As the clear light is upon the holy candlestick so is the beauty of the face in ripe age.¹⁸As the golden pillars are upon the sockets of silver so are the fair feet with a constant heart.¹⁹My son, keep the flower of thine age sound and give not thy strength to strangers.²⁰When thou hast gotten a fruitful possession through all the field, sow it with thine own seed, trusting in the goodness of thy stock.²¹So thy race which thou leavest shall be magnified, having the confidence of their good descent.²²An harlot shall be accounted as spittle but a married woman is a tower against death to her husband.²³A wicked woman is given as a portion to a wicked man: but a godly woman is given to him that feareth the Lord.²⁴A dishonest woman contemneth shame: but an honest woman will reverence her husband.²⁵A shameless woman shall be counted as a dog but she that is shamefaced will fear the Lord.²⁶A woman that honoureth her husband shall be judged wise of all but she that dishonoureth him in her pride shall be counted ungodly of all.²⁷A loud crying woman and a scold shall be sought out to drive away the enemies.²⁸There be two things that grieve my heart and the third maketh me angry: a man of war that suffereth poverty and men of understanding that are not set by and one that returneth from righteousness to sin the Lord prepareth such an one for the sword.²⁹A merchant shall hardly keep himself from doing wrong and an huckster shall not be freed from sin.

CHAPTER 27 ¹Many have sinned for a small matter and he that seeketh for abundance will turn his eyes away.²As a nail sticketh fast between the joinings of the stones so doth sin stick close between buying and selling.³Unless a man hold himself diligently in the fear of the Lord, his house shall soon be overthrown.⁴As when one sifteth with a sieve, the refuse remaineth so the filth of man in his talk.⁵The furnace proveth the potter's vessels so the trial of man is in his reasoning.⁶The fruit declareth if the tree have been dressed so is the utterance of a conceit in the heart of man.⁷Praise no man before thou hearest him speak for this is the trial of men.⁸If thou followest righteousness, thou shalt obtain her, and put her on, as a glorious long robe.⁹The birds will resort unto their like so will truth return unto them that practise in her.¹⁰As the lion lieth in wait for the prey so sin for them that work iniquity.¹¹The discourse of a godly man is always with wisdom but a fool changeth as the moon.¹²If thou be among the indiscreet, observe the time but be continually among men of understanding.¹³The discourse of fools is irksome, and their sport is the wantonness of sin.¹⁴The talk of him that sweareth much maketh the hair stand upright and their brawls make one stop his ears.¹⁵The strife of the proud is bloodshedding, and their revilings are grievous to the ear.¹⁶Whoso discovereth secrets loseth his credit and shall never find friend to his mind.¹⁷Love thy friend, and be faithful unto him: but if thou betrayest his secrets, follow no more after him.¹⁸For as a man hath destroyed his enemy so hast thou lost the love of thy neighbor.¹⁹As one that letteth a bird go out of his hand, so hast thou let thy neighbour go, and shalt not get him again²⁰Follow after him no more, for he is too far off he is as a roe escaped out of the snare.²¹As for a wound, it may be bound up and after reviling there may be reconciliation: but he that betrayeth secrets is without hope.²²He that winketh with the eyes worketh evil: and he that knoweth him will depart from him.²³When thou art present, he will speak sweetly, and will admire thy words: but at the last he will writhe his mouth, and slander thy sayings.²⁴I have hated many things, but nothing like him for the Lord will hate him.²⁵Whoso casteth a stone on high casteth it on his own head and a deceitful stroke shall make wounds.²⁶Whoso diggeth a pit shall fall therein: and he that setteth a trap shall be taken therein.²⁷He that worketh mischief, it shall fall upon him, and he shall not know whence it cometh.²⁸Mockery and reproach are from the proud but vengeance, as a lion, shall lie in wait for them.²⁹They that rejoice at the fall of the righteous shall be taken in the snare and anguish shall consume them before they die.³⁰Malice and wrath, even these are abominations and the sinful man shall have them both.

CHAPTER 28 ¹He that revengeth shall find vengeance from the Lord, and he will surely keep his sins [in remembrance.]²Forgive thy neighbour the hurt that he hath done unto thee, so shall thy sins also be forgiven when thou prayest.³One man beareth hatred against another, and doth he seek pardon from the Lord?⁴He sheweth no mercy to a man, which is like himself: and doth he ask forgiveness of his own sins?⁵If he that is but flesh nourish hatred, who will intreat for pardon of his sins?⁶Remember thy end, and let enmity cease [remember] corruption and death, and abide in the commandments.⁷Remember the commandments, and bear no malice to thy neighbour: [remember] the covenant of the Highest, and wink at ignorance.⁸Abstain from strife, and thou shalt diminish thy sins: for a furious man will kindle strife,⁹A sinful man disquieteth friends, and maketh debate among them that be at peace.¹⁰As the matter of the fire is, so it burneth: and as a man's strength is, so is his wrath and according to his riches his anger riseth and the stronger they are which contend, the more they will be inflamed.¹¹An hasty contention kindleth a fire: and an hasty fighting sheddeth blood.¹²If thou blow the spark, it shall burn: if thou spit upon it, it shall be quenched: and both these come out of thy mouth.¹³Curse the whisperer and doubletongued: for such have destroyed many that were at peace.¹⁴A backbiting tongue hath disquieted many, and driven them from nation to nation: strong cities hath it pulled down, and overthrown the houses of great men.¹⁵A backbiting tongue hath cast out virtuous women, and deprived them of their labours.¹⁶Whoso hearkeneth unto it shall never find rest, and never dwell quietly.¹⁷The stroke of the whip maketh marks in the flesh: but the stroke of the tongue breaketh the bones.¹⁸Many have fallen by the edge of the sword: but not so many as have fallen by the tongue.¹⁹Well is he that is defended through the venom thereof who hath not drawn the yoke thereof, nor hath been bound in her bands.²⁰For the yoke thereof is a yoke of iron, and the bands thereof are bands of brass.²¹The death thereof is an evil death, the grave were better than it.²²It shall not have rule over them that fear God, neither shall they be burned with the flame thereof.²³Such as forsake the Lord shall fall into it and it shall burn in them, and not be quenched it shall be sent upon them as a lion, and devour them as a leopard.²⁴Look that thou hedge thy possession about with thorns, and bind up thy silver and gold,²⁵And weigh thy words in a balance, and make a door and bar for thy mouth.²⁶Beware thou slide not by it, lest thou fall before him that lieth in wait.

CHAPTER 29 ¹He that is merciful will lend unto his neighbour and he that strengtheneth his hand keepeth the commandments.²Lend to thy neighbour in time of his need, and pay thou thy neighbour again in due season.³Keep thy word, and deal faithfully with him, and thou shalt always find the thing that is necessary for thee.⁴Many, when a thing was lent them, reckoned it to be found, and put them to trouble that helped them.⁵Till he hath received, he will kiss a man's hand and for his neighbour's money he will speak submissly: but when he should repay, he will prolong the time, and return words of grief, and complain of the time.⁶If he prevail, he shall hardly receive the half, and he will count as if he had found it: if not, he hath deprived him of his money, and he hath gotten him an enemy without cause: he payeth him with cursings and railings and for honour he will pay him disgrace.⁷Many therefore have refused to lend for other men's ill dealing, fearing to be defrauded.⁸Yet have thou patience with a man in poor estate, and delay not to shew him mercy.⁹Help the poor for the commandment's sake, and turn him not away because of his poverty.¹⁰Lose thy money for thy brother and thy friend, and let it not rust under a stone to be lost.¹¹Lay up thy treasure according to the commandments of the most High, and it shall bring thee more profit than gold.¹²Shut up alms in thy storehouses: and it shall deliver thee from all affliction.¹³It shall fight for thee against thine enemies better than a mighty shield and strong spear.¹⁴An honest man is surety for his neighbour: but he that is impudent will forsake him.¹⁵Forget not the friendship of thy surety, for he hath given his life for thee.¹⁶A sinner will overthrow the good estate of his surety:¹⁷And he that is of an unthankful mind will leave him [in danger] that delivered him.¹⁸Suretiship hath undone many of good estate, and shaken them as a wave of the sea: mighty men hath it driven from their houses, so that they wandered among strange nations.¹⁹A wicked man transgressing the commandments of the Lord shall fall into suretiship: and he that undertaketh and followeth other men's business for gain shall fall into suits.²⁰Help thy neighbour according to thy power, and beware that thou thyself fall not into the same.²¹The chief thing for life is water, and bread, and clothing, and an house to cover shame.²²Better is the life of a poor man in a mean cottage, than delicate fare in another man's house.²³Be it little or much, hold thee contented, that thou hear not the reproach of thy house.²⁴For it is a miserable life to go from house to house: for where thou art a stranger, thou darest not open thy mouth.²⁵Thou shalt entertain, and feast, and have no thanks: moreover thou shalt hear bitter words:²⁶Come, thou stranger, and furnish a table, and feed me of that thou hast ready.²⁷Give place, thou stranger, to an honourable man my brother cometh to be lodged, and I have need of mine house.²⁸These things are grievous to a man of understanding the upbraiding of houseroom, and reproaching of the lender.

CHAPTER 30 ¹He that loveth his son causeth him oft to feel the rod, that he may have joy of him in the end.²He that chastiseth his son shall have joy in him, and shall rejoice of him among his acquaintance.³He that teacheth his son grieveth the enemy: and before his friends he shall rejoice of him.⁴Though his father die, yet he is as though he were not dead: for he hath left one behind him that is like himself.⁵While he lived, he saw and rejoiced in him: and when he died, he was not sorrowful.⁶He left behind him an avenger against his enemies, and one that shall requite kindness to his friends.⁷He that maketh too much of his son shall bind up his wounds and his bowels will be troubled at every cry.⁸An horse not broken becometh headstrong: and a child left to himself will be wilful.⁹Cocker thy child, and he shall make thee afraid: play with him, and he will bring thee to heaviness.¹⁰Laugh not with him, lest thou have sorrow with him, and lest thou gnash thy teeth in the end.¹¹Give him no liberty in his youth, and wink not at his follies.¹²Bow down his neck while he is young, and beat him on the sides while he is a child, lest he wax stubborn, and be disobedient unto thee, and so bring sorrow to thine heart.¹³Chastise thy son, and hold him to labour, lest his lewd behaviour be an offence unto thee.¹⁴Better is the poor, being sound and strong of constitution, than a rich man that is afflicted in his body.¹⁵Health and good estate of body are above all gold, and a strong body above infinite wealth.¹⁶There is no riches above a sound body, and no joy above the joy of the heart.¹⁷Death is better than a bitter life or continual sickness.¹⁸Delicates poured upon a mouth shut up are as messes of meat set upon a grave.¹⁹What good doeth the offering unto an idol? for neither can it eat nor smell: so is he that is persecuted of the Lord.²⁰He seeth with his eyes and groaneth, as an eunuch that embraceth a virgin and sigheth.²¹Give not over thy mind to heaviness, and afflict not thyself in thine own counsel.²²The gladness of the heart is the life of man, and the joyfulness of a man prolongeth his days.²³Love thine own soul, and comfort thy heart, remove sorrow far from thee: for sorrow hath killed many, and there is no profit therein.²⁴Envy and wrath shorten the life, and carefulness bringeth age before the time.²⁵A cheerful and good heart will have a care of his meat and diet.

CHAPTER 31 ¹Watching for riches consumeth the flesh, and the care thereof driveth away sleep.²Watching care will not let a man slumber, as a sore disease breaketh sleep,³The rich hath great labour in gathering riches together and when he resteth, he is filled with his delicates.⁴The poor laboureth in his poor estate and when he leaveth off, he is still needy.⁵He that loveth gold shall not be justified, and he that followeth corruption shall have enough thereof.⁶Gold hath been the ruin of many, and their destruction was present.⁷It is a stumblingblock unto them that sacrifice unto it, and every fool shall be taken therewith.⁸Blessed is the rich that is found without blemish, and hath not gone after gold.⁹Who is he? and we will call him blessed: for wonderful things hath he done among his people.¹⁰Who hath been tried thereby, and found perfect? then let him glory. Who might offend, and hath not offended? or done evil, and hath not done it?¹¹His goods shall be established, and the congregation shall declare his alms.¹²If thou sit at a bountiful table, be not greedy upon it, and say not, There is much meat on it.¹³Remember that a wicked eye is an evil thing: and what is created more wicked than an eye? therefore it weepeth upon every occasion.¹⁴Stretch not thine hand whithersoever it looketh, and thrust it not with him into the dish.¹⁵Judge not thy neighbour by thyself: and be discreet in every point.¹⁶Eat as it becometh a man, those things which are set before thee and devour note, lest thou be hated.¹⁷Leave off first for manners' sake and be not unsatiable, lest thou offend.¹⁸When thou sittest among many, reach not thine hand out first of all.¹⁹A very little is sufficient for a man well nurtured, and he

fetcheth not his wind short upon his bed.²⁰Sound sleep cometh of moderate eating: he riseth early, and his wits are with him: but the pain of watching, and choler, and pangs of the belly, are with an unsatiable man.²¹And if thou hast been forced to eat, arise, go forth, vomit, and thou shalt have rest.²²My son, hear me, and despise me not, and at the last thou shalt find as I told thee: in all thy works be quick, so shall there no sickness come unto thee.²³Whoso is liberal of his meat, men shall speak well of him and the report of his good housekeeping will be believed.²⁴But against him that is a niggard of his meat the whole city shall murmur and the testimonies of his niggardness shall not be doubted of.²⁵Shew not thy valiantness in wine for wine hath destroyed many.²⁶The furnace proveth the edge by dipping: so doth wine the hearts of the proud by drunkenness.²⁷Wine is as good as life to a man, if it be drunk moderately: what life is then to a man that is without wine? for it was made to make men glad.²⁸Wine measurably drunk and in season bringeth gladness of the heart, and cheerfulness of the mind:²⁹But wine drunken with excess maketh bitterness of the mind, with brawling and quarrelling.³⁰Drunkenness increaseth the rage of a fool till he offend: it diminisheth strength, and maketh wounds.³¹Rebuke not thy neighbour at the wine, and despise him not in his mirth: give him no despiteful words, and press not upon him with urging him [to drink.]

CHAPTER 32 ¹If thou be made the master [of a feast,] lift not thyself up, but be among them as one of the rest take diligent care for them, and so sit down.²And when thou hast done all thy office, take thy place, that thou mayest be merry with them, and receive a crown for thy well ordering of the feast.³Speak, thou that art the elder, for it becometh thee, but with sound judgment and hinder not musick.⁴Pour not out words where there is a musician, and shew not forth wisdom out of time.⁵A concert of musick in a banquet of wine is as a signet of carbuncle set in gold.⁶As a signet of an emerald set in a work of gold, so is the melody of musick with pleasant wine.⁷Speak, young man, if there be need of thee: and yet scarcely when thou art twice asked.⁸Let thy speech be short, comprehending much in few words be as one that knoweth and yet holdeth his tongue.⁹If thou be among great men, make not thyself equal with them and when ancient men are in place, use not many words.¹⁰Before the thunder goeth lightning and before a shamefaced man shall go favour.¹¹Rise up betimes, and be not the last but get thee home without delay.¹²There take thy pastime, and do what thou wilt: but sin not by proud speech.¹³And for these things bless him that made thee, and hath replenished thee with his good things.¹⁴Whoso feareth the Lord will receive his discipline and they that seek him early shall find favour.¹⁵He that seeketh the law shall be filled therewith: but the hypocrite will be offended thereat.¹⁶They that fear the Lord shall find judgment, and shall kindle justice as a light.¹⁷A sinful man will not be reprov'd, but findeth an excuse according to his will.¹⁸A man of counsel will be considerate but a strange and proud man is not daunted with fear, even when of himself he hath done without counsel.¹⁹Do nothing without advice and when thou hast once done, repent not.²⁰Go not in a way wherein thou mayest fall, and stumble not among the stones.²¹Be not confident in a plain way.²²And beware of thine own children.²³In every good work trust thy own soul for this is the keeping of the commandments.²⁴He that believeth in the Lord taketh heed to the commandment and he that trusteth in him shall fare never the worse.

CHAPTER 33 ¹There shall no evil happen unto him that feareth the Lord but in temptation even again he will deliver him.²A wise man hateth not the law but he that is an hypocrite therein is as a ship in a storm.³A man of understanding trusteth in the law and the law is faithful unto him, as an oracle.⁴Prepare what to say, and so thou shalt be heard: and bind up instruction, and then make answer.⁵The heart of the foolish is like a cartwheel and his thoughts are like a rolling axletree.⁶A stallion horse is as a mocking friend, he neigheth under every one that sitteth upon him.⁷Why doth one day excel another, when as all the light of every day in the year is of the sun?⁸By the knowledge of the Lord they were distinguished: and he altered seasons and feasts.⁹Some of them hath he made high days, and hallowed them, and some of them hath he made ordinary days.¹⁰And all men are from the ground, and Adam was created of earth:¹¹In much knowledge the Lord hath divided them, and made their ways diverse.¹²Some of them hath he blessed and exalted and some of them he sanctified, and set near himself: but some of them hath he cursed and brought low, and turned out of their places.¹³As the clay is in the potter's hand, to fashion it at his pleasure: so man is in the hand of him that made him, to render to them as liketh him best.¹⁴Good is set against evil, and life against death: so is the godly against the sinner, and the sinner against the godly.¹⁵So look upon all the works of the most High and there are two and two, one against another.¹⁶I awaked up last of all, as one that gathereth after the grapegatherers: by the blessing of the Lord I profited, and tred my winepress like a gatherer of grapes.¹⁷Consider that I laboured not for myself only, but for all them that seek learning.¹⁸Hear me, O ye great men of the people, and hearken with your ears, ye rulers of the congregation.¹⁹Give not thy son and wife, thy brother and friend, power over thee while thou livest, and give not thy goods to another: lest it repent thee, and thou intreat for the same again.²⁰As long as thou livest and hast breath in thee, give not thyself over to any.²¹For better it is that thy children should seek to thee, than that thou shouldest stand to their courtesy.²²In all thy works keep to thyself the preeminence leave not a stain in thine honour.²³At the time when thou shalt end thy days, and finish thy life, distribute thine inheritance.²⁴Fodder, a wand, and burdens, are for the ass and bread, correction, and work, for a servant. ²⁵If thou set thy servant to labour, thou shalt find rest: but if thou let him go idle, he shall seek liberty.²⁶A yoke and a collar do bow the neck: so are tortures and torments for an evil servant.²⁷Send him to labour, that he be not idle for idleness teacheth much evil.²⁸Set him to work, as is fit for him: if he be not obedient, put on more heavy fetters.²⁹But be not excessive toward any and without discretion do nothing.³⁰If thou have a servant, let him be unto thee as thyself, because thou hast bought him with a price.³¹If thou have a servant, entreat him as a brother: for thou hast need of him, as of thine own soul: if thou entreat him evil, and he run from thee, which way wilt thou go to seek him?

CHAPTER 34 ¹The hopes of a man void of understanding are vain and false: and dreams lift up fools.²Whoso regardeth dreams

is like him that catcheth at a shadow, and followeth after the wind.³The vision of dreams is the resemblance of one thing to another, even as the likeness of a face to a face.⁴Of an unclean thing what can be cleansed? and from that thing which is false what truth can come?⁵Divinations, and soothsayings, and dreams, are vain: and the heart fancieth, as a woman's heart in travail.⁶If they be not sent from the most High in thy visitation, set not thy heart upon them.⁷For dreams have deceived many, and they have failed that put their trust in them.⁸The law shall be found perfect without lies: and wisdom is perfection to a faithful mouth.⁹A man that hath travelled knoweth many things and he that hath much experience will declare wisdom.¹⁰He that hath no experience knoweth little: but he that hath travelled is full of prudence.¹¹When I travelled, I saw many things and I understand more than I can express.¹²I was oftentimes in danger of death: yet I was delivered because of these things.¹³The spirit of those that fear the Lord shall live for their hope is in him that saveth them.¹⁴Whoso feareth the Lord shall not fear nor be afraid for he is his hope.¹⁵Blessed is the soul of him that feareth the Lord: to whom doth he look? and who is his strength?¹⁶For the eyes of the Lord are upon them that love him, he is their mighty protection and strong stay, a defence from heat, and a cover from the sun at noon, a preservation from stumbling, and an help from falling.¹⁷He raiseth up the soul, and lighteneth the eyes: he giveth health, life, and blessing.¹⁸He that sacrificeth of a thing wrongfully gotten, his offering is ridiculous and the gifts of unjust men are not accepted.¹⁹The most High is not pleased with the offerings of the wicked neither is he pacified for sin by the multitude of sacrifices.²⁰Whoso bringeth an offering of the goods of the poor doeth as one that killeth the son before his father's eyes.²¹The bread of the needy is their life: he that defraudeth him thereof is a man of blood.²²He that taketh away his neighbour's living slayeth him and he that defraudeth the labourer of his hire is a bloodshedder.²³When one buildeth, and another pulleth down, what profit have they then but labour?²⁴When one prayeth, and another curseth, whose voice will the Lord hear?²⁵He that washeth himself after the touching of a dead body, if he touch it again, what availeth his washing?²⁶So is it with a man that fasteth for his sins, and goeth again, and doeth the same: who will hear his prayer? or what doth his humbling profit him?

CHAPTER 35 ¹He that keepeth the law bringeth offerings enough: he that taketh heed to the commandment offereth a peace offering.²He that requiteth a goodturn offereth fine flour and he that giveth alms sacrificeth praise.³To depart from wickedness is a thing pleasing to the Lord and to forsake unrighteousness is a propitiation.⁴Thou shalt not appear empty before the Lord.⁵For all these things [are to be done] because of the commandment.⁶The offering of the righteous maketh the altar fat, and the sweet savour thereof is before the most High.⁷The sacrifice of a just man is acceptable. and the memorial thereof shall never be forgotten.⁸Give the Lord his honour with a good eye, and diminish not the firstfruits of thine hands.⁹In all thy gifts shew a cheerful countenance, and dedicate thy tithes with gladness.¹⁰Give unto the most High according as he hath enriched thee and as thou hast gotten, give with a cheerful eye.¹¹For the Lord recompenseth, and will give thee seven times as much.¹²Do not think to corrupt with gifts for such he will not receive: and trust not to unrighteous sacrifices for the Lord is judge, and with him is no respect of persons.¹³He will not accept any person against a poor man, but will hear the prayer of the oppressed.¹⁴He will not despise the supplication of the fatherless nor the widow, when she poureth out her complaint.¹⁵Do not the tears run down the widow's cheeks? and is not her cry against him that causeth them to fall?¹⁶He that serveth the Lord shall be accepted with favour, and his prayer shall reach unto the clouds.¹⁷The prayer of the humble pierceth the clouds: and till it come nigh, he will not be comforted and will not depart, till the most High shall behold to judge righteously, and execute judgment.¹⁸For the Lord will not be slack, neither will the Mighty be patient toward them, till he have smitten in sunder the loins of the unmerciful, and repayed vengeance to the heathen till he have taken away the multitude of the proud, and broken the sceptre of the unrighteous.¹⁹Till he have rendered to every man according to his deeds, and to the works of men according to their devices till he have judged the cause of his people, and made them to rejoice in his mercy.²⁰Mercy is seasonable in the time of affliction, as clouds of rain in the time of drought.

CHAPTER 36 ¹Have mercy upon us, O Lord God of all, and behold us:²And send thy fear upon all the nations that seek not after thee.³Lift up thy hand against the strange nations, and let them see thy power.⁴As thou wast sanctified in us before them: so be thou magnified among them before us.⁵And let them know thee, as we have known thee, that there is no God but only thou, O God.⁶Shew new signs, and make other strange wonders: glorify thy hand and thy right arm, that they may set forth thy wondrous works.⁷Raise up indignation, and pour out wrath: take away the adversary, and destroy the enemy.⁸Sake the time short, remember the covenant, and let them declare thy wonderful works.⁹Let him that escapeth be consumed by the rage of the fire and let them perish that oppress the people.¹⁰Smite in sunder the heads of the rulers of the heathen, that say, There is none other but we.¹¹Gather all the tribes of Jacob together, and inherit thou them, as from the beginning.¹²O Lord, have mercy upon the people that is called by thy name, and upon Israel, whom thou hast named thy firstborn.¹³O be merciful unto Jerusalem, thy holy city, the place of thy rest.¹⁴Fill Sion with thine unspeakable oracles, and thy people with thy glory:¹⁵Give testimony unto those that thou hast possessed from the beginning, and raise up prophets that have been in thy name.¹⁶Reward them that wait for thee, and let thy prophets be found faithful.¹⁷O Lord, hear the prayer of thy servants, according to the blessing of Aaron over thy people, that all they which dwell upon the earth may know that thou art the Lord, the eternal God.¹⁸The belly devoureth all meats, yet is one meat better than another.¹⁹As the palate tasteth divers kinds of venison: so doth an heart of understanding false speeches.²⁰A froward heart causeth heaviness: but a man of experience will recompense him.²¹A woman will receive every man, yet is one daughter better than another.²²The beauty of a woman cheereth the countenance, and a man loveth nothing better.²³If there be kindness, meekness, and comfort, in her tongue, then is not

her husband like other men.²⁴He that getteth a wife beginneth a possession, a help like unto himself, and a pillar of rest.²⁵Where no hedge is, there the possession is spoiled: and he that hath no wife will wander up and down mourning.²⁶Who will trust a thief well appointed, that skippeth from city to city? so [who will believe] a man that hath no house, and lodgeth wheresoever the night taketh him?

CHAPTER 37 ¹Every friend saith, I am his friend also: but there is a friend, which is only a friend in name.²Is it not a grief unto death, when a companion and friend is turned to an enemy?³O wicked imagination, whence camest thou in to cover the earth with deceit?⁴There is a companion, which rejoiceth in the prosperity of a friend, but in the time of trouble will be against him.⁵There is a companion, which helpeth his friend for the belly, and taketh up the buckler against the enemy.⁶Forget not thy friend in thy mind, and be not unmindful of him in thy riches.⁷Every counsellor extolleth counsel but there is some that counselleth for himself.⁸Beware of a counsellor, and know before what need he hath for he will counsel for himself lest he cast the lot upon thee,⁹And say unto thee, Thy way is good: and afterward he stand on the other side, to see what shall befall thee.¹⁰Consult not with one that suspecteth thee: and hide thy counsel from such as envy thee.¹¹Neither consult with a woman touching her of whom she is jealous neither with a coward in matters of war nor with a merchant concerning exchange nor with a buyer of selling nor with an envious man of thankfulness nor with an unmerciful man touching kindness nor with the slothful for any work nor with an hireling for a year of finishing work nor with an idle servant of much business: hearken not unto these in any matter of counsel.¹²But be continually with a godly man, whom thou knowest to keep the commandments of the Lord, whose mind is according to thy mind, and will sorrow with thee, if thou shalt miscarry.¹³And let the counsel of thine own heart stand: for there is no man more faithful unto thee than it.¹⁴For a man's mind is sometime wont to tell him more than seven watchmen, that sit above in an high tower.¹⁵And above all this pray to the most High, that he will direct thy way in truth.¹⁶Let reason go before every enterprize, and counsel before every action.¹⁷The countenance is a sign of changing of the heart.¹⁸Four manner of things appear: good and evil, life and death: but the tongue ruleth over them continually.¹⁹There is one that is wise and teacheth many, and yet is unprofitable to himself.²⁰There is one that sheweth wisdom in words, and is hated: he shall be destitute of all food.²¹For grace is not given, him from the Lord, because he is deprived of all wisdom.²²Another is wise to himself and the fruits of understanding are commendable in his mouth.²³A wise man instructeth his people and the fruits of his understanding fail not.²⁴A wise man shall be filled with blessing and all they that see him shall count him happy.²⁵The days of the life of man may be numbered: but the days of Israel are innumerable.²⁶A wise man shall inherit glory among his people, and his name shall be perpetual.²⁷My son, prove thy soul in thy life, and see what is evil for it, and give not that unto it.²⁸For all things are not profitable for all men, neither hath every soul pleasure in every thing.²⁹Be not unsatiable in any dainty thing, nor too greedy upon meats:³⁰For excess of meats bringeth sickness, and surfeiting will turn into choler.³¹By surfeiting have many perished but he that taketh heed prolongeth his life.

CHAPTER 38 ¹Honour a physician with the honour due unto him for the uses which ye may have of him: for the Lord hath created him.²For of the most High cometh healing, and he shall receive honour of the king.³The skill of the physician shall lift up his head: and in the sight of great men he shall be in admiration.⁴The Lord hath created medicines out of the earth and he that is wise will not abhor them.⁵Was not the water made sweet with wood, that the virtue thereof might be known?⁶And he hath given men skill, that he might be honoured in his marvellous works.⁷With such doth he heal [men,] and taketh away their pains.⁸Of such doth the apothecary make a confection and of his works there is no end and from him is peace over all the earth,⁹My son, in thy sickness be not negligent: but pray unto the Lord, and he will make thee whole.¹⁰Leave off from sin, and order thine hands aright, and cleanse thy heart from all wickedness.¹¹Give a sweet savour, and a memorial of fine flour and make a fat offering, as not being.¹²Then give place to the physician, for the Lord hath created him: let him not go from thee, for thou hast need of him.¹³There is a time when in their hands there is good success.¹⁴For they shall also pray unto the Lord, that he would prosper that, which they give for ease and remedy to prolong life.¹⁵He that sinneth before his Maker, let him fall into the hand of the physician.¹⁶My son, let tears fall down over the dead, and begin to lament, as if thou hadst suffered great harm thyself and then cover his body according to the custom, and neglect not his burial.¹⁷Weep bitterly, and make great moan, and use lamentation, as he is worthy, and that a day or two, lest thou be evil spoken of: and then comfort thyself for thy heaviness.¹⁸For of heaviness cometh death, and the heaviness of the heart breaketh strength.¹⁹In affliction also sorrow remaineth: and the life of the poor is the curse of the heart.²⁰Take no heaviness to heart: drive it away, and member the last end.²¹Forget it not, for there is no turning again: thou shalt not do him good, but hurt thyself.²²Remember my judgment: for thine also shall be so yesterday for me, and to day for thee.²³When the dead is at rest, let his remembrance rest and be comforted for him, when his Spirit is departed from him.²⁴The wisdom of a learned man cometh by opportunity of leisure: and he that hath little business shall become wise.²⁵How can he get wisdom that holdeth the plough, and that glorieth in the goad, that driveth oxen, and is occupied in their labours, and whose talk is of bullocks?²⁶He giveth his mind to make furrows and is diligent to give the kine fodder.²⁷So every carpenter and workmaster, that laboureth night and day: and they that cut and grave seals, and are diligent to make great variety, and give themselves to counterfeit imagery, and watch to finish a work.²⁸The smith also sitting by the anvil, and considering the iron work, the vapour of the fire wasteth his flesh, and he fighteth with the heat of the furnace: the noise of the hammer and the anvil is ever in his ears, and his eyes look still upon the pattern of the thing that he maketh he setteth his mind to finish his work, and watcheth to polish it perfectly.²⁹So doth the potter sitting at his work, and turning the wheel about with his feet, who is alway carefully set at his work, and maketh all his work by number.³⁰He fashioneth the clay with his arm, and boweth down his strength before his feet he applieth himself to lead it over and he is diligent to make clean the furnace.³¹All these trust to their hands: and every one is wise in his work.³²Without these cannot a city be inhabited: and they shall not dwell where they will, nor go up and down.³³They shall not be sought for in publick counsel, nor sit high in the congregation: they shall not sit on the judges' seat, nor understand the sentence of judgment: they cannot declare justice and judgment and they shall not be found where parables are spoken.³⁴But they will maintain the state of the world, and [all] their desire is in the work of their craft.

CHAPTER 39 ¹But he that giveth his mind to the law of the most High, and is occupied in the meditation thereof, will seek out the wisdom of all the ancient, and be occupied in prophecies.²He will keep the sayings of the renowned men: and where subtil parables are, he will be there also.³He will seek out the secrets of grave sentences, and be conversant in dark parables.⁴He shall serve among great men, and appear before princes: he will travel through strange countries for he hath tried the good and the evil among men.⁵He will give his heart to resort early to the Lord that made him, and will pray before the most High, and will open his mouth in prayer, and make supplication for his sins.⁶When the great Lord will, he shall be filled with the spirit of understanding: he shall pour out wise sentences, and give thanks unto the Lord in his prayer.⁷He shall direct his counsel and knowledge, and in his secrets shall he meditate.⁸He shall shew forth that which he hath learned, and shall glory in the law of the covenant of the Lord.⁹Many shall commend his understanding and so long as the world endureth, it shall not be blotted out his memorial shall not depart away, and his name shall live from generation to generation.¹⁰Nations shall shew forth his wisdom, and the congregation shall declare his praise.¹¹If he die, he shall leave a greater name than a thousand: and if he live, he shall increase it.¹²Yet have I more to say, which I have thought upon for I am filled as the moon at the full.¹³Hearken unto me, ye holy children, and bud forth as a rose growing by the brook of the field:¹⁴And give ye a sweet savour as frankincense, and flourish as a lily, send forth a smell, and sing a song of praise, bless the Lord in all his works.¹⁵Magnify his name, and shew forth his praise with the songs of your lips, and with harps, and in praising him ye shall say after this manner:¹⁶All the works of the Lord are exceeding good, and whatsoever he commandeth shall be accomplished in due season.¹⁷And none may say, What is this? wherefore is that? for at time convenient they shall all be sought out: at his commandment the waters stood as an heap, and at the words of his mouth the receptacles of waters.¹⁸At his commandment is done whatsoever pleaseth him and none can hinder, when he will save.¹⁹The works of all flesh are before him, and nothing can be hid from his eyes.²⁰He seeth from everlasting to everlasting and there is nothing wonderful before him.²¹A man need not to say, What is this? wherefore is that? for he hath made all things for their uses.²²His blessing covered the dry land as a river, and watered it as a flood.²³As he hath turned the waters into saltness: so shall the heathen inherit his wrath.²⁴As his ways are plain unto the holy so are they stumblingblocks unto the wicked.²⁵For the good are good things created from the beginning: so evil things for sinners.²⁶The principal things for the whole use of man's life are water, fire, iron, and salt, flour of wheat, honey, milk, and the blood of the grape, and oil, and clothing.²⁷All these things are for good to the godly: so to the sinners they are turned into evil.²⁸There be spirits that are created for vengeance, which in their fury lay on sore strokes in the time of destruction they pour out their force, and appease the wrath of him that made them.²⁹Fire, and hail, and famine, and death, all these were created for vengeance³⁰Teeth of wild beasts, and scorpions, serpents, and the sword punishing the wicked to destruction.³¹They shall rejoice in his commandment, and they shall be ready upon earth, when need is and when their time is come, they shall not transgress his word.³²Therefore from the beginning I was resolved, and thought upon these things, and have left them in writing.³³All the works of the Lord are good: and he will give every needful thing in due season.³⁴So that a man cannot say, This is worse than that: for in time they shall all be well approved.³⁵And therefore praise ye the Lord with the whole heart and mouth, and bless the name of the Lord.

CHAPTER 40 ¹Great travail is created for every man, and an heavy yoke is upon the sons of Adam, from the day that they go out of their mother's womb, till the day that they return to the mother of all things.²Their imagination of things to come, and the day of death, [trouble] their thoughts, and [cause] fear of heart³From him that sitteth on a throne of glory, unto him that is humbled in earth and ashes⁴From him that weareth purple and a crown, unto him that is clothed with a linen frock.⁵Wrath, and envy, trouble, and unquietness, fear of death, and anger, and strife, and in the time of rest upon his bed his night sleep, do change his knowledge.⁶A little or nothing is his rest, and afterward he is in his sleep, as in a day of keeping watch, troubled in the vision of his heart, as if he were escaped out of a battle.⁷When all is safe, he awaketh, and marvelleth that the fear was nothing.⁸[Such things happen] unto all flesh, both man and beast, and that is sevenfold more upon sinners.⁹Death, and bloodshed, strife, and sword, calamities, famine, tribulation, and the scourge¹⁰These things are created for the wicked, and for their sakes came the flood.¹¹All things that are of the earth shall turn to the earth again: and that which is of the waters doth return into the sea.¹²All bribery and injustice shall be blotted out: but true dealing shall endure for ever.¹³The goods of the unjust shall be dried up like a river, and shall vanish with noise, like a great thunder in rain.¹⁴While he openeth his hand he shall rejoice: so shall transgressors come to nought.¹⁵The children of the ungodly shall not bring forth many branches: but are as unclean roots upon a hard rock.¹⁶The weed growing upon every water and bank of a river shall be pulled up before all grass.¹⁷Bountifulness is as a most fruitful garden, and mercifulness endureth for ever.¹⁸To labour, and to be content with that a man hath, is a sweet life: but he that findeth a treasure is above them both.¹⁹Children and the building of a city continue a man's name: but a blameless wife is counted above them both.²⁰Wine and musick rejoice the heart: but the love of wisdom is above them both.²¹The pipe and the psaltery make sweet melody: but a pleasant tongue is above them both.²²Thine eye desireth favour and beauty: but more than both corn while it is green.²³A friend and companion never meet amiss: but above both is a wife with her husband.²⁴Brethren and help are against time of trouble:

but alms shall deliver more than them both.²⁵Gold and silver make the foot stand sure: but counsel is esteemed above them both.²⁶Riches and strength lift up the heart: but the fear of the Lord is above them both: there is no want in the fear of the Lord, and it needeth not to seek help.²⁷The fear of the Lord is a fruitful garden, and covereth him above all glory.²⁸My son, lead not a beggar's life for better it is to die than to beg.²⁹The life of him that dependeth on another man's table is not to be counted for a life for he polluteth himself with other men's meat: but a wise man well nurtured will beware thereof.³⁰Begging is sweet in the mouth of the shameless: but in his belly there shall burn a fire.

CHAPTER 41 ¹O death, how bitter is the remembrance of thee to a man that liveth at rest in his possessions, unto the man that hath nothing to vex him, and that hath prosperity in all things: yea, unto him that is yet able to receive meat!²O death, acceptable is thy sentence unto the needy, and unto him whose strength faileth, that is now in the last age, and is vexed with all things, and to him that despaireth, and hath lost patience!³Fear not the sentence of death, remember them that have been before thee, and that come after for this is the sentence of the Lord over all flesh.⁴And why art thou against the pleasure of the most High? there is no inquisition in the grave, whether thou have lived ten, or an hundred, or a thousand years.⁵The children of sinners are abominable children, and they that are conversant in the dwelling of the ungodly.⁶The inheritance of sinners' children shall perish, and their posterity shall have a perpetual reproach.⁷The children will complain of an ungodly father, because they shall be reproached for his sake.⁸Woe be unto you, ungodly men, which have forsaken the law of the most high God! for if ye increase, it shall be to your destruction:⁹And if ye be born, ye shall be born to a curse: and if ye die, a curse shall be your portion.¹⁰All that are of the earth shall turn to earth again: so the ungodly shall go from a curse to destruction.¹¹The mourning of men is about their bodies: but an ill name of sinners shall be blotted out.¹²Have regard to thy name for that shall continue with thee above a thousand great treasures of gold.¹³A good life hath but few days: but a good name endureth for ever.¹⁴My children, keep discipline in peace: for wisdom that is hid, and a treasure that is not seen, what profit is in them both?¹⁵A man that hideth his foolishness is better than a man that hideth his wisdom.¹⁶Therefore be shamefaced according to my word: for it is not good to retain all shamefacedness neither is it altogether approved in every thing.¹⁷Be ashamed of whoredom before father and mother: and of a lie before a prince and a mighty man¹⁸Of an offence before a judge and ruler of iniquity before a congregation and people of unjust dealing before thy partner and friend¹⁹And of theft in regard of the place where thou sojournest, and in regard of the truth of God and his covenant and to lean with thine elbow upon the meat and of scorning to give and take²⁰And of silence before them that salute thee and to look upon an harlot²¹And to turn away thy face from thy kinsman or to take away a portion or a gift or to gaze upon another man's wife.²²Or to be overbusy with his maid, and come not near her bed or of upbraiding speeches before friends and after thou hast given, upbraid not²³Or of iterating and speaking again that which thou hast heard and of revealing of secrets.²⁴So shalt thou be truly shamefaced and find favour before all men.

CHAPTER 42 ¹Of these things be not thou ashamed, and accept no person to sin thereby:²Of the law of the most High, and his covenant and of judgment to justify the ungodly³Of reckoning with thy partners and travellers or of the gift of the heritage of friends⁴Of exactness of balance and weights or of getting much or little⁵And of merchants' indifferent selling of much correction of children and to make the side of an evil servant to bleed.⁶Sure keeping is good, where an evil wife is and shut up, where many hands are.⁷Deliver all things in number and weight and put all in writing that thou givest out, or receivest in.⁸Be not ashamed to inform the unwise and foolish, and the extreme aged that contendeth with those that are young: thus shalt thou be truly learned, and approved of all men living.⁹The father waketh for the daughter, when no man knoweth and the care for her taketh away sleep: when she is young, lest she pass away the flower of her age and being married, lest she should be hated:¹⁰In her virginity, lest she should be defiled and gotten with child in her father's house and having an husband, lest she should misbehave herself and when she is married, lest she should be barren.¹¹Keep a sure watch over a shameless daughter, lest she make thee a laughingstock to thine enemies, and a byword in the city, and a reproach among the people, and make thee ashamed before the multitude.¹²Behold not every body's beauty, and sit not in the midst of women.¹³For from garments cometh a moth, and from women wickedness.¹⁴Better is the churlishness of a man than a courteous woman, a woman, I say, which bringeth shame and reproach.¹⁵I will now remember the works of the Lord, and declare the things that I have seen: In the words of the Lord are his works.¹⁶The sun that giveth light looketh upon all things, and the work thereof is full of the glory of the Lord.¹⁷The Lord hath not given power to the saints to declare all his marvellous works, which the Almighty Lord firmly settled, that whatsoever is might be established for his glory.¹⁸He seeketh out the deep, and the heart, and considereth their crafty devices: for the Lord knoweth all that may be known, and he beholdeth the signs of the world.¹⁹He declareth the things that are past, and for to come, and revealeth the steps of hidden things.²⁰No thought escapeth him, neither any word is hidden from him.²¹He hath garnished the excellent works of his wisdom, and he is from everlasting to everlasting: unto him may nothing be added, neither can he be diminished, and he hath no need of any counsellor.²²Oh how desirable are all his works! and that a man may see even to a spark.²³All these things live and remain for ever for all uses, and they are all obedient.²⁴All things are double one against another: and he hath made nothing imperfect.²⁵One thing establisheth the good or another: and who shall be filled with beholding his glory?

CHAPTER 43 ¹The pride of the height, the clear firmament, the beauty of heaven, with his glorious shew²The sun when it appeareth, declaring at his rising a marvellous instrument, the work of the most High:³At noon it parcheth the country, and who can abide the burning heat thereof?⁴A man blowing a furnace is in works of heat, but the sun burneth the mountains three times more breathing out fiery vapours, and sending forth bright beams, it dimmeth the eyes.⁵Great is the Lord that made it and at his commandment runneth hastily.⁶He made the moon also to serve in her season for a declaration of times, and a sign of the world.⁷From the moon is the sign of feasts, a light that decreaseth in her perfection.⁸The month is called after her name, increasing wonderfully in her changing, being an instrument of the armies above, shining in the firmament of heaven⁹The beauty of heaven, the glory of the stars, an ornament giving light in the highest places of the Lord.¹⁰At the commandment of the Holy One they will stand in their order, and never faint in their watches.¹¹Look upon the rainbow, and praise him that made it very beautiful it is in the brightness thereof.¹²It compasseth the heaven about with a glorious circle, and the hands of the most High have bended it.¹³By his commandment he maketh the snow to fall apace, and sendeth swiftly the lightnings of his judgment.¹⁴Through this the treasures are opened: and clouds fly forth as fowls.¹⁵By his great power he maketh the clouds firm, and the hailstones are broken small.¹⁶At his sight the mountains are shaken, and at his will the south wind bloweth.¹⁷The noise of the thunder maketh the earth to tremble: so doth the northern storm and the whirlwind: as birds flying he scattereth the snow, and the falling down thereof is as the lighting of grasshoppers:¹⁸The eye marvelleth at the beauty of the whiteness thereof, and the heart is astonished at the raining of it.¹⁹The hoarfrost also as salt he poureth on the earth, and being congealed, it lieth on the top of sharp stakes.²⁰When the cold north wind bloweth, and the water is congealed into ice, it abideth upon every gathering together of water, and clotheth the water as with a breastplate.²¹It devoureth the mountains, and burneth the wilderness, and consumeth the grass as fire.²²A present remedy of all is a mist coming speedily, a dew coming after heat refresheth.²³By his counsel he appeaseth the deep, and planteth islands therein.²⁴They that sail on the sea tell of the danger thereof and when we hear it with our ears, we marvel thereat.²⁵For therein be strange and wondrous works, variety of all kinds of beasts and whales created.²⁶By him the end of them hath prosperous success, and by his word all things consist.²⁷We may speak much, and yet come short: wherefore in sum, he is all.²⁸How shall we be able to magnify him? for he is great above all his works.²⁹The Lord is terrible and very great, and marvellous is his power.³⁰When ye glorify the Lord, exalt him as much as ye can for even yet will he far exceed: and when ye exalt him, put forth all your strength, and be not weary for ye can never go far enough.³¹Who hath seen him, that he might tell us? and who can magnify him as he is?³²There are yet hid greater things than these be, for we have seen but a few of his works.³³For the Lord hath made all things and to the godly hath he given wisdom.

CHAPTER 44 ¹Let us now praise famous men, and our fathers that begat us.²The Lord hath wrought great glory by them through his great power from the beginning.³Such as did bear rule in their kingdoms, men renowned for their power, giving counsel by their understanding, and declaring prophecies:⁴Leaders of the people by their counsels, and by their knowledge of learning meet for the people, wise and eloquent are their instructions:⁵Such as found out musical tunes, and recited verses in writing:⁶Rich men furnished with ability, living peaceably in their habitations:⁷All these were honoured in their generations, and were the glory of their times.⁸There be of them, that have left a name behind them, that their praises might be reported.⁹And some there be, which have no memorial who are perished, as though they had never been and are become as though they had never been born and their children after them.¹⁰But these were merciful men, whose righteousness hath not been forgotten.¹¹With their seed shall continually remain a good inheritance, and their children are within the covenant.¹²Their seed standeth fast, and their children for their sakes.¹³Their seed shall remain for ever, and their glory shall not be blotted out.¹⁴Their bodies are buried in peace but their name liveth for evermore.¹⁵The people will tell of their wisdom, and the congregation will shew forth their praise.¹⁶Enoch pleased the Lord, and was translated, being an example of repentance to all generations.¹⁷Noah was found perfect and righteous in the time of wrath he was taken in exchange [for the world] therefore was he left as a remnant unto the earth, when the flood came.¹⁸An everlasting covenant was made with him, that all flesh should perish no more by the flood.¹⁹Abraham was a great father of many people: in glory was there none like unto him²⁰Who kept the law of the most High, and was in covenant with him: he established the covenant in his flesh and when he was proved, he was found faithful.²¹Therefore he assured him by an oath, that he would bless the nations in his seed, and that he would multiply him as the dust of the earth, and exalt his seed as the stars, and cause them to inherit from sea to sea, and from the river unto the utmost part of the land.²²With Isaac did he establish likewise [for Abraham his father's sake] the blessing of all men, and the covenant, And made it rest upon the head of Jacob. He acknowledged him in his blessing, and gave him an heritage, and divided his portions among the twelve tribes did he part them.

CHAPTER 45 ¹And he brought out of him a merciful man, which found favour in the sight of all flesh, even Moses, beloved of God and men, whose memorial is blessed.²He made him like to the glorious saints, and magnified him, so that his enemies stood in fear of him.³By his words he caused the wonders to cease, and he made him glorious in the sight of kings, and gave him a commandment for his people, and shewed him part of his glory.⁴He sanctified him in his faithfulness and meekness, and chose him out of all men.⁵He made him to hear his voice, and brought him into the dark cloud, and gave him commandments before his face, even the law of life and knowledge, that he might teach Jacob his covenants, and Israel his judgments.⁶He exalted Aaron, an holy man like unto him, even his brother, of the tribe of Levi.⁷An everlasting covenant he made with him and gave him the priesthood among the people he beautified him with comely ornaments, and clothed him with a robe of glory.⁸He put upon him perfect glory and strengthened him with rich garments, with breeches, with a long robe, and the ephod.⁹And he compassed him with pomegranates, and with many golden bells round about, that as he went there might be a sound, and a noise made that might be heard in the temple, for a memorial to the children of his people¹⁰With an holy garment, with gold, and blue silk, and purple, the work of the embroidere, with a breastplate of judgment, and with Urim and Thummim¹¹With twisted scarlet, the work of the cunning workman, with precious stones graven like seals, and set in gold, the work of the jeweller, with a writing engraved for a memorial, after the number of the tribes of Israel.¹²He set a crown of gold upon the mitre, wherein was engraved Holiness, an ornament of honour, a costly work, the desires of the eyes, goodly and beautiful.¹³Before him there were none such, neither did ever any stranger put them on, but only his children and his children's children perpetually.¹⁴Their sacrifices shall be wholly consumed every day twice continually.¹⁵Moses consecrated him, and anointed him with holy oil: this was appointed unto him by an everlasting covenant, and to his seed, so long as the heavens should remain, that they should minister unto him, and execute the office of the priesthood, and bless the people in his name.¹⁶He chose him out of all men living to offer sacrifices to the Lord, incense, and a sweet savour, for a memorial, to make reconciliation for his people.¹⁷He gave unto him his commandments, and authority in the statutes of judgments, that he should teach Jacob the testimonies, and inform Israel in his laws.¹⁸Strangers conspired together against him, and maligned him in the wilderness, even the men that were of Dathan's and Abiron's side, and the congregation of Core, with fury and wrath.¹⁹This the Lord saw, and it displeased him, and in his wrathful indignation were they consumed: he did wonders upon them, to consume them with the fiery flame.²⁰But he made Aaron more honourable, and gave him an heritage, and divided unto him the firstfruits of the increase especially he prepared bread in abundance:²¹For they eat of the sacrifices of the Lord, which he gave unto him and his seed.²²Howbeit in the land of the people he had no inheritance, neither had he any portion among the people: for the Lord himself is his portion and inheritance.²³The third in glory is Phinees the son of Eleazar, because he had zeal in the fear of the Lord, and stood up with good courage of heart: when the people were turned back, and made reconciliation for Israel.²⁴Therefore was there a covenant of peace made with him, that he should be the chief of the sanctuary and of his people, and that he and his posterity should have the dignity of the priesthood for ever:²⁵According to the covenant made with David son of Jesse, of the tribe of Juda, that the inheritance of the king should be to his posterity alone:

so the inheritance of Aaron should also be unto his seed.²⁶God give you wisdom in your heart to judge his people in righteousness, that their good things be not abolished, and that their glory may endure for ever.

