Riblah.²⁷And the king of Babylon smote them, and put them to death in Riblah in the land of Hamath. Thus Judah was carried away captive out of his own land.²⁸This is the people whom Nebuchadrezzar carried away captive: in the seventh year three thousand Jews and three and twenty:²⁹In the eighteenth year of Nebuchadrezzar he carried away captive from Jerusalem eight hundred thirty and two persons:³⁰In the three and twentieth year of Nebuchadrezzar Nebuzar-adan the captain of the guard carried away captive of the Jews seven hundred forty and five persons: all the persons were four thousand and six hundred.³¹And it came to pass in the seven and thirtieth year of the captivity of Jehoiachin king of Judah, in the twelfth month, in the five and twentieth day of the month, that Evil-merodach king of Babylon in the first year of his reign lifted up the head of Jehoiachin king of Judah, and brought him forth out of prison,³²And spake kindly unto him, and set his throne above the throne of the kings that were with him in Babylon,³³And changed his prison garments: and he did continually eat bread before him all the days of his life.³⁴And for his diet, there was a continual diet given him of the king of Babylon, every day a portion until the day of his death, all the days of his life.

LAMENTATIONS

CHAPTER 1 ¹How doth the city sit solitary, that was full of people how is she become as a widow she that was was great among the nations, and princess among the provinces, how is she become tributary?²She weepeth sore in the night, and her tears are on her cheeks: among all her lovers she hath none to comfort her: all her friends have dealt treacherously with her, they are become her enemies.³Judah is gone into captivity because of affliction, and because of great servitude: she dwelleth among the heathen, she findeth no rest: all her persecutors overtook her between the straits.⁴The ways of Zion do mourn, because none come to the solemn feasts: all her gates are desolate: her priests sigh, her virgins are afflicted, and she is in bitterness.⁵Her adversaries are the chief, her enemies prosper for the LORD hath afflicted her for the multitude of her transgressions: her children are gone into captivity before the enemy.⁶And from the daughter of Zion all her beauty is departed: her princes are become like harts that find no pasture, and they are gone without strength before the pursuer.⁷Jerusalem remembered in the days of her affliction and of her miseries all her pleasant things that she had in the days of old, when her people fell into the hand of the enemy, and none did help her: the adversaries saw her, and did mock at her sabbaths.⁸Jerusalem hath grievously sinned therefore she is removed: all that honoured her despise her, because they have seen her nakedness: yea, she sigheth, and turneth backward.⁹Her filthiness is in her skirts she remembereth not her last end therefore she came down wonderfully: she had no comforter. O LORD, behold my affliction: for the enemy hath magnified himself.¹⁰The adversary hath spread out his hand upon all her pleasant things: for she hath seen that the heathen entered into her sanctuary, whom thou didst command that they should not enter into thy congregation.¹¹All her people sigh, they seek bread they have given their pleasant things for meat to relieve the soul: see, O LORD, and consider for I am become vile.¹²Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by? behold, and see if there be any sorrow like unto my sorrow, which is done unto me, wherewith the LORD hath afflicted me in the day of his fierce anger.¹³From above hath he sent fire into my bones, and it prevaieth against them: he hath spread a net for my feet, he hath turned me back: he hath made me desolate and faint all the day.¹⁴The yoke of my transgressions is bound by his hand: they are wreathed, and come up upon my neck: he hath made my strength to fall, the Lord hath delivered me into their hands, from whom I am not able to rise up.¹⁵The Lord hath trodden under foot all my mighty men in the midst of me: he hath called an assembly against me to crush my young men: the Lord hath trodden the virgin, the daughter of Judah, as in a winepress.¹⁶For these things I weep mine eye, mine eye runneth down with water, because the comforter that should relieve my soul is far from me: my children are desolate, because the enemy prevailed.¹⁷Zion spreadeth forth her hands, and there is none to comfort her: the LORD hath commanded concerning Jacob, that his adversaries should be round about him: Jerusalem is as a menstruous woman among them.¹⁸The LORD is righteous for I have rebelled against his commandment: hear, I pray you, all people, and behold my sorrow: my virgins and my young men are gone into captivity.¹⁹I called for my lovers, but they deceived me: my priests and mine elders gave up the ghost in the city, while they sought their meat to relieve their souls.²⁰Behold, O LORD for I am in distress: my bowels are troubled mine heart is turned within me for I have grievously rebelled: abroad the sword bereaveth, at home there is as death.²¹They have heard that I sigh: there is none to comfort me: all mine enemies have heard of my trouble they are glad that thou hast done it: thou wilt bring the day that thou hast called, and they shall be like unto me.²²Let all their wickedness come before thee and do unto them, as thou hast done unto me for all my transgressions: for my sighs are many, and my heart is faint.

CHAPTER 2 ¹How hath the Lord covered the daughter of Zion with a cloud in his anger, and cast down from heaven unto the earth the beauty of Israel, and remembered not his footstool in the day of his anger!²The Lord hath swallowed up all the habitations of Jacob, and hath not pitied: he hath thrown down in his wrath the strong holds of the daughter of Judah he hath brought them down to the ground: he hath polluted the kingdom and the princes thereof.³He hath cut off in his fierce anger all the horn of Israel: he hath drawn back his right hand from before the enemy, and he burned against Jacob like a flaming fire, which devoureth round about.⁴He hath bent his bow like an enemy: he stood with his right hand as an adversary, and slew all that were pleasant to the eye in the tabernacle of the daughter of Zion: he poured out his fury like fire.⁵The Lord was as an enemy: he hath swallowed up Israel, he hath swallowed up all her palaces: he hath destroyed his strong holds, and hath increased in the daughter of Judah mourning and lamentation.⁶And he hath violently taken away his tabernacle, as if it were of a garden: he hath destroyed his places of the assembly: the LORD hath caused the solemn feasts and sabbaths to be forgotten in Zion, and hath despised in the indignation of his anger the king and the priest.⁷The Lord hath cast off his altar, he hath abhorred his sanctuary, he hath given up into the hand of the enemy the walls of her palaces they have made a noise in the house of the LORD, as in the day of a solemn feast.⁸The LORD hath purposed to destroy the wall of the daughter of Zion: he hath stretched out a line, he hath not withdrawn his hand from destroying: therefore he made the rampart and the wall to lament they languished together.⁹Her gates are sunk into the ground he hath destroyed and broken her bars: her king and her princes are among the Gentiles: the law is no more her prophets also find no vision from the LORD.¹⁰The elders of the daughter of Zion sit upon the ground, and keep silence: they have cast up dust upon their heads they have girded themselves with sackcloth: the virgins of Jerusalem hang down their heads to the ground.¹¹Mine eyes do fail with tears, my bowels are troubled, my liver is poured upon the earth, for the destruction of the daughter of my people because the children and the sucklings swoon in the streets of the city.¹²They say to their mothers, Where is corn and wine? when they swooned as the wounded in the streets of the city, when their soul was poured out into their mothers' bosom.¹³What thing shall I take to witness for thee? what thing shall I liken to thee, O daughter of Jerusalem? what shall I equal to thee, that I may comfort thee, O virgin daughter of Zion? for thy breach is great like the sea: who can heal thee?¹⁴Thy prophets have seen vain and foolish things for thee: and they have not discovered thine iniquity, to turn away thy captivity but have seen for thee false burdens and causes of banishment.¹⁵All that pass by clap their hands at thee they hiss and wag their head at the daughter of Jerusalem, saying, Is this the city that men call The perfection of beauty, The joy of the whole earth?¹⁶All thine enemies have opened their mouth against thee: they hiss and gnash the teeth: they say, We have swallowed her up: certainly this is the day that we looked for we have found, we have seen it.¹⁷The LORD hath done that which he had devised he hath fulfilled his word that he had commanded in the days of old: he hath thrown down, and hath not pitied: and he hath caused thine enemy to rejoice over thee, he hath set up the horn of thine adversaries.¹⁸Their heart cried unto the Lord, O wall of the daughter of Zion, let tears run down like a river day and night: give thyself no rest let not the apple of thine eye cease.¹⁹Arise, cry out in the night: in the beginning of the watches pour out thine heart like water before the face of the Lord: lift up thy hands toward him for the life of thy young children, that faint for hunger in the top of every street.²⁰Behold, O LORD, and consider to whom thou hast done this. Shall the women eat their fruit, and children of a span long? shall the priest and the prophet be slain in the sanctuary of the Lord?²¹The young and the old lie on the ground in the streets: my virgins and my young men are fallen by the sword thou hast slain them in the day of thine anger thou hast killed, and not pitied.²²Thou hast called as in a solemn day my terrors round about, so that in the day of the LORD's anger none escaped nor remained: those that I have swaddled and brought up hath mine enemy consumed.

CHAPTER 3 ¹I am the man that hath seen affliction by the rod of his wrath.²He hath led me, and brought me into darkness, but not into light.³Surely against me is he turned he turneth his hand against me all the day.⁴My flesh and my skin hath he made old he hath broken my bones.⁵He hath builded against me, and compassed me with gall and travail.⁶He hath set me in dark places, as they that be dead of old.⁷He hath hedged me about, that I cannot get out: he hath made my chain heavy.⁸Also when I cry and shout, he shutteth out my prayer.⁹He hath inclosed my ways with hewn stone, he hath made my paths crooked.¹⁰He was unto me as a bear lying in wait, and as a lion in secret places.¹¹He hath turned aside my ways, and pulled me in pieces: he hath made me desolate.¹²He hath bent his bow, and set me as a mark for the arrow.¹³He hath caused the arrows of his quiver to enter into my reins.¹⁴I was a derision to all my people and their song all the day.¹⁵He hath filled me with bitterness, he hath made me drunken with wormwood.¹⁶He hath also broken my teeth with gravel stones, he hath covered me with ashes.¹⁷And thou hast removed my soul far off from peace: I forgot prosperity.¹⁸And I said, My strength and my hope is perished from the LORD:¹⁹Remembering mine affliction and my misery, the wormwood and the gall.²⁰My soul hath them still in remembrance, and is humbled in me.²¹This I recall to my mind, therefore have I hope.²²It is of the LORD's mercies that we are not consumed, because his compassions fail not.²³They are new every morning: great is thy faithfulness.²⁴The LORD is my portion, saith my soul therefore will I hope in him.²⁵The LORD is good unto them that wait for him, to the soul that seeketh him.²⁶It is good that a man should both hope and quietly wait for the salvation of the LORD.²⁷It is good for a man that he bear the yoke in his youth.²⁸He sitteth alone and keepeth silence, because he hath borne it upon him.²⁹He putteth his mouth in the dust if so be there may be hope.³⁰He giveth his cheek to him that smiteth him: he is filled full with reproach.³¹For the Lord will not cast off for ever:³²But though he cause grief, yet will he have compassion according to the multitude of his mercies.³³For he doth not afflict willingly nor grieve the children of men.³⁴To crush under his feet all the prisoners of the earth,³⁵To turn aside the right of a man before the face of the most High,³⁶To subvert a man in his cause, the Lord approveth not.³⁷Who is he that saith, and it cometh to pass, when the Lord commandeth it not?³⁸Out of the mouth of the most High proceedeth not evil and good?³⁹Wherefore doth a living man complain, a man for the punishment of his sins?⁴⁰Let us search and try our ways, and turn again to the LORD.⁴¹Let us lift up our heart with our hands unto God in the heavens.⁴²We have transgressed and have rebelled: thou hast not pardoned.⁴³Thou hast covered with anger, and persecuted us: thou hast slain, thou hast not pitied.⁴⁴Thou hast covered thyself with a cloud, that our prayer should not pass through.⁴⁵Thou hast made us as the offscouring and refuse in the midst of the people.⁴⁶All our enemies have opened their mouths against us.⁴⁷Fear and a snare is come upon us, desolation and destruction.⁴⁸Mine eye runneth down with rivers of water for the destruction of the daughter of my people.⁴⁹Mine eye trickleth down, and ceaseth not, without any intermission,⁵⁰Till the LORD look down, and behold from heaven.⁵¹Mine eye affecteth mine heart because of all the daughters of my city.⁵²Mine enemies chased me sore, like a bird, without cause.⁵³They have cut off my life in the dungeon, and cast a stone upon me.⁵⁴Waters flowed over mine head then I said, I am cut off.⁵⁵I called upon thy name, O LORD, out of the low dungeon.⁵⁶Thou hast heard my voice: hide not thine ear at my breathing, at my cry.⁵⁷Thou drewest near in the day that I called upon thee: thou saidst, Fear not.⁵⁸O Lord, thou hast pleaded the causes of my soul thou hast redeemed my life.⁵⁹O LORD, thou hast seen my wrong: judge thou my cause.⁶⁰Thou hast seen all their vengeance and all their imaginations against me.⁶¹Thou hast heard their reproach, O LORD, and all their imaginations against me.⁶²The lips of those that rose up against me, and their device against me all the day.⁶³Behold their sitting down, and their rising up I am their musick.⁶⁴Render unto them a recompence, O LORD, according to the work of their hands.⁶⁵Give them sorrow of heart, thy curse unto them.⁶⁶Persecute and destroy them in anger from under the heavens of the LORD.

CHAPTER 4 ¹How is the gold become dim! how is the most fine gold changed! the stones of the sanctuary are poured out in the top of every street.²The precious sons of Zion, comparable to fine gold, how are they esteemed as earthen pitchers, the work of the hands of the potter!³Even the sea monsters draw out the breast, they give suck to their young ones: the daughter of my people is become cruel, like the ostriches in the wilderness.⁴The tongue of the sucking child cleaveth to the roof of his mouth for thirst: the young children ask bread, and no man breaketh it unto them.⁵They that did feed delicately are desolate in the streets: they that were brought up in scarlet embrace dunghills.⁶For the punishment of the iniquity of the daughter of my people is greater than the punishment of the sin of Sodom, that was overthrown as in a moment, and no hands stayed on her.⁷Her Nazarites were purer than snow, they were whiter than milk, they were more ruddy in body than rubies, their polishing was of sapphire:⁸Their visage is blacker than a coal they are not known in the streets: their skin cleaveth to their bones it is withered, it is become like a stick.⁹They that be slain with the sword are better than they that be slain with hunger: for these pine away, stricken through for want of the fruits of the field.¹⁰The hands of the pitiful women have sodden their own children: they were their meat in the destruction of the daughter of my people.¹¹The LORD hath accomplished his fury he hath poured out his fierce anger, and hath kindled a fire in Zion, and it hath devoured the foundations thereof.¹²The kings of the earth, and all the inhabitants of the world, would not have believed that the adversary and the enemy should have entered into the gates of Jerusalem.¹³For the sins of her prophets, and the iniquities of her priests, that have shed the blood of the just in the midst of her,¹⁴They have wandered as blind men in the streets, they have polluted themselves with blood, so that men could not touch their garments.¹⁵They cried unto them, Depart ye it is unclean depart, depart, touch not: when they fled away and wandered, they said among the heathen, They shall no more sojourn there.¹⁶The anger of the LORD hath divided them he will no more regard them: they respected not the persons of the priests, they favoured not the elders.¹⁷As for us, our eyes as yet failed for our vain help: in our watching we have watched for a nation that could not save us.¹⁸They hunt our steps, that we cannot go in our streets: our end is near, our days are fulfilled for our end is come.¹⁹Our persecutors are swifter than the eagles of the heaven: they pursued us upon the mountains, they laid wait for us in the wilderness.²⁰The breath of our nostrils, the anointed of the LORD, was taken in their pits, of whom we said, Under his shadow we shall live among the heathen.²¹Rejoice and be glad, O daughter of Edom, that dwellest in the land of Uz the cup also shall pass through unto thee: thou shalt be drunken, and shalt make thyself naked.²²The punishment of thine iniquity is accomplished, O daughter of Zion he will no more carry thee away into captivity: he will visit thine iniquity, O daughter of Edom he will discover thy sins.

CHAPTER 5 ¹Remember, O LORD, what is come upon us: consider, and behold our reproach.²Our inheritance is turned to strangers, our houses to aliens.³We are orphans and fatherless, our mothers are as widows.⁴We have drunken our water for money our wood is sold unto us.⁵Our necks are under persecution: we labour, and have no rest.⁶We have given the hand to the Egyptians, and to the Assyrians, to be satisfied with bread.⁷Our fathers have sinned, and are not and we have borne their iniquities.⁸Servants have ruled over us: there is none that doth deliver us out of their hand.⁹We gat our bread with the peril of our lives because of the sword of the wilderness.¹⁰Our skin was black like an oven because of the terrible famine.¹¹They ravished the women in Zion, and the maids in the cities of Judah.¹²Princes are hanged up by their hand: the faces of elders were not honoured.¹³They took the young men to grind, and the children fell under the wood.¹⁴The elders have ceased from the gate, the young men from their musick.¹⁵The joy of our heart is ceased our dance is turned into mourning.¹⁶The crown is fallen from our head: woe unto us, that we have sinned!¹⁷For this our heart is faint for these things our eyes are dim.¹⁸Because of the mountain of Zion, which is desolate, the foxes walk upon it.¹⁹Thou, O LORD, remainest for ever thy throne from generation to generation.²⁰Wherefore dost thou forget us for ever, and forsake us so long time?²¹Turn thou us unto thee, O LORD, and we shall be turned renew our days as of old.²²But thou hast utterly rejected us thou art very wroth against us.

LETTER OF JEREMIAH

CHAPTER 1 ¹A copy of an epistle, which Jeremy sent unto them which were to be led captives into Babylon by the king of the Babylonians, to certify them, as it was commanded him of God.¹Because of the sins which ye have committed before God, ye shall be led away captives into Babylon by Nabuchodonosor king of the Babylonians.²So when ye be come unto Babylon, ye shall remain there many years, and for a long season, namely, seven generations: and after that I will bring you away peaceably from thence.³Now shall ye see in Babylon gods of silver, and of gold, and of wood, borne upon shoulders, which cause the nations to fear.⁴Beware therefore that ye in no wise be like to strangers, neither be ye and of them, when ye see the multitude before them and behind them, worshipping them.⁵But say ye in your hearts, O Lord, we must worship thee.⁶For mine angel is with you, and I myself caring for your souls.⁷As for their tongue, it is polished by the workman, and they themselves are gilded and laid over with silver yet are they but false, and cannot speak.⁸And taking gold, as it were for a virgin that loveth to go gay, they make crowns for the heads of their gods.⁹Sometimes also the priests convey from their gods gold and silver, and bestow it upon themselves.¹⁰Yea, they will give thereof to the common harlots, and deck them as men with garments, [being] gods of silver, and gods of gold, and wood.¹¹Yet cannot these gods save themselves from rust and moth, though they be covered with purple raiment.¹²They wipe their faces because of the dust of the temple, when there is much upon them.¹³And he that cannot put to death one that offendeth him holdeth a sceptre, as though he were a judge of the country.¹⁴He hath also in his right hand a dagger and an ax: but cannot deliver himself from war and thieves.¹⁵Whereby they are known not to be gods: therefore fear them not.¹⁶For like as a vessel that a man useth is nothing worth when it is broken even so it is with their gods: when they be set up in the temple, their eyes be full of dust through the feet of them that come in.¹⁷And as the doors are made sure on every side upon him that offendeth the king, as being committed to suffer death: even so the priests make fast their temples with doors, with locks, and bars, lest their gods be spoiled with robbers.¹⁸They light them candles, yea, more than for themselves, whereof they cannot see one.¹⁹They are as one of the beams of the temple, yet they say their hearts are gnawed upon by things creeping out of the earth and when they eat them and their clothes, they feel it not.²⁰ Their faces are blacked through the smoke that cometh out of the temple.²¹ Upon their bodies and heads sit bats, swallows, and birds, and the cats also.²² By this ye may know that they are no gods: therefore fear them not.²³ Notwithstanding the gold that is about them to make them beautiful, except they wipe off the rust, they will not shine: for neither when they were molten did they feel it.²⁴ The things wherein there is no breath are bought for a most high price.²⁵ They are borne upon shoulders, having no feet whereby they declare unto men that they be nothing worth.²⁶ They also that serve them are ashamed: for if they fall to the ground at any time, they cannot rise up again of themselves: neither, if one set them upright, can they move of themselves: neither, if they be bowed down, can they make themselves straight: but they set gifts before them as unto dead men.²⁷ As for the things that are sacrificed unto them, their priests sell and abuse in like manner their wives lay up part thereof in salt but unto the poor and impotent they give nothing of it.²⁸ Menstruous women and women in childbed eat their sacrifices: by these things ye may know that they are no gods: fear them not.²⁹ For how can they be called gods? because women set meat before the gods of silver, gold, and wood.³⁰ And the priests sit in their temples, having their clothes rent, and their heads and beards shaven, and nothing upon their heads.³¹ They roar and cry before their gods, as men do at the feast when one is dead.³² The priests also take off their garments, and clothe their wives and children.³³ Whether it be evil that one doeth unto them, or good, they are not able to recompense it: they can neither set up a king, nor put him down.³⁴ In like manner, they can neither give riches nor money: though a man make a vow unto them, and keep it not, they will not require it.³⁵ They can save no man from death, neither deliver the weak from the mighty.³⁶ They cannot restore a blind man to his sight, nor help any man in his distress.³⁷ They can shew no mercy to the widow, nor do good to the fatherless.³⁸ Their gods of wood, and which are overlaid with gold and silver, are like the stones that be hewn out of the mountain: they that worship them shall be confounded.³⁹ How should a man then think and say that they are gods, when even the Chaldeans themselves dishonour them?⁴⁰Who if they shall see one dumb that cannot speak, they bring him, and intreat Bel that he may speak, as though he were able to understand.⁴¹Yet they cannot understand this themselves, and leave them: for they have no knowledge.⁴²The women also with cords about them, sitting in the ways, burn bran for perfume: but if any of them, drawn by some that passeth by, lie with him, she reproacheth her fellow, that she was not thought as worthy as herself, nor her cord broken.⁴³Whatsoever is done among them is false: how may it then be thought or said that they are gods?⁴⁴They are made of carpenters and goldsmiths: they can be nothing else than the workmen will have them to be.⁴⁵And they themselves that made them can never continue long how should then the things that are made of them be gods?⁴⁶For they left lies and reproaches to them that come after.⁴⁷For when there cometh any war or plague upon them, the priests consult with themselves, where they may be hidden with them.⁴⁸How then cannot men perceive that they be no gods, which can neither save themselves from war, nor from plague?⁴⁹For seeing they be but of wood, and overlaid with silver and gold, it shall be known hereafter that they are false:⁵⁰And it shall manifestly appear to all nations and kings that they are no gods, but the works of men's hands, and that there is no work of God in them.⁵¹Who then may not know that they are no gods?⁵²For neither can they set up a king in the land, nor give rain unto men.⁵³Neither can they judge their own cause, nor redress a wrong, being unable: for they are as crows between heaven and earth.⁵⁴Whereupon when fire falleth upon the house of gods of wood, or laid over with gold or silver, their priests will flee away, and escape but they themselves shall be burned asunder like beams.⁵⁵Moreover they cannot withstand any king or enemies: how can it then be thought or said that they be gods?⁵⁶Neither are those gods of wood, and laid over with silver or gold, able to escape either from thieves or robbers.⁵⁷Whose gold, and silver, and garments wherewith they are clothed, they that are strong take, and go away withal: neither are they able to help themselves.⁵⁸Therefore it is better to be a king that sheweth his power, or else a profitable vessel in an house, which the owner shall have use of, than such false gods or to be a door in an house, to keep such things therein, than such false gods. or a pillar of wood in a palace, than such false gods.⁵⁹For sun, moon, and stars, being bright and sent to do their offices, are obedient.⁶⁰In like manner the lightning when it breaketh forth is easy to be seen and after the same manner the wind bloweth in every country.⁶¹And when God commandeth the clouds to go over the whole world, they do as they are bidden.⁶²And the fire sent from above to consume hills and woods doeth as it is commanded: but these are like unto them neither in shew nor power.⁶³Wherefore it is neither to be supposed nor said that they are gods, seeing, they are able neither to judge causes, nor to do good unto men.⁶⁴Knowing therefore that they are no gods, fear them not,⁶⁵For they can neither curse nor bless kings:⁶⁶Neither can they shew signs in the heavens among the heathen, nor shine as the sun, nor give light as the moon.⁶⁷The beasts are better than they: for they can get under a cover and help themselves.⁶⁸It is then by no means manifest unto us that they are gods: therefore fear them not.⁶⁹For as a scarecrow in a garden of cucumbers keepeth nothing: so are their gods of wood, and laid over with silver and gold.⁷⁰And likewise their gods of wood, and laid over with silver and gold, are like to a white thorn in an orchard, that every bird sitteth upon as also to a dead body, that is east into the dark.⁷¹And ye shall know them to be no gods by the bright purple that rotteth upon them¹: and they themselves afterward shall be eaten, and shall be a reproach in the country.⁷²Better therefore is the just man that hath none idols: for he shall be far from reproach.

BARUCH

CHAPTER 1 ¹And these are the words of the book, which Baruch the son of Nerias, the son of Maasias, the son of Sedecias, the son of Asadiah, the son of Chelcias, wrote in Babylon,²In the fifth year, and in the seventh day of the month, what time as the Chaldeans took Jerusalem, and burnt it with fire.³And Baruch did read the words of this book in the hearing of Jechonias the son of Joachim king of Juda, and in the ears of all the people that came to hear the book,⁴And in the hearing of the nobles, and of the king's sons, and in the hearing of the elders, and of all the people, from the lowest unto the highest, even of all them that dwelt at Babylon by the river Sud.⁵Whereupon they wept, fasted, and prayed before the Lord.⁶They made also a collection of money according to every man's power:⁷And they sent it to Jerusalem unto Joachim the high priest, the son of Chelcias, son of Salom, and to the priests, and to all the people which were found with him at Jerusalem,⁸At the same time when he received the vessels of the house of the Lord, that were carried out of the temple, to return them into the land of Juda, the tenth day of the month Sivan, namely, silver vessels, which Sedecias the son of Josias king of Jada had made,⁹After that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon had carried away Jechonias, and the princes, and the captives, and the mighty men, and the people of the land, from Jerusalem, and brought them unto Babylon.¹⁰And they said, Behold, we have sent you money to buy you burnt offerings, and sin offerings, and incense, and prepare ye manna, and offer upon the altar of the Lord our God¹¹And pray for the life of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and for the life of

Balthasar his son, that their days may be upon earth as the days of heaven:¹²And the Lord will give us strength, and lighten our eyes, and we shall live under the shadow of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and under the shadow of Balthasar his son, and we shall serve them many days, and find favour in their sight.¹³Pray for us also unto the Lord our God, for we have sinned against the Lord our God and unto this day the fury of the Lord and his wrath is not turned from us.¹⁴And ye shall read this book which we have sent unto you, to make confession in the house of the Lord, upon the feasts and solemn days.¹⁵And ye shall say, To the Lord our God belongeth righteousness, but unto us the confusion of faces, as it is come to pass this day, unto them of Juda, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem,¹⁶And to our kings, and to our princes, and to our priests, and to our prophets, and to our fathers:¹⁷For we have sinned before the Lord,¹⁸And disobeyed him, and have not hearkened unto the voice of the Lord our God, to walk in the commandments that he gave us openly:¹⁹Since the day that the Lord brought our forefathers out of the land of Egypt, unto this present day, we have been disobedient unto the Lord our God, and we have been negligent in not hearing his voice.²⁰Wherefore the evils cleaved unto us, and the curse, which the Lord appointed by Moses his servant at the time that he brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt, to give us a land that floweth with milk and honey, like as it is to see this day.²¹Nevertheless we have not hearkened unto the voice of the Lord our God, according unto all the words of the prophets, whom he sent unto us.²²But every man followed the imagination of his own wicked heart, to serve strange gods, and to do evil in the sight of the Lord our God.

CHAPTER 2 ¹Therefore the Lord hath made good his word, which he pronounced against us, and against our judges that judged Israel, and against our kings, and against our princes, and against the men of Israel and Juda,²To bring upon us great plagues, such as never happened under the whole heaven, as it came to pass in Jerusalem, according to the things that were written in the law of Moses³That a man should eat the flesh of his own son, and the flesh of his own daughter.⁴Moreover he hath delivered them to be in subjection to all the kingdoms that are round about us, to be as a reproach and desolation among all the people round about, where the Lord hath scattered them.⁵Thus we were cast down, and not exalted, because we have sinned against the Lord our God, and have not been obedient unto his voice.⁶To the Lord our God appertaineth righteousness: but unto us and to our fathers open shame, as appeareth this day.⁷For all these plagues are come upon us, which the Lord hath pronounced against us⁸Yet have we not prayed before the Lord, that we might turn every one from the imaginations of his wicked heart.⁹Wherefore the Lord watched over us for evil, and the Lord hath brought it upon us: for the Lord is righteous in all his works which he hath commanded us.¹⁰Yet we have not hearkened unto his voice, to walk in the commandments of the Lord, that he hath set before us.¹¹And now, O Lord God of Israel, that hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and high arm, and with signs, and with wonders, and with great power, and hast gotten thyself a name, as appeareth this day:¹²O Lord our God, we have sinned, we have done ungodly, we have dealt unrighteously in all thine ordinances.¹³Let thy wrath turn from us: for we are but a few left among the heathen, where thou hast scattered us.¹⁴Hear our prayers, O Lord, and our petitions, and deliver us for thine own sake, and give us favour in the sight of them which have led us away:¹⁵That all the earth may know that thou art the Lord our God, because Israel and his posterity is called by thy name.¹⁶O Lord, look down from thine holy house, and consider us: bow down thine ear, O Lord, to hear us.¹⁷Open thine eyes, and behold for the dead that are in the graves, whose souls are taken from their bodies, will give unto the Lord neither praise nor righteousness:¹⁸But the soul that is greatly vexed, which goeth stooping and feeble, and the eyes that fail, and the hungry soul, will give thee praise and righteousness, O Lord.¹⁹Therefore we do not make our humble supplication before thee, O Lord our God, for the righteousness of our fathers, and of our kings.²⁰For thou hast sent out thy wrath and indignation upon us, as thou hast spoken by thy servants the prophets, saying,²¹Thus saith the Lord, Bow down your shoulders to serve the king of Babylon: so shall ye remain in the land that I gave unto your fathers.²²But if ye will not hear the voice of the Lord, to serve the king of Babylon,²³I will cause to cease out of the cites of Judah, and from without Jerusalem, the voice of mirth, and the voice of joy, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride: and the whole land shall be desolate of inhabitants.²⁴But we would not hearken unto thy voice, to serve the king of Babylon: therefore hast thou made good the words that thou spakest by thy servants the prophets, namely, that the bones of our kings, and the bones of our fathers, should be taken out of their place.²⁵And, lo, they are cast out to the heat of the day, and to the frost of the night, and they died in great miseries by famine, by sword, and by pestilence.²⁶And the house which is called by thy name hast thou laid waste, as it is to be seen this day, for the wickedness of the house of Israel and the house of Juda.²⁷O Lord our God, thou hast dealt with us after all thy goodness, and according to all that great mercy of thine,²⁸As thou spakest by thy servant Moses in the day when thou didst command him to write the law before the children of Israel, saying,²⁹If ye will not hear my voice, surely this very great multitude shall be turned into a small number among the nations, where I will scatter them.³⁰For I knew that they would not hear me, because it is a stiffnecked people: but in the land of their captivities they shall remember themselves.³¹And shall know that I am the Lord their God: for I will give them an heart, and ears to hear:³²And they shall praise me in the land of their captivity, and think upon my name,³³And return from their stiff neck, and from their wicked deeds: for they shall remember the way of their fathers, which sinned before the Lord.³⁴And I will bring them again into the land which I promised with an oath unto their fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and they shall be lords of it: and I will increase them, and they shall not be diminished.³⁵And I will make an everlasting covenant with them to be their God, and they shall be my people: and I will no more drive my people of Israel out of the land that I have given them.

CHAPTER 3 ¹O Lord Almighty, God of Israel, the soul in anguish the troubled spirit, crieth unto thee.²Hear, O Lord, and have mercy as thou art merciful: and have pity upon us, because we have sinned before thee.³For thou endurest for ever, and we perish utterly.⁴O Lord Almighty, thou God of Israel, hear now the prayers of the dead Israelites, and of their children, which have sinned before thee, and not hearkened unto the voice of thee their God: for the which cause these plagues cleave unto us.⁵Remember not the iniquities of our forefathers: but think upon thy power and thy name now at this time.⁶For thou art the Lord our God, and thee, O Lord, will we praise.⁷And for this cause thou hast put thy fear in our hearts, to the intent that we should call upon thy name, and praise thee in our captivity: for we have called to mind all the iniquity of our forefathers, that sinned before thee.⁸Behold, we are yet this day in our captivity, where thou hast scattered us, for a reproach and a curse, and to be subject to payments, according to all the iniquities of our fathers, which departed from the Lord our God.⁹Hear, Israel, the commandments of life: give ear to understand wisdom.¹⁰How happeneth it Israel, that thou art in thine enemies' land, that thou art waxen old in a strange country, that thou art defiled with the dead,¹¹That thou art counted with them that go down into the grave?¹²Thou hast forsaken the fountain of wisdom.¹³For if thou hadst walked in the way of God, thou shouldest have dwelled in peace for ever.¹⁴ Learn where is wisdom, where is strength, where is understanding that thou mayest know also where is length of days, and life, where is the light of the eyes, and peace.¹⁵ Who hath found out her place? or who hath come into her treasures?¹⁶ Where are the princes of the heathen become, and such as ruled the beasts upon the earth?¹⁷ They that had their pastime with the fowls of the air, and they that hoarded up silver and gold, wherein men trust, and made no end of their getting?¹⁸ For they that wrought in silver, and were so careful, and whose works are unsearchable,¹⁹ They are vanished and gone down to the grave, and others are come up in their steads.²⁰ Young men have seen light, and dwelt upon the earth: but the way of knowledge have they not known,²¹ Nor understood the paths thereof, nor laid hold of it: their children were far off from that way.²² It hath not been heard of in Chanaan, neither hath it been seen in Theman.²³ The Agarenes that seek wisdom upon earth, the merchants of Meran and of Theman, the authors of fables, and searchers out of understanding none of these have known the way of wisdom, or remember her paths.²⁴ O Israel, how great is the house of God! and how large is the place of his possession!²⁵ Great, and hath none end high, and unmeasurable.²⁶ There were the giants famous from the beginning, that were of so great stature, and so expert in war.²⁷ Those did not the Lord choose, neither gave he the way of knowledge unto them:²⁸ But they were destroyed, because they had no wisdom, and perished through their own foolishness.²⁹ Who hath gone up into heaven, and taken her, and brought her down from the clouds?³⁰ Who hath gone over the sea, and found her, and will bring her for pure gold?³¹ No man knoweth her way, nor thinketh of her path.³² But he that knoweth all things knoweth her, and hath found her out with his understanding: he that prepared the earth for evermore hath filled it with fourfooted beasts.³³ He that sendeth forth light, and it goeth, calleth it again, and it obeyeth him with fear.³⁴ The stars shined in their watches, and rejoiced: when he calleth them, they say, Here we be and so with cheerfulness they shewed light unto him that made them.³⁵ This is our God, and there shall none other be accounted of in comparison of him³⁶He hath found out all the way of knowledge, and hath given it unto Jacob his servant, and to Israel his beloved.³⁷Afterward did he shew himself upon earth, and conversed with men.

CHAPTER 4 ¹This is the book of the commandments of God, and the law that endureth for ever: all they that keep it shall come to life but such as leave it shall die.²Turn thee, O Jacob, and take hold of it: walk in the presence of the light thereof, that thou mayest be illuminated.³Give not thine honour to another, nor the things that are profitable unto thee to a strange nation.⁴O Israel, happy are we: for things that are pleasing to God are made known unto us.⁵Be of good cheer, my people, the memorial of Israel.⁶Ye were sold to the nations, not for [your] destruction: but because ye moved God to wrath, ye were delivered unto the enemies.⁷For ye provoked him that made you by sacrificing unto devils, and not to God.⁸Ye have forgotten the everlasting God, that brought you up and ye have grieved Jerusalem, that nursed you.⁹For when she saw the wrath of God coming upon you, she said, Harken, O ye that dwell about Sion: God hath brought upon me great mourning¹⁰For I saw the captivity of my sons and daughters, which the Everlasting brought upon them.¹¹With joy did I nourish them but sent them away with weeping and mourning.¹²Let no man rejoice over me, a widow, and forsaken of many, who for the sins of my children am left desolate because they departed from the law of God.¹³They knew not his statutes, nor walked in the ways of his commandments, nor trod in the paths of discipline in his righteousness.¹⁴Let them that dwell about Sion come, and remember ye the captivity of my sons and daughters, which the Everlasting hath brought upon them.¹⁵For he hath brought a nation upon them from far, a shameless nation, and of a strange language, who neither revered old man, nor pitied child.¹⁶These have carried away the dear beloved children of the widow, and left her that was alone desolate without daughters.¹⁷But what can I help you?¹⁸For he that brought these plagues upon you will deliver you from the hands of your enemies.¹⁹Go your way, O my children, go your way: for I am left desolate.²⁰I have put off the clothing of peace, and put upon me the sackcloth of my prayer: I will cry unto the Everlasting in my days.²¹Be of good cheer, O my children, cry unto the Lord, and he will deliver you from the power and hand of the enemies.²²For my hope is in the Everlasting, that he will save you and joy is come unto me from the Holy One, because of the mercy which shall soon come unto you from the Everlasting our Saviour.²³For I sent you out with mourning and weeping: but God will give you to me again with joy and gladness for ever.²⁴Like as now the neighbours of Sion have seen your captivity: so shall they see shortly your salvation from our God which shall come upon you with great glory, and brightness of the Everlasting.²⁵My children, suffer patiently the wrath that is come upon you from God: for thine enemy hath persecuted thee but shortly thou shalt see his destruction, and shalt tread upon his neck.²⁶My delicate ones have gone rough ways, and were taken away as a flock caught of the enemies.²⁷Be of good comfort, O my children, and cry unto God: for ye shall be remembered of him that brought these things upon you.²⁸For as it was your mind to go astray from God: so, being returned, seek him ten times more.²⁹For he that hath brought these plagues upon you shall bring you everlasting joy with your salvation.³⁰Take a good heart, O Jerusalem: for he that gave thee that name will comfort thee.³¹Miserable are they that afflicted thee, and rejoiced at thy fall.³²Miserable are the cities which thy children served: miserable is she that received thy sons.³³For as she rejoiced at thy ruin, and was glad of thy fall: so shall she be grieved for her own desolation.³⁴For I will take away the rejoicing of her great multitude, and her pride shall be turned into mourning.³⁵For fire shall come upon her from the Everlasting, long to endure and she shall be inhabited of devils for a great time.³⁶O Jerusalem, look about thee toward the east, and behold the joy that cometh unto thee from God.³⁷Lo, thy sons come, whom thou sentest away, they come gathered together from the east to the west by the word of the Holy One, rejoicing in the glory of God.

CHAPTER 5 ¹Put off, O Jerusalem, the garment of mourning and affliction, and put on the comeliness of the glory that cometh from God for ever.²Cast about thee a double garment of the righteousness which cometh from God and set a diadem on thine head of the glory of the Everlasting.³For God will shew thy brightness unto every country under heaven.⁴For thy name shall be called of God for ever The peace of righteousness, and The glory of God's worship.⁵Arise, O Jerusalem, and stand on high, and look about toward the east, and behold thy children gathered from the west unto the east by the word of the Holy One, rejoicing in the remembrance of God.⁶For they departed from thee on foot, and were led away of their enemies: but God bringeth them unto thee exalted with glory, as children of the kingdom.⁷For God hath appointed that every high hill, and banks of long continuance, should be cast down, and valleys filled up, to make even the ground, that Israel may go safely in the glory of God,⁸Moreover even the woods and every sweetsmelling tree shall overshadow Israel by the commandment of God.⁹For God shall lead Israel with joy in the light of his glory with the mercy and righteousness that cometh from him.

CHAPTER 1 ¹It came to pass, when the children of Israel were taken captive by the king of the Chaldeans, that God spoke to Jeremiah saying: Jeremiah, my chosen [one] [servant], arise and depart from this city, you and Baruch, since I am going to destroy it because of the multitude of the sins of those who dwell in it.² For your prayers are like a solid pillar in its midst, and like an indestructible wall surrounding it.³ Now, then, arise and depart before the host of the Chaldeans surrounds it.⁴ And Jeremiah answered, saying: I beseech you, Lord, permit me, your servant, to speak in your presence.⁵ And the Lord said to him: Speak, my chosen [one] [servant] Jeremiah.⁶ And Jeremiah spoke, saying: Lord Almighty, would you deliver the chosen city into the hands of the Chaldeans, so that the king with the multitude of his people might boast and say: "I have prevailed over the holy city of God"?⁷ No, my Lord, but if it is your will, let it be destroyed by your hands.⁸ And the Lord said to Jeremiah: Since you are my chosen one, arise and depart from this city, you and Baruch, for I am going to destroy it because of the multitude of the sins of those who dwell in it.⁹ For neither the king nor his host will be able to enter it unless I first open its gates.¹⁰ Arise, then, and go to Baruch, and tell him these words.¹¹ And when you have arisen at the sixth hour of the night, go out on the city walls and I will show you that unless I first destroy the city, they cannot enter it.¹² When the Lord had said this, he departed from Jeremiah.

CHAPTER 2 ¹And Jeremiah ran and told these things to Baruch and as they went into the temple of God, Jeremiah tore his garments and put dust on his head and entered the holy place of God.² And when Baruch saw him with dust sprinkled on his head and his garments torn, he cried out in a loud voice, saying: Father Jeremiah, what are you doing? What sin has the people committed?³ (For whenever the people sinned, Jeremiah would sprinkle dust on his head and would pray for the people until their sin was forgiven.⁴ So Baruch asked him, saying: Father, what is this?⁵ And Jeremiah said to him: Refrain from rending your garments — rather, let us rend our hearts! And let us not draw water for the trough, but let us weep and fill them with tears! For the Lord will not have mercy on this people.⁶ And Baruch said: Father Jeremiah, what has happened?⁷ And Jeremiah said: God is delivering the city into the hands of the king of the Chaldeans, to take the people captive into Babylon.⁸ And when Baruch heard these things, he also tore his garments and said: Father Jeremiah, who has made this known to you?⁹ And Jeremiah said to him: Stay with me awhile, until the sixth hour of the night, so that you may know that this word is true.¹⁰ Therefore they both remained in the altar-area weeping, and their garments were torn.

CHAPTER 3 ¹But Abimelech took the figs in the burning heat and coming upon a tree, he sat under its shade to rest a bit.² And leaning his head on the basket of figs, he fell asleep and slept for ⁶⁶ years and he was not awakened from his slumber.³ And afterward, when he awoke from his sleep, he said: I slept sweetly for a little while, but my head is heavy because I did not get enough sleep.⁴ Then he uncovered the basket of figs and found them dripping milk.⁵ And he said: I would like to sleep a little longer, because my head is heavy. But I am afraid that I might fall asleep and be late in awakening and my father Jeremiah would think badly of me for if he were not in a hurry, he would not have sent me today at daybreak.⁶ So I will get up, and proceed in the burning heat for isn't there heat, isn't there toil every day?⁷ So he got up and took the basket of figs and placed it on his shoulders, and he entered into Jerusalem and did not recognize it — neither his own house, nor the place — nor did he find his own family or any of his acquaintances.⁸ And he said: The Lord be blessed, for a great trance has come over me today!⁹ This is not the city Jerusalem — and I have lost my way because I came by the mountain road when I arose from my sleep and since my head was heavy because I did not get enough sleep, I lost my way.¹⁰ It will seem incredible to Jeremiah that I lost my way!¹¹ And he departed from the city and as he searched he saw the landmarks of the city, and he said: Indeed, this is the city I lost my way.¹² And again he returned to the city and searched, and found no one of his own people and he said: The Lord be blessed, for a great trance has come over me!¹³ And again he departed from the city, and he stayed there grieving, not knowing where he should go.¹⁴ And he put down the basket, saying: I will sit here until the Lord takes this trance from me.¹⁵ And as he sat, he saw an old man coming from the field and Abimelech said to him: I say to you, old man, what city is this?¹⁶ And he said to him: It is Jerusalem.¹⁷ And Abimelech said to him: Where is Jeremiah the priest, and Baruch the secretary, and all the people of this city, for I could not find them?¹⁸ And the old man said to him: Are you not from this city, seeing that you remember Jeremiah today, because you are asking about him after such a long time?¹⁹ For Jeremiah is in Babylon with the people for they were taken captive by king Nebuchadnezzar, and Jeremiah is with them to preach the good news to them and to teach them the word.²⁰ As soon as Abimelech heard this from the old man, he said: If you were not an old man, and if it were not for the fact that it is not lawful for a man to upbraid one older than himself, I would laugh at you and say that you are out of your mind — since you say that the people have been taken captive into Babylon!²¹ Even if the heavenly torrents had descended on them, there has not yet been time for them to go into Babylon!²² For how much time has passed since my father Jeremiah sent me to the estate of Agrippa to bring a few figs, so that I might give them to the sick among the people?⁷³ ²³ And I went and got them, and when I came to a certain tree in the burning heat, I sat to rest a little and I leaned my head on the basket and fell asleep.²⁴ And when I awoke I uncovered the basket of figs, supposing that I was late and I found the figs dripping milk, just as I had collected them.²⁵ But you claim that the people have been taken captive into Babylon.²⁶ But that you might know, take the figs and see!²⁷ And he uncovered the basket of figs for the old man, and he saw them dripping milk.²⁸ And when the old man saw them, he said: O my son, you are a righteous man, and God did not want you to see the desolation of the city, so he brought this trance upon you.²⁹ For behold it is ⁶⁶ years today since the people were taken captive into Babylon.³⁰ But that you might learn, my son, that what I tell you is true — look into the field and see that the ripening of the crops has not appeared.³¹ And notice that the figs are not in season, and be enlightened.³² Then Abimelech cried out in a loud voice, saying: I bless you, God of heaven and earth, the Rest of the souls of the righteous in every place!³³ Then he said to the old man: What month is this?³⁴ And he said: Nisan (which is Abib).³⁵ And taking some of figs, he gave them to the old man and said to him: May God illumine your way to the city above, Jerusalem.

CHAPTER 4 ¹After this, Abimelech went out of the city and prayed to the Lord.⁸⁷ ² And behold, an angel of the Lord came and took him by the right hand and brought him back to where Baruch was sitting, and he found him in a tomb.⁸⁸ ³ And when they saw each other, they both wept and kissed each other.⁸⁹ ⁴ But when Baruch looked up he saw with his own eyes the figs that were covered in Abimelech's basket.⁹⁰ ⁵ And lifting his eyes to heaven, he prayed, saying: ⁶ You are the God who gives a reward to those who love you. ⁹¹ Prepare yourself, my heart, and rejoice and be glad while you are in your tabernacle, saying to your fleshly house, "your grief has been changed to joy" for the Sufficient One is coming and will deliver you in your tabernacle — for there is no sin in you.⁹² ⁷ Revive in your tabernacle, in your virginal faith, and believe that you will live!⁸ Look at this basket of figs — for behold, they are ⁶⁶ years old and have not become shrivelled or rotten, but they are dripping milk.⁹ So it will be with you, my flesh, if you do what is commanded you by the angel of righteousness.¹⁰ He who preserved the basket of figs, the same will again preserve you by his power.¹¹ When Baruch had said this, he said to Abimelech: Stand up and let us pray that the Lord may make known to us how we shall be able to send to Jeremiah in Babylon the report about the shelter provided for you on the way.¹² And Baruch prayed, saying: Lord God, our strength is the elect light which comes forth from your mouth.¹³ We beseech and beg of your goodness — you whose great name no one is able to know — hear the voice of your servants and let knowledge come into our hearts.¹⁴ What shall we do, and how shall we send this report to Jeremiah in Babylon?¹⁵ And while Baruch was still praying, behold an angel of the Lord came and said all these words to Baruch: Agent of the light, do not be anxious about how you will send to Jeremiah for an eagle is coming to you at the hour of light tomorrow, and you will direct him to Jeremiah.¹⁶ Therefore, write in a letter: Say to the children of Israel: Let the stranger who comes among you be set apart and let ¹⁵ days go by and after this I will lead you into your city, says the Lord.¹⁷ He who is not separated from Babylon will not enter into the city and I will punish them by keeping them from being received back by the Babylonians, says the Lord.¹⁸ And when the angel had said this, he departed from Baruch.¹⁹ And Baruch sent to the market of the gentiles and got papyrus and ink and wrote a letter as follows: Baruch, the servant of God, writes to Jeremiah in the captivity of Babylon:²⁰ Greetings! Rejoice, for God has not allowed us to depart from this body grieving for the city which was laid waste and outraged.²¹ Wherefore the Lord has had compassion on our tears, and has remembered the covenant which he established with our fathers Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.²² And he sent his angel to me, and he told me these words which I send to you.²³ These, then, are the words which the Lord, the God of Israel, spoke, who led us out of Egypt, out of the great furnace: Because you did not keep my ordinances, but your heart was lifted up, and you were haughty before me, in anger and wrath I delivered you to the furnace in Babylon.²⁴ If, therefore, says the Lord, you listen to my voice, from the mouth of Jeremiah my servant, I will bring the one who listens up from Babylon but the one who does not listen will become a stranger to Jerusalem and to Babylon.²⁵ And you will test them by means of the water of the Jordan whoever does not listen will be exposed — this is the sign of the great seal.

CHAPTER 5 ¹And Baruch got up and departed from the tomb and found the eagle sitting outside the tomb.² And the eagle said to him in a human voice: Hail, Baruch, steward of the faith.³ And Baruch said to him: You who speak are chosen from among all the birds of heaven, for this is clear from the gleam of your eyes tell me, then, what are you doing here?⁴ And the eagle said to him: I was sent here so that you might through me send whatever message you want.⁵ And Baruch said to him: Can you carry this message to Jeremiah in Babylon?⁶ And the eagle said to him: Indeed, it was for this reason I was sent.⁷ And Baruch took the letter, and ¹⁵ figs from Abimelech's basket, and tied them to the eagle's neck and said to him: I say to you, king of the birds, go in peace with good health and carry the message for me.⁸ Do not be like the raven which Noah sent out and which never came back to him in the ark but be like the dove which, the third time, brought a report to the righteous one.⁹ So you also, take this good message to Jeremiah and to those in bondage with him, that it may be well with you—take this papyrus to the people and to the chosen one of God.¹⁰ Even if all the birds of heaven surround you and want to fight with you, struggle — the Lord will give you strength.¹¹ And do not turn aside to the right or to the left, but straight as a speeding arrow, go in the power of God, and the glory of the Lord will be with you the entire way.¹² Then the eagle took flight and went away to Babylon, having the letter tied to his neck and when he arrived he rested on a post outside the city in a desert place.¹³ And he kept silent until Jeremiah came along, for he and some of the people were coming out to bury a corpse outside the city.¹⁴ (For Jeremiah had petitioned king Nebuchadnezzar, saying: "Give me a place where I may bury those of my people who have died" and the king gave it to him.)¹⁵ And as they were coming out with the body, and weeping, they came to where the eagle was.¹⁶ And the eagle cried out in a loud voice, saying: I say to you, Jeremiah the chosen [one] [servant] of God, go and gather together the people and come here so that they may hear a letter which I have brought to you from Baruch and Abimelech.¹⁷ And when Jeremiah heard this, he glorified God and he went and gathered together the people along with their wives and children, and he came to where the eagle was.¹⁸ And the eagle came down on the corpse, and it revived.¹⁹ (Now this took place so that they might believe.)²⁰ And all the people were astounded at what had happened, and said: This is the God who appeared to our fathers in the wilderness through Moses, and now he has appeared to us through the eagle.²¹ And the eagle said: I say to you, Jeremiah, come, untie this letter and read it to the people — So he untied the letter and read it to the people.²² And when the people heard it, they wept and put dust on their heads, and they said to Jeremiah: Deliver us and tell us what to do that we may once again enter our city.²³ And Jeremiah answered and said to them: Do whatever you heard from the letter, and the Lord will lead us into our city.

CHAPTER 6 ¹And Jeremiah wrote a letter to Baruch, saying thus: My beloved son, do not be negligent in your prayers, beseeking God on our behalf, that he might direct our way until we come out of the jurisdiction of this lawless king.² For you have been found righteous before God, and he did not let you come here, lest you see the affliction which has come upon the people at the hands of the Babylonians.³ For it is like a father with an only son, who is given over for punishment and those who see his father and console him cover his face, lest he see how his son is being punished, and be even more ravaged by grief.³ For thus God took pity on you and did not let you enter Babylon lest you see the affliction of the people.⁴ For since we came here, grief has not left us, for ⁶⁶ years today.⁵ For many times when I went out I found some of the people hung up by king Nebuchadnezzar, crying and saying: "Have mercy on us, God-ZAR!"⁶ When I heard this, I grieved and cried with two-fold mourning, not only because they were hung up, but because they were calling on a foreign God, saying "Have mercy on us."⁷ But I remembered days of festivity which we celebrated in Jerusalem before our captivity and when I remembered, I groaned, and returned to my house wailing and weeping.⁸ Now, then, pray in the place where you are — you and Abimelech — for this people, that they may listen to my voice and to the decrees of my mouth, so that we may depart from here.⁸For I tell you that the entire time that we have spent here they have kept us in subjection, saying: ⁹ And we reply to them: How shall we sing for you since we are in a foreign land? ¹⁰ And after this, Jeremiah tied the letter to the eagle's neck, saying: Go in peace, and may the Lord watch over both of us.¹¹And the eagle took flight and came to Jerusalem and gave the letter to Baruch and when he had untied it he read it and kissed it and wept when he heard about the distresses and afflictions of the people.¹² But Jeremiah took the figs and distributed them to the sick among the people, and he kept teaching them to abstain from the pollutions of the gentiles of Babylon. ¹⁴ And the day came in which the Lord brought the people out of Babylon.¹⁵And the Lord said to Jeremiah: Rise up — you and the people — and come to the Jordan and say to the people: Let anyone who desires the Lord forsake the works of Babylon.¹⁶ As for the men who took wives from them and the women who took husbands from them — those who listen to you shall cross over, and you take them into Jerusalem but those who do not listen to you, do not lead them there.¹⁷And Jeremiah spoke these words to the people, and they arose and came to the Jordan to cross over.¹⁸As he told them the words that the Lord had spoken to him, half of those who had taken spouses from them did not wish to listen to Jeremiah, but said to him: We will never forsake our wives, but we will bring them back with us into our city.¹⁹ So they crossed the Jordan and came to Jerusalem.²⁰ And Jeremiah and Baruch and Abimelech stood up and said: No man joined with Babylonians shall enter this city!²¹And they said to one another: Let us arise and return to Babylon to our place — And they departed.²² But while they were coming to Babylon, the Babylonians came out to meet them, saying: You shall not enter our city, for you hated us and you left us secretly therefore you cannot come in with us.²³ For we have taken a solemn oath together in the name of our god to receive neither you nor your children, since you left us secretly.²⁴And when they heard this, they returned and came to a desert place some distance from Jerusalem and built a city for themselves and named it ‘SAMARIA.’²⁵ And Jeremiah sent to them, saying: Repent, for the angel of righteousness is coming and will lead you to your exalted place.

CHAPTER 7 ¹Now those who were with Jeremiah were rejoicing and offering sacrifices on behalf of the people for nine days.² But on the tenth, Jeremiah alone offered sacrifice.³ And he prayed a prayer, saying: Holy, holy, holy, fragrant aroma of the living trees, true light that enlightens me until I ascend to you⁴ For your mercy, I beg you — for the sweet voice of the two seraphim, I beg — for another fragrant aroma.⁵ And may Michael, archangel of righteousness, who opens the gates to the righteous, be my guardian (?) until he causes the righteous to enter.⁶ I beg you, almighty Lord of all creation, unbegotten and incomprehensible, in whom all judgment was hidden before these things came into existence.⁷ When Jeremiah had said this, and while he was standing in the altar-area with Baruch and Abimelech, he became as one whose soul had departed.⁸ And Baruch and Abimelech were weeping and crying out in a loud voice: Woe to us! For our father Jeremiah has left us — the priest of God has departed!⁹ And all the people heard their weeping and they all ran to them and saw Jeremiah lying on the ground as if dead.¹⁰ And they tore their garments and put dust on their heads and wept bitterly.¹¹ And after this they prepared to bury him.¹² And behold, there came a voice saying: Do not bury the one who yet lives, for his soul is returning to his body!¹³ And when they heard the voice they did not bury him, but stayed around his tabernacle for three days saying, “when will he arise?”¹⁴ And after three days his soul came back into his body and he raised his voice in the midst of them all and said: Glorify God with one voice! All of you glorify God and the son of God who awakens us — messiah Jesus — the light of all the ages, the inextinguishable lamp, the life of faith.¹⁵ But after these times there shall be ⁴⁷⁷ years more and he comes to earth.¹⁶ And the tree of life planted in the midst of paradise will cause all the unfruitful trees to bear fruit, and will grow and sprout forth.¹⁷ And the trees that had sprouted and became haughty and said: “We have supplied our power (?) to the air,” he will cause them to wither, with the grandeur of their branches, and he will cause them to be judged — that firmly rooted tree!¹⁸ And what is crimson will become white as wool — the snow will be blackened — the sweet waters will become salty, and the salty sweet, in the intense light of the joy of God.¹⁹ And he will bless the isles so that they become fruitful by the word of the mouth of his messiah.²⁰ For he shall come, and he will go out and choose for himself twelve apostles to proclaim the news among the nations— he whom I have seen adorned by his father and coming into the world on the Mount of Olives — and he shall fill the hungry souls.²¹ When Jeremiah was saying this concerning the son of God — that he is coming into the world — the people became very angry and said: This is a repetition of the words spoken by Isaiah son of Amos, when he said: I saw God and the son of God.²² Come, then, and let us not kill him by the same sort of death with which we killed Isaiah, but let us stone him with stones.²³ And Baruch and Abimelech were greatly grieved because they wanted to hear in full the mysteries that he had seen.²⁴ But Jeremiah said to them: Be silent and weep not, for they cannot kill me until I describe for you everything I saw.²⁵ And he said to them: Bring a stone here to me.²⁶ And he set it up and said: Light of the ages, make this stone to become like me in appearance, until I have described to Baruch and Abimelech everything I saw.²⁷ Then the stone, by God's command, took on the appearance of Jeremiah.²⁸ And they were stoning the stone, supposing that it was Jeremiah!²⁹ But Jeremiah delivered to Baruch and to Abimelech all the mysteries he had seen, and forthwith he stood in the midst of the people desiring to complete his ministry.³⁰ Then the stone cried out, saying: O foolish children of Israel, why do you stone me, supposing that I am Jeremiah? Behold, Jeremiah is standing in your midst!³¹ And when they saw him, immediately they rushed upon him with many stones, and his ministry was fulfilled.³² And when Baruch and Abimelech came, they buried him, and taking the stone they placed it on his tomb and inscribed it thus: This is the stone that was the ally of Jeremiah.

EZEKIEL

CHAPTER 1 ¹Now it came to pass in the thirtieth year, in the fourth month, in the fifth day of the month, as I was among the captives by the river of Chebar, that the heavens were opened, and I saw visions of God.²In the fifth day of the month, which was the fifth year of king Jehoiachin's captivity,³The word of the LORD came expressly unto Ezekiel the priest, the son of Buzi, in the land of the Chaldeans by the river Chebar and the hand of the LORD was there upon him.⁴And I looked, and, behold, a whirlwind came out of the north, a great cloud, and a fire infolding itself, and a brightness was about it, and out of the midst thereof as the colour of amber, out of the midst of the fire.⁵Also out of the midst thereof came the likeness of four living creatures. And this was their appearance they had the likeness of a man.⁶And every one had four faces, and every one had four wings.⁷And their feet were straight feet and the sole of their feet was like the sole of a calf's foot: and they sparkled like the colour of burnished brass.⁸And they had the hands of a man under their wings on their four sides and they four had their faces and their wings.⁹Their wings were joined one to another they turned not when they went they went every one straight forward.¹⁰As for the likeness of their faces, they four had the face of a man, and the face of a lion, on the right side: and they four had the face of an ox on the left side they four also had the face of an eagle.¹¹Thus were their faces: and their wings were stretched upward two wings of every one were joined one to another, and two covered their bodies.¹²And they went every one straight forward: whither the spirit was to go, they went and they turned not when they went.¹³As for the likeness of the living creatures, their appearance was like burning coals of fire, and like the appearance of lamps: it went up and down among the living creatures and the fire was bright, and out of the fire went forth lightning.¹⁴And the living creatures ran and returned as the appearance of a flash of lightning.¹⁵Now as I beheld the living creatures, behold one wheel upon the earth by the living creatures, with his four faces.¹⁶The appearance of the wheels and their work was like unto the colour of a beryl: and they four had one likeness: and their appearance and their work was as it were a wheel in the middle of a wheel.¹⁷When they went, they went upon their four sides: and they turned not when they went.¹⁸As for their rings, they were so high that they were dreadful and their rings were full of eyes round about them four.¹⁹And when the living creatures went, the wheels went by them: and when the living creatures were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up.²⁰Whithersoever the spirit was to go, they went, thither was their spirit to go and the wheels were lifted up over against them: for the spirit of the living creature was in the wheels.²¹When those went, these went and when those stood, these stood and when those were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up over against them: for the spirit of the living creature was in the wheels.²²And the likeness of the firmament upon the heads of the living creature was as the colour of the terrible crystal, stretched forth over their heads above.²³And under the firmament were their wings straight, the one toward the other: every one had two, which covered on this side, and every one had two, which covered on that side, their bodies.²⁴And when they went, I heard the noise of their wings, like the noise of great waters, as the voice of the Almighty, the voice of speech, as the noise of an host: when they stood, they let down their wings.²⁵And there was a voice from the firmament that was over their heads, when they stood, and had let down their wings.²⁶And above the firmament that was over their heads was the likeness of a throne, as the appearance of a sapphire stone: and upon the likeness of the throne was the likeness as the appearance of a man above upon it.²⁷And I saw as the colour of amber, as the appearance of fire round about within it, from the appearance of his loins even upward, and from the appearance of his loins even downward, I saw as it were the appearance of fire, and it had brightness round about.²⁸As the appearance of the bow that is in the cloud in the day of rain, so was the appearance of the brightness round about. This was the appearance of the likeness of the glory of the LORD. And when I saw it, I fell upon my face, and I heard a voice of one that spake.

CHAPTER 2 ¹And he said unto me, Son of man, stand upon thy feet, and I will speak unto thee.²And the spirit entered into me when he spake unto me, and set me upon my feet, that I heard him that spake unto me.³And he said unto me, Son of man, I send thee to the children of Israel, to a rebellious nation that hath rebelled against me: they and their fathers have transgressed against me, even unto this very day.⁴For they are impudent children and stiffhearted. I do send thee unto them and thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD.⁵And they, whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear, (for they are a rebellious house,) yet shall know that there hath been a prophet among them.⁶And thou, son of man, be not afraid of them, neither be afraid of their words, though briars and thorns be with thee, and thou dost dwell among scorpions: be not afraid of their words, nor be dismayed at their looks, though they be a rebellious house.⁷And thou shalt speak my words unto them, whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear: for they are most rebellious.⁸But thou, son of man, hear what I say unto thee Be not thou rebellious like that rebellious house: open thy mouth, and eat that I give thee.⁹And when I looked, behold, an hand was sent unto me and, lo, a roll of a book was therein¹⁰And he spread it before me and it was written within and without: and there was written therein lamentations, and mourning, and woe.

CHAPTER 3 ¹Moreover he said unto me, Son of man, eat that thou findest eat this roll, and go speak unto the house of Israel.²So I opened my mouth, and he caused me to eat that roll.³And he said unto me, Son of man, cause thy belly to eat, and fill thy bowels with this roll that I give thee. Then did I eat it and it was in my mouth as honey for sweetness.⁴And he said unto me, Son of man, go, get thee unto the house of Israel, and speak with my words unto them.⁵For thou art not sent to a people of a strange speech and of an hard language, but to the house of Israel⁶Not to many people of a strange speech and of an hard language, whose words thou canst not understand. Surely, had I sent thee to them, they would have hearkened unto thee.⁷But the house of Israel will not hearken unto thee for they will not hearken unto me: for all the house of Israel are impudent and hardhearted.⁸Behold, I have made thy face strong against their faces, and thy forehead strong against their foreheads.⁹As an adamant harder than flint have I made thy forehead: fear them not, neither be dismayed at their looks, though they be a rebellious house.¹⁰Moreover he said unto me, Son of man, all my words that I shall speak unto thee receive in thine heart, and hear with thine ears.¹¹And go, get thee to them of the captivity, unto the children of thy people, and speak unto them, and tell them, Thus saith the Lord GOD whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear.¹²Then the spirit took me up, and I heard behind me a voice of a great rushing, saying, Blessed be the glory of the LORD from his place.¹³I heard also the noise of the wings of the living creatures that touched one another, and the noise of the wheels over against them, and a noise of a great rushing.¹⁴So the spirit lifted me up, and took me away, and I went in bitterness, in the heat of my spirit but the hand of the LORD was strong upon me.¹⁵Then I came to them of the captivity at Tel-abib, that dwelt by the river of Chebar, and I sat where they sat, and remained there astonished among them seven days.¹⁶And it came to pass at the end of seven days, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,¹⁷Son of man, I have made thee a watchman unto the house of Israel: therefore hear the word at my mouth, and give them warning from me.¹⁸When I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die and thou givest him not warning, nor speakest to warn the wicked from his wicked way, to save his life the same wicked man shall die in his iniquity but his blood will I require at thine hand.¹⁹Yet if thou warn the wicked, and he turn not from his wickedness, nor from his wicked way, he shall die in his iniquity but thou hast delivered thy soul.²⁰Again, When a righteous man doth turn from his righteousness, and commit iniquity, and I lay a stumblingblock before him, he shall die: because thou hast not given him warning, he shall die in his sin, and his righteousness which he hath done shall not be remembered but his blood will I require at thine hand.²¹Nevertheless if thou warn the righteous man, that the righteous sin not, and he doth not sin, he shall surely live, because he is warned also thou hast delivered thy soul.²²And the hand of the LORD was there upon me and he said unto me, Arise, go forth into the plain, and I will there talk with thee.²³Then I arose, and went forth into the plain: and, behold, the glory of the LORD stood there, as the glory which I saw by the river of Chebar: and I fell on my face.²⁴Then the spirit entered into me, and set me upon my feet, and spake with me, and said unto me, Go, shut thyself within thine house.²⁵But thou, O son of man, behold, they shall put bands upon thee, and shall bind thee with them, and thou shalt not go out among them:²⁶And I will make thy tongue cleave to the roof of thy mouth, that thou shalt be dumb, and shalt not be to them a reprover: for they are a rebellious house.²⁷But when I speak with thee, I will open thy mouth, and thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD He that heareth, let him hear and he that forbear, let him forbear: for they are a rebellious house.

CHAPTER 4 ¹Thou also, son of man, take thee a tile, and lay it before thee, and pourtray upon it the city, even Jerusalem:²And lay siege against it, and build a fort against it, and cast a mount against it set the camp also against it, and set battering rams against it round about.³Moreover take thou unto thee an iron pan, and set it for a wall of iron between thee and the city: and set thy face against it, and it shall be besieged, and thou shalt lay siege against it. This shall be a sign to the house of Israel.⁴Lie thou also upon thy left side, and lay the iniquity of the house of Israel upon it: according to the number of the days that thou shalt lie upon it thou shalt bear their iniquity.⁵For I have laid upon thee the years of their iniquity, according to the number of the days, three hundred and ninety days: so shalt thou bear the iniquity of the house of Israel.⁶And when thou hast accomplished them, lie again on thy right side, and thou shalt bear the iniquity of the house of Judah forty days: I have appointed thee each day for a year.⁷Therefore thou shalt set thy face toward the siege of Jerusalem, and thine arm shall be uncovered, and thou shalt prophesy against it.⁸And, behold, I will lay bands upon thee, and thou shalt not turn thee from one side to another, till thou hast ended the days of thy siege.⁹Take thou also unto thee wheat, and barley, and beans, and lentiles, and millet, and fitches, and put them in one vessel, and make thee bread thereof, according to the number of the days that thou shalt lie upon thy side, three hundred and ninety days shalt thou eat thereof.¹⁰And thy meat which thou shalt eat shall be by weight, twenty shekels a day: from time to time shalt thou eat it.¹¹Thou shalt drink also water by measure, the sixth part of an hin: from time to time shalt thou drink.¹²And thou shalt eat it as barley cakes, and thou shalt bake it with dung that cometh out of man, in their sight.¹³And the LORD said, Even thus shall the children of Israel eat their defiled bread among the Gentiles, whither I will drive them.¹⁴Then said I, Ah Lord GOD! behold, my soul hath not been polluted: for from my youth up even till now have I not eaten of that which dieth of itself, or is torn in pieces neither came there abominable flesh into my mouth.¹⁵Then he said unto me, Lo, I have given thee cow's dung for man's dung, and thou shalt prepare thy bread therewith.¹⁶Moreover he said unto me, Son of man, behold, I will break the staff of bread in Jerusalem: and they shall eat bread by weight, and with care and they shall drink water by measure, and with astonishment:¹⁷That they may want bread and water, and be astonished one with another, and consume away for their iniquity.

CHAPTER 5 ¹And thou, son of man, take thee a sharp knife, take thee a barber's razor, and cause it to pass upon thine head and upon thy beard: then take thee balances to weight, and divide the hair.²Thou shalt burn with fire a third part in the midst of the city, when the days of the siege are fulfilled: and thou shalt take a third part, and smite about it with a knife: and a third part thou shalt scatter in the wind and I will draw out a sword after them.³Thou shalt also take thereof a few in number, and bind them in thy skirts.⁴Then take of them again, and cast them into the midst of the fire, and burn them in the fire for thereof shall a fire come forth into all the house of Israel.⁵Thus saith the Lord GOD This is Jerusalem: I have set it in the midst of the nations and countries that are round about her.⁶And she hath changed my judgments into wickedness more than the nations, and my statutes more than the countries that are round about her: for they have refused my judgments and my statutes, they have not walked in them.⁷Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD Because ye multiplied more than the nations that are round about you, and have not walked in my statutes, neither have kept my judgments, neither have done according to the judgments of the nations that are round about you⁸Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD Behold, I, even I, am against thee, and will execute judgments in the midst of thee in the sight of the nations.⁹And I will do in thee that which I have not done, and whereunto I will not do any more the like, because of all thine abominations.¹⁰Therefore the fathers shall eat the sons in the midst of thee, and the sons shall eat their fathers and I will execute judgments in thee, and the whole remnant of thee will I scatter into all the winds.¹¹Wherefore, as I live, saith the Lord GOD Surely, because thou hast defiled my sanctuary with all thy detestable things, and with all thine abominations, therefore will I also diminish thee neither shall mine eye spare, neither will I have any pity.¹²A third part of thee shall die with the pestilence, and with famine shall they be consumed in the midst of thee: and a third part shall fall by the sword round about thee and I will scatter a third part into all the winds, and I will draw out a sword after them.¹³Thus shall mine anger be accomplished, and I will cause my fury to rest upon them, and I will be comforted: and they shall know that I the LORD have spoken it in my zeal, when I have accomplished my fury in them.¹⁴Moreover I will make thee waste, and a reproach among the nations that are round about thee, in the sight of all that pass by.¹⁵So it shall be a reproach and a taunt, an instruction and an astonishment unto the nations that are round about thee, when I shall execute judgments in thee in anger and in fury and in furious rebukes. I the LORD have spoken it.¹⁶When I shall send upon them the evil arrows of famine, which shall be for their destruction, and which I will send to destroy you: and I will increase the famine upon you, and will break your staff of bread:¹⁷So will I send upon you famine and evil beasts, and they shall bereave thee and pestilence and blood shall pass through thee and I will bring the sword upon thee. I the LORD have spoken it.

CHAPTER 6 ¹And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,²Son of man, set thy face toward the mountains of Israel, and prophesy against them,³And say, Ye mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord GOD Thus saith the Lord GOD to the mountains, and to the hills, to the rivers, and to the valleys Behold, I, even I, will bring a sword upon you, and I will destroy your high places.⁴And your altars shall be desolate, and your images shall be broken: and I will cast down your slain men before your idols.⁵And I will lay the dead carcases of the children of Israel before their idols and I will scatter your bones round about your altars.⁶In all your dwellingplaces the cities shall be laid waste, and the high places shall be desolate that your altars may be laid waste and made desolate, and your idols may be broken and cease, and your images may be cut down, and your works may be abolished.⁷And the slain shall fall in the midst of you, and ye shall know that I am the LORD.⁸Yet will I leave a remnant, that ye may have some that shall escape the sword among the nations, when ye shall be scattered through the countries.⁹And they that escape of you shall remember me among the nations whither they shall be carried captives, because I am broken with their whorish heart, which hath departed from me, and with their eyes, which go a whoring after their idols: and they shall lothe themselves for the evils which they have committed in all their abominations.¹⁰And they shall know that I am the LORD, and that I have not said in vain that I would do this evil unto them.¹¹Thus saith the Lord GOD Smite with thine hand, and stamp with thy foot, and say, Alas for all the evil abominations of the house of Israel! for they shall fall by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence.¹²He that is far off shall die of the pestilence and he that is near shall fall by the sword and he that remaineth and is besieged shall die by the famine: thus will I accomplish my fury upon them.¹³Then shall ye know that I am the LORD, when their slain men shall be among their idols round about their altars, upon every high hill, in all the tops of the mountains, and under every green tree, and under every thick oak, the place where they did offer sweet savour to all their idols.¹⁴So will I stretch out my hand upon them, and make the land desolate, yea, more desolate than the wilderness toward Diblath, in all their habitations: and they shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAPTER 7 ¹Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,²Also, thou son of man, thus saith the Lord GOD unto the land of Israel An end, the end is come upon the four corners of the land.³Now is the end come upon thee, and I will send mine anger upon thee, and will judge thee according to thy ways, and will recompense upon thee all thine abominations.⁴And mine eye shall not spare thee, neither will I have pity: but I will recompense thy ways upon thee, and thine abominations shall be in the midst of thee: and ye shall know that I am the LORD.⁵Thus saith the Lord GOD An evil, an only evil, behold, is come.⁶An end is come, the end is come: it watcheth for thee behold, it is come.⁷The morning is come unto thee, O thou that dwellest in the land: the time is come, the day of trouble is near, and not the sounding again of the mountains.⁸Now will I shortly pour out my fury upon thee, and accomplish mine anger upon thee: and I will judge thee according to thy ways, and will recompense thee for all thine abominations.⁹And mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity: I will recompense thee according to thy ways and thine abominations that are in the midst of thee and ye shall know that I am the LORD that smiteth.¹⁰Behold the day, behold, it is come: the morning is gone forth the rod hath blossomed, pride hath budded.¹¹Violence is risen up into a rod of wickedness: none of them shall remain, nor of their multitude, nor of any of theirs: neither shall there be wailing for them.¹²The time is come, the day draweth near: let not the buyer rejoice, nor the seller mourn: for wrath is upon all the multitude thereof.¹³For the seller shall not return to that which is sold, although they were yet alive: for the vision is touching the whole multitude thereof, which shall not return neither shall any strengthen himself in the iniquity of his life.¹⁴They have blown the trumpet, even to make all ready but none goeth to the battle: for my wrath is upon all the multitude thereof.¹⁵The sword is without, and the pestilence and the famine within: he that is in the field shall die with the sword and he that is in the city, famine and pestilence shall devour him.¹⁶But they that escape of them shall escape, and shall be on the mountains like doves of the valleys, all of them mourning, every one for his iniquity.¹⁷All hands shall be feeble, and all knees shall be weak as water.¹⁸They shall also gird themselves with sackcloth, and horror shall cover them and shame shall be upon all faces, and baldness upon all their heads.¹⁹They shall cast their silver in the streets, and their gold shall be removed: their silver and their gold shall not be able to deliver them in the day of the wrath of the LORD: they shall not satisfy their souls, neither fill their bowels: because it is the stumblingblock of their iniquity.²⁰As for the beauty of his ornament, he set it in majesty: but they made the images of their abominations and of their detestable things therein: therefore have I set it far from them.²¹And I will give it into the hands of the strangers for a prey, and to the wicked of the earth for a spoil and they shall pollute it.²²My face will I turn also from them, and they shall pollute my secret place: for the robbers shall enter into it, and defile it.²³Make a chain: for the land is full of bloody crimes, and the city is full of violence.²⁴Wherefore I will bring the worst of the heathen, and they shall possess their houses: I will also make the pomp of the strong to cease and their holy places shall be defiled.²⁵Destruction cometh and they shall seek peace, and there shall be none.²⁶Mischief shall come upon mischief, and rumour shall be upon rumour then shall they seek a vision of the prophet but the law shall perish from the priest, and counsel from the ancients.²⁷The king shall mourn, and the prince shall be clothed with desolation, and the hands of the people of the land shall be troubled: I will do unto them after their way, and according to their deserts will I judge them and they shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAPTER 8 ¹And it came to pass in the sixth year, in the sixth month, in the fifth day of the month, as I sat in mine house, and the elders of Judah sat before me, that the hand of the Lord GOD fell there upon me.²Then I beheld, and lo a likeness as the appearance of fire: from the appearance of his loins even downward, fire and from his loins even upward, as the appearance of brightness, as the colour of amber.³And he put forth the form of an hand, and took me by a lock of mine head and the spirit lifted me up between the earth and the heaven, and brought me in the visions of God to Jerusalem, to the door of the inner gate that looketh toward the north where was the seat of the image of jealousy, which provoketh to jealousy.⁴And, behold, the glory of the God of Israel was there, according to the vision that I saw in the plain.⁵Then said he unto me, Son of man, lift up thine eyes now the way toward the north. So I lifted up mine eyes the way toward the north, and behold northward at the gate of the altar this image of jealousy in the entry.⁶He said furthermore unto me, Son of man, seest thou what they do? even the great abominations that the house of Israel committeth here, that I should go far off from my sanctuary? but turn thee yet again, and thou shalt see greater abominations.⁷And he brought me to the door of the court and when I looked, behold a hole in the wall.⁸Then said he unto me, Son of man, dig now in the wall: and when I had digged in the wall, behold a door.⁹And he said unto me, Go in, and behold the wicked abominations that they do here.¹⁰So I went in and saw and behold every form of creeping things, and abominable beasts, and all the idols of the house of Israel, portrayed upon the wall round about.¹¹And there stood before them seventy men of the ancients of the house of Israel, and in the midst of them stood Jaazaniah the son of Shaphan, with every man his censer in his hand and a thick cloud of incense went up.¹²Then said he unto me, Son of man, hast thou seen what the ancients of the house of Israel do in the dark, every man in the chambers of his imagery? for they say, The LORD seeth us not the LORD hath forsaken the earth.¹³He said also unto me, Turn thee yet again, and thou shalt see greater abominations that they do.¹⁴Then he brought me to the door of the gate of the LORD's house which was toward the north and, behold, there sat women weeping for Tammuz.¹⁵Then said he unto me, Hast thou seen this, O son of man? turn thee yet again, and thou shalt see greater abominations than these.¹⁶And he brought me into the inner court of the LORD's house, and, behold, at the door of the temple of the LORD, between the porch and the altar, were about five and twenty men, with their backs toward the temple of the LORD, and their faces toward the east and they worshipped the sun toward the east.¹⁷Then he said unto me, Hast thou seen this, O son of man? Is it a light thing to the house of Judah that they commit the abominations which they commit here? for they have filled the land with violence, and have returned to provoke me to anger: and, lo, they put the branch to their nose.¹⁸Therefore will I also deal in fury: mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity: and though they cry in mine ears with a loud voice, yet will I not hear them.

CHAPTER 9 ¹He cried also in mine ears with a loud voice, saying, Cause them that have charge over the city to draw near, even every man with his destroying weapon in his hand.²And, behold, six men came from the way of the higher gate, which lieth toward the north, and every man a slaughter weapon in his hand and one man among them was clothed with linen, with a writer's inkhorn by his side: and they went in, and stood beside the brasen altar.³And the glory of the God of Israel was gone up from the cherub, whereupon he was, to the threshold of the house. And he called to the man clothed with linen, which had the writer's inkhorn by his side⁴And the LORD said unto him, Go through the midst of the city, through the midst of Jerusalem, and set a mark upon the foreheads of the men that sigh and that cry for all the abominations that be done in the midst thereof.⁵And to the others he said in mine hearing, Go ye after him through the city, and smite: let not your eye spare, neither have ye pity:⁶Slay utterly old and young, both maids, and little children, and women: but come not near any man upon whom is the mark and begin at my sanctuary. Then they began at the ancient men which were before the house.⁷And he said unto them, Defile the house, and fill the courts with the slain: go ye forth. And they went forth, and slew in the city.⁸And it came to pass, while they were slaying them, and I was left, that I fell upon my face, and cried, and said, Ah Lord GOD! wilt thou destroy all the residue of Israel in thy pouring out of thy fury upon Jerusalem?⁹Then said he unto me, The iniquity of the house of Israel and Judah is exceeding great, and the land is full of blood, and the city full of perverseness: for they say, The LORD hath forsaken the earth, and the LORD seeth not.¹⁰And as for me also, mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity, but I will recompense their way upon their head.¹¹And, behold, the man clothed with linen, which had the inkhorn by his side, reported the matter, saying, I have done as thou hast commanded me.

CHAPTER 10 ¹Then I looked, and, behold, in the firmament that was above the head of the cherubims there appeared over them as it were a sapphire stone, as the appearance of the likeness of a throne.²And he spake unto the man clothed with linen, and said, Go in between the wheels, even under the cherub, and fill thine hand with coals of fire from between the cherubims, and scatter them over the city. And he went in in my sight.³Now the cherubims stood on the right side of the house, when the man went in and the cloud filled the inner court.⁴Then the glory of the LORD went up from the cherub, and stood over the threshold of the house and the house was filled with the cloud, and the court was full of the brightness of the LORD's glory.⁵And the sound of the cherubims' wings was heard even to the outer court, as the voice of the Almighty God when he speaketh.⁶And it came to pass, that when he had commanded the man clothed with linen, saying, Take fire from between the wheels, from between the cherubims then he went in, and stood beside the wheels.⁷And one cherub stretched forth his hand from between the cherubims unto the fire that was between the cherubims, and took thereof, and put it into the hands of him that was clothed with linen: who took it, and went out.⁸And there appeared in the cherubims the form of a man's hand under their wings.⁹And when I looked, behold the four wheels by the cherubims, one wheel by one cherub, and another wheel by another cherub: and the appearance of the wheels was as the colour of a beryl stone.¹⁰And as for their appearances, they four had one likeness, as if a wheel had been in the midst of a wheel.¹¹When they went, they went upon their four sides they turned not as they went, but to the place whither the head looked they followed it they turned not as they went.¹²And their whole body, and their backs, and their hands, and their wings, and the wheels, were full of eyes round about, even the wheels that they four had.¹³As for the wheels, it was cried unto them in my hearing, O wheel.¹⁴And every one had four faces: the first face was the face of a cherub, and the second face was the face of a man, and the third the face of a lion, and the fourth the face of an eagle.¹⁵And the cherubims were lifted up. This is the living creature that I saw by the river of Chebar.¹⁶And when the cherubims went, the wheels went by them: and when the cherubims lifted up their wings to mount up from the earth, the same wheels also turned not from beside them.¹⁷When they stood, these stood and when they were lifted up, these lifted up themselves also: for the spirit of the living creature was in them.¹⁸Then the glory of the LORD departed from off the threshold of the house, and stood over the cherubims.¹⁹And the cherubims lifted up their wings, and mounted up from the earth in my sight: when they went out, the wheels also were beside them, and every one stood at the door of the east gate of the LORD's house and the glory of the God of Israel was over them above.²⁰This is the living creature that I saw under the God of Israel by the river of Chebar and I knew that they were the cherubims.²¹Every one had four faces apiece, and every one four wings and the likeness of the hands of a man was under their wings.²²And the likeness of their faces was the same faces which I saw by the river of Chebar, their appearances and themselves: they went every one straight forward.

CHAPTER 11 ¹Moreover the spirit lifted me up, and brought me unto the east gate of the LORD's house, which looketh eastward: and behold at the door of the gate five and twenty men among whom I saw Jaazaniah the son of Azur, and Pelatiah the son of Benaiah, the princes of the people.²Then said he unto me, Son of man, these are the men that devise mischief, and give wicked counsel in this city:³Which say, It is not near let us build houses: this city is the caldron, and we be the flesh.⁴Therefore prophesy against them, prophesy, O son of man.⁵And the Spirit of the LORD fell upon me, and said unto me, Speak Thus saith the LORD Thus have ye said, O house of Israel: for I know the things that come into your mind, every one of them.⁶Ye have multiplied your slain in this city, and ye have filled the streets thereof with the slain.⁷Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD Your slain whom ye have laid in the midst of it, they are the flesh, and this city is the caldron: but I will bring you forth out of the midst of it.⁸Ye have feared the sword and I will bring a sword upon you, saith the Lord GOD.⁹And I will bring you out of the midst thereof, and deliver you into the hands of strangers, and will execute judgments among you.¹⁰Ye shall fall by the sword I will judge you in the border of Israel and ye shall know that I am the LORD.¹¹This city shall not be your caldron, neither shall ye be the flesh in the midst thereof but I will judge you in the border of Israel:¹²And ye shall know that I am the LORD: for ye have not walked in my statutes, neither executed my judgments, but have done after the manners of the heathen that are round about you.¹³And it came to pass, when I prophesied, that Pelatiah the son of Benaiah died. Then fell I down upon my face, and cried with a loud voice, and said, Ah Lord GOD! wilt thou make a full end of the remnant of Israel?¹⁴Again the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,¹⁵Son of man, thy brethren, even thy brethren, the men of thy kindred, and all the house of Israel wholly, are they unto whom the inhabitants of Jerusalem have said, Get you far from the LORD: unto us is this land given in possession.¹⁶Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord GOD Although I have cast them far off among the heathen, and although I have scattered them among the countries, yet will I be to them as a little sanctuary in the countries where they shall come.¹⁷Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord GOD I will even gather you from the people, and assemble you out of the countries where ye have been scattered, and I will give you the land of Israel.¹⁸And they shall come thither, and they shall take away all the detestable things thereof and all the abominations thereof from thence.¹⁹And I will give them one heart, and I will put a new spirit within you and I will take the stony heart out of their flesh, and will give them an heart of flesh:²⁰That they may walk in my statutes, and keep mine ordinances, and do them: and they shall be my people, and I will be their God.²¹But as for them whose heart walketh after the heart of their detestable things and their abominations, I will recompense their way upon their own heads, saith the Lord GOD.²²Then did the cherubims lift up their wings, and the wheels beside them and the glory of the God of Israel was over them above.²³And the glory of the LORD went up from the midst of the city, and stood upon the mountain which is on the east side of the city.²⁴Afterwards the spirit took me up, and brought me in a vision by the Spirit of God into Chaldea, to them of the captivity. So the vision that I had seen went up from me.²⁵Then I spake unto them of the captivity all the things that the LORD had shewed me.

CHAPTER 12 ¹The word of the LORD also came unto me, saying,²Son of man, thou dwellest in the midst of a rebellious house, which have eyes to see, and see not they have ears to hear, and hear not: for they are a rebellious house.³Therefore, thou son of man, prepare thee stuff for removing, and remove by day in their sight and thou shalt remove from thy place to another place in their sight: it may be they will consider, though they be a rebellious house.⁴Then shalt thou bring forth thy stuff by day in their sight, as stuff for removing: and thou shalt go forth at even in their sight, as they that go forth into captivity.⁵Dig thou through the wall in their sight, and carry out thereby.⁶In their sight shalt thou bear it upon thy shoulders, and carry it forth in the twilight: thou shalt cover thy face, that thou see not the ground: for I have set thee for a sign unto the house of Israel.⁷And I did so as I was commanded: I brought forth my stuff by day, as stuff for captivity, and in the even I digged through the wall with mine hand I brought it forth in the twilight, and I bare it upon my shoulder in their sight.⁸And in the morning came the word of the LORD unto me, saying,⁹Son of man, hath not the house of Israel, the rebellious house, said unto thee, What doest thou?¹⁰Say thou unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD This burden concerneth the prince in Jerusalem, and all the house of Israel that are among them.¹¹Say, I am your sign: like as I have done, so shall it be done unto them: they shall remove and go into captivity.¹²And the prince that is among them shall bear upon his shoulder in the twilight, and shall go forth: they shall dig through the wall to carry out thereby: he shall cover his face, that he see not the ground with his eyes.¹³My net also will I spread upon him, and he shall be taken in my snare: and I will bring him to Babylon to the land of the Chaldeans yet shall he not see it, though he shall die there.¹⁴And I will scatter toward every wind all that are about him to help him, and all his bands and I will draw out the sword after them.¹⁵And they shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall scatter them among the nations, and disperse them in the countries.¹⁶But I will leave a few men of them from the sword, from the famine, and from the pestilence that they may declare all their abominations among the heathen whither they come and they shall know that I am the LORD.¹⁷Moreover the word of the LORD came to me, saying,¹⁸Son of man, eat thy bread with quaking, and drink thy water with trembling and with carefulness¹⁹And say unto the people of the land, Thus saith the Lord GOD of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and of the land of Israel They shall eat their bread with carefulness, and drink their water with astonishment, that her land may be desolate from all that is therein, because of the violence of all them that dwell therein.²⁰And the cities that are inhabited shall be laid waste, and the land shall be desolate and ye shall know that I am the LORD.²¹And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,²²Son of man, what is that proverb that ye have in the land of Israel, saying, The days are prolonged, and every vision faileth?²³Tell them therefore, Thus saith the Lord GOD I will make this proverb to cease, and they shall no more use it as a proverb in Israel but say unto them, The days are at hand, and the effect of every vision.²⁴For there shall be no more any vain vision nor flattering divination within the house of Israel.²⁵For I am the LORD: I will speak, and the word that I shall speak shall come to pass it shall be no more prolonged: for in your days, O rebellious house, will I say the word, and will perform it, saith the Lord GOD.²⁶Again the word of the LORD came to me, saying,²⁷Son of man, behold, they of the house of Israel say, The vision that he seeth is for many days to come, and he prophesieth of the times that are far off.²⁸Therefore say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD There shall none of my words be prolonged any more, but the word which I have spoken shall be done, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAPTER 13 ¹And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,²Son of man, prophesy against the prophets of Israel that prophesy, and say thou unto them that prophesy out of their own hearts, Hear ye the word of the LORD³Thus saith the Lord GOD Woe unto the foolish prophets, that follow their own spirit, and have seen nothing!⁴O Israel, thy prophets are like the foxes in the deserts.⁵Ye have not gone up into the gaps, neither made up the hedge for the house of Israel to stand in the battle in the day of the LORD.⁶They have seen vanity and lying divination, saying, The LORD saith: and the LORD hath not sent them: and they have made others to hope that they would confirm the word.⁷Have ye not seen a vain vision, and have ye not spoken a lying divination, whereas ye say, The LORD saith it albeit I have not spoken?⁸Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD Because ye have spoken vanity, and seen lies, therefore, behold, I am against you, saith the Lord GOD.⁹And mine hand shall be upon the prophets that see vanity, and that divine lies: they shall not be in the assembly of my people, neither shall they be written in the writing of the house of Israel, neither shall they enter into the land of Israel and ye shall know that I am the Lord GOD.¹⁰Because, even because they have seduced my people, saying, Peace and there was no peace and one built up a wall, and, lo, others daubed it with untempered mortar:¹¹Say unto them which daub it with untempered mortar, that it shall fall: there shall be an overflowing shower and ye, O great hailstones, shall fall and a stormy wind shall rend it.¹²Lo, when the wall is fallen, shall it not be said unto you, Where is the daubing wherewith ye have daubed it?¹³Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD I will even rend it with a stormy wind in my fury and there shall be an overflowing shower in mine anger, and great hailstones in my fury to consume it.¹⁴So will I break down the wall that ye have daubed with untempered mortar, and bring it down to the ground, so that the foundation thereof shall be discovered, and it shall fall, and ye shall be consumed in the midst thereof: and ye shall know that I am the LORD.¹⁵Thus will I accomplish my wrath upon the wall, and upon them that have daubed it with untempered mortar, and will say unto you, The wall is no more, neither they that daubed it¹⁶To wit, the prophets of Israel which prophesy concerning Jerusalem, and which see visions of peace for her, and there is no peace, saith the Lord GOD.¹⁷Likewise, thou son of man, set thy face against the daughters of thy people, which prophesy out of their own heart and prophesy thou against them,¹⁸And say, Thus saith the Lord GOD Woe to the women that sew pillows to all armholes, and make kerchiefs upon the head of every stature to hunt souls! Will ye hunt the souls of my people, and will ye save the souls alive that come unto you?¹⁹And will ye pollute me among my people for handfuls of barley and for pieces of bread, to slay the souls that should not die, and to save the souls alive that should not live, by your lying to my people that hear your lies?²⁰Wherefore thus saith the Lord GOD Behold, I am against your pillows, wherewith ye there hunt the souls to make them fly, and I will tear them from your arms, and will let the souls go, even the souls that ye hunt to make them fly.²¹Your kerchiefs also will I tear, and deliver my people out of your hand, and they shall be no more in your hand to be hunted and ye shall know that I am the LORD.²²Because with lies ye have made the heart of the righteous sad, whom I have not made sad and strengthened the hands of the wicked, that he should not return from his wicked way, by promising him life:²³Therefore ye shall see no more vanity, nor divine divinations: for I will deliver my people out of your hand: and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAPTER 14 ¹Then came certain of the elders of Israel unto me, and sat before me.²And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,³Son of man, these men have set up their idols in their heart, and put the stumblingblock of their iniquity before their face: should I be inquired of at all by them?⁴Therefore speak unto them, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD Every man of the house of Israel that setteth up his idols in his heart, and putteth the stumblingblock of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to the prophet I the LORD will answer him that cometh according to the multitude of his idols⁵That I may take the house of Israel in their own heart, because they are all estranged from me through their idols.⁶Therefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord GOD Repent, and turn yourselves from your idols and turn away your faces from all your abominations.⁷For every one of the house of Israel, or of the stranger that sojourneth in Israel, which separateth himself from me, and setteth up his idols in his heart, and putteth the stumblingblock of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to a prophet to inquire of him concerning me I the LORD will answer him by myself:⁸And I will set my face against that man, and will make him a sign and a proverb, and I will cut him off from the midst of my people and ye shall know that I am the LORD.⁹And if the prophet be deceived when he hath spoken a thing, I the LORD have deceived that prophet, and I will stretch out my hand upon him, and will destroy him from the midst of my people Israel.¹⁰And they shall bear the punishment of their iniquity: the punishment of the prophet shall be even as the punishment of him that seeketh unto him¹¹That the house of Israel may go no more astray from me, neither be polluted any more with all their transgressions but that they may be my people, and I may be their God, saith the Lord GOD.¹²The word of the LORD came again to me, saying,¹³Son of man, when the land sinneth against me by trespassing grievously, then will I stretch out mine hand upon it, and will break the staff of the bread thereof, and will send famine upon it, and will cut off man and beast from it:¹⁴Though these three men, Noah, Daniel, and Job, were in it, they should deliver but their own souls by their righteousness, saith the Lord GOD.¹⁵If I cause noisome beasts to pass through the land, and they spoil it, so that it be desolate, that no man may pass through because of the beasts:¹⁶Though these three men were in it, as I live, saith the Lord GOD, they shall deliver neither sons nor daughters they only shall be delivered, but the land shall be desolate.¹⁷Or if I bring a sword upon that land, and say, Sword, go through the land so that I cut off man and beast from it:¹⁸Though these three men were in it, as I live, saith the Lord GOD, they shall deliver neither sons nor daughters, but they only shall be delivered themselves.¹⁹Or if I send a pestilence into that land, and pour out my fury upon it in blood, to cut off from it man and beast:²⁰Though Noah, Daniel, and Job, were in it, as I live, saith the Lord GOD, they shall deliver neither son nor daughter they shall but deliver their own souls by their righteousness.²¹For thus saith the Lord GOD How much more when I send my four sore judgments upon Jerusalem, the sword, and the famine, and the noisome beast, and the pestilence, to cut off from it man and beast?²²Yet, behold, therein shall be left a remnant that shall be brought forth, both sons and daughters: behold, they shall come forth unto you, and ye shall see their way and their doings: and ye shall be comforted concerning the evil that I have brought upon Jerusalem, even concerning all that I have brought upon it.²³And they shall comfort you, when ye see their ways and their doings: and ye shall know that I have not done without cause all that I have done in it, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAPTER 15 ¹And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,²Son of man, What is the vine tree more than any tree, or than a branch which is among the trees of the forest?³Shall wood be taken thereof to do any work? or will men take a pin of it to hang any vessel thereon?⁴Behold, it is cast into the fire for fuel the fire devoureth both the ends of it, and the midst of it is burned. Is it meet for any work?⁵Behold, when it was whole, it was meet for no work: how much less shall it be meet yet for any work, when the fire hath devoured it, and it is burned?⁶Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD As the vine tree among the trees of the forest, which I have given to the fire for fuel, so will I give the inhabitants of Jerusalem.⁷And I will set my face against them they shall go out from one fire, and another fire shall devour them and ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I set my face against them.⁸And I will make the land desolate, because they have committed a trespass, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAPTER 16 ¹Again the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,²Son of man, cause Jerusalem to know her abominations,³And say, Thus saith the Lord GOD unto Jerusalem Thy birth and thy nativity is of the land of Canaan thy father was an Amorite, and thy mother an Hittite.⁴And as for thy nativity, in the day thou wast born thy navel was not cut, neither wast thou washed in water to supple thee thou wast not salted at all, nor swaddled at all.⁵None eye pitied thee, to do any of these unto thee, to have compassion upon thee but thou wast cast out in the open field, to the lothing of thy person, in the day that thou wast born.⁶And when I passed by thee, and saw thee polluted in thine own blood, I said unto thee when thou wast in thy blood, Live yea, I said unto thee when thou wast in thy blood, Live.⁷I have caused thee to multiply as the bud of the field, and thou hast increased and waxen great, and thou art come to excellent ornaments: thy breasts are fashioned, and thine hair is grown, whereas thou wast naked and bare.⁸Now when I passed by thee, and looked upon thee, behold, thy time was the time of love and I spread my skirt over thee, and covered thy nakedness: yea, I swore unto thee, and entered into a covenant with thee, saith the Lord GOD, and thou becamest mine.⁹Then washed I thee with water yea, I thoroughly washed away thy blood from thee, and I anointed thee with oil.¹⁰I clothed thee also with brodered work, and shod thee with badgers' skin, and I girded thee about with fine linen, and I covered thee with silk.¹¹I decked thee also with ornaments, and I put bracelets upon thy hands, and a chain on thy neck.¹²And I put a jewel on thy forehead, and earrings in thine ears, and a beautiful crown upon thine head.¹³Thus wast thou decked with gold and silver and thy raiment was of fine linen, and silk, and brodered work thou didst eat fine flour, and honey, and oil: and thou wast exceeding beautiful, and thou didst prosper into a kingdom.¹⁴And thy renown went forth among the heathen for thy beauty: for it was perfect through my comeliness, which I had put upon thee, saith the Lord GOD.¹⁵But thou didst trust in thine own beauty, and playedst the harlot because of thy renown, and pouredst out thy fornications on every one that passed by his it was.¹⁶And of thy garments thou didst take, and deckedst thy high places with divers colours, and playedst the harlot thereupon: the like things shall not come, neither shall it be so.¹⁷Thou hast also taken thy fair jewels of my gold and of my silver, which I had given thee, and madest to thyself images of men, and didst commit whoredom with them,¹⁸And tookest thy brodered garments, and coveredst them: and thou hast set mine oil and mine incense before them.¹⁹My meat also which I gave thee, fine flour, and oil, and honey, wherewith I fed thee, thou hast even set it before them for a sweet savour: and thus it was, saith the Lord GOD.²⁰Moreover thou hast taken thy sons and thy daughters, whom thou hast borne unto me, and these hast thou sacrificed unto them to be devoured. Is this of thy whoredoms a small matter,²¹That thou hast slain my children, and delivered them to cause them to pass through the fire for them?²²And in all thine abominations and thy whoredoms thou hast not remembered the days of thy youth, when thou wast naked and bare, and wast polluted in thy blood.²³And it came to pass after all thy wickedness, (woe, woe unto thee! saith the Lord GOD)²⁴That thou hast also built unto thee an eminent place, and hast made thee an high place in every street.²⁵Thou hast built thy high place at every head of the way, and hast made thy beauty to be abhorred, and hast opened thy feet to every one that passed by, and multiplied thy whoredoms.²⁶Thou hast also committed fornication with the Egyptians thy neighbours, great of flesh and hast increased thy whoredoms, to provoke me to anger.²⁷Behold, therefore I have stretched out my hand over thee, and have diminished thine ordinary food, and delivered thee unto the will of them that hate thee, the daughters of the Philistines, which are ashamed of thy lewd way.²⁸Thou hast played the whore also with the Assyrians, because thou wast unsatiable yea, thou hast played the harlot with them, and yet couldest not be satisfied.²⁹Thou hast moreover multiplied thy fornication in the land of Canaan unto Chaldea and yet thou wast not satisfied herewith.³⁰How weak is thine heart, saith the Lord GOD, seeing thou doest all these things, the work of an imperious whorish woman³¹In that thou buildest thine eminent place in the head of every way, and makest thine high place in every street and hast not been as an harlot, in that thou scornest hire³²But as a wife that committeth adultery, which taketh strangers instead of her husband!³³They give gifts to all whores: but thou givest thy gifts to all thy lovers, and hirest them, that they may come unto thee on every side for thy whoredom.³⁴And the contrary is in thee from other women in thy whoredoms, whereas none followeth thee to commit whoredoms: and in that thou givest a reward, and no reward is given unto thee, therefore thou art contrary.³⁵Wherefore, O harlot, hear the word of the LORD:³⁶Thus saith the Lord GOD Because thy filthiness was poured out, and thy nakedness discovered through thy whoredoms with thy lovers, and with all the idols of thy abominations, and by the blood of thy children, which thou didst give unto them³⁷Behold, therefore I will gather all thy lovers, with whom thou hast taken pleasure, and all them that thou hast loved, with all them that thou hast hated I will even gather them round about against thee, and will discover thy nakedness unto them, that they may see all thy nakedness.³⁸And I will judge thee, as women that break wedlock and shed blood are judged and I will give thee blood in fury and jealousy.³⁹And I will also give thee into their hand, and they shall throw down thine eminent place, and shall break down thy high places: they shall strip thee also of thy clothes, and shall take thy fair jewels, and leave thee naked and bare.⁴⁰They shall also bring up a company against thee, and they shall stone thee with stones, and thrust thee through with their swords.⁴¹And they shall burn thine houses with fire, and execute judgments upon thee in the sight of many women: and I will cause thee to cease from playing the harlot, and thou also shalt give no hire any more.⁴²So will I make my fury toward thee to rest, and my jealousy shall depart from thee, and I will be quiet, and will be no more angry.⁴³Because thou hast not remembered the days of thy youth, but hast fretted me in all these things behold, therefore I also will recompense thy way upon thine head, saith the Lord GOD: and thou shalt not commit this lewdness above all thine abominations.⁴⁴Behold, every one that useth proverbs shall use this proverb against thee, saying, As is the mother, so is her daughter.⁴⁵Thou art thy mother's daughter, that lotheth her husband and her children and thou art the sister of thy sisters, which lothed their husbands and their children: your mother was an Hittite, and your father an Amorite.⁴⁶And thine elder sister is Samaria, she and her daughters that dwell at thy left hand: and thy younger sister, that dwelleth at thy right hand, is Sodom and her daughters.⁴⁷Yet hast thou not walked after their ways, nor done after their abominations: but, as if that were a very little thing, thou wast corrupted more than they in all thy ways.⁴⁸As I live, saith the Lord GOD, Sodom thy sister hath not done, she nor her daughters, as thou hast done, thou and thy daughters.⁴⁹Behold, this was the iniquity of thy sister Sodom, pride, fulness of bread, and abundance of idleness was in her and in her daughters, neither did she strengthen the hand of the poor and needy.⁵⁰And they were haughty, and committed abomination before me: therefore I took them away as I saw good.⁵¹Neither hath Samaria committed half of thy sins but thou hast multiplied thine abominations more than they, and hast justified thy sisters in all thine abominations which thou hast done.⁵²Thou also, which hast judged thy sisters, bear thine own shame for thy sins that thou hast committed more abominable than they: they are more righteous than thou: yea, be thou confounded also, and bear thy shame, in that thou hast justified thy sisters.⁵³When I shall bring again their captivity, the captivity of Sodom and her daughters, and the captivity of Samaria and her daughters, then will I bring again the captivity of thy captives in the midst of them:⁵⁴That thou mayest bear thine own shame, and mayest be confounded in all that thou hast done, in that thou art a comfort unto them.⁵⁵When thy sisters, Sodom and her daughters, shall return to their former estate, and Samaria and her daughters shall return to their former estate, then thou and thy daughters shall return to your former estate.⁵⁶For thy sister Sodom was not mentioned by thy mouth in the day of thy pride,⁵⁷Before thy wickedness was discovered, as at the time of thy reproach of the daughters of Syria, and all that are round about her, the daughters of the Philistines, which despise thee round about.⁵⁸Thou hast borne thy lewdness and thine abominations, saith the LORD.⁵⁹For thus saith the Lord GOD I will even deal with thee as thou hast done, which hast despised the oath in breaking the covenant.⁶⁰Nevertheless I will remember my covenant with thee in the days of thy youth, and I will establish unto thee an everlasting covenant.⁶¹Then thou shalt remember thy ways, and be ashamed, when thou shalt receive thy sisters, thine elder and thy younger: and I will give them unto thee for daughters, but not by thy covenant.⁶²And I will establish my covenant with thee and thou shalt know that I am the LORD:⁶³That thou mayest remember, and be confounded, and never open thy mouth any more because of thy shame, when I am pacified toward thee for all that thou hast done, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAPTER 17 ¹And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,²Son of man, put forth a riddle, and speak a parable unto the house of Israel³And say, Thus saith the Lord GOD A great eagle with great wings, longwinged, full of feathers, which had divers colours, came unto Lebanon, and took the highest branch of the cedar:⁴He cropped off the top of his young twigs, and carried it into a land of traffick he set it in a city of merchants.⁵He took also of the seed of the land, and planted it in a fruitful field he placed it by great waters, and set it as a willow tree.⁶And it grew, and became a spreading vine of low stature, whose branches turned toward him, and the roots thereof were under him: so it became a vine, and brought forth branches, and shot forth sprigs.⁷There was also another great eagle with great wings and many feathers: and, behold, this vine did bend her roots toward him, and shot forth her branches toward him, that he might water it by the furrows of her plantation.⁸It was planted in a good soil by great waters, that it might bring forth branches, and that it might bear fruit, that it might be a goodly vine.⁹Say thou, Thus saith the Lord GOD Shall it prosper? shall he not pull up the roots thereof, and cut off the fruit thereof, that it wither? it shall wither in all the leaves of her spring, even without great power or many people to pluck it up by the roots thereof.¹⁰Yea, behold, being planted, shall it prosper? shall it not utterly wither, when the east wind toucheth it? it shall wither in the furrows where it grew.¹¹Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,¹²Say now to the rebellious house, Know ye not what these things mean? tell them, Behold, the king of Babylon is come to Jerusalem, and hath taken the king thereof, and the princes thereof, and led them with him to Babylon¹³And hath taken of the king's seed, and made a covenant with him, and hath taken an oath of him: he hath also taken the mighty of the land:¹⁴That the kingdom might be base, that it might not lift itself up, but that by keeping of his covenant it might stand.¹⁵But he rebelled against him in sending his ambassadors into Egypt, that they might give him horses and much people. Shall he prosper? shall he escape that doeth such things? or shall he break the covenant, and be delivered?¹⁶As I live, saith the Lord GOD, surely in the place where the king dwelleth that made him king, whose oath he despised, and whose covenant he brake, even with him in the midst of Babylon he shall die.¹⁷Neither shall Pharaoh with his mighty army and great company make for him in the war, by casting up mounts, and building forts, to cut off many persons:¹⁸Seeing he despised the oath by breaking the covenant, when, lo, he had given his hand, and hath done all these things, he shall not escape.¹⁹Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD As I live, surely mine oath that he hath despised, and my covenant that he hath broken, even it will I recompense upon his own head.²⁰And I will spread my net upon him, and he shall be taken in my snare, and I will bring him to Babylon, and will plead with him there for his trespass that he hath trespassed against me.²¹And all his fugitives with all his bands shall fall by the sword, and they that remain shall be scattered toward all winds: and ye shall know that I the LORD have spoken it.²²Thus saith the Lord GOD I will also take of the highest branch of the high cedar, and will set it I will crop off from the top of his young twigs a tender one, and will plant it upon an high mountain and eminent:²³In the mountain of the height of Israel will I plant it: and it shall bring forth boughs, and bear fruit, and be a goodly cedar: and under it shall dwell all fowl of every wing in the shadow of the branches thereof shall they dwell.²⁴And all the trees of the field shall know that I the LORD have brought down the high tree, have exalted the low tree, have dried up the green tree, and have made the dry tree to flourish: I the LORD have brought down the high tree, have exalted the low tree, have dried up the green tree, and have made the dry tree to flourish: I the LORD have spoken and have done it.

CHAPTER 18 ¹The word of the LORD came unto me again, saying,²What mean ye, that ye use this proverb concerning the land of Israel, saying, The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge?³As I live, saith the Lord

GOD, ye shall not have occasion any more to use this proverb in Israel.⁴Behold, all souls are mine as the soul of the father, so also the soul of the son is mine: the soul that sinneth, it shall die.⁵But if a man be just, and do that which is lawful and right,⁶And hath not eaten upon the mountains, neither hath lifted up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, neither hath defiled his neighbour's wife, neither hath come near to a menstruous woman,⁷And hath not oppressed any, but hath restored to the debtor his pledge, hath spoiled none by violence, hath given his bread to the hungry, and hath covered the naked with a garment⁸He that hath not given forth upon usury, neither hath taken any increase, that hath withdrawn his hand from iniquity, hath executed true judgment between man and man,⁹Hath walked in my statutes, and hath kept my judgments, to deal truly he is just, he shall surely live, saith the Lord GOD.¹⁰If he beget a son that is a robber, a shedder of blood, and that doeth the like to any one of these things,¹¹And that doeth not any of those duties, but even hath eaten upon the mountains, and defiled his neighbour's wife,¹²Hath oppressed the poor and needy, hath spoiled by violence, hath not restored the pledge, and hath lifted up his eyes to the idols, hath committed abomination,¹³Hath given forth upon usury, and hath taken increase: shall he then live? he shall not live: he hath done all these abominations he shall surely die his blood shall be upon him.¹⁴Now, lo, if he beget a son, that seeth all his father's sins which he hath done, and considereth, and doeth not such like,¹⁵That hath not eaten upon the mountains, neither hath lifted up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, hath not defiled his neighbour's wife,¹⁶Neither hath oppressed any, hath not withholden the pledge, neither hath spoiled by violence, but hath given his bread to the hungry, and hath covered the naked with a garment,¹⁷That hath taken off his hand from the poor, that hath not received usury nor increase, hath executed my judgments, hath walked in my statutes he shall not die for the iniquity of his father, he shall surely live.¹⁸As for his father, because he cruelly oppressed, spoiled his brother by violence, and did that which is not good among his people, lo, even he shall die in his iniquity.¹⁹Yet say ye, Why? doth not the son bear the iniquity of the father? When the son hath done that which is lawful and right, and hath kept all my statutes, and hath done them, he shall surely live.²⁰The soul that sinneth, it shall die. The son shall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the son: the righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon him.²¹But if the wicked will turn from all his sins that he hath committed, and keep all my statutes, and do that which is lawful and right, he shall surely live, he shall not die.²²All his transgressions that he hath committed, they shall not be mentioned unto him: in his righteousness that he hath done he shall live.²³Have I any pleasure at all that the wicked should die? saith the Lord GOD: and not that he should return from his ways, and live?²⁴But when the righteous turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, and doeth according to all the abominations that the wicked man doeth, shall he live? All his righteousness that he hath done shall not be mentioned: in his trespass that he hath trespassed, and in his sin that he hath sinned, in them shall he die.²⁵Yet ye say, The way of the Lord is not equal. Hear now, O house of Israel Is not my way equal? are not your ways unequal?²⁶When a righteous man turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, and dieth in them for his iniquity that he hath done shall he die.²⁷Again, when the wicked man turneth away from his wickedness that he hath committed, and doeth that which is lawful and right, he shall save his soul alive.²⁸Because he considereth, and turneth away from all his transgressions that he hath committed, he shall surely live, he shall not die.²⁹Yet saith the house of Israel, The way of the Lord is not equal. O house of Israel, are not my ways equal? are not your ways unequal?³⁰Therefore I will judge you, O house of Israel, every one according to his ways, saith the Lord GOD. Repent, and turn yourselves from all your transgressions so iniquity shall not be your ruin.³¹Cast away from you all your transgressions, whereby ye have transgressed and make you a new heart and a new spirit: for why will ye die, O house of Israel?³²For I have no pleasure in the death of him that dieth, saith the Lord GOD: wherefore turn yourselves, and live ye.

CHAPTER 19 ¹Moreover take thou up a lamentation for the princes of Israel,²And say, What is thy mother? A lioness: she lay down among lions, she nourished her whelps among young lions.³And she brought up one of her whelps: it became a young lion, and it learned to catch the prey it devoured men.⁴The nations also heard of him he was taken in their pit, and they brought him with chains unto the land of Egypt.⁵Now when she saw that she had waited, and her hope was lost, then she took another of her whelps, and made him a young lion.⁶And he went up and down among the lions, he became a young lion, and learned to catch the prey, and devoured men.⁷And he knew their desolate palaces, and he laid waste their cities and the land was desolate, and the fulness thereof, by the noise of his roaring.⁸Then the nations set against him on every side from the provinces, and spread their net over him: he was taken in their pit.⁹And they put him in ward in chains, and brought him to the king of Babylon: they brought him into holds, that his voice should no more be heard upon the mountains of Israel.¹⁰Thy mother is like a vine in thy blood, planted by the waters: she was fruitful and full of branches by reason of many waters.¹¹And she had strong rods for the sceptres of them that bare rule, and her stature was exalted among the thick branches, and she appeared in her height with the multitude of her branches.¹²But she was plucked up in fury, she was cast down to the ground, and the east wind dried up her fruit: her strong rods were broken and withered the fire consumed them.¹³And now she is planted in the wilderness, in a dry and thirsty ground.¹⁴And fire is gone out of a rod of her branches, which hath devoured her fruit, so that she hath no strong rod to be a sceptre to rule. This is a lamentation, and shall be for a lamentation.

CHAPTER 20 ¹And it came to pass in the seventh year, in the fifth month, the tenth day of the month, that certain of the elders of Israel came to inquire of the LORD, and sat before me.²Then came the word of the LORD unto me, saying,³Son of man, speak unto the elders of Israel, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD Are ye come to inquire of me? As I live, saith the Lord GOD, I will not be inquired of by you.⁴Wilt thou judge them, son of man, wilt thou judge them? cause them to know the abominations of their fathers:⁵And say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD In the day when I chose Israel, and lifted up mine hand unto the seed of the house of Jacob, and made myself known unto them in the land of Egypt, when I lifted up mine hand unto them, saying, I am the LORD your God⁶In the day that I lifted up mine hand unto them, to bring them forth of the land of Egypt into a land that I had espied for them, flowing with milk and honey, which is the glory of all lands:⁷Then said I unto them, Cast ye away every man the abominations of his eyes, and defile not yourselves with the idols of Egypt: I am the LORD your God.⁸But they rebelled against me, and would not hearken unto me: they did not every man cast away the abominations of their eyes, neither did they forsake the idols of Egypt: then I said, I will pour out my fury upon them to accomplish my anger against them in the midst of the land of Egypt.⁹But I wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be polluted before the heathen, among whom they were, in whose sight I made myself known unto them, in bringing them forth out of the land of Egypt.¹⁰Wherefore I caused them to go forth out of the land of Egypt, and brought them into the wilderness.¹¹And I gave them my statutes, and shewed them my judgments, which if a man do, he shall even live in them.¹²Moreover also I gave them my sabbaths, to be a sign between me and them, that they might know that I am the LORD that sanctify them.¹³But the house of Israel rebelled against me in the wilderness: they walked not in my statutes, and they despised my judgments, which if a man do, he shall even live in them and my sabbaths they greatly polluted: then I said, I would pour out my fury upon them in the wilderness, to consume them.¹⁴But I wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be polluted before the heathen, in whose sight I brought them out.¹⁵Yet also I lifted up my hand unto them in the wilderness, that I would not bring them into the land which I had given them, flowing with milk and honey, which is the glory of all lands¹⁶Because they despised my judgments, and walked not in my statutes, but polluted my sabbaths: for their heart went after their idols.¹⁷Nevertheless mine eye spared them from destroying them, neither did I make an end of them in the wilderness.¹⁸But I said unto their children in the wilderness, Walk ye not in the statutes of your fathers, neither observe their judgments, nor defile yourselves with their idols:¹⁹I am the LORD your God walk in my statutes, and keep my judgments, and do them²⁰And hallow my sabbaths and they shall be a sign between me and you, that ye may know that I am the LORD your God.²¹Notwithstanding the children rebelled against me: they walked not in my statutes, neither kept my judgments to do them, which if a man do, he shall even live in them they polluted my sabbaths: then I said, I would pour out my fury upon them, to accomplish my anger against them in the wilderness.²²Nevertheless I withdrew mine hand, and wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be polluted in the sight of the heathen, in whose sight I brought them forth.²³I lifted up mine hand unto them also in the wilderness, that I would scatter them among the heathen, and disperse them through the countries²⁴Because they had not executed my judgments, but had despised my statutes, and had polluted my sabbaths, and their eyes were after their fathers' idols.²⁵Wherefore I gave them also statutes that were not good, and judgments whereby they should not live²⁶And I polluted them in their own gifts, in that they caused to pass through the fire all that openeth the womb, that I might make them desolate, to the end that they might know that I am the LORD.²⁷Therefore, son of man, speak unto the house of Israel, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD Yet in this your fathers have blasphemed me, in that they have committed a trespass against me.²⁸For when I had brought them into the land, for the which I lifted up mine hand to give it to them, then they saw every high hill, and all the thick trees, and they offered there their sacrifices, and there they presented the provocation of their offering: there also they made their sweet savour, and poured out there their drink offerings.²⁹Then I said unto them, What is the high place whereunto ye go? And the name thereof is called Bamah unto this day.³⁰Wherefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord GOD Are ye polluted after the manner of your fathers? and commit ye whoredom after their abominations?³¹For when ye offer your gifts, when ye make your sons to pass through the fire, ye pollute yourselves with all your idols, even unto this day:

and shall I be inquired of by you, O house of Israel? As I live, saith the Lord GOD, I will not be inquired of by you.³²And that which cometh into your mind shall not be at all, that ye say, We will be as the heathen, as the families of the countries, to serve wood and stone.³³As I live, saith the Lord GOD, surely with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arm, and with fury poured out, will I rule over you:³⁴And I will bring you out from the people, and will gather you out of the countries wherein ye are scattered, with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arm, and with fury poured out.³⁵And I will bring you into the wilderness of the people, and there will I plead with you face to face.³⁶Like as I pleaded with your fathers in the wilderness of the land of Egypt, so will I plead with you, saith the Lord GOD.³⁷And I will cause you to pass under the rod, and I will bring you into the bond of the covenant:³⁸And I will purge out from among you the rebels, and them that transgress against me: I will bring them forth out of the country where they sojourn, and they shall not enter into the land of Israel: and ye shall know that I am the LORD.³⁹As for you, O house of Israel, thus saith the Lord GOD Go ye, serve ye every one his idols, and hereafter also, if ye will not hearken unto me: but pollute ye my holy name no more with your gifts, and with your idols.⁴⁰For in mine holy mountain, in the mountain of the height of Israel, saith the Lord GOD, there shall all the house of Israel, all of them in the land, serve me: there will I accept them, and there will I require your offerings, and the firstfruits of your oblations, with all your holy things.⁴¹I will accept you with your sweet savour, when I bring you out from the people, and gather you out of the countries wherein ye have been scattered and I will be sanctified in you before the heathen.⁴²And ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall bring you into the land of Israel, into the country for the which I lifted up mine hand to give it to your fathers.⁴³And there shall ye remember your ways, and all your doings, wherein ye have been defiled and ye shall loathe yourselves in your own sight for all your evils that ye have committed.⁴⁴And ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I have wrought with you for my name's sake, not according to your wicked ways, nor according to your corrupt doings, O ye house of Israel, saith the Lord GOD.⁴⁵Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,⁴⁶Son of man, set thy face toward the south, and drop thy word toward the south, and prophesy against the forest of the south field⁴⁷And say to the forest of the south, Hear the word of the LORD Thus saith the Lord GOD Behold, I will kindle a fire in thee, and it shall devour every green tree in thee, and every dry tree: the flaming flame shall not be quenched, and all faces from the south to the north shall be burned therein.⁴⁸And all flesh shall see that I the LORD have kindled it: it shall not be quenched.⁴⁹Then said I, Ah Lord GOD! they say of me, Doth he not speak parables?

CHAPTER 21 ¹And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,²Son of man, set thy face toward Jerusalem, and drop thy word toward the holy places, and prophesy against the land of Israel,³And say to the land of Israel, Thus saith the LORD Behold, I am against thee, and will draw forth my sword out of his sheath, and will cut off from thee the righteous and the wicked.⁴Seeing then that I will cut off from thee the righteous and the wicked, therefore shall my sword go forth out of his sheath against all flesh from the south to the north:⁵That all flesh may know that I the LORD have drawn forth my sword out of his sheath: it shall not return any more.⁶Sigh therefore, thou son of man, with the breaking of thy loins and with bitterness sigh before their eyes.⁷And it shall be, when they say unto thee, Wherefore sighest thou? that thou shalt answer, For the tidings because it cometh: and every heart shall melt, and all hands shall be feeble, and every spirit shall faint, and all knees shall be weak as water: behold, it cometh, and shall be brought to pass, saith the Lord GOD.⁸Again the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,⁹Son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus saith the LORD Say, A sword, a sword is sharpened, and also furbished:¹⁰It is sharpened to make a sore slaughter it is furbished that it may glitter: should we then make mirth? it contemneth the rod of my son, as every tree.¹¹And he hath give it to be furbished, that it may be handled: this sword is sharpened, and it is furbished, to give it into the hand of the slayer.¹²Cry and howl, son of man: for it shall be upon my people, it shall be upon all the princes of Israel: terrors by reason of the sword shall be upon my people: smite therefore upon thy thigh.¹³Because it is a trial, and what if the sword contemn even the rod? it shall be no more, saith the Lord GOD.¹⁴Thou therefore, son of man, prophesy, and smite thine hands together, and let the sword be doubled the third time, the sword of the slain: it is the sword of the great men that are slain, which entereth into their privy chambers.¹⁵I have set the point of the sword against all their gates, that their heart may faint, and their ruins be multiplied: ah! it is made bright, it is wrapped up for the slaughter.¹⁶Go thee one way or other, either on the right hand, or on the left, whithersoever thy face is set.¹⁷I will also smite mine hands together, and I will cause my fury to rest: I the LORD have said it.¹⁸The word of the LORD came unto me again, saying,¹⁹Also, thou son of man, appoint thee two ways, that the sword of the king of Babylon may come: both twain shall come forth out of one land: and choose thou a place, choose it at the head of the way to the city.²⁰Appoint a way, that the sword may come to Rabbath of the Ammonites, and to Judah in Jerusalem the defenced.²¹For the king of Babylon stood at the parting of the way, at the head of the two ways, to use divination: he made his arrows bright, he consulted with images, he looked in the liver.²²At his right hand was the divination for Jerusalem, to appoint captains, to open the mouth in the slaughter, to lift up the voice with shouting, to appoint battering rams against the gates, to cast a mount, and to build a fort.²³And it shall be unto them as a false divination in their sight, to them that have sworn oaths: but he will call to remembrance the iniquity, that they may be taken.²⁴Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD Because ye have made your iniquity to be remembered, in that your transgressions are discovered, so that in all your doings your sins do appear because, I say, that ye are come to remembrance, ye shall be taken with the hand.²⁵And thou, profane wicked prince of Israel, whose day is come, when iniquity shall have an end,²⁶Thus saith the Lord GOD Remove the diadem, and take off the crown: this shall not be the same: exalt him that is low, and abase him that is high.²⁷I will overturn, overturn, overturn, it: and it shall be no more, until he come whose right it is and I will give it him.²⁸And thou, son of man, prophesy and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD concerning the Ammonites, and concerning their reproach even say thou, The sword, the sword is drawn: for the slaughter it is furbished, to consume because of the glittering:²⁹Whiles they see vanity unto thee, whiles they divine a lie unto thee, to bring thee upon the necks of them that are slain, of the wicked, whose day is come, when their iniquity shall have an end.³⁰Shall I cause it to return into his sheath? I will judge thee in the place where thou wast created, in the land of thy nativity.³¹And I will pour out mine indignation upon thee, I will blow against thee in the fire of my wrath, and deliver thee into the hand of brutish men, and skilful to destroy.³²Thou shalt be for fuel to the fire thy blood shall be in the midst of the land thou shalt be no more remembered: for I the LORD have spoken it.

CHAPTER 22 ¹Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,²Now, thou son of man, wilt thou judge, wilt thou judge the bloody city? yea, thou shalt shew her all her abominations.³Then say thou, Thus saith the Lord GOD, The city sheddeth blood in the midst of it, that her time may come, and maketh idols against herself to defile herself.⁴Thou art become guilty in thy blood that thou hast shed and hast defiled thyself in thine idols which thou hast made and thou hast caused thy days to draw near, and art come even unto thy years:

therefore have I made thee a reproach unto the heathen, and a mocking to all countries.⁵Those that be near, and those that be far from thee, shall mock thee, which art infamous and much vexed.⁶Behold, the princes of Israel, every one were in thee to their power to shed blood.⁷In thee have they set light by father and mother: in the midst of thee have they dealt by oppression with the stranger: in thee have they vexed the fatherless and the widow.⁸Thou hast despised mine holy things, and hast profaned my sabbaths.⁹In thee are men that carry tales to shed blood: and in thee they eat upon the mountains: in the midst of thee they commit lewdness.¹⁰In thee have they discovered their fathers' nakedness: in thee have they humbled her that was set apart for pollution.¹¹And one hath committed abomination with his neighbour's wife and another hath lewdly defiled his daughter in law and another in thee hath humbled his sister, his father's daughter.¹²In thee have they taken gifts to shed blood thou hast taken usury and increase, and thou hast greedily gained of thy neighbours by extortion, and hast forgotten me, saith the Lord GOD.¹³Behold, therefore I have smitten mine hand at thy dishonest gain which thou hast made, and at thy blood which hath been in the midst of thee.¹⁴Can thine heart endure, or can thine hands be strong, in the days that I shall deal with thee? I the LORD have spoken it, and will do it.¹⁵And I will scatter thee among the heathen, and disperse thee in the countries, and will consume thy filthiness out of thee.¹⁶And thou shalt take thine inheritance in thyself in the sight of the heathen, and thou shalt know that I am the LORD.¹⁷And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,¹⁸Son of man, the house of Israel is to me become dross: all they are brass, and tin, and iron, and lead, in the midst of the furnace they are even the dross of silver.¹⁹Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD Because ye are all become dross, behold, therefore I will gather you into the midst of Jerusalem.²⁰As they gather silver, and brass, and iron, and lead, and tin, into the midst of the furnace, to blow the fire upon it, to melt it so will I gather you in mine anger and in my fury, and I will leave you there, and melt you.²¹Yea, I will gather you, and blow upon you in the fire of my wrath, and ye shall be melted in the midst thereof.²²As silver is melted in the midst of the furnace, so shall ye be melted in the midst thereof and ye shall know that I the LORD have poured out my fury upon you.²³And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,²⁴Son of man, say unto her, Thou art the land that is not cleansed, nor rained upon in the day of indignation.²⁵There is a conspiracy of her prophets in the midst thereof, like a roaring lion ravening the prey they have devoured souls they have taken the treasure and precious things they have made her many widows in the midst thereof.²⁶Her priests have violated my law, and have profaned mine holy things: they have put no difference between the holy and profane, neither have they shewed difference between the unclean and the clean, and have hid their eyes from my sabbaths, and I am profaned among them.²⁷Her princes in the midst thereof are like wolves ravening the prey, to shed blood, and to destroy souls, to get dishonest gain.²⁸And her prophets have daubed them with untempered mortar, seeing vanity, and divining lies unto them, saying, Thus saith the Lord GOD, when the LORD hath not spoken.²⁹The people of the land have used oppression, and exercised robbery, and have vexed the poor and needy: yea, they have oppressed the stranger wrongfully.³⁰And I sought for a man among them, that should make up the hedge, and stand in the gap before me for the land, that I should not destroy it: but I found none.³¹Therefore have I poured out mine indignation upon them I have consumed them with the fire of my wrath: their own way have I recompensed upon their heads, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAPTER 23 ¹The word of the LORD came again unto me, saying,²Son of man, there were two women, the daughters of one mother:³And they committed whoredoms in Egypt they committed whoredoms in their youth: there were their breasts pressed, and there they bruised the teats of their virginity.⁴And the names of them were Aholah the elder, and Aholibah her sister: and they were mine, and they bare sons and daughters. Thus were their names Samaria is Aholah, and Jerusalem Aholibah.⁵And Aholah played the harlot when she was mine and she doted on her lovers, on the Assyrians her neighbours,⁶Which were clothed with blue, captains and rulers, all of them desirable young men, horsemen riding upon horses.⁷Thus she committed her whoredoms with them, with all them that were the chosen men of Assyria, and with all on whom she doted: with all their idols she defiled herself.⁸Neither left she her whoredoms brought from Egypt: for in her youth they lay with her, and they bruised the breasts of her virginity, and poured their whoredom upon her.⁹Wherefore I have delivered her into the hand of her lovers, into the hand of the Assyrians, upon whom she doted.¹⁰These discovered her nakedness: they took her sons and her daughters, and slew her with the sword: and she became famous among women for they had executed judgment upon her.¹¹And when her sister Aholibah saw this, she was more corrupt in her inordinate love than she, and in her whoredoms more than her sister in her whoredoms.¹²She doted upon the Assyrians her neighbours, captains and rulers clothed most gorgeously, horsemen riding upon horses, all of them desirable young men.¹³Then I saw that she was defiled, that they took both one way,¹⁴And that she increased her whoredoms: for when she saw men pourtrayed upon the wall, the images of the Chaldeans pourtrayed with vermilion,¹⁵Girded with girdles upon their loins, exceeding in dyed attire upon their heads, all of them princes to look to, after the manner of the Babylonians of Chaldea, the land of their nativity:¹⁶And as soon as she saw them with her eyes, she doted upon them, and sent messengers unto them into Chaldea.¹⁷And the Babylonians came to her into the bed of love, and they defiled her with their whoredom, and she was polluted with them, and her mind was alienated from them.¹⁸So she discovered her whoredoms, and discovered her nakedness: then my mind was alienated from her, like as my mind was alienated from her sister.¹⁹Yet she multiplied her whoredoms, in calling to remembrance the days of her youth, wherein she had played the harlot in the land of Egypt.²⁰For she doted upon their paramours, whose flesh is as the flesh of asses, and whose issue is like the issue of horses.²¹Thus thou calledst to remembrance the lewdness of thy youth, in bruising thy teats by the Egyptians for the paps of thy youth.²²There, O Aholibah, thus saith the Lord GOD Behold, I will raise up thy lovers against thee, from whom thy mind is alienated, and I will bring them against thee on every side²³The Babylonians, and all the Chaldeans, Pekod, and Shoa, and Koa, and all the Assyrians with them: all of them desirable young men, captains and rulers, great lords and renowned, all of them riding upon horses.²⁴ And they shall come against thee with chariots, wagons, and wheels, and with an assembly of people, which shall set against thee buckler and shield and helmet round about: and I will set judgment before them, and they shall judge thee according to their judgments.²⁵ And I will set my jealousy against thee, and they shall deal furiously with thee: they shall take away thy nose and thine ears and thy remnant shall fall by the sword: they shall take thy sons and thy daughters and thy residue shall be devoured by the fire.²⁶ They shall also strip thee out of thy clothes, and take away thy fair jewels.²⁷ Thus will I make thy lewdness to cease from thee, and thy whoredom brought from the land of Egypt: so that thou shalt not lift up thine eyes unto them, nor remember Egypt any more.²⁸ For thus saith the Lord GOD Behold, I will deliver thee into the hand of them whom thou hatest, into the hand of them from whom thy mind is alienated.²⁹ And they shall deal with thee hatefully, and shall take away all thy labour, and shall leave thee naked and bare: and the nakedness of thy whoredoms shall be discovered, both thy lewdness and thy whoredoms.³⁰ I will do these things unto thee, because thou hast gone a whoring after the heathen, and because thou art polluted with their idols.³¹ Thou hast walked in the way of thy sister therefore will I give her cup into thine hand.³² Thus saith the Lord GOD Thou shalt drink of thy sister's cup deep and large: thou shalt be laughed to scorn and had in derision it containeth much.³³ Thou shalt be filled with drunkenness and sorrow, with the cup of astonishment and desolation, with the cup of thy sister Samaria.³⁴ Thou shalt even drink it and suck it out, and thou shalt break the sherds thereof, and pluck off thine own breasts: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD.³⁵ Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD Because thou hast forgotten me, and cast me behind thy back, therefore bear thou also thy lewdness and thy whoredoms.³⁶ The LORD said moreover unto me Son of man, wilt thou judge Aholah and Aholibah? yea, declare unto them their abominations³⁷ That they have committed adultery, and blood is in their hands, and with their idols have they committed adultery, and have also caused their sons, whom they bare unto me, to pass for them through the fire, to devour them.³⁸Moreover this they have done unto me: they have defiled my sanctuary in the same day, and have profaned my sabbaths.³⁹For when they had slain their children to their idols, then they came the same day into my sanctuary to profane it and, lo, thus have they done in the midst of mine house.⁴⁰And furthermore, that ye have sent for men to come from far, unto whom a messenger was sent and, lo, they came: for whom thou didst wash thyself, paintedst thy eyes, and deckedst thyself with ornaments,⁴¹And satest upon a stately bed, and a table prepared before it, whereupon thou hast set mine incense and mine oil.⁴²And a voice of a multitude being at ease was with her: and with the men of the common sort were brought Sabeans from the wilderness, which put bracelets upon their hands, and beautiful crowns upon their heads.⁴³Then said I unto her that was old in adulteries, Will they now commit whoredoms with her, and she with them?⁴⁴Yet they went in unto her, as they go in unto a woman that playeth the harlot: so went they in unto Aholah and unto Aholibah, the lewd women.⁴⁵And the righteous men, they shall judge them after the manner of adulteresses, and after the manner of women that shed blood because they are adulteresses, and blood is in their hands.⁴⁶For thus saith the Lord GOD I will bring up a company upon them, and will give them to be removed and spoiled.⁴⁷And the company shall stone them with stones, and dispatch them with their swords they shall slay their sons and their daughters, and burn up their houses with fire.⁴⁸Thus will I cause lewdness to cease out of the land, that all women may be taught not to do after your lewdness.⁴⁹And they shall recompense your lewdness upon you, and ye shall bear the sins of your idols: and ye shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

CHAPTER 24 ¹Again in the ninth year, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,²Son of man, write thee the name of the day, even of this same day: the king of Babylon set himself against Jerusalem this same day.³And utter a parable unto the rebellious house, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD Set on a pot, set it on, and also pour water into it:⁴Gather the pieces thereof into it, even every good piece, the thigh, and the shoulder fill it with the choice bones.⁵Take the choice of the flock, and burn also the bones under it, and make it boil well, and let them seethe the bones of it therein.⁶Wherefore thus saith the Lord GOD Woe to the bloody city, to the pot whose scum is therein, and whose scum is not gone out of it! bring it out piece by piece let no lot fall up on it.⁷For her blood is in the midst of her she set it upon the top of a rock she poured it not upon the ground, to cover it with dust⁸That it might cause fury to come up to take vengeance I have set her blood upon the top of a rock, that it should not be covered.⁹Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD Woe to the bloody city! I will even make the pile for fire great.¹⁰Heap on wood, kindle the fire, consume the flesh, and spice it well, and let the bones be burned.¹¹Then set it empty upon the coals thereof, that the brass of it may be hot, and may burn, and that the filthiness of it may be molten in it, that the scum of it may be consumed.¹²She hath wearied herself with lies, and her great scum went not forth out of her: her scum shall be in the fire.¹³In thy filthiness is lewdness: because I have purged thee, and thou wast not purged, thou shalt not be purged from thy filthiness any more, till I have caused my fury to rest upon thee.¹⁴I the LORD have spoken it: it shall come to pass, and I will do it I will not go back, neither will I spare, neither will I repent according to thy ways, and according to thy doings, shall they judge thee, saith the Lord GOD.¹⁵Also the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,¹⁶Son of man, behold, I take away from thee the desire of thine eyes with a stroke: yet neither shalt thou mourn nor weep, neither shall thy tears run down.¹⁷Forbear to cry, make no mourning for the dead, bind the tire of thine head upon thee, and put on thy shoes upon thy feet, and cover not thy lips, and eat not the bread of men.¹⁸So I spake unto the people in the morning: and at even my wife died and I did in the morning as I was commanded.¹⁹And the people said unto me, Wilt thou not tell us what these things are to us, that thou doest so?²⁰Then I answered them, The word of the LORD came unto me, saying,²¹Speak unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord GOD Behold, I will profane my sanctuary, the excellency of your strength, the desire of your eyes, and that which your soul pitieth and your sons and your daughters whom ye have left shall fall by the sword.²²And ye shall do as I have done: ye shall not cover your lips, nor eat the bread of men.²³And your tires shall be upon your heads, and your shoes upon your feet: ye shall not mourn nor weep but ye shall pine away for your iniquities, and mourn one toward another.²⁴Thus Ezekiel is unto you a sign: according to all that he hath done shall ye do: and when this cometh, ye shall know that I am the Lord GOD.²⁵Also, thou son of man, shall it not be in the day when I take from them their strength, the joy of their glory, the desire of their eyes, and that whereupon they set their minds, their sons and their daughters,²⁶That he that escapeth in that day shall come unto thee, to cause thee to hear it with thine ears?²⁷In that day shall thy mouth be opened to him which is escaped, and thou shalt speak, and be no more dumb: and thou shalt be a sign unto them and they shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAPTER 25 ¹The word of the LORD came again unto me, saying,²Son of man, set thy face against the Ammonites, and prophesy against them³And say unto the Ammonites, Hear the word of the Lord GOD Thus saith the Lord GOD Because thou saidst, Aha, against my sanctuary, when it was profaned and against the land of Israel, when it was desolate and against the house of Judah, when they went into captivity⁴Behold, therefore I will deliver thee to the men of the east for a possession, and they shall set their palaces in thee, and make their dwellings in thee: they shall eat thy fruit, and they shall drink thy milk.⁵And I will make Rabbah a stable for camels, and the Ammonites a couchingplace for flocks: and ye shall know that I am the LORD.⁶For thus saith the Lord GOD Because thou hast clapped thine hands, and stamped with the feet, and rejoiced in heart with all thy despite against the land of Israel⁷Behold, therefore I will stretch out mine hand upon thee, and will deliver thee for a spoil to the heathen and I will cut thee off from the people, and I will cause thee to perish out of the countries: I will destroy thee and thou shalt know that I am the LORD.⁸Thus saith the Lord GOD Because that Moab and Seir do say, Behold, the house of Judah is like unto all the heathen⁹Therefore, behold, I will open the side of Moab from the cities, from his cities which are on his frontiers, the glory of the country, Beth-jeshimoth, Baal-meon, and Kiriathaim,¹⁰Unto the men of the east with the

Ammonites, and will give them in possession, that the Ammonites may not be remembered among the nations.¹¹And I will execute judgments upon Moab and they shall know that I am the LORD.¹²Thus saith the Lord GOD Because that Edom hath dealt against the house of Judah by taking vengeance, and hath greatly offended, and revenged himself upon them¹³Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD I will also stretch out mine hand upon Edom, and will cut off man and beast from it and I will make it desolate from Teman and they of Dedan shall fall by the sword.¹⁴And I will lay my vengeance upon Edom by the hand of my people Israel: and they shall do in Edom according to mine anger and according to my fury and they shall know my vengeance, saith the Lord GOD.¹⁵Thus saith the Lord GOD Because the Philistines have dealt by revenge, and have taken vengeance with a despiteful heart, to destroy it for the old hatred¹⁶Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD Behold, I will stretch out mine hand upon the Philistines, and I will cut off the Cherethims, and destroy the remnant of the sea coast.¹⁷And I will execute great vengeance upon them with furious rebukes and they shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall lay my vengeance upon them.

CHAPTER 26 ¹And it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the first day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,²Son of man, because that Tyrus hath said against Jerusalem, Aha, she is broken that was the gates of the people: she is turned unto me: I shall be replenished, now she is laid waste:³Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD Behold, I am against thee, O Tyrus, and will cause many nations to come up against thee, as the sea causeth his waves to come up.⁴And they shall destroy the walls of Tyrus, and break down her towers: I will also scrape her dust from her, and make her like the top of a rock.⁵It shall be a place for the spreading of nets in the midst of the sea: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD: and it shall become a spoil to the nations.⁶And her daughters which are in the field shall be slain by the sword and they shall know that I am the LORD.⁷For thus saith the Lord GOD Behold, I will bring upon Tyrus Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, a king of kings, from the north, with horses, and with chariots, and with horsemen, and companies, and much people.⁸He shall slay with the sword thy daughters in the field: and he shall make a fort against thee, and cast a mount against thee, and lift up the buckler against thee.⁹And he shall set engines of war against thy walls, and with his axes he shall break down thy towers.¹⁰By reason of the abundance of his horses their dust shall cover thee: thy walls shall shake at the noise of the horsemen, and of the wheels, and of the chariots, when he shall enter into thy gates, as men enter into a city wherein is made a breach.¹¹With the hoofs of his horses shall he tread down all thy streets: he shall slay thy people by the sword, and thy strong garrisons shall go down to the ground.¹²And they shall make a spoil of thy riches, and make a prey of thy merchandise: and they shall break down thy walls, and destroy thy pleasant houses: and they shall lay thy stones and thy timber and thy dust in the midst of the water.¹³And I will cause the noise of thy songs to cease and the sound of thy harps shall be no more heard.¹⁴And I will make thee like the top of a rock: thou shalt be a place to spread nets upon thou shalt be built no more: for I the LORD have spoken it, saith the Lord

GOD.¹⁵Thus saith the Lord GOD to Tyrus Shall not the isles shake at the sound of thy fall, when the wounded cry, when the slaughter is made in the midst of thee?¹⁶Then all the princes of the sea shall come down from their thrones, and lay away their robes, and put off their brodered garments: they shall clothe themselves with trembling they shall sit upon the ground, and shall tremble at every moment, and be astonished at thee.¹⁷And they shall take up a lamentation for thee, and say to thee, How art thou destroyed, that wast inhabited of seafaring men, the renowned city, which wast strong in the sea, she and her inhabitants, which cause their terror to be on all that haunt it!¹⁸Now shall the isles tremble in the day of thy fall yea, the isles that are in the sea shall be troubled at thy departure.¹⁹For thus saith the Lord GOD When I shall make thee a desolate city, like the cities that are not inhabited when I shall bring up the deep upon thee, and great waters shall cover thee²⁰When I shall bring thee down with them that descend into the pit, with the people of old time, and shall set thee in the low parts of the earth, in places desolate of old, with them that go down to the pit, that thou be not inhabited and I shall set glory in the land of the living²¹I will make thee a terror, and thou shalt be no more: though thou be sought for, yet shalt thou never be found again, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAPTER 27 ¹The word of the LORD came again unto me, saying,²Now, thou son of man, take up a lamentation for Tyrus³And say unto Tyrus, O thou that art situate at the entry of the sea, which art a merchant of the people for many isles, Thus saith the Lord GOD O Tyrus, thou hast said, I am of perfect beauty.⁴Thy borders are in the midst of the seas, thy builders have perfected thy beauty.⁵They have made all thy ship boards of fir trees of Senir: they have taken cedars from Lebanon to make masts for thee.⁶Of the oaks of Bashan have they made thine oars the company of the Ashurites have made thy benches of ivory, brought out of the isles of Chittim.⁷Fine linen with brodered work from Egypt was that which thou spreadest forth to be thy sail blue and purple from the isles of Elishah was that which covered thee.⁸The inhabitants of Zidon and Arvad were thy mariners: thy wise men, O Tyrus, that were in thee, were thy pilots.⁹The ancients of Gebal and the wise men thereof were in thee thy calkers: all the ships of the sea with their mariners were in thee to occupy thy merchandise.¹⁰They of Persia and of Lud and of Phut were in thine army, thy men of war: they hanged the shield and helmet in thee they set forth thy comeliness.¹¹The men of Arvad with thine army were upon thy walls round about, and the Gammadims were in thy towers: they hanged their shields upon thy walls round about they have made thy beauty perfect.¹²Tarshish was thy merchant by reason of the multitude of all kind of riches with silver, iron, tin, and lead, they traded in thy fairs.¹³Javan, Tubal, and Meshech, they were thy merchants: they traded the persons of men and vessels of brass in thy market.¹⁴They of the house of Togarmah traded in thy fairs with horses and horsemen and mules.¹⁵The men of Dedan were thy merchants many isles were the merchandise of thine hand: they brought thee for a present horns of ivory and ebony.¹⁶Syria was thy merchant by reason of the multitude of the wares of thy making: they occupied in thy fairs with emeralds, purple, and brodered work, and fine linen, and coral, and agate.¹⁷Judah, and the land of Israel, they were thy merchants: they traded in thy market wheat of Minnith, and Pannag, and honey, and oil, and balm.¹⁸Damascus was thy merchant in the multitude of the wares of thy making, for the multitude of all riches in the wine of Helbon, and white wool.¹⁹Dan also and Javan going to and fro occupied in thy fairs: bright iron, cassia, and calamus, were in thy market.²⁰Dedan was thy merchant in precious clothes for chariots.²¹Arabia, and all the princes of Kedar, they occupied with thee in lambs, and rams, and goats: in these were they thy merchants.²²The merchants of Sheba and Raamah, they were thy merchants: they occupied in thy fairs with chief of all spices, and with all precious stones, and gold.²³Haran, and Canneh, and Eden, the merchants of Sheba, Assur, and Chilmad, were thy merchants.²⁴These were thy merchants in all sorts of things, in blue clothes, and brodered work, and in chests of rich apparel, bound with cords, and made of cedar, among thy merchandise.²⁵The ships of Tarshish did sing of thee in thy market: and thou wast replenished, and made very glorious in the midst of the seas.²⁶Thy rowers have brought thee into great waters: the east wind hath broken thee in the midst of the seas.²⁷Thy riches, and thy fairs, thy merchandise, thy mariners, and thy pilots, thy calkers, and the occupiers of thy merchandise, and all thy men of war, that are in thee, and in all thy company which is in the midst of thee, shall fall into the midst of the seas in the day of thy ruin.²⁸The suburbs shall shake at the sound of the cry of thy pilots.²⁹And all that handle the oar, the mariners, and all the pilots of the sea, shall come down from their ships, they shall stand upon the land³⁰And shall cause their voice to be heard against thee, and shall cry bitterly, and shall cast up dust upon their heads, they shall wallow themselves in the ashes:³¹And they shall make themselves utterly bald for thee, and gird them with sackcloth, and they shall weep for thee with bitterness of heart and bitter wailing.³²And in their wailing they shall take up a lamentation for thee, and lament over thee, saying, What city is like Tyrus, like the destroyed in the midst of the sea?³³When thy wares went forth out of the seas, thou filledst many people thou didst enrich the kings of the earth with the multitude of thy riches and of thy merchandise.³⁴In the time when thou shalt be broken by the seas in the depths of the waters thy merchandise and all thy company in the midst of thee shall fall.³⁵All the inhabitants of the isles shall be astonished at thee, and their kings shall be sore afraid, they shall be troubled in their countenance.³⁶The merchants among the people shall hiss at thee thou shalt be a terror, and never shalt be any more.

CHAPTER 28 ¹The word of the LORD came again unto me, saying,²Son of man, say unto the prince of Tyrus, Thus saith the Lord GOD Because thine heart is lifted up, and thou hast said, I am a God, I sit in the seat of God, in the midst of the seas yet thou art a man, and not God, though thou set thine heart as the heart of God:³Behold, thou art wiser than Daniel there is no secret that they can hide from thee:⁴With thy wisdom and with thine understanding thou hast gotten thee riches, and hast gotten gold and silver into thy treasures:⁵By thy great wisdom and by thy traffick hast thou increased thy riches, and thine heart is lifted up because of thy riches:⁶Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD Because thou hast set thine heart as the heart of God⁷Behold, therefore I will bring strangers upon thee, the terrible of the nations: and they shall draw their swords against the beauty of thy wisdom, and they shall defile thy brightness.⁸They shall bring thee down to the pit, and thou shalt die the deaths of them that are slain in the midst of the seas.⁹Wilt thou yet say before him that slayeth thee, I am God? but thou shalt be a man, and no God, in the hand of him that slayeth thee.¹⁰Thou shalt die the deaths of the uncircumcised by the hand of strangers: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD.¹¹Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,¹²Son of man, take up a lamentation upon the king of Tyrus, and say unto him, Thus saith the Lord GOD Thou sealest up the sum, full of wisdom, and perfect in beauty.¹³Thou hast been in Eden the garden of God every precious stone was thy covering, the sardius, topaz, and the diamond, the beryl, the onyx, and the jasper, the sapphire, the emerald, and the carbuncle, and gold: the workmanship of thy tabrets and of thy pipes was prepared in thee in the day that thou wast created.¹⁴Thou art the anointed cherub that covereth and I have set thee so: thou wast upon the holy mountain of God thou hast walked up and down in the midst of the stones of fire.¹⁵Thou wast perfect in thy ways from the day that thou wast created, till iniquity was found in thee.¹⁶By the multitude of thy merchandise they have filled the midst of thee with violence, and thou hast sinned: therefore I will cast thee as profane out of the mountain of God: and I will destroy thee, O covering cherub, from the midst of the stones of fire.¹⁷Thine heart was lifted up because of thy beauty, thou hast corrupted thy wisdom by reason of thy brightness: I will cast thee to the ground, I will lay thee before kings, that they may behold thee.¹⁸Thou hast defiled thy sanctuaries by the multitude of thine iniquities, by the iniquity of thy traffick therefore will I bring forth a fire from the midst of thee, it shall devour thee, and I will bring thee to ashes upon the earth in the sight of all them that behold thee.¹⁹All they that know thee among the people shall be astonished at thee: thou shalt be a terror, and never shalt thou be any more.²⁰Again the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,²¹Son of man, set thy face against Zidon, and prophesy against it,²²And say, Thus saith the Lord GOD Behold, I am against thee, O Zidon and I will be glorified in the midst of thee: and they shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall have executed judgments in her, and shall be sanctified in her.²³For I will send into her pestilence, and blood into her streets and the wounded shall be judged in the midst of her by the sword upon her on every side and they shall know that I am the LORD.²⁴And there shall be no more a pricking brier unto the house of Israel, nor any grieving thorn of all that are round about them, that despised them and they shall know that I am the Lord GOD.²⁵Thus saith the Lord GOD When I shall have gathered the house of Israel from the people among whom they are scattered, and shall be sanctified in them in the sight of the heathen, then shall they dwell in their land that I have given to my servant Jacob.²⁶And they shall dwell safely therein, and shall build houses, and plant vineyards yea, they shall dwell with confidence, when I have executed judgments upon all those that despise them round about them and they shall know that I am the LORD their God.

CHAPTER 29 ¹In the tenth year, in the tenth month, in the twelfth day of the month, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,²Son of man, set thy face against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and prophesy against him, and against all Egypt:³Speak, and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD Behold, I am against thee, Pharaoh king of Egypt, the great dragon that lieth in the midst of his rivers, which hath said, My river is mine own, and I have made it for myself.⁴But I will put hooks in thy jaws, and I will cause the fish of thy rivers to stick unto thy scales, and I will bring thee up out of the midst of thy rivers, and all the fish of thy rivers shall stick unto thy scales.⁵And I will leave thee thrown into the wilderness, thee and all the fish of thy rivers: thou shalt fall upon the open fields thou shalt not be brought together, nor gathered: I have given thee for meat to the beasts of the field and to the fowls of the heaven.⁶And all the inhabitants of Egypt shall know that I am the LORD, because they have been a staff of reed to the house of Israel.⁷When they took hold of thee by thy hand, thou didst break, and rend all their shoulder: and when they leaned upon thee, thou brakest, and madest all their loins to be at a stand.⁸Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD Behold, I will bring a sword upon thee, and cut off man and beast out of thee.⁹And the land of Egypt shall be desolate and waste and they shall know that I am the LORD: because he hath said, The river is mine, and I have made it.¹⁰Behold, therefore I am against thee, and against thy rivers, and I will make the land of Egypt utterly waste and desolate, from the tower of Syene even unto the border of Ethiopia.¹¹No foot of man shall pass through it, nor foot of beast shall pass through it, neither shall it be inhabited forty years.¹²And I will make the land of Egypt desolate in the midst of the countries that are desolate, and her cities among the cities that are laid waste shall be desolate forty years: and I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries.¹³Yet thus saith the Lord GOD At the end of forty years will I gather the Egyptians from the people whither they were scattered:¹⁴And I will bring again the captivity of Egypt, and will cause them to return into the land of Pathros, into the land of their habitation and they shall be there a base kingdom.¹⁵It shall be the basest of the kingdoms neither shall it exalt itself any more above the nations: for I will diminish them, that they shall no more rule over the nations.¹⁶And it shall be no more the confidence of the house of Israel, which bringeth their iniquity to remembrance, when they shall look after them: but they shall know that I am the Lord GOD.¹⁷And it came to pass in the seven and twentieth year, in the first month, in the first day of the month, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,¹⁸Son of man, Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon caused his army to serve a great service against Tyrus: every head was made bald, and every shoulder was peeled: yet had he no wages, nor his army, for Tyrus, for the service that he had served against it:¹⁹Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD Behold, I will give the land of Egypt unto Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon and he shall take her multitude, and take her spoil, and take her prey and it shall be the wages for his army.²⁰I have given him the land of Egypt for his labour wherewith he served against it, because they wrought for me, saith the Lord GOD.²¹In that day will I cause the horn of the house of Israel to bud forth, and I will give thee the opening of the mouth in the midst of them and they shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAPTER 30 ¹The word of the LORD came again unto me, saying,²Son of man, prophesy and say, Thus saith the Lord

GOD Howl ye, Woe worth the day³For the day is near, even the day of the LORD is near, a cloudy day it shall be the time of the heathen.⁴And the sword shall come upon Egypt, and great pain shall be in Ethiopia, when the slain shall fall in Egypt, and they shall take away her multitude, and her foundations shall be broken down.⁵Ethiopia, and Libya, and Lydia, and all the mingled people, and Chub, and the men of the land that is in league, shall fall with them by the sword.⁶Thus saith the LORD They also that uphold Egypt shall fall and the pride of her power shall come down: from the tower of Syene shall they fall in it by the sword, saith the Lord GOD.⁷And they shall be desolate in the midst of the countries that are desolate, and her cities shall be in the midst of the cities that are wasted.⁸And they shall know that I am the LORD, when I have set a fire in Egypt, and when all her helpers shall be destroyed.⁹In that day shall messengers go forth from me in ships to make the careless Ethiopians afraid, and great pain shall come upon them, as in the day of Egypt: for, lo, it cometh.¹⁰Thus saith the Lord GOD I will also make the multitude of Egypt to cease by the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of

Babylon.¹¹He and his people with him, the terrible of the nations, shall be brought to destroy the land: and they shall draw their swords against Egypt, and fill the land with the slain.¹²And I will make the rivers dry, and sell the land into the hand of the wicked: and I will make the land waste, and all that is therein, by the hand of strangers: I the LORD have spoken it.¹³Thus saith the Lord GOD I will also destroy the idols, and I will cause their images to cease out of Noph and there shall be no more a prince of the land of Egypt: and I will put a fear in the land of Egypt.¹⁴And I will make Pathros desolate, and will set fire in Zoan, and will execute judgments in No.¹⁵And I will pour my fury upon Sin, the strength of Egypt and I will cut off the multitude of No.¹⁶And I will set fire in Egypt: Sin shall have great pain, and No shall be rent asunder, and Noph shall have distresses daily.¹⁷The young men of Aven and of Pi-beseth shall fall by the sword: and these cities shall go into captivity.¹⁸At Tehaphnehes also the day shall be darkened, when I shall break there the yokes of Egypt: and the pomp of her strength shall cease in her: as for her, a cloud shall cover her, and her daughters shall go into captivity.¹⁹Thus will I execute judgments in Egypt: and they shall know that I am the LORD.²⁰And it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the first month, in the seventh day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,²¹Son of man, I have broken the arm of Pharaoh king of Egypt and, lo, it shall not be bound up to be healed, to put a roller to bind it, to make it strong to hold the sword.²²Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD Behold, I am against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and will break his arms, the strong, and that which was broken and I will cause the sword to fall out of his hand.²³And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries.²⁴And I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, and put my sword in his hand: but I will break Pharaoh's arms, and he shall groan before him with the groanings of a deadly wounded man.²⁵But I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, and the arms of Pharaoh shall fall down and they shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall put my sword into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall stretch it out upon the land of Egypt.²⁶And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and disperse them among the countries and they shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAPTER 31 ¹And it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the third month, in the first day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,²Son of man, speak unto Pharaoh king of Egypt, and to his multitude Whom art thou like in thy greatness?³Behold, the Assyrian was a cedar in Lebanon with fair branches, and with a shadowing shroud, and of an high stature and his top was among the thick boughs.⁴The waters made him great, the deep set him up on high with her rivers running round about his plants, and sent out her little rivers unto all the trees of the field.⁵Therefore his height was exalted above all the trees of the field, and his boughs were multiplied, and his branches became long because of the multitude of waters, when he shot forth.⁶All the fowls of heaven made their nests in his boughs, and under his branches did all the beasts of the field bring forth their young, and under his shadow dwelt all great nations.⁷Thus was he fair in his greatness, in the length of his branches: for his root was by great waters.⁸The cedars in the garden of God could not hide him: the fir trees were not like his boughs, and the chestnut trees were not like his branches nor any tree in the garden of God was like unto him in his beauty.⁹I have made him fair by the multitude of his branches: so that all the trees of Eden, that were in the garden of God, envied him.¹⁰Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD Because thou hast lifted up thyself in height, and he hath shot up his top among the thick boughs, and his heart is lifted up in his height¹¹I have therefore delivered him into the hand of the mighty one of the heathen he shall surely deal with him: I have driven him out for his wickedness.¹²And strangers, the terrible of the nations, have cut him off, and have left him: upon the mountains and in all the valleys his branches are fallen, and his boughs are broken by all the rivers of the land and all the people of the earth are gone down from his shadow, and have left him.¹³Upon his ruin shall all the fowls of the heaven remain, and all the beasts of the field shall be upon his branches:¹⁴To the end that none of all the trees by the waters exalt themselves for their height, neither shoot up their top among the thick boughs, neither their trees stand up in their height, all that drink water: for they are all delivered unto death, to the nether parts of the earth, in the midst of the children of men, with them that go down to the pit.¹⁵ Thus saith the Lord GOD In the day when he went down to the grave I caused a mourning: I covered the deep for him, and I restrained the floods thereof, and the great waters were stayed: and I caused Lebanon to mourn for him, and all the trees of the field fainted for him.¹⁶ I made the nations to shake at the sound of his fall, when I cast him down to hell with them that descend into the pit: and all the trees of Eden, the choice and best of Lebanon, all that drink water, shall be comforted in the nether parts of the earth.¹⁷ They also went down into hell with him unto them that be slain with the sword and they that were his arm, that dwelt under his shadow in the midst of the heathen.¹⁸ To whom art thou thus like in glory and in greatness among the trees of Eden? yet shalt thou be brought down with the trees of Eden unto the nether parts of the earth: thou shalt lie in the midst of the uncircumcised with them that be slain by the sword. This is Pharaoh and all his multitude, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAPTER 32 ¹And it came to pass in the twelfth year, in the twelfth month, in the first day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,² Son of man, take up a lamentation for Pharaoh king of Egypt, and say unto him, Thou art like a young lion of the nations, and thou art as a whale in the seas: and thou camest forth with thy rivers, and troubledst the waters with thy feet, and fouledst their rivers.³ Thus saith the Lord GOD I will therefore spread out my net over thee with a company of many people and they shall bring thee up in my net.⁴ Then will I leave thee upon the land, I will cast thee forth upon the open field, and will cause all the fowls of the heaven to remain upon thee, and I will fill the beasts of the whole earth with thee.⁵ And I will lay thy flesh upon the mountains, and fill the valleys with thy height.⁶ I will also water with thy blood the land wherein thou swimdest, even to the mountains and the rivers shall be full of thee.⁷ And when I shall put thee out, I will cover the heaven, and make the stars thereof dark I will cover the sun with a cloud, and the moon shall not give her light.⁸ All the bright lights of heaven will I make dark over thee, and set darkness upon thy land, saith the Lord GOD.⁹ I will also vex the hearts of many people, when I shall bring thy destruction among the nations, into the countries which thou hast not known.¹⁰Yea, I will make many people amazed at thee, and their kings shall be horribly afraid for thee, when I shall brandish my sword before them and they shall tremble at every moment, every man for his own life, in the day of thy fall.¹¹For thus saith the Lord GOD The sword of the king of Babylon shall come upon thee.¹²By the swords of the mighty will I cause thy multitude to fall, the terrible of the nations, all of them: and they shall spoil the pomp of Egypt, and all the multitude thereof shall be destroyed.¹³I will destroy also all the beasts thereof from beside the great waters neither shall the foot of man trouble them any more, nor the hoofs of beasts trouble them.¹⁴Then will I make their waters deep, and cause their rivers to run like oil, saith the Lord GOD.¹⁵When I shall make the land of Egypt desolate, and the country shall be destitute of that whereof it was full, when I shall smite all them that dwell therein, then shall they know that I am the LORD.¹⁶This is the lamentation wherewith they shall lament her: the daughters of the nations shall lament her: they shall lament for her, even for Egypt, and for all her multitude, saith the Lord GOD.¹⁷It came to pass also in the twelfth year, in the fifteenth day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,¹⁸Son of man, wail for the multitude of Egypt, and cast them down, even her, and the daughters of the famous nations, unto the nether parts of the earth, with them that go down into the pit.¹⁹Whom dost thou pass in beauty? go down, and be thou laid with the uncircumcised.²⁰They shall fall in the midst of them that are slain by the sword: she is delivered to the sword: draw her and all her multitudes.²¹The strong among the mighty shall speak to him out of the midst of hell with them that help him: they are gone down, they lie uncircumcised, slain by the sword.²²Asshur is there and all her company: his graves are about him: all of them slain, fallen by the sword:²³Whose graves are set in the sides of the pit, and her company is round about her grave: all of them slain, fallen by the sword, which caused terror in the land of the living.²⁴There is Elam and all her multitude round about her grave, all of them slain, fallen by the sword, which are gone down uncircumcised into the nether parts of the earth, which caused their terror in the land of the living yet have they borne their shame with them that go down to the pit.²⁵They have set her a bed in the midst of the slain with all her multitude: her graves are round about him: all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword: though their terror was caused in the land of the living, yet have they borne their shame with them that go down to the pit: he is put in the midst of them that be slain.²⁶There is Meshech, Tubal, and all her multitude: her graves are round about him: all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword, though they caused their terror in the land of the living.²⁷And they shall not lie with the mighty that are fallen of the uncircumcised, which are gone down to hell with their weapons of war: and they have laid their swords under their heads, but their iniquities shall be upon their bones, though they were the terror of the mighty in the land of the living.²⁸Yea, thou shalt be broken in the midst of the uncircumcised, and shalt lie with them that are slain with the sword.²⁹There is Edom, her kings, and all her princes, which with their might are laid by them that were slain by the sword: they shall lie with the uncircumcised, and with them that go down to the pit.³⁰There be the princes of the north, all of them, and all the

Zidonians, which are gone down with the slain with their terror they are ashamed of their might and they lie uncircumcised with them that be slain by the sword, and bear their shame with them that go down to the pit.³¹Pharaoh shall see them, and shall be comforted over all his multitude, even Pharaoh and all his army slain by the sword, saith the Lord GOD.³²For I have caused my terror in the land of the living: and he shall be laid in the midst of the uncircumcised with them that are slain with the sword, even Pharaoh and all his multitude, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAPTER 33 ¹Again the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,²Son of man, speak to the children of thy people, and say unto them, When I bring the sword upon a land, if the people of the land take a man of their coasts, and set him for their watchman:³If when he seeth the sword come upon the land, he blow the trumpet, and warn the people⁴Then whosoever heareth the sound of the trumpet, and taketh not warning if the sword come, and take him away, his blood shall be upon his own head.⁵He heard the sound of the trumpet, and took not warning his blood shall be upon him. But he that taketh warning shall deliver his soul.⁶But if the watchman see the sword come, and blow not the trumpet, and the people be not warned if the sword come, and take any person from among them, he is taken away in his iniquity but his blood will I require at the watchman's hand.⁷So thou, O son of man, I have set thee a watchman unto the house of Israel therefore thou shalt hear the word at my mouth, and warn them from me.⁸When I say unto the wicked, O wicked man, thou shalt surely die if thou dost not speak to warn the wicked from his way, that wicked man shall die in his iniquity but his blood will I require at thine hand.⁹Nevertheless, if thou warn the wicked of his way to turn from it if he do not turn from his way, he shall die in his iniquity but thou hast delivered thy soul.¹⁰Therefore, O thou son of man, speak unto the house of Israel Thus ye speak, saying, If our transgressions and our sins be upon us, and we pine away in them, how should we then live?¹¹Say unto them, As I live, saith the Lord GOD, I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked but that the wicked turn from his way and live: turn ye, turn ye from your evil ways for why will ye die, O house of

Israel?¹²Therefore, thou son of man, say unto the children of thy people, The righteousness of the righteous shall not deliver him in the day of his transgression: as for the wickedness of the wicked, he shall not fall thereby in the day that he turneth from his wickedness neither shall the righteous be able to live for his righteousness in the day that he sinneth.¹³When I shall say to the righteous, that he shall surely live if he trust to his own righteousness, and commit iniquity, all his righteousnesses shall not be remembered but for his iniquity that he hath committed, he shall die for it.¹⁴Again, when I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die if he turn from his sin, and do that which is lawful and right¹⁵If the wicked restore the pledge, give again that he had robbed, walk in the statutes of life, without committing iniquity he shall surely live, he shall not die.¹⁶None of his sins that he hath committed shall be mentioned unto him: he hath done that which is lawful and right he shall surely live.¹⁷Yet the children of thy people say, The way of the Lord is not equal: but as for them, their way is not equal.¹⁸When the righteous turneth from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, he shall even die thereby.¹⁹But if the wicked turn from his wickedness, and do that which is lawful and right, he shall live thereby.²⁰Yet ye say, The way of the Lord is not equal. O ye house of Israel, I will judge you every one after his ways.²¹And it came to pass in the twelfth year of our captivity, in the tenth month, in the fifth day of the month, that one that had escaped out of Jerusalem came unto me, saying, The city is smitten.²²Now the hand of the LORD was upon me in the evening, afore he that was escaped came and had opened my mouth, until he came to me in the morning and my mouth was opened, and I was no more dumb.²³Then the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,²⁴Son of man, they that inhabit those wastes of the land of Israel speak, saying, Abraham was one, and he inherited the land: but we are many the land is given us for inheritance.²⁵Wherefore say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD Ye eat with the blood, and lift up your eyes toward your idols, and shed blood: and shall ye possess the land?²⁶Ye stand upon your sword, ye work abomination, and ye defile every one his neighbour's wife: and shall ye possess the land?²⁷Say thou thus unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD As I live, surely they that are in the wastes shall fall by the sword, and him that is in the open field will I give to the beasts to be devoured, and they that be in the forts and in the caves shall die of the pestilence.²⁸For I will lay the land most desolate, and the pomp of her strength shall cease and the mountains of Israel shall be desolate, that none shall pass through.²⁹Then shall they know that I am the LORD, when I have laid the land most desolate because of all their abominations which they have committed.³⁰Also, thou son of man, the children of thy people still are talking against thee by the walls and in the doors of the houses, and speak one to another, every one to his brother, saying, Come, I pray you, and hear what is the word that cometh forth from the LORD.³¹And they come unto thee as the people cometh, and they sit before thee as my people, and they hear thy words, but they will not do them: for with their mouth they shew much love, but their heart goeth after their covetousness.³²And, lo, thou art unto them as a very lovely song of one that hath a pleasant voice, and can play well on an instrument: for they hear thy words, but they do them not.³³And when this cometh to pass, (lo, it will come,) then shall they know that a prophet hath been among them.

CHAPTER 34 ¹And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,²Son of man, prophesy against the shepherds of Israel, prophesy, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD unto the shepherds Woe be to the shepherds of Israel that do feed themselves! should not the shepherds feed the flocks?³Ye eat the fat, and ye clothe you with the wool, ye kill them that are fed: but ye feed not the flock.⁴The diseased have ye not strengthened, neither have ye healed that which was sick, neither have ye bound up that which was broken, neither have ye brought again that which was driven away, neither have ye sought that which was lost but with force and with cruelty have ye ruled them.⁵And they were scattered, because there is no shepherd: and they became meat to all the beasts of the field, when they were scattered.⁶My sheep wandered through all the mountains, and upon every high hill: yea, my flock was scattered upon all the face of the earth, and none did search or seek after them.⁷Therefore, ye shepherds, hear the word of the LORD⁸As I live, saith the Lord GOD, surely because my flock became a prey, and my flock became meat to every beast of the field, because there was no shepherd, neither did my shepherds search for my flock, but the shepherds fed themselves, and fed not my flock⁹Therefore, O ye shepherds, hear the word of the LORD¹⁰Thus saith the Lord GOD Behold, I am against the shepherds and I will require my flock at their hand, and cause them to cease from feeding the flock neither shall the shepherds feed themselves any more for I will deliver my flock from their mouth, that they may not be meat for them.¹¹For thus saith the Lord GOD Behold, I, even I, will both search my sheep, and seek them out.¹²As a shepherd seeketh out his flock in the day that he is among his sheep that are scattered so will I seek out my sheep, and will deliver them out of all places where they have been scattered in the cloudy and dark day.¹³And I will bring them out from the people, and gather them from the countries, and will bring them to their own land, and feed them upon the mountains of Israel by the rivers, and in all the inhabited places of the country.¹⁴I will feed them in a good pasture, and upon the high mountains of Israel shall their fold be: there shall they lie in a good fold, and in a fat pasture shall they feed upon the mountains of Israel.¹⁵I will feed my flock, and I will cause them to lie down, saith the Lord GOD.¹⁶I will seek that which was lost, and bring again that which was driven away, and will bind up that which was broken, and will strengthen that which was sick: but I will destroy the fat and the strong I will feed them with judgment.¹⁷And as for you, O my flock, thus saith the Lord GOD Behold, I judge between cattle and cattle, between the rams and the he goats.¹⁸Seemeth it a small thing unto you to have eaten up the good pasture, but ye must tread down with your feet the residue of your pastures? and to have drunk of the deep waters, but ye must foul the residue with your feet?¹⁹And as for my flock, they eat that which ye have trodden with your feet and they drink that which ye have fouled with your feet.²⁰Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD unto them Behold, I, even I, will judge between the fat cattle and between the lean cattle.²¹Because ye have thrust with side and with shoulder, and pushed all the diseased with your horns, till ye have scattered them abroad²²Therefore will I save my flock, and they shall no more be a prey and I will judge between cattle and cattle.²³And I will set up one shepherd over them, and he shall feed them, even my servant David he shall feed them, and he shall be their shepherd.²⁴And I the LORD will be their God, and my servant David a prince among them I the LORD have spoken it.²⁵And I will make with them a covenant of peace, and will cause the evil beasts to cease out of the land: and they shall dwell safely in the wilderness, and sleep in the woods.²⁶And I will make them and the places round about my hill a blessing and I will cause the shower to come down in his season there shall be showers of blessing.²⁷And the tree of the field shall yield her fruit, and the earth shall yield her increase, and they shall be safe in their land, and shall know that I am the LORD, when I have broken the bands of their yoke, and delivered them out of the hand of those that served themselves of them.²⁸And they shall no more be a prey to the heathen, neither shall the beast of the land devour them but they shall dwell safely, and none shall make them afraid.²⁹And I will raise up for them a plant of renown, and they shall be no more consumed with hunger in the land, neither bear the shame of the heathen any more.³⁰ Thus shall they know that I the LORD their God am with them, and that they, even the house of Israel, are my people, saith the Lord GOD.³¹ And ye my flock, the flock of my pasture, are men, and I am your God, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAPTER 35 ¹Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,² Son of man, set thy face against mount Seir, and prophesy against it,³ And say unto it, Thus saith the Lord GOD Behold, O mount Seir, I am against thee, and I will stretch out mine hand against thee, and I will make thee most desolate.⁴ I will lay thy cities waste, and thou shalt be desolate, and thou shalt know that I am the LORD.⁵ Because thou hast had a perpetual hatred, and hast shed the blood of the children of Israel by the force of the sword in the time of their calamity, in the time that their iniquity had an end:⁶ Therefore, as I live, saith the Lord GOD, I will prepare thee unto blood, and blood shall pursue thee: sith thou hast not hated blood, even blood shall pursue thee.⁷ Thus will I make mount Seir most desolate, and cut off from it him that passeth out and him that returneth.⁸ And I will fill his mountains with his slain men: in thy hills, and in thy valleys, and in all thy rivers, shall they fall that are slain with the sword.⁹ I will make thee perpetual desolations, and thy cities shall not return: and ye shall know that I am the LORD.¹⁰ Because thou hast said, These two nations and these two countries shall be mine, and we will possess it whereas the LORD was there:¹¹ Therefore, as I live, saith the Lord GOD, I will even do according to thine anger, and according to thine envy which thou hast used out of thy hatred against them and I will make myself known among them, when I have judged thee.¹² And thou shalt know that I am the LORD, and that I have heard all thy blasphemies which thou hast spoken against the mountains of Israel, saying, They are laid desolate, they are given us to consume.¹³ Thus with your mouth ye have boasted against me, and have multiplied your words against me: I have heard them.¹⁴ Thus saith the Lord GOD When the whole earth rejoiceth, I will make thee desolate.¹⁵ As thou didst rejoice at the inheritance of the house of Israel, because it was desolate, so will I do unto thee: thou shalt be desolate, O mount Seir, and all Idumea, even all of it: and they shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAPTER 36 ¹Also, thou son of man, prophesy unto the mountains of Israel, and say, Ye mountains of Israel, hear the word of the LORD:²Thus saith the Lord GOD Because the enemy hath said against you, Aha, even the ancient high places are ours in possession:³Therefore prophesy and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD Because they have made you desolate, and swallowed you up on every side, that ye might be a possession unto the residue of the heathen, and ye are taken up in the lips of talkers, and are an infamy of the people:⁴Therefore, ye mountains of Israel, hear the word of the Lord GOD Thus saith the Lord GOD to the mountains, and to the hills, to the rivers, and to the valleys, to the desolate wastes, and to the cities that are forsaken, which became a prey and derision to the residue of the heathen that are round about⁵Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD Surely in the fire of my jealousy have I spoken against the residue of the heathen, and against all Idumea, which have appointed my land into their possession with the joy of all their heart, with despiteful minds, to cast it out for a prey.⁶Prophecy therefore concerning the land of Israel, and say unto the mountains, and to the hills, to the rivers, and to the valleys, Thus saith the Lord GOD Behold, I have spoken in my jealousy and in my fury, because ye have borne the shame of the heathen:⁷Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD I have lifted up mine hand, Surely the heathen that are about you, they shall bear their shame.⁸But ye, O mountains of Israel, ye shall shoot forth your branches, and yield your fruit to my people of Israel for they are at hand to come.⁹For, behold, I am for you, and I will turn unto you, and ye shall be tilled and sown:¹⁰And I will multiply men upon you, all the house of Israel, even all of it: and the cities shall be inhabited, and the wastes shall be builded:¹¹And I will multiply upon you man and beast and they shall increase and bring fruit: and I will settle you after your old estates, and will do better unto you than at your beginnings: and ye shall know that I am the LORD.¹²Yea, I will cause men to walk upon you, even my people Israel and they shall possess thee, and thou shalt be their inheritance, and thou shalt no more henceforth bereave them of men.¹³Thus saith the Lord GOD Because they say unto you, Thou land devourest up men, and hast bereaved thy nations¹⁴Therefore thou shalt devour men no more, neither bereave thy nations any more, saith the Lord GOD.¹⁵Neither will I cause men to hear in thee the shame of the heathen any more, neither shalt thou bear the reproach of the people any more, neither shalt thou cause thy nations to fall any more, saith the Lord GOD.¹⁶Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,¹⁷Son of man, when the house of Israel dwelt in their own land, they defiled it by their own way and by their doings: their way was before me as the uncleanness of a removed woman.¹⁸Wherefore I poured my fury upon them for the blood that they had shed upon the land, and for their idols wherewith they had polluted it:¹⁹And I scattered them among the heathen, and they were dispersed through the countries: according to their way and according to their doings I judged them.²⁰And when they entered unto the heathen, whither they went, they profaned my holy name, when they said to them, These are the people of the LORD, and are gone forth out of his land.²¹But I had pity for mine holy name, which the house of Israel had profaned among the heathen, whither they went.²²Therefore say unto the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord GOD I do not this for your sakes, O house of Israel, but for mine holy name's sake, which ye have profaned among the heathen, whither ye went.²³And I will sanctify my great name, which was profaned among the heathen, which ye have profaned in the midst of them and the heathen shall know that I am the LORD, saith the Lord GOD, when I shall be sanctified in you before their eyes.²⁴For I will take you from among the heathen, and gather you out of all countries, and will bring you into your own land.²⁵Then will I sprinkle clean water upon you, and ye shall be clean: from all your filthiness, and from all your idols, will I cleanse you.²⁶A new heart also will I give you, and a new spirit will I put within you: and I will take away the stony heart out of your flesh, and I will give you an heart of flesh.²⁷And I will put my spirit within you, and cause you to walk in my statutes, and ye shall keep my judgments, and do them.²⁸And ye shall dwell in the land that I gave to your fathers and ye shall be my people, and I will be your God.²⁹I will also save you from all your uncleannesses: and I will call for the corn, and will increase it, and lay no famine upon you.³⁰And I will multiply the fruit of the tree, and the increase of the field, that ye shall receive no more reproach of famine among the heathen.³¹Then shall ye remember your own evil ways, and your doings that were not good, and shall lothe yourselves in your own sight for your iniquities and for your abominations.³²Not for your sakes do I this, saith the Lord GOD, be it known unto you: be ashamed and confounded for your own ways, O house of Israel.³³Thus saith the Lord GOD In the day that I shall have cleansed you from all your iniquities I will also cause you to dwell in the cities, and the wastes shall be builded.³⁴And the desolate land shall be tilled, whereas it lay desolate in the sight of all that passed by.³⁵And they shall say, This land that was desolate is become like the garden of Eden and the waste and desolate and ruined cities are become fenced, and are inhabited.³⁶Then the heathen that are left round about you shall know that I the LORD build the ruined places, and plant that that was desolate: I the LORD have spoken it, and I will do it.³⁷Thus saith the Lord GOD I will yet for this be inquired of by the house of Israel, to do it for them I will increase them with men like a flock.³⁸As the holy flock, as the flock of Jerusalem in her solemn feasts so shall the waste cities be filled with flocks of men: and they shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAPTER 37 ¹The hand of the LORD was upon me, and carried me out in the spirit of the LORD, and set me down in the midst of the valley which was full of bones,²And caused me to pass by them round about: and, behold, there were very many in the open valley and, lo, they were very dry.³And he said unto me, Son of man, can these bones live? And I answered, O Lord GOD, thou knowest.⁴Again he said unto me, Prophecy upon these bones, and say unto them, O ye dry bones, hear the word of the LORD.⁵Thus saith the Lord GOD unto these bones Behold, I will cause breath to enter into you, and ye shall live:⁶And I will lay sinews upon you, and will bring up flesh upon you, and cover you with skin, and put breath in you, and ye shall live and ye shall know that I am the LORD.⁷So I prophesied as I was commanded: and as I prophesied, there was a noise, and behold a shaking, and the bones came together, bone to his bone.⁸And when I beheld, lo, the sinews and the flesh came up upon them, and the skin covered them above: but there was no breath in them.⁹Then said he unto me, Prophecy unto the wind, prophecy, son of man, and say to the wind, Thus saith the Lord GOD Come from the four winds, O breath, and breathe upon these slain, that they may live.¹⁰So I prophesied as he commanded me, and the breath came into them, and they lived, and stood up upon their feet, an exceeding great army.¹¹Then he said unto me, Son of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel: behold, they say, Our bones are dried, and our hope is lost: we are cut off for our parts.¹²Therefore prophecy and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD Behold, O my people, I will open your graves, and cause you to come up out of your graves, and bring you into the land of Israel.¹³And ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I have opened your graves, O my people, and brought you up out of your graves,¹⁴And shall put my spirit in you, and ye shall live, and I shall place you in your own land: then shall ye know that I the LORD have spoken it, and performed it, saith the LORD.¹⁵The word of the LORD came again unto me, saying,¹⁶Moreover, thou son of man, take thee one stick, and write upon it, For Judah, and for the children of Israel his companions: then take another stick, and write upon it, For Joseph, the stick of Ephraim, and for all the house of Israel his companions:¹⁷And join them one to another into one stick and they shall become one in thine hand.¹⁸And when the children of thy people shall speak unto thee, saying, Wilt thou not shew us what thou meanest by these?¹⁹Say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD Behold, I will take the stick of Joseph, which is in the hand of Ephraim, and the tribes of Israel his fellows, and will put them with him, even with the stick of Judah, and make them one stick, and they shall be one in mine hand.²⁰And the sticks whereon thou writest shall be in thine hand before their eyes.²¹And say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD Behold, I will take the children of Israel from among the heathen, whither they be gone, and will gather them on every side, and bring them into their own land:²²And I will make them one nation in the land upon the mountains of Israel and one king shall be king to them all: and they shall be no more two nations, neither shall they be divided into two kingdoms any more at all:²³Neither shall they defile themselves any more with their idols, nor with their detestable things, nor with any of their transgressions: but I will save them out of all their dwellingplaces, wherein they have sinned, and will cleanse them: so shall they be my people, and I will be their God.²⁴And David my servant shall be king over them and they all shall have one shepherd: they shall also walk in my judgments, and observe my statutes, and do them.²⁵And they shall dwell in the land that I have given unto Jacob my servant, wherein your fathers have dwelt and they shall dwell therein, even they, and their children, and their children's children for ever: and my servant David shall be their prince for ever.²⁶Moreover I will make a covenant of peace with them it shall be an everlasting covenant with them: and I will place them, and multiply them, and will set my sanctuary in the midst of them for evermore.²⁷My tabernacle also shall be with them: yea, I will be their God, and they shall be my people.²⁸And the heathen shall know that I the LORD do sanctify Israel, when my sanctuary shall be in the midst of them for evermore.

CHAPTER 38 ¹And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,²Son of man, set thy face against Gog, the land of Magog, the chief prince of Meshech and Tubal, and prophesy against him,³And say, Thus saith the Lord GOD Behold I am against thee, O Gog, the chief prince of Meshech and Tubal:⁴And I will turn thee back, and put hooks into thy jaws, and I will bring thee forth, and all thine army, horses and horsemen, all of them clothed with all sorts of armour, even a great company with bucklers and shields, all of them handling swords:⁵Persia, Ethiopia, and Libya with them all of them with shield and helmet:⁶Gomer, and all his bands the house of Togarmah of the north quarters, and all his bands: and many people with thee.⁷Be thou prepared, and prepare for thyself, thou, and all thy company that are assembled unto thee, and be thou a guard unto them.⁸After many days thou shalt be visited: in the latter years thou shalt come into the land that is brought back from the sword, and is gathered out of many people, against the mountains of Israel, which have been always waste: but it is brought forth out of the nations, and they shall dwell safely all of them.⁹Thou shalt ascend and come like a storm, thou shalt be like a cloud to cover the land, thou, and all thy bands, and many people with thee.¹⁰ Thus saith the Lord GOD It shall also come to pass, that at the same time shall things come into thy mind, and thou shalt think an evil thought:¹¹ And thou shalt say, I will go up to the land of unwall'd villages I will go to them that are at rest, that dwell safely, all of them dwelling without walls, and having neither bars nor gates,¹² To take a spoil, and to take a prey to turn thine hand upon the desolate places that are now inhabited, and upon the people that are gathered out of the nations, which have gotten cattle and goods, that dwell in the midst of the land.¹³ Sheba, and Dedan, and the merchants of Tarshish, with all the young lions thereof, shall say unto thee, Art thou come to take a spoil? hast thou gathered thy company to take a prey? to carry away silver and gold, to take away cattle and goods, to take a great spoil?¹⁴ Therefore, son of man, prophesy and say unto Gog, Thus saith the Lord GOD In that day when my people of Israel dwelleth safely, shalt thou not know it?¹⁵ And thou shalt come from thy place out of the north parts, thou, and many people with thee, all of them riding upon horses, a great company, and a mighty army:¹⁶ And thou shalt come up against my people of Israel, as a cloud to cover the land it shall be in the latter days, and I will bring thee against my land, that the heathen may know me, when I shall be sanctified in thee, O Gog, before their eyes.¹⁷ Thus saith the Lord GOD Art thou he of whom I have spoken in old time by my servants the prophets of Israel, which prophesied in those days many years that I would bring thee against them?¹⁸ And it shall come to pass at the same time when Gog shall come against the land of Israel, saith the Lord GOD, that my fury shall come up in my face.¹⁹ For in my jealousy and in the fire of my wrath have I spoken, Surely in that day there shall be a great shaking in the land of Israel²⁰ So that the fishes of the sea, and the fowls of the heaven, and the beasts of the field, and all creeping things that creep upon the earth, and all the men that are upon the face of the earth, shall shake at my presence, and the mountains shall be thrown down, and the steep places shall fall, and every wall shall fall to the ground.²¹ And I will call for a sword against him throughout all my mountains, saith the Lord GOD: every man's sword shall be against his brother.²²And I will plead against him with pestilence and with blood and I will rain upon him, and upon his bands, and upon the many people that are with him, an overflowing rain, and great hailstones, fire, and brimstone.²³Thus will I magnify myself, and sanctify myself and I will be known in the eyes of many nations, and they shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAPTER 39 ¹Therefore, thou son of man, prophesy against Gog, and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD Behold, I am against thee, O Gog, the chief prince of Meshech and Tubal:²And I will turn thee back, and leave but the sixth part of thee, and will cause thee to come up from the north parts, and will bring thee upon the mountains of Israel:³And I will smite thy bow out of thy left hand, and will cause thine arrows to fall out of thy right hand.⁴Thou shalt fall upon the mountains of Israel, thou, and all thy bands, and the people that is with thee: I will give thee unto the ravenous birds of every sort, and to the beasts of the field to be devoured.⁵Thou shalt fall upon the open field: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD.⁶And I will send a fire on

Magog, and among them that dwell carelessly in the isles: and they shall know that I am the LORD.⁷So will I make my holy name known in the midst of my people Israel and I will not let them pollute my holy name any more: and the heathen shall know that I am the LORD, the Holy One in Israel.⁸Behold, it is come, and it is done, saith the Lord GOD this is the day whereof I have spoken.⁹And they that dwell in the cities of Israel shall go forth, and shall set on fire and burn the weapons, both the shields and the bucklers, the bows and the arrows, and the handstaves, and the spears, and they shall burn them with fire seven years:¹⁰So that they shall take no wood out of the field, neither cut down any out of the forests for they shall burn the weapons with fire: and they shall spoil those that spoiled them, and rob those that robbed them, saith the Lord GOD.¹¹And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will give unto Gog a place there of graves in Israel, the valley of the passengers on the east of the sea: and it shall stop the noses of the passengers: and there shall they bury Gog and all his multitude: and they shall call it The valley of Hamon-gog.¹²And seven months shall the house of Israel be burying of them, that they may cleanse the land.¹³Yea, all the people of the land shall bury them and it shall be to them a renown the day that I shall be glorified, saith the Lord GOD.¹⁴And they shall sever out men of continual employment, passing through the land to bury with the passengers those that remain upon the face of the earth, to cleanse it: after the end of seven months shall they search.¹⁵And the passengers that pass through the land, when any seeth a man's bone, then shall he set up a sign by it, till the buriers have buried it in the valley of Hamon-gog.¹⁶And also the name of the city shall be Hamonah. Thus shall they cleanse the land.¹⁷And, thou son of man, thus saith the Lord GOD Speak unto every feathered fowl, and to every beast of the field, Assemble yourselves, and come gather yourselves on every side to my sacrifice that I do sacrifice for you, even a great sacrifice upon the mountains of Israel, that ye may eat flesh, and drink blood.¹⁸Ye shall eat the flesh of the mighty, and drink the blood of the princes of the earth, of rams, of lambs, and of goats, of bullocks, all of them fatlings of Bashan.¹⁹And ye shall eat fat till ye be full, and drink blood till ye be drunken, of my sacrifice which

I have sacrificed for you.²⁰Thus ye shall be filled at my table with horses and chariots, with mighty men, and with all men of war, saith the Lord GOD.²¹And I will set my glory among the heathen, and all the heathen shall see my judgment that I have executed, and my hand that I have laid upon them.²²So the house of Israel shall know that I am the LORD their God from that day and forward.²³And the heathen shall know that the house of Israel went into captivity for their iniquity: because they trespassed against me, therefore hid I my face from them, and gave them into the hand of their enemies: so fell they all by the sword.²⁴According to their uncleanness and according to their transgressions have I done unto them, and hid my face from them.²⁵Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD Now will I bring again the captivity of Jacob, and have mercy upon the whole house of Israel, and will be jealous for my holy name.²⁶After that they have borne their shame, and all their trespasses whereby they have trespassed against me, when they dwelt safely in their land, and none made them afraid.²⁷When I have brought them again from the people, and gathered them out of their enemies' lands, and am sanctified in them in the sight of many nations²⁸Then shall they know that I am the LORD their God, which cause them to be led into captivity among the heathen: but I have gathered them unto their own land, and have left none of them any more there.²⁹Neither will I hide my face any more from them: for I have poured out my spirit upon the house of Israel, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAPTER 40 ¹In the five and twentieth year of our captivity, in the beginning of the year, in the tenth day of the month, in the fourteenth year after that the city was smitten, in the selfsame day the hand of the LORD was upon me, and brought me thither.²In the visions of God brought he me into the land of Israel, and set me upon a very high mountain, by which was as the frame of a city on the south.³And he brought me thither, and, behold, there was a man, whose appearance was like the appearance of brass, with a line of flax in his hand, and a measuring reed and he stood in the gate.⁴And the man said unto me, Son of man, behold with thine eyes, and hear with thine ears, and set thine heart upon all that I shall shew thee for to the intent that I might shew them unto thee art thou brought hither:

declare all that thou seest to the house of Israel.⁵And behold a wall on the outside of the house round about, and in the man's hand a measuring reed of six cubits long by the cubit and an hand breadth: so he measured the breadth of the building, one reed and the height, one reed.⁶Then came he unto the gate which looketh toward the east, and went up the stairs thereof, and measured the threshold of the gate, which was one reed broad and the other threshold of the gate, which was one reed broad.⁷And every little chamber was one reed long, and one reed broad and between the little chambers were five cubits and the threshold of the gate by the porch of the gate within was one reed.⁸He measured also the porch of the gate within, one reed.⁹Then measured he the porch of the gate, eight cubits and the posts thereof, two cubits and the porch of the gate was inward.¹⁰And the little chambers of the gate eastward were three on this side, and three on that side they three were of one measure: and the posts had one measure on this side and on that side.¹¹And he measured the breadth of the entry of the gate, ten cubits and the length of the gate, thirteen cubits.¹²The space also before the little chambers was one cubit on this side, and the space was one cubit on that side: and the little chambers were six cubits on this side, and six cubits on that side.¹³He measured then the gate from the roof of one little chamber to the roof of another: the breadth was five and twenty cubits, door against door.¹⁴He made also posts of threescore cubits, even unto the post of the court round about the gate.¹⁵And from the face of the gate of the entrance unto the face of the porch of the inner gate were fifty cubits.¹⁶And there were narrow windows to the little chambers, and to their posts within the gate round about, and likewise to the arches: and windows were round about inward: and upon each post were palm trees.¹⁷Then brought he me into the outward court, and, lo, there were chambers, and a pavement made for the court round about: thirty chambers were upon the pavement.¹⁸And the pavement by the side of the gates over against the length of the gates was the lower pavement.¹⁹Then he measured the breadth from the forefront of the lower gate unto the forefront of the inner court without, an hundred cubits eastward and northward.²⁰And the gate of the outward court that looked toward the north, he measured the length thereof, and the breadth thereof.²¹And the little chambers thereof were three on this side and three on that side and the posts thereof and the arches thereof were after the measure of the first gate: the length thereof was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.²²And their windows, and their arches, and their palm trees, were after the measure of the gate that looketh toward the east and they went up unto it by seven steps and the arches thereof were before them.²³And the gate of the inner court was over against the gate toward the north, and toward the east and he measured from gate to gate an hundred cubits.²⁴After that he brought me toward the south, and behold a gate toward the south: and he measured the posts thereof and the arches thereof according to these measures.²⁵And there were windows in it and in the arches thereof round about, like those windows: the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.²⁶And there were seven steps to go up to it, and the arches thereof were before them: and it had palm trees, one on this side, and another on that side, upon the posts thereof.²⁷And there was a gate in the inner court toward the south: and he measured from gate to gate toward the south an hundred cubits.²⁸ And he brought me to the inner court by the south gate: and he measured the south gate according to these measures²⁹ And the little chambers thereof, and the posts thereof, and the arches thereof, according to these measures: and there were windows in it and in the arches thereof round about: it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad.³⁰ And the arches round about were five and twenty cubits long, and five cubits broad.³¹ And the arches thereof were toward the utter court and palm trees were upon the posts thereof: and the going up to it had eight steps.³² And he brought me into the inner court toward the east: and he measured the gate according to these measures.³³ And the little chambers thereof, and the posts thereof, and the arches thereof, were according to these measures: and there were windows therein and in the arches thereof round about: it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad.³⁴ And the arches thereof were toward the outward court and palm trees were upon the posts thereof, on this side, and on that side: and the going up to it had eight steps.³⁵ And he brought me to the north gate, and measured it according to these measures³⁶ The little chambers thereof, the posts thereof, and the arches thereof, and the windows to it round about: the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.³⁷ And the posts thereof were toward the utter court and palm trees were upon the posts thereof, on this side, and on that side: and the going up to it had eight steps.³⁸ And the chambers and the entries thereof were by the posts of the gates, where they washed the burnt offering.³⁹ And in the porch of the gate were two tables on this side, and two tables on that side, to slay thereon the burnt offering and the sin offering and the trespass offering.⁴⁰ And at the side without, as one goeth up to the entry of the north gate, were two tables and on the other side, which was at the porch of the gate, were two tables.⁴¹ Four tables were on this side, and four tables on that side, by the side of the gate eight tables, whereupon they slew their sacrifices.⁴² And the four tables were of hewn stone for the burnt offering, of a cubit and an half long, and a cubit and an half broad, and one cubit high: whereupon also they laid the instruments wherewith they slew the burnt offering and the sacrifice.⁴³And within were hooks, an hand broad, fastened round about: and upon the tables was the flesh of the offering.⁴⁴And without the inner gate were the chambers of the singers in the inner court, which was at the side of the north gate and their prospect was toward the south: one at the side of the east gate having the prospect toward the north.⁴⁵And he said unto me, This chamber, whose prospect is toward the south, is for the priests, the keepers of the charge of the house.⁴⁶And the chamber whose prospect is toward the north is for the priests, the keepers of the charge of the altar: these are the sons of Zadok among the sons of Levi, which come near to the LORD to minister unto him.⁴⁷So he measured the court, an hundred cubits long, and an hundred cubits broad, foursquare and the altar that was before the house.⁴⁸And he brought me to the porch of the house, and measured each post of the porch, five cubits on this side, and five cubits on that side: and the breadth of the gate was three cubits on this side, and three cubits on that side.⁴⁹The length of the porch was twenty cubits, and the breadth eleven cubits and he brought me by the steps whereby they went up to it: and there were pillars by the posts, one on this side, and another on that side.

CHAPTER 41 ¹Afterward he brought me to the temple, and measured the posts, six cubits broad on the one side, and six cubits broad on the other side, which was the breadth of the tabernacle.²And the breadth of the door was ten cubits and the sides of the door were five cubits on the one side, and five cubits on the other side: and he measured the length thereof, forty cubits: and the breadth, twenty cubits.³Then went he inward, and measured the post of the door, two cubits and the door, six cubits and the breadth of the door, seven cubits.⁴So he measured the length thereof, twenty cubits and the breadth, twenty cubits, before the temple: and he said unto me, This is the most holy place.⁵After he measured the wall of the house, six cubits and the breadth of every side chamber, four cubits, round about the house on every side.⁶And the side chambers were three, one over another, and thirty in order and they entered into the wall which was of the house for the side chambers round about, that they might have hold, but they had not hold in the wall of the house.⁷And there was an enlarging, and a winding about still upward to the side chambers: for the winding about of the house went still upward round about the house: therefore the breadth of the house was still upward, and so increased from the lowest chamber to the highest by the midst.⁸I saw also the height of the house round about: the foundations of the side chambers were a full reed of six great cubits.⁹The thickness of the wall, which was for the side chamber without, was five cubits: and that which was left was the place of the side chambers that were within.¹⁰And between the chambers was the wideness of twenty cubits round about the house on every side.¹¹And the doors of the side chambers were toward the place that was left, one door toward the north, and another door toward the south: and the breadth of the place that was left was five cubits round about.¹²Now the building that was before the separate place at the end toward the west was seventy cubits broad and the wall of the building was five cubits thick round about, and the length thereof ninety cubits.¹³So he measured the house, an hundred cubits long and the separate place, and the building, with the walls thereof, an hundred cubits long¹⁴Also the breadth of the face of the house, and of the separate place toward the east, an hundred cubits.¹⁵And he measured the length of the building over against the separate place which was behind it, and the galleries thereof on the one side and on the other side, an hundred cubits, with the inner temple, and the porches of the court¹⁶The door posts, and the narrow windows, and the galleries round about on their three stories, over against the door, cieled with wood round about, and from the ground up to the windows, and the windows were covered¹⁷To that above the door, even unto the inner house, and without, and by all the wall round about within and without, by measure.¹⁸And it was made with cherubims and palm trees, so that a palm tree was between a cherub and a cherub and every cherub had two faces¹⁹So that the face of a man was toward the palm tree on the one side, and the face of a young lion toward the palm tree on the other side: it was made through all the house round about.²⁰From the ground unto above the door were cherubims and palm trees made, and on the wall of the temple.²¹The posts of the temple were squared, and the face of the sanctuary the appearance of the one as the appearance of the other.²²The altar of wood was three cubits high, and the length thereof two cubits and the corners thereof, and the length thereof, and the walls thereof, were of wood: and he said unto me, This is the table that is before the LORD.²³And the temple and the sanctuary had two doors.²⁴And the doors had two leaves apiece, two turning leaves two leaves for the one door, and two leaves for the other door.²⁵And there were made on them, on the doors of the temple, cherubims and palm trees, like as were made upon the walls and there were thick planks upon the face of the porch without.²⁶And there were narrow windows and palm trees on the one side and on the other side, on the sides of the porch, and upon the side chambers of the house, and thick planks.

CHAPTER 42 ¹Then he brought me forth into the utter court, the way toward the north: and he brought me into the chamber that was over against the separate place, and which was before the building toward the north.²Before the length of an hundred cubits was the north door, and the breadth was fifty cubits.³Over against the twenty cubits which were for the inner court, and over against the pavement which was for the utter court, was gallery against gallery in three stories.⁴And before the chambers was a walk of ten cubits breadth inward, a way of one cubit and their doors toward the north.⁵Now the upper chambers were shorter: for the galleries were higher than these, than the lower, and than the middlemost of the building.⁶For they were in three stories, but had not pillars as the pillars of the courts: therefore the building was straitened more than the lowest and the middlemost from the ground.⁷And the wall that was without over against the chambers, toward the utter court on the forepart of the chambers, the length thereof was fifty cubits.⁸For the length of the chambers that were in the utter court was fifty cubits: and, lo, before the temple were an hundred cubits.⁹And from under these chambers was the entry on the east side, as one goeth into them from the utter court.¹⁰The chambers were in the thickness of the wall of the court toward the east, over against the separate place, and over against the building.¹¹And the way before them was like the appearance of the chambers which were toward the north, as long as they, and as broad as they: and all their goings out were both according to their fashions, and according to their doors.¹²And according to the doors of the chambers that were toward the south was a door in the head of the way, even the way directly before the wall toward the east, as one entereth into them.¹³Then said he unto me, The north chambers and the south chambers, which are before the separate place, they be holy chambers, where the priests that approach unto the LORD shall eat the most holy things: there shall they lay the most holy things, and the meat offering, and the sin offering, and the trespass offering for the place is holy.¹⁴When the priests enter therein, then shall they not go out of the holy place into the utter court, but there they shall lay their garments wherein they minister for they are holy and shall put on other garments, and shall approach to those things which are for the people.¹⁵Now when he had made an end of measuring the inner house, he brought me forth toward the gate whose prospect is toward the east, and measured it round about.¹⁶He measured the east side with the measuring reed, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed round about.¹⁷He measured the north side, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed round about.¹⁸He measured the south side, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed.¹⁹He turned about to the west side, and measured five hundred reeds with the measuring reed.²⁰He measured it by the four sides: it had a wall round about, five hundred reeds long, and five hundred broad, to make a separation between the sanctuary and the profane place.

CHAPTER 43 ¹Afterward he brought me to the gate, even the gate that looketh toward the east:²And, behold, the glory of the God of Israel came from the way of the east: and his voice was like a noise of many waters: and the earth shined with his glory.³And it was according to the appearance of the vision which I saw, even according to the vision that I saw when I came to destroy the city: and the visions were like the vision that I saw by the river Chebar and I fell upon my face.⁴And the glory of the LORD came into the house by the way of the gate whose prospect is toward the east.⁵So the spirit took me up, and brought me into the inner court and, behold, the glory of the LORD filled the house.⁶And I heard him speaking unto me out of the house and the man stood by me.⁷And he said unto me, Son of man, the place of my throne, and the place of the soles of my feet, where I will dwell in the midst of the children of Israel for ever, and my holy name, shall the house of Israel no more defile, neither they, nor their kings, by their whoredom, nor by the carcasses of their kings in their high places.⁸In their setting of their threshold by my thresholds, and their post by my posts, and the wall between me and them, they have even defiled my holy name by their abominations that they have committed: wherefore I have consumed them in mine anger.⁹Now let them put away their whoredom, and the carcasses of their kings, far from me, and I will dwell in the midst of them for ever.¹⁰Thou son of man, shew the house to the house of Israel, that they may be ashamed of their iniquities: and let them measure the pattern.¹¹And if they be ashamed of all that they have done, shew them the form of the house, and the fashion thereof, and the goings out thereof, and the comings in thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the laws thereof: and write it in their sight, that they may keep the whole form thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and do them.¹²This is the law of the house Upon the top of the mountain the whole limit thereof round about shall be most holy. Behold, this is the law of the house.¹³And these are the measures of the altar after the cubits: The cubit is a cubit and an hand breadth even the bottom shall be a cubit, and the breadth a cubit, and the border thereof by the edge thereof round about shall be a span: and this shall be the higher place of the altar.¹⁴And from the bottom upon the ground even to the lower settle shall be two cubits, and the breadth one cubit and from the lesser settle even to the greater settle shall be four cubits, and the breadth one cubit.¹⁵So the altar shall be four cubits and from the altar and upward shall be four horns.¹⁶And the altar shall be twelve cubits long, twelve broad, square in the four squares thereof.¹⁷And the settle shall be fourteen cubits long and fourteen broad in the four squares thereof and the border about it shall be half a cubit and the bottom thereof shall be a cubit about and his stairs shall look toward the east.¹⁸And he said unto me, Son of man, thus saith the Lord GOD These are the ordinances of the altar in the day when they shall make it, to offer burnt offerings thereon, and to sprinkle blood thereon.¹⁹And thou shalt give to the priests the Levites that be of the seed of Zadok, which approach unto me, to minister unto me, saith the Lord GOD, a young bullock for a sin offering.²⁰And thou shalt take of the blood thereof, and put it on the four horns of it, and on the four corners of the settle, and upon the border round about: thus shalt thou cleanse and purge it.²¹Thou shalt take the bullock also of the sin offering, and he shall burn it in the appointed place of the house, without the sanctuary.²²And on the second day thou shalt offer a kid of the goats without blemish for a sin offering and they shall cleanse the altar, as they did cleanse it with the bullock.²³When thou hast made an end of cleansing it, thou shalt offer a young bullock without blemish, and a ram out of the flock without blemish.²⁴And thou shalt offer them before the LORD, and the priests shall cast salt upon them, and they shall offer them up for a burnt offering unto the LORD.²⁵Seven days shalt thou prepare every day a goat for a sin offering: they shall also prepare a young bullock, and a ram out of the flock, without blemish.²⁶Seven days shall they purge the altar and purify it and they shall consecrate themselves.²⁷And when these days are expired, it shall be, that upon the eighth day, and so forward, the priests shall make your burnt offerings upon the altar, and your peace offerings and I will accept you, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAPTER 44 ¹Then he brought me back the way of the gate of the outward sanctuary which looketh toward the east and it was shut.²Then said the LORD unto me This gate shall be shut, it shall not be opened, and no man shall enter in by it because the LORD, the God of Israel, hath entered in by it, therefore it shall be shut.³It is for the prince the prince, he shall sit in it to eat bread before the LORD he shall enter by the way of the porch of that gate, and shall go out by the way of the same.⁴Then brought he me the way of the north gate before the house: and I looked, and, behold, the glory of the LORD filled the house of the LORD: and I fell upon my face.⁵And the LORD said unto me, Son of man, mark well, and behold with thine eyes, and hear with thine ears all that I say unto thee concerning all the ordinances of the house of the LORD, and all the laws thereof and mark well the entering in of the house, with every going forth of the sanctuary.⁶And thou shalt say to the rebellious, even to the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord GOD O ye house of Israel, let it suffice you of all your abominations,⁷In that ye have brought into my sanctuary strangers, uncircumcised in heart, and uncircumcised in flesh, to be in my sanctuary, to pollute it, even my house, when ye offer my bread, the fat and the blood, and they have broken my covenant because of all your abominations.⁸And ye have not kept the charge of mine holy things: but ye have set keepers of my charge in my sanctuary for yourselves.⁹Thus saith the Lord GOD No stranger, uncircumcised in heart, nor uncircumcised in flesh, shall enter into my sanctuary, of any stranger that is among the children of Israel.¹⁰And the Levites that are gone away far from me, when Israel went astray, which went astray away from me after their idols they shall even bear their iniquity.¹¹Yet they shall be ministers in my sanctuary, having charge at the gates of the house, and ministering to the house: they shall slay the burnt offering and the sacrifice for the people, and they shall stand before them to minister unto them.¹²Because they ministered unto them before their idols, and caused the house of Israel to fall into iniquity therefore have I lifted up mine hand against them, saith the Lord GOD, and they shall bear their iniquity.¹³And they shall not come near unto me, to do the office of a priest unto me, nor to come near to any of my holy things, in the most holy place: but they shall bear their shame, and their abominations which they have committed.¹⁴But I will make them keepers of the charge of the house, for all the service thereof, and for all that shall be done therein.¹⁵But the priests the Levites, the sons of Zadok, that kept the charge of my sanctuary when the children of Israel went astray from me, they shall come near to me to minister unto me, and they shall stand before me to offer unto me the fat and the blood, saith the Lord GOD:¹⁶They shall enter into my sanctuary, and they shall come near to my table, to minister unto me, and they shall keep my charge.¹⁷And it shall come to pass, that when they enter in at the gates of the inner court, they shall be clothed with linen garments and no wool shall come upon them, whiles they minister in the gates of the inner court, and within.¹⁸They shall have linen bonnets upon their heads, and shall have linen breeches upon their loins they shall not gird themselves with any thing that causeth sweat.¹⁹And when they go forth into the utter court, even into the utter court to the people, they shall put off their garments wherein they ministered, and lay them in the holy chambers, and they shall put on other garments and they shall not sanctify the people with their garments.²⁰Neither shall they shave their heads, nor suffer their locks to grow long they shall only poll their heads.²¹Neither shall any priest drink wine, when they enter into the inner court.²²Neither shall they take for their wives a widow, nor her that is put away: but they shall take maidens of the seed of the house of Israel, or a widow that had a priest before.²³And they shall teach my people the difference between the holy and profane, and cause them to discern between the unclean and the clean.²⁴And in controversy they shall stand in judgment and they shall judge it according to my judgments: and they shall keep my laws and my statutes in all mine assemblies and they shall hallow my sabbaths.²⁵And they shall come at no dead person to defile themselves: but for father, or for mother, or for son, or for daughter, for brother, or for sister that hath had no husband, they may defile themselves.²⁶And after he is cleansed, they shall reckon unto him seven days.²⁷And in the day that he goeth into the sanctuary, unto the inner court, to minister in the sanctuary, he shall offer his sin offering, saith the Lord GOD.²⁸And it shall be unto them for an inheritance: I am their inheritance: and ye shall give them no possession in Israel: I am their possession.²⁹They shall eat the meat offering, and the sin offering, and the trespass offering and every dedicated thing in Israel shall be theirs.³⁰And the first of all the firstfruits of all things, and every oblation of all, of every sort of your oblations, shall be the priest's: ye shall also give unto the priest the first of your dough, that he may cause the blessing to rest in thine house.³¹The priests shall not eat of any thing that is dead of itself, or torn, whether it be fowl or beast.

CHAPTER 45 ¹Moreover, when ye shall divide by lot the land for inheritance, ye shall offer an oblation unto the LORD, an holy portion of the land: the length shall be the length of five and twenty thousand reeds, and the breadth shall be ten thousand. This shall be holy in all the borders thereof round about.²Of this there shall be for the sanctuary five hundred in length, with five hundred in breadth, square round about and fifty cubits round about for the suburbs thereof.³And of this measure shalt thou measure the length of five and twenty thousand, and the breadth of ten thousand: and in it shall be the sanctuary and the most holy place.⁴The holy portion of the land shall be for the priests the ministers of the sanctuary, which shall come near to minister unto the LORD: and it shall be a place for their houses, and an holy place for the sanctuary.⁵And the five and twenty thousand of length, and the ten thousand of breadth, shall also the Levites, the ministers of the house, have for themselves, for a possession for twenty chambers.⁶And ye shall appoint the possession of the city five thousand broad, and five and twenty thousand long, over against the oblation of the holy portion: it shall be for the whole house of Israel.⁷And a portion shall be for the prince on the one side and on the other side of the oblation of the holy portion, and of the possession of the city, before the oblation of the holy portion, and before the possession of the city, from the west side westward, and from the east side eastward: and the length shall be over against one of the portions, from the west border unto the east border.⁸In the land shall be his possession in Israel: and my princes shall no more oppress my people and the rest of the land shall they give to the house of Israel according to their tribes.⁹Thus saith the Lord GOD Let it suffice you, O princes of Israel: remove violence and spoil, and execute judgment and justice, take away your exactions from my people, saith the Lord GOD.¹⁰Ye shall have just balances, and a just ephah, and a just bath. ¹¹The ephah and the bath shall be of one measure, that the bath may contain the tenth part of an homer, and the ephah the tenth part of an homer: the measure thereof shall be after the homer.¹²And the shekel shall be twenty gerahs: twenty shekels, five and twenty shekels, fifteen shekels, shall be your manneh.¹³This is the oblation that ye shall offer the sixth part of an ephah of an homer of wheat, and ye shall give the sixth part of an ephah of an homer of barley:¹⁴Concerning the ordinance of oil, the bath of oil, ye shall offer the tenth part of a bath out of the cor, which is an homer of ten baths for ten baths are an homer:¹⁵And one lamb out of the flock, out of two hundred, out of the fat pastures of Israel for a meat offering, and for a burnt offering, and for peace offerings, to make reconciliation for them, saith the Lord GOD.¹⁶All the people of the land shall give this oblation for the prince in Israel.¹⁷And it shall be the prince's part to give burnt offerings, and meat offerings, and drink offerings, in the feasts, and in the new moons, and in the sabbaths, in all solemnities of the house of Israel: he shall prepare the sin offering, and the meat offering, and the burnt offering, and the peace offerings, to make reconciliation for the house of Israel.¹⁸Thus saith the Lord GOD In the first month, in the first day of the month, thou shalt take a young bullock without blemish, and cleanse the sanctuary:¹⁹And the priest shall take of the blood of the sin offering, and put it upon the posts of the house, and upon the four corners of the settle of the altar, and upon the posts of the gate of the inner court.²⁰And so thou shalt do the seventh day of the month for every one that erreth, and for him that is simple: so shall ye reconcile the house.²¹In the first month, in the fourteenth day of the month, ye shall have the passover, a feast of seven days unleavened bread shall be eaten.²²And upon that day shall the prince prepare for himself and for all the people of the land a bullock for a sin offering.²³And seven days of the feast he shall prepare a burnt offering to the LORD, seven bullocks and seven rams without blemish daily the seven days and a kid of the goats daily for a sin offering.²⁴And he shall prepare a meat offering of an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram, and an hin of oil for an ephah.²⁵In the seventh month, in the fifteenth day of the month, shall he do the like in the feast of the seven days, according to the sin offering, according to the burnt offering, and according to the meat offering, and according to the oil.

CHAPTER 46 ¹Thus saith the Lord GOD The gate of the inner court that looketh toward the east shall be shut the six working days but on the sabbath it shall be opened, and in the day of the new moon it shall be opened.²And the prince shall enter by the way of the porch of that gate without, and shall stand by the post of the gate, and the priests shall prepare his burnt offering and his peace offerings, and he shall worship at the threshold of the gate: then he shall go forth but the gate shall not be shut until the evening.³Likewise the people of the land shall worship at the door of this gate before the LORD in the sabbaths and in the new moons.⁴And the burnt offering that the prince shall offer unto the LORD in the sabbath day shall be six lambs without blemish, and a ram without blemish.⁵And the meat offering shall be an ephah for a ram, and the meat offering for the lambs as he shall be able to give, and an hin of oil to an ephah.⁶And in the day of the new moon it shall be a young bullock without blemish, and six lambs, and a ram: they shall be without blemish.⁷And he shall prepare a meat offering, an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram, and for the lambs according as his hand shall attain unto, and an hin of oil to an ephah.⁸And when the prince shall enter, he shall go in by the way of the porch of that gate, and he shall go forth by the way thereof.⁹But when the people of the land shall come before the LORD in the solemn feasts, he that entereth in by the way of the north gate to worship shall go out by the way of the south gate and he that entereth by the way of the south gate shall go forth by the way of the north gate: he shall not return by the way of the gate whereby he came in, but shall go forth over against it.¹⁰And the prince in the midst of them, when they go in, shall go in and when they go forth, shall go forth.¹¹And in the feast and in the solemnities the meat offering shall be an ephah to a bullock, and ephah to a ram, and to the lambs as he is able to give, and an hin of oil to an ephah.¹²Now when the prince shall prepare a voluntary burnt offering or peace offerings voluntarily unto the LORD, one shall then open him the gate that looketh toward the east, and he shall prepare his burnt offering and his peace offerings, as he did on the sabbath day: then he shall go forth and after his going forth one shall shut the gate.¹³Thou shalt daily prepare a burnt offering unto the LORD of a lamb of the first year without blemish: thou shalt prepare it every morning.¹⁴And thou shalt prepare a meat offering for it every morning, the sixth part of an ephah, and the third part of an hin of oil, to temper with the fine flour a meat offering continually by a perpetual ordinance unto the LORD.¹⁵ Thus shall they prepare the lamb, and the meat offering, and the oil, every morning for a continual burnt offering.¹⁶ Thus saith the Lord GOD If the prince give a gift unto any of his sons, the inheritance thereof shall be his sons' it shall be their possession by inheritance.¹⁷ But if he give a gift of his inheritance to one of his servants, then it shall be his to the year of liberty after it shall return to the prince: but his inheritance shall be his sons' for them.¹⁸ Moreover the prince shall not take of the people's inheritance by oppression, to thrust them out of their possession but he shall give his sons inheritance out of his own possession: that my people be not scattered every man from his possession.¹⁹ After he brought me through the entry, which was at the side of the gate, into the holy chambers of the priests, which looked toward the north: and, behold, there was a place on the two sides westward.²⁰ Then said he unto me, This is the place where the priests shall boil the trespass offering and the sin offering, where they shall bake the meat offering that they bear them not out into the utter court, to sanctify the people.²¹ Then he brought me forth into the utter court, and caused me to pass by the four corners of the court and, behold, in every corner of the court there was a court.²² In the four corners of the court there were courts joined of forty cubits long and thirty broad: these four corners were of one measure.²³ And there was a row of building round about in them, round about them four, and it was made with boiling places under the rows round about.²⁴ Then said he unto me, These are the places of them that boil, where the ministers of the house shall boil the sacrifice of the people.

CHAPTER 47 ¹Afterward he brought me again unto the door of the house and, behold, waters issued out from under the threshold of the house eastward: for the forefront of the house stood toward the east, and the waters came down from under from the right side of the house, at the south side of the altar.² Then brought he me out of the way of the gate northward, and led me about the way without unto the utter gate by the way that looketh eastward and, behold, there ran out waters on the right side.³ And when the man that had the line in his hand went forth eastward, he measured a thousand cubits, and he brought me through the waters the waters were to the ancles.⁴Again he measured a thousand, and brought me through the waters the waters were to the knees. Again he measured a thousand, and brought me through the waters were to the loins.⁵Afterward he measured a thousand and it was a river that I could not pass over: for the waters were risen, waters to swim in, a river that could not be passed over.⁶And he said unto me, Son of man, hast thou seen this? Then he brought me, and caused me to return to the brink of the river.⁷Now when I had returned, behold, at the bank of the river were very many trees on the one side and on the other.⁸Then said he unto me, These waters issue out toward the east country, and go down into the desert, and go into the sea: which being brought forth into the sea, the waters shall be healed.⁹And it shall come to pass, that every thing that liveth, which moveth, whithersoever the rivers shall come, shall live: and there shall be a very great multitude of fish, because these waters shall come thither: for they shall be healed and every thing shall live whither the river cometh.¹⁰And it shall come to pass, that the fishers shall stand upon it from En-gedi even unto En-eglaim they shall be a place to spread forth nets their fish shall be according to their kinds, as the fish of the great sea, exceeding many.¹¹But the miry places thereof and the marishes thereof shall not be healed they shall be given to salt.¹²And by the river upon the bank thereof, on this side and on that side, shall grow all trees for meat, whose leaf shall not fade, neither shall the fruit thereof be consumed: it shall bring forth new fruit according to his months, because their waters they issued out of the sanctuary: and the fruit thereof shall be for meat, and the leaf thereof for medicine.¹³Thus saith the Lord GOD This shall be the border, whereby ye shall inherit the land according to the twelve tribes of Israel: Joseph shall have two portions.¹⁴And ye shall inherit it, one as well as another: concerning the which I lifted up mine hand to give it unto your fathers: and this land shall fall unto you for inheritance.¹⁵And this shall be the border of the land toward the north side, from the great sea, the way of Hethlon, as men go to Zedad¹⁶Hamath, Berothah, Sibram, which is between the border of Damascus and the border of Hamath Hazar-hatticon, which is by the coast of Hauran.¹⁷And the border from the sea shall be Hazar-enan, the border of Damascus, and the north northward, and the border of Hamath. And this is the north side.¹⁸And the east side ye shall measure from Hauran, and from Damascus, and from Gilead, and from the land of Israel by Jordan, from the border unto the east sea. And this is the east side.¹⁹And the south side southward, from Tamar even to the waters of strife in Kadesh, the river to the great sea. And this is the south side southward.²⁰The west side also shall be the great sea from the border, till a man come over against Hamath. This is the west side.²¹So shall ye divide this land unto you according to the tribes of Israel.²²And it shall come to pass, that ye shall divide it by lot for an inheritance unto you, and to the strangers that sojourn among you, which shall beget children among you: and they shall be unto you as born in the country among the children of Israel they shall have inheritance with you among the tribes of Israel.²³And it shall come to pass, that in what tribe the stranger sojourneth, there shall ye give him his inheritance, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAPTER 48 ¹Now these are the names of the tribes. From the north end to the coast of the way of Hethlon, as one goeth to Hamath, Hazar-enan, the border of Damascus northward, to the coast of Hamath for these are his sides east and west a portion for Dan.²And by the border of Dan, from the east side unto the west side, a portion for Asher.³And by the border of Asher, from the east side even unto the west side, a portion for Naphtali.⁴And by the border of Naphtali, from the east side unto the west side, a portion for Manasseh.⁵And by the border of Manasseh, from the east side unto the west side, a portion for Ephraim.⁶And by the border of Ephraim, from the east side even unto the west side, a portion for Reuben.⁷And by the border of Reuben, from the east side unto the west side, a portion for Judah.⁸And by the border of Judah, from the east side unto the west side, shall be the offering which ye shall offer of five and twenty thousand reeds in breadth, and in length as one of the other parts, from the east side unto the west side: and the sanctuary shall be in the midst of it.⁹The oblation that ye shall offer unto the LORD shall be of five and twenty thousand in length, and of ten thousand in breadth.¹⁰And for them, even for the priests, shall be this holy oblation toward the north five and twenty thousand in length, and toward the west ten thousand in breadth, and toward the east ten thousand in breadth, and toward the south five and twenty thousand in length: and the sanctuary of the LORD shall be in the midst thereof.¹¹It shall be for the priests that are sanctified of the sons of Zadok which have kept my charge, which went not astray when the children of Israel went astray, as the Levites went astray.¹²And this oblation of the land that is offered shall be unto them a thing most holy by the border of the Levites.¹³And over against the border of the priests the Levites shall have five and twenty thousand in length, and ten thousand in breadth: all the length shall be five and twenty thousand, and the breadth ten thousand.¹⁴And they shall not sell of it, neither exchange, nor alienate the firstfruits of the land: for it is holy unto the LORD.¹⁵And the five thousand, that are left in the breadth over against the five and twenty thousand, shall be a profane place for the city, for dwelling, and for suburbs: and the city shall be in the midst thereof.¹⁶And these shall be the measures thereof the north side four thousand and five hundred, and the south side four thousand and five hundred, and on the east side four thousand and five hundred, and the west side four thousand and five hundred.¹⁷And the suburbs of the city shall be toward the north two hundred and fifty, and toward the south two hundred and fifty, and toward the east two hundred and fifty, and toward the west two hundred and fifty.¹⁸And the residue in length over against the oblation of the holy portion shall be ten thousand eastward, and ten thousand westward: and it shall be over against the oblation of the holy portion and the increase thereof shall be for food unto them that serve the city.¹⁹And they that serve the city shall serve it out of all the tribes of Israel.²⁰All the oblation shall be five and twenty thousand by five and twenty thousand: ye shall offer the holy oblation foursquare, with the possession of the city.²¹And the residue shall be for the prince, on the one side and on the other of the holy oblation, and of the possession of the city, over against the five and twenty thousand of the oblation toward the east border, and westward over against the five and twenty thousand toward the west border, over against the portions for the prince: and it shall be the holy oblation and the sanctuary of the house shall be in the midst thereof.²²Moreover from the possession of the Levites, and from the possession of the city, being in the midst of that which is the prince's, between the border of Judah and the border of Benjamin, shall be for the prince.²³As for the rest of the tribes, from the east side unto the west side, Benjamin shall have a portion.²⁴And by the border of Benjamin, from the east side unto the west side, Simeon shall have a portion.²⁵And by the border of Simeon, from the east side unto the west side, Issachar a portion.²⁶And by the border of Issachar, from the east side unto the west side, Zebulun a portion.²⁷And by the border of Zebulun, from the east side unto the west side, Gad a portion.²⁸And by the border of Gad, at the south side southward, the border shall be even from Tamar unto the waters of strife in Kadesh, and to the river toward the great sea.²⁹This is the land which ye shall divide by lot unto the tribes of Israel for inheritance, and these are their portions, saith the Lord GOD.³⁰And these are the goings out of the city on the north side, four thousand and five hundred measures.³¹And the gates of the city shall be after the names of the tribes of Israel: three gates northward one gate of Reuben, one gate of Judah, one gate of Levi.³²And at the east side four thousand and five hundred: and three gates and one gate of Joseph, one gate of Benjamin, one gate of Dan.³³And at the south side four thousand and five hundred measures: and three gates one gate of Simeon, one gate of Issachar, one gate of Zebulun.³⁴At the west side four thousand and five hundred, with their three gates one gate of Gad, one gate of Asher, one gate of Naphtali.³⁵It was round about eighteen thousand measures: and the name of the city from that day shall be, The LORD is there.

CHAPTER 1 ¹In the third year of the reign of Jehoiakim king of Judah came Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon unto Jerusalem, and besieged it.²And the Lord gave Jehoiakim king of Judah into his hand, with part of the vessels of the house of God: which he carried into the land of Shinar to the house of his god and he brought the vessels into the treasure house of his god.³And the king spake unto Ashpenaz the master of his eunuchs, that he should bring certain of the children of Israel, and of the king's seed, and of the princes⁴Children in whom was no blemish, but well favoured, and skilful in all wisdom, and cunning in knowledge, and understanding science, and such as had ability in them to stand in the king's palace, and whom they might teach the learning and the tongue of the Chaldeans.⁵And the king appointed them a daily provision of the king's meat, and of the wine which he drank: so nourishing them three years, that at the end thereof they might stand before the king.⁶Now among these were of the children of Judah, Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah:⁷Unto whom the prince of the eunuchs gave names: for he gave unto Daniel the name of Belteshazzar and to Hananiah, of Shadrach and to Mishael, of Meshach and to Azariah, of Abed-nego.⁸But Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself with the portion of the king's meat, nor with the wine which he drank: therefore he requested of the prince of the eunuchs that he might not defile himself.⁹Now God had brought Daniel into favour and tender love with the prince of the eunuchs.¹⁰And the prince of the eunuchs said unto Daniel, I fear my lord the king, who hath appointed your meat and your drink: for why should he see your faces worse liking than the children which are of your sort? then shall ye make me endanger my head to the king.¹¹Then said Daniel to Melzar, whom the prince of the eunuchs had set over Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah,¹²Prove thy servants, I beseech thee, ten days and let them give us pulse to eat, and water to drink.¹³Then let our countenances be looked upon before thee, and the countenance of the children that eat of the portion of the king's meat: and as thou seest, deal with thy servants.¹⁴So he consented to them in this matter, and proved them ten days.¹⁵And at the end of ten days their countenances appeared fairer and fatter in flesh than all the children which did eat the portion of the king's meat.¹⁶Thus Melzar took away the portion of their meat, and the wine that they should drink and gave them pulse.¹⁷As for these four children, God gave them knowledge and skill in all learning and wisdom: and Daniel had understanding in all visions and dreams.¹⁸Now at the end of the days that the king had said he should bring them in, then the prince of the eunuchs brought them in before Nebuchadnezzar.¹⁹And the king communed with them and among them all was found none like

Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah: therefore stood they before the king.²⁰And in all matters of wisdom and understanding, that the king inquired of them, he found them ten times better than all the magicians and astrologers that were in all his realm.²¹And Daniel continued even unto the first year of king Cyrus.

CHAPTER 2 ¹And in the second year of the reign of Nebuchadnezzar Nebuchadnezzar dreamed dreams, wherewith his spirit was troubled, and his sleep brake from him.²Then the king commanded to call the magicians, and the astrologers, and the sorcerers, and the Chaldeans, for to shew the king his dreams. So they came and stood before the king.³And the king said unto them, I have dreamed a dream, and my spirit was troubled to know the dream.⁴Then spake the Chaldeans to the king in Syriack, O king, live for ever: tell thy servants the dream, and we will shew the interpretation.⁵The king answered and said to the Chaldeans, The thing is gone from me: if ye will not make known unto me the dream, with the interpretation thereof, ye shall be cut in pieces, and your houses shall be made a dunghill.⁶But if ye shew the dream, and the interpretation thereof, ye shall receive of me gifts and rewards and great honour: therefore shew me the dream, and the interpretation thereof.⁷They answered again and said, Let the king tell his servants the dream, and we will shew the interpretation of it.⁸The king answered and said, I know of certainty that ye would gain the time, because ye see the thing is gone from me.⁹But if ye will not make known unto me the dream, there is but one decree for you: for ye have prepared lying and corrupt words to speak before me, till the time be changed: therefore tell me the dream, and I shall know that ye can shew me the interpretation thereof.¹⁰The Chaldeans answered before the king, and said, There is not a man upon the earth that can shew the king's matter: therefore there is no king, lord, nor ruler, that asked such things at any magician, or astrologer, or Chaldean.¹¹And it is a rare thing that the king requireth, and there is none other that can shew it before the king, except the gods, whose dwelling is not with flesh.¹²For this cause the king was angry and very furious, and commanded to destroy all the wise men of Babylon.¹³And the decree went forth that the wise men should be slain and they sought Daniel and his fellows to be slain.¹⁴Then Daniel answered with counsel and wisdom to Arioch the captain of the king's guard, which was gone forth to slay the wise men of Babylon.¹⁵He answered and said to Arioch the king's captain, Why is the decree so hasty from the king? Then Arioch made the thing known to Daniel.¹⁶Then Daniel went in, and desired of the king that he would give him time, and that he would shew the king the interpretation.¹⁷Then Daniel went to his house, and made the thing known to Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah, his companions:¹⁸That they would desire mercies of the God of heaven concerning this secret that Daniel and his fellows should not perish with the rest of the wise men of Babylon.¹⁹Then was the secret revealed unto Daniel in a night vision. Then Daniel blessed the God of heaven.²⁰Daniel answered and said, Blessed be the name of God for ever and ever: for wisdom and might are his:²¹And he changeth the times and the seasons: he removeth kings, and setteth up kings: he giveth wisdom unto the wise, and knowledge to them that know understanding.²²He revealeth the deep and secret things: he knoweth what is in the darkness, and the light dwelleth with him.²³I thank thee, and praise thee, O thou God of my fathers, who hast given me wisdom and might, and hast made known unto me now what we desired of thee: for thou hast now made known unto us the king's matter.²⁴Therefore Daniel went in unto Arioch, whom the king had ordained to destroy the wise men of Babylon: he went and said thus unto him Destroy not the wise men of Babylon: bring me in before the king, and I will shew unto the king the interpretation.²⁵Then Arioch brought in Daniel before the king in haste and said thus unto him, I have found a man of the captives of Judah, that will make known unto the king the interpretation.²⁶The king answered and said to Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, Art thou able to make known unto me the dream which I have seen, and the interpretation thereof?²⁷Daniel answered in the presence of the king, and said, The secret which the king hath demanded cannot the wise men, the astrologers, the magicians, the soothsayers, shew unto the king.²⁸But there is a God in heaven that revealeth secrets, and maketh known to the king Nebuchadnezzar what shall be in the latter days. Thy dream, and the visions of thy head upon thy bed, are these.²⁹As for thee, O king, thy thoughts came into thy mind upon thy bed, what should come to pass hereafter: and he that revealeth secrets maketh known to thee what shall come to pass.³⁰But as for me, this secret is not revealed to me for any wisdom that I have more than any living, but for their sakes that shall make known the interpretation to the king, and that thou mightest know the thoughts of thy heart.³¹Thou, O king, sawest, and behold a great image. This great image, whose brightness was excellent, stood before thee and the form thereof was terrible.³²This image's head was of fine gold, his breast and his arms of silver, his belly and his thighs of brass,³³His legs of iron, his feet part of iron and part of clay.³⁴Thou sawest till that a stone was cut out without hands, which smote the image upon his feet that were of iron and clay, and brake them to pieces.³⁵Then was the iron, the clay, the brass, the silver, and the gold, broken to pieces together, and became like the chaff of the summer threshingfloors and the wind carried them away, that no place was found for them: and the stone that smote the image became a great mountain, and filled the whole earth.³⁶This is the dream and we will tell the interpretation thereof before the king.³⁷Thou, O king, art a king of kings: for the God of heaven hath given thee a kingdom, power, and strength, and glory.³⁸And wheresoever the children of men dwell, the beasts of the field and the fowls of the heaven hath he given into thine hand, and hath made thee ruler over them all. Thou art this head of gold.³⁹And after thee shall arise another kingdom inferior to thee, and another third kingdom of brass, which shall bear rule over all the earth.⁴⁰And the fourth kingdom shall be strong as iron: forasmuch as iron breaketh in pieces and subdueth all things: and as iron that breaketh all these, shall it break in pieces and bruise.⁴¹And whereas thou sawest the feet and toes, part of potters' clay, and part of iron, the kingdom shall be divided but there shall be in it of the strength of the iron, forasmuch as thou sawest the iron mixed with miry clay.⁴²And as the toes of the feet were part of iron, and part of clay, so the kingdom shall be partly strong, and partly broken.⁴³And whereas thou sawest iron mixed with miry clay, they shall mingle themselves with the seed of men: but they shall not cleave one to another, even as iron is not mixed with clay.⁴⁴And in the days of these kings shall the God of heaven set up a kingdom, which shall never be destroyed: and the kingdom shall not be left to other people, but it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand for ever.⁴⁵Forasmuch as thou sawest that the stone was cut out of the mountain without hands, and that it brake in pieces the iron, the brass, the clay, the silver, and the gold the great God hath made known to the king what shall come to pass hereafter: and the dream is certain, and the interpretation thereof sure.⁴⁶Then the king Nebuchadnezzar fell upon his face, and worshipped Daniel, and commanded that they should offer an oblation and sweet odours unto him.⁴⁷The king answered unto Daniel, and said, Of a truth it is, that your God is a God of gods, and a Lord of kings, and a revealer of secrets, seeing thou couldest reveal this secret.⁴⁸Then the king made Daniel a great man, and gave him many great gifts, and made him ruler over the whole province of Babylon, and chief of the governors over all the wise men of Babylon.⁴⁹Then Daniel requested of the king, and he set Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, over the affairs of the province of Babylon: but Daniel sat in the gate of the king.

CHAPTER 3 ¹Nebuchadnezzar the king made an image of gold, whose height was threescore cubits, and the breadth thereof six cubits: he set it up in the plain of Dura, in the province of Babylon.²Then Nebuchadnezzar the king sent to gather together the princes, the governors, and the captains, the judges, the treasurers, the counsellors, the sheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces, to come to the dedication of the image which Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up.³Then the princes, the governors, and captains, the judges, the treasurers, the counsellors, the sheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces, were gathered together unto the dedication of the image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up and they stood before the image that Nebuchadnezzar had set up.⁴Then an herald cried aloud, To you it is commanded, O people, nations, and languages,⁵That at what time ye hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, dulcimer, and all kinds of musick, ye fall down and worship the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king hath set up:⁶And whoso falleth not down and worshippeth shall the same hour be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace.⁷Therefore at that time, when all the people heard the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and all kinds of musick, all the people, the nations, and the languages, fell down and worshipped the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up.⁸Wherefore at that time certain Chaldeans came near, and accused the Jews.⁹They spake and said to the king Nebuchadnezzar, O king, live for ever.¹⁰Thou, O king, hast made a decree, that every man that shall hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and dulcimer, and all kinds of musick, shall fall down and worship the golden image:¹¹And whoso falleth not down and worshippeth, that he should be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace.¹²There are certain Jews whom thou hast set over the affairs of the province of Babylon, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego these men, O king, have not regarded thee: they serve not thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up.¹³Then Nebuchadnezzar in his rage and fury commanded to bring Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego. Then they brought these men before the king.¹⁴Nebuchadnezzar spake and said unto them, Is it true, O Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, do not ye serve my gods, nor worship the golden image which I have set up?¹⁵Now if ye be ready that at what time ye hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and dulcimer, and all kinds of musick, ye fall down and worship the image which I have made well: but if ye worship not, ye shall be cast the same hour into the midst of a burning fiery furnace and who is that God that shall deliver you out of my hands?¹⁶Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, answered and said to the king, O Nebuchadnezzar, we are not careful to answer thee in this matter.¹⁷If it be so, our God whom we serve is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace, and he will deliver us out of thine hand, O king.¹⁸But if not, be it known unto thee, O king, that we will not serve thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up.¹⁹Then was Nebuchadnezzar full of fury, and the form of his visage was changed against Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego: therefore he spake, and commanded that they should heat the furnace one seven times more than it was wont to be heated.²⁰And he commanded the most mighty men that were in his army to bind Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, and to cast them into the burning fiery furnace.²¹Then these men were bound in their coats, their hosen, and their hats, and their other garments, and were cast into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.²²Therefore because the king's commandment was urgent, and the furnace exceeding hot, the flame of the fire slew those men that took up Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego.²³And these three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, fell down bound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.²⁴Then Nebuchadnezzar the king was astonished, and rose up in haste, and spake, and said unto his counsellors, Did not we cast three men bound into the midst of the fire? They answered and said unto the king, True, O king.²⁵He answered and said, Lo, I see four men loose, walking in the midst of the fire, and they have no hurt and the form of the fourth is like the Son of God.²⁶Then Nebuchadnezzar came near to the mouth of the burning fiery furnace, and spake, and said, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, ye servants of the most high God, come forth, and come hither. Then Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, came forth of the midst of the fire.²⁷ And the princes, governors, and captains, and the king's counsellors, being gathered together, saw these men, upon whose bodies the fire had no power, nor was an hair of their head singed, neither were their coats changed, nor the smell of fire had passed on them.²⁸ Then Nebuchadnezzar spake, and said, Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, who hath sent his angel, and delivered his servants that trusted in him, and have changed the king's word, and yielded their bodies, that they might not serve nor worship any god, except their own God.²⁹ Therefore I make a decree, That every people, nation, and language, which speak any thing amiss against the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, shall be cut in pieces, and their houses shall be made a dunghill: because there is no other God that can deliver after this sort.³⁰ Then the king promoted Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, in the province of Babylon.

CHAPTER 4 ¹Nebuchadnezzar the king, unto all people, nations, and languages, that dwell in all the earth Peace be multiplied unto you.² I thought it good to shew the signs and wonders that the high God hath wrought toward me.³ How great are his signs! and how mighty are his wonders! his kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and his dominion is from generation to generation.⁴ I Nebuchadnezzar was at rest in mine house, and flourishing in my palace:⁵ I saw a dream which made me afraid, and the thoughts upon my bed and the visions of my head troubled me.⁶ Therefore made I a decree to bring in all the wise men of Babylon before me, that they might make known unto me the interpretation of the dream.⁷ Then came in the magicians, the astrologers, the Chaldeans, and the soothsayers: and I told the dream before them but they did not make known unto me the interpretation thereof.⁸ But at the last Daniel came in before me, whose name was Belteshazzar, according to the name of my god, and in whom is the spirit of the holy gods: and before him I told the dream, saying,⁹ O

Belteshazzar, master of the magicians, because I know that the spirit of the holy gods is in thee, and no secret troubleth thee, tell me the visions of my dream that I have seen, and the interpretation thereof.¹⁰ Thus were the visions of mine head in my bed I saw, and behold a tree in the midst of the earth, and the height thereof was great.¹¹ The tree grew, and was strong, and the height thereof reached unto heaven, and the sight thereof to the end of all the earth.¹² The leaves thereof were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all: the beasts of the field had shadow under it, and the fowls of the heaven dwelt in the boughs thereof, and all flesh was fed of it.¹³ I saw in the visions of my head upon my bed, and, behold, a watcher and an holy one came down from heaven.¹⁴ He cried aloud, and said thus, Hew down the tree, and cut off his branches, shake off his leaves, and scatter his fruit: let the beasts get away from under it, and the fowls from his branches.¹⁵ Nevertheless leave the stump of his roots in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beasts in the grass of the earth.¹⁶ Let his heart be changed from man's, and let a beast's heart be given unto him and let seven times pass over him.¹⁷ This matter is by the decree of the watchers, and the demand by the word of the holy ones: to the intent that the living may know that the most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will, and setteth up over it the basest of men.¹⁸ This dream I king Nebuchadnezzar have seen. Now thou, O Belteshazzar, declare the interpretation thereof, forasmuch as all the wise men of my kingdom are not able to make known unto me the interpretation: but thou art able for the spirit of the holy gods is in thee.¹⁹ Then Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, was astonished for one hour, and his thoughts troubled him. The king spake, and said, Belteshazzar, let not the dream, or the interpretation thereof, trouble thee. Belteshazzar answered and said, My lord, the dream be to them that hate thee, and the interpretation thereof to thine enemies.²⁰ The tree that thou sawest, which grew, and was strong, whose height reached unto the heaven, and the sight thereof to all the earth.²¹ Whose leaves were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all under which the beasts of the field dwelt, and upon whose branches the fowls of the heaven had their habitation:²²It is thou, O king, that art grown and become strong: for thy greatness is grown, and reacheth unto heaven, and thy dominion to the end of the earth.²³And whereas the king saw a watcher and an holy one coming down from heaven, and saying, Hew the tree down, and destroy it yet leave the stump of the roots thereof in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beasts of the field, till seven times pass over him²⁴This is the interpretation, O king, and this is the decree of the most High, which is come upon my lord the king:²⁵That they shall drive thee from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field, and they shall make thee to eat grass as oxen, and they shall wet thee with the dew of heaven, and seven times shall pass over thee, till thou know that the most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will.²⁶And whereas they commanded to leave the stump of the tree roots thy kingdom shall be sure unto thee, after that thou shalt have known that the heavens do rule.²⁷Wherefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable unto thee, and break off thy sins by righteousness, and thine iniquities by shewing mercy to the poor if it may be a lengthening of thy tranquillity.²⁸All this came upon the king Nebuchadnezzar.²⁹At the end of twelve months he walked in the palace of the kingdom of Babylon.³⁰The king spake, and said, Is not this great Babylon, that I have built for the house of the kingdom by the might of my power, and for the honour of my majesty?³¹While the word was in the king's mouth, there fell a voice from heaven, saying, O king Nebuchadnezzar, to thee it is spoken The kingdom is departed from thee.³²And they shall drive thee from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field: they shall make thee to eat grass as oxen, and seven times shall pass over thee, until thou know that the most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will.³³The same hour was the thing fulfilled upon Nebuchadnezzar: and he was driven from men, and did eat grass as oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven, till his hairs were grown like eagles' feathers, and his nails like birds' claws.³⁴And at the end of the days I Nebuchadnezzar lifted up mine eyes unto heaven, and mine understanding returned unto me, and I blessed the most High, and I praised and honoured him that liveth for ever, whose dominion is an everlasting dominion, and his kingdom is from generation to generation.³⁵And all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing: and he doeth according to his will in the army of heaven, and among the inhabitants of the earth: and none can stay his hand, or say unto him, What doest thou?³⁶At the same time my reason returned unto me and for the glory of my kingdom, mine honour and brightness returned unto me and my counsellors and my lords sought unto me and I was established in my kingdom, and excellent majesty was added unto me.³⁷Now I Nebuchadnezzar praise and extol and honour the King of heaven, all whose works are truth, and his ways judgment: and those that walk in pride he is able to abase.

CHAPTER 5 ¹Belshazzar the king made a great feast to a thousand of his lords, and drank wine before the thousand.²Belshazzar, whiles he tasted the wine, commanded to bring the golden and silver vessels which his father Nebuchadnezzar had taken out of the temple which was in Jerusalem that the king, and his princes, his wives, and his concubines, might drink therein.³Then they brought the golden vessels that were taken out of the temple of the house of God which was at Jerusalem and the king, and his princes, his wives, and his concubines, drank in them.⁴They drank wine, and praised the gods of gold, and of silver, of brass, of iron, of wood, and of stone.⁵In the same hour came forth fingers of a man's hand, and wrote over against the candlestick upon the plaister of the wall of the king's palace: and the king saw the part of the hand that wrote.⁶Then the king's countenance was changed, and his thoughts troubled him, so that the joints of his loins were loosed, and his knees smote one against another.⁷The king cried aloud to bring in the astrologers, the Chaldeans, and the soothsayers. And the king spake, and said to the wise men of Babylon, Whosoever shall read this writing, and shew me the interpretation thereof, shall be clothed with scarlet, and have a chain of gold about his neck, and shall be the third ruler in the kingdom.⁸Then came in all the king's wise men: but they could not read the writing, nor make known to the king the interpretation thereof.⁹Then was king Belshazzar greatly troubled, and his countenance was changed in him, and his lords were astonished.¹⁰Now the queen, by reason of the words of the king and his lords, came into the banquet house: and the queen spake and said, O king, live for ever: let not thy thoughts trouble thee, nor let thy countenance be changed:¹¹There is a man in thy kingdom, in whom is the spirit of the holy gods and in the days of thy father light and understanding and wisdom, like the wisdom of the gods, was found in him whom the king Nebuchadnezzar thy father, the king, I say, thy father, made master of the magicians, astrologers, Chaldeans, and soothsayers¹²Forasmuch as an excellent spirit, and knowledge, and understanding, interpreting of dreams, and shewing of hard sentences, and dissolving of doubts, were found in the same Daniel, whom the king named Belteshazzar: now let Daniel be called, and he will shew the interpretation.¹³Then was Daniel brought in before the king. And the king spake and said unto Daniel, Art thou that Daniel, which art of the children of the captivity of Judah, whom the king my father brought out of Jewry?¹⁴I have even heard of thee, that the spirit of the gods is in thee, and that light and understanding and excellent wisdom is found in thee.¹⁵And now the wise men, the astrologers, have been brought in before me, that they should read this writing, and make known unto me the interpretation thereof: but they could not shew the interpretation of the thing:¹⁶And I have heard of thee, that thou canst make interpretations, and dissolve doubts: now if thou canst read the writing, and make known to me the interpretation thereof, thou shalt be clothed with scarlet, and have a chain of gold about thy neck, and shalt be the third ruler in the kingdom.¹⁷Then Daniel answered and said before the king, Let thy gifts be to thyself, and give thy rewards to another yet I will read the writing unto the king, and make known to him the interpretation.¹⁸O thou king, the most high God gave Nebuchadnezzar thy father a kingdom, and majesty, and glory, and honour:¹⁹And for the majesty that he gave him, all people, nations, and languages, trembled and feared before him: whom he would he slew and whom he would he kept alive and whom he would he set up and whom he would he put down.²⁰But when his heart was lifted up, and his mind hardened in pride, he was deposed from his kingly throne, and they took his glory from him:²¹And he was driven from the sons of men and his heart was made like the beasts, and his dwelling was with the wild asses: they fed him with grass like oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven till he knew that the most high God ruled in the kingdom of men, and that he appointeth over it whomsoever he will.²²And thou his son, O Belshazzar, hast not humbled thine heart, though thou knewest all this²³But hast lifted up thyself against the LORD of heaven and they have brought the vessels of his house before thee, and thou, and thy lords, thy wives, and thy concubines, have drunk wine in them and thou hast praised the gods of silver, and gold, of brass, iron, wood, and stone, which see not, nor hear, nor know: and the God in whose hand thy breath is, and whose are all thy ways, hast thou not glorified:²⁴Then was the part of the hand sent from him and this writing was written.²⁵And this is the writing that was written, MENE, MENE, TEKEL, UPHARSIN.²⁶This is the interpretation of the thing: MENE God hath numbered thy kingdom, and finished it.²⁷TEKEL Thou art weighed in the balances, and art found wanting.²⁸PERES Thy kingdom is divided, and given to the Medes and Persians.²⁹Then commanded Belshazzar, and they clothed Daniel with scarlet, and put a chain of gold about his neck, and made a proclamation concerning him, that he should be the third ruler in the kingdom.³⁰In that night was Belshazzar the king of the Chaldeans slain.³¹And Darius the Median took the kingdom, being about threescore and two years old.

CHAPTER 6 ¹It pleased Darius to set over the kingdom an hundred and twenty princes, which should be over the whole kingdom²And over these three presidents of whom Daniel was first: that the princes might give accounts unto them, and the king should have no damage.³Then this Daniel was preferred above the presidents and princes, because an excellent spirit was in him and the king thought to set him over the whole realm.⁴Then the presidents and princes sought to find occasion against Daniel concerning the kingdom but they could find none occasion nor fault forasmuch as he was faithful, neither was there any error or fault found in him.⁵Then said these men, We shall not find any occasion against this Daniel, except we find it against him concerning the law of his God.⁶Then these presidents and princes assembled together to the king, and said thus unto him, King Darius, live for ever.⁷All the presidents of the kingdom, the governors, and the princes, the counsellors, and the captains, have consulted together to establish a royal statute, and to make a firm decree, that whosoever shall ask a petition of any God or man for thirty days, save of thee, O king, he shall be cast into the den of lions.⁸Now, O king, establish the decree, and sign the writing, that it be not changed, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not.⁹Wherefore king Darius signed the writing and the decree.¹⁰Now when Daniel knew that the writing was signed, he went into his house and his windows being open in his chamber toward Jerusalem, he kneeled upon his knees three times a day, and prayed, and gave thanks before his God, as he did aforetime.¹¹Then these men assembled, and found Daniel praying and making supplication before his

God.¹²Then they came near, and spake before the king concerning the king's decree Hast thou not signed a decree, that every man that shall ask a petition of any God or man within thirty days, save of thee, O king, shall be cast into the den of lions? The king answered and said, The thing is true, according to the law of the Medes and Persians, which altereth not.¹³Then answered they and said before the king, That Daniel, which is of the children of the captivity of Judah, regardeth not thee, O king, nor the decree that thou hast signed, but maketh his petition three times a day.¹⁴Then the king, when he heard these words, was sore displeased with himself, and set his heart on Daniel to deliver him: and he laboured till the going down of the sun to deliver him.¹⁵Then these men assembled unto the king, and said unto the king, Know, O king, that the law of the Medes and Persians is, That no decree nor statute which the king establisheth may be changed.¹⁶Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel, and cast him into the den of lions. Now the king spake and said unto Daniel, Thy God whom thou servest continually, he will deliver thee.¹⁷And a stone was brought and laid upon the mouth of the den and the king sealed it with his own signet, and with the signet of his lords that the purpose might not be changed concerning Daniel.¹⁸Then the king went to his palace, and passed the night fasting: neither were instruments of musick brought before him: and his sleep went from him.¹⁹Then the king arose very early in the morning, and went in haste unto the den of lions.²⁰And when he came to the den, he cried with a lamentable voice unto Daniel: and the king spake and said to Daniel, O Daniel, servant of the living God, is thy God, whom thou servest continually, able to deliver thee from the lions?²¹Then said Daniel unto the king, O king, live for ever.²²My God hath sent his angel, and hath shut the lions' mouths, that they have not hurt me: forasmuch as before him innocency was found in me and also before thee, O king, have I done no hurt.²³Then was the king exceeding glad for him, and commanded that they should take Daniel up out of the den. So Daniel was taken up out of the den, and no manner of hurt was found upon him, because he believed in his God.²⁴And the king commanded, and they brought those men which had accused Daniel, and they cast them into the den of lions, them, their children, and their wives and the lions had the mastery of them, and brake all their bones in pieces or ever they came at the bottom of the den.²⁵Then king Darius wrote unto all people, nations, and languages, that dwell in all the earth Peace be multiplied unto you.²⁶I make a decree, That in every dominion of my kingdom men tremble and fear before the God of Daniel: for he is the living God, and stedfast for ever, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed, and his dominion shall be even unto the end.²⁷He delivereth and rescueth, and he worketh signs and wonders in heaven and in earth, who hath delivered Daniel from the power of the lions.²⁸So this Daniel prospered in the reign of Darius, and in the reign of Cyrus the Persian.

CHAPTER 7 ¹In the first year of Belshazzar king of Babylon Daniel had a dream and visions of his head upon his bed: then he wrote the dream, and told the sum of the matters.²Daniel spake and said, I saw in my vision by night, and, behold, the four winds of the heaven strove upon the great sea.³And four great beasts came up from the sea, diverse one from another.⁴The first was like a lion, and had eagle's wings: I beheld till the wings thereof were plucked, and it was lifted up from the earth, and made stand upon the feet as a man, and a man's heart was given to it.⁵ And behold another beast, a second, like to a bear, and it raised up itself on one side, and it had three ribs in the mouth of it between the teeth of it: and they said thus unto it, Arise, devour much flesh.⁶ After this I beheld, and lo another, like a leopard, which had upon the back of it four wings of a fowl: the beast had also four heads, and dominion was given to it.⁷ After this I saw in the night visions, and behold a fourth beast, dreadful and terrible, and strong exceedingly, and it had great iron teeth: it devoured and brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with the feet of it: and it was diverse from all the beasts that were before it, and it had ten horns.⁸ I considered the horns, and, behold, there came up among them another little horn, before whom there were three of the first horns plucked up by the roots: and, behold, in this horn were eyes like the eyes of man, and a mouth speaking great things.⁹ I beheld till the thrones were cast down, and the Ancient of days did sit, whose garment was white as snow, and the hair of his head like the pure wool: his throne was like the fiery flame, and his wheels as burning fire.¹⁰ A fiery stream issued and came forth from before him: thousand thousands ministered unto him, and ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him: the judgment was set, and the books were opened.¹¹ I beheld then because of the voice of the great words which the horn spake: I beheld even till the beast was slain, and his body destroyed, and given to the burning flame.¹² As concerning the rest of the beasts, they had their dominion taken away: yet their lives were prolonged for a season and time.¹³ I saw in the night visions, and, behold, one like the Son of man came with the clouds of heaven, and came to the Ancient of days, and they brought him near before him.¹⁴ And there was given him dominion, and glory, and a kingdom, that all people, nations, and languages, should serve him: his dominion is an everlasting dominion, which shall not pass away, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed.¹⁵ I Daniel was grieved in my spirit in the midst of my body, and the visions of my head troubled me.¹⁶ I came near unto one of them that stood by, and asked him the truth of all this. So he told me, and made me know the interpretation of the things.¹⁷These great beasts, which are four, are four kings, which shall arise out of the earth.¹⁸But the saints of the most High shall take the kingdom, and possess the kingdom for ever, even for ever and ever.¹⁹Then I would know the truth of the fourth beast, which was diverse from all the others, exceeding dreadful, whose teeth were of iron, and his nails of brass which devoured, brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with his feet²⁰And of the ten horns that were in his head, and of the other which came up, and before whom three fell even of that horn that had eyes, and a mouth that spake very great things, whose look was more stout than his fellows.²¹I beheld, and the same horn made war with the saints, and prevailed against them²²Until the Ancient of days came, and judgment was given to the saints of the most High and the time came that the saints possessed the kingdom.²³Thus he said, The fourth beast shall be the fourth kingdom upon earth, which shall be diverse from all kingdoms, and shall devour the whole earth, and shall tread it down, and break it in pieces.²⁴And the ten horns out of this kingdom are ten kings that shall arise: and another shall rise after them and he shall be diverse from the first, and he shall subdue three kings.²⁵And he shall speak great words against the most High, and shall wear out the saints of the most High, and think to change times and laws: and they shall be given into his hand until a time and times and the dividing of time.²⁶But the judgment shall sit, and they shall take away his dominion, to consume and to destroy it unto the end.²⁷And the kingdom and dominion, and the greatness of the kingdom under the whole heaven, shall be given to the people of the saints of the most High, whose kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and all dominions shall serve and obey him.²⁸Hitherto is the end of the matter. As for me Daniel, my cogitations much troubled me, and my countenance changed in me: but I kept the matter in my heart.

CHAPTER 8 ¹In the third year of the reign of king Belshazzar a vision appeared unto me, even unto me Daniel, after that which appeared unto me at the first.²And I saw in a vision and it came to pass, when I saw, that I was at Shushan in the palace, which is in the province of Elam and I saw in a vision, and I was by the river of Ulai.³Then I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and, behold, there stood before the river a ram which had two horns: and the two horns were high but one was higher than the other, and the higher came up last.⁴I saw the ram pushing westward, and northward, and southward so that no beasts might stand before him, neither was there any that could deliver out of his hand but he did according to his will, and became great.⁵And as I was considering, behold, an he goat came from the west on the face of the whole earth, and touched not the ground: and the goat had a notable horn between his eyes.⁶And he came to the ram that had two horns, which I had there seen standing before the river, and ran unto him in the fury of his power.⁷And I saw him come close unto the ram, and he was moved with choler against him, and smote the ram, and brake his two horns: and there was no power in the ram to stand before him, but he cast him down to the ground, and stamped upon him: and there was none that could deliver the ram out of his hand.⁸Therefore the he goat waxed very great: and when he was strong, the great horn was broken and for it came up four notable ones toward the four winds of heaven.⁹And out of one of them came forth a little horn, which waxed exceeding great, toward the south, and toward the east, and toward the pleasant land.¹⁰And it waxed great, even to the host of heaven and it cast down some of the host and of the stars to the ground, and stamped upon them.¹¹Yea, he magnified himself even to the prince of the host, and by him the daily sacrifice was taken away, and the place of his sanctuary was cast down.¹²And an host was given him against the daily sacrifice by reason of transgression, and it cast down the truth to the ground and it practised, and prospered.¹³Then I heard one saint speaking, and another saint said unto that certain saint which spake, How long shall be the vision concerning the daily sacrifice, and the transgression of desolation, to give both the sanctuary and the host to be trodden under foot?¹⁴And he said unto me, Unto two thousand and three hundred days then shall the sanctuary be cleansed.¹⁵And it came to pass, when I, even I Daniel, had seen the vision, and sought for the meaning, then, behold, there stood before me as the appearance of a man.¹⁶And I heard a man's voice between the banks of Ulai, which called, and said, Gabriel, make this man to understand the vision.¹⁷So he came near where I stood: and when he came, I was afraid, and fell upon my face: but he said unto me, Understand, O son of man: for at the time of the end shall be the vision.¹⁸Now as he was speaking with me, I was in a deep sleep on my face toward the ground: but he touched me, and set me upright.¹⁹And he said, Behold, I will make thee know what shall be in the last end of the indignation: for at the time appointed the end shall be.²⁰The ram which thou sawest having two horns are the kings of Media and Persia.²¹And the rough goat is the king of Grecia: and the great horn that is between his eyes is the first king.²²Now that being broken, whereas four stood up for it, four kingdoms shall stand up out of the nation, but not in his power.²³And in the latter time of their kingdom, when the transgressors are come to the full, a king of fierce countenance, and understanding dark sentences, shall stand up.²⁴And his power shall be mighty, but not by his own power: and he shall destroy wonderfully, and shall prosper, and practise, and shall destroy the mighty and the holy people.²⁵And through his policy also he shall cause craft to prosper in his hand and he shall magnify himself in his heart, and by peace shall destroy many: he shall also stand up against the Prince of princes but he shall be broken without hand.²⁶And the vision of the evening and the morning which was told is true: wherefore shut thou up the vision for it shall be for many days.²⁷And I Daniel fainted, and was sick certain days afterward I rose up, and did the king's business and I was astonished at the vision, but none understood it.

CHAPTER 9 ¹In the first year of Darius the son of Ahasuerus, of the seed of the Medes, which was made king over the realm of the Chaldeans²In the first year of his reign I Daniel understood by books the number of the years, whereof the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah the prophet, that he would accomplish seventy years in the desolations of Jerusalem.³And I set my face unto the Lord God, to seek by prayer and supplication, with fasting, and sackcloth, and ashes:⁴And I prayed unto the LORD my God, and made my confession, and said, O Lord, the great and dreadful God, keeping the covenant and mercy to them that love him, and to them that keep his commandments⁵We have sinned, and have committed iniquity, and have done wickedly, and have rebelled, even by departing from thy precepts and from thy judgments:⁶Neither have we hearkened unto thy servants the prophets, which spake in thy name to our kings, our princes, and our fathers, and to all the people of the land.⁷O Lord, righteousness belongeth unto thee, but unto us confusion of faces, as at this day to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and unto all Israel, that are near, and that are far off, through all the countries whither thou hast driven them, because of their trespass that they have trespassed against thee.⁸O Lord, to us belongeth confusion of face, to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because we have sinned against thee.⁹To the Lord our God belong mercies and forgivenesses, though we have rebelled against him¹⁰Neither have we obeyed the voice of the LORD our God, to walk in his laws, which he set before us by his servants the prophets.¹¹Yea, all Israel have transgressed thy law, even by departing, that they might not obey thy voice therefore the curse is poured upon us, and the oath that is written in the law of Moses the servant of God, because we have sinned against him.¹²And he hath confirmed his words, which he spake against us, and against our judges that judged us, by bringing upon us a great evil: for under the whole heaven hath not been done as hath been done upon Jerusalem.¹³As it is written in the law of Moses, all this evil is come upon us: yet made we not our prayer before the LORD our God, that we might turn from our iniquities, and understand thy truth.¹⁴Therefore hath the LORD watched upon the evil, and brought it upon us: for the LORD our God is righteous in all his works which he doeth: for we obeyed not his voice.¹⁵And now, O Lord our God, that hast brought thy people forth out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and hast gotten thee renown, as at this day we have sinned, we have done wickedly.¹⁶O Lord, according to all thy righteousness, I beseech thee, let thine anger and thy fury be turned away from thy city Jerusalem, thy holy mountain: because for our sins, and for the iniquities of our fathers, Jerusalem and thy people are become a reproach to all that are about us.¹⁷Now therefore, O our God, hear the prayer of thy servant, and his supplications, and cause thy face to shine upon thy sanctuary that is desolate, for the Lord's sake.¹⁸O my God, incline thine ear, and hear open thine eyes, and behold our desolations, and the city which is called by thy name: for we do not present our supplications before thee for our righteousnesses, but for thy great mercies.¹⁹O Lord, hear O Lord, forgive O Lord, hearken and do defer not, for thine own sake, O my God: for thy city and thy people are called by thy name.²⁰And whiles I was speaking, and praying, and confessing my sin and the sin of my people Israel, and presenting my supplication before the LORD my God for the holy mountain of my God²¹Yea, whiles I was speaking in prayer, even the man Gabriel, whom I had seen in the vision at the beginning, being caused to fly swiftly, touched me about the time of the evening oblation.²²And he informed me, and talked with me, and said, O Daniel, I am now come forth to give thee skill and understanding.²³At the beginning of thy supplications the commandment came forth, and I am come to shew thee for thou art greatly beloved: therefore understand the matter, and consider the vision.²⁴Seventy weeks are determined upon thy people and upon thy holy city, to finish the transgression, and to make an end of sins, and to make reconciliation for iniquity, and to bring in everlasting righteousness, and to seal up the vision and prophecy, and to anoint the most Holy.²⁵Know therefore and understand, that from the going forth of the commandment to restore and to build Jerusalem unto the Messiah the Prince shall be seven weeks, and threescore and two weeks: the street shall be built again, and the wall, even in troublous times.²⁶And after threescore and two weeks shall Messiah be cut off, but not for himself: and the people of the prince that shall come shall destroy the city and the sanctuary and the end thereof shall be with a flood, and unto the end of the war desolations are determined.²⁷And he shall confirm the covenant with many for one week: and in the midst of the week he shall cause the sacrifice and the oblation to cease, and for the overspreading of abominations he shall make it desolate, even until the consummation, and that determined shall be poured upon the desolate.

revealed unto Daniel, whose name was called Belteshazzar and the thing was true, but the time appointed was long: and he understood the thing, and had understanding of the vision.²In those days I Daniel was mourning three full weeks.³I ate no pleasant bread, neither came flesh nor wine in my mouth, neither did I anoint myself at all, till three whole weeks were fulfilled.⁴And in the four and twentieth day of the first month, as I was by the side of the great river, which is Hiddekel⁵Then I lifted up mine eyes, and looked, and behold a certain man clothed in linen, whose loins were girded with fine gold of Uphaz:⁶His body also was like the beryl, and his face as the appearance of lightning, and his eyes as lamps of fire, and his arms and his feet like in colour to polished brass, and the voice of his words like the voice of a multitude.⁷And I Daniel alone saw the vision: for the men that were with me saw not the vision but a great quaking fell upon them, so that they fled to hide themselves.⁸Therefore I was left alone, and saw this great vision, and there remained no strength in me: for my comeliness was turned in me into corruption, and I retained no strength.⁹Yet heard I the voice of his words: and when I heard the voice of his words, then was I in a deep sleep on my face, and my face toward the ground.¹⁰And, behold, an hand touched me, which set me upon my knees and upon the palms of my hands.¹¹And he said unto me, O Daniel, a man greatly beloved, understand the words that I speak unto thee, and stand upright: for unto thee am I now sent. And when he had spoken this word unto me, I stood trembling.¹²Then said he unto me, Fear not, Daniel: for from the first day that thou didst set thine heart to understand, and to chasten thyself before thy God, thy words were heard, and I am come for thy words.¹³But the prince of the kingdom of Persia withstood me one and twenty days: but, lo, Michael, one of the chief princes, came to help me and I remained there with the kings of Persia.¹⁴Now I am come to make thee understand what shall befall thy people in the latter days: for yet the vision is for many days.¹⁵And when he had spoken such words unto me, I set my face toward the ground, and I became dumb.¹⁶And, behold, one like the similitude of the sons of men touched my lips: then I opened my mouth, and spake, and said unto him that stood before me, O my lord, by the vision my sorrows are turned upon me, and I have retained no strength.¹⁷For how can the servant of this my lord talk with this my lord? for as for me, straightway there remained no strength in me, neither is there breath left in me.¹⁸Then there came again and touched me one like the appearance of a man, and he strengthened me,¹⁹And said, O man greatly beloved, fear not: peace be unto thee, be strong, yea, be strong. And when he had spoken unto me, I was strengthened, and said, Let my lord speak for thou hast strengthened me.²⁰Then said he, Knowest thou wherefore I come unto thee? and now will I return to fight with the prince of Persia: and when I am gone forth, lo, the prince of Grecia shall come.²¹But I will shew thee that which is noted in the scripture of truth: and there is none that holdeth with me in these things, but Michael your prince.

CHAPTER 11 ¹Also I in the first year of Darius the Mede, even I, stood to confirm and to strengthen him.²And now will I shew thee the truth. Behold, there shall stand up yet three kings in Persia and the fourth shall be far richer than they all: and by his strength through his riches he shall stir up all against the realm of Grecia.³And a mighty king shall stand up, that shall rule with great dominion, and do according to his will.⁴And when he shall stand up, his kingdom shall be broken, and shall be divided toward the four winds of heaven and not to his posterity, nor according to his dominion which he ruled: for his kingdom shall be plucked up, even for others beside those.⁵And the king of the south shall be strong, and one of his princes and he shall be strong above him, and have dominion his dominion shall be a great dominion.⁶And in the end of years they shall join themselves together for the king's daughter of the south shall come to the king of the north to make an agreement: but she shall not retain the power of the arm neither shall he stand, nor his arm: but she shall be given up, and they that brought her, and he that begat her, and he that strengthened her in these times.⁷But out of a branch of her roots shall one stand up in his estate, which shall come with an army, and shall enter into the fortress of the king of the north, and shall deal against them, and shall prevail:⁸And shall also carry captives into Egypt their gods, with their princes, and with their precious vessels of silver and of gold and he shall continue more years than the king of the north.⁹So the king of the south shall come into his kingdom, and shall return into his own land.¹⁰But his sons shall be stirred up, and shall assemble a multitude of great forces: and one shall certainly come, and overflow, and pass through: then shall he return, and be stirred up, even to his fortress.¹¹And the king of the south shall be moved with choler, and shall come forth and fight with him, even with the king of the north: and he shall set forth a great multitude but the multitude shall be given into his hand.¹²And when he hath taken away the multitude, his heart shall be lifted up and he shall cast down many ten thousands: but he shall not be strengthened by it.¹³For the king of the north shall return, and shall set forth a multitude greater than the former, and shall certainly come after certain years with a great army and with much riches.¹⁴And in those times there shall many stand up against the king of the south: also the robbers of thy people shall exalt themselves to establish the vision but they shall fall.¹⁵So the king of the north shall come, and cast up a mount, and take the most fenced cities: and the arms of the south shall not withstand, neither his chosen people, neither shall there be any strength to withstand.¹⁶But he that cometh against him shall do according to his own will, and none shall stand before him: and he shall stand in the glorious land, which by his hand shall be consumed.¹⁷He shall also set his face to enter with the strength of his whole kingdom, and upright ones with him thus shall he do: and he shall give him the daughter of women, corrupting her: but she shall not stand on his side, neither be for him.¹⁸After this shall he turn his face unto the isles, and shall take many: but a prince for his own behalf shall cause the reproach offered by him to cease without his own reproach he shall cause it to turn upon him.¹⁹Then he shall turn his face toward the fort of his own land: but he shall stumble and fall, and not be found.²⁰Then shall stand up in his estate a raiser of taxes in the glory of the kingdom: but within few days he shall be destroyed, neither in anger, nor in battle.²¹And in his estate shall stand up a vile person, to whom they shall not give the honour of the kingdom: but he shall come in peaceably, and obtain the kingdom by flatteries.²²And with the arms of a flood shall they be overflown from before him, and shall be broken yea, also the prince of the covenant.²³And after the league made with him he shall work deceitfully: for he shall come up, and shall become strong with a small people.²⁴He shall enter peaceably even upon the fattest places of the province and he shall do that which his fathers have not done, nor his fathers' fathers he shall scatter among them the prey, and spoil, and riches: yea, and he shall forecast his devices against the strong holds, even for a time.²⁵And he shall stir up his power and his courage against the king of the south with a great army and the king of the south shall be stirred up to battle with a very great and mighty army but he shall not stand: for they shall forecast devices against him.²⁶Yea, they that feed of the portion of his meat shall destroy him, and his army shall overflow: and many shall fall down slain.²⁷And both these kings' hearts shall be to do mischief, and they shall speak lies at one table but it shall not prosper: for yet the end shall be at the time appointed.²⁸Then shall he return into his land with great riches and his heart shall be against the holy covenant and he shall do exploits, and return to his own land.²⁹At the time appointed he shall return, and come toward the south but it shall not be as the former, or as the latter.³⁰For the ships of Chittim shall come against him: therefore he shall be grieved, and return, and have indignation against the holy covenant: so shall he do he shall even return, and have intelligence with them that forsake the holy covenant.³¹And arms shall stand on his part, and they shall pollute the sanctuary of strength, and shall take away the daily sacrifice, and they shall place the abomination that maketh desolate.³²And such as do wickedly against the covenant shall he corrupt by flatteries: but the people that do know their God shall be strong, and do exploits.³³And they that understand among the people shall instruct many: yet they shall fall by the sword, and by flame, by captivity, and by spoil, many days.³⁴Now when they shall fall, they shall be holpen with a little help: but many shall cleave to them with flatteries.³⁵And some of them of understanding shall fall, to try them, and to purge, and to make them white, even to the time of the end: because it is yet for a time appointed.³⁶And the king shall do according to his will and he shall exalt himself, and magnify himself above every god, and shall speak marvellous things against the God of gods, and shall prosper till the indignation be accomplished: for that that is determined shall be done.³⁷Neither shall he regard the God of his fathers, nor the desire of women, nor regard any god: for he shall magnify himself above all.³⁸But in his estate shall he honour the God of forces: and a god whom his fathers knew not shall he honour with gold, and silver, and with precious stones, and pleasant things.³⁹Thus shall he do in the most strong holds with a strange god, whom he shall acknowledge and increase with glory: and he shall cause them to rule over many, and shall divide the land for gain.⁴⁰And at the time of the end shall the king of the south push at him: and the king of the north shall come against him like a whirlwind, with chariots, and with horsemen, and with many ships and he shall enter into the countries, and shall overflow and pass over.⁴¹He shall enter also into the glorious land, and many countries shall be overthrown: but these shall escape out of his hand, even Edom, and Moab, and the chief of the children of Ammon.⁴²He shall stretch forth his hand also upon the countries: and the land of Egypt shall not escape.⁴³But he shall have power over the treasures of gold and of silver, and over all the precious things of Egypt: and the Libyans and the Ethiopians shall be at his steps.⁴⁴But tidings out of the east and out of the north shall trouble him: therefore he shall go forth with great fury to destroy, and utterly to make away many.⁴⁵And he shall plant the tabernacles of his palace between the seas in the glorious holy mountain yet he shall come to his end, and none shall help him.

CHAPTER 12 ¹And at that time shall Michael stand up, the great prince which standeth for the children of thy people: and there shall be a time of trouble, such as never was since there was a nation even to that same time: and at that time thy people shall be delivered, every one that shall be found written in the book.²And many of them that sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake, some to everlasting life, and some to shame and everlasting contempt.³And they that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament and they that turn many to righteousness as the stars for ever and ever.⁴But thou, O Daniel, shut up the words, and seal the book, even to the time of the end: many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased.⁵Then I Daniel looked, and, behold, there stood other two, the one on this side of the bank of the river, and the other on that side of the bank of the river.⁶And one said to the man clothed in linen, which was upon the waters of the river, How long shall it be to the end of these wonders?⁷And I heard the man clothed in linen, which was upon the waters of the river, when he held up his right hand and his left hand unto heaven, and sware by him that liveth for ever that it shall be for a time, times, and an half and when he shall have accomplished to scatter the power of the holy people, all these things shall be finished.⁸And I heard, but I understood not: then said I, O my Lord, what shall be the end of these things?⁹And he said, Go thy way, Daniel: for the words are closed up and sealed till the time of the end.¹⁰Many shall be purified, and made white, and tried but the wicked shall do wickedly: and none of the wicked shall understand but the wise shall understand.¹¹And from the time that the daily sacrifice shall be taken away, and the abomination that maketh desolate set up, there shall be a thousand two hundred and ninety days.¹²Blessed is he that waiteth, and cometh to the thousand three hundred and five and thirty days.¹³But go thou thy way till the end be: for thou shalt rest, and stand in thy lot at the end of the days.

SUSANNAH

CHAPTER 1 ¹There dwelt a man in Babylon, called Joacim:²And he took a wife, whose name was Susanna, the daughter of Chelcias, a very fair woman, and one that feared the Lord.³Her parents also were righteous, and taught their daughter according to the law of Moses.⁴Now Joacim was a great rich man, and had a fair garden joining unto his house: and to him resorted the Jews because he was more honourable than all others.⁵The same year were appointed two of the ancients of the people to be judges, such as the Lord spake of, that wickedness came from Babylon from ancient judges, who seemed to govern the people.⁶These kept much at Joacim's house: and all that had any suits in law came unto them.⁷Now when the people departed away at noon, Susanna went into her husband's garden to walk.⁸And the two elders saw her going in every day, and walking so that their lust was inflamed toward her.⁹And they perverted their own mind, and turned away their eyes, that they might not look unto heaven, nor remember just judgments.¹⁰And albeit they both were wounded with her love, yet durst not one shew another his grief.¹¹For they were ashamed to declare their lust, that they desired to have to do with her.¹²Yet they watched diligently from day to day to see her.¹³And the one said to the other, Let us now go home: for it is dinner time.¹⁴So when they were gone out, they parted the one from the other, and turning back again they came to the same place and after that they had asked one another the cause, they acknowledged their lust: then appointed they a time both together, when they might find her alone.¹⁵And it fell out, as they watched a fit time, she went in as before with two maids only, and she was desirous to wash herself in the garden: for it was hot.¹⁶And there was no body there save the two elders, that had hid themselves, and watched her.¹⁷Then she said to her maids, Bring me oil and washing balls, and shut the garden doors, that I may wash me.¹⁸And they did as she bade them, and shut the garden doors, and went out themselves at privy doors to fetch the things that she had commanded them: but they saw not the elders, because they were hid.¹⁹Now when the maids were gone forth, the two elders rose up, and ran unto her, saying,²⁰Behold, the garden doors are shut, that no man can see us, and we are in love with thee therefore consent unto us, and lie with us.²¹If thou wilt not, we will bear witness against thee, that a young man was with thee: and therefore thou didst send away thy maids from thee.²²Then Susanna sighed, and said, I am straitened on every side: for if I do this thing, it is death unto me: and if I do it not I cannot escape your hands.²³It is better for me to fall into your hands, and not do it, than to sin in the sight of the Lord.²⁴With that Susanna cried with a loud voice: and the two elders cried out against her.²⁵Then ran the one, and opened the garden door.²⁶So when the servants of the house heard the cry in the garden, they rushed in at the privy door, to see what was done unto her.²⁷But when the elders had declared their matter, the servants were greatly ashamed: for there was never such a report made of

Susanna.²⁸And it came to pass the next day, when the people were assembled to her husband Joacim, the two elders came also full of mischievous imagination against Susanna to put her to death.²⁹And said before the people, Send for Susanna, the daughter of Chelcias, Joacim's wife. And so they sent.³⁰So she came with her father and mother, her children, and all her kindred.³¹Now Susanna was a very delicate woman, and beauteous to behold.³²And these wicked men commanded to uncover her face, (for she was covered) that they might be filled with her beauty.³³Therefore her friends and all that saw her wept.³⁴Then the two elders stood up in the midst of the people, and laid their hands upon her head.³⁵And she weeping looked up toward heaven: for her heart trusted in the Lord.³⁶And the elders said, As we walked in the garden alone, this woman came in with two maids, and shut the garden doors, and sent the maids away.³⁷Then a young man, who there was hid, came unto her, and lay with her.³⁸Then we that stood in a corner of the garden, seeing this wickedness, ran unto them.³⁹And when we saw them together, the man we could not hold: for he was stronger than we, and opened the door, and leaped out.⁴⁰But having taken this woman, we asked who the young man was, but she would not tell us: these things do we testify.⁴¹Then the assembly believed them as those that were the elders and judges of the people: so they condemned her to death.⁴²Then Susanna cried out with a loud voice, and said, O everlasting God, that knowest the secrets, and knowest all things before they be:⁴³Thou knowest that they have borne false witness against me, and, behold, I must die whereas I never did such things as these men have maliciously invented against me.⁴⁴And the Lord heard her voice.⁴⁵Therefore when she was led to be put to death, the Lord raised up the holy spirit of a young youth whose name was Daniel:⁴⁶Who cried with a loud voice, I am clear from the blood of this woman.⁴⁷Then all the people turned them toward him, and said, What mean these words that thou hast spoken?⁴⁸So he standing in the midst of them said, Are ye such fools, ye sons of Israel, that without examination or knowledge of the truth ye have condemned a daughter of Israel?⁴⁹Return again to the place of judgment: for they have borne false witness against her.⁵⁰Wherefore all the people turned again in haste, and the elders said unto him, Come, sit down among us, and shew it us, seeing God hath given thee the honour of an elder.⁵¹Then said Daniel unto them, Put these two aside one far from another, and I will examine them.⁵²So when they were put asunder one from another, he called one of them, and said unto him, O thou that art waxen old in wickedness, now thy sins which thou hast committed aforetime are come to light.⁵³For thou hast pronounced false judgment and hast condemned the innocent and hast let the guilty go free albeit the Lord saith, The innocent and righteous shalt thou not slay.⁵⁴Now then, if thou hast seen her, tell me, Under what tree sawest thou them companying together? Who answered, Under a mastick tree.⁵⁵And Daniel said, Very well thou hast lied against thine own head for even now the angel of God hath received the sentence of God to cut thee in two.⁵⁶So he put him aside, and commanded to bring the other, and said unto him, O thou seed of Chanaan, and not of Juda, beauty hath deceived thee, and lust hath perverted thine heart.⁵⁷Thus have ye dealt with the daughters of Israel, and they for fear companyed with you: but the daughter of Juda would not abide your wickedness.⁵⁸Now therefore tell me, Under what tree didst thou take them companying together? Who answered, Under an holm tree.⁵⁹Then said Daniel unto him, Well thou hast also lied against thine own head: for the angel of God waiteth with the sword to cut thee in two, that he may destroy you.⁶⁰With that all the assembly cried out with a loud voice, and praised God, who saveth them that trust in him.⁶¹And they arose against the two elders, for Daniel had convicted them of false witness by their own mouth.⁶²And according to the law of Moses they did unto them in such sort as they maliciously intended to do to their neighbour: and they put them to death. Thus the innocent blood was saved the same day.⁶³Therefore Chelcias and his wife praised God for their daughter Susanna, with Joacim her husband, and all the kindred, because there was no dishonesty found in her.⁶⁴From that day forth was Daniel had in great reputation in the sight of the people.

THE PRAYER OF THREE CHILDREN

¹Then the three, as out of one mouth, praised, glorified, and blessed, God in the furnace, saying,²Blessed art thou, O Lord God of our fathers: and to be praised and exalted above all for ever.³And blessed is thy glorious and holy name: and to be praised and exalted above all for ever.⁴Blessed art thou in the temple of thine holy glory: and to be praised and glorified above all for ever.⁵Blessed art thou that beholdest the depths, and sittest upon the cherubims: and to be praised and exalted above all for ever.⁶Blessed art thou on the glorious throne of thy kingdom: and to be praised and glorified above all for ever.⁷Blessed art thou in the firmament of heaven: and above all to be praised and glorified for ever.⁸O all ye works of the Lord, bless ye the Lord : praise and exalt him above all for ever,⁹O ye heavens, bless ye the Lord : praise and exalt him above all for ever.¹⁰O ye angels of the Lord, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.¹¹O all ye waters that be above the heaven, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.¹²O all ye powers of the Lord, bless ye the Lord:

praise and exalt him above all for ever.¹³O ye sun and moon, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.¹⁴O ye stars of heaven, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.¹⁵O every shower and dew, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.¹⁶O all ye winds, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever,¹⁷O ye fire and heat, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.¹⁸O ye winter and summer, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.¹⁹O ye dews and storms of snow, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.²⁰O ye nights and days, bless ye the Lord: bless and exalt him above all for ever.²¹O ye light and darkness, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.²²O ye ice and cold, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.²³O ye frost and snow, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.²⁴O ye lightnings and clouds, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.²⁵O let the earth bless the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.²⁶O ye mountains and little hills, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.²⁷O all ye things that grow in the earth, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.²⁸O ye mountains, bless ye the Lord: Praise and exalt him above all for ever.²⁹O ye seas and rivers, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.³⁰O ye whales, and all that move in the waters, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.³¹O all ye fowls of the air, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.³²O all ye beasts and cattle, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.³³O ye children of men, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.³⁴O Israel, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.³⁵O ye priests of the Lord, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.³⁶O ye servants of the Lord, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.³⁷O ye spirits and souls of the righteous, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.³⁸O ye holy and humble men of heart, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever.³⁹O Ananias, Azarias, and Misael, bless ye the Lord: praise and exalt him above all for ever: for he hath delivered us from hell, and saved us from the hand of death, and delivered us out of the midst of the furnace and burning flame: even out of the midst of the fire hath he delivered us.⁴⁰O give thanks unto the Lord, because he is gracious: for his mercy endureth for ever.⁴¹O all ye that worship the Lord, bless the God of gods, praise him, and give him thanks: for his mercy endureth for ever.

BEL AND THE DRAGON

CHAPTER 1 ¹And king Astyages was gathered to his fathers, and Cyrus of Persia received his kingdom.²And Daniel conversed with the king, and was honoured above all his friends.³Now the Babylons had an idol, called Bel, and there were spent upon him every day twelve great measures of fine flour, and forty sheep, and six vessels of wine.⁴And the king worshipped it and went daily to adore it: but Daniel worshipped his own God. And the king said unto him, Why dost not thou worship Bel?⁵Who answered and said, Because I may not worship idols made with hands, but the living God, who hath created the heaven and the earth, and hath sovereignty over all flesh.⁶Then said the king unto him, Thinkest thou not that Bel is a living God? seest thou not how much he eateth and drinketh every day?⁷Then Daniel smiled, and said, O king, be not deceived: for this is but clay within, and brass without, and did never eat or drink any thing.⁸So the king was wroth, and called for his priests, and said unto them, If ye tell me not who this is that devoureth these expences, ye shall die.⁹But if ye can certify me that Bel devoureth them, then Daniel shall die: for he hath spoken blasphemy against Bel. And Daniel said unto the king, Let it be according to thy word.¹⁰Now the priests of Bel were threescore and ten, beside their wives and children. And the king went with Daniel into the temple of Bel.¹¹So Bel's priests said, Lo, we go out: but thou, O king, set on the meat, and make ready the wine, and shut the door fast and seal it with thine own signet¹²And to morrow when thou comest in, if thou findest not that Bel hath eaten up all, we will suffer death: or else Daniel, that speaketh falsely against us.¹³And they little regarded it: for under the table they had made a privy entrance, whereby they entered in continually, and consumed those things.¹⁴So when they were gone forth, the king set meats before Bel. Now Daniel had commanded his servants to bring ashes, and those they strewed throughout all the temple in the presence of the king alone: then went they out, and shut the door, and sealed it with the king's signet, and so departed.¹⁵Now in the night came the priests with their wives and children, as they were wont to do, and did eat and drinck up all.¹⁶In the morning betime the king arose, and Daniel with him.¹⁷And the king said, Daniel, are the seals whole? And he said, Yea, O king, they be whole.¹⁸And as soon as he had opened the dour, the king looked upon the table, and cried with a loud voice, Great art thou, O Bel, and with thee is no deceit at all.¹⁹Then laughed Daniel, and held the king that he should not go in, and said, Behold now the pavement, and mark well whose footsteps are these.²⁰And the king said, I see the footsteps of men, women, and children. And then the king was angry,²¹And took the priests with their wives and children, who shewed him the privy doors, where they came in, and consumed such things as were upon the table.²²Therefore the king slew them, and delivered Bel into Daniel's power, who destroyed him and his temple.²³And in that same place there was a great dragon, which they of Babylon worshipped.²⁴And the king said unto Daniel, Wilt thou also say that this is of brass? lo, he liveth, he eateth and drinketh thou canst not say that he is no living god: therefore worship him.²⁵Then said Daniel unto the king, I will worship the Lord my God: for he is the living God.²⁶But give me leave, O king, and I shall slay this dragon without sword or staff. The king said, I give thee leave.²⁷Then Daniel took pitch, and fat, and hair, and did seethe them together, and made lumps thereof: this he put in the dragon's mouth, and so the dragon burst in sunder : and Daniel said, Lo, these are the gods ye worship.²⁸When they of Babylon heard that, they took great indignation, and conspired against the king, saying, The king is become a Jew, and he hath destroyed Bel, he hath slain the dragon, and put the priests to death.²⁹So they came to the king, and said, Deliver us Daniel, or else we will destroy thee and thine house.³⁰Now when the king saw that they pressed him sore, being constrained, he delivered Daniel unto them:³¹Who cast him into the lions' den: where he was six days.³²And in the den there were seven lions, and they had given them every day two carcases, and two sheep: which then were not given to them, to the intent they might devour Daniel.³³Now there was in Jewry a prophet, called Habbacuc, who had made pottage, and had broken bread in a bowl, and was going into the field, for to bring it to the reapers.³⁴But the angel of the Lord said unto Habbacuc, Go, carry the dinner that thou hast into Babylon unto Daniel, who is in the lions' den.³⁵And Habbacuc said, Lord, I never saw Babylon neither do I know where the den is.³⁶Then the angel of the Lord took him by the crown, and bare him by the hair of his head, and through the vehemency of his spirit set him in Babylon over the den.³⁷And Habbacuc cried, saying, O Daniel, Daniel, take the dinner which God hath sent thee.³⁸And Daniel said, Thou hast remembered me, O God: neither hast thou forsaken them that seek thee and love thee.³⁹So Daniel arose, and did eat: and the angel of the Lord set Habbacuc in his own place again immediately.⁴⁰Upon the seventh day the king went to bewail Daniel: and when he came to the den, he looked in, and behold, Daniel was sitting.⁴¹Then cried the king with a loud voice, saying, Great art Lord God of Daniel, and there is none other beside thee.⁴²And he drew him out, and cast those that were the cause of his destruction into the den: and they were devoured in a moment before his face.

PRAYER OF AZARIAH

CHAPTER 1 ¹And they walked in the midst of the fire, praising God, and blessing the Lord.²Then Azarias stood up, and prayed on this manner and opening his mouth in the midst of the fire said,³Blessed art thou, O Lord God of our fathers: thy name is worthy to be praised and glorified for evermore:⁴For thou art righteous in all the things that thou hast done to us: yea, true are all thy works, thy ways are right, and all thy judgments truth.⁵In all the things that thou hast brought upon us, and upon the holy city of our fathers, even Jerusalem, thou hast executed true judgment: for according to truth and judgment didst thou bring all these things upon us because of our sins.⁶For we have sinned and committed iniquity, departing from thee.⁷In all things have we trespassed, and not obeyed thy commandments, nor kept them, neither done as thou hast commanded us, that it might go well with us.⁸Wherefore all that thou hast brought upon us, and every thing that thou hast done to us, thou hast done in true judgment.⁹And thou didst deliver us into the hands of lawless enemies, most hateful forsakers of God, and to an unjust king, and the most wicked in all the world.¹⁰And now we cannot open our mouths, we are become a shame and reproach to thy servants and to them that worship thee.¹¹Yet deliver us not up wholly, for thy name's sake, neither disannul thou thy covenant:¹²And cause not thy mercy to depart from us, for thy beloved Abraham's sake, for thy servant Issac's sake, and for thy holy Israel's sake¹³To whom thou hast spoken and promised, that thou wouldest multiply their seed as the stars of heaven, and as the sand that lieth upon the seashore.¹⁴For we, O Lord, are become less than any nation, and be kept under this day in all the world because of our sins.¹⁵Neither is there at this time prince, or prophet, or leader, or burnt offering, or sacrifice, or oblation, or incense, or place to sacrifice before thee, and to find mercy.¹⁶Nevertheless in a contrite heart and an humble spirit let us be accepted.¹⁷Like as in the burnt offerings of rams and bullocks, and like as in ten thousands of fat lambs: so let our sacrifice be in thy sight this day, and grant that we may wholly go after thee: for they shall not be confounded that put their trust in thee.¹⁸And now we follow thee with all our heart, we fear thee, and seek thy face.¹⁹Put us not to shame: but deal with us after thy lovingkindness, and according to the multitude of thy mercies.²⁰Deliver us also according to thy marvellous works, and give glory to thy name, O Lord: and let all them that do thy servants hurt be ashamed²¹And let them be confounded in all their power and might, and let their strength be broken²²And let them know that thou art God, the only God, and glorious over the whole world.²³And the king's servants, that put them in, ceased not to make the oven hot with rosin, pitch, tow, and small wood²⁴So that the flame streamed forth above the furnace forty and nine cubits.²⁵And it passed through, and burned those Chaldeans it found about the furnace.²⁶But the angel of the Lord came down into the oven together with Azarias and his fellows, and smote the flame of the fire out of the oven²⁷And made the midst of the furnace as it had been a moist whistling wind, so that the fire touched them not at all, neither hurt nor troubled them.

THE SONG OF THREE JEWS

²⁸Now the king's servants who threw them in kept stoking the furnace with naphtha, pitch, tow, and brushwood. ²⁴And the flames poured out above the furnace forty-nine cubits, ²⁵and spread out and burned those Chaldeans who were caught near the furnace. ²⁶But the angel of the Lord came down into the furnace to be with Azariah and his companions, and drove the fiery flame out of the furnace, ²⁷and made the inside of the furnace as though a moist wind were whistling through it. The fire did not touch them at all and caused them no pain or distress.²⁹ Then the three with one voice praised and glorified and blessed God in the furnace.³⁰ Blessed are you, O Lord, God of our ancestors, and to be praised and highly exalted for ever.³¹ And blessed is your glorious, holy name, and to be highly praised and highly exalted for ever.³² Blessed are you in the temple of your holy glory, and to be extolled and highly glorified for ever.³³ Blessed are you who look into the depths from your throne on the cherubim, and to be praised and highly exalted for ever.³⁴ Blessed are you on the throne of your kingdom, and to be extolled and highly exalted for ever.³⁵ Blessed are you in the firmament of heaven, and to be sung and glorified for ever.³⁶ Bless the Lord, all you works of the Lord, sing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.³⁷ Bless the Lord, you heavens, sing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.³⁸ Bless the Lord, you angels of the Lord, sing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.³⁹ Bless the Lord, all you waters above the heavens, sing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.⁴⁰ Bless the Lord, all you powers of the Lord, sing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.⁴¹ Bless the Lord, sun and moon, sing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.⁴² Bless the Lord, stars of heaven, sing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.⁴³ Bless the Lord, all rain and dew, sing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.⁴⁴ Bless the Lord, all you winds, sing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.⁴⁵ Bless the Lord, fire and heat, sing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.⁴⁶ Bless the Lord, winter cold and summer heat, sing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.⁴⁷ Bless the Lord, dews and falling snow, sing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.⁴⁸ Bless the Lord, nights and days, sing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.⁴⁹ Bless the Lord, light and darkness, sing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.⁵⁰ Bless the Lord, ice and cold, sing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.⁵¹ Bless the Lord, frosts and snow, sing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.⁵² Bless the Lord, lightnings and clouds, sing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.⁵³ Let the earth bless the Lord, let it sing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.⁵⁴ Bless the Lord, mountains and hills, sing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.⁵⁵ Bless the Lord, all that grows in the groundsing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.⁵⁶ Bless the Lord, seas and riverssing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.⁵⁷ Bless the Lord, you springssing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.⁵⁸ Bless the Lord, you whales and all that swim in the waterssing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.⁵⁹ Bless the Lord, all birds of the airsing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.⁶⁰ Bless the Lord, all wild animals and cattlesing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.⁶¹ Bless the Lord, all people on earthsing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.⁶² Bless the Lord, O Israelsing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.⁶³ Bless the Lord, you priests of the Lordsing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.⁶⁴ Bless the Lord, you servants of the Lordsing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.⁶⁵ Bless the Lord, spirits and souls of the righteoussing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.⁶⁶ Bless the Lord, you who are holy and humble in heartsing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever.⁶⁷ Bless the Lord, Hananiah, Azariah, and Mishaelsing praise to him and highly exalt him for ever. For he has rescued us from Hades and saved us from the power of death, and delivered us from the midst of the burning fiery furnace from the midst of the fire he has delivered us.⁶⁸ Give thanks to the Lord, for he is good, for his mercy endures for ever.⁶⁹ All who worship the Lord, bless the God of gods, sing praise to him and give thanks to him, for his mercy endures for ever.'

HOSEA

CHAPTER 1 ¹The word of the LORD that came unto Hosea, the son of Beerī, in the days of Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash, king of Israel.²The beginning of the word of the LORD by Hosea. And the LORD said to Hosea, Go, take unto thee a wife of whoredoms and children of whoredoms: for the land hath committed great whoredom, departing from the LORD.³So he went and took Gomer the daughter of Diblaim which conceived, and bare him a son.⁴And the LORD said unto him, Call his name Jezreel for yet a little while, and I will avenge the blood of Jezreel upon the house of Jehu, and will cause to cease the kingdom of the house of Israel.⁵And it shall come to pass at that day, that I will break the bow of Israel in the valley of Jezreel.⁶And she conceived again, and bare a daughter. And God said unto him, Call her name Lo-ruhamah: for I will no more have mercy upon the house of Israel but I will utterly take them away.⁷But I will have mercy upon the house of Judah, and will save them by the LORD their God, and will not save them by bow, nor by sword, nor by battle, by horses, nor by horsemen.⁸Now when she had weaned Lo-ruhamah, she conceived, and bare a son.⁹Then said God, Call his name Lo-ammi: for ye are not my people, and I will not be your God.¹⁰Yet the number of the children of Israel shall be as the sand of the sea, which cannot be measured nor numbered and it shall come to pass, that in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people, there it shall be said unto them, Ye are the sons of the living God.¹¹Then shall the children of Judah and the children of Israel be gathered together, and appoint themselves one head, and they shall come up out of the land: for great shall be the day of Jezreel.

CHAPTER 2 ¹Say ye unto your brethren, Ammi and to your sisters, Ru-hamah.²Plead with your mother, plead: for she is not my wife, neither am I her husband: let her therefore put away her whoredoms out of her sight, and her adulteries from between her breasts³Lest I strip her naked, and set her as in the day that she was born, and make her as a wilderness, and set her like a dry land, and slay her with thirst.⁴And I will not have mercy upon her children for they be the children of whoredoms.⁵For their mother hath played the harlot: she that conceived them hath done shamefully: for she said, I will go after my lovers, that give me my bread and my water, my wool and my flax, mine oil and my drink.⁶Therefore, behold, I will hedge up thy way with thorns, and make a wall, that she shall not find her paths.⁷And she shall follow after her lovers, but she shall not overtake them and she shall seek them, but shall not find them: then shall she say, I will go and return to my first husband for then was it better with me than now.⁸For she did not know that I gave her corn, and wine, and oil, and multiplied her silver and gold, which they prepared for Baal.⁹Therefore will I return, and take away my corn in the time thereof, and my wine in the season thereof, and will recover my wool and my flax given to cover her nakedness.¹⁰And now will I discover her lewdness in the sight of her lovers, and none shall deliver her out of mine hand.¹¹I will also cause all her mirth to cease, her feast days, her new moons, and her sabbaths, and all her solemn feasts.¹²And I will destroy her vines and her fig trees, whereof she hath said, These are my rewards that my lovers have given me: and I will make them a forest, and the beasts of the field shall eat them.¹³And I will visit upon her the days of Baalim, wherein she burned incense to them, and she decked herself with her earrings and her jewels, and she went after her lovers, and forgot me, saith the LORD.¹⁴Therefore, behold, I will allure her, and bring her into the wilderness, and speak comfortably unto her.¹⁵And I will give her her vineyards from thence, and the valley of Achor for a door of hope: and she shall sing there, as in the days of her youth, and as in the day when she came up out of the land of Egypt.¹⁶And it shall be at that day, saith the LORD, that thou shalt call me Ishi and shalt call me no more Baali.¹⁷For I will take away the names of Baalim out of her mouth, and they shall no more be remembered by their name.¹⁸And in that day will I make a covenant for them with the beasts of the field, and with the fowls of heaven, and with the creeping things of the ground: and I will break the bow and the sword and the battle out of the earth, and will make them to lie down safely.¹⁹And I will betroth thee unto me for ever yea, I will betroth thee unto me in righteousness, and in judgment, and in lovingkindness, and in mercies.²⁰I will even betroth thee unto me in faithfulness: and thou shalt know the LORD.²¹And it shall come to pass in that day, I will hear, saith the LORD, I will hear the heavens, and they shall hear the earth²²And the earth shall hear the corn, and the wine, and the oil and they shall hear Jezreel.²³And I will sow her unto me in the earth and I will have mercy upon her that had not obtained mercy and I will say to them which were not my people, Thou art my people and they shall say, Thou art my God.

CHAPTER 3 ¹Then said the LORD unto me, Go yet, love a woman beloved of her friend, yet an adulteress, according to the love of the LORD toward the children of Israel, who look to other gods, and love flagons of wine.²So I bought her to me for fifteen pieces of silver, and for an homer of barley, and an half homer of barley:³And I said unto her, Thou shalt abide for me many days thou shalt not play the harlot, and thou shalt not be for another man: so will I also be for thee.⁴For the children of Israel shall abide many days without a king, and without a prince, and without a sacrifice, and without an image, and without an ephod, and without teraphim:⁵Afterward shall the children of Israel return, and seek the LORD their God, and David their king and shall fear the LORD and his goodness in the latter days.

CHAPTER 4 ¹Hear the word of the LORD, ye children of Israel: for the LORD hath a controversy with the inhabitants of the land, because there is no truth, nor mercy, nor knowledge of God in the land.²By swearing, and lying, and killing, and stealing, and committing adultery, they break out, and blood toucheth blood.³Therefore shall the land mourn, and every one that dwelleth therein shall languish, with the beasts of the field, and with the fowls of heaven yea, the fishes of the sea also shall be taken away.⁴Yet let no man strive, nor reprove another: for thy people are as they that strive with the priest.⁵Therefore shalt thou fall in the day, and the prophet also shall fall with thee in the night, and I will destroy thy mother.⁶My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge: because thou hast rejected knowledge, I will also reject thee, that thou shalt be no priest to me: seeing thou hast forgotten the law of thy God, I will also forget thy children.⁷As they were increased, so they sinned against me: therefore will I change their glory into shame.⁸They eat up the sin of my people, and they set their heart on their iniquity.⁹And there shall be, like people, like priest: and I will punish them for their ways, and reward them their doings.¹⁰For they shall eat, and not have enough: they shall commit whoredom, and shall not increase: because they have left off to take heed to the LORD.¹¹Whoredom and wine and new wine take away the heart.¹²My people ask counsel at their stocks, and their staff declareth unto them: for the spirit of whoredoms hath caused them to err, and they have gone a whoring from under their God.¹³They sacrifice upon the tops of the mountains, and burn incense upon the hills, under oaks and poplars and elms, because the shadow thereof is good: therefore your daughters shall commit whoredom, and your spouses shall commit adultery.¹⁴ I will not punish your daughters when they commit whoredom, nor your spouses when they commit adultery: for themselves are separated with whores, and they sacrifice with harlots: therefore the people that doth not understand shall fall.¹⁵ Though thou, Israel, play the harlot, yet let not Judah offend and come not ye unto Gilgal, neither go ye up to Beth-aven, nor swear, The LORD liveth.¹⁶ For Israel slideth back as a backsliding heifer: now the LORD will feed them as a lamb in a large place.¹⁷ Ephraim is joined to idols: let him alone.¹⁸ Their drink is sour: they have committed whoredom continually: her rulers with shame do love, Give ye.¹⁹ The wind hath bound her up in her wings, and they shall be ashamed because of their sacrifices.

CHAPTER 5 ¹Hear ye this, O priests and hearken, ye house of Israel and give ye ear, O house of the king for judgment is toward you, because ye have been a snare on Mizpah, and a net spread upon Tabor.² And the revolvers are profound to make slaughter, though I have been a rebuker of them all.³ I know

Ephraim, and Israel is not hid from me: for now, O Ephraim, thou committest whoredom, and Israel is defiled.⁴ They will not frame their doings to turn unto their God: for the spirit of whoredoms is in the midst of them, and they have not known the LORD.⁵ And the pride of Israel doth testify to his face: therefore shall Israel and Ephraim fall in their iniquity Judah also shall fall with them.⁶ They shall go with their flocks and with their herds to seek the LORD but they shall not find him he hath withdrawn himself from them.⁷ They have dealt treacherously against the LORD: for they have begotten strange children: now shall a month devour them with their portions.⁸ Blow ye the cornet in Gibeah, and the trumpet in Ramah: cry aloud at Beth-aven, after thee, O Benjamin.⁹ Ephraim shall be desolate in the day of rebuke: among the tribes of Israel have I made known that which shall surely be.¹⁰ The princes of Judah were like them that remove the bound: therefore I will pour out my wrath upon them like water.¹¹ Ephraim is oppressed and broken in judgment, because he willingly walked after the commandment.¹² Therefore will I be unto Ephraim as a moth, and to the house of Judah as rottenness.¹³When Ephraim saw his sickness, and Judah saw his wound, then went Ephraim to the Assyrian, and sent to king Jareb: yet could he not heal you, nor cure you of your wound.¹⁴For I will be unto Ephraim as a lion, and as a young lion to the house of Judah: I, even I, will tear and go away I will take away, and none shall rescue him.¹⁵I will go and return to my place, till they acknowledge their offence, and seek my face: in their affliction they will seek me early.

CHAPTER 6 ¹Come, and let us return unto the LORD: for he hath torn, and he will heal us he hath smitten, and he will bind us up.²After two days will he revive us: in the third day he will raise us up, and we shall live in his sight.³Then shall we know, if we follow on to know the LORD: his going forth is prepared as the morning and he shall come unto us as the rain, as the latter and former rain unto the earth.⁴O Ephraim, what shall I do unto thee? O Judah, what shall I do unto thee? for your goodness is as a morning cloud, and as the early dew it goeth away.⁵Therefore have I hewed them by the prophets I have slain them by the words of my mouth: and thy judgments are as the light that goeth forth.⁶For I desired mercy, and not sacrifice and the knowledge of God more than burnt offerings.⁷But they like men have transgressed the covenant: there have they dealt treacherously against me.⁸Gilead is a city of them that work iniquity, and is polluted with blood.⁹And as troops of robbers wait for a man, so the company of priests murder in the way by consent: for they commit lewdness.¹⁰I have seen an horrible thing in the house of Israel: there is the whoredom of Ephraim, Israel is defiled.¹¹Also, O Judah, he hath set an harvest for thee, when I returned the captivity of my people.