CHAPTER 46 ¹Jesus the son a Nave was valiant in the wars, and was the successor of Moses in prophecies, who according to his name was made great for the saving of the elect of God, and taking vengeance of the enemies that rose up against them, that he might set Israel in their inheritance.²How great glory gat he, when he did lift up his hands, and stretched out his sword against the cities!³Who before him so stood to it? for the Lord himself brought his enemies unto him.⁴Did not the sun go back by his means? and was not one day as long as two?⁵He called upon the most high Lord, when the enemies pressed upon him on every side and the great Lord heard him.⁶And with hailstones of mighty power he made the battle to fall violently upon the nations, and in the descent [of Beth-horon] he destroyed them that resisted, that the nations might know all their strength, because he fought in the sight of the Lord, and he followed the Mighty

One.⁷In the time of Moses also he did a work of mercy, he and Caleb the son of Jephunne, in that they withstood the congregation, and withheld the people from sin, and appeased the wicked murmuring.⁸And of six hundred thousand people on foot, they two were preserved to bring them in to the heritage, even unto the land that floweth with milk and honey.⁹The Lord gave strength also unto Caleb, which remained with him unto his old age: so that he entered upon the high places of the land, and his seed obtained it for an heritage:¹⁰That all the children of Israel might see that it is good to follow the Lord.¹¹And concerning the judges, every one by name, whose heart went not a whoring, nor departed from the Lord, let their memory be blessed.¹²Let their bones flourish out of their place, and let the name of them that were honoured be continued upon their children.¹³Samuel, the prophet of the Lord, beloved of his Lord, established a kingdom, and anointed princes over his people.¹⁴By the law of the Lord he judged the congregation, and the Lord had respect unto Jacob.¹⁵By his faithfulness he was found a true prophet, and by his word he was known to be faithful in vision.¹⁶He called upon the mighty Lord, when his enemies pressed upon him on every side, when he offered the sucking lamb.¹⁷And the Lord thundered from heaven, and with a great noise made his voice to be heard.¹⁸And he destroyed the rulers of the Tyrians, and all the princes of the Philistines.¹⁹And before his long sleep he made protestations in the sight of the Lord and his anointed, I have not taken any man's goods, so much as a shoe: and no man did accuse him.²⁰And after his death he prophesied, and shewed the king his end, and lifted up his voice from the earth in prophecy, to blot out the wickedness of the people.

CHAPTER 47 ¹And after him rose up Nathan to prophesy in the time of David.²As is the fat taken away from the peace offering, so was David chosen out of the children of Israel.³He played with lions as with kids, and with bears as with lambs.⁴Slew he not a giant, when he was yet but young? and did he not take away reproach from the people, when he lifted up his hand with the stone in the sling, and beat down the boasting of Goliath?⁵For he called upon the most high Lord and he gave him strength in his right hand to slay that mighty warrior, and set up the horn of his people.⁶So the people honoured him with ten thousands, and praised him in the blessings of the Lord, in that he gave him a crown of glory.⁷For he destroyed the enemies on every side, and brought to nought the Philistines his adversaries, and brake their horn in sunder unto this day.⁸In all his works he praised the Holy One most high with words of glory with his whole heart he sung songs, and loved him that made him.⁹He set singers also before the altar, that by their voices they might make sweet melody, and daily sing praises in their songs.¹⁰He beautified their feasts, and set in order the solemn times until the end, that they might praise his holy name, and that the temple might sound from morning.¹¹The Lord took away his sins, and exalted his horn for ever: he gave him a covenant of kings, and a throne of glory in Israel.¹²After him rose up a wise son, and for his sake he dwelt at large.¹³Solomon reigned in a peaceable time, and was honoured for God made all quiet round about him, that he might build an house in his name, and prepare his sanctuary for ever.¹⁴How wise wast thou in thy youth and, as a flood, filled with understanding!¹⁵Thy covered the whole earth, and thou filledst it with dark parables.¹⁶Thy name went far unto the islands and for thy peace thou wast beloved.¹⁷The countries marvelled at thee for thy songs, and proverbs, and parables, and interpretations.¹⁸By the name of the Lord God, which is called the Lord God of Israel, thou didst gather gold as tin and didst multiply silver as lead.¹⁹Thou didst bow thy loins unto women, and by thy body thou wast brought into subjection.²⁰Thou didst stain thy honour, and pollute thy seed: so that thou broughtest wrath upon thy children, and wast grieved for thy folly.²¹So the kingdom was divided, and out of Ephraim ruled a rebellious kingdom.²²But the Lord will never leave off his mercy, neither shall any of his works perish, neither will he abolish the posterity of his elect, and the seed of him that loveth him he will not take away: wherefore he gave a remnant unto Jacob, and out of him a root unto David.²³Thus rested Solomon with his fathers, and of his seed he left behind him Roboam, even the foolishness of the people, and one that had no understanding, who turned away the people through his counsel. There was also Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who caused Israel to sin, and shewed Ephraim the way of sin:²⁴And their sins were multiplied exceedingly, that they were driven out of the land.²⁵For they sought out all wickedness, till the vengeance came upon them.

CHAPTER 48 ¹Then stood up Elias the prophet as fire, and his word burned like a lamp.²He brought a sore famine upon them, and by his zeal he diminished their number.³By the word of the Lord he shut up the heaven, and also three times brought down fire.⁴O Elias, how wast thou honoured in thy wondrous deeds! and who may glory like unto thee!⁵Who didst raise up a dead man from death, and his soul from the place of the dead, by the word of the most High:⁶Who broughtest kings to destruction, and honorable men from their bed:⁷Who heardest the rebuke of the Lord in Sinai, and in Horeb the judgment of vengeance:⁸Who annointedst kings to take revenge, and prophets to succeed after him:⁹Who was taken up in a whirlwind of fire, and in a chariot of fiery horses:¹⁰Who wast ordained for reproofs in their times, to pacify the wrath of the Lord's judgment, before it brake forth into fury, and to turn the heart of the father unto the son, and to restore the tribes of Jacob.¹¹Blessed are they that saw thee, and slept in love for we shall surely live.¹²Elias it was, who was covered with a whirlwind: and Eliseus was filled with his spirit: whilst he lived, he was not moved with the presence of any prince, neither could any bring him into subjection.¹³No word could overcome him and after his death his body prophesied.¹⁴He did wonders in his life, and at his death were his works marvellous.¹⁵For all this the people repented not, neither departed they from their sins, till they were spoiled and carried out of their land, and were scattered through all the earth: yet there remained a small people, and a ruler in the house of David:¹⁶Of whom some did that which was pleasing to God, and some multiplied sins.¹⁷Ezekias fortified his city, and brought in water into the midst thereof: he digged the hard rock with iron, and made wells for waters.¹⁸In his time Sennacherib came up, and sent Rabsaces, and lifted up his hand against Sion, and boasted proudly.¹⁹Then trembled their hearts and hands, and they were in pain, as women in travail.²⁰But they called upon the Lord which is merciful, and stretched out their hands toward him: and immediately the Holy One heard them out of heaven, and delivered them by the ministry of Esay.²¹He smote the host of the Assyrians, and his angel destroyed them.²²For Ezekias had done the thing that pleased the Lord, and was strong in the ways of David his father, as Esay the prophet, who was great and faithful in his vision, had commanded him.²³In his time the sun went backward, and he lengthened the king's life.²⁴He saw by an excellent spirit what should come to pass at the last, and he comforted them that mourned in Sion.²⁵He shewed what should come to pass for ever, and secret things or ever they came.

CHAPTER 49 ¹The remembrance of Josias is like the composition of the perfume that is made by the art of the apothecary: it is sweet as honey in all mouths, and as musick at a banquet of wine.²He behaved himself uprightly in the conversion of the people, and took away the abominations of iniquity.³He directed his heart unto the Lord, and in the time of the ungodly he established the worship of God.⁴All, except David and Ezekias and Josias, were defective: for they forsook the law of the most High, even the kings of Juda failed.⁵Therefore he gave their power unto others, and their glory to a strange nation.⁶They burnt the chosen city of the sanctuary, and made the streets desolate, according to the prophecy of Jeremias.⁷For they entreated him evil, who nevertheless was a prophet, sanctified in his mother's womb, that he might root out, and afflict, and destroy and that he might build up also, and plant.⁸It was Ezekiel who saw the glorious vision, which was shewed him upon the chariot of the cherubims.⁹For he made mention of the enemies under the figure of the rain, and directed them that went right.¹⁰And of the twelve prophets let the memorial be blessed, and let their bones flourish again out of their place: for they comforted Jacob, and delivered them by assured hope.¹¹How shall we magnify Zorobabel? even he was as a signet on the right hand:¹²So was Jesus the son of Josedec: who in their time builded the house, and set up an holy temple to the Lord, which was prepared for everlasting glory.¹³And among the elect was Neemias, whose renown is great, who raised up for us the walls that were fallen, and set up the gates and the bars, and raised up our ruins again.¹⁴But upon the earth was no man created like Enoch for he was taken from the earth.¹⁵Neither was there a young man born like Joseph, a governor of his brethren, a stay of the people, whose bones were regarded of the Lord.¹⁶Sem and Seth were in great honour among men, and so was Adam above every living thing in creation.

CHAPTER 50 ¹Simon the high priest, the son of Onias, who in his life repaired the house again, and in his days fortified the temple:²And by him was built from the foundation the double height, the high fortress of the wall about the temple:³In his days the cistern to receive water, being in compass as the sea, was covered with plates of brass:⁴He took care of the temple that it should not fall, and fortified the city against besieging:⁵How was he honoured in the midst of the people in his coming out of the sanctuary!⁶He was as the morning star in the midst of a cloud, and as the moon at the full:⁷As the sun shining upon the temple of the most High, and as the rainbow giving light in the bright clouds:⁸And as the flower of roses in the spring of the year, as lilies by the rivers of waters, and as the branches of the frankincense tree in the time of summer:⁹As fire and incense in the censer, and as a vessel of beaten gold set with all manner of precious stones:¹⁰And as a fair olive tree budding forth fruit, and as a cypress tree which groweth up to the clouds.¹¹When he put on the robe of honour, and was clothed with the perfection of glory, when he went up to the holy altar, he made the garment of holiness honourable.¹²When he took the portions out of the priests' hands, he himself stood by the hearth of the altar, compassed about, as a young cedar in Libanus and as palm trees compassed they him round about.¹³So were all the sons of Aaron in their glory, and the oblations of the Lord in their hands, before all the congregation of Israel.¹⁴And finishing the service at the altar, that he might adorn the offering of the most high Almighty,¹⁵He stretched out his hand to the cup, and poured of the blood of the grape, he poured out at the foot of the altar a sweetsmelling savour unto the most high King of all.¹⁶Then shouted the sons of Aaron, and sounded the silver trumpets, and made a great noise to be heard, for a remembrance before the most High.¹⁷Then all the people together hasted, and fell down to the earth upon their faces to worship their Lord God Almighty, the most High.¹⁸The singers also sang praises with their voices, with great variety of sounds was there made sweet melody.¹⁹And the people besought the Lord, the most High, by prayer before him that is merciful, till the solemnity of the Lord was ended, and they had finished his service.²⁰Then he went down, and lifted up his hands over the whole congregation of the children of Israel, to give the blessing of the Lord with his lips, and to rejoice in his name.²¹And they bowed themselves down to worship the second time, that they might receive a blessing from the most High.²²Now therefore bless ye the God of all, which only doeth wondrous things every where, which exalteth our days from the womb, and dealeth with us according to his mercy.²³He grant us joyfulness of heart, and that peace may be in our days in Israel for ever:²⁴That he would confirm his mercy with us, and deliver us at his time!²⁵There be two manner of nations which my heart abhorreth, and the third is no nation:²⁶They that sit upon the mountain of Samaria, and they that dwell among the Philistines, and that foolish people that dwell in Sichem.²⁷Jesus the son of Sirach of Jerusalem hath written in this book the instruction of understanding and knowledge, who out of his heart poured forth wisdom.²⁸Blessed is he that shall be exercised in these things and he that layeth them up in his heart shall become wise.²⁹For if he do them, he shall be strong to all things: for the light of the Lord leadeth him, who giveth wisdom to the godly. Blessed be the name of the Lord for ever. Amen,

CHAPTER 51 [A Prayer of Jesus the son of Sirach.]¹I will thank thee, O Lord and King, and praise thee, O God my Saviour: I do give praise unto thy name:²For thou art my defender and helper, and has preserved my body from destruction, and from the snare of the slanderous tongue, and from the lips that forge lies, and has been mine helper against mine adversaries:³And hast delivered me, according to the multitude of thy mercies and greatness of thy name, from the teeth of them that were ready to devour me, and out of the hands of such as sought after my life, and from the manifold afflictions which I had⁴From the choking of fire on every side, and from the midst of the fire which I kindled not⁵From the depth of the belly of hell, from an unclean tongue, and from lying words.⁶By an accusation to the king from an unrighteous tongue my soul drew near even unto death, my life was near to the hell beneath.⁷They compassed me on every side, and there was no man to help me: I looked for the succour of men, but there was none.⁸Then thought I upon thy mercy, O Lord, and upon thy acts of old, how thou deliverest such as wait for thee, and savest them out of the hands of the enemies.⁹Then lifted I up my supplications from the earth, and prayed for deliverance from death.¹⁰I called upon the Lord, the Father of my Lord, that he would not leave me in the days of my trouble, and in the time of the proud, when there was no help.¹¹I will praise thy name continually, and will sing praises with thanksgiving and so my prayer was heard:¹²For thou savedst me from destruction, and deliveredst me from the evil time: therefore will I give thanks, and praise thee, and bless thy name, O Lord.¹³When I was yet young, or ever I went abroad, I desired wisdom openly in my prayer.¹⁴I prayed for her before the temple, and will seek her out even to the end.¹⁵Even from the flower till the grape was ripe hath my heart delighted in her: my foot went the right way, from my youth up sought I after her.¹⁶I bowed down mine ear a little, and received her, and gat much learning.¹⁷I profited therein, therefore will I ascribe glory unto him that giveth me wisdom.¹⁸For I purposed to do after her, and earnestly I followed that which is good so shall I not be confounded.¹⁹My soul hath wrestled with her, and in my doings I was exact: I stretched forth my hands to the heaven above, and bewailed my ignorances of her.²⁰I directed my soul unto her, and I found her in pureness: I have had my heart joined with her from the beginning, therefore shall I not be foresaken.²¹My heart was troubled in seeking her: therefore have I gotten a good possession.²²The Lord hath given me a tongue for my reward, and I will praise him therewith.²³Draw near unto me, ye unlearned, and dwell in the house of learning.²⁴Wherefore are ye slow, and what say ye to these things, seeing your souls are very thirsty?²⁵I opened my mouth, and said, Buy her for yourselves without money.²⁶Put your neck under the yoke, and let your soul receive instruction: she is hard at hand to find.²⁷Behold with your eyes, how that I have but little labour, and have gotten unto me much rest.²⁸Get learning with a great sum of money, and get much gold by her.²⁹Let your soul rejoice in his mercy, and be not ashamed of his praise.³⁰Work your work betimes, and in his time he will give you your reward.

ISAIAH

CHAPTER 1 ¹The vision of Isaiah the son of Amoz, which he saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah.²Hear, O heavens, and give ear, O earth: for the LORD hath spoken, I have nourished and brought up children, and they have rebelled against me.³The ox knoweth his owner, and the ass his master's crib: but Israel doth not know, my people doth not consider.⁴Ah sinful nation, a people laden with iniquity, a seed of evildoers, children that are corrupters: they have forsaken the LORD, they have provoked the Holy One of Israel unto anger, they are gone away backward.⁵Why should ye be stricken any more? ye will revolt more and more: the whole head is sick, and the whole heart faint.⁶From the sole of the foot even unto the head there is no soundness in it but wounds, and bruises, and putrifying sores: they have not been closed, neither bound up, neither mollified with ointment.⁷Your country is desolate, your cities are burned with fire: your land, strangers devour it in your presence, and it is desolate, as overthrown by strangers.⁸And the daughter of Zion is left as a cottage in a vineyard, as a lodge in a garden of cucumbers, as a besieged city.⁹Except the LORD of hosts had left unto us a very small remnant, we should have been as Sodom, and we should have been like unto Gomorrah.¹⁰Hear the word of the LORD, ye rulers of Sodom give ear unto the law of our God, ye people of Gomorrah.¹¹To what purpose is the multitude of your sacrifices unto me? saith the LORD: I am full of the burnt offerings of rams, and the fat of fed beasts and I delight not in the blood of bullocks, or of lambs, or of he goats.¹²When ye come to appear before me, who hath required this at your hand, to tread my courts?¹³Bring no more vain oblations incense is an abomination unto me the new moons and sabbaths, the calling of assemblies, I cannot away with it is iniquity, even the solemn meeting.¹⁴Your new moons and your appointed feasts my soul hateth: they are a trouble unto me I am weary to bear them.¹⁵And when ye spread forth your hands, I will hide mine eyes from you: yea, when ye make many prayers, I will not hear: your hands are full of blood.¹⁶Wash you, make you clean put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes cease to do evil¹⁷Learn to do well seek judgment, relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow.¹⁸Come now, and let us reason together, saith the LORD: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool.¹⁹If ye be willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the land:²⁰But if ye refuse and rebel, ye shall be devoured with the sword: for the mouth of the LORD hath spoken it.²¹How is the faithful city become an harlot! it was full of judgment righteousness lodged in it but now murderers.²²Thy silver is become dross, thy wine mixed with water:²³Thy princes are rebellious, and companions of thieves: every one loveth gifts, and followeth after rewards: they judge not the fatherless, neither doth the cause of the widow come unto them.²⁴Therefore saith the Lord, the LORD of hosts, the mighty One of Israel, Ah, I will ease me of mine adversaries, and avenge me of mine enemies:²⁵And I will turn my hand upon thee, and purely purge away thy dross, and take away all thy tin:²⁶And I will restore thy judges as at the first, and thy counsellors as at the beginning: afterward thou shalt be called, The city of righteousness, the faithful city.²⁷Zion shall be redeemed with judgment, and her converts with righteousness.²⁸And the destruction of the transgressors and of the sinners shall be together, and they that forsake the LORD shall be consumed.²⁹For they shall be ashamed of the oaks which ye have desired, and ye shall be confounded for the gardens that ye have chosen.³⁰For ye shall be as an oak whose leaf fadeth, and as a garden that hath no water.³¹And the strong shall be as tow, and the maker of it as a spark, and they shall both burn together, and none shall quench them.

CHAPTER 2 ¹the word that Isaiah the son of Amoz saw concerning Judah and Jerusalem.²And it shall come to pass in the last days, that the mountain of the LORD's house shall be established in the top of the mountains, and shall be exalted above the hills and all nations shall flow unto it.³And many people shall go and say, Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the LORD, to the house of the God of Jacob and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for out of Zion shall go forth the law, and the word of the LORD from Jerusalem.⁴And he shall judge among the nations, and shall rebuke many people: and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruninghooks: nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.⁵O house of Jacob, come ye, and let us walk in the light of the LORD.⁶Therefore thou hast forsaken thy people the house of Jacob, because they be replenished from the east, and are soothsayers like the Philistines, and they please themselves in the children of strangers.⁷Their land also is full of silver and gold, neither is there any end of their treasures their land is also full of horses, neither is there any end of their chariots.⁸Their land also is full of idols they worship the work of their own hands, that which their own fingers have made.⁹And the mean man boweth down, and the great man humbleth himself: therefore forgive them not.¹⁰Enter into the rock, and hide thee in the dust, for fear of the LORD, and for the glory of his majesty.¹¹The lofty looks of man shall be humbled, and the haughtiness of men shall be bowed down, and the LORD alone shall be exalted in that day.¹²For the day of the LORD of hosts shall be upon every one that is proud and lofty, and upon every one that is lifted up and he shall be brought low:¹³And upon all the cedars of Lebanon, that are high and lifted up, and upon all the oaks of Bashan,¹⁴And upon all the high mountains, and upon all the hills that are lifted up,¹⁵And upon every high tower, and upon every fenced wall,¹⁶And upon all the ships of Tarshish, and upon all pleasant pictures.¹⁷And the loftiness of man shall be bowed down, and the haughtiness of men shall be made low: and the LORD alone shall be exalted in that day.¹⁸And the idols he shall utterly abolish.¹⁹And they shall go into the holes of the rocks, and into the caves of the earth, for fear of the LORD, and for the glory of his majesty, when he ariseth to shake terribly the earth.²⁰In that day a man shall cast his idols of silver, and his idols of gold, which they made each one for himself to worship, to the moles and to the bats²¹To go into the clefts of the rocks, and into the tops of the ragged rocks, for fear of the LORD, and for the glory of his majesty, when he ariseth to shake terribly the earth.²²Cease ye from man, whose breath is in his nostrils: for wherein is he to be accounted of?

CHAPTER 3 ¹For, behold, the Lord, the LORD of hosts, doth take away from Jerusalem and from Judah the stay and the staff, the whole stay of bread, and the whole stay of water,²The mighty man, and the man of war, the judge, and the prophet, and the prudent, and the ancient,³The captain of fifty, and the honourable man, and the counsellor, and the cunning artificer, and the eloquent orator.⁴And I will give children to be their princes, and babes shall rule over them.⁵And the people shall be oppressed, every one by another, and every one by his neighbour: the child shall behave himself proudly against the ancient, and the base against the honourable.⁶When a man shall take hold of his brother of the house of his father, saying, Thou hast clothing, be thou our ruler, and let this ruin be under thy hand:⁷In that day shall he swear, saying, I will not be an healer for in my house is neither bread nor clothing: make me not a ruler of the people.⁸For Jerusalem is ruined, and Judah is fallen: because their tongue and their doings are against the LORD, to provoke the eyes of his glory.⁹The shew of their countenance doth witness against them and they declare their sin as Sodom, they hide it not. Woe unto their soul! for they have rewarded evil unto themselves.¹⁰Say ye to the righteous, that it shall be well with him: for they shall eat the fruit of their doings.¹¹Woe unto the wicked! it shall be ill with him: for the reward of his hands shall be given him.¹²As for my people, children are their oppressors, and women rule over them. O my people, they which lead thee cause thee to err, and destroy the way of thy paths.¹³The LORD standeth up to plead, and standeth to judge the people.¹⁴The LORD will enter into judgment with the ancients of his people, and the princes thereof: for ye have eaten up the vineyard the spoil of the poor is in your houses.¹⁵What mean ye that ye beat my people to pieces, and grind the faces of the poor? saith the LORD GOD of hosts.¹⁶Moreover the LORD saith, Because the daughters of Zion are haughty, and walk with stretched forth necks and wanton eyes, walking and mincing as they go, and making a tinkling with their feet:¹⁷Therefore the LORD will smite with a scab the crown of the head of the daughters of Zion, and the LORD will discover their secret parts.¹⁸In that day the Lord will take away the bravery of their tinkling ornaments about their feet, and their cauls, and their round tires like the moon,¹⁹The chains, and the bracelets, and the mufflers,²⁰The bonnets, and the ornaments of the legs, and the headbands, and the tablets, and the earrings,²¹The rings, and nose jewels,²²The changeable suits of apparel, and the mantles, and the wimples, and the crisping pins,²³The glasses, and the fine linen, and the hoods, and the vails.²⁴And it shall come to pass, that instead of sweet smell there shall be stink and instead of a girdle a rent and instead of well set hair baldness and instead of a stomacher a girding of sackcloth and burning instead of beauty.²⁵Thy men shall fall by the sword, and thy mighty in the war.²⁶And her gates shall lament and mourn and she being desolate shall sit upon the ground.

CHAPTER 4 ¹And in that day seven women shall take hold of one man, saying, We will eat our own bread, and wear our own apparel: only let us be called by thy name, to take away our reproach.²In that day shall the branch of the LORD be beautiful and glorious, and the fruit of the earth shall be excellent and comely for them that are escaped of Israel.³And it shall come to pass, that he that is left in Zion, and he that remaineth in Jerusalem, shall be called holy, even every one that is written among the living in Jerusalem:⁴When the Lord shall have washed away the filth of the daughters of Zion, and shall have purged the blood of Jerusalem from the midst thereof by the spirit of judgment, and by the spirit of burning.⁵And the LORD will create upon every dwelling place of mount Zion, and upon her assemblies, a cloud and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night: for upon all the glory shall be a defence.⁶And there shall be a tabernacle for a shadow in the daytime from the heat, and for a place of refuge, and for a covert from storm and from rain.

CHAPTER 5 ¹Now will I sing to my wellbeloved a song of my beloved touching his vineyard. My wellbeloved hath a vineyard in a very fruitful hill:²And he fenced it, and gathered out the stones thereof, and planted it with the choicest vine, and built a tower in the midst of it, and also made a winepress therein: and he looked that it should bring forth grapes, and it brought forth wild grapes.³And now, O inhabitants of Jerusalem, and men of Judah, judge, I pray you, betwixt me and my vineyard.⁴What could have been done more to my vineyard, that I have not done in it? wherefore, when I looked that it should bring forth grapes, brought it forth wild grapes?⁵And now go to I will tell you what I will do to my vineyard: I will take away the hedge thereof, and it shall be eaten up and break down the wall thereof, and it shall be trodden down:⁶And I will lay it waste: it shall not be pruned, nor digged but there shall come up briers and thorns: I will also command the clouds that they rain no rain upon it.⁷For the vineyard of the LORD of hosts is the house of Israel, and the men of Judah his pleasant plant: and he looked for judgment, but behold oppression for righteousness, but behold a cry.⁸Woe unto them that join house to house, that lay field to field, till there be no place, that they may be placed alone in the midst of the earth!⁹In mine ears said the LORD of hosts, Of a truth many houses shall be desolate, even great and fair, without inhabitant.¹⁰Yea, ten acres of vineyard shall yield one bath, and the seed of an homer shall yield an ephah.¹¹Woe unto them that rise up early in the morning, that they may follow strong drink that continue until night, till wine inflame them!¹²And the harp, and the viol, the tabret, and pipe, and wine, are in their feasts: but they regard not the work of the LORD, neither consider the operation of his hands.¹³Therefore my people are gone into captivity, because they have no knowledge: and their honourable men are famished, and their multitude dried up with thirst.¹⁴Therefore hell hath enlarged herself, and opened her mouth without measure: and their glory, and their multitude, and their pomp, and he that rejoiceth, shall descend into it.¹⁵And the mean man shall be brought down, and the mighty man shall be humbled, and the eyes of the lofty shall be humbled:¹⁶But the LORD of hosts shall be exalted in judgment, and God that is holy shall be sanctified in righteousness.¹⁷Then shall the lambs feed after their manner, and the waste places of the fat ones shall strangers eat.¹⁸Woe unto them that draw iniquity with cords of vanity, and sin as it were with a cart rope:¹⁹That say, Let him make speed, and hasten his work, that we may see it: and let the counsel of the Holy One of Israel draw nigh and come, that we may know it!²⁰Woe unto them that call evil good, and good evil that put darkness for light, and light for darkness that put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter!²¹Woe unto them that are wise in their own eyes, and prudent in their own sight!²²Woe unto them that are mighty to drink wine, and men of strength to mingle strong drink:²³Which justify the wicked for reward, and take away the righteousness of the righteous from him!²⁴Therefore as the fire devoureth the stubble, and the flame consumeth the chaff, so their root shall be as rottenness, and their blossom shall go up as dust: because they have cast away the law of the LORD of hosts, and despised the word of the Holy One of Israel.²⁵Therefore is the anger of the LORD kindled against his people, and he hath stretched forth his hand against them, and hath smitten them: and the hills did tremble, and their carcases were torn in the midst of the streets. For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.²⁶And he will lift up an ensign to the nations from far, and will hiss unto them from the end of the earth: and, behold, they shall come with speed swiftly:²⁷None shall be weary nor stumble among them none shall slumber nor sleep neither shall the girdle of their loins be loosed, nor the latchet of their shoes be broken:²⁸Whose arrows are sharp, and all their bows bent, their horses' hoofs shall be counted like flint, and their wheels like a whirlwind:²⁹Their roaring shall be like a lion, they shall roar like young lions: yea, they shall roar, and lay hold of the prey, and shall carry it away safe, and none shall deliver it.³⁰And in that day they shall roar against them like the roaring of the sea: and if one look unto the land, behold darkness and sorrow, and the light is darkened in the heavens thereof.

CHAPTER 6 ¹In the year that king Uzziah died I saw also the Lord sitting upon a throne, high and lifted up, and his train filled the temple.²Above it stood the seraphims: each one had six wings with twain he covered his face, and with twain he covered his feet, and with twain he did fly.³And one cried unto another, and said, Holy, holy, holy, is the LORD of hosts: the whole earth is full of his glory.⁴And the posts of the door moved at the voice of him that cried, and the house was filled with smoke.⁵Then said I, Woe is me! for I am undone because I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips: for mine eyes have seen the King, the LORD of hosts.⁶Then flew one of the seraphims unto me, having a live coal in his hand, which he had taken with the tongs from off the altar:⁷And he laid it upon my mouth, and said, Lo, this hath touched thy lips and thine iniquity is taken away, and thy sin purged.⁸Also I heard the voice of the Lord, saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go for us? Then said I, Here am I send me.⁹And he said, Go, and tell this people, Hear ye indeed, but understand not and see ye indeed, but perceive not.¹⁰Make the heart of this people fat, and make their ears heavy, and shut their eyes lest they see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and convert, and be healed.¹¹Then said I, Lord, how long? And he answered, Until the cities be wasted without inhabitant, and the houses without man, and the land be utterly desolate,¹²And the LORD have removed men far away, and there be a great forsaking in the midst of the land.¹³But yet in it shall be a tenth, and it shall return, and shall be eaten: as a teil tree, and as an oak, whose substance is in them, when they cast their leaves: so the holy seed shall be the substance thereof.

CHAPTER 7 ¹And it came to pass in the days of Ahaz the son of Jotham, the son of Uzziah, king of Judah, that Rezin the king of Syria, and Pekah the son of

Remaliah, king of Israel, went up toward Jerusalem to war against it, but could not prevail against it.²And it was told the house of David, saying, Syria is confederate with Ephraim. And his heart was moved, and the heart of his people, as the trees of the wood are moved with the wind.³Then said the LORD unto Isaiah, Go forth now to meet Ahaz, thou, and Shear-jashub thy son, at the end of the conduit of the upper pool in the highway of the fuller's field⁴And say unto him, Take heed, and be quiet fear not, neither be fainthearted for the two tails of these smoking firebrands, for the fierce anger of Rezin with Syria, and of the son of Remaliah.⁵Because Syria, Ephraim, and the son of Remaliah, have taken evil counsel against thee, saying,⁶Let us go up against Judah, and vex it, and let us make a breach therein for us, and set a king in the midst of it, even the son of Tabeal:⁷Thus saith the Lord GOD, It shall not stand, neither shall it come to pass.⁸For the head of Syria is Damascus, and the head of Damascus is Rezin and within threescore and five years shall Ephraim be broken, that it be not a people.⁹And the head of Ephraim is Samaria, and the head of Samaria is Remaliah's son. If ye will not believe, surely ye shall not be established.¹⁰Moreover the LORD spake again unto Ahaz, saying,¹¹Ask thee a sign of the LORD thy God ask it either in the depth, or in the height above.¹²But Ahaz said, I will not ask, neither will I tempt the LORD.¹³And he said, Hear ye now, O house of David Is it a small thing for you to weary men, but will ye weary my God also?¹⁴Therefore the Lord himself shall give you a sign Behold, a virgin shall conceive, and bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel.¹⁵Butter and honey shall he eat, that he may know to refuse the evil, and choose the good.¹⁶For before the child shall know to refuse the evil, and choose the good, the land that thou abhorrest shall be forsaken of both her kings.¹⁷The LORD shall bring upon thee, and upon thy people, and upon thy father's house, days that have not come, from the day that Ephraim departed from Judah even the king of Assyria.¹⁸And it shall come to pass in that day, that the LORD shall hiss for the fly that is in the uttermost part of the rivers of Egypt, and for the bee that is in the land of Assyria.¹⁹And they shall come, and shall rest all of them in the desolate valleys, and in the holes of the rocks, and upon all thorns, and upon all bushes.²⁰In the same day shall the Lord shave with a razor that is hired, namely, by them beyond the river, by the king of Assyria, the head, and the hair of the feet: and it shall also consume the beard.²¹And it shall come to pass in that day, that a man shall nourish a young cow, and two sheep²²And it shall come to pass, for the abundance of milk that they shall give he shall eat butter: for butter and honey shall every one eat that is left in the land.²³And it shall come to pass in that day, that every place shall be, where there were a thousand vines at a thousand silverlings, it shall even be for briers and thorns.²⁴With arrows and with bows shall men come thither because all the land shall become briers and thorns.²⁵And on all hills that shall be digged with the mattock, there shall not come thither the fear of briers and thorns: but it shall be for the sending forth of oxen, and for the treading of lesser cattle.

CHAPTER 8 ¹Moreover the LORD said unto me, Take thee a great roll, and write in it with a man's pen concerning Maher-shalal-hash-baz.²And I took unto me faithful witnesses to record, Uriah the priest, and Zechariah the son of Jeberechiah.³And I went unto the prophetess and she conceived, and bare a son. Then said the LORD to me, Call his name Maher-shalal-hash-baz.⁴For before the child shall have knowledge to cry, My father, and my mother, the riches of Damascus and the spoil of Samaria shall be taken away before the king of Assyria.⁵The LORD spake also unto me again, saying,⁶Forasmuch as this people refuseth the waters of Shiloah that go softly, and rejoice in Rezin and Remaliah's son⁷Now therefore, behold, the Lord bringeth up upon them the waters of the river, strong and many, even the king of Assyria, and all his glory: and he shall come up over all his channels, and go over all his banks:⁸And he shall pass through Judah he shall overflow and go over, he shall reach even to the neck and the stretching out of his wings shall fill the breadth of thy land, O Immanuel.⁹Associate yourselves, O ye people, and ye shall be broken in pieces and give ear, all ye of far countries: gird yourselves, and ye shall be broken in pieces gird yourselves, and ye shall be broken in pieces.¹⁰Take counsel together, and it shall come to nought speak the word, and it shall not stand: for God is with us.¹¹For the LORD spake thus to me with a strong hand, and instructed me that I should not walk in the way of this people, saying,¹²Say ye not, A confederacy, to all them to whom this people shall say, A confederacy neither fear ye their fear, nor be afraid.¹³Sanctify the LORD of hosts himself and let him be your fear, and let him be your dread.¹⁴And he shall be for a sanctuary but for a stone of stumbling and for a rock of offence to both the houses of Israel, for a gin and for a snare to the inhabitants of Jerusalem.¹⁵And many among them shall stumble, and fall, and be broken, and be snared, and be taken.¹⁶Bind up the testimony, seal the law among my disciples.¹⁷And I will wait upon the LORD, that hideth his face from the house of Jacob, and I will look for him.¹⁸Behold, I and the children whom the LORD hath given me are for signs and for wonders in Israel from the LORD of hosts, which dwelleth in mount Zion.¹⁹And when they shall say unto you, Seek unto them that have familiar spirits, and unto wizards that peep, and that mutter: should not a people seek unto their God? for the living to the dead?²⁰To the law and to the testimony: if they speak not according to this word, it is because there is no light in them.²¹And they shall pass through it, hardly bestead and hungry: and it shall come to pass, that when they shall be hungry, they shall fret themselves, and curse their king and their God, and look upward.²²And they shall look unto the earth and behold trouble and darkness, dimness of anguish and they shall be driven to darkness.

CHAPTER 9 ¹Nevertheless the dimness shall not be such as was in her vexation, when at the first he lightly afflicted the land of Zebulun and the land of Naphtali, and afterward did more grievously afflict her by the way of the sea, beyond Jordan, in Galilee of the nations.²The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light: they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined.³Thou hast multiplied the nation, and not increased the joy: they joy before thee according to the joy in harvest, and as men rejoice when they divide the spoil.⁴For thou hast broken the yoke of his burden, and the staff of his shoulder, the rod of his oppressor, as in the day of Midian.⁵For every battle of the warrior is with confused noise, and garments rolled in blood but this shall be with burning and fuel of fire.⁶For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace.⁷Of the increase of his government and peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom, to order it, and to establish it with judgment and with justice from henceforth even for ever. The zeal of the LORD of hosts will perform this.⁸The Lord sent a word into Jacob, and it hath lighted upon Israel.⁹And all the people shall know, even Ephraim and the inhabitant of Samaria, that say in the pride and stoutness of heart,¹⁰The bricks are fallen down, but we will build with hewn stones: the sycomores are cut down, but we will change them into cedars.¹¹Therefore the LORD shall set up the adversaries of Rezin against him, and join his enemies together¹²The Syrians before, and the Philistines behind and they shall devour Israel with open mouth. For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.¹³For the people turneth not unto him that smiteth them, neither do they seek the LORD of hosts.¹⁴Therefore the LORD will cut off from Israel head and tail, branch and rush, in one day.¹⁵The ancient and honourable, he is the head and the prophet that teacheth lies, he is the tail.¹⁶For the leaders of this people cause them to err and they that are led of them are destroyed.¹⁷Therefore the Lord shall have no joy in their young men, neither shall have mercy on their fatherless and widows: for every one is an hypocrite and an evildoer, and every mouth speaketh folly. For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.¹⁸For wickedness burneth as the fire: it shall devour the briars and thorns, and shall kindle in the thickets of the forest, and they shall mount up like the lifting up of smoke.¹⁹Through the wrath of the LORD of hosts is the land darkened, and the people shall be as the fuel of the fire: no man shall spare his brother.²⁰And he shall snatch on the right hand, and be hungry and he shall eat on the left hand, and they shall not be satisfied: they shall eat every man the flesh of his own arm:²¹Manasseh, Ephraim and Ephraim, Manasseh: and they together shall be against Judah. For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.

CHAPTER 10 ¹Woe unto them that decree unrighteous decrees, and that write grievousness which they have prescribed²To turn aside the needy from judgment, and to take away the right from the poor of my people, that widows may be their prey, and that they may rob the fatherless!³And what will ye do in the day of visitation, and in the desolation which shall come from far? to whom will ye flee for help? and where will ye leave your glory?⁴Without me they shall bow down under the prisoners, and they shall fall under the slain. For all this his anger is not turned away, but his hand is stretched out still.⁵O Assyrian, the rod of mine anger, and the staff in their hand is mine indignation.⁶I will send him against an hypocritical nation, and against the people of my wrath will I give him a charge, to take the spoil, and to take the prey, and to tread them down like the mire of the streets.⁷Howbeit he meaneth not so, neither doth his heart think so but it is in his heart to destroy and cut off nations not a few.⁸For he saith, Are not my princes altogether kings?⁹Is not Calno as Carchemish? is not Hamath as

Arpad? is not Samaria as Damascus?¹⁰As my hand hath found the kingdoms of the idols, and whose graven images did excel them of Jerusalem and of Samaria¹¹Shall I not, as I have done unto Samaria and her idols, so do to Jerusalem and her idols?¹²Wherefore it shall come to pass, that when the Lord hath performed his whole work upon mount Zion and on Jerusalem, I will punish the fruit of the stout heart of the king of Assyria, and the glory of his high looks.¹³For he saith, By the strength of my hand I have done it, and by my wisdom for I am prudent: and I have removed the bounds of the people, and have robbed their treasures, and I have put down the inhabitants like a valiant man:¹⁴And my hand hath found as a nest the riches of the people: and as one gathereth eggs that are left, have I gathered all the earth and there was none that moved the wing, or opened the mouth, or peeped.¹⁵Shall the axe boast itself against him that heweth therewith? or shall the saw magnify itself against him that shaketh it? as if the rod should shake itself against them that lift it up, or as if the staff should lift up itself, as if it were no wood.¹⁶Therefore shall the Lord, the Lord of hosts, send among his fat ones leanness and under his glory he shall kindle a burning like the burning of a fire.¹⁷And the light of Israel shall be for a fire, and his Holy One for a flame: and it shall burn and devour his thorns and his briers in one day.¹⁸And shall consume the glory of his forest, and of his fruitful field, both soul and body: and they shall be as when a standardbearer fainteth.¹⁹And the rest of the trees of his forest shall be few, that a child may write them.²⁰And it shall come to pass in that day, that the remnant of Israel, and such as are escaped of the house of Jacob, shall no more again stay upon him that smote them but shall stay upon the LORD, the Holy One of Israel, in truth.²¹The remnant shall return, even the remnant of Jacob, unto the mighty God.²²For though thy people Israel be as the sand of the sea, yet a remnant of them shall return: the consumption decreed shall overflow with righteousness.²³For the Lord GOD of hosts shall make a consumption, even determined, in the midst of all the land.²⁴Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD of hosts, O my people that dwellest in Zion, be not afraid of the Assyrian: he shall smite thee with a rod, and shall lift up his staff against thee, after the manner of Egypt.²⁵For yet a very little while, and the indignation shall cease, and mine anger in their destruction.²⁶And the LORD of hosts shall stir up a scourge for him according to the slaughter of Midian at the rock of Oreb: and as his rod was upon the sea, so shall he lift it up after the manner of Egypt.²⁷And it shall come to pass in that day, that his burden shall be taken away from off thy shoulder, and his yoke from off thy neck, and the yoke shall be destroyed because of the anointing.²⁸He is come to Aiath, he is passed to Migron at Michmash he hath laid up his carriages.²⁹They are gone over the passage: they have taken up their lodging at Geba Ramah is afraid Gibeah of Saul is fled.³⁰Lift up thy voice, O daughter of Gallim: cause it to be heard unto Laish, O poor Anathoth.³¹Madmenah is removed the inhabitants of Gebim gather themselves to flee.³²As yet shall he remain at Nob that day: he shall shake his hand against the mount of the daughter of Zion, the hill of Jerusalem.³³Behold, the Lord, the LORD of hosts, shall lop the bough with terror: and the high ones of stature shall be hewn down, and the haughty shall be humbled.³⁴And he shall cut down the thickets of the forest with iron, and Lebanon shall fall by a mighty one.

CHAPTER 11 ¹And there shall come forth a rod out of the stem of Jesse, and a Branch shall grow out of his roots:²And the spirit of the LORD shall rest upon him, the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and might, the spirit of knowledge and of the fear of the LORD³And shall make him of quick understanding in the fear of the LORD: and he shall not judge after the sight of his eyes, neither reprove after the hearing of his ears:⁴But with righteousness shall he judge the poor, and reprove with equity for the meek of the earth: and he shall smite the earth with the rod of his mouth, and with the breath of his lips shall he slay the wicked.⁵And righteousness shall be the girdle of his loins, and faithfulness the girdle of his reins.⁶The wolf also shall dwell with the lamb, and the leopard shall lie down with the kid and the calf and the young lion and the fatling together and a little child shall lead them.⁷And the cow and the bear shall feed their young ones shall lie down together: and the lion shall eat straw like the ox.⁸And the sucking child shall play on the hole of the

asp, and the weaned child shall put his hand on the cockatrice' den.⁹They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain: for the earth shall be full of the knowledge of the LORD, as the waters cover the sea.¹⁰And in that day there shall be a root of Jesse, which shall stand for an ensign of the people to it shall the Gentiles seek: and his rest shall be glorious.¹¹And it shall come to pass in that day, that the Lord shall set his hand again the second time to recover the remnant of his people, which shall be left, from Assyria, and from Egypt, and from Pathros, and from Cush, and from Elam, and from Shinar, and from Hamath, and from the islands of the sea.¹²And he shall set up an ensign for the nations, and shall assemble the outcasts of Israel, and gather together the dispersed of Judah from the four corners of the earth.¹³The envy also of Ephraim shall depart, and the adversaries of Judah shall be cut off: Ephraim shall not envy Judah, and Judah shall not vex Ephraim.¹⁴But they shall fly upon the shoulders of the Philistines toward the west they shall spoil them of the east together: they shall lay their hand upon Edom and Moab and the children of Ammon shall obey them.¹⁵And the LORD shall utterly destroy the tongue of the Egyptian sea and with his mighty wind shall he shake his hand over the river, and shall smite it in the seven streams, and make men go over dryshod.¹⁶And there shall be an highway for the remnant of his people, which shall be left, from Assyria like as it was to Israel in the day that he came up out of the land of Egypt.

CHAPTER 12 ¹And in that day thou shalt say, O LORD, I will praise thee: though thou wast angry with me, thine anger is turned away, and thou comfortedst me.²Behold, God is my salvation I will trust, and not be afraid: for the LORD JEHOVAH is my strength and my song he also is become my salvation.³Therefore with joy shall ye draw water out of the wells of salvation.⁴And in that day shall ye say, Praise the LORD, call upon his name, declare his doings among the people, make mention that his name is exalted.⁵Sing unto the LORD for he hath done excellent things: this is known in all the earth.⁶Cry out and shout, thou inhabitant of Zion: for great is the Holy One of Israel in the midst of thee.

CHAPTER 13 ¹The burden of Babylon, which Isaiah the son of Amoz did see.²Lift ye up a banner upon the high mountain, exalt the voice unto them, shake the hand, that they may go into the gates of the nobles.³I have commanded my sanctified ones, I have also called my mighty ones for mine anger, even them that rejoice in my highness.⁴The noise of a multitude in the mountains, like as of a great people a tumultuous noise of the kingdoms of nations gathered together: the LORD of hosts mustereth the host of the battle.⁵They come from a far country, from the end of heaven, even the LORD, and the weapons of his indignation, to destroy the whole land.⁶Howl ye for the day of the LORD is at hand it shall come as a destruction from the Almighty.⁷Therefore shall all hands be faint, and every man's heart shall melt:⁸And they shall be afraid: pangs and sorrows shall take hold of them they shall be in pain as a woman that travaileth: they shall be amazed one at another their faces shall be as flames.⁹Behold, the day of the LORD cometh, cruel both with wrath and fierce anger, to lay the land desolate: and he shall destroy the sinners thereof out of it.¹⁰For the stars of heaven and the constellations thereof shall not give their light: the sun shall be darkened in his going forth, and the moon shall not cause her light to shine.¹¹ And I will punish the world for their evil, and the wicked for their iniquity and I will cause the arrogancy of the proud to cease, and will lay low the haughtiness of the terrible.¹² I will make a man more precious than fine gold even a man than the golden wedge of Ophir.¹³ Therefore I will shake the heavens, and the earth shall remove out of her place, in the wrath of the LORD of hosts, and in the day of his fierce anger.¹⁴ And it shall be as the chased roe, and as a sheep that no man taketh up: they shall every man turn to his own people, and flee every one into his own land.¹⁵ Every one that is found shall be thrust through and every one that is joined unto them shall fall by the sword.¹⁶ Their children also shall be dashed to pieces before their eyes their houses shall be spoiled, and their wives ravished.¹⁷ Behold, I will stir up the Medes against them, which shall not regard silver and as for gold, they shall not delight in it.¹⁸ Their bows also shall dash the young men to pieces and they shall have no pity on the fruit of the womb their eye shall not spare children.¹⁹ And Babylon, the glory of kingdoms, the beauty of the Chaldees' excellency, shall be as when God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah.²⁰ It shall never be inhabited, neither shall it be dwelt in from generation to generation: neither shall the Arabian pitch tent there neither shall the shepherds make their fold there.²¹ But wild beasts of the desert shall lie there and their houses shall be full of doleful creatures and owls shall dwell there, and satyrs shall dance there.²² And the wild beasts of the islands shall cry in their desolate houses, and dragons in their pleasant palaces: and her time is near to come, and her days shall not be prolonged.

CHAPTER 14 ¹For the LORD will have mercy on Jacob, and will yet choose Israel, and set them in their own land: and the strangers shall be joined with them, and they shall cleave to the house of Jacob.² And the people shall take them, and bring them to their place: and the house of Israel shall possess them in the land of the LORD for servants and handmaids: and they shall take them captives, whose captives they were and they shall rule over their oppressors.³ And it shall come to pass in the day that the LORD shall give thee rest from thy sorrow, and from thy fear, and from the hard bondage wherein thou wast made to serve,⁴That thou shalt take up this proverb against the king of Babylon, and say, How hath the oppressor ceased! the golden city ceased!⁵The LORD hath broken the staff of the wicked, and the sceptre of the rulers.⁶He who smote the people in wrath with a continual stroke, he that ruled the nations in anger, is persecuted, and none hindereth.⁷The whole earth is at rest, and is quiet: they break forth into singing.⁸Yea, the fir trees rejoice at thee, and the cedars of Lebanon, saying, Since thou art laid down, no feller is come up against us.⁹Hell from beneath is moved for thee to meet thee at thy coming: it stirreth up the dead for thee, even all the chief ones of the earth it hath raised up from their thrones all the kings of the nations.¹⁰All they shall speak and say unto thee, Art thou also become weak as we? art thou become like unto us?¹¹Thy pomp is brought down to the grave, and the noise of thy viols: the worm is spread under thee, and the worms cover thee.¹²How art thou fallen from heaven, O Lucifer, son of the morning! how art thou cut down to the ground, which didst weaken the nations!¹³For thou hast said in thine heart, I will ascend into heaven, I will exalt my throne above the stars of God: I will sit also upon the mount of the congregation, in the sides of the north:¹⁴I will ascend above the heights of the clouds I will be like the most High.¹⁵Yet thou shalt be brought down to hell, to the sides of the pit.¹⁶They that see thee shall narrowly look upon thee, and consider thee, saying, Is this the man that made the earth to tremble, that did shake kingdoms?¹⁷That made the world as a wilderness, and destroyed the cities thereof that opened not the house of his prisoners?¹⁸All the kings of the nations, even all of them, lie in glory, every one in his own house.¹⁹But thou art cast out of thy grave like an abominable branch, and as the raiment of those that are slain, thrust through with a sword, that go down to the stones of the pit as a carcase trodden under feet.²⁰Thou shalt not be joined with them in burial, because thou hast destroyed thy land, and slain thy people: the seed of evildoers shall never be renowned.²¹Prepare slaughter for his children for the iniquity of their fathers that they do not rise, nor possess the land, nor fill the face of the world with cities.²²For I will rise up against them, saith the LORD of hosts, and cut off from Babylon the name, and remnant, and son, and nephew, saith the LORD.²³I will also make it a possession for the bittern, and pools of water: and I will sweep it with the besom of destruction, saith the LORD of hosts.²⁴The LORD of hosts hath sworn, saying, Surely as I have thought, so shall it come to pass and as I have purposed, so shall it stand:²⁵That I will break the Assyrian in my land, and upon my mountains tread him under foot: then shall his yoke depart from off them, and his burden depart from off their shoulders.²⁶This is the purpose that is purposed upon the whole earth: and this is the hand that is stretched out upon all the nations.²⁷For the LORD of hosts hath purposed, and who shall disannul it? and his hand is stretched out, and who shall turn it back?²⁸In the year that king Ahaz died was this burden.²⁹Rejoice not thou, whole Palestina, because the rod of him that smote thee is broken: for out of the serpent's root shall come forth a cockatrice, and his fruit shall be a fiery flying serpent.³⁰And the firstborn of the poor shall feed, and the needy shall lie down in safety: and I will kill thy root with famine, and he shall slay thy remnant.³¹Howl, O gate cry, O city thou, whole Palestina, art dissolved: for there shall come from the north a smoke, and none shall be alone in his appointed times.³²What shall one then answer the messengers of the nation? That the LORD hath founded Zion, and the poor of his people shall trust in it.

CHAPTER 15 ¹The burden of Moab. Because in the night Ar of Moab is laid waste, and brought to silence because in the night Kir of Moab is laid waste, and brought to silence²He is gone up to Bajith, and to Dibon, the high places, to weep: Moab shall howl over Nebo, and over Medeba: on all their heads shall be baldness, and every beard cut off.³In their streets they shall gird themselves with sackcloth: on the tops of their houses, and in their streets, every one shall howl, weeping abundantly.⁴And Heshbon shall cry, and Elealeh: their voice shall be heard even unto Jahaz: therefore the armed soldiers of Moab shall cry out his life shall be grievous unto him.⁵My heart shall cry out for Moab his fugitives shall flee unto Zoar, an heifer of three years old: for by the mounting up of Luhith with weeping shall they go it up for in the way of Horonaim they shall raise up a cry of destruction.⁶For the waters of Nimrim shall be desolate: for the hay is withered away, the grass faileth, there is no green thing.⁷Therefore the abundance they have gotten, and that which they have laid up, shall they carry away to the brook of the willows.⁸For the cry is gone round about the borders of Moab the howling thereof unto Eglaim, and the howling thereof unto Beer-elim.⁹For the waters of Dimon shall be full of blood: for I will bring more upon Dimon, lions upon him that escapeth of Moab, and upon the remnant of the land.