CHAPTER 7 ¹When I would have healed Israel, then the iniquity of Ephraim was discovered, and the wickedness of Samaria: for they commit falsehood and the thief cometh in, and the troop of robbers spoileth without.²And they consider not in their hearts that I remember all their wickedness: now their own doings have beset them about they are before my face.³They make the king glad with their wickedness, and the princes with their lies.⁴They are all adulterers, as an oven heated by the baker, who ceaseth from raising after he hath kneaded the dough, until it be leavened.⁵In the day of our king the princes have made him sick with bottles of wine he stretched out his hand with scorners.⁶For they have made ready their heart like an oven, whiles they lie in wait: their baker sleepeth all the night in the morning it burneth as a flaming fire.⁷They are all hot as an oven, and have devoured their judges all their kings are fallen: there is none among them that calleth unto me.⁸Ephraim, he hath mixed himself among the people Ephraim is a cake not turned.⁹Strangers have devoured his strength, and he knoweth it not: yea, gray hairs are here and there upon him, yet he knoweth not.¹⁰And the pride of Israel testifieth to his face: and they do not return to the LORD their God, nor seek him for all this.¹¹Ephraim also is like a silly dove without heart: they call to Egypt, they go to Assyria.¹²When they shall go, I will spread my net upon them I will bring them down as the fowls of the heaven I will chastise them, as their congregation hath heard.¹³Woe unto them! for they have fled from me: destruction unto them! because they have transgressed against me: though I have redeemed them, yet they have spoken lies against me.¹⁴And they have not cried unto me with their heart, when they howled upon their beds: they assemble themselves for corn and wine, and they rebel against me.¹⁵Though I have bound and strengthened their arms, yet do they imagine mischief against me.¹⁶They return, but not to the most High: they are like a deceitful bow: their princes shall fall by the sword for the rage of their tongue: this shall be their derision in the land of Egypt.

CHAPTER 8 ¹Set the trumpet to thy mouth. He shall come as an eagle against the house of the LORD, because they have transgressed my covenant, and trespassed against my law.²Israel shall cry unto me, My God, we know thee.³Israel hath cast off the thing that is good: the enemy shall pursue him.⁴They have set up kings, but not by me: they have made princes, and I knew it not: of their silver and their gold have they made them idols, that they may be cut off.⁵Thy calf, O Samaria, hath cast thee off mine anger is kindled against them: how long will it be ere they attain to innocency?⁶For from Israel was it also: the workman made it therefore it is not God: but the calf of Samaria shall be broken in pieces.⁷For they have sown the wind, and they shall reap the whirlwind: it hath no stalk: the bud shall yield no meal: if so be it yield, the strangers shall swallow it up.⁸Israel is swallowed up: now shall they be among the Gentiles as a vessel wherein is no pleasure.⁹For they are gone up to Assyria, a wild ass alone by himself: Ephraim hath hired lovers.¹⁰Yea, though they have hired among the nations, now will I gather them, and they shall sorrow a little for the burden of the king of princes.¹¹Because Ephraim hath made many altars to sin, altars shall be unto him to sin.¹²I have written to him the great things of my law, but they were counted as a strange thing.¹³They sacrifice flesh for the sacrifices of mine offerings, and eat it but the LORD accepteth them not now will he remember their iniquity, and visit their sins: they shall return to Egypt.¹⁴For Israel hath forgotten his Maker, and buildeth temples and Judah hath multiplied fenced cities: but I will send a fire upon his cities, and it shall devour the palaces thereof.

CHAPTER 9 ¹Rejoice not, O Israel, for joy, as other people: for thou hast gone a whoring from thy God, thou hast loved a reward upon every cornfloor.²The floor and the winepress shall not feed them, and the new wine shall fail in her.³They shall not dwell in the LORD's land but Ephraim shall return to Egypt, and they shall eat unclean things in Assyria.⁴They shall not offer wine offerings to the LORD, neither shall they be pleasing unto him: their sacrifices shall be unto them as the bread of mourners all that eat thereof shall be polluted: for their bread for their soul shall not come into the house of the LORD.⁵What will ye do in the solemn day, and in the day of the feast of the LORD?⁶For, lo, they are gone because of destruction: Egypt shall gather them up, Memphis shall bury them: the pleasant places for their silver, nettles shall possess them: thorns shall be in their tabernacles.⁷The days of visitation are come, the days of recompence are come Israel shall know it: the prophet is a fool, the spiritual man is mad, for the multitude of thine iniquity, and the great hatred.⁸The watchman of Ephraim was with my God: but the prophet is a snare of a fowler in all his ways, and hatred in the house of his God.⁹They have deeply corrupted themselves, as in the days of Gibeah: therefore he will remember their iniquity, he will visit their sins.¹⁰I found Israel like grapes in the wilderness I saw your fathers as the firstripe in the fig tree at her first time: but they went to Baal-peor, and separated themselves unto that shame and their abominations were according as they loved.¹¹As for Ephraim, their glory shall fly away like a bird, from the birth, and from the womb, and from the conception.¹²Though they bring up their children, yet will I bereave them, that there shall not be a man left: yea, woe also to them when I depart from them!¹³Ephraim, as I saw Tyrus, is planted in a pleasant place: but Ephraim shall bring forth his children to the murderer.¹⁴Give them, O LORD: what wilt thou give? give them a miscarrying womb and dry breasts.¹⁵All their wickedness is in Gilgal: for there I hated them: for the wickedness of their doings I will drive them out of mine house, I will love them no more: all their princes are revolvers.¹⁶Ephraim is smitten, their root is dried up, they shall bear no fruit: yea, though they bring forth, yet will I slay even the beloved fruit of their womb.¹⁷My God will cast them away, because they did not hearken unto him: and they shall be wanderers among the nations.

CHAPTER 10 ¹Israel is an empty vine, he bringeth forth fruit unto himself: according to the multitude of his fruit he hath increased the altars according to the goodness of his land they have made goodly images.²Their heart is divided now shall they be found faulty: he shall break down their altars, he shall spoil their images.³For now they shall say, We have no king, because we feared not the LORD what then should a king do to us?⁴They have spoken words, swearing falsely in making a covenant: thus judgment springeth up as hemlock in the furrows of the field.⁵The inhabitants of Samaria shall fear because of the calves of Beth-aven: for the people thereof shall mourn over it, and the priests thereof that rejoiced on it, for the glory thereof, because it is departed from it.⁶It shall be also carried unto Assyria for a present to king Jareb: Ephraim shall receive shame, and Israel shall be ashamed of his own counsel.⁷As for Samaria, her king is cut off as the foam upon the water.⁸The high places also of Aven, the sin of Israel, shall be destroyed: the thorn and the thistle shall come up on their altars and they shall say to the mountains, Cover us and to the hills, Fall on us.⁹O Israel, thou hast sinned from the days of Gibeah: there they stood: the battle in Gibeah against the children of iniquity did not overtake them.¹⁰It is in my desire that I should chastise them and the people shall be gathered against them, when they shall bind themselves in their two furrows.¹¹And Ephraim is as an heifer that is taught, and loveth to tread out the corn but I passed over upon her fair neck: I will make Ephraim to ride Judah shall plow, and Jacob shall break his clods.¹²Sow to yourselves in righteousness, reap in mercy break up your fallow ground: for it is time to seek the LORD, till he come and rain righteousness upon you.¹³Ye have plowed wickedness, ye have reaped iniquity ye have eaten the fruit of lies: because thou didst trust in thy way, in the multitude of thy mighty men.¹⁴Therefore shall a tumult arise among thy people, and all thy fortresses shall be spoiled, as Shalman spoiled Beth-arbel in the day of battle: the mother was dashed in pieces upon her children.¹⁵So shall Bethel do unto you because of your great wickedness: in a morning shall the king of Israel utterly be cut off.

CHAPTER 11 ¹When Israel was a child, then I loved him, and called my son out of Egypt.²As they called them, so they went from them: they sacrificed unto Baalim, and burned incense to graven images.³I taught Ephraim also to go, taking them by their arms but they knew not that I healed them.⁴I drew them with cords of a man, with bands of love: and I was to them as they that take off the yoke on their jaws, and I laid meat unto them.⁵He shall not return into the land of Egypt, but the Assyrian shall be his king, because they refused to return.⁶And the sword shall abide on his cities, and shall consume his branches, and devour them, because of their own counsels.⁷And my people are bent to backsliding from me: though they called them to the most High, none at all would exalt him.⁸How shall I give thee up, Ephraim? how shall I deliver thee, Israel? how shall I make thee as Admah? how shall I set thee as Zeboim? mine heart is turned within me, my repentings are kindled together.⁹I will not execute the fierceness of mine anger, I will not return to destroy Ephraim: for I am God, and not man the Holy One in the midst of thee: and I will not enter into the city.¹⁰They shall walk after the LORD: he shall roar like a lion: when he shall roar, then the children shall tremble from the west.¹¹They shall tremble as a bird out of Egypt, and as a dove out of the land of Assyria: and I will place them in their houses, saith the LORD.¹²Ephraim compasseth me about with lies, and the house of Israel with deceit: but Judah yet ruleth with God, and is faithful with the saints.

CHAPTER 12 ¹Ephraim feedeth on wind, and followeth after the east wind: he daily increaseth lies and desolation and they do make a covenant with the Assyrians, and oil is carried into Egypt.²The LORD hath also a controversy with Judah, and will punish Jacob according to his ways according to his doings will he recompense him.³He took his brother by the heel in the womb, and by his strength he had power with God:⁴Yea, he had power over the angel, and prevailed: he wept, and made supplication unto him: he found him in Bethel, and there he spake with us⁵Even the LORD God of hosts the LORD is his memorial.⁶Therefore turn thou to thy God: keep mercy and judgment, and wait on thy God continually.⁷He is a merchant, the balances of deceit are in his hand: he loveth to oppress.⁸And Ephraim said, Yet I am become rich, I have found me out substance: in all my labours they shall find none iniquity in me that were sin.⁹And I that am the LORD thy God from the land of Egypt will yet make thee to dwell in tabernacles, as in the days of the solemn feast.¹⁰I have also spoken by the prophets, and I have multiplied visions, and used similitudes, by the ministry of the prophets.¹¹Is there iniquity in Gilead? surely they are vanity: they sacrifice bullocks in Gilgal yea, their altars are as heaps in the furrows of the fields.¹²And Jacob fled into the country of Syria, and Israel served for a wife, and for a wife he kept sheep.¹³And by a prophet the LORD brought Israel out of Egypt, and by a prophet was he preserved.¹⁴Ephraim provoked him to anger most bitterly: therefore shall he leave his blood upon him, and his reproach shall his Lord return unto him.

CHAPTER 13 ¹When Ephraim spake trembling, he exalted himself in Israel but when he offended in Baal, he died.²And now they sin more and more, and have made them molten images of their silver, and idols according to their own understanding, all of it the work of the craftsmen: they say of them, Let the men that sacrifice kiss the calves.³Therefore they shall be as the morning cloud, and as the early dew that passeth away, as the chaff that is driven with the whirlwind out of the floor, and as the smoke out of the chimney.⁴Yet I am the LORD thy God from the land of Egypt, and thou shalt know no god but me: for there is no saviour beside me.⁵I did know thee in the wilderness, in the land of great drought.⁶According to their pasture, so were they filled they were filled, and their heart was exalted therefore have they forgotten me.⁷Therefore I will be unto them as a lion: as a leopard by the way will I observe them:⁸I will meet them as a bear that is bereaved of her whelps, and will rend the caul of their heart, and there will I devour them like a lion: the wild beast shall tear them.⁹O Israel, thou hast destroyed thyself but in me is thine help.¹⁰I will be thy king: where is any other that may save thee in all thy cities? and thy judges of whom thou saidst, Give me a king and princes?¹¹I gave thee a king in mine anger, and took him away in my wrath.¹²The iniquity of Ephraim is bound up his sin is hid.¹³The sorrows of a travailing woman shall come upon him: he is an unwise son for he should not stay long in the place of the breaking forth of children.¹⁴I will ransom them from the power of the grave I will redeem them from death: O death, I will be thy plagues O grave, I will be thy destruction: repentance shall be hid from mine eyes.¹⁵Though he be fruitful among his brethren, an east wind shall come, the wind of the LORD shall come up from the wilderness, and his spring shall become dry, and his fountain shall be dried up: he shall spoil the treasure of all pleasant vessels.¹⁶Samaria shall become desolate for she hath rebelled against her God: they shall fall by the sword: their infants shall be dashed in pieces, and their women with child shall be ripped up.

CHAPTER 14 ¹O Israel, return unto the LORD thy God for thou hast fallen by thine iniquity.²Take with you words, and turn to the LORD: say unto him, Take away all iniquity, and receive us graciously: so will we render the calves of our lips.³Asshur shall not save us we will not ride upon horses: neither will we say any more to the work of our hands, Ye are our gods: for in thee the fatherless findeth mercy.⁴I will heal their backsliding, I will love them freely: for mine anger is turned away from him.⁵I will be as the dew unto Israel: he shall grow as the lily, and cast forth his roots as Lebanon.⁶His branches shall spread, and his beauty shall be as the olive tree, and his smell as Lebanon.⁷They that dwell under his shadow shall return they shall revive as the corn, and grow as the vine: the scent thereof shall be as the wine of Lebanon.⁸Ephraim shall say, What have I to do any more with idols? I have heard him, and observed him: I am like a green fir tree. From me is thy fruit found.⁹Who is wise, and he shall understand these things? prudent, and he shall know them? for the ways of the LORD are right, and the just shall walk in them: but the transgressors shall fall therein.

CHAPTER 1¹The words of Amos, who was among the herdman of Tekoa, which he saw concerning Israel in the days of Uzziah king of Judah, and in the days of Jeroboam the son of Joash king of Israel, two years before the earthquake.²And he said, The LORD will roar from Zion, and utter his voice from Jerusalem and the habitations of the shepherds shall mourn, and the top of Carmel shall wither.³Thus saith the LORD For three transgressions of Damascus, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof because they have threshed Gilead with threshing instruments of iron:⁴But I will send a fire into the house of Hazael, which shall devour the palaces of Ben-hadad.⁵I will break also the bar of Damascus, and cut off the inhabitant from the plain of Aven, and him that holdeth the sceptre from the house of Eden: and the people of Syria shall go into captivity unto Kir, saith the LORD.⁶Thus saith the LORD For three transgressions of Gaza, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof because they carried away captive the whole captivity, to deliver them up to Edom:⁷But I will send a fire on the wall of Gaza, which shall devour the palaces thereof:⁸And I will cut off the inhabitant from Ashdod, and him that holdeth the sceptre from Ashkelon, and I will turn mine hand against Ekron: and the remnant of the Philistines shall perish, saith the Lord GOD.⁹Thus saith the LORD For three transgressions of Tyrus, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof because they delivered up the whole captivity to Edom, and remembered not the brotherly covenant:¹⁰But I will send a fire on the wall of Tyrus, which shall devour the palaces thereof.¹¹Thus saith the LORD For three transgressions of Edom, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof because he did pursue his brother with the sword, and did cast off all pity, and his anger did tear perpetually, and he kept his wrath for ever:¹²But I will send a fire upon Teman, which shall devour the palaces of Bozrah.¹³Thus saith the LORD For three transgressions of the children of Ammon, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof because they have ripped up the women with child of Gilead, that they might enlarge their border:¹⁴But I will kindle a fire in the wall of Rabbah, and it shall devour the palaces thereof, with shouting in the day of battle, with a tempest in the day of the whirlwind:¹⁵And their king shall go into captivity, he and his princes together, saith the LORD.

CHAPTER 2 ¹Thus saith the LORD For three transgressions of Moab, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof because he burned the bones of the king of Edom into lime:²But I will send a fire upon Moab, and it shall devour the palaces of

Kerioth: and Moab shall die with tumult, with shouting, and with the sound of the trumpet:³And I will cut off the judge from the midst thereof, and will slay all the princes thereof with him, saith the LORD.⁴Thus saith the LORD For three transgressions of Judah, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof because they have despised the law of the LORD, and have not kept his commandments, and their lies caused them to err, after the which their fathers have walked:⁵But I will send a fire upon Judah, and it shall devour the palaces of Jerusalem.⁶Thus saith the LORD For three transgressions of Israel, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof because they sold the righteous for silver, and the poor for a pair of shoes⁷That pant after the dust of the earth on the head of the poor, and turn aside the way of the meek: and a man and his father will go in unto the same maid, to profane my holy name:⁸And they lay themselves down upon clothes laid to pledge by every altar, and they drink the wine of the condemned in the house of their god.⁹Yet destroyed I the Amorite before them, whose height was like the height of the cedars, and he was strong as the oaks yet I destroyed his fruit from above, and his roots from beneath.¹⁰Also I brought you up from the land of Egypt, and led you forty years through the wilderness, to possess the land of the Amorite.¹¹And I raised up of your sons for prophets, and of your young men for Nazarites. Is it not even thus, O ye children of Israel? saith the LORD.¹²But ye gave the Nazarites wine to drink and commanded the prophets, saying, Prophecy not.¹³Behold, I am pressed under you, as a cart is pressed that is full of sheaves.¹⁴Therefore the flight shall perish from the swift, and the strong shall not strengthen his force, neither shall the mighty deliver himself:¹⁵Neither shall he stand that handleth the bow and he that is swift of foot shall not deliver himself: neither shall he that rideth the horse deliver himself.¹⁶And he that is courageous among the mighty shall flee away naked in that day, saith the LORD.

CHAPTER 3 ¹Hear this word that the LORD hath spoken against you, O children of Israel, against the whole family which I brought up from the land of Egypt, saying,²You only have I known of all the families of the earth: therefore I will punish you for all your iniquities.³Can two walk together, except they be agreed?⁴Will a lion roar in the forest, when he hath no prey? will a young lion cry out of his den, if he have taken nothing?⁵Can a bird fall in a snare upon the earth, where no gin is for him? shall one take up a snare from the earth, and have taken nothing at all?⁶Shall a trumpet be blown in the city, and the people not be afraid? shall there be evil in a city, and the LORD hath not done it?⁷Surely the Lord GOD will do nothing, but he revealeth his secret unto his servants the prophets.⁸The lion hath roared, who will not fear? the Lord GOD hath spoken, who can but prophesy?⁹Publish in the palaces at Ashdod, and in the palaces in the land of Egypt, and say, Assemble yourselves upon the mountains of Samaria, and behold the great tumults in the midst thereof, and the oppressed in the midst thereof.¹⁰For they know not to do right, saith the LORD, who store up violence and robbery in their palaces.¹¹Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD An adversary there shall be even round about the land and he shall bring down thy strength from thee, and thy palaces shall be spoiled.¹²Thus saith the LORD As the shepherd taketh out of the mouth of the lion two legs, or a piece of an ear so shall the children of Israel be taken out that dwell in Samaria in the corner of a bed, and in Damascus in a couch.¹³Hear ye, and testify in the house of Jacob, saith the Lord GOD, the God of hosts,¹⁴That in the day that I shall visit the transgressions of Israel upon him I will also visit the altars of Bethel: and the horns of the altar shall be cut off, and fall to the ground.¹⁵And I will smite the winter house with the summer house and the houses of ivory shall perish, and the great houses shall have an end, saith the LORD.

CHAPTER 4 ¹Hear this word, ye kine of Bashan, that are in the mountain of Samaria, which oppress the poor, which crush the needy, which say to their masters, Bring, and let us drink.²The Lord GOD hath sworn by his holiness, that, lo, the days shall come upon you, that he will take you away with hooks, and your posterity with fishhooks.³And ye shall go out at the breaches, every cow at that which is before her and ye shall cast them into the palace, saith the LORD.⁴Come to Bethel, and transgress at Gilgal multiply transgression and bring your sacrifices every morning, and your tithes after three years:⁵And offer a sacrifice of thanksgiving with leaven, and proclaim and publish the free offerings: for this liketh you, O ye children of Israel, saith the Lord GOD.⁶And I also have given you cleanness of teeth in all your cities, and want of bread in all your places: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD.⁷And also I have withholden the rain from you, when there were yet three months to the harvest: and I caused it to rain upon one city, and caused it not to rain upon another city: one piece was rained upon, and the piece whereupon it rained not withered.⁸So two or three cities wandered unto one city, to drink water but they were not satisfied: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD.⁹I have smitten you with blasting and mildew: when your gardens and your vineyards and your fig trees and your olive trees increased, the palmerworm devoured them: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD.¹⁰I have sent among you the pestilence after the manner of Egypt: your young men have I slain with the sword, and have taken away your horses and I have made the stink of your camps to come up unto your nostrils: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD.¹¹I have overthrown some of you, as God overthrew Sodom and Gomorrah, and ye were as a firebrand plucked out of the burning: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD.¹²Therefore thus will I do unto thee, O Israel: and because I will do this unto thee, prepare to meet thy God, O Israel.¹³For, lo, he that formeth the mountains, and createth the wind, and declareth unto man what is his thought, that maketh the morning darkness, and treadeth upon the high places of the earth, The LORD, The God of hosts, is his name.

CHAPTER 5 ¹Hear ye this word which I take up against you, even a lamentation, O house of Israel.²The virgin of Israel is fallen she shall no more rise: she is forsaken upon her land there is none to raise her up.³For thus saith the Lord GOD The city that went out by a thousand shall leave an hundred, and that which went forth by an hundred shall leave ten, to the house of Israel.⁴For thus saith the LORD unto the house of Israel, Seek ye me, and ye shall live:⁵But seek not Bethel, nor enter into Gilgal, and pass not to Beer-sheba: for Gilgal shall surely go into captivity, and Bethel shall come to nought.⁶Seek the LORD, and ye shall live lest he break out like fire in the house of Joseph, and devour it, and there be none to quench it in Bethel.⁷Ye who turn judgment to wormwood, and leave off righteousness in the earth,⁸Seek him that maketh the seven stars and Orion, and turneth the shadow of death into the morning, and maketh the day dark with night: that calleth for the waters of the sea, and poureth them out upon the face of the earth: The LORD is his name:⁹That strengtheneth the spoiled against the strong, so that the spoiled shall come against the fortress.¹⁰They hate him that rebuketh in the gate, and they abhor him that speaketh uprightly.¹¹Forasmuch therefore as your treading is upon the poor, and ye take from him burdens of wheat: ye have built houses of hewn stone, but ye shall not dwell in them ye have planted pleasant vineyards, but ye shall not drink wine of them.¹²For I know your manifold transgressions and your mighty sins: they afflict the just, they take a bribe, and they turn aside the poor in the gate from their right.¹³Therefore the prudent shall keep silence in that time for it is an evil time.¹⁴Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live: and so the LORD, the God of hosts, shall be with you, as ye have spoken.¹⁵Hate the evil, and love the good, and establish judgment in the gate: it may be that the LORD God of hosts will be gracious unto the remnant of Joseph.¹⁶Therefore the LORD, the God of hosts, the Lord, saith thus Wailing shall be in all streets and they shall say in all the highways, Alas! alas! and they shall call the husbandman to mourning, and such as are skilful of lamentation to wailing.¹⁷And in all vineyards shall be wailing: for I will pass through thee, saith the LORD.¹⁸Woe unto you that desire the day of the LORD! to what end is it for you? the day of the LORD is darkness, and not light.¹⁹As if a man did flee from a lion, and a bear met him or went into the house, and leaned his hand on the wall, and a serpent bit him.²⁰Shall not the day of the LORD be darkness, and not light? even very dark, and no brightness in it?²¹I hate, I despise your feast days, and I will not smell in your solemn assemblies.²²Though ye offer me burnt offerings and your meat offerings, I will not accept them: neither will I regard the peace offerings of your fat beasts.²³Take thou away from me the noise of thy songs for I will not hear the melody of thy viols.²⁴But let judgment run down as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream.²⁵Have ye offered unto me sacrifices and offerings in the wilderness forty years, O house of Israel?²⁶But ye have borne the tabernacle of your Moloch and Chiun your images, the star of your god, which ye made to yourselves.²⁷Therefore will I cause you to go into captivity beyond Damascus, saith the LORD, whose name is The God of hosts.

CHAPTER 6 ¹Woe to them that are at ease in Zion, and trust in the mountain of Samaria, which are named chief of the nations, to whom the house of Israel came!²Pass ye unto Calneh, and see and from thence go ye to Hamath the great: then go down to Gath of the Philistines: be they better than these kingdoms? or their border greater than your border?³Ye that put far away the evil day, and cause the seat of violence to come near⁴That lie upon beds of ivory, and stretch themselves upon their couches, and eat the lambs out of the flock, and the calves out of the midst of the stall⁵That chant to the sound of the viol, and invent to themselves instruments of musick, like David⁶That drink wine in bowls, and anoint themselves with the chief ointments: but they are not grieved for the affliction of Joseph.⁷Therefore now shall they go captive with the first that go captive, and the banquet of them that stretched themselves shall be removed.⁸The Lord GOD hath sworn by himself, saith the LORD the God of hosts, I abhor the excellency of Jacob, and hate his palaces: therefore will I deliver up the city with all that is therein.⁹And it shall come to pass, if there remain ten men in one house, that they shall die.¹⁰And a man's uncle shall take him up, and he that burneth him, to bring out the bones out of the house, and shall say unto him that is by the sides of the house, Is there yet any with thee? and he shall say, No. Then shall he say, Hold thy tongue: for we may not make mention of the name of the LORD.¹¹For, behold, the LORD commandeth, and he will smite the great house with breaches, and the little house with clefts.¹²Shall horses run upon the rock? will one plow there with oxen? for ye have turned judgment into gall, and the fruit of righteousness into hemlock:¹³Ye which rejoice in a thing of nought, which say, Have we not taken to us horns by our own strength?¹⁴But, behold, I will raise up against you a nation, O house of Israel, saith the LORD the God of hosts and they shall afflict you from the entering in of Hamath unto the river of the wilderness.

CHAPTER 7 ¹Thus hath the Lord GOD shewed unto me and, behold, he formed grasshoppers in the beginning of the shooting up of the latter growth and, lo, it was the latter growth after the king's mowings.²And it came to pass, that when they had made an end of eating the grass of the land, then I said, O Lord GOD, forgive, I beseech thee: by whom shall Jacob arise? for he is small.³The LORD repented for this: It shall not be, saith the LORD.⁴Thus hath the Lord GOD shewed unto me: and, behold, the Lord GOD called to contend by fire, and it devoured the great deep, and did eat up a part.⁵Then said I, O Lord GOD, cease, I beseech thee: by whom shall Jacob arise? for he is small.⁶The LORD repented for this: This also shall not be, saith the Lord GOD.⁷Thus he shewed me: and, behold, the Lord stood upon a wall made by a plumbline, with a plumbline in his hand.⁸And the LORD said unto me, Amos, what seest thou? And I said, A plumbline. Then said the Lord,

Behold, I will set a plumbline in the midst of my people Israel: I will not again pass by them any more:⁹And the high places of Isaac shall be desolate, and the sanctuaries of Israel shall be laid waste and I will rise against the house of Jeroboam with the sword.¹⁰Then Amaziah the priest of Bethel sent to Jeroboam king of Israel, saying, Amos hath conspired against thee in the midst of the house of Israel: the land is not able to bear all his words.¹¹For thus Amos saith, Jeroboam shall die by the sword, and Israel shall surely be led away captive out of their own land.¹²Also Amaziah said unto Amos, O thou seer, go, flee thee away into the land of Judah, and there eat bread, and prophesy there:¹³But prophesy not again any more at Bethel: for it is the king's chapel, and it is the king's court.¹⁴Then answered Amos, and said to Amaziah, I was no prophet, neither was I a prophet's son but I was an herdman, and a gatherer of sycomore fruit:¹⁵And the LORD took me as I followed the flock, and the LORD said unto me, Go, prophesy unto my people Israel.¹⁶Now therefore hear thou the word of the LORD: Thou sayest, Prophesy not against Israel, and drop not thy word against the house of Isaac.¹⁷Therefore thus saith the LORD Thy wife shall be an harlot in the city, and thy sons and thy daughters shall fall by the sword, and thy land shall be divided by line and thou shalt die in a polluted land: and Israel shall surely go into captivity forth of his land.

CHAPTER 8 ¹Thus hath the Lord GOD shewed unto me: and behold a basket of summer fruit.²And he said, Amos, what seest thou? And I said, A basket of summer fruit. Then said the LORD unto me, The end is come upon my people of Israel I will not again pass by them any more.³And the songs of the temple shall be howlings in that day, saith the Lord GOD: there shall be many dead bodies in every place they shall cast them forth with silence.⁴Hear this, O ye that swallow up the needy, even to make the poor of the land to fail,⁵Saying, When will the new moon be gone, that we may sell corn? and the sabbath, that we may set forth wheat, making the ephah small, and the shekel great, and falsifying the balances by deceit?⁶That we may buy the poor for silver, and the needy for a pair of shoes yea, and sell the refuse of the wheat?⁷The LORD hath sworn by the excellency of Jacob, Surely I will never forget any of their works.⁸ Shall not the land tremble for this, and every one mourn that dwelleth therein? and it shall rise up wholly as a flood and it shall be cast out and drowned, as by the flood of Egypt.⁹ And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Lord GOD, that I will cause the sun to go down at noon, and I will darken the earth in the clear day:¹⁰ And I will turn your feasts into mourning, and all your songs into lamentation and I will bring up sackcloth upon all loins, and baldness upon every head and I will make it as the mourning of an only son, and the end thereof as a bitter day.¹¹ Behold, the days come, saith the Lord GOD, that I will send a famine in the land, not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, but of hearing the words of the LORD:¹² And they shall wander from sea to sea, and from the north even to the east, they shall run to and fro to seek the word of the LORD, and shall not find it.¹³ In that day shall the fair virgins and young men faint for thirst.¹⁴ They that swear by the sin of Samaria, and say, Thy god, O Dan, liveth and, The manner of Beer-sheba liveth even they shall fall, and never rise up again.

CHAPTER 9 ¹I saw the LORD standing upon the altar: and he said, Smite the lintel of the door, that the posts may shake: and cut them in the head, all of them and I will slay the last of them with the sword: he that fleeth of them shall not flee away, and he that escapeth of them shall not be delivered.² Though they dig into hell, thence shall mine hand take them though they climb up to heaven, thence will I bring them down:³ And though they hide themselves in the top of Carmel, I will search and take them out thence and though they be hid from my sight in the bottom of the sea, thence will I command the serpent, and he shall bite them:⁴ And though they go into captivity before their enemies, thence will I command the sword, and it shall slay them: and I will set mine eyes upon them for evil, and not for good.⁵ And the Lord GOD of hosts is he that toucheth the land, and it shall melt, and all that dwell therein shall mourn: and it shall rise up wholly like a flood and shall be drowned, as by the flood of Egypt.⁶ It is he that buildeth his stories in the heaven, and hath founded his troop in the earth he that calleth for the waters of the sea, and poureth them out upon the face of the earth: The LORD is his name.⁷Are ye not as children of the Ethiopians unto me, O children of Israel? saith the LORD. Have not I brought up Israel out of the land of Egypt? and the Philistines from Caphtor, and the Syrians from Kir?⁸Behold, the eyes of the Lord GOD are upon the sinful kingdom, and I will destroy it from off the face of the earth saving that I will not utterly destroy the house of Jacob, saith the LORD.⁹For, lo, I will command, and I will sift the house of Israel among all nations, like as corn is sifted in a sieve, yet shall not the least grain fall upon the earth.¹⁰All the sinners of my people shall die by the sword, which say, The evil shall not overtake nor prevent us.¹¹In that day will I raise up the tabernacle of David that is fallen, and close up the breaches thereof and I will raise up his ruins, and I will build it as in the days of old:¹²That they may possess the remnant of Edom, and of all the heathen, which are called by my name, saith the LORD that doeth this.¹³Behold, the days come, saith the LORD, that the plowman shall overtake the reaper, and the treader of grapes him that soweth seed and the mountains shall drop sweet wine, and all the hills shall melt.¹⁴And I will bring again the captivity of my people of Israel, and they shall build the waste cities, and inhabit them and they shall plant vineyards, and drink the wine thereof they shall also make gardens, and eat the fruit of them.¹⁵And I will plant them upon their land, and they shall no more be pulled up out of their land which I have given them, saith the LORD thy God.

MICAH

CHAPTER 1 ¹The word of the LORD that came to Micah the Morasthite in the days of Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, which he saw concerning Samaria and Jerusalem.²Hear, all ye people hearken, O earth, and all that therein is: and let the Lord GOD be witness against you, the Lord from his holy temple.³For, behold, the LORD cometh forth out of his place, and will come down, and tread upon the high places of the earth.⁴And the mountains shall be molten under him, and the valleys shall be cleft, as wax before the fire, and as the waters that are poured down a steep place.⁵For the transgression of Jacob is all this, and for the sins of the house of Israel. What is the transgression of Jacob? is it not Samaria? and what are the high places of Judah? are they not Jerusalem?⁶Therefore I will make Samaria as an heap of the field, and as plantings of a vineyard: and I will pour down the stones thereof into the valley, and I will discover the foundations thereof.⁷And all the graven images thereof shall be beaten to pieces, and all the hires thereof shall be burned with the fire, and all the idols thereof will I lay desolate: for she gathered it of the hire of an harlot, and they shall return to the hire of an harlot.⁸Therefore I will wail and howl, I will go stripped and naked: I will make a wailing like the dragons, and mourning as the owls.⁹For her wound is incurable for it is come unto Judah he is come unto the gate of my people, even to Jerusalem.¹⁰Declare ye it not at Gath, weep ye not at all: in the house of Aphrah roll thyself in the dust.¹¹Pass ye away, thou inhabitant of Saphir, having thy shame naked: the inhabitant of Zaanan came not forth in the mourning of Beth-ezel he shall receive of you his standing.¹²For the inhabitant of Maroth waited carefully for good: but evil came down from the LORD unto the gate of Jerusalem.¹³O thou inhabitant of Lachish, bind the chariot to the swift beast: she is the beginning of the sin to the daughter of Zion: for the transgressions of Israel were found in thee.¹⁴Therefore shalt thou give presents to Moresheth-gath: the houses of Achzib shall be a lie to the kings of Israel.¹⁵Yet will I bring an heir unto thee, O inhabitant of Mareshah: he shall come unto Adullam the glory of Israel.¹⁶Make thee bald, and poll thee for thy delicate children enlarge thy baldness as the eagle for they are gone into captivity from thee.

CHAPTER 2 ¹Woe to them that devise iniquity, and work evil upon their beds! when the morning is light, they practise it, because it is in the power of their hand.²And they covet fields, and take them by violence and houses, and take them away: so they oppress a man and his house, even a man and his heritage.³Therefore thus saith the LORD Behold, against this family do I devise an evil, from which ye shall not remove your necks neither shall ye go haughtily: for this time is evil.⁴In that day shall one take up a parable against you, and lament with a doleful lamentation, and say, We be utterly spoiled: he hath changed the portion of my people: how hath he removed it from me! turning away he hath divided our fields.⁵Therefore thou shalt have none that shall cast a cord by lot in the congregation of the LORD.⁶Prophecy ye not, say they to them that prophesy: they shall not prophesy to them, that they shall not take shame.⁷O thou that art named the house of Jacob, is the spirit of the LORD straitened? are these his doings? do not my words do good to him that walketh uprightly?⁸Even of late my people is risen up as an enemy: ye pull off the robe with the garment from them that pass by securely as men averse from war.⁹The women of my people have ye cast out from their pleasant houses from their children have ye taken away my glory for ever.¹⁰Arise ye, and depart for this is not your rest: because it is polluted, it shall destroy you, even with a sore destruction.¹¹If a man walking in the spirit and falsehood do lie, saying, I will prophecy unto thee of wine and of strong drink he shall even be the prophet of this people.¹²I will surely assemble, O Jacob, all of thee I will surely gather the remnant of Israel I will put them together as the sheep of Bozrah, as the flock in the midst of their fold: they shall make great noise by reason of the multitude of men.¹³The breaker is come up before them: they have broken up, and have passed through the gate, and are gone out by it: and their king shall pass before them, and the LORD on the head of them.

CHAPTER 3 ¹And I said, Hear, I pray you, O heads of Jacob, and ye princes of the house of Israel Is it not for you to know judgment?²Who hate the good, and love the evil who pluck off their skin from off them, and their flesh from off their bones³Who also eat the flesh of my people, and flay their skin from off them and they break their bones, and chop them in pieces, as for the pot, and as flesh within the caldron.⁴Then shall they cry unto the LORD, but he will not hear them: he will even hide his face from them at that time, as they have behaved themselves ill in their doings.⁵Thus saith the LORD concerning the prophets that make my people err, that bite with their teeth, and cry, Peace and he that putteth not into their mouths, they even prepare war against him.⁶Therefore night shall be unto you, that ye shall not have a vision and it shall be dark unto you, that ye shall not divine and the sun shall go down over the prophets, and the day shall be dark over them.⁷Then shall the seers be ashamed, and the diviners confounded: yea, they shall all cover their lips for there is no answer of God.⁸But truly I am full of power by the spirit of the LORD, and of judgment, and of might, to declare unto Jacob his transgression, and to Israel his sin.⁹Hear this, I pray you, ye heads of the house of Jacob, and princes of the house of Israel, that abhor judgment, and pervert all equity.¹⁰They build up Zion with blood, and Jerusalem with iniquity.¹¹The heads thereof judge for reward, and the priests thereof teach for hire, and the prophets thereof divine for money: yet will they lean upon the LORD, and say, Is not the LORD among us? none evil can come upon us.¹²Therefore shall Zion for your sake be plowed as a field, and Jerusalem shall become heaps, and the mountain of the house as the high places of the forest.

CHAPTER 4 ¹But in the last days it shall come to pass, that the mountain of the house of the LORD shall be established in the top of the mountains, and it shall be exalted above the hills and people shall flow unto it.²And many nations shall come, and say, Come, and let us go up to the mountain of the LORD, and to the house of the God of Jacob and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for the law shall go forth of Zion, and the word of the LORD from Jerusalem.³And he shall judge among many people, and rebuke strong nations afar off and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruninghooks: nation shall not lift up a sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.⁴But they shall sit every man under his vine and under his fig tree and none shall make them afraid: for the mouth of the LORD of hosts hath spoken it.⁵For all people will walk every one in the name of his god, and we will walk in the name of the LORD our God for ever and ever.⁶In that day, saith the LORD, will I assemble her that halteth, and I will gather her that is driven out, and her that I have afflicted⁷And I will make her that halted a remnant, and her that was cast far off a strong nation: and the LORD shall reign over them in mount Zion from henceforth, even for ever.⁸And thou, O tower of the flock, the strong hold of the daughter of Zion, unto thee shall it come, even the first dominion the kingdom shall come to the daughter of Jerusalem.⁹Now why dost thou cry out aloud? is there no king in thee? is thy counsellor perished? for pangs have taken thee as a woman in travail.¹⁰Be in pain, and labour to bring forth, O daughter of Zion, like a woman in travail: for now shalt thou go forth out of the city, and thou shalt dwell in the field, and thou shalt go even to Babylon there shalt thou be delivered there the LORD shall redeem thee from the hand of thine enemies.¹¹Now also many nations are gathered against thee, that say, Let her be defiled, and let our eye look upon Zion.¹²But they know not the thoughts of the LORD, neither understand they his counsel: for he shall gather them as the sheaves into the floor.¹³Arise and thresh, O daughter of Zion: for I will make thine horn iron, and I will make thy hoofs brass: and thou shalt beat in pieces many people: and I will consecrate their gain unto the LORD, and their substance unto the Lord of the whole earth.

CHAPTER 5 ¹Now gather thyself in troops, O daughter of troops: he hath laid siege against us: they shall smite the judge of Israel with a rod upon the cheek.²But thou, Bethlehem Ephratah, though thou be little among the thousands of Judah, yet out of thee shall he come forth unto me that is to be ruler in Israel whose goings forth have been from of old, from everlasting.³Therefore will he give them up, until the time that she which travaileth hath brought forth: then the remnant of his brethren shall return unto the children of Israel.⁴And he shall stand and feed in the strength of the LORD, in the majesty of the name of the LORD his God and they shall abide: for now shall he be great unto the ends of the earth.⁵And this man shall be the peace, when the Assyrian shall come into our land: and when he shall tread in our palaces, then shall we raise against him seven shepherds, and eight principal men.⁶And they shall waste the land of Assyria with the sword, and the land of Nimrod in the entrances thereof: thus shall he deliver us from the Assyrian, when he cometh into our land, and when he treadeth within our borders.⁷And the remnant of Jacob shall be in the midst of many people as a dew from the LORD, as the showers upon the grass, that tarrieth not for man, nor waiteth for the sons of men.⁸And the remnant of Jacob shall be among the Gentiles in the midst of many people as a lion among the beasts of the forest, as a young lion among the flocks of sheep: who, if he go through, both treadeth down, and teareth in pieces, and none can deliver.⁹Thine hand shall be lifted up upon thine adversaries, and all thine enemies shall be cut off.¹⁰And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the LORD, that I will cut off thy horses out of the midst of thee, and I will destroy thy chariots:¹¹And I will cut off the cities of thy land, and throw down all thy strong holds:¹²And I will cut off witchcrafts out of thine hand and thou shalt have no more soothsayers:¹³Thy graven images also will I cut off, and thy standing images out of the midst of thee and thou shalt no more worship the work of thine hands.¹⁴And I will pluck up thy groves out of the midst of thee: so will I destroy thy cities.¹⁵And I will execute vengeance in anger and fury upon the heathen, such as they have not heard.

CHAPTER 6 ¹Hear ye now what the LORD saith Arise, contend thou before the mountains, and let the hills hear thy voice.²Hear ye, O mountains, the LORD's controversy, and ye strong foundations of the earth: for the LORD hath a controversy with his people, and he will plead with Israel.³O my people, what have I done unto thee? and wherein have I wearied thee? testify against me.⁴For I brought thee up out of the land of Egypt, and redeemed thee out of the house of servants and I sent before thee Moses, Aaron, and Miriam.⁵O my people, remember now what Balak king of Moab consulted, and what Balaam the son of Beor answered him from Shittim unto Gilgal that ye may know the righteousness of the LORD.⁶Wherewith shall I come before the LORD, and bow myself before the high God? shall I come before him with burnt offerings, with calves of a year old?⁷Will the LORD be pleased with thousands of rams, or with ten thousands of rivers of oil? shall I give my firstborn for my transgression, the fruit of my body for the sin of my soul?⁸He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good and what doth the LORD require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?⁹The LORD's voice crieth unto the city, and the man of wisdom shall see thy name: hear ye the rod, and who hath appointed it.¹⁰Are there yet the treasures of wickedness in the house of the wicked, and the scant measure that is abominable?¹¹Shall I count them pure with the wicked balances, and with the bag of deceitful weights?¹²For the rich men thereof are full of violence, and the inhabitants thereof have spoken lies, and their tongue is deceitful in their mouth.¹³Therefore also will I make thee sick in smiting thee, in making thee desolate because of thy sins.¹⁴Thou shalt eat, but not be satisfied and thy casting down shall be in the midst of thee and thou shalt take hold, but shalt not deliver and that which thou deliverest will I give up to the sword.¹⁵Thou shalt sow, but thou shalt not reap thou shalt tread the olives, but thou shalt not anoint thee with oil and sweet wine, but shalt not drink wine.¹⁶For the statutes of Omri are kept, and all the works of the house of Ahab, and ye walk in their counsels that I should make thee a desolation, and the inhabitants thereof an hissing: therefore ye shall bear the reproach of my people.

CHAPTER 7 ¹Woe is me! for I am as when they have gathered the summer fruits, as the grape gleanings of the vintage: there is no cluster to eat: my soul desired the firstripe fruit.²The good man is perished out of the earth: and there is none upright among men: they all lie in wait for blood they hunt every man his brother with a net.³That they may do evil with both hands earnestly, the prince asketh, and the judge asketh for a reward and the great man, he uttereth his mischievous desire: so they wrap it up.⁴The best of them is as a brier: the most upright is sharper than a thorn hedge: the day of thy watchmen and thy visitation cometh now shall be their perplexity.⁵Trust ye not in a friend, put ye not confidence in a guide: keep the doors of thy mouth from her that lieth in thy bosom.⁶For the son dishonoureth the father, the daughter riseth up against her mother, the daughter in law against her mother in law a man's enemies are the men of his own house.⁷Therefore I will look unto the LORD I will wait for the God of my salvation: my God will hear me.⁸Rejoice not against me, O mine enemy: when I fall, I shall arise when I sit in darkness, the LORD shall be a light unto me.⁹I will bear the indignation of the LORD, because I have sinned against him, until he plead my cause, and execute judgment for me: he will bring me forth to the light, and I shall behold his righteousness.¹⁰Then she that is mine enemy shall see it, and shame shall cover her which said unto me, Where is the LORD thy God? mine eyes shall behold her: now shall she be trodden down as the mire of the streets.¹¹In the day that thy walls are to be built, in that day shall the decree be far removed.¹²In that day also he shall come even to thee from Assyria, and from the fortified cities, and from the fortress even to the river, and from sea to sea, and from mountain to mountain.¹³Notwithstanding the land shall be desolate because of them that dwell therein, for the fruit of their doings.¹⁴Feed thy people with thy rod, the flock of thine heritage, which dwell solitarily in the wood, in the midst of Carmel: let them feed in Bashan and Gilead, as in the days of old.¹⁵According to the days of thy coming out of the land of Egypt will I shew unto him marvellous things.¹⁶The nations shall see and be confounded at all their might: they shall lay their hand upon their mouth, their ears shall be deaf.¹⁷They shall lick the dust like a serpent, they shall move out of their holes like worms of the earth: they shall be afraid of the LORD our God, and shall fear because of thee.¹⁸Who is a God like unto thee, that pardoneth iniquity, and passeth by the transgression of the remnant of his heritage? he retaineth not his anger for ever, because he delighteth in mercy.¹⁹He will turn again, he will have compassion upon us he will subdue our iniquities and thou wilt cast all their sins into the depths of the sea.²⁰Thou wilt perform the truth to Jacob, and the mercy to Abraham, which thou hast sworn unto our fathers from the days of old.

CHAPTER 1 ¹The word of the LORD that came to Joel the son of Pethuel. ²Hear this, ye old men, and give ear, all ye inhabitants of the land. Hath this been in your days, or even in the days of your fathers?³Tell ye your children of it, and let your children tell their children, and their children another generation.⁴That which the palmerworm hath left hath the locust eaten and that which the locust hath left hath the cankerworm eaten and that which the cankerworm hath left hath the caterpillar eaten.⁵Awake, ye drunkards, and weep and howl, all ye drinkers of wine, because of the new wine for it is cut off from your mouth.⁶For a nation is come up upon my land, strong, and without number, whose teeth are the teeth of a lion, and he hath the cheek teeth of a great lion.⁷He hath laid my vine waste, and barked my fig tree: he hath made it clean bare, and cast it away the branches thereof are made white.⁸Lament like a virgin girded with sackcloth for the husband of her youth.⁹The meat offering and the drink offering is cut off from the house of the LORD the priests, the LORD's ministers, mourn.¹⁰The field is wasted, the land mourneth for the corn is wasted: the new wine is dried up, the oil languisheth.¹¹Be ye ashamed, O ye husbandmen howl, O ye vinedressers, for the wheat and for the barley because the harvest of the field is perished.¹²The vine is dried up, and the fig tree languisheth the pomegranate tree, the palm tree also, and the apple tree, even all the trees of the field, are withered: because joy is withered away from the sons of men.¹³Gird yourselves, and lament, ye priests: howl, ye ministers of the altar: come, lie all night in sackcloth, ye ministers of my God: for the meat offering and the drink offering is withholden from the house of your God.¹⁴Sanctify ye a fast, call a solemn assembly, gather the elders and all the inhabitants of the land into the house of the LORD your God, and cry unto the LORD,¹⁵Alas for the day! for the day of the LORD is at hand, and as a destruction from the Almighty shall it come.¹⁶Is not the meat cut off before our eyes, yea, joy and gladness from the house of our God?¹⁷The seed is rotten under their clods, the garners are laid desolate, the barns are broken down for the corn is withered.¹⁸How do the beasts groan! the herds of cattle are perplexed, because they have no pasture yea, the flocks of sheep are made desolate.¹⁹O LORD, to thee will I cry: for the fire hath devoured the pastures of the wilderness, and the flame hath burned all the trees of the field.²⁰The beasts of the field cry also unto thee: for the rivers of waters are dried up, and the fire hath devoured the pastures of the wilderness.

CHAPTER 2 ¹Blow ye the trumpet in Zion, and sound an alarm in my holy mountain: let all the inhabitants of the land tremble: for the day of the LORD cometh, for it is nigh at hand²A day of darkness and of gloominess, a day of clouds and of thick darkness, as the morning spread upon the mountains: a great people and a strong there hath not been ever the like, neither shall be any more after it, even to the years of many generations.³A fire devoureth before them and behind them a flame burneth: the land is as the garden of Eden before them, and behind them a desolate wilderness yea, and nothing shall escape them.⁴The appearance of them is as the appearance of horses and as horsemen, so shall they run.⁵Like the noise of chariots on the tops of mountains shall they leap, like the noise of a flame of fire that devoureth the stubble, as a strong people set in battle array.⁶Before their face the people shall be much pained: all faces shall gather blackness.⁷They shall run like mighty men they shall climb the wall like men of war and they shall march every one on his ways, and they shall not break their ranks:⁸Neither shall one thrust another they shall walk every one in his path: and when they fall upon the sword, they shall not be wounded.⁹They shall run to and fro in the city they shall run upon the wall, they shall climb up upon the houses they shall enter in at the windows like a thief.¹⁰The earth shall quake before them the heavens shall tremble: the sun and the moon shall be dark, and the stars shall withdraw their shining:¹¹And the LORD shall utter his voice before his army: for his camp is very great: for he is strong that executeth his word: for the day of the LORD is great and very terrible and who can abide it?¹²Therefore also now, saith the LORD, turn ye even to me with all your heart, and with fasting, and with weeping, and with mourning:¹³And rend your heart, and not your garments, and turn unto the LORD your God: for he is gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and repenteth him of the evil.¹⁴Who knoweth if he will return and repent, and leave a blessing behind him even a meat offering and a drink offering unto the LORD your God?¹⁵Blow the trumpet in Zion, sanctify a fast, call a solemn assembly:¹⁶Gather the people, sanctify the congregation, assemble the elders, gather the children, and those that suck the breasts: let the bridegroom go forth of his chamber, and the bride out of her closet.¹⁷Let the priests, the ministers of the LORD, weep between the porch and the altar, and let them say, Spare thy people, O LORD, and give not thine heritage to reproach, that the heathen should rule over them: wherefore should they say among the people, Where is their God?¹⁸Then will the LORD be jealous for his land, and pity his people.¹⁹Yea, the LORD will answer and say unto his people, Behold, I will send you corn, and wine, and oil, and ye shall be satisfied therewith: and I will no more make you a reproach among the heathen:²⁰But I will remove far off from you the northern army, and will drive him into a land barren and desolate, with his face toward the east sea, and his hinder part toward the utmost sea, and his stink shall come up, and his ill savour shall come up, because he hath done great things.²¹Fear not, O land be glad and rejoice: for the LORD will do great things.²²Be not afraid, ye beasts of the field: for the pastures of the wilderness do spring, for the tree beareth her fruit, the fig tree and the vine do yield their strength.²³Be glad then, ye children of Zion, and rejoice in the LORD your God: for he hath given you the former rain moderately, and he will cause to come down for you the rain, the former rain, and the latter rain in the first month.²⁴And the floors shall be full of wheat, and the fats shall overflow with wine and oil.²⁵And I will restore to you the years that the locust hath eaten, the cankerworm, and the caterpillar, and the palmerworm, my great army which I sent among you.²⁶And ye shall eat in plenty, and be satisfied, and praise the name of the LORD your God, that hath dealt wondrously with you: and my people shall never be ashamed.²⁷And ye shall know that I am in the midst of Israel, and that I am the LORD your God, and none else: and my people shall never be ashamed.²⁸And it shall come to pass afterward, that I will pour out my spirit upon all flesh and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, your young men shall see visions:²⁹And also upon the servants and upon the handmaids in those days will I pour out my spirit.³⁰And I will shew wonders in the heavens and in the earth, blood, and fire, and pillars of smoke.³¹The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before the great and the terrible day of the LORD come.³²And it shall come to pass, that whosoever shall call on the name of the LORD shall be delivered: for in mount Zion and in Jerusalem shall be deliverance, as the LORD hath said, and in the remnant whom the LORD shall call.

CHAPTER 3 ¹For, behold, in those days, and in that time, when I shall bring again the captivity of Judah and Jerusalem,²I will also gather all nations, and will bring them down into the valley of Jehoshaphat, and will plead with them there for my people and for my heritage Israel, whom they have scattered among the nations, and parted my land.³And they have cast lots for my people and have given a boy for an harlot, and sold a girl for wine, that they might drink.⁴Yea, and what have ye to do with me, O Tyre, and Zidon, and all the coasts of Palestine? will ye render me a recompence? and if ye recompence me, swiftly and speedily will I return your recompence upon your own head⁵Because ye have taken my silver and my gold, and have carried into your temples my goodly pleasant things:⁶The children also of Judah and the children of Jerusalem have ye sold unto the Grecians, that ye might remove them far from their border.⁷Behold, I will raise them out of the place whither ye have sold them, and will return your recompence upon your own head:⁸And I will sell your sons and your daughters into the hand of the children of Judah, and they shall sell them to the Sabeans, to a people far off: for the LORD hath spoken it.⁹Proclaim ye this among the Gentiles Prepare war, wake up the mighty men, let all the men of war draw near let them come up:¹⁰Beat your plowshares into swords, and your pruninghooks into spears: let the weak say, I am strong.¹¹Assemble yourselves, and come, all ye heathen, and gather yourselves together round about: thither cause thy mighty ones to come down, O LORD.¹²Let the heathen be wakened, and come up to the valley of Jehoshaphat: for there will I sit to judge all the heathen round about.¹³Put ye in the sickle, for the harvest is ripe: come, get you down for the press is full, the fats overflow for their wickedness is great.¹⁴Multitudes, multitudes in the valley of decision: for the day of the LORD is near in the valley of decision.¹⁵The sun and the moon shall be darkened, and the stars shall withdraw their shining.¹⁶The LORD also shall roar out of Zion, and utter his voice from Jerusalem and the heavens and the earth shall shake: but the LORD will be the hope of his people, and the strength of the children of Israel.¹⁷So shall ye know that I am the LORD your God dwelling in Zion, my holy mountain: then shall Jerusalem be holy, and there shall no strangers pass through her any more.¹⁸And it shall come to pass in that day, that the mountains shall drop down new wine, and the hills shall flow with milk, and all the rivers of Judah shall flow with waters, and a fountain shall come forth of the house of the LORD, and shall water the valley of Shittim.¹⁹Egypt shall be a desolation, and Edom shall be a desolate wilderness, for the violence against the children of Judah, because they have shed innocent blood in their land.²⁰But Judah shall dwell for ever, and Jerusalem from generation to generation.²¹For I will cleanse their blood that I have not cleansed: for the LORD dwelleth in Zion.

OBADIAH

CHAPTER 1 ¹The vision of Obadiah. Thus saith the Lord GOD concerning Edom We have heard a rumour from the LORD, and an ambassador is sent among the heathen, Arise ye, and let us rise up against her in battle.²Behold, I have made thee small among the heathen: thou art greatly despised.³The pride of thine heart hath deceived thee, thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rock, whose habitation is high that saith in his heart, Who shall bring me down to the ground?⁴Though thou exalt thyself as the eagle, and though thou set thy nest among the stars, thence will I bring thee down, saith the LORD.⁵If thieves came to thee, if robbers by night, (how art thou cut off!) would they not have stolen till they had enough? if the grapegatherers came to thee, would they not leave some grapes?⁶How are the things of Esau searched out! how are his hidden things sought up!⁷All the men of thy confederacy have brought thee even to the border: the men that were at peace with thee have deceived thee, and prevailed against thee they that eat thy bread have laid a wound under thee: there is none understanding in him.⁸Shall I not in that day, saith the LORD, even destroy the wise men out of Edom, and understanding out of the mount of Esau?⁹And thy mighty men, O Teman, shall be dismayed, to the end that every one of the mount of Esau may be cut off by slaughter.¹⁰For thy violence against thy brother Jacob shame shall cover thee, and thou shalt be cut off for ever.¹¹In the day that thou stoodest on the other side, in the day that the strangers carried away captive his forces, and foreigners entered into his gates, and cast lots upon Jerusalem, even thou wast as one of them.¹²But thou shouldest not have looked on the day of thy brother in the day that he became a stranger neither shouldest thou have rejoiced over the children of Judah in the day of their destruction neither shouldest thou have spoken proudly in the day of distress.¹³Thou shouldest not have entered into the gate of my people in the day of their calamity yea, thou shouldest not have looked on their affliction in the day of their calamity, nor have laid hands on their substance in the day of their calamity¹⁴Neither shouldest thou have stood in the crossway, to cut off those of his that did escape neither shouldest thou have delivered up those of his that did remain in the day of distress.¹⁵For the day of the LORD is near upon all the heathen: as thou hast done, it shall be done unto thee: thy reward shall return upon thine own head.¹⁶For as ye have drunk upon my holy mountain, so shall all the heathen drink continually, yea, they shall drink, and they shall swallow down, and they shall be as though they had not been.¹⁷But upon mount Zion shall be deliverance, and there shall be holiness and the house of Jacob shall possess their possessions.¹⁸And the house of Jacob shall be a fire, and the house of Joseph a flame, and the house of Esau for stubble, and they shall kindle in them, and devour them and there shall not be any remaining of the house of Esau for the LORD hath spoken it.¹⁹And they of the south shall possess the mount of Esau and they of the plain the Philistines: and they shall possess the fields of Ephraim, and the fields of Samaria: and Benjamin shall possess Gilead.²⁰And the captivity of this host of the children of Israel shall possess that of the Canaanites, even unto Zarephath and the captivity of Jerusalem, which is in Sepharad, shall possess the cities of the south.²¹And saviours shall come up on mount Zion to judge the mount of Esau and the kingdom shall be the LORD's.

CHAPTER 1 ¹Now the word of the LORD came unto Jonah the son of Amittai, saying,²Arise, go to Nineveh, that great city, and cry against it for their wickedness is come up before me.³But Jonah rose up to flee unto Tarshish from the presence of the LORD, and went down to Joppa and he found a ship going to Tarshish: so he paid the fare thereof, and went down into it, to go with them unto Tarshish from the presence of the LORD.⁴But the LORD sent out a great wind into the sea, and there was a mighty tempest in the sea, so that the ship was like to be broken.⁵Then the mariners were afraid, and cried every man unto his god, and cast forth the wares that were in the ship into the sea, to lighten it of them. But Jonah was gone down into the sides of the ship and he lay, and was fast asleep.⁶So the shipmaster came to him, and said unto him, What meanest thou, O sleeper? arise, call upon thy God, if so be that God will think upon us, that we perish not.⁷And they said every one to his fellow, Come, and let us cast lots, that we may know for whose cause this evil is upon us. So they cast lots, and the lot fell upon Jonah.⁸Then said they unto him, Tell us, we pray thee, for whose cause this evil is upon us What is thine occupation? and whence comest thou? what is thy country? and of what people art thou?⁹And he said unto them, I am an Hebrew and I fear the LORD, the God of heaven, which hath made the sea and the dry land.¹⁰Then were the men exceedingly afraid, and said unto him, Why hast thou done this? For the men knew that he fled from the presence of the LORD, because he had told them.¹¹Then said they unto him, What shall we do unto thee, that the sea may be calm unto us? for the sea wrought, and was tempestuous.¹²And he said unto them, Take me up, and cast me forth into the sea so shall the sea be calm unto you: for I know that for my sake this great tempest is upon you.¹³Nevertheless the men rowed hard to bring it to the land but they could not: for the sea wrought, and was tempestuous against them.¹⁴Wherefore they cried unto the LORD, and said, We beseech thee, O LORD, we beseech thee, let us not perish for this man's life, and lay not upon us innocent blood: for thou, O LORD, hast done as it pleased thee.¹⁵So they took up Jonah, and cast him forth into the sea: and the sea ceased from her raging.¹⁶Then the men feared the LORD exceedingly, and offered a sacrifice unto the LORD, and made vows.¹⁷Now the LORD had prepared a great fish to swallow up Jonah. And Jonah was in the belly of the fish three days and three nights.

CHAPTER 2 ¹Then Jonah prayed unto the LORD his God out of the fish's belly,²And said, I cried by reason of mine affliction unto the LORD, and he heard me out of the belly of hell cried I, and thou heardest my voice.³For thou hadst cast me into the deep, in the midst of the seas and the floods compassed me about: all thy billows and thy waves passed over me.⁴Then I said, I am cast out of thy sight yet I will look again toward thy holy temple.⁵The waters compassed me about, even to the soul: the depth closed me round about, the weeds were wrapped about my head.⁶I went down to the bottoms of the mountains the earth with her bars was about me for ever: yet hast thou brought up my life from corruption, O LORD my God.⁷When my soul fainted within me I remembered the LORD: and my prayer came in unto thee, into thine holy temple.⁸They that observe lying vanities forsake their own mercy.⁹But I will sacrifice unto thee with the voice of thanksgiving I will pay that that I have vowed. Salvation is of the LORD.¹⁰And the LORD spake unto the fish, and it vomited out Jonah upon the dry land.

CHAPTER 3 ¹And the word of the LORD came unto Jonah the second time, saying,²Arise, go unto Nineveh, that great city, and preach unto it the preaching that I bid thee.³So Jonah arose, and went unto Nineveh, according to the word of the LORD. Now Nineveh was an exceeding great city of three days' journey.⁴And Jonah began to enter into the city a day's journey, and he cried, and said, Yet forty days, and Nineveh shall be overthrown.⁵So the people of Nineveh believed God, and proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them even to the least of them.⁶For word came unto the king of Nineveh, and he arose from his throne, and he laid his robe from him, and covered him with sackcloth, and sat in ashes.⁷And he caused it to be proclaimed and published through Nineveh by the decree of the king and his nobles, saying, Let neither man nor beast, herd nor flock, taste any thing: let them not feed, nor drink water:⁸But let man and beast be covered with sackcloth, and cry mightily unto God: yea, let them turn every one from his evil way, and from the violence that is in their hands.⁹Who can tell if God will turn and repent, and turn away from his fierce anger, that we perish not?¹⁰And God saw their works, that they turned from their evil way and God repented of the evil, that he had said that he would do unto them and he did it

CHAPTER 4 ¹But it displeased Jonah exceedingly, and he was very angry.²And he prayed unto the LORD, and said, I pray thee, O LORD, was not this my saying, when I was yet in my country? Therefore I fled before unto Tarshish: for I knew that thou art a gracious God, and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and repentest thee of the evil.³Therefore now, O LORD, take, I beseech thee, my life from me for it is better for me to die than to live.⁴Then said the LORD, Doest thou well to be angry?⁵So Jonah went out of the city, and sat on the east side of the city, and there made him a booth, and sat under it in the shadow, till he might see what would become of the city.⁶And the LORD God prepared a gourd, and made it to come up over Jonah, that it might be a shadow over his head, to deliver him from his grief. So Jonah was exceeding glad of the gourd.⁷But God prepared a worm when the morning rose the next day, and it smote the gourd that it withered.⁸And it came to pass, when the sun did arise, that God prepared a vehement east wind and the sun beat upon the head of Jonah, that he fainted, and wished in himself to die, and said,

It is better for me to die than to live.⁹And God said to Jonah, Doest thou well to be angry for the gourd? And he said, I do well to be angry, even unto death.¹⁰Then said the LORD, Thou hast had pity on the gourd, for the which thou hast not laboured, neither madest it grow which came up in a night, and perished in a night:¹¹And should not I spare Nineveh, that great city, wherein are more than sixscore thousand persons that cannot discern between their right hand and their left hand and also much cattle?

NAHUM

CHAPTER 1 ¹The burden of Nineveh. The book of the vision of Nahum the Elkoshite.²God is jealous, and the LORD revengeth the LORD revengeth, and is furious the LORD will take vengeance on his adversaries, and he reserveth wrath for his enemies.³The LORD is slow to anger, and great in power, and will not at all acquit the wicked: the LORD hath his way in the whirlwind and in the storm, and the clouds are the dust of his feet.⁴He rebuketh the sea, and maketh it dry, and drieth up all the rivers: Bashan languisheth, and Carmel, and the flower of Lebanon languisheth.⁵The mountains quake at him, and the hills melt, and the earth is burned at his presence, yea, the world, and all that dwell therein.⁶Who can stand before his indignation? and who can abide in the fierceness of his anger? his fury is poured out like fire, and the rocks are thrown down by him.⁷The LORD is good, a strong hold in the day of trouble and he knoweth them that trust in him.⁸But with an overrunning flood he will make an utter end of the place thereof, and darkness shall pursue his enemies.⁹What do ye imagine against the LORD? he will make an utter end: affliction shall not rise up the second time.¹⁰For while they be folden together as thorns, and while they are drunken as drunkards, they shall be devoured as stubble fully dry.¹¹There is one come out of thee, that imagineth evil against the LORD, a wicked counsellor.¹²Thus saith the LORD: Though they be quiet, and likewise many, yet thus shall they be cut down, when he shall pass through. Though I have afflicted thee, I will afflict thee no more.¹³For now will I break his yoke from off thee, and will burst thy bonds in sunder.¹⁴And the LORD hath given a commandment concerning thee, that no more of thy name be sown: out of the house of thy gods will I cut off the graven image and the molten image: I will make thy grave for thou art vile.¹⁵Behold upon the mountains the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace! O Judah, keep thy solemn feasts, perform thy vows: for the wicked shall no more pass through thee he is utterly cut off.

CHAPTER 2 ¹He that dasheth in pieces is come up before thy face: keep the munition, watch the way, make thy loins strong, fortify thy power mightily.²For the LORD hath turned away the excellency of Jacob, as the excellency of Israel: for the emptiers have emptied them out, and marred their vine branches.³The shield of his mighty men is made red, the valiant men are in scarlet: the chariots shall be with flaming torches in the day of his preparation, and the fir trees shall be terribly shaken.⁴The chariots shall rage in the streets, they shall jostle one against another in the broad ways: they shall seem like torches, they shall run like the lightnings.⁵He shall recount his worthies: they shall stumble in their walk they shall make hast to the wall thereof, and the defence shall be prepared.⁶The gates of the rivers shall be opened, and the palace shall be dissolved.⁷And Huzzab shall be led away captive, she shall be brought up, and her maids shall lead her as with the voice of doves, tabering upon their breasts.⁸But Nineveh is of old like a pool of water: yet they shall flee away. Stand, stand, shall they cry but none shall look back.⁹Take ye the spoil of silver, take the spoil of gold: for there is none end of the store and glory out of all the pleasant furniture.¹⁰She is empty, and void, and waste: and the heart melteth, and the knees smite together, and much pain is in all loins, and the faces of them all gather blackness.¹¹Where is the dwelling of the lions, and the feedingplace of the young lions, where the lion, even the old lion, walked, and the lion's whelp, and none made them afraid?¹²The lion did tear in pieces enough for his whelps, and strangled for his lionesses, and filled his holes with prey, and his dens with ravin.¹³Behold, I am against thee, saith the LORD of hosts, and I will burn her chariots in the smoke, and the sword shall devour thy young lions: and I will cut off thy prey from the earth, and the voice of thy messengers shall no more be heard.

CHAPTER 3 ¹Woe to the bloody city! it is all full of lies and robbery the prey departeth not²The noise of a whip, and the noise of the rattling of the wheels, and of the pransing horses, and of the jumping chariots.³The horseman lifteth up both the bright sword and the glittering spear: and there is a multitude of slain, and a great number of carcases and there is none end of their corpses they stumble upon their corpses:⁴Because of the multitude of the whoredoms of the wellfavoured harlot, the mistress of witchcrafts, that selleth nations through her whoredoms, and families through her witchcrafts.⁵Behold, I am against thee, saith the LORD of hosts and I will discover thy skirts upon thy face, and I will shew the nations thy nakedness, and the kingdoms thy shame.⁶And I will cast abominable filth upon thee, and make thee vile, and will set thee as a gazingstock.⁷And it shall come to pass, that all they that look upon thee shall flee from thee, and say, Nineveh is laid waste: who will bemoan her? whence shall I seek comforters for thee?⁸Art thou better than populous No, that was situate among the rivers, that had the waters round about it, whose rampart was the sea, and her wall was from the sea?⁹Ethiopia and Egypt were her strength, and it was infinite Put and Lubim were thy helpers.¹⁰Yet was she carried away, she went into captivity: her young children also were dashed in pieces at the top of all the streets: and they cast lots for her honourable men, and all her great men were bound in chains.¹¹Thou also shalt be drunken: thou shalt be hid, thou also shalt seek strength because of the enemy.¹²All thy strong holds shall be like fig trees with the firstripe figs: if they be shaken, they shall even fall into the mouth of the eater.¹³Behold, thy people in the midst of thee are women: the gates of thy land shall be set wide open unto thine enemies: the fire shall devour thy bars.¹⁴Draw thee waters for the siege, fortify thy strong holds: go into clay, and tread the mortar, make strong the brickkiln.¹⁵There shall the fire devour thee the sword shall cut thee off, it shall eat thee up like the cankerworm: make thyself many as the cankerworm, make thyself many as the locusts.¹⁶Thou hast multiplied thy merchants above the stars of heaven: the cankerworm spoilth, and flieth away.¹⁷Thy crowned are as the locusts, and thy captains as the great grasshoppers, which camp in the hedges in the cold day, but when the sun ariseth they flee away, and their place is not known where they are.¹⁸Thy shepherds slumber, O king of Assyria: thy nobles shall dwell in the dust: thy people is scattered upon the mountains, and no man gathereth them.¹⁹There is no healing of thy bruise thy wound is grievous: all that hear the bruit of thee shall clap the hands over thee: for upon whom hath not thy wickedness passed continually?

CHAPTER 1 ¹The burden which Habakkuk the prophet did see.²O LORD, how long shall I cry, and thou wilt not hear! even cry out unto thee of violence, and thou wilt not save!³Why dost thou shew me iniquity, and cause me to behold grievance? for spoiling and violence are before me: and there are that raise up strife and contention.⁴Therefore the law is slacked, and judgment doth never go forth: for the wicked doth compass about the righteous therefore wrong judgment proceedeth.⁵Behold ye among the heathen, and regard, and wonder marvellously: for I will work a work in your days, which ye will not believe, though it be told you.⁶For, lo, I raise up the Chaldeans, that bitter and hasty nation, which shall march through the breadth of the land, to possess the dwellingplaces that are not theirs.⁷They are terrible and dreadful: their judgment and their dignity shall proceed of themselves.⁸Their horses also are swifter than the leopards, and are more fierce than the evening wolves: and their horsemen shall spread themselves, and their horsemen shall come from far they shall fly as the eagle that hasteth to eat.⁹They shall come all for violence: their faces shall sup up as the east wind, and they shall gather the captivity as the sand.¹⁰And they shall scoff at the kings, and the princes shall be a scorn unto them: they shall deride every strong hold for they shall heap dust, and take it.¹¹Then shall his mind change, and he shall pass over, and offend, imputing this his power unto his god.¹²Art thou not from everlasting, O LORD my God, mine Holy One? we shall not die. O LORD, thou hast ordained them for judgment and, O mighty God, thou hast established them for correction.¹³Thou art of purer eyes than to behold evil, and canst not look on iniquity: wherefore lookest thou upon them that deal treacherously, and holdest thy tongue when the wicked devoureth the man that is more righteous than he?¹⁴And makest men as the fishes of the sea, as the creeping things, that have no ruler over them?¹⁵They take up all of them with the angle, they catch them in their net, and gather them in their drag: therefore they rejoice and are glad.¹⁶Therefore they sacrifice unto their net, and burn incense unto their drag because by them their portion is fat, and their meat plenteous.¹⁷Shall they therefore empty their net, and not spare continually to slay the nations?

CHAPTER 2 ¹I will stand upon my watch, and set me upon the tower, and will watch to see what he will say unto me, and what I shall answer when I am reproved.²And the LORD answered me, and said, Write the vision, and make it plain upon tables, that he may run that readeth it.³For the vision is yet for an appointed time, but at the end it shall speak, and not lie: though it tarry, wait for it because it will surely come, it will not tarry.⁴Behold, his soul which is lifted up is not upright in him: but the just shall live by his faith.⁵Yea also, because he transgresseth by wine, he is a proud man, neither keepeth at home, who enlargeth his desire as hell, and is as death, and cannot be satisfied, but gathereth unto him all nations, and heapeth unto him all people:⁶Shall not all these take up a parable against him, and a taunting proverb against him, and say, Woe to him that increaseth that which is not his! how long? and to him that ladeth himself with thick clay!⁷Shall they not rise up suddenly that shall bite thee, and awake that shall vex thee, and thou shalt be for booties unto them?⁸Because thou hast spoiled many nations, all the remnant of the people shall spoil thee because of men's blood, and for the violence of the land, of the city, and of all that dwell therein.⁹Woe to him that coveteth an evil covetousness to his house, that he may set his nest on high, that he may be delivered from the power of evil!¹⁰Thou hast consulted shame to thy house by cutting off many people, and hast sinned against thy soul.¹¹For the stone shall cry out of the wall, and the beam out of the timber shall answer it.¹²Woe to him that buildeth a town with blood, and stablisheth a city by iniquity!¹³Behold, is it not of the LORD of hosts that the people shall labour in the very fire, and the people shall weary themselves for very vanity?¹⁴For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the LORD, as the waters cover the sea.¹⁵Woe unto him that giveth his neighbour drink, that puttest thy bottle to him, and makest him drunken also, that thou mayest look on their nakedness!¹⁶Thou art filled with shame for glory: drink thou also, and let thy foreskin be uncovered: the cup of the LORD's right hand shall be turned unto thee, and shameful spewing shall be on thy glory.¹⁷For the violence of Lebanon shall cover thee, and the spoil of beasts, which made them afraid, because of men's blood, and for the violence of the land, of the city, and of all that dwell therein.¹⁸What profiteth the graven image that the maker thereof hath graven it the molten image, and a teacher of lies, that the maker of his work trusteth therein, to make dumb idols?¹⁹Woe unto him that saith to the wood, Awake to the dumb stone, Arise, it shall teach! Behold, it is laid over with gold and silver, and there is no breath at all in the midst of it.²⁰But the LORD is in his holy temple: let all the earth keep silence before him.

CHAPTER 3 ¹A prayer of Habakkuk the prophet upon Shigionoth.²O LORD, I have heard thy speech, and was afraid: O LORD, revive thy work in the midst of the years, in the midst of the years make known in wrath remember mercy.³God came from Teman, and the Holy One from mount Paran. Selah. His glory covered the heavens, and the earth was full of his praise.⁴And his brightness was as the light he had horns coming out of his hand: and there was the hiding of his power.⁵Before him went the pestilence, and burning coals went forth at his feet.⁶He stood, and measured the earth: he beheld, and drove asunder the nations and the everlasting mountains were scattered, the perpetual hills did bow: his ways are everlasting.⁷I saw the tents of Cushan in affliction: and the curtains of the land of Midian did tremble.⁸Was the LORD displeased against the rivers? was thine anger against the rivers? was thy wrath against the sea, that thou didst ride upon thine horses and thy chariots of salvation?⁹Thy bow was made quite naked, according to the oaths of the tribes, even thy word.

Selah. Thou didst cleave the earth with rivers.¹⁰The mountains saw thee, and they trembled: the overflowing of the water passed by: the deep uttered his voice, and lifted up his hands on high.¹¹The sun and moon stood still in their habitation: at the light of thine arrows they went, and at the shining of thy glittering spear.¹²Thou didst march through the land in indignation, thou didst thresh the heathen in anger.¹³Thou wentest forth for the salvation of thy people, even for salvation with thine anointed thou woundedst the head out of the house of the wicked, by discovering the foundation unto the neck. Selah.¹⁴Thou didst strike through with his staves the head of his villages: they came out as a whirlwind to scatter me: their rejoicing was as to devour the poor secretly.¹⁵Thou didst walk through the sea with thine horses, through the heap of great waters.¹⁶When I heard, my belly trembled my lips quivered at the voice: rottenness entered into my bones, and I trembled in myself, that I might rest in the day of trouble: when he cometh up unto the people, he will invade them with his troops.¹⁷Although the fig tree shall not blossom, neither shall fruit be in the vines the labour of the olive shall fail, and the fields shall yield no meat the flock shall be cut off from the fold, and there shall be no herd in the stalls:¹⁸Yet I will rejoice in the LORD, I will joy in the God of my salvation.¹⁹The LORD God is my strength, and he will make my feet like hinds' feet, and he will make me to walk upon mine high places. To the chief singer on my stringed instruments.

CHAPTER 1 ¹The word of the LORD which came unto Zephaniah the son of Cushi, the son of Gedaliah, the son of Amariah, the son of Hizkiah, in the days of Josiah the son of Amon, king of Judah.²I will utterly consume all things from off the land, saith the LORD.³I will consume man and beast I will consume the fowls of the heaven, and the fishes of the sea, and the stumblingblocks with the wicked and I will cut off man from off the land, saith the LORD.⁴I will also stretch out mine hand upon Judah, and upon all the inhabitants of Jerusalem and I will cut off the remnant of Baal from this place, and the name of the Chemarims with the priests⁵And them that worship the host of heaven upon the housetops and them that worship and that swear by the LORD, and that swear by Malcham⁶And them that are turned back from the LORD and those that have not sought the LORD, nor inquired for him.⁷Hold thy peace at the presence of the Lord GOD: for the day of the LORD is at hand: for the LORD hath prepared a sacrifice, he hath bid his guests.⁸And it shall come to pass in the day of the LORD's sacrifice, that I will punish the princes, and the king's children, and all such as are clothed with strange apparel.⁹In the same day also will I punish all those that leap on the threshold, which fill their masters' houses with violence and deceit.¹⁰And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the LORD, that there shall be the noise of a cry from the fish gate, and an howling from the second, and a great crashing from the hills.¹¹Howl, ye inhabitants of Maktesh, for all the merchant people are cut down all they that bear silver are cut off.¹²And it shall come to pass at that time, that I will search Jerusalem with candles, and punish the men that are settled on their lees: that say in their heart, The LORD will not do good, neither will he do evil.¹³Therefore their goods shall become a booty, and their houses a desolation: they shall also build houses, but not inhabit them and they shall plant vineyards, but not drink the wine thereof.¹⁴The great day of the LORD is near, it is near, and hasteth greatly, even the voice of the day of the LORD: the mighty man shall cry there bitterly.¹⁵That day is a day of wrath, a day of trouble and distress, a day of wasteness and desolation, a day of darkness and gloominess, a day of clouds and thick darkness,¹⁶A day of the trumpet and alarm against the fenced cities, and against the high towers.¹⁷And I will bring distress upon men, that they shall walk like blind men, because they have sinned against the LORD: and their blood shall be poured out as dust, and their flesh as the dung.¹⁸Neither their silver nor their gold shall be able to deliver them in the day of the LORD's wrath but the whole land shall be devoured by the fire of his jealousy: for he shall make even a speedy riddance of all them that dwell in the land.

CHAPTER 2 ¹Gather yourselves together, yea, gather together, O nation not desired²Before the decree bring forth, before the day pass as the chaff, before the fierce anger of the LORD come upon you, before the day of the LORD's anger come upon you.³Seek ye the LORD, all ye meek of the earth, which have wrought his judgment seek righteousness, seek meekness: it may be ye shall be hid in the day of the LORD's anger.⁴For Gaza shall be forsaken, and Ashkelon a desolation: they shall drive out Ashdod at the noon day, and Ekron shall be rooted up.⁵Woe unto the inhabitants of the sea coast, the nation of the Cherethites! the word of the LORD is against you O Canaan, the land of the Philistines, I will even destroy thee, that there shall be no inhabitant.⁶And the sea coast shall be dwellings and cottages for shepherds, and folds for flocks.⁷And the coast shall be for the remnant of the house of Judah they shall feed thereupon: in the houses of Ashkelon shall they lie down in the evening: for the LORD their God shall visit them, and turn away their captivity.⁸I have heard the reproach of Moab, and the revilings of the children of Ammon, whereby they have reproached my people, and magnified themselves against their border.⁹Therefore as I live, saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Surely Moab shall be as Sodom, and the children of Ammon as Gomorrah, even the breeding of nettles, and salt pits, and a perpetual desolation: the residue of my people shall spoil them, and the remnant of my people shall possess them.¹⁰This shall they have for their pride, because they have reproached and magnified themselves against the people of the LORD of hosts.¹¹The LORD will be terrible unto them: for he will famish all the gods of the earth and men shall worship him, every one from his place, even all the isles of the heathen.¹²Ye Ethiopians also, ye shall be slain by my sword.¹³And he will stretch out his hand against the north, and destroy Assyria and will make Nineveh a desolation, and dry like a wilderness.¹⁴And flocks shall lie down in the midst of her, all the beasts of the nations: both the cormorant and the bittern shall lodge in the upper lintels of it their voice shall sing in the windows desolation shall be in the thresholds: for he shall uncover the cedar work.¹⁵This is the rejoicing city that dwelt carelessly, that said in her heart, I am, and there is none beside me: how is she become a desolation, a place for beasts to lie down in! every one that passeth by her shall hiss, and wag his hand.

CHAPTER 3 ¹Woe to her that is filthy and polluted, to the oppressing city!²She obeyed not the voice she received not correction she trusted not in the LORD she drew not near to her God.³Her princes within her are roaring lions her judges are evening wolves they gnaw not the bones till the morrow.⁴Her prophets are light and treacherous persons: her priests have polluted the sanctuary, they have done violence to the law.⁵The just LORD is in the midst thereof he will not do iniquity: every morning doth he bring his judgment to light, he faileth not but the unjust knoweth no shame.⁶I have cut off the nations: their towers are desolate I made their streets waste, that none passeth by: their cities are destroyed, so that there is no man, that there is none inhabitant.⁷I said, Surely thou wilt fear me, thou wilt receive instruction so their dwelling should not be cut off, howsoever I punished them: but they rose early, and corrupted all their doings.⁸Therefore wait ye upon me, saith the LORD, until the day that I rise up to the prey: for my determination is to gather the nations, that I may assemble the kingdoms, to pour upon them mine indignation, even all my fierce anger: for all the earth shall be devoured with the fire of my jealousy.⁹For then will I turn to the people a pure language, that they may all call upon the name of the LORD, to serve him with one consent.¹⁰From beyond the rivers of Ethiopia my suppliants, even the daughter of my dispersed, shall bring mine offering.¹¹In that day shalt thou not be ashamed for all thy doings, wherein thou hast transgressed against me: for then I will take away out of the midst of thee them that rejoice in thy pride, and thou shalt no more be haughty because of my holy mountain.¹²I will also leave in the midst of thee an afflicted and poor people, and they shall trust in the name of the LORD.¹³The remnant of Israel shall not do iniquity, nor speak lies neither shall a deceitful tongue be found in their mouth: for they shall feed and lie down, and none shall make them afraid.¹⁴Sing, O daughter of Zion shout, O Israel be glad and rejoice with all the heart, O daughter of Jerusalem.¹⁵The LORD hath taken away thy judgments, he hath cast out thine enemy: the king of Israel, even the LORD, is in the midst of thee: thou shalt not see evil any more.¹⁶In that day it shall be said to Jerusalem, Fear thou not: and to Zion, Let not thine hands be slack.¹⁷The LORD thy God in the midst of thee is mighty he will save, he will rejoice over thee with joy he will rest in his love, he will joy over thee with singing.¹⁸I will gather them that are sorrowful for the solemn assembly, who are of thee, to whom the reproach of it was a burden.¹⁹Behold, at that time I will undo all that afflict thee: and I will save her that halteth, and gather her that was driven out and I will get them praise and fame in every land where they have been put to shame.²⁰At that time will I bring you again, even in the time that I gather you: for I will make you a name and a praise among all people of the earth, when I turn back your captivity before your eyes, saith the LORD.

CHAPTER 1 ¹In the second year of Darius the king, in the sixth month, in the first day of the month, came the word of the LORD by Haggai the prophet unto Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Josedech, the high priest, saying,²Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, saying, This people say, The time is not come, the time that the LORD's house should be built.³Then came the word of the LORD by Haggai the prophet, saying,⁴Is it time for you, O ye, to dwell in your cieled houses, and this house lie waste?⁵Now therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts Consider your ways.⁶Ye have sown much, and bring in little ye eat, but ye have not enough ye drink, but ye are not filled with drink ye clothe you, but there is none warm and he that earneth wages earneth wages to put it into a bag with holes.⁷Thus saith the LORD of hosts Consider your ways.⁸Go up to the mountain, and bring wood, and build the house and I will take pleasure in it, and I will be glorified, saith the LORD.⁹Ye looked for much, and, lo, it came to little and when ye brought it home, I did blow upon it. Why? saith the LORD of hosts. Because of mine house that is waste, and ye run every man unto his own house.¹⁰Therefore the heaven over you is stayed from dew, and the earth is stayed from her fruit.¹¹And I called for a drought upon the land, and upon the mountains, and upon the corn, and upon the new wine, and upon the oil, and upon that which the ground bringeth forth, and upon men, and upon cattle, and upon all the labour of the hands.¹²Then Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, and Joshua the son of Josedech, the high priest, with all the remnant of the people, obeyed the voice of the LORD their God, and the words of Haggai the prophet, as the LORD their God had sent him, and the people did fear before the LORD.¹³Then spake Haggai the LORD's messenger in the LORD's message unto the people, saying, I am with you, saith the LORD.¹⁴And the LORD stirred up the spirit of Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and the spirit of Joshua the son of Josedech, the high priest, and the spirit of all the remnant of the people and they came and did work in the house of the LORD of hosts, their God,¹⁵In the four and twentieth day of the sixth month, in the second year of Darius the king.

CHAPTER 2 ¹In the seventh month, in the one and twentieth day of the month, came the word of the LORD by the prophet Haggai, saying,²Speak now to Zerubbabel the son of Shealtiel, governor of Judah, and to Joshua the son of Josedech, the high priest, and to the residue of the people, saying,³Who is left among you that saw this house in her first glory? and how do ye see it now? is it not in your eyes in comparison of it as nothing?⁴Yet now be strong, O Zerubbabel, saith the LORD and be strong, O Joshua, son of Josedech, the high priest and be strong, all ye people of the land, saith the LORD, and work: for I am with you, saith the LORD of hosts:⁵According to the word that I covenanted with you when ye came out of Egypt, so my spirit remaineth among you: fear ye not.⁶For thus saith the LORD of hosts Yet once, it is a little while, and I will shake the heavens, and the earth, and the sea, and the dry land⁷And I will shake all nations, and the desire of all nations shall come: and I will fill this house with glory, saith the LORD of hosts.⁸The silver is mine, and the gold is mine, saith the LORD of hosts.⁹The glory of this latter house shall be greater than of the former, saith the LORD of hosts: and in this place will I give peace, saith the LORD of hosts.¹⁰In the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the LORD by Haggai the prophet, saying,¹¹Thus saith the LORD of hosts Ask now the priests concerning the law, saying,¹²If one bear holy flesh in the skirt of his garment, and with his skirt do touch bread, or pottage, or wine, or oil, or any meat, shall it be holy? And the priests answered and said, No.¹³Then said Haggai, If one that is unclean by a dead body touch any of these, shall it be unclean? And the priests answered and said, It shall be unclean.¹⁴Then answered Haggai, and said, So is this people, and so is this nation before me, saith the LORD and so is every work of their hands and that which they offer there is unclean.¹⁵And now, I pray you, consider from this day and upward, from before a stone was laid upon a stone in the temple of the LORD:¹⁶Since those days were, when one came to an heap of twenty measures, there were but ten: when one came to the pressfat for to draw out fifty vessels out of the press, there were but twenty.¹⁷I smote you with blasting and with mildew and with hail in all the labours of your hands yet ye turned not to me, saith the LORD.¹⁸Consider now from this day and upward, from the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, even from the day that the foundation of the LORD's temple was laid, consider it.¹⁹Is the seed yet in the barn? yea, as yet the vine, and the fig tree, and the pomegranate, and the olive tree, hath not brought forth: from this day will I bless you.²⁰ And again the word of the LORD came unto Haggai in the four and twentieth day of the month, saying,²¹ Speak to Zerubbabel, governor of Judah, saying, I will shake the heavens and the earth²² And I will overthrow the throne of kingdoms, and I will destroy the strength of the kingdoms of the heathen and I will overthrow the chariots, and those that ride in them and the horses and their riders shall come down, every one by the sword of his brother.²³ In that day, saith the LORD of hosts, will I take thee, O Zerubbabel, my servant, the son of Shealtiel, saith the LORD, and will make thee as a signet: for I have chosen thee, saith the LORD of hosts.

ZECHARIAH

CHAPTER 1 ¹In the eighth month, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the LORD unto Zechariah, the son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo the prophet, saying,²The LORD hath been sore displeased with your fathers.³Therefore say thou unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts Turn ye unto me, saith the LORD of hosts, and I will turn unto you, saith the LORD of hosts.⁴Be ye not as your fathers, unto whom the former prophets have cried, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts Turn ye now from your evil ways, and from your evil doings: but they did not hear, nor hearken unto me, saith the LORD.⁵Your fathers, where are they? and the prophets, do they live for ever?⁶But my words and my statutes, which I commanded my servants the prophets, did they not take hold of your fathers? and they returned and said, Like as the LORD of hosts thought to do unto us, according to our ways, and according to our doings, so hath he dealt with us.⁷Upon the four and twentieth day of the eleventh month, which is the month Sebat, in the second year of Darius, came the word of the LORD unto Zechariah, the son of Berechiah, the son of Iddo the prophet, saying,⁸I saw by night, and behold a man riding upon a red horse, and he stood among the myrtle trees that were in the bottom and behind him were there red horses, speckled, and white.⁹Then said I, O my lord, what are these? And the angel that talked with me said unto me, I will shew thee what these be.¹⁰And the man that stood among the myrtle trees answered and said, These are they whom the LORD hath sent to walk to and fro through the earth.¹¹And they answered the angel of the LORD that stood among the myrtle trees, and said, We have walked to and fro through the earth, and, behold, all the earth sitteth still, and is at rest.¹²Then the angel of the LORD answered and said, O LORD of hosts, how long wilt thou not have mercy on Jerusalem and on the cities of Judah, against which thou hast had indignation these threescore and ten years?¹³And the LORD answered the angel that talked with me with good words and comfortable words.¹⁴So the angel that communed with me said unto me, Cry thou, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts I am jealous for Jerusalem and for Zion with a great jealousy.¹⁵And I am very sore displeased with the heathen that are at ease: for I was but a little displeased, and they helped forward the affliction.¹⁶Therefore thus saith the LORD I am returned to Jerusalem with mercies: my house shall be built in it, saith the LORD of hosts, and a line shall be stretched forth upon Jerusalem.¹⁷Cry yet, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts My cities through prosperity shall yet be spread abroad and the LORD shall yet comfort Zion, and shall yet choose Jerusalem.¹⁸Then lifted I up mine eyes, and saw, and behold four horns.¹⁹And I said unto the angel that talked with me, What be these? And he answered me, These are the horns which have scattered Judah, Israel, and Jerusalem.²⁰And the LORD shewed me four carpenters.²¹Then said I, What come these to do? And he spake, saying, These are the horns which have scattered Judah, so that no man did lift up his head: but these are come to fray them, to cast out the horns of the Gentiles, which lifted up their horn over the land of Judah to scatter it.

CHAPTER 2 ¹I lifted up mine eyes again, and looked, and behold a man with a measuring line in his hand.²Then said I, Whither goest thou? And he said unto me, To measure Jerusalem, to see what is the breadth thereof, and what is the length thereof.³And, behold, the angel that talked with me went forth, and another angel went out to meet him,⁴And said unto him, Run, speak to this young man, saying, Jerusalem shall be inhabited as towns without walls for the multitude of men and cattle therein:⁵For I, saith the LORD, will be unto her a wall of fire round about, and will be the glory in the midst of her.⁶Ho, ho, come forth, and flee from the land of the north, saith the LORD: for I have spread you abroad as the four winds of the heaven, saith the LORD.⁷Deliver thyself, O

Zion, that dwellest with the daughter of Babylon.⁸For thus saith the LORD of hosts After the glory hath he sent me unto the nations which spoiled you: for he that toucheth you toucheth the apple of his eye.⁹For, behold, I will shake mine hand upon them, and they shall be a spoil to their servants: and ye shall know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me.¹⁰Sing and rejoice, O daughter of Zion: for, lo, I come, and I will dwell in the midst of thee, saith the LORD.¹¹And many nations shall be joined to the LORD in that day, and shall be my people: and I will dwell in the midst of thee, and thou shalt know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto thee.¹²And the LORD shall inherit Judah his portion in the holy land, and shall choose Jerusalem again.¹³Be silent, O all flesh, before the LORD: for he is raised up out of his holy habitation.

CHAPTER 3 ¹And he shewed me Joshua the high priest standing before the angel of the LORD, and Satan standing at his right hand to resist him.²And the LORD said unto Satan, The LORD rebuke thee, O Satan even the LORD that hath chosen Jerusalem rebuke thee: is not this a brand plucked out of the fire?³Now Joshua was clothed with filthy garments, and stood before the angel.⁴And he answered and spake unto those that stood before him, saying, Take away the filthy garments from him. And unto him he said, Behold, I have caused thine iniquity to pass from thee, and I will clothe thee with change of raiment.⁵And I said, Let them set a fair mitre upon his head. So they set a fair mitre upon his head, and clothed him with garments. And the angel of the LORD stood by.⁶And the angel of the LORD protested unto Joshua, saying,⁷Thus saith the LORD of hosts If thou wilt walk in my ways, and if thou wilt keep my charge, then thou shalt also judge my house, and shalt also keep my courts, and I will give thee places to walk among these that stand by.⁸Hear now, O Joshua the high priest, thou, and thy fellows that sit before thee: for they are men wondered at: for, behold, I will bring forth my servant the BRANCH.⁹For behold the stone that I have laid before Joshua upon one stone shall be seven eyes: behold, I will engrave the graving thereof, saith the LORD of hosts, and I will remove the iniquity of that land in one day.¹⁰In that day, saith the LORD of hosts, shall ye call every man his

CHAPTER 4 ¹And the angel that talked with me came again, and waked me, as a man that is wakened out of his sleep,²And said unto me, What seest thou? And I said, I have looked, and behold a candlestick all of gold, with a bowl upon the top of it, and his seven lamps thereon, and seven pipes to the seven lamps, which are upon the top thereof:³And two olive trees by it, one upon the right side of the bowl, and the other upon the left side thereof.⁴So I answered and spake to the angel that talked with me, saying, What are these, my lord?⁵Then the angel that talked with me answered and said unto me, Knowest thou not what these be? And I said, No, my lord.⁶Then he answered and spake unto me, saying, This is the word of the LORD unto Zerubbabel, saying, Not by might, nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the LORD of hosts.⁷Who art thou, O great mountain? before Zerubbabel thou shalt become a plain: and he shall bring forth the headstone thereof with shoutings, crying, Grace, grace unto it.⁸Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,⁹The hands of Zerubbabel have laid the foundation of this house his hands shall also finish it and thou shalt know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto you.¹⁰For who hath despised the day of small things? for they shall rejoice, and shall see the plummet in the hand of Zerubbabel with those seven they are the eyes of the LORD, which run to and fro through the whole earth.¹¹Then answered I, and said unto him, What are these two olive trees upon the right side of the candlestick and upon the left side thereof?¹²And I answered again, and said unto him, What be these two olive branches which through the two golden pipes empty the golden oil out of themselves?¹³And he answered me and said, Knowest thou not what these be? And I said, No, my lord.¹⁴Then said he, These are the two anointed ones, that stand by the LORD of the whole earth.

CHAPTER 5 ¹Then I turned, and lifted up mine eyes, and looked, and behold a flying roll.²And he said unto me, What seest thou? And I answered, I see a flying roll the length thereof is twenty cubits, and the breadth thereof ten cubits.³Then said he unto me, This is the curse that goeth forth over the face of the whole earth: for every one that stealeth shall be cut off as on this side according to it and every one that sweareth shall be cut off as on that side according to it.⁴I will bring it forth, saith the LORD of hosts, and it shall enter into the house of the thief, and into the house of him that sweareth falsely by my name: and it shall remain in the midst of his house, and shall consume it with the timber thereof and the stones thereof.⁵Then the angel that talked with me went forth, and said unto me, Lift up now thine eyes, and see what is this that goeth forth.⁶And I said, What is it? And he said, This is an ephah that goeth forth. He said moreover, This is their resemblance through all the earth.⁷And, behold, there was lifted up a talent of lead: and this is a woman that sitteth in the midst of the ephah.⁸And he said, This is wickedness. And he cast it into the midst of the ephah and he cast the weight of lead upon the mouth thereof.⁹Then lifted I up mine eyes, and looked, and, behold, there came out two women, and the wind was in their wings for they had wings like the wings of a stork: and they lifted up the ephah between the earth and the heaven.¹⁰Then said I to the angel that talked with me, Whither do these bear the ephah?¹¹And he said unto me, To build it an house in the land of Shinar: and it shall be established, and set there upon her own base.

CHAPTER 6 ¹And I turned, and lifted up mine eyes, and looked, and, behold, there came four chariots out from between two mountains and the mountains were mountains of brass.²In the first chariot were red horses and in the second chariot black horses³And in the third chariot white horses and in the fourth chariot grisled and bay horses.⁴Then I answered and said unto the angel that talked with me, What are these, my lord?⁵And the angel answered and said unto me, These are the four spirits of the heavens, which go forth from standing before the Lord of all the earth.⁶The black horses which are therein go forth into the north country and the white go forth after them and the grisled go forth toward the south country.⁷And the bay went forth, and sought to go that they might walk to and fro through the earth: and he said, Get you hence, walk to and fro through the earth. So they walked to and fro through the earth.⁸Then cried he upon me, and spake unto me, saying, Behold, these that go toward the north country have quieted my spirit in the north country.⁹And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,¹⁰Take of them of the captivity, even of Heldai, of Tobijah, and of Jedaiah, which are come from Babylon, and come thou the same day, and go into the house of Josiah the son of Zephaniah¹¹Then take silver and gold, and make crowns, and set them upon the head of Joshua the son of Josedech, the high priest¹²And speak unto him, saying, Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, saying, Behold the man whose name is The BRANCH and he shall grow up out of his place, and he shall build the temple of the LORD:¹³Even he shall build the temple of the LORD and he shall bear the glory, and shall sit and rule upon his throne and he shall be a priest upon his throne: and the counsel of peace shall be between them both.¹⁴And the crowns shall be to Helem, and to Tobijah, and to Jedaiah, and to Hen the son of Zephaniah, for a memorial in the temple of the LORD.¹⁵And they that are far off shall come and build in the temple of the LORD, and ye shall know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto you. And this shall come to pass, if ye will diligently obey the voice of the LORD your God.

CHAPTER 7 ¹And it came to pass in the fourth year of king Darius, that the word of the LORD came unto Zechariah in the fourth day of the ninth month, even in Chisleu²When they had sent unto the house of God Sherezer and Regem-melech, and their men, to pray before the LORD,³And to speak unto the priests which were in the house of the LORD of hosts, and to the prophets, saying, Should I weep in the fifth month, separating myself, as I have done these so many years?⁴Then came the word of the LORD of hosts unto me, saying,⁵Speak unto all the people of the land, and to the priests, saying, When ye fasted and mourned in the fifth and seventh month, even those seventy years, did ye at all fast unto me, even to me?⁶And when ye did eat, and when ye did drink, did not ye eat for yourselves, and drink for yourselves?⁷Should ye not hear the words which the LORD hath cried by the former prophets, when Jerusalem was inhabited and in prosperity, and the cities thereof round about her, when men inhabited the south and the plain?⁸And the word of the LORD came unto Zechariah, saying,⁹Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, saying, Execute true judgment, and shew mercy and compassions every man to his brother:¹⁰And oppress not the widow, nor the fatherless, the stranger, nor the poor and let none of you imagine evil against his brother in your heart.¹¹But they refused to hearken, and pulled away the shoulder, and stopped their ears, that they should not hear.¹²Yea, they made their hearts as an adamant stone, lest they should hear the law, and the words which the LORD of hosts hath sent in his spirit by the former prophets: therefore came a great wrath from the LORD of hosts.¹³Therefore it is come to pass, that as he cried, and they would not hear so they cried, and I would not hear, saith the LORD of hosts:¹⁴But I scattered them with a whirlwind among all the nations whom they knew not. Thus the land was desolate after them, that no man passed through nor returned: for they laid the pleasant land desolate.

CHAPTER 8 ¹Again the word of the LORD of hosts came to me, saying,²Thus saith the LORD of hosts I was jealous for Zion with great jealousy, and I was jealous for her with great fury.³Thus saith the LORD I am returned unto Zion, and will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem: and Jerusalem shall be called a city of truth and the mountain of the LORD of hosts the holy mountain.⁴Thus saith the LORD of hosts There shall yet old men and old women dwell in the streets of Jerusalem, and every man with his staff in his hand for very age.⁵And the streets of the city shall be full of boys and girls playing in the streets thereof.⁶Thus saith the LORD of hosts If it be marvellous in the eyes of the remnant of this people in these days, should it also be marvellous in mine eyes? saith the LORD of hosts.⁷Thus saith the LORD of hosts Behold, I will save my people from the east country, and from the west country⁸And I will bring them, and they shall dwell in the midst of Jerusalem: and they shall be my people, and I will be their God, in truth and in righteousness.⁹Thus saith the LORD of hosts Let your hands be strong, ye that hear in these days these words by the mouth of the prophets, which were in the day that the foundation of the house of the LORD of hosts was laid, that the temple might be built.¹⁰For before these days there was no hire for man, nor any hire for beast neither was there any peace to him that went out or came in because of the affliction: for I set all men every one against his neighbour.¹¹But now I will not be unto the residue of this people as in the former days, saith the LORD of hosts.¹²For the seed shall be prosperous the vine shall give her fruit, and the ground shall give her increase, and the heavens shall give their dew and I will cause the remnant of this people to possess all these things.¹³And it shall come to pass, that as ye were a curse among the heathen, O house of Judah, and house of Israel so will I save you, and ye shall be a blessing: fear not, but let your hands be strong.¹⁴For thus saith the LORD of hosts As I thought to punish you, when your fathers provoked me to wrath, saith the LORD of hosts, and I repented not:¹⁵So again have I thought in these days to do well unto Jerusalem and to the house of Judah: fear ye not.¹⁶These are the things that ye shall do Speak ye every man the truth to his neighbour execute the judgment of truth and peace in your gates:¹⁷And let none of you imagine evil in your hearts against his neighbour and love no false oath: for all these are things that I hate, saith the LORD.¹⁸And the word of the LORD of hosts came unto me, saying,¹⁹Thus saith the LORD of hosts The fast of the fourth month, and the fast of the fifth, and the fast of the seventh, and the fast of the tenth, shall be to the house of Judah joy and gladness, and cheerful feasts therefore love the truth and peace.²⁰Thus saith the LORD of hosts It shall yet come to pass, that there shall come people, and the inhabitants of many cities:²¹And the inhabitants of one city shall go to another, saying, Let us go speedily to pray before the LORD, and to seek the LORD of hosts: I will go also.²²Yea, many people and strong nations shall come to seek the LORD of hosts in Jerusalem, and to pray before the LORD.²³Thus saith the LORD of hosts In those days it shall come to pass, that ten men shall take hold out of all languages of the nations, even shall take hold of the skirt of him that is a Jew, saying, We will go with you: for we have heard that God is with you.

CHAPTER 9 ¹The burden of the word of the LORD in the land of Hadrach, and Damascus shall be the rest thereof: when the eyes of man, as of all the tribes of Israel, shall be toward the LORD.²And Hamath also shall border thereby Tyrus, and Zidon, though it be very wise.³And Tyrus did build herself a strong hold, and heaped up silver as the dust, and fine gold as the mire of the streets.⁴Behold, the Lord will cast her out, and he will smite her power in the sea and she shall be devoured with fire.⁵Ashkelon shall see it, and fear Gaza also shall see it, and be very sorrowful, and Ekron for her expectation shall be ashamed and the king shall perish from Gaza, and Ashkelon shall not be inhabited.⁶And a bastard shall dwell in Ashdod, and I will cut off the pride of the Philistines.⁷And I will take away his blood out of his mouth, and his abominations from between his teeth: but he that remaineth, even he, shall be for our God, and he shall be as a governor in Judah, and Ekron as a Jebusite.⁸And I will encamp about mine house because of the army, because of him that passeth by, and because of him that returneth: and no oppressor shall pass through them any more: for now have I seen with mine eyes.⁹Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Zion shout, O daughter of Jerusalem: behold, thy King cometh unto thee: he is just, and having salvation lowly, and riding upon an ass, and upon a colt the foal of an ass.¹⁰And I will cut off the chariot from Ephraim, and the horse from Jerusalem, and the battle bow shall be cut off: and he shall speak peace unto the heathen: and his dominion shall be from sea even to sea, and from river even to the ends of the earth.¹¹As for thee also, by the blood of thy covenant I have sent forth thy prisoners out of the pit wherein is no water.¹²Turn you to the strong hold, ye prisoners of hope: even to day do I declare that I will render double unto thee¹³When I have bent Judah for me, filled the bow with Ephraim, and raised up thy sons, O Zion, against thy sons, O Greece, and made thee as the sword of a mighty man.¹⁴And the LORD shall be seen over them, and his arrow shall go forth as the lightning: and the LORD GOD shall blow the trumpet, and shall go with whirlwinds of the south.¹⁵The LORD of hosts shall defend them and they shall devour, and subdue with sling stones and they shall drink, and make a noise as through wine and they shall be filled like bowls, and as the corners of the altar.¹⁶And the LORD their God shall save them in that day as the flock of his people: for they shall be as the stones of a crown, lifted up as an ensign upon his land.¹⁷For how great is his goodness, and how great is his beauty! corn shall make the young men cheerful, and new wine the maids.

CHAPTER 10 ¹Ask ye of the LORD rain in the time of the latter rain so the LORD shall make bright clouds, and give them showers of rain, to every one grass in the field.²For the idols have spoken vanity, and the diviners have seen a lie, and have told false dreams they comfort in vain: therefore they went their way as a flock, they were troubled, because there was no shepherd.³Mine anger was kindled against the shepherds, and I punished the goats: for the LORD of hosts hath visited his flock the house of Judah, and hath made them as his goodly horse in the battle.⁴Out of him came forth the corner, out of him the nail, out of him the battle bow, out of him every oppressor together.⁵And they shall be as mighty men, which tread down their enemies in the mire of the streets in the battle: and they shall fight, because the LORD is with them, and the riders on horses shall be confounded.⁶And I will strengthen the house of Judah, and I will save the house of Joseph, and I will bring them again to place them for I have mercy upon them: and they shall be as though I had not cast them off: for I am the LORD their God, and will hear them.⁷And they of Ephraim shall be like a mighty man, and their heart shall rejoice as through wine: yea, their children shall see it, and be glad their heart shall rejoice in the LORD.⁸I will hiss for them, and gather them for I have redeemed them: and they shall increase as they have increased.⁹And I will sow them among the people: and they shall remember me in far countries and they shall live with their children, and turn again.¹⁰I will bring them again also out of the land of Egypt, and gather them out of Assyria and I will bring them into the land of Gilead and Libanus and place shall not be found for them.¹¹And he shall pass through the sea with affliction, and shall smite the waves in the sea, and all the deeps of the river shall dry up: and the pride of Assyria shall be brought down, and the sceptre of Egypt shall depart away.¹²And I will strengthen them in the LORD and they shall walk up and down in his name, saith the LORD.

CHAPTER 11 ¹Open thy doors, O Lebanon, that the fire may devour thy cedars.²Howl, fir tree for the cedar is fallen because the mighty are spoiled: howl, O ye oaks of Bashan for the forest of the vintage is come down.³There is a voice of the howling of the shepherds for their glory is spoiled: a voice of the roaring of young lions for the pride of Jordan is spoiled.⁴Thus saith the LORD my God Feed the flock of the slaughter⁵Whose possessors slay them, and hold themselves not guilty: and they that sell them say, Blessed be the LORD for I am rich: and their own shepherds pity them not.⁶For I will no more pity the inhabitants of the land, saith the LORD: but, lo, I will deliver the men every one into his neighbour's hand, and into the hand of his king: and they shall smite the land, and out of their hand I will not deliver them.⁷And I will feed the flock of slaughter, even you, O poor of the flock. And I took unto me two staves the one I called Beauty, and the other I called Bands and I fed the flock.⁸Three shepherds also I cut off in one month and my soul loathed them, and their soul also abhorred me.⁹Then said I, I will not feed you: that that dieth, let it die and that that is to be cut off, let it be cut off and let the rest eat every one the flesh of another.¹⁰And I took my staff, even Beauty, and cut it assunder, that I might break my covenant which I had made with all the people.¹¹And it was broken in that day: and so the poor of the flock that waited upon me knew that it was the word of the LORD.¹²And I said unto them, If ye think good, give me my price and if not, forbear. So they weighed for my price thirty pieces of silver.¹³And the LORD said unto me, Cast it unto the potter: a goodly price that I was prised at of them. And I took the thirty pieces of silver, and cast them to the potter in the house of the LORD.¹⁴Then I cut asunder mine other staff, even Bands, that I might break the brotherhood between Judah and Israel.¹⁵And the LORD said unto me, Take unto thee yet the instruments of a foolish shepherd.¹⁶For, lo, I will raise up a shepherd in the land, which shall not visit those that be cut off, neither shall seek the young one, nor heal that that is broken, nor feed that that standeth still: but he shall eat the flesh of the fat, and tear their claws in pieces.¹⁷Woe to the idol shepherd that leaveth the flock! the sword shall be upon his arm, and upon his right eye: his arm shall be clean dried up, and his right eye shall be utterly darkened.

CHAPTER 12 ¹The burden of the word of the LORD for Israel, saith the LORD, which stretcheth forth the heavens, and layeth the foundation of the earth, and formeth the spirit of man within him.²Behold, I will make Jerusalem a cup of trembling unto all the people round about, when they shall be in the siege both against Judah and against Jerusalem.³And in that day will I make Jerusalem a burdensome stone for all people: all that burden themselves with it shall be cut in pieces, though all the people of the earth be gathered together against it.⁴In that day, saith the LORD, I will smite every horse with astonishment, and his rider with madness: and I will open mine eyes upon the house of Judah, and will smite every horse of the people with blindness.⁵And the governors of Judah shall say in their heart, The inhabitants of Jerusalem shall be my strength in the LORD of hosts their God.⁶In that day will I make the governors of Judah like an hearth of fire among the wood, and like a torch of fire in a sheaf and they shall devour all the people round about, on the right hand and on the left: and Jerusalem shall be inhabited again in her own place, even in Jerusalem.⁷The LORD also shall save the tents of Judah first, that the glory of the house of David and the glory of the inhabitants of Jerusalem do not magnify themselves against Judah.⁸In that day shall the LORD defend the inhabitants of Jerusalem and he that is feeble among them at that day shall be as David and the house of David shall be as God, as the angel of the LORD before them.⁹And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will seek to destroy all the nations that come against Jerusalem.¹⁰And I will pour upon the house of David, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the spirit of grace and of supplications: and they shall look upon me whom they have pierced, and they shall mourn for him, as one mourneth for his only son, and shall be in bitterness for him, as one that is in bitterness for his firstborn.¹¹In that day shall there be a great mourning in Jerusalem, as the mourning of Hadadrimmon in the valley of Megiddon.¹²And the land shall mourn, every family apart the family of the house of David apart, and their wives apart the family of the house of Nathan apart, and their wives apart¹³The family of the house of Levi apart, and their wives apart the family of Shimei apart, and their wives apart¹⁴All the families that remain, every family apart, and their wives apart.

CHAPTER 13 ¹In that day there shall be a fountain opened to the house of David and to the inhabitants of Jerusalem for sin and for uncleanness.²And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the LORD of hosts, that I will cut off the names of the idols out of the land, and they shall no more be remembered: and also I will cause the prophets and the unclean spirit to pass out of the land.³And it shall come to pass, that when any shall yet prophesy, then his father and his mother that begat him shall say unto him, Thou shalt not live for thou speakest lies in the name of the LORD: and his father and his mother that begat him shall thrust him through when he prophesieth.⁴And it shall come to pass in that day, that the prophets shall be ashamed every one of his vision, when he hath prophesied neither shall they wear a rough garment to deceive.⁵But he shall say, I am no prophet, I am an husbandman for man taught me to keep cattle from my youth.⁶And one shall say unto him, What are these wounds in thine hands? Then he shall answer, Those with which I was wounded in the house of my friends.⁷Awake, O sword, against my shepherd, and against the man that is my fellow, saith the LORD of hosts: smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered: and I will turn mine hand upon the little ones.⁸And it shall come to pass, that in all the land, saith the LORD, two parts therein shall be cut off and die but the third shall be left therein.⁹And I will bring the third part through the fire, and will refine them as silver is refined, and will try them as gold is tried: they shall call on my name, and I will hear them: I will say, It is my people: and they shall say, The LORD is my God.

CHAPTER 14 ¹Behold, the day of the LORD cometh, and thy spoil shall be divided in the midst of thee.²For I will gather all nations against Jerusalem to battle and the city shall be taken, and the houses rifled, and the women ravished and half of the city shall go forth into captivity, and the residue of the people shall not be cut off from the city.³Then shall the LORD go forth, and fight against those nations, as when he fought in the day of battle.⁴And his feet shall stand in that day upon the mount of Olives, which is before Jerusalem on the east, and the mount of Olives shall cleave in the midst thereof toward the east and toward the west, and there shall be a very great valley and half of the mountain shall remove toward the north, and half of it toward the south.⁵And ye shall flee to the valley of the mountains for the valley of the mountains shall reach unto Azal:

yea, ye shall flee, like as ye fled from before the earthquake in the days of Uzziah king of Judah: and the LORD my God shall come, and all the saints with thee.⁶And it shall come to pass in that day, that the light shall not be clear, nor dark:⁷But it shall be one day which shall be known to the LORD, not day, nor night: but it shall come to pass, that at evening time it shall be light.⁸And it shall be in that day, that living waters shall go out from Jerusalem half of them toward the former sea, and half of them toward the hinder sea: in summer and in winter shall it be.⁹And the LORD shall be king over all the earth: in that day shall there be one LORD, and his name one.¹⁰All the land shall be turned as a plain from Geba to Rimmon south of Jerusalem: and it shall be lifted up, and inhabited in her place, from Benjamin's gate unto the place of the first gate, unto the corner gate, and from the tower of Hananeel unto the king's winepresses.¹¹And men shall dwell in it, and there shall be no more utter destruction but Jerusalem shall be safely inhabited.¹²And this shall be the plague wherewith the LORD will smite all the people that have fought against Jerusalem Their flesh shall consume away while they stand upon their feet, and their eyes shall consume away in their holes, and their tongue shall consume away in their mouth.¹³And it shall come to pass in that day, that a great tumult from the LORD shall be among them and they shall lay hold every one on the hand of his neighbour, and his hand shall rise up against the hand of his neighbour.¹⁴And Judah also shall fight at Jerusalem and the wealth of all the heathen round about shall be gathered together, gold, and silver, and apparel, in great abundance.¹⁵And so shall be the plague of the horse, of the mule, of the camel, and of the ass, and of all the beasts that shall be in these tents, as this plague.¹⁶And it shall come to pass, that every one that is left of all the nations which came against Jerusalem shall even go up from year to year to worship the King, the LORD of hosts, and to keep the feast of tabernacles.¹⁷And it shall be, that whoso will not come up of all the families of the earth unto Jerusalem to worship the King, the LORD of hosts, even upon them shall be no rain.¹⁸And if the family of Egypt go not up, and come not, that have no rain there shall be the plague, wherewith the LORD will smite the heathen that come not up to keep the feast of tabernacles.¹⁹This shall be the punishment of Egypt, and the punishment of all nations that come not up to keep the feast of tabernacles.²⁰In that day shall there be upon the bells of the horses, HOLINESS UNTO THE LORD and the pots in the LORD's house shall be like the bowl's before the altar.²¹Yea, every pot in Jerusalem and in Judah shall be holiness unto the LORD of hosts: and all they that sacrifice shall come and take of them, and seethe therein: and in that day there shall be no more the Canaanite in the house of the LORD of hosts.

CHAPTER 1 ¹The burden of the word of the LORD to Israel by Malachi.²I have loved you, saith the LORD. Yet ye say, Wherein hast thou loved us? Was not Esau Jacob's brother? saith the LORD: yet I loved Jacob,³And I hated Esau, and laid his mountains and his heritage waste for the dragons of the wilderness.⁴Whereas Edom saith, We are impoverished, but we will return and build the desolate places thus saith the LORD of hosts, They shall build, but I will throw down and they shall call them, The border of wickedness, and, The people against whom the LORD hath indignation for ever.⁵And your eyes shall see, and ye shall say, The LORD will be magnified from the border of Israel.⁶A son honoureth his father, and a servant his master: if then I be a father, where is mine honour? and if I be a master, where is my fear? saith the LORD of hosts unto you, O priests, that despise my name. And ye say, Wherein have we despised thy name?⁷Ye offer polluted bread upon mine altar and ye say, Wherein have we polluted thee? In that ye say, The table of the LORD is contemptible.⁸And if ye offer the blind for sacrifice, is it not evil? and if ye offer the lame and sick, is it not evil? offer it now unto thy governor will he be pleased with thee, or accept thy person? saith the LORD of hosts.⁹And now, I pray you, beseech God that he will be gracious unto us: this hath been by your means: will he regard your persons? saith the LORD of hosts.¹⁰Who is there even among you that would shut the doors for nought? neither do ye kindle fire on mine altar for nought. I have no pleasure in you, saith the LORD of hosts, neither will I accept an offering at your hand.¹¹For from the rising of the sun even unto the going down of the same my name shall be great among the Gentiles and in every place incense shall be offered unto my name, and a pure offering: for my name shall be great among the heathen, saith the LORD of hosts.¹²But ye have profaned it, in that ye say, The table of the LORD is polluted and the fruit thereof, even his meat, is contemptible.¹³Ye said also, Behold, what a weariness is it! and ye have snuffed at it, saith the LORD of hosts and ye brought that which was torn, and the lame, and the sick thus ye brought an offering: should I accept this of your hand? saith the LORD.¹⁴But cursed be the deceiver, which hath in his flock a male, and voweth, and sacrificeth unto the LORD a corrupt thing: for I am a great King, saith the LORD of hosts, and my name is dreadful among the heathen.

CHAPTER 2 ¹And now, O ye priests, this commandment is for you.²If ye will not hear, and if ye will not lay it to heart, to give glory unto my name, saith the LORD of hosts, I will even send a curse upon you, and I will curse your blessings: yea, I have cursed them already, because ye do not lay it to heart.³Behold, I will corrupt your seed, and spread dung upon your faces, even the dung of your solemn feasts and one shall take you away with it.⁴And ye shall know that I have sent this commandment unto you, that my covenant might be with Levi, saith the LORD of hosts.⁵My covenant was with him of life and peace and I gave them to him for the fear wherewith he feared me, and was afraid before my name.⁶The law of truth was in his mouth, and iniquity was not found in his lips: he walked with me in peace and equity, and did turn many away from iniquity.⁷For the priest's lips should keep knowledge, and they should seek the law at his mouth: for he is the messenger of the LORD of hosts.⁸But ye are departed out of the way ye have caused many to stumble at the law ye have corrupted the covenant of Levi, saith the LORD of hosts.⁹Therefore have I also made you contemptible and base before all the people, according as ye have not kept my ways, but have been partial in the law.¹⁰Have we not all one father? hath not one God created us? why do we deal treacherously every man against his brother, by profaning the covenant of our fathers?¹¹Judah hath dealt treacherously, and an abomination is committed in Israel and in Jerusalem for Judah hath profaned the holiness of the LORD which he loved, and hath married the daughter of a strange god.¹²The LORD will cut off the man that doeth this, the master and the scholar, out of the tabernacles of Jacob, and him that offereth an offering unto the LORD of hosts.¹³And this have ye done again, covering the altar of the LORD with tears, with weeping, and with crying out, insomuch that he regardeth not the offering any more, or receiveth it with good will at your hand.¹⁴Yet ye say, Wherefore? Because the LORD hath been witness between thee and the wife of thy youth, against whom thou hast dealt treacherously: yet is she thy companion, and the wife of thy covenant.¹⁵And did not he make one? Yet had he the residue of the spirit. And wherefore one? That he might seek a godly seed. Therefore take heed to your spirit, and let none deal treacherously against the wife of his youth.¹⁶For the LORD, the God of Israel, saith that he hateth putting away: for one covereth violence with his garment, saith the LORD of hosts: therefore take heed to your spirit, that ye deal not treacherously.¹⁷Ye have wearied the LORD with your words. Yet ye say, Wherein have we wearied him? When ye say, Every one that doeth evil is good in the sight of the LORD, and he delighteth in them or, Where is the God of judgment?

CHAPTER 3 ¹Behold, I will send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me: and the Lord, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to this temple, even the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in: behold, he shall come, saith the LORD of hosts.²But who may abide the day of his coming? and who shall stand when he appeareth? for he is like a refiner's fire, and like fullers' soap:³And he shall sit as a refiner and purifier of silver: and he shall purify the sons of Levi, and purge them as gold and silver, that they may offer unto the LORD an offering in righteousness.⁴Then shall the offering of Judah and Jerusalem be pleasant unto the LORD, as in the days of old, and as in former years.⁵And I will come near to you to judgment and I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, and against the adulterers, and against false swearers, and against those that oppress the hireling in his wages, the widow, and the fatherless, and that turn aside the stranger from his right, and fear not me, saith the LORD of hosts.⁶For I am the LORD, I change not therefore ye sons of Jacob are not consumed.⁷Even from the days of your fathers ye are gone away from mine ordinances, and have not kept them. Return unto me, and I will return unto you, saith the LORD of hosts. But ye said, Wherein shall we return?⁸Will a man rob God? Yet ye have robbed me. But ye say, Wherein have we robbed thee? In tithes and offerings.⁹Ye are cursed with a curse: for ye have robbed me, even this whole nation.¹⁰Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the LORD of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it.¹¹And I will rebuke the devourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruits of your ground saith the LORD of hosts.¹²And all nations shall call you blessed: for ye shall be a delightsome land, saith the LORD of hosts.¹³Your words have been stout against me, saith the LORD. Yet ye say, What have we spoken so much against thee?¹⁴Ye have said, It is vain to serve God: and what profit is it that we have kept his ordinance, and that we have walked mournfully before the LORD of hosts?¹⁵And now we call the proud happy yea, they that work wickedness are set up yea, they that tempt God are even delivered.¹⁶Then they that feared the LORD spake often one to another: and the LORD hearkened, and heard it, and a book of remembrance was written before him for them that feared the LORD, and that thought upon his name.¹⁷And they shall be mine, saith the LORD of hosts, in that day when I make up my jewels and I will spare them, as a man spareth his own son that serveth him.¹⁸Then shall ye return, and discern between the righteous and the wicked, between him that serveth God and him that serveth him not.

CHAPTER 4 ¹For, behold, the day cometh, that shall burn as an oven and all the proud, yea, and all that do wickedly, shall be stubble: and the day that cometh shall burn them up, saith the LORD of hosts, that it shall leave them neither root nor branch.²But unto you that fear my name shall the Sun of righteousness arise with healing in his wings and ye shall go forth, and grow up as calves of the stall.³And ye shall tread down the wicked for they shall be ashes under the soles of your feet in the day that I shall do this, saith the LORD of hosts.⁴Remember ye the law of Moses my servant, which I commanded unto him in Horeb for all Israel, with the statutes and judgments.⁵Behold, I will send you Elijah the prophet before the coming of the great and dreadful day of the LORD:⁶And he shall turn the heart of the fathers to the children, and the heart of the children to their fathers, lest I come and smite the earth with a curse.

THE NEW TESTAMENT

MATTHEW

CHAPTER 1 ¹The book of the generation of Jesus Christ, the son of David, the son of Abraham.²Abraham begat Isaac and Isaac begat Jacob and Jacob begat Judas and his brethren³And Judas begat Phares and Zara of Thamar and Phares begat Esrom and Esrom begat Aram⁴And Aram begat Aminadab and Aminadab begat Naasson and Naasson begat Salmon⁵And Salmon begat Booz of Rachab and Booz begat Obed of Ruth and Obed begat

Jesse⁶And Jesse begat David the king and David the king begat Solomon of her that had been the wife of Urias⁷And Solomon begat Roboam and Roboam begat Abia and Abia begat Asa⁸And Asa begat Josaphat and Josaphat begat Joram and Joram begat Ozias⁹And Ozias begat Joatham and Joatham begat Achaz and Achaz begat Ezekias¹⁰And Ezekias begat Manasses and Manasses begat Amon and Amon begat Josias¹¹And Josias begat Jechonias and his brethren, about the time they were carried away to Babylon:¹²And after they were brought to Babylon, Jechonias begat Salathiel and Salathiel begat Zorobabel¹³And Zorobabel begat Abiud and Abiud begat Eliakim and Eliakim begat Azor¹⁴And Azor begat Sadoc and Sadoc begat Achim and Achim begat Eliud¹⁵And Eliud begat Eleazar and Eleazar begat Matthan and Matthan begat Jacob¹⁶And Jacob begat Joseph the husband of Mary, of whom was born Jesus, who is called Christ.¹⁷So all the generations from Abraham to David are fourteen generations and from David until the carrying away into Babylon are fourteen generations and from the carrying away into Babylon unto Christ are fourteen generations.¹⁸Now the birth of Jesus Christ was on this wise: When as his mother Mary was espoused to Joseph, before they came together, she was found with child of the Holy Ghost.¹⁹Then Joseph her husband, being a just man, and not willing to make her a publick example, was minded to put her away privily.²⁰But while he thought on these things, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Joseph, thou son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife: for that which is conceived in her is of the Holy Ghost.²¹And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name JESUS: for he shall save his people from their sins.²²Now all this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying,²³Behold, a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and they shall call his name Emmanuel, which being interpreted is, God with us.²⁴Then Joseph being raised from sleep did as the angel of the Lord had bidden him, and took unto him his wife:²⁵And knew her not till she had brought forth her firstborn son: and he called his name JESUS.

CHAPTER 2 ¹Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judaea in the days of Herod the king, behold, there came wise men from the east to Jerusalem,²Saying, Where is he that is born King of the Jews? for we have seen his star in the east, and are come to worship him.³When Herod the king had heard these things, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him.⁴And when he had gathered all the chief priests and scribes of the people together, he demanded of them where Christ should be born.⁵And they said unto him, In Bethlehem of Judaea: for thus it is written by the prophet,⁶And thou Bethlehem, in the land of Juda, art not the least among the princes of Juda: for out of thee shall come a Governor, that shall rule my people Israel.⁷Then Herod, when he had privily called the wise men, inquired of them diligently what time the star appeared.⁸And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, Go and search diligently for the young child and when ye have found him, bring me word again, that I may come and worship him also.⁹When they had heard the king, they departed and, lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was.¹⁰When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy.¹¹And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary his mother, and fell down, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto him gifts gold, and frankincense, and myrrh.¹²And being warned of God in a dream that they should not return to Herod, they departed into their own country another way.¹³And when they were departed, behold, the angel of the Lord appeareth to Joseph in a dream, saying, Arise, and take the young child and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be thou there until I bring thee word: for Herod will seek the young child to destroy him.¹⁴When he arose, he took the young child and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt:¹⁵And was there until the death of Herod: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying, Out of Egypt have I called my son.¹⁶Then Herod, when he saw that he was mocked of the wise men, was exceeding wroth, and sent forth, and slew all the children that were in Bethlehem, and in all the coasts thereof, from two years old and under, according to the time which he had diligently inquired of the wise men.¹⁷Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jeremy the prophet, saying,¹⁸In Rama was there a voice heard, lamentation, and weeping, and great mourning, Rachel weeping for her children, and would not be comforted, because they are not.¹⁹But when Herod was dead, behold, an angel of the Lord appeareth in a dream to Joseph in Egypt,²⁰Saying, Arise, and take the young child and his mother, and go into the land of Israel: for they are dead which sought the young child's life.²¹And he arose, and took the young child and his mother, and came into the land of Israel.²²But when he heard that Archelaus did reign in Judaea in the room of his father Herod, he was afraid to go thither: notwithstanding, being warned of God in a dream, he turned aside into the parts of Galilee:²³And he came and dwelt in a city called Nazareth: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophets, He shall be called a Nazarene.

CHAPTER 3 ¹In those days came John the Baptist, preaching in the wilderness of Judaea,²And saying, Repent ye: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.³For this is he that was spoken of by the prophet Esaias, saying, The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.⁴And the same John had his raiment of camel's hair, and a leathern girdle about his loins and his meat was locusts and wild honey.⁵Then went out to him Jerusalem, and all Judaea, and all the region round about Jordan,⁶And were baptized of him in Jordan, confessing their sins.⁷But when he saw many of the Pharisees and Sadducees come to his baptism, he said unto them, O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the wrath to come?⁸Bring forth therefore fruits meet for repentance:⁹And think not to say within yourselves, We have Abraham to our father: for I say unto you, that God is able of these stones to raise up children unto Abraham.¹⁰And now also the axe is laid unto the root of the trees: therefore every tree which bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire.¹¹I indeed baptize you with water unto repentance: but he that cometh after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to bear: he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost, and with fire:¹²Whose fan is in his hand, and he will thoroughly purge his floor, and gather his wheat into the garner but he will burn up the chaff with unquenchable fire.¹³Then cometh Jesus from Galilee to Jordan unto John, to be baptized of him.¹⁴But John forbad him, saying, I have need to be baptized of thee, and comest thou to me?¹⁵And Jesus answering said unto him, Suffer it to be so now: for thus it becometh us to fulfil all righteousness. Then he suffered him.¹⁶And Jesus, when he was baptized, went up straightway out of the water: and, lo, the heavens were opened unto him, and he saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove, and lighting upon him:¹⁷And lo a voice from heaven, saying, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

CHAPTER 4 ¹Then was Jesus led up of the Spirit into the wilderness to be tempted of the devil.²And when he had fasted forty days and forty nights, he was afterward an hungred.³And when the tempter came to him, he said, If thou be the Son of God, command that these stones be made bread.⁴But he answered and said, It is written, Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.⁵Then the devil taketh him up into the holy city, and setteth him on a pinnacle of the temple,⁶And saith unto him, If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down: for it is written, He shall give his angels charge concerning thee: and in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone.⁷Jesus said unto him, It is written again, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.⁸Again, the devil taketh him up into an exceeding high mountain, and sheweth him all the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them⁹And saith unto him, All these things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me.¹⁰Then saith Jesus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.¹¹Then the devil leaveth him, and, behold, angels came and ministered unto him.¹²Now when Jesus had heard that John was cast into prison, he departed into Galilee¹³And leaving Nazareth, he came and dwelt in Capernaum, which is upon the sea coast, in the borders of Zabulon and Nephthalim:¹⁴That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying,¹⁵The land of Zabulon, and the land of Nephthalim, by the way of the sea, beyond Jordan, Galilee of the Gentiles¹⁶The people which sat in darkness saw great light and to them which sat in the region and shadow of death light is sprung up.¹⁷From that time Jesus began to preach, and to say, Repent: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.¹⁸And Jesus, walking by the sea of Galilee, saw two brethren, Simon called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea: for they were fishers.¹⁹And he saith unto them, Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men.²⁰And they straightway left their nets, and followed him.²¹And going on from thence, he saw other two brethren, James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, in a ship with Zebedee their father, mending their nets and he called them.²²And they immediately left the ship and their father, and followed him.²³And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people.²⁴And his fame went throughout all Syria: and they brought unto him all sick people that were taken with divers diseases and torments, and those which were possessed with devils, and those which were lunatick, and those that had the palsy and he healed them.²⁵And there followed him great multitudes of people from Galilee, and from Decapolis, and from Jerusalem, and from Judaea, and from beyond Jordan.

CHAPTER 5 ¹And seeing the multitudes, he went up into a mountain: and when he was set, his disciples came unto him:²And he opened his mouth, and taught them, saying,³Blessed are the poor in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.⁴Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted.⁵Blessed are the meek: for they shall inherit the earth.⁶Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled.⁷Blessed are the merciful: for they shall obtain mercy.⁸Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God.⁹Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called the children of God.¹⁰Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.¹¹Blessed are ye, when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake.¹²Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great is your reward in heaven: for so persecuted they the prophets which were before you.¹³Ye are the salt of the earth: but if the salt have lost his savour, wherewith shall it be salted? it is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be trodden under foot of men.¹⁴Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on an hill cannot be hid.¹⁵Neither do men light a candle, and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick and it giveth light unto all that are in the house.¹⁶Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven.¹⁷Think not that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets: I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil.¹⁸For verily I say unto you, Till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law, till all be fulfilled.¹⁹Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven: but whosoever shall do and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven.²⁰For I say unto you, That except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdom of heaven.²¹Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not kill and whosoever shall kill shall be in danger of the judgment:²²But I say unto you, That whosoever is angry with his brother without a cause shall be in danger of the judgment: and whosoever shall say to his brother, Raca, shall be in danger of the council: but whosoever shall say, Thou fool, shall be in danger of hell fire.²³Therefore if thou bring thy gift to the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath ought against thee²⁴Leave there thy gift before the altar, and go thy way first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift.²⁵Agree with thine adversary quickly, whiles thou art in the way with him lest at any time the adversary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and thou be cast into prison.²⁶Verily I say unto thee, Thou shalt by no means come out thence, till thou hast paid the uttermost farthing.²⁷Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, Thou shalt not commit adultery:²⁸But I say unto you, That whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart.²⁹And if thy right eye offend thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell.³⁰And if thy right hand offend thee, cut it off, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell.³¹It hath been said, Whosoever shall put away his wife, let him give her a writing of divorcement:³²But I say unto you, That whosoever shall put away his wife, saving for the cause of fornication, causeth her to commit adultery: and whosoever shall marry her that is divorced committeth adultery.³³Again, ye have heard that it hath been said by them of old time, Thou shalt not forswear thyself, but shalt perform unto the Lord thine oaths:³⁴But I say unto you, Swear not at all neither by heaven for it is God's throne:³⁵Nor by the earth for it is his footstool: neither by Jerusalem for it is the city of the great King.³⁶Neither shalt thou swear by thy head, because thou canst not make one hair white or black.³⁷But let your communication be, Yea, yea Nay, nay: for whatsoever is more than these cometh of evil.³⁸Ye have heard that it hath been said, An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth:³⁹But I say unto you, That ye resist not evil: but whosoever shall smite thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also.⁴⁰And if any man will sue thee at the law, and take away thy coat, let him have thy cloke also.⁴¹And whosoever shall compel thee to go a mile, go with him twain.⁴²Give to him that asketh thee, and from him that would borrow of thee turn not thou away.⁴³Ye have heard that it hath been said, Thou shalt love thy neighbour, and hate thine enemy.⁴⁴But I say unto you, Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you⁴⁵That ye may be the children of your Father which is in heaven: for he maketh his sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust.⁴⁶For if ye love them which love you, what reward have ye? do not even the publicans the same?⁴⁷And if ye salute your brethren only, what do ye more than others? do not even the publicans so?⁴⁸Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect.

CHAPTER 6 ¹Take heed that ye do not your alms before men, to be seen of them: otherwise ye have no reward of your Father which is in heaven.²Therefore when thou doest thine alms, do not sound a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may have glory of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.³But when thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth:⁴That thine alms may be in secret: and thy Father which seeth in secret himself shall reward thee openly.⁵And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are: for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.⁶But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly.⁷But when ye pray, use not vain repetitions, as the heathen do: for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking.⁸Be not ye therefore like unto them: for your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him.⁹After this manner therefore pray ye: Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name.¹⁰Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven.¹¹Give us this day our daily bread.¹²And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors.¹³And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil: For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever. Amen.¹⁴For if ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you:¹⁵But if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.¹⁶Moreover when ye fast, be not, as the hypocrites, of a sad countenance: for they disfigure their faces, that they may appear unto men to fast. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.¹⁷But thou, when thou fastest, anoint thine head, and wash thy face¹⁸That thou appear not unto men to fast, but unto thy Father which is in secret: and thy Father, which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly.¹⁹Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal:²⁰But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal:²¹For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.²²The light of the body is the eye: if therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light.²³But if thine eye be evil, thy whole body shall be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in thee be darkness, how great is that darkness!²⁴No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.²⁵Therefore I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than meat, and the body than raiment?²⁶Behold the fowls of the air: for they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are ye not much better than they?²⁷Which of you by taking thought can add one cubit unto his stature?²⁸And why take ye thought for raiment? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow they toil not, neither do they spin:²⁹And yet I say unto you, That even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.³⁰Wherefore, if God so clothe the grass of the field, which to day is, and to morrow is cast into the oven, shall he not much more clothe you, O ye of little faith?³¹Therefore take no thought, saying, What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, Wherewithal shall we be clothed?³²(For after all these things do the Gentiles seek:) for your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things.³³But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness and all these things shall be added unto you.³⁴Take therefore no thought for the morrow: for the morrow shall take thought for the things of itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof.

CHAPTER 7 ¹Judge not, that ye be not judged.²For with what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged: and with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you again.³And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye?⁴Or how wilt thou say to thy brother, Let me pull out the mote out of thine eye and, behold, a beam is in thine own eye?⁵Thou hypocrite, first cast out the beam out of thine own eye and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brother's eye.⁶Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rend you.⁷Ask, and it shall be given you seek, and ye shall find knock, and it shall be opened unto you.⁸For every one that asketh receiveth and he that seeketh findeth and to him that knocketh it shall be opened.⁹Or what man is there of you, whom if his son ask bread, will he give him a stone?¹⁰Or if he ask a fish, will he give him a serpent?¹¹If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your Father which is in heaven give good things to them that ask him?¹²Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the law and the prophets.¹³Enter ye in at the strait gate: for wide is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat:¹⁴Because strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it.¹⁵Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves.¹⁶Ye shall know them by their fruits. Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles?¹⁷Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit but a corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit.¹⁸A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit.¹⁹Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire.²⁰Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them.²¹Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven.²²Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name? and in thy name have cast out devils? and in thy name done many wonderful works?²³And then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: depart from me, ye that work iniquity.²⁴Therefore whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man, which built his house upon a rock:²⁵And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house and it fell not: for it was founded upon a rock.²⁶And every one that heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man, which built his house upon the sand:²⁷And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house and it fell: and great was the fall of it.²⁸And it came to pass, when Jesus had ended these sayings, the people were astonished at his doctrine:²⁹For he taught them as one having authority, and not as the scribes.

CHAPTER 8 ¹When he was come down from the mountain, great multitudes followed him.²And, behold, there came a leper and worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.³And Jesus put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will be thou clean. And immediately his leprosy was cleansed.⁴And Jesus saith unto him, See thou tell no man but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer the gift that Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.⁵And when Jesus was entered into Capernaum, there came unto him a centurion, beseeching him,⁶And saying, Lord, my servant lieth at home sick of the palsy, grievously tormented.⁷And Jesus saith unto him, I will come and heal him.⁸The centurion answered and said, Lord, I am not worthy that thou shouldest come under my roof: but speak the word only, and my servant shall be healed.⁹For I am a man under authority, having soldiers under me: and I say to this man, Go, and he goeth and to another, Come, and he cometh and to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it.¹⁰When Jesus heard it, he marvelled, and said to them that followed, Verily I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no, not in Israel.¹¹And I say unto you, That many shall come from the east and west, and shall sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, in the kingdom of heaven.¹²But the children of the kingdom shall be cast out into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.¹³And Jesus said unto the centurion, Go thy way and as thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee. And his servant was healed in the selfsame hour.¹⁴And when Jesus was come into Peter's house, he saw his wife's mother laid, and sick of a fever.¹⁵And he touched her hand, and the fever left her: and she arose, and ministered unto them.¹⁶When the even was come, they brought unto him many that were possessed with devils: and he cast out the spirits with his word, and healed all that were sick:¹⁷That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying, Himself took our infirmities, and bare our sicknesses.¹⁸Now when Jesus saw great multitudes about him, he gave commandment to depart unto the other side.¹⁹And a certain scribe came, and said unto him, Master, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest.²⁰And Jesus saith unto him, The foxes have holes, and the birds of the air have nests but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head.²¹And another of his disciples said unto him, Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my father.²²But Jesus said unto him, Follow me and let the dead bury their dead.²³And when he was entered into a ship, his disciples followed him.²⁴And, behold, there arose a great tempest in the sea, insomuch that the ship was covered with the waves: but he was asleep.²⁵And his disciples came to him, and awoke him, saying, Lord, save us: we perish.²⁶And he saith unto them, Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith? Then he arose, and rebuked the winds and the sea and there was a great calm.²⁷But the men marvelled, saying, What manner of man is this, that even the winds and the sea obey him!²⁸And when he was come to the other side into the country of the Gergesenes, there met him two possessed with devils, coming out of the tombs, exceeding fierce, so that no man might pass by that way.²⁹And, behold, they cried out, saying, What have we to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of God? art thou come hither to torment us before the time?³⁰ And there was a good way off from them an herd of many swine feeding.³¹ So the devils besought him, saying, If thou cast us out, suffer us to go away into the herd of swine.³² And he said unto them, Go. And when they were come out, they went into the herd of swine: and, behold, the whole herd of swine ran violently down a steep place into the sea, and perished in the waters.³³ And they that kept them fled, and went their ways into the city, and told every thing, and what was befallen to the possessed of the devils.³⁴ And, behold, the whole city came out to meet Jesus: and when they saw him, they besought him that he would depart out of their coasts.

CHAPTER 9 ¹And he entered into a ship, and passed over, and came into his own city.² And, behold, they brought to him a man sick of the palsy, lying on a bed: and Jesus seeing their faith said unto the sick of the palsy Son, be of good cheer thy sins be forgiven thee.³ And, behold, certain of the scribes said within themselves, This man blasphemeth.⁴ And Jesus knowing their thoughts said, Wherefore think ye evil in your hearts?⁵ For whether is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee or to say, Arise, and walk?⁶ But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (then saith he to the sick of the palsy,) Arise, take up thy bed, and go unto thine house.⁷ And he arose, and departed to his house.⁸ But when the multitudes saw it, they marvelled, and glorified God, which had given such power unto men.⁹ And as Jesus passed forth from thence, he saw a man, named Matthew, sitting at the receipt of custom: and he saith unto him, Follow me. And he arose, and followed him.¹⁰ And it came to pass, as Jesus sat at meat in the house, behold, many publicans and sinners came and sat down with him and his disciples.¹¹ And when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto his disciples, Why eateth your Master with publicans and sinners?¹² But when Jesus heard that, he said unto them, They that be whole need not a physician, but they that are sick.¹³ But go ye and learn what that meaneth, I will have mercy, and not sacrifice: for I am not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.¹⁴ Then came to him the disciples of John, saying, Why do we and the Pharisees fast oft, but thy disciples fast not?¹⁵ And Jesus said unto them, Can the children of the bridechamber mourn, as long as the bridegroom is with them? but the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken from them, and then shall they fast.¹⁶ No man putteth a piece of new cloth unto an old garment, for that which is put in to fill it up taketh from the garment, and the rent is made worse.¹⁷ Neither do men put new wine into old bottles: else the bottles break, and the wine runneth out, and the bottles perish: but they put new wine into new bottles, and both are preserved.¹⁸ While he spake these things unto them, behold, there came a certain ruler, and worshipped him, saying, My daughter is even now dead: but come and lay thy hand upon her, and she shall live.¹⁹ And Jesus arose, and followed him, and so did his disciples.²⁰ And, behold, a woman, which was diseased with an issue of blood twelve years, came behind him, and touched the hem of his garment:²¹ For she said within herself, If I may but touch his garment, I shall be whole.²² But Jesus turned him about, and when he saw her, he said, Daughter, be of good comfort thy faith hath made thee whole. And the woman was made whole from that hour.²³ And when Jesus came into the ruler's house, and saw the minstrels and the people making a noise,²⁴ He said unto them, Give place: for the maid is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him to scorn.²⁵ But when the people were put forth, he went in, and took her by the hand, and the maid arose.²⁶ And the fame hereof went abroad into all that land.²⁷ And when Jesus departed thence, two blind men followed him, crying, and saying, Thou Son of David, have mercy on us.²⁸ And when he was come into the house, the blind men came to him: and Jesus saith unto them, Believe ye that I am able to do this? They said unto him, Yea, Lord.²⁹ Then touched he their eyes, saying, According to your faith be it unto you.³⁰ And their eyes were opened and Jesus straitly charged them, saying, See that no man know it.³¹ But they, when they were departed, spread abroad his fame in all that country.³² As they went out, behold, they brought to him a dumb man possessed with a devil.³³ And when the devil was cast out, the dumb spake: and the multitudes marvelled, saying, It was never so seen in Israel.³⁴ But the Pharisees said, He casteth out devils through the prince of the devils.³⁵And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people.³⁶But when he saw the multitudes, he was moved with compassion on them, because they fainted, and were scattered abroad, as sheep having no shepherd.³⁷Then saith he unto his disciples, The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few³⁸Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth labourers into his harvest.

CHAPTER 10 ¹And when he had called unto him his twelve disciples, he gave them power against unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sickness and all manner of disease.²Now the names of the twelve apostles are these The first, Simon, who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother³Philip, and Bartholomew Thomas, and Matthew the publican James the son of Alphaeus, and Lebbaeus, whose surname was Thaddaeus⁴Simon the Canaanite, and Judas Iscariot, who also betrayed him.⁵These twelve Jesus sent forth, and commanded them, saying, Go not into the way of the Gentiles, and into any city of the Samaritans enter ye not:⁶But go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel.⁷And as ye go, preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven is at hand.⁸Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils: freely ye have received, freely give.⁹Provide neither gold, nor silver, nor brass in your purses,¹⁰Nor scrip for your journey, neither two coats, neither shoes, nor yet staves: for the workman is worthy of his meat.¹¹And into whatsoever city or town ye shall enter, inquire who in it is worthy and there abide till ye go thence.¹²And when ye come into an house, salute it.¹³And if the house be worthy, let your peace come upon it: but if it be not worthy, let your peace return to you.¹⁴And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words, when ye depart out of that house or city, shake off the dust of your feet.¹⁵Verily I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom and Gomorrha in the day of judgment, than for that city.¹⁶Behold, I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves: be ye therefore wise as serpents, and harmless as doves.¹⁷But beware of men: for they will deliver you up to the councils, and they will scourge you in their synagogues¹⁸And ye shall be brought before governors and kings for my sake, for a testimony against them and the Gentiles.¹⁹But when they deliver you up, take no thought how or what ye shall speak: for it shall be given you in that same hour what ye shall speak.²⁰For it is not ye that speak, but the Spirit of your Father which speaketh in you.²¹And the brother shall deliver up the brother to death, and the father the child: and the children shall rise up against their parents, and cause them to be put to death.²²And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: but he that endureth to the end shall be saved.²³But when they persecute you in this city, flee ye into another: for verily I say unto you, Ye shall not have gone over the cities of Israel, till the Son of man be come.²⁴The disciple is not above his master, nor the servant above his lord.²⁵It is enough for the disciple that he be as his master, and the servant as his lord. If they have called the master of the house Beelzebub, how much more shall they call them of his household?²⁶Fear them not therefore: for there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed and hid, that shall not be known.²⁷What I tell you in darkness, that speak ye in light: and what ye hear in the ear, that preach ye upon the housetops.²⁸And fear not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell.²⁹Are not two sparrows sold for a farthing? and one of them shall not fall on the ground without your Father.³⁰But the very hairs of your head are all numbered.³¹Fear ye not therefore, ye are of more value than many sparrows.³²Whosoever therefore shall confess me before men, him will I confess also before my Father which is in heaven.³³But whosoever shall deny me before men, him will I also deny before my Father which is in heaven.³⁴Think not that I am come to send peace on earth: I came not to send peace, but a sword.³⁵For I am come to set a man at variance against his father, and the daughter against her mother, and the daughter in law against her mother in law.³⁶And a man's foes shall be they of his own household.³⁷He that loveth father or mother more than me is not worthy of me: and he that loveth son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me.³⁸And he that taketh not his cross, and followeth after me, is not worthy of me.³⁹He that findeth his life shall lose it: and he that loseth his life for my sake shall find it.⁴⁰He that receiveth you receiveth me, and he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me.⁴¹He that receiveth a prophet in the name of a prophet shall receive a prophet's reward and he that receiveth a righteous man in the name of a righteous man shall receive a righteous man's reward.⁴²And whosoever shall give to drink unto one of these little ones a cup of cold water only in the name of a disciple, verily I say unto you, he shall in no wise lose his reward.

CHAPTER 11 ¹And it came to pass, when Jesus had made an end of commanding his twelve disciples, he departed thence to teach and to preach in their cities.²Now when John had heard in the prison the works of Christ, he sent two of his disciples,³And said unto him, Art thou he that should come, or do we look for another?⁴Jesus answered and said unto them, Go and shew John again those things which ye do hear and see:⁵The blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, and the poor have the gospel preached to them.⁶And blessed is he, whosoever shall not be offended in me.⁷And as they departed, Jesus began to say unto the multitudes concerning John, What went ye out into the wilderness to see? A reed shaken with the wind?⁸But what went ye out for to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? behold, they that wear soft clothing are in kings' houses.⁹But what went ye out for to see? A prophet? yea, I say unto you, and more than a prophet.¹⁰For this is he, of whom it is written, Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.¹¹Verily I say unto you, Among them that are born of women there hath not risen a greater than John the Baptist: notwithstanding he that is least in the kingdom of heaven is greater than he.¹²And from the days of John the Baptist until now the kingdom of heaven suffereth violence, and the violent take it by force.¹³For all the prophets and the law prophesied until John.¹⁴And if ye will receive it, this is Elias, which was for to come.¹⁵He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.¹⁶But whereunto shall I liken this generation? It is like unto children sitting in the markets, and calling unto their fellows,¹⁷And saying, We have piped unto you, and ye have not danced we have mourned unto you, and ye have not lamented.¹⁸For John came neither eating nor drinking, and they say, He hath a devil.¹⁹The Son of man came eating and drinking, and they say, Behold a man gluttonous, and a winebibber, a friend of publicans and sinners. But wisdom is justified of her children.²⁰Then began he to upbraid the cities wherein most of his mighty works were done, because they repented not:²¹Woe unto thee, Chorazin! woe unto thee, Bethsaida! for if the mighty works, which were done in you, had been done in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes.²²But I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon at the day of judgment, than for you.²³And thou, Capernaum, which art exalted unto heaven, shalt be brought down to hell: for if the mighty works, which have been done in thee, had been done in Sodom, it would have remained until this day.²⁴But I say unto you, That it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom in the day of judgment, than for thee.²⁵At that time Jesus answered and said, I thank thee,

O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes.²⁶Even so, Father: for so it seemed good in thy sight.²⁷All things are delivered unto me of my Father: and no man knoweth the Son, but the Father neither knoweth any man the Father, save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son will reveal him.²⁸Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.²⁹Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls.³⁰For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.

CHAPTER 12 ¹At that time Jesus went on the sabbath day through the corn and his disciples were an hungred, and began to pluck the ears of corn, and to eat.²But when the Pharisees saw it, they said unto him, Behold, thy disciples do that which is not lawful to do upon the sabbath day.³But he said unto them, Have ye not read what David did, when he was an hungred, and they that were with him?⁴How he entered into the house of God, and did eat the shewbread, which was not lawful for him to eat, neither for them which were with him, but only for the priests?⁵Or have ye not read in the law, how that on the sabbath days the priests in the temple profane the sabbath, and are blameless?⁶But I say unto you, That in this place is one greater than the temple.⁷But if ye had known what this meaneth, I will have mercy, and not sacrifice, ye would not have condemned the guiltless.⁸For the Son of man is Lord even of the sabbath day.⁹And when he was departed thence, he went into their synagogue:¹⁰And, behold, there was a man which had his hand withered. And they asked him, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath days? that they might accuse him.¹¹And he said unto them, What man shall there be among you, that shall have one sheep, and if it fall into a pit on the sabbath day, will he not lay hold on it, and lift it out?¹²How much then is a man better than a sheep? Wherefore it is lawful to do well on the sabbath days.¹³Then saith he to the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it forth and it was restored whole, like as the other.¹⁴Then the Pharisees went out, and held a council against him, how they might destroy him.¹⁵But when Jesus knew it, he withdrew himself from thence: and great multitudes followed him, and he healed them all¹⁶And charged them that they should not make him known:¹⁷That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the prophet, saying,¹⁸Behold my servant, whom I have chosen my beloved, in whom my soul is well pleased: I will put my spirit upon him, and he shall shew judgment to the Gentiles.¹⁹He shall not strive, nor cry neither shall any man hear his voice in the streets.²⁰A bruised reed shall he not break, and smoking flax shall he not quench, till he send forth judgment unto victory.²¹And in his name shall the Gentiles trust.²²Then was brought unto him one possessed with a devil, blind, and dumb: and he healed him, insomuch that the blind and dumb both spake and saw.²³And all the people were amazed, and said, Is not this the son of David?²⁴But when the Pharisees heard it, they said, This fellow doth not cast out devils, but by Beelzebub the prince of the devils.²⁵And Jesus knew their thoughts, and said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand:²⁶And if Satan cast out Satan, he is divided against himself how shall then his kingdom stand?²⁷And if I by

Beelzebub cast out devils, by whom do your children cast them out? therefore they shall be your judges.²⁸But if I cast out devils by the Spirit of God, then the kingdom of God is come unto you.²⁹Or else how can one enter into a strong man's house, and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man? and then he will spoil his house.³⁰He that is not with me is against me and he that gathereth not with me scattereth abroad.³¹Wherefore I say unto you, All manner of sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men: but the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost shall not be forgiven unto men.³²And whosoever speaketh a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but whosoever speaketh against the Holy Ghost, it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, neither in the world to come.³³Either make the tree good, and his fruit good or else make the tree corrupt, and his fruit corrupt: for the tree is known by his fruit.³⁴O generation of vipers, how can ye, being evil, speak good things? for out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh.³⁵A good man out of the good treasure of the heart bringeth forth good things: and an evil man out of the evil treasure bringeth forth evil things.³⁶But I say unto you, That every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgment.³⁷For by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned.³⁸Then certain of the scribes and of the Pharisees answered, saying, Master, we would see a sign from thee.³⁹But he answered and said unto them, An evil and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign and there shall no sign be given to it, but the sign of the prophet Jonas:⁴⁰For as Jonas was three days and three nights in the whale's belly so shall the Son of man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth.⁴¹The men of Nineveh shall rise in judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: because they repented at the preaching of Jonas and, behold, a greater than Jonas is here.⁴²The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: for she came from the uttermost parts of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon and, behold, a greater than Solomon is here.⁴³When the unclean spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through dry places, seeking rest, and findeth none.⁴⁴Then he saith, I will return into my house from whence I came out and when he is come, he findeth it empty, swept, and garnished.⁴⁵Then goeth he, and taketh with himself seven other spirits more wicked than himself, and they enter in and dwell there: and the last state of that man is worse than the first. Even so shall it be also unto this wicked generation.⁴⁶While he yet talked to the people, behold, his mother and his brethren stood without, desiring to speak with him.⁴⁷Then one said unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to speak with thee.⁴⁸But he answered and said unto him that told him, Who is my mother? and who are my brethren?⁴⁹And he stretched forth his hand toward his disciples, and said, Behold my mother and my brethren!⁵⁰For whosoever shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother.

CHAPTER 13 ¹The same day went Jesus out of the house, and sat by the sea side.²And great multitudes were gathered together unto him, so that he went into a ship, and sat and the whole multitude stood on the shore.³And he spake many things unto them in parables, saying, Behold, a sower went forth to sow⁴And when he sowed, some seeds fell by the way side, and the fowls came and devoured them up:⁵Some fell upon stony places, where they had not much earth: and forthwith they sprung up, because they had no deepness of earth:⁶And when the sun was up, they were scorched and because they had no root, they withered away.⁷And some fell among thorns and the thorns sprung up, and choked them:⁸But other fell into good ground, and brought forth fruit, some an hundredfold, some sixtyfold, some thirtyfold.⁹Who hath ears to hear, let him hear.¹⁰And the disciples came, and said unto him, Why speakest thou unto them in parables?¹¹He answered and said unto them, Because it is given unto you to know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it is not given.¹²For whosoever hath, to him shall be given, and he shall have more abundance: but whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken away even that he hath.¹³Therefore speak I to them in parables: because they seeing see not and hearing they hear not, neither do they understand.¹⁴And in them is fulfilled the prophecy of Esaias, which saith, By hearing ye shall hear, and shall not understand and seeing ye shall see, and shall not perceive:¹⁵For this people's heart is waxed gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes they have closed lest at any time they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and should understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them.¹⁶But blessed are your eyes, for they see: and your ears, for they hear.¹⁷For verily I say unto you, That many prophets and righteous men have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them.¹⁸Hear ye therefore the parable of the sower.¹⁹When any one heareth the word of the kingdom, and understandeth it not, then cometh the wicked one, and catcheth away that which was sown in his heart. This is he which received seed by the way side.²⁰But he that received the seed into stony places, the same is he that heareth the word, and anon with joy receiveth it²¹Yet hath he not root in himself, but dureth for a while: for when tribulation or persecution ariseth because of the word, by and by he is offended.²²He also that received seed among the thorns is he that heareth the word and the care of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches, choke the word, and he becometh unfruitful.²³But he that received seed into the good ground is he that heareth the word, and understandeth it which also beareth fruit, and bringeth forth, some an hundredfold, some sixty, some thirty.²⁴Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a man which sowed good seed in his field:²⁵But while men slept, his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way.²⁶But when the blade was sprung up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also.²⁷So the servants of the householder came and said unto him, Sir, didst not thou sow good seed in thy field? from whence then hath it tares?²⁸He said unto them, An enemy hath done this. The servants said unto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them up?²⁹But he said, Nay lest while ye gather up the tares, ye root up also the wheat with them.³⁰Let both grow together until the harvest: and in the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather ye together first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but gather the wheat into my barn.³¹Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, The kingdom of heaven is like to a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and sowed in his field:³²Which indeed is the least of all seeds: but when it is grown, it is the greatest among herbs, and becometh a tree, so that the birds of the air come and lodge in the branches thereof.³³Another parable spake he unto them The kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took, and hid in three measures of meal, till the whole was leavened.³⁴All these things spake Jesus unto the multitude in parables and without a parable spake he not unto them:³⁵That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying, I will open my mouth in parables I will utter things which have been kept secret from the foundation of the world.³⁶Then Jesus sent the multitude away, and went into the house: and his disciples came unto him, saying, Declare unto us the parable of the tares of the field.³⁷He answered and said unto them, He that soweth the good seed is the Son of man³⁸The field is the world the good seed are the children of the kingdom but the tares are the children of the wicked one³⁹The enemy that sowed them is the devil the harvest is the end of the world and the reapers are the angels.⁴⁰As therefore the tares are gathered and burned in the fire so shall it be in the end of this world.⁴¹The Son of man shall send forth his angels, and they shall gather out of his kingdom all things that offend, and them which do iniquity⁴²And shall cast them into a furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.⁴³Then shall the righteous shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. Who hath ears to hear, let him hear.⁴⁴Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto treasure hid in a field the which when a man hath found, he hideth, and for joy thereof goeth and selleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field.⁴⁵Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a merchant man, seeking goodly pearls:⁴⁶Who, when he had found one pearl of great price, went and sold all that he had, and bought it.⁴⁷Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a net, that was cast into the sea, and gathered of every kind:⁴⁸Which, when it was full, they drew to shore, and sat down, and gathered the good into vessels, but cast the bad away.⁴⁹So shall it be at the end of the world: the angels shall come forth, and sever the wicked from among the just,⁵⁰And shall cast them into the furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.⁵¹Jesus saith unto them,

Have ye understood all these things? They say unto him, Yea, Lord.⁵²Then said he unto them, Therefore every scribe which is instructed unto the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is an householder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure things new and old.⁵³And it came to pass, that when Jesus had finished these parables, he departed thence.⁵⁴And when he was come into his own country, he taught them in their synagogue, insomuch that they were astonished, and said, Whence hath this man this wisdom, and these mighty works?⁵⁵Is not this the carpenter's son? is not his mother called Mary? and his brethren, James, and Joses, and Simon, and Judas?⁵⁶And his sisters, are they not all with us? Whence then hath this man all these things?⁵⁷And they were offended in him. But Jesus said unto them, A prophet is not without honour, save in his own country, and in his own house.⁵⁸And he did not many mighty works there because of their unbelief.

CHAPTER 14 ¹At that time Herod the tetrarch heard of the fame of Jesus,²And said unto his servants, This is John the Baptist he is risen from the dead and therefore mighty works do shew forth themselves in him.³For Herod had laid hold on John, and bound him, and put him in prison for Herodias' sake, his brother Philip's wife.⁴For John said unto him, It is not lawful for thee to have her.⁵And when he would have put him to death, he feared the multitude, because they counted him as a prophet.⁶But when Herod's birthday was kept, the daughter of Herodias danced before them, and pleased Herod.⁷Whereupon he promised with an oath to give her whatsoever she would ask.⁸And she, being before instructed of her mother, said, Give me here John Baptist's head in a charger.⁹And the king was sorry: nevertheless for the oath's sake, and them which sat with him at meat, he commanded it to be given her.¹⁰And he sent, and beheaded John in the prison.¹¹And his head was brought in a charger, and given to the damsel: and she brought it to her mother.¹²And his disciples came, and took up the body, and buried it, and went and told Jesus.¹³When Jesus heard of it, he departed thence by ship into a desert place apart: and when the people had heard thereof, they followed him on foot out of the cities.¹⁴And Jesus went forth, and saw a great multitude, and was moved with compassion toward them, and he healed their sick.¹⁵And when it was evening, his disciples came to him, saying, This is a desert place, and the time is now past send the multitude away, that they may go into the villages, and buy themselves victuals.¹⁶But Jesus said unto them, They need not depart give ye them to eat.¹⁷And they say unto him, We have here but five loaves, and two fishes.¹⁸He said, Bring them hither to me.¹⁹And he commanded the multitude to sit down on the grass, and took the five loaves, and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he blessed, and brake, and gave the loaves to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.²⁰And they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up of the fragments that remained twelve baskets full.²¹And they that had eaten were about five thousand men, beside women and children.²²And straightway Jesus constrained his disciples to get into a ship, and to go before him unto the other side, while he sent the multitudes away.²³And when he had sent the multitudes away, he went up into a mountain apart to pray: and when the evening was come, he was there alone.²⁴But the ship was now in the midst of the sea, tossed with waves: for the wind was contrary.²⁵And in the fourth watch of the night Jesus went unto them, walking on the sea.²⁶And when the disciples saw him walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, It is a spirit and they cried out for fear.²⁷But straightway Jesus spake unto them, saying, Be of good cheer it is I be not afraid.²⁸And Peter answered him and said, Lord, if it be thou, bid me come unto thee on the water.²⁹And he said, Come. And when Peter was come down out of the ship, he walked on the water, to go to Jesus.³⁰But when he saw the wind boisterous, he was afraid and beginning to sink, he cried, saying, Lord, save me.³¹And immediately Jesus stretched forth his hand, and caught him, and said unto him, O thou of little faith, wherefore didst thou doubt?³²And when they were come into the ship, the wind ceased.³³Then they that were in the ship came and worshipped him, saying, Of a truth thou art the Son of God.³⁴And when they were gone over, they came into the land of Gennesaret.³⁵And when the men of that place had knowledge of him, they sent out into all that country round about, and brought unto him all that were

CHAPTER 15 ¹Then came to Jesus scribes and Pharisees, which were of Jerusalem, saying,²Why do thy disciples transgress the tradition of the elders? for they wash not their hands when they eat bread.³But he answered and said unto them, Why do ye also transgress the commandment of God by your tradition?⁴For God commanded, saying, Honour thy father and mother: and, He that curseth father or mother, let him die the death.⁵But ye say, Whosoever shall say to his father or his mother, It is a gift, by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me⁶And honour not his father or his mother, he shall be free. Thus have ye made the commandment of God of none effect by your tradition.⁷Ye hypocrites, well did Esaias prophesy of you, saying,⁸This people draweth nigh unto me with their mouth, and honoureth me with their lips but their heart is far from me.⁹But in vain they do worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men.¹⁰And he called the multitude, and said unto them, Hear, and understand:¹¹Not that which goeth into the mouth defileth a man but that which cometh out of the mouth, this defileth a man.¹²Then came his disciples, and said unto him, Knowest thou that the Pharisees were offended, after they heard this saying?¹³But he answered and said, Every plant, which my heavenly Father hath not planted, shall be rooted up.¹⁴Let them alone: they be blind leaders of the blind. And if the blind lead the blind, both shall fall into the ditch.¹⁵Then answered Peter and said unto him, Declare unto us this parable.¹⁶And Jesus said, Are ye also yet without understanding?¹⁷Do not ye yet understand, that whatsoever entereth in at the mouth goeth into the belly, and is cast out into the draught?¹⁸But those things which proceed out of the mouth come forth from the heart and they defile the man.¹⁹For out of the heart proceed evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies:²⁰These are the things which defile a man: but to eat with unwashen hands defileth not a man.²¹Then Jesus went thence, and departed into the coasts of Tyre and Sidon.²²And, behold, a woman of Canaan came out of the same coasts, and cried unto him, saying, Have mercy on me, O Lord, thou Son of David my daughter is grievously vexed with a devil.²³But he answered her not a word. And his disciples came and besought him, saying, Send her away for she crieth after us.²⁴But he answered and said, I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Israel.²⁵Then came she and worshipped him, saying, Lord, help me.²⁶But he answered and said, It is not meet to take the children's bread, and to cast it to dogs.²⁷And she said, Truth, Lord: yet the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from their masters' table.²⁸Then Jesus answered and said unto her, O woman, great is thy faith: be it unto thee even as thou wilt. And her daughter was made whole from that very hour.²⁹And Jesus departed from thence, and came nigh unto the sea of Galilee and went up into a mountain, and sat down there.³⁰And great multitudes came unto him, having with them those that were lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and cast them down at Jesus' feet and he healed them:³¹Insomuch that the multitude wondered, when they saw the dumb to speak, the maimed to be whole, the lame to walk, and the blind to see: and they glorified the God of Israel.³²Then Jesus called his disciples unto him, and said, I have compassion on the multitude, because they continue with me now three days, and have nothing to eat: and I will not send them away fasting, lest they faint in the way.³³And his disciples say unto him, Whence should we have so much bread in the wilderness, as to fill so great a multitude?³⁴And Jesus saith unto them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, Seven, and a few little fishes.³⁵And he commanded the multitude to sit down on the ground.³⁶And he took the seven loaves and the fishes, and gave thanks, and brake them, and gave to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.³⁷And they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up of the broken meat that was left seven baskets full.³⁸And they that did eat were four thousand men, beside women and children.³⁹And he sent away the multitude, and took ship, and came into the coasts of Magdala,

CHAPTER 16 ¹The Pharisees also with the Sadducees came, and tempting desired him that he would shew them a sign from heaven.²He answered and said unto them, When it is evening, ye say, It will be fair weather: for the sky is red.³And in the morning, It will be foul weather to day: for the sky is red and lowring. O ye hypocrites, ye can discern the face of the sky but can ye not discern the signs of the times?⁴A wicked and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign and there shall no sign be given unto it, but the sign of the prophet Jonas. And he left them, and departed.⁵And when his disciples were come to the other side, they had forgotten to take bread.⁶Then Jesus said unto them, Take heed and beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees.⁷And they reasoned among themselves, saying, It is because we have taken no bread.⁸Which when Jesus perceived, he said unto them, O ye of little faith, why reason ye among yourselves, because ye have brought no bread?⁹Do ye not yet understand, neither remember the five loaves of the five thousand, and how many baskets ye took up?¹⁰Neither the seven loaves of the four thousand, and how many baskets ye took up?¹¹How is it that ye do not understand that I spake it not to you concerning bread, that ye should beware of the leaven of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees?¹²Then understood they how that he bade them not

beware of the leaven of bread, but of the doctrine of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees.¹³When Jesus came into the coasts of Caesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, saying, Whom do men say that I the Son of man am?¹⁴And they said, Some say that thou art John the Baptist: some, Elias and others, Jeremias, or one of the prophets.¹⁵He saith unto them, But whom say ye that I am?¹⁶And Simon Peter answered and said, Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God.¹⁷And Jesus answered and said unto him, Blessed art thou, Simon Barjona: for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven.¹⁸And I say also unto thee, That thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it.¹⁹And I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven.²⁰Then charged he his disciples that they should tell no man that he was Jesus the Christ.²¹From that time forth began Jesus to shew unto his disciples, how that he must go unto Jerusalem, and suffer many things of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and be raised again the third day.²²Then Peter took him, and began to rebuke him, saying, Be it far from thee, Lord: this shall not be unto thee.²³But he turned, and said unto Peter, Get thee behind me, Satan: thou art an offence unto me: for thou savourest not the things that be of God, but those that be of men.²⁴Then said Jesus unto his disciples, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me.²⁵For whosoever will save his life shall lose it: and whosoever will lose his life for my sake shall find it.²⁶For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?²⁷For the Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father with his angels and then he shall reward every man according to his works.²⁸Verily I say unto you, There be some standing here, which shall not taste of death, till they see the Son of man coming in his kingdom.

before them: and his face did shine as the sun, and his raiment was white as the light.³And, behold, there appeared unto them Moses and Elias talking with him.⁴Then answered Peter, and said unto Jesus, Lord, it is good for us to be here: if thou wilt, let us make here three tabernacles one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.⁵While he yet spake, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them: and behold a voice out of the cloud, which said, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased hear ye him.⁶And when the disciples heard it, they fell on their face, and were sore afraid.⁷And Jesus came and touched them, and said, Arise, and be not afraid.⁸And when they had lifted up their eyes, they saw no man, save Jesus only.⁹And as they came down from the mountain, Jesus charged them, saying, Tell the vision to no man, until the Son of man be risen again from the dead.¹⁰And his disciples asked him, saying, Why then say the scribes that Elias must first come?¹¹And Jesus answered and said unto them, Elias truly shall first come, and restore all things.¹²But I say unto you, That Elias is come already, and they knew him not, but have done unto him whatsoever they listed. Likewise shall also the Son of man suffer of them.¹³ Then the disciples understood that he spake unto them of John the Baptist.¹⁴ And when they were come to the multitude, there came to him a certain man, kneeling down to him, and saying,¹⁵ Lord, have mercy on my son: for he is lunatick, and sore vexed: for oftentimes he falleth into the fire, and oft into the water.¹⁶ And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not cure him.¹⁷ Then Jesus answered and said, O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? bring him hither to me.¹⁸ And Jesus rebuked the devil and he departed out of him: and the child was cured from that very hour.¹⁹ Then came the disciples to Jesus apart, and said, Why could not we cast him out?²⁰ And Jesus said unto them, Because of your unbelief: for verily I say unto you, If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place and it shall remove and nothing shall be impossible unto you.²¹ Howbeit this kind goeth not out but by prayer and fasting.²² And while they abode in Galilee, Jesus said unto them, The Son of man shall be betrayed into the hands of men:²³ And they shall kill him, and the third day he shall be raised again. And they were exceeding sorry.²⁴ And when they were come to Capernaum, they that received tribute money came to Peter, and said, Doth not your master pay tribute?²⁵ He saith, Yes. And when he was come into the house, Jesus prevented him, saying, What thinkest thou, Simon? of whom do the kings of the earth take custom or tribute? of their own children, or of strangers?²⁶ Peter saith unto him, Of strangers. Jesus saith unto him, Then are the children free.²⁷ Notwithstanding, lest we should offend them, go thou to the sea, and cast an hook, and take up the fish that first cometh up and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt find a piece of money: that take, and give unto them for me and thee.

CHAPTER 18 ¹At the same time came the disciples unto Jesus, saying, Who is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven?² And Jesus called a little child unto him, and set him in the midst of them,³ And said, Verily I say unto you, Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven.⁴ Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is greatest in the kingdom of heaven.⁵ And whoso shall receive one such little child in my name receiveth me.⁶ But whoso shall offend one of these little ones which believe in me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea.⁷ Woe unto the world because of offences! for it must needs be that offences come but woe to that man by whom the offence cometh!⁸ Wherefore if thy hand or thy foot offend thee, cut them off, and cast them from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life halt or maimed, rather than having two hands or two feet to be cast into everlasting fire.⁹ And if thine eye offend thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life with one eye, rather than having two eyes to be cast into hell fire.¹⁰ Take heed that ye despise not one of these little ones for I say unto you, That in heaven their angels do always behold the face of my Father which is in heaven.¹¹ For the Son of man is come to save that which was lost.¹² How think ye? if a man have an hundred sheep, and one of them be gone astray, doth he not leave the ninety and nine, and goeth into the mountains, and seeketh that which is gone astray?¹³ And if so be that he find it, verily I say unto you, he rejoiceth more of that sheep, than of the ninety and nine which went not astray.¹⁴ Even so it is not the will of your Father which is in heaven, that one of these little ones should perish.¹⁵ Moreover if thy brother shall trespass against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone: if he shall hear thee, thou hast gained thy brother.¹⁶ But if he will not hear thee, then take with thee one or two more, that in the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established.¹⁷ And if he shall neglect to hear them, tell it unto the church: but if he neglect to hear the church, let him be unto thee as an heathen man and a publican.¹⁸ Verily I say unto you, Whatsoever ye shall bind on earth shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever ye shall loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven.¹⁹ Again I say unto you, That if two of you shall agree on earth as touching any thing that they shall ask, it shall be done for them of my Father which is in heaven.²⁰ For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them.²¹ Then came Peter to him, and said, Lord, how oft shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? till seven times?²² Jesus saith unto him, I say not unto thee, Until seven times: but, Until seventy times seven.²³ Therefore is the kingdom of heaven likened unto a certain king, which would take account of his servants.²⁴ And when he had begun to reckon, one was brought unto him, which owed him ten thousand talents.²⁵ But forasmuch as he had not to pay, his lord commanded him to be sold, and his wife, and children, and all that he had, and payment to be made.²⁶ The servant therefore fell down, and worshipped him, saying, Lord, have patience with me, and I will pay thee all.²⁷ Then the lord of that servant was moved with compassion, and loosed him, and forgave him the debt.²⁸ But the same servant went out, and found one of his fellowservants, which owed him an hundred pence: and he laid hands on him, and took him by the throat, saying, Pay me that thou owest.²⁹ And his fellowservant fell down at his feet, and besought him, saying, Have patience with me, and I will pay thee all.³⁰ And he would not: but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay the debt.³¹ So when his fellowservants saw what was done, they were very sorry, and came and told unto their lord all that was done.³² Then his lord, after that he had called him, said unto him, O thou wicked servant, I forgave thee all that debt, because thou desiredst me:³³ Shouldest not thou also have had compassion on thy fellowservant, even as I had pity on thee?³⁴ And his lord was wroth, and delivered him to the tormentors, till he should pay all that was due unto him.³⁵ So likewise shall my heavenly Father do also unto you, if ye from your hearts forgive not every one his brother their trespasses.

CHAPTER 19 ¹And it came to pass, that when Jesus had finished these sayings, he departed from Galilee, and came into the coasts of Judaea beyond Jordan² And great multitudes followed him and he healed them there.³ The Pharisees also came unto him, tempting him, and saying unto him, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife for every cause?⁴ And he answered and said unto them, Have ye not read, that he which made them at the beginning made them male and female,⁵ And said, For this cause shall a man leave father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife: and they twain shall be one flesh?⁶Wherefore they are no more twain, but one flesh. What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder.⁷They say unto him, Why did Moses then command to give a writing of divorcement, and to put her away?⁸He saith unto them, Moses because of the hardness of your hearts suffered you to put away your wives: but from the beginning it was not so.⁹And I say unto you, Whosoever shall put away his wife, except it be for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery: and whoso marrieth her which is put away doth commit adultery.¹⁰His disciples say unto him, If the case of the man be so with his wife, it is not good to marry.¹¹But he said unto them, All men cannot receive this saying, save they to whom it is given.¹²For there are some eunuchs, which were so born from their mother's womb: and there are some eunuchs, which were made eunuchs of men: and there be eunuchs, which have made themselves eunuchs for the kingdom of heaven's sake. He that is able to receive it, let him receive it.¹³Then were there brought unto him little children, that he should put his hands on them, and pray: and the disciples rebuked them.¹⁴But

Jesus said, Suffer little children, and forbid them not, to come unto me: for of such is the kingdom of heaven.¹⁵And he laid his hands on them, and departed thence.¹⁶And, behold, one came and said unto him, Good Master, what good thing shall I do, that I may have eternal life?¹⁷And he said unto him, Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, that is, God: but if thou wilt enter into life, keep the commandments.¹⁸He saith unto him, Which? Jesus said, Thou shalt do no murder, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness,¹⁹Honour thy father and thy mother: and, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.²⁰The young man saith unto him, All these things have I kept from my youth up: what lack I yet?²¹Jesus said unto him, If thou wilt be perfect, go and sell that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come and follow me.²²But when the young man heard that saying, he went away sorrowful: for he had great possessions.²³Then said Jesus unto his disciples, Verily I say unto you, That a rich man shall hardly enter into the kingdom of heaven.²⁴And again I say unto you, It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.²⁵When his disciples heard it, they were exceedingly amazed, saying, Who then can be saved?²⁶But Jesus beheld them, and said unto them, With men this is impossible but with God all things are possible.²⁷Then answered Peter and said unto him, Behold, we have forsaken all, and followed thee what shall we have therefore?²⁸And Jesus said unto them, Verily I say unto you, That ye which have followed me, in the regeneration when the Son of man shall sit in the throne of his glory, ye also shall sit upon twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel.²⁹And every one that hath forsaken houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my name's sake, shall receive an hundredfold, and shall inherit everlasting life.³⁰But many that are first shall be last and the last shall be first.

CHAPTER 20 ¹For the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is an householder, which went out early in the morning to hire labourers into his vineyard.²And when he had agreed with the labourers for a penny a day, he sent them into his vineyard.³And he went out about the third hour, and saw others standing idle in the marketplace,⁴And said unto them Go ye also into the vineyard, and whatsoever is right I will give you. And they went their way.⁵Again he went out about the sixth and ninth hour, and did likewise.⁶And about the eleventh hour he went out, and found others standing idle, and saith unto them, Why stand ye here all the day idle?⁷They say unto him, Because no man hath hired us. He saith unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard and whatsoever is right, that shall ye receive.⁸So when even was come, the lord of the vineyard saith unto his steward, Call the labourers, and give them their hire, beginning from the last unto the first.⁹And when they came that were hired about the eleventh hour, they received every man a penny.¹⁰But when the first came, they supposed that they should have received more and they likewise received every man a penny.¹¹And when they had received it, they murmured against the goodman of the house,¹²Saying, These last have wrought but one hour, and thou hast made them equal unto us, which have borne the burden and heat of the day.¹³But he answered one of them, and said, Friend, I do thee no wrong: didst not thou agree with me for a penny?¹⁴Take that thine is, and go thy way: I will give unto this last, even as unto thee.¹⁵Is it not lawful for me to do what I will with mine own? Is thine eye evil, because I am good?¹⁶So the last shall be first, and the first last: for many be called, but few chosen.¹⁷And Jesus going up to Jerusalem took the twelve disciples apart in the way, and said unto them,¹⁸Behold, we go up to Jerusalem and the Son of man shall be betrayed unto the chief priests and unto the scribes, and they shall condemn him to death,¹⁹And shall deliver him to the Gentiles to mock, and to scourge, and to crucify him: and the third day he shall rise again.²⁰Then came to him the mother of Zebedee's children with her sons, worshipping him, and desiring a certain thing of him.²¹And he said unto her, What wilt thou? She saith unto him, Grant that these my two sons may sit, the one on thy right hand, and the other on the left, in thy kingdom.²²But Jesus answered and said, Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able to drink of the cup that I shall drink of, and to be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with? They say unto him, We are able.²³And he saith unto them, Ye shall drink indeed of my cup, and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with: but to sit on my right hand, and on my left, is not mine to give, but it shall be given to them for whom it is prepared of my Father.²⁴And when the ten heard it, they were moved with indignation against the two brethren.²⁵But Jesus called them unto him, and said, Ye know that the princes of the Gentiles exercise dominion over them, and they that are great exercise authority upon them.²⁶But it shall not be so among you: but whosoever will be great among you, let him be your minister²⁷And whosoever will be chief among you, let him be your servant:²⁸Even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.²⁹And as they departed from Jericho, a great multitude followed him.³⁰And, behold, two blind men sitting by the way side, when they heard that Jesus passed by, cried out, saying, Have mercy on us, O Lord, thou Son of David.³¹And the multitude rebuked them, because they should hold their peace: but they cried the more, saying, Have mercy on us, O Lord, thou Son of David.³²And Jesus stood still, and called them, and said, What will ye that I shall do unto you?³³ They say unto him, Lord, that our eyes may be opened.³⁴ So Jesus had compassion on them, and touched their eyes: and immediately their eyes received sight, and they followed him.

CHAPTER 21 ¹And when they drew nigh unto Jerusalem, and were come to Bethphage, unto the mount of Olives, then sent Jesus two disciples,² Saying unto them, Go into the village over against you, and straightway ye shall find an ass tied, and a colt with her: loose them, and bring them unto me.³ And if any man say ought unto you, ye shall say, The Lord hath need of them and straightway he will send them.⁴ All this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying,⁵ Tell ye the daughter of Sion, Behold, thy King cometh unto thee, meek, and sitting upon an ass, and a colt the foal of an ass.⁶ And the disciples went, and did as Jesus commanded them,⁷ And brought the ass, and the colt, and put on them their clothes, and they set him thereon.⁸ And a very great multitude spread their garments in the way others cut down branches from the trees, and strawed them in the way.⁹ And the multitudes that went before, and that followed, cried, saying, Hosanna to the Son of David: Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord Hosanna in the highest.¹⁰ And when he was come into Jerusalem, all the city was moved, saying, Who is this?¹¹ And the multitude said, This is Jesus the prophet of Nazareth of Galilee.¹² And Jesus went into the temple of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the moneychangers, and the seats of them that sold doves,¹³ And said unto them, It is written, My house shall be called the house of prayer but ye have made it a den of thieves.¹⁴ And the blind and the lame came to him in the temple and he healed them.¹⁵ And when the chief priests and scribes saw the wonderful things that he did, and the children crying in the temple, and saying, Hosanna to the Son of David they were sore displeased,¹⁶ And said unto him, Hearest thou what these say? And Jesus saith unto them, Yea have ye never read, Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast perfected praise?¹⁷ And he left them, and went out of the city into Bethany and he lodged there.¹⁸ Now in the morning as he returned into the city, he hungered.¹⁹And when he saw a fig tree in the way, he came to it, and found nothing thereon, but leaves only, and said unto it, Let no fruit grow on thee henceforward for ever. And presently the fig tree withered away.²⁰And when the disciples saw it, they marvelled, saying, How soon is the fig tree withered away!²¹Jesus answered and said unto them, Verily I say unto you, If ye have faith, and doubt not, ye shall not only do this which is done to the fig tree, but also if ye shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea it shall be done.²²And all things, whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive.²³And when he was come into the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people came unto him as he was teaching, and said, By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee this authority?²⁴And Jesus answered and said unto them, I also will ask you one thing, which if ye tell me, I in like wise will tell you by what authority I do these things.²⁵The baptism of John, whence was it? from heaven, or of men? And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven he will say unto us, Why did ye not then believe him?²⁶But if we shall say, Of men we fear the people for all hold John as a prophet.²⁷And they answered Jesus, and said, We cannot tell. And he said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.²⁸But what think ye? A certain man had two sons and he came to the first, and said, Son, go work to day in my vineyard.²⁹He answered and said, I will not: but afterward he repented, and went.³⁰And he came to the second, and said likewise. And he answered and said, I go, sir: and went not.³¹Whether of them twain did the will of his father? They say unto him, The first. Jesus saith unto them, Verily I say unto you, That the publicans and the harlots go into the kingdom of God before you.³²For John came unto you in the way of righteousness, and ye believed him not: but the publicans and the harlots believed him: and ye, when ye had seen it, repented not afterward, that ye might believe him.³³Hear another parable: There was a certain householder, which planted a vineyard, and hedged it round about, and digged a winepress in it, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a far country:³⁴And when the time of the fruit drew near, he sent his servants to the husbandmen, that they might receive the fruits of it.³⁵ And the husbandmen took his servants, and beat one, and killed another, and stoned another.³⁶ Again, he sent other servants more than the first: and they did unto them likewise.³⁷ But last of all he sent unto them his son, saying, They will reverence my son.³⁸ But when the husbandmen saw the son, they said among themselves, This is the heir come, let us kill him, and let us seize on his inheritance.³⁹ And they caught him, and cast him out of the vineyard, and slew him.⁴⁰ When the lord therefore of the vineyard cometh, what will he do unto those husbandmen?⁴¹ They say unto him, He will miserably destroy those wicked men, and will let out his vineyard unto other husbandmen, which shall render him the fruits in their seasons.⁴² Jesus saith unto them, Did ye never read in the scriptures, The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner: this is the Lord's doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes?⁴³ Therefore say I unto you, The kingdom of God shall be taken from you, and given to a nation bringing forth the fruits thereof.⁴⁴ And whosoever shall fall on this stone shall be broken: but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grind him to powder.⁴⁵ And when the chief priests and Pharisees had heard his parables, they perceived that he spake of them.⁴⁶ But when they sought to lay hands on him, they feared the multitude, because they took him for a prophet.

CHAPTER 22 ¹And Jesus answered and spake unto them again by parables, and said,²The kingdom of heaven is like unto a certain king, which made a marriage for his son,³And sent forth his servants to call them that were bidden to the wedding: and they would not come.⁴Again, he sent forth other servants, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Behold, I have prepared my dinner: my oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come unto the marriage.⁵But they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his farm, another to his merchandise:⁶And the remnant took his servants, and entreated them spitefully, and slew them.⁷But when the king heard thereof, he was wroth: and he sent forth his armies, and destroyed those murderers, and burned up their city.⁸Then saith he to his servants, The wedding is ready, but they which were bidden were not worthy.⁹Go ye therefore into the highways, and as many as ye shall find, bid to the marriage.¹⁰So those servants went out into the highways, and gathered together all as many as they found, both bad and good: and the wedding was furnished with guests.¹¹And when the king came in to see the guests, he saw there a man which had not on a wedding garment:¹²And he saith unto him, Friend, how camest thou in hither not having a wedding garment? And he was speechless.¹³Then said the king to the servants, Bind him hand and foot, and take him away, and cast him into outer darkness there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.¹⁴For many are called, but few are chosen.¹⁵Then went the Pharisees, and took counsel how they might entangle him in his talk.¹⁶And they sent out unto him their disciples with the Herodians, saying, Master, we know that thou art true, and teachest the way of God in truth, neither carest thou for any man: for thou regardest not the person of men.¹⁷Tell us therefore, What thinkest thou? Is it lawful to give tribute unto Caesar, or not?¹⁸But Jesus perceived their wickedness, and said, Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites?¹⁹Shew me the tribute money. And they brought unto him a penny.²⁰And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription?²¹They say unto him, Caesar's. Then saith he unto them, Render therefore unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's and unto God the things that are God's.²²When they had heard these words, they marvelled, and left him, and went their way.²³The same day came to him the Sadducees, which say that there is no resurrection, and asked him,²⁴Saying, Master, Moses said, If a man die, having no children, his brother shall marry his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother.²⁵Now there were with us seven brethren: and the first, when he had married a wife, deceased, and, having no issue, left his wife unto his brother:²⁶Likewise the second also, and the third, unto the seventh.²⁷And last of all the woman died also.²⁸Therefore in the resurrection whose wife shall she be of the seven? for they all had her.²⁹Jesus answered and said unto them, Ye do err, not knowing the scriptures, nor the power of God.³⁰For in the resurrection they neither marry, nor are given in marriage, but are as the angels of God in heaven.³¹But as touching the resurrection of the dead, have ye not read that which was spoken unto you by God, saying,³²I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? God is not the God of the dead, but of the living.³³And when the multitude heard this, they were astonished at his doctrine.³⁴But when the Pharisees had heard that he had put the Sadducees to silence, they were gathered together.³⁵Then one of them, which was a lawyer, asked him a question, tempting him, and saying,³⁶Master, which is the great commandment in the law?³⁷Jesus said unto him, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind.³⁸This is the first and great commandment.³⁹And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.⁴⁰On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets.⁴¹While the Pharisees were gathered together, Jesus asked them,⁴²Saying, What think ye of Christ? whose son is he? They say unto him, The Son of David.⁴³He saith unto them, How then doth David in spirit call him Lord, saying,⁴⁴The LORD said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool?⁴⁵If David then call him Lord, how is he his son?⁴⁶And no man was able to answer him a word, neither durst any man from that day forth ask him any more questions.

CHAPTER 23 ¹Then spake Jesus to the multitude, and to his disciples,²Saying, The scribes and the Pharisees sit in Moses' seat:³All therefore whatsoever they bid you observe, that observe and do but do not ye after their works: for they say, and do not.⁴For they bind heavy burdens and grievous to be borne, and lay them on men's shoulders but they themselves will not move them with one of their fingers.⁵But all their works they do for to be seen of men: they make broad their phylacteries, and enlarge the borders of their garments,⁶And love the uppermost rooms at feasts, and the chief seats in the synagogues,⁷And greetings in the markets, and to be called of men, Rabbi, Rabbi.⁸But be not ye called Rabbi: for one is your Master, even Christ and all ye are brethren.⁹And call no man your father upon the earth: for one is your Father, which is in heaven.¹⁰Neither be ye called masters: for one is your Master, even Christ.¹¹But he that is greatest among you shall be your servant.¹²And whosoever shall exalt himself shall be abased and he that shall humble himself shall be exalted.¹³But woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye shut up the kingdom of heaven against men: for ye neither go in yourselves, neither suffer ye them that are entering to go in.¹⁴Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayer: therefore ye shall receive the greater damnation.¹⁵Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye compass sea and land to make one proselyte, and when he is made, ye make him twofold more the child of hell than yourselves.¹⁶Woe unto you, ye blind guides, which say, Whosoever shall swear by the temple, it is nothing but whosoever shall swear by the gold of the temple, he is a debtor!¹⁷Ye fools and blind: for whether is greater, the gold, or the temple that sanctifieth the gold?¹⁸And, Whosoever shall swear by the altar, it is nothing but whosoever sweareth by the gift that is upon it, he is guilty.¹⁹Ye fools and blind: for whether is greater, the gift, or the altar that sanctifieth the gift?²⁰Whoso therefore shall swear by the altar, sweareth by it, and by all things thereon.²¹And whoso shall swear by the temple, sweareth by it, and by him that dwelleth therein.²²And he that shall swear by heaven, sweareth by the throne of God, and by him that sitteth thereon.²³Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye pay tithe of mint and anise and cummin, and have omitted the weightier matters of the law, judgment, mercy, and faith: these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone.²⁴Ye blind guides, which strain at a gnat, and swallow a camel.²⁵Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye make clean the outside of the cup and of the platter, but within they are full of extortion and excess.²⁶Thou blind Pharisee, cleanse first that which is within the cup and platter, that the outside of them may be clean also.²⁷Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye are like unto whited sepulchres, which indeed appear beautiful outward, but are within full of dead men's bones, and of all uncleanness.²⁸Even so ye also outwardly appear righteous unto men, but within ye are full of hypocrisy and iniquity.²⁹Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! because ye build the tombs of the prophets, and garnish the sepulchres of the righteous,³⁰And say, If we had been in the days of our fathers, we would not have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets.³¹Wherefore ye be witnesses unto yourselves, that ye are the children of them which killed the prophets.³²Fill ye up then the measure of your fathers.³³Ye serpents, ye generation of vipers, how can ye escape the damnation of hell?³⁴Wherefore, behold, I send unto you prophets, and wise men, and scribes: and some of them ye shall kill and crucify and some of them shall ye scourge in your synagogues, and persecute them from city to city:³⁵That upon you may come all the righteous blood shed upon the earth, from the blood of righteous Abel unto the blood of Zacharias son of Barachias, whom ye slew between the temple and the altar.³⁶Verily I say unto you, All these things shall come upon this generation.³⁷O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, thou that killest the prophets, and stonest them which are sent unto thee, how often would I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her chickens under her wings, and ye would not!³⁸Behold, your house is left unto you desolate.³⁹For I say unto you, Ye shall not see me henceforth, till ye shall say, Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

CHAPTER 24 ¹And Jesus went out, and departed from the temple: and his disciples came to him for to shew him the buildings of the temple.²And Jesus said unto them, See ye not all these things? verily I say unto you, There shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.³And as he sat upon the mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him privately, saying, Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of thy coming, and of the end of the world?⁴And Jesus answered and said unto them, Take heed that no man deceive you.⁵For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ and shall deceive many.⁶And ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars: see that ye be not troubled: for all these things must come to pass, but the end is not yet.⁷For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be famines, and pestilences, and earthquakes, in divers places.⁸All these are the beginning of sorrows.⁹Then shall they deliver you up to be afflicted, and shall kill you: and ye shall be hated of all nations for my name's sake.¹⁰And then shall many be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another.¹¹And many false prophets shall rise, and shall deceive many.¹²And because iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold.¹³But he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved.¹⁴And this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations and then shall the end come.¹⁵When ye therefore shall see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by Daniel the prophet, stand in the holy place, (whoso readeth, let him understand:)¹⁶Then let them which be in Judaea flee into the mountains:¹⁷Let him which is on the housetop not come down to take any thing out of his house:¹⁸Neither let him which is in the field return back to take his clothes.¹⁹And woe unto them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those days!²⁰But pray ye that your flight be not in the winter, neither on the sabbath day:²¹For then shall be great tribulation, such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time, no, nor ever shall be.²²And except those days should be shortened, there should no flesh be saved: but for the elect's sake those days shall be shortened.²³Then if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here is Christ, or there believe it not.²⁴For there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, and shall shew great signs and wonders insomuch that, if it were possible, they shall deceive the very elect.²⁵Behold, I have told you before.²⁶Wherefore if they shall say unto you, Behold, he is in the desert go not forth: behold, he is in the secret chambers believe it not.²⁷For as the lightning cometh out of the east, and shineth even unto the west so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.²⁸For wheresoever the carcase is, there will the eagles be gathered together.²⁹Immediately after the tribulation of those days shall the sun be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken:³⁰And then shall appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven: and then shall all the tribes of the earth mourn, and they shall see the Son of man coming in the clouds of heaven with power and great glory.³¹And he shall send his angels with a great sound of a trumpet, and they shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other.³²Now learn a parable of the fig tree When his branch is yet tender, and putteth forth leaves, ye know that summer is nigh.³³So likewise ye, when ye shall see all these things, know that it is near, even at the doors.³⁴Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass, till all these things be fulfilled.³⁵Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away.³⁶But of that day and hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels of heaven, but my Father only.³⁷But as the days of Noe were, so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.³⁸For as in the days that were before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noe entered into the ark,³⁹And knew not until the flood came, and took them all away so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.⁴⁰Then shall two be in the field the one shall be taken, and the other left.⁴¹Two women shall be grinding at the mill the one shall be taken, and the other left.⁴²Watch therefore: for ye know not what hour your Lord doth come.⁴³But know this, that if the goodman of the house had known in what watch the thief would come, he would have watched, and would not have suffered his house to be broken up.⁴⁴Therefore be ye also ready: for in such an hour as ye think not the Son of man cometh.⁴⁵Who then is a faithful and wise servant, whom his lord hath made ruler over his household, to give them meat in due season?⁴⁶Blessed is that servant, whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing.⁴⁷Verily I say unto you, That he shall make him ruler over all his goods.⁴⁸But and if that evil servant shall say in his heart, My lord delayeth his coming⁴⁹And shall begin to smite his fellowservants, and to eat and drink with the drunken⁵⁰The lord of that servant shall come in a day when he looketh not for him, and in an hour that he is not aware of,⁵¹And shall cut him asunder, and appoint him his portion with the hypocrites: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

CHAPTER 25 ¹Then shall the kingdom of heaven be likened unto ten virgins, which took their lamps, and went forth to meet the bridegroom.²And five of them were wise, and five were foolish.³They that were foolish took their lamps, and took no oil with them:⁴But the wise took oil in their vessels with their lamps.⁵While the bridegroom tarried, they all slumbered and slept.⁶And at midnight there was a cry made, Behold, the bridegroom cometh go ye out to meet him.⁷Then all those virgins arose, and trimmed their lamps.⁸And the foolish said unto the wise, Give us of your oil for our lamps are gone out.⁹But the wise answered, saying, Not so lest there be not enough for us and you: but go ye rather to them that sell, and buy for yourselves.¹⁰And while they went to buy, the bridegroom came and they that were ready went in with him to the marriage: and the door was shut.¹¹Afterward came also the other virgins, saying, Lord, Lord, open to us.¹²But he answered and said, Verily I say unto you, I know you not.¹³Watch therefore, for ye know neither the day nor the hour wherein the Son of man cometh.¹⁴For the kingdom of heaven is as a man travelling into a far country, who called his own servants, and delivered unto them his goods.¹⁵And unto one he gave five talents, to another two, and to another one to every man according to his several ability and straightway took his journey.¹⁶Then he that had received the five talents went and traded with the same, and made them other five talents.¹⁷And likewise he that had received two, he also gained other two.¹⁸But he that had received one went and

digged in the earth, and hid his lord's money.¹⁹After a long time the lord of those servants cometh, and reckoneth with them.²⁰And so he that had received five talents came and brought other five talents, saying, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me five talents: behold, I have gained beside them five talents more.²¹His lord said unto him, Well done, thou good and faithful servant: thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord.²²He also that had received two talents came and said, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me two talents: behold, I have gained two other talents beside them.²³His lord said unto him, Well done, good and faithful servant thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord.²⁴Then he which had received the one talent came and said, Lord, I knew thee that thou art an hard man, reaping where thou hast not sown, and gathering where thou hast not strawed:²⁵And I was afraid, and went and hid thy talent in the earth: lo, there thou hast that is thine.²⁶His lord answered and said unto him, Thou wicked and slothful servant, thou knewest that I reap where I sowed not, and gather where I have not strawed:²⁷Thou oughtest therefore to have put my money to the exchangers, and then at my coming I should have received mine own with usury.²⁸Take therefore the talent from him, and give it unto him which hath ten talents.²⁹For unto every one that hath shall be given, and he shall have abundance: but from him that hath not shall be taken away even that which he hath.³⁰And cast ye the unprofitable servant into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.³¹When the Son of man shall come in his glory, and all the holy angels with him, then shall he sit upon the throne of his glory:³²And before him shall be gathered all nations: and he shall separate them one from another, as a shepherd divideth his sheep from the goats:³³And he shall set the sheep on his right hand, but the goats on the left.³⁴Then shall the King say unto them on his right hand, Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world:³⁵For I was an hungred, and ye gave me meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink: I was a stranger, and ye took me in:³⁶Naked, and ye clothed me: I was sick, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came unto me.³⁷Then shall the righteous answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungred, and fed thee? or thirsty, and gave thee drink?³⁸When saw we thee a stranger, and took thee in? or naked, and clothed thee?³⁹Or when saw we thee sick, or in prison, and came unto thee?⁴⁰And the King shall answer and say unto them, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me.⁴¹Then shall he say also unto them on the left hand, Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels:⁴²For I was an hungred, and ye gave me no meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me no drink:⁴³I was a stranger, and ye took me not in: naked, and ye clothed me not: sick, and in prison, and ye visited me not.⁴⁴Then shall they also answer him, saying, Lord, when saw we thee an hungred, or athirst, or a stranger, or naked, or sick, or in prison, and did not minister unto thee?⁴⁵Then shall he answer them, saying, Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye did it not to one of the least of these, ye did it not to me.⁴⁶And these shall go away into everlasting punishment: but the righteous into life eternal.

CHAPTER 26 ¹And it came to pass, when Jesus had finished all these sayings, he said unto his disciples,²Ye know that after two days is the feast of the passover, and the Son of man is betrayed to be crucified.³Then assembled together the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders of the people, unto the palace of the high priest, who was called Caiaphas,⁴And consulted that they might take Jesus by subtilty, and kill him.⁵But they said, Not on the feast day, lest there be an uproar among the people.⁶Now when Jesus was in Bethany, in the house of Simon the leper,⁷There came unto him a woman having an alabaster box of very precious ointment, and poured it on his head, as he sat at meat.⁸But when his disciples saw it, they had indignation, saying, To what purpose is this waste?⁹For this ointment might have been sold for much, and given to the poor.¹⁰When Jesus understood it, he said unto them, Why trouble ye the woman? for she hath wrought a good work upon me.¹¹For ye have the poor always with you but me ye have not always.¹²For in that she hath poured this ointment on my body, she did it for my burial.¹³Verily I say unto you, Wheresoever this gospel shall be preached in the whole world, there shall also this, that this woman hath done, be told for a memorial of her.¹⁴Then one of the twelve, called Judas Iscariot, went unto the chief priests,¹⁵And said unto them, What will ye give me, and I will deliver him unto you? And they covenanted with him for thirty pieces of silver.¹⁶And from that time he sought opportunity to betray him.¹⁷Now the first day of the feast of unleavened bread the disciples came to Jesus, saying unto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare for thee to eat the passover?¹⁸And he said, Go into the city to such a man, and say unto him, The Master saith, My time is at hand I will keep the passover at thy house with my disciples.¹⁹And the disciples did as Jesus had appointed them and they made ready the passover.²⁰Now when the even was come, he sat down with the twelve.²¹And as they did eat, he said, Verily I say unto you, that one of you shall betray me.²²And they were exceeding sorrowful, and began every one of them to say unto him, Lord, is it I?²³And he answered and said, He that dippeth his hand with me in the dish, the same shall betray me.²⁴The Son of man goeth as it is written of him: but woe unto that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed! it had been good for that man if he had not been born.²⁵Then Judas, which betrayed him, answered and said, Master, is it I? He said unto him, Thou hast said.²⁶And as they were eating, Jesus took bread, and blessed it, and brake it, and gave it to the disciples, and said, Take, eat this is my body.²⁷And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, Drink ye all of it²⁸For this is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many for the remission of sins.²⁹But I say unto you, I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it new with you in my Father's kingdom.³⁰And when they had sung an hymn, they went out into the mount of Olives.³¹Then saith Jesus unto them, All ye shall be offended because of me this night: for it is written, I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered abroad.³²But after I am risen again, I will go before you into Galilee.³³Peter answered and said unto him, Though all men shall be offended because of thee, yet will I never be offended.³⁴Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, That this night, before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice.³⁵Peter said unto him, Though I should die with thee, yet will I not deny thee. Likewise also said all the disciples.³⁶Then cometh Jesus with them unto a place called Gethsemane, and saith unto the disciples, Sit ye here, while I go and pray yonder.³⁷And he took with him Peter and the two sons of Zebedee, and began to be sorrowful and very heavy.³⁸Then saith he unto them, My soul is exceeding sorrowful, even unto death: tarry ye here, and watch with me.³⁹And he went a little further, and fell on his face, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me: nevertheless not as I will, but as thou wilt.⁴⁰And he cometh unto the disciples, and findeth them asleep, and saith unto Peter, What, could ye not watch with me one hour?⁴¹Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak.⁴²He went away again the second time, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if this cup may not pass away from me, except I drink it, thy will be done.⁴³And he came and found them asleep again: for their eyes were heavy.⁴⁴And he left them, and went away again, and prayed the third time, saying the same words.⁴⁵Then cometh he to his disciples, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: behold, the hour is at hand, and the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.⁴⁶Rise, let us be going: behold, he is at hand that doth betray me.⁴⁷And while he yet spake, lo, Judas, one of the twelve, came, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and elders of the people.⁴⁸Now he that betrayed him gave them a sign, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that same is he: hold him fast.⁴⁹And forthwith he came to Jesus, and said, Hail, master and kissed him.⁵⁰And Jesus said unto him, Friend, wherefore art thou come? Then came they, and laid hands on Jesus, and took him.⁵¹And, behold, one of them which were with Jesus stretched out his hand, and drew his sword, and struck a servant of the high priest's, and smote off his ear.⁵²Then said Jesus unto him, Put up again thy sword into his place: for all they that take the sword shall perish with the sword.⁵³Thinkest thou that I cannot now pray to my Father, and he shall presently give me more than twelve legions of angels?⁵⁴But how then shall the scriptures be fulfilled, that thus it must be?⁵⁵In that same hour said

Jesus to the multitudes, Are ye come out as against a thief with swords and staves for to take me? I sat daily with you teaching in the temple, and ye laid no hold on me.⁵⁶But all this was done, that the scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled. Then all the disciples forsook him, and fled.⁵⁷And they that had laid hold on Jesus led him away to Caiaphas the high priest, where the scribes and the elders were assembled.⁵⁸But Peter followed him afar off unto the high priest's palace, and went in, and sat with the servants, to see the end.⁵⁹Now the chief priests, and elders, and all the council, sought false witness against Jesus, to put him to death⁶⁰But found none: yea, though many false witnesses came, yet found they none. At the last came two false witnesses,⁶¹And said, This fellow said, I am able to destroy the temple of God, and to build it in three days.⁶²And the high priest arose, and said unto him, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which these witness against thee?⁶³But Jesus held his peace. And the high priest answered and said unto him, I adjure thee by the living God, that thou tell us whether thou be the Christ, the Son of God.⁶⁴Jesus saith unto him, Thou hast said: nevertheless

I say unto you, Hereafter shall ye see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven.⁶⁵ Then the high priest rent his clothes, saying, He hath spoken blasphemy what further need have we of witnesses? behold, now ye have heard his blasphemy.⁶⁶ What think ye? They answered and said, He is guilty of death.⁶⁷ Then did they spit in his face, and buffeted him and others smote him with the palms of their hands,⁶⁸ Saying, Prophecy unto us, thou Christ, Who is he that smote thee?⁶⁹ Now Peter sat without in the palace: and a damsel came unto him, saying, Thou also wast with Jesus of Galilee.⁷⁰ But he denied before them all, saying, I know not what thou sayest.⁷¹ And when he was gone out into the porch, another maid saw him, and said unto them that were there, This fellow was also with Jesus of Nazareth.⁷² And again he denied with an oath, I do not know the man.⁷³ And after a while came unto him they that stood by, and said to Peter, Surely thou also art one of them for thy speech bewrayeth thee.⁷⁴ Then began he to curse and to swear, saying, I know not the man. And immediately the cock crew.⁷⁵ And Peter remembered the word of Jesus, which said unto him, Before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice. And he went out, and wept bitterly.

CHAPTER 27 ¹When the morning was come, all the chief priests and elders of the people took counsel against Jesus to put him to death:² And when they had bound him, they led him away, and delivered him to Pontius Pilate the governor.³ Then Judas, which had betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, repented himself, and brought again the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders,⁴ Saying, I have sinned in that I have betrayed the innocent blood. And they said, What is that to us? see thou to that.⁵ And he cast down the pieces of silver in the temple, and departed, and went and hanged himself.⁶ And the chief priests took the silver pieces, and said, It is not lawful for to put them into the treasury, because it is the price of blood.⁷ And they took counsel, and bought with them the potter's field, to bury strangers in.⁸ Wherefore that field was called, The field of blood, unto this day.⁹ Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jeremy the prophet, saying, And they took the thirty pieces of silver, the price of him that was valued, whom they of the children of Israel did value¹⁰ And gave them for the potter's field, as the Lord appointed me.¹¹ And Jesus stood before the governor: and the governor asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews? And Jesus said unto him, Thou sayest.¹² And when he was accused of the chief priests and elders, he answered nothing.¹³ Then said Pilate unto him, Hearest thou not how many things they witness against thee?¹⁴ And he answered him to never a word insomuch that the governor marvelled greatly.¹⁵ Now at that feast the governor was wont to release unto the people a prisoner, whom they would.¹⁶ And they had then a notable prisoner, called Barabbas.¹⁷ Therefore when they were gathered together, Pilate said unto them, Whom will ye that I release unto you? Barabbas, or Jesus which is called Christ?¹⁸ For he knew that for envy they had delivered him.¹⁹ When he was set down on the judgment seat, his wife sent unto him, saying, Have thou nothing to do with that just man: for I have suffered many things this day in a dream because of him.²⁰ But the chief priests and elders persuaded the multitude that they should ask Barabbas, and destroy Jesus.²¹ The governor answered and said unto them, Whether of the twain will ye that I release unto you? They said, Barabbas.²² Pilate saith unto them, What shall I do then with Jesus which is called Christ? They all say unto him, Let him be crucified.²³ And the governor said, Why, what evil hath he done? But they cried out the more, saying, Let him be crucified.²⁴ When Pilate saw that he could prevail nothing, but that rather a tumult was made, he took water, and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this just person: see ye to it.²⁵ Then answered all the people, and said, His blood be on us, and on our children.²⁶ Then released he Barabbas unto them: and when he had scourged Jesus, he delivered him to be crucified.²⁷ Then the soldiers of the governor took Jesus into the common hall, and gathered unto him the whole band of soldiers.²⁸ And they stripped him, and put on him a scarlet robe.²⁹ And when they had platted a crown of thorns, they put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand: and they bowed the knee before him, and mocked him, saying, Hail, King of the Jews!³⁰ And they spit upon him, and took the reed, and smote him on the head.³¹And after that they had mocked him, they took the robe off from him, and put his own raiment on him, and led him away to crucify him.³²And as they came out, they found a man of Cyrene, Simon by name: him they compelled to bear his cross.³³And when they were come unto a place called Golgotha, that is to say, a place of a skull,³⁴They gave him vinegar to drink mingled with gall: and when he had tasted thereof, he would not drink.³⁵And they crucified him, and parted his garments, casting lots: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, They parted my garments among them, and upon my vesture did they cast lots.³⁶And sitting down they watched him there³⁷And set up over his head his accusation written, THIS IS JESUS THE KING OF THE JEWS.³⁸Then were there two thieves crucified with him, one on the right hand, and another on the left.³⁹And they that passed by reviled him, wagging their heads,⁴⁰And saying, Thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three days, save thyself. If thou be the Son of God, come down from the cross.⁴¹Likewise also the chief priests mocking him, with the scribes and elders, said,⁴²He saved others himself he cannot save. If he be the King of Israel, let him now come down from the cross, and we will believe him.⁴³He trusted in God let him deliver him now, if he will have him: for he said, I am the Son of God.⁴⁴The thieves also, which were crucified with him, cast the same in his teeth.⁴⁵Now from the sixth hour there was darkness over all the land unto the ninth hour.⁴⁶And about the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani? that is to say, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?⁴⁷Some of them that stood there, when they heard that, said, This man calleth for Elias.⁴⁸And straightway one of them ran, and took a sponge, and filled it with vinegar, and put it on a reed, and gave him to drink.⁴⁹The rest said, Let be, let us see whether Elias will come to save him.⁵⁰Jesus, when he had cried again with a loud voice, yielded up the ghost.⁵¹And, behold, the veil of the temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom and the earth did quake, and the rocks rent⁵²And the graves were opened and many bodies of the saints which slept arose,⁵³And came out of the graves after his resurrection, and went into the holy city, and appeared unto many.⁵⁴Now when the centurion, and they that were with him, watching Jesus, saw the earthquake, and those things that were done, they feared greatly, saying, Truly this was the Son of God.⁵⁵And many women were there beholding afar off, which followed Jesus from Galilee, ministering unto him:⁵⁶Among which was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James and Joses, and the mother of Zebedee's children.⁵⁷When the even was come, there came a rich man of Arimathaea, named Joseph, who also himself was Jesus' disciple:⁵⁸He went to Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus. Then Pilate commanded the body to be delivered.⁵⁹And when Joseph had taken the body, he wrapped it in a clean linen cloth,⁶⁰And laid it in his own new tomb, which he had hewn out in the rock: and he rolled a great stone to the door of the sepulchre, and departed.⁶¹And there was Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary, sitting over against the sepulchre.⁶²Now the next day, that followed the day of the preparation, the chief priests and Pharisees came together unto Pilate,⁶³Saying, Sir, we remember that that deceiver said, while he was yet alive, After three days I will rise again.⁶⁴Command therefore that the sepulchre be made sure until the third day, lest his disciples come by night, and steal him away, and say unto the people, He is risen from the dead: so the last error shall be worse than the first.⁶⁵Pilate said unto them, Ye have a watch: go your way, make it as sure as ye can.⁶⁶So they went, and made the sepulchre sure, sealing the stone, and setting a watch.

CHAPTER 28 ¹In the end of the sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene and the other Mary to see the sepulchre.²And, behold, there was a great earthquake: for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it.³His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow:⁴And for fear of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men.⁵And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified.⁶He is not here: for he is risen, as he said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay.⁷And go quickly, and tell his disciples that he is risen from the dead and, behold, he goeth before you into

Galilee there shall ye see him: lo, I have told you.⁸And they departed quickly from the sepulchre with fear and great joy and did run to bring his disciples word.⁹And as they went to tell his disciples, behold, Jesus met them, saying, All hail. And they came and held him by the feet, and worshipped him.¹⁰Then said Jesus unto them, Be not afraid: go tell my brethren that they go into Galilee, and there shall they see me.¹¹Now when they were going, behold, some of the watch came into the city, and shewed unto the chief priests all the things that were done.¹²And when they were assembled with the elders, and had taken counsel, they gave large money unto the soldiers,¹³Saying, Say ye, His disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept.¹⁴And if this come to the governor's ears, we will persuade him, and secure you.¹⁵So they took the money, and did as they were taught: and this saying is commonly reported among the Jews until this day.¹⁶Then the eleven disciples went away into Galilee, into a mountain where Jesus had appointed them.¹⁷And when they saw him, they worshipped him: but some doubted.¹⁸And Jesus came and spake unto them, saying, All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth.¹⁹Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost:²⁰Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world. Amen.

CHAPTER 1 ¹The beginning of the gospel of Jesus Christ, the Son of God²As it is written in the prophets, Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.³The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.⁴John did baptize in the wilderness, and preach the baptism of repentance for the remission of sins.⁵And there went out unto him all the land of Judaea, and they of Jerusalem, and were all baptized of him in the river of Jordan, confessing their sins.⁶And John was clothed with camel's hair, and with a girdle of a skin about his loins and he did eat locusts and wild honey⁷And preached, saying, There cometh one mightier than I after me, the latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to stoop down and unloose.⁸I indeed have baptized you with water: but he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost.⁹And it came to pass in those days, that Jesus came from Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptized of John in Jordan.¹⁰And straightway coming up out of the water, he saw the heavens opened, and the Spirit like a dove descending upon him:¹¹And there came a voice from heaven, saying, Thou art my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.¹²And immediately the Spirit driveth him into the wilderness.¹³And he was there in the wilderness forty days, tempted of Satan and was with the wild beasts and the angels ministered unto him.¹⁴Now after that John was put in prison, Jesus came into Galilee, preaching the gospel of the kingdom of God,¹⁵And saying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdom of God is at hand: repent ye, and believe the gospel.¹⁶Now as he walked by the sea of Galilee, he saw Simon and Andrew his brother casting a net into the sea: for they were fishers.¹⁷And Jesus said unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you to become fishers of men.¹⁸And straightway they forsook their nets, and followed him.¹⁹And when he had gone a little further thence, he saw James the son of Zebedee, and John his brother, who also were in the ship mending their nets.²⁰And straightway he called them: and they left their father Zebedee in the ship with the hired servants, and went after him.²¹And they went into Capernaum and straightway on the sabbath day he entered into the synagogue, and taught.²²And they were astonished at his doctrine: for he taught them as one that had authority, and not as the scribes.²³And there was in their synagogue a man with an unclean spirit and he cried out,²⁴Saying, Let us alone what have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us? I know thee who thou art, the Holy One of God.²⁵And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him.²⁶And when the unclean spirit had torn him, and cried with a loud voice, he came out of him.²⁷And they were all amazed, insomuch that they questioned among themselves, saying, What thing is this? what new doctrine is this? for with authority commandeth he even the unclean spirits, and they do obey him.²⁸And immediately his fame spread abroad throughout all the region round about Galilee.²⁹And forthwith, when they were come out of the synagogue, they entered into the house of Simon and Andrew, with James and John.³⁰But Simon's wife's mother lay sick of a fever, and anon they tell him of her.³¹And he came and took her by the hand, and lifted her up and immediately the fever left her, and she ministered unto them.³²And at even, when the sun did set, they brought unto him all that were diseased, and them that were possessed with devils.³³And all the city was gathered together at the door.³⁴And he healed many that were sick of divers diseases, and cast out many devils and suffered not the devils to speak, because they knew him.³⁵And in the morning, rising up a great while before day, he went out, and departed into a solitary place, and there prayed.³⁶And Simon and they that were with him followed after him.³⁷And when they had found him, they said unto him, All men seek for thee.³⁸And he said unto them, Let us go into the next towns, that I may preach there also: for therefore came I forth.³⁹And he preached in their synagogues throughout all Galilee, and cast out devils.⁴⁰And there came a leper to him, beseeching him, and kneeling down to him, and saying unto him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.⁴¹And Jesus, moved with compassion, put forth his hand, and touched him, and saith unto him, I will be thou clean.⁴²And as soon as he had spoken, immediately the leprosy departed from him, and he was cleansed.⁴³And he straitly charged him, and forthwith sent him away.⁴⁴And saith unto him, See thou say nothing to any man: but go thy way, shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing those things which Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.⁴⁵But he went out, and began to publish it much, and to blaze abroad the matter, insomuch that Jesus could no more openly enter into the city, but was without in desert places: and they came to him from every quarter.

CHAPTER 2 ¹And again he entered into Capernaum, after some days and it was noised that he was in the house.²And straightway many were gathered together, insomuch that there was no room to receive them, no, not so much as about the door: and he preached the word unto them.³And they come unto him, bringing one sick of the palsy, which was borne of four.⁴And when they could not come nigh unto him for the press, they uncovered the roof where he was: and when they had broken it up, they let down the bed wherein the sick of the palsy lay.⁵When Jesus saw their faith, he said unto the sick of the palsy, Son, thy sins be forgiven thee.⁶But there were certain of the scribes sitting there, and reasoning in their hearts,⁷Why doth this man thus speak blasphemies? who can forgive sins but God only?⁸And immediately when Jesus perceived in his spirit that they so reasoned within themselves, he said unto them, Why reason ye these things in your hearts?⁹Whether is it easier to say to the sick of the palsy, Thy sins be forgiven thee or to say, Arise, and take up thy bed, and walk?¹⁰But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (he saith to the sick of the palsy,)¹¹I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy bed, and go thy way into thine house.¹²And immediately he arose, took up the bed, and went forth before them all insomuch that they were all amazed, and glorified God, saying, We never saw it on this fashion.¹³And he went forth again by the sea side and all the multitude resorted unto him, and he taught them.¹⁴And as he passed by, he saw Levi the son of Alphaeus sitting at the receipt of custom, and said unto him, Follow me. And he arose and followed him.¹⁵And it came to pass, that, as Jesus sat at meat in his house, many publicans and sinners sat also together with Jesus and his disciples: for there were many, and they followed him.¹⁶And when the scribes and Pharisees saw him eat with publicans and sinners, they said unto his disciples, How is it that he eateth and drinketh with publicans and sinners?¹⁷When Jesus heard it, he saith unto them, They that are whole have no need of the physician, but they that are sick: I came not to call the righteous, but sinner to repentance.¹⁸ And the disciples of John and of the Pharisees used to fast: and they come and say unto him, Why do the disciples of John and of the Pharisees fast, but thy disciples fast not?¹⁹ And Jesus said unto them, Can the children of the bridechamber fast, while the bridegroom is with them? as long as they have the bridegroom with them, they cannot fast.²⁰ But the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and then shall they fast in those days.²¹ No man also seweth a piece of new cloth on an old garment: else the new piece that filled it up taketh away from the old, and the rent is made worse.²² And no man putteth new wine into old bottles: else the new wine doth burst the bottles, and the wine is spilled, and the bottles will be marred: but new wine must be put into new bottles.²³ And it came to pass, that he went through the corn fields on the sabbath day and his disciples began, as they went, to pluck the ears of corn.²⁴ And the Pharisees said unto him, Behold, why do they on the sabbath day that which is not lawful?²⁵ And he said unto them, Have ye never read what David did, when he had need, and was an hungred, he, and they that were with him?²⁶ How he went into the house of God in the days of Abiathar the high priest, and did eat the shewbread, which is not lawful to eat but for the priests, and gave also to them which were with him?²⁷ And he said unto them, The sabbath was made for man, and not man for the sabbath.²⁸ Therefore the Son of man is Lord also of the sabbath.

CHAPTER 3 ¹And he entered again into the synagogue and there was a man there which had a withered hand.² And they watched him, whether he would heal him on the sabbath day that they might accuse him.³ And he saith unto the man which had the withered hand, Stand forth.⁴ And he saith unto them, Is it lawful to do good on the sabbath days, or to do evil? to save life, or to kill? But they held their peace.⁵ And when he had looked round about on them with anger, being grieved for the hardness of their hearts, he saith unto the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it out: and his hand was restored whole as the other.⁶ And the Pharisees went forth, and straightway took counsel with the Herodians against him, how they might destroy him.⁷ But Jesus withdrew himself with his disciples to the sea: and a great multitude from Galilee followed him, and from Judaea,⁸And from Jerusalem, and from Idumaea, and from beyond Jordan and they about Tyre and Sidon, a great multitude, when they had heard what great things he did, came unto him.⁹And he spake to his disciples, that a small ship should wait on him because of the multitude, lest they should throng him.¹⁰For he had healed many insomuch that they pressed upon him for to touch him, as many as had plagues.¹¹And unclean spirits, when they saw him, fell down before him, and cried, saying, Thou art the Son of God.¹²And he straitly charged them that they should not make him known.¹³And he goeth up into a mountain, and calleth unto him whom he would: and they came unto him.¹⁴And he ordained twelve, that they should be with him, and that he might send them forth to preach,¹⁵And to have power to heal sicknesses, and to cast out devils:¹⁶And Simon he surnamed Peter¹⁷And James the son of Zebedee, and John the brother of James and he surnamed them Boanerges, which is, The sons of thunder:¹⁸And Andrew, and Philip, and Bartholomew, and Matthew, and Thomas, and James the son of Alphaeus, and Thaddaeus, and Simon the Canaanite,¹⁹And Judas Iscariot, which also betrayed him: and they went into an house.²⁰And the multitude cometh together again, so that they could not so much as eat bread.²¹And when his friends heard of it, they went out to lay hold on him: for they said, He is beside himself.²²And the scribes which came down from Jerusalem said, He hath Beelzebub, and by the prince of the devils casteth he out devils.²³And he called them unto him, and said unto them in parables, How can Satan cast out Satan?²⁴And if a kingdom be divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand.²⁵And if a house be divided against itself, that house cannot stand.²⁶And if Satan rise up against himself, and be divided, he cannot stand, but hath an end.²⁷No man can enter into a strong man's house, and spoil his goods, except he will first bind the strong man and then he will spoil his house.²⁸Verily I say unto you, All sins shall be forgiven unto the sons of men, and blasphemies wherewith soever they shall blaspheme:²⁹But he that shall blaspheme against the Holy Ghost hath never forgiveness, but is in danger of eternal damnation:³⁰Because they said, He hath an unclean spirit.³¹There came then his brethren and his mother, and, standing without, sent unto him, calling him.³²And the multitude sat about him, and they said unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren without seek for thee.³³And he answered them, saying, Who is my mother, or my brethren?³⁴And he looked round about on them which sat about him, and said, Behold my mother and my brethren!³⁵For whosoever shall do the will of God, the same is my brother, and my sister, and mother.

CHAPTER 4 ¹And he began again to teach by the sea side: and there was gathered unto him a great multitude, so that he entered into a ship, and sat in the sea and the whole multitude was by the sea on the land.²And he taught them many things by parables, and said unto them in his doctrine,³Hearken Behold, there went out a sower to sow:⁴And it came to pass, as he sowed, some fell by the way side, and the fowls of the air came and devoured it up.⁵And some fell on stony ground, where it had not much earth and immediately it sprang up, because it had no depth of earth:⁶But when the sun was up, it was scorched and because it had no root, it withered away.⁷And some fell among thorns, and the thorns grew up, and choked it, and it yielded no fruit.⁸And other fell on good ground, and did yield fruit that sprang up and increased and brought forth, some thirty, and some sixty, and some an hundred.⁹And he said unto them, He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.¹⁰And when he was alone, they that were about him with the twelve asked of him the parable.¹¹And he said unto them, Unto you it is given to know the mystery of the kingdom of God: but unto them that are without, all these things are done in parables:¹²That seeing they may see, and not perceive and hearing they may hear, and not understand lest at any time they should be converted, and their sins should be forgiven them.¹³And he said unto them, Know ye not this parable? and how then will ye know all parables?¹⁴The sower soweth the word.¹⁵And these are they by the way side, where the word is sown but when they have heard, Satan cometh immediately, and taketh away the word that was sown in their hearts.¹⁶And these are they likewise which are sown on stony ground who, when they have heard the word, immediately receive it with gladness¹⁷And have no root in themselves, and so endure but for a time: afterward, when affliction or persecution ariseth for the word's sake, immediately they are offended.¹⁸ And these are they which are sown among thorns such as hear the word,¹⁹ And the cares of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts of other things entering in, choke the word, and it becometh unfruitful.²⁰ And these are they which are sown on good ground such as hear the word, and receive it, and bring forth fruit, some thirtyfold, some sixty, and some an hundred.²¹ And he said unto them, Is a candle brought to be put under a bushel, or under a bed? and not to be set on a candlestick?²² For there is nothing hid, which shall not be manifested neither was any thing kept secret, but that it should come abroad.²³ If any man have ears to hear, let him hear.²⁴ And he said unto them, Take heed what ye hear: with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you: and unto you that hear shall more be given.²⁵ For he that hath, to him shall be given: and he that hath not, from him shall be taken even that which he hath.²⁶ And he said, So is the kingdom of God, as if a man should cast seed into the ground²⁷ And should sleep, and rise night and day, and the seed should spring and grow up, he knoweth not how.²⁸ For the earth bringeth forth fruit of herself first the blade, then the ear, after that the full corn in the ear.²⁹ But when the fruit is brought forth, immediately he putteth in the sickle, because the harvest is come.³⁰ And he said, Whereunto shall we liken the kingdom of God? or with what comparison shall we compare it?³¹ It is like a grain of mustard seed, which, when it is sown in the earth, is less than all the seeds that be in the earth.³² But when it is sown, it groweth up, and becometh greater than all herbs, and shooteth out great branches so that the fowls of the air may lodge under the shadow of it.³³ And with many such parables spake he the word unto them, as they were able to hear it.³⁴ But without a parable spake he not unto them: and when they were alone, he expounded all things to his disciples.³⁵ And the same day, when the even was come, he saith unto them, Let us pass over unto the other side.³⁶ And when they had sent away the multitude, they took him even as he was in the ship. And there were also with him other little ships.³⁷ And there arose a great storm of wind, and the waves beat into the ship, so that it was now full.³⁸And he was in the hinder part of the ship, asleep on a pillow: and they awake him, and say unto him, Master, carest thou not that we perish?³⁹And he arose, and rebuked the wind, and said unto the sea, Peace, be still. And the wind ceased, and there was a great calm.⁴⁰And he said unto them, Why are ye so fearful? how is it that ye have no faith?⁴¹And they feared exceedingly, and said one to another, What manner of man is this, that even the wind and the sea obey him?

CHAPTER 5 ¹And they came over unto the other side of the sea, into the country of the Gadarenes.²And when he was come out of the ship, immediately there met him out of the tombs a man with an unclean spirit,³Who had his dwelling among the tombs and no man could bind him, no, not with chains:⁴Because that he had been often bound with fetters and chains, and the chains had been plucked asunder by him, and the fetters broken in pieces: neither could any man tame him.⁵And always, night and day, he was in the mountains, and in the tombs, crying, and cutting himself with stones.⁶But when he saw Jesus afar off, he ran and worshipped him,⁷And cried with a loud voice, and said, What have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of the most high God? I adjure thee by God, that thou torment me not.⁸For he said unto him, Come out of the man, thou unclean spirit.⁹And he asked him, What is thy name? And he answered, saying, My name is Legion: for we are many.¹⁰And he besought him much that he would not send them away out of the country.¹¹Now there was there nigh unto the mountains a great herd of swine feeding.¹²And all the devils besought him, saying, Send us into the swine, that we may enter into them.¹³And forthwith Jesus gave them leave. And the unclean spirits went out, and entered into the swine: and the herd ran violently down a steep place into the sea, (they were about two thousand) and were choked in the sea.¹⁴And they that fed the swine fled, and told it in the city, and in the country. And they went out to see what it was that was done.¹⁵And they come to Jesus, and see him that was possessed with the devil, and had the legion, sitting, and clothed, and in his right mind: and they were afraid.¹⁶And they that saw it told them how it befell to him that was possessed with the devil, and also concerning the swine.¹⁷And they began to pray him to depart out of their coasts.¹⁸And when he was come into the ship, he that had been possessed with the devil prayed him that he might be with him.¹⁹Howbeit Jesus suffered him not, but saith unto him, Go home to thy friends, and tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and hath had compassion on thee.²⁰And he departed, and began to publish in Decapolis how great things Jesus had done for him: and all men did marvel.²¹And when Jesus was passed over again by ship unto the other side, much people gathered unto him: and he was nigh unto the sea.²²And, behold, there cometh one of the rulers of the synagogue, Jairus by name and when he saw him, he fell at his feet,²³And besought him greatly, saying, My little daughter lieth at the point of death: I pray thee, come and lay thy hands on her, that she may be healed and she shall live.²⁴And Jesus went with him and much people followed him, and thronged him.²⁵And a certain woman, which had an issue of blood twelve years,²⁶And had suffered many things of many physicians, and had spent all that she had, and was nothing bettered, but rather grew worse,²⁷When she had heard of Jesus, came in the press behind, and touched his garment.²⁸For she said, If I may touch but his clothes, I shall be whole.²⁹And straightway the fountain of her blood was dried up and she felt in her body that she was healed of that plague.³⁰And Jesus, immediately knowing in himself that virtue had gone out of him, turned him about in the press, and said, Who touched my clothes?³¹And his disciples said unto him, Thou seest the multitude thronging thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me?³²And he looked round about to see her that had done this thing.³³But the woman fearing and trembling, knowing what was done in her, came and fell down before him, and told him all the truth.³⁴And he said unto her, Daughter, thy faith hath made thee whole go in peace, and be whole of thy plague.³⁵While he yet spake, there came from the ruler of the synagogue's house certain which said, Thy daughter is dead: why troublest thou the Master any further?³⁶As soon as Jesus heard the word that was spoken, he saith unto the ruler of the synagogue, Be not afraid, only believe.³⁷And he suffered no man to follow him, save Peter, and James, and John the brother of James.³⁸And he cometh to the house of the ruler of the synagogue, and seeth the tumult, and them that wept and wailed greatly.³⁹And when he was come in, he saith unto them, Why make ye this ado, and weep? the damsel is not dead, but sleepeth.⁴⁰And they laughed him to scorn. But when he had put them all out, he taketh the father and the mother of the damsel, and them that were with him, and entereth in where the damsel was lying.⁴¹And he took the damsel by the hand, and said unto her, Talitha cumi which is, being interpreted, Damsel, I say unto thee, arise.⁴²And straightway the damsel arose, and walked for she was of the age of twelve years. And they were astonished with a great astonishment.⁴³And he charged them straitly that no man should know it and commanded that something should be given her to eat.

CHAPTER 6 ¹And he went out from thence, and came into his own country and his disciples follow him.²And when the sabbath day was come, he began to teach in the synagogue: and many hearing him were astonished, saying, From whence hath this man these things? and what wisdom is this which is given unto him, that even such mighty works are wrought by his hands?³Is not this the carpenter, the son of Mary, the brother of James, and Joses, and of Juda, and Simon? and are not his sisters here with us? And they were offended at him.⁴But Jesus said unto them, A prophet is not without honour, but in his own country, and among his own kin, and in his own house.⁵And he could there do no mighty work, save that he laid his hands upon a few sick folk, and healed them.⁶And he marvelled because of their unbelief. And he went round about the villages, teaching.⁷And he called unto him the twelve, and began to send them forth by two and two and gave them power over unclean spirits⁸And commanded them that they should take nothing for their journey, save a staff only no scrip, no bread, no money in their purse.⁹But be shod with sandals and not put on two coats.¹⁰And he said unto them, In what place soever ye enter into an house, there abide till ye depart from that place.¹¹And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear you, when ye depart thence, shake off the dust under your feet for a testimony against them. Verily I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for Sodom and Gomorrha in the day of judgment, than for that city.¹²And they went out, and preached that men should repent.¹³And they cast out many devils, and anointed with oil many that were sick, and healed them.¹⁴And king Herod heard of him (for his name was spread abroad:) and he said, That John the Baptist was risen from the dead, and therefore mighty works do shew forth themselves in him.¹⁵Others said, That it is Elias. And others said, That it is a prophet, or as one of the prophets.¹⁶But when Herod heard thereof, he said, It is John, whom I beheaded: he is risen from the dead.¹⁷For Herod himself had sent forth and laid hold upon John, and bound him in prison for Herodias' sake, his brother Philip's wife: for he had married her.¹⁸For John had said unto Herod, It is not lawful for thee to have thy brother's wife.¹⁹Therefore Herodias had a quarrel against him, and would have killed him but she could not:²⁰For Herod feared John, knowing that he was a just man and an holy, and observed him and when he heard him, he did many things, and heard him gladly.²¹And when a convenient day was come, that Herod on his birthday made a supper to his lords, high captains, and chief estates of Galilee²²And when the daughter of the said Herodias came in, and danced, and pleased Herod and them that sat with him, the king said unto the damsel, Ask of me whatsoever thou wilt, and I will give it thee.²³And he sware unto her, Whatsoever thou shalt ask of me, I will give it thee, unto the half of my kingdom.²⁴And she went forth, and said unto her mother, What shall I ask? And she said, The head of John the Baptist.²⁵And she came in straightway with haste unto the king, and asked, saying, I will that thou give me by and by in a charger the head of John the Baptist.²⁶And the king was exceeding sorry yet for his oath's sake, and for their sakes which sat with him, he would not reject her.²⁷And immediately the king sent an executioner, and commanded his head to be brought: and he went and beheaded him in the prison,²⁸And brought his head in a charger, and gave it to the damsel: and the damsel gave it to her mother.²⁹And when his disciples heard of it, they came and took up his corpse, and laid it in a tomb.³⁰And the apostles gathered themselves together unto Jesus, and told him all things, both what they had done, and what they had taught.³¹And he said unto them, Come ye yourselves apart into a desert place, and rest a while: for there were many coming and going, and they had no leisure so much as to eat.³²And they departed into a desert place by ship privately.³³And the people saw them departing, and many knew him, and ran afoot thither out of all cities, and outwent them, and came together unto him.³⁴And Jesus, when he came out, saw much people, and was moved with compassion toward them, because they were as sheep not having a shepherd: and he began to teach them many things.³⁵And when the day was now far spent, his disciples came unto him, and said, This is a desert place, and now the time is far passed:³⁶Send them away, that they may go into the country round about, and into the villages, and buy themselves bread: for they have nothing to eat.³⁷He answered and said unto them, Give ye them to eat. And they say unto him, Shall we go and buy two hundred pennyworth of bread, and give them to eat?³⁸He saith unto them, How many loaves have ye? go and see. And when they knew, they say, Five, and two fishes.³⁹And he commanded them to make all sit down by companies upon the green grass.⁴⁰And they sat down in ranks, by hundreds, and by fifties.⁴¹And when he had taken the five loaves and the two fishes, he looked up to heaven, and blessed, and brake the loaves, and gave them to his disciples to set before them and the two fishes divided he among them all.⁴²And they did all eat, and were filled.⁴³And they took up twelve baskets full of the fragments, and of the fishes.⁴⁴And they that did eat of the loaves were about five thousand men.⁴⁵And straightway he constrained his disciples to get into the ship, and to go to the other side before unto Bethsaida, while he sent away the people.⁴⁶And when he had sent them away, he departed into a mountain to pray.⁴⁷And when even was come, the ship was in the midst of the sea, and he alone on the land.⁴⁸And he saw them toiling in rowing for the wind was contrary unto them: and about the fourth watch of the night he cometh unto them, walking upon the sea, and would have passed by them.⁴⁹But when they saw him walking upon the sea, they supposed it had been a spirit, and cried out:⁵⁰For they all saw him, and were troubled. And immediately he talked with them, and saith unto them, Be of good cheer: it is I be not afraid.⁵¹And he went up unto them into the ship and the wind ceased: and they were sore amazed in themselves beyond measure, and wondered.⁵²For they considered not the miracle of the loaves: for their heart was hardened.⁵³And when they had passed over, they came into the land of Gennesaret, and drew to the shore.⁵⁴And when they were come out of the ship, straightway they knew him,⁵⁵And ran through that whole region round about, and began to carry about in beds those that were sick, where they heard he was.⁵⁶And whithersoever he entered, into villages, or cities, or country, they laid the sick in the streets, and besought him that they might touch if it were but the border of his garment: and as many as touched him were made whole.

CHAPTER 7 ¹Then came together unto him the Pharisees, and certain of the scribes, which came from Jerusalem.²And when they saw some of his disciples eat bread with defiled, that is to say, with unwashen, hands, they found fault.³For the Pharisees, and all the Jews, except they wash their hands oft, eat not, holding the tradition of the elders.⁴And when they come from the market, except they wash, they eat not. And many other things there be, which they have received to hold, as the washing of cups, and pots, brassen vessels, and of tables.⁵Then the Pharisees and scribes asked him, Why walk not thy disciples according to the tradition of the elders, but eat bread with unwashen hands?⁶He answered and said unto them, Well hath Esaias prophesied of you hypocrites, as it is written, This people honoureth me with their lips, but their heart is far from me.⁷Howbeit in vain do they worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men.⁸For laying aside the commandment of God, ye hold the tradition of men, as the washing of pots and cups: and many other such like things ye do.⁹And he said unto them, Full well ye reject the commandment of God, that ye may keep your own tradition.¹⁰For Moses said, Honour thy father and thy mother and, Whoso curseth father or mother, let him die the death:¹¹But ye say, If a man shall say to his father or mother, It is Corban, that is to say, a gift, by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me he shall be free.¹²And ye suffer him no more to do ought for his father or his mother¹³Making the word of God of none effect through your tradition, which ye have delivered: and many such like things do ye.¹⁴And when he had called all the people unto him, he said unto them, Harken unto me every one of you, and understand:¹⁵There is nothing from without a man, that entering into him can defile him: but the things which come out of him, those are they that defile the man.¹⁶If any man have ears to hear, let him hear.¹⁷And when he was entered into the house from the people, his disciples asked him concerning the parable.¹⁸And he saith unto them, Are ye so without understanding also? Do ye not perceive, that whatsoever thing from without entereth into the man, it cannot defile him¹⁹Because it entereth not into his heart, but into the belly, and goeth out into the draught, purging all meats?²⁰And he said, That which cometh out of the man, that defileth the man.²¹For from within, out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders,²²Thefts, covetousness, wickedness, deceit, lasciviousness, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, foolishness:²³All these evil things come from within, and defile the man.²⁴And from thence he arose, and went into the borders of Tyre and Sidon, and entered into an house, and would have no man know it: but he could not be hid.²⁵For a certain woman, whose young daughter had an unclean spirit, heard of him, and came and fell at his feet:²⁶The woman was a Greek, a Syrophenician by nation and she besought him that he would cast forth the devil out of her daughter.²⁷But Jesus said unto her, Let the children first be filled: for it is not meet to take the children's bread, and to cast it unto the dogs.²⁸And she answered and said unto him, Yes, Lord: yet the dogs under the table eat of the children's crumbs.²⁹And he said unto her, For this saying go thy way the devil is gone out of thy daughter.³⁰And when she was come to her house, she found the devil gone out, and her daughter laid upon the bed.³¹And again, departing from the coasts of Tyre and Sidon, he came unto the sea of Galilee, through the midst of the coasts of Decapolis.³²And they bring unto him one that was deaf, and had an impediment in his speech and they beseech him to put his hand upon him.³³And he took him aside from the multitude, and put his fingers into his ears, and he spit, and touched his tongue³⁴And looking up to heaven, he sighed, and saith unto him, Ephphatha, that is, Be opened.³⁵And straightway his ears were opened, and the string of his tongue was loosed, and he spake plain.³⁶And he charged them that they should tell no man: but the more he charged them, so much the more a great deal they published it.³⁷And were beyond measure astonished, saying, He hath done all things well: he maketh both the deaf to hear, and the dumb to speak.

CHAPTER 8 ¹In those days the multitude being very great, and having nothing to eat, Jesus called his disciples unto him, and saith unto them,²I have compassion on the multitude, because they have now been with me three days, and have nothing to eat:³And if I send them away fasting to their own houses, they will faint by the way: for divers of them came from far.⁴And his disciples answered him, From whence can a man satisfy these men with bread here in the wilderness?⁵And he asked them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, Seven.⁶And he commanded the people to sit down on the ground: and he took the seven loaves, and gave thanks, and brake, and gave to his disciples to set before them and they did set them before the people.⁷And they had a few small fishes: and he blessed, and commanded to set them also before them.⁸So they did eat, and were filled: and they took up of the broken meat that was left seven baskets.⁹And they that had eaten were about four thousand: and he sent them away.¹⁰And straightway he entered into a ship with his disciples, and came into the parts of Dalmanutha.¹¹And the Pharisees came forth, and began to question with him, seeking of him a sign from heaven, tempting him.¹²And he sighed deeply in his spirit, and saith, Why doth this generation seek after a sign? verily I say unto you, There shall no sign be given unto this generation.¹³And he left them, and entering into the ship again departed to the other side.¹⁴Now the disciples had forgotten to take bread, neither had they in the ship with them more than one loaf.¹⁵And he charged them, saying, Take heed, beware of the leaven of the Pharisees, and of the leaven of Herod.¹⁶And they reasoned among themselves, saying, It is because we have no bread.¹⁷And when Jesus knew it, he saith unto them, Why reason ye, because ye have no bread? perceive ye not yet, neither understand? have ye your heart yet hardened?¹⁸Having eyes, see ye not? and having ears, hear ye not? and do ye not remember?¹⁹When I brake the five loaves among five thousand, how many baskets full of fragments took ye up? They say unto him, Twelve.²⁰And when the seven among four thousand, how many baskets full of fragments took ye up? And they said, Seven.²¹And he said unto them, How is it that ye do not understand?²²And he cometh to Bethsaida and they bring a blind man unto him, and besought him to touch him.²³And he took the blind man by the hand, and led him out of the town and when he had spit on his eyes, and put his hands upon him, he asked him if he saw ought.²⁴And he looked up, and said, I see men as trees, walking.²⁵After that he put his hands again upon his eyes, and made him look up: and he was restored, and saw every man clearly.²⁶And he sent him away to his house, saying, Neither go into the town, nor tell it to any in the town.²⁷And Jesus went out, and his disciples, into the towns of Caesarea Philippi: and by the way he asked his disciples, saying unto them, Whom do men say that I am?²⁸And they answered, John the Baptist: but some say, Elias and others, One of the prophets.²⁹And he saith unto them, But whom say ye that I am? And Peter answereth and saith unto him, Thou art the Christ.³⁰And he charged them that they should tell no man of him.³¹And he began to teach them, that the Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders, and of the chief priests, and scribes, and be killed, and after three days rise again.³²And he spake that saying openly. And Peter took him, and began to rebuke him.³³But when he had turned about and looked on his disciples, he rebuked Peter, saying, Get thee behind me, Satan: for thou savourest not the things that be of God, but the things that be of men.³⁴And when he had called the people unto him with his disciples also, he said unto them, Whosoever will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me.³⁵For whosoever will save his life shall lose it but whosoever shall lose his life for my sake and the gospel's, the same shall save it.³⁶For what shall it profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?³⁷Or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?³⁸Whosoever therefore shall be ashamed of me and of my words in this adulterous and sinful generation of him also shall the Son of man be ashamed, when he cometh in the glory of his Father with the holy angels.

CHAPTER 9 ¹And he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, That there be some of them that stand here, which shall not taste of death, till they have seen the kingdom of God come with power.²And after six days Jesus taketh with him Peter, and James, and John, and leadeth them up into an high mountain apart by themselves: and he was transfigured before them.³And his raiment became shining, exceeding white as snow so as no fuller on earth can white them.⁴And there appeared unto them Elias with Moses: and they were talking with Jesus.⁵And Peter answered and said to Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three tabernacles one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.⁶For he wist not what to say for they were sore afraid.⁷And there was a cloud that overshadowed them: and a voice came out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Son: hear him.⁸And suddenly, when they had looked round about, they saw no man any more, save Jesus only with themselves.⁹And as they came down from the mountain, he charged them that they should tell no man what things they had seen, till the Son of man were risen from the dead.¹⁰And they kept that saying with themselves, questioning one with another what the rising from the dead should mean.¹¹And they asked him, saying, Why say the scribes that Elias must first come?¹²And he answered and told them, Elias verily cometh first, and restoreth all things and how it is written of the Son of man, that he must suffer many things, and be set at nought.¹³But I say unto you, That Elias is indeed come, and they have done unto him whatsoever they listed, as it is written of him.¹⁴And when he came to his disciples, he saw a great multitude about them, and the scribes questioning with them.¹⁵And straightway all the people, when they beheld him, were greatly amazed, and running to him saluted him.¹⁶And he asked the scribes, What question ye with them?¹⁷And one of the multitude answered and said, Master, I have brought unto thee my son, which hath a dumb spirit¹⁸And wheresoever he taketh him, he teareth him: and he foameth, and gnasheth with his teeth, and pineth away: and I spake to thy disciples that they should cast him out and they could not.¹⁹He answereth him, and saith, O faithless generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? bring him unto me.²⁰ And they brought him unto him: and when he saw him, straightway the spirit tare him and he fell on the ground, and wallowed foaming.²¹ And he asked his father, How long is it ago since this came unto him? And he said, Of a child.²² And oftentimes it hath cast him into the fire, and into the waters, to destroy him: but if thou canst do any thing, have compassion on us, and help us.²³ Jesus said unto him, If thou canst believe, all things are possible to him that believeth.²⁴ And straightway the father of the child cried out, and said with tears, Lord, I believe help thou mine unbelief.²⁵ When Jesus saw that the people came running together, he rebuked the foul spirit, saying unto him, Thou dumb and deaf spirit, I charge thee, come out of him, and enter no more into him.²⁶ And the spirit cried, and rent him sore, and came out of him: and he was as one dead insomuch that many said, He is dead.²⁷ But Jesus took him by the hand, and lifted him up and he arose.²⁸ And when he was come into the house, his disciples asked him privately, Why could not we cast him out?²⁹ And he said unto them, This kind can come forth by nothing, but by prayer and fasting.³⁰ And they departed thence, and passed through Galilee and he would not that any man should know it.³¹ For he taught his disciples, and said unto them, The Son of man is delivered into the hands of men, and they shall kill him and after that he is killed, he shall rise the third day.³² But they understood not that saying, and were afraid to ask him.³³ And he came to Capernaum: and being in the house he asked them, What was it that ye disputed among yourselves by the way?³⁴ But they held their peace: for by the way they had disputed among themselves, who should be the greatest.³⁵ And he sat down, and called the twelve, and saith unto them, If any man desire to be first, the same shall be last of all, and servant of all.³⁶ And he took a child, and set him in the midst of them: and when he had taken him in his arms, he said unto them,³⁷ Whosoever shall receive one of such children in my name, receiveth me: and whosoever shall receive me, receiveth not me, but him that sent me.³⁸ And John answered him, saying, Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy name, and he followeth not us: and we forbad him, because he followeth not us.³⁹But Jesus said, Forbid him not: for there is no man which shall do a miracle in my name, that can lightly speak evil of me.⁴⁰For he that is not against us is on our part.⁴¹For whosoever shall give you a cup of water to drink in my name, because ye belong to Christ, verily I say unto you, he shall not lose his reward.⁴²And whosoever shall offend one of these little ones that believe in me, it is better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he were cast into the sea.⁴³And if thy hand offend thee, cut it off: it is better for thee to enter into life maimed, than having two hands to go into hell, into the fire that never shall be quenched:⁴⁴Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.⁴⁵And if thy foot offend thee, cut it off: it is better for thee to enter halt into life, than having two feet to be cast into hell, into the fire that never shall be quenched:⁴⁶Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.⁴⁷And if thine eye offend thee, pluck it out: it is better for thee to enter into the kingdom of God with one eye, than having two eyes to be cast into hell fire:⁴⁸Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.⁴⁹For every one shall be salted with fire, and every sacrifice shall be salted with salt.⁵⁰Salt is good: but if the salt have lost his saltiness, wherewith will ye season it? Have salt in yourselves, and have peace one with another.

CHAPTER 10 ¹And he arose from thence, and cometh into the coasts of Judaea by the farther side of Jordan: and the people resort unto him again and, as he was wont, he taught them again.²And the Pharisees came to him, and asked him, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife? tempting him.³And he answered and said unto them, What did Moses command you?⁴And they said, Moses suffered to write a bill of divorcement, and to put her away.⁵And Jesus answered and said unto them, For the hardness of your heart he wrote you this precept.⁶But from the beginning of the creation God made them male and female.⁷For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and cleave to his wife⁸And they twain shall be one flesh: so then they are no more twain, but one flesh.⁹What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder.¹⁰And in the house his disciples asked him again of the same matter.¹¹And he saith unto them, Whosoever shall put away his wife, and marry another, committeth adultery against her.¹²And if a woman shall put away her husband, and be married to another, she committeth adultery.¹³And they brought young children to him, that he should touch them: and his disciples rebuked those that brought them.¹⁴But when Jesus saw it, he was much displeased, and said unto them, Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God.¹⁵Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall not enter therein.¹⁶And he took them up in his arms, put his hands upon them, and blessed them.¹⁷And when he was gone forth into the way, there came one running, and kneeled to him, and asked him, Good Master, what shall I do that I may inherit eternal life?¹⁸And Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, that is, God.¹⁹Thou knowest the commandments, Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Defraud not, Honour thy father and mother.²⁰And he answered and said unto him, Master, all these have I observed from my youth.²¹Then Jesus beholding him loved him, and said unto him, One thing thou lackest: go thy way, sell whatsoever thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, take up the cross, and follow me.²²And he was sad at that saying, and went away grieved: for he had great possessions.²³And Jesus looked round about, and saith unto his disciples, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God!²⁴And the disciples were astonished at his words. But Jesus answereth again, and saith unto them, Children, how hard is it for them that trust in riches to enter into the kingdom of God!²⁵It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.²⁶And they were astonished out of measure, saying among themselves, Who then can be saved?²⁷And Jesus looking upon them saith, With men it is impossible, but not with God: for with God all things are possible.²⁸Then Peter began to say unto him, Lo, we have left all, and have followed thee.²⁹And Jesus answered and said, Verily I say unto you, There is no man that hath left house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my sake, and the gospel's,³⁰But he shall receive an hundredfold now in this time, houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands, with persecutions and in the world to come eternal life.³¹But many that are first shall be last and the last first.³²And they were in the way going up to Jerusalem and Jesus went before them: and they were amazed and as they followed, they were afraid. And he took again the twelve, and began to tell them what things should happen unto him,³³Saying, Behold, we go up to Jerusalem and the Son of man shall be delivered unto the chief priests, and unto the scribes and they shall condemn him to death, and shall deliver him to the Gentiles:³⁴And they shall mock him, and shall scourge him, and shall spit upon him, and shall kill him: and the third day he shall rise again.³⁵And James and John, the sons of Zebedee, come unto him, saying, Master, we would that thou shouldest do for us whatsoever we shall desire.³⁶And he said unto them, What would ye that I should do for you?³⁷They said unto him, Grant unto us that we may sit, one on thy right hand, and the other on thy left hand, in thy glory.³⁸But Jesus said unto them, Ye know not what ye ask:

can ye drink of the cup that I drink of? and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with?³⁹And they said unto him, We can. And Jesus said unto them, Ye shall indeed drink of the cup that I drink of and with the baptism that I am baptized withal shall ye be baptized:⁴⁰But to sit on my right hand and on my left hand is not mine to give but it shall be given to them for whom it is prepared.⁴¹And when the ten heard it, they began to be much displeased with James and John.⁴²But Jesus called them to him, and saith unto them, Ye know that they which are accounted to rule over the Gentiles exercise lordship over them and their great ones exercise authority upon them.⁴³But so shall it not be among you: but whosoever will be great among you, shall be your minister:⁴⁴And whosoever of you will be the chiefest, shall be servant of all.⁴⁵For even the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.⁴⁶And they came to Jericho: and as he went out of Jericho with his disciples and a great number of people, blind Bartimaeus, the son of Timaeus, sat by the highway side begging.⁴⁷And when he heard that it was Jesus of Nazareth, he began to cry out, and say, Jesus, thou Son of David, have mercy on me.⁴⁸ And many charged him that he should hold his peace: but he cried the more a great deal, Thou Son of David, have mercy on me.⁴⁹ And Jesus stood still, and commanded him to be called. And they call the blind man, saying unto him, Be of good comfort, rise he calleth thee.⁵⁰ And he, casting away his garment, rose, and came to Jesus.⁵¹ And Jesus answered and said unto him, What wilt thou that I should do unto thee? The blind man said unto him, Lord, that I might receive my sight.⁵² And Jesus said unto him, Go thy way thy faith hath made thee whole. And immediately he received his sight, and followed Jesus in the way.

CHAPTER 11 ¹And when they came nigh to Jerusalem, unto Bethphage and Bethany, at the mount of Olives, he sendeth forth two of his disciples,² And saith unto them, Go your way into the village over against you: and as soon as ye be entered into it, ye shall find a colt tied, whereon never man sat loose him, and bring him.³ And if any man say unto you, Why do ye this? say ye that the Lord hath need of him and straightway he will send him hither.⁴ And they went their way, and found the colt tied by the door without in a place where two ways met and they loose him.⁵ And certain of them that stood there said unto them, What do ye, loosing the colt?⁶ And they said unto them even as Jesus had commanded: and they let them go.⁷ And they brought the colt to Jesus, and cast their garments on him and he sat upon him.⁸ And many spread their garments in the way: and others cut down branches off the trees, and strawed them in the way.⁹ And they that went before, and they that followed, cried, saying, Hosanna Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.¹⁰ Blessed be the kingdom of our father David, that cometh in the name of the Lord: Hosanna in the highest.¹¹ And Jesus entered into Jerusalem, and into the temple: and when he had looked round about upon all things, and now the eventide was come, he went out unto Bethany with the twelve.¹² And on the morrow, when they were come from Bethany, he was hungry:¹³ And seeing a fig tree afar off having leaves, he came, if haply he might find any thing thereon: and when he came to it, he found nothing but leaves for the time of figs was not yet.¹⁴And Jesus answered and said unto it, No man eat fruit of thee hereafter for ever. And his disciples heard it.¹⁵And they come to Jerusalem: and Jesus went into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the moneychangers, and the seats of them that sold doves.¹⁶And would not suffer that any man should carry any vessel through the temple.¹⁷And he taught, saying unto them, Is it not written, My house shall be called of all nations the house of prayer? but ye have made it a den of thieves.¹⁸And the scribes and chief priests heard it, and sought how they might destroy him: for they feared him, because all the people was astonished at his doctrine.¹⁹And when even was come, he went out of the city.²⁰And in the morning, as they passed by, they saw the fig tree dried up from the roots.²¹And Peter calling to remembrance saith unto him, Master, behold, the fig tree which thou cursedst is withered away.²²And Jesus answering saith unto them, Have faith in God.²³For verily I say unto you, That whosoever shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea and shall not doubt in his heart, but shall believe that those things which he saith shall come to pass he shall have whatsoever he saith.²⁴Therefore I say unto you, What things soever ye desire, when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them.²⁵And when ye stand praying, forgive, if ye have ought against any: that your Father also which is in heaven may forgive you your trespasses.²⁶But if ye do not forgive, neither will your Father which is in heaven forgive your trespasses.²⁷And they come again to Jerusalem: and as he was walking in the temple, there come to him the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders,²⁸And say unto him, By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee this authority to do these things?²⁹And Jesus answered and said unto them, I will also ask of you one question, and answer me, and I will tell you by what authority I do these things.³⁰The baptism of John, was it from heaven, or of men? answer me.³¹And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven he will say, Why then did ye not believe him?³²But if we shall say, Of men they feared the people: for all men counted John, that he was a prophet indeed.³³And they answered and said unto Jesus,

We cannot tell. And Jesus answering saith unto them, Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things.

CHAPTER 12 ¹And he began to speak unto them by parables. A certain man planted a vineyard, and set an hedge about it, and digged a place for the winefat, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a far country.²And at the season he sent to the husbandmen a servant, that he might receive from the husbandmen of the fruit of the vineyard.³And they caught him, and beat him, and sent him away empty.⁴And again he sent unto them another servant and at him they cast stones, and wounded him in the head, and sent him away shamefully handled.⁵And again he sent another and him they killed, and many others beating some, and killing some.⁶Having yet therefore one son, his wellbeloved, he sent him also last unto them, saying, They will reverence my son.⁷But those husbandmen said among themselves, This is the heir come, let us kill him, and the inheritance shall be ours.⁸And they took him, and killed him, and cast him out of the vineyard.⁹What shall therefore the lord of the vineyard do? he will come and destroy the husbandmen, and will give the vineyard unto others.¹⁰And have ye not read this scripture The stone which the builders rejected is become the head of the corner:¹¹This was the Lord's doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes?¹²And they sought to lay hold on him, but feared the people: for they knew that he had spoken the parable against them: and they left him, and went their way.¹³And they send unto him certain of the Pharisees and of the Herodians, to catch him in his words.¹⁴And when they were come, they say unto him, Master, we know that thou art true, and carest for no man: for thou regardest not the person of men, but teachest the way of God in truth: Is it lawful to give tribute to Caesar, or not?¹⁵Shall we give, or shall we not give? But he, knowing their hypocrisy, said unto them, Why tempt ye me? bring me a penny, that I may see it.¹⁶And they brought it. And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription? And they said unto him, Caesar's.¹⁷And Jesus answering said unto them, Render to Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and to God the things that are God's. And they marvelled at him.¹⁸Then come unto him the Sadducees, which say there is no resurrection and they asked him, saying,¹⁹Master, Moses wrote unto us, If a man's brother die, and leave his wife behind him, and leave no children, that his brother should take his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother.²⁰Now there were seven brethren: and the first took a wife, and dying left no seed.²¹And the second took her, and died, neither left he any seed: and the third likewise.²²And the seven had her, and left no seed: last of all the woman died also.²³In the resurrection therefore, when they shall rise, whose wife shall she be of them? for the seven had her to wife.²⁴And Jesus answering said unto them, Do ye not therefore err, because ye know not the scriptures, neither the power of God?²⁵For when they shall rise from the dead, they neither marry, nor are given in marriage but are as the angels which are in heaven.²⁶And as touching the dead, that they rise: have ye not read in the book of Moses, how in the bush God spake unto him, saying, I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob?²⁷He is not the God of the dead, but the God of the living: ye therefore do greatly err.²⁸And one of the scribes came, and having heard them reasoning together, and perceiving that he had answered them well, asked him, Which is the first commandment of all?²⁹And Jesus answered him, The first of all the commandments is, Hear, O Israel The Lord our God is one Lord.³⁰And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength: this is the first commandment.³¹And the second is like, namely this, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. There is none other commandment greater than these.³²And the scribe said unto him, Well, Master, thou hast said the truth: for there is one God and there is none other but he.³³And to love him with all the heart, and with all the understanding, and with all the soul, and with all the strength, and to love his neighbour as himself, is more than all whole burnt offerings and sacrifices.³⁴And when Jesus saw that he answered discreetly, he said unto him, Thou art not far from the kingdom of God. And no man after that durst ask him any question.³⁵And Jesus answered and said, while he taught in the temple, How say the scribes that Christ is the Son of David?³⁶For David himself said by the Holy Ghost, The Lord said to my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool.³⁷David therefore himself calleth him Lord and whence is he then his son? And the common people heard him gladly.³⁸And he said unto them in his doctrine, Beware of the scribes, which love to go in long clothing, and love salutations in the marketplaces,³⁹And the chief seats in the synagogues, and the uppermost rooms at feasts:⁴⁰Which devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayers: these shall receive greater damnation.⁴¹And Jesus sat over against the treasury, and beheld how the people cast money into the treasury: and many that were rich cast in much.⁴²And there came a certain poor widow, and she threw in two mites, which make a farthing.⁴³And he called unto him his disciples, and saith unto them, Verily I say unto you, That this poor widow hath cast more in, than all they which have cast into the treasury:⁴⁴For all they did cast in of their abundance but she of her want did cast in all that she had, even all her living.

CHAPTER 13¹And as he went out of the temple, one of his disciples saith unto him, Master, see what manner of stones and what buildings are here!²And Jesus answering said unto him, Seest thou these great buildings? there shall not be left one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.³And as he sat upon the mount of Olives over against the temple, Peter and James and John and Andrew asked him privately,⁴Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign when all these things shall be fulfilled?⁵And Jesus answering them began to say, Take heed lest any man deceive you:⁶For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ and shall deceive many.⁷And when ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars, be ye not troubled: for such things must needs be but the end shall not be yet.⁸For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be earthquakes in divers places, and there shall be famines and troubles: these are the beginnings of sorrows.⁹But take heed to yourselves: for they shall deliver you up to councils and in the synagogues ye shall be beaten: and ye shall be brought before rulers and kings for my sake, for a testimony against them.¹⁰And the gospel must first be published among all nations.¹¹But when they shall lead you, and deliver you up, take no thought beforehand what ye shall speak, neither do ye premeditate: but whatsoever shall be given you in that hour, that speak ye: for it is not ye that speak, but the Holy Ghost.¹²Now the brother shall betray the brother to death, and the father the son and children shall rise up against their parents, and shall cause them to be put to death.¹³And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: but he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved.¹⁴But when ye shall see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by Daniel the prophet, standing where it ought not, (let him that readeth understand,) then let them that be in Judaea flee to the mountains:¹⁵And let him that is on the housetop not go down into the house, neither enter therein, to take any thing out of his house:¹⁶And let him that is in the field not turn back again for to take up his garment.¹⁷But woe to them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those days!¹⁸And pray ye that your flight be not in the winter.¹⁹For in those days shall be affliction, such as was not from the beginning of the creation which God created unto this time, neither shall be.²⁰And except that the Lord had shortened those days, no flesh should be saved: but for the elect's sake, whom he hath chosen, he hath shortened the days.²¹And then if any man shall say to you, Lo, here is Christ or, lo, he is there believe him not:²²For false Christs and false prophets shall rise, and shall shew signs and wonders, to seduce, if it were possible, even the elect.²³But take ye heed: behold, I have foretold you all things.²⁴But in those days, after that tribulation, the sun shall be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light,²⁵And the stars of heaven shall fall, and the powers that are in heaven shall be shaken.²⁶And then shall they see the Son of man coming in the clouds with great power and glory.²⁷And then shall he send his angels, and shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from the uttermost part of the earth to the uttermost part of heaven.²⁸Now learn a parable of the fig tree When her branch is yet tender, and putteth forth leaves, ye know that summer is near:²⁹So ye in like manner, when ye shall see these things come to pass, know that it is nigh, even at the doors.³⁰Verily I say unto you, that this generation shall not pass, till all these things be done.³¹Heaven and earth shall pass away: but my words shall not pass away.³²But of that day and that hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels which are in heaven, neither the Son, but the Father.³³Take ye heed, watch and pray: for ye know not when the time is.³⁴For the Son of man is as a man taking a far journey, who left his house, and gave authority to his servants, and to every man his work, and commanded the porter to watch.³⁵Watch ye therefore: for ye know not when the master of the house cometh, at even, or at midnight, or at the cockcrowing, or in the morning.³⁶Lest coming suddenly he find you sleeping.³⁷And what I say unto you I say unto all, Watch.

CHAPTER 14 ¹After two days was the feast of the passover, and of unleavened bread: and the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might take him by craft, and put him to death.²But they said, Not on the feast day, lest there be an uproar of the people.³And being in Bethany in the house of Simon the leper, as he sat at meat, there came a woman having an alabaster box of ointment of spikenard very precious and she brake the box, and poured it on his head.⁴And there were some that had indignation within themselves, and said, Why was this waste of the ointment made?⁵For it might have been sold for more than three hundred pence, and have been given to the poor. And they murmured against her.⁶And Jesus said, Let her alone why trouble ye her? she hath wrought a good work on me.⁷For ye have the poor with you always, and whensoever ye will ye may do them good: but me ye have not always.⁸She hath done what she could: she is come aforehand to anoint my body to the burying.⁹Verily I say unto you, Wheresoever this gospel shall be preached throughout the whole world, this also that she hath done shall be spoken of for a memorial of her.¹⁰And Judas Iscariot, one of the twelve, went unto the chief priests, to betray him unto them.¹¹And when they heard it, they were glad, and promised to give him money. And he sought how he might conveniently betray him.¹²And the first day of unleavened bread, when they killed the passover, his disciples said unto him, Where wilt thou that we go and prepare that thou mayest eat the passover?¹³And he sendeth forth two of his disciples, and saith unto them, Go ye into the city, and there shall meet you a man bearing a pitcher of water: follow him.¹⁴And wheresoever he shall go in, say ye to the goodman of the house, The Master saith, Where is the guestchamber, where I shall eat the passover with my disciples?¹⁵And he will shew you a large upper room furnished and prepared: there make ready for us.¹⁶And his disciples went forth, and came into the city, and found as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.¹⁷And in the evening he cometh with the twelve.¹⁸And as they sat and did eat, Jesus said, Verily I say unto you, One of you which eateth with me shall betray me.¹⁹And they began to be sorrowful, and to say unto him one by one, Is it I? and another said, Is it I?²⁰And he answered and said unto them, It is one of the twelve, that dippeth with me in the dish.²¹The Son of man indeed goeth, as it is written of him: but woe to that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed! good were it for that man if he had never been born.²²And as they did eat, Jesus took bread, and blessed, and brake it, and gave to them, and said, Take, eat: this is my body.²³And he took the cup, and when he had given thanks, he gave it to them: and they all drank of it.²⁴And he said unto them, This is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many.²⁵Verily I say unto you, I will drink no more of the fruit of the vine, until that day that I drink it new in the kingdom of God.²⁶And when they had sung an hymn, they went out into the mount of Olives.²⁷And Jesus saith unto them, All ye shall be offended because of me this night: for it is written, I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered.²⁸But after that I am risen, I will go before you into Galilee.²⁹But Peter said unto him, Although all shall be offended, yet will not I.³⁰And Jesus saith unto him, Verily I say unto thee, That this day, even in this night, before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice.³¹But he spake the more vehemently, If I should die with thee, I will not deny thee in any wise. Likewise also said they all.³²And they came to a place which was named Gethsemane: and he saith to his disciples, Sit ye here, while I shall pray.³³And he taketh with him Peter and James and John, and began to be sore amazed, and to be very heavy.³⁴And saith unto them, My soul is exceeding sorrowful unto death: tarry ye here, and watch.³⁵And he went forward a little, and fell on the ground, and prayed that, if it were possible, the hour might pass from him.³⁶And he said, Abba, Father, all things are possible unto thee take away this cup from me: nevertheless not what I will, but what thou wilt.³⁷And he cometh, and findeth them sleeping, and saith unto Peter, Simon, sleepest thou? couldest not thou watch one hour?³⁸Watch ye and pray, lest ye enter into temptation. The spirit truly is ready, but the flesh is weak.³⁹And again he went away, and prayed, and spake the same words.⁴⁰And when he returned, he found them asleep again, (for their eyes were heavy,) neither wist they what to answer him.⁴¹And he cometh the third time, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: it is enough, the hour is come behold, the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.⁴²Rise up, let us go lo, he that betrayeth me is at hand.⁴³And immediately, while he yet spake, cometh Judas, one of the twelve, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and the scribes and the elders.⁴⁴And he that betrayed him had given them a token, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that same is he take him, and lead him away safely.⁴⁵And as soon as he was come, he goeth straightway to him, and saith, Master, master and kissed him.⁴⁶And they laid their hands on him, and took him.⁴⁷And one of them that stood by drew a sword, and smote a servant of the high priest, and cut off his ear.⁴⁸And Jesus answered and said unto them, Are ye come out, as against a thief, with swords and with staves to take me?⁴⁹I was daily with you in the temple teaching, and ye took me not: but the scriptures must be fulfilled.⁵⁰And they all forsook him, and fled.⁵¹And there followed him a certain young man, having a linen cloth cast about his naked body and the young men laid hold on him:⁵²And he left the linen cloth, and fled from them naked.⁵³And they led Jesus away to the high priest: and with him were assembled all the chief priests and the elders and the scribes.⁵⁴And Peter followed him afar off, even into the palace of the high priest: and he sat with the servants, and warmed himself at the fire.⁵⁵And the chief priests and all the council sought for witness against Jesus to put him to death and found none.⁵⁶For many bare false witness against him, but their witness agreed not together.⁵⁷And there arose certain, and bare false witness against him, saying,⁵⁸We heard him say, I will destroy this temple that is made with hands, and within three days I will build another made without hands.⁵⁹But neither so did their witness agree together.⁶⁰And the high priest stood up in the midst, and asked Jesus, saying, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which these witness against thee?⁶¹But he held his peace, and answered nothing. Again the high priest asked him, and said unto him, Art thou the Christ, the Son of the Blessed?⁶²And Jesus said, I am: and ye shall see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven.⁶³Then the high priest rent his clothes, and saith, What need we any further witnesses?⁶⁴Ye have heard the blasphemy: what think ye? And they all condemned him to be guilty of death.⁶⁵And some began to spit on him, and to cover his face, and to buffet him, and to say unto him, Prophecy: and the servants did strike him with the palms of their hands.⁶⁶And as Peter was beneath in the palace, there cometh one of the maids of the high priest:⁶⁷And when she saw Peter warming himself, she looked upon him, and said, And thou also wast with Jesus of Nazareth.⁶⁸But he denied, saying, I know not, neither understand I what thou sayest. And he went out into the porch and the cock crew.⁶⁹And a maid saw him again, and began to say to them that stood by, This is one of them.⁷⁰And he denied it again. And a little after, they that stood by said again to Peter, Surely thou art one of them: for thou art a Galilaean, and thy speech agreeth thereto.⁷¹But he began to curse and to swear, saying, I know not this man of whom ye speak.⁷²And the second time the cock crew. And Peter called to mind the word that Jesus said unto him, Before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice. And when he thought thereon, he wept.

CHAPTER 15 ¹And straightway in the morning the chief priests held a consultation with the elders and scribes and the whole council, and bound Jesus, and carried him away, and delivered him to Pilate.²And Pilate asked him, Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answering said unto him, Thou sayest it.³And the chief priests accused him of many things: but he answered nothing.⁴And Pilate asked him again, saying, Answerest thou nothing? behold how many things they witness against thee.⁵But Jesus yet answered nothing so that Pilate marvelled.⁶Now at that feast he released unto them one prisoner, whomsoever they desired.⁷And there was one named Barabbas, which lay bound with them that had made insurrection with him, who had committed murder in the insurrection.⁸And the multitude crying aloud began to desire him to do as he had ever done unto them.⁹But Pilate answered them, saying, Will ye that I release unto you the King of the Jews?¹⁰For he knew that the chief priests had delivered him for envy.¹¹But the chief priests moved the people, that he should rather release Barabbas unto them.¹²And Pilate answered and said again unto them, What will ye then that I shall do unto him whom ye call the King of the Jews?¹³And they cried out again, Crucify him.¹⁴Then Pilate said unto them, Why, what evil hath he done? And they cried out the more exceedingly, Crucify him.¹⁵And so Pilate, willing to content the people, released Barabbas unto them, and delivered Jesus, when he had scourged him, to be crucified.¹⁶And the soldiers led him away into the hall, called Praetorium and they call together the whole band.¹⁷And they clothed him with purple, and platted a crown of thorns, and put it about his head,¹⁸And began to salute him, Hail, King of the Jews!¹⁹And they smote him on the head with a reed, and did spit upon him, and bowing their knees worshipped him.²⁰And when they had mocked him, they took off the purple from him, and put his own clothes on him, and led him out to crucify him.²¹And they compel one Simon a Cyrenian, who passed by, coming out of the country, the father of Alexander and Rufus, to bear his cross.²²And they bring him unto the place Golgotha, which is, being interpreted, The place of a skull.²³And they gave him to drink wine mingled with myrrh: but he received it not.²⁴And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments, casting lots upon them, what every man should take.²⁵And it was the third hour, and they crucified him.²⁶And the superscription of his accusation was written over, THE KING OF THE JEWS.²⁷And with him they crucify two thieves the one on his right hand, and the other on his left.²⁸And the scripture was fulfilled, which saith, And he was numbered with the transgressors.²⁹And they that passed by railed on him, wagging their heads, and saying, Ah, thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three days,³⁰Save thyself, and come down from the cross.³¹Likewise also the chief priests mocking said among themselves with the scribes, He saved others himself he cannot save.³²Let Christ the King of Israel descend now from the cross, that we may see and believe. And they that were crucified with him reviled him.³³And when the sixth hour was come, there was darkness over the whole land until the ninth hour.³⁴And at the ninth hour Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani? which is, being interpreted, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?³⁵And some of them that stood by, when they heard it, said, Behold, he calleth Elias.³⁶And one ran and filled a sponge full of vinegar, and put it on a reed, and gave him to drink, saying, Let alone let us see whether Elias will come to take him down.³⁷And Jesus cried with a loud voice, and gave up the ghost.³⁸And the veil of the temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom.³⁹And when the centurion, which stood over against him, saw that he so cried out, and gave up the ghost, he said, Truly this man was the Son of God.⁴⁰There were also women looking on afar off: among whom was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James the less and of Joses, and Salome⁴¹(Who also, when he was in Galilee, followed him, and ministered unto him) and many other women which came up with him unto Jerusalem.⁴²And now when the even was come, because it was the preparation, that is, the day before the sabbath,⁴³Joseph of Arimathaea, and honourable counsellor, which also waited for the kingdom of God, came, and went in boldly unto Pilate, and craved the body of Jesus.⁴⁴And Pilate marvelled if he were already dead: and calling unto him the centurion, he asked him whether he had been any while dead.⁴⁵And when he knew it of the centurion, he gave the body to Joseph.⁴⁶And he bought fine linen, and took him down, and wrapped him in the linen, and laid him in a sepulchre which was hewn out of a rock, and rolled a stone unto the door of the sepulchre.⁴⁷And Mary Magdalene and Mary the mother of Joses beheld where he was laid.

CHAPTER 16 ¹And when the sabbath was past, Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James, and Salome, had bought sweet spices, that they might come and anoint him.²And very early in the morning the first day of the week, they came unto the sepulchre at the rising of the sun.³And they said among themselves, Who shall roll us away the stone from the door of the sepulchre?⁴And when they looked, they saw that the stone was rolled away: for it was very great.⁵And entering into the sepulchre, they saw a young man sitting on the right side, clothed in a long white garment and they were affrighted.⁶And he saith unto them, Be not affrighted: Ye seek Jesus of Nazareth, which was crucified: he is risen he is not here: behold the place where they laid him.⁷But go your way, tell his disciples and Peter that he goeth before you into Galilee: there shall ye see him, as he said unto you.⁸And they went out quickly, and fled from the sepulchre for they trembled and were amazed: neither said they any thing to any man for they were afraid.⁹Now when Jesus was risen early the first day of the week, he appeared first to Mary Magdalene, out of whom he had cast seven devils.¹⁰And she went and told them that had been with him, as they mourned and wept.¹¹And they, when they had heard that he was alive, and had been seen of her, believed not.¹²After that he appeared in another form unto two of them, as they walked, and went into the country.¹³And they went and told it unto the residue: neither believed they them.¹⁴Afterward he appeared unto the eleven as they sat at meat, and upbraided them with their unbelief and hardness of heart, because they believed not them which had seen him after he was risen.¹⁵And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature.¹⁶He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved but he that believeth not shall be damned.¹⁷And these signs shall follow them that believe In my name shall they cast out devils they shall speak with new tongues¹⁸They shall take up serpents and if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover.¹⁹So then after the Lord had spoken unto them, he was received up into heaven, and sat on the right hand of God.²⁰And they went forth, and preached everywhere, the Lord working with them, and confirming the word with signs following. Amen.

CHAPTER 1 ¹Forasmuch as many have taken in hand to set forth in order a declaration of those things which are most surely believed among us,²Even as they delivered them unto us, which from the beginning were eyewitnesses, and ministers of the word³It seemed good to me also, having had perfect understanding of all things from the very first, to write unto thee in order, most excellent Theophilus,⁴That thou mightest know the certainty of those things, wherein thou hast been instructed.⁵There was in the days of Herod, the king of Judaea, a certain priest named Zacharias, of the course of Abia: and his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elisabeth.⁶And they were both righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless.⁷And they had no child, because that Elisabeth was barren, and they both were now well stricken in years.⁸And it came to pass, that while he executed the priest's office before God in the order of his course,⁹According to the custom of the priest's office, his lot was to burn incense when he went into the temple of the Lord.¹⁰And the whole multitude of the people were praying without at the time of incense.¹¹And there appeared unto him an angel of the Lord standing on the right side of the altar of incense.¹²And when Zacharias saw him, he was troubled, and fear fell upon him.¹³But the angel said unto him, Fear not, Zacharias: for thy prayer is heard and thy wife Elisabeth shall bear thee a son, and thou shalt call his name John.¹⁴And thou shalt have joy and gladness and many shall rejoice at his birth.¹⁵For he shall be great in the sight of the Lord, and shall drink neither wine nor strong drink and he shall be filled with the Holy Ghost, even from his mother's womb.¹⁶And many of the children of Israel shall he turn to the Lord their God.¹⁷And he shall go before him in the spirit and power of Elias, to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wisdom of the just to make ready a people prepared for the Lord.¹⁸And Zacharias said unto the angel, Whereby shall I know this? for I am an old man, and my wife well stricken in years.¹⁹And the angel answering said unto him, I am Gabriel, that stand in the presence of God and am sent to speak unto thee, and to shew thee these glad tidings.²⁰And, behold, thou shalt be dumb, and not able to speak, until the day that these things shall be performed, because thou believest not my words, which shall be fulfilled in their season.²¹And the people waited for Zacharias, and marvelled that he tarried so long in the temple.²²And when he came out, he could not speak unto them: and they perceived that he had seen a vision in the temple: for he beckoned unto them, and remained speechless.²³And it came to pass, that, as soon as the days of his ministration were accomplished, he departed to his own house.²⁴And after those days his wife Elisabeth conceived, and hid herself five months, saying,²⁵Thus hath the Lord dealt with me in the days wherein he looked on me, to take away my reproach among men.²⁶And in the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent from God unto a city of Galilee, named Nazareth,²⁷To a virgin espoused to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David and the virgin's name was Mary.²⁸And the angel came in unto her, and said, Hail, thou that art highly favoured, the Lord is with thee: blessed art thou among women.²⁹And when she saw him, she was troubled at his saying, and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this should be.³⁰And the angel said unto her, Fear not, Mary: for thou hast found favour with God.³¹And, behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and shalt call his name JESUS.³²He shall be great, and shall be called the Son of the Highest: and the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father David.³³And he shall reign over the house of Jacob for ever and of his kingdom there shall be no end.³⁴Then said Mary unto the angel, How shall this be, seeing I know not a man?³⁵And the angel answered and said unto her, The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee: therefore also that holy thing which shall be born of thee shall be called the Son of God.³⁶And, behold, thy cousin Elisabeth, she hath also conceived a son in her old age: and this is the sixth month with her, who was called barren.³⁷For with God nothing shall be impossible.³⁸And Mary said, Behold the handmaid of the Lord be it unto me according to thy word. And the angel departed from her.³⁹And Mary arose in those days, and went into the hill country with haste, into a city of Juda⁴⁰And entered into the house of Zacharias, and saluted Elisabeth.⁴¹And it came to pass, that, when Elisabeth heard the salutation of Mary, the babe leaped in her womb and Elisabeth was filled with the Holy Ghost:⁴²And she spake out with a loud voice, and said, Blessed art thou among women, and blessed is the fruit of thy womb.⁴³And whence is this to me, that the mother of my Lord should come to me?⁴⁴For, lo, as soon as the voice of thy salutation sounded in mine ears, the babe leaped in my womb for joy.⁴⁵And blessed is she that believed: for there shall be a performance of those things which were told her from the Lord.⁴⁶And Mary said, My soul doth magnify the Lord,⁴⁷And my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour.⁴⁸For he hath regarded the low estate of his handmaiden: for, behold, from henceforth all generations shall call me blessed.⁴⁹For he that is mighty hath done to me great things and holy is his name.⁵⁰And his mercy is on them that fear him from generation to generation.⁵¹He hath shewed strength with his arm he hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts.⁵²He hath put down the mighty from their seats, and exalted them of low degree.⁵³He hath filled the hungry with good things and the rich he hath sent empty away.⁵⁴He hath holpen his servant Israel, in remembrance of his mercy⁵⁵As he spake to our fathers, to Abraham, and to his seed for ever.⁵⁶And Mary abode with her about three months, and returned to her own house.⁵⁷Now Elisabeth's full time came that she should be delivered and she brought forth a son.⁵⁸And her neighbours and her cousins heard how the Lord had shewed great mercy upon her and they rejoiced with her.⁵⁹And it came to pass, that on the eighth day they came to circumcise the child and they called him Zacharias, after the name of his father.⁶⁰And his mother answered and said, Not so but he shall be called John.⁶¹And they said unto her, There is none of thy kindred that is called by this name.⁶²And they made signs to his father, how he would have him called.⁶³And he asked for a writing table, and wrote, saying, His name is John. And they marvelled all.⁶⁴And his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue loosed, and he spake, and praised God.⁶⁵And fear came on all that dwelt round about them: and all these sayings were noised abroad throughout all the hill country of Judaea.⁶⁶And all they that heard them laid them up in their hearts, saying, What manner of child shall this be! And the hand of the Lord was with him.⁶⁷And his father Zacharias was filled with the Holy Ghost, and prophesied, saying,⁶⁸Blessed be the Lord God of Israel for he hath visited and redeemed his people,⁶⁹And hath raised up an horn of salvation for us in the house of his servant David⁷⁰As he spake by the mouth of his holy prophets, which have been since the world began:⁷¹That we should be saved from our enemies, and from the hand of all that hate us⁷²To perform the mercy promised to our fathers, and to remember his holy covenant⁷³The oath which he sware to our father

Abraham,⁷⁴That he would grant unto us, that we being delivered out of the hand of our enemies might serve him without fear,⁷⁵In holiness and righteousness before him, all the days of our life.⁷⁶And thou, child, shalt be called the prophet of the Highest: for thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare his ways⁷⁷To give knowledge of salvation unto his people by the remission of their sins,⁷⁸Through the tender mercy of our God whereby the dayspring from on high hath visited us,⁷⁹To give light to them that sit in darkness and in the shadow of death, to guide our feet into the way of peace.⁸⁰And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, and was in the deserts till the day of his shewing unto Israel.

CHAPTER 2 ¹And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed.²(And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was governor of Syria.)³And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city.⁴And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judaea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem (because he was of the house and lineage of David:)⁵To be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child.⁶And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered.⁷And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger because there was no room for them in the inn.⁸And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.⁹And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid.¹⁰And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.¹¹For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.¹²And this shall be a sign unto you Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.¹³And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,¹⁴Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.¹⁵And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.¹⁶And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger.¹⁷And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child.¹⁸And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds.¹⁹But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart.²⁰And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.²¹And when eight days were accomplished for the circumcising of the child, his name was called JESUS, which was so named of the angel before he was conceived in the womb.²²And when the days of her purification according to the law of Moses were accomplished, they brought him to Jerusalem, to present him to the Lord²³(As it is written in the law of the Lord, Every male that openeth the womb shall be called holy to the Lord)²⁴And to offer a sacrifice according to that which is said in the law of the Lord, A pair of turtledoves, or two young pigeons.²⁵And, behold, there was a man in Jerusalem, whose name was Simeon and the same man was just and devout, waiting for the consolation of Israel: and the Holy Ghost was upon him.²⁶And it was revealed unto him by the Holy Ghost, that he should not see death, before he had seen the Lord's Christ.²⁷And he came by the Spirit into the temple: and when the parents brought in the child Jesus, to do for him after the custom of the law,²⁸Then took he him up in his arms, and blessed God, and said,²⁹Lord, now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, according to thy word:³⁰For mine eyes have seen thy salvation,³¹Which thou hast prepared before the face of all people³²A light to lighten the Gentiles, and the glory of thy people Israel.³³And Joseph and his mother marvelled at those things which were spoken of him.³⁴And Simeon blessed them, and said unto Mary his mother, Behold, this child is set for the fall and rising again of many in Israel and for a sign which shall be spoken against³⁵(Yea, a sword shall pierce through thy own soul also,) that the thoughts of many hearts may be revealed.³⁶And there was one Anna, a prophetess, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Aser: she was of a great age, and had lived with an husband seven years from her virginity³⁷And she was a widow of about fourscore and four years, which departed not from the temple, but served God with fastings and prayers night and day.³⁸And she coming in that instant gave thanks likewise unto the Lord, and spake of him to all them that looked for redemption in Jerusalem.³⁹And when they had performed all things according to the law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee, to their own city Nazareth.⁴⁰And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, filled with wisdom: and the grace of God was upon him.⁴¹Now his parents went to Jerusalem every year at the feast of the passover.⁴²And when he was twelve years old, they went up to Jerusalem after the custom of the feast.⁴³And when they had fulfilled the days, as they returned, the child Jesus tarried behind in Jerusalem and Joseph and his mother knew not of it.⁴⁴But they, supposing him to have been in the company, went a day's journey and they sought him among their kinsfolk and acquaintance.⁴⁵And when they found him not, they turned back again to Jerusalem, seeking him.⁴⁶And it came to pass, that after three days they found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the doctors, both hearing them, and asking them questions.⁴⁷And

all that heard him were astonished at his understanding and answers.⁴⁸And when they saw him, they were amazed: and his mother said unto him, Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us? behold, thy father and I have sought thee sorrowing.⁴⁹And he said unto them, How is it that ye sought me? wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business?⁵⁰And they understood not the saying which he spake unto them.⁵¹And he went down with them, and came to Nazareth, and was subject unto them: but his mother kept all these sayings in her heart.⁵²And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favour with God and man.

CHAPTER 3 ¹Now in the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Caesar, Pontius Pilate being governor of Judaea, and Herod being tetrarch of Galilee, and his brother Philip tetrarch of Ituraea and of the region of Trachonitis, and Lysanias the tetrarch of Abilene,²Annas and Caiaphas being the high priests, the word of God came unto John the son of Zacharias in the wilderness.³And he came into all the country about Jordan, preaching the baptism of repentance for the remission of sins⁴As it is written in the book of the words of Esaias the prophet, saying, The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.⁵Every valley shall be filled, and every mountain and hill shall be brought low and the crooked shall be made straight, and the rough ways shall be made smooth⁶And all flesh shall see the salvation of God.⁷Then said he to the multitude that came forth to be baptized of him, O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the wrath to come?⁸Bring forth therefore fruits worthy of repentance, and begin not to say within yourselves, We have Abraham to our father: for I say unto you, That God is able of these stones to raise up children unto Abraham.⁹And now also the axe is laid unto the root of the trees: every tree therefore which bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire.¹⁰And the people asked him, saying, What shall we do then?¹¹He answereth and saith unto them, He that hath two coats, let him impart to him that hath none and he that hath meat, let him do likewise.¹²Then came also publicans to be baptized, and said unto him, Master, what shall we do?¹³And he said unto them, Exact no more than that which is appointed you.¹⁴And the soldiers likewise demanded of him, saying, And what shall we do? And he said unto them, Do violence to no man, neither accuse any falsely and be content with your wages.¹⁵ And as the people were in expectation, and all men mused in their hearts of John, whether he were the Christ, or not¹⁶ John answered, saying unto them all, I indeed baptize you with water but one mightier than I cometh, the latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to unloose: he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost and with fire:¹⁷ Whose fan is in his hand, and he will thoroughly purge his floor, and will gather the wheat into his garner but the chaff he will burn with fire unquenchable.¹⁸ And many other things in his exhortation preached he unto the people.¹⁹ But Herod the tetrarch, being reproved by him for Herodias his brother Philip's wife, and for all the evils which Herod had done,²⁰ Added yet this above all, that he shut up John in prison.²¹ Now when all the people were baptized, it came to pass, that Jesus also being baptized, and praying, the heaven was opened,²² And the Holy Ghost descended in a bodily shape like a dove upon him, and a voice came from heaven, which said, Thou art my beloved Son in thee I am well pleased.²³ And Jesus himself began to be about thirty years of age, being (as was supposed) the son of Joseph, which was the son of Heli,²⁴ Which was the son of Matthat, which was the son of Levi, which was the son of Melchi, which was the son of Janna, which was the son of Joseph,²⁵ Which was the son of Mattathias, which was the son of Amos, which was the son of Naum, which was the son of Esli, which was the son of Nagge,²⁶ Which was the son of Maath, which was the son of Mattathias, which was the son of Semei, which was the son of Joseph, which was the son of Juda,²⁷ Which was the son of Joanna, which was the son of Rhesa, which was the son of Zorobabel, which was the son of Salathiel, which was the son of Neri,²⁸ Which was the son of Melchi, which was the son of Addi, which was the son of Cosam, which was the son of Elmodam, which was the son of Er,²⁹ Which was the son of Jose, which was the son of Eliezer, which was the son of Jorim, which was the son of Matthat, which was the son of Levi,³⁰ Which was the son of Simeon, which was the son of Juda, which was the son of Joseph, which was the son of Jonan, which was the son of Eliakim,³¹Which was the son of Melea, which was the son of Menan, which was the son of Mattatha, which was the son of Nathan, which was the son of David,³²Which was the son of Jesse, which was the son of Obed, which was the son of Booz, which was the son of Salmon, which was the son of Naasson,³³Which was the son of Aminadab, which was the son of Aram, which was the son of Esrom, which was the son of Phares, which was the son of Juda,³⁴Which was the son of Jacob, which was the son of Isaac, which was the son of Abraham, which was the son of Thara, which was the son of Nachor,³⁵Which was the son of Saruch, which was the son of Ragau, which was the son of Phalec, which was the son of Heber, which was the son of Sala,³⁶Which was the son of Cainan, which was the son of Arphaxad, which was the son of Sem, which was the son of Noe, which was the son of Lamech,³⁷Which was the son of Mathusala, which was the son of Enoch, which was the son of Jared, which was the son of Maleleel, which was the son of Cainan,³⁸Which was the son of Enos, which was the son of Seth, which was the son of Adam, which was the son of God.

CHAPTER 4 ¹And Jesus being full of the Holy Ghost returned from Jordan, and was led by the Spirit into the wilderness,²Being forty days tempted of the devil. And in those days he did eat nothing: and when they were ended, he afterward hungered.³And the devil said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, command this stone that it be made bread.⁴And Jesus answered him, saying, It is written, That man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word of God.⁵And the devil, taking him up into an high mountain, shewed unto him all the kingdoms of the world in a moment of time.⁶And the devil said unto him, All this power will I give thee, and the glory of them: for that is delivered unto me and to whomsoever I will I give it.⁷If thou therefore wilt worship me, all shall be thine.⁸And Jesus answered and said unto him, Get thee behind me, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.⁹And he brought him to Jerusalem, and set him on a pinnacle of the temple, and said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down from hence:¹⁰For it is written, He shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee:¹¹And in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone.¹²And Jesus answering said unto him, It is said, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.¹³And when the devil had ended all the temptation, he departed from him for a season.¹⁴And Jesus returned in the power of the Spirit into Galilee: and there went out a fame of him through all the region round about.¹⁵And he taught in their synagogues, being glorified of all.¹⁶And he came to Nazareth, where he had been brought up: and, as his custom was, he went into the synagogue on the sabbath day, and stood up for to read.¹⁷And there was delivered unto him the book of the prophet Esaias. And when he had opened the book, he found the place where it was written,¹⁸The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor he hath sent me to heal the brokenhearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised,¹⁹To preach the acceptable year of the Lord.²⁰And he closed the book, and he gave it again to the minister, and sat down. And the eyes of all them that were in the synagogue were fastened on him.²¹And he began to say unto them, This day is this scripture fulfilled in your ears.²²And all bare him witness, and wondered at the gracious words which proceeded out of his mouth. And they said, Is not this Joseph's son?²³And he said unto them, Ye will surely say unto me this proverb, Physician, heal thyself: whatsoever we have heard done in Capernaum, do also here in thy country.²⁴And he said, Verily I say unto you, No prophet is accepted in his own country.²⁵But I tell you of a truth, many widows were in Israel in the days of Elias, when the heaven was shut up three years and six months, when great famine was throughout all the land²⁶But unto none of them was Elias sent, save unto Sarepta, a city of Sidon, unto a woman that was a widow.²⁷And many lepers were in Israel in the time of Eliseus the prophet and none of them was cleansed, saving Naaman the Syrian.²⁸And all they in the synagogue, when they heard these things, were filled with wrath,²⁹And rose up, and thrust him out of the city, and led him unto the brow of the hill whereon their city was built, that they might cast him down headlong.³⁰But he passing through the midst of them went his way,³¹And came down to Capernaum, a city of Galilee, and taught them on the sabbath days.³²And they were astonished at his doctrine: for his word was with power.³³And in the synagogue there was a man, which had a spirit of an unclean devil, and cried out with a loud voice,³⁴Saying, Let us alone what have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us? I know thee who thou art the Holy One of God.³⁵And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. And when the devil had thrown him in the midst, he came out of him, and hurt him not.³⁶And they were all amazed, and spake among themselves, saying, What a word is this! for with authority and power he commandeth the unclean spirits, and they come out.³⁷And the fame of him went out into every place of the country round about.³⁸And he arose out of the synagogue, and entered into Simon's house. And Simon's wife's mother was taken with a great fever and they besought him for her.³⁹And he stood over her, and rebuked the fever and it left her: and immediately she arose and ministered unto them.⁴⁰Now when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought them unto him and he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them.⁴¹And devils also came out of many, crying out, and saying, Thou art Christ the Son of God. And he rebuking them suffered them not to speak: for they knew that he was Christ.⁴²And when it was day, he departed and went into a desert place: and the people sought him, and came unto him, and stayed him, that he should not depart from them.⁴³And he said unto them, I must preach the kingdom of God to other cities also: for therefore am I sent.⁴⁴And he preached in the synagogues of Galilee.

CHAPTER 5 ¹And it came to pass, that, as the people pressed upon him to hear the word of God, he stood by the lake of Gennesaret,²And saw two ships standing by the lake: but the fishermen were gone out of them, and were washing their nets.³And he entered into one of the ships, which was Simon's, and prayed him that he would thrust out a little from the land. And he sat down, and taught the people out of the ship.⁴Now when he had left speaking, he said unto Simon, Launch out into the deep, and let down your nets for a draught.⁵And Simon answering said unto him, Master, we have toiled all the night, and have taken nothing: nevertheless at thy word I will let down the net.⁶And when they had this done, they inclosed a great multitude of fishes: and their net brake.⁷And they beckoned unto their partners, which were in the other ship, that they should come and help them. And they came, and filled both the ships, so that they began to sink.⁸When Simon Peter saw it, he fell down at Jesus' knees, saying, Depart from me for I am a sinful man, O Lord.⁹For he was astonished, and all that were with him, at the draught of the fishes which they had taken:¹⁰And so was also James, and John, the sons of Zebedee, which were partners with Simon. And Jesus said unto Simon, Fear not from henceforth thou shalt catch men.¹¹And when they had brought their ships to land, they forsook all, and followed him.¹²And it came to pass, when he was in a certain city, behold a man full of leprosy: who seeing Jesus fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.¹³And he put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will: be thou clean. And immediately the leprosy departed from him.¹⁴And he charged him to tell no man: but go, and shew thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing, according as Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.¹⁵But so much the more went there a fame abroad of him: and great multitudes came together to hear, and to be healed by him of their infirmities.¹⁶And he withdrew himself into the wilderness, and prayed.¹⁷And it came to pass on a certain day, as he was teaching, that there were Pharisees and doctors of the law sitting by, which were come out of every town of Galilee, and Judaea, and Jerusalem: and the power of the Lord was present to heal them.¹⁸And, behold, men brought in a bed a man which was taken with a palsy: and they sought means to bring him in, and to lay him before him.¹⁹And when they could not find by what way they might bring him in because of the multitude, they went upon the housetop, and let him down through the tiling with his couch into the midst before Jesus.²⁰And when he saw their faith, he said unto him, Man, thy sins are forgiven thee.²¹And the scribes and the Pharisees began to reason, saying, Who is this which speaketh blasphemies? Who can forgive sins, but God alone?²²But when Jesus perceived their thoughts, he answering said unto them, What reason ye in your hearts?²³Whether is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee or to say, Rise up and walk?²⁴But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power upon earth to forgive sins, (he said unto the sick of the palsy,) I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy couch, and go into thine house.²⁵And immediately he rose up before them, and took up that whereon he lay, and departed to his own house, glorifying God.²⁶And they were all amazed, and they glorified God, and were filled with fear, saying, We have seen strange things to day.²⁷And after these things he went forth, and saw a publican, named Levi, sitting at the receipt of custom: and he said unto him, Follow me.²⁸And he left all, rose up, and followed him.²⁹And Levi made him a great feast in his own house: and there was a great company of publicans and of others that sat down with them.³⁰But their scribes and Pharisees murmured against his disciples, saying, Why do ye eat and drink with publicans and sinners?³¹And Jesus answering said unto them, They that are whole need not a physician but they that are sick.³²I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.³³And they said unto him, Why do the disciples of John fast often, and make prayers, and likewise the disciples of the Pharisees but thine eat and drink?³⁴And he said unto them, Can ye make the children of the bridechamber fast, while the bridegroom is with them?³⁵But the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and then shall they fast in those days.³⁶And he spake also a parable unto them No man putteth a piece of a new garment upon an old if otherwise, then both the new maketh a rent, and the piece that was taken out of the new agreeth not with the old.³⁷And no man putteth new wine into old bottles else the new wine will burst the bottles, and be spilled, and the bottles shall perish.³⁸But new wine must be put into new bottles and both are preserved.³⁹No man also having drunk old wine straightway desireth new: for he saith, The old is better.

CHAPTER 6 ¹And it came to pass on the second sabbath after the first, that he went through the corn fields and his disciples plucked the ears of corn, and did eat, rubbing them in their hands.²And certain of the Pharisees said unto them, Why do ye that which is not lawful to do on the sabbath days?³And Jesus answering them said, Have ye not read so much as this, what David did, when himself was an hungred, and they which were with him⁴How he went into the house of God, and did take and eat the shewbread, and gave also to them that were with him which it is not lawful to eat but for the priests alone?⁵And he said unto them, That the Son of man is Lord also of the sabbath.⁶And it came to pass also on another sabbath, that he entered into the synagogue and taught: and there was a man whose right hand was withered.⁷And the scribes and Pharisees watched him, whether he would heal on the sabbath day that they might find an accusation against him.⁸But he knew their thoughts, and said to the man which had the withered hand, Rise up, and stand forth in the midst. And he arose and stood forth.⁹Then said Jesus unto them, I will ask you one thing Is it lawful on the sabbath days to do good, or to do evil? to save life, or to destroy it?¹⁰And looking round about upon them all, he said unto the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he did so: and his hand was restored whole as the other.¹¹And they were filled with madness and communed one with another what they might do to Jesus.¹²And it came to pass in those days, that he went out into a mountain to pray, and continued all night in prayer to God.¹³And when it was day, he called unto him his disciples: and of them he chose twelve, whom also he named apostles¹⁴Simon, (whom he also named Peter,) and Andrew his brother, James and John, Philip and Bartholomew,¹⁵Matthew and Thomas, James the son of Alphaeus, and Simon called Zelotes,¹⁶And Judas the brother of James, and Judas Iscariot, which also was the traitor.¹⁷And he came down with them, and stood in the plain, and the company of his disciples, and a great multitude of people out of all Judaea and Jerusalem, and from the sea coast of Tyre and Sidon, which came to hear him, and to be healed of their diseases¹⁸And they that were vexed with unclean spirits: and they were healed.¹⁹And the whole multitude sought to touch him: for there went virtue out of him, and healed them all.²⁰And he lifted up his eyes on his disciples, and said, Blessed be ye poor: for yours is the kingdom of God.²¹Blessed are ye that hunger now: for ye shall be filled. Blessed are ye that weep now: for ye shall laugh.²²Blessed are ye, when men shall hate you, and when they shall separate you from their company, and shall reproach you, and cast out your name as evil, for the Son of man's sake.²³Rejoice ye in that day, and leap for joy: for, behold, your reward is great in heaven: for in the like manner did their fathers unto the prophets.²⁴But woe unto you that are rich! for ye have received your consolation.²⁵Woe unto you that are full! for ye shall hunger. Woe unto you that laugh now! for ye shall mourn and weep.²⁶Woe unto you, when all men shall speak well of you! for so did their fathers to the false prophets.²⁷But I say unto you which hear, Love your enemies, do good to them which hate you,²⁸Bless them that curse you, and pray for them which despitefully use you.²⁹And unto him that smiteth thee on the one cheek offer also the other and him that taketh away thy cloke forbid not to take thy coat also.³⁰Give to every man that asketh of thee and of him that taketh away thy goods ask them not again.³¹And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise.³²For if ye love them which love you, what thank have ye? for sinners also love those that love them.³³And if ye do good to them which do good to you, what thank have ye? for sinners also do even the same.³⁴And if ye lend to them of whom ye hope to receive, what thank have ye? for sinners also lend to sinners, to receive as much again.³⁵But love ye your enemies, and do good, and lend, hoping for nothing again and your reward shall be great, and ye shall be the children of the Highest: for he is kind unto the unthankful and to the evil.³⁶Be ye therefore merciful, as your Father also is merciful.³⁷Judge not, and ye shall not be judged: condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned: forgive, and ye shall be forgiven.³⁸Give, and it shall be given unto you good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running over, shall men give into your bosom. For with the same measure that ye mete withal it shall be measured to you again.³⁹And he spake a parable unto them, Can the blind lead the blind? shall they not both fall into the ditch?⁴⁰The disciple is not above his master: but every one that is perfect shall be as his master.⁴¹And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but perceivest not the beam that is in thine own eye?⁴²Either how canst thou say to thy brother, Brother, let me pull out the mote that is in thine eye, when thou thyself beholdest not the beam that is in thine own eye? Thou hypocrite, cast out first the beam out of thine own eye, and then shalt thou see clearly to pull out the mote that is in thy brother's eye.⁴³For a good tree bringeth not forth corrupt fruit neither doth a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit.⁴⁴For every tree is known by his own fruit. For of thorns men do not gather figs, nor of a bramble bush gather they grapes.⁴⁵A good man out of the good treasure of his heart bringeth forth that which is good and an evil man out of the evil treasure of his heart bringeth forth that which is evil: for of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaketh.⁴⁶And why call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say?⁴⁷Whosoever cometh to me, and heareth my sayings, and doeth them, I will shew you to whom he is like:⁴⁸He is like a man which built an house, and digged deep, and laid the foundation on a rock: and when the flood arose, the stream beat vehemently upon that house, and could not shake it: for it was founded upon a rock.⁴⁹But he that heareth, and doeth not, is like a man that without a foundation built an house upon the earth against which the stream did beat vehemently, and immediately it fell and the ruin of that house was great.