CHAPTER 16 ¹Send ye the lamb to the ruler of the land from Sela to the wilderness, unto the mount of the daughter of Zion.²For it shall be, that, as a wandering bird cast out of the nest, so the daughters of Moab shall be at the fords of Arnon.³Take counsel, execute judgment make thy shadow as the night in the midst of the noonday hide the outcasts bewray not him that wandereth.⁴Let mine outcasts dwell with thee, Moab be thou a covert to them from the face of the spoiler: for the extortioner is at an end, the spoiler ceaseth, the oppressors are consumed out of the land.⁵And in mercy shall the throne be established: and he shall sit upon it in truth in the tabernacle of David, judging, and seeking judgment, and hasting righteousness.⁶We have heard of the pride of Moab he is very proud: even of his haughtiness, and his pride, and his wrath: but his lies shall not be so.⁷Therefore shall Moab howl for Moab, every one shall howl: for the foundations of Kir-hareseth shall ye mourn surely they are stricken.⁸For the fields of Heshbon languish, and the vine of Sibmah: the lords of the heathen have broken down the principal plants thereof, they are come even unto Jazer, they wandered through the wilderness: her branches are stretched out, they are gone over the sea.⁹Therefore I will bewail with the weeping of Jazer the vine of Sibmah: I will water thee with my tears, O Heshbon, and Elealeh: for the shouting for thy summer fruits and for thy harvest is fallen.¹⁰And gladness is taken away, and joy out of the plentiful field and in the vineyards there shall be no singing, neither shall there be shouting: the treaders shall tread out no wine in their presses I have made their vintage shouting to cease.¹¹Wherefore my bowels shall sound like an harp for Moab, and mine inward parts for Kir-haresh.¹²And it shall come to pass, when it is seen that Moab is weary on the high place, that he shall come to his sanctuary to pray but he shall not prevail.¹³This is the word that the LORD hath spoken concerning Moab since that time.¹⁴But now the LORD hath spoken, saying, Within three years, as the years of an hireling, and the glory of Moab shall be contemned, with all that great multitude and the remnant shall be very small and feeble.

CHAPTER 17 ¹The burden of Damascus. Behold, Damascus is taken away from being a city, and it shall be a ruinous heap.²The cities of Aroer are forsaken: they shall be for flocks, which shall lie down, and none shall make them afraid.³The fortress also shall cease from Ephraim, and the kingdom from Damascus, and the remnant of Syria: they shall be as the glory of the children of Israel, saith the LORD of hosts.⁴And in that day it shall come to pass, that the glory of Jacob shall be made thin, and the fatness of his flesh shall wax lean.⁵And it shall be as when the harvestman gathereth the corn, and reapeth the ears with his arm and it shall be as he that gathereth ears in the valley of Rephaim.⁶Yet gleaning grapes shall be left in it, as the shaking of an olive tree, two or three berries in the top of the uppermost bough, four or five in the outmost fruitful branches thereof, saith the LORD God of Israel.⁷At that day shall a man look to his Maker, and his eyes shall have respect to the Holy One of Israel.⁸And he shall not look to the altars, the work of his hands, neither shall respect that which his fingers have made, either the groves, or the images.⁹In that day shall his strong cities be as a forsaken bough, and an uppermost branch, which they left because of the children of Israel: and there shall be desolation.¹⁰Because thou hast forgotten the God of thy salvation, and hast not been mindful of the rock of thy strength, therefore shalt thou plant pleasant plants, and shalt set it with strange slips:¹¹In the day shalt thou make thy plant to grow, and in the morning shalt thou make thy seed to flourish: but the harvest shall be a heap in the day of grief and of desperate sorrow.¹²Woe to the multitude of many people, which make a noise like the noise of the seas and to the rushing of nations, that make a rushing like the rushing of mighty waters!¹³The nations shall rush like the rushing of many waters: but God shall rebuke them, and they shall flee far off, and shall be chased as the chaff of the mountains before the wind, and like a rolling thing before the whirlwind.¹⁴And behold at eveningtide trouble and before the morning he is not. This is the portion of them that spoil us, and the lot of them that rob us.

CHAPTER 18 ¹Woe to the land shadowing with wings, which is beyond the rivers of Ethiopia:²That sendeth ambassadors by the sea, even in vessels of bulrushes upon the waters, saying, Go, ye swift messengers, to a nation scattered and peeled, to a people terrible from their beginning hitherto a nation meted out and trodden down, whose land the rivers have spoiled!³All ye inhabitants of the world, and dwellers on the earth, see ye, when he lifteth up an ensign on the mountains and when he bloweth a trumpet, hear ye.⁴For so the LORD said unto me, I will take my rest, and I will consider in my dwelling place like a clear heat upon herbs, and like a cloud of dew in the heat of harvest.⁵For afore the harvest, when the bud is perfect, and the sour grape is ripening in the flower, he shall both cut off the sprigs with pruning hooks, and take away and cut down the branches.⁶They shall be left together unto the fowls of the mountains, and to the beasts of the earth: and the fowls shall summer upon them, and all the beasts of the earth shall winter upon them.⁷In that time shall the present be brought unto the LORD of hosts of a people scattered and peeled, and from a people terrible from their beginning hitherto a nation meted out and trodden under foot, whose land the rivers have spoiled, to the place of the name of the LORD of hosts, the mount Zion.

CHAPTER 19 ¹The burden of Egypt. Behold, the LORD rideth upon a swift cloud, and shall come into Egypt: and the idols of Egypt shall be moved at his presence, and the heart of Egypt shall melt in the midst of it.²And I will set the Egyptians against the Egyptians: and they shall fight every one against his brother, and every one against his neighbour city against city, and kingdom against kingdom.³And the spirit of Egypt shall fail in the midst thereof and I will destroy the counsel thereof: and they shall seek to the idols, and to the charmers, and to them that have familiar spirits, and to the wizards.⁴And the Egyptians will I give over into the hand of a cruel lord and a fierce king shall rule over them, saith the Lord, the LORD of hosts.⁵And the waters shall fail from the sea, and the river shall be wasted and dried up.⁶And they shall turn the rivers far away and the brooks of defence shall be emptied and dried up: the reeds and flags shall wither.⁷The paper reeds by the brooks, by the mouth of the brooks, and every thing sown by the brooks, shall wither, be driven away, and be no more.⁸The fishers also shall mourn, and all they that cast angle into the brooks shall lament, and they that spread nets upon the waters shall languish.⁹Moreover they that work in fine flax, and they that weave networks, shall be confounded.¹⁰And they shall be broken in the purposes thereof, all that make sluices and ponds for fish.¹¹Surely the princes of Zoan are fools, the counsel of the wise counsellors of Pharaoh is become brutish: how say ye unto Pharaoh, I am the son of the wise, the son of ancient kings?¹²Where are they? where are thy wise men? and let them tell thee now, and let them know what the LORD of hosts hath purposed upon Egypt.¹³The princes of Zoan are become fools, the princes of Noph are deceived they have also seduced Egypt, even they

that are the stay of the tribes thereof.¹⁴The LORD hath mingled a perverse spirit in the midst thereof: and they have caused Egypt to err in every work thereof, as a drunken man staggereth in his vomit.¹⁵Neither shall there be any work for Egypt, which the head or tail, branch or rush, may do.¹⁶In that day shall Egypt be like unto women: and it shall be afraid and fear because of the shaking of the hand of the LORD of hosts, which he shaketh over it.¹⁷And the land of Judah shall be a terror unto Egypt, every one that maketh mention thereof shall be afraid in himself, because of the counsel of the LORD of hosts, which he hath determined against it.¹⁸In that day shall five cities in the land of Egypt speak the language of Canaan, and swear to the LORD of hosts one shall be called, The city of destruction.¹⁹In that day shall there be an altar to the LORD in the midst of the land of Egypt, and a pillar at the border thereof to the LORD.²⁰And it shall be for a sign and for a witness unto the LORD of hosts in the land of Egypt: for they shall cry unto the LORD because of the oppressors, and he shall send them a saviour, and a great one, and he shall deliver them.²¹And the LORD shall be known to Egypt, and the Egyptians shall know the LORD in that day, and shall do sacrifice and oblation yea, they shall vow a vow unto the LORD, and perform it.²²And the LORD shall smite Egypt: he shall smite and heal it: and they shall return even to the LORD, and he shall be intreated of them, and shall heal them.²³In that day shall there be a highway out of Egypt to Assyria, and the Assyrian shall come into Egypt, and the Egyptian into Assyria, and the Egyptians shall serve with the Assyrians.²⁴In that day shall Israel be the third with Egypt and with Assyria, even a blessing in the midst of the land:²⁵Whom the LORD of hosts shall bless, saying, Blessed be Egypt my people, and Assyria the work of my hands, and Israel mine inheritance.

CHAPTER 20 ¹In the year that Tartan came unto Ashdod, (when Sargon the king of Assyria sent him,) and fought against Ashdod, and took it²At the same time spake the LORD by Isaiah the son of Amoz, saying, Go and loose the sackcloth from off thy loins, and put off thy shoe from thy foot. And he did so, walking naked and barefoot.³And the LORD said, Like as my servant Isaiah hath walked naked and barefoot three years for a sign and wonder upon Egypt and upon Ethiopia⁴So shall the king of Assyria lead away the Egyptians prisoners, and the Ethiopians captives, young and old, naked and barefoot, even with their buttocks uncovered, to the shame of Egypt.⁵And they shall be afraid and ashamed of Ethiopia their expectation, and of Egypt their glory.⁶And the inhabitant of this isle shall say in that day, Behold, such is our expectation, whither we flee for help to be delivered from the king of Assyria: and how shall we escape?

CHAPTER 21 ¹The burden of the desert of the sea. As whirlwinds in the south pass through so it cometh from the desert, from a terrible land.²A grievous vision is declared unto me the treacherous dealer dealeth treacherously, and the spoiler spoileth. Go up, O Elam: besiege, O Media all the sighing thereof have I made to cease.³Therefore are my loins filled with pain: pangs have taken hold upon me, as the pangs of a woman that travaileth: I was bowed down at the hearing of it I was dismayed at the seeing of it.⁴My heart panted, fearfulness affrighted me: the night of my pleasure hath he turned into fear unto me.⁵Prepare the table, watch in the watchtower, eat, drink: arise, ye princes, and anoint the shield.⁶For thus hath the Lord said unto me, Go, set a watchman, let him declare what he seeth.⁷And he saw a chariot with a couple of horsemen, a chariot of asses, and a chariot of camels and he hearkened diligently with much heed:⁸And he cried, A lion: My lord, I stand continually upon the watchtower in the daytime, and I am set in my ward whole nights:⁹And, behold, here cometh a chariot of men, with a couple of horsemen. And he answered and said, Babylon is fallen, is fallen and all the graven images of her gods he hath broken unto the ground.¹⁰O my threshing, and the corn of my floor: that which I have heard of the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, have I declared unto you.¹¹The burden of Dumah. He calleth to me out of Seir, Watchman, what of the night? Watchman, what of the night?¹²The watchman said, The morning cometh, and also the night: if ye will inquire, inquire ye: return, come.¹³The burden upon Arabia. In the forest in Arabia shall ye lodge, O ye travelling companies of Dedanim.¹⁴The inhabitants of the land of Tema brought water to him that was thirsty, they prevented with their bread him that fled.¹⁵For they fled from the swords, from the drawn sword, and from the bent bow, and from the grievousness of war.¹⁶For thus hath the Lord said unto me, Within a year, according to the years of an hireling, and all the glory of Kedar shall fail:¹⁷And the residue of the number of archers, the mighty men of the children of Kedar, shall be diminished: for the LORD God of Israel hath spoken it.

CHAPTER 22 ¹The burden of the valley of vision. What aileth thee now, that thou art wholly gone up to the housetops?²Thou that art full of stirs, a tumultuous city, a joyous city: thy slain men are not slain with the sword, nor dead in battle.³All thy rulers are fled together, they are bound by the archers: all that are found in thee are bound together, which have fled from far.⁴Therefore said I, Look away from me I will weep bitterly, labour not to comfort me, because of the spoiling of the daughter of my people.⁵For it is a day of trouble, and of treading down, and of perplexity by the Lord GOD of hosts in the valley of vision, breaking down the walls, and of crying to the mountains.⁶And Elam bare the quiver with chariots of men and horsemen, and Kir uncovered the shield.⁷And it shall come to pass, that thy choicest valleys shall be full of chariots, and the horsemen shall set themselves in array at the gate.⁸And he discovered the covering of Judah, and thou didst look in that day to the armour of the house of the forest.⁹Ye have seen also the breaches of the city of David, that they are many: and ye gathered together the waters of the lower pool.¹⁰And ye have numbered the houses of Jerusalem, and the houses have ye broken down to fortify the wall.¹¹Ye made also a ditch between the two walls for the water of the old pool: but ye have not looked unto the maker thereof, neither had respect unto him that fashioned it long ago.¹²And in that day did the Lord GOD of hosts call to weeping, and to mourning, and to baldness, and to girding with sackcloth:¹³And behold joy and gladness, slaying oxen, and killing sheep, eating flesh, and drinking wine: let us eat and drink for to morrow we shall die.¹⁴And it was revealed in mine ears by the LORD of hosts, Surely this iniquity shall not be purged from you till ye die, saith the Lord GOD of hosts.¹⁵Thus saith the Lord GOD of hosts, Go, get thee unto this treasurer, even unto Shebna, which is over the house, and say,¹⁶What hast thou here? and whom hast thou here, that thou hast hewed thee out a sepulchre here, as he that heweth him out a sepulchre on high, and that graveth an habitation for himself in a rock?¹⁷Behold, the LORD will carry thee away with a mighty captivity, and will surely cover thee.¹⁸He will surely violently turn and toss thee like a ball into a large country: there shalt thou die, and there the chariots of thy glory shall be the shame of thy lord's house.¹⁹And I will drive thee from thy station, and from thy state shall he pull thee down.²⁰And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will call my servant Eliakim the son of Hilkiah:²¹And I will clothe him with thy robe, and strengthen him with thy girdle, and I will commit thy government into his hand: and he shall be a father to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and to the house of Judah.²²And the key of the house of David will I lay upon his shoulder so he shall open, and none shall shut and he shall shut, and none shall open.²³And I will fasten him as a nail in a sure place and he shall be for a glorious throne to his father's house.²⁴And they shall hang upon him all the glory of his father's house, the offspring and the issue, all vessels of small quantity, from the vessels of cups, even to all the vessels of flagons.²⁵In that day, saith the LORD of hosts, shall the nail that is fastened in the sure place be removed, and be cut down, and fall and the burden that was upon it shall be cut off: for the LORD hath spoken it.

CHAPTER 23 ¹The burden of Tyre. Howl, ye ships of Tarshish for it is laid waste, so that there is no house, no entering in: from the land of Chittim it is revealed to them.²Be still, ye inhabitants of the isle thou whom the merchants of Zidon, that pass over the sea, have replenished.³And by great waters the seed of Sihor, the harvest of the river, is her revenue and she is a mart of nations.⁴Be thou ashamed, O Zidon: for the sea hath spoken, even the strength of the sea, saying, I travail not, nor bring forth children, neither do I nourish up young men, nor bring up virgins.⁵As at the report concerning Egypt, so shall they be sorely pained at the report of Tyre.⁶Pass ye over to Tarshish howl, ye inhabitants of the isle.⁷Is this your joyous city, whose antiquity is of ancient days? her own feet shall carry her afar off to sojourn.⁸Who hath taken this counsel against Tyre, the crowning city, whose merchants are princes, whose traffickers are the honourable of the earth?⁹The LORD of hosts hath purposed it, to stain the pride of all glory, and to bring into contempt all the honourable of the earth.¹⁰Pass through thy land as a river, O daughter of Tarshish: there is no more strength.¹¹He stretched out his hand over the sea, he shook the kingdoms: the LORD hath given a commandment against the merchant city, to destroy the strong holds thereof.¹²And he said, Thou shalt no more rejoice, O thou oppressed virgin, daughter of Zidon: arise, pass over to Chittim there also shalt thou have no rest.¹³Behold the land of the Chaldeans this people was not, till the Assyrian founded it for them that dwell in the wilderness: they set up the towers thereof, they raised up the palaces thereof and he brought it to ruin.¹⁴Howl, ye ships of Tarshish: for your strength is laid waste.¹⁵And it shall come to pass in that day, that Tyre shall be forgotten seventy years, according to the days of one king: after the end of seventy years shall Tyre sing as an harlot.¹⁶Take an harp, go about the city, thou harlot that hast been forgotten make sweet melody, sing many songs, that thou mayest be remembered.¹⁷And it shall come to pass after the end of seventy years, that the LORD will visit Tyre, and she shall turn to her hire, and shall commit fornication with all the kingdoms of the world upon the face of the earth.¹⁸And her merchandise and her hire shall be holiness to the LORD: it shall not be treasured nor laid up for her merchandise shall be for them that dwell before the LORD, to eat sufficiently, and for durable clothing.

CHAPTER 24 ¹Behold, the LORD maketh the earth empty, and maketh it waste, and turneth it upside down, and scattereth abroad the inhabitants thereof.²And it shall be, as with the people, so with the priest as with the servant, so with his master as with the maid, so with her mistress as with the buyer, so with the seller as with the lender, so with the borrower as with the taker of usury, so with the giver of usury to him.³The land shall be utterly emptied, and utterly spoiled: for the LORD hath spoken this word.⁴The earth mourneth and fadeth away, the world languisheth and fadeth away, the haughty people of the earth do languish.⁵The earth also is defiled under the inhabitants thereof because they have transgressed the laws, changed the ordinance, broken the everlasting covenant.⁶Therefore hath the curse devoured the earth, and they that dwell therein are desolate: therefore the inhabitants of the earth are burned, and few men left.⁷The new wine mourneth, the vine languisheth, all the merryhearted do sigh.⁸The mirth of tabrets ceaseth, the noise of them that rejoice endeth, the joy of the harp ceaseth.⁹They shall not drink wine with a song strong drink shall be bitter to them that drink it.¹⁰The city of confusion is broken down: every house is shut up, that no man may come in.¹¹There is a crying for wine in the streets all joy is darkened, the mirth of the land is gone.¹²In the city is left desolation, and the gate is smitten with destruction.¹³When thus it shall be in the midst of the land among the people, there shall be as the shaking of an olive tree, and as the gleaning grapes when the vintage is done.¹⁴They shall lift up their voice, they shall sing for the majesty of the LORD, they shall cry aloud from the sea.¹⁵Wherefore glorify ye the LORD in the fires, even the name of the LORD God of Israel in the isles of the sea.¹⁶From the uttermost part of the earth have we heard songs, even glory to the righteous. But I said, My leanness, my leanness, woe unto me! the treacherous dealers have dealt treacherously yea, the treacherous dealers have dealt very treacherously.¹⁷Fear, and the pit, and the snare, are upon thee, O inhabitant of the earth.¹⁸And it shall come to pass, that he who fleeth from the noise of the fear shall fall into the pit and he that cometh up out of the midst of the pit shall be taken in the snare: for the windows from on high are open, and the foundations of the earth do shake.¹⁹The earth is utterly broken down, the earth is clean dissolved, the earth is moved exceedingly.²⁰The earth shall reel to and fro like a drunkard, and shall be removed like a cottage and the transgression thereof shall be heavy upon it and it shall fall, and not rise again.²¹And it shall come to pass in that day, that the LORD shall punish the host of the high ones that are on high, and the kings of the earth upon the earth.²²And they shall be gathered together, as prisoners are gathered in the pit, and shall be shut up in the prison, and after many days shall they be visited.²³Then the moon shall be confounded, and the sun ashamed, when the LORD of hosts shall reign in mount Zion,

CHAPTER 25 ¹O LORD, thou art my God I will exalt thee, I will praise thy name for thou hast done wonderful things thy counsels of old are faithfulness and truth.²For thou hast made of a city an heap of a defenced city a ruin: a palace of strangers to be no city it shall never be built.³Therefore shall the strong people glorify thee, the city of the terrible nations shall fear thee.⁴For thou hast been a strength to the poor, a strength to the needy in his distress, a refuge from the storm, a shadow from the heat, when the blast of the terrible ones is as a storm against the wall.⁵Thou shalt bring down the noise of strangers, as the heat in a dry place even the heat with the shadow of a cloud: the branch of the terrible ones shall be brought low.⁶And in this mountain shall the LORD of hosts make unto all people a feast of fat things, a feast of wines on the lees, of fat things full of marrow, of wines on the lees well refined.⁷And he will destroy in this mountain the face of the covering cast over all people, and the vail that is spread over all nations.⁸He will swallow up death in victory and the Lord GOD will wipe away tears from off all faces and the rebuke of his people shall he take away from off all the earth: for the LORD hath spoken it.⁹And it shall be said in that day, Lo, this is our God we have waited for him, and he will save us: this is the LORD we have waited for him, we will be glad and rejoice in his salvation.¹⁰For in this mountain shall the hand of the LORD rest, and Moab shall be trodden down under him, even as straw is trodden down for the dunghill.¹¹And he shall spread forth his hands in the midst of them, as he that swimmeth spreadeth forth his hands to swim: and he shall bring down their pride together with the spoils of their hands.¹²And the fortress of the high fort of thy walls shall he bring down, lay low, and bring to the ground, even to the dust.

CHAPTER 26 ¹In that day shall this song be sung in the land of Judah We have a strong city salvation will God appoint for walls and bulwarks.²Open ye the gates, that the righteous nation which keepeth the truth may enter in.³Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee: because he trusteth in thee.⁴Trust ye in the LORD for ever: for in the LORD JEHOVAH is everlasting strength:⁵For he bringeth down them that dwell on high the lofty city, he layeth it low he layeth it low, even to the ground he bringeth it even to the dust.⁶The foot shall tread it down, even the feet of the poor, and the steps of the needy.⁷The way of the just is uprightness: thou, most upright, dost weigh the path of the just.⁸Yea, in the way of thy judgments, O LORD, have we waited for thee the desire of our soul is to thy name, and to the remembrance of thee.⁹With my soul have I desired thee in the night yea, with my spirit within me will I seek thee early: for when thy judgments are in the earth, the inhabitants of the world will learn righteousness.¹⁰Let favour be shewed to the wicked, yet will he not learn righteousness: in the land of uprightness will he deal unjustly, and will not behold the majesty of the LORD.¹¹LORD, when thy hand is lifted up, they will not see: but they shall see, and be ashamed for their envy at the people yea, the fire of thine enemies shall devour them.¹²LORD, thou wilt ordain peace for us: for thou also hast wrought all our works in us.¹³O LORD our God, other lords beside thee have had dominion over us: but by thee only will we make mention of thy name.¹⁴They are dead, they shall not live they are deceased, they shall not rise: therefore hast thou visited and destroyed them, and made all their memory to perish.¹⁵Thou hast increased the nation, O LORD, thou hast increased the nation: thou art glorified: thou hadst removed it far unto all the ends of the earth.¹⁶LORD, in trouble have they visited thee, they poured out a prayer when thy chastening was upon them.¹⁷Like as a woman with child, that draweth near the time of her delivery, is in pain, and crieth out in her pangs so have we been in thy sight, O LORD.¹⁸We have been with child, we have been in pain, we have as it were brought forth wind we have not wrought any deliverance in the earth neither have the inhabitants of the world fallen.¹⁹Thy dead men shall live, together with my dead body shall they arise. Awake and sing, ye that dwell in dust: for thy dew is as the dew of herbs, and the earth shall cast out the dead.²⁰Come, my people, enter thou into thy chambers, and shut thy doors about thee: hide thyself as it were for a little moment, until the indignation be overpast.²¹For, behold, the LORD cometh out of his place to punish the inhabitants of the earth for their

CHAPTER 27 ¹In that day the LORD with his sore and great and strong sword shall punish leviathan the piercing serpent, even leviathan that crooked serpent and he shall slay the dragon that is in the sea.²In that day sing ye unto her, A vineyard of red wine.³I the LORD do keep it I will water it every moment: lest any hurt it, I will keep it night and day.⁴Fury is not in me: who would set the briers and thorns against me in battle? I would go through them, I would burn them together.⁵Or let him take hold of my strength, that he may make peace with me and he shall make peace with me.⁶He shall cause them that come of Jacob to take root: Israel shall blossom and bud, and fill the face of the world with fruit.⁷Hath he smitten him, as he smote those that smote him? or is he slain according to the slaughter of them that are slain by him?⁸In measure, when it shooteth forth, thou wilt debate with it: he stayeth his rough wind in the day of the east wind.⁹By this therefore shall the iniquity of Jacob be purged and this is all the fruit to take away his sin when he maketh all the stones of the altar as chalkstones that are beaten in sunder, the groves and images shall not stand up.¹⁰ Yet the defenced city shall be desolate, and the habitation forsaken, and left like a wilderness: there shall the calf feed, and there shall he lie down, and consume the branches thereof.¹¹ When the boughs thereof are withered, they shall be broken off: the women come, and set them on fire: for it is a people of no understanding: therefore he that made them will not have mercy on them, and he that formed them will shew them no favour.¹² And it shall come to pass in that day, that the LORD shall beat off from the channel of the river unto the stream of Egypt, and ye shall be gathered one by one, O ye children of Israel.¹³ And it shall come to pass in that day, that the great trumpet shall be blown, and they shall come which were ready to perish in the land of Assyria, and the outcasts in the land of Egypt, and shall worship the LORD in the holy mount at Jerusalem.

CHAPTER 28 ¹Woe to the crown of pride, to the drunkards of Ephraim, whose glorious beauty is a fading flower, which are on the head of the fat valleys of them that are overcome with wine!² Behold, the Lord hath a mighty and strong one, which as a tempest of hail and a destroying storm, as a flood of mighty waters overflowing, shall cast down to the earth with the hand.³ The crown of pride, the drunkards of Ephraim, shall be trodden under feet:⁴ And the glorious beauty, which is on the head of the fat valley, shall be a fading flower, and as the hasty fruit before the summer which when he that looketh upon it seeth, while it is yet in his hand he eateth it up.⁵ In that day shall the LORD of hosts be for a crown of glory, and for a diadem of beauty, unto the residue of his people,⁶ And for a spirit of judgment to him that sitteth in judgment, and for strength to them that turn the battle to the gate.⁷ But they also have erred through wine, and through strong drink are out of the way the priest and the prophet have erred through strong drink, they are swallowed up of wine, they are out of the way through strong drink they err in vision, they stumble in judgment.⁸ For all tables are full of vomit and filthiness, so that there is no place clean.⁹ Whom shall he teach knowledge? and whom shall he make to understand doctrine? them that are weaned from the milk, and drawn from the breasts.¹⁰ For precept must be upon precept, precept upon precept line upon line, line upon line here a little, and there a little:¹¹For with stammering lips and another tongue will he speak to this people.¹²To whom he said, This is the rest wherewith ye may cause the weary to rest and this is the refreshing: yet they would not hear.¹³But the word of the LORD was unto them precept upon precept, precept upon precept line upon line, line upon line here a little, and there a little that they might go, and fall backward, and be broken, and snared, and taken.¹⁴Wherefore hear the word of the LORD, ye scornful men, that rule this people which is in Jerusalem.¹⁵Because ye have said, We have made a covenant with death, and with hell are we at agreement when the overflowing scourge shall pass through, it shall not come unto us: for we have made lies our refuge, and under falsehood have we hid ourselves:¹⁶Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I lay in Zion for a foundation a stone, a tried stone, a precious corner stone, a sure foundation: he that believeth shall not make haste.¹⁷Judgment also will I lay to the line, and righteousness to the plummet: and the hail shall sweep away the refuge of lies, and the waters shall overflow the hiding place.¹⁸And your covenant with death shall be disannulled, and your agreement with hell shall not stand when the overflowing scourge shall pass through, then ye shall be trodden down by it.¹⁹From the time that it goeth forth it shall take you: for morning by morning shall it pass over, by day and by night: and it shall be a vexation only to understand the report.²⁰For the bed is shorter than that a man can stretch himself on it: and the covering narrower than that he can wrap himself in it.²¹For the LORD shall rise up as in mount Perazim, he shall be wroth as in the valley of Gibeon, that he may do his work, his strange work and bring to pass his act, his strange act.²²Now therefore be ye not mockers, lest your bands be made strong: for I have heard from the Lord GOD of hosts a consumption, even determined upon the whole earth.²³Give ye ear, and hear my voice hearken, and hear my speech.²⁴Doth the plowman plow all day to sow? doth he open and break the clods of his ground?²⁵When he hath made plain the face thereof, doth he not cast abroad the fitches, and scatter the cummin, and cast in the principal wheat and the appointed barley and rie in their place?²⁶For his God doth instruct him to discretion, and doth teach him.²⁷For the fitches are not threshed with a threshing instrument, neither is a cart wheel turned about upon the cummin but the fitches are beaten out with a staff, and the cummin with a rod.²⁸Bread corn is bruised because he will not ever be threshing it, nor break it with the wheel of his cart, nor bruise it with his horsemen.²⁹This also cometh forth from the LORD of hosts, which is wonderful in counsel, and excellent in working.

CHAPTER 29 ¹Woe to Ariel, to Ariel, the city where David dwelt! add ye year to year let them kill sacrifices.²Yet I will distress Ariel, and there shall be heaviness and sorrow: and it shall be unto me as Ariel.³And I will camp against thee round about, and will lay siege against thee with a mount, and I will raise forts against thee.⁴And thou shalt be brought down, and shalt speak out of the ground, and thy speech shall be low out of the dust, and thy voice shall be, as of one that hath a familiar spirit, out of the ground, and thy speech shall whisper out of the dust.⁵Moreover the multitude of thy strangers shall be like small dust, and the multitude of the terrible ones shall be as chaff that passeth away: yea, it shall be at an instant suddenly.⁶Thou shalt be visited of the LORD of hosts with thunder, and with earthquake, and great noise, with storm and tempest, and the flame of devouring fire.⁷And the multitude of all the nations that fight against Ariel, even all that fight against her and her munition, and that distress her, shall be as a dream of a night vision.⁸It shall even be as when an hungry man dreameth, and, behold, he eateth but he awaketh, and his soul is empty: or as when a thirsty man dreameth, and, behold, he drinketh but he awaketh, and, behold, he is faint, and his soul hath appetite: so shall the multitude of all the nations be, that fight against mount Zion.⁹Stay yourselves, and wonder cry ye out, and cry: they are drunken, but not with wine they stagger, but not with strong drink.¹⁰For the LORD hath poured out upon you the spirit of deep sleep, and hath closed your eyes: the prophets and your rulers, the seers hath he covered.¹¹And the vision of all is become unto you as the words of a book that is sealed, which men deliver to one that is learned, saying, Read this, I pray thee: and he saith, I cannot for it is sealed.¹²And the book is delivered to him that is not learned, saying, Read this, I pray thee: and he saith, I am not learned.¹³Wherefore the Lord said, Forasmuch as this people draw near me with their mouth, and with their lips do honour me, but have removed their heart far from me, and their fear toward me is taught by the precept of men:¹⁴Therefore, behold, I will proceed to do a marvellous work among this people, even a marvellous work and a wonder: for the wisdom of their wise men shall perish, and the understanding of their prudent men shall be hid.¹⁵Woe unto them that seek deep to hide their counsel from the LORD, and their works are in the dark, and they say, Who seeth us? and who knoweth us?¹⁶Surely your turning of things upside down shall be esteemed as the potter's clay: for shall the work say of him that made it, He made me not? or shall the thing framed say of him that framed it, He had no understanding?¹⁷Is it not yet a very little while, and Lebanon shall be turned into a fruitful field, and the fruitful field shall be esteemed as a forest?¹⁸And in that day shall the deaf hear the words of the book, and the eyes of the blind shall see out of obscurity, and out of darkness.¹⁹The meek also shall increase their joy in the LORD, and the poor among men shall rejoice in the Holy One of Israel.²⁰For the terrible one is brought to nought, and the scorner is consumed, and all that watch for iniquity are cut off:²¹That make a man an offender for a word, and lay a snare for him that reproveth in the gate, and turn aside the just for a thing of nought.²²Therefore thus saith the LORD, who redeemed Abraham, concerning the house of Jacob, Jacob shall not now be ashamed, neither shall his face now wax pale.²³But when he seeth his children, the work of mine hands, in the midst of him, they shall sanctify my name, and sanctify the Holy One of Jacob, and shall fear the God of Israel.²⁴They also that erred in spirit shall come to understanding, and they that murmured shall learn doctrine.

CHAPTER 30 ¹Woe to the rebellious children, saith the LORD, that take counsel, but not of me and that cover with a covering, but not of my spirit, that they may add sin to sin:²That walk to go down into Egypt, and have not asked at my mouth to strengthen themselves in the strength of Pharaoh, and to trust in the shadow of Egypt!³Therefore shall the strength of Pharaoh be your shame, and the trust in the shadow of Egypt your confusion.⁴For his princes were at Zoan, and his ambassadors came to Hanes.⁵They were all ashamed of a people that could not profit them, nor be an help nor profit, but a shame, and also a reproach.⁶The burden of the beasts of the south: into the land of trouble and anguish, from whence come the young and old lion, the viper and fiery flying serpent, they will carry their riches upon the shoulders of young asses, and their treasures upon the bunches of camels, to a people that shall not profit them.⁷For the Egyptians shall help in vain, and to no purpose: therefore have I cried concerning this, Their strength is to sit still.⁸Now go, write it before them in a table, and note it in a book, that it may be for the time to come for ever and ever:⁹That this is a rebellious people, lying children, children that will not hear the law of the LORD:¹⁰Which say to the seers, See not and to the prophets, Prophecy not unto us right things, speak unto us smooth things, prophesy deceits:¹¹Get you out of the way, turn aside out of the path, cause the Holy One of Israel to cease from before us.¹²Wherefore thus saith the Holy One of Israel,

Because ye despise this word, and trust in oppression and perverseness, and stay thereon:¹³Therefore this iniquity shall be to you as a breach ready to fall, swelling out in a high wall, whose breaking cometh suddenly at an instant.¹⁴And he shall break it as the breaking of the potters' vessel that is broken in pieces he shall not spare: so that there shall not be found in the bursting of it a sherd to take fire from the hearth, or to take water withal out of the pit.¹⁵For thus saith the Lord GOD, the Holy One of Israel In returning and rest shall ye be saved in quietness and in confidence shall be your strength: and ye would not.¹⁶But ye said, No for we will flee upon horses therefore shall ye flee: and, We will ride upon the swift therefore shall they that pursue you be swift.¹⁷One thousand shall flee at the rebuke of one at the rebuke of five shall ye flee: till ye be left as a beacon upon the top of a mountain, and as an ensign on an hill.¹⁸And therefore will the LORD wait, that he may be gracious unto you, and therefore will he be exalted, that he may have mercy upon you: for the LORD is a God of judgment: blessed are all they that wait for him.¹⁹For the people shall dwell in Zion at Jerusalem: thou shalt weep no more: he will be very gracious unto thee at the voice of thy cry when he shall hear it, he will answer thee.²⁰And though the Lord give you the bread of adversity, and the water of affliction, yet shall not thy teachers be removed into a corner any more, but thine eyes shall see thy teachers.²¹And thine ears shall hear a word behind thee, saying, This is the way, walk ye in it, when ye turn to the right hand, and when ye turn to the left.²²Ye shall defile also the covering of thy graven images of silver, and the ornament of thy molten images of gold: thou shalt cast them away as a menstruous cloth thou shalt say unto it, Get thee hence.²³Then shall he give the rain of thy seed, that thou shalt sow the ground withal and bread of the increase of the earth, and it shall be fat and plenteous: in that day shall thy cattle feed in large pastures.²⁴The oxen likewise and the young asses that ear the ground shall eat clean provender, which hath been winnowed with the shovel and with the fan.²⁵And there shall be upon every high mountain, and upon every high hill, rivers and streams of waters in the day of the great slaughter, when the towers fall.²⁶Moreover the light of the moon shall be as the light of the sun, and the light of the sun shall be sevenfold, as the light of seven days, in the day that the LORD bindeth up the breach of his people, and healeth the stroke of their wound.²⁷Behold, the name of the LORD cometh from far, burning with his anger, and the burden thereof is heavy: his lips are full of indignation, and his tongue as a devouring fire.²⁸And his breath, as an overflowing stream, shall reach to the midst of the neck, to sift the nations with the sieve of vanity: and there shall be a bridle in the jaws of the people, causing them to err.²⁹Ye shall have a song, as in the night when a holy solemnity is kept and gladness of heart, as when one goeth with a pipe to come into the mountain of the LORD, to the mighty One of Israel.³⁰And the LORD shall cause his glorious voice to be heard, and shall shew the lighting down of his arm, with the indignation of his anger, and with the flame of a devouring fire, with scattering, and tempest, and hailstones.³¹For through the voice of the LORD shall the Assyrian be beaten down, which smote with a rod.³²And in every place where the grounded staff shall pass, which the LORD shall lay upon him, it shall be with tabrets and harps: and in battles of shaking will he fight with it.³³For Tophet is ordained of old yea, for the king it is prepared he hath made it deep and large: the pile thereof is fire and much wood the breath of the LORD, like a stream of brimstone, doth kindle it.

CHAPTER 31 ¹Woe to them that go down to Egypt for help and stay on horses, and trust in chariots, because they are many and in horsemen, because they are very strong but they look not unto the Holy One of Israel, neither seek the LORD!²Yet he also is wise, and will bring evil, and will not call back his words: but will arise against the house of the evildoers, and against the help of them that work iniquity.³Now the Egyptians are men, and not God and their horses flesh, and not spirit. When the LORD shall stretch out his hand, both he that helpeth shall fall, and he that is holpen shall fall down, and they all shall fail together.⁴For thus hath the LORD spoken unto me, Like as the lion and the young lion roaring on his prey, when a multitude of shepherds is called forth against him, he will not be afraid of their voice, nor abase himself for the noise of them: so shall the LORD of hosts come down to fight for mount Zion, and for the hill thereof.⁵As birds flying, so will the LORD of hosts defend Jerusalem defending also he will deliver it and passing over he will preserve it.⁶Turn ye unto him from whom the children of Israel have deeply revolted.⁷For in that day every man shall cast away his idols of silver, and his idols of gold, which your own hands have made unto you for a sin.⁸Then shall the Assyrian fall with the sword, not of a mighty man and the sword, not of a mean man, shall devour him: but he shall flee from the sword, and his young men shall be discomfited.⁹And he shall pass over to his strong hold for fear, and his princes shall be afraid of the ensign, saith the LORD, whose fire is in Zion, and his furnace in Jerusalem.

CHAPTER 32 ¹Behold, a king shall reign in righteousness, and princes shall rule in judgment.²And a man shall be as an hiding place from the wind, and a covert from the tempest as rivers of water in a dry place, as the shadow of a great rock in a weary land.³And the eyes of them that see shall not be dim, and the ears of them that hear shall hearken.⁴The heart also of the rash shall understand knowledge, and the tongue of the stammerers shall be ready to speak plainly.⁵The vile person shall be no more called liberal, nor the churl said to be bountiful.⁶For the vile person will speak villany, and his heart will work iniquity, to practise hypocrisy, and to utter error against the LORD, to make empty the soul of the hungry, and he will cause the drink of the thirsty to fail.⁷The instruments also of the churl are evil: he deviseth wicked devices to destroy the poor with lying words, even when the needy speaketh right.⁸But the liberal deviseth liberal things and by liberal things shall he stand.⁹Rise up, ye women that are at ease hear my voice, ye careless daughters give ear unto my speech.¹⁰Many days and years shall ye be troubled, ye careless women: for the vintage shall fail, the gathering shall not come.¹¹Tremble, ye women that are at ease be troubled, ye careless ones: strip you, and make you bare, and gird sackcloth upon your loins.¹²They shall lament for the teats, for the pleasant fields, for the fruitful vine.¹³Upon the land of my people shall come up thorns and briers yea, upon all the houses of joy in the joyous city.¹⁴Because the palaces shall be forsaken the multitude of the city shall be left the forts and towers shall be for dens for ever, a joy of wild asses, a pasture of flocks¹⁵Until the spirit be poured upon us from on high, and the wilderness be a fruitful field, and the fruitful field be counted for a forest.¹⁶Then judgment shall dwell in the wilderness, and righteousness remain in the fruitful field.¹⁷And the work of righteousness shall be peace and the effect of righteousness quietness and assurance for ever.¹⁸And my people shall dwell in a peaceable habitation, and in sure dwellings, and in quiet resting places¹⁹When it shall hail, coming down on the forest and the city shall be low in a low place.²⁰Blessed are ye that sow beside all waters, that send forth thither the feet of the ox and the ass.

CHAPTER 33 ¹Woe to thee that spoilest, and thou wast not spoiled and dealest treacherously, and they dealt not treacherously with thee! when thou shalt cease to spoil, thou shalt be spoiled and when thou shalt make an end to deal treacherously, they shall deal treacherously with thee.²O LORD, be gracious unto us we have waited for thee: be thou their arm every morning, our salvation also in the time of trouble.³At the noise of the tumult the people fled at the lifting up of thyself the nations were scattered.⁴And your spoil shall be gathered like the gathering of the caterpillar: as the running to and fro of locusts shall he run upon them.⁵The LORD is exalted for he dwelleth on high: he hath filled Zion with judgment and righteousness.⁶And wisdom and knowledge shall be the stability of thy times, and strength of salvation: the fear of the LORD is his treasure.⁷Behold, their valiant ones shall cry without: the ambassadors of peace shall weep bitterly.⁸The highways lie waste, the wayfaring man ceaseth: he hath broken the covenant, he hath despised the cities, he regardeth no man.⁹The earth mourneth and languisheth: Lebanon is ashamed and hewn down: Sharon is like a wilderness and Bashan and Carmel shake off their fruits.¹⁰Now will I rise, saith the LORD now will I be exalted now will I lift up myself.¹¹Ye shall conceive chaff, ye shall bring forth stubble: your breath, as fire, shall devour you.¹²And the people shall be as the burnings of lime: as thorns cut up shall they be burned in the fire.¹³Hear, ye that are far off, what I have done and, ye that are near, acknowledge my might.¹⁴The sinners in Zion are afraid fearfulness hath surprised the hypocrites. Who among us shall dwell with the devouring fire? who among us shall dwell with everlasting burnings?¹⁵He that walketh righteously, and speaketh uprightly he that despiseth the gain of oppressions, that shaketh his hands from holding of bribes, that stoppeth his ears from hearing of blood, and shutteth his eyes from seeing evil¹⁶He shall dwell on high: his place of defence shall be the munitions of rocks: bread shall be given him his waters shall be sure.¹⁷Thine eyes shall see the king in his beauty: they shall behold the land that is very far off.¹⁸Thine heart shall meditate terror. Where is the scribe? where is the receiver? where is he that counted the towers?¹⁹Thou shalt not see a fierce people, a people of a deeper speech than thou canst perceive of a stammering tongue, that thou canst not understand.²⁰Look upon Zion, the city of our solemnities: thine eyes shall see Jerusalem a quiet habitation, a tabernacle that shall not be taken down not one of the stakes thereof shall ever be removed, neither shall any of the cords thereof be broken.²¹But there the glorious LORD will be unto us a place of broad rivers and streams wherein shall go no galley with oars, neither shall gallant ship pass thereby.²²For the LORD is our judge, the LORD is our lawgiver, the LORD is our king he will save us.²³Thy tacklings are loosed they could not well strengthen their mast, they could not spread the sail: then is the prey of a great spoil divided the lame take the prey.²⁴And the inhabitant shall not say, I am sick: the people that dwell therein shall be forgiven their iniquity.

CHAPTER 34 ¹Come near, ye nations, to hear and hearken, ye people: let the earth hear, and all that is therein the world, and all things that come forth of it.²For the indignation of the LORD is upon all nations, and his fury upon all their armies: he hath utterly destroyed them, he hath delivered them to the slaughter.³Their slain also shall be cast out, and their stink shall come up out of their carcasses, and the mountains shall be melted with their blood.⁴And all the host of heaven shall be dissolved, and the heavens shall be rolled together as a scroll: and all their host shall fall down, as the leaf falleth off from the vine, and as a falling fig from the fig tree.⁵For my sword shall be bathed in heaven: behold, it shall come down upon Idumea, and upon the people of my curse, to judgment.⁶The sword of the LORD is filled with blood, it is made fat with fatness, and with the blood of lambs and goats, with the fat of the kidneys of rams: for the LORD hath a sacrifice in Bozrah, and a great slaughter in the land of Idumea.⁷And the unicorns shall come down with them, and the bullocks with the bulls and their land shall be soaked with blood, and their dust made fat with fatness.⁸For it is the day of the LORD's vengeance, and the year of recompences for the controversy of Zion.⁹And the streams thereof shall be turned into pitch, and the dust thereof into brimstone, and the land thereof shall become burning pitch.¹⁰It shall not be quenched night nor day the smoke thereof shall go up for ever: from generation to generation it shall lie waste none shall pass through it for ever and ever.¹¹But the cormorant and the bittern shall possess it the owl also and the raven shall dwell in it: and he shall stretch out upon it the line of confusion, and the stones of emptiness.¹²They shall call the nobles thereof to the kingdom, but none shall be there, and all her princes shall be nothing.¹³And thorns shall come up in her palaces, nettles and brambles in the fortresses thereof: and it shall be an habitation of dragons, and a court for owls.¹⁴The wild beasts of the desert shall also meet with the wild beasts of the island, and the satyr shall cry to his fellow the screech owl also shall rest there, and find for herself a place of rest.¹⁵There shall the great owl make her nest, and lay, and hatch, and gather under her shadow: there shall the vultures also be gathered, every one with her mate.¹⁶Seek ye out of the book of the LORD, and read: no one of these shall fail, none shall want her mate: for my mouth it hath commanded, and his spirit it hath gathered them.¹⁷And he hath cast the lot for them, and his hand hath divided it unto them by line: they shall possess it for ever, from generation to generation shall they dwell therein.

CHAPTER 35 ¹The wilderness and the solitary place shall be glad for them and the desert shall rejoice, and blossom as the rose.²It shall blossom abundantly, and rejoice even with joy and singing: the glory of Lebanon shall be given unto it, the excellency of Carmel and Sharon, they shall see the glory of the LORD, and the excellency of our God.³Strengthen ye the weak hands, and confirm the feeble knees.⁴Say to them that are of a fearful heart, Be strong, fear not: behold, your God will come with vengeance, even God with a recompence he will come and save you.⁵Then the eyes of the blind shall be opened, and the ears of the deaf shall be unstopped.⁶Then shall the lame man leap as an hart, and the tongue of the dumb sing: for in the wilderness shall waters break out, and streams in the desert.⁷And the parched ground shall become a pool, and the thirsty land springs of water: in the habitation of dragons, where each lay, shall be grass with reeds and rushes.⁸And an highway shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called The way of holiness the unclean shall not pass over it but it shall be for those: the wayfaring men, though fools, shall not err therein.⁹No lion shall be there, nor any ravenous beast shall go up thereon, it shall not be found there but the redeemed shall walk there:¹⁰And the ransomed of the LORD shall return, and come to Zion with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads: they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away.

CHAPTER 36 ¹Now it came to pass in the fourteenth year of king Hezekiah, that Sennacherib king of Assyria came up against all the defenced cities of Judah, and took them.²And the king of Assyria sent Rabshakeh from Lachish to Jerusalem unto king Hezekiah with a great army. And he stood by the conduit of the upper pool in the highway of the fuller's field.³Then came forth unto him Eliakim, Hilkiah's son, which was over the house, and Shebna the scribe, and Joah, Asaph's son, the recorder.⁴And Rabshakeh said unto them, Say ye now to Hezekiah, Thus saith the great king, the king of Assyria, What confidence is this wherein thou trustest?⁵I say, sayest thou, (but they are but vain words) I have counsel and strength for war: now on whom dost thou trust, that thou rebellest against me?⁶Lo, thou trustest in the staff of this broken reed, on Egypt whereon if a man lean, it will go into his hand, and pierce it: so is Pharaoh king of Egypt to all that trust in him.⁷But if thou say to me, We trust in the LORD our God: is it not he, whose high places and whose altars Hezekiah hath taken away, and said to Judah and to Jerusalem, Ye shall worship before this altar?⁸Now therefore give pledges, I pray thee, to my master the king of Assyria, and I will give thee two thousand horses, if thou be able on thy part to set riders upon them.⁹How then wilt thou turn away the face of one captain of the least of my master's servants, and put thy trust on Egypt for chariots and for horsemen?¹⁰And am I now come up without the LORD against this land to destroy it? the LORD said unto me, Go up against this land, and destroy it.¹¹Then said Eliakim and Shebna and Joah unto Rabshakeh, Speak, I pray thee, unto thy servants in the Syrian language for we understand it: and speak not to us in the Jews' language, in the ears of the people that are on the wall.¹²But Rabshakeh said, Hath my master sent me to thy master and to thee to speak these words? hath he not sent me to the men that sit upon the wall, that they may eat their own dung, and drink their own piss with you?¹³Then Rabshakeh stood, and cried with a loud voice in the Jews' language, and said, Hear ye the words of the great king, the king of Assyria.¹⁴Thus saith the king, Let not Hezekiah deceive you: for he shall not be able to deliver you.¹⁵Neither let Hezekiah make you trust in the LORD, saying, The LORD will surely deliver us: this city shall not be delivered into the hand of the king of Assyria.¹⁶Hearken not to Hezekiah: for thus saith the king of Assyria, Make an agreement with me by a present, and come out to me: and eat ye every one of his vine, and every one of his fig tree, and drink ye every one the waters of his own cistern¹⁷Until I come and take you away to a land like your own land, a land of corn and wine, a land of bread and vineyards.¹⁸Beware lest Hezekiah persuade you, saying, The LORD will deliver us. Hath any of the gods of the nations delivered his land out of the hand of the king of Assyria?¹⁹Where are the gods of Hamath and Arphad? where are the gods of Sepharvaim? and have they delivered Samaria out of my hand?²⁰Who are they among all the gods of these lands, that have delivered their land out of my hand, that the LORD should deliver Jerusalem out of my hand?²¹But they held their peace, and answered him not a word: for the king's commandment was, saying, Answer him not.²²Then came Eliakim, the son of Hilkiah, that was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and Joah, the son of Asaph, the recorder, to Hezekiah with their clothes rent, and told him the words of Rabshakeh.