CHAPTER 7 ¹Now when he had ended all his sayings in the audience of the people, he entered into Capernaum.²And a certain centurion's servant, who was dear unto him, was sick, and ready to die.³And when he heard of Jesus, he sent unto him the elders of the Jews, beseeching him that he would come and heal his servant.⁴And when they came to Jesus, they besought him instantly, saying, That he was worthy for whom he should do this:⁵For he loveth our nation, and he hath built us a synagogue.⁶Then Jesus went with them. And when he was now not far from the house, the centurion sent friends to him, saying unto him, Lord, trouble not thyself: for I am not worthy that thou shouldest enter under my roof:⁷Wherefore neither thought I myself worthy to come unto thee: but say in a word, and my servant shall be healed.⁸For I also am a man set under authority, having under me soldiers, and I say unto one, Go, and he goeth and to another, Come, and he cometh and to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it.⁹When Jesus heard these things, he marvelled at him, and turned him about, and said unto the people that followed him, I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no, not in Israel.¹⁰ And they that were sent, returning to the house, found the servant whole that had been sick.¹¹ And it came to pass the day after, that he went into a city called Nain and many of his disciples went with him, and much people.¹² Now when he came nigh to the gate of the city, behold, there was a dead man carried out, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow: and much people of the city was with her.¹³ And when the Lord saw her, he had compassion on her, and said unto her, Weep not.¹⁴ And he came and touched the bier: and they that bare him stood still. And he said, Young man, I say unto thee, Arise.¹⁵ And he that was dead sat up, and began to speak. And he delivered him to his mother.¹⁶ And there came a fear on all: and they glorified God, saying, That a great prophet is risen up among us and, That God hath visited his people.¹⁷ And this rumour of him went forth throughout all Judaea, and throughout all the region round about.¹⁸ And the disciples of John shewed him of all these things.¹⁹ And John calling unto him two of his disciples sent them to Jesus, saying, Art thou he that should come? or look we for another?²⁰ When the men were come unto him, they said, John Baptist hath sent us unto thee, saying, Art thou he that should come? or look we for another?²¹ And in that same hour he cured many of their infirmities and plagues, and of evil spirits and unto many that were blind he gave sight.²² Then Jesus answering said unto them, Go your way, and tell John what things ye have seen and heard how that the blind see, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, to the poor the gospel is preached.²³ And blessed is he, whosoever shall not be offended in me.²⁴ And when the messengers of John were departed, he began to speak unto the people concerning John, What went ye out into the wilderness for to see? A reed shaken with the wind?²⁵ But what went ye out for to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, they which are gorgeously apparelled, and live delicately, are in kings' courts.²⁶ But what went ye out for to see? A prophet? Yea, I say unto you, and much more than a prophet.²⁷ This is he, of whom it is written, Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.²⁸For I say unto you, Among those that are born of women there is not a greater prophet than John the Baptist: but he that is least in the kingdom of God is greater than he.²⁹And all the people that heard him, and the publicans, justified God, being baptized with the baptism of John.³⁰But the Pharisees and lawyers rejected the counsel of God against themselves, being not baptized of him.³¹And the Lord said, Whereunto then shall I liken the men of this generation? and to what are they like?³²They are like unto children sitting in the marketplace, and calling one to another, and saying, We have piped unto you, and ye have not danced we have mourned to you, and ye have not wept.³³For John the Baptist came neither eating bread nor drinking wine and ye say, He hath a devil.³⁴The Son of man is come eating and drinking and ye say, Behold a gluttonous man, and a winebibber, a friend of publicans and sinners!³⁵But wisdom is justified of all her children.³⁶And one of the Pharisees desired him that he would eat with him. And he went into the Pharisee's house, and sat down to meat.³⁷And, behold, a woman in the city, which was a sinner, when she knew that Jesus sat at meat in the Pharisee's house, brought an alabaster box of ointment,³⁸And stood at his feet behind him weeping, and began to wash his feet with tears, and did wipe them with the hairs of her head, and kissed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment.³⁹Now when the Pharisee which had bidden him saw it, he spake within himself, saying, This man, if he were a prophet, would have known who and what manner of woman this is that toucheth him: for she is a sinner.⁴⁰And Jesus answering said unto him, Simon, I have somewhat to say unto thee. And he saith, Master, say on.⁴¹There was a certain creditor which had two debtors: the one owed five hundred pence, and the other fifty.⁴²And when they had nothing to pay, he frankly forgave them both. Tell me therefore, which of them will love him most?⁴³Simon answered and said, I suppose that he, to whom he forgave most. And he said unto him, Thou hast rightly judged.⁴⁴And he turned to the woman, and said unto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entered into thine house, thou gavest me no water for my feet: but she hath washed my feet with tears, and wiped them with the hairs of her head.⁴⁵Thou gavest me no kiss: but this woman since the time I came in hath not ceased to kiss my feet.⁴⁶My head with oil thou didst not anoint: but this woman hath anointed my feet with ointment.⁴⁷Wherefore I say unto thee, Her sins, which are many, are forgiven for she loved much: but to whom little is forgiven, the same loveth little.⁴⁸And he said unto her, Thy sins are forgiven.⁴⁹And they that sat at meat with him began to say within themselves, Who is this that forgiveth sins also?⁵⁰And he said to the woman, Thy faith hath saved thee go in peace.

CHAPTER 8 ¹And it came to pass afterward, that he went throughout every city and village, preaching and shewing the glad tidings of the kingdom of God: and the twelve were with him,²And certain women, which had been healed of evil spirits and infirmities, Mary called Magdalene, out of whom went seven devils,³And Joanna the wife of Chuza Herod's steward, and Susanna, and many others, which ministered unto him of their substance.⁴And when much people were gathered together, and were come to him out of every city, he spake by a parable:⁵A sower went out to sow his seed: and as he sowed, some fell by the way side and it was trodden down, and the fowls of the air devoured it.⁶And some fell upon a rock and as soon as it was sprung up, it withered away, because it lacked moisture.⁷And some fell among thorns and the thorns sprang up with it, and choked it.⁸And other fell on good ground, and sprang up, and bare fruit an hundredfold. And when he had said these things, he cried, He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.⁹And his disciples asked him, saying, What might this parable be?¹⁰And he said, Unto you it is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of God: but to others in parables that seeing they might not see, and hearing they might not understand.¹¹Now the parable is this: The seed is the word of God.¹²Those by the way side are they that hear then cometh the devil, and taketh away the word out of their hearts, lest they should believe and be saved.¹³They on the rock are they, which, when they hear, receive the word with joy and these have no root, which for a while believe, and in time of temptation fall away.¹⁴And that which fell among thorns are they, which, when they have heard, go forth, and are choked with cares and riches and pleasures of this life, and bring no fruit to perfection.¹⁵But that on the good ground are they, which in an honest and good heart, having heard the word, keep it, and bring forth fruit with patience.¹⁶No man, when he hath lighted a candle, covereth it with a vessel, or putteth it under a bed but setteth it on a candlestick, that they which enter in may see the light.¹⁷For nothing is secret, that shall not be made manifest neither any thing hid, that shall not be known and come abroad.¹⁸Take heed therefore how ye hear: for whosoever hath, to him shall be given and whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken even that which he seemeth to have.¹⁹Then came to him his mother and his brethren, and could not come at him for the press.²⁰And it was told him by certain which said, Thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to see thee.²¹And he answered and said unto them, My mother and my brethren are these which hear the word of God, and do it.²²Now it came to pass on a certain day, that he went into a ship with his disciples: and he said unto them, Let us go over unto the other side of the lake. And they launched forth.²³But as they sailed he fell asleep: and there came down a storm of wind on the lake and they were filled with water, and were in jeopardy.²⁴And they came to him, and awoke him, saying, Master, master, we perish. Then he arose, and rebuked the wind and the raging of the water: and they ceased, and there was a calm.²⁵And he said unto them, Where is your faith? And they being afraid wondered, saying one to another, What manner of man is this! for he commandeth even the winds and water, and they obey him.²⁶And they arrived at the country of the Gadarenes, which is over against Galilee.²⁷And when he went forth to land, there met him out of the city a certain man, which had devils long time, and ware no clothes, neither abode in any house, but in the tombs.²⁸When he saw Jesus, he cried out, and fell down before him, and with a loud voice said, What have I to do with thee, Jesus, thou Son of God most high? I beseech thee, torment me not.²⁹(For he had commanded the unclean spirit to come out of the man. For oftentimes it had caught him: and he was kept bound with chains and in fetters and he brake the bands, and was driven of the devil into the wilderness.)³⁰And

Jesus asked him, saying, What is thy name? And he said, Legion: because many devils were entered into him.³¹And they besought him that he would not command them to go out into the deep.³²And there was there an herd of many swine feeding on the mountain: and they besought him that he would suffer them to enter into them. And he suffered them.³³Then went the devils out of the man, and entered into the swine: and the herd ran violently down a steep place into the lake, and were choked.³⁴When they that fed them saw what was done, they fled, and went and told it in the city and in the country.³⁵Then they went out to see what was done and came to Jesus, and found the man, out of whom the devils were departed, sitting at the feet of Jesus, clothed, and in his right mind: and they were afraid.³⁶They also which saw it told them by what means he that was possessed of the devils was healed.³⁷Then the whole multitude of the country of the Gadarenes round about besought him to depart from them for they were taken with great fear: and he went up into the ship, and returned back again.³⁸Now the man out of whom the devils were departed besought him that he might be with him: but Jesus sent him away, saying,³⁹Return to thine own house, and shew how great things God hath done unto thee. And he went his way, and published throughout the whole city how great things Jesus had done unto him.⁴⁰And it came to pass, that, when Jesus was returned, the people gladly received him: for they were all waiting for him.⁴¹And, behold, there came a man named Jairus, and he was a ruler of the synagogue: and he fell down at Jesus' feet, and besought him that he would come into his house:⁴²For he had one only daughter, about twelve years of age, and she lay a dying. But as he went the people thronged him.⁴³And a woman having an issue of blood twelve years, which had spent all her living upon physicians, neither could be healed of any,⁴⁴Came behind him, and touched the border of his garment: and immediately her issue of blood stanch'd.⁴⁵And Jesus said, Who touched me? When all denied, Peter and they that were with him said, Master, the multitude throng thee and press thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me?⁴⁶And Jesus said, Somebody hath touched me: for I perceive that virtue is gone out of me.⁴⁷And when the woman saw that she was not hid, she came trembling, and falling down before him, she declared unto him before all the people for what cause she had touched him and how she was healed immediately.⁴⁸And he said unto her, Daughter, be of good comfort: thy faith hath made thee whole go in peace.⁴⁹While he yet spake, there cometh one from the ruler of the synagogue's house, saying to him, Thy daughter is dead trouble not the Master.⁵⁰But when Jesus heard it, he answered him, saying, Fear not: believe only, and she shall be made whole.⁵¹And when he came into the house, he suffered no man to go in, save Peter, and James, and John, and the father and the mother of the maiden.⁵²And all wept, and bewailed her: but he said, Weep not she is not dead, but sleepeth.⁵³And they laughed him to scorn, knowing that she was dead.⁵⁴And he put them all out, and took her by the hand, and called, saying, Maid, arise.⁵⁵And her spirit came again, and she arose straightway: and he commanded to give her meat.⁵⁶And her parents were astonished: but he charged them that they should tell no man what was done.

CHAPTER 9 ¹Then he called his twelve disciples together, and gave them power and authority over all devils, and to cure diseases.²And he sent them to preach the kingdom of God, and to heal the sick.³And he said unto them, Take nothing for your journey, neither staves, nor scrip, neither bread, neither money neither have two coats apiece.⁴And whatsoever house ye enter into, there abide, and thence depart.⁵And whosoever will not receive you, when ye go out of that city, shake off the very dust from your feet for a testimony against them.⁶And they departed, and went through the towns, preaching the gospel, and healing every where.⁷Now Herod the tetrarch heard of all that was done by him: and he was perplexed, because that it was said of some, that John was risen from the dead⁸And of some, that Elias had appeared and of others, that one of the old prophets was risen again.⁹And Herod said, John have I beheaded: but who is this, of whom I hear such things? And he desired to see him.¹⁰And the apostles, when they were returned, told him all that they had done. And he took them, and went aside privately into a desert place belonging to the city called Bethsaida.¹¹And the people, when they knew it, followed him: and he received them, and spake unto them of the kingdom of God, and healed them that had need of healing.¹²And when the day began to wear away, then came the twelve, and said unto him, Send the multitude away, that they may go into the towns and country round about, and lodge, and get victuals: for we are here in a desert place.¹³But he said unto them, Give ye them to eat. And they said, We have no more but five loaves and two fishes except we should go and buy meat for all this people.¹⁴For they were about five thousand men. And he said to his disciples, Make them sit down by fifties in a company.¹⁵And they did so, and made them all sit down.¹⁶Then he took the five loaves and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, he blessed them, and brake, and gave to the disciples to set before the multitude.¹⁷And they did eat, and were all filled: and there was taken up of fragments that remained to them twelve baskets.¹⁸And it came to pass, as he was alone praying, his disciples were with him: and he asked them, saying, Whom say the people that I am?¹⁹They answering said, John the Baptist but some say, Elias and others say, that one of the old prophets is risen again.²⁰He said unto them, But whom say ye that I am? Peter answering said, The Christ of God.²¹And he straitly charged them, and commanded them to tell no man that thing.²²Saying, The Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be slain, and be raised the third day.²³And he said to them all, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me.²⁴For whosoever will save his life shall lose it: but whosoever will lose his life for my sake, the same shall save it.²⁵For what is a man advantaged, if he gain the whole world, and lose himself, or be cast away?²⁶For whosoever shall be ashamed of me and of my words, of him shall the Son of man be ashamed, when he shall come in his own glory, and in his Father's, and of the holy angels.²⁷But I tell you of a truth, there be some standing here, which shall not taste of death, till they see the kingdom of God.²⁸And it came to pass about an eight days after these sayings, he took Peter and John and James, and went up into a mountain to pray.²⁹And as he prayed, the fashion of his countenance was altered, and his raiment was white and glistening.³⁰And, behold, there talked with him two men, which were Moses and Elias:³¹Who appeared in glory, and spake of his decease which he should accomplish at Jerusalem.³²But Peter and they that were with him were heavy with sleep: and when they were awake, they saw his glory, and the two men that stood with him.³³And it came to pass, as they departed from him, Peter said unto Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three tabernacles one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias: not knowing what he said.³⁴While he thus spake, there came a cloud, and overshadowed them: and they feared as they entered into the cloud.³⁵And there came a voice out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Son: hear him.³⁶And when the voice was past, Jesus was found alone. And they kept it close, and told no man in those days any of those things which they had seen.³⁷And it came to pass, that on the next day, when they were come down from the hill, much people met him.³⁸And, behold, a man of the company cried out, saying, Master, I beseech thee, look upon my son: for he is mine only child.³⁹And, lo, a spirit taketh him, and he suddenly crieth out and it teareth him that he foameth again, and bruising him hardly departeth from him.⁴⁰And I besought thy disciples to cast him out and they could not.⁴¹And Jesus answering said, O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you, and suffer you? Bring thy son hither.⁴²And as he was yet a coming, the devil threw him down, and tare him. And Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, and healed the child, and delivered him again to his father.⁴³And they were all amazed at the mighty power of God. But while they wondered every one at all things which Jesus did, he said unto his disciples,⁴⁴Let these sayings sink down into your ears: for the Son of man shall be delivered into the hands of men.⁴⁵But they understood not this saying, and it was hid from them, that they perceived it not: and they feared to ask him of that saying.⁴⁶Then there arose a reasoning among them, which of them should be greatest.⁴⁷And Jesus, perceiving the thought of their heart, took a child, and set him by him,⁴⁸And said unto them, Whosoever shall receive this child in my name receiveth me: and whosoever shall receive me receiveth him that sent me: for he that is least among you all, the same shall be great.⁴⁹And John answered and said, Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy name and we forbad him, because he followeth not with us.⁵⁰ And Jesus said unto him, Forbid him not: for he that is not against us is for us.⁵¹ And it came to pass, when the time was come that he should be received up, he stedfastly set his face to go to Jerusalem,⁵² And sent messengers before his face: and they went, and entered into a village of the Samaritans, to make ready for him.⁵³ And they did not receive him, because his face was as though he would go to Jerusalem.⁵⁴ And when his disciples James and John saw this, they said, Lord, wilt thou that we command fire to come down from heaven, and consume them, even as Elias did?⁵⁵ But he turned, and rebuked them, and said, Ye know not what manner of spirit ye are of.⁵⁶ For the Son of man is not come to destroy men's lives, but to save them. And they went to another village.⁵⁷ And it came to pass, that, as they went in the way, a certain man said unto him, Lord, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest.⁵⁸ And Jesus said unto him, Foxes have holes, and birds of the air have nests but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head.⁵⁹ And he said unto another, Follow me. But he said, Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my father.⁶⁰ Jesus said unto him, Let the dead bury their dead: but go thou and preach the kingdom of God.⁶¹ And another also said, Lord, I will follow thee but let me first go bid them farewell, which are at home at my house.⁶² And Jesus said unto him, No man, having put his hand to the plough, and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God.

CHAPTER 10 ¹After these things the Lord appointed other seventy also, and sent them two and two before his face into every city and place, whither he himself would come.² Therefore said he unto them, The harvest truly is great, but the labourers are few: pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he would send forth labourers into his harvest.³ Go your ways: behold, I send you forth as lambs among wolves.⁴ Carry neither purse, nor scrip, nor shoes: and salute no man by the way.⁵ And into whatsoever house ye enter, first say, Peace be to this house.⁶ And if the son of peace be there, your peace shall rest upon it: if not, it shall turn to you again.⁷ And in the same house remain, eating and drinking such things as they give: for the labourer is worthy of his hire. Go not from house to house.⁸ And into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you, eat such things as are set before you:⁹And heal the sick that are therein, and say unto them, The kingdom of God is come nigh unto you.¹⁰But into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you not, go your ways out into the streets of the same, and say,¹¹Even the very dust of your city, which cleaveth on us, we do wipe off against you: notwithstanding be ye sure of this, that the kingdom of God is come nigh unto you.¹²But I say unto you, that it shall be more tolerable in that day for Sodom, than for that city.¹³Woe unto thee, Chorazin! woe unto thee, Bethsaida! for if the mighty works had been done in Tyre and Sidon, which have been done in you, they had a great while ago repented, sitting in sackcloth and ashes.¹⁴But it shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon at the judgment, than for you.¹⁵And thou, Capernaum, which art exalted to heaven, shalt be thrust down to hell.¹⁶He that heareth you heareth me and he that despiseth you despiseth me and he that despiseth me despiseth him that sent me.¹⁷And the seventy returned again with joy, saying, Lord, even the devils are subject unto us through thy name.¹⁸And he said unto them, I beheld Satan as lightning fall from heaven.¹⁹Behold, I give unto you power to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy: and nothing shall by any means hurt you.²⁰Notwithstanding in this rejoice not, that the spirits are subject unto you but rather rejoice, because your names are written in heaven.²¹In that hour Jesus rejoiced in spirit, and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes: even so, Father for so it seemed good in thy sight.²²All things are delivered to me of my Father: and no man knoweth who the Son is, but the Father and who the Father is, but the Son, and he to whom the Son will reveal him.²³And he turned him unto his disciples, and said privately, Blessed are the eyes which see the things that ye see:²⁴For I tell you, that many prophets and kings have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them.²⁵And, behold, a certain lawyer stood up, and tempted him, saying, Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?²⁶He said unto him, What is written in the law? how readest thou?²⁷And he answering said, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind and thy neighbour as thyself.²⁸And he said unto him, Thou hast answered right: this do, and thou shalt live.²⁹But he, willing to justify himself, said unto Jesus, And who is my neighbour?³⁰And Jesus answering said, A certain man went down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and fell among thieves, which stripped him of his raiment, and wounded him, and departed, leaving him half dead.³¹And by chance there came down a certain priest that way: and when he saw him, he passed by on the other side.³²And likewise a Levite, when he was at the place, came and looked on him, and passed by on the other side.³³But a certain Samaritan, as he journeyed, came where he was: and when he saw him, he had compassion on him,³⁴And went to him, and bound up his wounds, pouring in oil and wine, and set him on his own beast, and brought him to an inn, and took care of him.³⁵And on the morrow when he departed, he took out two pence, and gave them to the host, and said unto him, Take care of him and whatsoever thou spendest more, when I come again, I will repay thee.³⁶Which now of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbour unto him that fell among the thieves?³⁷And he said, He that shewed mercy on him. Then said Jesus unto him, Go, and do thou likewise.³⁸Now it came to pass, as they went, that he entered into a certain village: and a certain woman named Martha received him into her house.³⁹And she had a sister called Mary, which also sat at Jesus' feet, and heard his word.⁴⁰But Martha was cumbered about much serving, and came to him, and said, Lord, dost thou not care that my sister hath left me to serve alone? bid her therefore that she help me.⁴¹And Jesus answered and said unto her, Martha, Martha, thou art careful and troubled about many things:⁴²But one thing is needful: and Mary hath chosen that good part, which shall not be taken away from her.

CHAPTER 11 ¹And it came to pass, that, as he was praying in a certain place, when he ceased, one of his disciples said unto him, Lord, teach us to pray, as John also taught his disciples.²And he said unto them, When ye pray, say, Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, as in heaven, so in earth.³Give us day by day our daily bread.⁴And forgive us our sins for we also forgive every one that is indebted to us. And lead us not into temptation but deliver us from evil.⁵And he said unto them, Which of you shall have a friend, and shall go unto him at midnight, and say unto him, Friend, lend me three loaves⁶For a friend of mine in his journey is come to me, and I have nothing to set before him?⁷And he from within shall answer and say, Trouble me not: the door is now shut, and my children are with me in bed I cannot rise and give thee.⁸I say unto you, Though he will not rise and give him, because he is his friend, yet because of his importunity he will rise and give him as many as he needeth.⁹And I say unto you, Ask, and it shall be given you seek, and ye shall find knock, and it shall be opened unto you.¹⁰For every one that asketh receiveth and he that seeketh findeth and to him that knocketh it shall be opened.¹¹If a son shall ask bread of any of you that is a father, will he give him a stone? or if he ask a fish, will he for a fish give him a serpent?¹²Or if he shall ask an egg, will he offer him a scorpion?¹³If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children: how much more shall your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to them that ask him?¹⁴And he was casting out a devil, and it was dumb. And it came to pass, when the devil was gone out, the dumb spake and the people wondered.¹⁵But some of them said, He casteth out devils through Beelzebub the chief of the devils.¹⁶And others, tempting him, sought of him a sign from heaven.¹⁷But he, knowing their thoughts, said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation and a house divided against a house falleth.¹⁸If Satan also be divided against himself, how shall his kingdom stand? because ye say that I cast out devils through Beelzebub.¹⁹And if I by Beelzebub cast out devils, by whom do your sons cast them out? therefore shall they be your judges.²⁰But if I with the finger of God cast out devils, no doubt the kingdom of God is come upon you.²¹When a strong man armed keepeth his palace, his goods are in peace:²²But when a stronger than he shall come upon him, and overcome him, he taketh from him all his armour wherein he trusted, and divideth his spoils.²³He that is not with me is against me: and he that gathereth not with me scattereth.²⁴When the unclean spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through dry places, seeking rest and finding none, he saith, I will return unto my house whence I came out.²⁵And when he cometh, he findeth it swept and garnished.²⁶Then goeth he, and taketh to him seven other spirits more wicked than himself and they enter in, and dwell there: and the last state of that man is worse than the first.²⁷And it came to pass, as he spake these things, a certain woman of the company lifted up her voice, and said unto him, Blessed is the womb that bare thee, and the paps which thou hast sucked.²⁸But he said, Yea rather, blessed are they that hear the word of God, and keep it.²⁹And when the people were gathered thick together, he began to say, This is an evil generation: they seek a sign and there shall no sign be given it, but the sign of Jonas the prophet.³⁰For as Jonas was a sign unto the Ninevites, so shall also the Son of man be to this generation.³¹The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgment with the men of this generation, and condemn them: for she came from the utmost parts of the earth to hear the wisdom of Solomon and, behold, a greater than Solomon is here.³²The men of Nineve shall rise up in the judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: for they repented at the preaching of Jonas and, behold, a greater than Jonas is here.³³No man, when he hath lighted a candle, putteth it in a secret place, neither under a bushel, but on a candlestick, that they which come in may see the light.³⁴The light of the body is the eye: therefore when thine eye is single, thy whole body also is full of light but when thine eye is evil, thy body also is full of darkness.³⁵Take heed therefore that the light which is in thee be not darkness.³⁶If thy whole body therefore be full of light, having no part dark, the whole shall be full of light, as when the bright shining of a candle doth give thee light.³⁷And as he spake, a certain Pharisee besought him to dine with him: and he went in, and sat down to meat.³⁸And when the Pharisee saw it, he marvelled that he had not first washed before dinner.³⁹And the Lord said unto him, Now do ye Pharisees make clean the outside of the cup and the platter but your inward part is full of ravening and wickedness.⁴⁰Ye fools, did not he that made that which is without make that which is within also?⁴¹But rather give alms of such things as ye have and, behold, all things are clean unto you.⁴²But woe unto you, Pharisees! for ye tithe mint and rue and all manner of herbs, and pass over judgment and the love of God: these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone.⁴³Woe unto you, Pharisees! for ye love the uppermost seats in the synagogues, and greetings in the markets.⁴⁴Woe unto you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! for ye are as graves which appear not, and the men that walk over them are not aware of them.⁴⁵Then answered one of the lawyers, and said unto him, Master, thus saying thou reproachest us also.⁴⁶And he said, Woe unto you also, ye lawyers! for ye lade men with burdens grievous to be borne, and ye yourselves touch not the burdens with one of your fingers.⁴⁷Woe unto you! for ye build the sepulchres of the prophets, and your fathers killed them.⁴⁸Truly ye bear witness that ye allow the deeds of your fathers: for they indeed killed them, and ye build their sepulchres.⁴⁹Therefore also said the wisdom of God, I will send them prophets and apostles, and some of them they shall slay and persecute:⁵⁰That the blood of all the prophets, which was shed from the foundation of the world, may be required of this generation⁵¹From the blood of Abel unto the blood of Zacharias, which perished between the altar and the temple: verily I say unto you, It shall be required of this generation.⁵²Woe unto you, lawyers! for ye have taken away the key of knowledge: ye entered not in yourselves, and them that were entering in ye hindered.⁵³And as he said these things unto them, the scribes and the Pharisees began to urge him vehemently, and to provoke him to speak of many things:⁵⁴Laying wait for him, and seeking to catch something out of his mouth, that they might accuse him.

CHAPTER 12 ¹In the mean time, when there were gathered together an innumerable multitude of people, insomuch that they trode one upon another, he began to say unto his disciples first of all, Beware ye of the leaven of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy.²For there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed neither hid, that shall not be known.³Therefore whatsoever ye have spoken in darkness shall be heard in the light and that which ye have spoken in the ear in closets shall be proclaimed upon the housetops.⁴And I say unto you my friends, Be not afraid of them that kill the body, and after that have no more that they can do.⁵But I will forewarn you whom ye shall fear: Fear him, which after he hath killed hath power to cast into hell yea, I say unto you, Fear him.⁶Are not five sparrows sold for two farthings, and not one of them is forgotten before God?⁷But even the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not therefore: ye are of more value than many sparrows.⁸Also I say unto you, Whosoever shall confess me before men, him shall the Son of man also confess before the angels of God:⁹But he that denieth me before men shall be denied before the angels of God.¹⁰And whosoever shall speak a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but unto him that blasphemeth against the Holy Ghost it shall not be forgiven.¹¹And when they bring you unto the synagogues, and unto magistrates, and powers, take ye no thought how or what thing ye shall answer, or what ye shall say:¹²For the Holy Ghost shall teach you in the same hour what ye ought to say.¹³And one of the company said unto him, Master, speak to my brother, that he divide the inheritance with me.¹⁴And he said unto him, Man, who made me a judge or a divider over you?¹⁵And he said unto them, Take heed, and beware of covetousness: for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth.¹⁶And he spake a parable unto them, saying, The ground of a certain rich man brought forth plentifully:¹⁷And he thought within himself, saying, What shall I do, because I have no room where to bestow my fruits?¹⁸And he said, This will I do: I will pull down my barns, and build greater and there will I bestow all my fruits and my goods.¹⁹And I will say to my soul, Soul, thou hast much goods laid up for many years take thine ease, eat, drink, and be merry.²⁰But God said unto him, Thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee: then whose shall those things be, which thou hast provided?²¹So is he that layeth up treasure for himself, and is not rich toward God.²²And he said unto his disciples, Therefore I say unto you, Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat neither for the body, what ye shall put on.²³The life is more than meat, and the body is more than raiment.²⁴Consider the ravens: for they neither sow nor reap which neither have storehouse nor barn and God feedeth them: how much more are ye better than the fowls?²⁵And which of you with taking thought can add to his stature one cubit?²⁶If ye then be not able to do that thing which is least, why take ye thought for the rest?²⁷Consider the lilies how they grow: they toil not, they spin not and yet I say unto you, that Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.²⁸If then God so clothe the grass, which is to day in the field, and to morrow is cast into the oven how much more will he clothe you, O ye of little faith?²⁹And seek not ye what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, neither be ye of doubtful mind.³⁰For all these things do the nations of the world seek after: and your Father knoweth that ye have need of these things.³¹But rather seek ye the kingdom of God and all these things shall be added unto you.³²Fear not, little flock for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom.³³Sell that ye have, and give alms provide yourselves bags which wax not old, a treasure in the heavens that faileth not, where no thief approacheth, neither moth corrupteth.³⁴For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.³⁵Let your loins be girded about, and your lights burning³⁶And ye yourselves like unto men that wait for their lord, when he will return from the wedding that when he cometh and knocketh, they may open unto him immediately.³⁷Blessed are those servants, whom the lord when he cometh shall find watching: verily I say unto you, that he shall gird himself, and make them to sit down to meat, and will come forth and serve them.³⁸And if he shall come in the second watch, or come in the third watch, and find them so, blessed are those servants.³⁹And this know, that if the goodman of the house had known what hour the thief would come, he would have watched, and not have suffered his house to be broken through.⁴⁰Be ye therefore ready also: for the Son of man cometh at an hour when ye think not.⁴¹Then Peter said unto him, Lord, speakest thou this parable unto us, or even to all?⁴²And the Lord said, Who then is that faithful and wise steward, whom his lord shall make ruler over his household, to give them their portion of meat in due season?⁴³Blessed is that servant, whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing.⁴⁴Of a truth I say unto you, that he will make him ruler over all that he hath.⁴⁵But and if that servant say in his heart, My lord delayeth his coming and shall begin to beat the menservants and maidens, and to eat and drink, and to be drunken.⁴⁶The lord of that servant will come in a day when he looketh not for him, and at an hour when he is not aware, and will cut him in sunder, and will appoint him his portion with the unbelievers.⁴⁷And that servant, which knew his lord's will, and prepared not himself, neither did according to his will, shall be beaten with many stripes.⁴⁸But he that knew not, and did commit things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few stripes. For unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall be much required: and to whom men have committed much, of him they will ask the more.⁴⁹I am come to send fire on the earth and what will I if it be already kindled?⁵⁰But I have a baptism to be baptized with and how am I straitened till it be accomplished!⁵¹Suppose ye that I am come to give peace on earth? I tell you, Nay but rather division:⁵²For from henceforth there shall be five in one house divided, three against two, and two against three.⁵³The father shall be divided against the son, and the son against the father the mother against the daughter, and the daughter against the mother the mother in law against her daughter in law, and the daughter in law against her mother in law.⁵⁴And he said also to the people, When ye see a cloud rise out of the west, straightway ye say, There cometh a shower and so it is.⁵⁵And when ye see the south wind blow, ye say, There will be heat and it cometh to pass.⁵⁶Ye hypocrites, ye can discern the face of the sky and of the earth but how is it that ye do not discern this time?⁵⁷Yea, and why even of yourselves judge ye not what is right?⁵⁸When thou goest with thine adversary to the magistrate, as thou art in the way, give diligence that thou mayest be delivered from him lest he hale thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and the officer cast thee into prison.⁵⁹I tell thee, thou shalt not depart thence, till thou hast paid the very last mite.

CHAPTER 13 ¹There were present at that season some that told him of the Galilaeans, whose blood Pilate had mingled with their sacrifices.²And Jesus answering said unto them, Suppose ye that these Galilaeans were sinners above all the Galilaeans, because they suffered such things?³I tell you, Nay: but, except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish.⁴Or those eighteen, upon whom the tower in

Siloam fell, and slew them, think ye that they were sinners above all men that dwelt in Jerusalem?⁵I tell you, Nay: but, except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish.⁶He spake also this parable A certain man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard and he came and sought fruit thereon, and found none.⁷Then said he unto the dresser of his vineyard, Behold, these three years I come seeking fruit on this fig tree, and find none: cut it down why cumbereth it the ground?⁸And he answering said unto him, Lord, let it alone this year also, till I shall dig about it, and dung it:⁹And if it bear fruit, well: and if not, then after that thou shalt cut it down.¹⁰And he was teaching in one of the synagogues on the sabbath.¹¹And, behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself.¹²And when Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said unto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity.¹³And he laid his hands on her: and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God.¹⁴And the ruler of the synagogue answered with indignation, because that Jesus had healed on the sabbath day, and said unto the people, There are six days in which men ought to work: in them therefore come and be healed, and not on the sabbath day.¹⁵The Lord then answered him, and said, Thou hypocrite, doth not each one of you on the sabbath loose his ox or his ass from the stall, and lead him away to watering?¹⁶And ought not this woman, being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan hath bound, lo, these eighteen years, be loosed from this bond on the sabbath day?¹⁷And when he had said these things, all his adversaries were ashamed: and all the people rejoiced for all the glorious things that were done by him.¹⁸Then said he, Unto what is the kingdom of God like? and whereunto shall I resemble it?¹⁹It is like a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and cast into his garden and it grew, and waxed a great tree and the fowls of the air lodged in the branches of it.²⁰And again he said, Whereunto shall I liken the kingdom of God?²¹It is like leaven, which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal, till the whole was leavened.²²And he went through the cities and villages, teaching, and journeying toward Jerusalem.²³Then said one unto him, Lord, are there few that be saved? And he said unto them,²⁴Strive to enter in at the strait gate: for many, I say unto you, will seek to enter in, and shall not be able.²⁵When once the master of the house is risen up, and hath shut to the door, and ye begin to stand without, and to knock at the door, saying, Lord, Lord, open unto us and he shall answer and say unto you, I know you not whence ye are:²⁶Then shall ye begin to say, We have eaten and drunk in thy presence, and thou hast taught in our streets.²⁷But he shall say, I tell you, I know you not whence ye are depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity.²⁸There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth, when ye shall see Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and all the prophets, in the kingdom of God, and you yourselves thrust out.²⁹And they shall come from the east, and from the west, and from the north, and from the south, and shall sit down in the kingdom of God.³⁰And, behold, there are last which shall be first, and there are first which shall be last.³¹The same day there came certain of the Pharisees, saying unto him, Get thee out, and depart hence: for Herod will kill thee.³²And he said unto them, Go ye, and tell that fox, Behold, I cast out devils, and I do cures to day and to morrow, and the third day I shall be perfected.³³Nevertheless I must walk to day, and to morrow, and the day following: for it cannot be that a prophet perish out of Jerusalem.³⁴O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, which killest the prophets, and stonest them that are sent unto thee how often would I have gathered thy children together, as a hen doth gather her brood under her wings, and ye would not!³⁵Behold, your house is left unto you desolate: and verily I say unto you, Ye shall not see me, until the time come when ye shall say, Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

CHAPTER 14 ¹And it came to pass, as he went into the house of one of the chief Pharisees to eat bread on the sabbath day, that they watched him.²And, behold, there was a certain man before him which had the dropsy.³And Jesus answering spake unto the lawyers and Pharisees, saying, Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath day?⁴And they held their peace. And he took him, and healed him, and let him go.⁵And answered them, saying, Which of you shall have an ass or an ox fallen into a pit, and will not straightway pull him out on the sabbath day?⁶And they could not answer him again to these things.⁷And he put forth a parable to those which were bidden, when he marked how they chose out the chief rooms saying unto them,⁸When thou art bidden of any man to a wedding, sit not down in the highest room lest a more honourable man than thou be bidden of him⁹And he that bade thee and him come and say to thee, Give this man place and thou begin with shame to take the lowest room.¹⁰But when thou art bidden, go and sit down in the lowest room that when he that bade thee cometh, he may say unto thee, Friend, go up higher: then shalt thou have worship in the presence of them that sit at meat with thee.¹¹For whosoever exalteth himself shall be abased and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.¹²Then said he also to him that bade him, When thou makest a dinner or a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, neither thy kinsmen, nor thy rich neighbours lest they also bid thee again, and a recompence be made thee.¹³But when thou makest a feast, call the poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind:¹⁴And thou shalt be blessed for they cannot recompense thee: for thou shalt be recompensed at the resurrection of the just.¹⁵And when one of them that sat at meat with him heard these things, he said unto him, Blessed is he that shall eat bread in the kingdom of God.¹⁶Then said he unto him, A certain man made a great supper, and bade many.¹⁷And sent his servant at supper time to say to them that were bidden, Come for all things are now ready.¹⁸And they all with one consent began to make excuse. The first said unto him, I have bought a piece of ground, and I must needs go and see it: I pray thee have me excused.¹⁹And another said, I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to prove them: I pray thee have me excused.²⁰And another said, I have married a wife, and therefore I cannot come.²¹So that servant came, and shewed his lord these things. Then the master of the house being angry said to his servant, Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in hither the poor, and the maimed, and the halt, and the blind.²²And the servant said, Lord, it is done as thou hast commanded, and yet there is room.²³And the lord said unto the servant, Go out into the highways and hedges, and compel them to come in, that my house may be filled.²⁴For I say unto you, That none of those men which were bidden shall taste of my supper.²⁵And there went great multitudes with him: and he turned, and said unto them,²⁶If any man come to me, and hate not his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, yea, and his own life also, he cannot be my disciple.²⁷And whosoever doth not bear his cross, and come after me, cannot be my disciple.²⁸For which of you, intending to build a tower, sitteth not down first, and counteth the cost, whether he have sufficient to finish it?²⁹Lest haply, after he hath laid the foundation, and is not able to finish it, all that behold it begin to mock him,³⁰Saying, This man began to build, and was not able to finish.³¹Or what king, going to make war against another king, sitteth not down first, and consulteth whether he be able with ten thousand to meet him that cometh against him with twenty thousand?³²Or else, while the other is yet a great way off, he sendeth an ambassage, and desireth conditions of peace.³³So likewise, whosoever he be of you that forsaketh not all that he hath, he cannot be my disciple.³⁴Salt is good: but if the salt have lost his savour, wherewith shall it be seasoned?³⁵It is neither fit for the land, nor yet for the dunghill but men cast it out. He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

CHAPTER 15 ¹Then drew near unto him all the publicans and sinners for to hear him.²And the Pharisees and scribes murmured, saying, This man receiveth sinners, and eateth with them.³And he spake this parable unto them, saying,⁴What man of you, having an hundred sheep, if he lose one of them, doth not leave the ninety and nine in the wilderness, and go after that which is lost, until he find it?⁵And when he hath found it, he layeth it on his shoulders, rejoicing.⁶And when he cometh home, he calleth together his friends and neighbours, saying unto them, Rejoice with me for I have found my sheep which was lost.⁷I say unto you, that likewise joy shall be in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine just persons, which need no repentance.⁸Either what woman having ten pieces of silver, if she lose one piece, doth not light a candle, and sweep the house, and seek diligently till she find it?⁹And when she hath found it, she calleth her friends and her neighbours together, saying, Rejoice with me for I have found the piece which I had lost.¹⁰Likewise, I say unto you, there is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth.¹¹And he said, A certain man had two sons:¹²And the younger of them said to his father, Father, give me the portion of goods that falleth to me. And he divided unto them his living.¹³And not many days after the younger son gathered all together, and took his journey into a far country, and there wasted his substance with riotous living.¹⁴And when he had spent all, there arose a mighty famine in that land and he began to be in want.¹⁵And he went and joined himself to a citizen of that country and he sent him into his fields to feed swine.¹⁶And he would fain have filled his belly with the husks that the swine did eat: and no man gave unto him.¹⁷And when he came to himself, he said, How many hired servants of my father's have bread enough and to spare, and I perish with hunger!¹⁸I will arise and go to my father, and will say unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and before thee,¹⁹And am no more worthy to be called thy son: make me as one of thy hired servants.²⁰And he arose, and came to his father. But when he was yet a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ran, and fell on his neck, and kissed him.²¹And the son said unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and in thy sight, and am no more worthy to be called thy son.²²But the father said to his servants, Bring forth the best robe, and put it on him and put a ring on his hand, and shoes on his feet:²³And bring hither the fatted calf, and kill it and let us eat, and be merry.²⁴For this my son was dead, and is alive again he was lost, and is found. And they began to be merry.²⁵Now his elder son was in the field: and as he came and drew nigh to the house, he heard musick and dancing.²⁶And he called one of the servants, and asked what these things meant.²⁷And he said unto him, Thy brother is come and thy father hath killed the fatted calf, because he hath received him safe and sound.²⁸And he was angry, and would not go in: therefore came his father out, and intreated him.²⁹And he answering said to his father, Lo, these many years do I serve thee, neither transgressed I at any time thy commandment: and yet thou never gavest me a kid, that I might make merry with my friends:³⁰But as soon as this thy son was come, which hath devoured thy living with harlots, thou hast killed for him the fatted calf.³¹And he said unto him, Son, thou art ever with me, and all that I have is thine.³²It was meet that we should make merry, and be glad: for this thy brother was dead, and is alive again and was lost, and is found.

CHAPTER 16 ¹And he said also unto his disciples, There was a certain rich man, which had a steward and the same was accused unto him that he had wasted his goods.²And he called him, and said unto him, How is it that I hear this of thee? give an account of thy stewardship for thou mayest be no longer steward.³Then the steward said within himself, What shall I do? for my lord taketh away from me the stewardship: I cannot dig to beg I am ashamed.⁴I am resolved what to do, that, when I am put out of the stewardship, they may receive me into their houses.⁵So he called every one of his lord's debtors unto him, and said unto the first, How much owest thou unto my lord?⁶And he said, An hundred measures of oil. And he said unto him, Take thy bill, and sit down quickly, and write fifty.⁷Then said he to another, And how much owest thou? And he said, An hundred measures of wheat. And he said unto him, Take thy bill, and write fourscore.⁸And the lord commended the unjust steward, because he had done wisely: for the children of this world are in their generation wiser than the children of light.⁹And I say unto you, Make to yourselves friends of the mammon of unrighteousness that, when ye fail, they may receive you into everlasting habitations.¹⁰He that is faithful in that which is least is faithful also in much: and he that is unjust in the least is unjust also in much.¹¹If therefore ye have not been faithful in the unrighteous mammon, who will commit to your trust the true riches?¹²And if ye have not been faithful in that which is another man's, who shall give you that which is your own?¹³No servant can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.¹⁴And the Pharisees also, who were covetous, heard all these things: and they derided him.¹⁵And he said unto them, Ye are they which justify yourselves before men but God knoweth your hearts: for that which is highly esteemed among men is abomination in the sight of God.¹⁶The law and the prophets were until John: since that time the kingdom of God is preached, and every man presseth into it.¹⁷And it is easier for heaven and earth to pass, than one tittle of the law to fail.¹⁸Whosoever putteth away his wife, and marrieth another, committeth adultery: and whosoever marrieth her that is put away from her husband committeth adultery.¹⁹There was a certain rich man, which was clothed in purple and fine linen, and fared sumptuously every day:²⁰And there was a certain beggar named Lazarus, which was laid at his gate, full of sores,²¹And desiring to be fed with the crumbs which fell from the rich man's table: moreover the dogs came and licked his sores.²²And it came to pass, that the beggar died, and was carried by the angels into Abraham's bosom: the rich man also died, and was buried²³And in hell he lift up his eyes, being in torments, and seeth Abraham afar off, and Lazarus in his bosom.²⁴And he cried and said, Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and cool my tongue for I am tormented in this flame.²⁵But Abraham said, Son, remember that thou in thy lifetime receivedst thy good things, and likewise Lazarus evil things: but now he is comforted, and thou art tormented.²⁶And beside all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed: so that they

which would pass from hence to you cannot neither can they pass to us, that would come from thence.²⁷Then he said, I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send him to my father's house:²⁸For I have five brethren that he may testify unto them, lest they also come into this place of torment.²⁹Abraham saith unto him, They have Moses and the prophets let them hear them.³⁰And he said, Nay, father Abraham: but if one went unto them from the dead, they will repent.³¹And he said unto him, If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded, though one rose from the dead.

CHAPTER 17 ¹Then said he unto the disciples, It is impossible but that offences will come: but woe unto him, through whom they come!²It were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he cast into the sea, than that he should offend one of these little ones.³Take heed to yourselves: If thy brother trespass against thee, rebuke him and if he repent, forgive him.⁴And if he trespass against thee seven times in a day, and seven times in a day turn again to thee, saying, I repent thou shalt forgive him.⁵And the apostles said unto the Lord, Increase our faith.⁶And the Lord said, If ye had faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye might say unto this sycamine tree, Be thou plucked up by the root, and be thou planted in the sea and it should obey you.⁷But which of you, having a servant plowing or feeding cattle, will say unto him by and by, when he is come from the field, Go and sit down to meat?⁸And will not rather say unto him, Make ready wherewith I may sup, and gird thyself, and serve me, till I have eaten and drunken and afterward thou shalt eat and drink?⁹Doth he thank that servant because he did the things that were commanded him? I trow not.¹⁰So likewise ye, when ye shall have done all those things which are commanded you, say, We are unprofitable servants: we have done that which was our duty to do.¹¹And it came to pass, as he went to Jerusalem, that he passed through the midst of Samaria and Galilee.¹²And as he entered into a certain village, there met him ten men that were lepers, which stood afar off:¹³And they lifted up their voices, and said, Jesus, Master, have mercy on us.¹⁴And when he saw them, he said unto them, Go shew yourselves unto the priests. And it came to pass, that, as they went, they were cleansed.¹⁵And one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, and with a loud voice glorified God,¹⁶And fell down on his face at his feet, giving him thanks: and he was a Samaritan.¹⁷And Jesus answering said, Were there not ten cleansed? but where are the nine?¹⁸There are not found that returned to give glory to God, save this stranger.¹⁹And he said unto him, Arise, go thy way: thy faith hath made thee whole.²⁰And when he was demanded of the Pharisees, when the kingdom of God should come, he answered them and said, The kingdom of God cometh not with observation:²¹Neither shall they say, Lo here! or, lo there! for, behold, the kingdom of God is within you.²²And he said unto the disciples, The days will come, when ye shall desire to see one of the days of the Son of man, and ye shall not see it.²³And they shall say to you, See here or, see there: go not after them, nor follow them.²⁴For as the lightning, that lighteneth out of the one part under heaven, shineth unto the other part under heaven so shall also the Son of man be in his day.²⁵But first must he suffer many things, and be rejected of this generation.²⁶And as it was in the days of Noe, so shall it be also in the days of the Son of man.²⁷They did eat, they drank, they married wives, they were given in marriage, until the day that Noe entered into the ark, and the flood came, and destroyed them all.²⁸Likewise also as it was in the days of Lot they did eat, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they builded²⁹But the same day that Lot went out of Sodom it rained fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed them all.³⁰Even thus shall it be in the day when the Son of man is revealed.³¹In that day, he which shall be upon the housetop, and his stuff in the house, let him not come down to take it away: and he that is in the field, let him likewise not return back.³²Remember Lot's wife.³³Whosoever shall seek to save his life shall lose it and whosoever shall lose his life shall preserve it.³⁴I tell you, in that night there shall be two men in one bed the one shall be taken, and the other shall be left.³⁵Two women shall be grinding together the one shall be taken, and the other left.³⁶Two men shall be in the field the one shall be taken, and the other left.³⁷And they answered and said unto him, Where, Lord? And he said unto them, Wheresoever the body is, thither will the eagles be gathered together.

CHAPTER 18 ¹And he spake a parable unto them to this end, that men ought always to pray, and not to faint²Saying, There was in a city a judge, which feared not God, neither regarded man:³And there was a widow in that city and she came unto him, saying, Avenge me of mine adversary.⁴And he would not for a while: but afterward he said within himself, Though I fear not God, nor regard man⁵Yet because this widow troubleth me, I will avenge her, lest by her continual coming she weary me.⁶And the Lord said, Hear what the unjust judge saith.⁷And shall not God avenge his own elect, which cry day and night unto him, though he bear long with them?⁸I tell you that he will avenge them speedily. Nevertheless when the Son of man cometh, shall he find faith on the earth?⁹And he spake this parable unto certain which trusted in themselves that they were righteous, and despised others:¹⁰Two men went up into the temple to pray the one a Pharisee, and the other a publican.¹¹The Pharisee stood and prayed thus with himself, God, I thank thee, that I am not as other men are, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican.¹²I fast twice in the week, I give tithes of all that I possess.¹³And the publican, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, God be merciful to me a sinner.¹⁴I tell you, this man went down to his house justified rather than the other: for every one that exalteth himself shall be abased and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.¹⁵And they brought unto him also infants, that he would touch them: but when his disciples saw it, they rebuked them.¹⁶But Jesus called them unto him, and said, Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdom of God.¹⁷Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child shall in no wise enter therein.¹⁸And a certain ruler asked him, saying, Good Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?¹⁹And Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? none is good, save one, that is, God.²⁰Thou knowest the commandments, Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Honour thy father and thy mother.²¹And he said, All these have I kept from my youth up.²²Now when Jesus heard these things, he said unto him, Yet lackest thou one thing: sell all that thou hast, and distribute unto the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, follow me.²³And when he heard this, he was very sorrowful: for he was very rich.²⁴And when Jesus saw that he was very sorrowful, he said, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God!²⁵For it is easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.²⁶And they that heard it said, Who then can be saved?²⁷And he said, The things which are impossible with men are possible with God.²⁸Then Peter said, Lo, we have left all, and followed thee.²⁹And he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, There is no man that hath left house, or parents, or brethren, or wife, or children, for the kingdom of God's sake,³⁰Who shall not receive manifold more in this present time, and in the world to come life everlasting.³¹Then he took unto him the twelve, and said unto them, Behold, we go up to Jerusalem, and all things that are written by the prophets concerning the Son of man shall be accomplished.³²For he shall be delivered unto the Gentiles, and shall be mocked, and spitefully entreated, and spitted on:³³And they shall scourge him, and put him to death: and the third day he shall rise again.³⁴And they understood none of these things: and this saying was hid from them, neither knew they the things which were spoken.³⁵And it came to pass, that as he was come nigh unto Jericho, a certain blind man sat by the way side begging:³⁶And hearing the multitude pass by, he asked what it meant.³⁷And they told him, that Jesus of Nazareth passeth by.³⁸And he cried, saying, Jesus, thou Son of David, have mercy on me.³⁹And they which went before rebuked him, that he should hold his peace: but he cried so much the more, Thou Son of David, have mercy on me.⁴⁰And Jesus stood, and commanded him to be brought unto him: and when he was come near, he asked him,⁴¹Saying, What wilt thou that I shall do unto thee? And he said, Lord, that I may receive my sight.⁴²And Jesus said unto him, Receive thy sight: thy faith hath saved thee.⁴³And immediately he received his sight, and followed him, glorifying God: and all the people, when they saw it, gave praise unto God.

CHAPTER 19 ¹And Jesus entered and passed through Jericho.²And, behold, there was a man named Zacchaeus, which was the chief among the publicans, and he was rich.³And he sought to see Jesus who he was and could not for the press, because he was little of stature.⁴And he ran before, and climbed up into a sycomore tree to see him: for he was to pass that way.⁵And when Jesus came to the place, he looked up, and saw him, and said unto him, Zacchaeus, make haste, and come down for to day I must abide at thy house.⁶And he made haste, and came down, and received him joyfully.⁷And when they saw it, they all murmured, saying, That he was gone to be guest with a man that is a sinner.⁸And Zacchaeus stood, and said unto the Lord Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor and if I have taken any thing from any man by false accusation, I restore him fourfold.⁹And Jesus said unto him, This day is salvation come to this house, forsomuch as he also is a son of Abraham.¹⁰For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost.¹¹And as they heard these things, he added and spake a parable, because he was nigh to

Jerusalem, and because they thought that the kingdom of God should immediately appear.¹²He said therefore, A certain nobleman went into a far country to receive for himself a kingdom, and to return.¹³And he called his ten servants, and delivered them ten pounds, and said unto them, Occupy till I come.¹⁴But his citizens hated him, and sent a message after him, saying, We will not have this man to reign over us.¹⁵And it came to pass, that when he was returned, having received the kingdom, then he commanded these servants to be called unto him, to whom he had given the money, that he might know how much every man had gained by trading.¹⁶Then came the first, saying, Lord, thy pound hath gained ten pounds.¹⁷And he said unto him, Well, thou good servant: because thou hast been faithful in a very little, have thou authority over ten cities.¹⁸And the second came, saying, Lord, thy pound hath gained five pounds.¹⁹And he said likewise to him, Be thou also over five cities.²⁰And another came, saying, Lord, behold, here is thy pound, which I have kept laid up in a napkin:²¹For I feared thee, because thou art an austere man: thou takest up that thou layedst not down, and reapest that thou didst not sow.²²And he saith unto him, Out of thine own mouth will I judge thee, thou wicked servant. Thou knewest that I was an austere man, taking up that I laid not down, and reaping that I did not sow:²³Wherefore then gavest not thou my money into the bank, that at my coming I might have required mine own with usury?²⁴And he said unto them that stood by, Take from him the pound, and give it to him that hath ten pounds.²⁵(And they said unto him, Lord, he hath ten pounds.)²⁶For I say unto you, That unto every one which hath shall be given and from him that hath not, even that he hath shall be taken away from him.²⁷But those mine enemies, which would not that I should reign over them, bring hither, and slay them before me.²⁸And when he had thus spoken, he went before, ascending up to Jerusalem.²⁹And it came to pass, when he was come nigh to Bethphage and Bethany, at the mount called the mount of Olives, he sent two of his disciples,³⁰Saying, Go ye into the village over against you in the which at your entering ye shall find a colt tied, whereon yet never man sat: loose him, and bring him hither.³¹And if any man ask you, Why do ye loose him? thus shall ye say unto him, Because the Lord hath need of him.³²And they that were sent went their way, and found even as he had said unto them.³³And as they were loosing the colt, the owners thereof said unto them, Why loose ye the colt?³⁴And they said, The Lord hath need of him.³⁵And they brought him to Jesus: and they cast their garments upon the colt, and they set Jesus thereon.³⁶And as he went, they spread their clothes in the way.³⁷And when he was come nigh, even now at the descent of the mount of Olives, the whole multitude of the disciples began to rejoice and praise God with a loud voice for all the mighty works that they had seen.³⁸Saying, Blessed be the King that cometh in the name of the Lord: peace in heaven, and glory in the highest.³⁹And some of the Pharisees from among the multitude said unto him, Master, rebuke thy disciples.⁴⁰And he answered and said unto them, I tell you that, if these should hold their peace, the stones would immediately cry out.⁴¹And when he was come near, he beheld the city, and wept over it,⁴²Saying, If thou hadst known, even thou, at least in this thy day, the things which belong unto thy peace! but now they are hid from thine eyes.⁴³For the days shall come upon thee, that thine enemies shall cast a trench about thee, and compass thee round, and keep thee in on every side,⁴⁴And shall lay thee even with the ground, and thy children within thee and they shall not leave in thee one stone upon another because thou knewest not the time of thy visitation.⁴⁵And he went into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold therein, and them that bought.⁴⁶Saying unto them, It is written, My house is the house of prayer: but ye have made it a den of thieves.⁴⁷And he taught daily in the temple. But the chief priests and the scribes and the chief of the people sought to destroy him,⁴⁸And could not find what they might do: for all the people were very attentive to hear him.

CHAPTER 20 ¹And it came to pass, that on one of those days, as he taught the people in the temple, and preached the gospel, the chief priests and the scribes came upon him with the elders,²And spake unto him, saying, Tell us, by what authority doest thou these things? or who is he that gave thee this authority?³And he answered and said unto them, I will also ask you one thing and answer me:⁴The baptism of John, was it from heaven, or of men?⁵And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven he will say, Why then believed ye him not?⁶But and if we say, Of men all the people will stone us: for they be persuaded that John was a prophet.⁷And they answered, that they could not tell whence it was.⁸And Jesus said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.⁹Then began he to speak to the people this parable A certain man planted a vineyard, and let it forth to husbandmen, and went into a far country for a long time.¹⁰And at the season he sent a servant to the husbandmen, that they should give him of the fruit of the vineyard: but the husbandmen beat him, and sent him away empty.¹¹And again he sent another servant: and they beat him also, and entreated him shamefully, and sent him away empty.¹²And again he sent a third: and they wounded him also, and cast him out.¹³Then said the lord of the vineyard, What shall I do? I will send my beloved son: it may be they will reverence him when they see him.¹⁴But when the husbandmen saw him, they reasoned among themselves, saying, This is the heir: come, let us kill him, that the inheritance may be ours.¹⁵So they cast him out of the vineyard, and killed him. What therefore shall the lord of the vineyard do unto them?¹⁶He shall come and destroy these husbandmen, and shall give the vineyard to others. And when they heard it, they said, God forbid.¹⁷And he beheld them, and said, What is this then that is written, The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner?¹⁸Whosoever shall fall upon that stone shall be broken but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grind him to powder.¹⁹And the chief priests and the scribes the same hour sought to lay hands on him and they feared the people: for they perceived that he had spoken this parable against them.²⁰And they watched him, and sent forth spies, which should feign themselves just men, that they might take hold of his words, that so they might deliver him unto the power and authority of the governor.²¹And they asked him, saying, Master, we know that thou sayest and teachest rightly, neither acceptest thou the person of any, but teachest the way of God truly:²²Is it lawful for us to give tribute unto Caesar, or no?²³But he perceived their craftiness, and said unto them, Why tempt ye me?²⁴Shew me a penny. Whose image and superscription hath it? They answered and said, Caesar's.²⁵And he said unto them, Render therefore unto Caesar the things which be Caesar's, and unto God the things which be God's.²⁶And they could not take hold of his words before the people: and they marvelled at his answer, and held their peace.²⁷Then came to him certain of the Sadducees, which deny that there is any resurrection and they asked him,²⁸Saying, Master, Moses wrote unto us, If any man's brother die, having a wife, and he die without children, that his brother should take his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother.²⁹There were therefore seven brethren: and the first took a wife, and died without children.³⁰And the second took her to wife, and he died childless.³¹And the third took her and in like manner the seven also: and they left no children, and died.³²Last of all the woman died also.³³Therefore in the resurrection whose wife of them is she? for seven had her to wife.³⁴And Jesus answering said unto them, The children of this world marry, and are given in marriage:³⁵But they which shall be accounted worthy to obtain that world, and the resurrection from the dead, neither marry, nor are given in marriage:³⁶Neither can they die any more: for they are equal unto the angels and are the children of God, being the children of the resurrection.³⁷Now that the dead are raised, even Moses shewed at the bush, when he calleth the Lord the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob.³⁸For he is not a God of the dead, but of the living: for all live unto him.³⁹Then certain of the scribes answering said, Master, thou hast well said.⁴⁰And after that they durst not ask him any question at all.⁴¹And he said unto them, How say they that Christ is David's son?⁴²And David himself saith in the book of Psalms, The LORD said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand,⁴³Till I make thine enemies thy footstool.⁴⁴David therefore calleth him Lord, how is he then his son?⁴⁵Then in the audience of all the people he said unto his disciples,⁴⁶Beware of the scribes, which desire to walk in long robes, and love greetings in the markets, and the highest seats in the synagogues, and the chief rooms at feasts⁴⁷Which devour widows' houses, and for a shew make long prayers: the

CHAPTER 21 ¹And he looked up, and saw the rich men casting their gifts into the treasury.²And he saw also a certain poor widow casting in thither two mites.³And he said, Of a truth I say unto you, that this poor widow hath cast in more than they all:⁴For all these have of their abundance cast in unto the offerings of God: but she of her penury hath cast in all the living that she had.⁵And as some spake of the temple, how it was adorned with goodly stones and gifts, he said,⁶As for these things which ye behold, the days will come, in the which there shall not be left one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.⁷And they asked him, saying, Master, but when shall these things be? and what sign will there be when these things shall come to pass?⁸And he said, Take heed that ye be not deceived: for many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ and the time draweth near: go ye not therefore after them.⁹But when ye shall hear of wars and commotions, be not terrified: for these things must first come to pass but the end is not by and by.¹⁰Then said he unto them, Nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom:¹¹And great earthquakes shall be in divers places, and famines, and pestilences and fearful sights and great signs shall there be from heaven.¹²But before all these, they shall lay their hands on you, and persecute you, delivering you up to the synagogues, and into prisons, being brought before kings and rulers for my name's sake.¹³And it shall turn to you for a testimony.¹⁴Settle it therefore in your hearts, not to meditate before what ye shall answer:¹⁵For I will give you a mouth and wisdom, which all your adversaries shall not be able to gainsay nor resist.¹⁶And ye shall be betrayed both by parents, and brethren, and kinsfolks, and friends and some of you shall they cause to be put to death.¹⁷And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake.¹⁸But there shall not an hair of your head perish.¹⁹In your patience possess ye your souls.²⁰And when ye shall see Jerusalem compassed with armies, then know that the desolation thereof is nigh.²¹Then let them which are in Judaea flee to the mountains and let them which are in the midst of it depart out and let not them that are in the countries enter thereinto.²²For these be the days of vengeance, that all things which are written may be fulfilled.²³But woe unto them that are with child, and to them that give suck, in those days! for there shall be great distress in the land, and wrath upon this people.²⁴And they shall fall by the edge of the sword, and shall be led away captive into all nations: and Jerusalem shall be trodden down of the Gentiles, until the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled.²⁵And there shall be signs in the sun, and in the moon, and in the stars and upon the earth distress of nations, with perplexity the sea and the waves roaring²⁶Men's hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth: for the powers of heaven shall be shaken.²⁷And then shall they see the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory.²⁸And when these things begin to come to pass, then look up, and lift up your heads for your redemption draweth nigh.²⁹And he spake to them a parable Behold the fig tree, and all the trees³⁰When they now shoot forth, ye see and know of your own selves that summer is now nigh at hand.³¹So likewise ye, when ye see these things come to pass, know ye that the kingdom of God is nigh at hand.³²Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass away, till all be fulfilled.³³Heaven and earth shall pass away: but my words shall not pass away.³⁴And take heed to yourselves, lest at any time your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting, and drunkenness, and cares of this life, and so that day come upon you unawares.³⁵For as a snare shall it come on all them that dwell on the face of the whole earth.³⁶Watch ye therefore, and pray always, that ye may be accounted worthy to escape all these things that shall come to pass, and to stand before the Son of man.³⁷And in the day time he was teaching in the temple and at night he went out, and abode in the mount that is called the mount of Olives.³⁸And all the people came early in the morning to him in the temple, for to hear him.

CHAPTER 22 ¹Now the feast of unleavened bread drew nigh, which is called the Passover.²And the chief priests and scribes sought how they might kill him for they feared the people.³Then entered Satan into Judas surnamed Iscariot, being of the number of the twelve.⁴And he went his way, and communed with the chief priests and captains, how he might betray him unto them.⁵And they were glad, and covenanted to give him money.⁶And he promised, and sought opportunity to betray him unto them in the absence of the multitude.⁷Then came the day of unleavened bread, when the passover must be killed.⁸And he sent Peter and John, saying, Go and prepare us the passover, that we may eat.⁹And they said unto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare?¹⁰And he said unto them, Behold, when ye are entered into the city, there shall a man meet you, bearing a pitcher of water follow him into the house where he entereth in.¹¹And ye shall say unto the goodman of the house, The Master saith unto thee, Where is the guestchamber, where I shall eat the passover with my disciples?¹²And he shall shew you a large upper room furnished: there make ready.¹³And they went, and found as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.¹⁴And when the hour was come, he sat down, and the twelve apostles with him.¹⁵And he said unto them, With desire I have desired to eat this passover with you before I suffer:¹⁶For I say unto you, I will not any more eat thereof, until it be fulfilled in the kingdom of God.¹⁷And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and said, Take this, and divide it among yourselves:¹⁸For I say unto you, I will not drink of the fruit of the vine, until the kingdom of God shall come.¹⁹And he took bread, and gave thanks, and brake it, and gave unto them, saying, This is my body which is given for you: this do in remembrance of me.²⁰Likewise also the cup after supper, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood, which is shed for you.²¹But, behold, the hand of him that betrayeth me is with me on the table.²²And truly the Son of man goeth, as it was determined: but woe unto that man by whom he is betrayed!²³And they began to inquire among themselves, which of them it was that should do this thing.²⁴And there was also a strife among them, which of them should be accounted the greatest.²⁵And he said unto them, The kings of the Gentiles exercise lordship over them and they that exercise authority upon them are called benefactors.²⁶But ye shall not be so: but he that is greatest among you, let him be as the younger and he that is chief, as he that doth serve.²⁷For whether is greater, he that sitteth at meat, or he that serveth? is not he that sitteth at meat? but I am among you as he that serveth.²⁸Ye are they which have continued with me in my temptations.²⁹And I appoint unto you a kingdom, as my Father hath appointed unto me³⁰That ye may eat and drink at my table in my kingdom, and sit on thrones judging the twelve tribes of Israel.³¹And the Lord said, Simon, Simon, behold, Satan hath desired to have you, that he may sift you as wheat:³²But I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not: and when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren.³³And he said unto him, Lord, I am ready to go with thee, both into prison, and to death.³⁴And he said, I tell thee, Peter, the cock shall not crow this day, before that thou shalt thrice deny that thou knowest me.³⁵And he said unto them, When I sent you without purse, and scrip, and shoes, lacked ye any thing? And they said, Nothing.³⁶Then said he unto them, But now, he that hath a purse, let him take it, and likewise his scrip: and he that hath no sword, let him sell his garment, and buy one.³⁷For I say unto you, that this that is written must yet be accomplished in me, And he was reckoned among the transgressors: for the things concerning me have an end.³⁸And they said, Lord, behold, here are two swords. And he said unto them, It is enough.³⁹And he came out, and went, as he was wont, to the mount of Olives and his disciples also followed him.⁴⁰And when he was at the place, he said unto them, Pray that ye enter not into temptation.⁴¹And he was withdrawn from them about a stone's cast, and kneeled down, and prayed,⁴²Saying, Father, if thou be willing, remove this cup from me: nevertheless not my will, but thine, be done.⁴³And there appeared an angel unto him from heaven, strengthening him.⁴⁴And being in an agony he prayed more earnestly: and his sweat was as it were great drops of blood falling down to the ground.⁴⁵And when he rose up from prayer, and was come to his disciples, he found them sleeping for sorrow,⁴⁶And said unto them, Why sleep ye? rise and pray, lest ye enter into temptation.⁴⁷And while he yet spake, behold a multitude, and he that was called Judas, one of the twelve, went before them, and drew near unto Jesus to kiss him.⁴⁸But Jesus said unto him, Judas, betrayest thou the Son of man with a kiss?⁴⁹When they which were about him saw what would follow, they said unto him, Lord, shall we smite with the sword?⁵⁰And one of them smote the servant of the high priest, and cut off his right ear.⁵¹And Jesus answered and said, Suffer ye thus far. And he touched his ear, and healed him.⁵²Then Jesus said unto the chief priests, and captains of the temple, and the elders, which were come to him, Be ye come out, as against a thief, with swords and staves?⁵³When I was daily with you in the temple, ye stretched forth no hands against me: but this is your hour, and the power of darkness.⁵⁴Then took they him, and led him, and brought him into the high priest's house. And Peter followed afar off.⁵⁵And when they had kindled a fire in the midst of the hall, and were set down together, Peter sat down among them.⁵⁶But a certain maid beheld him as he sat by the fire, and earnestly looked upon him, and said, This man was also with him.⁵⁷And he denied him, saying, Woman, I know him not.⁵⁸And after a little while another saw him, and said, Thou art also of them. And Peter said, Man, I am not.⁵⁹And about the space of one hour after another confidently affirmed, saying, Of a truth this fellow also was with him: for he is a Galilaean.⁶⁰And Peter said, Man, I know not what thou sayest. And immediately, while he yet spake, the cock crew.⁶¹And the Lord turned, and looked upon Peter. And Peter remembered the word of the Lord, how he had said unto him, Before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice.⁶²And Peter went out, and wept bitterly.⁶³And the men that held Jesus mocked him, and smote him.⁶⁴And when they had blindfolded him, they struck him on the face, and asked him, saying, Prophecy, who is it that smote thee?⁶⁵And many other things blasphemously spake they against him.⁶⁶And as soon as it was day, the elders of the people and the chief priests and the scribes came together, and led him into their council, saying,⁶⁷Art thou the Christ? tell us. And he said unto them, If I tell you, ye will not believe:⁶⁸And if I also ask you, ye will not answer me, nor let me go.⁶⁹Hereafter shall the Son of man sit on the right hand of the power of God.⁷⁰Then said they all, Art thou then the Son of God? And he said unto them, Ye say that I am.⁷¹And they said, What need we any further witness? for we ourselves have heard of his own mouth.

CHAPTER 23 ¹And the whole multitude of them arose, and led him unto Pilate.²And they began to accuse him, saying, We found this fellow perverting the nation, and forbidding to give tribute to Caesar, saying that he himself is Christ a King.³And Pilate asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answered him and said, Thou sayest it.⁴Then said Pilate to the chief priests and to the people, I find no fault in this man.⁵And they were the more fierce, saying, He stirreth up the people, teaching throughout all Jewry, beginning from Galilee to this place.⁶When Pilate heard of Galilee, he asked whether the man were a Galilaean.⁷And as soon as he knew that he belonged unto Herod's jurisdiction, he sent him to Herod, who himself also was at Jerusalem at that time.⁸And when Herod saw Jesus, he was exceeding glad: for he was desirous to see him of a long season, because he had heard many things of him and he hoped to have seen some miracle done by him.⁹Then he questioned with him in many words but he answered him nothing.¹⁰And the chief priests and scribes stood and vehemently accused him.¹¹And Herod with his men of war set him at nought, and mocked him, and arrayed him in a gorgeous robe, and sent him again to Pilate.¹²And the same day Pilate and Herod were made friends together: for before they were at enmity between themselves.¹³And Pilate, when he had called together the chief priests and the rulers and the people,¹⁴Said unto them, Ye have brought this man unto me, as one that perverteth the people: and, behold, I, having examined him before you, have found no fault in this man touching those things whereof ye accuse him:¹⁵No, nor yet Herod: for I sent you to him and, lo, nothing worthy of death is done unto him.¹⁶I will therefore chastise him, and release him.¹⁷(For of necessity he must release one unto them at the feast.)¹⁸And they cried out all at once, saying, Away with this man, and release unto us Barabbas:¹⁹(Who for a certain sedition made in the city, and for murder, was cast into prison.)²⁰Pilate therefore, willing to release Jesus, spake again to them.²¹But they cried, saying, Crucify him, crucify him.²²And he said unto them the third time, Why, what evil hath he done? I have found no cause of death in him: I will therefore chastise him, and let him go.²³And they were instant with loud voices, requiring that he might be crucified. And the voices of them and of the chief priests prevailed.²⁴And Pilate gave sentence that it should be as they required.²⁵And he released unto them him that for sedition and murder was cast into prison, whom they had desired but he delivered Jesus to their will.²⁶And as they led him away, they laid hold upon one Simon, a Cyrenian, coming out of the country, and on him they laid the cross, that he might bear it after Jesus.²⁷And there followed him a great company of people, and of women, which also bewailed and lamented him.²⁸But Jesus turning unto them said, Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for yourselves, and for your children.²⁹For, behold, the days are coming, in the which they shall say, Blessed are the barren, and the wombs that never bare, and the paps which never gave suck.³⁰Then shall they begin to say to the mountains, Fall on us and to the hills, Cover us.³¹For if they do these things in a green tree, what shall be done in the dry?³²And there were also two other, malefactors, led with him to be put to death.³³And when they were come to the place, which is called Calvary, there they crucified him, and the malefactors, one on the right hand, and the other on the left.³⁴Then said Jesus, Father, forgive them for they know not what they do. And they parted his raiment, and cast lots.³⁵And the people stood beholding. And the rulers also with them derided him, saying, He saved others let him save himself, if he be Christ, the chosen of God.³⁶And the soldiers also mocked him, coming to him, and offering him vinegar,³⁷And saying, If thou be the king of the Jews, save thyself.³⁸And a superscription also was written over him in letters of Greek, and Latin, and Hebrew, THIS IS THE KING OF THE JEWS.³⁹And one of the malefactors which were hanged railed on him, saying, If thou be Christ, save thyself and us.⁴⁰But the other answering rebuked him, saying, Dost thou fear God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation?⁴¹And we indeed justly for we receive the due reward of our deeds: but this man hath done nothing amiss.⁴²And he said unto Jesus, Lord, remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom.⁴³And Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, To day shalt thou be with me in paradise.⁴⁴And it was about the sixth hour, and there was a darkness over all the earth until the ninth hour.⁴⁵And the sun was darkened, and the veil of the temple was rent in the midst.⁴⁶And when Jesus had cried with a loud voice, he said, Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit: and having said thus, he gave up the ghost.⁴⁷Now when the centurion saw what was done, he glorified God, saying, Certainly this was a righteous man.⁴⁸And all the people that came together to that sight, beholding the things which were done, smote their breasts, and returned.⁴⁹And all his acquaintance, and the women that followed him from Galilee, stood afar off, beholding these things.⁵⁰And, behold, there was a man named Joseph, a counsellor and he was a good man, and a just:⁵¹(The same had not consented to the counsel and deed of them) he was of Arimathaea, a city of the Jews: who also himself waited for the kingdom of God.⁵²This man went unto Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus.⁵³And he took it down, and wrapped it in linen, and laid it in a sepulchre that was hewn in stone, wherein never man before was laid.⁵⁴And that day was the preparation, and the sabbath drew on.⁵⁵And the women also, which came with him from Galilee, followed after, and beheld the sepulchre, and how his body was laid.⁵⁶And they returned, and prepared spices and ointments and rested the sabbath day according to the commandment.

CHAPTER 24 ¹Now upon the first day of the week, very early in the morning, they came unto the sepulchre, bringing the spices which they had prepared, and certain others with them.²And they found the stone rolled away from the sepulchre.³And they entered in, and found not the body of the Lord Jesus.⁴And it came to pass, as they were much perplexed thereabout, behold, two men stood by them in shining garments:⁵And as they were afraid, and bowed down their faces to the earth, they said unto them, Why seek ye the living among the dead?⁶He is not here, but is risen: remember how he spake unto you when he was yet in Galilee,⁷Saying, The Son of man must be delivered into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified, and the third day rise again.⁸And they remembered his words,⁹And returned from the sepulchre, and told all these things unto the eleven, and to all the rest.¹⁰It was Mary Magdalene, and Joanna, and Mary the mother of James, and other women that were with them, which told these things unto the apostles.¹¹And their words seemed to them as idle tales, and they believed them not.¹²Then arose Peter, and ran unto the sepulchre and stooping down, he beheld the linen clothes laid by themselves, and departed, wondering in himself at that which was come to pass.¹³And, behold, two of them went that same day to a village called Emmaus, which was from Jerusalem about threescore furlongs.¹⁴And they talked together of all these things which had happened.¹⁵And it came to pass, that, while they communed together and reasoned, Jesus himself drew near, and went with them.¹⁶But their eyes were holden that they should not know him.¹⁷And he said unto them, What manner of communications are these that ye have one to another, as ye walk, and are sad?¹⁸And the one of them, whose name was Cleopas, answering said unto him, Art thou only a stranger in Jerusalem, and hast not known the things which are come to pass therein these days?¹⁹And he said unto them, What things? And they said unto him, Concerning Jesus of Nazareth, which was a prophet mighty in deed and word before God and all the people:²⁰And how the chief priests and our rulers delivered him to be condemned to death, and have crucified him.²¹But we trusted that it had been he which should have redeemed Israel: and beside all this, to day is the third day since these things were done.²²Yea, and certain women also of our company made us astonished, which were early at the sepulchre²³And when they found not his body, they came, saying, that they had also seen a vision of angels, which said that he was alive.²⁴And certain of them which were with us went to the sepulchre, and found it even so as the women had said: but him they saw not.²⁵Then he said unto them, O fools, and slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have spoken:²⁶Ought not Christ to have suffered these things, and to enter into his glory?²⁷And beginning at Moses and all the prophets, he expounded unto them in all the scriptures the things concerning himself.²⁸And they drew nigh unto the village, whither they went: and he made as though he would have gone further.²⁹But they constrained him, saying, Abide with us: for it is toward evening, and the day is far spent. And he went in to tarry with them.³⁰And it came to pass, as he sat at meat with them, he took bread, and blessed it, and brake, and gave to them.³¹And their eyes were opened, and they knew him and he vanished out of their sight.³²And they said one to another, Did not our heart burn within us, while he talked with us by the way, and while he opened to us the scriptures?³³And they rose up the same hour, and returned to Jerusalem, and found the eleven gathered together, and them that were with them,³⁴Saying, The Lord is risen indeed, and hath appeared to Simon.³⁵And they told what things were done in the way, and how he was known of them in breaking of bread.³⁶And as they thus spake, Jesus himself stood in the midst of them, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you.³⁷But they were terrified and affrighted, and supposed that they had seen a spirit.³⁸And he said unto them, Why are ye troubled? and why do thoughts arise in your hearts?³⁹Behold my hands and my feet, that it is I myself: handle me, and see for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see me have.⁴⁰And when he had thus spoken, he shewed them his hands and his feet.⁴¹And while they yet believed not for joy, and wondered, he said unto them, Have ye here any meat?⁴²And they gave him a piece of a broiled fish, and of an honeycomb.⁴³And he took it, and did eat before them.⁴⁴And he said unto them, These are the words which I spake unto you, while I was yet with you, that all things must be fulfilled, which were written in the law of Moses, and in the prophets, and in the psalms, concerning me.⁴⁵Then opened he their understanding, that they might understand the scriptures,⁴⁶And said unto them, Thus it is written, and thus it behoved Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead the third day:⁴⁷And that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name among all nations, beginning at Jerusalem.⁴⁸And ye are witnesses of these things.⁴⁹And, behold, I send the promise of my Father upon you: but tarry ye in the city of Jerusalem, until ye be endued with power from on high.⁵⁰And he led them out as far as to Bethany, and he lifted up his hands, and blessed them.⁵¹And it came to pass, while he blessed them, he was parted from them, and carried up into heaven.⁵²And they worshipped him, and returned to Jerusalem with great joy:⁵³And were continually in the temple, praising and blessing God. Amen.

CHAPTER 1 ¹In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God.²The same was in the beginning with God.³All things were made by him and without him was not any thing made that was made.⁴In him was life and the life was the light of men.⁵And the light shineth in darkness and the darkness comprehended it not.⁶There was a man sent from God, whose name was John.⁷The same came for a witness, to bear witness of the Light, that all men through him might believe.⁸He was not that Light, but was sent to bear witness of that Light.⁹That was the true Light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world.¹⁰He was in the world, and the world was made by him, and the world knew him not.¹¹He came unto his own, and his own received him not.¹²But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name:¹³Which were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God.¹⁴And the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, (and we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father,) full of grace and truth.¹⁵John bare witness of him, and cried, saying, This was he of whom I spake, He that cometh after me is preferred before me: for he was before me.¹⁶And of his fulness have all we received, and grace for grace.¹⁷For the law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Jesus Christ.¹⁸No man hath seen God at any time the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him.¹⁹And this is the record of John, when the Jews sent priests and Levites from Jerusalem to ask him, Who art thou?²⁰And he confessed, and denied not but confessed, I am not the Christ.²¹And they asked him, What then? Art thou Elias? And he saith, I am not. Art thou that prophet? And he answered, No.²²Then said they unto him, Who art thou? that we may give an answer to them that sent us. What sayest thou of thyself?²³He said, I am the voice of one crying in the wilderness, Make straight the way of the Lord, as said the prophet Esaias.²⁴And they which were sent were of the Pharisees.²⁵And they asked him, and said unto him, Why baptizest thou then, if thou be not that Christ, nor Elias, neither that prophet?²⁶John answered them, saying, I baptize with water: but there standeth one among you, whom ye know not²⁷He it is, who coming after me is preferred before me, whose shoe's latchet I am not worthy to unloose.²⁸These things were done in Bethabara beyond Jordan, where John was baptizing.²⁹The next day John seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world.³⁰This is he of whom I said, After me cometh a man which is preferred before me: for he was before me.³¹And I knew him not: but that he should be made manifest to Israel, therefore am I come baptizing with water.³²And John bare record, saying, I saw the Spirit descending from heaven like a dove, and it abode upon him.³³And I knew him not: but he that sent me to baptize with water, the same said unto me, Upon whom thou shalt see the Spirit descending, and remaining on him, the same is he which baptizeth with the Holy Ghost.³⁴And I saw, and bare record that this is the Son of God.³⁵Again the next day after John stood, and two of his disciples³⁶And looking upon Jesus as he walked, he saith, Behold the Lamb of God!³⁷And the two disciples heard him speak, and they followed Jesus.³⁸Then Jesus turned, and saw them following, and saith unto them, What seek ye? They said unto him, Rabbi, (which is to say, being interpreted, Master,) where dwellest thou?³⁹He saith unto them, Come and see. They came and saw where he dwelt, and abode with him that day: for it was about the tenth hour.⁴⁰One of the two which heard John speak, and followed him, was Andrew, Simon Peter's brother.⁴¹He first findeth his own brother Simon, and saith unto him, We have found the Messias, which is, being interpreted, the Christ.⁴²And he brought him to Jesus. And when Jesus beheld him, he said, Thou art Simon the son of Jona: thou shalt be called Cephas, which is by interpretation, A stone.⁴³The day following Jesus would go forth into Galilee, and findeth Philip, and saith unto him, Follow me.⁴⁴Now Philip was of Bethsaida, the city of Andrew and Peter.⁴⁵Philip findeth Nathanael, and saith unto him, We have found him, of whom Moses in the law, and the prophets, did write, Jesus of Nazareth, the son of Joseph.⁴⁶And Nathanael said unto him, Can there any good thing come out of Nazareth? Philip saith unto him, Come and see.⁴⁷Jesus saw Nathanael coming to him, and saith of him, Behold an Israelite indeed, in whom is no guile!⁴⁸Nathanael saith unto him, Whence knowest thou me? Jesus answered and said unto him, Before that Philip called thee, when thou wast under the fig tree, I saw thee.⁴⁹Nathanael answered and saith unto him, Rabbi, thou art the Son of God thou art the King of Israel.⁵⁰Jesus answered and said unto him, Because I said unto thee, I saw thee under the fig tree, believest thou? thou shalt see greater things than these.⁵¹And he saith unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Hereafter ye shall see heaven open, and the angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of man.

CHAPTER 2 ¹And the third day there was a marriage in Cana of Galilee and the mother of Jesus was there:²And both Jesus was called, and his disciples, to the marriage.³And when they wanted wine, the mother of Jesus saith unto him, They have no wine.⁴Jesus saith unto her, Woman, what have I to do with thee? mine hour is not yet come.⁵His mother saith unto the servants, Whatsoever he saith unto you, do it.⁶And there were set there six waterpots of stone, after the manner of the purifying of the Jews, containing two or three firkins apiece.⁷Jesus saith unto them, Fill the waterpots with water. And they filled them up to the brim.⁸And he saith unto them, Draw out now, and bear unto the governor of the feast. And they bare it.⁹When the ruler of the feast had tasted the water that was made wine, and knew not whence it was: (but the servants which drew the water knew) the governor of the feast called the bridegroom,¹⁰And saith unto him, Every man at the beginning doth set forth good wine and when men have well drunk, then that which is worse: but thou hast kept the good wine until now.¹¹This beginning of miracles did Jesus in Cana of Galilee, and manifested forth his glory and his disciples believed on him.¹²After this he went down to Capernaum, he, and his mother, and his brethren, and his disciples: and they continued there not many days.¹³And the Jews' passover was at hand, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem,¹⁴And found in the temple those that sold oxen and sheep and doves, and the changers of money sitting:¹⁵And when he had made a scourge of small cords, he drove them all out of the temple, and the sheep, and the oxen and poured out the changers' money, and overthrew the tables¹⁶And said unto them that sold doves, Take these things hence make not my Father's house an house of merchandise.¹⁷And his disciples remembered that it was written, The zeal of thine house hath eaten me up.¹⁸Then answered the Jews and said unto him, What sign shewest thou unto us, seeing that thou doest these things?¹⁹Jesus answered and said unto them, Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up.²⁰Then said the Jews, Forty and six years was this temple in building, and wilt thou rear it up in three days?²¹But he spake of the temple of his body.²²When therefore he was risen from the dead, his disciples remembered that he had said this unto them and they believed the scripture, and the word which Jesus had said.²³Now when he was in Jerusalem at the passover, in the feast day, many believed in his name, when they saw the miracles which he did.²⁴But Jesus did not commit himself unto them, because he knew all men,²⁵And needed not that any should testify of man: for he knew what was in man.

CHAPTER 3 ¹There was a man of the Pharisees, named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Jews:²The same came to Jesus by night, and said unto him, Rabbi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man can do these miracles that thou doest, except God be with him.³Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God.⁴Nicodemus saith unto him, How can a man be born when he is old? can he enter the second time into his mother's womb, and be born?⁵Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God.⁶That which is born of the flesh is flesh and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit.⁷Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born again.⁸The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every one that is born of the Spirit.⁹Nicodemus answered and said unto him, How can these things be?¹⁰Jesus answered and said unto him, Art thou a master of Israel, and knowest not these things?¹¹Verily, verily, I say unto thee, We speak that we do know, and testify that we have seen and ye receive not our witness.¹²If I have told you earthly things, and ye believe not, how shall ye believe, if I tell you of heavenly things?¹³And no man hath ascended up to heaven, but he that came down from heaven, even the Son of man which is in heaven.¹⁴And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up:¹⁵That whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life.¹⁶For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life.¹⁷For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world but that the world through him might be saved.¹⁸He that believeth on him is not condemned: but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God.¹⁹And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil.²⁰For every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be reproved.²¹But he that doeth truth cometh to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest, that they are wrought in God.²²After these things came Jesus and his disciples into the land of Judaea and there he tarried with them, and baptized.²³And John also was baptizing in Aenon near to Salim, because there was much water there: and they came, and were baptized.²⁴For John was not yet cast into prison.²⁵Then there arose a question between some of John's disciples and the Jews about purifying.²⁶And they came unto John, and said unto him, Rabbi, he that was with thee beyond Jordan, to whom thou barest witness, behold, the same baptizeth, and all men come to him.²⁷John answered and said, A man can receive nothing, except it be given him from heaven.²⁸Ye yourselves bear me witness, that I said, I am not the Christ, but that I am sent before him.²⁹He that hath the bride is the bridegroom: but the friend of the bridegroom, which standeth and heareth him, rejoiceth greatly because of the bridegroom's voice: this my joy therefore is fulfilled.³⁰He must increase, but I must decrease.³¹He that cometh from above is above all: he that is of the earth is earthly, and speaketh of the earth: he that cometh from heaven is above all.³²And what he hath seen and heard, that he testifieth and no man receiveth his testimony.³³He that hath received his testimony hath set to his seal that God is true.³⁴For he whom God hath sent speaketh the words of God: for God giveth not the Spirit by measure unto him.³⁵The Father loveth the Son, and hath given all things into his hand.³⁶He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life but the wrath of God abideth on him.

CHAPTER 4 ¹When therefore the Lord knew how the Pharisees had heard that Jesus made and baptized more disciples than John,²(Though Jesus himself baptized not, but his disciples,)³He left Judaea, and departed again into Galilee.⁴And he must needs go through Samaria.⁵Then cometh he to a city of Samaria, which is called Sychar, near to the parcel of ground that Jacob gave to his son Joseph.⁶Now Jacob's well was there. Jesus therefore, being wearied with his journey, sat thus on the well: and it was about the sixth hour.⁷There cometh a woman of Samaria to draw water: Jesus saith unto her, Give me to drink.⁸(For his disciples were gone away unto the city to buy meat.)⁹Then saith the woman of Samaria unto him, How is it that thou, being a Jew, askest drink of me, which am a woman of Samaria? for the Jews have no dealings with the Samaritans.¹⁰Jesus answered and said unto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me to drink thou wouldest have asked of him, and he would have given thee living water.¹¹The woman saith unto him, Sir, thou hast nothing to draw with, and the well is deep: from whence then hast thou that living water?¹²Art thou greater than our father Jacob, which gave us the well, and drank thereof himself, and his children, and his cattle?¹³Jesus answered and said unto her, Whosoever drinketh of this water shall thirst again:¹⁴But whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life.¹⁵The woman saith unto him, Sir, give me this water, that I thirst not, neither come hither to draw.¹⁶Jesus saith unto her, Go, call thy husband, and come hither.¹⁷The woman answered and said, I have no husband. Jesus said unto her, Thou hast well said, I have no husband:¹⁸For thou hast had five husbands and he whom thou now hast is not thy husband: in that saidst thou truly.¹⁹The woman saith unto him, Sir, I perceive that thou art a prophet.²⁰Our fathers worshipped in this mountain and ye say, that in Jerusalem is the place where men ought to worship.²¹Jesus saith unto her, Woman, believe me, the hour cometh, when ye shall neither in this mountain, nor yet at Jerusalem, worship the Father.²²Ye worship ye know not what: we know what we worship: for salvation is of the Jews.²³But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth: for the Father seeketh such to worship him.²⁴God is a Spirit:

and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth.²⁵The woman saith unto him, I know that Messias cometh, which is called Christ: when he is come, he will tell us all things.²⁶Jesus saith unto her, I that speak unto thee am he.²⁷And upon this came his disciples, and marvelled that he talked with the woman: yet no man said, What seekest thou? or, Why talkest thou with her?²⁸The woman then left her waterpot, and went her way into the city, and saith to the men,²⁹Come, see a man, which told me all things that ever I did: is not this the Christ?³⁰Then they went out of the city, and came unto him.³¹In the mean while his disciples prayed him, saying, Master, eat.³²But he said unto them, I have meat to eat that ye know not of.³³Therefore said the disciples one to another, Hath any man brought him ought to eat?³⁴Jesus saith unto them, My meat is to do the will of him that sent me, and to finish his work.³⁵Say not ye, There are yet four months, and then cometh harvest? behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields for they are white already to harvest.³⁶And he that reapeth receiveth wages, and gathereth fruit unto life eternal: that both he that soweth and he that reapeth may rejoice together.³⁷ And herein is that saying true, One soweth, and another reapeth.³⁸ I sent you to reap that whereon ye bestowed no labour: other men laboured, and ye are entered into their labours.³⁹ And many of the Samaritans of that city believed on him for the saying of the woman, which testified, He told me all that ever I did.⁴⁰ So when the Samaritans were come unto him, they besought him that he would tarry with them: and he abode there two days.⁴¹ And many more believed because of his own word.⁴² And said unto the woman, Now we believe, not because of thy saying: for we have heard him ourselves, and know that this is indeed the Christ, the Saviour of the world.⁴³ Now after two days he departed thence, and went into Galilee.⁴⁴ For Jesus himself testified, that a prophet hath no honour in his own country.⁴⁵ Then when he was come into Galilee, the Galilaeans received him, having seen all the things that he did at Jerusalem at the feast: for they also went unto the feast.⁴⁶ So Jesus came again into Cana of Galilee, where he made the water wine. And there was a certain nobleman, whose son was sick at Capernaum.⁴⁷ When he heard that Jesus was come out of Judaea into Galilee, he went unto him, and besought him that he would come down, and heal his son: for he was at the point of death.⁴⁸ Then said Jesus unto him, Except ye see signs and wonders, ye will not believe.⁴⁹ The nobleman saith unto him, Sir, come down ere my child die.⁵⁰ Jesus saith unto him, Go thy way thy son liveth. And the man believed the word that Jesus had spoken unto him, and he went his way.⁵¹ And as he was now going down, his servants met him, and told him, saying, Thy son liveth.⁵² Then inquired he of them the hour when he began to amend. And they said unto him, Yesterday at the seventh hour the fever left him.⁵³ So the father knew that it was at the same hour, in the which Jesus said unto him, Thy son liveth: and himself believed, and his whole house.⁵⁴ This is again the second miracle that Jesus did, when he was come out of Judaea into Galilee.

CHAPTER 5 ¹After this there was a feast of the Jews and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.² Now there is at Jerusalem by the sheep market a pool, which is called in the Hebrew tongue Bethesda, having five porches.³ In these lay a great multitude of impotent folk, of blind, halt, withered, waiting for the moving of the water.⁴For an angel went down at a certain season into the pool, and troubled the water: whosoever then first after the troubling of the water stepped in was made whole of whatsoever disease he had.⁵And a certain man was there, which had an infirmity thirty and eight years.⁶When Jesus saw him lie, and knew that he had been now a long time in that case, he saith unto him, Wilt thou be made whole?⁷The impotent man answered him, Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool: but while I am coming, another steppeth down before me.⁸Jesus saith unto him, Rise, take up thy bed, and walk.⁹And immediately the man was made whole, and took up his bed, and walked: and on the same day was the sabbath.¹⁰The Jews therefore said unto him that was cured, It is the sabbath day: it is not lawful for thee to carry thy bed.¹¹He answered them, He that made me whole, the same said unto me, Take up thy bed, and walk.¹²Then asked they him, What man is that which said unto thee, Take up thy bed, and walk?¹³And he that was healed wist not who it was: for Jesus had conveyed himself away, a multitude being in that place.¹⁴Afterward Jesus findeth him in the temple, and said unto him, Behold, thou art made whole: sin no more, lest a worse thing come unto thee.¹⁵The man departed, and told the Jews that it was Jesus, which had made him whole.¹⁶And therefore did the Jews persecute Jesus, and sought to slay him, because he had done these things on the sabbath day.¹⁷But Jesus answered them, My Father worketh hitherto, and I work.¹⁸Therefore the Jews sought the more to kill him, because he not only had broken the sabbath, but said also that God was his Father, making himself equal with God.¹⁹Then answered Jesus and said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do: for what things soever he doeth, these also doeth the Son likewise.²⁰For the Father loveth the Son, and sheweth him all things that himself doeth: and he will shew him greater works than these, that ye may marvel.²¹For as the Father raiseth up the dead, and quickeneth them even so the Son quickeneth whom he will.²²For the Father judgeth no man, but hath committed all judgment unto the Son:²³That all men should honour the Son, even as they honour the Father. He that honoureth not the Son honoureth not the Father which hath sent him.²⁴Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation but is passed from death unto life.²⁵Verily, verily, I say unto you, The hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God: and they that hear shall live.²⁶For as the Father hath life in himself so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself²⁷And hath given him authority to execute judgment also, because he is the Son of man.²⁸Marvel not at this: for the hour is coming, in the which all that are in the graves shall hear his voice,²⁹And shall come forth they that have done good, unto the resurrection of life and they that have done evil, unto the resurrection of damnation.³⁰I can of mine own self do nothing: as I hear, I judge: and my judgment is just because I seek not mine own will, but the will of the Father which hath sent me.³¹If I bear witness of myself, my witness is not true.³²There is another that beareth witness of me and I know that the witness which he witnesseth of me is true.³³Ye sent unto John, and he bare witness unto the truth.³⁴But I receive not testimony from man: but these things I say, that ye might be saved.³⁵He was a burning and a shining light: and ye were willing for a season to rejoice in his light.³⁶But I have greater witness than that of John: for the works which the Father hath given me to finish, the same works that I do, bear witness of me, that the Father hath sent me.³⁷And the Father himself, which hath sent me, hath borne witness of me. Ye have neither heard his voice at any time, nor seen his shape.³⁸And ye have not his word abiding in you: for whom he hath sent, him ye believe not.³⁹Search the scriptures for in them ye think ye have eternal life: and they are they which testify of me.⁴⁰And ye will not come to me, that ye might have life.⁴¹I receive not honour from men.⁴²But I know you, that ye have not the love of God in you.⁴³I am come in my Father's name, and ye receive me not: if another shall come in his own name, him ye will receive.⁴⁴How can ye believe, which receive honour one of another, and seek not the honour that cometh from God only?⁴⁵Do not think that I will accuse you to the Father: there is one that accuseth you, even Moses, in whom ye trust.⁴⁶For had ye believed Moses, ye would have believed me: for he wrote of me.⁴⁷But if ye believe not his writings, how shall ye believe my words?

CHAPTER 6 ¹After these things Jesus went over the sea of Galilee, which is the sea of Tiberias.²And a great multitude followed him, because they saw his miracles which he did on them that were diseased.³And Jesus went up into a mountain, and there he sat with his disciples.⁴And the passover, a feast of the Jews, was nigh.⁵When Jesus then lifted up his eyes, and saw a great company come unto him, he saith unto Philip, Whence shall we buy bread, that these may eat?⁶And this he said to prove him: for he himself knew what he would do.⁷Philip answered him, Two hundred pennyworth of bread is not sufficient for them, that every one of them may take a little.⁸One of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peter's brother, saith unto him,⁹There is a lad here, which hath five barley loaves, and two small fishes: but what are they among so many?¹⁰And Jesus said, Make the men sit down. Now there was much grass in the place. So the men sat down, in number about five thousand.¹¹And Jesus took the loaves and when he had given thanks, he distributed to the disciples, and the disciples to them that were set down and likewise of the fishes as much as they would.¹²When they were filled, he said unto his disciples, Gather up the fragments that remain, that nothing be lost.¹³Therefore they gathered them together, and filled twelve baskets with the fragments of the five barley loaves, which remained over and above unto them that had eaten.¹⁴Then those men, when they had seen the miracle that Jesus did, said, This is of a truth that prophet that should come into the world.¹⁵When Jesus therefore perceived that they would come and take him by force, to make him a king, he departed again into a mountain himself alone.¹⁶And when even was now come, his disciples went down unto the sea,¹⁷And entered into a ship, and went over the sea toward Capernaum. And it was now dark, and Jesus was not come to them.¹⁸And the sea arose by reason of a great wind that blew.¹⁹So when they had rowed about five and twenty or thirty furlongs, they see Jesus walking on the sea, and drawing nigh unto the ship: and they were afraid.²⁰But he saith unto them, It is I be not afraid.²¹Then they willingly received him into the ship: and immediately the ship was at the land whither they went.²²The day following, when the people which stood on the other side of the sea saw that there was none other boat there, save that one whereinto his disciples were entered, and that Jesus went not with his disciples into the boat, but that his disciples were gone away alone²³(Howbeit there came other boats from Tiberias nigh unto the place where they did eat bread, after that the Lord had given thanks:)²⁴When the people therefore saw that Jesus was not there, neither his disciples, they also took shipping, and came to Capernaum, seeking for Jesus.²⁵And when they had found him on the other side of the sea, they said unto him, Rabbi, when camest thou hither?²⁶Jesus answered them and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Ye seek me, not because ye saw the miracles, but because ye did eat of the loaves, and were filled.²⁷Labour not for the meat which perisheth, but for that meat which endureth unto everlasting life, which the Son of man shall give unto you: for him hath God the Father sealed.²⁸Then said they unto him, What shall we do, that we might work the works of God?²⁹Jesus answered and said unto them, This is the work of God, that ye believe on him whom he hath sent.³⁰They said therefore unto him, What sign shewest thou then, that we may see, and believe thee? what dost thou work?³¹Our fathers did eat manna in the desert as it is written, He gave them bread from heaven to eat.³²Then Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Moses gave you not that bread from heaven but my Father giveth you the true bread from heaven.³³For the bread of God is he which cometh down from heaven, and giveth life unto the world.³⁴Then said they unto him, Lord, evermore give us this bread.³⁵And Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life: he that cometh to me shall never hunger and he that believeth on me shall never thirst.³⁶But I said unto you, That ye also have seen me, and believe not.³⁷All that the Father giveth me shall come to me and him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out.³⁸For I came down from heaven, not to do mine own will, but the will of him that sent me.³⁹And this is the Father's will which hath sent me, that of all which he hath given me I should lose nothing, but should raise it up again at the last day.⁴⁰And this is the will of him that sent me, that every one which seeth the Son, and believeth on him, may have everlasting life: and I will raise him up at the last day.⁴¹The Jews then murmured at him, because he said, I am the bread which came down from heaven.⁴²And they said, Is not this Jesus, the son of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? how is it then that he saith, I came down from heaven?⁴³Jesus therefore answered and said unto them, Murmur not among yourselves.⁴⁴No man can come to me, except the Father which hath sent me draw him: and I will raise him up at the last day.⁴⁵It is written in the prophets, And they shall be all taught of God. Every man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me.⁴⁶Not that any man hath seen the Father, save he which is of God, he hath seen the Father.⁴⁷Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me hath everlasting life.⁴⁸I am that bread of life.⁴⁹Your fathers did eat manna in the wilderness, and are dead.⁵⁰This is the bread which cometh down from heaven, that a man may eat thereof, and not die.⁵¹I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live for ever: and the bread that I will give is my flesh, which I will give for the life of the world.⁵²The Jews therefore strove among themselves, saying, How can this man give us his flesh to eat?⁵³Then Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except ye eat the flesh of the Son of man, and drink his blood, ye have no life in you.⁵⁴Whoso eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath eternal life and I will raise him up at the last day.⁵⁵For my flesh is meat indeed, and my blood is drink indeed.⁵⁶He that eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him.⁵⁷As the living Father hath sent me, and I live by the Father: so he that eateth me, even he shall live by me.⁵⁸This is that bread which came down from heaven: not as your fathers did eat manna, and are dead: he that eateth of this bread shall live for ever.⁵⁹These things said he in the synagogue, as he taught in Capernaum.⁶⁰Many therefore of his disciples, when they had heard this, said, This is an hard saying who can hear it?⁶¹When Jesus knew in himself that his disciples murmured at it, he said unto them, Doth this offend you?⁶²What and if ye shall see the Son of man ascend up where he was before?⁶³It is the spirit that quickeneth the flesh profiteth nothing: the words that I speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are life.⁶⁴But there are some of you that believe not. For Jesus knew from the beginning who they were that believed not, and who should betray him.⁶⁵And he said, Therefore said I unto you, that no man can come unto me, except it were given unto him of my Father.⁶⁶From that time many of his disciples went back, and walked no more with him.⁶⁷Then said Jesus unto the twelve, Will ye also go away?⁶⁸Then Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? thou hast the words of eternal life.⁶⁹And we believe and are sure that thou art that Christ, the Son of the living God.⁷⁰Jesus answered them, Have not I chosen you twelve, and one of you is a devil?⁷¹He spake of Judas Iscariot the son of Simon: for he it was that should betray him, being one of the twelve.

CHAPTER 7 ¹After these things Jesus walked in Galilee: for he would not walk in Jewry, because the Jews sought to kill him.²Now the Jews' feast of tabernacles was at hand.³His brethren therefore said unto him, Depart hence, and go into Judaea, that thy disciples also may see the works that thou doest.⁴For there is no man that doeth any thing in secret, and he himself seeketh to be known openly. If thou do these things, shew thyself to the world.⁵For neither did his brethren believe in him.⁶Then Jesus said unto them, My time is not yet come: but your time is alway ready.⁷The world cannot hate you but me it hateth, because I testify of it, that the works thereof are evil.⁸Go ye up unto this feast: I go not up yet unto this feast for my time is not yet full come.⁹When he had said these words unto them, he abode still in Galilee.¹⁰But when his brethren were gone up, then went he also up unto the feast, not openly, but as it were in secret.¹¹Then the Jews sought him at the feast, and said, Where is he?¹²And there was much murmuring among the people concerning him: for some said, He is a good man: others said, Nay but he deceiveth the people.¹³Howbeit no man spake openly of him for fear of the Jews.¹⁴Now about the midst of the feast Jesus went up into the temple, and taught.¹⁵And the Jews marvelled, saying, How knoweth this man letters, having never learned?¹⁶Jesus answered them, and said, My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me.¹⁷If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself.¹⁸He that speaketh of himself seeketh his own glory: but he that seeketh his glory that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in him.¹⁹Did not Moses give you the law, and yet none of you keepeth the law? Why go ye about to kill me?²⁰The people answered and said, Thou hast a devil: who goeth about to kill thee?²¹Jesus answered and said unto them, I have done one work, and ye all marvel.²²Moses therefore gave unto you circumcision (not because it is of Moses, but of the fathers) and ye on the sabbath day circumcise a man.²³If a man on the sabbath day receive circumcision, that the law of Moses should not be broken are ye angry at me, because I have made a man every whit whole on the sabbath day?²⁴Judge not according to the appearance, but judge righteous judgment.²⁵Then said some of them of Jerusalem, Is not this he, whom they seek to kill?²⁶But, lo, he speaketh boldly, and they say nothing unto him. Do the rulers know indeed that this is the very Christ?²⁷Howbeit we know this man whence he is: but when Christ cometh, no man knoweth whence he is.²⁸Then cried Jesus in the temple as he taught, saying, Ye both know me, and ye know whence I am: and I am not come of myself, but he that sent me is true, whom ye know not.²⁹But I know him: for I am from him, and he hath sent me.³⁰Then they sought to take him: but no man laid hands on him, because his hour was not yet come.³¹And many of the people believed on him, and said, When Christ cometh, will he do more miracles than these which this man hath done?³²The Pharisees heard that the people murmured such things concerning him and the Pharisees and the chief priests sent officers to take him.³³Then said Jesus unto them, Yet a little while am I with you, and then I go unto him that sent me.³⁴Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, thither ye cannot come.³⁵Then said the Jews among themselves, Whither will he go, that we shall not find him? will he go unto the dispersed among the Gentiles, and teach the Gentiles?³⁶What manner of saying is this that he said, Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, thither ye cannot come?³⁷In the last day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink.³⁸He that believeth on me, as the scripture hath said, out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water.³⁹(But this spake he of the Spirit, which they that believe on him should receive: for the Holy Ghost was not yet given because that Jesus was not yet glorified.)⁴⁰Many of the people therefore, when they heard this saying, said, Of a truth this is the Prophet.⁴¹Others said, This is the Christ. But some said, Shall Christ come out of Galilee?⁴²Hath not the scripture said, That Christ cometh of the seed of David, and out of the town of Bethlehem, where David was?⁴³So there was a division among the people because of him.⁴⁴And some of them would have taken him but no man laid hands on him.⁴⁵Then came the officers to the chief priests and Pharisees and they said unto them, Why have ye not brought him?⁴⁶The officers answered, Never man spake like this man.⁴⁷Then answered them the Pharisees, Are ye also deceived?⁴⁸Have any of the rulers or of the Pharisees believed on him?⁴⁹But this people who knoweth not the law are cursed.⁵⁰Nicodemus saith unto them, (he that came to Jesus by night, being one of them,)⁵¹Doth our law judge any man, before it hear him, and know what he doeth?⁵²They answered and said unto him, Art thou also of Galilee? Search, and look: for out of Galilee ariseth no prophet.⁵³And every man went unto his own house.

CHAPTER 8 ¹Jesus went unto the mount of Olives.²And early in the morning he came again into the temple, and all the people came unto him and he sat down, and taught them.³And the scribes and Pharisees brought unto him a woman taken in adultery and when they had set her in the midst,⁴They say unto him, Master, this woman was taken in adultery, in the very act.⁵Now Moses in the law commanded us, that such should be stoned: but what sayest thou?⁶This they said, tempting him, that they might have to accuse him. But Jesus stooped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground, as though he heard them not.⁷So when they continued asking him, he lifted up himself, and said unto them, He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her.⁸And again he stooped down, and wrote on the ground.⁹And they which heard it, being convicted by their own conscience, went out one by one, beginning at the eldest, even unto the last: and Jesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the midst.¹⁰When Jesus had lifted up himself, and saw none but the woman, he said unto her, Woman, where are those thine accusers? hath no man condemned thee?¹¹She said, No man, Lord. And Jesus said unto her, Neither do I condemn thee: go, and sin no more.¹²Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life.¹³The Pharisees therefore said unto him, Thou bearest record of thyself thy record is not true.¹⁴Jesus answered and said unto them, Though I bear record of myself, yet my record is true: for I know whence I came, and whither I go but ye cannot tell whence I come, and whither I go.¹⁵Ye judge after the flesh I judge no man.¹⁶And yet if I judge, my judgment is true: for I am not alone, but I and the Father that sent me.¹⁷It is also written in your law, that the testimony of two men is true.¹⁸I am one that bear witness of myself, and the Father that sent me beareth witness of me.¹⁹Then said they unto him, Where is thy Father? Jesus answered, Ye neither know me, nor my Father: if ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also.²⁰These words spake

Jesus in the treasury, as he taught in the temple: and no man laid hands on him for his hour was not yet come.²¹Then said Jesus again unto them, I go my way, and ye shall seek me, and shall die in your sins: whither I go, ye cannot come.²²Then said the Jews, Will he kill himself? because he saith, Whither I go, ye cannot come.²³And he said unto them, Ye are from beneath I am from above: ye are of this world I am not of this world.²⁴I said therefore unto you, that ye shall die in your sins: for if ye believe not that I am he, ye shall die in your sins.²⁵Then said they unto him, Who art thou? And Jesus saith unto them, Even the same that I said unto you from the beginning.²⁶I have many things to say and to judge of you: but he that sent me is true and I speak to the world those things which I have heard of him.²⁷They understood not that he spake to them of the Father.²⁸Then said Jesus unto them, When ye have lifted up the Son of man, then shall ye know that I am he, and that I do nothing of myself but as my Father hath taught me, I speak these things.²⁹And he that sent me is with me: the Father hath not left me alone for I do always those things that please him.³⁰As he spake these words, many believed on him.³¹Then said Jesus to those Jews which believed on him, If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed.³²And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.³³They answered him, We be Abraham's seed, and were never in bondage to any man: how sayest thou, Ye shall be made free?³⁴Jesus answered them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Whosoever committeth sin is the servant of sin.³⁵And the servant abideth not in the house for ever: but the Son abideth ever.³⁶If the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed.³⁷I know that ye are Abraham's seed but ye seek to kill me, because my word hath no place in you.³⁸I speak that which I have seen with my Father: and ye do that which ye have seen with your father.³⁹They answered and said unto him, Abraham is our father. Jesus saith unto them, If ye were Abraham's children, ye would do the works of Abraham.⁴⁰But now ye seek to kill me, a man that hath told you the truth, which I have heard of God: this did not Abraham.⁴¹Ye do the deeds of your father. Then said they to him, We be not born of fornication we have one Father, even God.⁴²Jesus said unto them, If God were your Father, ye would love me: for I proceeded forth and came from God neither came I of myself, but he sent me.⁴³Why do ye not understand my speech? even because ye cannot hear my word.⁴⁴Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do. He was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for he is a liar, and the father of it.⁴⁵And because I tell you the truth, ye believe me not.⁴⁶Which of you convinceth me of sin? And if I say the truth, why do ye not believe me?⁴⁷He that is of God heareth God's words: ye therefore hear them not, because ye are not of God.⁴⁸Then answered the Jews, and said unto him, Say we not well that thou art a Samaritan, and hast a devil?⁴⁹Jesus answered, I have not a devil but I honour my Father, and ye do dishonour me.⁵⁰And I seek not mine own glory: there is one that seeketh and judgeth.⁵¹Verily, verily, I say unto you, If a man keep my saying, he shall never see death.⁵²Then said the Jews unto him, Now we know that thou hast a devil. Abraham is dead, and the prophets and thou sayest, If a man keep my saying, he shall never taste of death.⁵³Art thou greater than our father Abraham, which is dead? and the prophets are dead: whom makest thou thyself?⁵⁴ Jesus answered, If I honour myself, my honour is nothing: it is my Father that honoureth me of whom ye say, that he is your God:⁵⁵ Yet ye have not known him but I know him: and if I should say, I know him not, I shall be a liar like unto you: but I know him, and keep his saying.⁵⁶ Your father Abraham rejoiced to see my day: and he saw it, and was glad.⁵⁷ Then said the Jews unto him, Thou art not yet fifty years old, and hast thou seen Abraham?⁵⁸ Jesus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Before Abraham was, I am.⁵⁹ Then took they up stones to cast at him: but Jesus hid himself, and went out of the temple, going through the midst of them, and so passed by.

CHAPTER 9 ¹And as Jesus passed by, he saw a man which was blind from his birth.² And his disciples asked him, saying, Master, who did sin, this man, or his parents, that he was born blind?³ Jesus answered, Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents: but that the works of God should be made manifest in him.⁴ I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work.⁵ As long as I am in the world, I am the light of the world.⁶ When he had thus spoken, he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and he anointed the eyes of the blind man with the clay,⁷ And said unto him, Go, wash in the pool of Siloam, (which is by interpretation, Sent.) He went his way therefore, and washed, and came seeing.⁸ The neighbours therefore, and they which before had seen him that he was blind, said, Is not this he that sat and begged?⁹ Some said, This is he: others said, He is like him: but he said, I am he.¹⁰ Therefore said they unto him, How were thine eyes opened?¹¹ He answered and said, A man that is called Jesus made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said unto me, Go to the pool of Siloam, and wash: and I went and washed, and I received sight.¹² Then said they unto him, Where is he? He said, I know not.¹³ They brought to the Pharisees him that aforetime was blind.¹⁴ And it was the sabbath day when Jesus made the clay, and opened his eyes.¹⁵ Then again the Pharisees also asked him how he had received his sight. He said unto them, He put clay upon mine eyes, and I washed, and do see.¹⁶ Therefore said some of the Pharisees, This man is not of God, because he keepeth not the sabbath day. Others said, How can a man that is a sinner do such miracles? And there was a division among them.¹⁷They say unto the blind man again, What sayest thou of him, that he hath opened thine eyes? He said, He is a prophet.¹⁸But the Jews did not believe concerning him, that he had been blind, and received his sight, until they called the parents of him that had received his sight.¹⁹And they asked them, saying, Is this your son, who ye say was born blind? how then doth he now see?²⁰His parents answered them and said, We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind:²¹But by what means he now seeth, we know not or who hath opened his eyes, we know not: he is of age ask him: he shall speak for himself.²²These words spake his parents, because they feared the Jews: for the Jews had agreed already, that if any man did confess that he was Christ, he should be put out of the synagogue.²³Therefore said his parents, He is of age ask him.²⁴Then again called they the man that was blind, and said unto him, Give God the praise: we know that this man is a sinner.²⁵He answered and said, Whether he be a sinner or no, I know not: one thing I know, that, whereas I was blind, now I see.²⁶Then said they to him again, What did he to thee? how opened he thine eyes?²⁷He answered them, I have told you already, and ye did not hear: wherefore would ye hear it again? will ye also be his disciples?²⁸Then they reviled him, and said, Thou art his disciple but we are Moses' disciples.²⁹We know that God spake unto Moses: as for this fellow, we know not from whence he is.³⁰The man answered and said unto them, Why herein is a marvellous thing, that ye know not from whence he is, and yet he hath opened mine eyes.³¹Now we know that God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, and doeth his will, him he heareth.³²Since the world began was it not heard that any man opened the eyes of one that was born blind.³³If this man were not of God, he could do nothing.³⁴They answered and said unto him, Thou wast altogether born in sins, and dost thou teach us? And they cast him out.³⁵Jesus heard that they had cast him out and when he had found him, he said unto him, Dost thou believe on the Son of God?³⁶He answered and said, Who is he, Lord, that I might believe on him?³⁷And Jesus said unto him, Thou hast both seen him, and it is he that talketh with thee.³⁸And he said, Lord, I believe. And he worshipped him.³⁹And Jesus said, For judgment I am come into this world, that they which see not might see and that they which see might be made blind.⁴⁰And some of the Pharisees which were with him heard these words, and said unto him, Are we blind also?⁴¹Jesus said unto them, If ye were blind, ye should have no sin: but now ye say, We see therefore your sin remaineth.

CHAPTER 10 ¹Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that entereth not by the door into the sheepfold, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber.²But he that entereth in by the door is the shepherd of the sheep.³To him the porter openeth and the sheep hear his voice: and he calleth his own sheep by name, and leadeth them out.⁴And when he putteth forth his own sheep, he goeth before them, and the sheep follow him: for they know his voice.⁵And a stranger will they not follow, but will flee from him: for they know not the voice of strangers.⁶This parable spake

Jesus unto them: but they understood not what things they were which he spake unto them.⁷Then said Jesus unto them again, Verily, verily, I say unto you, I am the door of the sheep.⁸All that ever came before me are thieves and robbers: but the sheep did not hear them.⁹I am the door: by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and out, and find pasture.¹⁰The thief cometh not, but for to steal, and to kill, and to destroy: I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly.¹¹I am the good shepherd: the good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep.¹²But he that is an hireling, and not the shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, seeth the wolf coming, and leaveth the sheep, and fleeth: and the wolf catcheth them, and scattereth the sheep.¹³The hireling fleeth, because he is an hireling, and careth not for the sheep.¹⁴I am the good shepherd, and know my sheep, and am known of mine.¹⁵As the Father knoweth me, even so know I the Father: and I lay down my life for the sheep.¹⁶And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice and there shall be one fold, and one shepherd.¹⁷Therefore doth my Father love me, because I lay down my life, that I might take it again.¹⁸No man taketh it from me, but I lay it down of myself. I have power to lay it down, and I have power to take it again. This commandment have I received of my Father.¹⁹There was a division therefore again among the Jews for these sayings.²⁰And many of them said, He hath a devil, and is mad why hear ye him?²¹Others said, These are not the words of him that hath a devil. Can a devil open the eyes of the blind?²²And it was at Jerusalem the feast of the dedication, and it was winter.²³And Jesus walked in the temple in Solomon's porch.²⁴Then came the Jews round about him, and said unto him, How long dost thou make us to doubt? If thou be the Christ, tell us plainly.²⁵Jesus answered them, I told you, and ye believed not: the works that I do in my Father's name, they bear witness of me.²⁶But ye believe not, because ye are not of my sheep, as I said unto you.²⁷My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me:²⁸And I give unto them eternal life and they shall never perish, neither shall any man pluck them out of my hand.²⁹My Father, which gave them me, is greater than all and no man is able to pluck them out of my Father's hand.³⁰I and my Father are one.³¹Then the Jews took up stones again to stone him.³²Jesus answered them, Many good works have I shewed you from my Father for which of those works do ye stone me?³³The Jews answered him, saying, For a good work we stone thee not but for blasphemy and because that thou, being a man, makest thyself God.³⁴Jesus answered them, Is it not written in your law, I said, Ye are gods?³⁵If he called them gods, unto whom the word of God came, and the scripture cannot be broken³⁶Say ye of him, whom the Father hath sanctified, and sent into the world, Thou blasphemest because I said, I am the Son of God?³⁷If I do not the works of my Father, believe me not.³⁸But if I do, though ye believe not me, believe the works: that ye may know, and believe, that the Father is in me, and I in him.³⁹Therefore they sought again to take him: but he escaped out of their hand,⁴⁰And went away again beyond Jordan into the place where John at first baptized and there he abode.⁴¹And many resorted unto him, and said, John did no miracle: but all things that John spake of this man were true.⁴²And many believed on him there.

CHAPTER 11 ¹Now a certain man was sick, named Lazarus, of Bethany, the town of Mary and her sister Martha.²(It was that Mary which anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feet with her hair, whose brother Lazarus was sick.)³Therefore his sisters sent unto him, saying, Lord, behold, he whom thou lovest is sick.⁴When Jesus heard that, he said, This sickness is not unto death, but for the glory of God, that the Son of God might be glorified thereby.⁵Now Jesus loved Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus.⁶When he had heard therefore that he was sick, he abode two days still in the same place where he was.⁷Then after that saith he to his disciples, Let us go into Judaea again.⁸His disciples say unto him, Master, the Jews of late sought to stone thee and goest thou thither again?⁹Jesus answered, Are there not twelve hours in the day? If any man walk in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world.¹⁰But if a man walk in the night, he stumbleth, because there is no light in him.¹¹These things said he: and after that he saith unto them, Our friend Lazarus sleepeth but I go, that I may awake him out of sleep.¹²Then said his disciples, Lord, if he sleep, he shall do well.¹³Howbeit Jesus spake of his death: but they thought that he had spoken of taking of rest in sleep.¹⁴Then said Jesus unto them plainly, Lazarus is dead.¹⁵And I am glad for your sakes that I was not there, to the intent ye may believe nevertheless let us go unto him.¹⁶Then said Thomas, which is called Didymus, unto his fellowdisciples, Let us also go, that we may die with him.¹⁷Then when Jesus came, he found that he had lain in the grave four days already.¹⁸Now Bethany was nigh unto Jerusalem, about fifteen furlongs off:¹⁹And many of the Jews came to Martha and Mary, to comfort them concerning their brother.²⁰Then Martha, as soon as she heard that Jesus was coming, went and met him: but Mary sat still in the house.²¹Then said Martha unto Jesus, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.²²But I know, that even now, whatsoever thou wilt ask of God, God will give it thee.²³Jesus saith unto her, Thy brother shall rise again.²⁴Martha saith unto him, I know that he shall rise again in the resurrection at the last day.²⁵Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection, and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live.²⁶And whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die. Believest thou this?²⁷She saith unto him, Yea, Lord: I believe that thou art the Christ, the Son of God, which should come into the world.²⁸And when she had so said, she went her way, and called Mary her sister secretly, saying, The Master is come, and calleth for thee.²⁹As soon as she heard that, she arose quickly, and came unto him.³⁰Now Jesus was not yet come into the town, but was in that place where Martha met him.³¹The Jews then which were with her in the house, and comforted her, when they saw Mary, that she rose up hastily and went out, followed her, saying, She goeth unto the grave to weep there.³²Then when Mary was come where Jesus was, and saw him, she fell down at his feet, saying unto him, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.³³When Jesus therefore saw her weeping, and the Jews also weeping which came with her, he groaned in the spirit, and was troubled,³⁴And said, Where have ye laid him? They said unto him, Lord, come and see.³⁵Jesus wept.³⁶Then said the Jews, Behold how he loved him!³⁷And some of them said, Could not this man, which opened the eyes of the blind, have caused that even this man should not have died?³⁸Jesus therefore again groaning in himself cometh to the grave. It was a cave, and a stone lay upon it.³⁹Jesus said, Take ye away the stone. Martha, the sister of him that was dead, saith unto him, Lord, by this time he stinketh: for he hath been dead four days.⁴⁰Jesus saith unto her, Said I not unto thee, that, if thou wouldest believe, thou shouldest see the glory of God?⁴¹Then they took away the stone from the place where the dead was laid. And Jesus lifted up his eyes, and said, Father, I thank thee that thou hast heard me.⁴²And I knew that thou hearest me always: but because of the people which stand by I said it, that they may believe that thou hast sent me.⁴³And when he thus had spoken, he cried with a loud voice, Lazarus, come forth.⁴⁴And he that was dead came forth, bound hand and foot with graveclothes: and his face was bound about with a napkin. Jesus saith unto them, Loose him, and let him go.⁴⁵Then many of the Jews which came to Mary, and had seen the things which Jesus did, believed on him.⁴⁶But some of them went their ways to the Pharisees, and told them what things Jesus had done.⁴⁷Then gathered the chief priests and the Pharisees a council, and said, What do we? for this man doeth many miracles.⁴⁸If we let him thus alone, all men will believe on him: and the Romans shall come and take away both our place and nation.⁴⁹And one of them, named Caiaphas, being the high priest that same year, said unto them, Ye know nothing at all,⁵⁰Nor consider that it is expedient for us, that one man should die for the people, and that the whole nation perish not.⁵¹And this spake he not of himself: but being high priest that year, he prophesied that Jesus should die for that nation⁵²And not for that nation only, but that also he should gather together in one the children of God that were scattered abroad.⁵³Then from that day forth they took counsel together for to put him to death.⁵⁴Jesus therefore walked no more openly among the Jews but went thence unto a country near to the wilderness, into a city called Ephraim, and there continued with his disciples.⁵⁵And the Jews' passover was nigh at hand: and many went out of the country up to Jerusalem before the passover, to purify themselves.⁵⁶Then sought they for Jesus, and spake among themselves, as they stood in the temple, What think ye, that he will not come to the feast?⁵⁷Now both the chief priests and the Pharisees had given a commandment, that, if any man knew where he were, he should shew it, that they might take him.

CHAPTER 12 ¹Then Jesus six days before the passover came to Bethany, where Lazarus was which had been dead, whom he raised from the dead.²There they made him a supper and Martha served: but Lazarus was one of them that sat at the table with him.³Then took Mary a pound of ointment of spikenard, very costly, and anointed the feet of Jesus, and wiped his feet with her hair: and the house was filled with the odour of the ointment.⁴Then saith one of his disciples, Judas Iscariot, Simon's son, which should betray him,⁵Why was not this ointment sold for three hundred pence, and given to the poor?⁶This he said, not that he cared for the poor but because he was a thief, and had the bag, and bare what was put therein.⁷Then said Jesus, Let her alone: against the day of my burying hath she kept this.⁸For the poor always ye have with you but me ye have not always.⁹Much people of the Jews therefore knew that he was there:

and they came not for Jesus' sake only, but that they might see Lazarus also, whom he had raised from the dead.¹⁰ But the chief priests consulted that they might put Lazarus also to death.¹¹ Because that by reason of him many of the Jews went away, and believed on Jesus.¹² On the next day much people that were come to the feast, when they heard that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem,¹³ Took branches of palm trees, and went forth to meet him, and cried, Hosanna: Blessed is the King of Israel that cometh in the name of the Lord.¹⁴ And Jesus, when he had found a young ass, sat thereon as it is written,¹⁵ Fear not, daughter of Sion: behold, thy King cometh, sitting on an ass's colt.¹⁶ These things understood not his disciples at the first: but when Jesus was glorified, then remembered they that these things were written of him, and that they had done these things unto him.¹⁷ The people therefore that was with him when he called Lazarus out of his grave, and raised him from the dead, bare record.¹⁸ For this cause the people also met him, for that they heard that he had done this miracle.¹⁹ The Pharisees therefore said among themselves, Perceive ye how ye prevail nothing? behold, the world is gone after him.²⁰ And there were certain Greeks among them that came up to worship at the feast:²¹ The same came therefore to Philip, which was of Bethsaida of Galilee, and desired him, saying, Sir, we would see Jesus.²² Philip cometh and telleth Andrew: and again Andrew and Philip tell Jesus.²³ And Jesus answered them, saying, The hour is come, that the Son of man should be glorified.²⁴ Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone: but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit.²⁵ He that loveth his life shall lose it and he that hateth his life in this world shall keep it unto life eternal.²⁶ If any man serve me, let him follow me and where I am, there shall also my servant be: if any man serve me, him will my Father honour.²⁷ Now is my soul troubled and what shall I say? Father, save me from this hour: but for this cause came I unto this hour.²⁸ Father, glorify thy name. Then came there a voice from heaven, saying, I have both glorified it, and will glorify it again.²⁹ The people therefore, that stood by, and heard it, said that it thundered: others said, An angel spake to him.³⁰ Jesus answered and said, This voice came not because of me, but for your sakes.³¹Now is the judgment of this world: now shall the prince of this world be cast out.³²And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me.³³This he said, signifying what death he should die.³⁴The people answered him, We have heard out of the law that Christ abideth for ever: and how sayest thou, The Son of man must be lifted up? who is this Son of man?³⁵Then Jesus said unto them, Yet a little while is the light with you. Walk while ye have the light, lest darkness come upon you: for he that walketh in darkness knoweth not whither he goeth.³⁶While ye have light, believe in the light, that ye may be the children of light. These things spake Jesus, and departed, and did hide himself from them.³⁷But though he had done so many miracles before them, yet they believed not on him:³⁸That the saying of Esaias the prophet might be fulfilled, which he spake, Lord, who hath believed our report? and to whom hath the arm of the Lord been revealed?³⁹Therefore they could not believe, because that Esaias said again,⁴⁰He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart that they should not see with their eyes, nor understand with their heart, and be converted, and I should heal them.⁴¹These things said Esaias, when he saw his glory, and spake of him.⁴²Nevertheless among the chief rulers also many believed on him but because of the Pharisees they did not confess him, lest they should be put out of the synagogue:⁴³For they loved the praise of men more than the praise of God.⁴⁴Jesus cried and said, He that believeth on me, believeth not on me, but on him that sent me.⁴⁵And he that seeth me seeth him that sent me.⁴⁶I am come a light into the world, that whosoever believeth on me should not abide in darkness.⁴⁷And if any man hear my words, and believe not, I judge him not: for I came not to judge the world, but to save the world.⁴⁸He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my words, hath one that judgeth him: the word that I have spoken, the same shall judge him in the last day.⁴⁹For I have not spoken of myself but the Father which sent me, he gave me a commandment, what I should say, and what I should speak.⁵⁰And I know that his commandment is life everlasting: whatsoever I speak therefore, even as the Father said unto me, so I speak.

CHAPTER 13 ¹Now before the feast of the passover, when Jesus knew that his hour was come that he should depart out of this world unto the Father, having loved his own which were in the world, he loved them unto the end.²And supper being ended, the devil having now put into the heart of Judas Iscariot, Simon's son, to betray him³Jesus knowing that the Father had given all things into his hands, and that he was come from God, and went to God⁴He riseth from supper, and laid aside his garments and took a towel, and girded himself.⁵After that he poureth water into a bason, and began to wash the disciples' feet, and to wipe them with the towel wherewith he was girded.⁶Then cometh he to Simon Peter: and Peter saith unto him, Lord, dost thou wash my feet?⁷Jesus answered and said unto him, What I do thou knowest not now but thou shalt know hereafter.⁸Peter saith unto him, Thou shalt never wash my feet. Jesus answered him, If I wash thee not, thou hast no part with me.⁹Simon Peter saith unto him, Lord, not my feet only, but also my hands and my head.¹⁰Jesus saith to him, He that is washed needeth not save to wash his feet, but is clean every whit: and ye are clean, but not all.¹¹For he knew who should betray him therefore said he, Ye are not all clean.¹²So after he had washed their feet, and had taken his garments, and was set down again, he said unto them, Know ye what I have done to you?¹³Ye call me Master and Lord: and ye say well for so I am.¹⁴If I then, your Lord and Master, have washed your feet ye also ought to wash one another's feet.¹⁵For I have given you an example, that ye should do as I have done to you.¹⁶Verily, verily, I say unto you, The servant is not greater than his lord neither he that is sent greater than he that sent him.¹⁷If ye know these things, happy are ye if ye do them.¹⁸I speak not of you all: I know whom I have chosen: but that the scripture may be fulfilled, He that eateth bread with me hath lifted up his heel against me.¹⁹Now I tell you before it come, that, when it is come to pass, ye may believe that I am he.²⁰Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that receiveth whomsoever I send receiveth me and he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me.²¹When Jesus had thus said, he was troubled in spirit, and testified, and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, that one of you shall betray me.²²Then the disciples looked one on another, doubting of whom he spake.²³Now there was leaning on Jesus' bosom one of his disciples, whom Jesus loved.²⁴Simon Peter therefore beckoned to him, that he should ask who it should be of whom he spake.²⁵He then lying on Jesus' breast saith unto him, Lord, who is it?²⁶Jesus answered, He it is, to whom I shall give a sop, when I have dipped it. And when he had dipped the sop, he gave it to Judas Iscariot, the son of Simon.²⁷And after the sop Satan entered into him. Then said Jesus unto him, That thou doest, do quickly.²⁸Now no man at the table knew for what intent he spake this unto him.²⁹For some of them thought, because Judas had the bag, that Jesus had said unto him, Buy those things that we have need of against the feast or, that he should give something to the poor.³⁰He then having received the sop went immediately out: and it was night.³¹Therefore, when he was gone out, Jesus said, Now is the Son of man glorified, and God is glorified in him.³²If God be glorified in him, God shall also glorify him in himself, and shall straightway glorify him.³³Little children, yet a little while I am with you. Ye shall seek me: and as I said unto the Jews, Whither I go, ye cannot come so now I say to you.³⁴A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another as I have loved you, that ye also love one another.³⁵By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another.³⁶Simon Peter said unto him, Lord, whither goest thou? Jesus answered him, Whither I go, thou canst not follow me now but thou shalt follow me afterwards.³⁷Peter said unto him, Lord, why cannot I follow thee now? I will lay down my life for thy sake.³⁸Jesus answered him, Wilt thou lay down thy life for my sake? Verily, verily, I say unto thee, The cock shall not crow, till thou hast denied me thrice.

CHAPTER 14 ¹Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me.²In my Father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you.³And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself that where I am, there ye may be also.⁴And whither I go ye know, and the way ye know.⁵Thomas saith unto him, Lord, we know not whither thou goest and how can we know the way?⁶Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me.⁷If ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also: and from henceforth ye know him, and have seen him.⁸Philip saith unto him, Lord, shew us the Father, and it sufficeth us.⁹Jesus saith unto him, Have I been so long time with you, and yet hast thou not known me, Philip? he that hath seen me hath seen the Father and how sayest thou then, Shew us the Father?¹⁰Believest thou not that I am in the Father, and the Father in me? the words that I speak unto you I speak not of myself: but the Father that dwelleth in me, he doeth the works.¹¹Believe me that I am in the Father, and the Father in me: or else believe me for the very works' sake.¹²Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also and greater works than these shall he do because I go unto my Father.¹³And whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son.¹⁴If ye shall ask any thing in my name, I will do it.¹⁵If ye love me, keep my commandments.¹⁶And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever¹⁷Even the Spirit of truth whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him: but ye know him for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you.¹⁸I will not leave you comfortless: I will come to you.¹⁹Yet a little while, and the world seeth me no more but ye see me: because I live, ye shall live also.²⁰At that day ye shall know that I am in my Father, and ye in me, and I in you.²¹He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me: and he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him.²²Judas saith unto him, not Iscariot, Lord, how is it that thou wilt manifest thyself unto us, and not unto the world?²³Jesus answered and said unto him, If a man love me, he will keep my words: and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him.²⁴He that loveth me not keepeth not my sayings: and the word which ye hear is not mine, but the Father's which sent me.²⁵These things have I spoken unto you, being yet present with you.²⁶But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you.²⁷Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid.²⁸Ye have heard how I said unto you, I go away, and come again unto you. If ye loved me, ye would rejoice, because I said, I go unto the Father: for my Father is greater than I.²⁹And now I have told you before it come to pass, that, when it is come to pass, ye might believe.³⁰Hereafter I will not talk much with you: for the prince of this world cometh, and hath nothing in me.³¹But that the world may know that I love the Father and as the Father gave me commandment, even so I do. Arise, let us go hence.

CHAPTER 15 ¹I am the true vine, and my Father is the husbandman.²Every branch in me that beareth not fruit he taketh away: and every branch that beareth fruit, he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit.³Now ye are clean through the word which I have spoken unto you.⁴Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine no more can ye, except ye abide in me.⁵I am the vine, ye are the branches: He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit: for without me ye can do nothing.⁶If a man abide not in me, he is cast forth as a branch, and is withered and men gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they are burned.⁷If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you.⁸Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit so shall ye be my disciples.⁹As the Father hath loved me, so have I loved you: continue ye in my love.¹⁰If ye keep my commandments, ye shall abide in my love even as I have kept my Father's commandments, and abide in his love.¹¹These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy might remain in you, and that your joy might be full.¹²This is my commandment, That ye love one another, as I have loved you.¹³Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends.¹⁴Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you.¹⁵Henceforth I call you not servants for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth: but I have called you friends for all things that I have heard of my Father I have made known unto you.¹⁶Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and ordained you, that ye should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain: that whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, he may give it you.¹⁷These things I command you, that ye love one another.¹⁸If the world hate you, ye know that it hated me before it hated you.¹⁹If ye were of the world, the world would love his own: but because ye are not of the world, but I have chosen you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you.²⁰Remember the word that I said unto you, The servant is not greater than his lord. If they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you if they have kept my saying, they will keep yours also.²¹But all these things will they do unto you for my name's sake, because they know not him that sent me.²²If I had not come and spoken unto them, they had not had sin: but now they have no cloke for their sin.²³He that hateth me hateth my Father also.²⁴If I had not done among them the works which none other man did, they had not had sin: but now have they both seen and hated both me and my Father.²⁵But this cometh to pass, that the word might be fulfilled that is written in their law, They hated me without a cause.²⁶But when the Comforter is come, whom I will send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth from the Father, he shall testify of me:²⁷And ye also shall bear witness, because ye have been with me from the beginning.

CHAPTER 16 ¹These things have I spoken unto you, that ye should not be offended.²They shall put you out of the synagogues: yea, the time cometh, that whosoever killeth you will think that he doeth God service.³And these things will they do unto you, because they have not known the Father, nor me.⁴But these things have I told you, that when the time shall come, ye may remember that I told you of them. And these things I said not unto you at the beginning, because I was with you.⁵But now I go my way to him that sent me and none of you asketh me, Whither goest thou?⁶But because I have said these things unto you, sorrow hath filled your heart.⁷Nevertheless I tell you the truth It is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not away, the Comforter will not come unto you but if I depart, I will send him unto you.⁸And when he is come, he will reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment:⁹Of sin, because they believe not on me¹⁰Of righteousness, because I go to my Father, and ye see me no more¹¹Of judgment, because the prince of this world is judged.¹²I have yet many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them now.¹³Howbeit when he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will shew you things to come.¹⁴He shall glorify me: for he shall receive of mine, and shall shew it unto you.¹⁵All things that the Father hath are mine: therefore said I, that he shall take of mine, and shall shew it unto you.¹⁶A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me, because I go to the Father.¹⁷Then said some of his disciples among themselves, What is this that he saith unto us, A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me: and, Because I go to the Father?¹⁸They said therefore, What is this that he saith, A little while? we cannot tell what he saith.¹⁹Now Jesus knew that they were desirous to ask him, and said unto them, Do ye inquire among yourselves of that I said, A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me?²⁰Verily, verily, I say unto you, That ye shall weep and lament, but the world shall rejoice: and ye shall be sorrowful, but your sorrow shall be turned into joy.²¹A woman when she is in travail hath sorrow, because her hour is come: but as soon as she is delivered of the child, she remembereth no more the anguish, for joy that a man is born into the world.²²And ye now therefore have sorrow: but I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoice, and your joy no man taketh from you.²³And in that day ye shall ask me nothing. Verily, verily, I say unto you, Whatsoever ye shall ask the Father in my name, he will give it you.²⁴Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my name: ask, and ye shall receive, that your joy may be full.²⁵These things have I spoken unto you in proverbs: but the time cometh, when I shall no more speak unto you in proverbs, but I shall shew you plainly of the Father.²⁶At that day ye shall ask in my name: and I say not unto you, that I will pray the Father for you:²⁷For the Father himself loveth you, because ye have loved me, and have believed that I came out from God.²⁸I came forth from the Father, and am come into the world: again, I leave the world, and go to the Father.²⁹His disciples said unto him, Lo, now speakest thou plainly, and speakest no proverb.³⁰Now are we sure that thou knowest all things, and needest not that any man should ask thee: by this we believe that thou camest forth from God.³¹ Jesus answered them, Do ye now believe?³² Behold, the hour cometh, yea, is now come, that ye shall be scattered, every man to his own, and shall leave me alone: and yet I am not alone, because the Father is with me.³³ These things I have spoken unto you, that in me ye might have peace. In the world ye shall have tribulation: but be of good cheer I have overcome the world.

CHAPTER 17 ¹These words spake Jesus, and lifted up his eyes to heaven, and said, Father, the hour is come glorify thy Son, that thy Son also may glorify thee:² As thou hast given him power over all flesh, that he should give eternal life to as many as thou hast given him.³ And this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent.⁴ I have glorified thee on the earth: I have finished the work which thou gavest me to do.⁵ And now, O Father, glorify thou me with thine own self with the glory which I had with thee before the world was.⁶ I have manifested thy name unto the men which thou gavest me out of the world: thine they were, and thou gavest them me and they have kept thy word.⁷ Now they have known that all things whatsoever thou hast given me are of thee.⁸ For I have given unto them the words which thou gavest me and they have received them, and have known surely that I came out from thee, and they have believed that thou didst send me.⁹ I pray for them: I pray not for the world, but for them which thou hast given me for they are thine.¹⁰ And all mine are thine, and thine are mine and I am glorified in them.¹¹ And now I am no more in the world, but these are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy Father, keep through thine own name those whom thou hast given me, that they may be one, as we are.¹² While I was with them in the world, I kept them in thy name: those that thou gavest me I have kept, and none of them is lost, but the son of perdition that the scripture might be fulfilled.¹³ And now come I to thee and these things I speak in the world, that they might have my joy fulfilled in themselves.¹⁴ I have given them thy word and the world hath hated them, because they are not of the world, even as I am not of the world.¹⁵ I pray not that thou shouldst take them out of the world, but that thou shouldest keep them from the evil.¹⁶They are not of the world, even as I am not of the world.¹⁷Sanctify them through thy truth: thy word is truth.¹⁸As thou hast sent me into the world, even so have I also sent them into the world.¹⁹And for their sakes I sanctify myself, that they also might be sanctified through the truth.²⁰Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word.²¹That they all may be one as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us: that the world may believe that thou hast sent me.²²And the glory which thou gavest me I have given them that they may be one, even as we are one.²³I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them, as thou hast loved me.²⁴Father, I will that they also, whom thou hast given me, be with me where I am that they may behold my glory, which thou hast given me: for thou lovedst me before the foundation of the world.²⁵O righteous Father, the world hath not known thee: but I have known thee, and these have known that thou hast sent me.²⁶And I have declared unto them thy name, and will declare it: that the love wherewith thou hast loved me may be in them, and I in them.

CHAPTER 18 ¹When Jesus had spoken these words, he went forth with his disciples over the brook Cedron, where was a garden, into the which he entered, and his disciples.²And Judas also, which betrayed him, knew the place: for Jesus oftentimes resorted thither with his disciples.³Judas then, having received a band of men and officers from the chief priests and Pharisees, cometh thither with lanterns and torches and weapons.⁴Jesus therefore, knowing all things that should come upon him, went forth, and said unto them, Whom seek ye?⁵They answered him, Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus saith unto them, I am he. And Judas also, which betrayed him, stood with them.⁶As soon then as he had said unto them, I am he, they went backward, and fell to the ground.⁷Then asked he them again, Whom seek ye? And they said, Jesus of Nazareth.⁸Jesus answered, I have told you that I am he: if therefore ye seek me, let these go their way:⁹That the saying might be fulfilled, which he spake, Of them which thou gavest me have I lost none.¹⁰Then Simon Peter having a sword drew it, and smote the high priest's servant, and cut off his right ear. The servant's name was Malchus.¹¹Then said Jesus unto Peter, Put up thy sword into the sheath: the cup which my Father hath given me, shall I not drink it?¹²Then the band and the captain and officers of the Jews took Jesus, and bound him,¹³And led him away to Annas first for he was father in law to Caiaphas, which was the high priest that same year.¹⁴Now Caiaphas was he, which gave counsel to the Jews, that it was expedient that one man should die for the people.¹⁵And Simon Peter followed Jesus, and so did another disciple: that disciple was known unto the high priest, and went in with Jesus into the palace of the high priest.¹⁶But Peter stood at the door without. Then went out that other disciple, which was known unto the high priest, and spake unto her that kept the door, and brought in Peter.¹⁷Then saith the damsel that kept the door unto Peter, Art not thou also one of this man's disciples? He saith, I am not.¹⁸And the servants and officers stood there, who had made a fire of coals for it was cold: and they warmed themselves: and Peter stood with them, and warmed himself.¹⁹The high priest then asked Jesus of his disciples, and of his doctrine.²⁰Jesus answered him, I spake openly to the world I ever taught in the synagogue, and in the temple, whither the Jews always resort and in secret have I said nothing.²¹Why askest thou me? ask them which heard me, what I have said unto them: behold, they know what I said.²²And when he had thus spoken, one of the officers which stood by struck Jesus with the palm of his hand, saying, Answerest thou the high priest so?²³Jesus answered him, If I have spoken evil, bear witness of the evil: but if well, why smitest thou me?²⁴Now Annas had sent him bound unto Caiaphas the high priest.²⁵And Simon Peter stood and warmed himself. They said therefore unto him, Art not thou also one of his disciples? He denied it, and said, I am not.²⁶One of the servants of the high priest, being his kinsman whose ear Peter cut off, saith, Did not I see thee in the garden with him?²⁷Peter then denied again: and immediately the cock crew.²⁸Then led they Jesus from Caiaphas unto the hall of judgment: and it was early and they themselves went not into the judgment hall, lest they should be defiled but that they might eat the passover.²⁹Pilate then went out unto them, and said, What accusation bring ye against this man?³⁰They answered and said unto him, If he were not a malefactor, we would not have delivered him up unto thee.³¹Then said Pilate unto them, Take ye him, and judge him according to your law. The Jews therefore said unto him, It is not lawful for us to put any man to death:³²That the saying of Jesus might be fulfilled, which he spake, signifying what death he should die.³³Then Pilate entered into the judgment hall again, and called Jesus, and said unto him, Art thou the King of the Jews?³⁴Jesus answered him, Sayest thou this thing of thyself, or did others tell it thee of me?³⁵Pilate answered, Am I a Jew? Thine own nation and the chief priests have delivered thee unto me: what hast thou done?³⁶Jesus answered, My kingdom is not of this world: if my kingdom were of this world, then would my servants fight, that I should not be delivered to the Jews: but now is my kingdom not from hence.³⁷Pilate therefore said unto him, Art thou a king then? Jesus answered, Thou sayest that I am a king. To this end was I born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth. Every one that is of the truth heareth my voice.³⁸Pilate saith unto him, What is truth? And when he had said this, he went out again unto the Jews, and saith unto them, I find in him no fault at all.³⁹But ye have a custom, that I should release unto you one at the passover: will ye therefore that I release unto you the King of the Jews?⁴⁰Then cried they all again, saying, Not this man, but Barabbas. Now Barabbas was a robber.

CHAPTER 19 ¹Then Pilate therefore took Jesus, and scourged him.²And the soldiers platted a crown of thorns, and put it on his head, and they put on him a purple robe,³And said, Hail, King of the Jews! and they smote him with their hands.⁴Pilate therefore went forth again, and saith unto them, Behold, I bring him forth to you, that ye may know that I find no fault in him.⁵Then came Jesus forth, wearing the crown of thorns, and the purple robe. And Pilate saith unto them, Behold the man!⁶When the chief priests therefore and officers saw him, they cried out, saying, Crucify him, crucify him. Pilate saith unto them, Take ye him, and crucify him: for I find no fault in him.⁷The

Jews answered him, We have a law, and by our law he ought to die, because he made himself the Son of God.⁸When Pilate therefore heard that saying, he was the more afraid⁹And went again into the judgment hall, and saith unto Jesus, Whence art thou? But Jesus gave him no answer.¹⁰Then saith Pilate unto him, Speakest thou not unto me? knowest thou not that I have power to crucify thee, and have power to release thee?¹¹Jesus answered, Thou couldest have no power at all against me, except it were given thee from above: therefore he that delivered me unto thee hath the greater sin.¹²And from thenceforth Pilate sought to release him: but the Jews cried out, saying, If thou let this man go, thou art not Caesar's friend: whosoever maketh himself a king speaketh against Caesar.¹³When Pilate therefore heard that saying, he brought Jesus forth, and sat down in the judgment seat in a place that is called the Pavement, but in the Hebrew, Gabbatha.¹⁴And it was the preparation of the passover, and about the sixth hour: and he saith unto the Jews, Behold your King!¹⁵But they cried out, Away with him, away with him, crucify him. Pilate saith unto them, Shall I crucify your King? The chief priest answered, We have no king but Caesar.¹⁶Then delivered he him therefore unto them to be crucified. And they took Jesus, and led him away.¹⁷And he bearing his cross went forth into a place called the place of a skull, which is called in the Hebrew Golgotha:¹⁸Where they crucified him, and two other with him, on either side one, and Jesus in the midst.¹⁹And Pilate wrote a title, and put it on the cross. And the writing was, JESUS OF NAZARETH THE KING OF THE JEWS.²⁰This title then read many of the Jews: for the place where Jesus was crucified was nigh to the city: and it was written in Hebrew, and Greek, and Latin.²¹Then said the chief priests of the Jews to Pilate, Write not, The King of the Jews but that he said, I am King of the Jews.²²Pilate answered, What I have written I have written.²³Then the soldiers, when they had crucified Jesus, took his garments, and made four parts, to every soldier a part and also his coat: now the coat was without seam, woven from the top throughout.²⁴They said therefore among themselves, Let us not rend it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be: that the scripture might be fulfilled, which saith, They parted my raiment among them, and for my vesture they did cast lots. These things therefore the soldiers did.²⁵Now there stood by the cross of Jesus his mother, and his mother's sister, Mary the wife of Cleophas, and Mary Magdalene.²⁶When Jesus therefore saw his mother, and the disciple standing by, whom he loved, he saith unto his mother, Woman, behold thy son!²⁷Then saith he to the disciple, Behold thy mother! And from that hour that disciple took her unto his own home.²⁸After this, Jesus knowing that all things were now accomplished, that the scripture might be fulfilled, saith, I thirst.²⁹Now there was set a vessel full of vinegar: and they filled a sponge with vinegar, and put it upon hyssop, and put it to his mouth.³⁰When Jesus therefore had received the vinegar, he said, It is finished: and he bowed his head, and gave up the ghost.³¹The Jews therefore, because it was the preparation, that the bodies should not remain upon the cross on the sabbath day, (for that sabbath day was an high day,) besought Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken away.³²Then came the soldiers, and brake the legs of the first, and of the other which was crucified with him.³³But when they came to Jesus, and saw that he was dead already, they brake not his legs:³⁴But one of the soldiers with a spear pierced his side, and forthwith came there out blood and water.³⁵And he that saw it bare record, and his record is true: and he knoweth that he saith true, that ye might believe.³⁶For these things were done, that the scripture should be fulfilled, A bone of him shall not be broken.³⁷And again another scripture saith, They shall look on him whom they pierced.³⁸And after this Joseph of Arimathaea, being a disciple of Jesus, but secretly for fear of the Jews, besought Pilate that he might take away the body of Jesus: and Pilate gave him leave. He came therefore, and took the body of Jesus.³⁹And there came also Nicodemus, which at the first came to Jesus by night, and brought a mixture of myrrh and aloes, about an hundred pound weight.⁴⁰Then took they the body of Jesus, and wound it in linen clothes with the spices, as the manner of the Jews is to bury.⁴¹Now in the place where he was crucified there was a garden and in the garden a new sepulchre, wherein was never man yet laid.⁴²There laid they Jesus therefore because of the Jews' preparation day for the sepulchre was nigh at hand.

CHAPTER 20 ¹The first day of the week cometh Mary Magdalene early, when it was yet dark, unto the sepulchre, and seeth the stone taken away from the sepulchre.²Then she runneth, and cometh to Simon Peter, and to the other disciple, whom Jesus loved, and saith unto them, They have taken away the Lord out of the sepulchre, and we know not where they have laid him.³Peter therefore went forth, and that other disciple, and came to the sepulchre.⁴So they ran both together: and the other disciple did outrun Peter, and came first to the sepulchre.⁵And he stooping down, and looking in, saw the linen clothes lying yet went he not in.⁶Then cometh Simon Peter following him, and went into the sepulchre, and seeth the linen clothes lie,⁷And the napkin, that was about his head, not lying with the linen clothes, but wrapped together in a place by itself.⁸Then went in also that other disciple, which came first to the sepulchre, and he saw, and believed.⁹For as yet they knew not the scripture, that he must rise again from the dead.¹⁰Then the disciples went away again unto their own home.¹¹But Mary stood without at the sepulchre weeping: and as she wept, she stooped down, and looked into the sepulchre,¹²And seeth two angels in white sitting, the one at the head, and the other at the feet, where the body of Jesus had lain.¹³And they say unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? She saith unto them, Because they have taken away my Lord, and I know not where they have laid him.¹⁴And when she had thus said, she turned herself back, and saw Jesus standing, and knew not that it was Jesus.¹⁵Jesus saith unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? whom seekest thou? She, supposing him to be the gardener, saith unto him, Sir, if thou have borne him hence, tell me where thou hast laid him, and I will take him away.¹⁶Jesus saith unto her, Mary. She turned herself, and saith unto him, Rabboni which is to say, Master.¹⁷Jesus saith unto her, Touch me not for I am not yet ascended to my Father: but go to my brethren, and say unto them, I ascend unto my Father, and your Father and to my God, and your God.¹⁸Mary Magdalene came and told the disciples that she had seen the Lord, and that he had spoken these things unto her.¹⁹Then the same day at evening, being the first day of the week, when the doors were shut where the disciples were assembled for fear of the Jews, came Jesus and stood in the midst, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you.²⁰ And when he had so said, he shewed unto them his hands and his side. Then were the disciples glad, when they saw the Lord.²¹ Then said Jesus to them again, Peace be unto you: as my Father hath sent me, even so send I you.²² And when he had said this, he breathed on them, and saith unto them, Receive ye the Holy Ghost:²³ Whose soever sins ye remit, they are remitted unto them and whose soever sins ye retain, they are retained.²⁴ But Thomas, one of the twelve, called Didymus, was not with them when Jesus came.²⁵ The other disciples therefore said unto him, We have seen the Lord. But he said unto them, Except I shall see in his hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and thrust my hand into his side, I will not believe.²⁶ And after eight days again his disciples were within, and Thomas with them: then came Jesus, the doors being shut, and stood in the midst, and said, Peace be unto you.²⁷ Then saith he to Thomas, reach hither thy finger, and behold my hands and reach hither thy hand, and thrust it into my side: and be not faithless, but believing.²⁸ And Thomas answered and said unto him, My Lord and my God.²⁹ Jesus saith unto him, Thomas, because thou hast seen me, thou hast believed: blessed are they that have not seen, and yet have believed.³⁰ And many other signs truly did Jesus in the presence of his disciples, which are not written in this book:³¹ But these are written, that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God and that believing ye might have life through his name.

CHAPTER 21 ¹After these things Jesus shewed himself again to the disciples at the sea of Tiberias and on this wise shewed he himself.² There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas called Didymus, and Nathanael of Cana in Galilee, and the sons of Zebedee, and two other of his disciples.³ Simon Peter saith unto them, I go a fishing. They say unto him, We also go with thee. They went forth, and entered into a ship immediately and that night they caught nothing.⁴ But when the morning was now come, Jesus stood on the shore: but the disciples knew not that it was Jesus.⁵ Then Jesus saith unto them, Children, have ye any meat? They answered him, No.⁶And he said unto them, Cast the net on the right side of the ship, and ye shall find. They cast therefore, and now they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes.⁷Therefore that disciple whom Jesus loved saith unto Peter, It is the Lord. Now when Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he girt his fisher's coat unto him, (for he was naked,) and did cast himself into the sea.⁸And the other disciples came in a little ship (for they were not far from land, but as it were two hundred cubits,) dragging the net with fishes.⁹As soon then as they were come to land, they saw a fire of coals there, and fish laid thereon, and bread.¹⁰Jesus saith unto them, Bring of the fish which ye have now caught.¹¹Simon Peter went up, and drew the net to land full of great fishes, and hundred and fifty and three: and for all there were so many, yet was not the net broken.¹²Jesus saith unto them, Come and dine. And none of the disciples durst ask him, Who art thou? knowing that it was the Lord.¹³Jesus then cometh, and taketh bread, and giveth them, and fish likewise.¹⁴This is now the third time that Jesus shewed himself to his disciples, after that he was risen from the dead.¹⁵So when they had dined, Jesus saith to Simon Peter, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me more than these? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed my lambs.¹⁶He saith to him again the second time, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, Feed my sheep.¹⁷He saith unto him the third time, Simon, son of Jonas, lovest thou me? Peter was grieved because he said unto him the third time, Lovest thou me? And he said unto him, Lord, thou knowest all things thou knowest that I love thee. Jesus saith unto him, Feed my sheep.¹⁸Verily, verily, I say unto thee, When thou wast young, thou girdedst thyself, and walkedst whither thou wouldest: but when thou shalt be old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands, and another shall gird thee, and carry thee whither thou wouldest not.¹⁹This spake he, signifying by what death he should glorify God. And when he had spoken this, he saith unto him, Follow me.²⁰Then Peter, turning about, seeth the disciple whom Jesus loved following which also leaned on his breast at supper, and said, Lord, which is he that betrayeth thee?²¹Peter seeing him saith to Jesus, Lord, and what shall this man do?²² Jesus saith unto him, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee? follow thou me.²³ Then went this saying abroad among the brethren, that that disciple should not die: yet Jesus said not unto him, He shall not die but, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee?²⁴ This is the disciple which testifieth of these things, and wrote these things: and we know that his testimony is true.²⁵ And there are also many other things which Jesus did, the which, if they should be written every one, I suppose that even the world itself could not contain the books that should be written. Amen.

CHAPTER 1 ¹The former treatise have I made, O Theophilus, of all that Jesus began both to do and teach,² Until the day in which he was taken up, after that he through the Holy Ghost had given commandments unto the apostles whom he had chosen:³ To whom also he shewed himself alive after his passion by many infallible proofs, being seen of them forty days, and speaking of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God:⁴ And, being assembled together with them, commanded them that they should not depart from Jerusalem, but wait for the promise of the Father, which, saith he, ye have heard of me.⁵For John truly baptized with water but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost not many days hence.⁶When they therefore were come together, they asked of him, saying, Lord, wilt thou at this time restore again the kingdom to Israel?⁷And he said unto them, It is not for you to know the times or the seasons, which the Father hath put in his own power.⁸But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judaea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth.⁹And when he had spoken these things, while they beheld, he was taken up and a cloud received him out of their sight.¹⁰And while they looked stedfastly toward heaven as he went up, behold, two men stood by them in white apparel¹¹Which also said, Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing up into heaven? this same Jesus, which is taken up from you into heaven, shall so come in like manner as ye have seen him go into heaven.¹²Then returned they unto Jerusalem from the mount called Olivet, which is from Jerusalem a sabbath day's journey.¹³And when they were come in, they went up into an upper room, where abode both Peter, and James, and John, and Andrew, Philip, and Thomas, Bartholomew, and Matthew, James the son of Alphaeus, and Simon Zelotes, and Judas the brother of James.¹⁴These all continued with one accord in prayer and supplication, with the women, and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with his brethren.¹⁵And in those days Peter stood up in the midst of the disciples, and said, (the number of names together were about an hundred and twenty,)¹⁶Men and brethren, this scripture must needs have been fulfilled, which the Holy Ghost by the mouth of David spake before concerning Judas, which was guide to them that took Jesus.¹⁷For he was numbered with us, and had obtained part of this ministry.¹⁸Now this man purchased a field with the reward of iniquity and falling headlong, he burst asunder in the midst, and all his bowels gushed out.¹⁹And it was known unto all the dwellers at Jerusalem insomuch as that field is called in their proper tongue, Aceldama, that is to say, The field of blood.²⁰For it is written in the book of Psalms, Let his habitation be desolate, and let no man dwell therein: and his bishoprick let another take.²¹Wherefore of these men which have companied with us all the time that the Lord Jesus went in and out among us,²²Beginning from the baptism of John, unto that same day that he was taken up from us, must one be ordained to be a witness with us of his resurrection.²³And they appointed two, Joseph called Barsabas, who was surnamed Justus, and Matthias.²⁴And they prayed, and said, Thou, Lord, which knowest the hearts of all men, shew whether of these two thou hast chosen,²⁵That he may take part of this ministry and apostleship, from which Judas by transgression fell, that he might go to his own place.²⁶And they gave forth their lots and the lot fell upon Matthias and he was numbered with the eleven apostles.

CHAPTER 2 ¹And when the day of Pentecost was fully come, they were all with one accord in one place.²And suddenly there came a sound from heaven as of a rushing mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting.³And there appeared unto them cloven tongues like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them.⁴And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance.⁵And there were dwelling at Jerusalem Jews, devout men, out of every nation under heaven.⁶Now when this was noised abroad, the multitude came together, and were confounded, because that every man heard them speak in his own language.⁷And they were all amazed and marvelled, saying one to another, Behold, are not all these which speak Galilaeans?⁸And how hear we every man in our own tongue, wherein we were born?⁹Parthians, and Medes, and Elamites, and the dwellers in Mesopotamia, and in Judaea, and Cappadocia, in Pontus, and Asia,¹⁰Phrygia, and Pamphylia, in Egypt, and in the parts of Libya about Cyrene, and strangers of Rome, Jews and proselytes,¹¹Cretes and Arabians, we do hear them speak in our tongues the wonderful works of God.¹²And they were all amazed, and were in doubt, saying one to another, What meaneth this?¹³Others mocking said, These men are full of new wine.¹⁴But Peter, standing up with the eleven, lifted up his voice, and said unto them, Ye men of Judaea, and all ye that dwell at Jerusalem, be this known unto you, and hearken to my words:¹⁵For these are not drunken, as ye suppose, seeing it is but the third hour of the day.¹⁶But this is that which was spoken by the prophet Joel¹⁷And it shall come to pass in the last days, saith God,I will pour out of my Spirit upon all flesh: and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, and your young men shall see visions, and your old men shall dream dreams:¹⁸And on my servants and on my handmaidens I will pour out in those days of my Spirit and they shall prophesy:¹⁹And I will shew wonders in heaven above, and signs in the earth beneath blood, and fire, and vapour of smoke:²⁰The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before that great and notable day of the Lord come:²¹And it shall come to pass, that whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be saved.²²Ye men of Israel, hear these words Jesus of Nazareth, a man approved of God among you by miracles and wonders and signs, which God did by him in the midst of you, as ye yourselves also know:²³Him, being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain:²⁴Whom God hath raised up, having loosed the pains of death: because it was not possible that he should be holden of it.²⁵For David speaketh concerning him, I foresaw the Lord always before my face, for he is on my right hand, that I should not be moved:²⁶Therefore did my heart rejoyce, and my tongue was glad moreover also my flesh shall rest in hope:²⁷Because thou wilt not leave my soul in hell, neither wilt thou suffer thine Holy One to see corruption.²⁸Thou hast made known to me the ways of life thou shalt make me full of joy with thy countenance.²⁹Men and brethren, let me freely speak unto you of the patriarch David, that he is both dead and buried, and his sepulchre is with us unto this day.³⁰Therefore being a prophet, and knowing that God had sworn with an oath to him, that of the fruit of his loins, according to the flesh, he would raise up Christ to sit on his throne³¹He seeing this before spake of the resurrection of Christ, that his soul was not left in hell, neither his flesh did see corruption.³²This Jesus hath God raised up, whereof we all are witnesses.³³Therefore being by the right hand of God exalted, and having received of the Father the promise of the Holy Ghost, he hath shed forth this, which ye now see and hear.³⁴For David is not ascended into the heavens: but he saith himself, The LORD said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand,³⁵Until I make thy foes thy footstool.³⁶Therefore let all the house of Israel know assuredly, that God hath made that same Jesus, whom ye have crucified, both Lord and Christ.³⁷Now when they heard this, they were pricked in their heart, and said unto Peter and to the rest of the apostles, Men and brethren, what shall we do?³⁸Then Peter said unto them, Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost.³⁹For the promise is unto you, and to your children, and to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call.⁴⁰And with many other words did he testify and exhort, saying, Save yourselves from this untoward generation.⁴¹Then they that gladly received his word were baptized: and the same day there were added unto them about three thousand souls.⁴²And they continued stedfastly in the apostles' doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers.⁴³And fear came upon every soul: and many wonders and signs were done by the apostles.⁴⁴And all that believed were together, and had all things common⁴⁵And sold their possessions and goods, and parted them to all men, as every man had need.⁴⁶And they, continuing daily with one accord in the temple, and breaking bread from house to house, did eat their meat with gladness and singleness of heart,⁴⁷Praising God, and having favour with all the people. And the Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved.

CHAPTER 3 ¹Now Peter and John went up together into the temple at the hour of prayer, being the ninth hour.²And a certain man lame from his mother's womb was carried, whom they laid daily at the gate of the temple which is called Beautiful, to ask alms of them that entered into the temple³Who seeing Peter and John about to go into the temple asked an alms.⁴And Peter, fastening his eyes upon him with John, said, Look on us.⁵And he gave heed unto them, expecting to receive something of them.⁶Then Peter said, Silver and gold have I none but such as I have give I thee: In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth rise up and walk.⁷And he took him by the right hand, and lifted him up: and immediately his feet and ankle bones received strength.⁸And he leaping up stood, and walked, and entered with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God.⁹And all the people saw him walking and praising God:¹⁰And they knew that it was he which sat for alms at the Beautiful gate of the temple: and they were filled with wonder and amazement at that which had happened unto him.¹¹And as the lame man which was healed held Peter and John, all the people ran together unto them in the porch that is called Solomon's, greatly wondering.¹²And when Peter saw it, he answered unto the people, Ye men of Israel, why marvel ye at this? or why look ye so earnestly on us, as though by our own power or holiness we had made this man to walk?¹³The God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob, the God of our fathers, hath glorified his Son Jesus whom ye delivered up, and denied him in the presence of Pilate, when he was determined to let him go.¹⁴But ye denied the Holy One and the Just, and desired a murderer to be granted unto you¹⁵And killed the Prince of life, whom God hath raised from the dead whereof we are witnesses.¹⁶And his name hath made this man strong, whom ye see and know: yea, the faith which is by him hath given him this perfect soundness in the presence of you all.¹⁷And now, brethren, I wot that through ignorance ye did it, as did also your rulers.¹⁸But those things, which God before had shewed by the mouth of all his prophets, that Christ should suffer, he hath so fulfilled.¹⁹Repent ye therefore, and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out, when the times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord²⁰And he shall send Jesus Christ, which before was preached unto you:²¹Whom the heaven must receive until the times of restitution of all things, which God hath spoken by the mouth of all his holy prophets since the world began.²²For Moses truly said unto the fathers, A prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you of your brethren, like unto me him shall ye hear in all things whatsoever he shall say unto you.²³And it shall come to pass, that every soul, which will not hear that prophet, shall be destroyed from among the people.²⁴Yea, and all the prophets from Samuel and those that follow after, as many as have spoken, have likewise foretold of these days.²⁵Ye are the children of the prophets, and of the covenant which God made with our fathers, saying unto Abraham, And in thy seed shall all the kindreds of the earth be blessed.²⁶Unto you first God, having raised up his Son Jesus, sent him to bless you, in turning away every one of you from his iniquities.

CHAPTER 4 ¹And as they spake unto the people, the priests, and the captain of the temple, and the Sadducees, came upon them,²Being grieved that they taught the people, and preached through Jesus the resurrection from the dead.³And they laid hands on them, and put them in hold unto the next day: for it was now eventide.⁴Howbeit many of them which heard the word believed and the number of the men was about five thousand.⁵And it came to pass on the morrow, that their rulers, and elders, and scribes,⁶And Annas the high priest, and Caiaphas, and John, and Alexander, and as many as were of the kindred of the high priest, were gathered together at Jerusalem.⁷And when they had set them in the midst, they asked, By what power, or by what name, have ye done this?⁸Then Peter, filled with the Holy Ghost, said unto them, Ye rulers of the people, and elders of Israel,⁹If we this day be examined of the good deed done to the impotent man, by what means he is made whole¹⁰Be it known unto you all, and to all the people of Israel, that by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, whom God raised from the dead, even by him doth this man stand here before you whole.¹¹This is the stone which was set at nought of you builders, which is become the head of the corner.¹²Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved.¹³Now when they saw the boldness of Peter and John, and perceived that they were unlearned and ignorant men, they marvelled and they took knowledge of them, that they had been with Jesus.¹⁴And beholding the man which was healed standing with them, they could say nothing against it.¹⁵But when they had commanded them to go aside out of the council, they conferred among themselves,¹⁶Saying, What shall we do to these men? for that indeed a notable miracle hath been done by them is manifest to all them that dwell in Jerusalem and we cannot deny it.¹⁷But that it spread no further among the people, let us straitly threaten them, that they speak henceforth to no man in this name.¹⁸And they called them, and commanded them not to speak at all nor teach in the name of Jesus.¹⁹But Peter and John answered and said unto them, Whether it be right in the sight of God to hearken unto you more than unto God, judge ye.²⁰For we cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard.²¹So when they had further threatened them, they let them go, finding nothing how they might punish them, because of the people: for all men glorified God for that which was done.²²For the man was above forty years old, on whom this miracle of healing was shewed.²³And being let go, they went to their own company, and reported all that the chief priests and elders had said unto them.²⁴And when they heard that, they lifted up their voice to God with one accord, and said, Lord, thou art God, which hast made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all that in them is:²⁵Who by the mouth of thy servant David hast said, Why did the heathen rage, and the people imagine vain things?²⁶The kings of the earth stood up, and the rulers were gathered together against the Lord, and against his

Christ.²⁷For of a truth against thy holy child Jesus, whom thou hast anointed, both Herod, and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles, and the people of Israel, were gathered together,²⁸For to do whatsoever thy hand and thy counsel determined before to be done.²⁹And now, Lord, behold their threatenings: and grant unto thy servants, that with all boldness they may speak thy word,³⁰By stretching forth thine hand to heal and that signs and wonders may be done by the name of thy holy child Jesus.³¹And when they had prayed, the place was shaken where they were assembled together and they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and they spake the word of God with boldness.³²And the multitude of them that believed were of one heart and of one soul: neither said any of them that ought of the things which he possessed was his own but they had all things common.³³And with great power gave the apostles witness of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus: and great grace was upon them all.³⁴Neither was there any among them that lacked: for as many as were possessors of lands or houses sold them, and brought the prices of the things that were sold,³⁵And laid them down at the apostles' feet: and distribution was made unto every man according as he had need.³⁶And Joses, who by the apostles was surnamed Barnabas, (which is, being interpreted, The son of consolation,) a Levite, and of the country of Cyprus,³⁷Having land, sold it, and brought the money, and laid it at the apostles' feet.

CHAPTER 5 ¹But a certain man named Ananias, with Sapphira his wife, sold a possession,²And kept back part of the price, his wife also being privy to it, and brought a certain part, and laid it at the apostles' feet.³But Peter said, Ananias, why hath Satan filled thine heart to lie to the Holy Ghost, and to keep back part of the price of the land?⁴Whiles it remained, was it not thine own? and after it was sold, was it not in thine own power? why hast thou conceived this thing in thine heart? thou hast not lied unto men, but unto God.⁵And Ananias hearing these words fell down, and gave up the ghost: and great fear came on all them that heard these things.⁶And the young men arose, wound him up, and carried him out, and buried him.⁷And it was about the space of three hours after, when his wife, not knowing what was done, came in.⁸And Peter answered unto her, Tell me whether ye sold the land for so much? And she said, Yea, for so much.⁹Then Peter said unto her, How is it that ye have agreed together to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? behold, the feet of them which have buried thy husband are at the door, and shall carry thee out.¹⁰Then fell she down straightway at his feet, and yielded up the ghost: and the young men came in, and found her dead, and, carrying her forth, buried her by her husband.¹¹And great fear came upon all the church, and upon as many as heard these things.¹²And by the hands of the apostles were many signs and wonders wrought among the people (and they were all with one accord in Solomon's porch.¹³And of the rest durst no man join himself to them: but the people magnified them.¹⁴And believers were the more added to the Lord, multitudes both of men and women.)¹⁵Insomuch that they brought forth the sick into the streets, and laid them on beds and couches, that at the least the shadow of Peter passing by might overshadow some of them.¹⁶There came also a multitude out of the cities round about unto Jerusalem, bringing sick folks, and them which were vexed with unclean spirits: and they were healed every one.¹⁷Then the high priest rose up, and all they that were with him, (which is the sect of the Sadducees,) and were filled with indignation,¹⁸And laid their hands on the apostles, and put them in the common prison.¹⁹But the angel of the Lord by night opened the prison doors, and brought them forth, and said,²⁰Go, stand and speak in the temple to the people all the words of this life.²¹And when they heard that, they entered into the temple early in the morning, and taught. But the high priest came, and they that were with him, and called the council together, and all the senate of the children of Israel and sent to the prison to have them brought.²²But when the officers came, and found them not in the prison, they returned, and told,²³Saying, The prison truly found we shut with all safety, and the keepers standing without before the doors: but when we had opened, we found no man within.²⁴Now when the high priest and the captain of the temple and the chief priests heard these things, they doubted of them whereunto this would grow.²⁵Then came one and told them, saying, Behold, the men whom ye put in prison are standing in the temple, and teaching the people.²⁶Then went the captain with the officers, and brought them without violence: for they feared the people, lest they should have been stoned.²⁷And when they had brought them, they set them before the council: and the high priest asked them,²⁸Saying, Did not we straitly command you that ye should not teach in this name? and, behold, ye have filled Jerusalem with your doctrine, and intend to bring this man's blood upon us.²⁹Then Peter and the other apostles answered and said, We ought to obey God rather than men.³⁰The God of our fathers raised up Jesus, whom ye slew and hanged on a tree.³¹Him hath God exalted with his right hand to be a Prince and a Saviour, for to give repentance to Israel, and forgiveness of sins.³²And we are his witnesses of these things and so is also the Holy Ghost, whom God hath given to them that obey him.³³When they heard that, they were cut to the heart, and took counsel to slay them.³⁴Then stood there up one in the council, a Pharisee, named Gamaliel, a doctor of the law, had in reputation among all the people, and commanded to put the apostles forth a little space³⁵And said unto them, Ye men of Israel, take heed to yourselves what ye intend to do as touching these men.³⁶For before these days rose up Theudas, boasting himself to be somebody to whom a number of men, about four hundred, joined themselves: who was slain and all, as many as obeyed him, were scattered, and brought to nought.³⁷After this man rose up Judas of Galilee in the days of the taxing, and drew away much people after him: he also perished and all, even as many as obeyed him, were dispersed.³⁸And now I say unto you, Refrain from these men, and let them alone: for if this counsel or this work be of men, it will come to nought:³⁹But if it be of God, ye cannot overthrow it lest haply ye be found even to fight against God.⁴⁰And to him they agreed: and when they had called the apostles, and beaten them, they commanded that they should not speak in the name of Jesus, and let them go.⁴¹And they departed from the presence of the council, rejoicing that they were counted worthy to suffer shame for his name.⁴²And daily in the temple, and in every house, they ceased not to teach and preach Jesus Christ.

was multiplied, there arose a murmuring of the Grecians against the Hebrews, because their widows were neglected in the daily ministration.²Then the twelve called the multitude of the disciples unto them, and said, It is not reason that we should leave the word of God, and serve tables.³Wherefore, brethren, look ye out among you seven men of honest report, full of the Holy Ghost and wisdom, whom we may appoint over this business.⁴But we will give ourselves continually to prayer, and to the ministry of the word.⁵And the saying pleased the whole multitude: and they chose Stephen, a man full of faith and of the Holy Ghost, and Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and Nicolas a proselyte of Antioch:⁶Whom they set before the apostles: and when they had prayed, they laid their hands on them.⁷And the word of God increased and the number of the disciples multiplied in Jerusalem greatly and a great company of the priests were obedient to the faith.⁸And Stephen, full of faith and power, did great wonders and miracles among the people.⁹Then there arose certain of the synagogue, which is called the synagogue of the Libertines, and Cyrenians, and Alexandrians, and of them of Cilicia and of Asia, disputing with Stephen.¹⁰And they were not able to resist the wisdom and the spirit by which he spake.¹¹Then they suborned men, which said, We have heard him speak blasphemous words against Moses, and against God.¹²And they stirred up the people, and the elders, and the scribes, and came upon him, and caught him, and brought him to the council,¹³And set up false witnesses, which said, This man ceaseth not to speak blasphemous words against this holy place, and the law:¹⁴For we have heard him say, that this Jesus of Nazareth shall destroy this place, and shall change the customs which Moses delivered us.¹⁵And all that sat in the council, looking stedfastly on him, saw his face as it had been the face of an angel.

CHAPTER 7 ¹Then said the high priest, Are these things so?²And he said, Men, brethren, and fathers, hearken The God of glory appeared unto our father Abraham, when he was in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Charran,³And said unto him, Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and come into the land which I shall shew thee.⁴Then came he out of the land of the Chaldaeans, and dwelt in Charran: and from thence, when his father was dead, he removed him into this land, wherein ye now dwell.⁵And he gave him none inheritance in it, no, not so much as to set his foot on: yet he promised that he would give it to him for a possession, and to his seed after him, when as yet he had no child.⁶And God spake on this wise, That his seed should sojourn in a strange land and that they should bring them into bondage, and entreat them evil four hundred years.⁷And the nation to whom they shall be in bondage will I judge, said God: and after that shall they come forth, and serve me in this place.⁸And he gave him the covenant of circumcision: and so Abraham begat Isaac, and circumcised him the eighth day and Isaac begat Jacob and Jacob begat the twelve patriarchs.⁹And the patriarchs, moved with envy, sold Joseph into Egypt: but God was with him,¹⁰And delivered him out of all his afflictions, and gave him favour and wisdom in the sight of Pharaoh king of Egypt and he made him governor over Egypt and all his house.¹¹Now there came a dearth over all the land of Egypt and Chanaan, and great affliction: and our fathers found no sustenance.¹²But when Jacob heard that there was corn in Egypt, he sent out our fathers first.¹³And at the second time Joseph was made known to his brethren and Joseph's kindred was made known unto Pharaoh.¹⁴Then sent Joseph, and called his father Jacob to him, and all his kindred, threescore and fifteen souls.¹⁵So Jacob went down into Egypt, and died, he, and our fathers,¹⁶And were carried over into Sychem, and laid in the sepulchre that Abraham bought for a sum of money of the sons of Emmor the father of Sychem.¹⁷But when the time of the promise drew nigh, which God had sworn to Abraham, the people grew and multiplied in Egypt,¹⁸Till another king arose, which knew not Joseph.¹⁹The same dealt subtilly with our kindred, and evil entreated our fathers, so that they cast out their young children, to the end they might not live.²⁰In which time Moses was born, and was exceeding fair, and nourished up in his father's house three months:²¹And when he was cast out, Pharaoh's daughter took him up, and nourished him for her own son.²²And Moses was learned in all the wisdom of the

Egyptians, and was mighty in words and in deeds.²³And when he was full forty years old, it came into his heart to visit his brethren the children of Israel.²⁴And seeing one of them suffer wrong, he defended him, and avenged him that was oppressed, and smote the Egyptian:²⁵For he supposed his brethren would have understood how that God by his hand would deliver them: but they understood not.²⁶And the next day he shewed himself unto them as they strove, and would have set them at one again, saying, Sirs, ye are brethren why do ye wrong one to another?²⁷But he that did his neighbour wrong thrust him away, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge over us?²⁸Wilt thou kill me, as thou diddest the Egyptian yesterday?²⁹Then fled Moses at this saying, and was a stranger in the land of Madian, where he begat two sons.³⁰And when forty years were expired, there appeared to him in the wilderness of mount Sina an angel of the Lord in a flame of fire in a bush.³¹When Moses saw it, he wondered at the sight: and as he drew near to behold it, the voice of the Lord came unto him,³²Saying, I am the God of thy fathers, the God of Abrham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of

Jacob. Then Moses trembled, and durst not behold.³³Then said the Lord to him, Put off thy shoes from thy feet: for the place where thou standest is holy ground.³⁴I have seen, I have seen the affliction of my people which is in Egypt, and I have heard their groaning, and am come down to deliver them. And now come, I will send thee into Egypt.³⁵This Moses whom they refused, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge? the same did God send to be a ruler and a deliverer by the hand of the angel which appeared to him in the bush.³⁶He brought them out, after that he had shewed wonders and signs in the land of Egypt, and in the Red sea, and in the wilderness forty years.³⁷This is that Moses, which said unto the children of Israel, A prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you of your brethren, like unto me him shall ye hear.³⁸This is he, that was in the church in the wilderness with the angel which spake to him in the mount Sina, and with our fathers: who received the lively oracles to give unto us:³⁹To whom our fathers would not obey, but thrust him from them, and in their hearts turned back again into Egypt,⁴⁰Saying unto Aaron, Make us gods to go before us: for as for this Moses, which brought us out of the land of Egypt, we wot not what is become of him.⁴¹And they made a calf in those days, and offered sacrifice unto the idol, and rejoiced in the works of their own hands.⁴²Then God turned, and gave them up to worship the host of heaven as it is written in the book of the prophets, O ye house of Israel, have ye offered to me slain beasts and sacrifices by the space of forty years in the wilderness?⁴³Yea, ye took up the tabernacle of Moloch, and the star of your god Remphan, figures which ye made to worship them: and I will carry you away beyond Babylon.⁴⁴Our fathers had the tabernacle of witness in the wilderness, as he had appointed, speaking unto Moses, that he should make it according to the fashion that he had seen.⁴⁵Which also our fathers that came after brought in with Jesus into the possession of the Gentiles, whom God drave out before the face of our fathers, unto the days of David⁴⁶Who found favour before God, and desired to find a tabernacle for the God of Jacob.⁴⁷But Solomon built him an house.⁴⁸Howbeit the most High dwelleth not in temples made with hands as saith the prophet,⁴⁹Heaven is my throne, and earth is my footstool: what house will ye build me? saith the Lord: or what is the place of my rest?⁵⁰Hath not my hand made all these things?⁵¹Ye stiffnecked and uncircumcised in heart and ears, ye do always resist the Holy Ghost: as your fathers did, so do ye.⁵²Which of the prophets have not your fathers persecuted? and they have slain them which shewed before of the coming of the Just One of whom ye have been now the betrayers and murderers:⁵³Who have received the law by the disposition of angels, and have not kept it.⁵⁴When they heard these things, they were cut to the heart, and they gnashed on him with their teeth.⁵⁵But he, being full of the Holy Ghost, looked up stedfastly into heaven, and saw the glory of God, and Jesus standing on the right hand of God,⁵⁶And said, Behold, I see the heavens opened, and the Son of man standing on the right hand of God.⁵⁷Then they cried out with a loud voice, and stopped their ears, and ran upon him with one accord,⁵⁸And cast him out of the city, and stoned him: and the witnesses laid down their clothes at a young man's feet, whose name was Saul.⁵⁹And they stoned Stephen, calling upon God, and saying, Lord Jesus, receive my spirit.⁶⁰And he kneeled down, and cried with a loud voice, Lord, lay not this sin to their charge. And when he had said this, he fell asleep.

CHAPTER 8 ¹And Saul was consenting unto his death. And at that time there was a great persecution against the church which was at Jerusalem and they were all scattered abroad throughout the regions of Judaea and Samaria, except the apostles.²And devout men carried Stephen to his burial, and made great lamentation over him.³As for Saul, he made havock of the church, entering into every house, and haling men and women committed them to prison.⁴Therefore they that were scattered abroad went every where preaching the word.⁵Then Philip went down to the city of Samaria, and preached Christ unto them.⁶And the people with one accord gave heed unto those things which Philip spake, hearing and seeing the miracles which he did.⁷For unclean spirits, crying with loud voice, came out of many that were possessed with them: and many taken with palsies, and that were lame, were healed.⁸And there was great joy in that city.⁹But there was a certain man, called Simon, which beforetime in the same city used sorcery, and bewitched the people of Samaria, giving out that himself was some great one:¹⁰To whom they all gave heed, from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is the great power of God.¹¹And to him they had regard, because that of long time he had bewitched them with sorceries.¹²But when they believed Philip preaching the things concerning the kingdom of God, and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women.¹³Then Simon himself believed also: and when he was baptized, he continued with Philip, and wondered, beholding the miracles and signs which were done.¹⁴Now when the apostles which were at Jerusalem heard that Samaria had received the word of God, they sent unto them Peter and John:¹⁵Who, when they were come down, prayed for them, that they might receive the Holy Ghost:¹⁶(For as yet he was fallen upon none of them: only they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus.)¹⁷Then laid they their hands on them, and they received the Holy Ghost.¹⁸And when Simon saw that through laying on of the apostles' hands the Holy Ghost was given, he offered them money,¹⁹Saying, Give me also this power, that on whomsoever I lay hands, he may receive the Holy Ghost.²⁰But Peter said unto him, Thy money perish with thee, because thou hast thought that the gift of God may be purchased with money.²¹Thou hast neither part nor lot in this matter: for thy heart is not right in the sight of God.²²Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray God, if perhaps the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee.²³For I perceive that thou art in the gall of bitterness, and in the bond of iniquity.²⁴Then answered Simon, and said, Pray ye to the Lord for me, that none of these things which ye have spoken come upon me.²⁵And they, when they had testified and preached the word of the Lord, returned to Jerusalem, and preached the gospel in many villages of the Samaritans.²⁶And the angel of the Lord spake unto Philip, saying, Arise, and go toward the south unto the way that goeth down from Jerusalem unto Gaza, which is desert.²⁷And he arose and went: and, behold, a man of Ethiopia, an eunuch of great authority under Candace queen of the Ethiopians, who had the charge of all her treasure, and had come to Jerusalem for to worship,²⁸Was returning, and sitting in his chariot read Esaias the prophet.²⁹Then the Spirit said unto Philip, Go near, and join thyself to this chariot.³⁰And Philip ran thither to him, and heard him read the prophet Esaias, and said, Understandest thou what thou readest?³¹And he said, How can I, except some man should guide me? And he desired Philip that he would come up and sit with him.³²The place of the scripture which he read was this, He was led as a sheep to the slaughter and like a lamb dumb before his shearer, so opened he not his mouth:³³In his humiliation his judgment was taken away: and who shall declare his generation? for his life is taken from the earth.³⁴And the eunuch answered Philip, and said, I pray thee, of whom speaketh the prophet this? of himself, or of some other man?³⁵Then Philip opened his mouth, and began at the same scripture, and preached unto him Jesus.³⁶And as they went on their way, they came unto a certain water: and the eunuch said, See, here is water what doth hinder me to be baptized?³⁷And Philip said, If thou believest with all thine heart, thou mayest. And he answered and said, I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God.³⁸And he commanded the chariot to stand still: and they went down both into the water, both Philip and the eunuch and he baptized him.³⁹And when they were come up out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord caught away Philip, that the eunuch saw him no more: and he went on his way rejoicing.⁴⁰But Philip was found at Azotus: and passing through he preached in all the cities, till he came to Caesarea.

CHAPTER 9 ¹And Saul, yet breathing out threatenings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went unto the high priest,²And desired of him letters to Damascus to the synagogues, that if he found any of this way, whether they were men or women, he might bring them bound unto Jerusalem.³And as he journeyed, he came near Damascus: and suddenly there shined round about him a light from heaven:⁴And he fell to the earth, and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?⁵And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest: it is hard for thee to kick against the pricks.⁶And he trembling and astonished said, Lord, what wilt thou have me to do? And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go into the city, and it shall be told thee what thou must do.⁷And the men which journeyed with him stood speechless, hearing a voice, but seeing no man.⁸And Saul arose from the earth and when his eyes were opened, he saw no man: but they led him by the hand, and brought him into Damascus.⁹And he was three days without sight, and neither did eat nor drink.¹⁰And there was a certain disciple at Damascus, named Ananias and to him said the Lord in a vision, Ananias. And he said, Behold, I am here, Lord.¹¹And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go into the street which is called Straight, and inquire in the house of Judas for one called Saul, of Tarsus: for, behold, he prayeth,¹²And hath seen in a vision a man named Ananias coming in, and putting his hand on him, that he might receive his sight.¹³Then Ananias answered, Lord, I have heard by many of this man, how much evil he hath done to thy saints at Jerusalem:¹⁴And here he hath authority from the chief priests to bind all that call on thy name.¹⁵But the Lord said unto him, Go thy way: for he is a chosen vessel unto me, to bear my name before the Gentiles, and kings, and the children of Israel:¹⁶For I will shew him how great things he must suffer for my name's sake.¹⁷And Ananias went his way, and entered into the house and putting his hands on him said, Brother Saul, the Lord, even Jesus, that appeared unto thee in the way as thou camest, hath sent me, that thou mightest receive thy sight, and be filled with the Holy Ghost.¹⁸And immediately there fell from his eyes as it had been scales: and he received sight forthwith, and arose, and was baptized.¹⁹And when he had received meat, he was strengthened. Then was Saul certain days with the disciples which were at Damascus.²⁰And straightway he preached Christ in the synagogues, that he is the Son of God.²¹But all that heard him were amazed, and said Is not this he that destroyed them which called on this name in Jerusalem, and came hither for that intent, that he might bring them bound unto the chief priests?²²But Saul increased the more in strength, and confounded the Jews which dwelt at Damascus, proving that this is very Christ.²³And after that many days were fulfilled, the Jews took counsel to kill him:²⁴But their laying await was known of Saul. And they watched the gates day and night to kill him.²⁵Then the disciples took him by night, and let him down by the wall in a basket.²⁶And when Saul was come to Jerusalem, he assayed to join himself to the disciples: but they were all afraid of him, and believed not that he was a disciple.²⁷But Barnabas took him, and brought him to the apostles, and declared unto them how he had seen the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken to him, and how he had preached boldly at Damascus in the name of Jesus.²⁸And he was with them coming in and going out at Jerusalem.²⁹And he spake boldly in the name of the Lord Jesus, and disputed against the Grecians: but they went about to slay him.³⁰Which when the brethren knew, they brought him down to Caesarea, and sent him forth to Tarsus.³¹Then had the churches rest throughout all Judaea and Galilee and Samaria, and were edified and walking in the fear of the Lord, and in the comfort of the Holy Ghost, were multiplied.³²And it came to pass, as Peter passed throughout all quarters, he came down also to the saints which dwelt at Lydda.³³And there he found a certain man named Aeneas, which had kept his bed eight years, and was sick of the palsy.³⁴And Peter said unto him, Aeneas, Jesus Christ maketh thee whole: arise, and make thy bed. And he arose immediately.³⁵And all that dwelt at Lydda and Saron saw him, and turned to the Lord.³⁶Now there was at Joppa a certain disciple named Tabitha, which by interpretation is called Dorcas: this woman was full of good works and almsdeeds which she did.³⁷And it came to pass in those days, that she was sick, and died: whom when they had washed, they laid her in an upper chamber.³⁸And forasmuch as Lydda was nigh to Joppa, and the disciples had heard that Peter was there, they sent unto him two men, desiring him that he would not delay to come to them.³⁹Then Peter arose and went with them. When he was come, they brought him into the upper chamber: and all the widows stood by him weeping, and shewing the coats and garments which Dorcas made, while she was with them.⁴⁰But Peter put them all forth, and kneeled down, and prayed and turning him to the body said, Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes: and when she saw Peter, she sat up.⁴¹And he gave her his hand, and lifted her up, and when he had called the saints and widows, presented her alive.⁴²And it was known throughout all Joppa and many believed in the Lord.⁴³And it came to pass, that he tarried many days in Joppa with one Simon a tanner.

CHAPTER 10 ¹There was a certain man in Caesarea called Cornelius, a centurion of the band called the Italian band,²A devout man, and one that feared God with all his house, which gave much alms to the people, and prayed to God alway.³He saw in a vision evidently about the ninth hour of the day an angel of God coming in to him, and saying unto him, Cornelius.⁴And when he looked on him, he was afraid, and said, What is it, Lord? And he said unto him, Thy prayers and thine alms are come up for a memorial before God.⁵And now send men to Joppa, and call for one Simon, whose surname is Peter:⁶He lodgeth with one Simon a tanner, whose house is by the sea side: he shall tell thee what thou oughtest to do.⁷And when the angel which spake unto Cornelius was departed, he called two of his household servants, and a devout soldier of them that waited on him continually⁸And when he had declared all these things unto them, he sent them to Joppa.⁹On the morrow, as they went on their journey, and drew nigh unto the city, Peter went up upon the housetop to pray about the sixth hour:¹⁰And he became very hungry, and would have eaten: but while they made ready, he fell into a trance,¹¹And saw heaven opened, and a certain vessel descending unto him, as it had been a great sheet knit at the four corners, and let down to the earth:¹²Wherein were all manner of fourfooted beasts of the earth, and wild beasts, and creeping things, and fowls of the air.¹³And there came a voice to him, Rise, Peter kill, and eat.¹⁴But Peter said, Not so, Lord for I have never eaten any thing that is common or unclean.¹⁵And the voice spake unto him again the second time, What God hath cleansed, that call not thou common.¹⁶This was done thrice: and the vessel was received up again into heaven.¹⁷Now while Peter doubted in himself what this vision which he had seen should mean, behold, the men which were sent from Cornelius had made inquiry for Simon's house, and stood before the gate,¹⁸And called, and asked whether Simon, which was surnamed Peter, were lodged there.¹⁹While Peter thought on the vision, the Spirit said unto him, Behold, three men seek thee.²⁰Arise therefore, and get thee down, and go with them, doubting nothing: for I have sent them.²¹Then Peter went down to the men which were sent unto him from Cornelius and said, Behold, I am he whom ye seek: what is the cause wherefore ye are come?²²And they said, Cornelius the centurion, a just man, and one that feareth God, and of good report among all the nation of the Jews, was warned from God by an holy angel to send for thee into his house, and to hear words of thee.²³Then called he them in, and lodged them. And on the morrow Peter went away with them, and certain brethren from Joppa accompanied him.²⁴And the morrow after they entered into Caesarea. And Cornelius waited for them, and had called together his kinsmen and near friends.²⁵And as Peter was coming in, Cornelius met him, and fell down at his feet, and worshipped him.²⁶But Peter took him up, saying, Stand up I myself also am a man.²⁷And as he talked with him, he went in, and found many that were come together.²⁸And he said unto them, Ye know how that it is an unlawful thing for a man that is a Jew to keep company, or come unto one of another nation but God hath shewed me that I should not call any man common or unclean.²⁹Therefore came I unto you without gainsaying, as soon as I was sent for: I ask therefore for what intent ye have sent for me?³⁰And Cornelius said, Four days ago I was fasting until this hour and at the ninth hour I prayed in my house, and, behold, a man stood before me in bright clothing,³¹And said, Cornelius, thy prayer is heard, and thine alms are had in remembrance in the sight of God.³²Send therefore to Joppa, and call hither Simon, whose surname is Peter he is lodged in the house of one Simon a tanner by the sea side: who, when he cometh, shall speak unto thee.³³Immediately therefore I sent to thee and thou hast well done that thou art come. Now therefore are we all here present before God, to hear all things that are commanded thee of God.³⁴Then Peter opened his mouth, and said, Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons:³⁵But in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is accepted with him.³⁶The word which God sent unto the children of Israel, preaching peace by Jesus Christ: (he is Lord of all:)³⁷That word, I say, ye know, which was published throughout all Judaea, and began from Galilee, after the baptism which John preached³⁸How God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Ghost and with power: who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the devil for God was with him.³⁹And we are witnesses of all things which he did both in the land of the Jews, and in Jerusalem whom they slew and hanged on a tree:⁴⁰Him God raised up the third day, and shewed him openly⁴¹Not to all the people, but unto witnesses chosen before of God, even to us, who did eat and drink with him after he rose from the dead.⁴²And he commanded us to preach unto the people, and to testify that it is he which was ordained of God to be the Judge of quick and dead.⁴³To him give all the prophets witness, that through his name whosoever believeth in him shall receive remission of sins.⁴⁴While Peter yet spake these words, the Holy Ghost fell on all them which heard the word.⁴⁵And they of the circumcision which believed were astonished, as many as came with Peter, because that on the Gentiles also was poured out the gift of the Holy Ghost.⁴⁶For they heard them speak with tongues, and magnify God. Then answered Peter,⁴⁷Can any man forbid water, that these should not be baptized, which have received the Holy Ghost as well as we?⁴⁸And he commanded them to be baptized in the name of the Lord. Then prayed they him to tarry certain days.

CHAPTER 11 ¹And the apostles and brethren that were in Judaea heard that the Gentiles had also received the word of God.²And when Peter was come up to Jerusalem, they that were of the circumcision contended with him,³Saying, Thou wentest in to men uncircumcised, and didst eat with them.⁴But Peter rehearsed the matter from the beginning, and expounded it by order unto them, saying,⁵I was in the city of Joppa praying: and in a trance I saw a vision, A certain vessel descend, as it had been a great sheet, let down from heaven by four corners and it came even to me:⁶Upon the which when I had fastened mine eyes, I considered, and saw fourfooted beasts of the earth, and wild beasts, and creeping things, and fowls of the air.⁷And I heard a voice saying unto me, Arise, Peter slay and eat.⁸But I said, Not so, Lord: for nothing common or unclean hath at any time entered into my mouth.⁹But the voice answered me again from heaven, What God hath cleansed, that call not thou common.¹⁰And this was done three times: and all were drawn up again into heaven.¹¹And, behold, immediately there were three men already come unto the house where I was, sent from Caesarea unto me.¹²And the spirit bade me go with them, nothing doubting. Moreover these six brethren accompanied me, and we entered into the man's house:¹³And he shewed us how he had seen an angel in his house, which stood and said unto him, Send men to Joppa, and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter¹⁴Who shall tell thee words, whereby thou and all thy house shall be saved.¹⁵And as I began to speak, the Holy Ghost fell on them, as on us at the beginning.¹⁶Then remembered I the word of the Lord, how that he said, John indeed baptized with water but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost.¹⁷Forasmuch then as God gave them the like gift as he did unto us, who believed on the Lord Jesus Christ what was I, that I could withstand God?¹⁸When they heard these things, they held their peace, and glorified God, saying, Then hath God also to the Gentiles granted repentance unto life.¹⁹Now they which were scattered abroad upon the persecution that arose about Stephen travelled as far as Phenice, and Cyprus, and Antioch, preaching the word to none but unto the Jews only.²⁰And some of them were men of Cyprus and Cyrene, which, when they were come to Antioch, spake unto the Grecians, preaching the Lord Jesus.²¹And the hand of the Lord was with them: and a great number believed, and turned unto the Lord.²²Then tidings of these things came unto the ears of the church which was in Jerusalem: and they sent forth Barnabas, that he should go as far as Antioch.²³Who, when he came, and had seen the grace of God, was glad, and exhorted them all, that with purpose of heart they would cleave unto the Lord.²⁴For he was a good man, and full of the Holy Ghost and of faith: and much people was added unto the Lord.²⁵Then departed Barnabas to Tarsus, for to seek Saul:²⁶And when he had found him, he brought him unto Antioch. And it came to pass, that a whole year they assembled themselves with the church, and taught much people. And the disciples were called Christians first in Antioch.²⁷And in these days came prophets from Jerusalem unto Antioch.²⁸And there stood up one of them named Agabus, and signified by the spirit that there should be great dearth throughout all the world: which came to pass in the days of Claudius Caesar.²⁹Then the disciples, every man according to his ability, determined to send relief unto the brethren which dwelt in Judaea:³⁰Which also they did, and sent it to the elders by the hands of Barnabas and Saul.

CHAPTER 12 ¹Now about that time Herod the king stretched forth his hands to vex certain of the church.²And he killed James the brother of John with the sword.³And because he saw it pleased the Jews, he proceeded further to take Peter also. (Then were the days of unleavened bread.)⁴And when he had apprehended him, he put him in prison, and delivered him to four quaternions of soldiers to keep him intending after Easter to bring him forth to the people.⁵Peter therefore was kept in prison: but prayer was made without ceasing of the church unto God for him.⁶And when Herod would have brought him forth, the same night Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains: and the keepers before the door kept the prison.⁷And, behold, the angel of the Lord came upon him, and a light shined in the prison: and he smote Peter on the side, and raised him up, saying, Arise up quickly. And his chains fell off from his hands.⁸And the angel said unto him, Gird thyself, and bind on thy sandals. And so he did. And he saith unto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and follow me.⁹And he went out, and followed him and wist not that it was true which was done by the angel but thought he saw a vision.¹⁰When they were past the first and the second ward, they came unto the iron gate that leadeth unto the city which opened to them of his own accord: and they went out, and passed on through one street and forthwith the angel departed from him.¹¹And when Peter was come to himself, he said, Now I know of a surety, that the Lord hath sent his angel, and hath delivered me out of the hand of Herod, and from all the expectation of the people of the Jews.¹²And when he had considered the thing, he came to the house of Mary the mother of John, whose surname was Mark where many were gathered together praying.¹³And as Peter knocked at the door of the gate, a damsel came to hearken, named Rhoda.¹⁴And when she knew Peter's voice, she opened not the gate for gladness, but ran in, and told how Peter stood before the gate.¹⁵And they said unto her, Thou art mad. But she constantly affirmed that it was even so. Then said they, It is his angel.¹⁶But Peter continued knocking: and when they had opened the door, and saw him, they were astonished.¹⁷But he, beckoning unto them with the hand to hold their peace, declared unto them how the Lord had brought him out of the prison. And he said, Go shew these things unto James, and to the brethren. And he departed, and went into another place.¹⁸Now as soon as it was day, there was no small stir among the soldiers, what was become of Peter.¹⁹And when Herod had sought for him, and found him not, he examined the keepers, and commanded that they should be put to death. And he went down from Judaea to Caesarea, and there abode.²⁰And Herod was highly displeased with them of Tyre and Sidon: but they came with one accord to him, and, having made Blastus the king's chamberlain their friend, desired peace because their country was nourished by the king's country.²¹And upon a set day Herod, arrayed in royal apparel, sat upon his throne, and made an oration unto them.²²And the people gave a shout, saying, It is the voice of a god, and not of a man.²³And immediately the angel of the Lord smote him, because he gave not God the glory: and he was eaten of worms, and gave up the ghost.²⁴But the word of God grew and multiplied.²⁵And Barnabas and Saul returned from Jerusalem, when they had fulfilled their ministry, and took with them John, whose surname was Mark.

CHAPTER 13 ¹Now there were in the church that was at Antioch certain prophets and teachers as Barnabas, and Simeon that was called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene, and Manaen, which had been brought up with Herod the tetrarch, and Saul.²As they ministered to the Lord, and fasted, the Holy Ghost said, Separate me Barnabas and Saul for the work whereunto I have called them.³And when they had fasted and prayed, and laid their hands on them, they sent them away.⁴So they, being sent forth by the Holy Ghost, departed unto Seleucia and from thence they sailed to Cyprus.⁵And when they were at Salamis, they preached the word of God in the synagogues of the Jews: and they had also John to their minister.⁶And when they had gone through the isle unto Paphos, they found a certain sorcerer, a false prophet, a Jew, whose name was Bar-jesus:⁷Which was with the deputy of the country, Sergius Paulus, a prudent man who called for Barnabas and Saul, and desired to hear the word of God.⁸But Elymas the sorcerer (for so is his name by interpretation) withstood them, seeking to turn away the deputy from the faith.⁹Then Saul, (who also is called Paul,) filled with the Holy Ghost, set his eyes on him,¹⁰And said, O full of all subtilty and all mischief, thou child of the devil, thou enemy of all righteousness, wilt thou not cease to pervert the right ways of the Lord?¹¹And now, behold, the hand of the Lord is upon thee, and thou shalt be blind, not seeing the sun for a season. And immediately there fell on him a mist and a darkness and he went about seeking some to lead him by the hand.¹²Then the deputy, when he saw what was done, believed, being astonished at the doctrine of the Lord.¹³Now when Paul and his company loosed from Paphos, they came to Perga in Pamphylia: and John departing from them returned to Jerusalem.¹⁴But when they departed from Perga, they came to Antioch in Pisidia, and went into the synagogue on the sabbath day, and sat down.¹⁵And after the reading of the law and the prophets the rulers of the synagogue sent unto them, saying, Ye men and brethren, if ye have any word of exhortation for the people, say on.¹⁶Then Paul stood up, and beckoning with his hand said, Men of Israel, and ye that fear God, give audience.¹⁷The God of this people of Israel chose our fathers, and exalted the people when they dwelt as strangers in the land of Egypt, and with an high arm brought he them out of it.¹⁸And about the time of forty years suffered he their manners in the wilderness.¹⁹And when he had destroyed seven nations in the land of Chanaan, he divided their land to them by lot.²⁰And after that he gave unto them judges about the space of four hundred and fifty years, until Samuel the prophet.²¹And afterward they desired a king: and God gave unto them Saul the son of Cis, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, by the space of forty years.²²And when he had removed him, he raised up unto them David to be their king to whom also he gave testimony, and said, I have found David the son of Jesse, a man after mine own heart, which shall fulfil all my will.²³Of this man's seed hath God according to his promise raised unto Israel a Saviour, Jesus:²⁴When John had first preached before his coming the baptism of repentance to all the people of Israel.²⁵And as John fulfilled his course, he said, Whom think ye that I am? I am not he. But, behold, there cometh one after me, whose shoes of his feet I am not worthy to loose.²⁶Men and brethren, children of the stock of Abraham, and whosoever among you feareth God, to you is the word of this salvation sent.²⁷For they that dwell at Jerusalem, and their rulers, because they knew him not, nor yet the voices of the prophets which are read every sabbath day, they have fulfilled them in condemning him.²⁸And though they found no cause of death in him, yet desired they Pilate that he should be slain.²⁹And when they had fulfilled all that was written of him, they took him down from the tree, and laid him in a sepulchre.³⁰But God raised him from the dead:³¹And he was seen many days of them which came up with him from Galilee to Jerusalem, who are his witnesses unto the people.³²And we declare unto you glad tidings, how that the promise which was made unto the fathers,³³God hath fulfilled the same unto us their children, in that he hath raised up Jesus again as it is also written in the second psalm, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee.³⁴And as concerning that he raised him up from the dead, now no more to return to corruption, he said on this wise, I will give you the sure mercies of David.³⁵Wherefore he saith also in another psalm, Thou shalt not suffer thine Holy One to see corruption.³⁶For David, after he had served his own generation by the will of God, fell on sleep, and was laid unto his fathers, and saw corruption:³⁷But he, whom God raised again, saw no corruption.³⁸Be it known unto you therefore, men and brethren, that through this man is preached unto you the forgiveness of sins:³⁹And by him all that believe are justified from all things, from which ye could not be justified by the law of Moses.⁴⁰Beware therefore, lest that come upon you, which is spoken of in the prophets⁴¹Behold, ye despisers, and wonder, and perish: for I work a work in your days, a work which ye shall in no wise believe, though a man declare it unto you.⁴²And when the Jews were gone out of the synagogue, the Gentiles besought that these words might be preached to them the next sabbath.⁴³Now when the congregation was broken up, many of the Jews and religious proselytes followed Paul and Barnabas: who, speaking to them, persuaded them to continue in the grace of God.⁴⁴And the next sabbath day came almost the whole city together to hear the word of God.⁴⁵But when the Jews saw the multitudes, they were filled with envy, and spake against those things which were spoken by Paul, contradicting and blaspheming.⁴⁶Then Paul and Barnabas waxed bold, and said, It was necessary that the word of God should first have been spoken to you: but seeing ye put it from you, and judge yourselves unworthy of everlasting life, lo, we turn to the Gentiles.⁴⁷For so hath the Lord commanded us, saying, I have set thee to be a light of the Gentiles, that thou shouldest be for salvation unto the ends of the earth.⁴⁸And when the Gentiles heard this, they were glad, and glorified the word of the Lord: and as many as were ordained to eternal life believed.⁴⁹And the word of the Lord was published throughout all the region.⁵⁰But the Jews stirred up the devout and honourable women, and the chief men of the city, and raised persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and expelled them out of their coasts.⁵¹But they shook off the dust of their feet against them, and came unto Iconium.⁵²And the disciples were filled with joy, and with the Holy Ghost.

CHAPTER 14 ¹And it came to pass in Iconium, that they went both together into the synagogue of the Jews, and so spake, that a great multitude both of the Jews and also of the Greeks believed.²But the unbelieving Jews stirred up the Gentiles, and made their minds evil affected against the brethren.³Long time therefore abode they speaking boldly in the Lord, which gave testimony unto the word of his grace, and granted signs and wonders to be done by their hands.⁴But the multitude of the city was divided: and part held with the Jews, and part with the apostles.⁵And when there was an assault made both of the Gentiles, and also of the Jews with their rulers, to use them despitefully, and to stone them,⁶They were ware of it, and fled unto Lystra and Derbe, cities of Lycaonia, and unto the region that lieth round about:⁷And there they preached the gospel.⁸And there sat a certain man at Lystra, impotent in his feet, being a cripple from his mother's womb, who never had walked:⁹The same heard Paul speak: who stedfastly beholding him, and perceiving that he had faith to be healed,¹⁰Said with a loud voice, Stand upright on thy feet. And he leaped and walked.¹¹And when the people saw what Paul had done, they lifted up their voices, saying in the speech of Lycaonia, The gods are come down to us in the likeness of men.¹²And they called Barnabas, Jupiter and Paul, Mercurius, because he was the chief speaker.¹³Then the priest of Jupiter, which was before their city, brought oxen and garlands unto the gates, and would have done sacrifice with the people.¹⁴Which when the apostles, Barnabas and Paul, heard of, they rent their clothes, and ran in among the people, crying out,¹⁵And saying, Sirs, why do ye these things? We also are men of like passions with you, and preach unto you that ye should turn from these vanities unto the living God, which made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all things that are therein.¹⁶Who in times past suffered all nations to walk in their own ways.¹⁷Nevertheless he left not himself without witness, in that he did good, and gave us rain from heaven, and fruitful seasons, filling our hearts with food and gladness.¹⁸And with these sayings scarce restrained they the people, that they had not done sacrifice unto them.¹⁹And there came thither certain Jews from Antioch and Iconium, who persuaded the people, and, having stoned Paul, drew him out of the city, supposing he had been dead.²⁰Howbeit, as the disciples stood round about him, he rose up, and came into the city: and the next day he departed with Barnabas to Derbe.²¹And when they had preached the gospel to that city, and had taught many, they returned again to Lystra, and to Iconium, and Antioch,²²Confirming the souls of the disciples, and exhorting them to continue in the faith, and that we must through much tribulation enter into the kingdom of God.²³And when they had ordained them elders in every church, and had prayed with fasting, they commended them to the Lord, on whom they believed.²⁴And after they had passed throughout Pisidia, they came to Pamphylia.²⁵And when they had preached the word in Perga, they went down into Attalia:²⁶And thence sailed to Antioch, from whence they had been recommended to the grace of God for the work which they fulfilled.²⁷And when they were come, and had gathered the church together, they rehearsed all that God had done with them, and how he had opened the door of faith unto the Gentiles.²⁸And there they abode long time with the disciples.

CHAPTER 15 ¹And certain men which came down from Judaea taught the brethren, and said, Except ye be circumcised after the manner of Moses, ye cannot be saved.²When therefore Paul and Barnabas had no small dissension and disputation with them, they determined that Paul and Barnabas, and certain other of them, should go up to Jerusalem unto the apostles and elders about this question.³And being brought on their way by the church, they passed through Phenice and Samaria, declaring the conversion of the Gentiles: and they caused great joy unto all the brethren.⁴And when they were come to Jerusalem, they were received of the church, and of the apostles and elders, and they declared all things that God had done with them.⁵But there rose up certain of the sect of the Pharisees which believed, saying, That it was needful to circumcise them, and to command them to keep the law of Moses.⁶And the apostles and elders came together for to consider of this matter.⁷And when there had been much disputing, Peter rose up, and said unto them, Men and brethren, ye know how that a good while ago God made choice among us, that the Gentiles by my mouth should hear the word of the gospel, and believe.⁸And God, which knoweth the hearts, bare them witness, giving them the Holy Ghost, even as he did unto us⁹And put no difference between us and them, purifying their hearts by faith.¹⁰Now therefore why tempt ye God, to put a yoke upon the neck of the disciples, which neither our fathers nor we were able to bear?¹¹But we believe that through the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ we shall be saved, even as they.¹²Then all the multitude kept silence, and gave audience to Barnabas and Paul, declaring what miracles and wonders God had wrought among the Gentiles by them.¹³And after they had held their peace, James answered, saying, Men and brethren, hearken unto me:¹⁴Simeon hath declared how God at the first did visit the Gentiles, to take out of them a people for his name.¹⁵And to this agree the words of the prophets as it is written,¹⁶After this I will return, and will build again the tabernacle of David, which is fallen down and I will build again the ruins thereof, and I will set it up:¹⁷That the residue of men might seek after the Lord, and all the Gentiles, upon whom my name is called, saith the Lord, who doeth all these things.¹⁸Known unto God are all his works from the beginning of the world.¹⁹Wherefore my sentence is, that we trouble not them, which from among the Gentiles are turned to God:²⁰But that we write unto them, that they abstain from pollutions of idols, and from fornication, and from things strangled, and from blood.²¹For Moses of old time hath in every city them that preach him, being read in the synagogues every sabbath day.²²Then pleased it the apostles and elders, with the whole church, to send chosen men of their own company to Antioch with Paul and Barnabas namely, Judas surnamed Barsabas, and Silas, chief men among the brethren:²³And they wrote letters by them after this manner The apostles and elders and brethren send greeting unto the brethren which are of the Gentiles in Antioch and Syria and Cilicia:²⁴Forasmuch as we have heard, that certain which went out from us have troubled you with words, subverting your souls, saying, Ye must be circumcised, and keep the law: to whom we gave no such commandment:²⁵It seemed good unto us, being assembled with one accord, to send chosen men unto you with our beloved Barnabas and Paul,²⁶Men that have hazarded their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.²⁷We have sent therefore Judas and Silas, who shall also tell you the same things by mouth.²⁸For it seemed good to the Holy Ghost, and to us, to lay upon you no greater burden than these necessary things²⁹That ye abstain from meats offered to idols, and from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication: from which if ye keep yourselves, ye shall do well. Fare ye well.³⁰So when they were dismissed, they came to Antioch: and when they had gathered the multitude together, they delivered the epistle:³¹Which when they had read, they rejoiced for the consolation.³²And Judas and Silas, being prophets also themselves, exhorted the brethren with many words, and confirmed them.³³And after they had tarried there a space, they were let go in peace from the brethren unto the apostles.³⁴Notwithstanding it pleased Silas to abide there still.³⁵Paul also and Barnabas continued in Antioch, teaching and preaching the word of the Lord, with many others also.³⁶And some days after Paul said unto Barnabas, Let us go again and visit our brethren in every city where we have preached the word of the Lord, and see how they do.³⁷And Barnabas determined to take with them John, whose surname was Mark.³⁸But Paul thought not good to take him with them, who departed from them from Pamphylia, and went not with them to the work.³⁹And the contention was so sharp between them, that they departed asunder one from the other: and so Barnabas took Mark, and sailed unto Cyprus⁴⁰And Paul chose Silas, and departed, being recommended by the brethren unto the grace of God.⁴¹And he went through Syria and Cilicia, confirming the churches.

CHAPTER 16 ¹Then came he to Derbe and Lystra: and, behold, a certain disciple was there, named Timotheus, the son of a certain woman, which was a Jewess, and believed but his father was a Greek:²Which was well reported of by the brethren that were at Lystra and Iconium.³Him would Paul have to go forth with him and took and circumcised him because of the Jews which were in those quarters: for they knew all that his father was a Greek.⁴And as they went through the cities, they delivered them the decrees for to keep, that were ordained of the apostles and elders which were at Jerusalem.⁵And so were the churches established in the faith, and increased in number daily.⁶Now when they had gone throughout Phrygia and the region of Galatia, and were forbidden of the Holy Ghost to preach the word in Asia,⁷After they were come to Mysia, they assayed to go into Bithynia: but the Spirit suffered them not.⁸And they passing by Mysia came down to Troas.⁹And a vision appeared to Paul in the night There stood a man of Macedonia, and prayed him, saying, Come over into Macedonia, and help us.¹⁰And after he had seen the vision, immediately we endeavored to go into Macedonia, assuredly gathering that the Lord had called us for to preach the gospel unto them.¹¹Therefore loosing from Troas, we came with a straight course to Samothracia, and the next day to Neapolis¹²And from thence to Philippi, which is the chief city of that part of Macedonia, and a colony: and we were in that city abiding certain days.¹³And on the sabbath we went out of the city by a river side, where prayer was wont to be made and we sat down, and spake unto the women which resorted thither.¹⁴And a certain woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the city of Thyatira, which worshipped God, heard us: whose heart the Lord opened, that she attended unto the things which were spoken of Paul.¹⁵And when she was baptized, and her household, she besought us, saying, If ye have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come into my house, and abide there. And she constrained us.¹⁶And it came to pass, as we went to prayer, a certain damsel possessed with a spirit of divination met us, which brought her masters much gain by soothsaying:¹⁷The same followed Paul and us, and cried, saying, These men are the servants of the most high God, which shew unto us the way of salvation.¹⁸And this did she many days. But Paul, being grieved, turned and said to the spirit, I command thee in the name of Jesus Christ to come out of her. And he came out the same hour.¹⁹And when her masters saw that the hope of their gains was gone, they caught Paul and Silas, and drew them into the marketplace unto the rulers,²⁰And brought them to the magistrates, saying, These men, being Jews, do exceedingly trouble our city,²¹And teach customs, which are not lawful for us to receive, neither to observe, being Romans.²²And the multitude rose up together against them: and the magistrates rent off their clothes, and commanded to beat them.²³And when they had laid many stripes upon them, they cast them into prison, charging the jailor to keep them safely:²⁴Who, having received such a charge, thrust them into the inner prison, and made their feet fast in the stocks.²⁵And at midnight Paul and Silas prayed, and sang praises unto God: and the prisoners heard them.²⁶And suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison were shaken: and immediately all the doors were opened, and every one's bands were loosed.²⁷And the keeper of the prison awaking out of his sleep, and seeing the prison doors open, he drew out his sword, and would have killed himself, supposing that the prisoners had been fled.²⁸But Paul cried with a loud voice, saying, Do thyself no harm: for we are all here.²⁹Then he called for a light, and sprang in, and came trembling, and fell down before Paul and Silas,³⁰And brought them out, and said, Sirs, what must I do to be saved?³¹And they said, Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, and thy house.³²And they spake unto him the word of the Lord, and to all that were in his house.³³And he took them the same hour of the night, and washed their stripes and was baptized, he and all his, straightway.³⁴And when he had brought them into his house, he set meat before them, and rejoiced, believing in God with all his house.³⁵And when it was day, the magistrates sent the serjeants, saying, Let those men go.³⁶And the keeper of the prison told this saying to Paul, The magistrates have sent to let you go: now therefore depart, and go in peace.³⁷But Paul said unto them, They have beaten us openly uncondemned, being Romans, and have cast us into prison and now do they thrust us out privily? nay verily but let them come themselves and fetch us out.³⁸And the serjeants told these words unto the magistrates: and they feared, when they heard that they were Romans.³⁹And they came and besought them, and brought them out, and desired them to depart out of the city.⁴⁰And they went out of the prison, and entered into the house of Lydia and when they had seen the brethren, they comforted them, and departed.

CHAPTER 17 ¹Now when they had passed through Amphipolis and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where was a synagogue of the Jews:²And Paul, as his manner was, went in unto them, and three sabbath days reasoned with them out of the scriptures,³Opening and alleging, that Christ must needs have suffered, and risen again from the dead and that this Jesus, whom I preach unto you, is Christ.⁴And some of them believed, and consorted with Paul and Silas and of the devout Greeks a great multitude, and of the chief women not a few.⁵But the Jews which believed not, moved with envy, took unto them certain lewd fellows of the baser sort, and gathered a company, and set all the city on an uproar, and assaulted the house of Jason, and sought to bring them out to the people.⁶And when they found them not, they drew Jason and certain brethren unto the rulers of the city, crying, These that have turned the world upside down are come hither also⁷Whom Jason hath received: and these all do contrary to the decrees of Caesar, saying that there is another king, one Jesus.⁸And they troubled the people and the rulers of the city, when they heard these things.⁹And when they had taken security of Jason, and of the other, they let them go.¹⁰And the brethren immediately sent away Paul and Silas by night unto Berea: who coming thither went into the synagogue of the Jews.¹¹These were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and searched the scriptures daily, whether those things were so.¹²Therefore many of them believed also of honourable women which were Greeks, and of men, not a few.¹³But when the Jews of Thessalonica had knowledge that the word of God was preached of Paul at Berea, they came thither also, and stirred up the people.¹⁴And then immediately the brethren sent away Paul to go as it were to the sea: but Silas and Timotheus abode there still.¹⁵And they that conducted Paul brought him unto Athens: and receiving a commandment unto Silas and Timotheus for to come to him with all speed, they departed.¹⁶Now while Paul waited for them at Athens, his spirit was stirred in him, when he saw the city wholly given to idolatry.¹⁷Therefore disputed he in the synagogue with the Jews, and with the devout persons, and in the market daily with them that met with him.¹⁸Then certain philosophers of the Epicureans, and of the Stoicks, encountered him. And some said, What will this babbler say? other some, He seemeth to be a setter forth of strange gods: because he preached unto them Jesus, and the resurrection.¹⁹And they took him, and brought him unto Areopagus, saying, May we know what this new doctrine, whereof thou speakest, is?²⁰For thou bringest certain strange things to our ears: we would know therefore what these things mean.²¹(For all the Athenians and strangers which were there spent their time in nothing else, but either to tell, or to hear some new thing.)²²Then Paul stood in the midst of Mars' hill, and said, Ye men of Athens, I perceive that in all things ye are too superstitious.²³For as I passed by, and beheld your devotions, I found an altar with this inscription, TO THE UNKNOWN GOD. Whom therefore ye ignorantly worship, him declare I unto you.²⁴God that made the world and all things therein, seeing that he is Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands²⁵Neither is worshipped with men's hands, as though he needed any thing, seeing he giveth to all life, and breath, and all things²⁶And hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and the bounds of their habitation²⁷That they should seek the Lord, if haply they might feel after him, and find him, though he be not far from every one of us:²⁸For in him we live, and move, and have our being as certain also of your own poets have said, For we are also his offspring.²⁹Forasmuch then as we are the offspring of God, we ought not to think that the Godhead is like unto gold, or silver, or stone, graven by art and man's device.³⁰And the times of this ignorance God winked at but now commandeth all men every where to repent:³¹Because he hath appointed a day, in the which he will judge the world in righteousness by that man whom he hath ordained whereof he hath given assurance unto all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead.³²And when they heard of the resurrection of the dead, some mocked: and others said, We will hear thee again of this matter.³³So Paul departed from among them.³⁴Howbeit certain men clave unto him, and believed: among the which was Dionysius the Areopagite, and a woman named Damaris, and others with them.

CHAPTER 18 ¹After these things Paul departed from Athens, and came to Corinth²And found a certain Jew named Aquila, born in Pontus, lately come from Italy, with his wife Priscilla (because that Claudius had commanded all Jews to depart from Rome:) and came unto them.³And because he was of the same craft, he abode with them, and wrought: for by their occupation they were tentmakers.⁴And he reasoned in the synagogue every sabbath, and persuaded the Jews and the Greeks.⁵And when Silas and Timotheus were come from Macedonia, Paul was pressed in the spirit, and testified to the Jews that Jesus was Christ.⁶And when they opposed themselves, and blasphemed, he shook his raiment, and said unto them, Your blood be upon your own heads I am clean: from henceforth I will go unto the Gentiles.⁷And he departed thence, and entered into a certain man's house, named Justus, one that worshipped God, whose house joined hard to the synagogue.⁸And Crispus, the chief ruler of the synagogue, believed on the Lord with all his house and many of the Corinthians hearing believed, and were baptized.⁹Then spake the Lord to Paul in the night by a vision, Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace:¹⁰For I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee: for I have much people in this city.¹¹And he continued there a year and six months, teaching the word of God among them.¹²And when Gallio was the deputy of Achaia, the Jews made insurrection with one accord against Paul, and brought him to the judgment seat,¹³Saying, This fellow persuadeth men to worship God contrary to the law.¹⁴And when Paul was now about to open his mouth, Gallio said unto the Jews, If it were a matter of wrong or wicked lewdness, O ye Jews, reason would that I should bear with you:¹⁵But if it be a question of words and names, and of your law, look ye to it for I will be no judge of such matters.¹⁶And he drave them from the judgment seat.¹⁷Then all the Greeks took Sosthenes, the chief ruler of the synagogue, and beat him before the judgment seat. And Gallio cared for none of those things.¹⁸And Paul after this tarried there yet a good while, and then took his leave of the brethren, and sailed thence into Syria, and with him Priscilla and Aquila having shorn his head in Cenchrea: for he had a vow.¹⁹And he came to Ephesus, and left them there: but he himself entered into the synagogue, and reasoned with the Jews.²⁰When they desired him to tarry longer time with them, he consented not.²¹But bade them farewell, saying, I must by all means keep this feast that cometh in Jerusalem: but I will return again unto you, if God will. And he sailed from Ephesus.²²And when he had landed at Caesarea, and gone up, and saluted the church, he went down to Antioch.²³And after he had spent some time there, he departed, and went over all the country of Galatia and Phrygia in order, strengthening all the disciples.²⁴And a certain Jew named Apollos, born at Alexandria, an eloquent man, and mighty in the scriptures, came to Ephesus.²⁵This man was instructed in the way of the Lord and being fervent in the spirit, he spake and taught diligently the things of the Lord, knowing only the baptism of John.²⁶And he began to speak boldly in the synagogue: whom when Aquila and Priscilla had heard, they took him unto them, and expounded unto him the way of God more perfectly.²⁷And when he was disposed to pass into Achaia, the brethren wrote, exhorting the disciples to receive him: who, when he was come, helped them much which had believed through grace:²⁸For he mightily convinced the Jews, and that publicly, shewing by the scriptures that Jesus was Christ.

CHAPTER 19 ¹And it came to pass, that, while Apollos was at Corinth, Paul having passed through the upper coasts came to Ephesus: and finding certain disciples,²He said unto them, Have ye received the Holy Ghost since ye believed? And they said unto him, We have not so much as heard whether there be any Holy Ghost.³And he said unto them, Unto what then were ye baptized? And they said, Unto John's baptism.⁴Then said Paul, John verily baptized with the baptism of repentance, saying unto the people, that they should believe on him which should come after him, that is, on Christ Jesus.⁵When they heard this, they were baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus.⁶And when Paul had laid his hands upon them, the Holy Ghost came on them and they spake with tongues, and prophesied.⁷And all the men were about twelve.⁸And he went into the synagogue, and spake boldly for the space of three months, disputing and persuading the things concerning the kingdom of God.⁹But when divers were hardened, and believed not, but spake evil of that way before the multitude, he departed from them, and separated the disciples, disputing daily in the school of one Tyrannus.¹⁰And this continued by the space of two years so that all they which dwelt in Asia heard the word of the Lord Jesus, both Jews and Greeks.¹¹And God wrought special miracles by the hands of Paul:¹²So that from his body were brought unto the sick handkerchiefs or aprons, and the diseases departed from them, and the evil spirits went out of them.¹³Then certain of the vagabond Jews, exorcists, took upon them to call over them which had evil spirits the name of the Lord Jesus, saying, We adjure you by Jesus whom Paul preacheth.¹⁴And there were seven sons of one Sceva, a Jew, and chief of the priests, which did so.¹⁵And the evil spirit answered and said, Jesus I know, and Paul I know but who are ye?¹⁶And the man in whom the evil spirit was leaped on them, and overcame them, and prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded.¹⁷ And this was known to all the Jews and Greeks also dwelling at Ephesus and fear fell on them all, and the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified.¹⁸ And many that believed came, and confessed, and shewed their deeds.¹⁹ Many of them also which used curious arts brought their books together, and burned them before all men: and they counted the price of them, and found it fifty thousand pieces of silver.²⁰ So mightily grew the word of God and prevailed.²¹ After these things were ended, Paul purposed in the spirit, when he had passed through Macedonia and Achaia, to go to Jerusalem, saying, After I have been there, I must also see Rome.²² So he sent into Macedonia two of them that ministered unto him, Timotheus and Erastus but he himself stayed in Asia for a season.²³ And the same time there arose no small stir about that way.²⁴ For a certain man named Demetrius, a silversmith, which made silver shrines for Diana, brought no small gain unto the craftsmen.²⁵ Whom he called together with the workmen of like occupation, and said, Sirs, ye know that by this craft we have our wealth.²⁶ Moreover ye see and hear, that not alone at Ephesus, but almost throughout all Asia, this Paul hath persuaded and turned away much people, saying that they be no gods, which are made with hands:²⁷ So that not only this our craft is in danger to be set at nought but also that the temple of the great goddess Diana should be despised, and her magnificence should be destroyed, whom all Asia and the world worshippeth.²⁸ And when they heard these sayings, they were full of wrath, and cried out, saying, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.²⁹ And the whole city was filled with confusion: and having caught Gaius and Aristarchus, men of Macedonia, Paul's companions in travel, they rushed with one accord into the theatre.³⁰ And when Paul would have entered in unto the people, the disciples suffered him not.³¹ And certain of the chief of Asia, which were his friends, sent unto him, desiring him that he would not adventure himself into the theatre.³² Some therefore cried one thing, and some another: for the assembly was confused and the more part knew not wherefore they were come together.³³ And they drew Alexander out of the multitude, the Jews putting him forward. And Alexander beckoned with the hand, and would have made his defence unto the people.³⁴But when they knew that he was a Jew, all with one voice about the space of two hours cried out, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.³⁵And when the townclerk had appeased the people, he said, Ye men of Ephesus, what man is there that knoweth not how that the city of the Ephesians is a worshipper of the great goddess Diana, and of the image which fell down from Jupiter?³⁶Seeing then that these things cannot be spoken against, ye ought to be quiet, and to do nothing rashly.³⁷For ye have brought hither these men, which are neither robbers of churches, nor yet blasphemers of your goddess.³⁸Wherefore if Demetrius, and the craftsmen which are with him, have a matter against any man, the law is open, and there are deputies: let them implead one another.³⁹But if ye inquire any thing concerning other matters, it shall be determined in a lawful assembly.⁴⁰For we are in danger to be called in question for this day's uproar, there being no cause whereby we may give an account of this concourse.⁴¹And when he had thus spoken, he dismissed the assembly.

CHAPTER 20 ¹And after the uproar was ceased, Paul called unto him the disciples, and embraced them, and departed for to go into Macedonia.²And when he had gone over those parts, and had given them much exhortation, he came into Greece,³And there abode three months. And when the Jews laid wait for him, as he was about to sail into Syria, he purposed to return through Macedonia.⁴And there accompanied him into Asia Sopater of Berea and of the Thessalonians, Aristarchus and Secundus and Gaius of Derbe, and Timotheus and of Asia, Tychicus and Trophimus.⁵These going before tarried for us at Troas.⁶And we sailed away from Philippi after the days of unleavened bread, and came unto them to Troas in five days where we abode seven days.⁷And upon the first day of the week, when the disciples came together to break bread, Paul preached unto them, ready to depart on the morrow and continued his speech until midnight.⁸And there were many lights in the upper chamber, where they were gathered together.⁹And there sat in a window a certain young man named Eutychus, being fallen into a deep sleep: and as Paul was long preaching, he sunk down with sleep, and fell down from the third loft, and was taken up dead.¹⁰And Paul went down, and fell on him, and embracing him said, Trouble not yourselves for his life is in him.¹¹When he therefore was come up again, and had broken bread, and eaten, and talked a long while, even till break of day, so he departed.¹²And they brought the young man alive, and were not a little comforted.¹³And we went before to ship, and sailed unto Assos, there intending to take in Paul: for so had he appointed, minding himself to go afoot.¹⁴And when he met with us at Assos, we took him in, and came to Mitylene.¹⁵And we sailed thence, and came the next day over against Chios and the next day we arrived at Samos, and tarried at Trogyllium and the next day we came to Miletus.¹⁶For Paul had determined to sail by Ephesus, because he would not spend the time in Asia: for he hasted, if it were possible for him, to be at Jerusalem the day of Pentecost.¹⁷And from Miletus he sent to Ephesus, and called the elders of the church.¹⁸And when they were come to him, he said unto them, Ye know, from the first day that I came into Asia, after what manner I have been with you at all seasons,¹⁹Serving the Lord with all humility of mind, and with many tears, and temptations, which befell me by the lying in wait of the Jews:²⁰And how I kept back nothing that was profitable unto you, but have shewed you, and have taught you publickly, and from house to house,²¹Testifying both to the Jews, and also to the Greeks, repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ.²²And now, behold, I go bound in the spirit unto Jerusalem, not knowing the things that shall befall me there:²³Save that the Holy Ghost witnesseth in every city, saying that bonds and afflictions abide me.²⁴But none of these things move me, neither count I my life dear unto myself, so that I might finish my course with joy, and the ministry, which I have received of the Lord Jesus, to testify the gospel of the grace of God.²⁵And now, behold, I know that ye all, among whom I have gone preaching the kingdom of God, shall see my face no more.²⁶Wherefore I take you to record this day, that I am pure from the blood of all men.²⁷For I have not shunned to declare unto you all the counsel of God.²⁸Take heed therefore unto yourselves, and to all the flock, over the which the Holy Ghost hath made you overseers, to feed the church of God, which he hath purchased with his own blood.²⁹For I know this, that after my departing shall grievous wolves enter in among you, not sparing the flock.³⁰Also of your own selves shall men arise, speaking perverse things, to draw away disciples after them.³¹Therefore watch, and remember, that by the space of three years I ceased not to warn every one night and day with tears.³²And now, brethren, I commend you to God, and to the word of his grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified.³³I have coveted no man's silver, or gold, or apparel.³⁴Yea, ye yourselves know, that these hands have ministered unto my necessities, and to them that were with me.³⁵I have shewed you all things, how that so labouring ye ought to support the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how he said, It is more blessed to give than to receive.³⁶And when he had thus spoken, he kneeled down, and prayed with them all.³⁷And they all wept sore, and fell on Paul's neck, and kissed him,³⁸Sorrowing most of all for the words which he spake, that they should see his face no more. And they accompanied him unto the ship.

CHAPTER 21 ¹And it came to pass, that after we were gotten from them, and had launched, we came with a straight course unto Coos, and the day following unto Rhodes, and from thence unto Patara:²And finding a ship sailing over unto Phenicia, we went aboard, and set forth.³Now when we had discovered Cyprus, we left it on the left hand, and sailed into Syria, and landed at Tyre: for there the ship was to unlade her burden.⁴And finding disciples, we tarried there seven days: who said to Paul through the Spirit, that he should not go up to Jerusalem.⁵And when we had accomplished those days, we departed and went our way and they all brought us on our way, with wives and children, till we were out of the city: and we kneeled down on the shore, and prayed.⁶And when we had taken our leave one of another, we took ship and they returned home again.⁷And when we had finished our course from Tyre, we came to Ptolemais, and saluted the brethren, and abode with them one day.⁸And the next day we that were of Paul's company departed, and came unto Caesarea: and we entered into the house of Philip the evangelist, which was one of the seven and abode with him.⁹And the same man had four daughters, virgins, which did prophesy.¹⁰And as we tarried there many days, there came down from Judaea a certain prophet, named Agabus.¹¹And when he was come unto us, he took Paul's girdle, and bound his own hands and feet, and said, Thus saith the Holy Ghost, So shall the Jews at Jerusalem bind the man that owneth this girdle, and shall deliver him into the hands of the Gentiles.¹²And when we heard these things, both we, and they of that place, besought him not to go up to Jerusalem.¹³Then Paul answered, What mean ye to weep and to break mine heart? for I am ready not to be bound only, but also to die at Jerusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus.¹⁴And when he would not be persuaded, we ceased, saying, The will of the Lord be done.¹⁵And after those days we took up our carriages, and went up to Jerusalem.¹⁶There went with us also certain of the disciples of Caesarea, and brought with them one Mnason of Cyprus, an old disciple, with whom we should lodge.¹⁷And when we were come to Jerusalem, the brethren received us gladly.¹⁸And the day following Paul went in with us unto James and all the elders were present.¹⁹And when he had saluted them, he declared particularly what things God had wrought among the Gentiles by his ministry.²⁰And when they heard it, they glorified the Lord, and said unto him, Thou seest, brother, how many thousands of Jews there are which believe and they are all zealous of the law:²¹And they are informed of thee, that thou teachest all the Jews which are among the Gentiles to forsake Moses, saying that they ought not to circumcise their children, neither to walk after the customs.²²What is it therefore? the multitude must needs come together: for they will hear that thou art come.²³Do therefore this that we say to thee: We have four men which have a vow on them:²⁴Them take, and purify thyself with them, and be at charges with them, that they may shave their heads: and all may know that those things, whereof they were informed concerning thee, are nothing but that thou thyself also walkest orderly, and keepest the law.²⁵As touching the Gentiles which believe, we have written and concluded that they observe no such thing, save only that they keep themselves from things offered to idols, and from blood, and from strangled, and from fornication.²⁶Then Paul took the men, and the next day purifying himself with them entered into the temple, to signify the accomplishment of the days of purification, until that an offering should be offered for every one of them.²⁷And when the seven days were almost ended, the Jews which were of Asia, when they saw him in the temple, stirred up all the people, and laid hands on him,²⁸Crying out, Men of Israel, help: This is the man, that teacheth all men every where against the people, and the law, and this place: and further brought Greeks also into the temple, and hath polluted this holy place.²⁹(For they had seen before with him in the city Trophimus an Ephesian, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple.)³⁰And all the city was moved, and the people ran together: and they took Paul, and drew him out of the temple: and forthwith the doors were shut.³¹And as they went about to kill him, tidings came unto the chief captain of the band, that all Jerusalem was in an uproar.³²Who immediately took soldiers and centurions, and ran down unto them: and when they saw the chief captain and the soldiers, they left beating of Paul.³³Then the chief captain came near, and took him, and commanded him to be bound with two chains and demanded who he was, and what he had done.³⁴And some cried one thing, some another, among the multitude: and when he could not know the certainty for the tumult, he commanded him to be carried into the castle.³⁵And when he came upon the stairs, so it was, that he was borne of the soldiers for the violence of the people.³⁶For the multitude of the people followed after, crying, Away with him.³⁷And as Paul was to be led into the castle, he said unto the chief captain, May I speak unto thee? Who said, Canst thou speak Greek?³⁸Art not thou that Egyptian, which before these days madest an uproar, and leddest out into the wilderness four thousand men that were murderers?³⁹But Paul said, I am a man which am a Jew of Tarsus, a city in Cilicia, a citizen of no mean city: and, I beseech thee, suffer me to speak unto the people.⁴⁰And when he had given him licence, Paul stood on the stairs, and beckoned with the hand unto the people. And when there was made a great silence, he spake unto them in the Hebrew tongue, saying,

CHAPTER 22 ¹Men, brethren, and fathers, hear ye my defence which I make now unto you.²(And when they heard that he spake in the Hebrew tongue to them, they kept the more silence: and he saith,)³I am verily a man which am a Jew, born in Tarsus, a city in Cilicia, yet brought up in this city at the feet of Gamaliel, and taught according to the perfect manner of the law of the fathers, and was zealous toward God, as ye all are this day.⁴And I persecuted this way unto the death, binding and delivering into prisons both men and women.⁵As also the high priest doth bear me witness, and all the estate of the elders: from whom also I received letters unto the brethren, and went to Damascus, to bring them which were there bound unto Jerusalem, for to be punished.⁶And it came to pass, that, as I made my journey, and was come nigh unto Damascus about noon, suddenly there shone from heaven a great light round about me.⁷And I fell unto the ground, and heard a voice saying unto me, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?⁸And I answered, Who art thou, Lord? And he said unto me, I am Jesus of Nazareth, whom thou persecutest.⁹And they that were with me saw indeed the light, and were afraid but they heard not the voice of him that spake to me.¹⁰And I said, What shall I do, Lord? And the Lord said unto me, Arise, and go into Damascus and there it shall be told thee of all things which are appointed for thee to do.¹¹And when I could not see for the glory of that light, being led by the hand of them that were with me, I came into Damascus.¹²And one Ananias, a devout man according to the law, having a good report of all the Jews which dwelt there,¹³Came unto me, and stood, and said unto me, Brother Saul, receive thy sight. And the same hour I looked up upon him.¹⁴And he said, The God of our fathers hath chosen thee, that thou shouldest know his will, and see that Just One, and shouldest hear the voice of his mouth.¹⁵For thou shalt be his witness unto all men of what thou hast seen and heard.¹⁶And now why tarriest thou? arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins, calling on the name of the Lord.¹⁷And it came to pass, that, when I was come again to Jerusalem, even while I prayed in the temple, I was in a trance¹⁸And saw him saying unto me, Make haste, and get thee quickly out of Jerusalem: for they will not receive thy testimony concerning me.¹⁹And I said, Lord, they know that I imprisoned and beat in every synagogue them that believed on thee:²⁰And when the blood of thy martyr Stephen was shed, I also was standing by, and consenting unto his death, and kept the raiment of them that slew him.²¹And he said unto me, Depart: for I will send thee far hence unto the Gentiles.²²And they gave him audience unto this word, and then lifted up their voices, and said, Away with such a fellow from the earth: for it is not fit that he should live.²³And as they cried out, and cast off their clothes, and threw dust into the air,²⁴The chief captain commanded him to be brought into the castle, and bade that he should be examined by scourging that he might know wherefore they cried so against him.²⁵And as they bound him with thongs, Paul said unto the centurion that stood by, Is it lawful for you to scourge a man that is a Roman, and uncondemned?²⁶When the centurion heard that, he went and told the chief captain, saying, Take heed what thou doest: for this man is a Roman.²⁷Then the chief captain came, and said unto him, Tell me, art thou a Roman? He said, Yea.²⁸And the chief captain answered, With a great sum obtained I this freedom. And Paul said, But I was free born.²⁹Then straightway they departed from him which should have examined him: and the chief captain also was afraid, after he knew that he was a Roman, and because he had bound him.³⁰On the morrow, because he would have known the certainty wherefore he was accused of the Jews, he loosed him from his bands, and commanded the chief priests and all their council to appear, and brought Paul down, and set him before them.

CHAPTER 23 ¹And Paul, earnestly beholding the council, said, Men and brethren, I have lived in all good conscience before God until this day.²And the high priest Ananias commanded them that stood by him to smite him on the mouth.³Then said Paul unto him, God shall smite thee, thou whited wall: for sittest thou to judge me after the law, and commandest me to be smitten contrary to the law?⁴And they that stood by said, Revilest thou God's high priest?⁵Then said Paul, I wist not, brethren, that he was the high priest: for it is written, Thou shalt not speak evil of the ruler of thy people.⁶But when Paul perceived that the one part were Sadducees, and the other Pharisees, he cried out in the council, Men and brethren, I am a Pharisee, the son of a Pharisee: of the hope and resurrection of the dead I am called in question.⁷And when he had so said, there arose a dissension between the Pharisees and the Sadducees: and the multitude was divided.⁸For the Sadducees say that there is no resurrection, neither angel, nor spirit: but the Pharisees confess both.⁹And there arose a great cry: and the scribes that were of the Pharisees' part arose, and strove, saying, We find no evil in this man: but if a spirit or an angel hath spoken to him, let us not fight against God.¹⁰And when there arose a great dissension, the chief captain, fearing lest Paul should have been pulled in pieces of them, commanded the soldiers to go down, and to take him by force from among them, and to bring him into the castle.¹¹And the night following the Lord stood by him, and said, Be of good cheer, Paul: for as thou hast testified of me in Jerusalem, so must thou bear witness also at Rome.¹²And when it was day, certain of the Jews banded together, and bound themselves under a curse, saying that they would neither eat nor drink till they had killed Paul.¹³And they were more than forty which had made this conspiracy.¹⁴And they came to the chief priests and elders, and said, We have bound ourselves under a great curse, that we will eat nothing until we have slain Paul.¹⁵Now therefore ye with the council signify to the chief captain that he bring him down unto you to morrow, as though ye would inquire something more perfectly concerning him: and we, or ever he come near, are ready to kill him.¹⁶And when Paul's sister's son heard of their lying in wait, he went and entered into the castle, and told Paul.¹⁷Then Paul called one of the centurions unto him, and said, Bring this young man unto the chief captain: for he hath a certain thing to tell him.¹⁸So he took him, and brought him to the chief captain, and said, Paul the prisoner called me unto him, and prayed me to bring this young man unto thee, who hath something to say unto thee.¹⁹Then the chief captain took him by the hand, and went with him aside privately, and asked him, What is that thou hast to tell me?²⁰And he said, The Jews have agreed to desire thee that thou wouldest bring down Paul to morrow into the council, as though they would inquire somewhat of him more perfectly.²¹But do not thou yield unto them: for there lie in wait for him of them more than forty men, which have bound themselves with an oath, that they will neither eat nor drink till they have killed him: and now are they ready, looking for a promise from thee.²²So the chief captain then let the young man depart, and charged him, See thou tell no man that thou hast shewed these things to me.²³And he called unto him two centurions, saying, Make ready two hundred soldiers to go to Caesarea, and horsemen threescore and ten, and spearmen two hundred, at the third hour of the night²⁴And provide them beasts, that they may set Paul on, and bring him safe unto Felix the governor.²⁵And he wrote a letter after this manner:²⁶Claudius Lysias unto the most excellent governor Felix sendeth greeting.²⁷This man was taken of the Jews, and should have been killed of them: then came I with an army, and rescued him, having understood that he was a Roman.²⁸And when I would have known the cause wherefore they accused him, I brought him forth into their council:²⁹Whom I perceived to be accused of questions of their law, but to have nothing laid to his charge worthy of death or of bonds.³⁰And when it was told me how that the Jews laid wait for the man, I sent straightway to thee, and gave commandment to his accusers also to say before thee what they had against him. Farewell.³¹Then the soldiers, as it was commanded them, took Paul, and brought him by night to Antipatris.³²On the morrow they left the horsemen to go with him, and returned to the castle:³³Who, when they came to Caesarea, and delivered the epistle to the governor, presented Paul also before him.³⁴And when the governor had read the letter, he asked of what province he was. And when he understood that he was of Cilicia³⁵I will hear thee, said he, when thine accusers are also come. And he commanded him to be kept in Herod's judgment hall.

CHAPTER 24 ¹And after five days Ananias the high priest descended with the elders, and with a certain orator named Tertullus, who informed the governor against Paul.²And when he was called forth, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying, Seeing that by thee we enjoy great quietness, and that very worthy deeds are done unto this nation by thy providence,³We accept it always, and in all places, most noble Felix, with all thankfulness.⁴Notwithstanding, that I be not further tedious unto thee, I pray thee that thou wouldest hear us of thy clemency a few words.⁵For we have found this man a pestilent fellow, and a mover of sedition among all the Jews throughout the world, and a ringleader of the sect of the Nazarenes:⁶Who also hath gone about to profane the temple: whom we took, and would have judged according to our law.⁷But the chief captain Lysias came upon us, and with great violence took him away out of our hands,⁸Commanding his accusers to come unto thee: by examining of whom thyself mayest take knowledge of all these things, whereof we accuse him.⁹And the Jews also assented, saying that these things were so.¹⁰Then Paul, after that the governor had beckoned unto him to speak, answered, Forasmuch as I know that thou hast been of many years a judge unto this nation, I do the more cheerfully answer for myself:¹¹Because that thou mayest understand, that there are yet but twelve days since I went up to Jerusalem for to worship.¹²And they neither found me in the temple disputing with any man, neither raising up the people, neither in the synagogues, nor in the city:¹³Neither can they prove the things whereof they now accuse me.¹⁴But this I confess unto thee, that after the way which they call heresy, so worship I the God of my fathers, believing all things which are written in the law and in the prophets:¹⁵And have hope toward God, which they themselves also allow, that there shall be a resurrection of the dead, both of the just and unjust.¹⁶And herein do I exercise myself, to have always a conscience void of offence toward God, and toward men.¹⁷Now after many years I came to bring alms to my nation, and offerings.¹⁸Whereupon certain Jews from Asia found me purified in the temple, neither with multitude, nor with tumult.¹⁹Who ought to have been here before thee, and object, if they had ought against me.²⁰Or else let these same here say, if they have found any evil doing in me, while I stood before the council,²¹Except it be for this one voice, that I cried standing among them, Touching the resurrection of the dead I am called in question by you this day.²²And when Felix heard these things, having more perfect knowledge of that way, he deferred them, and said, When Lysias the chief captain shall come down, I will know the uttermost of your matter.²³ And he commanded a centurion to keep Paul, and to let him have liberty, and that he should forbid none of his acquaintance to minister or come unto him.²⁴ And after certain days, when Felix came with his wife Drusilla, which was a Jewess, he sent for Paul, and heard him concerning the faith in Christ.²⁵ And as he reasoned of righteousness, temperance, and judgment to come Felix trembled, and answered, Go thy way for this time when I have a convenient season, I will call for thee.²⁶ He hoped also that money should have been given him of Paul, that he might loose him: wherefore he sent for him the oftener, and communed with him.²⁷ But after two years Porcius Festus came into Felix' room: and Felix, willing to shew the Jews a pleasure, left Paul bound.

CHAPTER 25 ¹Now when Festus was come into the province, after three days he ascended from Caesarea to Jerusalem.² Then the high priest and the chief of the Jews informed him against Paul, and besought him,³ And desired favour against him, that he would send for him to Jerusalem, laying wait in the way to kill him.⁴ But Festus answered, that Paul should be kept at Caesarea, and that he himself would depart shortly thither.⁵ Let them therefore, said he, which among you are able, go down with me, and accuse this man, if there be any wickedness in him.⁶ And when he had tarried among them more than ten days, he went down unto Caesarea and the next day sitting on the judgment seat commanded Paul to be brought.⁷ And when he was come, the Jews which came down from Jerusalem stood round about, and laid many and grievous complaints against Paul, which they could not prove.⁸ While he answered for himself, Neither against the law of the Jews, neither against the temple, nor yet against Caesar, have I offended any thing at all.⁹ But Festus, willing to do the Jews a pleasure, answered Paul, and said, Wilt thou go up to Jerusalem, and there be judged of these things before me?¹⁰ Then said Paul, I stand at Caesar's judgment seat, where I ought to be judged: to the Jews have I done no wrong, as thou very well knowest.¹¹ For if I be an offender, or have committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to die: but if there be none of these things whereof these accuse me, no man may deliver me unto them. I appeal unto Caesar.¹²Then Festus, when he had conferred with the council, answered, Hast thou appealed unto Caesar? unto Caesar shalt thou go.¹³And after certain days king Agrippa and Bernice came unto Caesarea to salute Festus.¹⁴And when they had been there many days, Festus declared Paul's cause unto the king, saying, There is a certain man left in bonds by Felix.¹⁵About whom, when I was at Jerusalem, the chief priests and the elders of the Jews informed me, desiring to have judgment against him.¹⁶To whom I answered, It is not the manner of the Romans to deliver any man to die, before that he which is accused have the accusers face to face, and have licence to answer for himself concerning the crime laid against him.¹⁷Therefore, when they were come hither, without any delay on the morrow I sat on the judgment seat, and commanded the man to be brought forth.¹⁸Against whom when the accusers stood up, they brought none accusation of such things as I supposed.¹⁹But had certain questions against him of their own superstition, and of one Jesus, which was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be alive.²⁰And because I doubted of such manner of questions, I asked him whether he would go to Jerusalem, and there be judged of these matters.²¹But when Paul had appealed to be reserved unto the hearing of Augustus, I commanded him to be kept till I might send him to Caesar.²²Then Agrippa said unto Festus, I would also hear the man myself. To morrow, said he, thou shalt hear him.²³And on the morrow, when Agrippa was come, and Bernice, with great pomp, and was entered into the place of hearing, with the chief captains, and principal men of the city, at Festus' commandment Paul was brought forth.²⁴And Festus said, King Agrippa, and all men which are here present with us, ye see this man, about whom all the multitude of the Jews have dealt with me, both at Jerusalem, and also here, crying that he ought not to live any longer.²⁵But when I found that he had committed nothing worthy of death, and that he himself hath appealed to Augustus, I have determined to send him.²⁶Of whom I have no certain thing to write unto my lord. Wherefore I have brought him forth before you, and specially before thee, O king Agrippa, that, after examination had, I might have somewhat to write.²⁷For it seemeth to me unreasonable to send a prisoner, and not withal to signify the crimes laid against him.

CHAPTER 26 ¹Then Agrippa said unto Paul, Thou art permitted to speak for thyself. Then Paul stretched forth the hand, and answered for himself: ²I think myself happy, king Agrippa, because I shall answer for myself this day before thee touching all the things whereof I am accused of the Jews: ³Especially because I know thee to be expert in all customs and questions which are among the Jews: wherefore I beseech thee to hear me patiently. ⁴My manner of life from my youth, which was at the first among mine own nation at Jerusalem, know all the Jews ⁵Which knew me from the beginning, if they would testify, that after the most straitest sect of our religion I lived a Pharisee. ⁶And now I stand and am judged for the hope of the promise made of God unto our fathers: ⁷Unto which promise our twelve tribes, instantly serving God day and night, hope to come. For which hope's sake, king Agrippa, I am accused of the Jews. ⁸Why should it be thought a thing incredible with you, that God should raise the dead? ⁹I verily thought with myself, that I ought to do many things contrary to the name of Jesus of Nazareth. ¹⁰Which thing I also did in Jerusalem: and many of the saints did I shut up in prison, having received authority from the chief priests and when they were put to death, I gave my voice against them. ¹¹And I punished them oft in every synagogue, and compelled them to blaspheme and being exceedingly mad against them, I persecuted them even unto strange cities. ¹²Whereupon as I went to Damascus with authority and commission from the chief priests, ¹³At midday, O king, I saw in the way a light from heaven, above the brightness of the sun, shining round about me and them which journeyed with me. ¹⁴And when we were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voice speaking unto me, and saying in the Hebrew tongue, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? it is hard for thee to kick against the pricks. ¹⁵And I said, Who art thou, Lord? And he said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest. ¹⁶But rise, and stand upon thy feet: for I have appeared unto thee for this purpose, to make thee a minister and a witness both of these things which thou hast seen, and of those things in the which I will appear unto thee¹⁷ Delivering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, unto whom now I send thee,¹⁸ To open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and inheritance among them which are sanctified by faith that is in me.¹⁹ Whereupon, O king Agrippa, I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision:²⁰ But shewed first unto them of Damascus, and at Jerusalem, and throughout all the coasts of Judaea, and then to the Gentiles, that they should repent and turn to God, and do works meet for repentance.²¹ For these causes the Jews caught me in the temple, and went about to kill me.²² Having therefore obtained help of God, I continue unto this day, witnessing both to small and great, saying none other things than those which the prophets and Moses did say should come:²³ That Christ should suffer, and that he should be the first that should rise from the dead, and should shew light unto the people, and to the Gentiles.²⁴ And as he thus spake for himself, Festus said with a loud voice, Paul, thou art beside thyself much learning doth make thee mad.²⁵ But he said, I am not mad, most noble Festus but speak forth the words of truth and soberness.²⁶ For the king knoweth of these things, before whom also I speak freely: for I am persuaded that none of these things are hidden from him for this thing was not done in a corner.²⁷ King Agrippa, believest thou the prophets? I know that thou believest.²⁸ Then Agrippa said unto Paul, Almost thou persuadest me to be a Christian.²⁹ And Paul said, I would to God, that not only thou, but also all that hear me this day, were both almost, and altogether such as I am, except these bonds.³⁰ And when he had thus spoken, the king rose up, and the governor, and Bernice, and they that sat with them:³¹ And when they were gone aside, they talked between themselves, saying, This man doeth nothing worthy of death or of bonds.³² Then said Agrippa unto Festus, This man might have been set at liberty, if he had not appealed unto Caesar.

CHAPTER 27 ¹And when it was determined that we should sail into Italy, they delivered Paul and certain other prisoners unto one named Julius, a centurion of Augustus' band.² And entering into a ship of Adramyttium, we launched, meaning to sail by the coasts of Asia one Aristarchus, a Macedonian of Thessalonica, being with us.³And the next day we touched at Sidon. And Julius courteously entreated Paul, and gave him liberty to go unto his friends to refresh himself.⁴And when we had launched from thence, we sailed under Cyprus, because the winds were contrary.⁵And when we had sailed over the sea of Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Myra, a city of Lycia.⁶And there the centurion found a ship of Alexandria sailing into Italy and he put us therein.⁷And when we had sailed slowly many days, and scarce were come over against Cnidus, the wind not suffering us, we sailed under Crete, over against Salmone⁸And, hardly passing it, came unto a place which is called The fair havens nigh whereunto was the city of Lasea.⁹Now when much time was spent, and when sailing was now dangerous, because the fast was now already past, Paul admonished them,¹⁰And said unto them, Sirs, I perceive that this voyage will be with hurt and much damage, not only of the lading and ship, but also of our lives.¹¹Nevertheless the centurion believed the master and the owner of the ship, more than those things which were spoken by Paul.¹²And because the haven was not commodious to winter in, the more part advised to depart thence also, if by any means they might attain to Phenice, and there to winter which is an haven of Crete, and lieth toward the south west and north west.¹³And when the south wind blew softly, supposing that they had obtained their purpose, loosing thence, they sailed close by Crete.¹⁴But not long after there arose against it a tempestuous wind, called Euroclydon.¹⁵And when the ship was caught, and could not bear up into the wind, we let her drive.¹⁶And running under a certain island which is called Claudia, we had much work to come by the boat:¹⁷Which when they had taken up, they used helps, undergirding the ship and, fearing lest they should fall into the quicksands, strake sail, and so were driven.¹⁸And we being exceedingly tossed with a tempest, the next day they lightened the ship¹⁹And the third day we cast out with our own hands the tackling of the ship.²⁰And when neither sun nor stars in many days appeared, and no small tempest lay on us, all hope that we should be saved was then taken away.²¹But after long abstinence Paul stood forth in the midst of them, and said, Sirs, ye should have hearkened unto me, and not have loosed from Crete, and to have gained this harm and loss.²²And now I exhort you to be of good cheer: for there shall be no loss of any man's life among you, but of the ship.²³For there stood by me this night the angel of God, whose I am, and whom I serve,²⁴Saying, Fear not, Paul thou must be brought before Caesar: and, lo, God hath given thee all them that sail with thee.²⁵Wherefore, sirs, be of good cheer: for I believe God, that it shall be even as it was told me.²⁶Howbeit we must be cast upon a certain island.²⁷But when the fourteenth night was come, as we were driven up and down in Adria, about midnight the shipmen deemed that they drew near to some country²⁸And sounded, and found it twenty fathoms: and when they had gone a little further, they sounded again, and found it fifteen fathoms.²⁹Then fearing lest we should have fallen upon rocks, they cast four anchors out of the stern, and wished for the day.³⁰And as the shipmen were about to flee out of the ship, when they had let down the boat into the sea, under colour as though they would have cast anchors out of the foreship,³¹Paul said to the centurion and to the soldiers, Except these abide in the ship, ye cannot be saved.³²Then the soldiers cut off the ropes of the boat, and let her fall off.³³And while the day was coming on, Paul besought them all to take meat, saying, This day is the fourteenth day that ye have tarried and continued fasting, having taken nothing.³⁴Wherefore I pray you to take some meat: for this is for your health: for there shall not an hair fall from the head of any of you.³⁵And when he had thus spoken, he took bread, and gave thanks to God in presence of them all: and when he had broken it, he began to eat.³⁶Then were they all of good cheer, and they also took some meat.³⁷And we were in all in the ship two hundred threescore and sixteen souls.³⁸And when they had eaten enough, they lightened the ship, and cast out the wheat into the sea.³⁹And when it was day, they knew not the land: but they discovered a certain creek with a shore, into the which they were minded, if it were possible, to thrust in the ship.⁴⁰And when they had taken up the anchors, they committed themselves unto the sea, and loosed the rudder bands, and hoised up the mainsail to the wind, and made toward shore.⁴¹And falling into a place where two seas met, they ran the ship aground and the forepart stuck fast, and remained unmoveable, but the hinder part was broken with the violence of the waves.⁴²And the soldiers' counsel was to kill the prisoners, lest any of them should swim out, and escape.⁴³But the centurion, willing to save Paul, kept them from their purpose and commanded that they which could swim should cast themselves first into the sea, and get to land:⁴⁴And the rest, some on boards, and some on broken pieces of the ship. And so it came to pass, that they escaped all safe to land.

CHAPTER 28 ¹And when they were escaped, then they knew that the island was called Melita.²And the barbarous people shewed us no little kindness: for they kindled a fire, and received us every one, because of the present rain, and because of the cold.³And when Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks, and laid them on the fire, there came a viper out of the heat, and fastened on his hand.⁴And when the barbarians saw the venomous beast hang on his hand, they said among themselves, No doubt this man is a murderer, whom, though he hath escaped the sea, yet vengeance suffereth not to live.⁵And he shook off the beast into the fire, and felt no harm.⁶Howbeit they looked when he should have swollen, or fallen down dead suddenly: but after they had looked a great while, and saw no harm come to him, they changed their minds, and said that he was a god.⁷In the same quarters were possessions of the chief man of the island, whose name was Publius who received us, and lodged us three days courteously.⁸And it came to pass, that the father of Publius lay sick of a fever and of a bloody flux: to whom Paul entered in, and prayed, and laid his hands on him, and healed him.⁹So when this was done, others also, which had diseases in the island, came, and were healed:¹⁰Who also honoured us with many honours and when we departed, they laded us with such things as were necessary.¹¹And after three months we departed in a ship of Alexandria, which had wintered in the isle, whose sign was Castor and Pollux.¹²And landing at Syracuse, we tarried there three days.¹³And from thence we fetched a compass, and came to Rhegium: and after one day the south wind blew, and we came the next day to Puteoli:¹⁴Where we found brethren, and were desired to tarry with them seven days: and so we went toward Rome.¹⁵And from thence, when the brethren heard of us, they came to meet us as far as Appiiforum, and The three taverns: whom when Paul saw, he thanked God, and took courage.¹⁶And when we came to Rome, the centurion delivered the prisoners to the captain of the guard: but Paul was suffered to dwell by himself with a soldier that kept him.¹⁷And it came to pass, that after three days Paul called the chief of the Jews together: and when they were come together, he said unto them, Men and brethren, though I have committed nothing against the people, or customs of our fathers, yet was I delivered prisoner from Jerusalem into the hands of the Romans.¹⁸Who, when they had examined me, would have let me go, because there was no cause of death in me.¹⁹But when the Jews spake against it, I was constrained to appeal unto Caesar not that I had ought to accuse my nation of.²⁰For this cause therefore have I called for you, to see you, and to speak with you: because that for the hope of Israel I am bound with this chain.²¹And they said unto him, We neither received letters out of Judaea concerning thee, neither any of the brethren that came shewed or spake any harm of thee.²²But we desire to hear of thee what thou thinkest: for as concerning this sect, we know that every where it is spoken against.²³And when they had appointed him a day, there came many to him into his lodging to whom he expounded and testified the kingdom of God, persuading them concerning Jesus, both out of the law of Moses, and out of the prophets, from morning till evening.²⁴And some believed the things which were spoken, and some believed not.²⁵And when they agreed not among themselves, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one word, Well spake the Holy Ghost by Esaias the prophet unto our fathers,²⁶Saying, Go unto this people, and say, Hearing ye shall hear, and shall not understand and seeing ye shall see, and not perceive:²⁷For the heart of this people is waxed gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes have they closed lest they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them.²⁸Be it known therefore unto you, that the salvation of God is sent unto the Gentiles, and that they will hear it.²⁹And when he had said these words, the Jews departed, and had great reasoning among themselves.³⁰And Paul dwelt two whole years in his own hired house, and received all that came in unto him,³¹Preaching the kingdom of God, and teaching those things which concern the Lord Jesus Christ, with all confidence, no man forbidding him.

ROMANS

CHAPTER 1 ¹Paul, a servant of Jesus Christ, called to be an apostle, separated unto the gospel of God,²(Which he had promised afore by his prophets in the holy scriptures,)³Concerning his Son Jesus Christ our Lord, which was made of the seed of David according to the flesh⁴And declared to be the Son of God with power, according to the spirit of holiness, by the resurrection from the dead:⁵By whom we have received grace and apostleship, for obedience to the faith among all nations, for his name:⁶Among whom are ye also the called of Jesus Christ:⁷To all that be in Rome, beloved of God, called to be saints: Grace to you and peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.⁸First, I thank my God through Jesus Christ for you all, that your faith is spoken of throughout the whole world.⁹For God is my witness, whom I serve with my spirit in the gospel of his Son, that without ceasing I make mention of you always in my prayers¹⁰Making request, if by any means now at length I might have a prosperous journey by the will of God to come unto you.¹¹For I long to see you, that I may impart unto you some spiritual gift, to the end ye may be established¹²That is, that I may be comforted together with you by the mutual faith both of you and me.¹³Now I would not have you ignorant, brethren, that oftentimes I purposed to come unto you, (but was let hitherto,) that I might have some fruit among you also, even as among other Gentiles.¹⁴I am debtor both to the Greeks, and to the Barbarians both to the wise, and to the unwise.¹⁵So, as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the gospel to you that are at Rome also.¹⁶For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth to the Jew first, and also to the Greek.¹⁷For therein is the righteousness of God revealed from faith to faith: as it is written, The just shall live by faith.¹⁸For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who hold the truth in unrighteousness¹⁹Because that which may be known of God is manifest in them for God hath shewed it unto them.²⁰For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead so that they are without excuse:²¹Because that, when they knew God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankful but became vain in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened.²²Professing themselves to be wise, they became fools,²³And changed the glory of the uncorruptible God into an image made like to corruptible man, and to birds, and fourfooted beasts, and creeping things.²⁴Wherefore God also gave them up to uncleanness through the lusts of their own hearts, to dishonour their own bodies between themselves:²⁵Who changed the truth of God into a lie, and worshipped and served the creature more than the Creator, who is blessed for ever. Amen.²⁶For this cause God gave them up unto vile affections: for even their women did change the natural use into that which is against nature:²⁷And likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust one toward another men with men working that which is unseemly, and receiving in themselves that recompence of their error which was meet.²⁸And even as they did not like to retain God in their knowledge, God gave them over to a reprobate mind, to do those things which are not convenient²⁹Being filled with all unrighteousness, fornication, wickedness, covetousness, maliciousness full of envy, murder, debate, deceit, malignity whisperers,³⁰Backbiters, haters of God, spiteful, proud, boasters, inventors of evil things, disobedient to parents,³¹Without understanding, covenantbreakers, without natural affection, implacable, unmerciful:³²Who knowing the judgment of God, that they which commit such things are worthy of death, not only do the same, but have pleasure in them that do them.

CHAPTER 2 ¹Therefore thou art inexcusable, O man, whosoever thou art that judgest: for wherein thou judgest another, thou condemnest thyself for thou that judgest doest the same things.²But we are sure that the judgment of God is according to truth against them which commit such things.³And thinkest thou this, O man, that judgest them which do such things, and doest the same, that thou shalt escape the judgment of God?⁴Or despisest thou the riches of his goodness and forbearance and longsuffering not knowing that the goodness of God leadeth thee to repentance?⁵But after thy hardness and impenitent heart treasurest up unto thyself wrath against the day of wrath and revelation of the righteous judgment of God⁶Who will render to every man according to his deeds:⁷To them who by patient continuance in well doing seek for glory and honour and immortality, eternal life:⁸But unto them that are contentious, and do not obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness, indignation and wrath,⁹Tribulation and anguish, upon every soul of man that doeth evil, of the Jew first, and also of the Gentile¹⁰But glory, honour, and peace, to every man that worketh good, to the Jew first, and also to the Gentile:¹¹For there is no respect of persons with God.¹²For as many as have sinned without law shall also perish without law: and as many as have sinned in the law shall be judged by the law¹³(For not the hearers of the law are just before God, but the doers of the law shall be justified.¹⁴For when the Gentiles, which have not the law, do by nature the things contained in the law, these, having not the law, are a law unto themselves:¹⁵Which shew the work of the law written in their hearts, their conscience also bearing witness, and their thoughts the mean while accusing or else excusing one another)¹⁶In the day when God shall judge the secrets of men by Jesus Christ according to my gospel.¹⁷Behold, thou art called a Jew, and retest in the law, and makest thy boast of God,¹⁸And knowest his will, and approvest the things that are more excellent, being instructed out of the law¹⁹And art confident that thou thyself art a guide of the blind, a light of them which are in darkness,²⁰An instructor of the foolish, a teacher of babes, which hast the form of knowledge and of the truth in the law.²¹Thou therefore which teachest another, teachest thou not thyself? thou that preacheſt a man ſhould not ſteal, doſt thou ſteal?²² Thou that ſayeſt a man ſhould not commit adultery, doſt thou commit adultery? thou that abhorreſt idols, doſt thou commit ſacrilege?²³ Thou that makeſt thy boaſt of the law, through breaking the law diſhonoureſt thou God?²⁴ For the name of God is blaſphemed among the Gentiles through you, as it is written.²⁵ For circumciſion verily profiteth, if thou keep the law: but if thou be a breaker of the law, thy circumciſion is made uncircumciſion.²⁶ Therefore if the uncircumciſion keep the righteousneſſe of the law, ſhall not his uncircumciſion be counted for circumciſion?²⁷ And ſhall not uncircumciſion which is by nature, if it fulfil the law, judge thee, who by the letter and circumciſion doſt tranſgreſſe the law?²⁸ For he is not a Jew, which is one outwardly neither is that circumciſion, which is outward in the fleſh:²⁹ But he is a Jew, which is one inwardly and circumciſion is that of the heart, in the ſpirit, and not in the letter whoſe praiſe is not of men, but of God.

CHAPTER 3 ¹What advantage then hath the Jew? or what profit is there of circumciſion?² Much every way: chiefly, becauſe that unto them were committed the oracles of God.³ For what if ſome did not believe? ſhall their unbelief make the faith of God without effect?⁴ God forbid: yea, let God be true, but every man a liar as it is written, That thou mighteſt be juſtified in thy ſayings, and mighteſt overcome when thou art judged.⁵ But if our unrighteouſneſſe commend the righteousneſſe of God, what ſhall we ſay? Is God unrighteous who taketh vengeance? (I ſpeak as a man)⁶ God forbid: for then how ſhall God judge the world?⁷ For if the truth of God hath more abounded through my lie unto his glory why yet am I alſo judged as a ſinner?⁸ And not rather, (as we be ſlanderouſly reported, and as ſome affirm that we ſay,) Let us do evil, that good may come? whoſe damnation is juſt.⁹ What then? are we better than they? No, in no wiſe: for we have before proved both Jews and Gentiles, that they are all under ſin¹⁰ As it is written, There is none righteous, no, not one:¹¹ There is none that underſtandeth, there is none that ſeeketh after God.¹² They are all gone out of the way, they are together become unprofitable there is none that doeth good, no, not one.¹³ Their throat is an open ſepulchre with their tongues they have uſed deceit the poiſon of

asps is under their lips:¹⁴Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness:¹⁵Their feet are swift to shed blood:¹⁶Destruction and misery are in their ways:¹⁷And the way of peace have they not known:¹⁸There is no fear of God before their eyes.¹⁹Now we know that what things soever the law saith, it saith to them who are under the law: that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world may become guilty before God.²⁰Therefore by the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight: for by the law is the knowledge of sin.²¹But now the righteousness of God without the law is manifested, being witnessed by the law and the prophets²²Even the righteousness of God which is by faith of Jesus Christ unto all and upon all them that believe: for there is no difference.²³For all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God²⁴Being justified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus:²⁵Whom God hath set forth to be a propitiation through faith in his blood, to declare his righteousness for the remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God²⁶To declare, I say, at this time his righteousness: that he might be just, and the justifier of him which believeth in Jesus.²⁷Where is boasting then? It is excluded. By what law? of works? Nay: but by the law of faith.²⁸Therefore we conclude that a man is justified by faith without the deeds of the law.²⁹Is he the God of the Jews only? is he not also of the Gentiles? Yes, of the Gentiles also:³⁰Seeing it is one God, which shall justify the circumcision by faith, and uncircumcision through faith.³¹Do we then make void the law through faith? God forbid: yea, we establish the law.

CHAPTER 4 ¹What shall we say then that Abraham our father, as pertaining to the flesh, hath found?²For if Abraham were justified by works, he hath whereof to glory but not before God.³For what saith the scripture? Abraham believed God, and it was counted unto him for righteousness.⁴Now to him that worketh is the reward not reckoned of grace, but of debt.⁵But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness.⁶Even as David also describeth the blessedness of the man, unto whom God imputeth righteousness without works,⁷Saying, Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sins are covered.⁸Blessed is the man to whom the Lord will not impute sin.⁹Cometh this blessedness then upon the circumcision only, or upon the uncircumcision also? for we say that faith was reckoned to Abraham for righteousness.¹⁰How was it then reckoned? when he was in circumcision, or in uncircumcision? Not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision.¹¹And he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had yet being uncircumcised: that he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be not circumcised that righteousness might be imputed unto them also:¹²And the father of circumcision to them who are not of the circumcision only, but who also walk in the steps of that faith of our father Abraham, which he had being yet uncircumcised.¹³For the promise, that he should be the heir of the world, was not to Abraham, or to his seed, through the law, but through the righteousness of faith.¹⁴For if they which are of the law be heirs, faith is made void, and the promise made of none effect:¹⁵Because the law worketh wrath: for where no law is, there is no transgression.¹⁶Therefore it is of faith, that it might be by grace to the end the promise might be sure to all the seed not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham who is the father of us all,¹⁷(As it is written, I have made thee a father of many nations,) before him whom he believed, even God, who quickeneth the dead, and calleth those things which be not as though they were.¹⁸Who against hope believed in hope, that he might become the father of many nations according to that which was spoken, So shall thy seed be.¹⁹And being not weak in faith, he considered not his own body now dead, when he was about an hundred years old, neither yet the deadness of Sara's womb:²⁰He staggered not at the promise of God through unbelief but was strong in faith, giving glory to God²¹And being fully persuaded that, what he had promised, he was able also to perform.²²And therefore it was imputed to him for righteousness.²³Now it was not written for his sake alone, that it was imputed to him²⁴But for us also, to whom it shall be imputed, if we believe on him that raised up Jesus our Lord from the dead²⁵Who was delivered for our offences, and was raised again for our justification.

CHAPTER 5 ¹Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ:²By whom also we have access by faith into this grace wherein we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of God.³And not only so, but we glory in tribulations also: knowing that tribulation worketh patience⁴And patience, experience and experience, hope:⁵And hope maketh not ashamed because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost which is given unto us.⁶For when we were yet without strength, in due time Christ died for the ungodly.⁷For scarcely for a righteous man will one die: yet peradventure for a good man some would even dare to die.⁸But God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us.⁹Much more then, being now justified by his blood, we shall be saved from wrath through him.¹⁰For if, when we were enemies, we were reconciled to God by the death of his Son, much more, being reconciled, we shall be saved by his life.¹¹And not only so, but we also joy in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom we have now received the atonement.¹²Wherefore, as by one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin and so death passed upon all men, for that all have sinned:¹³(For until the law sin was in the world: but sin is not imputed when there is no law.¹⁴Nevertheless death reigned from Adam to Moses, even over them that had not sinned after the similitude of Adam's transgression, who is the figure of him that was to come.¹⁵But not as the offence, so also is the free gift. For if through the offence of one many be dead, much more the grace of God, and the gift by grace, which is by one man, Jesus Christ, hath abounded unto many.¹⁶And not as it was by one that sinned, so is the gift: for the judgment was by one to condemnation, but the free gift is of many offences unto justification.¹⁷For if by one man's offence death reigned by one much more they which receive abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousness shall reign in life by one, Jesus Christ.)¹⁸Therefore as by the offence of one judgment came upon all men to condemnation even so by the righteousness of one the free gift came upon all men unto justification of life.¹⁹For as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners, so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous.²⁰Moreover the law entered, that the offence might abound. But where sin abounded, grace did much more abound:²¹That as sin hath reigned unto death, even so might grace reign through righteousness unto eternal life by Jesus Christ our Lord.

CHAPTER 6 ¹What shall we say then? Shall we continue in sin, that grace may abound?²God forbid. How shall we, that are dead to sin, live any longer therein?³Know ye not, that so many of us as were baptized into Jesus Christ were baptized into his death?⁴Therefore we are buried with him by baptism into death: that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life.⁵For if we have been planted together in the likeness of his death, we shall be also in the likeness of his resurrection:⁶Knowing this, that our old man is crucified with him, that the body of sin might be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serve sin.⁷For he that is dead is freed from sin.⁸Now if we be dead with Christ, we believe that we shall also live with him:⁹Knowing that Christ being raised from the dead dieth no more death hath no more dominion over him.¹⁰For in that he died, he died unto sin once: but in that he liveth, he liveth unto God.¹¹Likewise reckon ye also yourselves to be dead indeed unto sin, but alive unto God through Jesus Christ our Lord.¹²Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal body, that ye should obey it in the lusts thereof.¹³Neither yield ye your members as instruments of unrighteousness unto sin: but yield yourselves unto God, as those that are alive from the dead, and your members as instruments of righteousness unto God.¹⁴For sin shall not have dominion over you: for ye are not under the law, but under grace.¹⁵What then? shall we sin, because we are not under the law, but under grace? God forbid.¹⁶Know ye not, that to whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey, his servants ye are to whom ye obey whether of sin unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness?¹⁷But God be thanked, that ye were the servants of sin, but ye have obeyed from the heart that form of doctrine which was delivered you.¹⁸Being then made free from sin, ye became the servants of righteousness.¹⁹I speak after the manner of men because of the infirmity of your flesh: for as ye have yielded your members servants to uncleanness and to iniquity unto iniquity even so now yield your members servants to righteousness unto holiness.²⁰For when ye were the servants of sin, ye were free from righteousness.²¹What fruit had ye then in those things whereof ye are now ashamed? for the end of those things is death.²²But now being made free from sin, and become servants to God, ye have your fruit unto holiness, and the end everlasting life.²³For the wages of sin is death but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

CHAPTER 7 ¹Know ye not, brethren, (for I speak to them that know the law,) how that the law hath dominion over a man as long as he liveth?²For the woman which hath an husband is bound by the law to her husband so long as he liveth but if the husband be dead, she is loosed from the law of her husband.³So then if, while her husband liveth, she be married to another man, she shall be called an adulteress: but if her husband be dead, she is free from that law so that she is no adulteress, though she be married to another man.⁴Wherefore, my brethren, ye also are become dead to the law by the body of Christ that ye should be married to another, even to him who is raised from the dead, that we should bring forth fruit unto God.⁵For when we were in the flesh, the motions of sins, which were by the law, did work in our members to bring forth fruit unto death.⁶But now we are delivered from the law, that being dead wherein we were held that we should serve in newness of spirit, and not in the oldness of the letter.⁷What shall we say then? Is the law sin? God forbid. Nay, I had not known sin, but by the law: for I had not known lust, except the law had said, Thou shalt not covet.⁸But sin, taking occasion by the commandment, wrought in me all manner of concupiscence. For without the law sin was dead.⁹For I was alive without the law once: but when the commandment came, sin revived, and I died.¹⁰And the commandment, which was ordained to life, I found to be unto death.¹¹For sin, taking occasion by the commandment, deceived me, and by it slew me.¹²Wherefore the law is holy, and the commandment holy, and just, and good.¹³Was then that which is good made death unto me? God forbid. But sin, that it might appear sin, working death in me by that which is good that sin by the commandment might become exceeding sinful.¹⁴For we know that the law is spiritual: but I am carnal, sold under sin.¹⁵For that which I do I allow not: for what I would, that do I not but what I hate, that do I.¹⁶If then I do that which I would not, I consent unto the law that it is good.¹⁷Now then it is no more I that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me.¹⁸For I know that in me (that is, in my flesh,) dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with me but how to perform that which is good I find not.¹⁹For the good that I would I do not: but the evil which I would not, that I do.²⁰Now if I do that I would not, it is no more I that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me.²¹I find then a law, that, when I would do good, evil is present with me.²²For I delight in the law of God after the inward man:²³But I see another law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of sin which is in my members.²⁴O wretched man that I am! who shall deliver me from the body of this death?²⁵I thank God through Jesus Christ our Lord. So then with the mind I myself serve the law of God but with the flesh the law of sin.

which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.²For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death.³For what the law could not do, in that it was weak through the flesh, God sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh, and for sin, condemned sin in the flesh:⁴That the righteousness of the law might be fulfilled in us, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.⁵For they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh but they that are after the Spirit the things of the Spirit.⁶For to be carnally minded is death but to be spiritually minded is life and peace.⁷Because the carnal mind is enmity against God: for it is not subject to the law of God, neither indeed can be.⁸So then they that are in the flesh cannot please God.⁹But ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you. Now if any man have not the Spirit of Christ, he is none of his.¹⁰And if Christ be in you, the body is dead because of sin but the Spirit is life because of righteousness.¹¹But if the Spirit of him that raised up Jesus from the dead dwell in you, he that raised up Christ from the dead shall also quicken your mortal bodies by his Spirit that dwelleth in you.¹²Therefore, brethren, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live after the flesh.¹³For if ye live after the flesh, ye shall die: but if ye through the Spirit do mortify the deeds of the body, ye shall live.¹⁴For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God.¹⁵For ye have not received the spirit of bondage again to fear but ye have received the Spirit of adoption, whereby we cry, Abba, Father.¹⁶The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God:¹⁷And if children, then heirs heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together.¹⁸For I reckon that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us.¹⁹For the earnest expectation of the creature waiteth for the manifestation of the sons of God.²⁰For the creature was made subject to vanity, not willingly, but by reason of him who hath subjected the same in hope,²¹Because the creature itself also shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption into the glorious liberty of the children of God.²²For we know that the whole creation groaneth and travaileth in pain together until now.²³And not only they, but ourselves also, which have the firstfruits of the Spirit, even we ourselves groan within ourselves, waiting for the adoption, to wit, the redemption of our body.²⁴For we are saved by hope: but hope that is seen is not hope: for what a man seeth, why doth he yet hope for?²⁵But if we hope for that we see not, then do we with patience wait for it.²⁶Likewise the Spirit also helpeth our infirmities: for we know not what we should pray for as we ought: but the Spirit itself maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered.²⁷And he that searcheth the hearts knoweth what is the mind of the Spirit, because he maketh intercession for the saints according to the will of God.²⁸And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose.²⁹For whom he did foreknow, he also did predestinate to be conformed to the image of his Son, that he might be the firstborn among many brethren.³⁰Moreover whom he did predestinate, them he also called: and whom he called, them he also justified: and whom he justified, them he also glorified.³¹What shall we then say to these things? If God be for us, who can be against us?³²He that spared not his own Son, but delivered him up for us all, how shall he not with him also freely give us all things?³³Who shall lay any thing to the charge of God's elect? It is God that justifieth.³⁴Who is he that condemneth? It is Christ that died, yea rather, that is risen again, who is even at the right hand of God, who also maketh intercession for us.³⁵Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword?³⁶As it is written, For thy sake we are killed all the day long we are accounted as sheep for the slaughter.³⁷Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerors through him that loved us.³⁸For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come,³⁹Nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

heaviness and continual sorrow in my heart.³For I could wish that myself were accursed from Christ for my brethren, my kinsmen according to the flesh:⁴Who are Israelites to whom pertaineth the adoption, and the glory, and the covenants, and the giving of the law, and the service of God, and the promises⁵Whose are the fathers, and of whom as concerning the flesh Christ came, who is over all, God blessed for ever. Amen.⁶Not as though the word of God hath taken none effect. For they are not all Israel, which are of Israel:⁷Neither, because they are the seed of Abraham, are they all children: but, In Isaac shall thy seed be called.⁸That is, They which are the children of the flesh, these are not the children of God: but the children of the promise are counted for the seed.⁹For this is the word of promise, At this time will I come, and Sara shall have a son.¹⁰And not only this but when Rebecca also had conceived by one, even by our father Isaac¹¹(For the children being not yet born, neither having done any good or evil, that the purpose of God according to election might stand, not of works, but of him that calleth)¹²It was said unto her, The elder shall serve the younger.¹³As it is written, Jacob have I loved, but Esau have I hated.¹⁴What shall we say then? Is there unrighteousness with God? God forbid.¹⁵For he saith to Moses, I will have mercy on whom I will have mercy, and I will have compassion on whom I will have compassion.¹⁶So then it is not of him that willeth, nor of him that runneth, but of God that sheweth mercy.¹⁷For the scripture saith unto Pharaoh, Even for this same purpose have I raised thee up, that I might shew my power in thee, and that my name might be declared throughout all the earth.¹⁸Therefore hath he mercy on whom he will have mercy, and whom he will he hardeneth.¹⁹Thou wilt say then unto me, Why doth he yet find fault? For who hath resisted his will?²⁰Nay but, O man, who art thou that repliest against God? Shall the thing formed say to him that formed it, Why hast thou made me thus?²¹Hath not the potter power over the clay, of the same lump to make one vessel unto honour, and another unto dishonour?²²What if God, willing to shew his wrath, and to make his power known, endured with much longsuffering the vessels of wrath fitted to destruction:²³And that he might make known the riches of his glory on the vessels of mercy, which he had afore prepared unto glory,²⁴Even us, whom he hath called, not of the Jews only, but also of the Gentiles?²⁵As he saith also in Osee, I will call them my people, which were not my people and her beloved, which was not beloved.²⁶And it shall come to pass, that in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people there shall they be called the children of the living God.²⁷Esaias also crieth concerning Israel, Though the number of the children of Israel be as the sand of the sea, a remnant shall be saved:²⁸For he will finish the work, and cut it short in righteousness: because a short work will the Lord make upon the earth.²⁹And as Esaias said before, Except the Lord of Sabaoth had left us a seed, we had been as Sodoma, and been made like unto Gomorrha.³⁰What shall we say then? That the Gentiles, which followed not after righteousness, have attained to righteousness, even the righteousness which is of faith.³¹But Israel, which followed after the law of righteousness, hath not attained to the law of righteousness.³²Wherefore? Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by the works of the law. For they stumbled at that stumblingstone³³As it is written, Behold, I lay in Sion a stumblingstone and rock of offence: and whosoever believeth on him shall not be ashamed.

CHAPTER 10 ¹Brethren, my heart's desire and prayer to God for Israel is, that they might be saved.²For I bear them record that they have a zeal of God, but not according to knowledge.³For they being ignorant of God's righteousness, and going about to establish their own righteousness, have not submitted themselves unto the righteousness of God.⁴For Christ is the end of the law for righteousness to every one that believeth.⁵For Moses describeth the righteousness which is of the law, That the man which doeth those things shall live by them.⁶But the righteousness which is of faith speaketh on this wise, Say not in thine heart, Who shall ascend into heaven? (that is, to bring Christ down from above:)⁷Or, Who shall descend into the deep? (that is, to bring up Christ again from the dead.)⁸But what saith it? The word is nigh thee, even in thy mouth, and in thy heart: that is, the word of faith, which we preach⁹That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved.¹⁰For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation.¹¹For the scripture saith, Whosoever believeth on him shall not be ashamed.¹²For there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek: for the same Lord over all is rich unto all that call upon him.¹³For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved.¹⁴How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe in him of whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear without a preacher?¹⁵And how shall they preach, except they be sent? as it is written, How beautiful are the feet of them that preach the gospel of peace, and bring glad tidings of good things!¹⁶But they have not all obeyed the gospel. For Esaias saith, Lord, who hath believed our report?¹⁷So then faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God.¹⁸But I say, Have they not heard? Yes verily, their sound went into all the earth, and their words unto the ends of the world.¹⁹But I say, Did not Israel know? First Moses saith, I will provoke you to jealousy by them that are no people, and by a foolish nation I will anger you.²⁰But Esaias is very bold, and saith, I was found of them that sought me not I was made manifest unto them that asked not after me.²¹But to Israel he saith, All day long I have stretched forth my hands unto a disobedient and gainsaying people.

CHAPTER 11 ¹I say then, Hath God cast away his people? God forbid. For I also am an Israelite, of the seed of Abraham, of the tribe of Benjamin.²God hath not cast away his people which he foreknew. Wot ye not what the scripture saith of Elias? how he maketh intercession to God against Israel, saying,³Lord, they have killed thy prophets, and digged down thine altars and I am left alone, and they seek my life.⁴But what saith the answer of God unto him? I have reserved to myself seven thousand men, who have not bowed the knee to the image of Baal.⁵Even so then at this present time also there is a remnant according to the election of grace.⁶And if by grace, then is it no more of works: otherwise grace is no more grace. But if it be of works, then is it no more grace: otherwise work is no more work.⁷What then? Israel hath not obtained that which he seeketh for but the election hath obtained it, and the rest were blinded⁸(According as it is written, God hath given them the spirit of slumber, eyes that they should not see, and ears that they should not hear) unto this day.⁹And David saith, Let their table be made a snare, and a trap, and a stumbling block, and a recompence unto them:¹⁰Let their eyes be darkened, that they may not see, and bow down their back alway.¹¹I say then, Have they stumbled that they should fall? God forbid: but rather through their fall salvation is come unto the Gentiles, for to provoke them to jealousy.¹²Now if the fall of them be the riches of the world, and the diminishing of them the riches of the Gentiles how much more their fulness?¹³For I speak to you Gentiles, inasmuch as I am the apostle of the Gentiles, I magnify mine office:¹⁴If by any means I may provoke to emulation them which are my flesh, and might save some of them.¹⁵For if the casting away of them be the reconciling of the world, what shall the receiving of them be, but life from the dead?¹⁶For if the firstfruit be holy, the lump is also holy: and if the root be holy, so are the branches.¹⁷And if some of the branches be broken off, and thou, being a wild olive tree, wert grafted in among them, and with them partakest of the root and fatness of the olive tree¹⁸Boast not against the branches. But if thou boast, thou bearest not the root, but the root thee.¹⁹Thou wilt say then, The branches were broken off, that I might be grafted in.²⁰Well because of unbelief they were broken off, and thou standest by faith. Be not highminded, but fear:²¹For if God spared not the natural branches, take heed lest he also spare not thee.²²Behold therefore the goodness and severity of God: on them which fell, severity but toward thee, goodness, if thou continue in his goodness: otherwise thou also shalt be cut off.²³And they also, if they abide not still in unbelief, shall be grafted in: for God is able to graft them in again.²⁴For if thou wert cut out of the olive tree which is wild by nature, and wert grafted contrary to nature into a good olive tree: how much more shall these, which be the natural branches, be grafted into their own olive tree?²⁵For I would not, brethren, that ye should be ignorant of this mystery, lest ye should be wise in your own conceits that blindness in part is happened to Israel, until the fulness of the Gentiles be come in.²⁶And so all Israel shall be saved: as it is written, There shall come out of Sion the Deliverer, and shall turn away ungodliness from Jacob:²⁷For this is my covenant unto them, when I shall take away their sins.²⁸As concerning the gospel, they are enemies for your sakes: but as touching the election, they are beloved for the fathers' sakes.²⁹For the gifts and calling of God are without repentance.³⁰For as ye in times past have not believed God, yet have now obtained mercy through their unbelief:³¹Even so have these also now not believed, that through your mercy they also may obtain mercy.³²For God hath concluded them all in unbelief, that he might have mercy upon all.³³O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out!³⁴For who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counsellor?³⁵Or who hath first given to him, and it shall be recompensed unto him again?³⁶For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever. Amen.

CHAPTER 12 ¹I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service.²And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God.³For I say, through the grace given unto me, to every man that is among you, not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think but to think soberly, according as God hath dealt to every man the measure of faith.⁴For as we have many members in one body, and all members have not the same office:⁵So we, being many, are one body in Christ, and every one members one of another.⁶Having then gifts differing according to the grace that is given to us, whether prophecy, let us prophesy according to the proportion of faith⁷Or ministry, let us wait on our ministering: or he that teacheth, on teaching⁸Or he that exhorteth, on exhortation: he that giveth, let him do it with simplicity he that ruleth, with diligence he that sheweth mercy, with cheerfulness.⁹Let love be without dissimulation. Abhor that which is evil cleave to that which is good.¹⁰Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love in honour preferring one another¹¹Not slothful in business fervent in spirit serving the Lord¹²Rejoicing in hope patient in tribulation continuing instant in prayer¹³Distributing to the necessity of saints given to hospitality.¹⁴Bless them which persecute you: bless, and curse not.¹⁵Rejoice with them that do rejoice, and weep with them that weep.¹⁶Be of the same mind one toward another. Mind not high things, but condescend to men of low estate. Be not wise in your own conceits.¹⁷Recompense to no man evil for evil. Provide things honest in the sight of all men.¹⁸If it be possible, as much as lieth in you, live peaceably with all men.¹⁹Dearly beloved, avenge not yourselves, but rather give place unto wrath: for it is written, Vengeance is mine I will repay, saith the Lord.²⁰Therefore if thine enemy hunger, feed him if he thirst, give him drink: for in so doing thou shalt heap coals of fire on his head.²¹Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good.

CHAPTER 13 ¹Let every soul be subject unto the higher powers. For there is no power but of God: the powers that be are ordained of God.²Whosoever therefore resisteth the power, resisteth the ordinance of God: and they that resist shall receive to themselves damnation.³For rulers are not a terror to good works, but to the evil. Wilt thou then not be afraid of the power? do that which is good, and thou shalt have praise of the same.⁴For he is the minister of God to thee for good. But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid for he beareth not the sword in vain: for he is the minister of God, a revenger to execute wrath upon him that doeth evil.⁵Wherefore ye must needs be subject, not only for wrath, but also for conscience sake.⁶For for this cause pay ye tribute also: for they are God's ministers, attending continually upon this very thing.⁷Render therefore to all their dues: tribute to whom tribute is due custom to whom custom fear to whom fear honour to whom honour.⁸Owe no man any thing, but to love one another: for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law.⁹For this, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, Thou shalt not covet and if there be any other commandment, it is briefly comprehended in this saying, namely, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.¹⁰Love worketh no ill to his neighbour: therefore love is the fulfilling of the law.¹¹And that, knowing the time, that now it is high time to awake out of sleep: for now is our salvation nearer than when we believed.¹²The night is far spent, the day is at hand: let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armour of light.¹³Let us walk honestly, as in the day not in rioting and drunkenness, not in chambering and wantonness, not in strife and envying.¹⁴But put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ, and make not provision for the flesh, to fulfil the lusts thereof.

CHAPTER 14 ¹Him that is weak in the faith receive ye, but not to doubtful disputations.²For one believeth that he may eat all things: another, who is weak, eateth herbs.³Let not him that eateth despise him that eateth not and let not him which eateth not judge him that eateth: for God hath received him.⁴Who art thou that judgest another man's servant? to his own master he standeth or falleth. Yea, he shall be holden up: for God is able to make him stand.⁵One man esteemeth one day above another: another esteemeth every day alike. Let every man be fully persuaded in his own mind.⁶He that regardeth the day, regardeth it unto the Lord and he that regardeth not the day, to the Lord he doth not regard it. He that eateth, eateth to the Lord, for he giveth God thanks and he that eateth not, to the Lord he eateth not, and giveth God thanks.⁷For none of us liveth to himself, and no man dieth to himself.⁸For whether we live, we live unto the Lord and whether we die, we die unto the Lord: whether we live therefore, or die, we are the Lord's.⁹For to this end Christ both died, and rose, and revived, that he might be Lord both of the dead and living.¹⁰But why dost thou judge thy brother? or why dost thou set at nought thy brother? for we shall all stand before the judgment seat of Christ.¹¹For it is written, As I live, saith the Lord, every knee shall bow to me, and every tongue shall confess to God.¹²So then every one of us shall give account of himself to God.¹³Let us not therefore judge one another any more: but judge this rather, that no man put a stumblingblock or an occasion to fall in his brother's way.¹⁴I know, and am persuaded by the Lord Jesus, that there is nothing unclean of itself: but to him that esteemeth any thing to be unclean, to him it is unclean.¹⁵But if thy brother be grieved with thy meat, now walkest thou not charitably. Destroy not him with thy meat, for whom Christ died.¹⁶Let not then your good be evil spoken of:¹⁷For the kingdom of God is not meat and drink but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost.¹⁸For he that in these things serveth Christ is acceptable to God, and approved of men.¹⁹Let us therefore follow after the things which make for peace, and things wherewith one may edify another.²⁰For meat destroy not the work of God. All things indeed are pure but it is evil for that man who eateth with offence.²¹It is good neither to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor any thing whereby thy brother stumbleth, or is offended, or is made weak.²²Hast thou faith? have it to thyself before God. Happy is he that condemneth not himself in that thing which he alloweth.²³And he that doubteth is damned if he eat, because he eateth not of faith: for whatsoever is not of faith is sin.

CHAPTER 15 ¹We then that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves.²Let every one of us please his neighbour for his good to edification.³For even Christ pleased not himself but, as it is written, The reproaches of them that reproached thee fell on me.⁴For whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope.⁵Now the God of patience and consolation grant you to be likeminded one toward another according to Christ Jesus:⁶That ye may with one mind and one mouth glorify God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ.⁷Wherefore receive ye one another, as Christ also received us to the glory of God.⁸Now I say that Jesus Christ was a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, to confirm the promises made unto the fathers:⁹And that the Gentiles might glorify God for his mercy as it is written, For this cause I will confess to thee among the Gentiles, and sing unto thy name.¹⁰And again he saith, Rejoice, ye Gentiles, with his people.¹¹And again, Praise the Lord, all ye Gentiles and laud him, all ye people.¹²And again, Esaias saith, There shall be a root of Jesse, and he that shall rise to reign over the Gentiles in him shall the Gentiles trust.¹³Now the God of hope fill you with all joy and peace in believing, that ye may abound in hope, through the power of the Holy Ghost.¹⁴And I myself also am persuaded of you, my brethren, that ye also are full of goodness, filled with all knowledge, able also to admonish one another.¹⁵Nevertheless, brethren, I have written the more boldly unto you in some sort, as putting you in mind, because of the grace that is given to me of God,¹⁶That I should be the minister of Jesus Christ to the Gentiles, ministering the gospel of God, that the offering up of the Gentiles might be acceptable, being sanctified by the Holy Ghost.¹⁷I have therefore whereof I may glory through Jesus Christ in those things which pertain to God.¹⁸For I will not dare to speak of any of those things which Christ hath not wrought by me, to make the Gentiles obedient, by word and deed,¹⁹Through mighty signs and wonders, by the power of the Spirit of God so that from Jerusalem, and round about unto Illyricum, I have fully preached the gospel of Christ.²⁰Yea, so have I strived to preach the gospel, not where Christ was named, lest I should build upon another man's foundation:²¹But as it is written, To whom he was not spoken of, they shall see: and they that have not heard shall understand.²²For which cause also I have been much hindered from coming to you.²³But now having no more place in these parts, and having a great desire these many years to come unto you²⁴Whensoever I take my journey into Spain, I will come to you: for I trust to see you in my journey, and to be brought on my way thitherward by you, if first I be somewhat filled with your company.²⁵But now I go unto Jerusalem to minister unto the saints.²⁶For it hath pleased them of Macedonia and Achaia to make a certain contribution for the poor saints which are at Jerusalem.²⁷It hath pleased them verily and their debtors they are. For if the Gentiles have been made partakers of their spiritual things, their duty is also to minister unto them in carnal things.²⁸When therefore I have performed this, and have sealed to them this fruit, I will come by you into Spain.²⁹And I am sure that, when I come unto you, I shall come in the fulness of the blessing of the gospel of Christ.³⁰Now I beseech you, brethren, for the Lord Jesus Christ's sake, and for the love of the Spirit, that ye strive together with me in your prayers to God for me³¹That I may be delivered from them that do not believe in Judaea and that my service which I have for Jerusalem may be accepted of the saints³²That I may come unto you with joy by the will of God, and may with you be refreshed.³³Now the God of peace be with you all. Amen.

CHAPTER 16 ¹I commend unto you Phebe our sister, which is a servant of the church which is at Cenchrea:²That ye receive her in the Lord, as becometh saints, and that ye assist her in whatsoever business she hath need of you: for she hath been a succourer of many, and of myself also.³Greet Priscilla and Aquila my helpers in Christ Jesus:⁴Who have for my life laid down their own necks: unto whom not only I give thanks, but also all the churches of the Gentiles.⁵Likewise greet the church that is in their house. Salute my wellbeloved Epaphroditus, who is the firstfruits of Achaia unto Christ.⁶Greet Mary, who bestowed much labour on us.⁷Salute Andronicus and Junia, my kinsmen, and my fellowprisoners, who are of note among the apostles, who also were in Christ before me.⁸Greet Amplias my beloved in the Lord.⁹Salute Urbane, our helper in Christ, and Stachys my beloved.¹⁰Salute Apelles approved in Christ. Salute them which are of Aristobulus' household.¹¹Salute Herodion my kinsman. Greet them that be of the household of Narcissus, which are in the Lord.¹² Salute Tryphena and Tryphosa, who labour in the Lord. Salute the beloved Persis, which laboured much in the Lord.¹³ Salute Rufus chosen in the Lord, and his mother and mine.¹⁴ Salute Asyncritus, Phlegon, Hermas, Patrobas, Hermes, and the brethren which are with them.¹⁵ Salute Philologus, and Julia, Nereus, and his sister, and Olympas, and all the saints which are with them.¹⁶ Salute one another with an holy kiss. The churches of Christ salute you.¹⁷ Now I beseech you, brethren, mark them which cause divisions and offences contrary to the doctrine which ye have learned and avoid them.¹⁸ For they that are such serve not our Lord Jesus Christ, but their own belly and by good words and fair speeches deceive the hearts of the simple.¹⁹ For your obedience is come abroad unto all men. I am glad therefore on your behalf: but yet I would have you wise unto that which is good, and simple concerning evil.²⁰ And the God of peace shall bruise Satan under your feet shortly. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. Amen.²¹ Timotheus my workfellow, and Lucius, and Jason, and Sosipater, my kinsmen, salute you.²² I Tertius, who wrote this epistle, salute you in the Lord.²³ Gaius mine host, and of the whole church, saluteth you. Erastus the chamberlain of the city saluteth you, and Quartus a brother.²⁴ The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.²⁵ Now to him that is of power to stablish you according to my gospel, and the preaching of Jesus Christ, according to the revelation of the mystery, which was kept secret since the world began,²⁶ But now is made manifest, and by the scriptures of the prophets, according to the commandment of the everlasting God, made known to all nations for the obedience of faith:²⁷ To God only wise, be glory through Jesus Christ for ever. Amen.

CHAPTER 1 ¹Paul, called to be an apostle of Jesus Christ through the will of God, and Sosthenes our brother,²Unto the church of God which is at Corinth, to them that are sanctified in Christ Jesus, called to be saints, with all that in every place call upon the name of Jesus Christ our Lord, both theirs and ours:³Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.⁴I thank my God always on your behalf, for the grace of God which is given you by Jesus Christ⁵That in every thing ye are enriched by him, in all utterance, and in all knowledge⁶Even as the testimony of Christ was confirmed in you:⁷So that ye come behind in no gift waiting for the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ:⁸Who shall also confirm you unto the end, that ye may be blameless in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ.⁹God is faithful, by whom ye were called unto the fellowship of his Son Jesus Christ our Lord.¹⁰Now I beseech you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgment.¹¹For it hath been declared unto me of you, my brethren, by them which are of the house of Chloe, that there are contentions among you.¹²Now this I say, that every one of you saith, I am of Paul and I of Apollos and I of Cephas and I of Christ.¹³Is Christ divided? was Paul crucified for you? or were ye baptized in the name of Paul?¹⁴I thank God that I baptized none of you, but Crispus and Gaius¹⁵Lest any should say that I had baptized in mine own name.¹⁶And I baptized also the household of Stephanas: besides, I know not whether I baptized any other.¹⁷For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the gospel:

not with wisdom of words, lest the cross of Christ should be made of none effect.¹⁸For the preaching of the cross is to them that perish foolishness but unto us which are saved it is the power of God.¹⁹For it is written, I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and will bring to nothing the understanding of the prudent.²⁰Where is the wise? where is the scribe? where is the disputer of this world? hath not God made foolish the wisdom of this world?²¹For after that in the wisdom of God the world by wisdom knew not God, it pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe.²²For the Jews require a sign, and the Greeks seek after wisdom:²³But we preach Christ crucified, unto the Jews a stumblingblock, and unto the Greeks foolishness²⁴But unto them which are called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ the power of God, and the wisdom of God.²⁵Because the foolishness of God is wiser than men and the weakness of God is stronger than men.²⁶For ye see your calling, brethren, how that not many wise men after the flesh, not many mighty, not many noble, are called:²⁷But God hath chosen the foolish things of the world to confound the wise and God hath chosen the weak things of the world to confound the things which are mighty²⁸And base things of the world, and things which are despised, hath God chosen, yea, and things which are not, to bring to nought things that are:²⁹That no flesh should glory in his presence.³⁰But of him are ye in Christ Jesus, who of God is made unto us wisdom, and righteousness, and sanctification, and redemption:³¹That, according as it is written, He that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord.

CHAPTER 2 ¹And I, brethren, when I came to you, came not with excellency of speech or of wisdom, declaring unto you the testimony of God.²For I determined not to know any thing among you, save Jesus Christ, and him crucified.³And I was with you in weakness, and in fear, and in much trembling.⁴And my speech and my preaching was not with enticing words of man's wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power:⁵That your faith should not stand in the wisdom of men, but in the power of God.⁶Howbeit we speak wisdom among them that are perfect: yet not the wisdom of this world, nor of the princes of this world, that come to nought:⁷But we speak the wisdom of God in a mystery, even the hidden wisdom, which God ordained before the world unto our glory:⁸Which none of the princes of this world knew: for had they known it, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory.⁹But as it is written, Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him.¹⁰But God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God.¹¹For what man knoweth the things of a man, save the spirit of man which is in him? even so the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God.¹²Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God.¹³Which things also we speak, not in the words which man's wisdom teacheth, but which the Holy Ghost teacheth comparing spiritual things with spiritual.¹⁴But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned.¹⁵But he that is spiritual judgeth all things, yet he himself is judged of no man.¹⁶For who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he may instruct him? But we have the mind of Christ.

CHAPTER 3 ¹And I, brethren, could not speak unto you as unto spiritual, but as unto carnal, even as unto babes in Christ.²I have fed you with milk, and not with meat: for hitherto ye were not able to bear it, neither yet now are ye able.³For ye are yet carnal: for whereas there is among you envying, and strife, and divisions, are ye not carnal, and walk as men?⁴For while one saith, I am of Paul and another, I am of Apollos are ye not carnal?⁵Who then is Paul, and who is Apollos, but ministers by whom ye believed, even as the Lord gave to every man?⁶I have planted, Apollos watered but God gave the increase.⁷So then neither is he that planteth any thing, neither he that watereth but God that giveth the increase.⁸Now he that planteth and he that watereth are one: and every man shall receive his own reward according to his own labour.⁹For we are labourers together with God: ye are God's husbandry, ye are God's building.¹⁰According to the grace of God which is given unto me, as a wise masterbuilder, I have laid the foundation, and another buildeth thereon. But let every man take heed how he buildeth thereupon.¹¹For other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ.¹²Now if any man build upon this foundation gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, stubble¹³Every man's work shall be made manifest: for the day shall declare it, because it shall be revealed by fire and the fire shall try every man's work of what sort it is.¹⁴If any man's work abide which he hath built thereupon, he shall receive a reward.¹⁵If any man's work shall be burned, he shall suffer loss: but he himself shall be saved yet so as by fire.¹⁶Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you?¹⁷If any man defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy for the temple of God is holy, which temple ye are.¹⁸Let no man deceive himself. If any man among you seemeth to be wise in this world, let him become a fool, that he may be wise.¹⁹For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God. For it is written, He taketh the wise in their own craftiness.²⁰And again, The Lord knoweth the thoughts of the wise, that they are vain.²¹Therefore let no man glory in men. For all things are yours²²Whether Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or the world, or life, or death, or things present, or things to come all are yours²³And ye are Christ's and Christ is God's.