CHAPTER 37 ¹And it came to pass, when king Hezekiah heard it, that he rent his clothes, and covered himself with sackcloth, and went into the house of the LORD.²And he sent Eliakim, who was over the household, and Shebna the scribe, and the elders of the priests covered with sackcloth, unto Isaiah the prophet the son of Amoz.³And they said unto him, Thus saith Hezekiah, This day is a day of trouble, and of rebuke, and of blasphemy: for the children are come to the birth, and there is not strength to bring forth.⁴It may be the LORD thy God will hear the words of Rabshakeh, whom the king of Assyria his master hath sent to reproach the living God, and will reprove the words which the LORD thy God hath heard: wherefore lift up thy prayer for the remnant that is left.⁵So the servants of king Hezekiah came to Isaiah.⁶And Isaiah said unto them, Thus shall ye say unto your master, Thus saith the LORD, Be not afraid of the words that thou hast heard, wherewith the servants of the king of Assyria have blasphemed me.⁷Behold, I will send a blast upon him, and he shall hear a rumour, and return to his own land and I will cause him to fall by the sword in his own land.⁸So Rabshakeh returned, and found the king of Assyria warring against Libnah: for he had heard that he was departed from Lachish.⁹And he heard say concerning Tirhakah king of Ethiopia, He is come forth to make war with thee. And when he heard it, he sent messengers to Hezekiah, saying,¹⁰Thus shall ye speak to Hezekiah king of Judah, saying, Let not thy God, in whom thou trustest, deceive thee, saying, Jerusalem shall not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria.¹¹Behold, thou hast heard what the kings of Assyria have done to all lands by destroying them utterly and shalt thou be delivered?¹²Have the gods of the nations delivered them which my fathers have destroyed, as Gozan, and Haran, and Rezeph, and the children of Eden which were in Telassar?¹³Where is the king of Hamath, and the king of Arphad, and the king of the city of Sepharvaim, Hena, and Ivah?¹⁴And Hezekiah received the letter from the hand of the messengers, and read it: and Hezekiah went up unto the house of the LORD, and spread it before the LORD.¹⁵And Hezekiah prayed unto the LORD, saying,¹⁶O LORD of hosts, God of Israel, that dwellest between the cherubims, thou art the God, even thou alone, of all the kingdoms of the earth: thou hast made heaven and earth.¹⁷Incline thine ear, O LORD, and hear open thine eyes, O LORD, and see: and hear all the words of Sennacherib, which hath sent to reproach the living God.¹⁸Of a truth, LORD, the kings of Assyria have laid waste all the nations, and their countries,¹⁹And have cast their gods into the fire: for they were no gods, but the work of men's hands, wood and stone: therefore they have destroyed them.²⁰Now therefore, O LORD our God, save us from his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that thou art the LORD, even thou only.²¹Then Isaiah the son of Amoz sent unto Hezekiah, saying, Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, Whereas thou hast prayed to me against Sennacherib king of Assyria:²²This is the word which the LORD hath spoken concerning him The virgin, the daughter of Zion, hath despised thee, and laughed thee to scorn the daughter of Jerusalem hath shaken her head at thee.²³Whom hast thou reproached and blasphemed? and against whom hast thou exalted thy voice, and lifted up thine eyes on high? even against the Holy One of Israel.²⁴By thy servants hast thou reproached the Lord, and hast said, By the multitude of my chariots am I come up to the height of the mountains, to the sides of Lebanon and I will cut down the tall cedars thereof, and the choice fir trees thereof: and I will enter into the height of his border, and the forest of his Carmel.²⁵I have digged, and drunk water and with the sole of my feet have I dried up all the rivers of the besieged places.²⁶Hast thou not heard long ago, how I have done it and of ancient times, that I have formed it? now have I brought it to pass, that thou shouldest be to lay waste defenced cities into ruinous heaps.²⁷Therefore their inhabitants were of small power, they were dismayed and confounded: they were as the grass of the field, and as the green herb, as the grass on the housetops, and as corn blasted before it be grown up.²⁸But I know thy abode, and thy going out, and thy coming in, and thy rage against me.²⁹Because thy rage against me, and thy tumult, is come up into mine ears, therefore will I put my hook in thy nose, and my bridle in thy lips, and I will turn thee back by the way by which thou camest.³⁰And this shall be a sign unto thee, Ye shall eat this year such as groweth of itself and the second year that which springeth of the same: and in the third year sow ye, and reap, and plant vineyards, and eat the fruit thereof.³¹And the remnant that is escaped of the house of Judah shall again take root downward, and bear fruit upward.³²For out of Jerusalem shall go forth a remnant, and they that escape out of mount Zion: the zeal of the LORD of hosts shall do this.³³Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning the king of Assyria, He shall not come into this city, nor shoot an arrow there nor come before it with shields, nor cast a bank against it.³⁴By the way that he came, by the same shall he return, and shall not come into this city, saith the LORD.³⁵For I will defend this city to save it for mine own sake, and for my servant David's sake.³⁶Then the angel of the LORD went forth, and smote in the camp of the Assyrians a hundred and fourscore and five thousand: and when they arose early in the morning, behold, they were all dead corpses.³⁷So Sennacherib king of Assyria departed, and went and returned, and dwelt at Nineveh.³⁸And it came to pass, as he was worshipping in the house of Nisroch his god, that Adrammelech and Sharezer his sons smote him with the sword

CHAPTER 38 ¹In those days was Hezekiah sick unto death. And Isaiah the prophet the son of Amoz came unto him, and said unto him, Thus saith the LORD, Set thine house in order: for thou shalt die, and not live.²Then Hezekiah turned his face toward the wall, and prayed unto the LORD,³And said, Remember now, O LORD, I beseech thee, how I have walked before thee in truth and with a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in thy sight. And Hezekiah wept sore.⁴Then came the word of the LORD to Isaiah, saying,⁵Go, and say to Hezekiah, Thus saith the LORD, the God of David thy father, I have heard thy prayer, I have seen thy tears: behold, I will add unto thy days fifteen years.⁶And I will deliver thee and this city out of the hand of the king of Assyria: and I will defend this city.⁷And this shall be a sign unto thee from the LORD, that the LORD will do this thing that he hath spoken⁸Behold, I will bring again the shadow of the degrees, which is gone down in the sun dial of Ahaz, ten degrees backward. So the sun returned ten degrees, by which degrees it was gone down.⁹The writing of Hezekiah king of Judah, when he had been sick, and was recovered of his sickness:¹⁰I said in the cutting off of my days, I shall go to the gates of the grave: I am deprived of the residue of my years.¹¹I said, I shall not see the LORD, even the LORD, in the land of the living: I shall behold man no more with the inhabitants of the world.¹²Mine age is departed, and is removed from me as a shepherd's tent: I have cut off like a weaver my life: he will cut me off with pining sickness: from day even to night wilt thou make an end of me.¹³I reckoned till morning, that, as a lion, so will he break all my bones: from day even to night wilt thou make an end of me.¹⁴Like a crane or a swallow, so did I chatter: I did mourn as a dove: mine eyes fail with looking upward: O LORD, I am oppressed undertake for me.¹⁵What shall I say? he hath both spoken unto me, and himself hath done it: I shall go softly all my years in the bitterness of my soul.¹⁶O Lord, by these things men live, and in all these things is the life of my spirit: so wilt thou recover me, and make me to live.¹⁷Behold, for peace I had great bitterness: but thou hast in love to my soul delivered it from the pit of corruption: for thou hast cast all my sins behind thy back.¹⁸For the grave cannot praise thee, death can not celebrate thee: they that go down into the pit cannot hope for thy truth.¹⁹The living, the living, he shall praise thee, as I do this day: the father to the children shall make known thy truth.²⁰The LORD was ready to save me: therefore we will sing my songs to the stringed instruments all the days of our life in the house of the LORD.²¹For Isaiah had said, Let them take a lump of figs, and lay it for a plaister upon the boil, and he shall recover.²²Hezekiah also had said, What is the sign that I shall go up to the house of the LORD?

CHAPTER 39 ¹At that time Merodach-baladan, the son of Baladan, king of Babylon, sent letters and a present to Hezekiah: for he had heard that he had been sick, and was recovered.²And Hezekiah was glad of them, and shewed them the house of his precious things, the silver, and the gold, and the spices, and the precious ointment, and all the house of his armour, and all that was found in his treasures: there was nothing in his house, nor in all his dominion, that Hezekiah shewed them not.³Then came Isaiah the prophet unto king

Hezekiah, and said unto him, What said these men? and from whence came they unto thee? And Hezekiah said, They are come from a far country unto me, even from Babylon.⁴Then said he, What have they seen in thine house? And Hezekiah answered, All that is in mine house have they seen: there is nothing among my treasures that I have not shewed them.⁵Then said Isaiah to Hezekiah, Hear the word of the LORD of hosts:⁶Behold, the days come, that all that is in thine house, and that which thy fathers have laid up in store until this day, shall be carried to Babylon: nothing shall be left, saith the LORD.⁷And of thy sons that shall issue from thee, which thou shalt beget, shall they take away and they shall be eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babylon.⁸Then said Hezekiah to Isaiah, Good is the word of the LORD which thou hast spoken. He said moreover, For there shall be peace and truth in my days.

CHAPTER 40 ¹Comfort ye, comfort ye my people, saith your God.²Speak ye comfortably to Jerusalem, and cry unto her, that her warfare is accomplished, that her iniquity is pardoned: for she hath received of the LORD's hand double for all her sins.³The voice of him that crieth in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the LORD, make straight in the desert a highway for our God.⁴Every valley shall be exalted, and every mountain and hill shall be made low: and the crooked shall be made straight, and the rough places plain:⁵And the glory of the LORD shall be revealed, and all flesh shall see it together: for the mouth of the LORD hath spoken it.⁶The voice said, Cry. And he said, What shall I cry? All flesh is grass, and all the goodliness thereof is as the flower of the field:⁷The grass withereth, the flower fadeth: because the spirit of the LORD bloweth upon it: surely the people is grass.⁸The grass withereth, the flower fadeth: but the word of our God shall stand for ever.⁹O Zion, that bringest good tidings, get thee up into the high mountain O Jerusalem, that bringest good tidings, lift up thy voice with strength lift it up, be not afraid say unto the cities of Judah, Behold your God!¹⁰Behold, the Lord GOD will come with strong hand, and his arm shall rule for him: behold, his reward is with him, and his work before him.¹¹He shall feed his flock like a shepherd: he shall gather the lambs with his arm, and carry them in his bosom, and shall gently lead those that are with young.¹²Who hath measured the waters in the hollow of his hand, and meted out heaven with the span, and comprehended the dust of the earth in a measure, and weighed the mountains in scales, and the hills in a balance?¹³Who hath directed the Spirit of the LORD, or being his counsellor hath taught him?¹⁴With whom took he counsel, and who instructed him, and taught him in the path of judgment, and taught him knowledge, and shewed to him the way of understanding?¹⁵Behold, the nations are as a drop of a bucket, and are counted as the small dust of the balance: behold, he taketh up the isles as a very little thing.¹⁶And Lebanon is not sufficient to burn, nor the beasts thereof sufficient for a burnt offering.¹⁷All nations before him are as nothing and they are counted to him less than nothing, and vanity.¹⁸To whom then will ye liken God? or what likeness will ye compare unto him?¹⁹The workman melteth a graven image, and the goldsmith spreadeth it over with gold, and casteth silver chains.²⁰He that is so impoverished that he hath no oblation chooseth a tree that will not rot he seeketh unto him a cunning workman to prepare a graven image, that shall not be moved.²¹Have ye not known? have ye not heard? hath it not been told you from the beginning? have ye not understood from the foundations of the earth?²²It is he that sitteth upon the circle of the earth, and the inhabitants thereof are as grasshoppers that stretcheth out the heavens as a curtain, and spreadeth them out as a tent to dwell in:²³That bringeth the princes to nothing he maketh the judges of the earth as vanity.²⁴Yea, they shall not be planted yea, they shall not be sown: yea, their stock shall not take root in the earth: and he shall also blow upon them, and they shall wither, and the whirlwind shall take them away as stubble.²⁵To whom then will ye liken me, or shall I be equal? saith the Holy One.²⁶Lift up your eyes on high, and behold who hath created these things, that bringeth out their host by number: he calleth them all by names by the greatness of his might, for that he is strong in power not one faileth.²⁷Why sayest thou, O Jacob, and speakest, O Israel, My way is hid from the LORD, and my judgment is passed over from my God?²⁸Hast thou not known? hast thou not heard, that the everlasting God, the LORD, the Creator of the ends of the earth, fainteth not, neither is weary? there is no searching of his understanding.²⁹He giveth power to the faint and to them that have no might he increaseth strength.³⁰Even the youths shall faint and be weary, and the young men shall utterly fall:³¹But they that wait upon the LORD shall renew their strength they shall mount up with wings as eagles they shall run, and not be weary and they shall walk, and not faint.

CHAPTER 41 ¹Keep silence before me, O islands and let the people renew their strength: let them come near then let them speak: let us come near together to judgment.²Who raised up the righteous man from the east, called him to his foot, gave the nations before him, and made him rule over kings? he gave them as the dust to his sword, and as driven stubble to his bow.³He pursued them, and passed safely even by the way that he had not gone with his feet.⁴Who hath wrought and done it, calling the generations from the beginning? I the LORD, the first, and with the last I am he.⁵The isles saw it, and feared the ends of the earth were afraid, drew near, and came.⁶They helped every one his neighbour and every one said to his brother, Be of good courage.⁷ So the carpenter encouraged the goldsmith, and he that smootheth with the hammer him that smote the anvil, saying, It is ready for the sodering: and he fastened it with nails, that it should not be moved.⁸ But thou, Israel, art my servant, Jacob whom I have chosen, the seed of Abraham my friend.⁹ Thou whom I have taken from the ends of the earth, and called thee from the chief men thereof, and said unto thee, Thou art my servant I have chosen thee, and not cast thee away.¹⁰ Fear thou not for I am with thee: be not dismayed for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee yea, I will help thee yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness.¹¹ Behold, all they that were incensed against thee shall be ashamed and confounded: they shall be as nothing and they that strive with thee shall perish.¹² Thou shalt seek them, and shalt not find them, even them that contended with thee: they that war against thee shall be as nothing, and as a thing of nought.¹³ For I the LORD thy God will hold thy right hand, saying unto thee, Fear not I will help thee.¹⁴ Fear not, thou worm Jacob, and ye men of Israel I will help thee, saith the LORD, and thy redeemer, the Holy One of Israel.¹⁵ Behold, I will make thee a new sharp threshing instrument having teeth: thou shalt thresh the mountains, and beat them small, and shalt make the hills as chaff.¹⁶ Thou shalt fan them, and the wind shall carry them away, and the whirlwind shall scatter them: and thou shalt rejoice in the LORD, and shalt glory in the Holy One of Israel.¹⁷ When the poor and needy seek water, and there is none, and their tongue faileth for thirst, I the LORD will hear them, I the God of Israel will not forsake them.¹⁸ I will open rivers in high places, and fountains in the midst of the valleys: I will make the wilderness a pool of water, and the dry land springs of water.¹⁹ I will plant in the wilderness the cedar, the shittah tree, and the myrtle, and the oil tree I will set in the desert the fir tree, and the pine, and the box tree together:²⁰ That they may see, and know, and consider, and understand together, that the hand of the LORD hath done this, and the Holy One of Israel hath created it.²¹ Produce your cause, saith the LORD bring forth your strong reasons, saith the King of Jacob.²² Let them bring them forth, and shew us what shall happen: let them shew the former things, what they be, that we may consider them, and know the latter end of them or declare us things for to come.²³Shew the things that are to come hereafter, that we may know that ye are gods: yea, do good, or do evil, that we may be dismayed, and behold it together.²⁴Behold, ye are of nothing, and your work of nought: an abomination is he that chooseth you.²⁵I have raised up one from the north, and he shall come: from the rising of the sun shall he call upon my name: and he shall come upon princes as upon mortar, and as the potter treadeth clay.²⁶Who hath declared from the beginning, that we may know? and beforetime, that we may say, He is righteous? yea, there is none that sheweth, yea, there is none that declareth, yea, there is none that heareth your words.²⁷The first shall say to Zion, Behold, behold them: and I will give to Jerusalem one that bringeth good tidings.²⁸For I beheld, and there was no man even among them, and there was no counsellor, that, when I asked of them, could answer a word.²⁹Behold, they are all vanity their works are nothing: their molten images are wind and confusion.

CHAPTER 42 ¹Behold my servant, whom I uphold mine elect, in whom my soul delighteth I have put my spirit upon him: he shall bring forth judgment to the Gentiles.²He shall not cry, nor lift up, nor cause his voice to be heard in the street.³A bruised reed shall he not break, and the smoking flax shall he not quench: he shall bring forth judgment unto truth.⁴He shall not fail nor be discouraged, till he have set judgment in the earth: and the isles shall wait for his law.⁵Thus saith God the LORD, he that created the heavens, and stretched them out he that spread forth the earth, and that which cometh out of it he that giveth breath unto the people upon it, and spirit to them that walk therein:⁶I the LORD have called thee in righteousness, and will hold thine hand, and will keep thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, for a light of the Gentiles⁷To open the blind eyes, to bring out the prisoners from the prison, and them that sit in darkness out of the prison house.⁸I am the LORD: that is my name: and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise to graven images.⁹Behold, the former things are come to pass, and new things do I declare: before they spring forth I tell you of them.¹⁰Sing unto the LORD a new song, and his praise from the end of the earth, ye that go down to the sea, and all that is therein the isles, and the inhabitants thereof.¹¹Let the wilderness and the cities thereof lift up their voice, the villages that Kedar doth inhabit: let the inhabitants of the rock sing, let them shout from the top of the mountains.¹²Let them give glory unto the LORD, and declare his praise in the islands.¹³The LORD shall go forth as a mighty man, he shall stir up jealousy like a man of war: he shall cry, yea, roar he shall prevail against his enemies.¹⁴I have long time holden my peace I have been still, and refrained myself: now will I cry like a travailing woman I will destroy and devour at once.¹⁵I will make waste mountains and hills, and dry up all their herbs and I will make the rivers islands, and I will dry up the pools.¹⁶And I will bring the blind by a way that they knew not I will lead them in paths that they have not known: I will make darkness light before them, and crooked things straight. These things will I do unto them, and not forsake them.¹⁷They shall be turned back, they shall be greatly ashamed, that trust in graven images, that say to the molten images, Ye are our gods.¹⁸Hear, ye deaf and look, ye blind, that ye may see.¹⁹Who is blind, but my servant? or deaf, as my messenger that I sent? who is blind as he that is perfect, and blind as the LORD's servant?²⁰Seeing many things, but thou observest not opening the ears, but he heareth not.²¹The LORD is well pleased for his righteousness' sake he will magnify the law, and make it honourable.²²But this is a people robbed and spoiled they are all of them snared in holes, and they are hid in prison houses: they are for a prey, and none delivereth for a spoil, and none saith, Restore.²³Who among you will give ear to this? who will hearken and hear for the time to come?²⁴Who gave Jacob for a spoil, and Israel to the robbers? did not the LORD, he against whom we have sinned? for they would not walk in his ways, neither were they obedient unto his law.²⁵Therefore he hath poured upon him the fury of his anger, and the strength of battle: and it hath set him on fire round about, yet he knew not and it burned him, yet he laid it not to heart.

CHAPTER 43 ¹But now thus saith the LORD that created thee, O Jacob, and he that formed thee, O Israel, Fear not: for I have redeemed thee, I have called thee by thy name thou art mine.²When thou passest through the waters, I will be with thee and through the rivers, they shall not overflow thee: when thou walkest through the fire, thou shalt not be burned neither shall the flame kindle upon thee.³For I am the LORD thy God, the Holy One of Israel, thy Saviour: I gave Egypt for thy ransom, Ethiopia and Seba for thee.⁴Since thou wast precious in my sight, thou hast been honourable, and I have loved thee: therefore will I give men for thee, and people for thy life.⁵Fear not: for I am with thee: I will bring thy seed from the east, and gather thee from the west⁶I will say to the north, Give up and to the south, Keep not back: bring my sons from far, and my daughters from the ends of the earth⁷Even every one that is called by my name: for I have created him for my glory, I have formed him yea, I have made him.⁸Bring forth the blind people that have eyes, and the deaf that have ears.⁹Let all the nations be gathered together, and let the people be assembled: who among them can declare this, and shew us former things? let them bring forth their witnesses, that they may be justified: or let them hear, and say, It is truth.¹⁰Ye are my witnesses, saith the LORD, and my servant whom I have chosen: that ye may know and believe me, and understand that I am he: before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me.¹¹I, even I, am the LORD and beside me there is no saviour.¹²I have declared, and have saved, and I have shewed, when there was no strange god among you: therefore ye are my witnesses, saith the LORD, that I am God.¹³Yea, before the day was I am he and there is none that can deliver out of my hand: I will work, and who shall let it?¹⁴Thus saith the LORD, your redeemer, the Holy One of Israel For your sake I have sent to Babylon, and have brought down all their nobles, and the Chaldeans, whose cry is in the ships.¹⁵I am the LORD, your Holy One, the creator of Israel, your King.¹⁶Thus saith the LORD, which maketh a way in the sea, and a path in the mighty waters¹⁷Which bringeth forth the chariot and horse, the army and the power they shall lie down together, they shall not rise: they are extinct, they are quenched as tow.¹⁸Remember ye not the former things, neither consider the things of old.¹⁹Behold, I will do a new thing now it shall spring forth shall ye not know it? I will even make a way in the wilderness, and rivers in the desert.²⁰The beast of the field shall honour me, the dragons and the owls: because I give waters in the wilderness, and rivers in the desert, to give drink to my people, my chosen.²¹This people have I formed for myself they shall shew forth my praise.²²But thou hast not called upon me, O Jacob but thou hast been weary of me, O Israel.²³Thou hast not brought me the small cattle of thy burnt offerings neither hast thou honoured me with thy sacrifices. I have not caused thee to serve with an offering, nor wearied thee with incense.²⁴Thou hast bought me no sweet cane with money, neither hast thou filled me with the fat of thy sacrifices: but thou hast made me to serve with thy sins, thou hast wearied me with thine iniquities.²⁵I, even I, am he that blotteth out thy transgressions for mine own sake, and will not remember thy sins.²⁶Put me in remembrance: let us plead together: declare thou, that thou mayest be justified.²⁷Thy first father hath sinned, and thy teachers have transgressed against me.²⁸Therefore I have profaned the princes of the sanctuary, and have given Jacob to the curse, and Israel to reproaches.

CHAPTER 44 ¹Yet now hear, O Jacob my servant and Israel, whom I have chosen:²Thus saith the LORD that made thee, and formed thee from the womb, which will help thee Fear not, O Jacob, my servant and thou, Jesurun, whom I have chosen.³For I will pour water upon him that is thirsty, and floods upon the dry ground: I will pour my spirit upon thy seed, and my blessing upon thine offspring:⁴And they shall spring up as among the grass, as willows by the water courses.⁵One shall say, I am the LORD's and another shall call himself by the name of Jacob and another shall subscribe with his hand unto the LORD, and surname himself by the name of Israel.⁶Thus saith the LORD the King of Israel, and his redeemer the LORD of hosts I am the first, and I am the last and beside me there is no God.⁷And who, as I, shall call, and shall declare it, and set it in order for me, since I appointed the ancient people? and the things that are coming, and shall come, let them shew unto them.⁸Fear ye not, neither be afraid: have not I told thee from that time, and have declared it? ye are even my witnesses. Is there a God beside me? yea, there is no God I know not any.⁹They that make a graven image are all of them vanity and their delectable things shall not profit and they are their own witnesses they see not, nor know that they may be ashamed.¹⁰Who hath formed a god, or molten a graven image that is profitable for nothing?¹¹Behold, all his fellows shall be ashamed: and the workmen, they are of men: let them all be gathered together, let them stand up yet they shall fear, and they shall be ashamed together.¹²The smith with the tongs both worketh in the coals, and fashioneth it with hammers, and worketh it with the strength of his arms: yea, he is hungry, and his strength faileth: he drinketh no water, and is faint.¹³The carpenter stretcheth out his rule he marketh it out with a line he fitteth it with planes, and he marketh it out with the compass, and maketh it after the figure of a man, according to the beauty of a man that it may remain in the house.¹⁴He heweth him down cedars, and taketh the cypress and the oak, which he strengtheneth for himself among the trees of the forest: he planteth an ash, and the rain doth nourish it.¹⁵Then shall it be for a man to burn: for he will take thereof, and warm himself yea, he kindleth it, and baketh bread yea, he maketh a god, and worshippeth it he maketh it a graven image, and falleth down thereto.¹⁶He burneth part thereof in the fire with part thereof he eateth flesh he roasteth roast, and is satisfied: yea, he warmeth himself, and saith, Aha, I am warm, I have seen the fire:¹⁷And the residue thereof he maketh a god, even his graven image: he falleth down unto it, and worshippeth it, and prayeth unto it, and saith, Deliver me for thou art my god.¹⁸They have not known nor understood: for he hath shut their eyes, that they cannot see and their hearts, that they cannot understand.¹⁹And none considereth in his heart, neither is there knowledge nor understanding to say, I have burned part of it in the fire yea, also I have baked bread upon the coals thereof I have roasted flesh, and eaten it: and shall I make the residue thereof an abomination? shall I fall down to the stock of a tree?²⁰He feedeth on ashes: a deceived heart hath turned him aside, that he cannot deliver his soul, nor say, Is there not a lie in my right hand?²¹Remember these, O Jacob and Israel for thou art my servant: I have formed thee thou art my servant: O Israel, thou shalt not be forgotten of me.²²I have blotted out, as a thick cloud, thy transgressions, and, as a cloud, thy sins: return unto me for I have redeemed thee.²³Sing, O ye heavens for the LORD hath done it: shout, ye lower parts of the earth: break forth into singing, ye mountains, O forest, and every tree therein: for the LORD hath redeemed Jacob, and glorified himself in Israel.²⁴Thus saith the LORD, thy redeemer, and he that formed thee from the womb, I am the LORD that maketh all things that stretcheth forth the heavens alone that spreadeth abroad the earth by myself²⁵That frustrateth the tokens of the liars, and maketh diviners mad that turneth wise men backward, and maketh their knowledge foolish²⁶That confirmeth the word of his servant, and performeth the counsel of his messengers that saith to Jerusalem, Thou shalt be inhabited and to the cities of Judah, Ye shall be built, and I will raise up the decayed places thereof:²⁷That saith to the deep, Be dry, and I will dry up thy rivers:²⁸That saith of Cyrus, He is my shepherd, and shall perform all my pleasure: even saying to Jerusalem, Thou shalt be built and to the temple, Thy foundation shall be laid.

CHAPTER 45 ¹Thus saith the LORD to his anointed, to Cyrus, whose right hand I have holden, to subdue nations before him and I will loose the loins of kings, to open before him the two leaved gates and the gates shall not be shut²I will go before thee, and make the crooked places straight: I will break in pieces the gates of brass, and cut in sunder the bars of iron:³And I will give thee the treasures of darkness, and hidden riches of secret places, that thou mayest know that I, the LORD, which call thee by thy name, am the God of Israel.⁴For Jacob my servant's sake, and Israel mine elect, I have even called thee by thy name: I have surnamed thee, though thou hast not known me.⁵I am the LORD, and there is none else, there is no God beside me: I girded thee, though thou hast not known me:⁶That they may know from the rising of the sun, and from the west, that there is none beside me. I am the LORD, and there is none else.⁷I form the light, and create darkness: I make peace, and create evil: I the LORD do all these things.⁸Drop down, ye heavens, from above, and let the skies pour down righteousness: let the earth open, and let them bring forth salvation, and let righteousness spring up together

I the LORD have created it.⁹Woe unto him that striveth with his Maker! Let the potsherd strive with the potsherds of the earth. Shall the clay say to him that fashioneth it, What makest thou? or thy work, He hath no hands?¹⁰Woe unto him that saith unto his father, What begetteth thou? or to the woman, What hast thou brought forth?¹¹Thus saith the LORD, the Holy One of Israel, and his Maker, Ask me of things to come concerning my sons, and concerning the work of my hands command ye me.¹²I have made the earth, and created man upon it: I, even my hands, have stretched out the heavens, and all their host have I commanded.¹³I have raised him up in righteousness, and I will direct all his ways: he shall build my city, and he shall let go my captives, not for price nor reward, saith the LORD of hosts.¹⁴Thus saith the LORD, The labour of Egypt, and merchandise of Ethiopia and of the Sabeans, men of stature, shall come over unto thee, and they shall be thine: they shall come after thee in chains they shall come over, and they shall fall down unto thee, they shall make supplication unto thee, saying, Surely God is in thee and there is none else, there is no God.¹⁵Verily thou art a God that hidest thyself, O God of Israel, the Saviour.¹⁶They shall be ashamed, and also confounded, all of them: they shall go to confusion together that are makers of idols.¹⁷But Israel shall be saved in the LORD with an everlasting salvation: ye shall not be ashamed nor confounded world without end.¹⁸For thus saith the LORD that created the heavens God himself that formed the earth and made it he hath established it, he created it not in vain, he formed it to be inhabited: I am the LORD and there is none else.¹⁹I have not spoken in secret, in a dark place of the earth: I said not unto the seed of Jacob, Seek ye me in vain: I the LORD speak righteousness, I declare things that are right.²⁰Assemble yourselves and come draw near together, ye that are escaped of the nations: they have no knowledge that set up the wood of their graven image, and pray unto a god that cannot save.²¹Tell ye, and bring them near yea, let them take counsel together: who hath declared this from ancient time? who hath told it from that time? have not I the LORD? and there is no God else beside me a just God and a Saviour there is none beside me.²²Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth: for I am God, and there is none else.²³I have sworn by myself, the word is gone out of my mouth in righteousness, and shall not return, That unto me every knee shall bow, every tongue shall swear.²⁴Surely, shall one say, in the LORD have I righteousness and strength: even to him shall men come and all that are incensed against him shall be ashamed.²⁵In the LORD shall all the seed of Israel be justified, and shall glory.

CHAPTER 46 ¹Bel boweth down, Nebo stoopeth, their idols were upon the beasts, and upon the cattle: your carriages were heavy loaden they are a burden to the weary beast.²They stoop, they bow down together they could not deliver the burden, but themselves are gone into captivity.³Hearken unto me, O house of Jacob, and all the remnant of the house of Israel, which are borne by me from the belly, which are carried from the womb:⁴And even to your old age I am he and even to hoar hairs will I carry you: I have made, and I will bear even I will carry, and will deliver you.⁵To whom will ye liken me, and make me equal, and compare me, that we may be like?⁶They lavish gold out of the bag, and weigh silver in the balance, and hire a goldsmith and he maketh it a god: they fall down, yea, they worship.⁷They bear him upon the shoulder, they carry him, and set him in his place, and he standeth from his place shall he not remove: yea, one shall cry unto him, yet can he not answer, nor save him out of his trouble.⁸Remember this, and shew yourselves men: bring it again to mind, O ye transgressors.⁹Remember the former things of old: for I am God, and there is none else I am God, and there is none like me,¹⁰Declaring the end from the beginning, and from ancient times the things that are not yet done, saying, My counsel shall stand, and I will do all my pleasure:¹¹Calling a ravenous bird from the east, the man that executeth my counsel from a far country: yea, I have spoken it, I will also bring it to pass I have purposed it, I will also do it.¹²Hearken unto me, ye stouthearted, that are far from righteousness:¹³I bring near my righteousness it shall not be far off, and my salvation shall not tarry: and I will place salvation in Zion for Israel my glory.

CHAPTER 47 ¹Come down, and sit in the dust, O virgin daughter of Babylon, sit on the ground: there is no throne, O daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more be called tender and delicate.²Take the millstones, and grind meal: uncover thy locks, make bare the leg, uncover the thigh, pass over the rivers.³Thy nakedness shall be uncovered, yea, thy shame shall be seen: I will take vengeance, and I will not meet thee as a man.⁴As for our redeemer, the LORD of hosts is his name, the Holy One of Israel.⁵Sit thou silent, and get thee into darkness, O daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more be called, The lady of kingdoms.⁶I was wroth with my people, I have polluted mine inheritance, and given them into thine hand: thou didst shew them no mercy upon the ancient hast thou very heavily laid thy yoke.⁷And thou saidst, I shall be a lady for ever: so that thou didst not lay these things to thy heart, neither didst remember the latter end of it.⁸Therefore hear now this, thou that art given to pleasures, that dwellest carelessly, that sayest in thine heart, I am, and none else beside me I shall not sit as a widow, neither shall I know the loss of children:⁹But these two things shall come to thee in a moment in one day, the loss of children, and widowhood: they shall come upon thee in their perfection for the multitude of thy sorceries, and for the great abundance of thine enchantments.¹⁰For thou hast trusted in thy wickedness: thou hast said, None seeth me. Thy wisdom and thy knowledge, it hath perverted thee and thou hast said in thine heart, I am, and none else beside me.¹¹Therefore shall evil come upon thee thou shalt not know from whence it riseth: and mischief shall fall upon thee thou shalt not be able to put it off: and desolation shall come upon thee suddenly, which thou shalt not know.¹²Stand now with thine enchantments, and with the multitude of thy sorceries, wherein thou hast laboured from thy youth if so be thou shalt be able to profit, if so be thou mayest prevail.¹³Thou art wearied in the multitude of thy counsels. Let now the astrologers, the stargazers, the monthly prognosticators, stand up, and save thee from these things that shall come upon thee.¹⁴Behold, they shall be as stubble the fire shall burn them they shall not deliver themselves from the power of the flame: there shall not be a coal to warm at, nor fire to sit before it.¹⁵Thus shall they be unto thee with whom thou hast laboured, even thy merchants, from thy youth: they shall wander every one to his quarter none shall save thee. them.⁸Yea, thou heardest not yea, thou knewest not yea, from that time that thine ear was not opened: for I knew that thou wouldest deal very treacherously, and wast called a transgressor from the womb.⁹For my name's sake will I defer mine anger, and for my praise will I refrain for thee, that I cut thee not off.¹⁰Behold, I have refined thee, but not with silver I have chosen thee in the furnace of affliction.¹¹For mine own sake, even for mine own sake, will I do it: for how should my name be polluted? and I will not give my glory unto another.¹²Hearken unto me, O Jacob and Israel, my called I am he I am the first, I also am the last.¹³Mine hand also hath laid the foundation of the earth, and my right hand hath spanned the heavens: when I call unto them, they stand up together.¹⁴All ye, assemble yourselves, and hear which among them hath declared these things? The LORD hath loved him: he will do his pleasure on Babylon, and his arm shall be on the Chaldeans.¹⁵I, even I, have spoken yea, I have called him: I have brought him, and he shall make his way prosperous.¹⁶Come ye near unto me, hear ye this I have not spoken in secret from the beginning from the time that it was, there am I: and now the Lord GOD, and his Spirit, hath sent me.¹⁷Thus saith the LORD, thy Redeemer, the Holy One of Israel I am the LORD thy God which teacheth thee to profit, which leadeth thee by the way that thou shouldest go.¹⁸O that thou hadst hearkened to my commandments! then had thy peace been as a river, and thy righteousness as the waves of the sea:¹⁹Thy seed also had been as the sand, and the offspring of thy bowels like the gravel thereof his name should not have been cut off nor destroyed from before me.²⁰Go ye forth of Babylon, flee ye from the Chaldeans, with a voice of singing declare ye, tell this, utter it even to the end of the earth say ye, The LORD hath redeemed his servant Jacob.²¹And they thirsted not when he led them through the deserts: he caused the waters to flow out of the rock for them: he clave the rock also, and the waters gushed out.²²There is no peace, saith the LORD, unto the wicked.

CHAPTER 49 ¹Listen, O isles, unto me and hearken, ye people, from far The LORD hath called me from the womb from the bowels of my mother hath he made mention of my name.²And

he hath made my mouth like a sharp sword in the shadow of his hand hath he hid me, and made me a polished shaft in his quiver hath he hid me³And said unto me, Thou art my servant, O Israel, in whom I will be glorified.⁴Then I said, I have laboured in vain, I have spent my strength for nought, and in vain: yet surely my judgment is with the LORD, and my work with my God.⁵And now, saith the LORD that formed me from the womb to be his servant, to bring Jacob again to him, Though Israel be not gathered, yet shall I be glorious in the eyes of the LORD, and my God shall be my strength.⁶And he said, It is a light thing that thou shouldest be my servant to raise up the tribes of Jacob, and to restore the preserved of Israel: I will also give thee for a light to the Gentiles, that thou mayest be my salvation unto the end of the earth.⁷Thus saith the LORD, the Redeemer of Israel, and his Holy One, to him whom man despiseth, to him whom the nation abhorreth, to a servant of rulers, Kings shall see and arise, princes also shall worship, because of the LORD that is faithful, and the Holy One of Israel, and he shall choose thee.⁸Thus saith the LORD, In an acceptable time have I heard thee, and in a day of salvation have I helped thee: and I will preserve thee, and give thee for a covenant of the people, to establish the earth, to cause to inherit the desolate heritages⁹That thou mayest say to the prisoners, Go forth to them that are in darkness, Shew yourselves. They shall feed in the ways, and their pastures shall be in all high places.¹⁰They shall not hunger nor thirst neither shall the heat nor sun smite them: for he that hath mercy on them shall lead them, even by the springs of water shall he guide them.¹¹And I will make all my mountains a way, and my highways shall be exalted.¹²Behold, these shall come from far: and, lo, these from the north and from the west and these from the land of Sinim.¹³Sing, O heavens and be joyful, O earth and break forth into singing, O mountains: for the LORD hath comforted his people, and will have mercy upon his afflicted.¹⁴But Zion said, The LORD hath forsaken me, and my Lord hath forgotten me.¹⁵Can a woman forget her sucking child, that she should not have compassion on the son of her womb? yea, they may forget, yet will I not forget thee.¹⁶Behold, I have graven thee upon the palms of my hands thy walls are continually before me.¹⁷Thy children shall make haste thy destroyers and they that made thee waste shall go forth of thee.¹⁸Lift up thine eyes round about, and behold: all these gather themselves together, and come to thee. As I live, saith the LORD, thou shalt surely clothe thee with them all, as with an ornament, and bind them on thee, as a bride doeth.¹⁹For thy waste and thy desolate places, and the land of thy destruction, shall even now be too narrow by reason of the inhabitants, and they that swallowed thee up shall be far away.²⁰The children which thou shalt have, after thou hast lost the other, shall say again in thine ears, The place is too strait for me: give place to me that I may dwell.²¹Then shalt thou say in thine heart, Who hath begotten me these, seeing I have lost my children, and am desolate, a captive, and removing to and fro? and who hath brought up these? Behold, I was left alone these, where had they been?²²Thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I will lift up mine hand to the Gentiles, and set up my standard to the people: and they shall bring thy sons in their arms, and thy daughters shall be carried upon their shoulders.²³And kings shall be thy nursing fathers, and their queens thy nursing mothers: they shall bow down to thee with their face toward the earth, and lick up the dust of thy feet and thou shalt know that I am the LORD: for they shall not be ashamed that wait for me.²⁴ Shall the prey be taken from the mighty, or the lawful captive delivered?²⁵ But thus saith the LORD, Even the captives of the mighty shall be taken away, and the prey of the terrible shall be delivered: for I will contend with him that contendeth with thee, and I will save thy children.²⁶ And I will feed them that oppress thee with their own flesh and they shall be drunken with their own blood, as with sweet wine: and all flesh shall know that I the LORD am thy Saviour and thy Redeemer, the mighty One of Jacob.

CHAPTER 50 ¹Thus saith the LORD, Where is the bill of your mother's divorcement, whom I have put away? or which of my creditors is it to whom I have sold you? Behold, for your iniquities have ye sold yourselves, and for your transgressions is your mother put away.² Wherefore, when I came, was there no man? when I called, was there none to answer? Is my hand shortened at all, that it cannot redeem? or have I no power to deliver? behold, at my rebuke I dry up the sea, I make the rivers a wilderness: their fish stinketh, because there is no water, and dieth for thirst.³ I clothe the heavens with blackness, and I make sackcloth their covering.⁴ The Lord GOD hath given me the tongue of the learned, that I should know how to speak a word in season to him that is weary: he wakeneth morning by morning, he wakeneth mine ear to hear as the learned.⁵ The Lord GOD hath opened mine ear, and I was not rebellious, neither turned away back.⁶ I gave my back to the smiters, and my cheeks to them that plucked off the hair: I hid not my face from shame and spitting.⁷ For the Lord GOD will help me therefore shall I not be confounded: therefore have I set my face like a flint, and I know that I shall not be ashamed.⁸ He is near that justifieth me who will contend with me? let us stand together: who is mine adversary? let him come near to me.⁹ Behold, the Lord GOD will help me who is he that shall condemn me? lo, they all shall wax old as a garment the moth shall eat them up.¹⁰ Who is among you that feareth the LORD, that obeyeth the voice of his servant, that walketh in darkness, and hath no light? let him trust in the name of the LORD, and stay upon his God.¹¹Behold, all ye that kindle a fire, that compass yourselves about with sparks: walk in the light of your fire, and in the sparks that ye have kindled. This shall ye have of mine hand ye shall lie down in sorrow.

CHAPTER 51 ¹Hearken to me, ye that follow after righteousness, ye that seek the LORD: look unto the rock whence ye are hewn, and to the hole of the pit whence ye are digged.²Look unto Abraham your father, and unto Sarah that bare you: for I called him alone, and blessed him, and increased him.³For the LORD shall comfort Zion: he will comfort all her waste places and he will make her wilderness like Eden, and her desert like the garden of the LORD joy and gladness shall be found therein, thanksgiving, and the voice of melody.⁴Hearken unto me, my people and give ear unto me, O my nation: for a law shall proceed from me, and I will make my judgment to rest for a light of the people.⁵My righteousness is near my salvation is gone forth, and mine arms shall judge the people the isles shall wait upon me, and on mine arm shall they trust.⁶Lift up your eyes to the heavens, and look upon the earth beneath: for the heavens shall vanish away like smoke, and the earth shall wax old like a garment, and they that dwell therein shall die in like manner: but my salvation shall be for ever, and my righteousness shall not be abolished.⁷Hearken unto me, ye that know righteousness, the people in whose heart is my law fear ye not the reproach of men, neither be ye afraid of their revilings.⁸For the moth shall eat them up like a garment, and the worm shall eat them like wool: but my righteousness shall be for ever, and my salvation from generation to generation.⁹Awake, awake, put on strength, O arm of the LORD awake, as in the ancient days, in the generations of old. Art thou not it that hath cut Rahab, and wounded the dragon?¹⁰Art thou not it which hath dried the sea, the waters of the great deep that hath made the depths of the sea a way for the ransomed to pass over?¹¹Therefore the redeemed of the LORD shall return, and come with singing unto Zion and everlasting joy shall be upon their head: they shall obtain gladness and joy and sorrow and mourning shall flee away.¹²I, even I, am he that comforteth you: who art thou, that thou shouldest be afraid of a man that shall die, and of the son of man which shall be made as grass¹³And forgettest the LORD thy maker, that hath stretched forth the heavens, and laid the foundations of the earth and hast feared continually every day because of the fury of the oppressor, as if he were ready to destroy? and where is the fury of the oppressor?¹⁴The captive exile hasteneth that he may be loosed, and that he should not die in the pit, nor that his bread should fail.¹⁵But I am the LORD thy God, that divided the sea, whose waves roared: The LORD of hosts is his name.¹⁶And I have put my words in thy mouth, and I have covered thee in the shadow of mine hand, that I may plant the heavens, and lay the foundations of the earth, and say unto Zion, Thou art my people.¹⁷Awake, awake, stand up, O Jerusalem, which hast drunk at the hand of the LORD the cup of his fury thou hast drunken the dregs of the cup of trembling, and wrung them out.¹⁸There is none to guide her among all the sons whom she hath brought forth neither is there any that taketh her by the hand of all the sons that she hath brought up.¹⁹These two things are come unto thee who shall be sorry for thee? desolation, and destruction, and the famine, and the sword: by whom shall I comfort thee?²⁰Thy sons have fainted, they lie at the head of all the streets, as a wild bull in a net: they are full of the fury of the LORD, the rebuke of thy God.²¹Therefore hear now this, thou afflicted, and drunken, but not with wine:²²Thus saith thy Lord the LORD, and thy God that pleadeth the cause of his people, Behold, I have taken out of thine hand the cup of trembling, even the dregs of the cup of my fury thou shalt no more drink it again:²³But I will put it into the hand of them that afflict thee which have said to thy soul, Bow down, that we may go over: and thou hast laid thy body as the ground, and as the street, to them that went over.

CHAPTER 52 ¹Awake, awake put on thy strength, O Zion put on thy beautiful garments, O Jerusalem, the holy city: for henceforth there shall no more come into thee the uncircumcised and the unclean.²Shake thyself from the dust arise, and sit down, O Jerusalem: loose thyself from the bands of thy neck, O captive daughter of Zion.³For thus saith the LORD, Ye have sold yourselves for nought and ye shall be redeemed without money.⁴For thus saith the Lord GOD, My people went down aforetime into Egypt to sojourn there and the Assyrian oppressed them without cause.⁵Now therefore, what have I here, saith the LORD, that my people is taken away for nought? they that rule over them make them to howl, saith the LORD and my name continually every day is blasphemed.⁶Therefore my people shall know my name: therefore they shall know in that day that I am he that doth speak: behold, it is I.⁷How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace that bringeth good tidings of good, that publisheth salvation that saith unto Zion, Thy God reigneth!⁸Thy watchmen shall lift up the voice with the voice together shall they sing: for they shall see eye to eye, when the LORD shall bring again Zion.⁹Break forth into joy, sing together, ye waste places of Jerusalem: for the LORD hath comforted his people, he hath redeemed Jerusalem.¹⁰The LORD hath made bare his holy arm in the eyes of all the nations and all the ends of the earth shall see the salvation of our God.¹¹Depart ye, depart ye, go ye out from thence, touch no unclean thing go ye out of the midst of her be ye clean, that bear the vessels of the LORD.¹²For ye shall not go out with haste, nor go by flight: for the LORD will go before you and the God of Israel will be your rereward.¹³Behold, my servant shall deal prudently, he shall be exalted and extolled, and be very high.¹⁴As many were astonished at thee his visage was so marred more than any man, and his form more than the sons of men:¹⁵So shall he sprinkle many nations the kings shall shut their mouths at him: for that which had not been told them shall they see and that which they had not heard shall they consider.

CHAPTER 53 ¹Who hath believed our report? and to whom is the arm of the LORD revealed?²For he shall grow up before him as a tender plant, and as a root out of a dry ground: he hath no form nor comeliness and when we shall see him, there is no beauty that we should desire him.³He is despised and rejected of men a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief: and we hid as it were our faces from him he was despised, and we esteemed him not.⁴Surely he hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows: yet we did esteem him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted.⁵But he was wounded for our transgressions, he was bruised for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him and with his stripes we are healed.⁶All we like sheep have gone astray we have turned every one to his own way and the LORD hath laid on him the iniquity of us all.⁷He was oppressed, and he was afflicted, yet he opened not his mouth: he is brought as a lamb to the slaughter, and as a sheep before her shearers is dumb, so he openeth not his mouth.⁸He was taken from prison and from judgment: and who shall declare his generation? for he was cut off out of the land of the living: for the transgression of my people was he stricken.⁹And he made his grave with the wicked, and with the rich in his death because he had done no violence, neither was any deceit in his mouth.¹⁰Yet it pleased the LORD to bruise him he hath put him to grief: when thou shalt make his soul an offering for sin, he shall see his seed, he shall prolong his days, and the pleasure of the LORD shall prosper in his hand.¹¹He shall see of the travail of his soul, and shall be satisfied: by his knowledge shall my righteous servant justify many for he shall bear their iniquities.¹²Therefore will I divide him a portion with the great, and he shall divide the spoil with the strong because he hath poured out his soul unto death: and he was numbered with the transgressors and he bare the sin of many, and made intercession for the transgressors.

CHAPTER 54 ¹Sing, O barren, thou that didst not bear break forth into singing, and cry aloud, thou that didst not travail with child: for more are the children of the desolate than the children of the married wife, saith the LORD.²Enlarge the place of thy tent, and let them stretch forth the curtains of thine habitations: spare not, lengthen thy cords, and strengthen thy stakes³For thou shalt break forth on the right hand and on the left and thy seed shall inherit the Gentiles, and make the desolate cities to be inhabited.⁴Fear not for thou shalt not be ashamed: neither be thou confounded for thou shalt not be put to shame: for thou shalt forget the shame of thy youth, and shalt not remember the reproach of thy widowhood any more.⁵For thy Maker is thine husband the LORD of hosts is his name and thy Redeemer the Holy One of Israel The God of the whole earth shall he be called.⁶For the LORD hath called thee as a woman forsaken and grieved in spirit, and a wife of youth, when thou wast refused, saith thy God.⁷For a small moment have I forsaken thee but with great mercies will I gather thee.⁸In a little wrath I hid my face from thee for a moment but with everlasting kindness will I have mercy on thee, saith the LORD thy Redeemer.⁹For this is as the waters of Noah unto me: for as I have sworn that the waters of Noah should no more go over the earth so have I sworn that I would not be wroth with thee, nor rebuke thee.¹⁰For the mountains shall depart, and the hills be removed but my kindness shall not depart from thee, neither shall the covenant of my peace be removed, saith the LORD that hath mercy on thee.¹¹O thou afflicted, tossed with tempest, and not comforted, behold, I will lay thy stones with fair colours, and lay thy foundations with sapphires.¹²And I will make thy windows of agates, and thy gates of carbuncles, and all thy borders of pleasant stones.¹³And all thy children shall be taught of the LORD and great shall be the peace of thy children.¹⁴In righteousness shalt thou be established: thou shalt be far from oppression for thou shalt not fear: and from terror for it shall not come near thee.¹⁵Behold, they shall surely gather together, but not by me: whosoever shall gather together against thee shall fall for thy sake.¹⁶Behold, I have created the smith that bloweth the coals in the fire, and that bringeth forth an instrument for his work and I have created the waster to destroy.¹⁷No weapon that is formed against thee shall prosper and every tongue that shall rise against thee in judgment thou shalt condemn. This is the heritage of the servants of the LORD, and their righteousness is of me, saith the LORD.

CHAPTER 55 ¹Ho, every one that thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath no money come ye, buy, and eat yea, come, buy wine and milk without money and without price.²Wherefore do ye spend money for that which is not bread? and your labour for that which satisfieth not? hearken diligently unto me, and eat ye that which is good, and let your soul delight itself in fatness.³Incline your ear, and come unto me: hear, and your soul shall live and I will make an everlasting covenant with you, even the sure mercies of David.⁴Behold, I have given him for a witness to the people, a leader and commander to the people.⁵Behold, thou shalt call a nation that thou knowest not, and nations that knew not thee shall run unto thee because of the LORD thy God, and for the Holy One of Israel for he hath glorified thee.⁶Seek ye the LORD while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near.⁷Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the LORD, and he will have mercy upon him and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon.⁸For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith the LORD.⁹For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts.¹⁰For as the rain cometh down, and the snow from heaven, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower, and bread to the eater:¹¹So shall my word be that goeth forth out of my mouth: it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it.¹²For ye shall go out with joy, and be led forth with peace: the mountains and the hills shall break forth before you into singing, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands.¹³Instead of the thorn shall come up the fir tree, and instead of the brier shall come up the myrtle tree: and it shall be to the LORD for a name, for an

CHAPTER 56 ¹Thus saith the LORD, Keep ye judgment, and do justice: for my salvation is near to come, and my righteousness to be revealed.²Blessed is the man that doeth this, and the son of man that layeth hold on it that keepeth the sabbath from polluting it, and keepeth his hand from doing any evil.³Neither let the son of the stranger, that hath joined himself to the LORD, speak, saying, The LORD hath utterly separated me from his people: neither let the eunuch say, Behold, I am a dry tree.⁴For thus saith the LORD unto the eunuchs that keep my sabbaths, and choose the things that please me, and take hold of my covenant⁵Even unto them will I give in mine house and within my walls a place and a name better than of sons and of daughters: I will give them an everlasting name, that shall not be cut off.⁶Also the sons of the stranger, that join themselves to the LORD, to serve him, and to love the name of the LORD, to be his servants, every one that keepeth the sabbath from polluting it, and taketh hold of my covenant⁷Even them will I bring to my holy mountain, and make them joyful in my house of prayer: their burnt offerings and their sacrifices shall be accepted upon mine altar for mine house shall be called an house of prayer for all people.⁸The Lord GOD which gathereth the outcasts of Israel saith, Yet will I gather others to him, beside those that are gathered unto him.⁹All ye beasts of the field, come to devour, yea, all ye beasts in the forest.¹⁰His watchmen are blind: they are all ignorant, they are all dumb dogs, they cannot bark sleeping, lying down, loving to slumber.¹¹Yea, they are greedy dogs which can never have enough, and they are shepherds that cannot understand: they all look to their own way, every one for his gain, from his quarter.¹²Come ye, say they, I will fetch wine, and we will fill ourselves with strong drink and to morrow shall be as this day, and much more abundant.

CHAPTER 57 ¹The righteous perisheth, and no man layeth it to heart: and merciful men are taken away, none considering that the righteous is taken away from the evil to come.²He shall enter into peace: they shall rest in their beds, each one walking in his uprightness.³But draw near hither, ye sons of the sorceress, the seed of the adulterer and the whore.⁴Against whom do ye sport yourselves? against whom make ye a wide mouth, and draw out the tongue? are ye not children of transgression, a seed of falsehood,⁵Enflaming yourselves with idols under every green tree, slaying the children in the valleys under the cliffs of the rocks?⁶Among the smooth stones of the stream is thy portion they, they are thy lot: even to them hast thou poured a drink offering, thou hast offered a meat offering. Should I receive comfort in these?⁷Upon a lofty and high mountain hast thou set thy bed: even thither wentest thou up to offer sacrifice.⁸Behind the doors also and the posts hast thou set up thy remembrance: for thou hast discovered thyself to another than me, and art gone up thou hast enlarged thy bed, and made thee a covenant with them thou lovedst their bed where thou sawest it.⁹And thou wentest to the king with ointment, and didst increase thy perfumes, and didst send thy messengers far off, and didst debase thyself even unto hell.¹⁰Thou art wearied in the greatness of thy way yet saidst thou not, There is no hope: thou hast found the life of thine hand therefore thou wast not grieved.¹¹And of whom hast thou been afraid or feared, that thou hast lied, and hast not remembered me, nor laid it to thy heart? have not I held my peace even of old, and thou fearest me not?¹²I will declare thy righteousness, and thy works for they shall not profit thee.¹³When thou criest, let thy companies deliver thee but the wind shall carry them all away vanity shall take them: but he that putteth his trust in me shall possess the land, and shall inherit my holy mountain¹⁴And shall say, Cast ye up, cast ye up, prepare the way, take up the stumblingblock out of the way of my people.¹⁵For thus saith the high and lofty One that inhabiteth eternity, whose name is Holy I dwell in the high and holy place, with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit, to revive the spirit of the humble, and to revive the heart of the contrite ones.¹⁶For I will not contend for ever, neither will I be always wroth: for the spirit should fail before me, and the souls which I have made.¹⁷For the iniquity of his covetousness was I wroth, and smote him: I hid me, and was wroth, and he went on frowardly in the way of his heart.¹⁸I have seen his ways, and will heal him: I will lead him also, and restore comforts unto him and to his mourners.¹⁹I create the fruit of the lips Peace, peace to him that is far off, and to him that is near, saith the LORD and I will heal him.²⁰But the wicked are like the troubled sea, when it cannot rest, whose waters cast up mire and dirt.²¹There is no peace, saith my God, to the wicked.

CHAPTER 58 ¹Cry aloud, spare not, lift up thy voice like a trumpet, and shew my people their transgression, and the house of Jacob their sins.²Yet they seek me daily, and delight to know my ways, as a nation that did righteousness, and forsook not the ordinance of their God: they ask of me the ordinances of justice they take delight in approaching to God.³Wherefore have we fasted, say they, and thou seest not? wherefore have we afflicted our soul, and thou takest no knowledge? Behold, in the day of your fast ye find pleasure, and exact all your labours.⁴Behold, ye fast for strife and debate, and to smite with the fist of wickedness: ye shall not fast as ye do this day, to make your voice to be heard on high.⁵Is it such a fast that I have chosen? a day for a man to afflict his soul? is it to bow down his head as a bulrush, and to spread sackcloth and ashes under him? wilt thou call this a fast, and an acceptable day to the LORD?⁶Is not this the fast that I have chosen? to loose the bands of wickedness, to undo the heavy burdens, and to let the oppressed go free, and that ye break every yoke?⁷Is it not to deal thy bread to the hungry, and that thou bring the poor that are cast out to thy house? when thou seest the naked, that thou cover him and that thou hide not thyself from thine own flesh?⁸Then shall thy light break forth as the morning, and thine health shall spring forth speedily: and thy righteousness shall go before thee the glory of the LORD shall be thy rereward.⁹Then shalt thou call, and the LORD shall answer thou shalt cry, and he shall say, Here I am. If thou take away from the midst of thee the yoke, the putting forth of the finger, and speaking vanity¹⁰And if thou draw out thy soul to the hungry, and satisfy the afflicted soul then shall thy light rise in obscurity, and thy darkness be as the noonday:¹¹And the LORD shall guide thee continually, and satisfy thy soul in drought, and make fat thy bones: and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters fail not.¹²And they that shall be of thee shall build the old waste places: thou shalt raise up the foundations of many generations and thou shalt be called, The repairer of the breach, The restorer of paths to dwell in.¹³If thou turn away thy foot from the sabbath, from doing thy pleasure on my holy day and call the sabbath a delight, the holy of the LORD, honourable and shalt honour him, not doing thine own ways, nor finding thine own pleasure, nor speaking thine own words:¹⁴Then shalt thou delight thyself in the LORD and I will cause thee to ride upon the high places of the earth, and feed thee with the heritage of Jacob thy father: for the mouth of the LORD hath spoken it.

CHAPTER 59 ¹Behold, the LORD's hand is not shortened, that it cannot save neither his ear heavy, that it cannot hear:²But your iniquities have separated between you and your God, and your sins have hid his face from you, that he will not hear.³For your hands are defiled with blood, and your fingers with iniquity your lips have spoken lies, your tongue hath muttered perverseness.⁴None calleth for justice, nor any pleadeth for truth: they trust in vanity, and speak lies they conceive mischief, and bring forth iniquity.⁵They hatch cockatrice' eggs, and weave the spider's web: he that eateth of their eggs dieth, and that which is crushed breaketh out into a viper.⁶Their webs shall not become garments, neither shall they cover themselves with their works: their works are works of iniquity, and the act of violence is in their hands.⁷Their feet run to evil, and they make hast to shed innocent blood: their thoughts are thoughts of iniquity wasting and destruction are in their paths.⁸The way of peace they know not and there is no judgment in their goings: they have made them crooked paths: whosoever goeth therein shall not know peace.⁹Therefore is judgment far from us, neither doth justice overtake us: we wait for light, but behold obscurity for brightness, but we walk in darkness.¹⁰We grope for the wall like the blind, and we grope as if we had no eyes: we stumble at noonday as in the night we are in desolate places as dead men.¹¹We roar all like bears, and mourn sore like doves: we look for judgment, but there is none for salvation, but it is far off from us.¹²For our transgressions are multiplied before thee, and our sins testify against us: for our transgressions are with us and as for our iniquities, we know them¹³In transgressing and lying against the LORD, and departing away from our God, speaking oppression and revolt, conceiving and uttering from the heart words of falsehood.¹⁴And judgment is turned away backward, and justice standeth afar off: for truth is fallen in the street, and equity cannot enter.¹⁵Yea, truth faileth and he that departeth from evil maketh himself a prey: and the LORD saw it, and it displeased him that there was no judgment.¹⁶And he saw that there was no man, and wondered that there was no intercessor: therefore his arm brought salvation unto him and his righteousness, it sustained him.¹⁷For he put on righteousness as a breastplate, and an helmet of salvation upon his head and he put on the garments of vengeance for clothing, and was clad with zeal as a cloke.¹⁸According to their deeds, accordingly he will repay, fury to his adversaries, recompence to his enemies to the islands he will repay recompence.¹⁹So shall they fear the name of the LORD from the west, and his glory from the rising of the sun. When the enemy shall come in like a flood, the Spirit of the LORD shall lift up a standard against him.²⁰And the Redeemer shall come to Zion, and unto them that turn from transgression in Jacob, saith the LORD.²¹As for me, this is my covenant with them, saith the LORD My spirit that is upon thee, and my words which I have put in thy mouth, shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy seed, nor out of the mouth of thy seed's seed, saith the LORD, from henceforth and for ever.

CHAPTER 60 ¹Arise, shine for thy light is come, and the glory of the LORD is risen upon thee.²For, behold, the darkness shall cover the earth, and gross darkness the people: but the LORD shall arise upon thee, and his glory shall be seen upon thee.³And the Gentiles shall come to thy light, and kings to the brightness of thy rising.⁴Lift up thine eyes round about, and see: all they gather themselves together, they come to thee: thy sons shall come from far, and thy daughters shall be nursed at thy side.⁵Then thou shalt see, and flow together, and thine heart shall fear, and be enlarged because the abundance of the sea shall be converted unto thee, the forces of the Gentiles shall come unto thee.⁶The multitude of camels shall cover thee, the dromedaries of Midian and Ephah all they from Sheba shall come: they shall bring gold and incense and they shall shew forth the praises of the LORD.⁷All the flocks of Kedar shall be gathered together unto thee, the rams of Nebaioth shall minister unto thee: they shall come up with acceptance on mine altar, and I will glorify the house of my glory.⁸Who are these that fly as a cloud, and as the doves to their windows?⁹Surely the isles shall wait for me, and the ships of Tarshish first, to bring thy sons from far, their silver and their gold with them, unto the name of the LORD thy God, and to the Holy One of Israel, because he hath glorified thee.¹⁰And the sons of strangers shall build up thy walls, and their kings shall minister unto thee: for in my wrath I smote thee, but in my favour have I had mercy on thee.¹¹Therefore thy gates shall be open continually they shall not be shut day nor night that men may bring unto thee the forces of the Gentiles, and that their kings may be brought.¹²For the nation and kingdom that will not serve thee shall perish yea, those nations shall be utterly wasted.¹³The glory of Lebanon shall come unto thee, the fir tree, the pine tree, and the box together, to beautify the place of my sanctuary and I will make the place of my feet glorious.¹⁴The sons also of them that afflicted thee shall come bending unto thee and all they that despised thee shall bow themselves down at the soles of thy feet and they shall call thee, The city of the LORD, The Zion of the Holy One of Israel.¹⁵Whereas thou hast been forsaken and hated, so that no man went through thee, I will make thee an eternal excellency, a joy of many generations.¹⁶Thou shalt also suck the milk of the Gentiles, and shalt suck the breast of kings: and thou shalt know that I the LORD am thy Saviour and thy Redeemer, the mighty One of Jacob.¹⁷For brass I will bring gold, and for iron I will bring silver, and for wood brass, and for stones iron: I will also make thy officers peace, and thine exactors righteousness.¹⁸Violence shall no more be heard in thy land, wasting nor destruction within thy borders but thou shalt call thy walls Salvation, and thy gates Praise.¹⁹The sun shall be no more thy light by day neither for brightness shall the moon give light unto thee: but the LORD shall be unto thee an everlasting light, and thy God thy glory.²⁰Thy sun shall no more go down neither shall thy moon withdraw itself: for the LORD shall be thine everlasting light, and the days of thy mourning shall be ended.²¹Thy people also shall be all righteous: they shall inherit the land for ever, the branch of my planting, the work of my hands, that I may be glorified.²²A little one shall become a thousand, and a small one a strong nation: I the LORD will hasten it in his time.

CHAPTER 61 ¹The Spirit of the Lord GOD is upon me because the LORD hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the meek he hath sent me to bind up the brokenhearted, to proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound²To proclaim the acceptable year of the LORD, and the day of vengeance of our God to comfort all that mourn³To appoint unto them that mourn in Zion, to give unto them beauty for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness that they might be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the LORD, that he might be glorified.⁴And they shall build the old wastes, they shall raise up the former desolations, and they shall repair the waste cities, the desolations of many generations.⁵And strangers shall stand and feed your flocks, and the sons of the alien shall be your plowmen and your vinedressers.⁶But ye shall be named the Priests of the LORD:

men shall call you the Ministers of our God: ye shall eat the riches of the Gentiles, and in their glory shall ye boast yourselves.⁷For your shame ye shall have double and for confusion they shall rejoice in their portion: therefore in their land they shall possess the double: everlasting joy shall be unto them.⁸For I the LORD love judgment, I hate robbery for burnt offering and I will direct their work in truth, and I will make an everlasting covenant with them.⁹And their seed shall be known among the Gentiles, and their offspring among the people: all that see them shall acknowledge them, that they are the seed which the LORD hath blessed.¹⁰I will greatly rejoice in the LORD, my soul shall be joyful in my God for he hath clothed me with the garments of salvation, he hath covered me with the robe of righteousness, as a bridegroom decketh himself with ornaments, and as a bride adorneth herself with her jewels.¹¹For as the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden causeth the things that are sown in it to spring forth so the Lord GOD will cause righteousness and praise to spring forth before all the nations.

CHAPTER 62 ¹For Zion's sake will I not hold my peace, and for

Jerusalem's sake I will not rest, until the righteousness thereof go forth as brightness, and the salvation thereof as a lamp that burneth.²And the Gentiles shall see thy righteousness, and all kings thy glory: and thou shalt be called by a new name, which the mouth of the LORD shall name.³Thou shalt also be a crown of glory in the hand of the LORD, and a royal diadem in the hand of thy God.⁴Thou shalt no more be termed Forsaken neither shall thy land any more be termed Desolate: but thou shalt be called Hephzi-bah, and thy land Beulah: for the LORD delighteth in thee, and thy land shall be married.⁵For as a young man marrieth a virgin, so shall thy sons marry thee: and as the bridegroom rejoiceth over the bride, so shall thy God rejoice over thee.⁶I have set watchmen upon thy walls, O Jerusalem, which shall never hold their peace day nor night: ye that make mention of the LORD, keep not silence,⁷And give him no rest, till he establish, and till he make Jerusalem a praise in the earth.⁸The LORD hath sworn by his right hand, and by the arm of his strength, Surely I will no more give thy corn to be meat for thine enemies and the sons of the stranger shall not drink thy wine, for the which thou hast laboured:⁹But they that have gathered it shall eat it, and praise the LORD and they that have brought it together shall drink it in the courts of my holiness.¹⁰Go through, go through the gates prepare ye the way of the people cast up, cast up the highway gather out the stones lift up a standard for the people.¹¹Behold, the LORD hath proclaimed unto the end of the world, Say ye to the daughter of Zion, Behold, thy salvation cometh behold, his reward is with him, and his work before him.¹²And they shall call them, The holy people, The redeemed of the LORD: and thou shalt be called, Sought out, A city not forsaken.

CHAPTER 63 ¹Who is this that cometh from Edom, with dyed garments from Bozrah? this that is glorious in his apparel, travelling in the greatness of his strength? I that speak in righteousness, mighty to save.²Wherefore art thou red in thine apparel, and thy garments like him that treadeth in the winefat?³I have trodden the winepress alone and of the people there was none with me: for I will tread them in mine anger, and trample them in my fury and their blood shall be sprinkled upon my garments, and I will stain all my raiment.⁴For the day of vengeance is in mine heart, and the year of my redeemed is come.⁵And I looked, and there was none to help and I wondered that there was none to uphold: therefore mine own arm brought salvation unto me and my fury, it upheld me.⁶And I will tread down the people in mine anger, and make them drunk in my fury, and I will bring down their strength to the earth.⁷I will mention the lovingkindnesses of the LORD, and the praises of the LORD, according to all that the LORD hath bestowed on us, and the great goodness toward the house of Israel, which he hath bestowed on them according to his mercies, and according to the multitude of his lovingkindnesses.⁸For he said, Surely they are my people, children that will not lie: so he was their Saviour.⁹In all their affliction he was afflicted, and the angel of his presence saved them: in his love and in his pity he redeemed them and he bare them, and carried them all the days of old.¹⁰But they rebelled, and vexed his holy Spirit: therefore he was turned to be their enemy, and he fought against them.¹¹Then he remembered the days of old, Moses, and his people, saying, Where is he that brought them up out of the sea with the shepherd of his flock? where is he that put his holy Spirit within him?¹² That led them by the right hand of Moses with his glorious arm, dividing the water before them, to make himself an everlasting name?¹³ That led them through the deep, as an horse in the wilderness, that they should not stumble?¹⁴ As a beast goeth down into the valley, the Spirit of the LORD caused him to rest: so didst thou lead thy people, to make thyself a glorious name.¹⁵ Look down from heaven, and behold from the habitation of thy holiness and of thy glory: where is thy zeal and thy strength, the sounding of thy bowels and of thy mercies toward me? are they restrained?¹⁶ Doubtless thou art our father, though Abraham be ignorant of us, and Israel acknowledge us not: thou, O LORD, art our father, our redeemer thy name is from everlasting.¹⁷ O LORD, why hast thou made us to err from thy ways, and hardened our heart from thy fear? Return for thy servants' sake, the tribes of thine inheritance.¹⁸ The people of thy holiness have possessed it but a little while: our adversaries have trodden down thy sanctuary.¹⁹ We are thine: thou never barest rule over them they were not called by

CHAPTER 64 ¹Oh that thou wouldest rend the heavens, that thou wouldest come down, that the mountains might flow down at thy presence,² As when the melting fire burneth, the fire causeth the waters to boil, to make thy name known to thine adversaries, that the nations may tremble at thy presence!³ When thou didst terrible things which we looked not for, thou camest down, the mountains flowed down at thy presence.⁴ For since the beginning of the world men have not heard, nor perceived by the ear, neither hath the eye seen, O God, beside thee, what he hath prepared for him that waiteth for him.⁵ Thou meetest him that rejoiceth and worketh righteousness, those that remember thee in thy ways: behold, thou art wroth for we have sinned: in those is continuance, and we shall be saved.⁶ But we are all as an unclean thing, and all our righteousnesses are as filthy rags and we all do fade as a leaf and our iniquities, like the wind, have taken us away.⁷ And there is none that calleth upon thy name, that stirreth up himself to take hold of thee: for thou hast hid thy face from us, and hast consumed us, because of our iniquities.⁸But now, O LORD, thou art our father we are the clay, and thou our potter and we all are the work of thy hand.⁹Be not wroth very sore, O LORD, neither remember iniquity for ever: behold, see, we beseech thee, we are all thy people.¹⁰Thy holy cities are a wilderness, Zion is a wilderness, Jerusalem a desolation.¹¹Our holy and our beautiful house, where our fathers praised thee, is burned up with fire: and all our pleasant things are laid waste.¹²Wilt thou refrain thyself for these things, O LORD? wilt thou hold thy peace, and afflict us very sore?

CHAPTER 65 ¹I am sought of them that asked not for me I am found of them that sought me not: I said, Behold me, behold me, unto a nation that was not called by my name.²I have spread out my hands all the day unto a rebellious people, which walketh in a way that was not good, after their own thoughts³A people that provoketh me to anger continually to my face that sacrificeth in gardens, and burneth incense upon altars of brick⁴Which remain among the graves, and lodge in the monuments, which eat swine's flesh, and broth of abominable things is in their vessels⁵Which say, Stand by thyself, come not near to me for I am holier than thou. These are a smoke in my nose, a fire that burneth all the day.⁶Behold, it is written before me: I will not keep silence, but will recompense, even recompense into their bosom,⁷Your iniquities, and the iniquities of your fathers together, saith the LORD, which have burned incense upon the mountains, and blasphemed me upon the hills: therefore will I measure their former work into their bosom.⁸Thus saith the LORD, As the new wine is found in the cluster, and one saith, Destroy it not for a blessing is in it: so will I do for my servants' sakes, that I may not destroy them all.⁹And I will bring forth a seed out of Jacob, and out of Judah an inheritor of my mountains: and mine elect shall inherit it, and my servants shall dwell there.¹⁰And Sharon shall be a fold of flocks, and the valley of Achor a place for the herds to lie down in, for my people that have sought me.¹¹But ye are they that forsake the LORD, that forget my holy mountain, that prepare a table for that troop, and that furnish the drink offering unto that number.¹²Therefore will I number you to the sword, and ye shall all bow down to the slaughter:

because when I called, ye did not answer when I spake, ye did not hear but did evil before mine eyes, and did choose that wherein I delighted not.¹³Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, my servants shall eat, but ye shall be hungry: behold, my servants shall drink, but ye shall be thirsty: behold, my servants shall rejoice, but ye shall be ashamed:¹⁴Behold, my servants shall sing for joy of heart, but ye shall cry for sorrow of heart, and shall howl for vexation of spirit.¹⁵And ye shall leave your name for a curse unto my chosen: for the Lord GOD shall slay thee, and call his servants by another name:¹⁶That he who blesseth himself in the earth shall bless himself in the God of truth and he that sweareth in the earth shall swear by the God of truth because the former troubles are forgotten, and because they are hid from mine eyes.¹⁷For, behold, I create new heavens and a new earth: and the former shall not be remembered, nor come into mind.¹⁸But be ye glad and rejoice for ever in that which I create: for, behold, I create Jerusalem a rejoicing, and her people a joy.¹⁹And I will rejoice in Jerusalem, and joy in my people: and the voice of weeping shall be no more heard in her, nor the voice of crying.²⁰There shall be no more thence an infant of days, nor an old man that hath not filled his days: for the child shall die an hundred years old but the sinner being an hundred years old shall be accursed.²¹And they shall build houses, and inhabit them and they shall plant vineyards, and eat the fruit of them.²²They shall not build, and another inhabit they shall not plant, and another eat: for as the days of a tree are the days of my people, and mine elect shall long enjoy the work of their hands.²³They shall not labour in vain, nor bring forth for trouble for they are the seed of the blessed of the LORD, and their offspring with them.²⁴And it shall come to pass, that before they call, I will answer and while they are yet speaking, I will hear.²⁵The wolf and the lamb shall feed together, and the lion shall eat straw like the bullock: and dust shall be the serpent's meat. They shall not hurt nor destroy in all my holy mountain, saith the LORD.

CHAPTER 66 ¹Thus saith the LORD, The heaven is my throne, and the earth is my footstool: where is the house that ye build unto me? and where is the place of my rest?²For all those things hath mine hand made, and those things have been, saith the LORD: but to this man will I look, even to him that is poor and of a contrite spirit, and trembleth at my word.³He that killeth an ox is as if he slew a man he that sacrificeth a lamb, as if he cut off a dog's neck he that offereth an oblation, as if he offered swine's blood he that burneth incense, as if he blessed an idol. Yea, they have chosen their own ways, and their soul delighteth in their abominations.⁴I also will choose their delusions, and will bring their fears upon them because when I called, none did answer when I spake, they did not hear: but they did evil before mine eyes, and chose that in which I delighted not.⁵Hear the word of the LORD, ye that tremble at his word your brethren that hated you, that cast you out for my name's sake, said, Let the LORD be glorified: but he shall appear to your joy, and they shall be ashamed.⁶A voice of noise from the city, a voice from the temple, a voice of the LORD that rendereth recompence to his enemies.⁷Before she travailed, she brought forth before her pain came, she was delivered of a man child.⁸Who hath heard such a thing? who hath seen such things? Shall the earth be made to bring forth in one day? or shall a nation be born at once? for as soon as Zion travailed, she brought forth her children.⁹Shall I bring to the birth, and not cause to bring forth? saith the LORD: shall I cause to bring forth, and shut the womb? saith thy God.¹⁰Rejoice ye with Jerusalem, and be glad with her, all ye that love her: rejoice for joy with her, all ye that mourn for her:¹¹That ye may suck, and be satisfied with the breasts of her consolations that ye may milk out, and be delighted with the abundance of her glory.¹²For thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will extend peace to her like a river, and the glory of the Gentiles like a flowing stream: then shall ye suck, ye shall be borne upon her sides, and be dandled upon her knees.¹³As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you and ye shall be comforted in Jerusalem.¹⁴And when ye see this, your heart shall rejoice, and your bones shall flourish like an herb: and the hand of the LORD shall be known toward his servants, and his indignation toward his enemies.¹⁵For, behold, the LORD will come with fire, and with his chariots like a whirlwind, to render his anger with fury, and his rebuke with flames of fire.¹⁶For by fire and by his sword will the LORD plead with all flesh: and the slain of the LORD shall be many.¹⁷They that sanctify themselves, and purify themselves in the gardens behind one tree in the midst, eating swine's flesh, and the abomination, and the mouse, shall be consumed together, saith the LORD.¹⁸For I know their works and their thoughts: it shall come, that I will gather all nations and tongues and they shall come, and see my glory.¹⁹And I will set a sign among them, and I will send those that escape of them unto the nations, to Tarshish, Pul, and Lud, that draw the bow, to Tubal, and Javan, to the isles afar off, that have not heard my fame, neither have seen my glory and they shall declare my glory among the Gentiles.²⁰And they shall bring all your brethren for an offering unto the LORD out of all nations upon horses, and in chariots, and in litters, and upon mules, and upon swift beasts, to my holy mountain Jerusalem, saith the LORD, as the children of Israel bring an offering in a clean vessel into the house of the LORD.²¹And I will also take of them for priests and for Levites, saith the LORD.²²For as the new heavens and the new earth, which I will make, shall remain before me, saith the LORD, so shall your seed and your name remain.²³And it shall come to pass, that from one new moon to another, and from one sabbath to another, shall all flesh come to worship before me, saith the LORD.²⁴And they shall go forth, and look upon the carcasses of the men that have transgressed against me: for their worm shall not die, neither shall their fire be quenched and they shall be an abhorring unto all flesh.

JEREMIAH

CHAPTER 1 ¹The words of Jeremiah the son of Hilkiah, of the priests that were in Anathoth in the land of Benjamin:²To whom the word of the LORD came in the days of Josiah the son of Amon king of Judah, in the thirteenth year of his reign.³It came also in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, unto the end of the eleventh year of Zedekiah the son of Josiah king of Judah, unto the carrying away of Jerusalem captive in the fifth month.⁴Then the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,⁵Before I formed thee in the belly I knew thee and before thou camest forth out of the womb I sanctified thee, and I ordained thee a prophet unto the nations.⁶Then said I, Ah, Lord GOD! behold, I cannot speak: for I am a child.⁷But the LORD said unto me, Say not, I am a child: for thou shalt go to all that I shall send thee, and whatsoever I command thee thou shalt speak.⁸Be not afraid of their faces: for I am with thee to deliver thee, saith the LORD.⁹Then the LORD put forth his hand, and touched my mouth. And the LORD said unto me, Behold, I have put my words in thy mouth.¹⁰See, I have this day set thee over the nations and over the kingdoms, to root out, and to pull down, and to destroy, and to throw down, to build, and to plant.¹¹Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, Jeremiah, what seest thou? And I said, I see a rod of an almond tree.¹²Then said the LORD unto me, Thou hast well seen: for I will hasten my word to perform it.¹³And the word of the LORD came unto me the second time, saying, What seest thou? And I said, I see a seething pot and the face thereof is toward the north.¹⁴Then the LORD said unto me, Out of the north an evil shall break forth upon all the inhabitants of the land.¹⁵For, lo, I will call all the families of the kingdoms of the north, saith the LORD and they shall come, and they shall set every one his throne at the entering of the gates of Jerusalem, and against all the walls thereof round about, and against all the cities of Judah.¹⁶And I will utter my judgments against them touching all their wickedness, who have forsaken me, and have burned incense unto other gods, and worshipped the works of their own hands.¹⁷Thou therefore gird up thy loins, and arise, and speak unto them all that I command thee: be not dismayed at their faces, lest I confound thee before them.¹⁸For, behold, I have made thee this day a defenced city, and an iron pillar, and brasen walls against the whole land, against the kings of Judah, against the princes thereof, against the priests thereof, and against the people of the land.¹⁹And they shall fight against thee but they shall not prevail against thee for I am with thee, saith the LORD, to deliver thee.

CHAPTER 2 ¹Moreover the word of the LORD came to me, saying,²Go and cry in the ears of Jerusalem, saying, Thus saith the LORD I remember thee, the kindness of thy youth, the love of thine espousals, when thou wentest after me in the wilderness, in a land that was not sown.³Israel was holiness unto the LORD, and the firstfruits of his increase: all that devour him shall offend evil shall come upon them, saith the LORD.⁴Hear ye the word of the LORD, O house of Jacob, and all the families of the house of Israel:⁵Thus saith the LORD, What iniquity have your fathers found in me, that they are gone far from me, and have walked after vanity, and are become vain?⁶Neither said they, Where is the LORD that brought us up out of the land of Egypt, that led us through the wilderness, through a land of deserts and of pits, through a land of drought, and of the shadow of death, through a land that no man passed through, and where no man dwelt?⁷And I brought you into a plentiful country, to eat the fruit thereof and the goodness thereof but when ye entered, ye defiled my land, and made mine heritage an abomination.⁸The priests said not, Where is the LORD? and they that handle the law knew me not: the pastors also transgressed against me, and the prophets prophesied by Baal, and walked after things that do not profit.⁹Wherefore I will yet plead with you, saith the LORD, and with your children's children will I plead.¹⁰For pass over the isles of Chittim, and see and send unto Kedar, and consider diligently, and see if there be such a thing.¹¹Hath a nation changed their gods, which are yet no gods? but my people have changed their glory for that which doth not profit.¹²Be astonished, O ye heavens, at this, and be horribly afraid, be ye very desolate, saith the LORD.¹³For my people have committed two evils they have forsaken me the fountain of living waters, and hewed them out cisterns, broken cisterns, that can hold no water.¹⁴Is Israel a servant? is he a homeborn slave? why is he spoiled?¹⁵The young lions roared upon him, and yelled, and they made his land waste: his cities are burned without inhabitant.¹⁶Also the children of Noph and Tahapanes have broken the crown of thy head.¹⁷Hast thou not procured this unto thyself, in that thou hast forsaken the LORD thy God, when he led thee by the way?¹⁸And now what hast thou to do in the way of Egypt, to drink the waters of Sihor? or what hast thou to do in the way of Assyria, to drink the waters of the river?¹⁹Thine own wickedness shall correct thee, and thy backslidings shall reprove thee: know therefore and see that it is an evil thing and bitter, that thou hast forsaken the LORD thy God, and that my fear is not in thee, saith the Lord GOD of hosts.²⁰For of old time I have broken thy yoke, and burst thy bands and thou saidst, I will not transgress when upon every high hill and under every green tree thou wanderest, playing the harlot.²¹Yet I had planted thee a noble vine, wholly a right seed: how then art thou turned into the degenerate plant of a strange vine unto me?²²For though thou wash thee with nitre, and take thee much soap, yet thine iniquity is marked before me, saith the Lord GOD.²³How canst thou say, I am not polluted, I have not gone after Baalim? see thy way in the valley, know what thou hast done: thou art a swift dromedary traversing her ways²⁴A wild ass used to the wilderness, that snuffeth up the wind at her pleasure in her occasion who can turn her away? all they that seek her will not weary themselves in her month they shall find her.²⁵Withhold thy foot from being unshod, and thy throat from thirst: but thou saidst, There is no hope: no for I have loved strangers, and after them will I go.²⁶As the thief is ashamed when he is found, so is the house of Israel ashamed they, their kings, their princes, and their priests, and their prophets,²⁷Saying to a stock, Thou art my father and to a stone, Thou hast brought me forth: for they have turned their back unto me, and not their face: but in the time of their trouble they will say, Arise, and save us.²⁸But where are thy gods that thou hast made thee? let them arise, if they can save thee in the time of thy trouble: for according to the number of thy cities are thy gods, O Judah.²⁹Wherefore will ye plead with me? ye all have transgressed against me, saith the LORD.³⁰In vain have I smitten your children they received no correction: your own sword hath devoured your prophets, like a destroying lion.³¹O generation, see ye the word of the LORD. Have I been a wilderness unto Israel? a land of darkness? wherefore say my people, We are lords we will come no more unto thee?³²Can a maid forget her ornaments, or a bride her attire? yet my people have forgotten me days without number.³³Why trimmest thou thy way to seek love? therefore hast thou also taught the wicked ones thy ways.³⁴Also in thy skirts is found the blood of the souls of the poor innocents: I have not found it by secret search, but upon all these.³⁵Yet thou sayest, Because I am innocent, surely his anger shall turn from me. Behold, I will plead with thee, because thou sayest, I have not sinned.³⁶Why gaddest thou about so much to change thy way? thou also shalt be ashamed of Egypt, as thou wast ashamed of Assyria.³⁷Yea, thou shalt go forth from him, and thine hands upon thine head: for the LORD hath rejected thy confidences, and thou shalt not prosper in them.

CHAPTER 3 ¹They say, If a man put away his wife, and she go from him, and become another man's, shall he return unto her again? shall not that land be greatly polluted? but thou hast played the harlot with many lovers yet return again to me, saith the LORD.²Lift up thine eyes unto the high places, and see where thou hast not been lien with. In the ways hast thou sat for them, as the Arabian in the wilderness and thou hast polluted the land with thy whoredoms and with thy wickedness.³Therefore the showers have been withholden, and there hath been no latter rain and thou hadst a whore's forehead, thou refusedst to be ashamed.⁴Wilt thou not from this time cry unto me, My father, thou art the guide of my youth?⁵Will he reserve his anger for ever? will he keep it to the end? Behold, thou hast spoken and done evil things as thou couldest.⁶The LORD said also unto me in the days of Josiah the king, Hast thou seen that which backsliding Israel hath done? she is gone up upon every high mountain and under every green tree, and there hath played the harlot.⁷And I said after she had done all these things, Turn thou unto me. But she returned not. And her treacherous sister Judah saw it.⁸And I saw, when for all the causes whereby backsliding Israel committed adultery I had put her away, and given her a bill of divorce yet her treacherous sister Judah feared not, but went and played the harlot also.⁹And it came to pass through the lightness of her whoredom, that she defiled the land, and committed adultery with stones and with stocks.¹⁰And yet for all this her treacherous sister Judah hath not turned unto me with her whole heart, but feignedly, saith the LORD.¹¹And the LORD said unto me, The backsliding Israel hath justified herself more than treacherous Judah.¹²Go and proclaim these words toward the north, and say, Return, thou backsliding Israel, saith the LORD and I will not cause mine anger to fall upon you: for I am merciful, saith the LORD, and I will not keep anger for ever.¹³Only acknowledge thine iniquity, that thou hast transgressed against the LORD thy God, and hast scattered thy ways to the strangers under every green tree, and ye have not obeyed my voice, saith the LORD.¹⁴Turn, O backsliding children, saith the LORD for I am married unto you: and I will take you one of a city, and two of a family, and I will bring you to Zion:¹⁵And I will give you pastors according to mine heart, which shall feed you with knowledge and understanding.¹⁶And it shall come to pass, when ye be multiplied and increased in the land, in those days, saith the LORD, they shall say no more, The ark of the covenant of the LORD: neither shall it come to mind: neither shall they remember it neither shall they visit it neither shall that be done any more.¹⁷At that time they shall call Jerusalem the throne of the LORD and all the nations shall be gathered unto it, to the name of the LORD, to Jerusalem: neither shall they walk any more after the imagination of their evil heart.¹⁸In those days the house of Judah shall walk with the house of Israel, and they shall come together out of the land of the north to the land that I have given for an inheritance unto your fathers.¹⁹But I said, How shall I put thee among the children, and give thee a pleasant land, a goodly heritage of the hosts of nations? and I said, Thou shalt call me, My father and shalt not turn away from me.²⁰Surely as a wife treacherously departeth from her husband, so have ye dealt treacherously with me, O house of Israel, saith the LORD.²¹A voice was heard upon the high places, weeping and supplications of the children of Israel: for they have perverted their way, and they have forgotten the LORD their God.²²Return, ye backsliding children, and I will heal your backslidings. Behold, we come unto thee for thou art the LORD our God.²³Truly in vain is salvation hoped for from the hills, and from the multitude of mountains: truly in the LORD our God is the salvation of Israel.²⁴For shame hath devoured the labour of our fathers from our youth their flocks and their herds, their sons and their daughters.²⁵We lie down in our shame, and our confusion covereth us: for we have sinned against the LORD our God, we and our fathers, from our youth even unto this day, and have not obeyed the voice of the LORD our God.

CHAPTER 4 ¹If thou wilt return, O Israel, saith the LORD, return unto me: and if thou wilt put away thine abominations out of my sight, then shalt thou not remove.²And thou shalt swear, The LORD liveth, in truth, in judgment, and in righteousness and the nations shall bless themselves in him, and in him shall they glory.³For thus saith the LORD to the men of Judah and Jerusalem, Break up your fallow ground, and sow not among thorns.⁴Circumcise yourselves to the LORD, and take away the foreskins of your heart, ye men of Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem: lest my fury come forth like fire, and burn that none can quench it, because of the evil of your doings.⁵Declare ye in Judah, and publish in Jerusalem and say, Blow ye the trumpet in the land: cry, gather together, and say, Assemble yourselves, and let us go into the defenced cities.⁶Set up the standard toward Zion: retire, stay not: for I will bring evil from the north, and a great destruction.⁷The lion is come up from his thicket, and the destroyer of the Gentiles is on his way he is gone forth from his place to make thy land desolate and thy cities shall be laid waste, without an inhabitant.⁸For this gird you with sackcloth, lament and howl: for the fierce anger of the LORD is not turned back from us.⁹And it shall come to pass at that day, saith the LORD, that the heart of the king shall perish, and the heart of the princes and the priests shall be astonished, and the prophets shall wonder.¹⁰Then said I, Ah, Lord GOD! surely thou hast greatly deceived this people and Jerusalem, saying, Ye shall have peace whereas the sword reacheth unto the soul.¹¹At that time shall it be said to this people and to Jerusalem, A dry wind of the high places in the wilderness toward the daughter of my people, not to fan, nor to cleanse,¹²Even a full wind from those places shall come unto me: now also will I give sentence against them.¹³Behold, he shall come up as clouds, and his chariots shall be as a whirlwind: his horses are swifter than eagles. Woe unto us! for we are spoiled.¹⁴O Jerusalem, wash thine heart from wickedness, that thou mayest be saved. How long shall thy vain thoughts lodge within thee?¹⁵For a voice declareth from Dan, and publisheth affliction from mount Ephraim.¹⁶Make ye mention to the nations behold, publish against Jerusalem, that watchers come from a far country, and give out their voice against the cities of Judah.¹⁷As keepers of a field, are they against her round about because she hath been rebellious against me, saith the LORD.¹⁸Thy way and thy doings have procured these things unto thee this is thy wickedness, because it is bitter, because it reacheth unto thine heart.¹⁹My bowels, my bowels! I am pained at my very heart my heart maketh a noise in me I cannot hold my peace, because thou hast heard, O my soul, the sound of the trumpet, the alarm of war.²⁰Destruction upon destruction is cried for the whole land is spoiled: suddenly are my tents spoiled, and my curtains in a moment.²¹How long shall I see the standard, and hear the sound of the trumpet?²²For my people is foolish, they have not known me they are sottish children, and they have none understanding: they are wise to do evil, but to do good they have no knowledge.²³I beheld the earth, and, lo, it was without form, and void and the heavens, and they had no light.²⁴I beheld the mountains, and, lo, they trembled, and all the hills moved lightly.²⁵I beheld, and, lo, there was no man, and all the birds of the heavens were fled.²⁶I beheld, and, lo, the fruitful place was a wilderness, and all the cities thereof were broken down at the presence of the LORD, and by his fierce anger.²⁷For thus hath the LORD said, The whole land shall be desolate yet will I not make a full end.²⁸For this shall the earth mourn, and the heavens above be black: because I have spoken it, I have purposed it, and will not repent, neither will I turn back from it.²⁹The whole city shall flee for the noise of the horsemen and bowmen they shall go into thickets, and climb up upon the rocks: every city shall be forsaken, and not a man dwell therein.³⁰And when thou art spoiled, what wilt thou do? Though thou clothest thyself with crimson, though thou deckest thee with ornaments of gold, though thou rentest thy face with painting, in vain shalt thou make thyself fair thy lovers will despise thee, they will seek thy life.³¹For I have heard a voice as of a woman in travail, and the anguish as of her that bringeth forth her first child, the voice of the daughter of Zion, that bewaileth herself, that spreadeth her hands, saying, Woe is me now! for my soul is wearied because of murderers.

CHAPTER 5 ¹Run ye to and fro through the streets of Jerusalem, and see now, and know, and seek in the broad places thereof, if ye can find a man, if there be any that executeth judgment, that seeketh the truth and I will pardon it.²And though they say, The LORD liveth surely they swear falsely.³O LORD, are not thine eyes upon the truth? thou hast stricken them, but they have not grieved thou hast consumed them, but they have refused to receive correction: they have made their faces harder than a rock they have refused to return.⁴Therefore I said, Surely these are poor they are foolish: for they know not the way of the LORD, nor the judgment of their God.⁵I will get me unto the great men, and will speak unto them for they have known the way of the LORD, and the judgment of their God: but these have altogether broken the yoke, and burst the bonds.⁶Wherefore a lion out of the forest shall slay them, and a wolf of the evenings shall spoil them, a leopard shall watch over their cities: every one that goeth out thence shall be torn in pieces: because their transgressions are many, and their backslidings are increased.⁷How shall I pardon thee for this? thy children have forsaken me, and sworn by them that are no gods: when I had fed them to the full, they then committed adultery, and assembled themselves by troops in the harlots' houses.⁸They were as fed horses in the morning: every one neighed after his neighbour's wife.⁹Shall I not visit for these things? saith the LORD: and shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?¹⁰Go ye up upon her walls, and destroy but make not a full end: take away her battlements for they are not the LORD's.¹¹For the house of Israel and the house of Judah have dealt very treacherously against me, saith the LORD.¹²They have belied the LORD, and said, It is not he neither shall evil come upon us neither shall we see sword nor famine.¹³And the prophets shall become wind, and the word is not in them: thus shall it be done unto them.¹⁴Wherefore thus saith the LORD God of hosts, Because ye speak this word, behold, I will make my words in thy mouth fire, and this people wood, and it shall devour them.¹⁵Lo, I will bring a nation upon you from far, O house of Israel, saith the LORD: it is a mighty nation, it is an ancient nation, a nation whose language thou knowest not, neither understandest what they say.¹⁶Their quiver is as an open sepulchre, they are all mighty men.¹⁷And they shall eat up thine harvest, and thy bread, which thy sons and thy daughters should eat: they shall eat up thy flocks and thine herds: they shall eat up thy vines and thy fig trees: they shall impoverish thy fenced cities, wherein thou trustedst, with the sword.¹⁸Nevertheless in those days, saith the LORD, I will not make a full end with you.¹⁹And it shall come to pass, when ye shall say, Wherefore doeth the LORD our God all these things unto us? then shalt thou answer them, Like as ye have forsaken me, and served strange gods in your land, so shall ye serve strangers in a land that is not yours.²⁰Declare this in the house of Jacob, and publish it in Judah, saying,²¹Hear now this, O foolish people, and without understanding which have eyes, and see not which have ears, and hear not:²²Fear ye not me? saith the LORD: will ye not tremble at my presence, which have placed the sand for the bound of the sea by a perpetual decree, that it cannot pass it: and though the waves thereof toss themselves, yet can they not prevail though they roar, yet can they not pass over it?²³But this people hath a revolting and a rebellious heart they are revolted and gone.²⁴Neither say they in their heart, Let us now fear the LORD our God, that giveth rain, both the former and the latter, in his season: he reserveth unto us the appointed weeks of the harvest.²⁵Your iniquities have turned away these things, and your sins have withholden good things from you.²⁶For among my people are found wicked men: they lay wait, as he that setteth snares they set a trap, they catch men.²⁷As a cage is full of birds, so are their houses full of deceit: therefore they are become great, and waxen rich.²⁸They are waxen fat, they shine: yea, they overpass the deeds of the wicked: they judge not the cause, the cause of the fatherless, yet they prosper and the right of the needy do they not judge.²⁹Shall I not visit for these things? saith the LORD: shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?³⁰A wonderful and horrible thing is committed in the land³¹The prophets prophesy falsely, and the priests bear rule by their means and my people love to have it so: and what will ye do in the end thereof?

CHAPTER 6 ¹O ye children of Benjamin, gather yourselves to flee out of the midst of Jerusalem, and blow the trumpet in Tekoa, and set up a sign of fire in Beth-haccerem: for evil appeareth out of the north, and great destruction.²I have likened the daughter of Zion to a comely and delicate woman.³The shepherds with their flocks shall come unto her they shall pitch their tents against her round about they shall feed every one in his place.⁴Prepare ye war against her arise, and let us go up at noon. Woe unto us! for the day goeth away, for the shadows of the evening are stretched out.⁵Arise, and let us go by night, and let us destroy her palaces.⁶For thus hath the LORD of hosts said, Hew ye down trees, and cast a mount against Jerusalem: this is the city to be visited she is wholly oppression in the midst of her.⁷As a fountain casteth out her waters, so she casteth out her wickedness: violence and spoil is heard in her before me continually is grief and wounds.⁸Be thou instructed, O Jerusalem, lest my soul depart from thee lest I make thee desolate, a land not inhabited.⁹Thus saith the LORD of hosts, They shall thoroughly glean the remnant of Israel as a vine: turn back thine hand as a grapegatherer into the baskets.¹⁰To whom shall I speak, and give warning, that they may hear? behold, their ear is uncircumcised, and they cannot hearken: behold, the word of the LORD is unto them a reproach they have no delight in it.¹¹Therefore I am full of the fury of the LORD I am weary with holding in: I will pour it out upon the children abroad, and upon the assembly of young men together: for even the husband with the wife shall be taken, the aged with him that is full of days.¹²And their houses shall be turned unto others, with their fields and wives together: for I will stretch out my hand upon the inhabitants of the land, saith the LORD.¹³For from the least of them even unto the greatest of them every one is given to covetousness and from the prophet even unto the priest every one dealeth falsely.¹⁴They have healed also the hurt of the daughter of my people slightly, saying, Peace, peace when there is no peace.¹⁵ Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not at all ashamed, neither could they blush: therefore they shall fall among them that fall: at the time that I visit them they shall be cast down, saith the LORD.¹⁶ Thus saith the LORD, Stand ye in the ways, and see, and ask for the old paths, where is the good way, and walk therein, and ye shall find rest for your souls. But they said, We will not walk therein.¹⁷ Also I set watchmen over you, saying, Harken to the sound of the trumpet. But they said, We will not hearken.¹⁸ Therefore hear, ye nations, and know, O congregation, what is among them.¹⁹ Hear, O earth: behold, I will bring evil upon this people, even the fruit of their thoughts, because they have not hearkened unto my words, nor to my law, but rejected it.²⁰ To what purpose cometh there to me incense from Sheba, and the sweet cane from a far country? your burnt offerings are not acceptable, nor your sacrifices sweet unto me.²¹ Therefore thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will lay stumblingblocks before this people, and the fathers and the sons together shall fall upon them the neighbour and his friend shall perish.²² Thus saith the LORD, Behold, a people cometh from the north country, and a great nation shall be raised from the sides of the earth.²³ They shall lay hold on bow and spear they are cruel, and have no mercy their voice roareth like the sea and they ride upon horses, set in array as men for war against thee, O daughter of Zion.²⁴ We have heard the fame thereof: our hands wax feeble: anguish hath taken hold of us, and pain, as of a woman in travail.²⁵ Go not forth into the field, nor walk by the way for the sword of the enemy and fear is on every side.²⁶ O daughter of my people, gird thee with sackcloth, and wallow thyself in ashes: make thee mourning, as for an only son, most bitter lamentation: for the spoiler shall suddenly come upon us.²⁷ I have set thee for a tower and a fortress among my people, that thou mayest know and try their way.²⁸ They are all grievous revolters, walking with slanders: they are brass and iron they are all corrupters.²⁹ The bellows are burned, the lead is consumed of the fire the founder melteth in vain: for the wicked are not plucked away.³⁰ Reprobate silver shall men call them, because the LORD hath rejected them.

CHAPTER 7 ¹The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying,²Stand in the gate of the LORD's house, and proclaim there this word, and say, Hear the word of the LORD, all ye of Judah, that enter in at these gates to worship the LORD.³Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Amend your ways and your doings, and I will cause you to dwell in this place.⁴Trust ye not in lying words, saying, The temple of the LORD, The temple of the LORD, The temple of the LORD, are these.⁵For if ye thoroughly amend your ways and your doings if ye thoroughly execute judgment between a man and his neighbour⁶If ye oppress not the stranger, the fatherless, and the widow, and shed not innocent blood in this place, neither walk after other gods to your hurt:⁷Then will I cause you to dwell in this place, in the land that I gave to your fathers, for ever and ever.⁸Behold, ye trust in lying words, that cannot profit.⁹Will ye steal, murder, and commit adultery, and swear falsely, and burn incense unto Baal, and walk after other gods whom ye know not¹⁰And come and stand before me in this house, which is called by my name, and say, We are delivered to do all these abominations?¹¹Is this house, which is called by my name, become a den of robbers in your eyes? Behold, even I have seen it, saith the LORD.¹²But go ye now unto my place which was in Shiloh, where I set my name at the first, and see what I did to it for the wickedness of my people Israel.¹³And now, because ye have done all these works, saith the LORD, and I spake unto you, rising up early and speaking, but ye heard not and I called you, but ye answered not¹⁴Therefore will I do unto this house, which is called by my name, wherein ye trust, and unto the place which I gave to you and to your fathers, as I have done to Shiloh.¹⁵And I will cast you out of my sight, as I have cast out all your brethren, even the whole seed of Ephraim.¹⁶Therefore pray not thou for this people, neither lift up cry nor prayer for them, neither make intercession to me: for I will not hear thee.¹⁷Seest thou not what they do in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem?¹⁸The children gather wood, and the fathers kindle the fire, and the women knead their dough, to make cakes to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto other gods, that they may provoke me to anger.¹⁹Do they provoke me to anger? saith the LORD: do they not provoke themselves to the confusion of their own faces?²⁰Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD Behold, mine anger and my fury shall be poured out upon this place, upon man, and upon beast, and upon the trees of the field, and upon the fruit of the ground and it shall burn, and shall not be quenched.²¹Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel Put your burnt offerings unto your sacrifices, and eat flesh.²²For I spake not unto your fathers, nor commanded them in the day that I brought them out of the land of Egypt, concerning burnt offerings or sacrifices:²³But this thing commanded I them, saying, Obey my voice, and I will be your God, and ye shall be my people: and walk ye in all the ways that I have commanded you, that it may be well unto you.²⁴But they hearkened not, nor inclined their ear, but walked in the counsels and in the imagination of their evil heart, and went backward, and not forward.²⁵Since the day that your fathers came forth out of the land of Egypt unto this day I have even sent unto you all my servants the prophets, daily rising up early and sending them:²⁶Yet they hearkened not unto me, nor inclined their ear, but hardened their neck: they did worse than their fathers.²⁷Therefore thou shalt speak all these words unto them but they will not hearken to thee: thou shalt also call unto them but they will not answer thee.²⁸But thou shalt say unto them, This is a nation that obeyeth not the voice of the LORD their God, nor receiveth correction: truth is perished, and is cut off from their mouth.²⁹Cut off thine hair, O Jerusalem, and cast it away, and take up a lamentation on high places for the LORD hath rejected and forsaken the generation of his wrath.³⁰For the children of Judah have done evil in my sight, saith the LORD: they have set their abominations in the house which is called by my name, to pollute it.³¹And they have built the high places of Tophet, which is in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to burn their sons and their daughters in the fire which I commanded them not, neither came it into my heart.³²Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that it shall no more be called Tophet, nor the valley of the son of Hinnom, but the valley of slaughter: for they shall bury in Tophet, till there be no place.³³And the carcasses of this people shall be meat for the fowls of the heaven, and for the beasts of the earth and none shall fray them away.³⁴Then will I cause to cease from the cities of Judah, and from the streets of Jerusalem, the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride: for the land shall be desolate.

CHAPTER 8 ¹At that time, saith the LORD, they shall bring out the bones of the kings of Judah, and the bones of his princes, and the bones of the priests, and the bones of the prophets, and the bones of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, out of their graves:²And they shall spread them before the sun, and the moon, and all the host of heaven, whom they have loved, and whom they have served, and after whom they have walked, and whom they have sought, and whom they have worshipped: they shall not be gathered, nor be buried they shall be for dung upon the face of the earth.³And death shall be chosen rather than life by all the residue of them that remain of this evil family, which remain in all the places whither I have driven them, saith the LORD of hosts.⁴Moreover thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD Shall they fall, and not arise? shall he turn away, and not return?⁵Why then is this people of Jerusalem slidden back by a perpetual backsliding? they hold fast deceit, they refuse to return.⁶I hearkened and heard, but they spake not aright: no man repented him of his wickedness, saying, What have I done? every one turned to his course, as the horse rusheth into the battle.⁷Yea, the stork in the heaven knoweth her appointed times and the turtle and the crane and the swallow observe the time of their coming but my people know not the judgment of the LORD.⁸How do ye say, We are wise, and the law of the LORD is with us? Lo, certainly in vain made he it the pen of the scribes is in vain.⁹The wise men are ashamed, they are dismayed and taken: lo, they have rejected the word of the LORD and what wisdom is in them?¹⁰Therefore will I give their wives unto others, and their fields to them that shall inherit them: for every one from the least even unto the greatest is given to covetousness, from the prophet even unto the priest every one dealeth falsely.¹¹For they have healed the hurt of the daughter of my people slightly, saying, Peace, peace when there is no peace.¹²Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not at all ashamed, neither could they blush: therefore shall they fall among them that fall: in the time of their visitation they shall be cast down, saith the LORD.¹³I will surely consume them, saith the LORD: there shall be no grapes on the vine, nor figs on the fig tree, and the leaf shall fade and the things that I have given them shall pass away from them.¹⁴Why do we sit still? assemble yourselves, and let us enter into the defenced cities, and let us be silent there: for the LORD our God hath put us to silence, and given us water of gall to drink, because we have sinned against the LORD.¹⁵We looked for peace, but no good came and for a time of health, and behold trouble!¹⁶The snorting of his horses was heard from Dan: the whole land trembled at the sound of the neighing of his strong ones for they are come, and have devoured the land, and all that is in it the city, and those that dwell therein.¹⁷For, behold, I will send serpents, cockatrices, among you, which will not be charmed, and they shall bite you, saith the LORD.¹⁸When I would comfort myself against sorrow, my heart is faint in me.¹⁹Behold the voice of the cry of the daughter of my people because of them that dwell in a far country: Is not the LORD in Zion? is not her king in her? Why have they provoked me to anger with their graven images, and with strange vanities?²⁰The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and we are not saved.²¹For the hurt of the daughter of my people am I hurt I am black astonishment hath taken hold on me.²²Is there no balm in Gilead is there no physician there? why then is not the health of the daughter of my people recovered?