CHAPTER 4 ¹Let a man so account of us, as of the ministers of Christ, and stewards of the mysteries of God.²Moreover it is required in stewards, that a man be found faithful.³But with me it is a very small thing that I should be judged of you, or of man's judgment: yea, I judge not mine own self.⁴For I know nothing by myself yet am I not hereby justified: but he that judgeth me is the Lord.⁵Therefore judge nothing before the time, until the Lord come, who both will bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and will make manifest the counsels of the hearts: and then shall every man have praise of God.⁶And these things, brethren, I have in a figure transferred to myself and to Apollos for your sakes that ye might learn in us not to think of men above that which is written, that no one of you be puffed up for one against another.⁷For who maketh thee to differ from another? and what hast thou that thou didst not receive? now if thou didst receive it, why dost thou glory, as if thou hadst not received it?⁸Now ye are full, now ye are rich, ye have reigned as kings without us: and I would to God ye did reign, that we also might reign with you.⁹For I think that God hath set forth us the apostles last, as it were appointed to death: for we are made a spectacle unto the world, and to angels, and to men.¹⁰We are fools for Christ's sake, but ye are wise in Christ we are weak, but ye are strong ye are honourable, but we are despised.¹¹Even unto this present hour we both hunger, and thirst, and are naked, and are buffeted, and have no certain dwellingplace¹²And labour, working with our own hands: being reviled, we bless being persecuted, we suffer it:¹³Being defamed, we intreat: we are made as the filth of the world, and are the offscouring of all things unto this day.¹⁴I write not these things to shame you, but as my beloved sons I warn you.¹⁵For though ye have ten thousand instructors in Christ, yet have ye not many fathers: for in Christ Jesus I have begotten you through the gospel.¹⁶Wherefore I beseech you, be ye followers of me.¹⁷For this cause have I sent unto you Timotheus, who is my beloved son, and faithful in the Lord, who shall bring you into remembrance of my ways which be in Christ, as I teach every where in every church.¹⁸Now some are puffed up, as though I would not come to you.¹⁹But I will come to you shortly, if the Lord will, and will know, not the speech of them which are puffed up, but the power.²⁰For the kingdom of God is not in word, but in power.²¹What will ye? shall I come unto you with a rod, or in love, and in the spirit of meekness?

CHAPTER 5 ¹It is reported commonly that there is fornication among you, and such fornication as is not so much as named among the Gentiles, that one should have his father's wife.²And ye are puffed up, and have not rather mourned, that he that hath done this deed might be taken away from among you.³For I verily, as absent in body, but present in spirit, have judged already, as though I were present, concerning him that hath so done this deed,⁴In the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, when ye are gathered together, and my spirit, with the power of our Lord Jesus Christ,⁵To deliver such an one unto Satan for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Jesus.⁶Your glorying is not good. Know ye not that a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump?⁷Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened. For even Christ our passover is sacrificed for us:⁸Therefore let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.⁹I wrote unto you in an epistle not to company with fornicators:¹⁰Yet not altogether with the fornicators of this world, or with the covetous, or extortioners, or with idolaters for then must ye needs go out of the world.¹¹But now I have written unto you not to keep company, if any man that is called a brother be a fornicator, or covetous, or an idolater, or a railer, or a drunkard, or an extortioner with such an one no not to eat.¹²For what have I to do to judge them also that are without? do not ye judge them that are within?¹³But them that are without God judgeth. Therefore put away from among yourselves that wicked person.

CHAPTER 6 ¹Dare any of you, having a matter against another, go to law before the unjust, and not before the saints?²Do ye not know that the saints shall judge the world? and if the world shall be judged by you, are ye unworthy to judge the smallest matters?³Know ye not that we shall judge angels? how much more things that pertain to this life?⁴If then ye have judgments of things pertaining to this life, set them to judge who are least esteemed in the church.⁵I speak to your shame. Is it so, that there is not a wise man among you? no, not one that shall be able to judge between his brethren?⁶But brother goeth to law with brother, and that before the unbelievers.⁷Now therefore there is utterly a fault among you, because ye go to law one with another. Why do ye not rather take wrong? why do ye not rather suffer yourselves to be defrauded?⁸Nay, ye do wrong, and defraud, and that your brethren.⁹Know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived: neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with mankind,¹⁰Nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners, shall inherit the kingdom of God.¹¹And such were some of you: but ye are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are justified in the name of the Lord Jesus, and by the Spirit of our God.¹²All things are lawful unto me, but all things are not expedient: all things are lawful for me, but I will not be brought under the power of any.¹³Meats for the belly, and the belly for meats: but God shall destroy both it and them. Now the body is not for fornication, but for the Lord and the Lord for the body.¹⁴And God hath both raised up the Lord, and will also raise up us by his own power.¹⁵Know ye not that your bodies are the members of Christ? shall I then take the members of Christ, and make them the members of an harlot? God forbid.¹⁶What? know ye not that he which is joined to an harlot is one body? for two, saith he, shall be one flesh.¹⁷But he that is joined unto the Lord is one spirit.¹⁸Flee fornication. Every sin that a man doeth is without the body but he that commiteth fornication sinneth against his own body.¹⁹What? know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own?²⁰For ye are bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God's.

CHAPTER 7 ¹Now concerning the things whereof ye wrote unto me: It is good for a man not to touch a woman.²Nevertheless, to avoid fornication, let every man have his own wife, and let every woman have her own husband.³Let the husband render unto the wife due benevolence: and likewise also the wife unto the husband.⁴The wife hath not power of her own body, but the husband: and likewise also the husband hath not power of his own body, but the wife.⁵Defraud ye not one the other, except it be with consent for a time, that ye may give yourselves to fasting and prayer and come together again, that Satan tempt you not for your incontinency.⁶But I speak this by permission, and not of commandment.⁷For I would that all men were even as I myself. But every man hath his proper gift of God, one after this manner, and another after that.⁸I say therefore to the unmarried and widows, It is good for them if they abide even as I.⁹But if they cannot contain, let them marry: for it is better to marry than to burn.¹⁰And unto the married I command, yet not I, but the Lord, Let not the wife depart from her husband:¹¹But and if she depart, let her remain unmarried, or be reconciled to her husband: and let not the husband put away his wife.¹²But to the rest speak I, not the Lord: If any brother hath a wife that believeth not, and she be pleased to dwell with him, let him not put her away.¹³And the woman which hath an husband that believeth not, and if he be pleased to dwell with her, let her not leave him.¹⁴For the unbelieving husband is sanctified by the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified by the husband: else were your children unclean but now are they holy.¹⁵But if the unbelieving depart, let him depart. A brother or a sister is not under bondage in such cases: but God hath called us to peace.¹⁶For what knowest thou, O wife, whether thou shalt save thy husband? or how knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt save thy wife?¹⁷But as God hath distributed to every man, as the Lord hath called every one, so let him walk. And so ordain I in all churches.¹⁸Is any man called being circumcised? let him not become uncircumcised. Is any called in uncircumcision? let him not be circumcised.¹⁹Circumcision is nothing, and uncircumcision is nothing, but the keeping of the commandments of God.²⁰Let every man abide in the same calling wherein he was called.²¹Art thou called being a servant? care not for it: but if thou mayest be made free, use it rather.²²For he that is called in the Lord, being a servant, is the Lord's freeman: likewise also he

that is called, being free, is Christ's servant.²³Ye are bought with a price be not ye the servants of men.²⁴Brethren, let every man, wherein he is called, therein abide with God.²⁵Now concerning virgins I have no commandment of the Lord: yet I give my judgment, as one that hath obtained mercy of the Lord to be faithful.²⁶I suppose therefore that this is good for the present distress, I say, that it is good for a man so to be.²⁷Art thou bound unto a wife? seek not to be loosed. Art thou loosed from a wife? seek not a wife.²⁸But and if thou marry, thou hast not sinned and if a virgin marry, she hath not sinned. Nevertheless such shall have trouble in the flesh: but I spare you.²⁹But this I say, brethren, the time is short: it remaineth, that both they that have wives be as though they had none³⁰And they that weep, as though they wept not and they that rejoice, as though they rejoiced not and they that buy, as though they possessed not³¹And they that use this world, as not abusing it: for the fashion of this world passeth away.³²But I would have you without carefulness. He that is unmarried careth for the things that belong to the Lord, how he may please the Lord:³³But he that is married careth for the things that are of the world, how he may please his wife.³⁴There is difference also between a wife and a virgin. The unmarried woman careth for the things of the Lord, that she may be holy both in body and in spirit: but she that is married careth for the things of the world, how she may please her husband.³⁵And this I speak for your own profit not that I may cast a snare upon you, but for that which is comely, and that ye may attend upon the Lord without distraction.³⁶But if any man think that he behaveth himself uncomely toward his virgin, if she pass the flower of her age, and need so require, let him do what he will, he sinneth not: let them marry.³⁷Nevertheless he that standeth stedfast in his heart, having no necessity, but hath power over his own will, and hath so decreed in his heart that he will keep his virgin, doeth well.³⁸So then he that giveth her in marriage doeth well but he that giveth her not in marriage doeth better.³⁹The wife is bound by the law as long as her husband liveth but if her husband be dead, she is at liberty to be married to whom she will only in the Lord.⁴⁰But she is happier if she so abide, after my judgment: and I think also that I have the Spirit of God.

CHAPTER 8 ¹Now as touching things offered unto idols, we know that we all have knowledge. Knowledge puffeth up, but charity edifieth.²And if any man think that he knoweth anything, he knoweth nothing yet as he ought to know.³But if any man love God, the same is known of him.⁴As concerning therefore the eating of those things that are offered in sacrifice unto idols, we know that an idol is nothing in the world, and that there is none other God but one.⁵For though there be that are called gods, whether in heaven or in earth, (as there be gods many, and lords many,)⁶But to us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we in him and one Lord Jesus Christ, by whom are all things, and we by him.⁷Howbeit there is not in every man that knowledge: for some with conscience of the idol unto this hour eat it as a thing offered unto an idol and their conscience being weak is defiled.⁸But meat commendeth us not to God: for neither, if we eat, are we the better neither, if we eat not, are we the worse.⁹But take heed lest by any means this liberty of yours become a stumblingblock to them that are weak.¹⁰For if any man see thee which hast knowledge sit at meat in the idol's temple, shall not the conscience of him which is weak be emboldened to eat those things which are offered to idols¹¹And through thy knowledge shall the weak brother perish, for whom Christ died?¹²But when ye sin so against the brethren, and wound their weak conscience, ye sin against Christ.¹³Wherefore, if meat make my brother to offend, I will eat no flesh while the world standeth, lest I make my brother to offend.

CHAPTER 9 ¹Am I not an apostle? am I not free? have I not seen Jesus Christ our Lord? are not ye my work in the Lord?²If I be not an apostle unto others, yet doubtless I am to you: for the seal of mine apostleship are ye in the Lord.³Mine answer to them that do examine me is this,⁴Have we not power to eat and to drink?⁵Have we not power to lead about a sister, a wife, as well as other apostles, and as the brethren of the Lord, and Cephas?⁶Or I only and Barnabas, have not we power to forbear working?⁷Who goeth a warfare any time at his own charges? who planteth a vineyard, and eateth not of the fruit thereof? or who feedeth a flock, and eateth not of the milk of the flock?⁸Say I these things as a man? or saith not the law the same also?⁹For it is written in the law of Moses, Thou shalt not muzzle the mouth of the ox that treadeth out the corn. Doth God take care for oxen?¹⁰Or saith he it altogether for our sakes? For our sakes, no doubt, this is written: that he that ploweth should plow in hope and that he that thresheth in hope should be partaker of his hope.¹¹If we have sown unto you spiritual things, is it a great thing if we shall reap your carnal things?¹²If others be partakers of this power over you, are not we rather? Nevertheless we have not used this power but suffer all things, lest we should hinder the gospel of Christ.¹³Do ye not know that they which minister about holy things live of the things of the temple? and they which wait at the altar are partakers with the altar?¹⁴Even so hath the Lord ordained that they which preach the gospel should live of the gospel.¹⁵But I have used none of these things: neither have I written these things, that it should be so done unto me: for it were better for me to die, than that any man should make my glorying void.¹⁶For though I preach the gospel, I have nothing to glory of: for necessity is laid upon me yea, woe is unto me, if I preach not the gospel!¹⁷For if I do this thing willingly, I have a reward: but if against my will, a dispensation of the gospel is committed unto me.¹⁸What is my reward then? Verily that, when I preach the gospel, I may make the gospel of Christ without charge, that I abuse not my power in the gospel.¹⁹For though I be free from all men, yet have I made myself servant unto all, that I might gain the more.²⁰And unto the Jews I became as a Jew, that I might gain the Jews to them that are under the law, as under the law, that I might gain them that are under the law²¹To them that are without law, as without law, (being not without law to God, but under the law to Christ,) that I might gain them that are without law.²²To the weak became I as weak, that I might gain the weak: I am made all things to all men, that I might by all means save some.²³And this I do for the gospel's sake, that I might be partaker thereof with you.²⁴Know ye not that they which run in a race run all, but one receiveth the prize? So run, that ye may obtain.²⁵And every man that striveth for the mastery is temperate in all things. Now they do it to obtain a corruptible crown but we an incorruptible.²⁶I therefore so run, not as uncertainly so fight I, not as one that beateth the air:²⁷But I keep under my body, and bring it into subjection: lest that by any means, when I have preached to others, I myself should be a castaway.

CHAPTER 10 ¹Moreover, brethren, I would not that ye should be ignorant, how that all our fathers were under the cloud, and all passed through the sea²And were all baptized unto Moses in the cloud and in the sea³And did all eat the same spiritual meat⁴And did all drink the same spiritual drink: for they drank of that spiritual Rock that followed them: and that Rock was Christ.⁵But with many of them God was not well pleased: for they were overthrown in the wilderness.⁶Now these things were our examples, to the intent we should not lust after evil things, as they also lusted.⁷Neither be ye idolaters, as were some of them as it is written, The people sat down to eat and drink, and rose up to play.⁸Neither let us commit fornication, as some of them committed, and fell in one day three and twenty thousand.⁹Neither let us tempt Christ, as some of them also tempted, and were destroyed of serpents.¹⁰Neither murmur ye, as some of them also murmured, and were destroyed of the destroyer.¹¹Now all these things happened unto them for ensamples: and they are written for our admonition, upon whom the ends of the world are come.¹²Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall.¹³There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man: but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it.¹⁴Wherefore, my dearly beloved, flee from idolatry.¹⁵I speak as to wise men judge ye what I say.¹⁶The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ?¹⁷For we being many are one bread, and one body: for we are all partakers of that one bread.¹⁸Behold Israel after the flesh: are not they which eat of the sacrifices partakers of the altar?¹⁹What say I then? that the idol is any thing, or that which is offered in sacrifice to idols is any thing?²⁰But I say, that the things which the Gentiles sacrifice, they sacrifice to devils, and not to God: and I would not that ye should have fellowship with devils.²¹Ye cannot drink the cup of the Lord, and the cup of devils: ye cannot be partakers of the Lord's table, and of the table of devils.²²Do we provoke the Lord to jealousy? are we stronger than he?²³All things are lawful for me, but all things are not expedient: all things are lawful for me, but all things edify not.²⁴Let no man seek his own, but every man another's wealth.²⁵Whatsoever is sold in the shambles, that eat, asking no question for conscience sake:²⁶For the earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof.²⁷If any of them that believe not bid you to a feast, and ye be disposed to go whatsoever is set before you, eat, asking no question for conscience sake.²⁸But if any man say unto you, This is offered in sacrifice unto idols, eat not for his sake that shewed it, and for conscience sake: for the earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof:²⁹Conscience, I say, not thine own, but of the other: for why is my liberty judged of another man's conscience?³⁰For if I by grace be a partaker, why am I evil spoken of for that for which I give thanks?³¹Whether therefore ye eat, or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God.³²Give none offence, neither to the Jews, nor to the Gentiles, nor to the church of God:³³Even as I please all men in all things, not seeking mine own profit, but the profit of many, that they may be saved.

CHAPTER 11 ¹Be ye followers of me, even as I also am of Christ.²Now I praise you, brethren, that ye remember me in all things, and keep the ordinances, as I delivered them to you.³But I would have you know, that the head of every man is Christ and the head of the woman is God.⁴Every man praying or prophesying, having his head covered, dishonoureth his head.⁵But every woman that prayeth or prophesieth with her head uncovered dishonoureth her head: for that is even all one as if she were shaven.⁶For if the woman be not covered, let her also be shorn: but if it be a shame for a woman to be shorn or shaven, let her be covered.⁷For a man indeed ought not to cover his head, forasmuch as he is the image and glory of God: but the woman is the glory of the man.⁸For the man is not of the woman but the woman of the man.⁹Neither was the man created for the woman but the woman for the man.¹⁰For this cause ought the woman to have power on her head because of the angels.¹¹Nevertheless neither is the man without the woman, neither the woman without the man, in the Lord.¹²For as the woman is of the man, even so is the man also by the woman but all things of god.¹³Judge in yourselves: is it comely that a woman pray unto God uncovered?¹⁴Doth not even nature itself teach you, that, if a man have long hair, it is a shame unto him?¹⁵But if a woman have long hair, it is a glory to her: for her hair is given her for a covering.¹⁶But if any man seem to be contentious, we have no such custom, neither the churches of God.¹⁷Now in this that I declare unto you I praise you not, that ye come together not for the better, but for the worse.¹⁸For first of all, when ye come together in the church, I hear that there be divisions among you and I partly believe it.¹⁹For there must be also heresies among you, that they which are approved may be made manifest among you.²⁰When ye come together therefore into one place, this is not to eat the Lord's supper.²¹For in eating every one taketh before other his own supper: and one is hungry, and another is drunken.²²What? have ye not houses to eat and to drink in? or despise ye the church of God, and shame them that have not? What shall I say to you? shall I praise you in this? I praise you not.²³For I have received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you, That the Lord Jesus the same night in which he was betrayed took bread:²⁴And when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, Take, eat: this is my body, which is broken for you: this do in remembrance of me.²⁵After the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood: this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me.²⁶For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do shew the Lord's death till he come.²⁷Wherefore whosoever shall eat this bread, and drink this cup of the Lord, unworthily, shall be guilty of the body and blood of the Lord.²⁸But let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup.²⁹For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh damnation to himself, not discerning the Lord's body.³⁰For this cause many are weak and sickly among you, and many sleep.³¹For if we would judge ourselves, we should not be judged.³²But when we are judged, we are chastened of the Lord, that we should not be condemned with the world.³³Wherefore, my brethren, when ye come together to eat, tarry one for another.³⁴And if any man hunger, let him eat at home that ye come not together unto condemnation. And the rest will I set in order when I come.

CHAPTER 12 ¹Now concerning spiritual gifts, brethren, I would not have you ignorant.²Ye know that ye were Gentiles, carried away unto these dumb idols, even as ye were led.³Wherefore I give you to understand, that no man speaking by the Spirit of God calleth Jesus accursed: and that no man can say that Jesus is the Lord, but by the Holy Ghost.⁴Now there are diversities of gifts, but the same Spirit.⁵And there are differences of administrations, but the same Lord.⁶And there are diversities of operations, but it is the same God which worketh all in all.⁷But the manifestation of the Spirit is given to every man to profit withal.⁸For to one is given by the Spirit the word of wisdom to another the word of knowledge by the same Spirit⁹To another faith by the same Spirit to another the gifts of healing by the same Spirit¹⁰To another the working of miracles to another prophecy to another discerning of spirits to another divers kinds of tongues to another the interpretation of tongues:¹¹But all these worketh that one and the selfsame Spirit, dividing to every man severally as he will.¹²For as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of that one body, being many, are one body: so also is Christ.¹³For by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free and have been all made to drink into one Spirit.¹⁴For the body is not one member, but many.¹⁵If the foot shall say, Because I am not the hand, I am not of the body is it therefore not of the body?¹⁶And if the ear shall say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body is it therefore not of the body?¹⁷If the whole body were an eye, where were the hearing? If the whole were hearing, where were the smelling?¹⁸But now hath God set the members every one of them in the body, as it hath pleased him.¹⁹And if they were all one member, where were the body?²⁰But now are they many members, yet but one body.²¹And the eye cannot say unto the hand, I have no need of thee: nor again the head to the feet, I have no need of you.²²Nay, much more those members of the body, which seem to be more feeble, are necessary:²³And those members of the body, which we think to be less honourable, upon these we bestow more abundant honour and our uncomely parts have more abundant comeliness.²⁴For our comely parts have no need: but God hath tempered the body together, having given more abundant honour to that part which lacked:²⁵That there should be no schism in the body but that the members should have the same care one for another.²⁶And whether one member suffer, all the members suffer with it or one member be honoured, all the members rejoice with it.²⁷Now ye are the body of Christ, and members in particular.²⁸And God hath set some in the church, first apostles, secondarily prophets, thirdly teachers, after that miracles, then gifts of healings, helps, governments, diversities of tongues.²⁹Are all apostles? are all prophets? are all teachers? are all workers of miracles?³⁰Have all the gifts of healing? do all speak with tongues? do all interpret?³¹But covet earnestly the best gifts: and yet shew I unto you a more excellent way.

CHAPTER 13 ¹Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal.²And though I have the gift of prophecy, and understand all mysteries, and all knowledge and though I have all faith, so that I could remove mountains, and have not charity, I am nothing.³And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing.⁴Charity suffereth long, and is kind charity envieth not charity vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up,⁵Doth not behave itself unseemly, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil⁶Rejoiceth not in iniquity, but rejoiceth in the truth⁷Beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.⁸Charity never faileth: but whether there be prophecies, they shall fail whether there be tongues, they shall cease whether there be knowledge, it shall vanish away.⁹For we know in part, and we prophesy in part.¹⁰But when that which is perfect is come, then that which is in part shall be done away.¹¹When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child: but when I became a man, I put away childish things.¹²For now we see through a glass, darkly but then face to face: now I know in part but then shall I know even as also I am known.¹³And now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three but the greatest of these is charity.

CHAPTER 14 ¹Follow after charity, and desire spiritual gifts, but rather that ye may prophesy.²For he that speaketh in an unknown tongue speaketh not unto men, but unto God: for no man understandeth him howbeit in the spirit he speaketh mysteries.³But he that prophesieth speaketh unto men to edification, and exhortation, and comfort.⁴He that speaketh in an unknown tongue edifieth himself but he that prophesieth edifieth the church.⁵I would that ye all spake with tongues, but rather that ye prophesied: for greater is he that prophesieth than he that speaketh with tongues, except he interpret, that the church may receive edifying.⁶Now, brethren, if I come unto you speaking with tongues, what shall I profit you, except I shall speak to you either by revelation, or by knowledge, or by prophesying, or by doctrine?⁷And even things without life giving sound, whether pipe or harp, except they give a distinction in the sounds, how shall it be known what is piped or harped?⁸For if the trumpet give an uncertain sound, who shall prepare himself to the battle?⁹ So likewise ye, except ye utter by the tongue words easy to be understood, how shall it be known what is spoken? for ye shall speak into the air.¹⁰ There are, it may be, so many kinds of voices in the world, and none of them is without signification.¹¹ Therefore if I know not the meaning of the voice, I shall be unto him that speaketh a barbarian, and he that speaketh shall be a barbarian unto me.¹² Even so ye, forasmuch as ye are zealous of spiritual gifts, seek that ye may excel to the edifying of the church.¹³ Wherefore let him that speaketh in an unknown tongue pray that he may interpret.¹⁴ For if I pray in an unknown tongue, my spirit prayeth, but my understanding is unfruitful.¹⁵ What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, and I will pray with the understanding also: I will sing with the spirit, and I will sing with the understanding also.¹⁶ Else when thou shalt bless with the spirit, how shall he that occupieth the room of the unlearned say Amen at thy giving of thanks, seeing he understandeth not what thou sayest?¹⁷ For thou verily givest thanks well, but the other is not edified.¹⁸ I thank my God, I speak with tongues more than ye all:¹⁹ Yet in the church I had rather speak five words with my understanding, that by my voice I might teach others also, than ten thousand words in an unknown tongue.²⁰ Brethren, be not children in understanding: howbeit in malice be ye children, but in understanding be men.²¹ In the law it is written, With men of other tongues and other lips will I speak unto this people and yet for all that will they not hear me, saith the Lord.²² Wherefore tongues are for a sign, not to them that believe, but to them that believe not: but prophesying serveth not for them that believe not, but for them which believe.²³ If therefore the whole church be come together into one place, and all speak with tongues, and there come in those that are unlearned, or unbelievers, will they not say that ye are mad?²⁴ But if all prophesy, and there come in one that believeth not, or one unlearned, he is convinced of all, he is judged of all:²⁵ And thus are the secrets of his heart made manifest and so falling down on his face he will worship God, and report that God is in you of a truth.²⁶ How is it then, brethren? when ye come together, everyone of you hath a psalm, hath a doctrine, hath a tongue, hath a revelation, hath an interpretation. Let all things be done unto edifying.²⁷If any man speak in an unknown tongue, let it be by two, or at the most by three, and that by course and let one interpret.²⁸But if there be no interpreter, let him keep silence in the church and let him speak to himself, and to God.²⁹Let the prophets speak two or three, and let the other judge.³⁰If any thing be revealed to another that sitteth by, let the first hold his peace.³¹For ye may all prophesy one by one, that all may learn, and all may be comforted.³²And the spirits of the prophets are subject to the prophets.³³For God is not the author of confusion, but of peace, as in all churches of the saints.³⁴Let your women keep silence in the churches: for it is not permitted unto them to speak but they are commanded to be under obedience, as also saith the law.³⁵And if they will learn any thing, let them ask their husbands at home: for it is a shame for women to speak in the church.³⁶What? came the word of God out from you? or came it unto you only?³⁷If any man think himself to be a prophet, or spiritual, let him acknowledge that the things that I write unto you are the commandments of the Lord.³⁸But if any man be ignorant, let him be ignorant.³⁹Wherefore, brethren, covet to prophesy, and forbid not to speak with tongues.⁴⁰Let all things be done decently and in order.

CHAPTER 15 ¹Moreover, brethren, I declare unto you the gospel which I preached unto you, which also ye have received, and wherein ye stand²By which also ye are saved, if ye keep in memory what I preached unto you, unless ye have believed in vain.³For I delivered unto you first of all that which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures⁴And that he was buried, and that he rose again the third day according to the scriptures:⁵And that he was seen of Cephas, then of the twelve:⁶After that, he was seen of above five hundred brethren at once of whom the greater part remain unto this present, but some are fallen asleep.⁷After that, he was seen of James then of all the apostles.⁸And last of all he was seen of me also, as of one born out of due time.⁹For I am the least of the apostles, that am not meet to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God.¹⁰But by the grace of God I am what I am: and his grace which was bestowed upon me was not in vain but I laboured more abundantly than they all: yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me.¹¹Therefore whether it were I or they, so we preach, and so ye believed.¹²Now if Christ be preached that he rose from the dead, how say some among you that there is no resurrection of the dead?¹³But if there be no resurrection of the dead, then is Christ not risen:¹⁴And if Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vain, and your faith is also vain.¹⁵Yea, and we are found false witnesses of God because we have testified of God that he raised up Christ: whom he raised not up, if so be that the dead rise not.¹⁶For if the dead rise not, then is not Christ raised:¹⁷And if Christ be not raised, your faith is vain ye are yet in your sins.¹⁸Then they also which are fallen asleep in Christ are perished.¹⁹If in this life only we have hope in Christ, we are of all men most miserable.²⁰But now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the firstfruits of them that slept.²¹For since by man came death, by man came also the resurrection of the dead.²²For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive.²³But every man in his own order: Christ the firstfruits afterward they that are

Christ's at his coming.²⁴Then cometh the end, when he shall have delivered up the kingdom to God, even the Father when he shall have put down all rule and all authority and power.²⁵For he must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet.²⁶The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death.²⁷For he hath put all things under his feet. But when he saith, all things are put under him, it is manifest that he is excepted, which did put all things under him.²⁸And when all things shall be subdued unto him, then shall the Son also himself be subject unto him that put all things under him, that God may be all in all.²⁹Else what shall they do which are baptized for the dead, if the dead rise not at all? why are they then baptized for the dead?³⁰And why stand we in jeopardy every hour?³¹I protest by your rejoicing which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord, I die daily.³²If after the manner of men I have fought with beasts at Ephesus, what advantageth it me, if the dead rise not? let us eat and drink for to morrow we die.³³Be not deceived: evil communications corrupt good manners.³⁴Awake to righteousness, and sin not for some have not the knowledge of God: I speak this to your shame.³⁵But some man will say,

How are the dead raised up? and with what body do they come?³⁶Thou fool, that which thou sowest is not quickened, except it die:³⁷And that which thou sowest, thou sowest not that body that shall be, but bare grain, it may chance of wheat, or of some other grain:³⁸But God giveth it a body as it hath pleased him, and to every seed his own body.³⁹All flesh is not the same flesh: but there is one kind of flesh of men, another flesh of beasts, another of fishes, and another of birds.⁴⁰There are also celestial bodies, and bodies terrestrial: but the glory of the celestial is one, and the glory of the terrestrial is another.⁴¹There is one glory of the sun, and another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars: for one star differeth from another star in glory.⁴²So also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption it is raised in incorruption:⁴³It is sown in dishonour it is raised in glory: it is sown in weakness it is raised in power:⁴⁴It is sown a natural body it is raised a spiritual body. There is a natural body, and there is a spiritual body.⁴⁵And so it is written, The first man Adam was made a living soul the last Adam was made a quickening spirit.⁴⁶Howbeit that was not first which is spiritual, but that which is natural and afterward that which is spiritual.⁴⁷The first man is of the earth, earthy: the second man is the Lord from heaven.⁴⁸As is the earthy, such are they also that are earthy: and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly.⁴⁹And as we have borne the image of the earthy, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.⁵⁰Now this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God neither doth corruption inherit incorruption.⁵¹Behold, I shew you a mystery We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed,⁵²In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump: for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed.⁵³For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality.⁵⁴So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory.⁵⁵O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory?⁵⁶The sting of death is sin and the strength of sin is the law.⁵⁷But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.⁵⁸Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord.

CHAPTER 16 ¹Now concerning the collection for the saints, as I have given order to the churches of Galatia, even so do ye.²Upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him, that there be no gatherings when I come.³And when I come, whomsoever ye shall approve by your letters, them will I send to bring your liberality unto Jerusalem.⁴And if it be meet that I go also, they shall go with me.⁵Now I will come unto you, when I shall pass through Macedonia: for I do pass through Macedonia.⁶And it may be that I will abide, yea, and winter with you, that ye may bring me on my journey whithersoever I go.⁷For I will not see you now by the way but I trust to tarry a while with you, if the Lord permit.⁸But I will tarry at Ephesus until Pentecost.⁹For a great door and effectual is opened unto me, and there are many adversaries.¹⁰Now if Timotheus come, see that he may be with you without fear: for he worketh the work of the Lord, as I also do.¹¹Let no man therefore despise him: but conduct him forth in peace, that he may come unto me: for I look for him with the brethren.¹²As touching our brother Apollos, I greatly desired him to come unto you with the brethren: but his will was not at all to come at this time but he will come when he shall have convenient time.¹³Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong.¹⁴Let all your things be done with charity.¹⁵I beseech you, brethren, (ye know the house of Stephanas, that it is the firstfruits of Achaia, and that they have addicted themselves to the ministry of the saints,)¹⁶That ye submit yourselves unto such, and to every one that helpeth with us, and laboureth.¹⁷I am glad of the coming of Stephanas and Fortunatus and Achaicus: for that which was lacking on your part they have supplied.¹⁸For they have refreshed my spirit and yours: therefore acknowledge ye them that are such.¹⁹The churches of Asia salute you. Aquila and Priscilla salute you much in the Lord, with the church that is in their house.²⁰All the brethren greet you. Greet ye one another with an holy kiss.²¹The salutation of me Paul with mine own hand.²²If any man love not the Lord Jesus Christ, let him be Anathema Maranatha.²³The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you.²⁴My love be with you all in Christ Jesus. Amen.

CHAPTER 1 ¹Paul, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, and Timothy our brother, unto the church of God which is at Corinth, with all the saints which are in all Achaia:²Grace be to you and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.³Blessed be God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies, and the God of all comfort⁴Who comforteth us in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort them which are in any trouble, by the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted of God.⁵For as the sufferings of Christ abound in us, so our consolation also aboundeth by Christ.⁶And whether we be afflicted, it is for your consolation and salvation, which is effectual in the enduring of the same sufferings which we also suffer: or whether we be comforted, it is for your consolation and salvation.⁷And our hope of you is stedfast, knowing, that as ye are partakers of the sufferings, so shall ye be also of the consolation.⁸For we would not, brethren, have you ignorant of our trouble which came to us in Asia, that we were pressed out of measure, above strength, insomuch that we despaired even of life:⁹But we had the sentence of death in ourselves, that we should not trust in ourselves, but in God which raiseth the dead:¹⁰Who delivered us from so great a death, and doth deliver: in whom we trust that he will yet deliver us¹¹Ye also helping together by prayer for us, that for the gift bestowed upon us by the means of many persons thanks may be given by many on our behalf.¹²For our rejoicing is this, the testimony of our conscience, that in simplicity and godly sincerity, not with fleshly wisdom, but by the grace of God, we have had our conversation in the world, and more abundantly to you-ward.¹³For we write none other things unto you, than what ye read or acknowledge and I trust ye shall acknowledge even to the end¹⁴As also ye have acknowledged us in part, that we are your rejoicing, even as ye also are ours in the day of the Lord Jesus.¹⁵And in this confidence I was minded to come unto you before, that ye might have a second benefit¹⁶And to pass by you into Macedonia, and to come again out of Macedonia unto you, and of you to be brought on my way toward Judaea.¹⁷When I therefore was thus minded, did I use lightness? or the things that I purpose, do I purpose according to the flesh, that with me there should be yea yea, and nay nay?¹⁸But as God is true, our word toward you was not yea and nay.¹⁹For the Son of God, Jesus Christ, who was preached among you by us, even by me and Silvanus and Timotheus, was not yea and nay, but in him was yea.²⁰For all the promises of God in him are yea, and in him Amen, unto the glory of God by us.²¹Now he which stablisheth us with you in Christ, and hath anointed us, is God²²Who hath also sealed us, and given the earnest of the Spirit in our hearts.²³Moreover I call God for a record upon my soul, that to spare you I came not as yet unto Corinth.²⁴Not for that we have dominion over your faith, but are helpers of your joy: for by faith ye stand.

CHAPTER 2 ¹But I determined this with myself, that I would not come again to you in heaviness.²For if I make you sorry, who is he then that maketh me glad, but the same which is made sorry by me?³And I wrote this same unto you, lest, when I came, I should have sorrow from them of whom I ought to rejoice having confidence in you all, that my joy is the joy of you all.⁴For out of much affliction and anguish of heart I wrote unto you with many tears not that ye should be grieved, but that ye might know the love which I have more abundantly unto you.⁵But if any have caused grief, he hath not grieved me, but in part: that I may not overcharge you all.⁶Sufficient to such a man is this punishment, which was inflicted of many.⁷So that contrariwise ye ought rather to forgive him, and comfort him, lest perhaps such a one should be swallowed up with overmuch sorrow.⁸Wherefore I beseech you that ye would confirm your love toward him.⁹For to this end also did I write, that I might know the proof of you, whether ye be obedient in all things.¹⁰To whom ye forgive any thing, I forgive also: for if I forgave any thing, to whom I forgave it, for your sakes forgave I it in the person of Christ¹¹Lest Satan should get an advantage of us: for we are not ignorant of his devices.¹²Furthermore, when I came to Troas to preach Christ's gospel, and a door was opened unto me of the Lord,¹³I had no rest in my spirit, because I found not Titus my brother: but taking my leave of them, I went from thence into Macedonia.¹⁴Now thanks be unto God, which always causeth us to triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest the savour of his knowledge by us in every place.¹⁵For we are unto God a sweet savour of Christ, in them that are saved, and in them that perish:¹⁶To the one we are the savour of death unto death and to the other the savour of life unto life. And who is sufficient for these things?¹⁷For we are not as many, which corrupt the word of God: but as of sincerity, but as of God, in the sight of God speak we in Christ.

CHAPTER 3 ¹Do we begin again to commend ourselves? or need we, as some others, epistles of commendation to you, or letters of commendation from you?²Ye are our epistle written in our hearts, known and read of all men:³Forasmuch as ye are manifestly declared to be the epistle of Christ ministered by us, written not with ink, but with the Spirit of the living God not in tables of stone, but in fleshy tables of the heart.⁴And such trust have we through Christ to Godward:⁵Not that we are sufficient of ourselves to think any thing as of ourselves but our sufficiency is of God⁶Who also hath made us able ministers of the new testament not of the letter, but of the spirit: for the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life.⁷But if the ministration of death, written and engraven in stones, was glorious, so that the children of Israel could not stedfastly behold the face of Moses for the glory of his countenance which glory was to be done away:⁸How shall not the ministration of the spirit be rather glorious?⁹For if the ministration of condemnation be glory, much more doth the ministration of righteousness exceed in glory.¹⁰For even that which was made glorious had no glory in this respect, by reason of the glory that excelleth.¹¹For if that which is done away was glorious, much more that which remaineth is glorious.¹²Seeing then that we have such hope, we use great plainness of speech:¹³And not as Moses, which put a vail over his face, that the children of Israel could not stedfastly look to the end of that which is abolished:¹⁴But their minds were blinded: for until this day remaineth the same vail untaken away in the reading of the old testament which vail is done away in Christ.¹⁵But even unto this day, when Moses is read, the vail is upon their heart.¹⁶Nevertheless when it shall turn to the Lord, the vail shall be taken away.¹⁷Now the Lord is that Spirit: and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty.¹⁸But we all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord.

CHAPTER 4 ¹Therefore seeing we have this ministry, as we have received mercy, we faint not²But have renounced the hidden things of dishonesty, not walking in craftiness, nor handling the word of God deceitfully but by manifestation of the truth commending ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight of God.³But if our gospel be hid, it is hid to them that are lost:⁴In whom the god of this world hath blinded the minds of them which believe not, lest the light of the glorious gospel of Christ, who is the image of God, should shine unto them.⁵For we preach not ourselves, but Christ Jesus the Lord and ourselves your servants for Jesus' sake.⁶For God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ.⁷But we have this treasure in earthen vessels, that the excellency of the power may be of God, and not of us.⁸We are troubled on every side, yet not distressed we are perplexed, but not in despair⁹Persecuted, but not forsaken cast down, but not destroyed¹⁰Always bearing about in the body the dying of the Lord Jesus, that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our body.¹¹For we which live are alway delivered unto death for Jesus' sake, that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our mortal flesh.¹²So then death worketh in us, but life in you.¹³We having the same spirit of faith, according as it is written, I believed, and therefore have I spoken we also believe, and therefore speak¹⁴Knowing that he which raised up the Lord Jesus shall raise up us also by Jesus, and shall present us with you.¹⁵For all things are for your sakes, that the abundant grace might through the thanksgiving of many redound to the glory of God.¹⁶For which cause we faint not but though our outward man perish, yet the inward man is renewed day by day.¹⁷For our light affliction, which is but for a moment, worketh for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory¹⁸While we look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen: for the things which are seen are temporal but the things which are not seen are eternal.

CHAPTER 5 ¹For we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.²For in this we groan, earnestly desiring to be clothed upon with our house which is from heaven:³If so be that being clothed we shall not be found naked.⁴For we that are in this tabernacle do groan, being burdened: not for that we would be unclothed, but clothed upon, that mortality might be swallowed up of life.⁵Now he that hath wrought us for the selfsame thing is God, who also hath given unto us the earnest of the Spirit.⁶Therefore we are always confident, knowing that, whilst we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord:⁷(For we walk by faith, not by sight:)⁸We are confident, I say, and willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord.⁹Wherefore we labour, that, whether present or absent, we may be accepted of him.¹⁰For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ that every one may receive the things done in his body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad.¹¹Knowing therefore the terror of the Lord, we persuade men but we are made manifest unto God and I trust also are made manifest in your consciences.¹²For we commend not ourselves again unto you, but give you occasion to glory on our behalf, that ye may have somewhat to answer them which glory in appearance, and not in heart.¹³For whether we be beside ourselves, it is to God: or whether we be sober, it is for your cause.¹⁴For the love of Christ constraineth us because we thus judge, that if one died for all, then were all dead:¹⁵And that he died for all, that they which live should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto him which died for them, and rose again.¹⁶Wherefore henceforth know we no man after the flesh: yea, though we have known Christ after the flesh, yet now henceforth know we him no more.¹⁷Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away behold, all things are become new.¹⁸And all things are of God, who hath reconciled us to himself by Jesus Christ, and hath given to us the ministry of reconciliation¹⁹To wit, that God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself, not imputing their trespasses unto them and hath committed unto us the word of reconciliation.²⁰Now then we are ambassadors for Christ, as though God did beseech you by us: we pray you in Christ's stead, be ye reconciled to God.²¹For he hath made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin that we might be made the righteousness of God in him.

CHAPTER 6 ¹We then, as workers together with him, beseech you also that ye receive not the grace of God in vain.²(For he saith, I have heard thee in a time accepted, and in the day of salvation have I succoured thee: behold, now is the accepted time behold, now is the day of salvation.)³Giving no offence in any thing, that the ministry be not blamed:⁴But in all things approving ourselves as the ministers of God, in much patience, in afflictions, in necessities, in distresses,⁵In stripes, in imprisonments, in tumults, in labours, in watchings, in fastings⁶By pureness, by knowledge, by longsuffering, by kindness, by the Holy Ghost, by love unfeigned,⁷By the word of truth, by the power of God, by the armour of righteousness on the right hand and on the left,⁸By honour and dishonour, by evil report and good report: as deceivers, and yet true⁹As unknown, and yet well known as dying, and, behold, we live as chastened, and not killed¹⁰As sorrowful, yet always rejoicing as poor, yet making many rich as having nothing, and yet possessing all things.¹¹O ye Corinthians, our mouth is open unto you, our heart is enlarged.¹²Ye are not straitened in us, but ye are straitened in your own bowels.¹³Now for a recompence in the same, (I speak as unto my children,) be ye also enlarged.¹⁴Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers: for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness?¹⁵And what concord hath Christ with Belial? or what part hath he that believeth with an infidel?¹⁶And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God as God hath said, I will dwell in them, and walk in them and I will be their God, and they shall be my people.¹⁷Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing and I will receive you,¹⁸And will be a Father unto you, and ye shall be my sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty.

CHAPTER 7 ¹Having therefore these promises, dearly beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God.²Receive us we have wronged no man, we have corrupted no man, we have defrauded no man.³I speak not this to condemn you: for I have said before, that ye are in our hearts to die and live with you.⁴Great is my boldness of speech toward you, great is my glorying of you: I am filled with comfort, I am exceeding joyful in all our tribulation.⁵For, when we were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no rest, but we were troubled on every side without were fightings, within were fears.⁶Nevertheless God, that comforteth those that are cast down, comforted us by the coming of Titus⁷And not by his coming only, but by the consolation wherewith he was comforted in you, when he told us your earnest desire, your mourning, your fervent mind toward me so that I rejoiced the more.⁸For though I made you sorry with a letter, I do not repent, though I did repent: for I perceive that the same epistle hath made you sorry, though it were but for a season.⁹Now I rejoyce, not that ye were made sorry, but that ye sorrowed to repentance: for ye were made sorry after a godly manner, that ye might receive damage by us in nothing.¹⁰For godly sorrow worketh repentance to salvation not to be repented of: but the sorrow of the world worketh death.¹¹For behold this selfsame thing, that ye sorrowed after a godly sort, what carefulness it wrought in you, yea, what clearing of yourselves, yea, what indignation, yea, what fear, yea, what vehement desire, yea, what zeal, yea, what revenge! In all things ye have approved yourselves to be clear in this matter.¹²Wherefore, though I wrote unto you, I did it not for his cause that had done the wrong, nor for his cause that suffered wrong, but that our care for you in the sight of God might appear unto you.¹³Therefore we were comforted in your comfort: yea, and exceedingly the more joyed we for the joy of Titus, because his spirit was refreshed by you all.¹⁴For if I have boasted any thing to him of you, I am not ashamed but as we spake all things to you in truth, even so our boasting, which I made before Titus, is found a truth.¹⁵And his inward affection is more abundant toward you, whilst he remembereth the obedience of you all, how with fear and trembling ye received him.¹⁶I rejoice therefore that I have confidence in you in all things.

CHAPTER 8 ¹Moreover, brethren, we do you to wit of the grace of God bestowed on the churches of Macedonia²How that in a great trial of affliction the abundance of their joy and their deep poverty abounded unto the riches of their liberality.³For to their power, I bear record, yea, and beyond their power they were willing of themselves⁴Praying us with much intreaty that we would receive the gift, and take upon us the fellowship of the ministering to the saints.⁵And this they did, not as we hoped, but first gave their own selves to the Lord, and unto us by the will of God.⁶Insomuch that we desired Titus, that as he had begun, so he would also finish in you the same grace also.⁷Therefore, as ye abound in every thing, in faith, and utterance, and knowledge, and in all diligence, and in your love to us, see that ye abound in this grace also.⁸I speak not by commandment, but by occasion of the forwardness of others, and to prove the sincerity of your love.⁹For ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that, though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, that ye through his poverty might be rich.¹⁰And herein I give my advice: for this is expedient for you, who have begun before, not only to do, but also to be forward a year ago.¹¹Now therefore perform the doing of it that as there was a readiness to will, so there may be a performance also out of that which ye have.¹²For if there be first a willing mind, it is accepted according to that a man hath, and not according to that he hath not.¹³For I mean not that other men be eased, and ye burdened:¹⁴But by an equality, that now at this time your abundance may be a supply for their want, that their abundance also may be a supply for your want: that there may be equality:¹⁵As it is written, He that had gathered much had nothing over and he that had gathered little had no lack.¹⁶But thanks be to God, which put the same earnest care into the heart of Titus for you.¹⁷For indeed he accepted the exhortation but being more forward, of his own accord he went unto you.¹⁸And we have sent with him the brother, whose praise is in the gospel throughout all the churches¹⁹And not that only, but who was also chosen of the churches to travel with us with this grace, which is administered by us to the glory of the same Lord, and declaration of your ready mind:²⁰Avoiding this, that no man should blame us in this abundance which is administered by us:²¹Providing for honest things, not only in the sight of the Lord, but also in the sight of men.²²And we have sent with them our brother, whom we have oftentimes proved diligent in many things, but now much more diligent, upon the great confidence which I have in you.²³Whether any do inquire of Titus, he is my partner and fellowhelper concerning you: or our brethren be inquired of, they are the messengers of the churches, and the glory of Christ.²⁴Wherefore shew ye to them, and before the churches, the proof of your love, and of our boasting on your behalf.

CHAPTER 9 ¹For as touching the ministering to the saints, it is superfluous for me to write to you:²For I know the forwardness of your mind, for which I boast of you to them of Macedonia, that

Achaia was ready a year ago and your zeal hath provoked very many.³Yet have I sent the brethren, lest our boasting of you should be in vain in this behalf that, as I said, ye may be ready:⁴Lest haply if they of Macedonia come with me, and find you unprepared, we (that we say not, ye) should be ashamed in this same confident boasting.⁵Therefore I thought it necessary to exhort the brethren, that they would go before unto you, and make up beforehand your bounty, whereof ye had notice before, that the same might be ready, as a matter of bounty, and not as of covetousness.⁶But this I say, He which soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly and he which soweth bountifully shall reap also bountifully.⁷Every man according as he purposeth in his heart, so let him give not grudgingly, or of necessity: for God loveth a cheerful giver.⁸And God is able to make all grace abound toward you that ye, always having all sufficiency in all things, may abound to every good work:⁹(As it is written, He hath dispersed abroad he hath given to the poor: his righteousness remaineth for ever.¹⁰Now he that ministereth seed to the sower both minister bread for your food, and multiply your seed sown, and increase the fruits of your righteousness)¹¹Being enriched in every thing to all bountifulness, which causeth through us thanksgiving to God.¹²For the administration of this service not only supplieth the want of the saints, but is abundant also by many thanksgivings unto God¹³Whiles by the experiment of this ministration they glorify God for your professed subjection unto the gospel of Christ, and for your liberal distribution unto them, and unto all men¹⁴And by their prayer for you, which long after you for the exceeding grace of God in you.¹⁵Thanks be unto God for his unspeakable gift.

CHAPTER 10 ¹Now I Paul myself beseech you by the meekness and gentleness of Christ, who in presence am base among you, but being absent am bold toward you:²But I beseech you, that I may not be bold when I am present with that confidence, wherewith I think to be bold against some, which think of us as if we walked according to the flesh.³For though we walk in the flesh, we do not war after the flesh:⁴(For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God to the pulling down of strong holds)⁵Casting down imaginations, and every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ⁶And having in a readiness to revenge all disobedience, when your obedience is fulfilled.⁷Do ye look on things after the outward appearance? If any man trust to himself that he is Christ's, let him of himself think this again, that, as he is Christ's, even so are we Christ's.⁸For though I should boast somewhat more of our authority, which the Lord hath given us for edification, and not for your destruction, I should not be ashamed:⁹That I may not seem as if I would terrify you by letters.¹⁰For his letters, say they, are weighty and powerful but his bodily presence is weak, and his speech contemptible.¹¹Let such an one think this, that, such as we are in word by letters when we are absent, such will we be also in deed when we are present.¹²For we dare not make ourselves of the number, or compare ourselves with some that commend themselves: but they measuring themselves by themselves, and comparing themselves among themselves, are not wise.¹³But we will not boast of things without our measure, but according to the measure of the rule which God hath distributed to us, a measure to reach even unto you.¹⁴For we stretch not ourselves beyond our measure, as though we reached not unto you: for we are come as far as to you also in preaching the gospel of Christ.¹⁵Not boasting of things without our measure, that is, of other men's labours but having hope, when your faith is increased, that we shall be enlarged by you according to our rule abundantly,¹⁶To preach the gospel in the regions beyond you, and not to boast in another man's line of things made ready to our hand.¹⁷But he that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord.¹⁸For not he that commendeth himself is approved, but whom the Lord commendeth.

CHAPTER 11 ¹Would to God ye could bear with me a little in my folly: and indeed bear with me.²For I am jealous over you with godly jealousy: for I have espoused you to one husband, that I may present you as a chaste virgin to Christ.³But I fear, lest by any means, as the serpent beguiled Eve through his subtilty, so your minds should be corrupted from the simplicity that is in Christ.⁴For if he that cometh preacheth another Jesus, whom we have not preached, or if ye receive another spirit, which ye have not received, or another gospel, which ye have not accepted, ye might well bear with him.⁵For I suppose I was not a whit behind the very chiefest apostles.⁶But though I be rude in speech, yet not in knowledge but we have been thoroughly made manifest among you in all things.⁷Have I committed an offence in abasing myself that ye might be exalted, because I have preached to you the gospel of God freely?⁸I robbed other churches, taking wages of them, to do you service.⁹And when I was present with you, and wanted, I was chargeable to no man: for that which was lacking to me the brethren which came from Macedonia supplied: and in all things I have kept myself from being burdensome unto you, and so will I keep myself.¹⁰As the truth of Christ is in me, no man shall stop me of this boasting in the regions of Achaia.¹¹Wherefore? because I love you not? God knoweth.¹²But what I do, that I will do, that I may cut off occasion from them which desire occasion that wherein they glory, they may be found even as we.¹³For such are false apostles, deceitful workers, transforming themselves into the apostles of Christ.¹⁴And no marvel for Satan himself is transformed into an angel of light.¹⁵Therefore it is no great thing if his ministers also be transformed as the ministers of righteousness whose end shall be according to their works.¹⁶I say again, Let no man think me a fool if otherwise, yet as a fool receive me, that I may boast myself a little.¹⁷That which I speak, I speak it not after the Lord, but as it were foolishly, in this confidence of boasting.¹⁸Seeing that many glory after the flesh, I will glory also.¹⁹For ye suffer fools gladly, seeing ye yourselves are wise.²⁰For ye suffer, if a man bring you into bondage, if a man devour you, if a man take of you, if a man exalt himself, if a man smite you on the face.²¹I speak as concerning reproach, as though we had been weak. Howbeit whereinsoever any is bold, (I speak foolishly,) I am bold also.²²Are they Hebrews? so am I. Are they Israelites? so am I. Are they the seed of Abraham? so am I.²³Are they ministers of Christ? (I speak as a fool) I am more in labours more abundant, in stripes above measure, in prisons more frequent, in deaths oft.²⁴Of the Jews five times received I forty stripes save one.²⁵Thrice was I beaten with rods, once was I stoned, thrice I suffered shipwreck, a night and a day I have been in the deep²⁶In journeyings often, in perils of waters, in perils of robbers, in perils by mine own countrymen, in perils by the heathen, in perils in the city, in perils in the wilderness, in perils in the sea, in perils among false brethren²⁷In weariness and painfulness, in watchings often, in hunger and thirst, in fastings often, in cold and nakedness.²⁸Beside those things that are without, that which cometh upon me daily, the care of all the churches.²⁹Who is weak, and I am not weak? who is offended, and I burn not?³⁰If I must needs glory, I will glory of the things which concern mine infirmities.³¹The God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which is blessed for evermore, knoweth that I lie not.³²In Damascus the governor under Aretas the king kept the city of the Damascenes with a garrison, desirous to apprehend me:³³And through a window in a basket was I let down by the wall, and escaped his hands.

CHAPTER 12 ¹It is not expedient for me doubtless to glory. I will come to visions and revelations of the Lord.²I knew a man in Christ above fourteen years ago, (whether in the body, I cannot tell or whether out of the body, I cannot tell: God knoweth) such an one caught up to the third heaven.³And I knew such a man, (whether in the body, or out of the body, I cannot tell: God knoweth)⁴How that he was caught up into paradise, and heard unspeakable words, which it is not lawful for a man to utter.⁵Of such an one will I glory: yet of myself I will not glory, but in mine infirmities.⁶For though I would desire to glory, I shall not be a fool for I will say the truth: but now I forbear, lest any man should think of me above that which he seeth me to be, or that he heareth of me.⁷And lest I should be exalted above measure through the abundance of the revelations, there was given to me a thorn in the flesh, the messenger of Satan to buffet me, lest I should be exalted above measure.⁸For this thing I besought the Lord thrice, that it might depart from me.⁹And he said unto me, My grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made perfect in weakness. Most gladly therefore will I rather glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me.¹⁰Therefore I take pleasure in infirmities, in reproaches, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses for Christ's sake: for when I am weak, then am I strong.¹¹I am become a fool in glorying ye have compelled me: for I ought to have been commended of you: for in nothing am I behind the very chiefest apostles, though I be nothing.¹²Truly the signs of an apostle were wrought among you in all patience, in signs, and wonders, and mighty deeds.¹³For what is it wherein ye were inferior to other churches, except it be that I myself was not burdensome to you? forgive me this wrong.¹⁴Behold, the third time I am ready to come to you and I will not be burdensome to you: for I seek not yours, but you: for the children ought not to lay up for the parents, but the parents for the children.¹⁵And I will very gladly spend and be spent for you though the more abundantly I love you, the less I be loved.¹⁶But be it so, I did not burden you: nevertheless, being crafty, I caught you with guile.¹⁷Did I make a gain of you by any of them whom I sent unto you?¹⁸I desired Titus, and with him I sent a brother. Did Titus make a gain of you? walked we not in the same spirit? walked we not in the same steps?¹⁹Again, think ye that we excuse ourselves unto you? we speak before God in Christ: but we do all things, dearly beloved, for your edifying.²⁰For I fear, lest, when I come, I shall not find you such as I would, and that I shall be found unto you such as ye would not: lest there be debates, envyings, wraths, strifes, backbitings, whisperings, swellings, tumults:²¹And lest, when I come again, my God will humble me among you, and that I shall bewail many which have sinned already, and have not repented of the uncleanness and fornication and lasciviousness which they have committed.

CHAPTER 13 ¹This is the third time I am coming to you. In the mouth of two or three witnesses shall every word be established.²I told you before, and foretell you, as if I were present, the second time and being absent now I write to them which heretofore have sinned, and to all other, that, if I come again, I will not spare:³Since ye seek a proof of Christ speaking in me, which to you-ward is not weak, but is mighty in you.⁴For though he was crucified through weakness, yet he liveth by the power of God. For we also are weak in him, but we shall live with him by the power of God toward you.⁵Examine yourselves, whether ye be in the faith prove your own selves. Know ye not your own selves, how that Jesus Christ is in you, except ye be reprobates?⁶But I trust that ye shall know that we are not reprobates.⁷Now I pray to God that ye do no evil not that we should appear approved, but that ye should do that which is honest, though we be as reprobates.⁸For we can do nothing against the truth, but for the truth.⁹For we are glad, when we are weak, and ye are strong: and this also we wish, even your perfection.¹⁰Therefore I write these things being absent, lest being present I should use sharpness, according to the power which the Lord hath given me to edification, and not to destruction.¹¹Finally, brethren, farewell. Be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace and the God of love and peace shall be with you.¹²Greet one another with an holy kiss.¹³All the saints salute you.¹⁴The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the communion of the Holy Ghost, be with you all. Amen.

CHAPTER 1 ¹Paul, an apostle, (not of men, neither by man, but by Jesus Christ, and God the Father, who raised him from the dead)²And all the brethren which are with me, unto the churches of Galatia:³Grace be to you and peace from God the Father, and from our Lord Jesus Christ,⁴Who gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us from this present evil world, according to the will of God and our Father:⁵To whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.⁶I marvel that ye are so soon removed from him that called you into the grace of Christ unto another gospel:⁷Which is not another but there be some that trouble you, and would pervert the gospel of Christ.⁸But though we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed.⁹As we said before, so say I now again, If any man preach any other gospel unto you than that ye have received, let him be accursed.¹⁰For do I now persuade men, or God? or do I seek to please men? for if I yet pleased men, I should not be the servant of Christ.¹¹But I certify you, brethren, that the gospel which was preached of me is not after man.¹²For I neither received it of man, neither was I taught it, but by the revelation of Jesus Christ.¹³For ye have heard of my conversation in time past in the Jews' religion, how that beyond measure I persecuted the church of God, and wasted it:¹⁴And profited in the Jews' religion above many my equals in mine own nation, being more exceedingly zealous of the traditions of my fathers.¹⁵But when it pleased God, who separated me from my mother's womb, and called me by his grace,¹⁶To reveal his Son in me, that I might preach him among the heathen immediately I conferred not with flesh and blood:¹⁷Neither went I up to Jerusalem to them which were apostles before me but I went into Arabia, and returned again unto Damascus.¹⁸Then after three years I went up to Jerusalem to see Peter, and abode with him fifteen days.¹⁹But other of the apostles saw I none, save James the Lord's brother.²⁰Now the things which I write unto you, behold, before God, I lie not.²¹Afterwards I came into the regions of Syria and Cilicia²²And was unknown by face unto the churches of Judaea which were in Christ:²³But they had heard only, That he which persecuted us in times past now preacheth the faith which once he destroyed.²⁴And they glorified God in me.

CHAPTER 2 ¹Then fourteen years after I went up again to Jerusalem with Barnabas, and took Titus with me also.²And I went up by revelation, and communicated unto them that gospel which I preach among the Gentiles, but privately to them which were of reputation, lest by any means I should run, or had run, in vain.³But neither Titus, who was with me, being a Greek, was compelled to be circumcised:⁴And that because of false brethren unawares brought in, who came in privily to spy out our liberty which we have in Christ Jesus, that they might bring us into bondage:⁵To whom we gave place by subjection, no, not for an hour that the truth of the gospel might continue with you.⁶But of these who seemed to be somewhat, (whatsoever they were, it maketh no matter to me: God accepteth no man's person:) for they who seemed to be somewhat in conference added nothing to me:⁷But contrariwise, when they saw that the gospel of the uncircumcision was committed unto me, as the gospel of the circumcision was unto Peter⁸(For he that wrought effectually in Peter to the apostleship of the circumcision, the same was mighty in me toward the Gentiles:)⁹And when

James, Cephas, and John, who seemed to be pillars, perceived the grace that was given unto me, they gave to me and Barnabas the right hands of fellowship that we should go unto the heathen, and they unto the circumcision.¹⁰Only they would that we should remember the poor the same which I also was forward to do.¹¹But when Peter was come to Antioch, I withstood him to the face, because he was to be blamed.¹²For before that certain came from James, he did eat with the Gentiles: but when they were come, he withdrew and separated himself, fearing them which were of the circumcision.¹³And the other Jews dissembled likewise with him insomuch that Barnabas also was carried away with their dissimulation.¹⁴But when I saw that they walked not uprightly according to the truth of the gospel, I said unto Peter before them all, If thou, being a Jew, livest after the manner of Gentiles, and not as do the Jews, why compellest thou the Gentiles to live as do the Jews?¹⁵We who are Jews by nature, and not sinners of the Gentiles,¹⁶Knowing that a man is not justified by the works of the law, but by the faith of Jesus Christ, even we have believed in Jesus Christ, that we might be justified by the faith of Christ, and not by the works of the law: for by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified.¹⁷But if, while we seek to be justified by Christ, we ourselves also are found sinners, is therefore Christ the minister of sin? God forbid.¹⁸For if I build again the things which I destroyed, I make myself a transgressor.¹⁹For I through the law am dead to the law, that I might live unto God.²⁰I am crucified with Christ: nevertheless I live yet not I, but Christ liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me.²¹I do not frustrate the grace of God: for if righteousness come by the law, then Christ is dead in vain.

CHAPTER 3 ¹O foolish Galatians, who hath bewitched you, that ye should not obey the truth, before whose eyes Jesus Christ hath been evidently set forth, crucified among you?²This only would I learn of you, Received ye the Spirit by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith?³Are ye so foolish? having begun in the Spirit, are ye now made perfect by the flesh?⁴Have ye suffered so many things in vain? if it be yet in vain.⁵He therefore that ministereth to you the Spirit, and worketh miracles among you, doeth he it by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith?⁶Even as Abraham believed God, and it was accounted to him for righteousness.⁷Know ye therefore that they which are of faith, the same are the children of Abraham.⁸And the scripture, foreseeing that God would justify the heathen through faith, preached before the gospel unto Abraham, saying, In thee shall all nations be blessed.⁹So then they which be of faith are blessed with faithful Abraham.¹⁰For as many as are of the works of the law are under the curse: for it is written, Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the book of the law to do them.¹¹But that no man is justified by the law in the sight of God, it is evident: for, The just shall live by faith.¹²And the law is not of faith: but, The man that doeth them shall live in them.¹³Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the law, being made a curse for us: for it is written, Cursed is every one that hangeth on a tree:¹⁴That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Jesus Christ that we might receive the promise of the Spirit through faith.¹⁵Brethren, I speak after the manner of men Though it be but a man's covenant, yet if it be confirmed, no man disannulleth, or addeth thereto.¹⁶Now to Abraham and his seed were the promises made. He saith not, And to seeds, as of many but as of one, And to thy seed, which is Christ.¹⁷And this I say, that the covenant, that was confirmed before of God in Christ, the law, which was four hundred and thirty years after, cannot disannul, that it should make the promise of none effect.¹⁸For if the inheritance be of the law, it is no more of promise: but God gave it to Abraham by promise.¹⁹Wherefore then serveth the law? It was added because of transgressions, till the seed should come to whom the promise was made and it was ordained by angels in the hand of a mediator.²⁰Now a mediator is not a mediator of one, but God is one.²¹Is the law then against the promises of God? God forbid: for if there had been a law given which could have given life, verily righteousness should have been by the law.²²But the scripture hath concluded all under sin, that the promise by faith of Jesus Christ might be given to them that believe.²³But before faith came, we were kept under the law, shut up unto the faith which should afterwards be revealed.²⁴Wherefore the law was our schoolmaster to bring us unto Christ, that we might be justified by faith.²⁵But after that faith is come, we are no longer under a schoolmaster.²⁶For ye are all the children of God by faith in Christ Jesus.²⁷For as many of you as have been baptized into Christ have put on Christ.²⁸There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Jesus.²⁹And if ye be Christ's, then are ye Abraham's seed, and heirs according to the promise.

CHAPTER 4 ¹Now I say, That the heir, as long as he is a child, differeth nothing from a servant, though he be lord of all²But is under tutors and governors until the time appointed of the father.³Even so we, when we were children, were in bondage under the elements of the world:⁴But when the fulness of the time was come, God sent forth his Son, made of a woman, made under the law,⁵To redeem them that were under the law, that we might receive the adoption of sons.⁶And because ye are sons, God hath sent forth the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying, Abba, Father.⁷Wherefore thou art no more a servant, but a son and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ.⁸Howbeit then, when ye knew not God, ye did service unto them which by nature are no gods.⁹But now, after that ye have known God, or rather are known of God, how turn ye again to the weak and beggarly elements, whereunto ye desire again to be in bondage?¹⁰Ye observe days, and months, and times, and years.¹¹I am afraid of you, lest I have bestowed upon you labour in vain.¹²Brethren, I beseech you, be as I am for I am as ye are: ye have not injured me at all.¹³Ye know how through infirmity of the flesh I preached the gospel unto you at the first.¹⁴And my temptation which was in my flesh ye despised not, nor rejected but received me as an angel of God, even as Christ Jesus.¹⁵Where is then the blessedness ye spake of? for I bear you record, that, if it had been possible, ye would have plucked out your own eyes, and have given them to me.¹⁶Am I therefore become your enemy, because I tell you the truth?¹⁷They zealously affect you, but not well yea, they would exclude you, that ye might affect them.¹⁸But it is good to be zealously affected always in a good thing, and not only when I am present with you.¹⁹My little children, of whom I travail in birth again until Christ be formed in you,²⁰I desire to be present with you now, and to change my voice for I stand in doubt of you.²¹Tell me, ye that desire to be under the law, do ye not hear the law?²²For it is written, that Abraham had two sons, the one by a bondmaid, the other by a freewoman.²³But he who was of the bondwoman was born after the flesh but he of the freewoman was by promise.²⁴Which things are an allegory: for these are the two covenants the one from the mount Sinai, which gendereth to bondage, which is Agar.²⁵For this Agar is mount Sinai in Arabia, and answereth to Jerusalem which now is, and is in bondage with her children.²⁶But Jerusalem which is above is free, which is the mother of us all.²⁷For it is written, Rejoice, thou barren that bearest not break forth and cry, thou that travailest not: for the desolate hath many more children than she which hath an husband.²⁸Now we, brethren, as Isaac was, are the children of promise.²⁹But as then he that was born after the flesh persecuted him that was born after the Spirit, even so it is now.³⁰Nevertheless what saith the scripture? Cast out the bondwoman and her son: for the son of the bondwoman shall not be heir with the son of the freewoman.³¹ So then, brethren, we are not children of the bondwoman, but of the free.

CHAPTER 5 ¹Stand fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage.² Behold, I Paul say unto you, that if ye be circumcised, Christ shall profit you nothing.³ For I testify again to every man that is circumcised, that he is a debtor to do the whole law.⁴ Christ is become of no effect unto you, whosoever of you are justified by the law ye are fallen from grace.⁵ For we through the Spirit wait for the hope of righteousness by faith.⁶ For in Jesus Christ neither circumcision availeth anything, nor uncircumcision but faith which worketh by love.⁷ Ye did run well who did hinder you that ye should not obey the truth?⁸ This persuasion cometh not of him that calleth you.⁹ A little leaven leaveneth the whole lump.¹⁰ I have confidence in you through the Lord, that ye will be none otherwise minded: but he that troubleth you shall bear his judgment, whosoever he be.¹¹ And I, brethren, if I yet preach circumcision, why do I yet suffer persecution? then is the offence of the cross ceased.¹² I would they were even cut off which trouble you.¹³ For, brethren, ye have been called unto liberty only use not liberty for an occasion to the flesh, but by love serve one another.¹⁴ For all the law is fulfilled in one word, even in this Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.¹⁵ But if ye bite and devour one another, take heed that ye be not consumed one of another.¹⁶ This I say then, Walk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfill the lust of the flesh.¹⁷ For the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh: and these are contrary the one to the other: so that ye cannot do the things that ye would.¹⁸ But if ye be led of the Spirit, ye are not under the law.¹⁹ Now the works of the flesh are manifest, which are these Adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness,²⁰ Idolatry, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulations, wrath, strife, seditions, heresies,²¹ Envyings, murders, drunkenness, revellings, and such like: of the which I tell you before, as I have also told you in time past, that they which do such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God.²² But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith,²³ Meekness, temperance: against such there is no law.²⁴ And they that are Christ's have crucified the flesh with the affections and lusts.²⁵ If we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit.²⁶ Let us not be desirous of vain glory, provoking one another, envying one another.

CHAPTER 6 ¹Brethren, if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye which are spiritual, restore such an one in the spirit of meekness considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted.² Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ.³ For if a man think himself to be something, when he is nothing, he deceiveth himself.⁴ But let every man prove his own work, and then shall he have rejoicing in himself alone, and not in another.⁵ For every man shall bear his own burden.⁶ Let him that is taught in the word communicate unto him that teacheth in all good things.⁷ Be not deceived God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.⁸ For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting.⁹ And let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not.¹⁰ As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith.¹¹ Ye see how large a letter I have written unto you with mine own hand.¹² As many as desire to make a fair shew in the flesh, they constrain you to be circumcised only lest they should suffer persecution for the cross of Christ.¹³ For neither they themselves who are circumcised keep the law but desire to have you circumcised, that they may glory in your flesh.¹⁴ But God forbid that I should glory, save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom the world is crucified unto me, and I unto the world.¹⁵ For in Christ Jesus neither circumcision availeth anything, nor uncircumcision, but a new creature.¹⁶ And as many as walk according to this rule, peace be on them, and mercy, and upon the Israel of God.¹⁷ From henceforth let no man trouble me: for I bear in my body the marks of the Lord Jesus.¹⁸ Brethren, the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.

EPHESIANS

CHAPTER 1 ¹Paul, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, to the saints which are at Ephesus, and to the faithful in Christ Jesus:²Grace be to you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.³Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who hath blessed us with all spiritual blessings in heavenly places in Christ:⁴According as he hath chosen us in him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and without blame before him in love:⁵Having predestinated us unto the adoption of children by Jesus Christ to himself, according to the good pleasure of his will,⁶To the praise of the glory of his grace, wherein he hath made us accepted in the beloved.⁷In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace⁸Wherein he hath abounded toward us in all wisdom and prudence⁹Having made known unto us the mystery of his will, according to his good pleasure which he hath purposed in himself:¹⁰That in the dispensation of the fulness of times he might gather together in one all things in Christ, both which are in heaven, and which are on earth even in him:¹¹In whom also we have obtained an inheritance, being predestinated according to the purpose of him who worketh all things after the counsel of his own will:¹²That we should be to the praise of his glory, who first trusted in Christ.¹³In whom ye also trusted, after that ye heard the word of truth, the gospel of your salvation: in whom also after that ye believed, ye were sealed with that holy Spirit of promise,¹⁴Which is the earnest of our inheritance until the redemption of the purchased possession, unto the praise of his glory.¹⁵Wherefore I also, after I heard of your faith in the Lord Jesus, and love unto all the saints,¹⁶Cease not to give thanks for you, making mention of you in my prayers¹⁷That the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, may give unto you the spirit of wisdom and revelation in the knowledge of him:¹⁸The eyes of your understanding being enlightened that ye may know what is the hope of his calling, and what the riches of the glory of his inheritance in the saints,¹⁹And what is the exceeding greatness of his power to usward who believe, according to the working of his mighty power,²⁰Which he wrought in Christ, when he raised him from the dead, and set him at his own right hand in the heavenly places,²¹Far above all principality, and power, and might, and dominion, and every name that is named, not only in this world, but also in that which is to come:²²And hath put all things under his feet, and gave him to be the head over all things to the church,²³Which is his body, the fulness of him that filleth all in all.

CHAPTER 2 ¹And you hath he quickened, who were dead in trespasses and sins²Wherein in time past ye walked according to the course of this world, according to the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that now worketh in the children of disobedience:³Among whom also we all had our conversation in times past in the lusts of our flesh, fulfilling the desires of the flesh and of the mind and were by nature the children of wrath, even as others.⁴But God, who is rich in mercy, for his great love wherewith he loved us,⁵Even when we were dead in sins, hath quickened us together with Christ, (by grace ye are saved)⁶And hath raised us up together, and made us sit together in heavenly places in Christ Jesus:⁷That in the ages to come he might shew the exceeding riches of his grace in his kindness toward us through Christ Jesus.⁸For by grace are ye saved through faith and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God:⁹Not of works, lest any man should boast.¹⁰For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them.¹¹Wherefore remember, that ye being in time past Gentiles in the flesh, who are called Uncircumcision by that which is called the Circumcision in the flesh made by hands¹²That at that time ye were without Christ, being aliens from the commonwealth of Israel, and strangers from the covenants of promise, having no hope, and without God in the world:¹³But now in Christ Jesus ye who sometimes were far off are made nigh by the blood of Christ.¹⁴For he is our peace, who hath made both one, and hath broken down the middle wall of partition between us¹⁵Having abolished in his flesh the enmity, even the law of commandments contained in ordinances for to make in himself of twain one new man, so making peace¹⁶And that he might reconcile both unto God in one body by the cross, having slain the enmity thereby:¹⁷And came and preached peace to you which were afar off, and to them that were nigh.¹⁸For through him we both have access by one Spirit unto the Father.¹⁹Now therefore ye are no more strangers and foreigners, but fellowcitizens with the saints, and of the household of God²⁰And are built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner stone²¹In whom all the building fitly framed together groweth unto an holy temple in the Lord:²²In whom ye also are builded together for an habitation of God through the Spirit.

CHAPTER 3 ¹For this cause I Paul, the prisoner of Jesus Christ for you Gentiles,²If ye have heard of the dispensation of the grace of God which is given me to youward:³How that by revelation he made known unto me the mystery (as I wrote afore in few words,⁴Whereby, when ye read, ye may understand my knowledge in the mystery of Christ)⁵Which in other ages was not made known unto the sons of men, as it is now revealed unto his holy apostles and prophets by the Spirit⁶That the Gentiles should be fellowheirs, and of the same body, and partakers of his promise in Christ by the gospel:⁷Whereof I was made a minister, according to the gift of the grace of God given unto me by the effectual working of his power.⁸Unto me, who am less than the least of all saints, is this grace given, that I should preach among the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ⁹And to make all men see what is the fellowship of the mystery, which from the beginning of the world hath been hid in God, who created all things by Jesus Christ:¹⁰To the intent that now unto the principalities and powers in heavenly places might be known by the church the manifold wisdom of God,¹¹According to the eternal purpose which he purposed in Christ Jesus our Lord:¹²In whom we have boldness and access with confidence by the faith of him.¹³Wherefore I desire that ye faint not at my tribulations for you, which is your glory.¹⁴For this cause I bow my knees unto the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ,¹⁵Of whom the whole family in heaven and earth is named,¹⁶That he would grant you, according to the riches of his glory, to be strengthened with might by his Spirit in the inner man¹⁷That Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith that ye, being rooted and grounded in love,¹⁸May be able to comprehend with all saints what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and height¹⁹And to know the love of Christ, which passeth knowledge, that ye might be filled with all the fulness of God.²⁰Now unto him that is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that worketh in us,²¹Unto him be glory in the church by Christ Jesus throughout all ages, world without end.

Amen.

CHAPTER 4 ¹I therefore, the prisoner of the Lord, beseech you that ye walk worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called,²With all lowliness and meekness, with longsuffering, forbearing one another in love³Endeavouring to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace.⁴There is one body, and one Spirit, even as ye are called in one hope of your calling⁵One Lord, one faith, one baptism,⁶One God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all.⁷But unto every one of us is given grace according to the measure of the gift of Christ.⁸Wherefore he saith, When he ascended up on high, he led captivity captive, and gave gifts unto men.⁹(Now that he ascended, what is it but that he also descended first into the lower parts of the earth?¹⁰He that descended is the same also that ascended up far above all heavens, that he might fill all things.)¹¹And he gave some, apostles and some, prophets and some, evangelists and some, pastors and teachers¹²For the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ:¹³Till we all come in the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature of the fulness of Christ:¹⁴That we henceforth be no more children, tossed to and fro, and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the sleight of men, and cunning craftiness, whereby they lie in wait to deceive¹⁵But speaking the truth in love, may grow up into him in all things, which is the head, even Christ:¹⁶From whom the whole body fitly joined together and compacted by that which every joint supplieth, according to the effectual working in the measure of every part, maketh increase of the body unto the edifying of itself in love.¹⁷This I say therefore, and testify in the Lord, that ye henceforth walk not as other Gentiles walk, in the vanity of their mind,¹⁸Having the understanding darkened, being alienated from the life of God through the ignorance that is in them, because of the blindness of their heart:¹⁹Who being past feeling have given themselves over unto lasciviousness, to work all uncleanness with greediness.²⁰But ye have not so learned Christ²¹If so be that ye have heard him, and have been taught by him, as the truth is in Jesus:²²That ye put off concerning the former conversation the old man, which is corrupt according to the deceitful lusts²³And be renewed in the spirit of your mind²⁴And that ye put on the new man, which after God is created in righteousness and true holiness.²⁵Wherefore putting away lying, speak every man truth with his neighbour: for we are members one of another.²⁶Be ye angry, and sin not: let not the sun go down upon your wrath:²⁷Neither give place to the devil.²⁸Let him that stole steal no more: but rather let him labour, working with his hands the thing which is good, that he may have to give to him that needeth.²⁹Let no corrupt communication proceed out of your mouth, but that which is good to the use of edifying, that it may minister grace unto the hearers.³⁰And grieve not the holy Spirit of God, whereby ye are sealed unto the day of redemption.³¹Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and evil speaking, be put away from you, with all malice:³²And be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you.

CHAPTER 5 ¹Be ye therefore followers of God, as dear children²And walk in love, as Christ also hath loved us, and hath given himself for us an offering and a sacrifice to God for a sweetsmelling savour.³But fornication, and all uncleanness, or covetousness, let it not be once named among you, as becometh saints⁴Neither filthiness, nor foolish talking, nor jesting, which are not convenient: but rather giving of thanks.⁵For this ye know, that no whoremonger, nor unclean person, nor covetous man, who is an idolater, hath any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and of God.⁶Let no man deceive you with vain words: for because of these things cometh the wrath of God upon the children of disobedience.⁷Be not ye therefore partakers with them.⁸For ye were sometimes darkness, but now are ye light in the Lord: walk as children of light:⁹(For the fruit of the Spirit is in all goodness and righteousness and truth)¹⁰Proving what is acceptable unto the Lord.¹¹And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them.¹²For it is a shame even to speak of those things which are done of them in secret.¹³But all things that are reproved are made manifest by the light: for whatsoever doth make manifest is light.¹⁴Wherefore he saith, Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light.¹⁵See then that ye walk circumspectly, not as fools, but as wise,¹⁶Redeeming the time, because the days are evil.¹⁷Wherefore be ye not unwise, but understanding what the will of the Lord is.¹⁸And be not drunk with wine, wherein is excess but be filled with the Spirit¹⁹Speaking to yourselves in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody in your heart to the Lord²⁰Giving thanks always for all things unto God and the Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ²¹Submitting yourselves one to another in the fear of God.²²Wives, submit yourselves unto your own husbands, as unto the Lord.²³For the husband is the head of the wife, even as Christ is the head of the church: and he is the saviour of the body.²⁴Therefore as the church is subject unto Christ, so let the wives be to their own husbands in every thing.²⁵Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church, and gave himself for it²⁶That he might sanctify and cleanse it with the washing of water by the word,²⁷That he might present it to himself a glorious church, not having spot, or wrinkle, or any such thing but that it should be holy and without blemish.²⁸So ought men to love their wives as their own bodies. He that loveth his wife loveth himself.²⁹For no man ever yet hated his own flesh but nourisheth and cherisheth it, even as the Lord the church:³⁰For we are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones.³¹For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall be joined unto his wife, and they two shall be one flesh.³²This is a great mystery: but I speak concerning Christ and the church.³³Nevertheless let every one of you in particular so love his wife even as himself and the wife see that she reverence her husband.

CHAPTER 6 ¹Children, obey your parents in the Lord: for this is right.²Honour thy father and mother (which is the first commandment with promise)³That it may be well with thee, and thou mayest live long on the earth.⁴And, ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath: but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord.⁵Servants, be obedient to them that are your masters according to the flesh, with fear and trembling, in singleness of your heart, as unto Christ⁶Not with eyeservice, as menpleasers but as the servants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart⁷With good will doing service, as to the Lord, and not to men:⁸Knowing that whatsoever good thing any man doeth, the same shall he receive of the Lord, whether he be bond or free.⁹And, ye masters, do the same things unto them, forbearing threatening: knowing that your Master also is in heaven neither is there respect of persons with him.¹⁰Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might.¹¹Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil.¹²For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places.¹³Wherefore take unto you the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand.¹⁴Stand therefore, having your loins girt about with truth, and having on the breastplate of righteousness¹⁵And your feet shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace¹⁶Above all, taking the shield of faith, wherewith ye shall be able to quench all the fiery darts of the wicked.¹⁷And take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God:¹⁸Praying always with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit, and watching thereunto with all perseverance and supplication for all saints¹⁹And for me, that utterance may be given unto me, that I may open my mouth boldly, to make known the mystery of the gospel,²⁰For which I am an ambassador in bonds: that therein I may speak boldly, as I ought to speak.²¹But that ye also may know my affairs, and how I do, Tychicus, a beloved brother and faithful minister in the Lord, shall make known to you all things:²²Whom I have sent unto you for the same purpose, that ye might know our affairs, and that he might comfort your hearts.²³Peace be to the brethren, and love with faith, from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.²⁴Grace be with all them that love our Lord Jesus Christ in sincerity. Amen.

CHAPTER 1 ¹Paul and Timotheus, the servants of Jesus Christ, to all the saints in Christ Jesus which are at Philippi, with the bishops and deacons:²Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.³I thank my God upon every remembrance of you,⁴Always in every prayer of mine for you all making request with joy,⁵For your fellowship in the gospel from the first day until now⁶Being confident of this very thing, that he which hath begun a good work in you will perform it until the day of Jesus Christ:⁷Even as it is meet for me to think this of you all, because I have you in my heart inasmuch as both in my bonds, and in the defence and confirmation of the gospel, ye all are partakers of my grace.⁸For God is my record, how greatly I long after you all in the bowels of Jesus Christ.⁹And this I pray, that your love may abound yet more and more in knowledge and in all judgment¹⁰That ye may approve things that are excellent that ye may be sincere and without offence till the day of Christ¹¹Being filled with the fruits of righteousness, which are by Jesus Christ, unto the glory and praise of God.¹²But I would ye should understand, brethren, that the things which happened unto me have fallen out rather unto the furtherance of the gospel¹³So that my bonds in Christ are manifest in all the palace, and in all other places¹⁴And many of the brethren in the Lord, waxing confident by my bonds, are much more bold to speak the word without fear.¹⁵Some indeed preach Christ even of envy and strife and some also of good will:¹⁶The one preach Christ of contention, not sincerely, supposing to add affliction to my bonds:¹⁷But the other of love, knowing that I am set for the defence of the gospel.¹⁸What then? notwithstanding, every way, whether in pretence, or in truth, Christ is preached and I therein do rejoice, yea, and will rejoice.¹⁹For I know that this shall turn to my salvation through your prayer, and the supply of the Spirit of Jesus Christ,²⁰According to my earnest expectation and my hope, that in nothing I shall be ashamed, but that with all boldness, as always, so now also Christ shall be magnified in my body, whether it be by life, or by death.²¹For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain.²²But if I live in the flesh, this is the fruit of my labour: yet what I shall choose I wot not.²³For I am in a strait betwixt two, having a desire to depart, and to be with Christ which is far better:²⁴Nevertheless to abide in the flesh is more needful for you.²⁵And having this confidence, I know that I shall abide and continue with you all for your furtherance and joy of faith²⁶That your rejoicing may be more abundant in Jesus Christ for me by my coming to you again.²⁷Only let your conversation be as it becometh the gospel of Christ: that whether I come and see you, or else be absent, I may hear of your affairs, that ye stand fast in one spirit, with one mind striving together for the faith of the gospel²⁸And in nothing terrified by your adversaries: which is to them an evident token of perdition, but to you of salvation, and that of God.²⁹For unto you it is given in the behalf of Christ, not only to believe on him, but also to suffer for his sake³⁰Having the same conflict which ye saw in me, and now hear to be in me.

CHAPTER 2 ¹If there be therefore any consolation in Christ, if any comfort of love, if any fellowship of the Spirit, if any bowels and mercies,²Fulfil ye my joy, that ye be likeminded, having the same love, being of one accord, of one mind.³Let nothing be done through strife or vainglory but in lowliness of mind let each esteem other better than themselves.⁴Look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others.⁵Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus:⁶Who, being in the form of God, thought it not robbery to be equal with God:⁷But made himself of no reputation, and took upon him the form of a servant, and was made in the likeness of men:⁸And being found in fashion as a man, he humbled himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross.⁹Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and given him a name which is above every name:¹⁰That at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth¹¹And that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.¹²Wherefore, my beloved, as ye have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling.¹³For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of his good pleasure.¹⁴Do all things without murmurings and disputings:¹⁵That ye may be blameless and harmless, the sons of God, without rebuke, in the midst of a crooked and perverse nation, among whom ye shine as lights in the world¹⁶Holding forth the word of life that I may rejoice in the day of Christ, that I have not run in vain, neither laboured in vain.¹⁷Yea, and if I be offered upon the sacrifice and service of your faith, I joy, and rejoice with you all.¹⁸For the same cause also do ye joy, and rejoice with me.¹⁹But I trust in the Lord Jesus to send Timotheus shortly unto you, that I also may be of good comfort, when I know your state.²⁰For I have no man likeminded, who will naturally care for your state.²¹For all seek their own, not the things which are Jesus Christ's.²²But ye know the proof of him, that, as a son with the father, he hath served with me in the gospel.²³Him therefore I hope to send presently, so soon as I shall see how it will go with me.²⁴But I trust in the Lord that I also myself shall come shortly.²⁵Yet I supposed it necessary to send to you Epaphroditus, my brother, and companion in labour, and fellowsoldier, but your messenger, and he that ministered to my wants.²⁶For he longed after you all, and was full of heaviness, because that ye had heard that he had been sick.²⁷For indeed he was sick nigh unto death: but God had mercy on him and not on him only, but on me also, lest I should have sorrow upon sorrow.²⁸I sent him therefore the more carefully, that, when ye see him again, ye may rejoice, and that I may be the less sorrowful.²⁹Receive him therefore in the Lord with all gladness and hold such in reputation:³⁰Because for the work of Christ he was nigh unto death, not regarding his life, to supply your lack of service toward me.

CHAPTER 3 ¹Finally, my brethren, rejoice in the Lord. To write the same things to you, to me indeed is not grievous, but for you it is safe.²Beware of dogs, beware of evil workers, beware of the concision.³For we are the circumcision, which worship God in the spirit, and rejoice in Christ Jesus, and have no confidence in the flesh.⁴Though I might also have confidence in the flesh. If any other man thinketh that he hath whereof he might trust in the flesh, I more:⁵Circumcised the eighth day, of the stock of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, an Hebrew of the Hebrews as touching the law, a Pharisee⁶Concerning zeal, persecuting the church touching the righteousness which is in the law, blameless.⁷But what things were gain to me, those I counted loss for Christ.⁸Yea doubtless, and I count all things but loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord: for whom I have suffered the loss of all things, and do count them but dung, that I may win Christ,⁹And be found in him, not having mine own righteousness, which is of the law, but that which is through the faith of Christ, the righteousness which is of God by faith:¹⁰That I may know him, and the power of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his sufferings, being made conformable unto his death¹¹If by any means I might attain unto the resurrection of the dead.¹²Not as though I had already attained, either were already perfect: but I follow after, if that I may apprehend that for which also I am apprehended of Christ Jesus.¹³Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended: but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before,¹⁴I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.¹⁵Let us therefore, as many as be perfect, be thus minded: and if in any thing ye be otherwise minded, God shall reveal even this unto you.¹⁶Nevertheless, whereto we have already attained, let us walk by the same rule, let us mind the same thing.¹⁷Brethren, be followers together of me, and mark them which walk so as ye have us for an ensample.¹⁸(For many walk, of whom I have told you often, and now tell you even weeping, that they are the enemies of the cross of Christ:¹⁹Whose end is destruction, whose God is their belly, and whose glory is in their shame, who mind earthly things.)²⁰For our conversation is in heaven from whence also we look for the Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ:²¹Who shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like unto his glorious body, according to the working whereby he is able even to subdue all things unto himself.

CHAPTER 4 ¹Therefore, my brethren dearly beloved and longed for, my joy and crown, so stand fast in the Lord, my dearly beloved.²I beseech Euodias, and beseech Syntyche, that they be of the same mind in the Lord.³And I intreat thee also, true yokefellow, help those women which laboured with me in the gospel, with Clement also, and with other my fellowlabourers, whose names are in the book of life.⁴Rejoice in the Lord alway: and again I say, Rejoice.⁵Let your moderation be known unto all men. The Lord is at hand.⁶Be careful for nothing but in every thing by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto

God.⁷And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus.⁸Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things.⁹Those things, which ye have both learned, and received, and heard, and seen in me, do: and the God of peace shall be with you.¹⁰But I rejoiced in the Lord greatly, that now at the last your care of me hath flourished again wherein ye were also careful, but ye lacked opportunity.¹¹Not that I speak in respect of want: for I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, therewith to be content.¹²I know both how to be abased, and I know how to abound: every where and in all things I am instructed both to be full and to be hungry, both to abound and to suffer need.¹³I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me.¹⁴Notwithstanding ye have well done, that ye did communicate with my affliction.¹⁵Now ye Philippians know also, that in the beginning of the gospel, when I departed from Macedonia, no church communicated with me as concerning giving and receiving, but ye only.¹⁶For even in Thessalonica ye sent once and again unto my necessity.¹⁷Not because I desire a gift: but I desire fruit that may abound to your account.¹⁸But I have all, and abound: I am full, having received of Epaphroditus the things which were sent from you, an odour of a sweet smell, a sacrifice acceptable, wellpleasing to God.¹⁹But my God shall supply all your need according to his riches in glory by Christ Jesus.²⁰Now unto God and our Father be glory for ever and ever. Amen.²¹Salute every saint in Christ Jesus. The brethren which are with me greet you.²²All the saints salute you, chiefly they that are of Caesar's household.²³The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

COLOSSIANS

CHAPTER 1 ¹Paul, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, and Timotheus our brother,²To the saints and faithful brethren in Christ which are at Colosse: Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.³We give thanks to God and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, praying always for you,⁴Since we heard of your faith in Christ Jesus, and of the love which ye have to all the saints,⁵For the hope which is laid up for you in heaven, whereof ye heard before in the word of the truth of the gospel⁶Which is come unto you, as it is in all the world and bringeth forth fruit, as it doth also in you, since the day ye heard of it, and knew the grace of God in truth:⁷As ye also learned of Epaphras our dear fellowservant, who is for you a faithful minister of Christ⁸Who also declared unto us your love in the Spirit.⁹For this cause we also, since the day we heard it, do not cease to pray for you, and to desire that ye might be filled with the knowledge of his will in all wisdom and spiritual understanding¹⁰That ye might walk worthy of the Lord unto all pleasing, being fruitful in every good work, and increasing in the knowledge of God¹¹Strengthened with all might, according to his glorious power, unto all patience and longsuffering with joyfulness¹²Giving thanks unto the Father, which hath made us meet to be partakers of the inheritance of the saints in light:¹³Who hath delivered us from the power of darkness, and hath translated us into the kingdom of his dear Son:¹⁴In whom we have redemption through his blood, even the forgiveness of sins:¹⁵Who is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn of every creature:¹⁶For by him were all things created, that are in heaven, and that are in earth, visible and invisible, whether they be thrones, or dominions, or principalities, or powers: all things were created by him, and for him:¹⁷And he is before all things, and by him all things consist.¹⁸And he is the head of the body, the church: who is the beginning, the firstborn from the dead that in all things he might have the preeminence.¹⁹For it pleased the Father that in him should all fulness dwell²⁰And, having made peace through the blood of his cross, by him to reconcile all things unto himself by him, I say, whether they be things in earth, or things in heaven.²¹And you, that were sometime alienated and enemies in your mind by wicked works, yet now hath he reconciled²²In the body of his flesh through death, to present you holy and unblameable and unproveable in his sight:²³If ye continue in the faith grounded and settled, and be not moved away from the hope of the gospel, which ye have heard, and which was preached to every creature which is under heaven whereof I Paul am made a minister²⁴Who now rejoice in my sufferings for you, and fill up that which is behind of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh for his body's sake, which is the church:²⁵Whereof I am made a minister, according to the dispensation of God which is given to me for you, to fulfil the word of God²⁶Even the mystery which hath been hid from ages and from generations, but now is made manifest to his saints:²⁷To whom God would make known what is the riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gentiles which is Christ in you, the hope of glory:²⁸Whom we preach, warning every man, and teaching every man in all wisdom that we may present every man perfect in Christ Jesus:²⁹Whereunto I also labour, striving according to his working, which worketh in me mightily.

CHAPTER 2 ¹For I would that ye knew what great conflict I have for you, and for them at Laodicea, and for as many as have not seen my face in the flesh²That their hearts might be comforted, being knit together in love, and unto all riches of the full assurance of understanding, to the acknowledgement of the mystery of God, and of the Father, and of Christ³In whom are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge.⁴And this I say, lest any man should beguile you with enticing words.⁵For though I be absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirit, joying and beholding your order, and the stedfastness of your faith in Christ.⁶As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in him:⁷Rooted and built up in him, and stablished in the faith, as ye have been taught, abounding therein with thanksgiving.⁸Beware lest any man spoil you through philosophy and vain deceit, after the tradition of men, after the rudiments of the world, and not after Christ.⁹For in him dwelleth all the fulness of the Godhead bodily.¹⁰And ye are complete in him, which is the head of all principality and power:¹¹In whom also ye are circumcised with the circumcision made without hands, in putting off the body of the sins of the flesh by the circumcision of Christ:¹²Buried with him in baptism, wherein also ye are risen with him through the faith of the operation of God, who hath raised him from the dead.¹³And you, being dead in your sins and the uncircumcision of your flesh, hath he quickened together with him, having forgiven you all trespasses¹⁴Blotting out the handwriting of ordinances that was against us, which was contrary to us, and took it out of the way, nailing it to his cross¹⁵And having spoiled principalities and powers, he made a shew of them openly, triumphing over them in it.¹⁶Let no man therefore judge you in meat, or in drink, or in respect of an holyday, or of the new moon, or of the sabbath days:¹⁷Which are a shadow of things to come but the body is of Christ.¹⁸Let no man beguile you of your reward in a voluntary humility and worshipping of angels, intruding into those things which he hath not seen, vainly puffed up by his fleshly mind,¹⁹And not holding the Head, from which all the body by joints and bands having nourishment ministered, and knit together, increaseth with the increase of God.²⁰Wherefore if ye be dead with Christ from the rudiments of the world, why, as though living in the world, are ye subject to ordinances,²¹(Touch not taste not handle not²²Which all are to perish with the using) after the commandments and doctrines of men?²³Which things have indeed a shew of wisdom in will worship, and humility, and neglecting of the body not in any honour to the satisfying of the flesh.

CHAPTER 3 ¹If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God.²Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth.³For ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God.⁴When Christ, who is our life, shall appear, then shall ye also appear with him in glory.⁵Mortify therefore your members which are upon the earth fornication, uncleanness, inordinate affection, evil concupiscence, and covetousness, which is idolatry:⁶For which things' sake the wrath of God cometh on the children of disobedience:⁷In the which ye also walked some time, when ye lived in them.⁸But now ye also put off all these anger, wrath, malice, blasphemy, filthy communication out of your mouth.⁹Lie not one to another, seeing that ye have put off the old man with his deeds¹⁰And have put on the new man, which is renewed in knowledge after the image of him that created him:¹¹Where there is neither Greek nor Jew, circumcision nor uncircumcision, Barbarian, Scythian, bond nor free: but Christ is all, and in all.¹²Put on therefore, as the elect of God, holy and beloved, bowels of mercies, kindness, humbleness of mind, meekness, longsuffering¹³Forbearing one another, and forgiving one another, if any man have a quarrel against any: even as Christ forgave you, so also do ye.¹⁴And above all these things put on charity, which is the bond of perfectness.¹⁵And let the peace of God rule in your hearts, to the which also ye are called in one body and be ye thankful.¹⁶Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom teaching and admonishing one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord.¹⁷And whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God and the Father by him.¹⁸Wives, submit yourselves unto your own husbands, as it is fit in the Lord.¹⁹Husbands, love your wives, and be not bitter against them.²⁰Children, obey your parents in all things: for this is well pleasing unto the Lord.²¹Fathers, provoke not your children to anger, lest they be discouraged.²²Servants, obey in all things your masters according to the flesh not with eyeservice, as menpleasers but in singleness of heart, fearing God:²³And whatsoever ye do, do it heartily, as to the Lord, and not unto men²⁴Knowing that of the Lord ye shall receive the reward of the inheritance: for ye serve the Lord Christ.²⁵But he that doeth wrong shall receive for the wrong which he hath done: and there is no respect of persons.

CHAPTER 4 ¹Masters, give unto your servants that which is just and equal knowing that ye also have a Master in heaven.²Continue in prayer, and watch in the same with thanksgiving³Withal praying also for us, that God would open unto us a door of utterance, to speak the mystery of Christ, for which I am also in bonds:⁴That I may make it manifest, as I ought to speak.⁵Walk in wisdom toward them that are without, redeeming the time.⁶Let your speech be alway with grace, seasoned with salt, that ye may know how ye ought to answer every man.⁷All my state shall Tychicus declare unto you, who is a beloved brother, and a faithful minister and fellowservant in the Lord:⁸Whom I have sent unto you for the same purpose, that he might know your estate, and comfort your hearts⁹With Onesimus, a faithful and beloved brother, who is one of you. They shall make known unto you all things which are done here.¹⁰Aristarchus my fellowprisoner saluteth you, and Marcus, sister's son to Barnabas, (touching whom ye received commandments: if he come unto you, receive him)¹¹And Jesus, which is called Justus, who are of the circumcision. These only are my fellowworkers unto the kingdom of God, which have been a comfort unto me.¹²Epaphras, who is one of you, a servant of Christ, saluteth you, always labouring fervently for you in prayers, that ye may stand perfect and complete in all the will of God.¹³For I bear him record, that he hath a great zeal for you, and them that are in Laodicea, and them in Hierapolis.¹⁴Luke, the beloved physician, and Demas, greet you.¹⁵Salute the brethren which are in Laodicea, and Nymphas, and the church which is in his house.¹⁶And when this epistle is read among you, cause that it be read also in the church of the Laodiceans and that ye likewise read the epistle from Laodicea.¹⁷And say to Archippus, Take heed to the ministry which thou hast received in the Lord, that thou fulfil it.¹⁸The salutation by the hand of me Paul. Remember my bonds. Grace be with you. Amen.

1 THESSALONIANS

CHAPTER 1 ¹Paul, and Silvanus, and Timotheus, unto the church of the Thessalonians which is in God the Father and in the Lord Jesus Christ: Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.²We give thanks to God always for you all, making mention of you in our prayers³Remembering without ceasing your work of faith, and labour of love, and patience of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ, in the sight of God and our Father⁴Knowing, brethren beloved, your election of God.⁵For our gospel came not unto you in word only, but also in power, and in the Holy Ghost, and in much assurance as ye know what manner of men we were among you for your sake.⁶And ye became followers of us, and of the Lord, having received the word in much affliction, with joy of the Holy Ghost:⁷So that ye were ensamples to all that believe in Macedonia and Achaia.⁸For from you sounded out the word of the Lord not only in Macedonia and Achaia, but also in every place your faith to God-ward is spread abroad so that we need not to speak any thing.⁹For they themselves shew of us what manner of entering in we had unto you, and how ye turned to God from idols to serve the living and true God¹⁰And to wait for his Son from heaven, whom he raised from the dead, even Jesus, which delivered us from the wrath to come.

CHAPTER 2 ¹For yourselves, brethren, know our entrance in unto you, that it was not in vain:²But even after that we had suffered before, and were shamefully entreated, as ye know, at Philippi, we were bold in our God to speak unto you the gospel of God with much contention.³For our exhortation was not of deceit, nor of uncleanness, nor in guile:⁴But as we were allowed of God to be put in trust with the gospel, even so we speak not as pleasing men, but God, which trieth our hearts.⁵For neither at any time used we flattering words, as ye know, nor a cloke of covetousness: God is witness:⁶Nor of men sought we glory, neither of you, nor yet of others, when we might have been burdensome, as the apostles of Christ.⁷But we were gentle among you, even as a nurse cherisheth her children:⁸So being affectionately desirous of you, we were willing to have imparted unto you, not the gospel of God only, but also our own souls, because ye were dear unto us.⁹For ye remember, brethren, our labour and travail: for labouring night and day, because we would not be chargeable unto any of you, we preached unto you the gospel of God.¹⁰Ye are witnesses, and God also, how holily and justly and unblameably we behaved ourselves among you that believe:¹¹As ye know how we exhorted and comforted and charged every one of you, as a father doth his children,¹²That ye would walk worthy of God, who hath called you unto his kingdom and glory.¹³For this cause also thank we God without ceasing, because, when ye received the word of God which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but as it is in truth, the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that believe.¹⁴For ye, brethren, became followers of the churches of God which in Judaea are in Christ Jesus: for ye also have suffered like things of your own countrymen, even as they have of the Jews:¹⁵Who both killed the Lord Jesus, and their own prophets, and have persecuted us and they please not God, and are contrary to all men:¹⁶Forbidding us to speak to the Gentiles that they might be saved, to fill up their sins alway: for the wrath is come upon them to the uttermost.¹⁷But we, brethren, being taken from you for a short time in presence, not in heart, endeavoured the more abundantly to see your face with great desire.¹⁸Wherefore we would have come unto you, even I Paul, once and again but Satan hindered us.¹⁹For what is our hope, or joy, or crown of rejoicing? Are not even ye in the

CHAPTER 3 ¹Wherefore when we could no longer forbear, we thought it good to be left at Athens alone²And sent Timotheus, our brother, and minister of God, and our fellowlabourer in the gospel of Christ, to establish you, and to comfort you concerning your faith:³That no man should be moved by these afflictions: for yourselves know that we are appointed thereunto.⁴For verily, when we were with you, we told you before that we should suffer tribulation even as it came to pass, and ye know.⁵For this cause, when I could no longer forbear, I sent to know your faith, lest by some means the tempter have tempted you, and our labour be in vain.⁶But now when Timotheus came from you unto us, and brought us good tidings of your faith and charity, and that ye have good remembrance of us always, desiring greatly to see us, as we also to see you:⁷Therefore, brethren, we were comforted over you in all our affliction and distress by your faith:⁸For now we live, if ye stand fast in the Lord.⁹For what thanks can we render to God again for you, for all the joy wherewith we joy for your sakes before our God¹⁰Night and day praying exceedingly that we might see your face, and might perfect that which is lacking in your faith?¹¹Now God himself and our Father, and our Lord Jesus Christ, direct our way unto you.¹²And the Lord make you to increase and abound in love one toward another, and toward all men, even as we do toward you:¹³To the end he may stablish your hearts unblameable in holiness before God, even our Father, at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ with all his saints.

CHAPTER 4 ¹Furthermore then we beseech you, brethren, and exhort you by the Lord Jesus, that as ye have received of us how ye ought to walk and to please God, so ye would abound more and more.²For ye know what commandments we gave you by the Lord Jesus.³For this is the will of God, even your sanctification, that ye should abstain from fornication:⁴That every one of you should know how to possess his vessel in sanctification and honour⁵Not in the lust of concupiscence, even as the Gentiles which know not God:⁶That no man go beyond and defraud his brother in any matter: because that the Lord is the avenger of all such, as we also have forewarned you and testified.⁷For God hath not called us unto uncleanness, but unto holiness.⁸He therefore that despiseth, despiseth not man, but God, who hath also given unto us his holy Spirit.⁹But as touching brotherly love ye need not that I write unto you: for ye yourselves are taught of God to love one another.¹⁰And indeed ye do it toward all the brethren which are in all Macedonia: but we beseech you, brethren, that ye increase more and more.¹¹And that ye study to be quiet, and to do your own business, and to work with your own hands, as we commanded you.¹²That ye may walk honestly toward them that are without, and that ye may have lack of nothing.¹³But I would not have you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning them which are asleep, that ye sorrow not, even as others which have no hope.¹⁴For if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so them also which sleep in Jesus will God bring with him.¹⁵For this we say unto you by the word of the Lord, that we which are alive and remain unto the coming of the Lord shall not prevent them which are asleep.¹⁶For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God: and the dead in Christ shall rise first:¹⁷Then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so shall we ever be with the Lord.¹⁸Wherefore comfort one another with these words.

CHAPTER 5 ¹But of the times and the seasons, brethren, ye have no need that I write unto you.²For yourselves know perfectly that the day of the Lord so cometh as a thief in the night.³For when they shall say, Peace and safety then sudden destruction cometh upon them, as travail upon a woman with child and they shall not escape.⁴But ye, brethren, are not in darkness, that that day should overtake you as a thief.⁵Ye are all the children of light, and the children of the day: we are not of the night, nor of darkness.⁶Therefore let us not sleep, as do others but let us watch and be sober.⁷For they that sleep sleep in the night and they that be drunken are drunken in the night.⁸But let us, who are of the day, be sober, putting on the breastplate of faith and love and for an helmet, the hope of salvation.⁹For God hath not appointed us to wrath, but to obtain salvation by our Lord Jesus Christ,¹⁰Who died for us, that, whether we wake or sleep, we should live together with him.¹¹Wherefore comfort yourselves together, and edify one another, even as also ye do.¹²And we beseech you, brethren, to know them which labour among you, and are over you in the Lord, and admonish you¹³And to esteem them very highly in love for their work's sake. And be at peace among yourselves.¹⁴Now we exhort you, brethren, warn them that are unruly, comfort the feebleminded, support the weak, be patient toward all men.¹⁵See that none render evil for evil unto any man but ever follow that which is good, both among yourselves, and to all men.¹⁶Rejoice evermore.¹⁷Pray without ceasing.¹⁸In every thing give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you.¹⁹Quench not the Spirit.²⁰Despise not prophesyings.²¹Prove all things hold fast that which is good.²²Abstain from all appearance of evil.²³And the very God of peace sanctify you wholly and I pray God your whole spirit and soul and body be preserved blameless unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ.²⁴Faithful is he that calleth you, who also will do it.²⁵Brethren, pray for us.²⁶Greet all the brethren with an holy kiss.²⁷I charge you by the Lord that this epistle be read unto all the holy brethren.²⁸The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. Amen.

CHAPTER 1 ¹Paul, and Silvanus, and Timotheus, unto the church of the Thessalonians in God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ:²Grace unto you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.³We are bound to thank God always for you, brethren, as it is meet, because that your faith groweth exceedingly, and the charity of every one of you all toward each other aboundeth⁴So that we ourselves glory in you in the churches of God for your patience and faith in all your persecutions and tribulations that ye endure:⁵Which is a manifest token of the righteous judgment of God, that ye may be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for which ye also suffer:⁶Seeing it is a righteous thing with God to recompense tribulation to them that trouble you⁷And to you who are troubled rest with us, when the Lord Jesus shall be revealed from heaven with his mighty angels,⁸In flaming fire taking vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ:⁹Who shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord, and from the glory of his power¹⁰When he shall come to be glorified in his saints, and to be admired in all them that believe (because our testimony among you was believed) in that day.¹¹Wherefore also we pray always for you, that our God would count you worthy of this calling, and fulfil all the good pleasure of his goodness, and the work of faith with power:¹²That the name of our Lord Jesus Christ may be glorified in you, and ye in him, according to the grace of our God and the Lord Jesus Christ.

CHAPTER 2 ¹Now we beseech you, brethren, by the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, and by our gathering together unto him,²That ye be not soon shaken in mind, or be troubled, neither by spirit, nor by word, nor by letter as from us, as that the day of Christ is at hand.³Let no man deceive you by any means: for that day shall not come, except there come a falling away first, and that man of sin be revealed, the son of perdition⁴Who opposeth and exalteth himself above all that is called God, or that is worshipped so that he as God sitteth in the temple of God, shewing himself that he is God.⁵Remember ye not, that, when I was yet with you, I told you these things?⁶And now ye know what withholdeth that he might be revealed in his time.⁷For the mystery of iniquity doth already work: only he who now letteth will let, until he be taken out of the way.⁸And then shall that Wicked be revealed, whom the Lord shall consume with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy with the brightness of his coming:⁹Even him, whose coming is after the working of Satan with all power and signs and lying wonders,¹⁰And with all deceivableness of unrighteousness in them that perish because they received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved.¹¹And for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe a lie:¹²That they all might be damned who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness.¹³But we are bound to give thanks alway to God for you, brethren beloved of the Lord, because God hath from the beginning chosen you to salvation through sanctification of the Spirit and belief of the truth:¹⁴Whereunto he called you by our gospel, to the obtaining of the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ.¹⁵Therefore, brethren, stand fast, and hold the traditions which ye have been taught, whether by word, or our epistle.¹⁶Now our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God, even our Father, which hath loved us, and hath given us everlasting consolation and good hope through grace,¹⁷Comfort your hearts, and stablish you in every good word and work.

CHAPTER 3 ¹Finally, brethren, pray for us, that the word of the Lord may have free course, and be glorified, even as it is with you:²And that we may be delivered from unreasonable and wicked men: for all men have not faith.³But the Lord is faithful, who shall stablish you, and keep you from evil.⁴And we have confidence in the Lord touching you, that ye both do and will do the things which we command you.⁵And the Lord direct your hearts into the love of God, and into the patient waiting for Christ.⁶Now we command you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye withdraw yourselves from every brother that walketh disorderly, and not after the tradition which he received of us.⁷For yourselves know how ye ought to follow us: for we behaved not ourselves disorderly among you⁸Neither did we eat any man's bread for nought but wrought with labour and travail night and day, that we might not be chargeable to any of you:⁹Not because we have not power, but to make ourselves an ensample unto you to follow us.¹⁰For even when we were with you, this we commanded you, that if any would not work, neither should he eat.¹¹For we hear that there are some which walk among you disorderly, working not at all, but are busybodies.¹²Now them that are such we command and exhort by our Lord Jesus Christ, that with quietness they work, and eat their own bread.¹³But ye, brethren, be not weary in well doing.¹⁴And if any man obey not our word by this epistle, note that man, and have no company with him, that he may be ashamed.¹⁵Yet count him not as an enemy, but admonish him as a brother.¹⁶Now the Lord of peace himself give you peace always by all means. The Lord be with you all.¹⁷The salutation of Paul with mine own hand, which is the token in every epistle: so I write.¹⁸The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

1 TIMOTHY

CHAPTER 1 ¹Paul, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the commandment of God our Saviour, and Lord Jesus Christ, which is our hope²Unto Timothy, my own son in the faith: Grace, mercy, and peace, from God our Father and Jesus Christ our Lord.³As I besought thee to abide still at Ephesus, when I went into Macedonia, that thou mightest charge some that they teach no other doctrine,⁴Neither give heed to fables and endless genealogies, which minister questions, rather than godly edifying which is in faith: so do.⁵Now the end of the commandment is charity out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith unfeigned:⁶From which some having swerved have turned aside unto vain jangling⁷Desiring to be teachers of the law understanding neither what they say, nor whereof they affirm.⁸But we know that the law is good, if a man use it lawfully⁹Knowing this, that the law is not made for a righteous man, but for the lawless and disobedient, for the ungodly and for sinners, for unholy and profane, for murderers of fathers and murderers of mothers, for manslayers,¹⁰For whoremongers, for them that defile themselves with mankind, for menstealers, for liars, for perjured persons, and if there be any other thing that is contrary to sound doctrine¹¹According to the glorious gospel of the blessed God, which was committed to my trust.¹²And I thank Christ Jesus our Lord, who hath enabled me, for that he counted me faithful, putting me into the ministry¹³Who was before a blasphemer, and a persecutor, and injurious: but I obtained mercy, because I did it ignorantly in unbelief.¹⁴And the grace of our Lord was exceeding abundant with faith and love which is in Christ Jesus.¹⁵This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners of whom I am chief.¹⁶Howbeit for this cause I obtained mercy, that in me first Jesus Christ might shew forth all longsuffering, for a pattern to them which should hereafter believe on him to life everlasting.¹⁷Now unto the King eternal, immortal, invisible, the only wise God, be honour and glory for ever and ever. Amen.¹⁸This charge I commit unto thee, son Timothy, according to the prophecies which went before on thee, that thou by them mightest war a good warfare¹⁹Holding faith, and a good conscience which some having put away concerning faith have made shipwreck:²⁰Of whom is Hymenaeus and Alexander whom I have delivered unto Satan, that they may learn not to blaspheme.

CHAPTER 2 ¹I exhort therefore, that, first of all, supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks, be made for all men²For kings, and for all that are in authority that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty.³For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour⁴Who will have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth.⁵For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus⁶Who gave himself a ransom for all, to be testified in due time.⁷Whereunto I am ordained a preacher, and an apostle, (I speak the truth in Christ, and lie not) a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and verity.⁸I will therefore that men pray every where, lifting up holy hands, without wrath and doubting.⁹In like manner also, that women adorn themselves in modest apparel, with shamefacedness and sobriety not with broided hair, or gold, or pearls, or costly array¹⁰But (which becometh women professing godliness) with good works.¹¹Let the woman learn in silence with all subjection.¹²But I suffer not a woman to teach, nor to usurp authority over the man, but to be in silence.¹³For Adam was first formed, then Eve.¹⁴And Adam was not deceived, but the woman being deceived was in the transgression.¹⁵Notwithstanding she shall be saved in childbearing, if they continue in faith and charity and holiness with

CHAPTER 3 ¹This is a true saying, If a man desire the office of a bishop, he desireth a good work.²A bishop then must be blameless, the husband of one wife, vigilant, sober, of good behaviour, given to hospitality, apt to teach³Not given to wine, no striker, not greedy of filthy lucre but patient, not a brawler, not covetous⁴One that ruleth well his own house, having his children in subjection with all gravity⁵(For if a man know not how to rule his own house, how shall he take care of the church of God?)⁶Not a novice, lest being lifted up with pride he fall into the condemnation of the devil.⁷Moreover he must have a good report of them which are without lest he fall into reproach and the snare of the devil.⁸Likewise must the deacons be grave, not doubletongued, not given to much wine, not greedy of filthy lucre⁹Holding the mystery of the faith in a pure conscience.¹⁰And let these also first be proved then let them use the office of a deacon, being found blameless.¹¹Even so must their wives be grave, not slanderers, sober, faithful in all things.¹²Let the deacons be the husbands of one wife, ruling their children and their own houses well.¹³For they that have used the office of a deacon well purchase to themselves a good degree, and great boldness in the faith which is in Christ Jesus.¹⁴These things write I unto thee, hoping to come unto thee shortly:¹⁵But if I tarry long, that thou mayest know how thou oughtest to behave thyself in the house of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and ground of the truth.¹⁶And without controversy great is the mystery of godliness: God was manifest in the flesh, justified in the Spirit, seen of angels, preached unto the Gentiles, believed on in the world, received up into glory.

CHAPTER 4 ¹Now the Spirit speaketh expressly, that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits, and doctrines of devils²Speaking lies in hypocrisy having their conscience seared with a hot iron³Forbidding to marry, and commanding to abstain from meats, which God hath created to be received with thanksgiving of them which believe and know the truth.⁴For every creature of God is good, and nothing to be refused, if it be received with thanksgiving:⁵For it is sanctified by the word of God and prayer.⁶If thou put the brethren in remembrance of these things, thou shalt be a good minister of Jesus Christ, nourished up in the words of faith and of good doctrine, whereunto thou hast attained.⁷But refuse profane and old wives' fables, and exercise thyself rather unto godliness.⁸For bodily exercise profiteth little: but godliness is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come.⁹This is a faithful saying and worthy of all acceptation.¹⁰For therefore we both labour and suffer reproach, because we trust in the living God, who is the Saviour of all men, specially of those that believe.¹¹These things command and teach.¹²Let no man despise thy youth but be thou an example of the believers, in word, in conversation, in charity, in spirit, in faith, in purity.¹³Till I come, give attendance to reading, to exhortation, to doctrine.¹⁴Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee by prophecy, with the laying on of the hands of the presbytery.¹⁵Meditate upon these things give thyself wholly to them that thy profiting may appear to all.¹⁶Take heed unto thyself, and unto the doctrine continue in them: for in doing this thou shalt both save thyself, and them that hear thee.

CHAPTER 5 ¹Rebuke not an elder, but intreat him as a father and the younger men as brethren²The elder women as mothers the younger as sisters, with all purity.³Honour widows that are widows indeed.⁴But if any widow have children or nephews, let them learn first to shew piety at home, and to requite their parents: for that is good and acceptable before God.⁵Now she that is a widow indeed, and desolate, trusteth in God, and continueth in supplications and prayers night and day.⁶But she that liveth in pleasure is dead while she liveth.⁷And these things give in charge, that they may be blameless.⁸But if any provide not for his own, and specially for those of his own house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel.⁹Let not a widow be taken into the number under threescore years old, having been the wife of one man,¹⁰Well reported of for good works if she have brought up children, if she have lodged strangers, if she have washed the saints' feet, if she have relieved the afflicted, if she have diligently followed every good work.¹¹But the younger widows refuse: for when they have begun to wax wanton against Christ, they will marry¹²Having damnation, because they have cast off their first faith.¹³And withal they learn to be idle, wandering about from house to house and not only idle, but tattlers also and busybodies, speaking things which they ought not.¹⁴I will therefore that the younger women marry, bear children, guide the house, give none occasion to the adversary to speak reproachfully.¹⁵For some are already turned aside after Satan.¹⁶If any man or woman that believeth have widows, let them relieve them, and let not the church be charged that it may relieve them that are widows indeed.¹⁷Let the elders that rule well be counted worthy of double honour, especially they who labour in the word and doctrine.¹⁸For the scripture saith, Thou shalt not muzzle the ox that treadeth out the corn. And, The labourer is worthy of his reward.¹⁹Against an elder receive not an accusation, but before two or three witnesses.²⁰Them that sin rebuke before all, that others also may fear.²¹I charge thee before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, and the elect angels, that thou observe these things without preferring one before another, doing nothing by partiality.²²Lay hands suddenly on no man, neither be partaker of other men's sins: keep thyself pure.²³Drink no longer water, but use a little wine for thy stomach's sake and thine often infirmities.²⁴Some men's sins are open beforehand, going before to judgment and some men they follow after.²⁵Likewise also the good works of some are manifest beforehand and they that are otherwise cannot be hid.

CHAPTER 6 ¹Let as many servants as are under the yoke count their own masters worthy of all honour, that the name of God and his doctrine be not blasphemed.²And they that have believing masters, let them not despise them, because they are brethren but rather do them service, because they are faithful and beloved, partakers of the benefit. These things teach and exhort.³If any man teach otherwise, and consent not to wholesome words, even the words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to the doctrine which is according to godliness⁴He is proud, knowing nothing, but doting about questions and strifes of words, whereof cometh envy, strife, railings, evil surmisings,⁵Perverse disputings of men of corrupt minds, and destitute of the truth, supposing that gain is godliness: from such withdraw thyself.⁶But godliness with contentment is great gain.⁷For we brought nothing into this world, and it is certain we can carry nothing out.⁸And having food and raiment let us be therewith content.⁹But they that will be rich fall into temptation and a snare, and into many foolish and hurtful lusts, which drown men in destruction and perdition.¹⁰For the love of money is the root of all evil: which while some coveted after, they have erred from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorrows.¹¹But thou, O man of God, flee these things and follow after righteousness, godliness, faith, love, patience, meekness.¹²Fight the good fight of faith, lay hold on eternal life, whereunto thou art also called, and hast professed a good profession before many witnesses.¹³I give thee charge in the sight of God, who quickeneth all things, and before Christ Jesus, who before Pontius Pilate witnessed a good confession¹⁴That thou keep this commandment without spot, unrebukeable, until the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ:¹⁵Which in his times he shall shew, who is the blessed and only Potentate, the King of kings, and Lord of lords¹⁶Who only hath immortality, dwelling in the light which no man can approach unto whom no man hath seen, nor can see: to whom be honour and power everlasting. Amen.¹⁷Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not highminded, nor trust in uncertain riches, but in the living God, who giveth us richly all things to enjoy¹⁸That they do good, that they be rich in good works, ready to distribute, willing to communicate¹⁹Laying up in store for themselves a good foundation against the time to come, that they may lay hold on eternal life.²⁰O Timothy, keep that which is committed to thy trust, avoiding profane and vain babblings, and oppositions of science falsely so called:²¹Which some professing have erred concerning the faith. Grace be with thee. Amen.

CHAPTER 1 ¹Paul, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, according to the promise of life which is in Christ Jesus,²To Timothy, my dearly beloved son: Grace, mercy, and peace, from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.³I thank God, whom I serve from my forefathers with pure conscience, that without ceasing I have remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day⁴Greatly desiring to see thee, being mindful of thy tears, that I may be filled with joy⁵When I call to remembrance the unfeigned faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and thy mother Eunice and I am persuaded that in thee also.⁶Wherefore I put thee in remembrance that thou stir up the gift of God, which is in thee by the putting on of my hands.⁷For God hath not given us the spirit of fear but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind.⁸Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner: but be thou partaker of the afflictions of the gospel according to the power of God⁹Who hath saved us, and called us with an holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus before the world began,¹⁰But is now made manifest by the appearing of our Saviour Jesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality to light through the gospel:¹¹Whereunto I am appointed a preacher, and an apostle, and a teacher of the Gentiles.¹²For the which cause I also suffer these things: nevertheless I am not ashamed: for I know whom I have believed, and am persuaded that he is able to keep that which I have committed unto him against that day.¹³Hold fast the form of sound words, which thou hast heard of me, in faith and love which is in Christ Jesus.¹⁴That good thing which was committed unto thee keep by the Holy Ghost which dwelleth in us.¹⁵This thou knowest, that all they which are in Asia be turned away from me of whom are Phygellus and Hermogenes.¹⁶The Lord give mercy unto the house of Onesiphorus for he oft refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my chain:¹⁷But, when he was in Rome, he sought me out very diligently, and found me.¹⁸The Lord grant unto him that he may find mercy of the Lord in that day: and in how many things he ministered unto me at Ephesus, thou knowest very well.

CHAPTER 2 ¹Thou therefore, my son, be strong in the grace that is in Christ Jesus.²And the things that thou hast heard of me among many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also.³Thou therefore endure hardness, as a good soldier of Jesus Christ.⁴No man that warreth entangleth himself with the affairs of this life that he may please him who hath chosen him to be a soldier.⁵And if a man also strive for masteries, yet is he not crowned, except he strive lawfully.⁶The husbandman that laboureth must be first partaker of the fruits.⁷Consider what I say and the Lord give thee understanding in all things.⁸Remember that Jesus Christ of the seed of David was raised from the dead according to my gospel:⁹Wherein I suffer trouble, as an evil doer, even unto bonds but the word of God is not bound.¹⁰Therefore I endure all things for the elect's sakes, that they may also obtain the salvation which is in Christ Jesus with eternal glory.¹¹It is a faithful saying: For if we be dead with him, we shall also live with him:¹²If we suffer, we shall also reign with him: if we deny him, he also will deny us:¹³If we believe not, yet he abideth faithful: he cannot deny himself.¹⁴Of these things put them in remembrance, charging them before the Lord that they strive not about words to no profit, but to the subverting of the hearers.¹⁵Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth.¹⁶But shun profane and vain babblings: for they will increase unto more ungodliness.¹⁷And their word will eat as doth a canker: of whom is Hymenaeus and Philetus¹⁸Who concerning the truth have erred, saying that the resurrection is past already and overthrow the faith of some.¹⁹Nevertheless the foundation of God standeth sure, having this seal, The Lord knoweth them that are his. And, Let every one that nameth the name of Christ depart from iniquity.²⁰But in a great house there are not only vessels of gold and of silver, but also of wood and of earth and some to honour, and some to dishonour.²¹If a man therefore purge himself from these, he shall be a vessel unto honour, sanctified, and meet for the master's use, and prepared unto every good work.²²Flee also youthful lusts: but follow righteousness, faith, charity, peace, with them that call on the Lord out of a pure heart.²³But foolish and unlearned questions avoid, knowing that they do gender strifes.²⁴And the servant of the Lord must not strive but be gentle unto all men, apt to teach, patient,²⁵In meekness instructing those that oppose themselves if God peradventure will give them repentance to the acknowledging of the truth²⁶And that they may recover themselves out of the snare of the devil, who are taken captive by him at his will.

CHAPTER 3 ¹This know also, that in the last days perilous times shall come.²For men shall be lovers of their own selves, covetous, boasters, proud, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholy,³Without natural affection, trucebreakers, false accusers, incontinent, fierce, despisers of those that are good,⁴Traitors, heady, highminded, lovers of pleasures more than lovers of God⁵Having a form of godliness, but denying the power thereof: from such turn away.⁶For of this sort are they which creep into houses, and lead captive silly women laden with sins, led away with divers lusts,⁷Ever learning, and never able to come to the knowledge of the truth.⁸Now as Jannes and Jambres withstood Moses, so do these also resist the truth: men of corrupt minds, reprobate concerning the faith.⁹But they shall proceed no further: for their folly shall be manifest unto all men, as theirs also was.¹⁰But thou hast fully known my doctrine, manner of life, purpose, faith, longsuffering, charity, patience,¹¹Persecutions, afflictions, which came unto me at Antioch, at Iconium, at Lystra what persecutions I endured: but out of them all the Lord delivered me.¹²Yea, and all that will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution.¹³But evil men and seducers shall wax worse and worse, deceiving, and being deceived.¹⁴But continue thou in the things which thou hast learned and hast been assured of, knowing of whom thou hast learned them¹⁵And that from a child thou hast known the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus.¹⁶All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness:¹⁷That the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works.

CHAPTER 4 ¹I charge thee therefore before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, who shall judge the quick and the dead at his appearing and his kingdom²Preach the word be instant in season, out of season reprove, rebuke, exhort with all longsuffering and doctrine.³For the time will come when they will not endure sound doctrine but after their own lusts shall they heap to themselves teachers, having itching ears⁴And they shall turn away their ears from the truth, and shall be turned unto fables.⁵But watch thou in all things, endure afflictions, do the work of an evangelist, make full proof of thy ministry.⁶For I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my departure is at hand.⁷I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith:⁸Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, shall give me at that day: and not to me only, but unto all them also that love his appearing.⁹Do thy diligence to come shortly unto me:¹⁰For Demas hath forsaken me, having loved this present world, and is departed unto Thessalonica Crescens to Galatia, Titus unto Dalmatia.¹¹Only Luke is with me. Take Mark, and bring him with thee: for he is profitable to me for the ministry.¹²And Tychicus have I sent to Ephesus.¹³The cloke that I left at Troas with Carpus, when thou comest, bring with thee, and the books, but especially the parchments.¹⁴Alexander the coppersmith did me much evil: the Lord reward him according to his works:¹⁵Of whom be thou ware also for he hath greatly withstood our words.¹⁶At my first answer no man stood with me, but all men forsook me: I pray God that it may not be laid to their charge.¹⁷Notwithstanding the Lord stood with me, and strengthened me that by me the preaching might be fully known, and that all the Gentiles might hear: and I was delivered out of the mouth of the lion.¹⁸And the Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom: to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.¹⁹Salute Prisca and Aquila, and the household of Onesiphorus.²⁰Erastus abode at Corinth: but Trophimus have I left at Miletum sick.²¹Do thy diligence to come before winter. Eubulus greeteth thee, and Pudens, and Linus, and Claudia, and all the brethren.²²The Lord Jesus Christ be with thy spirit. Grace be with you. Amen.

CHAPTER 1 ¹Paul, a servant of God, and an apostle of Jesus Christ, according to the faith of God's elect, and the acknowledging of the truth which is after godliness²In hope of eternal life, which God, that cannot lie, promised before the world began³But hath in due times manifested his word through preaching, which is committed unto me according to the commandment of God our Saviour⁴To Titus, mine own son after the common faith: Grace, mercy, and peace, from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ our Saviour.⁵For this cause left I thee in Crete, that thou shouldest set in order the things that are wanting, and ordain elders in every city, as I had appointed thee:⁶If any be blameless, the husband of one wife, having faithful children not accused of riot or unruly.⁷For a bishop must be blameless, as the steward of God not selfwilled, not soon angry, not given to wine, no striker, not given to filthy lucre⁸But a lover of hospitality, a lover of good men, sober, just, holy, temperate⁹Holding fast the faithful word as he hath been taught, that he may be able by sound doctrine both to exhort and to convince the gainsayers.¹⁰For there are many unruly and vain talkers and deceivers, specially they of the circumcision:¹¹Whose mouths must be stopped, who subvert whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, for filthy lucre's sake.¹²One of themselves, even a prophet of their own, said, The Cretians are alway liars, evil beasts, slow bellies.¹³This witness is true. Wherefore rebuke them sharply, that they may be sound in the faith¹⁴Not giving heed to Jewish fables, and commandments of men, that turn from the truth.¹⁵Unto the pure all things are pure: but unto them that are defiled and unbelieving is nothing pure but even their mind and conscience is defiled.¹⁶They profess that they know God but in works they deny him, being abominable, and disobedient, and unto every good work reprobate.

CHAPTER 2 ¹But speak thou the things which become sound doctrine:²That the aged men be sober, grave, temperate, sound in faith, in charity, in patience.³The aged women likewise, that they be in behaviour as becometh holiness, not false accusers, not given to much wine, teachers of good things⁴That they may teach the young women to be sober, to love their husbands, to love their children,⁵To be discreet, chaste, keepers at home, good, obedient to their own husbands, that the word of God be not blasphemed.⁶Young men likewise exhort to be sober minded.⁷In all things shewing thyself a pattern of good works: in doctrine shewing uncorruptness, gravity, sincerity,⁸Sound speech, that cannot be condemned that he that is of the contrary part may be ashamed, having no evil thing to say of you.⁹Exhort servants to be obedient unto their own masters, and to please them well in all things not answering again¹⁰Not purloining, but shewing all good fidelity that they may adorn the doctrine of God our Saviour in all things.¹¹For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men,¹²Teaching us that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly, in this present world¹³Looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ¹⁴Who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify unto himself a peculiar people, zealous of good works.¹⁵These things speak, and exhort, and rebuke with all authority. Let no man despise thee.

CHAPTER 3 ¹Put them in mind to be subject to principalities and powers, to obey magistrates, to be ready to every good work,²To speak evil of no man, to be no brawlers, but gentle, shewing all meekness unto all men.³For we ourselves also were sometimes foolish, disobedient, deceived, serving divers lusts and pleasures, living in malice and envy, hateful, and hating one another.⁴But after that the kindness and love of God our Saviour toward man appeared,⁵Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost⁶Which he shed on us abundantly through Jesus Christ our Saviour⁷That being justified by his grace, we should be made heirs according to the hope of eternal life.⁸This is a faithful saying, and these things I will that thou affirm constantly, that they which have believed in God might be careful to maintain good works. These things are good and profitable unto men.⁹But avoid foolish questions, and genealogies, and contentions, and strivings about the law for they are unprofitable and vain.¹⁰A man that is an heretick after the first and second admonition reject¹¹Knowing that he that is such is subverted, and sinneth, being condemned of himself.¹²When I shall send Artemas unto thee, or Tychicus, be diligent to come unto me to Nicopolis: for I have determined there to winter.¹³Bring Zenas the lawyer and Apollos on their journey diligently, that nothing be wanting unto them.¹⁴And let ours also learn to maintain good works for necessary uses, that they be not unfruitful.¹⁵All that are with me salute thee. Greet them that love us in the faith. Grace be with you all. Amen.

PHILEMON

CHAPTER 1 ¹Paul, a prisoner of Jesus Christ, and Timothy our brother, unto Philemon our dearly beloved, and fellowlabourer,²And to our beloved Apphia, and Archippus our fellowsoldier, and to the church in thy house:³Grace to you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.⁴I thank my God, making mention of thee always in my prayers,⁵Hearing of thy love and faith, which thou hast toward the Lord Jesus, and toward all saints⁶That the communication of thy faith may become effectual by the acknowledging of every good thing which is in you in Christ Jesus.⁷For we have great joy and consolation in thy love, because the bowels of the saints are refreshed by thee, brother.⁸Wherefore, though I might be much bold in Christ to enjoin thee that which is convenient,⁹Yet for love's sake I rather beseech thee, being such an one as Paul the aged, and now also a prisoner of Jesus Christ.¹⁰I beseech thee for my son Onesimus, whom I have begotten in my bonds:¹¹Which in time past was to thee unprofitable, but now profitable to thee and to me:¹²Whom I have sent again: thou therefore receive him, that is, mine own bowels:¹³Whom I would have retained with me, that in thy stead he might have ministered unto me in the bonds of the gospel:¹⁴But without thy mind would I do nothing that thy benefit should not be as it were of necessity, but willingly.¹⁵For perhaps he therefore departed for a season, that thou shouldest receive him for ever¹⁶Not now as a servant, but above a servant, a brother beloved, specially to me, but how much more unto thee, both in the flesh, and in the Lord?¹⁷If thou count me therefore a partner, receive him as myself.¹⁸If he hath wronged thee, or oweth thee ought, put that on mine account¹⁹I Paul have written it with mine own hand, I will repay it: albeit I do not say to thee how thou owest unto me even thine own self besides.²⁰Yea, brother, let me have joy of thee in the Lord: refresh my bowels in the Lord.²¹ Having confidence in thy obedience I wrote unto thee, knowing that thou wilt also do more than I say.²² But withal prepare me also a lodging: for I trust that through your prayers I shall be given unto you.²³ There salute thee Epaphras, my fellowprisoner in Christ Jesus²⁴ Marcus, Aristarchus, Demas, Lucas, my fellowlabourers.²⁵ The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.

HEBREWS

CHAPTER 1 ¹God, who at sundry times and in divers manners spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets,² Hath in these last days spoken unto us by his Son, whom he hath appointed heir of all things, by whom also he made the worlds³ Who being the brightness of his glory, and the express image of his person, and upholding all things by the word of his power, when he had by himself purged our sins, sat down on the right hand of the Majesty on high⁴ Being made so much better than the angels, as he hath by inheritance obtained a more excellent name than they.⁵ For unto which of the angels said he at any time, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee? And again, I will be to him a Father, and he shall be to me a Son?⁶ And again, when he bringeth in the firstbegotten into the world, he saith, And let all the angels of God worship him.⁷ And of the angels he saith, Who maketh his angels spirits, and his ministers a flame of fire.⁸ But unto the Son he saith, Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever: a sceptre of righteousness is the sceptre of thy kingdom.⁹ Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated iniquity therefore God, even thy God, hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows.¹⁰ And, Thou, Lord, in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth and the heavens are the works of thine hands:¹¹ They shall perish but thou remainest and they all shall wax old as doth a garment¹² And as a vesture shalt thou fold them up, and they shall be changed: but thou art the same, and thy years shall not fail.¹³ But to which of the angels said he at any time, Sit on my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool?¹⁴ Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for them who shall be heirs of salvation?

CHAPTER 2 ¹Therefore we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things which we have heard, lest at any time we should let them slip.²For if the word spoken by angels was stedfast, and every transgression and disobedience received a just recompence of reward³How shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation which at the first began to be spoken by the Lord, and was confirmed unto us by them that heard him⁴God also bearing them witness, both with signs and wonders, and with divers miracles, and gifts of the Holy Ghost, according to his own will?⁵For unto the angels hath he not put in subjection the world to come, whereof we speak.⁶But one in a certain place testified, saying, What is man, that thou art mindful of him? or the son of man, that thou visitest him?⁷Thou madest him a little lower than the angels thou crownedst him with glory and honour, and didst set him over the works of thy hands:⁸Thou hast put all things in subjection under his feet. For in that he put all in subjection under him, he left nothing that is not put under him. But now we see not yet all things put under him.⁹But we see Jesus, who was made a little lower than the angels for the suffering of death, crowned with glory and honour that he by the grace of God should taste death for every man.¹⁰For it became him, for whom are all things, and by whom are all things, in bringing many sons unto glory, to make the captain of their salvation perfect through sufferings.¹¹For both he that sanctifieth and they who are sanctified are all of one: for which cause he is not ashamed to call them brethren,¹²Saying, I will declare thy name unto my brethren, in the midst of the church will I sing praise unto thee.¹³And again, I will put my trust in him. And again, Behold I and the children which God hath given me.¹⁴Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himself likewise took part of the same that through death he might destroy him that had the power of death, that is, the devil¹⁵And deliver them who through fear of death were all their lifetime subject to bondage.¹⁶For verily he took not on him the nature of angels but he took on him the seed of Abraham.¹⁷Wherefore in all things it behoved him to be made like unto his brethren, that he might be a merciful and faithful high priest in things pertaining to God, to make reconciliation for the sins of the people.¹⁸For in that he himself hath suffered being tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted.

CHAPTER 3 ¹Wherefore, holy brethren, partakers of the heavenly calling, consider the Apostle and High Priest of our profession, Christ Jesus²Who was faithful to him that appointed him, as also Moses was faithful in all his house.³For this man was counted worthy of more glory than Moses, inasmuch as he who hath builded the house hath more honour than the house.⁴For every house is builded by some man but he that built all things is God.⁵And Moses verily was faithful in all his house, as a servant, for a testimony of those things which were to be spoken after⁶But Christ as a son over his own house whose house are we, if we hold fast the confidence and the rejoicing of the hope firm unto the end.⁷Wherefore (as the Holy Ghost saith, To day if ye will hear his voice,⁸Harden not your hearts, as in the provocation, in the day of temptation in the wilderness:⁹When your fathers tempted me, proved me, and saw my works forty years.¹⁰Wherefore I was grieved with that generation, and said, They do alway err in their heart and they have not known my ways.¹¹So I sware in my wrath, They shall not enter into my rest.)¹²Take heed, brethren, lest there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief, in departing from the living God.¹³But exhort one another daily, while it is called To day lest any of you be hardened through the deceitfulness of sin.¹⁴For we are made partakers of Christ, if we hold the beginning of our confidence stedfast unto the end¹⁵While it is said, To day if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts, as in the provocation.¹⁶For some, when they had heard, did provoke: howbeit not all that came out of Egypt by Moses.¹⁷But with whom was he grieved forty years? was it not with them that had sinned, whose carcasses fell in the wilderness?¹⁸And to whom sware he that they should not enter into his rest, but to them that believed not?¹⁹So we see that they could not enter in because of unbelief.

CHAPTER 4 ¹Let us therefore fear, lest, a promise being left us of entering into his rest, any of you should seem to come short of it.²For unto us was the gospel preached, as well as unto them: but the word preached did not profit them, not being mixed with faith in them that heard it.³For we which have believed do enter into rest, as he said, As I have sworn in my wrath, if they shall enter into my rest: although the works were finished from the foundation of the world.⁴For he spake in a certain place of the seventh day on this wise, And God did rest the seventh day from all his works.⁵And in this place again, If they shall enter into my rest.⁶Seeing therefore it remaineth that some must enter therein, and they to whom it was first preached entered not in because of unbelief:⁷Again, he limiteth a certain day, saying in David, To day, after so long a time as it is said, To day if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts.⁸For if Jesus had given them rest, then would he not afterward have spoken of another day.⁹There remaineth therefore a rest to the people of God.¹⁰For he that is entered into his rest, he also hath ceased from his own works, as God did from his.¹¹Let us labour therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man fall after the same example of unbelief.¹²For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any twoedged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart.¹³Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are naked and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do.¹⁴Seeing then that we have a great high priest, that is passed into the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold fast our profession.¹⁵For we have not an high priest which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities but was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin.¹⁶Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need.

CHAPTER 5 ¹For every high priest taken from among men is ordained for men in things pertaining to God, that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins:²Who can have compassion on the ignorant, and on them that are out of the way for that he himself also is compassed with infirmity.³And by reason hereof he ought, as for the people, so also for himself, to offer for sins.⁴And no man taketh this honour unto himself, but he that is called of God, as was Aaron.⁵So also Christ glorified not himself to be made an high priest but he that said unto him, Thou art my Son, to day have I begotten thee.⁶As he saith also in another place, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec.⁷Who in the days of his flesh, when he had offered up prayers and supplications with strong crying and tears unto him that was able to save him from death, and was heard in that he feared⁸Though he were a Son, yet learned he obedience by the things which he suffered⁹And being made perfect, he became the author of eternal salvation unto all them that obey him¹⁰Called of God an high priest after the order of Melchisedec.¹¹Of whom we have many things to say, and hard to be uttered, seeing ye are dull of hearing.¹²For when for the time ye ought to be teachers, ye have need that one teach you again which be the first principles of the oracles of God and are become such as have need of milk, and not of strong meat.¹³For every one that useth milk is unskilful in the word of righteousness: for he is a babe.¹⁴But strong meat belongeth to them that are of full age, even those who by reason of use have their senses exercised to discern both good and evil.

CHAPTER 6 ¹Therefore leaving the principles of the doctrine of Christ, let us go on unto perfection not laying again the foundation of repentance from dead works, and of faith toward God,²Of the doctrine of baptisms, and of laying on of hands, and of resurrection of the dead, and of eternal judgment.³And this will we do, if God permit.⁴For it is impossible for those who were once enlightened, and have tasted of the heavenly gift, and were made partakers of the Holy Ghost,⁵And have tasted the good word of God, and the powers of the world to come,⁶If they shall fall away, to renew them again unto repentance seeing they crucify to themselves the Son of God afresh, and put him to an open shame.⁷For the earth which drinketh in the rain that cometh oft upon it, and bringeth forth herbs meet for them by whom it is dressed, receiveth blessing from God:⁸But that which beareth thorns and briers is rejected, and is nigh unto cursing whose end is to be burned.⁹But, beloved, we are persuaded better things of you, and things that accompany salvation, though we thus speak.¹⁰For God is not unrighteous to forget your work and labour of love, which ye have shewed toward his name, in that ye have ministered to the saints, and do minister.¹¹And we desire that every one of you do shew the same diligence to the full assurance of hope unto the end:¹²That ye be not slothful, but followers of them who through faith and patience inherit the promises.¹³For when God made promise to Abraham, because he could swear by no greater, he swore by himself,¹⁴Saying, Surely blessing I will bless thee, and multiplying I will multiply thee.¹⁵And so, after he had patiently endured, he obtained the promise.¹⁶For men verily swear by the greater: and an oath for confirmation is to them an end of all strife.¹⁷Wherein God, willing more abundantly to shew unto the heirs of promise the immutability of his counsel, confirmed it by an oath:¹⁸That by two immutable things, in which it was impossible for God to lie, we might have a strong consolation, who have fled for refuge to lay hold upon the hope set before us:¹⁹Which hope we have as an anchor of the soul, both sure and stedfast, and which entereth into that within the veil²⁰Whither the forerunner is for us entered, even Jesus, made an high priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec.

CHAPTER 7 ¹For this Melchisedec, king of Salem, priest of the most high God, who met Abraham returning from the slaughter of the kings, and blessed him²To whom also Abraham gave a tenth part of all first being by interpretation King of righteousness, and after that also King of Salem, which is, King of peace³Without father, without mother, without descent, having neither beginning of days, nor end of life but made like unto the Son of God abideth a priest continually.⁴Now consider how great this man was, unto whom even the patriarch Abraham gave the tenth of the spoils.⁵And verily they that are of the sons of Levi, who receive the office of the priesthood, have a commandment to take tithes of the people according to the law, that is, of their brethren, though they come out of the loins of Abraham:⁶But he whose descent is not counted from them received tithes of Abraham, and blessed him that had the promises.⁷And without all contradiction the less is blessed of the better.⁸And here men that die receive tithes but there he receiveth them, of whom it is witnessed that he liveth.⁹And as I may so say, Levi also, who receiveth tithes, payed tithes in Abraham.¹⁰For he was yet in the loins of his father, when Melchisedec met him.¹¹If therefore perfection were by the

Levitical priesthood, (for under it the people received the law,) what further need was there that another priest should rise after the order of Melchisedec, and not be called after the order of Aaron?¹²For the priesthood being changed, there is made of necessity a change also of the law.¹³For he of whom these things are spoken pertaineth to another tribe, of which no man gave attendance at the altar.¹⁴For it is evident that our Lord sprang out of Juda of which tribe Moses spake nothing concerning priesthood.¹⁵And it is yet far more evident: for that after the similitude of Melchisedec there ariseth another priest,¹⁶Who is made, not after the law of a carnal commandment, but after the power of an endless life.¹⁷For he testifieth, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec.¹⁸For there is verily a disannulling of the commandment going before for the weakness and unprofitableness thereof.¹⁹For the law made nothing perfect, but the bringing in of a better hope did by the which we draw nigh unto God.²⁰And inasmuch as not without an oath he was made priest:²¹(For those priests were made without an oath but this with an oath by him that said unto him, The Lord sware and will not repent, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec:)²²By so much was Jesus made a surety of a better testament.²³And they truly were many priests, because they were not suffered to continue by reason of death:²⁴But this man, because he continueth ever, hath an unchangeable priesthood.²⁵Wherefore he is able also to save them to the uttermost that come unto God by him, seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them.²⁶For such an high priest became us, who is holy, harmless, undefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher than the heavens²⁷Who needeth not daily, as those high priests, to offer up sacrifice, first for his own sins, and then for the people's: for this he did once, when he offered up himself.²⁸For the law maketh men high priests which have infirmity but the word of the oath, which was since the law, maketh the Son, who is consecrated for evermore.

CHAPTER 8 ¹Now of the things which we have spoken this is the sum: We have such an high priest, who is set on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens²A minister of the sanctuary, and of the true tabernacle, which the Lord pitched, and not man.³For every high priest is ordained to offer gifts and sacrifices: wherefore it is of necessity that this man have somewhat also to offer.⁴For if he were on earth, he should not be a priest, seeing that there are priests that offer gifts according to the law:⁵Who serve unto the example and shadow of heavenly things, as Moses was admonished of God when he was about to make the tabernacle: for, See, saith he, that thou make all things according to the pattern shewed to thee in the mount.⁶But now hath he obtained a more excellent ministry, by how much also he is the mediator of a better covenant, which was established upon better promises.⁷For if that first covenant had been faultless, then should no place have been sought for the second.⁸For finding fault with them, he saith, Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah:⁹Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day when I took them by the hand to lead them out of the land of Egypt because they continued not in my covenant, and I regarded them not, saith the Lord.¹⁰For this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, saith the Lord I will put my laws into their mind, and write them in their hearts: and I will be to them a God, and they shall be to me a people:¹¹And they shall not teach every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for all shall know me, from the least to the greatest.¹²For I will be merciful to their unrighteousness, and their sins and their iniquities will I remember no more.¹³In that he saith, A new covenant, he hath made the first old. Now that which decayeth and waxeth old is ready to vanish away.

CHAPTER 9 ¹Then verily the first covenant had also ordinances of divine service, and a worldly sanctuary.²For there was a tabernacle made the first, wherein was the candlestick, and the table, and the shewbread which is called the sanctuary.³And after the second veil, the tabernacle which is called the Holiest of all⁴Which had the golden censer, and the ark of the covenant overlaid round about with gold, wherein was the golden pot that had manna, and Aaron's rod that budded, and the tables of the covenant⁵And over it the cherubims of glory shadowing the mercyseat of which we cannot now speak particularly.⁶Now when these things were thus ordained, the priests went always into the first tabernacle, accomplishing the service of God.⁷But into the second went the high priest alone once every year, not without blood, which he offered for himself, and for the errors of the people:⁸The Holy Ghost this signifying, that the way into the holiest of all was not yet made manifest, while as the first tabernacle was yet standing:⁹Which was a figure for the time then present, in which were offered both gifts and sacrifices, that could not make him that did the service perfect, as pertaining to the conscience¹⁰Which stood only in meats and drinks, and divers washings, and carnal ordinances, imposed on them until the time of reformation.¹¹But Christ being come an high priest of good things to come, by a greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this building¹²Neither by the blood of goats and calves, but by his own blood he entered in once into the holy place, having obtained eternal redemption for us.¹³For if the blood of bulls and of goats, and the ashes of an heifer sprinkling the unclean, sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh:¹⁴How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God?¹⁵And for this cause he is the mediator of the new testament, that by means of death, for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first testament, they which are called might receive the promise of eternal inheritance.¹⁶For where a testament is, there must also of necessity be the death of the testator.¹⁷For a testament is of force after men are dead: otherwise it is of no strength at all while the testator liveth.¹⁸Whereupon neither the first testament was dedicated without blood.¹⁹For when Moses had spoken every precept to all the people according to the law, he took the blood of calves and of goats, with water, and scarlet wool, and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book, and all the people,²⁰Saying, This is the blood of the testament which God hath enjoined unto you.²¹Moreover he sprinkled with blood both the tabernacle, and all the vessels of the ministry.²²And almost all things are by the law purged with blood and without shedding of blood is no remission.²³It was therefore necessary that the patterns of things in the heavens should be purified with these but the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these.²⁴For Christ is not entered into the holy places made with hands, which are the figures of the true but into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God for us:²⁵Nor yet that he should offer himself often, as the high priest entereth into the holy place every year with blood of others²⁶For then must he often have suffered since the foundation of the world: but now once in the end of the world hath he appeared to put away sin by the sacrifice of himself.²⁷And as it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment:²⁸So Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many and unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time without sin unto salvation.

CHAPTER 10 ¹For the law having a shadow of good things to come, and not the very image of the things, can never with those sacrifices which they offered year by year continually make the comers thereunto perfect.²For then would they not have ceased to be offered? because that the worshippers once purged should have had no more conscience of sins.³But in those sacrifices there is a remembrance again made of sins every year.⁴For it is not possible that the blood of bulls and of goats should take away sins.⁵Wherefore when he cometh into the world, he saith, Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not, but a body hast thou prepared me:⁶In burnt offerings and sacrifices for sin thou hast had no pleasure.⁷Then said I, Lo, I come (in the volume of the book it is written of me,) to do thy will, O God.⁸Above when he said, Sacrifice and offering and burnt offerings and offering for sin thou wouldest not, neither hadst pleasure therein which are offered by the law⁹Then said he, Lo, I come to do thy will, O God. He taketh away the first, that he may establish the second.¹⁰By the which will we are sanctified through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all.¹¹And every priest standeth daily ministering and offering oftentimes the same sacrifices, which can never take away sins:¹²But this man, after he had offered one sacrifice for sins for ever, sat down on the right hand of God¹³From henceforth expecting till his enemies be made his footstool.¹⁴For by one offering he hath perfected for ever them that are sanctified.¹⁵Whereof the Holy Ghost also is a witness to us: for after that he had said before,¹⁶This is the covenant that I will make with them after those days, saith the Lord, I will put my laws into their hearts, and in their minds will I write them¹⁷And their sins and iniquities will I remember no more.¹⁸Now where remission of these is, there is no more offering for sin.¹⁹Having therefore, brethren, boldness to enter into the holiest by the blood of Jesus,²⁰By a new and living way, which he hath consecrated for us, through the veil, that is to say, his flesh²¹And having an high priest over the house of God²²Let us draw near with a true heart in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with pure water.²³Let us hold fast the profession of our faith without wavering (for he is faithful that promised)²⁴And let us consider one another to provoke unto love and to good works:²⁵Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is but exhorting one another: and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching.²⁶For if we sin wilfully after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins,²⁷But a certain fearful looking for of judgment and fiery indignation, which shall devour the adversaries.²⁸He that despised Moses' law died without mercy under two or three witnesses:²⁹Of how much sorer punishment, suppose ye, shall he be thought worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath counted the blood of the covenant, wherewith he was sanctified, an unholy thing, and hath done despite unto the Spirit of grace?³⁰For we know him that hath said, Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense, saith the Lord. And again, The Lord shall judge his people.³¹It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.³²But call to remembrance the former days, in which, after ye were illuminated, ye endured a great fight of afflictions³³Partly, whilst ye were made a gazingstock both by reproaches and afflictions and partly, whilst ye became companions of them that were so used.³⁴For ye had compassion of me in my bonds, and took joyfully the spoiling of your goods, knowing in yourselves that ye have in heaven a better and an enduring substance.³⁵Cast not away therefore your confidence, which hath great recompence of reward.³⁶For ye have need of patience, that, after ye have done the will of God, ye might receive the promise.³⁷For yet a little while, and he that shall come will come, and will not tarry.³⁸Now the just shall live by faith: but if any man draw back, my soul shall have no pleasure in him.³⁹But we are not of them who draw back unto perdition but of them that believe to the saving of the soul.