CHAPTER 9 ¹Oh that my head were waters, and mine eyes a fountain of tears, that I might weep day and night for the slain of the daughter of my people!²Oh that I had in the wilderness a lodging place of wayfaring men that I might leave my people, and go from them! for they be all adulterers, an assembly of treacherous men.³And they bend their tongues like their bow for lies: but they are not valiant for the truth upon the earth for they proceed from evil to evil, and they know not me, saith the LORD.⁴Take ye heed every one of his neighbour, and trust ye not in any brother: for every brother will utterly supplant, and every neighbour will walk with slanders.⁵And they will deceive every one his neighbour, and will not speak the truth: they have taught their tongue to speak lies, and weary themselves to commit iniquity.⁶Thine habitation is in the midst of deceit through deceit they refuse to know me, saith the LORD.⁷Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, I will melt them, and try them for how shall I do for the daughter of my people?⁸Their tongue is as an arrow shot out it speaketh deceit: one speaketh peaceably to his neighbour with his mouth, but in heart he layeth his wait.⁹Shall I not visit them for these things? saith the LORD: shall not my soul be avenged on such a nation as this?¹⁰For the mountains will I take up a weeping and wailing, and for the habitations of the wilderness a lamentation, because they are burned up, so that none can pass through them neither can men hear the voice of the cattle both the fowl of the heavens and the beast are fled they are gone.¹¹And I will make Jerusalem heaps, and a den of dragons and I will make the cities of Judah desolate, without an inhabitant.¹²Who is the wise man, that may understand this? and who is he to whom the mouth of the LORD hath spoken, that he may declare it, for what the land perisheth and is burned up like a wilderness, that none passeth through?¹³And the LORD saith, Because they have forsaken my law which I set before them, and have not obeyed my voice, neither walked therein¹⁴But have walked after the imagination of their own heart, and after Baalim, which their fathers taught them:¹⁵Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel Behold, I will feed them, even this people, with wormwood, and give them water of gall to drink.¹⁶I will scatter them also among the heathen, whom neither they nor their fathers have known: and I will send a sword after them, till I have consumed them.¹⁷Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Consider ye, and call for the mourning women, that they may come and send for cunning women, that they may come:¹⁸And let them make haste, and take up a wailing for us, that our eyes may run down with tears, and our eyelids gush out with waters.¹⁹For a voice of wailing is heard out of Zion, How are we spoiled! we are greatly confounded, because we have forsaken the land, because our dwellings have cast us out.²⁰Yet hear the word of the LORD, O ye women, and let your ear receive the word of his mouth, and teach your daughters wailing, and every one her neighbour lamentation.²¹For death is come up into our windows, and is entered into our palaces, to cut off the children from without, and the young men from the streets.²²Speak, Thus saith the LORD, Even the carcases of men shall fall as dung upon the open field, and as the handful after the harvestman, and none shall gather them.²³Thus saith the LORD, Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, neither let the mighty man glory in his might, let not the rich man glory in his riches:²⁴But let him that glorieth glory in this, that he understandeth and knoweth me, that I am the LORD which exercise lovingkindness, judgment, and righteousness, in the earth: for in these things I delight, saith the LORD.²⁵Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will punish all them which are circumcised with the uncircumcised²⁶Egypt, and Judah, and Edom, and the children of Ammon, and Moab, and all that are in the utmost corners, that dwell in the wilderness: for all these nations are uncircumcised, and all the house of Israel are uncircumcised in the heart.

CHAPTER 10 ¹Hear ye the word which the LORD speaketh unto you, O house of Israel:²Thus saith the LORD, Learn not the way of the heathen, and be not dismayed at the signs of heaven for the heathen are dismayed at them.³For the customs of the people are vain: for one cutteth a tree out of the forest, the work of the hands of the workman, with the axe.⁴They deck it with silver and with gold they fasten it with nails and with hammers, that it move not.⁵They are upright as the palm tree, but speak not: they must needs be borne, because they cannot go. Be not afraid of them for they cannot do evil, neither also is it in them to do good.⁶Forasmuch as there is none like unto thee, O LORD thou art great, and thy name is great in might.⁷Who would not fear thee, O King of nations? for to thee doth it appertain: forasmuch as among all the wise men of the nations, and in all their kingdoms, there is none like unto thee.⁸But they are altogether brutish and foolish: the stock is a doctrine of vanities.⁹Silver spread into plates is brought from Tarshish, and gold from Uphaz, the work of the workman, and of the hands of the founder: blue and purple is their clothing: they are all the work of cunning men.¹⁰But the LORD is the true God, he is the living God, and an everlasting king: at his wrath the earth shall tremble, and the nations shall not be able to abide his indignation.¹¹ Thus shall ye say unto them, The gods that have not made the heavens and the earth, even they shall perish from the earth, and from under these heavens.¹² He hath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heavens by his discretion.¹³ When he uttereth his voice, there is a multitude of waters in the heavens, and he causeth the vapours to ascend from the ends of the earth he maketh lightnings with rain, and bringeth forth the wind out of his treasures.¹⁴ Every man is brutish in his knowledge: every founder is confounded by the graven image: for his molten image is falsehood, and there is no breath in them.¹⁵ They are vanity, and the work of errors: in the time of their visitation they shall perish.¹⁶ The portion of Jacob is not like them: for he is the former of all things and Israel is the rod of his inheritance: The LORD of hosts is his name.¹⁷ Gather up thy wares out of the land, O inhabitant of the fortress.¹⁸ For thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will sling out the inhabitants of the land at this once, and will distress them, that they may find it so.¹⁹ Woe is me for my hurt! my wound is grievous: but I said, Truly this is a grief, and I must bear it.²⁰ My tabernacle is spoiled, and all my cords are broken: my children are gone forth of me, and they are not: there is none to stretch forth my tent any more, and to set up my curtains.²¹ For the pastors are become brutish, and have not sought the LORD: therefore they shall not prosper, and all their flocks shall be scattered.²² Behold, the noise of the bruit is come, and a great commotion out of the north country, to make the cities of Judah desolate, and a den of dragons.²³ O LORD, I know that the way of man is not in himself: it is not in man that walketh to direct his steps.²⁴ O LORD, correct me, but with judgment not in thine anger, lest thou bring me to nothing.²⁵ Pour out thy fury upon the heathen that know thee not, and upon the families that call not on thy name: for they have eaten up Jacob, and devoured him, and consumed him, and have made his habitation desolate.

CHAPTER 11 ¹The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying,² Hear ye the words of this covenant, and speak unto the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem³And say thou unto them, Thus saith the LORD God of Israel Cursed be the man that obeyeth not the words of this covenant,⁴Which I commanded your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, from the iron furnace, saying, Obey my voice, and do them, according to all which I command you: so shall ye be my people, and I will be your God:⁵That I may perform the oath which I have sworn unto your fathers, to give them a land flowing with milk and honey, as it is this day. Then answered I, and said, So be it, O LORD.⁶Then the LORD said unto me, Proclaim all these words in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, saying, Hear ye the words of this covenant, and do them.⁷For I earnestly protested unto your fathers in the day that I brought them up out of the land of Egypt, even unto this day, rising early and protesting, saying, Obey my voice.⁸Yet they obeyed not, nor inclined their ear, but walked every one in the imagination of their evil heart: therefore I will bring upon them all the words of this covenant, which I commanded them to do but they did them not.⁹And the LORD said unto me, A conspiracy is found among the men of Judah, and among the inhabitants of Jerusalem.¹⁰They are turned back to the iniquities of their forefathers, which refused to hear my words and they went after other gods to serve them: the house of Israel and the house of Judah have broken my covenant which I made with their fathers.¹¹Therefore thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will bring evil upon them, which they shall not be able to escape and though they shall cry unto me, I will not hearken unto them.¹²Then shall the cities of Judah and inhabitants of Jerusalem go, and cry unto the gods unto whom they offer incense: but they shall not save them at all in the time of their trouble.¹³For according to the number of thy cities were thy gods, O Judah and according to the number of the streets of Jerusalem have ye set up altars to that shameful thing, even altars to burn incense unto Baal.¹⁴Therefore pray not thou for this people, neither lift up a cry or prayer for them: for I will not hear them in the time that they cry unto me for their trouble.¹⁵What hath my beloved to do in mine house, seeing she hath wrought lewdness with many, and the holy flesh is passed from thee? when thou doest evil, then thou rejoicest.¹⁶The LORD called thy name, A green olive tree, fair, and of goodly fruit: with the noise of a great tumult he hath kindled fire upon it, and the branches of it are broken.¹⁷For the LORD of hosts, that planted thee, hath pronounced evil against thee, for the evil of the house of Israel and of the house of Judah, which they have done against themselves to provoke me to anger in offering incense unto Baal.¹⁸And the LORD hath given me knowledge of it, and I know it: then thou shewedst me their doings.¹⁹But I was like a lamb or an ox that is brought to the slaughter and I knew not that they had devised devices against me, saying, Let us destroy the tree with the fruit thereof, and let us cut him off from the land of the living, that his name may be no more remembered.²⁰But, O LORD of hosts, that judgest righteously, that triest the reins and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them: for unto thee have I revealed my cause.²¹Therefore thus saith the LORD of the men of Anathoth, that seek thy life, saying, Prophecy not in the name of the LORD, that thou die not by our hand:²²Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, I will punish them: the young men shall die by the sword their sons and their daughters shall die by famine:²³And there shall be no remnant of them: for I will bring evil upon the men of Anathoth, even the year of their visitation.

CHAPTER 12 ¹Righteous art thou, O LORD, when I plead with thee: yet let me talk with thee of thy judgments: Wherefore doth the way of the wicked prosper? wherefore are all they happy that deal very treacherously?²Thou hast planted them, yea, they have taken root: they grow, yea, they bring forth fruit: thou art near in their mouth, and far from their reins.³But thou, O LORD, knowest me: thou hast seen me, and tried mine heart toward thee: pull them out like sheep for the slaughter, and prepare them for the day of slaughter.⁴How long shall the land mourn, and the herbs of every field wither, for the wickedness of them that dwell therein? the beasts are consumed, and the birds because they said, He shall not see our last end.⁵If thou hast run with the footmen, and they have wearied thee, then how canst thou contend with horses? and if in the land of peace, wherein thou trustedst, they wearied thee, then how wilt thou do in the swelling of Jordan?⁶For even thy brethren, and the house of thy father, even they have dealt treacherously with thee yea, they have called a multitude after thee: believe them not, though they speak fair words unto thee.⁷I have forsaken mine house, I have left mine heritage I have given the dearly beloved of my soul into the hand of her enemies.⁸Mine heritage is unto me as a lion in the forest it crieth out against me: therefore have I hated it.⁹Mine heritage is unto me as a speckled bird, the birds round about are against her come ye, assemble all the beasts of the field, come to devour.¹⁰Many pastors have destroyed my vineyard, they have trodden my portion under foot, they have made my pleasant portion a desolate wilderness.¹¹They have made it desolate, and being desolate it mourneth unto me the whole land is made desolate, because no man layeth it to heart.¹²The spoilers are come upon all high places through the wilderness: for the sword of the LORD shall devour from the one end of the land even to the other end of the land: no flesh shall have peace.¹³They have sown wheat, but shall reap thorns: they have put themselves to pain, but shall not profit: and they shall be ashamed of your revenues because of the fierce anger of the LORD.¹⁴Thus saith the LORD against all mine evil neighbours, that touch the inheritance which I have caused my people Israel to inherit Behold, I will pluck them out of their land, and pluck out the house of Judah from among them.¹⁵And it shall come to pass, after that I have plucked them out I will return, and have compassion on them, and will bring them again, every man to his heritage, and every man to his land.¹⁶And it shall come to pass, if they will diligently learn the ways of my people, to swear by my name, The LORD liveth as they taught my people to swear by Baal then shall they be built in the midst of my people.¹⁷But if they will not obey, I will utterly pluck up and destroy that nation, saith the LORD.

CHAPTER 13 ¹Thus saith the LORD unto me, Go and get thee a linen girdle, and put it upon thy loins, and put it not in water.²So I got a girdle according to the word of the LORD, and put it on my loins.³And the word of the LORD came unto me the second time, saying,⁴Take the girdle that thou hast got, which is upon thy loins, and arise, go to Euphrates, and hide it there in a hole of the rock.⁵So I went, and hid it by Euphrates, as the LORD commanded me.⁶And it came to pass after many days, that the LORD said unto me, Arise, go to Euphrates, and take the girdle from thence, which I commanded thee to hide there.⁷ Then I went to Euphrates, and digged, and took the girdle from the place where I had hid it: and, behold, the girdle was marred, it was profitable for nothing.⁸ Then the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,⁹ Thus saith the LORD, After this manner will I mar the pride of Judah, and the great pride of Jerusalem.¹⁰ This evil people, which refuse to hear my words, which walk in the imagination of their heart, and walk after other gods, to serve them, and to worship them, shall even be as this girdle, which is good for nothing.¹¹ For as the girdle cleaveth to the loins of a man, so have I caused to cleave unto me the whole house of Israel and the whole house of Judah, saith the LORD that they might be unto me for a people, and for a name, and for a praise, and for a glory: but they would not hear.¹² Therefore thou shalt speak unto them this word Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, Every bottle shall be filled with wine: and they shall say unto thee, Do we not certainly know that every bottle shall be filled with wine?¹³ Then shalt thou say unto them, Thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will fill all the inhabitants of this land, even the kings that sit upon David's throne, and the priests, and the prophets, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, with drunkenness.¹⁴ And I will dash them one against another, even the fathers and the sons together, saith the LORD: I will not pity, nor spare, nor have mercy, but destroy them.¹⁵ Hear ye, and give ear be not proud: for the LORD hath spoken.¹⁶ Give glory to the LORD your God, before he cause darkness, and before your feet stumble upon the dark mountains, and, while ye look for light, he turn it into the shadow of death, and make it gross darkness.¹⁷ But if ye will not hear it, my soul shall weep in secret places for your pride and mine eye shall weep sore, and run down with tears, because the LORD's flock is carried away captive.¹⁸ Say unto the king and to the queen, Humble yourselves, sit down: for your principalities shall come down, even the crown of your glory.¹⁹ The cities of the south shall be shut up, and none shall open them: Judah shall be carried away captive all of it, it shall be wholly carried away captive.²⁰ Lift up your eyes, and behold them that come from the north: where is the flock that was given thee, thy beautiful flock?²¹What wilt thou say when he shall punish thee? for thou hast taught them to be captains, and as chief over thee: shall not sorrows take thee, as a woman in travail?²²And if thou say in thine heart, Wherefore come these things upon me? For the greatness of thine iniquity are thy skirts discovered, and thy heels made bare.²³Can the Ethiopian change his skin, or the leopard his spots? then may ye also do good, that are accustomed to do evil.²⁴Therefore will I scatter them as the stubble that passeth away by the wind of the wilderness.²⁵This is thy lot, the portion of thy measures from me, saith the LORD because thou hast forgotten me, and trusted in falsehood.²⁶Therefore will I discover thy skirts upon thy face, that thy shame may appear.²⁷I have seen thine adulteries, and thy neighings, the lewdness of thy whoredom, and thine abominations on the hills in the fields. Woe unto thee, O Jerusalem! wilt thou not be made clean? when shall it once be?

CHAPTER 14 ¹The word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah concerning the dearth.²Judah mourneth, and the gates thereof languish they are black unto the ground and the cry of Jerusalem is gone up.³And their nobles have sent their little ones to the waters: they came to the pits, and found no water they returned with their vessels empty they were ashamed and confounded, and covered their heads.⁴Because the ground is chapt, for there was no rain in the earth, the plowmen were ashamed, they covered their heads.⁵Yea, the hind also calved in the field, and forsook it, because there was no grass.⁶And the wild asses did stand in the high places, they snuffed up the wind like dragons their eyes did fail, because there was no grass.⁷O LORD, though our iniquities testify against us, do thou it for thy name's sake: for our backslidings are many we have sinned against thee.⁸O the hope of Israel, the saviour thereof in time of trouble, why shouldest thou be as a stranger in the land, and as a wayfaring man that turneth aside to tarry for a night?⁹Why shouldest thou be as a man astonied, as a mighty man that cannot save? yet thou, O LORD, art in the midst of us, and we are called by thy name leave us not.¹⁰Thus saith the LORD unto this people, Thus have they loved to wander, they have not refrained their feet, therefore the LORD doth not accept them he will now remember their iniquity, and visit their sins.¹¹Then said the LORD unto me, Pray not for this people for their good.¹²When they fast, I will not hear their cry and when they offer burnt offering and an oblation, I will not accept them: but I will consume them by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence.¹³Then said I, Ah, Lord GOD! behold, the prophets say unto them, Ye shall not see the sword, neither shall ye have famine but I will give you assured peace in this place.¹⁴Then the LORD said unto me, The prophets prophesy lies in my name: I sent them not, neither have I commanded them, neither spake unto them: they prophesy unto you a false vision and divination, and a thing of nought, and the deceit of their heart.¹⁵Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning the prophets that prophesy in my name, and I sent them not, yet they say, Sword and famine shall not be in this land By sword and famine shall those prophets be consumed.¹⁶And the people to whom they prophesy shall be cast out in the streets of Jerusalem because of the famine and the sword and they shall have none to bury them, them, their wives, nor their sons, nor their daughters: for I will pour their wickedness upon them.¹⁷Therefore thou shalt say this word unto them Let mine eyes run down with tears night and day, and let them not cease: for the virgin daughter of my people is broken with a great breach, with a very grievous blow.¹⁸If I go forth into the field, then behold the slain with the sword! and if I enter into the city, then behold them that are sick with famine! yea, both the prophet and the priest go about into a land that they know not.¹⁹Hast thou utterly rejected Judah? hath thy soul lothed Zion? why hast thou smitten us, and there is no healing for us? we looked for peace, and there is no good and for the time of healing, and behold trouble!²⁰We acknowledge, O LORD, our wickedness, and the iniquity of our fathers: for we have sinned against thee.²¹Do not abhor us, for thy name's sake, do not disgrace the throne of thy glory: remember, break not thy covenant with us.²²Are there any among the vanities of the Gentiles that can cause rain? or can the heavens give showers? art not thou he, O LORD our God? therefore we will wait upon thee: for thou hast made all these things.

CHAPTER 15 ¹Then said the LORD unto me, Though Moses and Samuel stood before me, yet my mind could not be toward this people: cast them out of my sight, and let them go forth.²And it shall come to pass, if they say unto thee, Whither shall we go forth? then thou shalt tell them, Thus saith the LORD Such as are for death, to death and such as are for the sword, to the sword and such as are for the famine, to the famine and such as are for the captivity, to the captivity.³And I will appoint over them four kinds, saith the LORD: the sword to slay, and the dogs to tear, and the fowls of the heaven, and the beasts of the earth, to devour and destroy.⁴And I will cause them to be removed into all kingdoms of the earth, because of Manasseh the son of Hezekiah king of Judah, for that which he did in Jerusalem.⁵For who shall have pity upon thee, O Jerusalem? or who shall bemoan thee? or who shall go aside to ask how thou doest?⁶Thou hast forsaken me, saith the LORD, thou art gone backward: therefore will I stretch out my hand against thee, and destroy thee I am weary with repenting.⁷And I will fan them with a fan in the gates of the land I will bereave them of children, I will destroy my people, since they return not from their ways.⁸Their widows are increased to me above the sand of the seas: I have brought upon them against the mother of the young men a spoiler at noonday: I have caused him to fall upon it suddenly, and terrors upon the city.⁹She that hath borne seven languisheth: she hath given up the ghost her sun is gone down while it was yet day: she hath been ashamed and confounded: and the residue of them will I deliver to the sword before their enemies, saith the LORD.¹⁰Woe is me, my mother, that thou hast borne me a man of strife and a man of contention to the whole earth! I have neither lent on usury, nor men have lent to me on usury yet every one of them doth curse me.¹¹The LORD said, Verily it shall be well with thy remnant verily I will cause the enemy to entreat thee well in the time of evil and in the time of affliction.¹²Shall iron break the northern iron and the steel?¹³Thy substance and thy treasures will I give to the spoil without price, and that for all thy sins, even in all thy borders.¹⁴And I will make thee to pass with thine enemies into a land which thou knowest not: for a fire is kindled in mine anger, which shall burn upon you.¹⁵O LORD, thou knowest: remember me, and visit me, and revenge me of my persecutors take me not away in thy longsuffering: know that for thy sake I have suffered rebuke.¹⁶Thy words were found, and I did eat them and thy word was unto me the joy and rejoicing of mine heart: for I am called by thy name, O LORD God of hosts.¹⁷I sat not in the assembly of the mockers, nor rejoiced I sat alone because of thy hand: for thou hast filled me with indignation.¹⁸Why is my pain perpetual, and my wound incurable, which refuseth to be healed? wilt thou be altogether unto me as a liar, and as waters that fail?¹⁹Therefore thus saith the LORD, If thou return, then will I bring thee again, and thou shalt stand before me: and if thou take forth the precious from the vile, thou shalt be as my mouth: let them return unto thee but return not thou unto them.²⁰And I will make thee unto this people a fenced brasen wall: and they shall fight against thee, but they shall not prevail against thee: for I am with thee to save thee and to deliver thee, saith the LORD.²¹And I will deliver thee out of the hand of the wicked, and I will redeem thee out of the hand of the terrible.

CHAPTER 16 ¹The word of the LORD came also unto me, saying,²Thou shalt not take thee a wife, neither shalt thou have sons or daughters in this place.³For thus saith the LORD concerning the sons and concerning the daughters that are born in this place, and concerning their mothers that bare them, and concerning their fathers that begat them in this land⁴They shall die of grievous deaths they shall not be lamented neither shall they be buried but they shall be as dung upon the face of the earth: and they shall be consumed by the sword, and by famine and their carcases shall be meat for the fowls of heaven, and for the beasts of the earth.⁵For thus saith the LORD, Enter not into the house of mourning, neither go to lament nor bemoan them: for I have taken away my peace from this people, saith the LORD, even lovingkindness and mercies.⁶Both the great and the small shall die in this land: they shall not be buried, neither shall men lament for them, nor cut themselves, nor make themselves bald for them:⁷Neither shall men tear themselves for them in mourning, to comfort them for the dead neither shall men give them the cup of consolation to drink for their father or for their mother.⁸Thou shalt not also go into the house of feasting, to sit with them to eat and to drink.⁹For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel Behold, I will cause to cease out of this place in your eyes, and in your days, the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride.¹⁰And it shall come to pass, when thou shalt shew this people all these words, and they shall say unto thee, Wherefore hath the LORD pronounced all this great evil against us? or what is our iniquity? or what is our sin that we have committed against the LORD our God?¹¹Then shalt thou say unto them, Because your fathers have forsaken me, saith the LORD, and have walked after other gods, and have served them, and have worshipped them, and have forsaken me, and have not kept my law¹²And ye have done worse than your fathers for, behold, ye walk every one after the imagination of his evil heart, that they may not hearken unto me:¹³Therefore will I cast you out of this land into a land that ye know not, neither ye nor your fathers and there shall ye serve other gods day and night where I will not shew you favour.¹⁴Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that it shall no more be said, The LORD liveth, that brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt¹⁵But, The LORD liveth, that brought up the children of Israel from the land of the north, and from all the lands whither he had driven them: and I will bring them again into their land that I gave unto their fathers.¹⁶Behold, I will send for many fishers, saith the LORD, and they shall fish them and after will I send for many hunters, and they shall hunt them from every mountain, and from every hill, and out of the holes of the rocks.¹⁷For mine eyes are upon all their ways: they are not hid from my face, neither is their iniquity hid from mine eyes.¹⁸And first I will recompense their iniquity and their sin double because they have defiled my land, they have filled mine inheritance with the carcases of their detestable and abominable things.¹⁹O LORD, my strength, and my fortress, and my refuge in the day of affliction, the Gentiles shall come unto thee from the ends of the earth, and shall say, Surely our fathers have inherited lies, vanity, and things wherein there is no profit.²⁰Shall a man make gods unto himself, and they are no gods?²¹Therefore, behold, I will this once cause them to know, I will cause them to know mine hand and my might and they shall know that my name is The LORD.

CHAPTER 17 ¹The sin of Judah is written with a pen of iron, and with the point of a diamond: it is graven upon the table of their heart, and upon the horns of your altars²Whilst their children remember their altars and their groves by the green trees upon the high hills.³O my mountain in the field, I will give thy substance and all thy treasures to the spoil, and thy high places for sin, throughout all thy borders.⁴And thou, even thyself, shalt discontinue from thine heritage that I gave thee and I will cause thee to serve thine enemies in the land which thou knowest not: for ye have kindled a fire in mine anger, which shall burn for ever.⁵Thus saith the LORD Cursed be the man that trusteth in man, and maketh flesh his arm, and whose heart departeth from the LORD.⁶For he shall be like the heath in the desert, and shall not see when good cometh but shall inhabit the parched places in the wilderness, in a salt land and not inhabited.⁷Blessed is the man that trusteth in the LORD, and whose hope the LORD is.⁸For he shall be as a tree planted by the waters, and that spreadeth out her roots by the river, and shall not see when heat cometh, but her leaf shall be green and shall not be careful in the year of drought, neither shall cease from yielding fruit.⁹The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked: who can know it?¹⁰I the LORD search the heart, I try the reins, even to give every man according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings.¹¹As the partridge sitteth on eggs, and hatcheth them not so he that getteth riches, and not by right, shall leave them in the midst of his days, and at his end shall be a fool.¹²A glorious high throne from the beginning is the place of our sanctuary.¹³O LORD, the hope of Israel, all that forsake thee shall be ashamed, and they that depart from me shall be written in the earth, because they have forsaken the LORD, the fountain of living waters.¹⁴Heal me, O LORD, and I shall be healed save me, and I shall be saved: for thou art my praise.¹⁵Behold, they say unto me, Where is the word of the LORD? let it come now.¹⁶As for me, I have not hastened from being a pastor to follow thee: neither have I desired the woeful day thou knowest: that which came out of my lips was right before thee.¹⁷Be not a terror unto me: thou art my hope in the day of evil.¹⁸Let them be confounded that persecute me, but let not me be confounded: let them be dismayed, but let not me be dismayed: bring upon them the day of evil, and destroy them with double destruction.¹⁹Thus said the LORD unto me Go and stand in the gate of the children of the people, whereby the kings of Judah come in, and by the which they go out, and in all the gates of Jerusalem²⁰And say unto them, Hear ye the word of the LORD, ye kings of Judah, and all Judah, and all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, that enter in by these gates:²¹Thus saith the LORD Take heed to yourselves, and bear no burden on the sabbath day, nor bring it in by the gates of Jerusalem²²Neither carry forth a burden out of your houses on the sabbath day, neither do ye any work, but hallow ye the sabbath day, as I commanded your fathers.²³But they obeyed not, neither inclined their ear, but made their neck stiff, that they might not hear, nor receive instruction.²⁴And it shall come to pass, if ye diligently hearken unto me, saith the LORD, to bring in no burden through the gates of this city on the sabbath day, but hallow the sabbath day, to do no work therein²⁵Then shall there enter into the gates of this city kings and princes sitting upon the throne of David, riding in chariots and on horses, they, and their princes, the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem: and this city shall remain for ever.²⁶And they shall come from the cities of Judah, and from the places about Jerusalem, and from the land of Benjamin, and from the plain, and from the mountains, and from the south, bringing burnt offerings, and sacrifices, and meat offerings, and incense, and bringing sacrifices of praise, unto the house of the LORD.²⁷But if ye will not hearken unto me to hallow the sabbath day, and not to bear a burden, even entering in at the gates of Jerusalem on the sabbath day then will I kindle a fire in the gates thereof, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem, and it shall not be quenched.

CHAPTER 18 ¹The word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying,²Arise, and go down to the potter's house, and there I will cause thee to hear my words.³Then I went down to the potter's house, and, behold, he wrought a work on the wheels.⁴And the vessel that he made of clay was marred in the hand of the potter: so he made it again another vessel, as seemed good to the potter to make it.⁵Then the word of the LORD came to me, saying,⁶O house of Israel, cannot I do with you as this potter? saith the LORD. Behold, as the clay is in the potter's hand, so are ye in mine hand, O house of Israel.⁷At what instant I shall speak concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdom, to pluck up, and to pull down, and to destroy it⁸If that nation, against whom I have pronounced, turn from their evil, I will repent of the evil that I thought to do unto them.⁹And at what instant I shall speak concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdom, to build and to plant it¹⁰If it do evil in my sight, that it obey not my voice, then I will repent of the good, wherewith I said I would benefit them.¹¹Now therefore go to, speak to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, saying, Thus saith the LORD Behold, I frame evil against you, and devise a device against you: return ye now every one from his evil way, and make your ways and your doings good.¹²And they said, There is no hope: but we will walk after our own devices, and we will every one do the imagination of his evil heart.¹³Therefore thus saith the LORD Ask ye now among the heathen, who hath heard such things: the virgin of Israel hath done a very horrible thing.¹⁴Will a man leave the snow of Lebanon which cometh from the rock of the field? or shall the cold flowing waters that come from another place be forsaken?¹⁵Because my people hath forgotten me, they have burned incense to vanity, and they have caused them to stumble in their ways from the ancient paths, to walk in paths, in a way not cast up¹⁶To make their land desolate, and a perpetual hissing every one that passeth thereby shall be astonished, and wag his head.¹⁷I will scatter them as with an east wind before the enemy I will shew them the back, and not the face, in the day of their calamity.¹⁸Then said they, Come, and let us devise devices against Jeremiah for the law shall not perish from the priest, nor counsel from the wise, nor the word from the prophet. Come, and let us smite him with the tongue, and let us not give heed to any of his words.¹⁹Give heed to me, O LORD, and hearken to the voice of them that contend with me.²⁰Shall evil be recompensed for good? for they have digged a pit for my soul. Remember that I stood before thee to speak good for them, and to turn away thy wrath from them.²¹Therefore deliver up their children to the famine, and pour out their blood by the force of the sword and let their wives be bereaved of their children, and be widows and let their men be put to death let their young men be slain by the sword in battle.²²Let a cry be heard from their houses, when thou shalt bring a troop suddenly upon them: for they have digged a pit to take me, and hid snares for my feet.²³Yet, LORD, thou knowest all their counsel against me to slay me: forgive not their iniquity, neither blot out their sin from thy sight, but let them be overthrown before thee deal thus with them in the time of thine anger.

CHAPTER 19 ¹Thus saith the LORD, Go and get a potter's earthen bottle, and take of the ancients of the people, and of the ancients of the priests²And go forth unto the valley of the son of Hinnom, which is by the entry of the east gate, and proclaim there the words that I shall tell thee,³And say, Hear ye the word of the LORD, O kings of Judah, and inhabitants of Jerusalem Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel Behold, I will bring evil upon this place, the which whosoever heareth, his ears shall tingle.⁴Because they have forsaken me, and have estranged this place, and have burned incense in it unto other gods, whom neither they nor their fathers have known, nor the kings of Judah, and have filled this place with the blood of innocents⁵They have built also the high places of Baal, to burn their sons with fire for burnt offerings unto Baal, which I commanded not, nor spake it, neither came it into my mind:⁶Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that this place shall no more be called Tophet, nor The valley of the son of Hinnom, but The valley of slaughter.⁷And I will make void the counsel of Judah and Jerusalem in this place and I will cause them to fall by the sword before their enemies, and by the hands of them that seek their lives: and their carcasses will I give to be meat for the fowls of the heaven, and for the beasts of the earth.⁸And I will make this city desolate, and an hissing every one that passeth thereby shall be astonished and hiss because of all the plagues thereof.⁹And I will cause them to eat the flesh of their sons and the flesh of their daughters, and they shall eat every one the flesh of his friend in the siege and straitness, wherewith their enemies, and they that seek their lives, shall straiten them.¹⁰Then shalt thou break the bottle in the sight of the men that go with thee,¹¹And shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts Even so will I break this people and this city, as one breaketh a potter's vessel, that cannot be made whole again: and they shall bury them in Tophet, till there be no place to bury.¹²Thus will I do unto this place, saith the LORD, and to the inhabitants thereof, and even make this city as Tophet:¹³And the houses of Jerusalem, and the houses of the kings of Judah, shall be defiled as the place of Tophet, because of all the houses upon whose roofs they have burned incense unto all the host of heaven, and have poured out drink offerings unto other gods.¹⁴Then came Jeremiah from Tophet, whither the LORD had sent him to prophesy and he stood in the court of the LORD's house and said to all the people,¹⁵Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel Behold, I will bring upon this city and upon all her towns all the evil that I have pronounced against it, because they have hardened their necks, that they might not hear my words.

CHAPTER 20 ¹Now Pashur the son of Immer the priest, who was also chief governor in the house of the LORD, heard that Jeremiah prophesied these things.²Then Pashur smote Jeremiah the prophet, and put him in the stocks that were in the high gate of Benjamin, which was by the house of the LORD.³And it came to pass on the morrow, that Pashur brought forth Jeremiah out of the stocks. Then said Jeremiah unto him, The LORD hath not called thy name Pashur, but Magor-missabib.⁴For thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will make thee a terror to thyself, and to all thy friends: and they shall fall by the sword of their enemies, and thine eyes shall behold it: and I will give all Judah into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall carry them captive into Babylon, and shall slay them with the sword.⁵Moreover I will deliver all the strength of this city, and all the labours thereof, and all the precious things thereof, and all the treasures of the kings of Judah will I give into the hand of their enemies, which shall spoil them, and take them, and carry them to Babylon.⁶And thou, Pashur, and all that dwell in thine house shall go into captivity: and thou shalt come to Babylon, and there thou shalt die, and shalt be buried there, thou, and all thy friends, to whom thou hast prophesied lies.⁷O LORD, thou hast deceived me, and I was deceived: thou art stronger than I, and hast prevailed: I am in derision daily, every one mocketh me.⁸For since I spake, I cried out, I cried violence and spoil because the word of the LORD was made a reproach unto me, and a derision, daily.⁹Then I said, I will not make mention of him, nor speak any more in his name. But his word was in mine heart as a burning fire shut up in my bones, and I was weary with forbearing, and I could not stay.¹⁰For I heard the defaming of many, fear on every side. Report, say they, and we will report it. All my familiars watched for my halting, saying, Peradventure he will be enticed, and we shall prevail against him, and we shall take our revenge on him.¹¹But the LORD is with me as a mighty terrible one: therefore my persecutors shall stumble, and they shall not prevail: they shall be greatly ashamed for they shall not prosper: their everlasting confusion shall never be forgotten.¹²But, O LORD of hosts, that triest the righteous, and seest the reins and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them: for unto thee have I opened my cause.¹³Sing unto the LORD, praise ye the LORD: for he hath delivered the soul of the poor from the hand of evildoers.¹⁴Cursed be the day wherein I was born: let not the day wherein my mother bare me be blessed.¹⁵Cursed be the man who brought tidings to my father, saying, A man child is born unto thee making him very glad.¹⁶And let that man be as the cities which the LORD overthrew, and repented not: and let him hear the cry in the morning, and the shouting at noontide.¹⁷Because he slew me not from the womb or that my mother might have been my grave, and her womb to be always great with me.¹⁸Wherefore came I forth out of the womb to see labour and sorrow, that my days should be consumed with shame?

CHAPTER 21 ¹The word which came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, when king Zedekiah sent unto him Pashur the son of Melchiah, and Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah the priest, saying,²Inquire, I pray thee, of the LORD for us for Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon maketh war against us if so be that the LORD will deal with us according to all his wondrous works, that he may go up from us.³Then said Jeremiah unto them, Thus shall ye say to Zedekiah:⁴Thus saith the LORD God of Israel Behold, I will turn back the weapons of war that are in your hands, wherewith ye fight against the king of Babylon, and against the Chaldeans, which besiege you without the walls, and I will assemble them into the midst of this city.⁵And I myself will fight against you with an outstretched hand and with a strong arm, even in anger, and in fury, and in great wrath.⁶And I will smite the inhabitants of this city, both man and beast: they shall die of a great pestilence.⁷And afterward, saith the LORD, I will deliver Zedekiah king of Judah, and his servants, and the people, and such as are left in this city from the pestilence, from the sword, and from the famine, into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those that seek their life: and he shall smite them with the edge of the sword he shall not spare them, neither have pity, nor have mercy.⁸And unto this people thou shalt say, Thus saith the LORD Behold, I set before you the way of life, and the way of death.⁹He that abideth in this city shall die by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence: but he that goeth out, and falleth to the Chaldeans that besiege you, he shall live, and his life shall be unto him for a prey.¹⁰For I have set my face against this city for evil, and not for good, saith the LORD: it shall be given into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire.¹¹And touching the house of the king of Judah, say, Hear ye the word of the LORD¹²O house of David, thus saith the LORD Execute judgment in the morning, and deliver him that is spoiled out of the hand of the oppressor, lest my fury go out like fire, and burn that none can quench it, because of the evil of your doings.¹³Behold, I am against thee, O inhabitant of the valley, and rock of the plain, saith the LORD which say, Who shall come down against us? or who shall enter into our habitations?¹⁴But I will punish you according to the fruit of your doings, saith the LORD: and I will kindle a fire in the forest thereof, and it shall devour all things round about it.

CHAPTER 22 ¹Thus saith the LORD Go down to the house of the king of Judah, and speak there this word,²And say, Hear the word of the LORD, O king of Judah, that sittest upon the throne of David, thou, and thy servants, and thy people that enter in by these gates:³Thus saith the LORD Execute ye judgment and righteousness, and deliver the spoiled out of the hand of the oppressor: and do no wrong, do no violence to the stranger, the fatherless, nor the widow, neither shed innocent blood in this place.⁴For if ye do this thing indeed, then shall there enter in by the gates of this house kings sitting upon the throne of David, riding in chariots and on horses, he, and his servants, and his people.⁵But if ye will not hear these words, I swear by myself, saith the LORD, that this house shall become a desolation.⁶For thus saith the LORD unto the king's house of Judah Thou art Gilead unto me, and the head of Lebanon: yet surely I will make thee a wilderness, and cities which are not inhabited.⁷And I will prepare destroyers against thee, every one with his weapons: and they shall cut down thy choice cedars, and cast them into the fire.⁸And many nations shall pass by this city, and they shall say every man to his neighbour, Wherefore hath the LORD done thus unto this great city?⁹Then they shall answer, Because they have forsaken the covenant of the LORD their God, and worshipped other gods, and served them.¹⁰Weep ye not for the dead, neither bemoan him: but weep sore for him that goeth away: for he shall return no more, nor see his native country.¹¹For thus saith the LORD touching Shallum the son of Josiah king of Judah, which reigned instead of Josiah his father, which went forth out of this place He shall not return thither any more.¹²But he shall die in the place whither they have led him captive, and shall see this land no more.¹³Woe unto him that buildeth his house by unrighteousness, and his chambers by wrong that useth his neighbour's service without wages, and giveth him not for his work¹⁴That saith, I will build me a wide house and large chambers, and cutteth him out windows and it is cieled with cedar, and painted with vermilion.¹⁵Shalt thou reign, because thou closest thyself in cedar? did not thy father eat and drink, and do judgment and justice, and then it was well with him?¹⁶He judged the cause of the poor and needy then it was well with him: was not this to know me? saith the LORD.¹⁷But thine eyes and thine heart are not but for thy covetousness, and for to shed innocent blood, and for oppression, and for violence, to do it.¹⁸Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah They shall not lament for him, saying, Ah my brother! or, Ah sister! they shall not lament for him, saying, Ah lord! or, Ah his glory!¹⁹He shall be buried with the burial of an ass, drawn and cast forth beyond the gates of Jerusalem.²⁰Go up to Lebanon, and cry and lift up thy voice in Bashan, and cry from the passages: for all thy lovers are destroyed.²¹I spake unto thee in thy prosperity but thou saidst, I will not hear. This hath been thy manner from thy youth, that thou obeyedst not my voice.²²The wind shall eat up all thy pastors, and thy lovers shall go into captivity: surely then shalt thou be ashamed and confounded for all thy wickedness.²³O inhabitant of Lebanon, that makest thy nest in the cedars, how gracious shalt thou be when pangs come upon thee, the pain as of a woman in travail!²⁴As I live, saith the LORD, though Coniah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah were the signet upon my right hand, yet would I pluck thee thence²⁵And I will give thee into the hand of them that seek thy life, and into the hand of them whose face thou fearest, even into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of the Chaldeans.²⁶And I will cast thee out, and thy mother that bare thee, into another country, where ye were not born and there shall ye die.²⁷But to the land whereunto they desire to return, thither shall they not return.²⁸Is this man Coniah a despised broken idol? is he a vessel wherein is no pleasure? wherefore are they cast out, he and his seed, and are cast into a land which they know not?²⁹O earth, earth, earth, hear the word of the LORD.³⁰Thus saith the LORD, Write ye this man childless, a man that shall not prosper in his days: for no man of his seed shall prosper, sitting upon the throne of David, and ruling any more in Judah.

CHAPTER 23 ¹Woe be unto the pastors that destroy and scatter the sheep of my pasture! saith the LORD.²Therefore thus saith the LORD God of Israel against the pastors that feed my people Ye have scattered my flock, and driven them away, and have not visited them: behold, I will visit upon you the evil of your doings, saith the LORD.³And I will gather the remnant of my flock out of all countries whither I have driven them, and will bring them again to their folds and they shall be fruitful and increase.⁴And I will set up shepherds over them which shall feed them: and they shall fear no more, nor be dismayed, neither shall they be lacking, saith the LORD.⁵Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will raise unto David a righteous Branch, and a King shall reign and prosper, and shall execute judgment and justice in the earth.⁶In his days Judah shall be saved, and Israel shall dwell safely: and this is his name whereby he shall be called, THE LORD OUR RIGHTEOUSNESS.⁷Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that they shall no more say, The LORD liveth, which brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt⁸But, The LORD liveth, which brought up and which led the seed of the house of Israel out of the north country, and from all countries whither I had driven them and they shall dwell in their own land.⁹Mine heart within me is broken because of the prophets all my bones shake I am like a drunken man, and like a man whom wine hath overcome, because of the LORD, and because of the words of his holiness.¹⁰For the land is full of adulterers for because of swearing the land mourneth the pleasant places of the wilderness are dried up, and their course is evil, and their force is not right.¹¹For both prophet and priest are profane yea, in my house have I found their wickedness, saith the LORD.¹²Wherefore their way shall be unto them as slippery ways in the darkness: they shall be driven on, and fall therein: for I will bring evil upon them, even the year of their visitation, saith the LORD.¹³And I have seen folly in the prophets of Samaria they prophesied in Baal, and caused my people Israel to err.¹⁴I have seen also in the prophets of Jerusalem an horrible thing: they commit adultery, and walk in lies: they strengthen also the hands of evildoers, that none doth return from his wickedness: they are all of them unto me as Sodom, and the inhabitants thereof as Gomorrah.¹⁵Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts concerning the prophets Behold, I will feed them with wormwood, and make them drink the water of gall: for from the prophets of Jerusalem is profaneness gone forth into all the land.¹⁶Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Hearken not unto the words of the prophets that prophesy unto you: they make you vain: they speak a vision of their own heart, and not out of the mouth of the LORD.¹⁷They say still unto them that despise me, The LORD hath said, Ye shall have peace and they say unto every one that walketh after the imagination of his own heart, No evil shall come upon you.¹⁸For who hath stood in the counsel of the LORD, and hath perceived and heard his word? who hath marked his word, and heard it?¹⁹Behold, a whirlwind of the LORD is gone forth in fury, even a grievous whirlwind: it shall fall grievously upon the head of the wicked.²⁰The anger of the LORD shall not return, until he have executed, and till he have performed the thoughts of his heart: in the latter days ye shall consider it perfectly.²¹I have not sent these prophets, yet they ran: I have not spoken to them, yet they prophesied.²²But if they had stood in my counsel, and had caused my people to hear my words, then they should have turned them from their evil way, and from the evil of their doings.²³Am I a God at hand, saith the LORD, and not a God afar off?²⁴Can any hide himself in secret places that I shall not see him? saith the LORD. Do not I fill heaven and earth? saith the LORD.²⁵I have heard what the prophets said, that prophesy lies in my name, saying, I have dreamed, I have dreamed.²⁶How long shall this be in the heart of the prophets that prophesy lies? yea, they are prophets of the deceit of their own heart²⁷Which think to cause my people to forget my name by their dreams which they tell every man to his neighbour, as their fathers have forgotten my name for Baal.²⁸The prophet that hath a dream, let him tell a dream and he that hath my word, let him speak my word faithfully. What is the chaff to the wheat? saith the LORD.²⁹Is not my word like as a fire? saith the LORD and like a hammer that breaketh the rock in pieces?³⁰Therefore, behold, I am against the prophets, saith the LORD, that steal my words every one from his neighbour.³¹Behold, I am against the prophets, saith the LORD, that use their tongues, and say, He saith.³²Behold, I am against them that prophesy false dreams, saith the LORD, and do tell them, and cause my people to err by their lies, and by their lightness yet I sent them not, nor commanded them: therefore they shall not profit this people at all, saith the LORD.³³And when this people, or the prophet, or a priest, shall ask thee, saying, What is the burden of the LORD? thou shalt then say unto them, What burden? I will even forsake you, saith the LORD.³⁴And as for the prophet, and the priest, and the people, that shall say, The burden of the LORD, I will even punish that man and his house.³⁵Thus shall ye say every one to his neighbour, and every one to his brother, What hath the LORD answered? and, What hath the LORD spoken?³⁶And the burden of the LORD shall ye mention no more: for every man's word shall be his burden for ye have perverted the words of the living God, of the LORD of hosts our God.³⁷Thus shalt thou say to the prophet, What hath the LORD answered thee? and, What hath the LORD spoken?³⁸But since ye say, The burden of the LORD therefore thus saith the LORD Because ye say this word, The burden of the LORD, and I have sent unto you, saying, Ye shall not say, The burden of the LORD³⁹Therefore, behold, I, even I, will utterly forget you, and I will forsake you, and the city that I gave you and your fathers, and cast you out of my presence:⁴⁰And I will bring an everlasting reproach upon you, and a perpetual shame, which shall not be forgotten.

CHAPTER 24 ¹The LORD shewed me, and, behold, two baskets of figs were set before the temple of the LORD, after that Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon had carried away captive Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah, and the princes of Judah, with the carpenters and smiths, from Jerusalem, and had brought them to Babylon.²One basket had very good figs, even like the figs that are first ripe: and the other basket had very naughty figs, which could not be eaten, they were so bad.³Then said the LORD unto me, What seest thou, Jeremiah? And I said, Figs the good figs, very good and the evil, very evil, that cannot be eaten, they are so evil.⁴Again the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,⁵Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel Like these good figs, so will I acknowledge them that are carried away captive of Judah, whom I have sent out of this place into the land of the Chaldeans for their good.⁶For I will set mine eyes upon them for good, and I will bring them again to this land: and I will build them, and not pull them down and I will plant them, and not pluck them up.⁷And I will give them an heart to know me, that I am the LORD: and they shall be my people, and I will be their God: for they shall return unto me with their whole heart.⁸And as the evil figs, which cannot be eaten, they are so evil surely thus saith the LORD, So will I give Zedekiah the king of Judah, and his princes, and the residue of Jerusalem, that remain in this land, and them that dwell in the land of Egypt:⁹And I will deliver them to be removed into all the kingdoms of the earth for their hurt, to be a reproach and a proverb, a taunt and a curse, in all places whither I shall drive them.¹⁰And I will send the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, among them, till they be consumed from off the land that I gave unto them and to their fathers.

CHAPTER 25 ¹The word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the people of Judah in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, that was the first year of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon²The which Jeremiah the prophet spake unto all the people of Judah, and to all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, saying,³From the thirteenth year of Josiah the son of Amon king of Judah, even unto this day, that is the three and twentieth year, the word of the LORD hath come unto me, and I have spoken unto you, rising early and speaking but ye have not hearkened.⁴And the LORD hath sent unto you all his servants the prophets, rising early and sending them but ye have not hearkened, nor inclined your ear to hear.⁵They said, Turn ye again now every one from his evil way, and from the evil of your doings, and dwell in the land that the LORD hath given unto you and to your fathers for ever and ever:⁶And go not after other gods to serve them, and to worship them, and provoke me not to anger with the works of your hands and I will do you no hurt.⁷Yet ye have not hearkened unto me, saith the LORD that ye might provoke me to anger with the works of your hands to your own hurt.⁸Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts Because ye have not heard my words,⁹Behold, I will send and take all the families of the north, saith the LORD, and Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon, my servant, and will bring them against this land, and against the inhabitants thereof, and against all these nations round about, and will utterly destroy them, and make them an astonishment, and an hissing, and perpetual desolations.¹⁰Moreover I will take from them the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride, the sound of the millstones, and the light of the candle.¹¹And this whole land shall be a desolation, and an astonishment and these nations shall serve the king of Babylon seventy years.¹²And it shall come to pass, when seventy years are accomplished, that I will punish the king of Babylon, and that nation, saith the LORD, for their iniquity, and the land of the Chaldeans, and will make it perpetual desolations.¹³And I will bring upon that land all my words which I have pronounced against it, even all that is written in this book, which Jeremiah hath prophesied against all the nations.¹⁴For many nations and great kings shall serve themselves of them also: and I will recompense them according to their deeds, and according to the works of their own hands.¹⁵For thus saith the LORD God of Israel unto me Take the wine cup of this fury at my hand, and cause all the nations, to whom I send thee, to drink it.¹⁶And they shall drink, and be moved, and be mad, because of the sword that I will send among them.¹⁷Then took I the cup at the LORD's hand, and made all the nations to drink, unto whom the LORD had sent me:¹⁸To wit, Jerusalem, and the cities of Judah, and the kings thereof, and the princes thereof, to make them a desolation, an astonishment, an hissing, and a curse as it is this day¹⁹Pharaoh king of Egypt, and his servants, and his princes, and all his people²⁰And all the mingled people, and all the kings of the land of Uz, and all the kings of the land of the Philistines, and Ashkelon, and Azzah, and Ekron, and the remnant of Ashdod,²¹Edom, and Moab, and the children of Ammon,²²And all the kings of Tyrus, and all the kings of Zidon, and the kings of the isles which are beyond the sea,²³Dedan, and Tema, and Buz, and all that are in the utmost corners,²⁴And all the kings of Arabia, and all the kings of the mingled people that dwell in the desert,²⁵And all the kings of Zimri, and all the kings of Elam, and all the kings of the Medes,²⁶And all the kings of the north, far and near, one with another, and all the kingdoms of the world, which are upon the face of the earth: and the king of Sheshach shall drink after them.²⁷Therefore thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel Drink ye, and be drunken, and spue, and fall, and rise no more, because of the sword which I will send among you.²⁸And it shall be, if they refuse to take the cup at thine hand to drink, then shalt thou say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts Ye shall certainly drink.²⁹For, lo, I begin to bring evil on the city which is called by my name, and should ye be utterly unpunished? Ye shall not be unpunished: for I will call for a sword upon all the inhabitants of the earth, saith the LORD of hosts.³⁰Therefore prophesy thou against them all these words, and say unto them, The LORD shall roar from on high, and utter his voice from his holy habitation he shall mightily roar upon his habitation he shall give a shout, as they that tread the grapes, against all the inhabitants of the earth.³¹A noise shall come even to the ends of the earth for the LORD hath a controversy with the nations, he will plead with all flesh he will give them that are wicked to the sword, saith the LORD.³²Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, evil shall go forth from nation to nation, and a great whirlwind shall be raised up from the coasts of the earth.³³And the slain of the LORD shall be at that day from one end of the earth even unto the other end of the earth: they shall not be lamented, neither gathered, nor buried they shall be dung upon the ground.³⁴Howl, ye shepherds, and cry and wallow yourselves in the ashes, ye principal of the flock: for the days of your slaughter and of your dispersions are accomplished and ye shall fall like a pleasant vessel.³⁵And the shepherds shall have no way to flee, nor the principal of the flock to escape.³⁶A voice of the cry of the shepherds, and an howling of the principal of the flock, shall be heard: for the LORD hath spoiled their pasture.³⁷And the peaceable habitations are cut down because of the fierce anger of the LORD.³⁸He hath forsaken his covert, as the lion: for their land is desolate because of the fierceness of the oppressor, and because of his fierce anger.

CHAPTER 26 ¹In the beginning of the reign of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah came this word from the LORD, saying,²Thus saith the LORD Stand in the court of the LORD's house, and speak unto all the cities of Judah, which come to worship in the LORD's house, all the words that I command thee to speak unto them diminish not a word:³If so be they will hearken, and turn every man from his evil way, that I may repent me of the evil, which I purpose to do unto them because of the evil of their doings.⁴And thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD If ye will not hearken to me, to walk in my law, which I have set before you,⁵To hearken to the words of my servants the prophets, whom I sent unto you, both rising up early, and sending them, but ye have not hearkened⁶Then will I make this house like Shiloh, and will make this city a curse to all the nations of the earth.⁷ So the priests and the prophets and all the people heard Jeremiah speaking these words in the house of the LORD.⁸ Now it came to pass, when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking all that the LORD had commanded him to speak unto all the people, that the priests and the prophets and all the people took him, saying, Thou shalt surely die.⁹ Why hast thou prophesied in the name of the LORD, saying, This house shall be like Shiloh, and this city shall be desolate without an inhabitant? And all the people were gathered against Jeremiah in the house of the LORD.¹⁰ When the princes of Judah heard these things, then they came up from the king's house unto the house of the LORD, and sat down in the entry of the new gate of the LORD's house.¹¹ Then spake the priests and the prophets unto the princes and to all the people, saying, This man is worthy to die for he hath prophesied against this city, as ye have heard with your ears.¹² Then spake Jeremiah unto all the princes and to all the people, saying, The LORD sent me to prophesy against this house and against this city all the words that ye have heard.¹³ Therefore now amend your ways and your doings, and obey the voice of the LORD your God and the LORD will repent him of the evil that he hath pronounced against you.¹⁴ As for me, behold, I am in your hand: do with me as seemeth good and meet unto you.¹⁵ But know ye for certain, that if ye put me to death, ye shall surely bring innocent blood upon yourselves, and upon this city, and upon the inhabitants thereof: for of a truth the LORD hath sent me unto you to speak all these words in your ears.¹⁶ Then said the princes and all the people unto the priests and to the prophets This man is not worthy to die: for he hath spoken to us in the name of the LORD our God.¹⁷ Then rose up certain of the elders of the land, and spake to all the assembly of the people, saying,¹⁸ Micah the Morasthite prophesied in the days of Hezekiah king of Judah, and spake to all the people of Judah, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts Zion shall be plowed like a field, and Jerusalem shall become heaps, and the mountains of the house as the high places of a forest.¹⁹ Did Hezekiah king of Judah and all Judah put him at all to death? did he not fear the LORD, and besought the LORD, and the LORD repented him of the evil which he had pronounced against them? Thus might we procure great evil against our souls.²⁰ And there was also a man that prophesied in the name of the LORD, Urijah the son of Shemaiah of Kirjath-jearim, who prophesied against this city and against this land according to all the words of Jeremiah:²¹ And when Jehoiakim the king, with all his mighty men, and all the princes, heard his words, the king sought to put him to death: but when Urijah heard it, he was afraid, and fled, and went into Egypt²² And Jehoiakim the king sent men into Egypt, namely, Elnathan the son of Achbor, and certain men with him into Egypt.²³ And they fetched forth Urijah out of Egypt, and brought him unto Jehoiakim the king who slew him with the sword, and cast his dead body into the graves of the common people.²⁴ Nevertheless the hand of Ahikam the son of Shaphan was with Jeremiah, that they should not give him into the hand of the people to put him to death.

CHAPTER 27 ¹In the beginning of the reign of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah came this word unto Jeremiah from the LORD, saying,² Thus saith the LORD to me Make thee bonds and yokes, and put them upon thy neck,³ And send them to the king of Edom, and to the king of Moab, and to the king of the Ammonites, and to the king of Tyrus, and to the king of Zidon, by the hand of the messengers which come to Jerusalem unto Zedekiah king of Judah⁴ And command them to say unto their masters, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel Thus shall ye say unto your masters⁵ I have made the earth, the man and the beast that are upon the ground, by my great power and by my outstretched arm, and have given it unto whom it seemed meet unto me.⁶ And now have I given all these lands unto the hand of Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, my servant and the beasts of the field have I given him also to serve him.⁷ And all nations shall serve him, and his son, and his son's son, until the very time of his land come: and then many nations and great kings shall serve themselves of him.⁸ And it shall come to pass, that the nation and kingdom which will not serve the same Nebuchadnezzar the king of Babylon, and that will not put their neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon, that nation will I punish, saith the LORD, with the sword, and with the famine, and with the pestilence, until I have consumed them by his hand.⁹Therefore hearken not ye to your prophets, nor to your diviners, nor to your dreamers, nor to your enchanters, nor to your sorcerers, which speak unto you, saying, Ye shall not serve the king of Babylon:¹⁰For they prophesy a lie unto you, to remove you far from your land and that I should drive you out, and ye should perish.¹¹But the nations that bring their neck under the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serve him, those will I let remain still in their own land, saith the LORD and they shall till it, and dwell therein.¹²I spake also to Zedekiah king of Judah according to all these words, saying, Bring your necks under the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serve him and his people, and live.¹³Why will ye die, thou and thy people, by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, as the LORD hath spoken against the nation that will not serve the king of Babylon?¹⁴Therefore hearken not unto the words of the prophets that speak unto you, saying, Ye shall not serve the king of Babylon: for they prophesy a lie unto you.¹⁵For I have not sent them, saith the LORD, yet they prophesy a lie in my name that I might drive you out, and that ye might perish, ye, and the prophets that prophesy unto you.¹⁶Also I spake to the priests and to all this people, saying, Thus saith the LORD Hearken not to the words of your prophets that prophesy unto you, saying, Behold, the vessels of the LORD's house shall now shortly be brought again from Babylon: for they prophesy a lie unto you.¹⁷Hearken not unto them serve the king of Babylon, and live: wherefore should this city be laid waste?¹⁸But if they be prophets, and if the word of the LORD be with them, let them now make intercession to the LORD of hosts, that the vessels which are left in the house of the LORD, and in the house of the king of Judah, and at Jerusalem, go not to Babylon.¹⁹For thus saith the LORD of hosts concerning the pillars, and concerning the sea, and concerning the bases, and concerning the residue of the vessels that remain in this city,²⁰Which Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon took not, when he carried away captive Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah from Jerusalem to Babylon, and all the nobles of Judah and Jerusalem²¹Yea, thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, concerning the vessels that remain in the house of the LORD, and in the house of the king of Judah and of Jerusalem²²They shall be carried to Babylon, and there shall they be until the day that I visit them, saith the LORD then will I bring them up, and restore them to this place.

CHAPTER 28 ¹And it came to pass the same year, in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the fourth year, and in the fifth month, that Hananiah the son of Azur the prophet, which was of Gibeon, spake unto me in the house of the LORD, in the presence of the priests and of all the people, saying,²Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, I have broken the yoke of the king of Babylon.³Within two full years will I bring again into this place all the vessels of the LORD's house, that Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon took away from this place, and carried them to Babylon:⁴And I will bring again to this place Jeconiah the son of Jehoiakim king of Judah, with all the captives of Judah, that went into Babylon, saith the LORD: for I will break the yoke of the king of Babylon.⁵Then the prophet Jeremiah said unto the prophet

Hananiah in the presence of the priests, and in the presence of all the people that stood in the house of the LORD,⁶Even the prophet Jeremiah said, Amen: the LORD do so: the LORD perform thy words which thou hast prophesied, to bring again the vessels of the LORD's house, and all that is carried away captive, from Babylon into this place.⁷Nevertheless hear thou now this word that I speak in thine ears, and in the ears of all the people⁸The prophets that have been before me and before thee of old prophesied both against many countries, and against great kingdoms, of war, and of evil, and of pestilence.⁹The prophet which prophesieth of peace, when the word of the prophet shall come to pass, then shall the prophet be known, that the LORD hath truly sent him.¹⁰Then Hananiah the prophet took the yoke from off the prophet Jeremiah's neck, and brake it.¹¹And Hananiah spake in the presence of all the people, saying, Thus saith the LORD Even so will I break the yoke of Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon from the neck of all nations within the space of two full years. And the prophet Jeremiah went his way.¹²Then the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah the prophet, after that Hananiah the prophet had broken the yoke from off the neck of the prophet Jeremiah, saying,¹³Go and tell Hananiah, saying, Thus saith the LORD Thou hast broken the yokes of wood but thou shalt make for them yokes of iron.¹⁴For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel I have put a yoke of iron upon the neck of all these nations, that they may serve Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon and they shall serve him: and I have given him the beasts of the field also.¹⁵Then said the prophet Jeremiah unto Hananiah the prophet, Hear now, Hananiah The LORD hath not sent thee but thou makest this people to trust in a lie.¹⁶Therefore thus saith the LORD Behold, I will cast thee from off the face of the earth: this year thou shalt die, because thou hast taught rebellion against the LORD.¹⁷So Hananiah the prophet died the same year in the seventh month.

CHAPTER 29 ¹Now these are the words of the letter that Jeremiah the prophet sent from Jerusalem unto the residue of the elders which were carried away captives, and to the priests, and to the prophets, and to all the people whom Nebuchadnezzar had carried away captive from

Jerusalem to Babylon²(After that Jeconiah the king, and the queen, and the eunuchs, the princes of Judah and Jerusalem, and the carpenters, and the smiths, were departed from Jerusalem)³By the hand of Elasah the son of Shaphan, and Gemariah the son of Hilkiah, (whom Zedekiah king of Judah sent unto Babylon to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon) saying,⁴Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, unto all that are carried away captives, whom I have caused to be carried away from Jerusalem unto Babylon⁵Build ye houses, and dwell in them and plant gardens, and eat the fruit of them⁶Take ye wives, and beget sons and daughters and take wives for your sons, and give your daughters to husbands, that they may bear sons and daughters that ye may be increased there, and not diminished.⁷And seek the peace of the city whither I have caused you to be carried away captives, and pray unto the LORD for it: for in the peace thereof shall ye have peace.⁸For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel Let not your prophets and your diviners, that be in the midst of you, deceive you, neither hearken to your dreams which ye cause to be dreamed.⁹For they prophesy falsely unto you in my name: I have not sent them, saith the LORD.¹⁰For thus saith the LORD, That after seventy years be accomplished at Babylon I will visit you, and perform my good word toward you, in causing you to return to this place.¹¹For I know the thoughts that I think toward you, saith the LORD, thoughts of peace, and not of evil, to give you an expected end.¹²Then shall ye call upon me, and ye shall go and pray unto me, and I will hearken unto you.¹³And ye shall seek me, and find me, when ye shall search for me with all your heart.¹⁴And I will be found of you, saith the LORD: and I will turn away your captivity, and I will gather you from all the nations, and from all the places whither I have driven you, saith the LORD and I will bring you again into the place whence I caused you to be carried away captive.¹⁵Because ye have said, The LORD hath raised us up prophets in Babylon¹⁶Know that thus saith the LORD of the king that sitteth upon the throne of David, and of all the people that dwelleth in this city, and of your brethren that are not gone forth with you into captivity¹⁷Thus saith the LORD of hosts Behold, I will send upon them the sword, the famine, and the pestilence, and will make them like vile figs, that cannot be eaten, they are so evil.¹⁸And I will persecute them with the sword, with the famine, and with the pestilence, and will deliver them to be removed to all the kingdoms of the earth, to be a curse, and an astonishment, and an hissing, and a reproach, among all the nations whither I have driven them:¹⁹Because they have not hearkened to my words, saith the LORD, which I sent unto them by my servants the prophets, rising up early and sending them but ye would not hear, saith the LORD.²⁰Hear ye therefore the word of the LORD, all ye of the captivity, whom I have sent from Jerusalem to Babylon:²¹Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, of Ahab the son of Kolaiah, and of Zedekiah the son of Maaseiah, which prophesy a lie unto you in my name Behold, I will deliver them into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon and he shall slay them before your eyes²²And of them shall be taken up a curse by all the captivity of Judah which are in Babylon, saying, The LORD make thee like Zedekiah and like Ahab, whom the king of Babylon roasted in the fire²³Because they have committed villany in Israel, and have committed adultery with their neighbours' wives, and have spoken lying words in my name, which I have not commanded them even I know, and am a witness, saith the LORD.²⁴ Thus shalt thou also speak to Shemaiah the Nehelamite, saying,²⁵ Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saying, Because thou hast sent letters in thy name unto all the people that are at Jerusalem, and to Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah the priest, and to all the priests, saying,²⁶ The LORD hath made thee priest in the stead of Jehoiada the priest, that ye should be officers in the house of the LORD, for every man that is mad, and maketh himself a prophet, that thou shouldest put him in prison, and in the stocks.²⁷ Now therefore why hast thou not reproved Jeremiah of Anathoth, which maketh himself a prophet to you?²⁸ For therefore he sent unto us in Babylon, saying, This captivity is long: build ye houses, and dwell in them and plant gardens, and eat the fruit of them.²⁹ And Zephaniah the priest read this letter in the ears of Jeremiah the prophet.³⁰ Then came the word of the LORD unto Jeremiah, saying,³¹ Send to all them of the captivity, saying, Thus saith the LORD concerning Shemaiah the Nehelamite Because that Shemaiah hath prophesied unto you, and I sent him not, and he caused you to trust in a lie.³² Therefore thus saith the LORD Behold, I will punish Shemaiah the Nehelamite, and his seed: he shall not have a man to dwell among this people neither shall he behold the good that I will do for my people, saith the LORD because he hath taught rebellion against the LORD.

CHAPTER 30 ¹The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying,² Thus speaketh the LORD God of Israel, saying, Write thee all the words that I have spoken unto thee in a book.³ For, lo, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will bring again the captivity of my people Israel and Judah, saith the LORD: and I will cause them to return to the land that I gave to their fathers, and they shall possess it.⁴ And these are the words that the LORD spake concerning Israel and concerning Judah.⁵ For thus saith the LORD We have heard a voice of trembling, of fear, and not of peace.⁶ Ask ye now, and see whether a man doth travail with child? wherefore do I see every man with his hands on his loins, as a woman in travail, and all faces are turned into paleness?⁷Alas! for that day is great, so that none is like it: it is even the time of Jacob's trouble but he shall be saved out of it.⁸For it shall come to pass in that day, saith the LORD of hosts, that I will break his yoke from off thy neck, and will burst thy bonds, and strangers shall no more serve themselves of him.⁹But they shall serve the LORD their God, and David their king, whom I will raise up unto them.¹⁰Therefore fear thou not, O my servant Jacob, saith the LORD neither be dismayed, O Israel: for, lo, I will save thee from afar, and thy seed from the land of their captivity and Jacob shall return, and shall be in rest, and be quiet, and none shall make him afraid.¹¹For I am with thee, saith the LORD, to save thee: though I make a full end of all nations whither I have scattered thee, yet will I not make a full end of thee: but I will correct thee in measure, and will not leave thee altogether unpunished.¹²For thus saith the LORD, Thy bruise is incurable, and thy wound is grievous.¹³There is none to plead thy cause, that thou mayest be bound up: thou hast no healing medicines.¹⁴All thy lovers have forgotten thee they seek thee not for I have wounded thee with the wound of an enemy, with the chastisement of a cruel one, for the multitude of thine iniquity because thy sins were increased.¹⁵Why criest thou for thine affliction? thy sorrow is incurable for the multitude of thine iniquity: because thy sins were increased, I have done these things unto thee.¹⁶Therefore all they that devour thee shall be devoured and all thine adversaries, every one of them, shall go into captivity and they that spoil thee shall be a spoil, and all that prey upon thee will I give for a prey.¹⁷For I will restore health unto thee, and I will heal thee of thy wounds, saith the LORD because they called thee an Outcast, saying, This is Zion, whom no man seeketh after.¹⁸Thus saith the LORD Behold, I will bring again the captivity of Jacob's tents, and have mercy on his dwellingplaces and the city shall be builded upon her own heap, and the palace shall remain after the manner thereof.¹⁹And out of them shall proceed thanksgiving and the voice of them that make merry: and I will multiply them, and they shall not be few I will also glorify them, and they shall not be small.²⁰Their children also shall be as aforetime, and their congregation shall be established before me, and I will punish all that oppress them.²¹And their nobles shall be of themselves, and their governor shall proceed from the midst of them and I will cause him to draw near, and he shall approach unto me: for who is this that engaged his heart to approach unto me? saith the LORD.²²And ye shall be my people, and I will be your God.²³Behold, the whirlwind of the LORD goeth forth with fury, a continuing whirlwind: it shall fall with pain upon the head of the wicked.²⁴The fierce anger of the LORD shall not return, until he have done it, and until he have performed the intents of his heart: in the latter days ye shall consider it.

CHAPTER 31 ¹At the same time, saith the LORD, will I be the God of all the families of Israel, and they shall be my people.²Thus saith the LORD, The people which were left of the sword found grace in the wilderness even Israel, when I went to cause him to rest.³The LORD hath appeared of old unto me, saying, Yea, I have loved thee with an everlasting love: therefore with lovingkindness have I drawn thee.⁴Again I will build thee, and thou shalt be built, O virgin of Israel: thou shalt again be adorned with thy tabrets, and shalt go forth in the dances of them that make merry.⁵Thou shalt yet plant vines upon the mountains of Samaria: the planters shall plant, and shall eat them as common things.⁶For there shall be a day, that the watchmen upon the mount Ephraim shall cry, Arise ye, and let us go up to Zion unto the LORD our God.⁷For thus saith the LORD Sing with gladness for Jacob, and shout among the chief of the nations: publish ye, praise ye, and say, O LORD, save thy people, the remnant of Israel.⁸Behold, I will bring them from the north country, and gather them from the coasts of the earth, and with them the blind and the lame, the woman with child and her that travaileth with child together: a great company shall return thither.⁹They shall come with weeping, and with supplications will I lead them: I will cause them to walk by the rivers of waters in a straight way, wherein they shall not stumble: for I am a father to Israel, and Ephraim is my firstborn.¹⁰Hear the word of the LORD, O ye nations, and declare it in the isles afar off, and say, He that scattered Israel will gather him, and keep him, as a shepherd doth his flock.¹¹For the LORD hath redeemed Jacob, and ransomed him from the hand of him that was stronger than he.¹²Therefore they shall come and sing in the height of Zion, and shall flow together to the goodness of the LORD, for wheat, and for wine, and for oil, and for the young of the flock and of the herd: and their soul shall be as a watered garden and they shall not sorrow any more at all.¹³Then shall the virgin rejoice in the dance, both young men and old together: for I will turn their mourning into joy, and will comfort them, and make them rejoice from their sorrow.¹⁴And I will satiate the soul of the priests with fatness, and my people shall be satisfied with my goodness, saith the LORD.¹⁵Thus saith the LORD A voice was heard in Ramah, lamentation, and bitter weeping Rahel weeping for her children refused to be comforted for her children, because they were not.¹⁶Thus saith the LORD Refrain thy voice from weeping, and thine eyes from tears: for thy work shall be rewarded, saith the LORD and they shall come again from the land of the enemy.¹⁷And there is hope in thine end, saith the LORD, that thy children shall come again to their own border.¹⁸I have surely heard Ephraim bemoaning himself thus Thou hast chastised me, and I was chastised, as a bullock unaccustomed to the yoke: turn thou me, and I shall be turned for thou art the LORD my God.¹⁹Surely after that I was turned, I repented and after that I was instructed, I smote upon my thigh: I was ashamed, yea, even confounded, because I did bear the reproach of my youth.²⁰Is Ephraim my dear son? is he a pleasant child? for since I spake against him, I do earnestly remember him still: therefore my bowels are troubled for him I will surely have mercy upon him, saith the LORD.²¹Set thee up waymarks, make thee high heaps: set thine heart toward the highway, even the way which thou wentest: turn again, O virgin of Israel, turn again to these thy cities.²²How long wilt thou go about, O thou backsliding daughter? for the LORD hath created a new thing in the earth, A woman shall compass a man.²³Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel As yet they shall use this speech in the land of Judah and in the cities thereof, when I shall bring again their captivity The LORD bless thee, O habitation of justice, and mountain of holiness.²⁴And there shall dwell in Judah itself, and in all the cities thereof together, husbandmen, and they that go forth with flocks.²⁵For I have satiated the weary soul, and I have replenished every sorrowful soul.²⁶Upon this I awaked, and beheld and my sleep was sweet unto me.²⁷Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will sow the house of Israel and the house of Judah with the seed of man, and with the seed of beast.²⁸And it shall come to pass, that like as I have watched over them, to pluck up, and to break down, and to throw down, and to destroy, and to afflict so will I watch over them, to build, and to plant, saith the LORD.²⁹In those days they shall say no more, The fathers have eaten a sour grape, and the children's teeth are set on edge.³⁰But every one shall die for his own iniquity: every man that eateth the sour grape, his teeth shall be set on edge.³¹Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel, and with the house of Judah:³²Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day that I took them by the hand to bring them out of the land of Egypt which my covenant they brake, although I was an husband unto them, saith the LORD.³³But this shall be the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel After those days, saith the LORD, I will put my law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts and will be their God, and they shall be my people.³⁴And they shall teach no more every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know the LORD: for they shall all know me, from the least of them unto the greatest of them, saith the LORD for I will forgive their iniquity, and I will remember their sin no more.³⁵Thus saith the LORD, which giveth the sun for a light by day, and the ordinances of the moon and of the stars for a light by night, which divideth the sea when the waves thereof roar The LORD of hosts is his name:³⁶If those ordinances depart from before me, saith the LORD, then the seed of Israel also shall cease from being a nation before me for ever.³⁷Thus saith the LORD If heaven above can be measured, and the foundations of the earth searched out beneath, I will also cast off all the seed of Israel for all that they have done, saith the LORD.³⁸Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that the city shall be built to the LORD from the tower of Hananeel unto the gate of the corner.³⁹And the measuring line shall yet go forth over against it upon the hill Gareb, and shall compass about to Goath.⁴⁰And the whole valley of the dead bodies, and of the ashes, and all the fields unto the brook of Kidron, unto the corner of the horse gate toward the east, shall be holy unto the LORD it shall not be plucked up, nor thrown down any more for ever.

CHAPTER 32 ¹The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD in the tenth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, which was the eighteenth year of Nebuchadrezzar.²For then the king of Babylon's army besieged Jerusalem: and Jeremiah the prophet was shut up in the court of the prison, which was in the king of Judah's house.³For Zedekiah king of Judah had shut him up, saying, Wherefore dost thou prophesy, and say, Thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall take it⁴And Zedekiah king of Judah shall not escape out of the hand of the Chaldeans, but shall surely be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon, and shall speak with him mouth to mouth, and his eyes shall behold his eyes⁵And he shall lead Zedekiah to Babylon, and there shall he be until I visit him, saith the LORD: though ye fight with the Chaldeans, ye shall not prosper?⁶And Jeremiah said, The word of the LORD came unto me, saying,⁷Behold, Hanameel the son of Shallum thine uncle shall come unto thee, saying, Buy thee my field that is in Anathoth: for the right of redemption is thine to buy it.⁸So Hanameel mine uncle's son came to me in the court of the prison according to the word of the LORD, and said unto me, Buy my field, I pray thee, that is in Anathoth, which is in the country of Benjamin: for the right of inheritance is thine, and the redemption is thine buy it for thyself. Then I knew that this was the word of the LORD.⁹And I bought the field of Hanameel my uncle's son, that was in Anathoth, and weighed him the money, even seventeen shekels of silver.¹⁰And I subscribed the evidence, and sealed it, and took witnesses, and weighed him the money in the balances.¹¹So I took the evidence of the purchase, both that which was sealed according to the law and custom, and that which was open:¹²And I gave the evidence of the purchase unto Baruch the son of Neriah, the son of Maaseiah, in the sight of Hanameel mine uncle's son, and in the presence of the witnesses that subscribed the book of the purchase, before all the Jews that sat in the court of the prison.¹³And I charged

Baruch before them, saying,¹⁴Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel Take these evidences, this evidence of the purchase, both which is sealed, and this evidence which is open and put them in an earthen vessel, that they may continue many days.¹⁵For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel Houses and fields and vineyards shall be possessed again in this land.¹⁶Now when I had delivered the evidence of the purchase unto Baruch the son of Neriah, I prayed unto the LORD, saying,¹⁷Ah Lord GOD! behold, thou hast made the heaven and the earth by thy great power and stretched out arm, and there is nothing too hard for thee:¹⁸Thou shewest lovingkindness unto thousands, and recompensest the iniquity of the fathers into the bosom of their children after them: the Great, the Mighty God, the LORD of hosts, is his name,¹⁹Great in counsel, and mighty in work: for thine eyes are open upon all the ways of the sons of men: to give every one according to his ways, and according to the fruit of his doings:²⁰Which hast set signs and wonders in the land of Egypt, even unto this day, and in Israel, and among other men and hast made thee a name, as at this day²¹And hast brought forth thy people Israel out of the land of Egypt with signs, and with wonders, and with a strong hand, and with a stretched out arm, and with great terror²²And hast given them this land, which thou didst swear to their fathers to give them, a land flowing with milk and honey²³And they came in, and possessed it but they obeyed not thy voice, neither walked in thy law they have done nothing of all that thou commandedst them to do: therefore thou hast caused all this evil to come upon them:²⁴Behold the mounts, they are come unto the city to take it and the city is given into the hand of the Chaldeans, that fight against it, because of the sword, and of the famine, and of the pestilence: and what thou hast spoken is come to pass and, behold, thou seest it.²⁵And thou hast said unto me, O Lord GOD, Buy thee the field for money, and take witnesses for the city is given into the hand of the Chaldeans.²⁶Then came the word of the LORD unto Jeremiah, saying,²⁷Behold, I am the LORD, the God of all flesh: is there any thing too hard for me?²⁸Therefore thus saith the LORD Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the Chaldeans, and into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and he shall take it:²⁹And the Chaldeans, that fight against this city, shall come and set fire on this city, and burn it with the houses, upon whose roofs they have offered incense unto Baal, and poured out drink offerings unto other gods, to provoke me to anger.³⁰For the children of Israel and the children of Judah have only done evil before me from their youth: for the children of Israel have only provoked me to anger with the work of their hands, saith the LORD.³¹For this city hath been to me as a provocation of mine anger and of my fury from the day that they built it even unto this day that I should remove it from before my face,³²Because of all the evil of the children of Israel and of the children of Judah, which they have done to provoke me to anger, they, their kings, their princes, their priests, and their prophets, and the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem.³³And they have turned unto me the back, and not the face: though I taught them, rising up early and teaching them, yet they have not hearkened to receive instruction.³⁴But they set their abominations in the house, which is called by my name, to defile it.³⁵And they built the high places of Baal, which are in the valley of the son of Hinnom, to cause their sons and their daughters to pass through the fire unto Molech which I commanded them not, neither came it into my mind, that they should do this abomination, to cause Judah to sin.³⁶And now therefore thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, concerning this city, whereof ye say, It shall be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence³⁷Behold, I will gather them out of all countries, whither I have driven them in mine anger, and in my fury, and in great wrath and I will bring them again unto this place, and I will cause them to dwell safely:³⁸And they shall be my people, and I will be their God:³⁹And I will give them one heart, and one way, that they may fear me for ever, for the good of them, and of their children after them:⁴⁰And I will make an everlasting covenant with them, that I will not turn away from them, to do them good but I will put my fear in their hearts, that they shall not depart from me.⁴¹Yea, I will rejoice over them to do them good, and I will plant them in this land assuredly with my whole heart and with my whole soul.⁴²For thus saith the LORD Like as I have brought all this great evil upon this people, so will I bring upon them all the good that I have promised them.⁴³And fields shall be bought in this land, whereof ye say, It is desolate without man or beast it is given into the hand of the Chaldeans.⁴⁴Men shall buy fields for money, and subscribe evidences, and seal them, and take witnesses in the land of Benjamin, and in the places about Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah, and in the cities of the mountains, and in the cities of the valley, and in the cities of the south: for I will cause their captivity to return, saith the LORD.

CHAPTER 33 ¹Moreover the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah the second time, while he was yet shut up in the court of the prison, saying,²Thus saith the LORD the maker thereof, the LORD that formed it, to establish it the LORD is his name³Call unto me, and I will answer thee, and shew thee great and mighty things, which thou knowest not.⁴For thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, concerning the houses of this city, and concerning the houses of the kings of Judah, which are thrown down by the mounts, and by the sword⁵They come to fight with the

Chaldeans, but it is fill them with the dead bodies of men, whom I have slain in mine anger and in my fury, and for all whose wickedness I have hid my face from this city.⁶Behold, I will bring it health and cure, and I will cure them, and will reveal unto them the abundance of peace and truth.⁷And I will cause the captivity of Judah and the captivity of Israel to return, and will build them, as at the first.⁸And I will cleanse them from all their iniquity, whereby they have sinned against me and I will pardon all their iniquities, whereby they have sinned, and whereby they have transgressed against me.⁹And it shall be to me a name of joy, a praise and an honour before all the nations of the earth, which shall hear all the good that I do unto them: and they shall fear and tremble for all the goodness and for all the prosperity that I procure unto it.¹⁰Thus saith the LORD Again there shall be heard in this place, which ye say shall be desolate without man and without beast, even in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, that are desolate, without man, and without inhabitant, and without beast,¹¹The voice of joy, and the voice of gladness, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride, the voice of them that shall say, Praise the LORD of hosts: for the LORD is good for his mercy endureth for ever: and of them that shall bring the sacrifice of praise into the house of the LORD. For I will cause to return the captivity of the land, as at the first, saith the LORD.¹²Thus saith the LORD of hosts Again in this place, which is desolate without man and without beast, and in all the cities thereof, shall be an habitation of shepherds causing their flocks to lie down.¹³In the cities of the mountains, in the cities of the vale, and in the cities of the south, and in the land of Benjamin, and in the places about Jerusalem, and in the cities of Judah, shall the flocks pass again under the hands of him that telleth them, saith the LORD.¹⁴Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will perform that good thing which I have promised unto the house of Israel and to the house of Judah.¹⁵In those days, and at that time, will I cause the Branch of righteousness to grow up unto David and he shall execute judgment and righteousness in the land.¹⁶In those days shall Judah be saved, and Jerusalem shall dwell safely: and this is the name wherewith she shall be called, The LORD our righteousness.¹⁷For thus saith the LORD David shall never want a man to sit upon the throne of the house of Israel¹⁸Neither shall the priests the Levites want a man before me to offer burnt offerings, and to kindle meat offerings, and to do sacrifice continually.¹⁹And the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah, saying,²⁰Thus saith the LORD If ye can break my covenant of the day, and my covenant of the night, and that there should not be day and night in their season²¹Then may also my covenant be broken with David my servant, that he should not have a son to reign upon his throne and with the Levites the priests, my ministers.²²As the host of heaven cannot be numbered, neither the sand of the sea measured: so will I multiply the seed of David my servant, and the Levites that minister unto me.²³Moreover the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, saying,²⁴Considerest thou not what this people have spoken, saying, The two families which the LORD hath chosen, he hath even cast them off? thus they have despised my people, that they should be no more a nation before them.²⁵Thus saith the LORD If my covenant be not with day and night, and if I have not appointed the ordinances of heaven and earth²⁶Then will I cast away the seed of Jacob, and David my servant, so that I will not take any of his seed to be rulers over the seed of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob: for I will cause their captivity to return, and have mercy on them.

CHAPTER 34 ¹The word which came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, when Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and all his army, and all the kingdoms of the earth of his dominion, and all the people, fought against Jerusalem, and against all the cities thereof, saying,²Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel Go and speak to Zedekiah king of Judah, and tell him, Thus saith the LORD Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire:³And thou shalt not escape out of his hand, but shalt surely be taken, and delivered into his hand and thine eyes shall behold the eyes of the king of Babylon, and he shall speak with thee mouth to mouth, and thou shalt go to Babylon.⁴Yet hear the word of the LORD, O Zedekiah king of Judah Thus saith the LORD of thee, Thou shalt not die by the sword:⁵But thou shalt die in peace: and with the burnings of thy fathers, the former kings which were before thee, so shall they burn odours for thee and they will lament thee, saying, Ah lord! for I have pronounced the word, saith the LORD.⁶Then Jeremiah the prophet spake all these words unto Zedekiah king of Judah in Jerusalem,⁷When the king of Babylon's army fought against Jerusalem, and against all the cities of Judah that were left, against Lachish, and against Azekah: for these defenced cities remained of the cities of Judah.⁸This is the word that came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, after that the king Zedekiah had made a covenant with all the people which were at Jerusalem, to proclaim liberty unto them⁹That every man should let his manservant, and every man his maidservant, being an Hebrew or an Hebrewess, go free that none should serve himself of them, to wit, of a Jew his brother.¹⁰Now when all the princes, and all the people, which had entered into the covenant, heard that every one should let his manservant, and every one his maidservant, go free, that none should serve themselves of them any more, then they obeyed, and let them go.¹¹But afterward they turned, and caused the servants and the handmaids, whom they had let go free, to return, and brought them into subjection for servants and for handmaids.¹²Therefore the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying,¹³Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel I made a covenant with your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondmen, saying,¹⁴At the end of seven years let ye go every man his brother an Hebrew, which hath been sold unto thee and when he hath served thee six years, thou shalt let him go free from thee: but your fathers hearkened not unto me, neither inclined their ear.¹⁵And ye were now turned, and had done right in my sight, in proclaiming liberty every man to his neighbour and ye had made a covenant before me in the house which is called by my name:¹⁶But ye turned and polluted my name, and caused every man his servant, and every man his handmaid, whom ye had set at liberty at their pleasure, to return, and brought them into subjection, to be unto you for servants and for handmaids.¹⁷Therefore thus saith the LORD Ye have not hearkened unto me, in proclaiming liberty, every one to his brother, and every man to his neighbour: behold, I proclaim a liberty for you, saith the LORD, to the sword, to the pestilence, and to the famine and I will make you to be removed into all the kingdoms of the earth.¹⁸And I will give the men that have transgressed my covenant, which have not performed the words of the covenant which they had made before me, when they cut the calf in twain, and passed between the parts thereof,¹⁹The princes of Judah, and the princes of Jerusalem, the eunuchs, and the priests, and all the people of the land, which passed between the parts of the calf²⁰I will even give them into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seek their life: and their dead bodies shall be for meat unto the fowls of the heaven, and to the beasts of the earth.²¹And Zedekiah king of Judah and his princes will I give into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that seek their life, and into the hand of the king of Babylon's army, which are gone up from you.²²Behold, I will command, saith the LORD, and cause them to return to this city and they shall fight against it, and take it, and burn it with fire: and I will make the cities of Judah a desolation without an inhabitant.

CHAPTER 35 ¹The word which came unto Jeremiah from the LORD in the days of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, saying,²Go unto the house of the Rechabites, and speak unto them, and bring them into the house of the LORD, into one of the chambers, and give them wine to drink.³Then I took Jaazaniah the son of Jeremiah, the son of Habaziah, and his brethren, and all his sons, and the whole house of the Rechabites⁴And I brought them into the house of the LORD, into the chamber of the sons of Hanan, the son of Igdaliah, a man of God, which was by the chamber of the princes, which was above the chamber of Maaseiah the son of Shallum, the keeper of the door:⁵And I set before the sons of the house of the Rechabites pots full of wine, and cups, and I said unto them, Drink ye wine.⁶But they said, We will drink no wine: for Jonadab the son of Rechab our father commanded us, saying, Ye shall drink no wine, neither ye, nor your sons for ever:⁷Neither shall ye build house, nor sow seed, nor plant vineyard, nor have any: but all your days ye shall dwell in tents that ye may live many days in the land where ye be strangers.⁸Thus have we obeyed the voice of Jonadab the son of Rechab our father in all that he hath charged us, to drink no wine all our days, we, our wives, our sons, nor our daughters⁹Nor to build houses for us to dwell in: neither have we vineyard, nor field, nor seed:¹⁰But we have dwelt in tents, and have obeyed, and done according to all that Jonadab our father commanded us.¹¹But it came to pass, when Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon came up into the land, that we said, Come, and let us go to Jerusalem for fear of the army of the Chaldeans, and for fear of the army of the Syrians: so we dwell at Jerusalem.¹²Then came the word of the LORD unto Jeremiah, saying,¹³Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel Go and tell the men of Judah and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, Will ye not receive instruction to hearken to my words? saith the LORD.¹⁴The words of Jonadab the son of Rechab, that he commanded his sons not to drink wine, are performed for unto this day they drink none, but obey their father's commandment: notwithstanding I have spoken unto you, rising early and speaking but ye hearkened not unto me.¹⁵I have sent also unto you all my servants the prophets, rising up early and sending them, saying, Return ye now every man from his evil way, and amend your doings, and go not after other gods to serve them, and ye shall dwell in the land which I have given to you and to your fathers: but ye have not inclined your ear, nor hearkened unto me.¹⁶Because the sons of Jonadab the son of Rechab have performed the commandment of their father, which he commanded them but this people hath not hearkened unto me:¹⁷Therefore thus saith the LORD God of hosts, the God of Israel Behold, I will bring upon Judah and upon all the inhabitants of Jerusalem all the evil that I have pronounced against them: because I have spoken unto them, but they have not heard and I have called unto them, but they have not answered.¹⁸And Jeremiah said unto the house of the Rechabites, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel Because ye have obeyed the commandment of Jonadab your father, and kept all his precepts, and done according unto all that he hath commanded you:¹⁹Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel Jonadab the son of Rechab shall not want a man to stand before me for ever.

CHAPTER 36 ¹And it came to pass in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, that this word came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, saying,²Take thee a roll of a book, and write therein all the words that I have spoken unto thee against Israel, and against Judah, and against all the nations, from the day I spake unto thee, from the days of Josiah, even unto this day.³It may be that the house of Judah will hear all the evil which I purpose to do unto them that they may return every man from his evil way that I may forgive their iniquity and their sin.⁴Then Jeremiah called Baruch the son of Neriah: and Baruch wrote from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the LORD, which he had spoken unto him, upon a roll of a book.⁵And Jeremiah commanded Baruch, saying, I am shut up I cannot go into the house of the LORD:⁶Therefore go thou, and read in the roll, which thou hast written from my mouth, the words of the LORD in the ears of the people in the LORD's house upon the fasting day: and also thou shalt read them in the ears of all Judah that come out of their cities.⁷It may be they will present their supplication before the LORD, and will return every one from his evil way: for great is the anger and the fury that the LORD hath pronounced against this people.⁸And Baruch the son of Neriah did according to all that Jeremiah the prophet commanded him, reading in the book the words of the LORD in the LORD's house.⁹And it came to pass in the fifth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, in the ninth month, that they proclaimed a fast before the LORD to all the people in Jerusalem, and to all the people that came from the cities of Judah unto Jerusalem.¹⁰Then read Baruch in the book the words of Jeremiah in the house of the LORD, in the chamber of Gemariah the son of Shaphan the scribe, in the higher court, at the entry of the new gate of the LORD's house, in the ears of all the people.¹¹When Michaiah the son of Gemariah, the son of Shaphan, had heard out of the book all the words of the LORD,¹²Then he went down into the king's house, into the scribe's chamber: and, lo, all the princes sat there, even Elishama the scribe, and Delaiah the son of Shemaiah, and Elnathan the son of Achbor, and Gemariah the son of Shaphan, and Zedekiah the son of Hananiah, and all the princes.¹³Then Michaiah declared unto them all the words that he had heard, when Baruch read the book in the ears of the people.¹⁴Therefore all the princes sent Jehudi the son of Nethaniah, the son of Shelemiah, the son of Cushi, unto Baruch, saying, Take in thine hand the roll wherein thou hast read in the ears of the people, and come. So Baruch the son of Neriah took the roll in his hand, and came unto them.¹⁵And they said unto him, Sit down now, and read it in our ears. So Baruch read it in their ears.¹⁶Now it came to pass, when they had heard all the words, they were afraid both one and other, and said unto Baruch, We will surely tell the king of all these words.¹⁷And they asked Baruch, saying, Tell us now, How didst thou write all these words at his mouth?¹⁸Then Baruch answered them, He pronounced all these words unto me with his mouth, and I wrote them with ink in the book.¹⁹Then said the princes unto Baruch, Go, hide thee, thou and Jeremiah and let no man know where ye be.²⁰And they went in to the king into the court, but they laid up the roll in the chamber of Elishama the scribe, and told all the words in the ears of the king.²¹So the king sent Jehudi to fetch the roll: and he took it out of Elishama the scribe's chamber. And Jehudi read it in the ears of the king, and in the ears of all the princes which stood beside the king.²²Now the king sat in the winterhouse in the ninth month: and there was a fire on the hearth burning before him.²³And it came to pass, that when Jehudi had read three or four leaves, he cut it with the penknife, and cast it into the fire that was on the hearth, until all the roll was consumed in the fire that was on the hearth.²⁴Yet they were not afraid, nor rent their garments, neither the king, nor any of his servants that heard all these words.²⁵Nevertheless Elnathan and Delaiah and Gemariah had made intercession to the king that he would not burn the roll: but he would not hear them.²⁶But the king commanded Jerahmeel the son of Hammelech, and Seraiah the son of Azriel, and Shelemiah the son of Abdeel, to take Baruch the scribe and Jeremiah the prophet: but the LORD hid them.²⁷Then the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah, after that the king had burned the roll, and the words which Baruch wrote at the mouth of Jeremiah, saying,²⁸Take thee again another roll, and write in it all the former words that were in the first roll, which Jehoiakim the king of Judah hath burned.²⁹And thou shalt say to Jehoiakim the king of Judah, Thus saith the LORD Thou hast burned this roll, saying, Why hast thou written therein, saying, The king of Babylon shall certainly come and destroy this land, and shall cause to cease from thence man and beast?³⁰Therefore thus saith the LORD of Jehoiakim king of Judah He shall have none to sit upon the throne of David: and his dead body shall be cast out in the day to the heat, and in the night to the frost.³¹And I will punish him and his seed and his servants for their iniquity and I will bring upon them, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and upon the men of Judah, all the evil that I have pronounced against them but they hearkened not.³²Then took Jeremiah another roll, and gave it to Baruch the scribe, the son of Neriah who wrote therein from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the book which Jehoiakim king of Judah had burned in the fire: and there were added besides unto them many like words.

CHAPTER 37 ¹And king Zedekiah the son of Josiah reigned instead of Coniah the son of Jehoiakim, whom Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon made king in the land of Judah.²But neither he, nor his servants, nor the people of the land, did hearken unto the words of the LORD, which he spake by the prophet Jeremiah.³And Zedekiah the king sent Jehucal the son of Shelemiah and Zephaniah the son of Maaseiah the priest to the prophet Jeremiah, saying, Pray now unto the LORD our God for us.⁴Now Jeremiah came in and went out among the people: for they had not put him into prison.⁵Then Pharaoh's army was come forth out of Egypt: and when the Chaldeans that besieged Jerusalem heard tidings of them, they departed from Jerusalem.⁶Then came the word of the LORD unto the prophet Jeremiah, saying,⁷Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel Thus shall ye say to the king of Judah, that sent you unto me to inquire of me Behold, Pharaoh's army, which is come forth to help you, shall return to Egypt into their own land.⁸And the Chaldeans shall come again, and fight against this city, and take it, and burn it with fire.⁹Thus saith the LORD Deceive not yourselves, saying, The Chaldeans shall surely depart from us: for they shall not depart.¹⁰For though ye had smitten the whole army of the Chaldeans that fight against you, and there remained but wounded men among them, yet should they rise up every man in his tent, and burn this city with fire.¹¹And it came to pass, that when the army of the Chaldeans was broken up from Jerusalem for fear of Pharaoh's army,¹²Then Jeremiah went forth out of Jerusalem to go into the land of Benjamin, to separate himself thence in the midst of the people.¹³And when he was in the gate of Benjamin, a captain of the ward was there, whose name was Irijah, the son of Shelemiah, the son of Hananiah and he took Jeremiah the prophet, saying, Thou fallest away to the Chaldeans.¹⁴Then said Jeremiah, It is false I fall not away to the Chaldeans. But he hearkened not to him: so Irijah took Jeremiah, and brought him to the princes.¹⁵Wherefore the princes were wroth with Jeremiah, and smote him, and put him in prison in the house of Jonathan the scribe: for they had made that the prison.¹⁶When Jeremiah was entered into the dungeon, and into the cabins, and Jeremiah had remained there many days¹⁷Then Zedekiah the king sent, and took him out: and the king asked him secretly in his house, and said, Is there any word from the LORD? And Jeremiah said, There is: for, said he, thou shalt be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon.¹⁸Moreover Jeremiah said unto king Zedekiah, What have I offended against thee, or against thy servants, or against this people, that ye have put me in prison?¹⁹Where are now your prophets which prophesied unto you, saying, The king of Babylon shall not come against you, nor against this land?²⁰Therefore hear now, I pray thee, O my lord the king: let my supplication, I pray thee, be accepted before thee that thou cause me not to return to the house of Jonathan the scribe, lest I die there.²¹Then Zedekiah the king commanded that they should commit Jeremiah into the court of the prison, and that they should give him daily a piece of bread out of the bakers' street, until all the bread in the city were spent. Thus Jeremiah remained in the court of the prison.

CHAPTER 38 ¹Then Shephatiah the son of Mattan, and Gedaliah the son of Pashur, and Jucal the son of Shelemiah, and Pashur the son of Malchiah, heard the words that Jeremiah had spoken unto all the people, saying,²Thus saith the LORD, He that remaineth in this city shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence: but he that goeth forth to the Chaldeans shall live for he shall have his life for a prey, and shall live.³Thus saith the LORD, This city shall surely be given into the hand of the king of Babylon's army, which shall take it.⁴Therefore the princes said unto the king, We beseech thee, let this man be put to death: for thus he weakeneth the hands of the men of war that remain in this city, and the hands of all the people, in speaking such words unto them: for this man seeketh not the welfare of this people, but the hurt.⁵Then Zedekiah the king said, Behold, he is in your hand: for the king is not he that can do any thing against you.⁶Then took they Jeremiah, and cast him into the dungeon of Malchiah the son of Hammelech, that was in the court of the prison: and they let down Jeremiah with cords. And in the dungeon there was no water, but mire: so Jeremiah sunk in the mire.⁷Now when Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, one of the eunuchs which was in the king's house, heard that they had put Jeremiah in the dungeon the king then sitting in the gate of Benjamin⁸Ebed-melech went forth out of the king's house, and spake to the king, saying,⁹My lord the king, these men have done evil in all that they have done to Jeremiah the prophet, whom they have cast into the dungeon and he is like to die for hunger in the place where he is: for there is no more bread in the city.¹⁰Then the king commanded Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, saying, Take from hence thirty men with thee, and take up Jeremiah the prophet out of the dungeon, before he die.¹¹So Ebed-melech took the men with him, and went into the house of the king under the treasury, and took thence old cast clouts and old rotten rags, and let them down by cords into the dungeon to Jeremiah.¹²And Ebed-melech the Ethiopian said unto Jeremiah, Put now these old cast clouts and rotten rags under thine armholes under the cords. And Jeremiah did so.¹³So they drew up Jeremiah with cords, and took him up out of the dungeon: and Jeremiah remained in the court of the prison.¹⁴Then Zedekiah the king sent, and took Jeremiah the prophet unto him into the third entry that is in the house of the LORD: and the king said unto Jeremiah, I will ask thee a thing hide nothing from me.¹⁵Then Jeremiah said unto Zedekiah, If I declare it unto thee, wilt thou not surely put me to death? and if I give thee counsel, wilt thou not hearken unto me?¹⁶So Zedekiah the king sware secretly unto Jeremiah, saying, As the LORD liveth, that made us this soul, I will not put thee to death, neither will I give thee into the hand of these men that seek thy life.¹⁷Then said Jeremiah unto Zedekiah, Thus saith the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel If thou wilt assuredly go forth unto the king of Babylon's princes, then thy soul shall live, and this city shall not be burned with fire and thou shalt live, and thine house:¹⁸But if thou wilt not go forth to the king of Babylon's princes, then shall this city be given into the hand of the Chaldeans, and they shall burn it with fire, and thou shalt not escape out of their hand.¹⁹And Zedekiah the king said unto Jeremiah, I am afraid of the Jews that are fallen to the Chaldeans, lest they deliver me into their hand, and they mock me.²⁰But Jeremiah said, They shall not deliver thee. Obey, I beseech thee, the voice of the LORD, which I speak unto thee: so it shall be well unto thee, and thy soul shall live.²¹But if thou refuse to go forth, this is the word that the LORD hath shewed me:²²And, behold, all the women that are left in the king of Judah's house shall be brought forth to the king of Babylon's princes, and those women shall say, Thy friends have set thee on, and have prevailed against thee: thy feet are sunk in the mire, and they are turned away back.²³So they shall bring out all thy wives and thy children to the Chaldeans: and thou shalt not escape out of their hand, but shalt be taken by the hand of the king of Babylon: and thou shalt cause this city to be burned with fire.²⁴Then said Zedekiah unto Jeremiah, Let no man know of these words, and thou shalt not die.²⁵But if the princes hear that I have talked with thee, and they come unto thee, and say unto thee, Declare unto us now what thou hast said unto the king, hide it not from us, and we will not put thee to death also what the king said unto thee:²⁶Then thou shalt say unto them, I presented my supplication before the king, that he would not cause me to return to Jonathan's house, to die there.²⁷Then came all the princes unto Jeremiah, and asked him: and he told them according to all these words that the king had commanded. So they left off speaking with him for the matter was not perceived.²⁸So Jeremiah abode in the court of the prison until the day that Jerusalem was taken: and he was there when Jerusalem was taken.