CHAPTER 11 ¹Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen.²For by it the elders obtained a good report.³Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear.⁴By faith Abel offered unto God a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, by which he obtained witness that he was righteous, God testifying of his gifts: and by it he being dead yet speaketh.⁵By faith Enoch was translated that he should not see death and was not found, because God had translated him: for before his translation he had this testimony, that he pleased God.⁶But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him.⁷By faith Noah, being warned of God of things not seen as yet, moved with fear, prepared an ark to the saving of his house by the which he condemned the world, and became heir of the righteousness which is by faith.⁸By faith Abraham, when he was called to go out into a place which he should after receive for an inheritance, obeyed and he went out, not knowing whither he went.⁹By faith he sojourned in the land of promise, as in a strange country, dwelling in tabernacles with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs with him of the same promise:¹⁰For he looked for a city which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God.¹¹Through faith also Sara herself received strength to conceive seed, and was delivered of a child when she was past age, because she judged him faithful who had promised.¹²Therefore sprang there even of one, and him as good as dead, so many as the stars of the sky in multitude, and as the sand which is by the sea shore innumerable.¹³These all died in faith, not having received the promises, but having seen them afar off, and were persuaded of them, and embraced them, and confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth.¹⁴For they that say such things declare plainly that they seek a country.¹⁵And truly, if they had been mindful of that country from whence they came out, they might have had opportunity to have returned.¹⁶But now they desire a better country, that is, an heavenly: wherefore God is not ashamed to be called their God: for he hath prepared for them a city.¹⁷By faith Abraham, when he was tried, offered up Isaac: and he that had received the promises offered up his only begotten son,¹⁸Of whom it was said, That in Isaac shall thy seed be called:¹⁹Accounting that God was able to raise him up, even from the dead from whence also he received him in a figure.²⁰By faith Isaac blessed Jacob and Esau concerning things to come.²¹By faith Jacob, when he was a dying, blessed both the sons of Joseph and worshipped, leaning upon the top of his staff.²²By faith Joseph, when he died, made mention of the departing of the children of Israel and gave commandment concerning his bones.²³By faith Moses, when he was born, was hid three months of his parents, because they saw he was a proper child and they were not afraid of the king's commandment.²⁴By faith Moses, when he was come to years, refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter²⁵Choosing rather to suffer affliction with the people of God, than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season²⁶Esteeming the reproach of Christ greater riches than the treasures in Egypt: for he had respect unto the recompence of the reward.²⁷By faith he forsook Egypt, not fearing the wrath of the king: for he endured, as seeing him who is invisible.²⁸Through faith he kept the passover, and the sprinkling of blood, lest he that destroyed the firstborn should touch them.²⁹By faith they passed through the Red sea as by dry land: which the Egyptians assaying to do were drowned.³⁰By faith the walls of Jericho fell down, after they were compassed about seven days.³¹By faith the harlot Rahab perished not with them that believed not, when she had received the spies with peace.³²And what shall I more say? for the time would fail me to tell of Gedeon, and of Barak, and of Samson, and of Jephthae of David also, and Samuel, and of the prophets:³³Who through faith subdued kingdoms, wrought righteousness, obtained promises, stopped the mouths of lions,³⁴Quenched the violence of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, out of weakness were made strong, waxed valiant in fight, turned to flight the armies of the aliens.³⁵Women received their dead raised to life again: and others were tortured, not accepting deliverance that they might obtain a better resurrection:³⁶And others had trial of cruel mockings and scourgings, yea, moreover of bonds and imprisonment:³⁷They were stoned, they were sawn asunder, were tempted, were slain with the sword: they wandered about in sheepskins and goatskins being destitute, afflicted, tormented³⁸(Of whom the world was not worthy:) they wandered in deserts, and in mountains, and in dens and caves of the earth.³⁹And these all, having obtained a good report through faith, received not the promise:⁴⁰God having provided some better thing for us, that they without us should not be made perfect.

CHAPTER 12 ¹Wherefore seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us,²Looking unto Jesus the author and finisher of our faith who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God.³For consider him that endured such contradiction of sinners against himself, lest ye be wearied and faint in your minds.⁴Ye have not yet resisted unto blood, striving against sin.⁵And ye have forgotten the exhortation which speaketh unto you as unto children, My son, despise not thou the chastening of the Lord, nor faint when thou art rebuked of him:⁶For whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth, and scourgeth every son whom he receiveth.⁷If ye endure chastening, God dealeth with you as with sons for what son is he whom the father chasteneth not?⁸But if ye be without chastisement, whereof all are partakers, then are ye bastards, and not sons.⁹Furthermore we have had fathers of our flesh which corrected us, and we gave them reverence: shall we not much rather be in subjection unto the Father of spirits, and live?¹⁰For they verily for a few days chastened us after their own pleasure but he for our profit, that we might be partakers of his holiness.¹¹Now no chastening for the present seemeth to be joyous, but grievous: nevertheless afterward it yieldeth the peaceable fruit of righteousness unto them which are exercised thereby.¹²Wherefore lift up the hands which hang down, and the feeble knees¹³And make straight paths for your feet, lest that which is lame be turned out of the way but let it rather be healed.¹⁴Follow peace with all men, and holiness, without which no man shall see the Lord:¹⁵Looking diligently lest any man fail of the grace of God lest any root of bitterness springing up trouble you, and thereby many be defiled¹⁶Lest there be any fornicator, or profane person, as Esau, who for one morsel of meat sold his birthright.¹⁷For ye know how that afterward, when he would have inherited the blessing, he was rejected: for he found no place of repentance, though he sought it carefully with tears.¹⁸For ye are not come unto the mount that might be touched, and that burned with fire, nor unto blackness, and darkness, and tempest,¹⁹And the sound of a trumpet, and the voice of words which voice they that heard intreated that the word should not be spoken to them any more:²⁰(For they could not endure that which was commanded, And if so much as a beast touch the mountain, it shall be stoned, or thrust through with a dart:²¹And so terrible was the sight, that Moses said, I exceedingly fear and quake:)²²But ye are come unto mount Sion, and unto the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to an innumerable company of angels,²³To the general assembly and church of the firstborn, which are written in heaven, and to God the Judge of all, and to the spirits of just men made perfect,²⁴And to Jesus the mediator of the new covenant, and to the blood of sprinkling, that speaketh better things than that of Abel.²⁵See that ye refuse not him that speaketh. For if they escaped not who refused him that spake on earth, much more shall not we escape, if we turn away from him that speaketh from heaven:²⁶Whose voice then shook the earth: but now he hath promised, saying, Yet once more I shake not the earth only, but also heaven.²⁷And this word, Yet once more, signifieth the removing of those things that are shaken, as of things that are made, that those things which cannot be shaken may remain.²⁸Wherefore we receiving a kingdom which cannot be moved, let us have grace, whereby we may serve God acceptably with reverence and godly fear:²⁹For our God is a consuming fire.

CHAPTER 13 ¹Let brotherly love continue.²Be not forgetful to entertain strangers: for thereby some have entertained angels unawares.³Remember them that are in bonds, as bound with them and them which suffer adversity, as being yourselves also in the body.⁴Marriage is honourable in all, and the bed undefiled: but whoremongers and adulterers God will judge.⁵Let your conversation be without covetousness and be content with such things as ye have: for he hath said, I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee.⁶So that we may boldly say, The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me.⁷Remember them which have the rule over you, who have spoken unto you the word of God: whose faith follow, considering the end of their conversation.⁸Jesus Christ the same yesterday, and to day, and for ever.⁹Be not carried about with divers and strange doctrines. For it is a good thing that the heart be established with grace not with meats, which have not profited them that have been occupied therein.¹⁰We have an altar, whereof they have no right to eat which serve the tabernacle.¹¹For the bodies of those beasts, whose blood is brought into the sanctuary by the high priest for sin, are burned without the camp.¹²Wherefore Jesus also, that he might sanctify the people with his own blood, suffered without the gate.¹³Let us go forth therefore unto him without the camp, bearing his reproach.¹⁴For here have we no continuing city, but we seek one to come.¹⁵By him therefore let us offer the sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is, the fruit of our lips giving thanks to his name.¹⁶But to do good and to communicate forget not: for with such sacrifices God is well pleased.¹⁷Obey them that have the rule over you, and submit yourselves: for they watch for your souls, as they that must give account, that they may do it with joy, and not with grief: for that is unprofitable for you.¹⁸Pray for us: for we trust we have a good conscience, in all things willing to live honestly.¹⁹But I beseech you the rather to do this, that I may be restored to you the sooner.²⁰Now the God of peace, that brought again from the dead our Lord

Jesus, that great shepherd of the sheep, through the blood of the everlasting covenant,²¹Make you perfect in every good work to do his will, working in you that which is wellpleasing in his sight, through Jesus Christ to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.²²And I beseech you, brethren, suffer the word of exhortation: for I have written a letter unto you in few words.²³Know ye that our brother Timothy is set at liberty with whom, if he come shortly, I will see you.²⁴Salute all them that have the rule over you, and all the saints. They of Italy salute you.²⁵Grace be with you all. Amen.

CHAPTER 1 ¹Peter, an apostle of Jesus Christ, to the strangers scattered throughout Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia,²Elect according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, through sanctification of the Spirit, unto obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ: Grace unto you, and peace, be multiplied.³Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead,⁴To an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you,⁵Who are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation ready to be revealed in the last time.⁶Wherein ye greatly rejoice, though now for a season, if need be, ye are in heaviness through manifold temptations:⁷That the trial of your faith, being much more precious than of gold that perisheth, though it be tried with fire, might be found unto praise and honour and glory at the appearing of Jesus Christ:⁸Whom having not seen, ye love in whom, though now ye see him not, yet believing, ye rejoice with joy unspeakable and full of glory:⁹Receiving the end of your faith, even the salvation of your souls.¹⁰Of which salvation the prophets have inquired and searched diligently, who prophesied of the grace that should come unto you:¹¹Searching what, or what manner of time the Spirit of Christ which was in them did signify, when it testified beforehand the sufferings of Christ, and the glory that should follow.¹²Unto whom it was revealed, that not unto themselves, but unto us they did minister the things, which are now reported unto you by them that have preached the gospel unto you with the Holy Ghost sent down from heaven which things the angels desire to look into.¹³Wherefore gird up the loins of your mind, be sober, and hope to the end for the grace that is to be brought unto you at the revelation of Jesus Christ¹⁴As obedient children, not fashioning yourselves according to the former lusts in your ignorance:¹⁵But as he which hath called you is holy, so be ye holy in all manner of conversation¹⁶Because it is written, Be ye holy for I am holy.¹⁷And if ye call on the Father, who without respect of persons judgeth according to every man's work, pass the time of your sojourning here in fear:¹⁸Forasmuch as ye know that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold, from your vain conversation received by tradition from your fathers¹⁹But with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot:²⁰Who verily was foreordained before the foundation of the world, but was manifest in these last times for you,²¹Who by him do believe in God, that raised him up from the dead, and gave him glory that your faith and hope might be in God.²²Seeing ye have purified your souls in obeying the truth through the Spirit unto unfeigned love of the brethren, see that ye love one another with a pure heart fervently:²³Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God, which liveth and abideth for ever.²⁴For all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass. The grass withereth, and the flower thereof falleth away:²⁵But the word of the Lord endureth for ever. And this is the word which by the gospel is preached unto you.

CHAPTER 2 ¹Wherefore laying aside all malice, and all guile, and hypocrisies, and envies, and all evil speakings,²As newborn babes, desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby:³If so be ye have tasted that the Lord is gracious.⁴To whom coming, as unto a living stone, disallowed indeed of men, but chosen of God, and precious,⁵Ye also, as lively stones, are built up a spiritual house, an holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ.⁶Wherefore also it is contained in the scripture, Behold, I lay in Sion a chief corner stone, elect, precious: and he that believeth on him shall not be confounded.⁷Unto you therefore which believe he is precious: but unto them which be disobedient, the stone which the builders disallowed, the same is made the head of the corner,⁸And a stone of stumbling, and a rock of offence, even to them which stumble at the word, being disobedient: whereunto also they were appointed.⁹But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people that ye should shew forth the praises of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvellous light:¹⁰Which in time past were not a people, but are now the people of God: which had not obtained mercy, but now have obtained mercy.¹¹Dearly beloved, I beseech you as strangers and pilgrims, abstain from fleshly lusts, which war against the soul¹²Having your conversation honest among the Gentiles: that, whereas they speak against you as evildoers, they may by your good works, which they shall behold, glorify God in the day of visitation.¹³Submit yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake: whether it be to the king, as supreme¹⁴Or unto governors, as unto them that are sent by him for the punishment of evildoers, and for the praise of them that do well.¹⁵For so is the will of God, that with well doing ye may put to silence the ignorance of foolish men:¹⁶As free, and not using your liberty for a cloke of maliciousness, but as the servants of God.¹⁷Honour all men. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honour the king.¹⁸Servants, be subject to your masters with all fear not only to the good and gentle, but also to the froward.¹⁹For this is thankworthy, if a man for conscience toward God endure grief, suffering wrongfully.²⁰For what glory is it, if, when ye be buffeted for your faults, ye shall take it patiently? but if, when ye do well, and suffer for it, ye take it patiently, this is acceptable with God.²¹For even hereunto were ye called: because Christ also suffered for us, leaving us an example, that ye should follow his steps:²²Who did no sin, neither was guile found in his mouth:²³Who, when he was reviled, reviled not again when he suffered, he threatened not but committed himself to him that judgeth righteously:²⁴Who his own self bare our sins in his own body on the tree, that we, being dead to sins, should live unto righteousness: by whose stripes ye were healed.²⁵For ye were as sheep going astray but are now returned unto the Shepherd and Bishop of your souls.

CHAPTER 3 ¹Likewise, ye wives, be in subjection to your own husbands that, if any obey not the word, they also may without the word be won by the conversation of the wives²While they behold your chaste conversation coupled with fear.³Whose adorning let it not be that outward adorning of plaiting the hair, and of wearing of gold, or of putting on of apparel⁴But let it be the hidden man of the heart, in that which is not corruptible, even the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price.⁵For after this manner in the old time the holy women also, who trusted in God, adorned themselves, being in subjection unto their own husbands:⁶Even as Sara obeyed Abraham, calling him lord: whose daughters ye are, as long as ye do well, and are not afraid with any amazement.⁷Likewise, ye husbands, dwell with them according to knowledge, giving honour unto the wife, as unto the weaker vessel, and as being heirs together of the grace of life that your prayers be not hindered.⁸Finally, be ye all of one mind, having compassion one of another, love as brethren, be pitiful, be courteous:⁹Not rendering evil for evil, or railing for railing: but contrariwise blessing knowing that ye are thereunto called, that ye should inherit a blessing.¹⁰For he that will love life, and see good days, let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips that they speak no guile:¹¹Let him eschew evil, and do good let him seek peace, and ensue it.¹²For the eyes of the Lord are over the righteous, and his ears are open unto their prayers: but the face of the Lord is against them that do evil.¹³And who is he that will harm you, if ye be followers of that which is good?¹⁴But and if ye suffer for righteousness' sake, happy are ye: and be not afraid of their terror, neither be troubled¹⁵But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts: and be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear:¹⁶Having a good conscience that, whereas they speak evil of you, as of evildoers, they may be ashamed that falsely accuse your good conversation in Christ.¹⁷For it is better, if the will of God be so, that ye suffer for well doing, than for evil doing.¹⁸For Christ also hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh, but quickened by the Spirit:¹⁹By which also he went and preached unto the spirits in prison²⁰Which sometime were disobedient, when once the longsuffering of God waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was a preparing, wherein few, that is, eight souls were saved by water.²¹The like figure whereunto even baptism doth also now save us (not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but the answer of a good conscience toward God,) by the resurrection of Jesus Christ:²²Who is gone into heaven, and is on the right hand of God angels and authorities and powers being made subject unto him.

CHAPTER 4 ¹Forasmuch then as Christ hath suffered for us in the flesh, arm yourselves likewise with the same mind: for he that hath suffered in the flesh hath ceased from sin²That he no longer should live the rest of his time in the flesh to the lusts of men, but to the will of God.³For the time past of our life may suffice us to have wrought the will of the Gentiles, when we walked in lasciviousness, lusts, excess of wine, revellings, banquetings, and abominable idolatries:⁴Wherein they think it strange that ye run not with them to the same excess of riot, speaking evil of you:⁵Who shall give account to him that is ready to judge the quick and the dead.⁶For for this cause was the gospel preached also to them that are dead, that they might be judged according to men in the flesh, but live according to God in the spirit.⁷But the end of all things is at hand: be ye therefore sober, and watch unto prayer.⁸And above all things have fervent charity among yourselves: for charity shall cover the multitude of sins.⁹Use hospitality one to another without grudging.¹⁰As every man hath received the gift, even so minister the same one to another, as good stewards of the manifold grace of God.¹¹If any man speak, let him speak as the oracles of God if any man minister, let him do it as of the ability which God giveth: that God in all things may be glorified through Jesus Christ, to whom be praise and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.¹²Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened unto you:¹³But rejoice, inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ's sufferings that, when his glory shall be revealed, ye may be glad also with exceeding joy.¹⁴If ye be reproached for the name of Christ, happy are ye for the spirit of glory and of God resteth upon you: on their part he is evil spoken of, but on your part he is glorified.¹⁵But let none of you suffer as a murderer, or as a thief, or as an evildoer, or as a busybody in other men's matters.¹⁶Yet if any man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed but let him glorify God on this behalf.¹⁷For the time is come that judgment must begin at the house of God: and if it first begin at us, what shall the end be of them that obey not the gospel of God?¹⁸And if the righteous scarcely be saved, where shall the ungodly and the sinner appear?¹⁹Wherefore let them that suffer according to the will of God commit the keeping of their souls to him in well doing, as unto a faithful Creator.

CHAPTER 5 ¹The elders which are among you I exhort, who am also an elder, and a witness of the sufferings of Christ, and also a partaker of the glory that shall be revealed:²Feed the flock of God which is among you, taking the oversight thereof, not by constraint, but willingly not for filthy lucre, but of a ready mind³Neither as being lords over God's heritage, but being ensamples to the flock.⁴And when the chief Shepherd shall appear, ye shall receive a crown of glory that fadeth not away.⁵Likewise, ye younger, submit yourselves unto the elder. Yea, all of you be subject one to another, and be clothed with humility: for God resisteth the proud, and giveth grace to the humble.⁶Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time:⁷Casting all your care upon him for he careth for you.⁸Be sober, be vigilant because your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour:⁹Whom resist stedfast in the faith, knowing that the same afflictions are accomplished in your brethren that are in the world.¹⁰But the God of all grace, who hath called us unto his eternal glory by Christ Jesus, after that ye have suffered a while, make you perfect, stablish, strengthen, settle you.¹¹To him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.¹²By Silvanus, a faithful brother unto you, as I suppose, I have written briefly, exhorting, and testifying that this is the true grace of God wherein ye stand.¹³The church that is at Babylon, elected together with you, saluteth you and so doth Marcus my son.¹⁴Greet ye one another with a kiss of charity.

Peace be with you all that are in Christ Jesus. Amen.

CHAPTER 1 ¹Simon Peter, a servant and an apostle of Jesus Christ, to them that have obtained like precious faith with us through the righteousness of God and our Saviour Jesus Christ:²Grace and peace be multiplied unto you through the knowledge of God, and of Jesus our Lord,³According as his divine power hath given unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the knowledge of him that hath called us to glory and virtue:⁴Whereby are given unto us exceeding great and precious promises: that by these ye might be partakers of the divine nature, having escaped the corruption that is in the world through lust.⁵And beside this, giving all diligence, add to your faith virtue and to virtue knowledge⁶And to knowledge temperance and to temperance patience and to patience godliness⁷And to godliness brotherly kindness and to brotherly kindness charity.⁸For if these things be in you, and abound, they make you that ye shall neither be barren nor unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.⁹But he that lacketh these things is blind, and cannot see afar off, and hath forgotten that he was purged from his old sins.¹⁰Wherefore the rather, brethren, give diligence to make your calling and election sure: for if ye do these things, ye shall never fall:¹¹For so an entrance shall be ministered unto you abundantly into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.¹²Wherefore I will not be negligent to put you always in remembrance of these things, though ye know them, and be established in the present truth.¹³Yea, I think it meet, as long as I am in this tabernacle, to stir you up by putting you in remembrance¹⁴Knowing that shortly I must put off this my tabernacle, even as our Lord Jesus Christ hath shewed me.¹⁵Moreover I will endeavour that ye may be able after my decease to have these things always in remembrance.¹⁶For we have not followed cunningly devised fables, when we made known unto you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but were eyewitnesses of his majesty.¹⁷For he received from God the Father honour and glory, when there came such a voice to him from the excellent glory, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.¹⁸And this voice which came from heaven we heard, when we were with him in the holy mount.¹⁹We have also a more sure word of prophecy whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a light that shineth in a dark place, until the day dawn, and the day star arise in your hearts:²⁰Knowing this first, that no prophecy of the scripture is of any private interpretation.²¹For the prophecy came not in old time by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost.

CHAPTER 2 ¹But there were false prophets also among the people, even as there shall be false teachers among you, who privily shall bring in damnable heresies, even denying the Lord that bought them, and bring upon themselves swift destruction.²And many shall follow their pernicious ways by reason of whom the way of truth shall be evil spoken of.³And through covetousness shall they with feigned words make merchandise of you: whose judgment now of a long time lingereth not, and their damnation slumbereth not.⁴For if God spared not the angels that sinned, but cast them down to hell, and delivered them into chains of darkness, to be reserved unto judgment⁵And spared not the old world, but saved Noah the eighth person, a preacher of righteousness, bringing in the flood upon the world of the ungodly⁶And turning the cities of Sodom and Gomorrha into ashes condemned them with an overthrow, making them an ensample unto those that after should live ungodly⁷And delivered just Lot, vexed with the filthy conversation of the wicked:⁸(For that righteous man dwelling among them, in seeing and hearing, vexed his righteous soul from day to day with their unlawful deeds)⁹The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished:¹⁰But chiefly them that walk after the flesh in the lust of uncleanness, and despise government. Presumptuous are they, selfwilled, they are not afraid to speak evil of dignities.¹¹Whereas angels, which are greater in power and might, bring not railing accusation against them before the Lord.¹²But these, as natural brute beasts, made to be taken and destroyed, speak evil of the things that they understand not and shall utterly perish in their own corruption¹³And shall receive the reward of unrighteousness, as they that count it pleasure to riot in the day time. Spots they are and blemishes, sporting themselves with their own deceivings while they feast with you¹⁴Having eyes full of adultery, and that cannot cease from sin beguiling unstable souls: an heart they have exercised with covetous practices cursed children:¹⁵Which have forsaken the right way, and are gone astray, following the way of Balaam the son of Bosor, who loved the wages of unrighteousness¹⁶But was rebuked for his iniquity: the dumb ass speaking with man's voice forbad the madness of the prophet.¹⁷These are wells without water, clouds that are carried with a tempest to whom the mist of darkness is reserved for ever.¹⁸For when they speak great swelling words of vanity, they allure through the lusts of the flesh, through much wantonness, those that were clean escaped from them who live in error.¹⁹While they promise them liberty, they themselves are the servants of corruption: for of whom a man is overcome, of the same is he brought in bondage.²⁰For if after they have escaped the pollutions of the world through the knowledge of the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, they are again entangled therein, and overcome, the latter end is worse with them than the beginning.²¹For it had been better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than, after they have known it, to turn from the holy commandment delivered unto them.²²But it is happened unto them according to the true proverb, The dog is turned to his own vomit again and the sow that was washed to her wallowing in the mire.

CHAPTER 3 ¹This second epistle, beloved, I now write unto you in both which I stir up your pure minds by way of remembrance:²That ye may be mindful of the words which were spoken before by the holy prophets, and of the commandment of us the apostles of the Lord and Saviour:³Knowing this first, that there shall come in the last days scoffers, walking after their own lusts,⁴And saying, Where is the promise of his coming? for since the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as they were from the beginning of the creation.⁵For this they willingly are ignorant of, that by the word of God the heavens were of old, and the earth standing out of the water and in the water:⁶Whereby the world that then was, being overflowed with water, perished:⁷But the heavens and the earth, which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved unto fire against the day of judgment and perdition of ungodly men.⁸But, beloved, be not ignorant of this one thing, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day.⁹The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, as some men count slackness but is longsuffering to us-ward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance.¹⁰But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night in the which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burned up.¹¹Seeing then that all these things shall be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy conversation and godliness,¹²Looking for and hasting unto the coming of the day of God, wherein the heavens being on fire shall be dissolved, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat?¹³Nevertheless we,

according to his promise, look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness.¹⁴Wherefore, beloved, seeing that ye look for such things, be diligent that ye may be found of him in peace, without spot, and blameless.¹⁵And account that the longsuffering of our Lord is salvation even as our beloved brother Paul also according to the wisdom given unto him hath written unto you¹⁶As also in all his epistles, speaking in them of these things in which are some things hard to be understood, which they that are unlearned and unstable wrest, as they do also the other scriptures, unto their own destruction.¹⁷Ye therefore, beloved, seeing ye know these things before, beware lest ye also, being led away with the error of the wicked, fall from your own stedfastness.¹⁸But grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. To him be glory both now and for ever. Amen.

CHAPTER 1 ¹That which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we have looked upon, and our hands have handled, of the Word of life²(For the life was manifested, and we have seen it, and bear witness, and shew unto you that eternal life, which was with the Father, and was manifested unto us)³That which we have seen and heard declare we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us: and truly our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ.⁴And these things write we unto you, that your joy may be full.⁵This then is the message which we have heard of him, and declare unto you, that God is light, and in him is no darkness at all.⁶If we say that we have fellowship with him, and walk in darkness, we lie, and do not the truth:⁷But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin.⁸If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us.⁹If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.¹⁰If we say that we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

CHAPTER 2 ¹My little children, these things write I unto you, that ye sin not. And if any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous:²And he is the propitiation for our sins: and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole world.³And hereby we do know that we know him, if we keep his commandments.⁴He that saith, I know him, and keepeth not his commandments, is a liar, and the truth is not in him.⁵But whoso keepeth his word, in him verily is the love of God perfected: hereby know we that we are in him.⁶He that saith he abideth in him ought himself also so to walk, even as he walked.⁷Brethren, I write no new commandment unto you, but an old commandment which ye had from the beginning. The old commandment is the word which ye have heard from the beginning.⁸Again, a new commandment I write unto you, which thing is true in him and in you: because the darkness is past, and the true light now shineth.⁹He that saith he is in the light, and hateth his brother, is in darkness even until now.¹⁰He that loveth his brother abideth in the light, and there is none occasion of stumbling in him.¹¹But he that hateth his brother is in darkness, and walketh in darkness, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because that darkness hath blinded his eyes.¹²I write unto you, little children, because your sins are forgiven you for his name's sake.¹³I write unto you, fathers, because ye have known him that is from the beginning. I write unto you, young men, because ye have overcome the wicked one. I write unto you, little children, because ye have known the Father.¹⁴I have written unto you, fathers, because ye have known him that is from the beginning. I have written unto you, young men, because ye are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and ye have overcome the wicked one.¹⁵ Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him.¹⁶ For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world.¹⁷ And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever.¹⁸ Little children, it is the last time: and as ye have heard that antichrist shall come, even now are there many antichrists whereby we know that it is the last time.¹⁹ They went out from us, but they were not of us for if they had been of us, they would no doubt have continued with us: but they went out, that they might be made manifest that they were not all of us.²⁰ But ye have an unction from the Holy One, and ye know all things.²¹ I have not written unto you because ye know not the truth, but because ye know it, and that no lie is of the truth.²² Who is a liar but he that denieth that Jesus is the Christ? He is antichrist, that denieth the Father and the Son.²³ Whosoever denieth the Son, the same hath not the Father: (but) he that acknowledgeth the Son hath the Father also.²⁴ Let that therefore abide in you, which ye have heard from the beginning. If that which ye have heard from the beginning shall remain in you, ye also shall continue in the Son, and in the Father.²⁵ And this is the promise that he hath promised us, even eternal life.²⁶ These things have I written unto you concerning them that seduce you.²⁷ But the anointing which ye have received of him abideth in you, and ye need not that any man teach you: but as the same anointing teacheth you of all things, and is truth, and is no lie, and even as it hath taught you, ye shall abide in him.²⁸ And now, little children, abide in him that, when he shall appear, we may have confidence, and not be ashamed before him at his coming.²⁹ If ye know that he is righteous, ye know that every one that doeth righteousness is born of him.

CHAPTER 3 ¹Behold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God: therefore the world knoweth us not, because it knew him not.² Beloved, now are we the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be: but we know that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him for we shall see him as he is.³And every man that hath this hope in him purifieth himself, even as he is pure.⁴Whosoever committeth sin transgresseth also the law: for sin is the transgression of the law.⁵And ye know that he was manifested to take away our sins and in him is no sin.⁶Whosoever abideth in him sinneth not: whosoever sinneth hath not seen him, neither known him.⁷Little children, let no man deceive you: he that doeth righteousness is righteous, even as he is righteous.⁸He that committeth sin is of the devil for the devil sinneth from the beginning. For this purpose the Son of God was manifested, that he might destroy the works of the devil.⁹Whosoever is born of God doth not commit sin for his seed remaineth in him: and he cannot sin, because he is born of God.¹⁰In this the children of God are manifest, and the children of the devil: whosoever doeth not righteousness is not of God, neither he that loveth not his brother.¹¹For this is the message that ye heard from the beginning, that we should love one another.¹²Not as Cain, who was of that wicked one, and slew his brother. And wherefore slew he him? Because his own works were evil, and his brother's righteous.¹³Marvel not, my brethren, if the world hate you.¹⁴We know that we have passed from death unto life, because we love the brethren. He that loveth not his brother abideth in death.¹⁵Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer: and ye know that no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him.¹⁶Hereby perceive we the love of God, because he laid down his life for us: and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren.¹⁷But whoso hath this world's good, and seeth his brother have need, and shutteth up his bowels of compassion from him, how dwelleth the love of God in him?¹⁸My little children, let us not love in word, neither in tongue but in deed and in truth.¹⁹And hereby we know that we are of the truth, and shall assure our hearts before him.²⁰For if our heart condemn us, God is greater than our heart, and knoweth all things.²¹Beloved, if our heart condemn us not, then have we confidence toward God.²²And whatsoever we ask, we receive of him, because we keep his commandments, and do those things that are pleasing in his sight.²³And this is his commandment, That we should believe on the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and love one another, as he gave us commandment.²⁴ And he that keepeth his commandments dwelleth in him, and he in him. And hereby we know that he abideth in us, by the Spirit which he hath given us.

CHAPTER 4 ¹Beloved, believe not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they are of God: because many false prophets are gone out into the world.² Hereby know ye the Spirit of God: Every spirit that confesseth that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is of God:³ And every spirit that confesseth not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is not of God: and this is that spirit of antichrist, whereof ye have heard that it should come and even now already is it in the world.⁴ Ye are of God, little children, and have overcome them: because greater is he that is in you, than he that is in the world.⁵ They are of the world: therefore speak they of the world, and the world heareth them.⁶ We are of God: he that knoweth God heareth us he that is not of God heareth not us. Hereby know we the spirit of truth, and the spirit of error.⁷ Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God.⁸ He that loveth not knoweth not God for God is love.⁹ In this was manifested the love of God toward us, because that God sent his only begotten Son into the world, that we might live through him.¹⁰ Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins.¹¹ Beloved, if God so loved us, we ought also to love one another.¹² No man hath seen God at any time. If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is perfected in us.¹³ Hereby know we that we dwell in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit.¹⁴ And we have seen and do testify that the Father sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world.¹⁵ Whosoever shall confess that Jesus is the Son of God, God dwelleth in him, and he in God.¹⁶ And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him.¹⁷ Herein is our love made perfect, that we may have boldness in the day of judgment: because as he is, so are we in this world.¹⁸ There is no fear in love but perfect love casteth out fear: because fear hath torment. He that feareth is not made perfect in love.¹⁹We love him, because he first loved us.²⁰If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar: for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen?²¹And this commandment have we from him, That he who loveth God love his brother also.

CHAPTER 5 ¹Whosoever believeth that Jesus is the Christ is born of God: and every one that loveth him that begat loveth him also that is begotten of him.²By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God, and keep his commandments.³For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments: and his commandments are not grievous.⁴For whatsoever is born of God overcometh the world: and this is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith.⁵Who is he that overcometh the world, but he that believeth that Jesus is the Son of God?⁶This is he that came by water and blood, even Jesus Christ not by water only, but by water and blood. And it is the Spirit that beareth witness, because the Spirit is truth.⁷For there are three that bear record in heaven, the Father, the Word, and the Holy Ghost: and these three are one.⁸And there are three that bear witness in earth, the spirit, and the water, and the blood: and these three agree in one.⁹If we receive the witness of men, the witness of God is greater: for this is the witness of God which he hath testified of his Son.¹⁰He that believeth on the Son of God hath the witness in himself: he that believeth not God hath made him a liar because he believeth not the record that God gave of his Son.¹¹And this is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in his Son.¹²He that hath the Son hath life and he that hath not the Son of God hath not life.¹³These things have I written unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God that ye may know that ye have eternal life, and that ye may believe on the name of the Son of God.¹⁴And this is the confidence that we have in him, that, if we ask any thing according to his will, he heareth us:¹⁵And if we know that he hear us, whatsoever we ask, we know that we have the petitions that we desired of him.¹⁶If any man see his brother sin a sin which is not unto death, he shall ask, and he shall give him life for them that sin not unto death. There is a sin unto death: I do not say that he shall pray for it.¹⁷All unrighteousness is sin: and there is a sin not unto death.¹⁸We know that whosoever is born of God sinneth not but he that is begotten of God keepeth himself, and that wicked one toucheth him not.¹⁹And we know that we are of God, and the whole world lieth in wickedness.²⁰And we know that the Son of God is come, and hath given us an understanding, that we may know him that is true, and we are in him that is true, even in his Son Jesus Christ. This is the true God, and eternal life.²¹Little children, keep yourselves from idols. Amen.

CHAPTER 1 ¹The elder unto the elect lady and her children, whom I love in the truth and not I only, but also all they that have known the truth²For the truth's sake, which dwelleth in us, and shall be with us for ever.³Grace be with you, mercy, and peace, from God the Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father, in truth and love.⁴I rejoiced greatly that I found of thy children walking in truth, as we have received a commandment from the Father.⁵And now I beseech thee, lady, not as though I wrote a new commandment unto thee, but that which we had from the beginning, that we love one another.⁶And this is love, that we walk after his commandments. This is the commandment, That, as ye have heard from the beginning, ye should walk in it.⁷For many deceivers are entered into the world, who confess not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh. This is a deceiver and an antichrist.⁸Look to yourselves, that we lose not those things which we have wrought, but that we receive a full reward.⁹Whosoever transgresseth, and abideth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God. He that abideth in the doctrine of Christ, he hath both the Father and the Son.¹⁰If there come any unto you, and bring not this doctrine, receive him not into your house, neither bid him God speed:¹¹For he that biddeth him God speed is partaker of his evil deeds.¹²Having many things to write unto you, I would not write with paper and ink: but I trust to come unto you, and speak face to face, that our joy may be full.¹³The children of thy elect sister greet thee. Amen.

CHAPTER 1 ¹The elder unto the wellbeloved Gaius, whom I love in the truth.²Beloved, I wish above all things that thou mayest prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospereth.³For I rejoiced greatly, when the brethren came and testified of the truth that is in thee, even as thou walkest in the truth.⁴I have no greater joy than to hear that my children walk in truth.⁵Beloved, thou doest faithfully whatsoever thou doest to the brethren, and to strangers⁶Which have borne witness of thy charity before the church: whom if thou bring forward on their journey after a godly sort, thou shalt do well:⁷Because that for his name's sake they went forth, taking nothing of the Gentiles.⁸We therefore ought to receive such, that we might be fellowhelpers to the truth.⁹I wrote unto the church: but Diotrephes, who loveth to have the preeminence among them, receiveth us not.¹⁰Wherefore, if I come, I will remember his deeds which he doeth, prating against us with malicious words: and not content therewith, neither doth he himself receive the brethren, and forbiddeth them that would, and casteth them out of the church.¹¹Beloved, follow not that which is evil, but that which is good. He that doeth good is of God: but he that doeth evil hath not seen God.¹²Demetrius hath good report of all men, and of the truth itself: yea, and we also bear record and ye know that our record is true.¹³I had many things to write, but I will not with ink and pen write unto thee:¹⁴But I trust I shall shortly see thee, and we shall speak face to face. Peace be to thee. Our friends salute thee. Greet the friends by name.

CHAPTER 1 ¹James, a servant of God and of the Lord Jesus Christ, to the twelve tribes which are scattered abroad, greeting.²My brethren, count it all joy when ye fall into divers temptations³Knowing this, that the trying of your faith worketh patience.⁴But let patience have her perfect work, that ye may be perfect and entire, wanting nothing.⁵If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not and it shall be given him.⁶But let him ask in faith, nothing wavering. For he that wavereth is like a wave of the sea driven with the wind and tossed.⁷For let not that man think that he shall receive any thing of the Lord.⁸A double minded man is unstable in all his ways.⁹Let the brother of low degree rejoice in that he is exalted:¹⁰But the rich, in that he is made low: because as the flower of the grass he shall pass away.¹¹For the sun is no sooner risen with a burning heat, but it withereth the grass, and the flower thereof falleth, and the grace of the fashion of it perisheth: so also shall the rich man fade away in his ways.¹²Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him.¹³Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God: for God cannot be tempted with evil, neither tempteth he any man:¹⁴But every man is tempted, when he is drawn away of his own lust, and enticed.¹⁵Then when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin: and sin, when it is finished, bringeth forth death.¹⁶Do not err, my beloved brethren.¹⁷Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning.¹⁸Of his own will begat he

us with the word of truth, that we should be a kind of firstfruits of his creatures.¹⁹Wherefore, my beloved brethren, let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, slow to wrath:²⁰For the wrath of man worketh not the righteousness of God.²¹Wherefore lay apart all filthiness and superfluity of naughtiness, and receive with meekness the engrafted word, which is able to save your souls.²²But be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves.²³For if any be a hearer of the word, and not a doer, he is like unto a man beholding his natural face in a glass:²⁴For he beholdeth himself, and goeth his way, and straightway forgetteth what manner of man he was.²⁵But whoso looketh into the perfect law of liberty, and continueth therein, he being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work, this man shall be blessed in his deed.²⁶If any man among you seem to be religious, and bridleth not his tongue, but deceiveth his own heart, this man's religion is vain.²⁷Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world.

CHAPTER 2 ¹My brethren, have not the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Lord of glory, with respect of persons.²For if there come unto your assembly a man with a gold ring, in goodly apparel, and there come in also a poor man in vile raiment³And ye have respect to him that weareth the gay clothing, and say unto him, Sit thou here in a good place and say to the poor, Stand thou there, or sit here under my footstool:⁴Are ye not then partial in yourselves, and are become judges of evil thoughts?⁵Hearken, my beloved brethren, Hath not God chosen the poor of this world rich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom which he hath promised to them that love him?⁶But ye have despised the poor. Do not rich men oppress you, and draw you before the judgment seats?⁷Do not they blaspheme that worthy name by the which ye are called?⁸If ye fulfil the royal law according to the scripture, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself, ye do well:⁹But if ye have respect to persons, ye commit sin, and are convinced of the law as transgressors.¹⁰For whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all.¹¹For he that said, Do not commit adultery, said also, Do not kill. Now if thou commit no adultery, yet if thou kill, thou art become a transgressor of the law.¹²So speak ye, and so do, as they that shall be judged by the law of liberty.¹³For he shall have judgment without mercy, that hath shewed no mercy and mercy rejoiceth against judgment.¹⁴What doth it profit, my brethren, though a man say he hath faith, and have not works? can faith save him?¹⁵If a brother or sister be naked, and destitute of daily food,¹⁶And one of you say unto them, Depart in peace, be ye warmed and filled notwithstanding ye give them not those things which are needful to the body what doth it profit?¹⁷Even so faith, if it hath not works, is dead, being alone.¹⁸Yea, a man may say, Thou hast faith, and I have works: shew me thy faith without thy works, and I will shew thee my faith by my works.¹⁹Thou believest that there is one God thou doest well: the devils also believe, and tremble.²⁰But wilt thou know, O vain man, that faith without works is dead?²¹Was not Abraham our father justified by works, when he had offered Isaac his son upon the altar?²²Seest thou how faith wrought with his works, and by works was faith made perfect?²³And the scripture was fulfilled which saith, Abraham believed God, and it was imputed unto him for righteousness: and he was called the Friend of God.²⁴Ye see then how that by works a man is justified, and not by faith only.²⁵Likewise also was not Rahab the harlot justified by works, when she had received the messengers, and had sent them out another way?²⁶For as the body without the spirit is dead, so faith without works is dead also.

CHAPTER 3 ¹My brethren, be not many masters, knowing that we shall receive the greater condemnation.²For in many things we offend all. If any man offend not in word, the same is a perfect man, and able also to bridle the whole body.³Behold, we put bits in the horses' mouths, that they may obey us and we turn about their whole body.⁴Behold also the ships, which though they be so great, and are driven of fierce winds, yet are they turned about with a very small helm, whithersoever the governor listeth.⁵Even so the tongue is a little member, and boasteth great things. Behold, how great a matter a little fire kindleth!⁶And the tongue is a fire, a world of iniquity: so is the tongue among our members, that it defileth the whole body, and setteth on fire the course of nature and it is set on fire of hell.⁷For every kind of beasts, and of birds, and of serpents, and of things in the sea, is tamed, and hath been tamed of mankind:⁸But the tongue can no man tame it is an unruly evil, full of deadly poison.⁹Therewith bless we God, even the Father and therewith curse we men, which are made after the similitude of God.¹⁰Out of the same mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing. My brethren, these things ought not so to be.¹¹Doth a fountain send forth at the same place sweet water and bitter?¹²Can the fig tree, my brethren, bear olive berries? either a vine, figs? so can no fountain both yield salt water and fresh.¹³Who is a wise man and endued with knowledge among you? let him shew out of a good conversation his works with meekness of wisdom.¹⁴But if ye have bitter envying and strife in your hearts, glory not, and lie not against the truth.¹⁵This wisdom descendeth not from above, but is earthly, sensual, devilish.¹⁶For where envying and strife is, there is confusion and every evil work.¹⁷But the wisdom that is from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, and easy to be intreated, full of mercy and good fruits, without partiality, and without hypocrisy.¹⁸And the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace of them that make peace.

CHAPTER 4 ¹From whence come wars and fightings among you? come they not hence, even of your lusts that war in your members?²Ye lust, and have not: ye kill, and desire to have, and cannot obtain: ye fight and war, yet ye have not, because ye ask not.³Ye ask, and receive not, because ye ask amiss, that ye may consume it upon your lusts.⁴Ye adulterers and adulteresses, know ye not that the friendship of the world is enmity with God? whosoever therefore will be a friend of the world is the enemy of God.⁵Do ye think that the scripture saith in vain, The spirit that dwelleth in us lusteth to envy?⁶But he giveth more grace. Wherefore he saith, God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace unto the humble.⁷Submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you.⁸Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you. Cleanse your hands, ye sinners and purify your hearts, ye double minded.⁹Be afflicted, and mourn, and weep: let your laughter be turned to mourning, and your joy to heaviness.¹⁰Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall lift you up.¹¹Speak not evil one of another, brethren. He that speaketh evil of his brother, and judgeth his brother, speaketh evil of the law, and judgeth the law: but if thou judge the law, thou art not a doer of the law, but a judge.¹²There is one lawgiver, who is able to save and to destroy: who art thou that judgest another?¹³Go to now, ye that say, To day or to morrow we will go into such a city, and continue there a year, and buy and sell, and get gain:¹⁴Whereas ye know not what shall be on the morrow. For what is your life? It is even a vapour, that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away.¹⁵For that ye ought to say, If the Lord will, we shall live, and do this, or that.¹⁶But now ye rejoice in your boastings: all such rejoicing is evil.¹⁷Therefore to him that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin.

CHAPTER 5 ¹Go to now, ye rich men, weep and howl for your miseries that shall come upon you.²Your riches are corrupted, and your garments are motheaten.³Your gold and silver is cankered and the rust of them shall be a witness against you, and shall eat your flesh as it were fire. Ye have heaped treasure together for the last days.⁴Behold, the hire of the labourers who have reaped down your fields, which is of you kept back by fraud, crieth: and the cries of them which have reaped are entered into the ears of the Lord of sabaoth.⁵Ye have lived in pleasure on the earth, and been wanton ye have nourished your hearts, as in a day of slaughter.⁶Ye have condemned and killed the just and he doth not resist you.⁷Be patient therefore, brethren, unto the coming of the Lord. Behold, the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, and hath long patience for it, until he receive the early and latter rain.⁸Be ye also patient stablish your hearts: for the coming of the Lord draweth nigh.⁹Grudge not one against another, brethren, lest ye be condemned: behold, the judge standeth before the door.¹⁰Take, my brethren, the prophets, who have spoken in the name of the Lord, for an example of suffering affliction, and of patience.¹¹Behold, we count them happy which endure. Ye have heard of the patience of Job, and have seen the end of the Lord that the Lord is very pitiful, and of tender mercy.¹²But above all things, my brethren, swear not, neither by heaven, neither by the earth, neither by any other oath: but let your yea be yea and your nay, nay lest ye fall into condemnation.¹³Is any among you afflicted? let him pray. Is any merry? let him sing psalms.¹⁴Is any sick among you? let him call for the elders of the church and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord.¹⁵And the prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up and if he have committed sins, they shall be forgiven him.¹⁶Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much.¹⁷Elias was a man subject to like passions as we are, and he prayed earnestly that it might not rain: and it rained not on the earth by the space of three years and six months.¹⁸And he prayed again, and the heaven gave rain, and the earth brought forth her fruit.¹⁹Brethren, if any of you do err from the truth, and one convert him²⁰Let him know, that he which converteth the sinner from the error of his way shall save a soul from death, and shall hide a multitude of sins.

JUDE

CHAPTER 1 ¹Jude, the servant of Jesus Christ, and brother of James, to them that are sanctified by God the Father, and preserved in Jesus Christ, and called:²Mercy unto you, and peace, and love, be multiplied.³Beloved, when I gave all diligence to write unto you of the common salvation, it was needful for me to write unto you, and exhort you that ye should earnestly contend for the faith which was once delivered unto the saints.⁴For there are certain men crept in unawares, who were before of old ordained to this condemnation, ungodly men, turning the grace of our God into lasciviousness, and denying the only Lord God, and our Lord Jesus Christ.⁵I will therefore put you in remembrance, though ye once knew this, how that the Lord, having saved the people out of the land of Egypt, afterward destroyed them that believed not.⁶And the angels which kept not their first estate, but left their own habitation, he hath reserved in everlasting chains under darkness unto the judgment of the great day.⁷Even as Sodom and Gomorrha, and the cities about them in like manner, giving themselves over to fornication, and going after strange flesh, are set forth for an example, suffering the vengeance of eternal fire.⁸Likewise also these filthy dreamers defile the flesh, despise dominion, and speak evil of dignities.⁹Yet Michael the archangel, when contending with the devil he disputed about the body of Moses, durst not bring against him a railing accusation, but said, The Lord rebuke thee.¹⁰But these speak evil of those things which they know not: but what they know naturally, as brute beasts, in those things they corrupt themselves.¹¹Woe unto them! for they have gone in the way of Cain, and ran greedily after the error of Balaam for reward, and perished in the gainsaying of Core.¹²These are spots in your feasts of charity, when they feast with you, feeding themselves without fear: clouds they are without water, carried about of winds trees whose fruit withereth, without fruit, twice dead, plucked up by the roots.¹³Raging waves of the sea, foaming out their own shame wandering stars, to whom is reserved the blackness of darkness for ever.¹⁴And Enoch also, the seventh from Adam, prophesied of these, saying, Behold, the Lord cometh with ten thousands of his saints,¹⁵To execute judgment upon all, and to convince all that are ungodly among them of all their ungodly deeds which they have ungodly committed, and of all their hard speeches which ungodly sinners have spoken against him.¹⁶These are murmurers, complainers, walking after their own lusts and their mouth speaketh great swelling words, having men's persons in admiration because of advantage.¹⁷But, beloved, remember ye the words which were spoken before of the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ¹⁸How that they told you there should be mockers in the last time, who should walk after their own ungodly lusts.¹⁹These be they who separate themselves, sensual, having not the Spirit.²⁰But ye, beloved, building up yourselves on your most holy faith, praying in the Holy Ghost,²¹Keep yourselves in the love of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ unto eternal life.²²And of some have compassion, making a difference:²³And others save with fear, pulling them out of the fire hating even the garment spotted by the flesh.²⁴Now unto him that is able to keep you from falling, and to present you faultless before the presence of his glory with exceeding joy,²⁵To the only wise God our Saviour, be glory and majesty, dominion and power, both now and ever. Amen.

REVELATION

CHAPTER 1 ¹The Revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave unto him, to shew unto his servants things which must shortly come to pass and he sent and signified it by his angel unto his servant John:²Who bare record of the word of God, and of the testimony of Jesus Christ, and of all things that he saw.³Blessed is he that readeth, and they that hear the words of this prophecy, and keep those things which are written therein: for the time is at hand.⁴ John to the seven churches which are in Asia: Grace be unto you, and peace, from him which is, and which was, and which is to come and from the seven Spirits which are before his throne⁵ And from Jesus Christ, who is the faithful witness, and the first begotten of the dead, and the prince of the kings of the earth. Unto him that loved us, and washed us from our sins in his own blood,⁶ And hath made us kings and priests unto God and his Father to him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.⁷ Behold, he cometh with clouds and every eye shall see him, and they also which pierced him: and all kindreds of the earth shall wail because of him. Even so, Amen.⁸ I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, saith the Lord, which is, and which was, and which is to come, the Almighty.⁹ I John, who also am your brother, and companion in tribulation, and in the kingdom and patience of Jesus Christ, was in the isle that is called Patmos, for the word of God, and for the testimony of Jesus Christ.¹⁰ I was in the Spirit on the Lord's day, and heard behind me a great voice, as of a trumpet,¹¹ Saying, I am Alpha and Omega, the first and the last: and,

What thou seest, write in a book, and send it unto the seven churches which are in Asia unto Ephesus, and unto Smyrna, and unto Pergamos, and unto Thyatira, and unto Sardis, and unto Philadelphia, and unto Laodicea.¹² And I turned to see the voice that spake with me. And being turned, I saw seven golden candlesticks¹³ And in the midst of the seven candlesticks one like unto the Son of man, clothed with a garment down to the foot, and girt about the paps with a golden girdle.¹⁴ His head and his hairs were white like wool, as white as snow and his eyes were as a flame of fire¹⁵ And his feet like unto fine brass, as if they burned in a furnace and his voice as the sound of many waters.¹⁶ And he had in his right hand seven stars: and out of his mouth went a sharp twoedged sword: and his countenance was as the sun shineth in his strength.¹⁷ And when I saw him, I fell at his feet as dead. And he laid his right hand upon me, saying unto me, Fear not I am the first and the last:¹⁸ I am he that liveth, and was dead and, behold, I am alive for evermore, Amen and have the keys of hell and of death.¹⁹ Write the things which thou hast seen, and the things which are, and the things which shall be hereafter²⁰The mystery of the seven stars which thou sawest in my right hand, and the seven golden candlesticks. The seven stars are the angels of the seven churches: and the seven candlesticks which thou sawest are the seven churches.

CHAPTER 2 ¹Unto the angel of the church of Ephesus write These things saith he that holdeth the seven stars in his right hand, who walketh in the midst of the seven golden candlesticks²I know thy works, and thy labour, and thy patience, and how thou canst not bear them which are evil: and thou hast tried them which say they are apostles, and are not, and hast found them liars:³And hast borne, and hast patience, and for my name's sake hast laboured, and hast not fainted.⁴Nevertheless I have somewhat against thee, because thou hast left thy first love.⁵Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first works or else I will come unto thee quickly, and will remove thy candlestick out of his place, except thou repent.⁶But this thou hast, that thou hatest the deeds of the Nicolaitans, which I also hate.⁷He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches

To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the tree of life, which is in the midst of the paradise of God.⁸And unto the angel of the church in Smyrna write These things saith the first and the last, which was dead, and is alive⁹I know thy works, and tribulation, and poverty, (but thou art rich) and I know the blasphemy of them which say they are Jews, and are not, but are the synagogue of Satan.¹⁰Fear none of those things which thou shalt suffer: behold, the devil shall cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried and ye shall have tribulation ten days: be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life.¹¹He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches He that overcometh shall not be hurt of the second death.¹²And to the angel of the church in Pergamos write These things saith he which hath the sharp sword with two edges¹³I know thy works, and where thou dwellest, even where Satan's seat is: and thou holdest fast my name, and hast not denied my faith, even in those days wherein Antipas was my faithful martyr, who was slain among you, where Satan dwelleth.¹⁴But I have a few things against thee, because thou hast there them that hold the doctrine of Balaam, who taught Balac to cast a stumblingblock before the children of Israel, to eat things sacrificed unto idols, and to commit fornication.¹⁵ So hast thou also them that hold the doctrine of the Nicolaitans, which thing I hate.¹⁶ Repent or else I will come unto thee quickly, and will fight against them with the sword of my mouth.¹⁷ He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the hidden manna, and will give him a white stone, and in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth saving he that receiveth it.¹⁸ And unto the angel of the church in Thyatira write These things saith the Son of God, who hath his eyes like unto a flame of fire, and his feet are like fine brass¹⁹ I know thy works, and charity, and service, and faith, and thy patience, and thy works and the last to be more than the first.²⁰ Notwithstanding I have a few things against thee, because thou sufferest that woman Jezebel, which calleth herself a prophetess, to teach and to seduce my servants to commit fornication, and to eat things sacrificed unto idols.²¹ And I gave her space to repent of her fornication and she repented not.²² Behold, I will cast her into a bed, and them that commit adultery with her into great tribulation, except they repent of their deeds.²³ And I will kill her children with death and all the churches shall know that I am he which searcheth the reins and hearts: and I will give unto every one of you according to your works.²⁴ But unto you I say, and unto the rest in Thyatira, as many as have not this doctrine, and which have not known the depths of Satan, as they speak I will put upon you none other burden.²⁵ But that which ye have already hold fast till I come.²⁶ And he that overcometh, and keepeth my works unto the end, to him will I give power over the nations:²⁷ And he shall rule them with a rod of iron as the vessels of a potter shall they be broken to shivers: even as I received of my Father.²⁸ And I will give him the morning star.²⁹ He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

CHAPTER 3 ¹And unto the angel of the church in Sardis write These things saith he that hath the seven Spirits of God, and the seven stars I know thy works, that thou hast a name that thou livest, and art dead.² Be watchful, and strengthen the things which remain, that are ready to die: for I have not found thy works perfect before God.³Remember therefore how thou hast received and heard, and hold fast, and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come on thee as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee.⁴Thou hast a few names even in Sardis which have not defiled their garments and they shall walk with me in white: for they are worthy.⁵He that overcometh, the same shall be clothed in white raiment and I will not blot out his name out of the book of life, but I will confess his name before my Father, and before his angels.⁶He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.⁷And to the angel of the church in Philadelphia write These things saith he that is holy, he that is true, he that hath the key of David, he that openeth, and no man shutteth and shutteth, and no man openeth⁸I know thy works: behold, I have set before thee an open door, and no man can shut it: for thou hast a little strength, and hast kept my word, and hast not denied my name.⁹Behold, I will make them of the synagogue of Satan, which say they are Jews, and are not, but do lie behold, I will make them to come and worship before thy feet, and to know that I have loved thee.¹⁰Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, I also will keep thee from the hour of temptation, which shall come upon all the world, to try them that dwell upon the earth.¹¹Behold, I come quickly: hold that fast which thou hast, that no man take thy crown.¹²Him that overcometh will I make a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall go no more out: and I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, which is new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God: and I will write upon him my new name.¹³He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.¹⁴And unto the angel of the church of the Laodiceans write These things saith the Amen, the faithful and true witness, the beginning of the creation of God¹⁵I know thy works, that thou art neither cold nor hot: I would thou wert cold or hot.¹⁶So then because thou art lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, I will spue thee out of my mouth.¹⁷Because thou sayest, I am rich, and increased with goods, and have need of nothing and knowest not that thou art wretched, and miserable, and poor, and blind, and naked:¹⁸I counsel thee to buy of me gold tried in the fire, that thou mayest be rich and white raiment, that thou mayest be clothed, and that the shame of thy nakedness do not appear and anoint thine eyes with eyesalve, that thou mayest see.¹⁹As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten: be zealous therefore, and repent.²⁰Behold, I stand at the door, and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me.²¹To him that overcometh will I grant to sit with me in my throne, even as I also overcame, and am set down with my Father in his throne.²²He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

CHAPTER 4 ¹After this I looked, and, behold, a door was opened in heaven: and the first voice which I heard was as it were of a trumpet talking with me which said, Come up hither, and I will shew thee things which must be hereafter.²And immediately I was in the spirit: and, behold, a throne was set in heaven, and one sat on the throne.³And he that sat was to look upon like a jasper and a sardine stone: and there was a rainbow round about the throne, in sight like unto an emerald.⁴And round about the throne were four and twenty seats: and upon the seats I saw four and twenty elders sitting, clothed in white raiment and they had on their heads crowns of gold.⁵And out of the throne proceeded lightnings and thunderings and voices: and there were seven lamps of fire burning before the throne, which are the seven Spirits of God.⁶And before the throne there was a sea of glass like unto crystal: and in the midst of the throne, and round about the throne, were four beasts full of eyes before and behind.⁷And the first beast was like a lion, and the second beast like a calf, and the third beast had a face as a man, and the fourth beast was like a flying eagle.⁸And the four beasts had each of them six wings about him and they were full of eyes within: and they rest not day and night, saying, Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, which was, and is, and is to come.⁹And when those beasts give glory and honour and thanks to him that sat on the throne, who liveth for ever and ever,¹⁰The four and twenty elders fall down before him that sat on the throne, and worship him that liveth for ever and ever, and cast their crowns before the throne, saying,¹¹Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory and honour and power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created.

CHAPTER 5 ¹And I saw in the right hand of him that sat on the throne a book written within and on the backside, sealed with seven seals.²And I saw a strong angel proclaiming with a loud voice, Who is worthy to open the book, and to loose the seals thereof?³And no man in heaven, nor in earth, neither under the earth, was able to open the book, neither to look thereon.⁴And I wept much, because no man was found worthy to open and to read the book, neither to look thereon.⁵And one of the elders saith unto me, Weep not: behold, the Lion of the tribe of Juda, the Root of David, hath prevailed to open the book, and to loose the seven seals thereof.⁶And I beheld, and, lo, in the midst of the throne and of the four beasts, and in the midst of the elders, stood a Lamb as it had been slain, having seven horns and seven eyes, which are the seven Spirits of God sent forth into all the earth.⁷And he came and took the book out of the right hand of him that sat upon the throne.⁸And when he had taken the book, the four beasts and four and twenty elders fell down before the Lamb, having every one of them harps, and golden vials full of odours, which are the prayers of saints.⁹And they sung a new song, saying, Thou art worthy to take the book, and to open the seals thereof: for thou wast slain, and hast redeemed us to God by thy blood out of every kindred, and tongue, and people, and nation¹⁰And hast made us unto our God kings and priests: and we shall reign on the earth.¹¹And I beheld, and I heard the voice of many angels round about the throne and the beasts and the elders: and the number of them was ten thousand times ten thousand, and thousands of thousands ¹²Saying with a loud voice, Worthy is the Lamb that was slain to receive power, and riches, and wisdom, and strength, and honour, and glory, and blessing.¹³And every creature which is in heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth, and such as are in the sea, and all that are in them, heard I saying, Blessing, and honour, and glory, and power, be unto him that sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb for ever and ever.¹⁴And the four beasts said, Amen. And the four and twenty elders fell down and worshipped him that liveth for ever and ever.

CHAPTER 6 ¹And I saw when the Lamb opened one of the seals, and I heard, as it were the noise of thunder, one of the four beasts saying, Come and see.²And I saw, and behold a white horse: and he that sat on him had a bow and a crown was given unto him: and he went forth conquering, and to conquer.³And when he had opened the second seal, I heard the second beast say, Come and see.⁴And there went out another horse that was red: and power was given to him that sat thereon to take peace from the earth, and that they should kill one another: and there was given unto him a great sword.⁵And when he had opened the third seal, I heard the third beast say, Come and see. And I beheld, and lo a black horse and he that sat on him had a pair of balances in his hand.⁶And I heard a voice in the midst of the four beasts say, A measure of wheat for a penny, and three measures of barley for a penny and see thou hurt not the oil and the wine.⁷And when he had opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth beast say, Come and see.⁸And I looked, and behold a pale horse: and his name that sat on him was Death, and Hell followed with him. And power was given unto them over the fourth part of the earth, to kill with sword, and with hunger, and with death, and with the beasts of the earth.⁹And when he had opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of them that were slain for the word of God, and for the testimony which they held:¹⁰And they cried with a loud voice, saying, How long, O Lord, holy and true, dost thou not judge and avenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth?¹¹And white robes were given unto every one of them and it was said unto them, that they should rest yet for a little season, until their fellowservants also and their brethren, that should be killed as they were, should be fulfilled.¹²And I beheld when he had opened the sixth seal, and, lo, there was a great earthquake and the sun became black as sackcloth of hair, and the moon became as blood¹³And the stars of heaven fell unto the earth, even as a fig tree casteth her untimely figs, when she is shaken of a mighty wind.¹⁴And the heaven departed as a scroll when it is rolled together and every mountain and island were moved out of their places.¹⁵And the kings of the earth, and the great men, and the rich men, and the chief captains, and the mighty men, and every bondman, and every free man, hid themselves in the dens and in the rocks of the mountains¹⁶And said to the mountains and rocks, Fall on us, and hide us from the face of him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb:¹⁷For the great day of his wrath is come and who shall be able to stand?

CHAPTER 7 ¹And after these things I saw four angels standing on the four corners of the earth, holding the four winds of the earth, that the wind should not blow on the earth, nor on the sea, nor on any tree.²And I saw another angel ascending from the east, having the seal of the living God: and he cried with a loud voice to the four angels, to whom it was given to hurt the earth and the sea,³Saying, Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we have sealed the servants of our God in their foreheads.⁴And I heard the number of them which were sealed: and there were sealed an hundred and forty and four thousand of all the tribes of the children of Israel.⁵Of the tribe of Juda were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Reuben were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Gad were sealed twelve thousand.⁶Of the tribe of Aser were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Nephtalim were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Manasses were sealed twelve thousand.⁷Of the tribe of Simeon were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Levi were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Issachar were sealed twelve thousand.⁸Of the tribe of Zabulon were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Joseph were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Benjamin were sealed twelve thousand.⁹After this I beheld, and, lo, a great multitude, which no man could number, of all nations, and kindreds, and people, and tongues, stood before the throne, and before the Lamb, clothed with white robes, and palms in their hands¹⁰And cried with a loud voice, saying, Salvation to our God which sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb.¹¹And all the angels stood round about the throne, and about the elders and the four beasts, and fell before the throne on their faces, and worshipped God,¹²Saying, Amen: Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honour, and power, and might, be unto our God for ever and ever. Amen.¹³And one of the elders answered, saying unto me, What are these which are arrayed in white robes? and whence came they?¹⁴And I said unto him, Sir, thou knowest. And he said to me, These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lamb.¹⁵Therefore are they before the throne of God, and serve him day and night in his temple: and he that sitteth on the throne shall dwell among them.¹⁶They shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more neither shall the sun light on them, nor any heat.¹⁷For the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall feed them, and shall lead them unto living fountains of waters: and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes.

CHAPTER 8 ¹And when he had opened the seventh seal, there was silence in heaven about the space of half an hour.²And I saw the seven angels which stood before God and to them were given seven trumpets.³And another angel came and stood at the altar, having a golden censer and there was given unto him much incense, that he should offer it with the prayers of all saints upon the golden altar which was before the throne.⁴And the smoke of the incense, which came with the prayers of the saints, ascended up before God out of the angel's hand.⁵And the angel took the censer, and filled it with fire of the altar, and cast it into the earth: and there were voices, and thunderings, and lightnings, and an earthquake.⁶And the seven angels which had the seven trumpets prepared themselves to sound.⁷The first angel sounded, and there followed hail and fire mingled with blood, and they were cast upon the earth: and the third part of trees was burnt up, and all green grass was burnt up.⁸And the second angel sounded, and as it were a great mountain burning with fire was cast into the sea: and the third part of the sea became blood⁹And the third part of the creatures which were in the sea, and had life, died and the third part of the ships were destroyed.¹⁰And the third angel sounded, and there fell a great star from heaven, burning as it were a lamp, and it fell upon the third part of the rivers, and upon the fountains of waters¹¹And the name of the star is called Wormwood: and the third part of the waters became wormwood and many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.¹²And the fourth angel sounded, and the third part of the sun was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars so as the third part of them was darkened, and the day shone not for a third part of it, and the night likewise.¹³And I beheld, and heard an angel flying through the midst of heaven, saying with a loud voice, Woe, woe, woe, to the inhabitants of the earth by reason of the other voices of the trumpet of the three angels, which are yet to sound!

CHAPTER 9 ¹And the fifth angel sounded, and I saw a star fall from heaven unto the earth: and to him was given the key of the bottomless pit.²And he opened the bottomless pit and there arose a smoke out of the pit, as the smoke of a great furnace and the sun and the air were darkened by reason of the smoke of the pit.³And there came out of the smoke locusts upon the earth: and unto them was given power, as the scorpions of the earth have power.⁴And it was commanded them that they should not hurt the grass of the earth, neither any green thing, neither any tree but only those men which have not the seal of God in their foreheads.⁵And to them it was given that they should not kill them, but that they should be tormented five months: and their torment was as the torment of a scorpion, when he striketh a man.⁶And in those days shall men seek death, and shall not find it and shall desire to die, and death shall flee from them.⁷And the shapes of the locusts were like unto horses prepared unto battle and on their heads were as it were crowns like gold, and their faces were as the faces of men.⁸And they had hair as the hair of women, and their teeth were as the teeth of lions.⁹And they had breastplates, as it were breastplates of iron and the sound of their wings was as the sound of chariots of many horses running to battle.¹⁰And they had tails like unto scorpions, and there were stings in their tails: and their power was to hurt men five months.¹¹And they had a king over them, which is the angel of the bottomless pit, whose name in the Hebrew tongue is Abaddon, but in the Greek tongue hath his name Apollyon.¹²One woe is past and, behold, there come two woes more hereafter.¹³And the sixth angel sounded, and I heard a voice from the four horns of the golden altar which is before God,¹⁴Saying to the sixth angel which had the trumpet, Loose the four angels which are bound in the great river Euphrates.¹⁵And the four angels were loosed, which were prepared for an hour, and a day, and a month, and a year, for to slay the third part of men.¹⁶And the number of the army of the horsemen were two hundred thousand thousand: and I heard the number of them.¹⁷And thus I saw the horses in the vision, and them that sat on them, having breastplates of fire, and of jacinth, and brimstone: and the heads of the horses were as the heads of lions and out of their mouths issued fire and smoke and brimstone.¹⁸By these three was the third part of men killed, by the fire, and by the smoke, and by the brimstone, which issued out of their mouths.¹⁹For their power is in their mouth, and in their tails: for their tails were like unto serpents, and had heads, and with them they do hurt.²⁰And the rest of the men which were not killed by these plagues yet repented not of the works of their hands, that they should not worship devils, and idols of gold, and silver, and brass, and stone, and of wood: which neither can see, nor hear, nor walk:²¹Neither repented they of their murders, nor of their sorceries, nor of their fornication, nor of their thefts.

CHAPTER 10 ¹And I saw another mighty angel come down from heaven, clothed with a cloud: and a rainbow was upon his head, and his face was as it were the sun, and his feet as pillars of fire:²And he had in his hand a little book open: and he set his right foot upon the sea, and his left foot on the earth,³And cried with a loud voice, as when a lion roareth: and when he had cried, seven thunders uttered their voices.⁴And when the seven thunders had uttered their voices, I was about to write: and I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, Seal up those things which the seven thunders uttered, and write them not.⁵And the angel which I saw stand upon the sea and upon the earth lifted up his hand to heaven,⁶And sware by him that liveth for ever and ever, who created heaven, and the things that therein are, and the earth, and the things that therein are, and the sea, and the things which are therein, that there should be time no longer:⁷But in the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he shall begin to sound, the mystery of God should be finished, as he hath declared to his servants the prophets.⁸And the voice which I heard from heaven spake unto me again, and said, Go and take the little book which is open in the hand of the angel which standeth upon the sea and upon the earth.⁹And I went unto the angel, and said unto him, Give me the little book. And he said unto me, Take it, and eat it up and it shall make thy belly bitter, but it shall be in thy mouth sweet as honey.¹⁰ And I took the little book out of the angel's hand, and ate it up and it was in my mouth sweet as honey: and as soon as I had eaten it, my belly was bitter.¹¹ And he said unto me, Thou must prophesy again before many peoples, and nations, and tongues, and kings.

CHAPTER 11 ¹And there was given me a reed like unto a rod: and the angel stood, saying, Rise, and measure the temple of God, and the altar, and them that worship therein.² But the court which is without the temple leave out, and measure it not for it is given unto the Gentiles: and the holy city shall they tread under foot forty and two months.³ And I will give power unto my two witnesses, and they shall prophesy a thousand two hundred and threescore days, clothed in sackcloth.⁴ These are the two olive trees, and the two candlesticks standing before the God of the earth.⁵ And if any man will hurt them, fire proceedeth out of their mouth, and devoureth their enemies: and if any man will hurt them, he must in this manner be killed.⁶ These have power to shut heaven, that it rain not in the days of their prophecy: and have power over waters to turn them to blood, and to smite the earth with all plagues, as often as they will.⁷ And when they shall have finished their testimony, the beast that ascendeth out of the bottomless pit shall make war against them, and shall overcome them, and kill them.⁸ And their dead bodies shall lie in the street of the great city, which spiritually is called Sodom and Egypt, where also our Lord was crucified.⁹ And they of the people and kindreds and tongues and nations shall see their dead bodies three days and an half, and shall not suffer their dead bodies to be put in graves.¹⁰ And they that dwell upon the earth shall rejoice over them, and make merry, and shall send gifts one to another because these two prophets tormented them that dwelt on the earth.¹¹ And after three days and an half the Spirit of life from God entered into them, and they stood upon their feet and great fear fell upon them which saw them.¹² And they heard a great voice from heaven saying unto them, Come up hither. And they ascended up to heaven in a cloud and their enemies beheld them.¹³ And the same hour was there a great earthquake, and the tenth part of the city fell, and in the earthquake were slain of men seven thousand: and the remnant were affrighted, and gave glory to the God of heaven.¹⁴The second woe is past and, behold, the third woe cometh quickly.¹⁵And the seventh angel sounded and there were great voices in heaven, saying, The kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of his Christ and he shall reign for ever and ever.¹⁶And the four and twenty elders, which sat before God on their seats, fell upon their faces, and worshipped God,¹⁷Saying, We give thee thanks, O Lord God Almighty, which art, and wast, and art to come because thou hast taken to thee thy great power, and hast reigned.¹⁸And the nations were angry, and thy wrath is come, and the time of the dead, that they should be judged, and that thou shouldest give reward unto thy servants the prophets, and to the saints, and them that fear thy name, small and great and shouldest destroy them which destroy the earth.¹⁹And the temple of God was opened in heaven, and there was seen in his temple the ark of his testament: and there were lightnings, and voices, and thunderings, and an earthquake, and great hail.

CHAPTER 12 ¹And there appeared a great wonder in heaven a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and upon her head a crown of twelve stars:²And she being with child cried, travailing in birth, and pained to be delivered.³And there appeared another wonder in heaven and behold a great red dragon, having seven heads and ten horns, and seven crowns upon his heads.⁴And his tail drew the third part of the stars of heaven, and did cast them to the earth: and the dragon stood before the woman which was ready to be delivered, for to devour her child as soon as it was born.⁵And she brought forth a man child, who was to rule all nations with a rod of iron: and her child was caught up unto God, and to his throne.⁶And the woman fled into the wilderness, where she hath a place prepared of God, that they should feed her there a thousand two hundred and threescore days.⁷And there was war in heaven: Michael and his angels fought against the dragon and the dragon fought and his angels,⁸And prevailed not neither was their place found any more in heaven.⁹And the great dragon was cast out, that old serpent, called the Devil, and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world: he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.¹⁰And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, which accused them before our God day and night.¹¹And they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb, and by the word of their testimony and they loved not their lives unto the death.¹²Therefore rejoice, ye heavens, and ye that dwell in them. Woe to the inhabitants of the earth and of the sea! for the devil is come down unto you, having great wrath, because he knoweth that he hath but a short time.¹³And when the dragon saw that he was cast unto the earth, he persecuted the woman which brought forth the man child.¹⁴And to the woman were given two wings of a great eagle, that she might fly into the wilderness, into her place, where she is nourished for a time, and times, and half a time, from the face of the serpent.¹⁵And the serpent cast out of his mouth water as a flood after the woman, that he might cause her to be carried away of the flood.¹⁶And the earth helped the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed up the flood which the dragon cast out of his mouth.¹⁷And the dragon was wroth with the woman, and went to make war with the remnant of her seed, which keep the commandments of God, and have the testimony of Jesus Christ.

CHAPTER 13 ¹And I stood upon the sand of the sea, and saw a beast rise up out of the sea, having seven heads and ten horns, and upon his horns ten crowns, and upon his heads the name of blasphemy.²And the beast which I saw was like unto a leopard, and his feet were as the feet of a bear, and his mouth as the mouth of a lion: and the dragon gave him his power, and his seat, and great authority.³And I saw one of his heads as it were wounded to death and his deadly wound was healed: and all the world wondered after the beast.⁴And they worshipped the dragon which gave power unto the beast: and they worshipped the beast, saying, Who is like unto the beast? who is able to make war with him?⁵And there was given unto him a mouth speaking great things and blasphemies and power was given unto him to continue forty and two months.⁶And he opened his mouth in blasphemy against God, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heaven.⁷And it was given unto him to make war with the saints, and to overcome them: and power was given him over all kindreds, and tongues, and nations.⁸And all that dwell upon the earth shall worship him, whose names are not written in the book of life of the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world.⁹If any man have an ear, let him hear.¹⁰He that leadeth into captivity shall go into captivity: he that killeth with the sword must be killed with the sword. Here is the patience and the faith of the saints.¹¹And I beheld another beast coming up out of the earth and he had two horns like a lamb, and he spake as a dragon.¹²And he exerciseth all the power of the first beast before him, and causeth the earth and them which dwell therein to worship the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed.¹³And he doeth great wonders, so that he maketh fire come down from heaven on the earth in the sight of men,¹⁴And deceiveth them that dwell on the earth by the means of those miracles which he had power to do in the sight of the beast saying to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make an image to the beast, which had the wound by a sword, and did live.¹⁵And he had power to give life unto the image of the beast, that the image of the beast should both speak, and cause that as many as would not worship the image of the beast should be killed.¹⁶And he causeth all, both small and great, rich and poor, free and bond, to receive a mark in their right hand, or in their foreheads:¹⁷And that no man might buy or sell, save he that had the mark, or the name of the beast, or the number of his name.¹⁸Here is wisdom. Let him that hath understanding count the number of the beast: for it is the number of a man and his number is Six hundred threescore and six.

CHAPTER 14 ¹And I looked, and, lo, a Lamb stood on the mount Sion, and with him an hundred forty and four thousand, having his Father's name written in their foreheads.²And I heard a voice from heaven, as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of a great thunder: and I heard the voice of harpers harping with their harps:³And they sung as it were a new song before the throne, and before the four beasts, and the elders: and no man could learn that song but the hundred and forty and four thousand, which were redeemed from the earth.⁴These are they which were not defiled with women for they are virgins. These are they which follow the Lamb whithersoever he goeth. These were redeemed from among men, being the firstfruits unto God and to the Lamb.⁵And in their mouth was found no guile: for they are without fault before the throne of God.⁶And I saw another angel fly in the midst of heaven, having the everlasting gospel to preach unto them that dwell on the earth, and to every nation, and kindred, and tongue, and people,⁷Saying with a loud voice, Fear God, and give glory to him for the hour of his judgment is come: and worship him that made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and the fountains of waters.⁸And there followed another angel, saying, Babylon is fallen, is fallen, that great city, because she made all nations drink of the wine of the wrath of her fornication.⁹And the third angel followed them, saying with a loud voice, If any man worship the beast and his image, and receive his mark in his forehead, or in his hand,¹⁰The same shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is poured out without mixture into the cup of his indignation and he shall be tormented with fire and brimstone in the presence of the holy angels, and in the presence of the Lamb:¹¹And the smoke of their torment ascendeth up for ever and ever: and they have no rest day nor night, who worship the beast and his image, and whosoever receiveth the mark of his name.¹²Here is the patience of the saints: here are they that keep the commandments of God, and the faith of Jesus.¹³And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, Write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours and their works do follow them.¹⁴And I looked, and behold a white cloud, and upon the cloud one sat like unto the Son of man, having on his head a golden crown, and in his hand a sharp sickle.¹⁵And another angel came out of the temple, crying with a loud voice to him that sat on the cloud, Thrust in thy sickle, and reap: for the time is come for thee to reap for the harvest of the earth is ripe.¹⁶And he that sat on the cloud thrust in his sickle on the earth and the earth was reaped.¹⁷And another angel came out of the temple which is in heaven, he also having a sharp sickle.¹⁸And another angel came out from the altar, which had power over fire and cried with a loud cry to him that had the sharp sickle, saying, Thrust in thy sharp sickle, and gather the clusters of the vine of the earth for her grapes are fully ripe.¹⁹And the angel thrust in his sickle into the earth, and gathered the vine of the earth, and cast it into the great winepress of the wrath of God.²⁰And the winepress was trodden without the city, and blood came out of the winepress, even unto the horse bridles, by the space of a thousand and six hundred furlongs.

CHAPTER 15 ¹And I saw another sign in heaven, great and marvellous, seven angels having the seven last plagues for in them is filled up the wrath of God.²And I saw as it were a sea of glass mingled with fire: and them that had gotten the victory over the beast, and over his image, and over his mark, and over the number of his name, stand on the sea of glass, having the harps of God.³And they sing the song of Moses the servant of God, and the song of the Lamb, saying, Great and marvellous are thy works, Lord God Almighty just and true are thy ways, thou King of saints.⁴Who shall not fear thee, O Lord, and glorify thy name? for thou only art holy: for all nations shall come and worship before thee for thy judgments are made manifest.⁵And after that I looked, and, behold, the temple of the tabernacle of the testimony in heaven was opened:⁶And the seven angels came out of the temple, having the seven plagues, clothed in pure and white linen, and having their breasts girded with golden girdles.⁷And one of the four beasts gave unto the seven angels seven golden vials full of the wrath of God, who liveth for ever and ever.⁸And the temple was filled with smoke from the glory of God, and from his power and no man was able to enter into the temple, till the seven plagues of the seven angels were fulfilled.

CHAPTER 16 ¹And I heard a great voice out of the temple saying to the seven angels, Go your ways, and pour out the vials of the wrath of God upon the earth.²And the first went, and poured out his vial upon the earth and there fell a noisome and grievous sore upon the men which had the mark of the beast, and upon them which worshipped his image.³And the second angel poured out his vial upon the sea and it became as the blood of a dead man: and every living soul died in the sea.⁴And the third angel poured out his vial upon the rivers and fountains of waters and they became blood.⁵And I heard the angel of the waters say, Thou art righteous, O Lord, which art, and wast, and shalt be, because thou hast judged thus.⁶For they have shed the blood of saints and prophets, and thou hast given them blood to drink for they are worthy.⁷And I heard another out of the altar say, Even so, Lord God Almighty, true and righteous are thy judgments.⁸And the fourth angel poured out his vial upon the sun and power was given unto him to scorch men with fire.⁹And men were scorched with great heat, and blasphemed the name of God, which hath power over these plagues: and they repented not to give him glory.¹⁰And the fifth angel poured out his vial upon the seat of the beast and his kingdom was full of darkness and they gnawed their tongues for pain,¹¹And blasphemed the God of heaven because of their pains and their sores, and repented not of their deeds.¹²And the sixth angel poured out his vial upon the great river Euphrates and the water thereof was dried up, that the way of the kings of the east might be prepared.¹³And I saw three unclean spirits like frogs come out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet.¹⁴For they are the spirits of devils, working miracles, which go forth unto the kings of the earth and of the whole world, to gather them to the battle of that great day of God Almighty.¹⁵Behold, I come as a thief. Blessed is he that watcheth, and keepeth his garments, lest he walk naked, and they see his shame.¹⁶And he gathered them together into a place called in the Hebrew tongue Armageddon.¹⁷And the seventh angel poured out his vial into the air and there came a great voice out of the temple of heaven, from the throne, saying, It is done.¹⁸And there were voices, and thunders, and lightnings and there was a great earthquake, such as was not since men were upon the earth, so mighty an earthquake, and so great.¹⁹And the great city was divided into three parts, and the cities of the nations fell: and great Babylon came in remembrance before God, to give unto her the cup of the wine of the fierceness of his wrath.²⁰And every island fled away, and the mountains were not found.²¹And there fell upon men a great hail out of heaven, every stone about the weight of a talent: and men blasphemed God because of the plague of the hail for the plague thereof was exceeding great.

CHAPTER 17 ¹And there came one of the seven angels which had the seven vials, and talked with me, saying unto me, Come hither I will shew unto thee the judgment of the great whore that sitteth upon many waters:²With whom the kings of the earth have committed fornication, and the inhabitants of the earth have been made drunk with the wine of her fornication.³So he carried me away in the spirit into the wilderness: and I saw a woman sit upon a scarlet coloured beast, full of names of blasphemy, having seven heads and ten horns.⁴And the woman was arrayed in purple and scarlet colour, and decked with gold and precious stones and pearls, having a golden cup in her hand full of abominations and filthiness of her fornication:⁵And upon her forehead was a name written, MYSTERY, BABYLON THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF HARLOTS AND ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH.⁶And I saw the woman drunken with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of the martyrs of Jesus: and when I saw her, I wondered with great admiration.⁷And the angel said unto me, Wherefore didst thou marvel? I will tell thee the mystery of the woman, and of the beast that carrieth her, which hath the seven heads and ten horns.⁸The beast that thou sawest was, and is not and shall ascend out of the bottomless pit, and go into perdition: and they that dwell on the earth shall wonder, whose names were not written in the book of life from the foundation of the world, when they behold the beast that was, and is not, and yet is.⁹And here is the mind which hath wisdom. The seven heads are seven mountains, on which the woman sitteth.¹⁰And there are seven kings: five are fallen, and one is, and the other is not yet come and when he cometh, he must continue a short space.¹¹And the beast that was, and is not, even he is the eighth, and is of the seven, and goeth into perdition.¹²And the ten horns which thou sawest are ten kings, which have received no kingdom as yet but receive power as kings one hour with the beast.¹³These have one mind, and shall give their power and strength unto the beast.¹⁴These shall make war with the Lamb, and the Lamb shall overcome them: for he is Lord of lords, and King of kings: and they that are with him are called, and chosen, and faithful.¹⁵And he saith unto me, The waters which thou sawest, where the whore sitteth, are peoples, and multitudes, and nations, and tongues.¹⁶And the ten horns which thou sawest upon the beast, these shall hate the whore, and shall make her desolate and naked, and shall eat her flesh, and burn her with fire.¹⁷For God hath put in their hearts to fulfil his will, and to agree, and give their kingdom unto the beast, until the words of God shall be fulfilled.¹⁸And the woman which thou sawest is that great city, which reigneth over the kings of the earth.

CHAPTER 18 ¹And after these things I saw another angel come down from heaven, having great power and the earth was lightened with his glory.²And he cried mightily with a strong voice, saying, Babylon the great is fallen, is fallen, and is become the habitation of devils, and the hold of every foul spirit, and a cage of every unclean and hateful bird.³For all nations have drunk of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, and the kings of the earth have committed fornication with her, and the merchants of the earth are waxed rich through the abundance of her delicacies.⁴And I heard another voice from heaven, saying, Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues.⁵For her sins have reached unto heaven, and God hath remembered her iniquities.⁶Reward her even as she rewarded you, and double unto her double according to her works: in the cup which she hath filled fill to her double.⁷How much she hath glorified herself, and lived deliciously, so much torment and sorrow give her: for she saith in her heart, I sit a queen, and am no widow, and shall see no sorrow.⁸Therefore shall her plagues come in one day, death, and mourning, and famine and she shall be utterly burned with fire: for strong is the Lord God who judgeth her.⁹And the kings of the earth, who have committed fornication and lived deliciously with her, shall bewail her, and lament for her, when they shall see the smoke of her burning,¹⁰Standing afar off for the fear of her torment, saying, Alas, alas, that great city Babylon, that mighty city! for in one hour is thy judgment come.¹¹And the merchants of the earth shall weep and mourn over her for no man buyeth their merchandise any more:¹²The merchandise of gold, and silver, and precious stones, and of pearls, and fine linen, and purple, and silk, and scarlet, and all thyine wood, and all manner vessels of ivory, and all manner vessels of most precious wood, and of brass, and iron, and marble,¹³And cinnamon, and odours, and ointments, and frankincense, and wine, and oil, and fine flour, and wheat, and beasts, and sheep, and horses, and chariots, and slaves, and souls of men.¹⁴And the fruits that thy soul lusted after are departed from thee, and all things which were dainty and goodly are departed from thee, and thou shalt find them no more at all.¹⁵The merchants of these things, which were made rich by her, shall stand afar off for the fear of her torment, weeping and wailing,¹⁶And saying, Alas, alas, that great city, that was clothed in fine linen, and purple, and scarlet, and decked with gold, and precious stones, and pearls!¹⁷For in one hour so great riches is come to nought. And every shipmaster, and all the company in ships, and sailors, and as many as trade by sea, stood afar off,¹⁸And cried when they saw the smoke of her burning, saying, What city is like unto this great city!¹⁹And they cast dust on their heads, and cried, weeping and wailing, saying, Alas, alas, that great city, wherein were made rich all that had ships in the sea by reason of her costliness! for in one hour is she made desolate.²⁰Rejoice over her, thou heaven, and ye holy apostles and prophets for God hath avenged you on her.²¹And a mighty angel took up a stone like a great millstone, and cast it into the sea, saying, Thus with violence shall that great city Babylon be thrown down, and shall be found no more at all.²²And the voice of harpers, and musicians, and of pipers, and trumpeters, shall be heard no more at all in thee and no craftsman, of whatsoever craft he be, shall be found any more in thee and the sound of a millstone shall be heard no more at all in thee²³And the light of a candle shall shine no more at all in thee and the voice of the bridegroom and of the bride shall be heard no more at all in thee: for thy merchants were the great men of the earth for by thy sorceries were all nations deceived.²⁴And in her was found the blood of prophets, and of saints, and of all that were slain upon the earth.

CHAPTER 19 ¹And after these things I heard a great voice of much people in heaven, saying, Alleluia Salvation, and glory, and honour, and power, unto the Lord our God:²For true and righteous are his judgments: for he hath judged the great whore, which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, and hath avenged the blood of his servants at her hand.³And again they said, Alleluia. And her smoke rose up for ever and ever.⁴And the four and twenty elders and the four beasts fell down and worshipped God that sat on the throne, saying, Amen Alleluia.⁵And a voice came out of the throne, saying, Praise our God, all ye his servants, and ye that fear him, both small and great.⁶And I heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of mighty thunderings, saying, Alleluia: for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth.⁷Let us be glad and rejoice, and give honour to him: for the marriage of the Lamb is come, and his wife hath made herself ready.⁸And to her was granted that she should be arrayed in fine linen, clean and white: for the fine linen is the righteousness of saints.⁹And he saith unto me, Write, Blessed are they which are called unto the marriage supper of the Lamb. And he saith unto me, These are the true sayings of God.¹⁰And I fell at his feet to worship him. And he said unto me, See thou do it not: I am thy fellowservant, and of thy brethren that have the testimony of Jesus: worship God: for the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.¹¹And I saw heaven opened, and behold a white horse and he that sat upon him was called Faithful and True, and in righteousness he doth judge and make war.¹²His eyes were as a flame of fire, and on his head were many crowns and he had a name written, that no man knew, but he himself.¹³And he was clothed with a vesture dipped in blood: and his name is called The Word of God.¹⁴And the armies which were in heaven followed him upon white horses, clothed in fine linen, white and clean.¹⁵And out of his mouth goeth a sharp sword, that with it he should smite the nations: and he shall rule them with a rod of iron: and he treadeth the winepress of the fierceness and wrath of Almighty God.¹⁶And he hath on his vesture and on his thigh a name written, KING OF KINGS, AND LORD OF LORDS.¹⁷And I saw an angel standing in the sun and he cried with a loud voice, saying to all the fowls that fly in the midst of heaven, Come and gather yourselves together unto the supper of the great God¹⁸ That ye may eat the flesh of kings, and the flesh of captains, and the flesh of mighty men, and the flesh of horses, and of them that sit on them, and the flesh of all men, both free and bond, both small and great.¹⁹ And I saw the beast, and the kings of the earth, and their armies, gathered together to make war against him that sat on the horse, and against his army.²⁰ And the beast was taken, and with him the false prophet that wrought miracles before him, with which he deceived them that had received the mark of the beast, and them that worshipped his image. These both were cast alive into a lake of fire burning with brimstone.²¹ And the remnant were slain with the sword of him that sat upon the horse, which sword proceeded out of his mouth: and all the fowls were filled with their flesh.

CHAPTER 20 ¹And I saw an angel come down from heaven, having the key of the bottomless pit and a great chain in his hand.² And he laid hold on the dragon, that old serpent, which is the Devil, and Satan, and bound him a thousand years,³ And cast him into the bottomless pit, and shut him up, and set a seal upon him, that he should deceive the nations no more, till the thousand years should be fulfilled: and after that he must be loosed a little season.⁴ And I saw thrones, and they sat upon them, and judgment was given unto them: and I saw the souls of them that were beheaded for the witness of Jesus, and for the word of God, and which had not worshipped the beast, neither his image, neither had received his mark upon their foreheads, or in their hands and they lived and reigned with Christ a thousand years.⁵ But the rest of the dead lived not again until the thousand years were finished. This is the first resurrection.⁶ Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection: on such the second death hath no power, but they shall be priests of God and of Christ, and shall reign with him a thousand years.⁷ And when the thousand years are expired, Satan shall be loosed out of his prison,⁸ And shall go out to deceive the nations which are in the four quarters of the earth, Gog and Magog, to gather them together to battle: the number of whom is as the sand of the sea.⁹ And they went up on the breadth of the earth, and compassed the camp of the saints about, and the beloved city: and fire came down from God out of heaven, and devoured them.¹⁰And the devil that deceived them was cast into the lake of fire and brimstone, where the beast and the false prophet are, and shall be tormented day and night for ever and ever.¹¹And I saw a great white throne, and him that sat on it, from whose face the earth and the heaven fled away and there was found no place for them.¹²And I saw the dead, small and great, stand before God and the books were opened: and another book was opened, which is the book of life: and the dead were judged out of those things which were written in the books, according to their works.¹³And the sea gave up the dead which were in it and death and hell delivered up the dead which were in them: and they were judged every man according to their works.¹⁴And death and hell were cast into the lake of fire. This is the second death.¹⁵And whosoever was not found written in the book of life was cast into the lake of fire.

CHAPTER 21 ¹And I saw a new heaven and a new earth: for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away and there was no more sea.²And I John saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband.³And I heard a great voice out of heaven saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God.⁴And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away.⁵And he that sat upon the throne said, Behold, I make all things new. And he said unto me, Write: for these words are true and faithful.⁶And he said unto me, It is done. I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end. I will give unto him that is athirst of the fountain of the water of life freely.⁷He that overcometh shall inherit all things and I will be his God, and he shall be my son.⁸But the fearful, and unbelieving, and the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the second death.⁹And there came unto me one of the seven angels which had the seven vials full of the seven last plagues, and talked with me, saying, Come hither, I will shew thee the bride, the Lamb's wife.¹⁰And he carried me away in the spirit to a great and high mountain, and shewed me that great city, the holy Jerusalem, descending out of heaven from God,¹¹Having the glory of God: and her light was like unto a stone most precious, even like a jasper stone, clear as crystal¹²And had a wall great and high, and had twelve gates, and at the gates twelve angels, and names written thereon, which are the names of the twelve tribes of the children of Israel:¹³On the east three gates on the north three gates on the south three gates and on the west three gates.¹⁴And the wall of the city had twelve foundations, and in them the names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb.¹⁵And he that talked with me had a golden reed to measure the city, and the gates thereof, and the wall thereof.¹⁶And the city lieth foursquare, and the length is as large as the breadth: and he measured the city with the reed, twelve thousand furlongs. The length and the breadth and the height of it are equal.¹⁷And he measured the wall thereof, an hundred and forty and four cubits, according to the measure of a man, that is, of the angel.¹⁸And the building of the wall of it was of jasper: and the city was pure gold, like unto clear glass.¹⁹And the foundations of the wall of the city were garnished with all manner of precious stones. The first foundation was jasper the second, sapphire the third, a chalcedony the fourth, an emerald²⁰The fifth, sardonyx the sixth, sardius the seventh, chrysolite the eighth, beryl the ninth, a topaz the tenth, a chrysoprasus the eleventh, a jacinth the twelfth, an amethyst.²¹And the twelve gates were twelve pearls every several gate was of one pearl: and the street of the city was pure gold, as it were transparent glass.²²And I saw no temple therein: for the Lord God Almighty and the Lamb are the temple of it.²³And the city had no need of the sun, neither of the moon, to shine in it: for the glory of God did lighten it, and the Lamb is the light thereof.²⁴And the nations of them which are saved shall walk in the light of it: and the kings of the earth do bring their glory and honour into it.²⁵And the gates of it shall not be shut at all by day: for there shall be no night there.²⁶And they shall bring the glory and honour of the nations into it.²⁷And there shall in no wise enter into it anything that defileth, neither whatsoever worketh abomination, or maketh

CHAPTER 22 ¹And he shewed me a pure river of water of life, clear as crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God and of the Lamb.²In the midst of the street of it, and on either side of the river, was there the tree of life, which bare twelve manner of fruits, and yielded her fruit every month: and the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations.³And there shall be no more curse: but the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be in it and his servants shall serve him:⁴And they shall see his face and his name shall be in their foreheads.⁵And there shall be no night there and they need no candle, neither light of the sun for the Lord God giveth them light: and they shall reign for ever and ever.⁶And he said unto me, These sayings are faithful and true: and the Lord God of the holy prophets sent his angel to shew unto his servants the things which must shortly be done.⁷Behold, I come quickly: blessed is he that keep the sayings of the prophecy of this book.⁸And I John saw these things, and heard them. And when I had heard and seen, I fell down to worship before the feet of the angel which shewed me these things.⁹Then saith he unto me, See thou do it not: for I am thy fellowservant, and of thy brethren the prophets, and of them which keep the sayings of this book: worship God.¹⁰And he saith unto me, Seal not the sayings of the prophecy of this book: for the time is at hand.¹¹He that is unjust, let him be unjust still: and he which is filthy, let him be filthy still: and he that is righteous, let him be righteous still: and he that is holy, let him be holy still.¹²And, behold, I come quickly and my reward is with me, to give every man according as his work shall be.¹³I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end, the first and the last.¹⁴Blessed are they that do his commandments, that they may have right to the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the city.¹⁵For without are dogs, and sorcerers, and whoremongers, and murderers, and idolaters, and whosoever loveth and maketh a lie.¹⁶I Jesus have sent mine angel to testify unto you these things in the churches. I am the root and the offspring of David, and the bright and morning star.¹⁷And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely.¹⁸For I testify unto every man that heareth the words of the prophecy of this book, If any man shall add unto these things, God shall add unto him the plagues that are written in this book:¹⁹And if any man shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God shall take away his part out of the book of life, and out of the holy city, and from the things which are written in this book.²⁰He which testifieth these things saith, Surely I come quickly. Amen. Even so, come, Lord Jesus.

THE FIRST EPISTLE OF CLEMENT TO THE CORINTHIANS

CHAPTER 1 ¹Clement commends them for their excellent order and piety in Christ, before their schism broke out. THE Church of God which is at Rome, to the Church of God which is at Corinth, elect, sanctified by the will of God, through Jesus Christ our Lord: grace and peace from the Almighty God, by Jesus Christ, be multiplied unto you. ² Brethren, the sudden and unexpected dangers and calamities that have fallen upon us, have, we fear, made us the more slow in our consideration of those things which you inquired of us: ³ As also of that wicked and detestable sedition, so unbecoming the elect of God, which a few headstrong and self-willed men have fomented to such a degree of madness, that your venerable and renowned name, so worthy of all men to be beloved, is greatly blasphemed thereby. ⁴ For who that has ever been among you has not experienced the firmness of your faith, and its fruitfulness in all good works and admired the temper and moderation of your religion in Christ and published abroad the magnificence of your hospitality and thought you happy in your perfect and certain knowledge of the Gospel? ⁵ For ye did all things without respect of persons, and walked according to the laws of God being subject to those who had the rule over you, and giving the honour that was fitting to the aged among you. ⁶ Ye commanded the young men to think those things that were modest and grave. ⁷ The women ye exhorted to do all things with an unblameable, and seemly, and pure conscience loving their own husbands, as was fitting: and that keeping themselves within the bounds of a due obedience, they should order their houses gravely, with all discretion. ⁸ Ye were all of you humbleminded, not boasting of anything desiring rather to be subject than to govern to give than to receive being a content with the portion God hath dispensed to you: ⁹ And hearkening diligently to his word, ye were enlarged in your bowels, having his sufferings always before your eyes. ¹⁰ Thus a firm, and blessed, and profitable peace was given unto you: and an unsatiable desire of doing good and a plentiful effusion of the Holy Ghost was upon all of you. ¹¹ And being full of good designs, ye did with, great readiness of mind, and with a religious confidence stretch forth your hands to God Almighty beseeching him to be merciful unto you, if in anything ye had unwillingly sinned against him. ¹² Ye contended day and night for the whole brotherhood that with compassion and a good conscience, the number of his elect might be saved. ¹³ Ye were sincere, and without offence towards each other not mindful of injuries all sedition and schism was an abomination unto you. ¹⁴ Ye bewailed everyone his neighbours' sins, esteeming their defects your own. ¹⁵ Ye were kind one to another without grudging being ready to every good work. And being adorned with a conversation altogether virtuous and religious, ye did all things in the fear of God whose I commandments were written upon the tables of your heart.

CHAPTER 2 ¹All honour and enlargement was given unto you and so was fulfilled that which is written, my beloved did eat and drink, he was enlarged and waxed fat, and he kicked. ² From hence came emulation, and envy, and strife, and sedition persecution and disorder, war and captivity. ³ So they who were of no renown, lifted up themselves against the honourable those of no reputation against those who were in respect the foolish against the wise the young men against the aged. ⁴ Therefore righteousness and peace are departed from you, because everyone hath forsaken the fear of God and is grown blind in his faith nor walketh by the rule of God's commandments nor liveth as is fitting in Christ: ⁵ But every one follows his own wicked lusts: having taken up an unjust and wicked envy, by which death first entered into the world.

CHAPTER 3 ¹Envy and emulation the original of all strife and disorder. Examples of the mischiefs they have occasioned. FOR thus it is written, And in process of time it came to pass, that Cain brought of the fruit of the ground an offering unto the Lord. And Abel, he also brought of the firstlings of his flock, and of the fat thereof: ² And the Lord had respect unto Abel, and to his offering. But unto Cain and unto his offering he had not respect. And Cain was very sorrowful, and his countenance fell. ³ And the Lord said unto Cain, Why art thou sorrowful? And why is thy countenance fallen? If thou shalt offer aright, but not divide aright, hast thou not sinned? Hold thy peace: unto thee shall be his desire, and thou shalt rule over him. ⁴ And Cain said unto Abel his brother, Let us go down into the field. And it came to pass, as they were in the field, that Cain rose up against Abel his brother, and slew him. ⁵ Ye see, brethren, how envy and emulation wrought the death of a brother. For this, our father Jacob fled from the face of his brother Esau. ⁶ It was this that caused Joseph to be persecuted even unto death, and to come into bondage. Envy forced "Moses to flee from the face of Pharaoh king of Egypt, when he heard, his own countryman ask him, "Who made thee a Judge, and a ruler over us? Wilt thou kill me as thou didst the Egyptian yesterday? ⁷ Through envy Aaron and Miriam were shut out of the camp, from the rest of the congregation seven days. ⁸ Emulation's sent Dathan and Abiram quick into the grave because they raised up a sedition against Moses the servant of God. ⁹ For this, David was not only hated of strangers, but was persecuted even by Saul the king of Israel. ¹⁰ But not to insist upon ancient examples, let us come to those worthies that have been nearest to us and take the brave examples of our own age. ¹¹ Through zeal and envy, the most faithful and righteous pillars of the church have been persecuted even to the most grievous deaths. ¹² Let us set before our eyes, the holy Apostles Peter by unjust envy underwent not one or two, but many sufferings till at last being martyred, he went to the place of glory that was due unto him. ¹³ For the same cause did Paul in like manner receive the reward of his patience. Seven times he was in bonds he was whipped, was stoned he preached both in the East and in the West leaving behind him the glorious report of his faith: ¹⁴ And so having taught the whole world righteousness, and for that end travelled even to the utmost bounds of the West he at last suffered martyrdom by the command of the governors, ¹⁵ And departed out of the world, and went unto his holy place having become a most eminent pattern of patience unto all ages. ¹⁶ To these Holy Apostles were joined a very great number of others, who having through envy undergone in like manner many pains and torments, have left a glorious example to us. ¹⁷ For this, not only men but women have been persecuted and having suffered very grievous and cruel punishments, have finished the course of their faith with firmness and though weak in body, yet received a glorious reward. ¹⁸ This has alienated the minds even of women from their husbands and changed what was once said by our father Adam This is now bone of my bones, and flesh of my flesh. ¹⁹ In a word, envy and strife, have overturned whole cities, and rooted out great nations from off the earth.

CHAPTER 4 ¹These things, beloved, we write unto you, not only for your instruc - tion, but also for our own remembrance. ² For we are all in the same lists, and the same combat is prepared for us all. ³ Wherefore let us lay aside all vain and empty cares and let us come up to the glorious and venerable rule of our holy calling. ⁴ Let us consider what is good, and acceptable and well-pleasing in the sight of him that made us. ⁵ Let us look steadfastly to the blood of Christ, and see how precious his blood is in the sight of God: which being shed for our salvation, has obtained the grace of repentance for all the world. ⁶ Let us search into all the ages that have gone before us and learn that our Lord has in every one of them still given place for repentance to all such as would turn to him. ⁷ Noah preached repentance and as many as hearkened to him were saved. Jonah denounced destruction against the Ninevites. ⁸ Howbeit they repenting of their sins, appeased God by their prayers: and were saved, though they were strangers to the covenant of God. ⁹ Hence we find how all the ministers of the grace of God have spoken by the Holy Spirit of repentance. And even the Lord of all, has himself declared with an oath concerning it ¹⁰ As I live, saith the Lord, I desire not the death of a sinner, but that he should repent. Adding farther this good sentence, saying Turn from your iniquity, O house of Israel. ¹¹ Say unto the children of my people, though your sins should reach from earth to heaven and though they shall be redder than scarlet, and blacker than sackcloth yet if ye shall turn to me with all your heart, and shall call me father, I will hearken to you, as to a holy people. ¹² And in another place he saith on this wise: wash ye, make you clean put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes cease to do evil, learn to do well seek judgment, relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow. ¹³ Come now and let us reason together, saith the Lord: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow though they be as red as crimson, they shall be as wool. ¹⁴ If ye be willing and obedient ye shall eat the good of the land but, if ye refuse and rebel, ye shall be devoured with the sword for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it. ¹⁵ These things has God established by his Almighty will, desiring that all his beloved should come to repentance.

CHAPTER 5 ¹He sets before them the examples of holy men, whose piety is recorded in the Scripture. WHEREFORE let us obey his excellent and glorious will and imploring his mercy and goodness, let us fall down upon our faces before him, and cast

² Let us look up to those who have the most perfectly ministered to his excellent glory. Let us take Enoch for our example who being found righteous in obedience, was translated, and his death was not known. ³ Noah being proved to be faithful, did by his ministry, preach regeneration to the world and the Lord saved by him all the living creatures, that went with one accord into the ark.

⁴ Abraham, who was called God's friend, was in like manner found faithful inasmuch as he obeyed the commands of God. ⁵ By obedience he went out of his own country, and from his own kindred, and from his father's house that so forsaking a small country, and a weak affinity, and a little house, he might inherit the promises of God. ⁶ For thus God said unto him "get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and from thy father's house, unto a land that I will show thee." ⁷ "And, I will make thee a great nation, and will bless thee, and make thy name great, and thou shalt be blessed. And I will bless them that bless thee, and curse them that curse thee and in thee shall all families of the earth be blessed," ⁸ And again when he separated himself from Lot, God said unto him I Lift up now thine eyes, and look from the place where thou art northward, and southward, and eastward, and westward, for all the land which thou seest, to thee will I give it, and to thy seed for ever. ⁹ And I will make thy seed as the dust of the earth, so that if a man can number the dust of the earth, then shall thy seed also be numbered. ¹⁰ And again he saith: and God brought forth Abraham, and said unto him look now toward heaven, and tell the stars, if thou be able to number them: so shall thy seed be. ¹¹ And Abraham believed God, and it was counted to him for righteousness. ¹² Through faith and hospitality he had a son given him in his old age and through obedience he offered him up in sacrifice to God, upon one of the mountains which God showed into him.

CHAPTER 6 ¹Redemption for such as have been eminent for their faith, kindness, and charity to their neighbours. BY hospitality and goodliness was Lot saved out of Sodom, when all the country round about was destroyed by fire and brimstone. ² The Lord thereby making it manifest, that he will not forsake those that trust in him but will bring the disobedient to punishment and correction. ³ For his wife who went out with him, being of a different mind, and not continuing in the same obedience, was for that reason set forth for an example, being turned into a pillar of salt unto this day. ⁴ That so all men may know, that those who are double minded, and distrustful of the power of God, are prepared for condemnation, and to be a sign to all succeeding ages. ⁵ By faith and hospitality was Rahab the harlot saved. For when the spies were sent by Joshua the son of Nun to search out Jericho, and the king of Jericho knew that they were come to spy out his country, he sent men to take them, so that they might be put to death. ⁶ Rahab therefore, being hospitable, received them, and hid them under the stalks of flax, on the top of her house. ⁷ And when the messengers that were sent by the king came unto her, and asked her, saying, There came men unto thee to spy out the land, bring them forth, for so hath the king commanded: She answered, The two men whom ye seek came unto me, but presently they departed, and are gone: Not discovering them unto them. ⁸ Then she said to the spies, I know that the Lord your God has given this city into your hands for the fear of you is fallen upon all that dwell therein. When, therefore, ye shall have taken it, ye shall save me and my father's house. ⁹ And they answered her, saying, It shall be as thou hast spoken unto us, Therefore, when thou shalt know that we are near, thou shalt gather all thy family together, upon the housetop and they shall be saved: but all that shall be found without thy house shall be destroyed. ¹⁰ And they gave her moreover a sign, that she should hang out of her house a scarlet rope, showing thereby, that by the blood of our Lord, there should be redemption to all that believe and hope in God. Ye see, beloved, how there was not only faith, but prophesy too in this woman.

CHAPTER 7 ¹What rules are given for leading a holy life. LET us, therefore, humble ourselves, brethren, laying aside all pride, and boasting, and foolishness, and anger: And let us do as it is written. ² For thus saith the Holy Spirit Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, nor the strong man in his strength, nor the rich man in his riches but let him that glorieth, glory in the Lord, to seek him, and to do judgment and justice. ³ Above all, remembering the words of the Lord Jesus, which he spake concerning equity and long suffering, saying, ⁴ Be ye merciful, and ye shall obtain mercy forgive, and ye shall be forgiven as ye do, so shall it be done unto you as ye give, so shall it be given unto you as ye judge, so shall ye be judged as ye are kind to others, so shall God be kind to you with what measure ye mete, with the same shall it be measured to you again. ⁵ By this command, and by these rules, let us establish ourselves, that so we may always walk obediently to his holy words being humble minded: ⁶ For so says the Holy Scripture upon whom shall I look, even upon him that is poor and of a contrite spirit, and that trembles at my word. ⁷ It is, therefore, just and righteous, men and brethren, that we should become obedient unto God, rather than follow such as through pride and sedition, have made themselves the ring-leaders of a detestable emulation. ⁸ For it is not an ordinary harm that we shall do ourselves, but rather a very great danger that we shall run, if we shall rashly give up ourselves to the wills of men, who promote strife and seditions, to turn us aside from that which is fitting. ⁹ But let us be kind to one another, according to the compassion and sweetness of him that made us. ¹⁰ For it is written, The merciful shall inherit the earth and they that are without evil shall be left upon it: but the transgressors shall perish from off the face of it. ¹¹ And again he saith, I have seen the wicked in great power and spreading himself like the cedar of Libanus. I passed by, and lo! he was not I sought his place, but it could not be found. ¹² Keep innocently, and do the thing that is right, for there shall be a remnant to the peaceable man. ¹³ Let us, therefore, hold fast to those who religiously follow peace and not to such as only pretend to desire. ¹⁴ For he saith in a certain place, This people honoureth me with their lips, but their heart is far from me. ¹⁵ And again, They bless with their mouths, but curse in their hearts. ¹⁶ And again he saith, They loved him with their mouths, and with their tongues they lied to him. For their heart was not right with him, neither were they faithful in his covenant. ¹⁷ Let all deceitful lips become dumb, and the tongue that speaketh proud things. Who have said, with our tongue will we prevail our lips are our own, who is Lord over us? ¹⁸ For the oppression of the poor, for the sighing of the needy, now will I arise saith the Lord I will set him in safety, I will deal confidently with him.

CHAPTER 8 ¹He advises then, to be humble, and, follow the examples of Jesus, and of holy men in all ages. FOR Christ is theirs who are humble, and not who exalt themselves over his flock. The sceptre of the majesty of God, our Lord Jesus Christ, came not in the show of pride and arrogance, though he could have done so but with humility as the Holy Ghost had before spoken concerning him. ² For thus he saith, Lord, who hath believed our report, and to whom is the arm of the Lord revealed For he shall grow up before him as a tender plant, and as a root out of a dry ground ³ He hath no form or comeliness, and when we shall see him, there is no beauty that we should desire him. ⁴ He is despised and rejected of men a man of sorrows and acquainted with grief. ⁵ And we hid, as it were, our faces from him he was despised, and we esteemed him not. ⁶ Surely he hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows yet we did esteem him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted. ⁷ But he was wounded for our transgressions he was bruised for our iniquities the chastisement of our peace was upon him and with his stripes we are healed. ⁸ All we like sheep have gone astray we have turned every one to his own way and the Lord hath laid on him the iniquity of us all. ⁹ He was oppressed, and he was afflicted, yet he opened not his mouth: he is brought as a lamb to the slaughter and as a sheep before her shearers is dumb, so he openeth not his mouth. ¹⁰ He was taken from prison and from judgment and who shall declare this generation? For he was cut off out of the land of the living: for the transgression of my people was he stricken. ¹¹ And he made his grave with the wicked, and with the rich in his death because he had done no violence, neither was any deceit in his mouth. ¹² Yet it pleased the Lord to bruise him he hath put him to grief: when thou shalt make his soul an offering for sin, he shall see his seed, he shall prolong his days, and the pleasure of the Lord shall prosper in his hand. ¹³ He shall see of the travail of his soul, and shall be satisfied: by his knowledge shall my righteous servant justify many for he shall bear their iniquities. ¹⁴ Therefore will I divide him a portion with the great, and he shall divide the spoil with the strong because he hath poured out his soul unto death and he was numbered with the transgressors, and he bare the sin of many, and made intercession for the transgressors. ¹⁵ And again he himself saith, I am a worm and no man, a reproach of men, and despised of the people. All they that see me laugh me to scorn they shoot out their lips, they shake their heads, saying He trusted in the Lord that he would deliver him, let him deliver him seeing he delighted in him. ¹⁶ Ye see, beloved, what the pattern is that has been given to us. For if the Lord thus humbled himself, what should we do who are brought by him under the yoke of his grace? ¹⁷ Let us be followers of those who went about in goatskins, and sheepskins preaching the coming of Christ. ¹⁸ Such were Elias, and Eliaxus, and Ezekiel, the prophets, And let us add to these, such others as have received the like testimony. ¹⁹ Abraham has been greatly witnessed of having been called the friend of God. And yet he steadfastly beholding the glory of God, says with all humility, I am dust and ashes. ²⁰ Again of Job, it is thus written, That he was just, and without blame, true one that served God, and ab - stained from all evil. Yet he accusing himself, said, No man is free from pollution, no, not though he should live but one day. ²¹ Moses was called faithful in all God's House and by his conduct the Lord punished Israel by stripes and plagues. ²² And even this man, though thus greatly honoured, spake not greatly of himself but when the oracle of God was delivered to him out of the bush, he said, Who am I, that thou dost send me? I am of a slender voice, and a slow tongue. ²³ And again he saith, I am as the smoke of the pot. ²⁴ And what shall we say of David, so highly testified of in the Holy Scriptures? To whom God said, I have found a man after my own heart, David the son of Jesse, with my holy oil have I anointed him. ²⁵ But yet he himself saith unto God, Have mercy upon me, O God, according to thy loving kindness according unto the multitude of thy tender mercies, blot out my transgressions. ²⁶ Wash me thoroughly from mine iniquity, and cleanse me from my sin. For I acknowledge my transgressions, and my sin is ever before me. ²⁷ Against Thee only have I sinned, and done this evil in thy sight that thou mightest be justified when thou speakest and be clear when thou judgest. ²⁸ Behold I was shapen in iniquity, and in sin did my mother conceive me. ²⁹ Behold, thou desirest truth in the inward parts and in the hidden part thou shalt make me to know wisdom. ³⁰ Purge me with hyssop, and I shall be clean: wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow. ³¹ Make me to hear joy and gladness, that the bones which thou hast broken may rejoice. ³² Hide thy face from my sins, and blot out all mine iniquities. Create in me a clean heart O God and renew a right spirit within me. ³⁴ Cast me not away from thy presence, and take not thy holy spirit from me. ³⁵ Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation, and uphold me with thy free spirit. ³⁶ Then will I teach transgressors thy ways, and sinners shall be converted unto thee. ³⁷ Deliver me from blood-guiltiness, O God, thou God of my salvation and my tongue shall sing aloud of thy righteousness. ³⁸ O Lord open thou my lips, and my mouth shall show forth thy praise. ³⁹ For thou desirest not sacrifice, else would I give it thou delightest not in burnt-offerings. ⁴⁰ The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit a broken and a contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.

CHAPTER 9 ¹He again persuades them to compose their divisions. THUS has the humility and godly fear of these great and excellent men recorded in the Scriptures, through obedience, made not only us, but also the generations before us better even as many as have received his holy oracles with fear and truth. ² Having therefore so many, and such great and glorious examples, let us return to that peace which was the mark that from the beginning was set before us ³ Let us look up to the Father and Creator of the whole world and let us hold fast to his glorious and exceeding gifts and benefits of peace. ⁴ Let us consider and behold with the eyes of our understanding his long suffering will and think how gentle and patient he is towards his whole creation. ⁵ The heavens moving by his appointment, are subject to him in peace. ⁶ Day and night accomplish the courses that he has allotted unto them, not disturbing one another. ⁷ The sun and moon, and all the several companies and constellations of the stars, run the courses that he has appointed to them in concord, without departing in the least from them. ⁸ The fruitful earth yields its food plentifully in due season both to man and beast, and to all animals that are upon it, according to his will not disputing, nor altering anything of what was ordered by him. ⁹ So also the unfathomable and unsearchable floods of the deep, are kept in by his command ¹⁰ And the conflux of the vast sea, being brought together by his order into its several collections, passes not the bounds that he has set to it ¹¹ But as he appointed it, so it remains. For he said, Hitherto shalt then come, and thy floods shall be broken within thee. ¹² The ocean impassable to mankind, and the worlds that are beyond it are governed by the same commands of their great master. ¹³ Spring and summer, autumn and winter, give place peaceably to each other. ¹⁴ The several quarters of the winds fulfil their work in their seasons, without offending one another. ¹⁵ The ever-flowing fountains, made both for pleasure and health, never fail to reach out their breasts to support the life of men. ¹⁶ Even the smallest creatures live together in peace and concord with each other. ¹⁷ All these has the Great Creator and Lord of all, commanded to observe peace and concord being good to all. ¹⁸ But especially to us who flee to his mercy through our Lord Jesus Christ to whom be glory and majesty for ever and ever. Amen.

CHAPTER 10 ¹ He exhorts them to obedience, from the consideration of the goodness of God, and of his presence in every place. TAKE heed, beloved, that his many blessings be not to our condemnation except we shall walk worthy of him, doing with one consent what is good and pleasing in his sight. ² The spirit of the Lord is a candle, searching out the inward parts of the belly. ³ Let us therefore consider how near he is to us and how that none of our thoughts, or reasonings which we frame within ourselves, are hid from him, ⁴ It is therefore just that we should not forsake our rank, by doing contrary to his will. ⁵ Let us choose to offend a few foolish and inconsiderate men, lifted up and glorying in their own pride, rather than God. ⁶ Let us reverence our Lord Jesus Christ whose blood was given for us. ⁷ Let us honour those who are set over us let us respect the aged that are amongst us and let us instruct the younger men, in the discipline and fear of the LORD. ⁸ Our wives let us direct, to do that which is good. ⁹ Let them show forth a lovely habit of purity, in all their conversation with a sincere affection of meekness. ¹⁰ Let the government of their tongues be made manifest by their silence.

¹¹Let their charity be without respect of persons, alike towards all such as religiously fear God. ¹² Let your children be bred up in the instruction of Christ: ¹³ And especially let them learn how great a power humility has with God how much a pure and holy charity avails with him how excellent and great his fear is and how it will save all such as turn to him with holiness in a pure mind. ¹⁴ For he is the searcher of the thoughts and counsels of the heart whose breath is in us, and when he pleases he can take it from us.

CHAPTER 11 ¹Of faith: and particularly what we are to believe as to the Resurrection. BUT all these things must be confirmed by the faith which is in Christ for so He himself bespeaks us by the Holy Ghost ² Come ye children and hearken unto me, and I will teach you the fear of the Lord. What man is there that desireth life, and loveth to see good days? ³ Keep thy tongue from evil, and thy lips that they speak no guile. ⁴ Depart from evil and do good seek peace and pursue it. ⁵ The eyes of the Lord are upon the righteous, and his ears are open unto their prayers. ⁶ But the face of the Lord is against them that do evil, to cut off the remembrance of them from the earth. ⁷ The righteous cried, and the Lord heard him, and delivered him out of all his troubles. ⁸ Many are the troubles of the wicked but they that trust in the Lord mercy shall encompass them about. ⁹ Our allmerciful and beneficent Father hath bowels of compassion towards them that fear him: and kindly and lovingly bestows his graces upon all such as come to him with a simple mind. ¹⁰ Wherefore let us not waver, neither let us have any doubt in our hearts, of his excellent and glorious gifts. ¹¹Let that be far from us which is written, Miserable are the doubleminded, and those who are doubtful in their hearts ¹² Who say these things have we heard, and our fathers have told us these things. But behold we are grown old, and none of them has happened unto us. ¹³ O ye fools consider the trees: take the vine for an example. First it sheds its leaves then it buds after that it spreads its leaves then it flowers then come the sour grapes and after them follows the ripe fruit. See how in a little time the fruit of the trees comes to maturity. ¹⁴ Of a truth yet a little while and his will shall suddenly be accomplished. ¹⁵ The Holy Scripture itself bearing witness, that He shall quickly come and not tardy, and that the Lord shall suddenly come to his temple, even the ³ holy ones whom ye look for. ¹⁶ Let us consider, beloved, how the Lord does continually show us, that there shall be a future resurrection of which he has made our Lord Jesus Christ the first fruits, raising him from the dead. ¹⁷ Let us contemplate, beloved, the resurrection that is continually made before our eyes. ¹⁸ Day and night manifest a resurrection to us. The night lies down, and the day arises: again the day departs and the night comes on. ¹⁹ Let us behold the fruits of the earth. Every one sees how the seed is sown. The sower goes forth, and casts it upon the earth and the seed which when it was sown fell upon the earth dry and naked, in time dissolves. ²⁰ And from the dissolution, the great power of the providence of the Lord rises it again and of one seed many arise, and bring forth fruit.

CHAPTER 12 ¹The Resurrection further proved. LET us consider that wonderful type of the resurrection which is seen in the Eastern countries: that is to say, in Arabia. ² There is a certain bird called a Phoenix of this there is never but one at a time: and that lives five hundred years. And when the time of its dissolution draws near, that it must die, it makes itself a nest of frankincense, and myrrh, and other spices into which when its time is fulfilled it enters and dies. ³ But its flesh putrifying, breeds a certain worm, which being nourished with the juice of the dead bird brings forth feathers and when it is grown to a perfect state, it takes up the nest in which the bones of its parent lie, and carries it from Arabia into Egypt, to a city called Heliopolis: ⁴ And flying in open day in the sight of all men, lays it upon the altar of the sun, and so returns from whence it came. ⁵ The priests then search into the records of the time: and find that it returned precisely at the end of five hundred years. ⁶ And shall we then think it to be any very great and strange thing for the Lord of all to raise up those that religiously serve him in the assurance of a good faith, when even by a bird he shows us the greatness of his power to fulfil his promise? ⁷ For he says in a certain place, Thou shalt raise me up and I shall confess unto thee. ⁸ And again, I laid me down and slept, and awaked, because thou art with me. ⁹ And again, Job says, Thou shalt raise up this flesh of mine, that has suffered all these things. ¹⁰ Having therefore this hope, let us hold fast to him who is faithful in all his promises, and righteous in all his judgments who has commanded us not to lie, how much more will he not himself lie? ¹¹For nothing is impossible with God but to lie. ¹² Let his faith then be stirred up again in us and let us consider that all things are nigh unto him. ¹³ By the word of his power he made all things: and by the same word he is able, (whenever he will,) to destroy them. ¹⁴ Who shall say unto him, what dost thou? or who shall resist the power of his strength? ¹⁵ When, and as he pleased, he will do all things and nothing shall pass away of all that has been determined by him. ¹⁶ All things are open before him nor can anything be hid from his counsel. ¹⁷ The heavens declare the glory of God, and the firmament sheweth his handy work. Day unto day uttereth speech, and night unto night sheweth knowledge. There is no speech nor language where their voice is not heard.

CHAPTER 13 ¹It is impossible to escape the vengeance of God, if we continue in sin. SEEING then all things are seen and heard by God, let us fear him, and let us lay aside our wicked works which proceed from ill desires that through his mercy we may be delivered from the condemnation to come. ² For whither can any of us flee from his mighty hand? Or what world shall receive any of those who run away from him? ³ For thus saith the Scripture in a certain place. Whither shall I flee from thy spirit, or where shall I hide myself from thy presence? ⁴ If I ascend up into heaven, thou art there if I shall go to the uttermost parts of the earth, there is thy right hand: if I shall make my bed in the deep, thy Spirit is there. ⁵ Whither then shall any one go or whither shall he run from him that comprehends all things? ⁶ Let us therefore come to him with holiness of heart, lifting up chaste and undefiled hands unto him loving our gracious and merciful Father, who has made us to partake of his election. ⁷ For so it is written, When the Most High divided the nations when he separated the sons of Adam, he set the bounds of the nations, according to the number of his angels his people Jacob became the portion of the Lord, and Israel the lot of his inheritance. ⁸ And in another place he saith, Behold the Lord taketh unto himself a nation, out of the midst of the nations, as a man taketh the first

CHAPTER 14 ¹How we must live that we may please God. WHEREFORE we being apart of the Holy One: let us do all those things that pertain unto holiness: ² Fleeing all evil-speaking against one another all filthy and impure embraces, together with all drunkenness, youthful lusts, abominable concupiscences, detestable adultery, and execrable pride. ³ For God saith, he resisteth the proud, but giveth grace to the humble. ⁴ Let us therefore hold fast to those to whom God has given his grace. ⁵ And let us put on concord, being humble, temperate free from all whispering and detraction and justified by our actions, not our words. ⁶ For he saith, Doth he that speak - eth and heareth many things, and is of a ready tongue, suppose that he is righteous? Blessed is he that is born of a woman, that liveth but a few days: use not therefore much speech. ⁷ Let our praise be of God, not of ourselves for God hateth those that commend themselves. ⁸ Let the witness of our good actions be given to us by others, as it was given to the holy men that went before us. ⁹ Rashness, and arrogance, and confidence, belong to them who are accursed of God: but equity, and humility, and mildness, to such as are blessed by him. ¹⁰ Let us then lay hold of his blessing, and let us consider what are the ways by which we may attain unto it. ¹¹ Let us look back upon those things that have happened from the beginning. ¹² For what was our Father Abra - ham blessed? Was it not because that through faith he wrought righteousness and truth? ¹³ Isaac being fully persuaded of what he knew was to come, cheerfully yielded himself up for a sacrifice. Jacob with humility departed out of his own country, fleeing from his brother, and went unto Laban and served him and so the sceptre of the twelve tribes of Israel was given unto him. ¹⁴ Now what the greatness of this gift was, will plainly appear, if we shall take the pains distinctly to consider all the parts of it. ¹⁵ For, from him came the priests and Levites who all ministered at the altar of God. ¹⁶ From him came our Lord Jesus Christ, according to the flesh. ¹⁷ From him came the kings, and princes, and rulers in Judah. ¹⁸ Nor were the rest of his tribes in any little glory: God having promised that their seed shall be as the stars of heaven. ¹⁹ They were all therefore greatly glorified, not for their own sake, or for their own works, or for the righteousness that they themselves wrought, but through his will. ²⁰ And we also being called by the same will in Christ Jesus, are not justified by ourselves, neither by our own wisdom, or knowledge, or piety, or the works which we have done in the holiness of our hearts. ²¹ But by that faith, by which God Almighty has justified all men from the beginning to whom be glory for ever and ever, Amen.

CHAPTER 15 ¹We are justified by faith yet this must not lessen our care to live a virtuous life, nor our pleasure in it. WHAT shall we do therefore, brethren? Shall we be slothful in well-doing, and lay aside our charity? God forbid that any such thing should be done by us. ² But rather let us hasten with all earnestness and readiness of mind, to perfect every good work. For even the Creator and Lord of all things himself rejoices in his own works. ³ By his Almighty power he fixed the heavens, and by his incomprehensible wisdom he adorned them. ⁴ He also divided the earth from the water, with which it is encompassed: and fixed it as a secure tower, upon the foundation of his own will. ⁵ He also by his appointment, commanded all the living creatures that are upon it, to exist. ⁶ So likewise the sea, and all the creatures that are in it having first created them, he enclosed them therein by his power. ⁷ And above all, he with his holy and pure hands, formed man, the most excellent and, as to his understanding, truly the greatest of all other creatures the character of his own image. ⁸ For thus God says Let us make man in our image, after our own likeness so God created man, male and female created he them. ⁹ And having thus finished all these things, he commended all that he had made, and blessed them, and said, increase and multiply. ¹⁰ We see how all righteous men have been adorned with good works Wherefore even the Lord himself, having adorned himself with his works, rejoiced. ¹¹ Having therefore such an example, let us without delay, fulfil his will and with all our strength, work the work of righteousness.

CHAPTER 16 ¹A virtuous life enforced from the examples of the holy angels, and from the exceeding greatness of that reward which God has prepared for us. THE good workman with confidence receives the bread of his labour but the sluggish and lazy cannot look him in the face that set him on work. ² We must therefore be ready and forward in well-doing: for from him are all things. ³ And thus he foretels us, behold the Lord cometh, and his reward is with him, even before his face, to render to everyone according to his work. ⁴ He warns us therefore beforehand, with all his heart to this end, that we should not be slothful and negligent in well-doing. ⁵ Let our boasting, therefore, and our confidence be in God let us submit ourselves to his will, Let us consider the whole multitude of his angels, how ready they stand to minister unto his will. ⁶ As saith the Scripture, thousands of thousands stood before him and ten thousand times ten thousand ministered unto him. And they cried, saying, Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of hosts The whole earth is full of his glory. ⁷ Wherefore let us also, being conscientiously gathered together in concord with one another as it were with one mouth, cry, earnestly unto him, that he would make us partakers of his great and glorious promises. ⁸ For he saith, a Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which

God has prepared for them that wait for him,

CHAPTER 17 ¹We must attain the gifts of God by faith and obedience, which we must carry on in an orderly pursuing of the duties of our several stations, without envy or contention. ²⁴ The necessity of different orders among men. ³³ We have none of us anything but what we received of God: whom therefore we ought in every condition thankfully to obey. HOW blessed and wonderful, be-loved, are the gifts of God. ² Life in immortality! brightness in righteousness! truth in full assurance! faith in confidence! temperance in holiness! ³ And all this has God subjected to our understandings: ⁴ What therefore shall those things be which he has prepared for them that wait for him? ⁵ The Creator and Father of spirits, the Most Holy he only knows both the greatness and beauty of them, ⁶ Let us therefore strive with all earnestness, that we may be found in the number of those that wait for him, that so we may receive the reward which he has promised. ⁷ But how, beloved, shall we do this? We must fix our minds by faith towards God, and seek those things that are pleasing and acceptable unto him. ⁸ We must act conformably to his holy will and follow the way of truth, casting off from us all unrighteousness and iniquity, together with all covetousness, strife, evil manners, deceit, whispering, detractions all hatred of God, pride and boasting vain-glory and ambition ⁹ For they that do these things are odious to God and not only they that do them, but also all such as approve of those that do them. ¹⁰ For thus saith the Scripture, But unto the wicked, God said, What hast thou to do to declare my statute, or that thou shouldst take my covenant in thy mouth? Seeing that thou hatest instruction, and castest my words behind thee. ¹¹ When thou sawest a thief, then thou consentedst with him thou hast been partaker with adulterers, Thou givest thy mouth to evil, and thy tongue frameth deceit. Thou sittest and speakest against thy brother thou slanderest thine own mother's son. ¹² These things hast thou done and I kept silence thou thoughtest that I was altogether such a one as thyself: but I will reprove thee, and set them in order before thine eyes. ¹³ Now consider this ye that forget God, lest I tear you in pieces, and there be none to deliver. ¹⁴ Whose offereth praise, gloryfieth me And to him that disposeth his way aright, will I show the salvation of God. ¹⁵ This is the way, beloved, in which we may find our Saviour, even Jesus Christ, the high-priest of all our offerings, the defender and helper of our weakness. ¹⁶ By him we look up to the highest heavens and behold, as in a glass, his spotless and most excellent visage. ¹⁷ By him are the eyes of our hearts opened by him our foolish and darkened understanding rejoiceth to behold his wonderful light. ¹⁸ By him would God have us to taste the knowledge of immortality: who being the brightness of his glory, is by so much greater than the angels, as he has by inheritance obtained a more excellent name than they. ¹⁹ For so it is written, who maketh his angels spirits, and his ministers a flame of fire: ²⁰ But to his son, thus saith the Lord, Thou art my Son, to-day have I begotten thee. ²¹ Ask of me and I will give thee the heathen for thy inheritance, and the utmost parts of the earth for thy possession. ²² And again he saith unto him, Sit thou on my right hand until I make thine enemies thy foot-stool. ²³ But who are his enemies? even the wicked, and such who oppose their own wills to the will of God. ²⁴ Let us therefore march-on, men and brethren, with all earnestness in his holy laws. ²⁵ Let us consider those who fight under our, earthly governors How orderly, how readily, and with what exact obedience they perform those things that are commanded them.

²⁶ All are not generals, nor colonels, nor captains, nor inferior officers: ²⁷ But everyone in his respective rank does what is commanded him by the king, and those who have the authority over him. ²⁸ They who are great, cannot subsist without those that are little nor the little without the great ²⁹ But there must be a mixture in all things, and then there will be use and profit too. ³⁰ Let us, for example, take our body: the head without the feet is nothing, neither the feet without the head. ³¹ And even the smallest members of our body are yet both necessary and useful to the whole body. ³² But all conspire together, and are subject to one common use, namely, the preservation of the whole body. ³³ Let therefore our whole body by saved in Christ Jesus and let every - one be subject to his neighbour, according to the order in which he is placed by the gift of God. ³⁴ Let not the strong man despise the weak and let the weak see that he reverence the strong. ³⁵ Let the rich man distribute to the necessity of the poor and let the poor bless God, that he has given one unto him, by whom his want may be supplied. ³⁶ Let the wise man show forth his wisdom, not in words, but in good works. ³⁷ Let him that is humble, not bear witness to himself, but let him leave it to another to bear witness of him. ³⁸ Let him that is pure in the flesh, not grow proud of it, knowing that it was from another that he received the gift of continence. ³⁹ Let us consider therefore, brethren, whereof we are made who, and what kind of men we came into the world, as it were out of a sepulchre, and from outer darkness. ⁴⁰ He hath made us, and formed us, brought us into his own world having presented us with his benefits, even before we were born. ⁴¹ Wherefore, having received all these things from him, we ought in everything to give thanks unto him, to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

CHAPTER 18 ¹ Clement therefore exhorts them to do everything orderly in the Church, as the only way to please God. FOOLISH and unwise men, who have neither prudence, nor learning, may mock and deride us being willing to setup themselves in their own conceits. ² But what can a mortal man do? Or what strength is there in him that is made out of the dust? ³ For it is written, there was no shape before mine eyes only I heard a sound and a voice. ⁴ For what? Shall man be pure before the Lord? Shall he be blameless in his works? ⁵ Behold, he trusted not in his servants and his angels he charged with folly. ⁶ Yes, the heaven is not clean in his sight, how much less they that dwell in houses of clay of which also we ourselves were made? ⁷ He smote them as a moth: and from morning even unto the evening they endure not. Because they were not able to help themselves, they perished he breathed upon them and they died, because they had no wisdom. ⁸ Call now if there be any that will answer thee and to which of the angels wilt thou look? ⁹ For wrath killeth the foolish man, and envy slayeth him that is in error. ¹⁰ I have seen the foolish taking root, but lo, their habitation was presently consumed. ¹¹ Their children were far from safety, they perished at the gates of those who were lesser than themselves: and there was no man to help them. ¹² For what was prepared for them, the righteous did eat and they shall not be delivered from evil. ¹³

Seeing then these things are manifest unto us, it will behove us to take care that looking into the depths of the divine knowledge, we do all things in order, whatsoever our Lord has commanded us to do. ¹⁴ And particularly that we perform our offerings and service to God, at their appointed seasons for these he has commanded to be done, not rashly and disorderly, but at certain determinate times and hours. ¹⁵ And therefore he has ordained by his supreme will and authority, both where, and by what persons, they are to be performed that so all things being piously done unto all well pleasing, they may be acceptable unto him. ¹⁶ They therefore who make their offerings at the appointed seasons, are happy and accepted because through obeying the commandments of the Lord, they are free from sin. ¹⁷ And the same care must be had of the persons that minister unto him. ¹⁸ For the chief-priest has his proper services and to the priest their proper place is appointed and to the Levites appertain their proper ministries and the layman is confined within the bounds of what is commanded to laymen. ¹⁹ Let every one of you therefore, brethren, bless God in his proper station, with a good conscience, and with all gravity, not exceeding the rule of his service that is appointed to him. ²⁰ The daily sacrifices are not offered everywhere nor the peace offerings, nor the sacrifices appointed for sins and transgressions but only at Jerusalem: nor in any place there, but only at the altar before the temple that which is offered being first diligently examined by the high priest and the other minister we be - fore mentioned. ²¹ They therefore who do anything which is not agreeable to his will, are punished with death. ²² Consider, brethren, that by how much the better knowledge God has vouchsafed unto us, by so much the greater danger are we exposed to.

CHAPTER 19 ¹ The orders of Ministers in Christ's Church established by the Apostles, according to Christ's command, ⁷ after the example of Moses. ¹⁶ Therefore they who have been duly placed in the ministr y according to their order, cannot without great sin be put out of it. THE Apostles have preached to us from the Lord Jesus Christ Jesus Christ from God. ² Christ therefore was sent by God, the Apostles by Christ so both were orderly sent, according to the will of God. ³ For having received their command, and being thoroughly assured by the resurrection of our Lord Jesus Christ, and convinced by the word of God, with the fulness of the Holy Spirit, they went abroad, publishing, That the kingdom of God was at hand. ⁴ And thus preaching through countries and cities, they appointed the first fruits of their conversion to be bishops and ministers over such as should afterwards believe, having first proved them by the Spirit. ⁵ Nor was this any new thing see - ing that long before it was written concerning bishops and deacons. ⁶ For thus saith the Scripture, in a certain place I will appoint their overseers in righteousness, and their ministers in faith. ⁷ And what wonder if they, to whom such a work was committed by God in Christ, established such officers as we before mentioned when even that blessed and faithful servant in all his house, Moses, set down in the Holy Scriptures all things that were commanded him. ⁸ Whom also all the rest of the prophets followed, bearing witness with one consent to those things that were appointed by him. ⁹ For he, perceiving an emulation to arise among the tribes concerning the priesthood, and that there was a strife about it, which of them should be adorned with that glorious name commanded their twelve captains to bring to him twelve rods every tribe being written upon its rod, according to its name, ¹⁰ And he took them and bound them together, and sealed them with the seals of the twelve princes of the tribes: and laid them up in the tabernacle of witness, upon the table of God. ¹¹ And when he had shut the door of the tabernacle, he sealed up the keys of it, in like manner as he had done the rods and said unto them, Men and brethren, whichsoever tribe shall have its rod blossom, that tribe has God chosen to perform the office of a priest, and to minister unto him in holy things. ¹² And when the morning was come, he called together all Israel, six hundred thousand men and showed to the princes their seals and opened the tabernacle of witness and brought forth the rods. ¹³ And the rod of Aaron was found not only to have blossomed, but also to have fruit upon it. ¹⁴ What think you, beloved? Did not Moses before know what should happen? ¹⁵ Yes verily: but to the end there might be no division, nor tumult in Israel, he did in this manner, that the name of the true and only God might be glorified to whom be honour for ever and ever, Amen. ¹⁶ So likewise our Apostles knew by our Lord Jesus Christ, that there should contentions arise, upon account of the ministry. ¹⁷ And therefore having a perfect fore-knowledge of this, they appointed persons, as we have before said, and then gave direction, how, when they should die, other chosen and approved men should succeed in their ministry. ¹⁸ Wherefore we cannot think that those may justly be thrown out of their ministry, who were either appointed by them, or afterwards chosen by other eminent men, with the consent of the whole church and who have with all lowliness and innocency ministered to the flock of Church, in peace, and without self-interest, and were for a long time commended by all. ¹⁹ For it would be no small sin in us, should we cast off those from their ministry, who holily and without blame fulfil the duties of it. ²⁰ Blessed are those priests, who having finished their course before these times, have obtained a fruitful and perfect dissolution for they have no fear, lest any one should turn them out of the place which is now appointed for them. ²¹ But we see how you have put out some, who lived reputably among you, from the ministry, which by their innocence they had adorned.

CHAPTER 20 ¹He exerts them to peace from examples out of the Holy Scriptures, ²⁰ particularly from St. Paul's exhortation to them. YE are contentious, brethren, and zealous for things that pertain not unto salvation. ² Look into the Holy Scriptures, which are the true words of the Holy Ghost. Ye know that there is nothing unjust or counterfeit written in them. ³ There you shall not find that righteous men were ever cast off by such as were good themselves. ⁴ They were persecuted, but it was by the wicked and unjust. ⁵ They were cast into prison, but they were cast in by those that were unholy. ⁶ They were stoned, but it was by transgressors. ⁷ They were killed, but by accursed men, and such as had taken up an unjust envy against them. ⁸ And all these things they underwent gloriously. ⁹ For what shall we say, brethren? Was Daniel cast into the den of lions, by men fearing God? Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego, were they cast into the fiery furnace by men, professing the excellent and glorious worship of the Most High? God forbid. ¹⁰ What kind of persons then were they that did these things? They were men abominable, full of all wickedness who were incensed to so great a degree, as to bring those into sufferings, who with a holy and un - blameable purpose of mind worshipped God: not knowing that the Most High is the protector and de - fender of all such as with a pure conscience serve his holy name: to whom be glory for ever and ever, Amen. ¹¹ But they who with a full persuasion have endured these things, are made partakers of glory and honour: and are exalted and lifted up by God for a memorial throughout all ages, Amen. ¹² Wherefore it will behove us also, brethren, to follow such examples as these for it is written, Hold fast to such as are holy for they that do so shall be sanctified. ¹³ And again in another place he saith, With the pure, thou shalt be pure (and with the elect thou shalt be elect,) but with, the perverse man thou shalt be perverse. ¹⁴ Let us therefore join ourselves to the innocent and righteous for such are the elect of God. ¹⁵ Wherefore are there strifes, and anger, and divisions, and schisms, and wars, among us? ¹⁶ Have we not all one God, and one Christ? Is not one spirit of grace poured out upon us all? Have we not one calling in Christ. ¹⁷ Why then do we rent and tear in pieces the members of Christ and raise sedition against our own body? And are come to such a height of madness, as to forget that we were members one of another? ¹⁸ Remember the words of our Lord Jesus, (how he said, Woe to that man by whom offences come). It were better for him that he had never been born, than that he should have offended one of my elect. It were better for him, that a millstone should be tied about his neck, and he should be cast into the sea, than that he should offend one of my little ones. ¹⁹ Your schism has perverted many, has discouraged many: it has caused diffidence in many, and grief in us all. And yet your sedition continues still. ²⁰ Take the Epistle of the blessed Paul the Apostle into your hands What was It that he wrote to you at his first preaching the Gospel among you? ²¹ Verily he did by the spirit admonish you concerning himself, and Cephas, and Apollos, because that even then ye had begun to fall into parties and factions among yourselves. ²² Nevertheless your partiality then led you into a much less sin forasmuch as ye placed your affections upon Apostles, men of eminent reputation in the church and upon another, who was greatly tried and approved of by them. ²³ But consider, we pray you, who are they that have now led you astray and lessened the reputation of that brotherly love that was so eminent among you ²⁴ It is a shame, my beloved, yea, a very great shame, and unworthy of your Christian profession, to hear that the most firm and ancient church of the Corinthians should, by one or two persons, be led into a sedition against its priests. ²⁵ And this report is come not only to us, but to those also that differ from us. ²⁶ Insomuch that the name of the Lord is blasphemed through your folly and even ye yourselves are brought into danger by it. ²⁷ Let us therefore with all haste put an end to this sedition and let us fall down before the Lord, and beseech him with tears that he would be favourably reconciled to us, and restore us again to a seemly and holy course of brotherly love. ²⁸ For this is the gate of righteousness, opening unto life: As it is written, I Open unto me the gates of righteousness I will go into them and will praise the Lord. This is the gate of the Lord, the righteous shall enter into it. ²⁹ Although therefore many gates are opened, yet this gate of righteousness is that gate in Christ at which blessed are they that enter in, and direct their way in holiness and righteousness doing all things without disorder. ³⁰ Let a man be faithful, let him be powerful in the utterance of knowledge let him be wise in making an exact judgment of words let him be pure in all his actions. ³¹ But still by how much the more he seems to be above others, by reason of these things, by so much the more will it behove him to be humble-minded and to seek what is profitable to all men, and not his own advantage.

CHAPTER 21 ¹ The value which God, puts upon love and unity: the effects of a true charity, ⁸ which is the gift of God, and must be obtained by prayer. HE that has the love that is in Christ, let him keep the commandments of Christ. ² For who is able to express the obligation of the love of God? What man is sufficient to declare, and is fitting, the excellency of its beauty? ³ The height to which charity leads, is inexpressible. ⁴ Charity unites us to God charity covers the multitude of sins: charity endures all things is long-suffering in all things. ⁵ There is nothing base and sordid in charity: charity lifts not itself up above others admits of no divisions is not seditious but does all things in peace and concord. ⁶ By charity were all the elect of God made perfect: Without it nothing is pleasing and acceptable in the sight of God. ⁷ Through charity did the Lord join us into himself whilst for the love that he bore towards us, our Lord Jesus Christ gave his own blood for us, by the will of God his flesh for our flesh his soul for our souls. ⁸ Ye see, beloved, how great and wonderful a thing charity is and how that no expressions are sufficient to declare its perfection. ⁹ But who is fit to be found in it? Even such only as God shall vouch - safe to make so. ¹⁰ Let us therefore pray to him, and beseech him, that we may be worthy of it that so we may live in charity being unblameable, without human propensities, without respect of persons. ¹¹ All the ages of the world, from Adam, even unto this day, are passed away but they who have been made perfect in love, have by the grace of God obtained a place among the righteous and shall be made manifest in the judgment of the kingdom of Christ. ¹² For it is written, Enter into thy chambers for a little space, till my anger and indignation shall pass away: And I will remember the good day, and, will raise you up out of your graves. ¹³ Happy then shall we be, beloved, if we shall have fulfilled the commandments of God, in the unity of love that so, through love, our sins may be forgiven us. ¹⁴ For so it is written, Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sins are covered. Blessed is the man to whom the Lord impute no sin, and in whose mouth there is no guile. ¹⁵ Now this blessing is fulfilled in those who are chosen by God through Jesus Christ our Lord, to whom be glory for ever and ever, Amen.

CHAPTER 22 ¹He exhorts such as have been concerned in these divisions to repent, and return to their unity, confessing their sin to God, ⁷ which he enforces from the example of Moses, ¹⁰ and of many among the heathen, ²³ and of Judith and Esther among the Jews. LET us therefore, as many as have transgressed by any of the suggestions of the adversary, beg God's forgiveness. ² And as for those who have been the heads of the sedition and faction among you, let them look to the common end of our hope. ³ For as many as are endued with fear and charity, would rather they themselves should fall into trials than their neighbours: And choose to be themselves condemned, rather than that the good and just charity delivered to us, should suffer. ⁴ For it is seemly for a man to confess wherein he has transgressed. ⁵ And not to harden his heart, as the hearts of those were hardened, who raised up sedition against Moses the servant of God whose punishment was manifest unto all men, for they went down alive into the grave death swallowed them up. ⁶ Pharaoh and his host, and all the rulers of Egypt, their chariots also and their horsemen, were for no other cause drowned in the bottom of the Red Sea, and perished but because they hardened their foolish hearts, after so many signs done in the land of Egypt, by Moses the servant of God. ⁷ Beloved, God is not indigent of anything nor does he demand anything of us, but that we should confess our sins unto him. ⁸ For so says the Holy David, I will confess unto the Lord, and it shall please him better than a young bullock that hath horns and hoof. Let the poor see it and be glad. ⁹ And again he saith, Offer unto God the sacrifice of praise, and pay thy vows unto the Most Highest. And call upon me in the day of trouble, and I will deliver thee, and thou shalt glorify me. The sacrifice of God is a broken spirit. ¹⁰ Ye know, beloved, ye know full well, the Holy Scriptures and have thoroughly searched into the oracles of God: call them therefore to your remembrance. ¹¹For when Moses went up into the mount, and tarried there forty days and forty nights in fasting and humiliation God said unto him, Arise, Moses, and get thee down quickly from hence, for thy people whom thou broughtest out of the land of Egypt, have committed wickedness: they have soon transgressed the way that I commanded them, and have made to themselves graven images. ¹² And the Lord said unto him, I have spoken unto thee several times, saying, I have seen this people, and behold it is a stiff-necked people: let me therefore destroy them, and put out their name from under heaven. And I will make unto thee a great and a wonderful nation, that shall be much larger than this. ¹³ But Moses said, Not so, Lord: Forgive now this people their sin or if thou wilt not, blot me also out of the book of the living. O admirable charity! O insuperable perfection! The servant speaks freely to his Lord: He beseeches him either to forgive the people, or to destroy him together with them. ¹⁴ Who is there among you that is generous? Who that is compassionate? Who that has any charity? Let him say, if this sedition, this contention, and these schisms, be upon my account, I am ready to depart to go away whithersoever you please and do whatsoever ye shall command me: Only let the flock of Christ be in peace, with the elders that are set over it. ¹⁵ He that shall do this, shall get to himself a very great honour in the Lord and there is no place but what will be ready to receive him: For the earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof. ¹⁶ These things, they who have their conversation towards God not to be repented of, both have done, and will always be ready to do. ¹⁷ Nay and even the Gentiles themselves have given us examples of this kind. ¹⁸ For we read, How many kings and princes, in times of pestilence, being warned by their oracles, have given up themselves unto death that by their own blood, they might deliver their country from destruction. ¹⁹ Others have forsaken their cities, so that they might put an end to the seditions of them. ²⁰ We know how many among ourselves, have given up themselves unto bonds, that thereby they might free others from them. ²¹Others have sold themselves into bondage, that they might feed their brethren with the price of themselves. ²² And even many women, being strengthened by the grace of God, have done many glorious and manly things on such occasions. ²³ The blessed Judith, when her city was besieged, desired the elders, that they would suffer her to go into the camp of their enemies and she went out exposing herself to danger, for the love she bare to her country and her people that were besieged: and the Lord delivered Holofernes into the hands of a woman. ²⁴ Nor did Esther, being perfect in faith, expose herself to any less hazard, for the delivery of the twelve tribes of Israel, in danger of being destroyed. For by fasting and humbling herself, she entreated the Great Maker of all things, the God of spirits so that beholding the humility of her soul, he delivered the people, for whose sake she was in peril.

CHAPTER 23 ¹The benefit of mutual advice and correction. He entreats them to follow that which is here given to them. WHEREFORE let us also pray for such as are fallen into sin. That be - ing endued with humility and moderation, they may submit not unto us, but to the wish of God. ² For by this means they shall obtain a fruitful and perfect remembrance, with mercy, both in our prayers to God, and in our mention of them before his saints. ³ Let us receive correction, at which no man ought to repine. ⁴ Beloved, the reproof and the correction which we exercise towards one another, is good, and exceeding profitable: for it unites us the more closely to the will of God. ⁵ For, so says the Holy Scripture, The Lord corrected me, but he did not deliver me over unto death. For whom the Lord loveth he chastened, and scourged every son whom he received. ⁶ The righteous, saith he, shall instruct me in mercy and reprove me but let not oil of sinners make fat my head. ⁷ And again he saith, Happy is the man whom God correct therefore despise not thou the chastening of the Almighty. ⁸ For he make gore and binded up he wounded and his hands make whole. ⁹ He shall deliver thee in six troubles yea in seven there shall no evil touch thee. In famine he shall redeem thee from death and in war from the power of the sword. ¹⁰ Thou shalt be hid from the scourge of the tongue neither shalt thou be afraid of destruction when it cometh. ¹¹ Thou shalt

¹² Then shalt thou know that thy house shall be in peace and the habitation of thy tabernacle shall not err. Then shalt know also that thy seed shall be great and thy offspring as the grass of the earth. ¹³ Thou shalt come to thy grave as the ripe corn, that is taken in due time: like as a shock of corn cometh in, in its season. ¹⁴ Ye see, beloved, how there shall be a defence to those that are corrected of the Lord. For being a good instructor, he is willing to admonish us by his holy, diaipline. ¹⁵ Do ye therefore who laid the first foundation of this sedition, submit yourselves unto your priests and be instructed unto repentance, bending the knees of your hearts. ¹⁶ Learn to be subject, laying aside all proud and arrogant boasting of your tongues. ¹⁷ For it is better for you to be found little, and approved, in the sheepfold of Christ, than to seem to yourselves better than others, and be cast out of his fold. ¹⁸ For thus speaks the excellent and all-virtuous wisdom, Behold I will pour out the word of my spirit upon you, I will make known my speech unto you. ¹⁹ Because I called and ye would not hear, I stretched out my hand and ye regarded not. ²⁰ But ye have set at nought all my counsel, and would none of my re - proof. I will also laugh at your calamity, and mock when your fear cometh. ²¹ When your fear cometh as desolation, and your destruction as a whirlwind, when distress and anguish cometh upon you. ²² Then shall ye call upon me but I will not hear you: the wicked shall seek me but they shall not find me. For that they hated knowledge, and did not seek the fear of the Lord. ²³ They would not hearken unto my counsel: they despised all my re - proof. Therefore shall they eat of the fruit of their own ways and be filled with their own wickedness.

CHAPTER 24 ¹ Recommends them to God. Desires speedily to hear that this Epistle has had a good effect upon them. ⁴ Conclusion. NOW God, the inspector of all things, the Father of Spirits, and the Lord of all flesh, who hath chosen our Lord Jesus Christ, and us by him, to be his peculiar people ² Grant to every soul of man that calleth upon his glorious and holy name, faith, fear, peace, long-suffering, patience, temperance, holiness and sobriety, unto all well-pleasing in his sight through our High-Priest and Protector Jesus Christ, by whom be glory and majesty, and power, and honour unto him now and for ever more, Amen. ³ The messengers whom we have sent unto you, Claudius, Ephebus, and Valerios Bito, with Fortunatus, send back to us again with all speed, in peace and with joy, that they may the sooner acquaint us with your peace and concord, so much prayed for and desired by us: and that we may rejoice in your good order. ⁴ The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you, and with all that are any where called by God through him: To whom be honour and glory, and might and injesty, and eternal dominion, by Christ Jesus, from everlasting to everlasting, Amen.