CHAPTER 39 ¹In the ninth year of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the tenth month, came Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon and all his army against Jerusalem, and they besieged it.²And in the eleventh year of Zedekiah, in the fourth month, the ninth day of the month, the city was broken up.³And all the princes of the king of Babylon came in, and sat in the middle gate, even Nergal-sharezer, Samgar-nebo, Sarsechim, Rab-saris, Nergal-sharezer, Rabmag, with all the residue of the princes of the king of Babylon.⁴And it came to pass, that when Zedekiah the king of Judah saw them, and all the men of war, then they fled, and went forth out of the city by night, by the way of the king's garden, by the gate betwixt the two walls: and he went out the way of the plain.⁵But the Chaldeans' army pursued after them, and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho: and when they had taken him, they brought him up to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon to Riblah in the land of Hamath, where he gave judgment upon him.⁶Then the king of Babylon slew the sons of Zedekiah in Riblah before his eyes: also the king of Babylon slew all the nobles of Judah.⁷Moreover he put out Zedekiah's eyes, and bound him with chains, to carry him to Babylon.⁸And the Chaldeans burned the king's house, and the houses of the people, with fire, and brake down the walls of Jerusalem.⁹Then Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard carried away captive into Babylon the remnant of the people that remained in the city, and those that fell away, that fell to him, with the rest of the people that remained.¹⁰But Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard left of the poor of the people, which had nothing, in the land of Judah, and gave them vineyards and fields at the same time.¹¹Now Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon gave charge concerning Jeremiah to Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard, saying,¹²Take him, and look well to him, and do him no harm but do unto him even as he shall say unto thee.¹³So Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard sent, and Nebushasban, Rab-saris, and Nergal-sharezer, Rabmag, and all the king of Babylon's princes¹⁴Even they sent, and took Jeremiah out of the court of the prison, and committed him unto Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan, that he should carry him home: so he dwelt among the people.¹⁵Now the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah, while he was shut up in the court of the prison, saying,¹⁶Go and speak to Ebedmelech the Ethiopian, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel Behold, I will bring my words upon this city for evil, and not for good and they shall be accomplished in that day before thee.¹⁷But I will deliver thee in that day, saith the LORD: and thou shalt not be given into the hand of the men of whom thou art afraid.¹⁸For I will surely deliver thee, and thou shalt not fall by the sword, but thy life shall be for a prey unto thee: because thou hast put thy trust in me, saith the LORD.

CHAPTER 40 ¹The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, after that Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard had let him go from Ramah, when he had taken him being bound in chains among all that were carried away captive of Jerusalem and Judah, which were carried away captive unto Babylon.²And the captain of the guard took Jeremiah, and said unto him, The LORD thy God hath pronounced this evil upon this place.³Now the LORD hath brought it, and done according as he hath said: because ye have sinned against the LORD, and have not obeyed his voice, therefore this thing is come upon you.⁴And now, behold, I loose thee this day from the chains which were upon thine hand. If it seem good unto thee to come with me into Babylon, come and I will look well unto thee: but if it seem ill unto thee to come with me into Babylon, forbear: behold, all the land is before thee: whither it seemeth good and convenient for thee to go, thither go.⁵ Now while he was not yet gone back, he said, Go back also to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan, whom the king of Babylon hath made governor over the cities of Judah, and dwell with him among the people: or go wheresoever it seemeth convenient unto thee to go. So the captain of the guard gave him victuals and a reward, and let him go.⁶ Then went Jeremiah unto Gedaliah the son of Ahikam to Mizpah and dwelt with him among the people that were left in the land.⁷ Now when all the captains of the forces which were in the fields, even they and their men, heard that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah the son of Ahikam governor in the land, and had committed unto him men, and women, and children, and of the poor of the land, of them that were not carried away captive to Babylon⁸ Then they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, even Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and Johanan and Jonathan the sons of Kareah, and Seraiah the son of Tanhumeth, and the sons of Ephai the Netophathite, and Jezaniah the son of a Maachathite, they and their men.⁹ And Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan sware unto them and to their men, saying, Fear not to serve the Chaldeans: dwell in the land, and serve the king of Babylon, and it shall be well with you.¹⁰ As for me, behold, I will dwell at Mizpah to serve the Chaldeans, which will come unto us: but ye, gather ye wine, and summer fruits, and oil, and put them in your vessels, and dwell in your cities that ye have taken.¹¹ Likewise when all the Jews that were in Moab, and among the Ammonites, and in Edom, and that were in all the countries, heard that the king of Babylon had left a remnant of Judah, and that he had set over them Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan¹² Even all the Jews returned out of all places whither they were driven, and came to the land of Judah, to Gedaliah, unto Mizpah, and gathered wine and summer fruits very much.¹³ Moreover Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were in the fields, came to Gedaliah to Mizpah,¹⁴And said unto him, Dost thou certainly know that Baalis the king of the Ammonites hath sent Ishmael the son of Nethaniah to slay thee? But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam believed them not.¹⁵Then Johanan the son of Kareah spake to Gedaliah in Mizpah secretly, saying, Let me go, I pray thee, and I will slay Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and no man shall know it: wherefore should he slay thee, that all the Jews which are gathered unto thee should be scattered, and the remnant in Judah perish?¹⁶But Gedaliah the son of Ahikam said unto Johanan the son of Kareah, Thou shalt not do this thing: for thou speakest falsely of Ishmael.

CHAPTER 41 ¹Now it came to pass in the seventh month, that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah the son of Elishama, of the seed royal, and the princes of the king, even ten men with him, came unto Gedaliah the son of Ahikam to Mizpah and there they did eat bread together in Mizpah.²Then arose Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and the ten men that were with him, and smote Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan with the sword, and slew him, whom the king of Babylon had made governor over the land.³Ishmael also slew all the Jews that were with him, even with Gedaliah, at Mizpah, and the Chaldeans that were found there, and the men of war.⁴And it came to pass the second day after he had slain Gedaliah, and no man knew it,⁵That there came certain from Shechem, from Shiloh, and from Samaria, even fourscore men, having their beards shaven, and their clothes rent, and having cut themselves, with offerings and incense in their hand, to bring them to the house of the LORD.⁶And Ishmael the son of Nethaniah went forth from Mizpah to meet them, weeping all along as he went: and it came to pass, as he met them, he said unto them, Come to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam.⁷And it was so, when they came into the midst of the city, that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah slew them, and cast them into the midst of the pit, he, and the men that were with him.⁸But ten men were found among them that said unto Ishmael, Slay us not: for we have treasures in the field, of wheat, and of barley, and of oil, and of honey. So he forbore, and slew them not among their brethren.⁹Now the pit wherein Ishmael had cast all the dead bodies of the men, whom he had slain because of Gedaliah, was it which Asa the king had made for fear of Baasha king of Israel: and Ishmael the son of Nethaniah filled it with them that were slain.¹⁰Then Ishmael carried away captive all the residue of the people that were in Mizpah, even the king's daughters, and all the people that remained in Mizpah, whom Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard had committed to Gedaliah the son of Ahikam: and Ishmael the son of Nethaniah carried them away captive, and departed to go over to the Ammonites.¹¹But when Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, heard of all the evil that Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had done,¹²Then they took all the men, and went to fight with Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, and found him by the great waters that are in Gibeon.¹³Now it came to pass, that when all the people which were with Ishmael saw Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, then they were glad.¹⁴So all the people that Ishmael had carried away captive from Mizpah cast about and returned, and went unto Johanan the son of Kareah.¹⁵But Ishmael the son of Nethaniah escaped from Johanan with eight men, and went to the Ammonites.¹⁶Then took Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, all the remnant of the people whom he had recovered from Ishmael the son of Nethaniah, from Mizpah, after that he had slain Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, even mighty men of war, and the women, and the children, and the eunuchs, whom he had brought again from Gibeon:¹⁷And they departed, and dwelt in the habitation of Chimham, which is by Bethlehem, to go to enter into Egypt,¹⁸Because of the Chaldeans: for they were afraid of them, because Ishmael the son of Nethaniah had slain Gedaliah the son of Ahikam, whom the king of Babylon made governor in the land.

CHAPTER 42 ¹Then all the captains of the forces, and Johanan the son of Kareah, and Jezaniah the son of Hoshaiah, and all the people from the least even unto the greatest, came near,²And said unto Jeremiah the prophet, Let, we beseech thee, our supplication be accepted before thee, and pray for us unto the LORD thy God, even for all this remnant (for we are left but a few of many, as thine eyes do behold us:)³That the LORD thy God may shew us the way wherein we may walk, and the thing that we may do.⁴Then Jeremiah the prophet said unto them, I have heard you behold, I will pray unto the LORD your God according to your words and it shall come to pass, that whatsoever thing the LORD shall answer you, I will declare it unto you I will keep nothing back from you.⁵Then they said to Jeremiah, The LORD be a true and faithful witness between us, if we do not even according to all things for the which the LORD thy God shall send thee to us.⁶Whether it be good, or whether it be evil, we will obey the voice of the LORD our God, to whom we send thee that it may be well with us, when we obey the voice of the LORD our God.⁷And it came to pass after ten days, that the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah.⁸Then called he Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces which were with him, and all the people from the least even to the greatest,⁹And said unto them, Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, unto whom ye sent me to present your supplication before him¹⁰If ye will still abide in this land, then will I build you, and not pull you down, and I will plant you, and not pluck you up: for I repent me of the evil that I have done unto you.¹¹Be not afraid of the king of Babylon, of whom ye are afraid be not afraid of him, saith the LORD: for I am with you to save you, and to deliver you from his hand.¹²And I will shew mercies unto you, that he may have mercy upon you, and cause you to return to your own land.¹³But if ye say, We will not dwell in this land, neither obey the voice of the LORD your God,¹⁴Saying, No but we will go into the land of Egypt, where we shall see no war, nor hear the sound of the trumpet, nor have hunger of bread and there will we dwell:¹⁵And now therefore hear the word of the LORD, ye remnant of Judah Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel If ye wholly set your faces to enter into Egypt, and go to sojourn there¹⁶Then it shall come to pass, that the sword, which ye feared, shall overtake you there in the land of Egypt, and the famine, whereof ye were afraid, shall follow close after you there in Egypt and there ye shall die.¹⁷So shall it be with all the men that set their faces to go into Egypt to sojourn there they shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence: and none of them shall remain or escape from the evil that I will bring upon them.¹⁸For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel As mine anger and my fury hath been poured forth upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem so shall my fury be poured forth upon you, when ye shall enter into Egypt: and ye shall be an execration, and an astonishment, and a curse, and a reproach and ye shall see this place no more.¹⁹The LORD hath said concerning you, O ye remnant of Judah Go ye not into Egypt: know certainly that I have admonished you this day.²⁰For ye dissembled in your hearts, when ye sent me unto the LORD your God, saying, Pray for us unto the LORD our God and according unto all that the LORD our God shall say, so declare unto us, and we will do it.²¹And now I have this day declared it to you but ye have not obeyed the voice of the LORD your God, nor any thing for the which he hath sent me unto you.²²Now therefore know certainly that ye shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence, in the place whither ye desire to go and to sojourn.

CHAPTER 43 ¹And it came to pass, that when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking unto all the people all the words of the LORD their God, for which the LORD their God had sent him to them, even all these words,²Then spake Azariah the son of Hoshaiah, and Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the proud men, saying unto Jeremiah, Thou speakest falsely: the LORD our God hath not sent thee to say, Go not into Egypt to sojourn there:³But Baruch the son of Neriah setteth thee on against us, for to deliver us into the hand of the Chaldeans, that they might put us to death, and carry us away captives into Babylon.⁴So Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces, and all the people, obeyed not the voice of the LORD, to dwell in the land of Judah.⁵But Johanan the son of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces, took all the remnant of Judah, that were returned from all nations, whither they had been driven, to dwell in the land of Judah⁶Even men, and women, and children, and the king's daughters, and every person that Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard had left with Gedaliah the son of Ahikam the son of Shaphan, and Jeremiah the prophet, and Baruch the son of Neriah.⁷So they came into the land of Egypt: for they obeyed not the voice of the LORD: thus came they even to Tahpanhes.⁸Then came the word of the LORD unto

Jeremiah in Tahpanhes, saying,⁹Take great stones in thine hand, and hide them in the clay in the brickkiln, which is at the entry of Pharaoh's house in Tahpanhes, in the sight of the men of Judah¹⁰And say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel Behold, I will send and take Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon, my servant, and will set his throne upon these stones that I have hid and he shall spread his royal pavilion over them.¹¹And when he cometh, he shall smite the land of Egypt, and deliver such as are for death to death and such as are for captivity to captivity and such as are for the sword to the sword.¹²And I will kindle a fire in the houses of the gods of Egypt and he shall burn them, and carry them away captives: and he shall array himself with the land of Egypt, as a shepherd putteth on his garment and he shall go forth from thence in peace.¹³He shall break also the images of Bethshemesh, that is in the land of Egypt and the houses of the gods of the Egyptians shall he burn with fire.

CHAPTER 44 ¹The word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the Jews which dwell in the land of Egypt, which dwell at Migdol, and at Tahpanhes, and at Noph, and in the country of Pathros, saying,²Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel Ye have seen all the evil that I have brought upon Jerusalem, and upon all the cities of Judah and, behold, this day they are a desolation, and no man dwelleth therein,³Because of their wickedness which they have committed to provoke me to anger, in that they went to burn incense, and to serve other gods, whom they knew not, neither they, ye, nor your fathers.⁴Howbeit I sent unto you all my servants the prophets, rising early and sending them, saying, Oh, do not this abominable thing that I hate.⁵But they hearkened not, nor inclined their ear to turn from their wickedness, to burn no incense unto other gods.⁶Wherefore my fury and mine anger was poured forth, and was kindled in the cities of Judah and in the streets of Jerusalem and they are wasted and desolate, as at this day.⁷Therefore now this saith the LORD, the God of hosts, the God of Israel Wherefore commit ye this great evil against your souls, to cut off from you man and woman, child and suckling, out of Judah, to leave you none to remain⁸In that ye provoke me unto wrath with the works of your hands, burning incense unto other gods in the land of Egypt, whither ye be gone to dwell, that ye might cut yourselves off, and that ye might be a curse and a reproach among all the nations of the earth?⁹Have ye forgotten the wickedness of your fathers, and the wickedness of the kings of Judah, and the wickedness of their wives, and your own wickedness, and the wickedness of your wives, which they have committed in the land of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem?¹⁰They are not humbled even unto this day, neither have they feared, nor walked in my law, nor in my statutes, that I set before you and before your fathers.¹¹Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel Behold, I will set my face against you for evil, and to cut off all Judah.¹²And I will take the remnant of Judah, that have set their faces to go into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, and they shall all be consumed, and fall in the land of Egypt they shall even be consumed by the sword and by the famine: they shall die, from the least even unto the greatest, by the sword and by the famine: and they shall be an execration, and an astonishment, and a curse, and a reproach.¹³For I will punish them that dwell in the land of Egypt, as I have punished Jerusalem, by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence.¹⁴So that none of the remnant of Judah, which are gone into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, shall escape or remain, that they should return into the land of Judah, to the which they have a desire to return to dwell there: for none shall return but such as shall escape.¹⁵Then all the men which knew that their wives had burned incense unto other gods, and all the women that stood by, a great multitude, even all the people that dwelt in the land of Egypt, in Pathros, answered Jeremiah, saying,¹⁶As for the word that thou hast spoken unto us in the name of the LORD, we will not hearken unto thee.¹⁷But we will certainly do whatsoever thing goeth forth out of our own mouth, to burn incense unto the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto her, as we have done, we, and our fathers, our kings, and our princes, in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem: for then had we plenty of victuals, and were well, and saw no evil.¹⁸But since we left off to burn incense to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto her, we have wanted all things, and have been consumed by the sword and by the famine.¹⁹And when we burned incense to the queen of heaven, and poured out drink offerings unto her, did we make her cakes to worship her, and pour out drink offerings unto her, without our men?²⁰Then Jeremiah said unto all the people, to the men, and to the women, and to all the people which had given him that answer, saying,²¹The incense that ye burned in the cities of Judah, and in the streets of Jerusalem, ye, and your fathers, your kings, and your princes, and the people of the land, did not the LORD remember them, and came it not into his mind?²²So that the LORD could no longer bear, because of the evil of your doings, and because of the abominations which ye have committed therefore is your land a desolation, and an astonishment, and a curse, without an inhabitant, as at this day.²³Because ye have burned incense, and because ye have sinned against the LORD, and have not obeyed the voice of the LORD, nor walked in his law, nor in his statutes, nor in his testimonies therefore this evil is happened unto you, as at this day.²⁴Moreover Jeremiah said unto all the people, and to all the women, Hear the word of the LORD, all Judah that are in the land of Egypt:²⁵Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saying Ye and your wives have both spoken with your mouths, and fulfilled with your hand, saying, We will surely perform our vows that we have vowed, to burn incense to the queen of heaven, and to pour out drink offerings unto her: ye will surely accomplish your vows, and surely perform your vows.²⁶Therefore hear ye the word of the LORD, all Judah that dwell in the land of Egypt Behold, I have sworn by my great name, saith the LORD, that my name shall no more be named in the mouth of any man of Judah in all the land of Egypt, saying, The Lord GOD liveth.²⁷Behold, I will watch over them for evil, and not for good: and all the men of Judah that are in the land of Egypt shall be consumed by the sword and by the famine, until there be an end of them.²⁸Yet a small number that escape the sword shall return out of the land of Egypt into the land of Judah, and all the remnant of Judah, that are gone into the land of Egypt to sojourn there, shall know whose words shall stand, mine, or theirs.²⁹And this shall be a sign unto you, saith the LORD, that I will punish you in this place, that ye may know that my words shall surely stand against you for evil:³⁰Thus saith the LORD Behold, I will give Pharaoh-hophra king of Egypt into the hand of his enemies, and into the hand of them that seek his life as I gave Zedekiah king of Judah into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, his enemy, and that sought his life.

CHAPTER 45 ¹The word that Jeremiah the prophet spake unto Baruch the son of Neriah, when he had written these words in a book at the mouth of Jeremiah, in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah, saying,²Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, unto thee, O Baruch³Thou didst say, Woe is me now! for the LORD hath added grief to my sorrow I fainted in my sighing, and I find no rest.⁴Thus shalt thou say unto him, The LORD saith thus Behold, that which I have built will I break down, and that which I have planted I will pluck up, even this whole land.⁵And seekest thou great things for thyself? seek them not: for, behold, I will bring evil upon all flesh, saith the LORD: but thy life will I give unto thee for a prey in all places whither thou goest.

CHAPTER 46 ¹The word of the LORD which came to Jeremiah the prophet against the Gentiles²Against Egypt, against the army of Pharaoh-necho king of Egypt, which was by the river Euphrates in Carchemish, which Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon smote in the fourth year of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah king of Judah.³Order ye the buckler and shield, and draw near to battle.⁴Harness the horses and get up, ye horsemen, and stand forth with your helmets furbish the spears, and put on the brigandines.⁵Wherefore have I seen them dismayed and turned away back? and their mighty ones are beaten down, and are fled apace, and look not back: for fear was round about, saith the LORD.⁶Let not the swift flee away, nor the mighty man escape they shall stumble, and fall toward the north by the river Euphrates.⁷Who is this that cometh up as a flood, whose waters are moved as the rivers?⁸Egypt riseth up like a flood, and his waters are moved like the rivers and he saith, I will go up, and will cover the earth I will destroy the city and the inhabitants thereof.⁹Come up, ye horses and rage, ye chariots and let the mighty men come forth the Ethiopians and the Libyans, that handle the shield and the Lydians, that handle and bend the bow.¹⁰For this is the day of the Lord GOD of hosts, a day of vengeance, that he may avenge him of his adversaries: and the sword shall devour, and it shall be satiate and made drunk with their blood: for the Lord GOD of hosts hath a sacrifice in the north country by the river Euphrates.¹¹Go up into Gilead, and take balm, O virgin, the daughter of Egypt: in vain shalt thou use many medicines for thou shalt not be cured.¹²The nations have heard of thy shame, and thy cry hath filled the land: for the mighty man hath stumbled against the mighty, and they are fallen both together.¹³The word that the LORD spake to Jeremiah the prophet, how Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon should come and smite the land of Egypt.¹⁴Declare ye in Egypt, and publish in Migdol, and publish in Noph and in Tahpanhes: say ye, Stand fast, and prepare thee for the sword shall devour round about thee.¹⁵Why are thy valiant men swept away? they stood not, because the LORD did drive them.¹⁶He made many to fall, yea, one fell upon another: and they said, Arise, and let us go again to our own people, and to the land of our nativity, from the oppressing sword.¹⁷They did cry there, Pharaoh king of Egypt is but a noise he hath passed the time appointed.¹⁸As I live, saith the King, whose name is the LORD of hosts, Surely as Tabor is among the mountains, and as Carmel by the sea, so shall he come.¹⁹O thou daughter dwelling in Egypt, furnish thyself to go into captivity: for Noph shall be waste and desolate without an inhabitant.²⁰Egypt is like a very fair heifer, but destruction cometh it cometh out of the north.²¹Also her hired men are in the midst of her like fatted bullocks for they also are turned back, and are fled away together: they did not stand, because the day of their calamity was come upon them, and the time of their visitation.²²The voice thereof shall go like a serpent for they shall march with an army, and come against her with axes, as hewers of wood.²³They shall cut down her forest, saith the LORD, though it cannot be searched because they are more than the grasshoppers, and are innumerable.²⁴The daughter of Egypt shall be confounded she shall be delivered into the hand of the people of the north.²⁵The

LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, saith Behold, I will punish the multitude of No, and Pharaoh, and Egypt, with their gods, and their kings even Pharaoh, and all them that trust in him:²⁶And I will deliver them into the hand of those that seek their lives, and into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of his servants: and afterward it shall be inhabited, as in the days of old, saith the LORD.²⁷But fear not thou, O my servant Jacob, and be not dismayed, O Israel: for, behold, I will save thee from afar off, and thy seed from the land of their captivity and Jacob shall return, and be in rest and at ease, and none shall make him afraid.²⁸Fear thou not, O Jacob my servant, saith the LORD: for I am with thee for I will make a full end of all the nations whither I have driven thee: but I will not make a full end of thee, but correct thee in measure yet will I not leave thee wholly unpunished.

CHAPTER 47 ¹The word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah the prophet against the Philistines, before that Pharaoh smote Gaza.²Thus saith the LORD Behold, waters rise up out of the north, and shall be an overflowing flood, and shall overflow the land, and all that is therein the city, and them that dwell therein: then the men shall cry, and all the inhabitants of the land shall howl.³At the noise of the stamping of the hoofs of his strong horses, at the rushing of his chariots, and at the rumbling of his wheels, the fathers shall not look back to their children for feebleness of hands⁴Because of the day that cometh to spoil all the Philistines, and to cut off from Tyrus and Zidon every helper that remaineth: for the LORD will spoil the Philistines, the remnant of the country of Caphtor.⁵Baldness is come upon Gaza Ashkelon is cut off with the remnant of their valley: how long wilt thou cut thyself?⁶O thou sword of the LORD, how long will it be ere thou be quiet? put up thyself into thy scabbard, rest, and be still.⁷How can it be quiet, seeing the LORD hath given it a charge against Ashkelon, and against the sea shore? there hath he appointed it.

CHAPTER 48 ¹Against Moab thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel Woe unto Nebo! for it is spoiled: Kiriathaim is confounded and taken: Misgab is confounded and dismayed.²There shall be no more praise of Moab: in Heshbon they have devised evil against it come, and let us cut it off from being a nation. Also thou shalt be cut down, O Madmen the sword shall pursue thee.³A voice of crying shall be from Horonaim, spoiling and great destruction.⁴Moab is destroyed her little ones have caused a cry to be heard.⁵For in the going up of Luhith continual weeping shall go up for in the going down of Horonaim the enemies have heard a cry of destruction.⁶Flee, save your lives, and be like the heath in the wilderness.⁷For because thou hast trusted in thy works and in thy treasures, thou shalt also be taken: and Chemosh shall go forth into captivity with his priests and his princes together.⁸And the spoiler shall come upon every city, and no city shall escape: the valley also shall perish, and the plain shall be destroyed, as the LORD hath spoken.⁹Give wings unto Moab, that it may flee and get away: for the cities thereof shall be desolate, without any to dwell therein.¹⁰Cursed be he that doeth the work of the LORD deceitfully, and cursed be he that keepeth back his sword from blood.¹¹Moab hath been at ease from his youth, and he hath settled on his lees, and hath not been emptied from vessel to vessel, neither hath he gone into captivity: therefore his taste remained in him, and his scent is not changed.¹²Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will send unto him wanderers, that shall cause him to wander, and shall empty his vessels, and break their bottles.¹³And Moab shall be ashamed of Chemosh, as the house of Israel was ashamed of Bethel their confidence.¹⁴How say ye, We are mighty and strong men for the war?¹⁵Moab is spoiled, and gone up out of her cities, and his chosen young men are gone down to the slaughter, saith the King, whose name is the LORD of hosts.¹⁶The calamity of Moab is near to come, and his affliction hasteth fast.¹⁷All ye that are about him, bemoan him and all ye that know his name, say, How is the strong staff broken, and the beautiful rod!¹⁸Thou daughter that dost inhabit Dibon, come down from thy glory, and sit in thirst for the spoiler of Moab shall come upon thee, and he shall destroy thy strong holds.¹⁹O inhabitant of Aroer, stand by the way, and espy ask him that fleeth, and her that escapeth, and say, What is done?²⁰Moab is confounded for it is broken down: howl and cry and tell ye it in Arnon, that Moab is spoiled,²¹And judgment is come upon the plain country upon Holon, and upon Jahazah, and upon Mephaath,²²And upon Dibon, and upon Nebo, and upon Beth-diblathaim,²³And upon Kiriathaim, and upon Beth-gamul, and upon Beth-meon,²⁴And upon Kerioth, and upon Bozrah, and upon all the cities of the land of Moab, far or near.²⁵The horn of Moab is cut off, and his arm is broken, saith the LORD.²⁶Make ye him drunken: for he magnified himself against the LORD: Moab also shall wallow in his vomit, and he also shall be in derision.²⁷For was not Israel a derision unto thee? was he found among thieves? for since thou spakest of him, thou skippedst for joy.²⁸O ye that dwell in Moab, leave the cities, and dwell in the rock, and be like the dove that maketh her nest in the sides of the hole's mouth.²⁹We have heard the pride of Moab, (he is exceeding proud) his loftiness, and his arrogancy, and his pride, and the haughtiness of his heart.³⁰I know his wrath, saith the LORD but it shall not be so his lies shall not so effect it.³¹Therefore will I howl for Moab, and I will cry out for all Moab mine heart shall mourn for the men of Kir-heres.³²O vine of Sibmah, I will weep for thee with the weeping of Jazer: thy plants are gone over the sea, they reach even to the sea of Jazer: the spoiler is fallen upon thy summer fruits and upon thy vintage.³³And joy and gladness is taken from the plentiful field, and from the land of Moab and I have caused wine to fail from the winepresses: none shall tread with shouting their shouting shall be no shouting.³⁴From the cry of Heshbon even unto Elealeh, and even unto Jahaz, have they uttered their voice, from Zoar even unto Horonaim, as an heifer of three years old: for the waters also of Nimrim shall be desolate.³⁵Moreover I will cause to cease in Moab, saith the LORD, him that offereth in the high places, and him that burneth incense to his gods.³⁶Therefore mine heart shall sound for Moab like pipes, and mine heart shall sound like pipes for the men of Kir-heres: because the riches that he hath gotten are perished.³⁷For every head shall be bald, and every beard clipped: upon all the hands shall be cuttings, and upon the loins sackcloth.³⁸There shall be lamentation generally upon all the housetops of Moab, and in the streets thereof: for I have broken Moab like a vessel wherein is no pleasure, saith the LORD.³⁹They shall howl, saying, How is it broken down! how hath Moab turned the back with shame! so shall Moab be a derision and a dismay to all them about him.⁴⁰For thus saith the LORD Behold, he shall fly as an eagle, and shall spread his wings over Moab.⁴¹Kerioth is taken, and the strong holds are surprised, and the mighty men's hearts in Moab at that day shall be as the heart of a woman in her pangs.⁴²And Moab shall be destroyed from being a people, because he hath magnified himself against the LORD.⁴³Fear, and the pit, and the snare, shall be upon thee, O inhabitant of Moab, saith the LORD.⁴⁴He that fleeth from the fear shall fall into the pit and he that getteth up out of the pit shall be taken in the snare: for I will bring upon it, even upon Moab, the year of their visitation, saith the LORD.⁴⁵They that fled stood under the shadow of Heshbon because of the force: but a fire shall come forth out of Heshbon, and a flame from the midst of Sihon, and shall devour the corner of Moab, and the crown of the head of the tumultuous ones.⁴⁶Woe be unto thee, O Moab! the people of Chemosh perisheth: for thy sons are taken captives, and thy daughters captives.⁴⁷Yet will I bring again the captivity of Moab in the latter days, saith the LORD. Thus far is the judgment of Moab.

CHAPTER 49 ¹Concerning the Ammonites, thus saith the LORD Hath Israel no sons? hath he no heir? why then doth their king inherit Gad, and his people dwell in his cities?²Therefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will cause an alarm of war to be heard in Rabbah of the Ammonites and it shall be a desolate heap, and her daughters shall be burned with fire: then shall Israel be heir unto them that were his heirs, saith the LORD.³Howl, O Heshbon, for Ai is spoiled: cry, ye daughters of Rabbah, gird you with sackcloth lament, and run to and fro by the hedges for their king shall go into captivity, and his priests and his princes together.⁴Wherefore gloriest thou in the valleys, thy flowing valley, O backsliding daughter? that trusted in her treasures, saying, Who shall come unto me?⁵Behold, I will bring a fear upon thee, saith the Lord GOD of hosts, from all those that be about thee and ye shall be driven out every man right forth and none shall gather up him that wandereth.⁶And afterward I will bring again the captivity of the children of Ammon, saith the LORD.⁷Concerning Edom, thus saith the LORD of hosts Is wisdom no more in Teman? is counsel perished from the prudent? is their wisdom vanished?⁸Flee ye, turn back, dwell deep, O inhabitants of Dedan for I will bring the calamity of Esau upon him, the time that I will visit him.⁹If grapegatherers come to thee, would they not leave some gleaning grapes? if thieves by night, they will destroy till they have enough.¹⁰But I have made Esau bare, I have uncovered his secret places, and he shall not be able to hide himself: his seed is spoiled, and his brethren, and his neighbours, and he is not.¹¹Leave thy fatherless children, I will preserve them alive and let thy widows trust in me.¹²For thus saith the LORD Behold, they whose judgment was not to drink of the cup have assuredly drunken and art thou he that shall altogether go unpunished? thou shalt not go unpunished, but thou shalt surely drink of it.¹³For I have sworn by myself, saith the LORD, that Bozrah shall become a desolation, a reproach, a waste, and a curse and all the cities thereof shall be perpetual wastes.¹⁴I have heard a rumour from the LORD, and an ambassador is sent unto the heathen, saying, Gather ye together, and come against her, and rise up to the battle.¹⁵For, lo,

I will make thee small among the heathen, and despised among men.¹⁶Thy terribleness hath deceived thee, and the pride of thine heart, O thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rock, that holdest the height of the hill: though thou shouldest make thy nest as high as the eagle, I will bring thee down from thence, saith the LORD.¹⁷Also Edom shall be a desolation: every one that goeth by it shall be astonished, and shall hiss at all the plagues thereof.¹⁸As in the overthrow of Sodom and Gomorrah and the neighbour cities thereof, saith the LORD, no man shall abide there, neither shall a son of man dwell in it.¹⁹Behold, he shall come up like a lion from the swelling of Jordan against the habitation of the strong: but I will suddenly make him run away from her: and who is a chosen man, that I may appoint over her? for who is like me? and who will appoint me the time? and who is that shepherd that will stand before me?²⁰Therefore hear the counsel of the LORD, that he hath taken against Edom and his purposes, that he hath purposed against the inhabitants of Teman: Surely the least of the flock shall draw them out: surely he shall make their habitations desolate with them.²¹The earth is moved at the noise of their fall, at the cry the noise thereof was heard in the Red sea.²²Behold, he shall come up and fly as the eagle, and spread his wings over Bozrah: and at that day shall the heart of the mighty men of Edom be as the heart of a woman in her pangs.²³Concerning Damascus. Hamath is confounded, and Arpad: for they have heard evil tidings: they are fainthearted there is sorrow on the sea it cannot be quiet.²⁴Damascus is waxed feeble, and turneth herself to flee, and fear hath seized on her: anguish and sorrows have taken her, as a woman in travail.²⁵How is the city of praise not left, the city of my joy!²⁶Therefore her young men shall fall in her streets, and all the men of war shall be cut off in that day, saith the LORD of hosts.²⁷And I will kindle a fire in the wall of Damascus, and it shall consume the palaces of Ben-hadad.²⁸Concerning Kedar, and concerning the kingdoms of Hazor, which Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon shall smite, thus saith the LORD Arise ye, go up to Kedar, and spoil the men of the east.²⁹Their tents and their flocks shall they take away: they shall take to themselves their curtains, and all their vessels, and their camels and they shall cry unto them, Fear is on every side.³⁰Flee, get you far off, dwell deep, O ye inhabitants of Hazor, saith the LORD for Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon hath taken counsel against you, and hath conceived a purpose against you.³¹Arise, get you up unto the wealthy nation, that dwelleth without care, saith the LORD, which have neither gates nor bars, which dwell alone.³²And their camels shall be a booty, and the multitude of their cattle a spoil: and I will scatter into all winds them that are in the utmost corners and I will bring their calamity from all sides thereof, saith the LORD.³³And Hazor shall be a dwelling for dragons, and a desolation for ever: there shall no man abide there, nor any son of man dwell in it.³⁴The word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah the prophet against Elam in the beginning of the reign of Zedekiah king of Judah, saying,³⁵Thus saith the LORD of hosts Behold, I will break the bow of Elam, the chief of their might.³⁶And upon Elam will I bring the four winds from the four quarters of heaven, and will scatter them toward all those winds and there shall be no nation whither the outcasts of Elam shall not come.³⁷For I will cause Elam to be dismayed before their enemies, and before them that seek their life: and I will bring evil upon them even my fierce anger, saith the LORD and I will send the sword after them, till I have consumed them:³⁸And I will set my throne in Elam, and will destroy from thence the king and the princes, saith the LORD.³⁹But it shall come to pass in the latter days, that I will bring again the captivity of Elam, saith the LORD.

CHAPTER 50 ¹The word that the LORD spake against Babylon and against the land of the Chaldeans by Jeremiah the prophet.²Declare ye among the nations, and publish, and set up a standard publish, and conceal not: say, Babylon is taken, Bel is confounded, Merodach is broken in pieces her idols are confounded, her images are broken in pieces.³For out of the north there cometh up a nation against her, which shall make her land desolate, and none shall dwell therein: they shall remove, they shall depart, both man and beast.⁴In those days, and in that time, saith the LORD, the children of Israel shall come, they and the children of Judah together, going and weeping: they shall go, and seek the LORD their God.⁵They shall ask the way to Zion with their faces thitherward, saying, Come, and let us join ourselves to the LORD in a perpetual covenant that shall not be forgotten.⁶My people hath been lost sheep: their shepherds have caused them to go astray, they have turned them away on the mountains: they have gone from mountain to hill, they have forgotten their restingplace.⁷All that found them have devoured them: and their adversaries said, We offend not, because they have sinned against the LORD, the habitation of justice, even the LORD, the hope of their fathers.⁸Remove out of the midst of Babylon, and go forth out of the land of the Chaldeans, and be as the he goats before the flocks.⁹For, lo, I will raise and cause to come up against Babylon an assembly of great nations from the north country: and they shall set themselves in array against her from thence she shall be taken: their arrows shall be as of a mighty expert man none shall return in vain.¹⁰And Chaldea shall be a spoil: all that spoil her shall be satisfied, saith the LORD.¹¹Because ye were glad, because ye rejoiced, O ye destroyers of mine heritage, because ye are grown fat as the heifer at grass, and bellow as bulls¹²Your mother shall be sore confounded she that bare you shall be ashamed: behold, the hindermost of the nations shall be a wilderness, a dry land, and a desert.¹³Because of the wrath of the LORD it shall not be inhabited, but it shall be wholly desolate: every one that goeth by Babylon shall be astonished, and hiss at all her plagues.¹⁴Put yourselves in array against Babylon round about: all ye that bend the bow, shoot at her, spare no arrows: for she hath sinned against the LORD.¹⁵Shout against her round about: she hath given her hand: her foundations are fallen, her walls are thrown down: for it is the vengeance of the LORD: take vengeance upon her as she hath done, do unto her.¹⁶Cut off the sower from Babylon, and him that handleth the sickle in the time of harvest: for fear of the oppressing sword they shall turn every one to his people, and they shall flee every one to his own land.¹⁷Israel is a scattered sheep the lions have driven him away: first the king of Assyria hath devoured him and last this Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon hath broken his bones.¹⁸Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel Behold, I will punish the king of Babylon and his land, as I have punished the king of

Assyria.¹⁹And I will bring Israel again to his habitation, and he shall feed on Carmel and Bashan, and his soul shall be satisfied upon mount Ephraim and Gilead.²⁰In those days, and in that time, saith the LORD, the iniquity of Israel shall be sought for, and there shall be none and the sins of Judah, and they shall not be found: for I will pardon them whom I reserve.²¹Go up against the land of Merathaim, even against it, and against the inhabitants of Pekod: waste and utterly destroy after them, saith the LORD, and do according to all that I have commanded thee.²²A sound of battle is in the land, and of great destruction.²³How is the hammer of the whole earth cut asunder and broken! how is Babylon become a desolation among the nations!²⁴I have laid a snare for thee, and thou art also taken, O Babylon, and thou wast not aware: thou art found, and also caught, because thou hast striven against the LORD.²⁵The LORD hath opened his armoury, and hath brought forth the weapons of his indignation: for this is the work of the Lord GOD of hosts in the land of the Chaldeans.²⁶Come against her from the utmost border, open her storehouses: cast her up as heaps, and destroy her utterly: let nothing of her be left.²⁷Slay all her bullocks let them go down to the slaughter: woe unto them! for their day is come, the time of their visitation.²⁸The voice of them that flee and escape out of the land of Babylon, to declare in Zion the vengeance of the LORD our God, the vengeance of his temple.²⁹Call together the archers against Babylon: all ye that bend the bow, camp against it round about let none thereof escape: recompense her according to her work according to all that she hath done, do unto her: for she hath been proud against the LORD, against the Holy One of Israel.³⁰Therefore shall her young men fall in the streets, and all her men of war shall be cut off in that day, saith the LORD.³¹Behold, I am against thee, O thou most proud, saith the Lord GOD of hosts: for thy day is come, the time that I will visit thee.³²And the most proud shall stumble and fall, and none shall raise him up: and I will kindle a fire in his cities, and it shall devour all round about him.³³Thus saith the LORD of hosts The children of Israel and the children of Judah were oppressed together: and all that took them captives held them fast they refused to let them go.³⁴Their Redeemer is strong the LORD of hosts is his name:

he shall throughly plead their cause, that he may give rest to the land, and disquiet the inhabitants of Babylon.³⁵A sword is upon the Chaldeans, saith the LORD, and upon the inhabitants of Babylon, and upon her princes, and upon her wise men.³⁶A sword is upon the liars and they shall dote: a sword is upon her mighty men and they shall be dismayed.³⁷A sword is upon their horses, and upon their chariots, and upon all the mingled people that are in the midst of her and they shall become as women: a sword is upon her treasures and they shall be robbed.³⁸A drought is upon her waters and they shall be dried up: for it is the land of graven images, and they are mad upon their idols.³⁹Therefore the wild beasts of the desert with the wild beasts of the islands shall dwell there, and the owls shall dwell therein: and it shall be no more inhabited for ever neither shall it be dwelt in from generation to generation.⁴⁰As God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah and the neighbour cities thereof, saith the LORD so shall no man abide there, neither shall any son of man dwell therein.⁴¹Behold, a people shall come from the north, and a great nation, and many kings shall be raised up from the coasts of the earth.⁴²They shall hold the bow and the lance: they are cruel, and will not shew mercy: their voice shall roar like the sea, and they shall ride upon horses, every one put in array, like a man to the battle, against thee, O daughter of Babylon.⁴³The king of Babylon hath heard the report of them, and his hands waxed feeble: anguish took hold of him, and pangs as of a woman in travail.⁴⁴Behold, he shall come up like a lion from the swelling of Jordan unto the habitation of the strong: but I will make them suddenly run away from her: and who is a chosen man, that I may appoint over her? for who is like me? and who will appoint me the time? and who is that shepherd that will stand before me?⁴⁵Therefore hear ye the counsel of the LORD, that he hath taken against Babylon and his purposes, that he hath purposed against the land of the Chaldeans: Surely the least of the flock shall draw them out: surely he shall make their habitation desolate with them.⁴⁶At the noise of the taking of Babylon the earth is moved, and the cry is heard among the nations.

CHAPTER 51 ¹Thus saith the LORD Behold, I will raise up against Babylon, and against them that dwell in the midst of them that rise up against me, a destroying wind²And will send unto Babylon fanners, that shall fan her, and shall empty her land: for in the day of trouble they shall be against her round about.³Against him that bendeth let the archer bend his bow, and against him that lifteth himself up in his brigandine: and spare ye not her young men destroy ye utterly all her host.⁴Thus the slain shall fall in the land of the Chaldeans, and they that are thrust through in her streets.⁵For Israel hath not been forsaken, nor Judah of his God, of the LORD of hosts though their land was filled with sin against the Holy One of Israel.⁶Flee out of the midst of Babylon, and deliver every man his soul: be not cut off in her iniquity for this is the time of the LORD's vengeance he will render unto her a recompence.⁷Babylon hath been a golden cup in the LORD's hand, that made all the earth drunken: the nations have drunken of her wine therefore the nations are mad.⁸Babylon is suddenly fallen and destroyed: howl for her take balm for her pain, if so she may be healed.⁹We would have healed Babylon, but she is not healed: forsake her, and let us go every one into his own country: for her judgment reacheth unto heaven, and is lifted up even to the skies.¹⁰The LORD hath brought forth our righteousness: come, and let us declare in Zion the work of the LORD our God.¹¹Make bright the arrows gather the shields: the LORD hath raised up the spirit of the kings of the Medes: for his device is against Babylon, to destroy it because it is the vengeance of the LORD, the vengeance of his temple.¹²Set up the standard upon the walls of Babylon, make the watch strong, set up the watchmen, prepare the ambushes: for the LORD hath both devised and done that which he spake against the inhabitants of Babylon.¹³O thou that dwellest upon many waters, abundant in treasures, thine end is come, and the measure of thy covetousness.¹⁴The LORD of hosts hath sworn by himself, saying, Surely I will fill thee with men, as with caterpillers and they shall lift up a shout against thee.¹⁵He hath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heaven by his understanding.¹⁶When he uttereth his voice, there is a multitude of waters in the heavens and he causeth the vapours to ascend from the ends of the earth: he maketh lightnings with rain, and bringeth forth the wind out of his treasures.¹⁷Every man is brutish by his knowledge every founder is confounded by the graven image: for his molten image is falsehood, and there is no breath in them.¹⁸They are vanity, the work of errors: in the time of their visitation they shall perish.¹⁹The portion of Jacob is not like them for he is the former of all things: and Israel is the rod of his inheritance: the LORD of hosts is his name.²⁰Thou art my battle axe and weapons of war: for with thee will I break in pieces the nations, and with thee will I destroy kingdoms²¹And with thee will I break in pieces the horse and his rider and with thee will I break in pieces the chariot and his rider²²With thee also will I break in pieces man and woman and with thee will I break in pieces old and young and with thee will I break in pieces the young man and the maid²³I will also break in pieces with thee the shepherd and his flock and with thee will I break in pieces the husbandman and his yoke of oxen and with thee will I break in pieces captains and rulers.²⁴And I will render unto Babylon and to all the inhabitants of Chaldea all their evil that they have done in Zion in your sight, saith the LORD.²⁵Behold, I am against thee, O destroying mountain, saith the LORD, which destroyest all the earth: and I will stretch out mine hand upon thee, and roll thee down from the rocks, and will make thee a burnt mountain.²⁶And they shall not take of thee a stone for a corner, nor a stone for foundations but thou shalt be desolate for ever, saith the LORD.²⁷Set ye up a standard in the land, blow the trumpet among the nations, prepare the nations against her, call together against her the kingdoms of Ararat, Minni, and Ashchenaz appoint a captain against her cause the horses to come up as the rough caterpillers.²⁸Prepare against her the nations with the kings of the Medes, the captains thereof, and all the rulers thereof, and all the land of his dominion.²⁹And the land shall tremble and sorrow: for every purpose of the LORD shall be performed against Babylon, to make the land of Babylon a desolation without an inhabitant.³⁰The mighty men of Babylon have forborn to fight, they have remained in their holds: their might hath failed they became as women: they have burned her dwellingplaces her bars are broken.³¹One post shall run to meet another, and one messenger to meet another, to shew the king of Babylon that his city is taken at one end,³²And that the passages are stopped, and the reeds they have burned with fire, and the men of war are affrighted.³³For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel The daughter of Babylon is like a threshingfloor, it is time to thresh her: yet a little while, and the time of her harvest shall come.³⁴Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon hath devoured me, he hath crushed me, he hath made me an empty vessel, he hath swallowed me up like a dragon, he hath filled his belly with my delicates, he hath cast me out.³⁵The violence done to me and to my flesh be upon Babylon, shall the inhabitant of Zion say and my blood upon the inhabitants of Chaldea, shall Jerusalem say.³⁶Therefore thus saith the LORD Behold, I will plead thy cause, and take vengeance for thee and I will dry up her sea, and make her springs dry.³⁷And Babylon shall become heaps, a dwellingplace for dragons, an astonishment, and an hissing, without an inhabitant.³⁸They shall roar together like lions: they shall yell as lion's whelps.³⁹In their heat I will make their feasts, and I will make them drunken, that they may rejoice, and sleep a perpetual sleep, and not wake, saith the LORD.⁴⁰I will bring them down like lambs to the slaughter, like rams with he goats.⁴¹How is Sheshach taken! and how is the praise of the whole earth surprised! how is Babylon become an astonishment among the nations!⁴²The sea is come up upon Babylon: she is covered with the multitude of the waves thereof.⁴³Her cities are a desolation, a dry land, and a wilderness, a land wherein no man dwelleth, neither doth any son of man pass thereby.⁴⁴And I will punish Bel in Babylon, and I will bring forth out of his mouth that which he hath swallowed up: and the nations shall not flow together any more unto him: yea, the wall of Babylon shall fall.⁴⁵My people, go ye out of the midst of her, and deliver ye every man his soul from the fierce anger of the LORD.⁴⁶And lest your heart faint, and ye fear for the rumour that shall be heard in the land a rumour shall both come one year, and after that in another year shall come a rumour, and violence in the land, ruler against ruler.⁴⁷Therefore, behold, the days come, that I will do judgment upon the graven images of Babylon: and her whole land shall be confounded, and all her slain shall fall in the midst of her.⁴⁸Then the heaven and the earth, and all that is therein, shall sing for Babylon: for the spoilers shall come unto her from the north, saith the LORD.⁴⁹As Babylon hath caused the slain of Israel to fall, so at Babylon shall fall the slain of all the earth.⁵⁰Ye that have escaped the sword, go away, stand not still: remember the LORD afar off, and let Jerusalem come into your mind.⁵¹We are confounded, because we have heard reproach: shame hath covered our faces: for strangers are come into the sanctuaries of the LORD's house.⁵²Wherefore, behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that I will do judgment upon her graven images: and through all her land the wounded shall groan.⁵³Though Babylon should mount up to heaven, and though she should fortify the height of her strength, yet from me shall spoilers come unto her, saith the LORD.⁵⁴A sound of a cry cometh from Babylon, and great destruction from the land of the Chaldeans:⁵⁵Because the LORD hath spoiled Babylon, and destroyed out of her the great voice when her waves do roar like great waters, a noise of their voice is uttered:⁵⁶Because the spoiler is come upon her, even upon Babylon, and her mighty men are taken, every one of their bows is broken: for the LORD God of recompences shall surely requite.⁵⁷And I will make drunk her princes, and her wise men, her captains, and her rulers, and her mighty men: and they shall sleep a perpetual sleep, and not wake, saith the King, whose name is the LORD of hosts.⁵⁸Thus saith the LORD of hosts The broad walls of Babylon shall be utterly broken, and her high gates shall be burned with fire and the people shall labour in vain, and the folk in the fire, and they shall be weary.⁵⁹The word which Jeremiah the prophet commanded Seraiah the son of Neriah, the son of Maaseiah, when he went with Zedekiah the king of Judah into Babylon in the fourth year of his reign. And this Seraiah was a quiet prince.⁶⁰So Jeremiah wrote in a book all the evil that should come upon Babylon, even all these words that are written against Babylon.⁶¹And Jeremiah said to Seraiah, When thou comest to Babylon, and shalt see, and shalt read all these words⁶²Then shalt thou say, O LORD, thou hast spoken against this place, to cut it off, that none shall remain in it, neither man nor beast, but that it shall be desolate for ever.⁶³And it shall be, when thou hast made an end of reading this book, that thou shalt bind a stone to it, and cast it into the midst of Euphrates:⁶⁴And thou shalt say, Thus shall Babylon sink, and shall not rise from the evil that I will bring upon her: and they shall be weary. Thus far are the words of Jeremiah.

CHAPTER 52 ¹Zedekiah was one and twenty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Hamutal the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.²And he did that which was evil in the eyes of the LORD, according to all that Jehoiakim had done.³For through the anger of the LORD it came to pass in Jerusalem and Judah, till he had cast them out from his presence, that Zedekiah rebelled against the king of Babylon.⁴And it came to pass in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, that Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon came, he and all his army, against Jerusalem, and pitched against it, and built forts against it round about.⁵So the city was besieged unto the eleventh year of king Zedekiah.⁶And in the fourth month, in the ninth day of the month, the famine was sore in the city, so that there was no bread for the people of the land.⁷Then the city was broken up, and all the men of war fled, and went forth out of the city by night by the way of the gate between the two walls, which was by the king's garden (now the Chaldeans were by the city round about:) and they went by the way of the plain.⁸But the army of the Chaldeans pursued after the king, and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho and all his army was scattered from him.⁹Then they took the king, and carried him up unto the king of Babylon to Riblah in the land of Hamath where he gave judgment upon him.¹⁰And the king of Babylon slew the sons of Zedekiah before his eyes: he slew also all the princes of Judah in Riblah.¹¹Then he put out the eyes of Zedekiah and the king of Babylon bound him in chains, and carried him to Babylon, and put him in prison till the day of his death.¹²Now in the fifth month, in the tenth day of the month, which was the nineteenth year of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, came Nebuzar-adan, captain of the guard, which served the king of Babylon, into Jerusalem,¹³And burned the house of the LORD, and the king's house and all the houses of Jerusalem, and all the houses of the great men, burned he with fire:¹⁴And all the army of the Chaldeans, that were with the captain of the guard, brake down all the walls of Jerusalem round about.¹⁵Then Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard carried away captive certain of the poor of the people, and the residue of the people that remained in the city, and those that fell away, that fell to the king of Babylon, and the rest of the multitude.¹⁶But Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard left certain of the poor of the land for vinedressers and for husbandmen.¹⁷Also the pillars of brass that were in the house of the LORD, and the bases, and the brasen sea that was in the house of the LORD, the Chaldeans brake, and carried all the brass of them to Babylon.¹⁸The caldrons also, and the shovels, and the snuffers, and the bowls, and the spoons, and all the vessels of brass wherewith they ministered, took they away.¹⁹And the basons, and the firepans, and the bowls, and the caldrons, and the candlesticks, and the spoons, and the cups that which was of gold in gold, and that which was of silver in silver, took the captain of the guard away.²⁰The two pillars, one sea, and twelve brasen bulls that were under the bases, which king Solomon had made in the house of the LORD: the brass of all these vessels was without weight.²¹And concerning the pillars, the height of one pillar was eighteen cubits and a fillet of twelve cubits did compass it and the thickness thereof was four fingers: it was hollow.²²And a chapter of brass was upon it and the height of one chapter was five cubits, with network and pomegranates upon the chapters round about, all of brass. The second pillar also and the pomegranates were like unto these.²³And there were ninety and six pomegranates on a side and all the pomegranates upon the network were an hundred round about.²⁴And the captain of the guard took Seraiah the chief priest, and Zephaniah the second priest, and the three keepers of the door:²⁵He took also out of the city an eunuch, which had the charge of the men of war and seven men of them that were near the king's person, which were found in the city and the principal scribe of the host, who mustered the people of the land and threescore men of the people of the land, that were found in the midst of the city.²⁶So Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard took them, and brought them to the king of Babylon to
